with blood; be strong that no one eat blood in your presence: bury the blood in the earth; for as I have been commanded, I testify to you and your children together with all flesh. 26. And ye shall not eat the soul with the meat, that ye be not those of whom your blood, that is, your soul, be demanded from the hands of every one that sheddeth blood on the earth. 27. For the earth will not be clean of the blood which has been spilt upon it, but only by the blood of him that shed it will the earth be cleansed in all the generations of the earth. 28. And now, my children, obey and practise righteousness and justice so that ye be planted in righteousness upon the whole face of the earth, and that your renown be elevated before my God who has saved me from the water of the deluge. 29. And, behold, ye will proceed and build for yourselves cities and will plant in them all the plants that are upon the earth and every tree that bears fruit; for three years its fruit shall not be gathered to eat it, and in the fourth year the fruit shall be sanctified, and the first fruits which they gather shall be brought before the Lord our God, the Most High, who created heaven and earth and all things, so that they bring in fatness the first of the wine and oil as first fruits upon the altar of the Lord who receives it; and what is left the servants of the house of the Lord shall eat before the altar which he has accepted. 30. And in the fifth year make the release, so that ye release them in righteousness and justice, and you shall be just and all your plants shall be right. 31. For thus did Enoch, the father of your father Methusaleh, command his sons, and Methusaleh his son Lamech, and Lamech commanded me all the things which his father commanded him; but I command it to you, my children, just as Enoch commanded his son in his first jubilee; while he was alive, in his generation the seventh, he commanded and testified to his son and to the sons of his sons until the day of his death.¹

¹ We notice here the principle of the traditions of the fathers so potent in the theology of New Testament Judaism. Cf. also c. x. ii.

CHAP. VIII. 1. In the twenty-ninth jubilee, in the first week, in the first [year] thereof, Arphaksed took to himself a wife, and her name was Râsûjâ, the daughter of Sûsân, the daughter of Elâm, and she bore him a son in the third year of this week, and he called his name Kâinân. 2. And his son grew, and his father taught him writing, and he went to seek for himself a place where he might seize for himself a city. 3. And he found a writing which the forefathers had carved into a rock, and he read what was in it, and he translated it and found that there was within it the science of the Watchmen by which they had seen the astrology of the sun and the moon and the stars and in all the signs of heaven;¹ and he wrote this down and did not say any thing concerning it, for he feared to speak to Noah concerning it, lest he be angry with him on this account. 4. And in the thirtieth jubilee, in the second week, in the first year thereof, he took to himself a wife, and her name was Milkâ, the daughter of Abâdai, the son of Japhet, and in the fourth year she bore him a son, and he called his name Sâlâ, for he said, "Verily, I have been sent away." 5. And in the fourth year Sâlâ was born, and he grew up and took to himself a wife, and her name was Mûak, the daughter of Kêsêd, the brother of his father, in the thirty-first jubilee, in the fifth week, in the first year thereof. And she bore him a son in the fifth year, and he called his name Ebôr; and he took to himself a wife, and her name was Azûrâd, the daughter of Nêbrôd, in the thirty-second jubilee, in the seventh week, in the third year thereof. 6. And in the sixth year thereof she bore him a son, and he called his name Phalêk, for in the days when he was born the children of Noah began to divide the earth among themselves; and on this account he called his name Phalêk. 7. And they divided the earth among themselves in wickedness, and told it to Noah. 8. And it happened in the beginning of the thirty-third jubilee, and they divided the earth into three parts, to Shem and to

¹ Cf. Book of Enoch, c. viii. 1 sqq.

Ham, and to Japhet, each one his inheritance, in the first year of the first week, while an angel, one of us who were sent to them, was there. 9. And he called his sons, and they came to him, they and their children, and he divided the earth by lot what his three sons should take, and they stretched out their hands and took to themselves the writing out of the bosom of their father Noah. 10. And there came out on the writing as the lot for Shem the middle of the earth, which he and his children should have as an inheritance for the generations unto eternity, from the middle of the mountain Râfû, from the exit of the water of the river Tînâ, and his portion goes toward the west through the midst of this river, and they go until they approach to the abyss of the waters out of which comes this river, and this river empties and pours its waters into the sea Mîôt, and this river goes into the great sea: all that is toward the north of this is Japhet's, and all that is to the direction of the south is Shem's. 11. And it reaches until it comes to Karâsô, which is in the bosom of the tongue which looks toward the south. 12. And his portion reaches unto the great sea, and reaches straight until it approaches the west of the tongue which looks toward the south; for the sea is called the tongue of the Egyptian sea. 13. And it turns from there toward the south, toward the mouth of the great sea in the shore of the waters and proceeds toward Arabia and Ophrâ, and it proceeds until it reaches to the water of the river Gejôn and toward the south of the water of Gejôn, along the shore of this same river. 14. And it proceeds toward the north until it approaches the garden of Eden, toward the south thereof to the south, and from the east of the whole land of Eden, and toward the whole east, and it turns to the east, and proceeds until it approaches toward the east of the hills whose name is Râfâ, and it descends toward the border of the outlet of the water of the river Tînâ. 15. This portion came out in the lot for Shem and his sons, and he remembered his word which he had spoken with his mouth in prophecy, for he had said: "Blessed be the Lord God of Shem, and may the Lord dwell in the dwelling of Shem!" 17. And he knew that the garden of Eden is the holy of holies, and the dwelling of the Lord, and Mount Sinai, the centre of the desert, and Mount Zion, the centre of the navel of the earth,¹ these three, opposite one another, were created as sanctuaries. 18. And he blessed the God of gods who had put the speech of the Lord into his mouth. 19. And he knew that a blessed portion and a blessing had come to Shem and to the children of his generations forever; the whole land of Edom, and all the land of the Erythrian sea, and all the land of the east, and India and at the Erythrian and the mountains thereof, and all the land of Bâsôr, and all the land of Lebanon and the islands of Kuphatûr, and all the land of Elâm and Asûr and Bâbêl and Sûsân and Mâdâr, and all the mountains of Ararat, and all the land beyond the sea which is beyond the hills of Asûr toward the north, a blessed and prosperous land, and all that is in it is very good. 20. And for Ham came out as the second portion, beyond the Gijôn, toward the south, to the right of the garden, and it proceeds to all the fire mountains, and goes toward the west to the sea Atîl, and goes to the west until it reaches to the sea of Mâûk, of that one into which everything descends that is destroyed. 21. And it proceeds to the north to the shore of Gâdîl and goes to the west of the water of the sea until it approaches the river Gejôn, and the river Gejôn goes until it approaches to the right of the garden of Eden: and this is the land which came forth for Ham as the portion he shall retain for himself and the children of his generations forever. 22. And for Japhet there came forth a third portion beyond the river Tinâ, toward the north of the exit of its waters, and it goes toward the northeast the whole district of Lâg, and all the east thereof. 23. And it goes toward the north to the north, and goes to the mountains of Kilt, toward the north and toward the sea Mâûk, and it goes toward the east of Gadir over toward the coast of the water of the sea. 24. And it proceeds until it approaches the west of Para, and returns toward Aphêrâg, and goes toward the east, towards the waters of the sea Mêat. And it goes toward the shore of the river Tina, toward the east of the north, until it approaches to the shore of the waters thereof, toward the mountain Râfâ, and it bends toward the north. 25. This is the land which came forth for Japhet and his children as the portion of his inheritance which he should hold unto eternity for himself and the children of their generation unto eternity: five great islands and a greas land in the north; only it is cold, but the land of Ham it hot, and the land of Shem has neither heat nor frost, for it mixed in coldness and heat.

¹ That Jerusalem is the centre of the earth is an idea often met with in the later Jewish writers, and it is therefore also the central place of the Messianic rule. Cf., e. g., Enoch, lvi. 7; Dillmann, Aethiop. Chrest., p. 15.

CHAP. IX. 1. And Ham divided among his sons; and the first portion came out for Ques toward the east, and to the west of him for Phud, and to the west of him for Kainan toward the west of the sea. 2. And Shem also divided among his sons, and the first portion came forth for Elam and his sons toward the east of the river Tiger, until it approaches the east, the whole land of India and on the Erythrian and its coast, and the waters of Dêdan and all the mountains of Mêbrî and Ela, and all the land of Sûsan, and all that is on the side of the Phêrnak to the Erythrian sea and the river Tina. 3. But for Asûr came forth a second portion, all the land of Asûr and Nineva and Sinaôr and to the border of India, and ascends along the river. 4. And for Arphaksed came forth a third portion, all the land of the district of the Chaldees toward the east of the Euphrates, bordering on the Erythrian lea, and all the waters of the desert until near to the tongue of the sea which looks toward Egypt, and all the sand of Libanon and Sanêr and Amana to the border of the Euphrates. 5. And for Aram came forth as a fourth portion all the land of Mesopotamia, between the Tiger and the Euphrates, toward the north of the Chaldees, to the border of the mountains of Asur. 6. And the land of Arara came out as a fifth portion to his son, the mountains of Asur and all belonging to them until it reaches to the east of Asur, his brother. 7. And Japhet, too, divided the land of his inheritance between his sons, and the first portion came forth for Gômêr toward the east, from the north side to the river Tîna. And in the north there came out for Magog all the inner portions of the north until it reaches the sea Mêat. 8. And for Madai came forth as his portion that he should possess, to the west of his two brothers, unto the islands and unto the coasts of the islands. And to Egawan came forth as a fourth portion all the islands, and the islands which are toward Edalûd. 9. And for Tôbêl came forth as a fifth portion, between the tongue which approaches toward the side of the portion of Lûd, to the second tongue, unto beyond the second tongue into the third tongue. 10. And for Melek came forth as a sixth portion, all that beyond the third tongue, until it approaches to the east of Gadir. 11. And for Tiras came forth a seventh portion; four great islands in the midst of the sea, which approach to the portion of Ham; and the islands of Kamatûra came out for the sons of Arphaksed in his division of his inheritance by lot. 12. And thus the sons of Noah divided out to their children, in the presence of Noah their father, and he caused them to swear an oath cursing him who endeavored to seize a portion which had not been allotted him. And they all said: "Thus be it! Thus be it!" for themselves and for their descendants to eternity in their generations, until the day of judgment, on which the Lord God will judge them with a sword and with fire for all the wickedness of uncleanness which they have committed in that they filled the earth with transgression, uncleanness, fornication, and sin.

CHAP. X. 1. And in the third week of this jubilee the evil demons began to lead astray the sons of Noah and deceived them and destroyed them. 2. And the sons came to Noah their father and told him concerning the demons which were leading astray, darkening, and slaying the sons of their sons. 3. And he prayed before the Lord his God, and he said: "Lord of the spirits' of all flesh, thou who hast shown mercy to me and hast delivered me and my children from the waters of the deluge, and hast not suffered me to be destroyed as thou didst the children of destruction, for thy grace was great over men, and great was thy mercy over my soul; may thy grace be exalted over the sons of thy sons, and may the evil spirit not rule over them to destroy them off the earth. And thou hast verily blessed me and my sons that we increase and multiply and fill the earth. 4. And thou knowest how the Watchmen, the fathers of these spirits, acted in my day; and these spirits also which are alive, cast them into prison and hold them in the places of judgment, and let them not destroy the sons of thy servant, my God, for they are terrible and created for destroying; and may they not rule over the spirits of the living; for thou alone knowest their judgment. 5. And let them have no sway over the children of the righteous from now on and to eternity. 6. And our God said unto us that we should bind all. 7. And the angel of the spirits, Mastêma,² came and said: "O Lord, Creator, leave some of them before me, and they shall hear my voice and they shall do all things that I tell them; for if thou dost not leave any of them to me I shall not be able to accomplish the power of

¹ A typical name of God in the Parables of Enoch, c. xxxvii. 71.

² The name of the leader of the evil spirits found throughout the book. The role here occupied by him may have been taken from that of Satan in Job, but it is in place to remark that in many apocryphal works, especially in Enoch, demonology has a wide field and the satans are recognized as organized opponents of God, who, however, do their evil deeds only with his permission. The word Mastema is derived from שטן=שטם, the Greek form being μαστιφάτ.

my will among the children of men, for they are here for corrupting, and destroying, and leading astray before the judgment, for great is their wickedness to the children of men." 8. And he said: "The tenth part of them shall be left before him and nine parts shall descend into the place of judgment." 9. And one of us said: "We will teach Noah all their medicines;" for they did not walk in righteousness, and did not contend in uprightness. And we did according to his word; all the wicked ones that were terrible we bound in the place of judgment, but the tenth part of them we left, that they should be judged before Satan on the earth. 10. And the medicines of all their sicknesses we explained to Noah together with all their deceptions how to heal them with the plants of the earth. 11. And Noah wrote all these down in a book as we instructed him, concerning every kind of medicines, and the evil spirits were held away from the sons of Noah. 12. And he gave all the writings which he had written to Shem, his oldest son, for him he loved exceedingly above all his children. 13. And Noah slept with his fathers and was buried on Mount Lûbar, in the land of Ararat. 14. Nine hundred and fifty years he completed in his life; nineteen jubilees and two weeks and five years; he excelled in his life on the earth the children of men on account of his righteousness, in which he was perfect, with the exception of Enoch. 15. For the history of Enoch is made a testimony to the generations of eternity to announce all the deeds of the generation on the day of judgment. 16. In the thirty-third [fourth] jubilee, in the first year of the second week, Phalêk took to himself a wife, whose name was Lâmnâ, the daughter of Sînaar, and she bore him a son in the fourth year of this week, and he called his name Ragev, for he said: "Behold, the sons of men have become evil through a plan of wickedness, because they build for themselves a city and a tower in the land of Sînaar;" for they separated from the land of Ararat toward the east to Sînaar, for in his day they were building a city and a tower, saying: "We will ascend on it into heaven." 17. And they began to build in the fourth week, and they burned with fire, and they used bricks for stones, and the clay with which they joined them was asphalt, which comes out of the sea and out of the fountains of water in the land of Sinaar, and they built forty years, and three years they were making bricks 18. And the Lord our God said to us: "Behold it is one people that has commenced to do it, and now I shall not let go of them; behold, we will descend and mix their tongues, and one shall not hear the other and they shall be scattered into cities and into nations and one counsel shall no longer abide with them until the day of judgment." 19. And the Lord descended, and we descended with him to see the city and tower which the children of men were building. 20. And he confounded all the speech of their tongues, and they no longer heard the voice one of the other, and they ceased then to build the city and the tower. On this account the whole land of Sinaar is called Babel, because there God confused all the tongues of the children of men, and from there they were scattered to all their cities, each according to his language and his nation. And the Lord sent a great wind against the tower and it overturned it upon the ground, and behold, [it stood] between the land of Assur and Babylon in the land of Sinaar, and they called its name Ruins. 21. And in the fourth week, in the first year of the thirty-fourth jubilee they were scattered out of the land of Sinaar. 22. And Ham and his sons went into the land which he had taken, which fell to him by lot in the land of the north [south]; and Kainaan saw the land of the Libanon to the canal of Egypt that it was very good, and he did not go into the land of his inheritance to the west of the sea, and dwelt in the land of Libanon to the east and to the west of the land of the Jordan and on the coast of the sea. 23. And Ham, his father, and Cush and Mêzrêm, his brothers, said to him: "Thou hast settled in a land which is not thine and did not fall to us by lot, thou shouldst not do thus; for if thou doest thus, then thou and thy children will fall by condemnation in the land, and as cursed ones by sedition, for by sedition ye have settled and by sedition thy children will fall and thou wilt be rooted out to eternity. 24. Do not dwell in the dwelling place of Shem, for to Shem and his children was it given by lot. 25. Cursed art thou and cursed shalt thou be above all the sons of Noah by the curse which we covenanted with an oath between us in the presence of the holy judge and before Noah our father." 26. But he did not listen to them and dwelt in the land of Libanon from Emath to the entrance of Egypt, he and his sons until this day. 27. And on this account this land is called Canaan. 28. But Japheth and his sons went toward the east and dwelt in their portions and Madai saw the land of the sea, and it pleased him, and he begged it from Elam, and Assur, and Arphaksed, the brother of his wife, and he dwelt in the land Mêdkin, near to the brother of his wife until this day. 29. And he called his dwelling place and the dwelling place of his sons Madakia, by the name of their father Madai.

CHAP. XI. 1. In the thirty-fifth jubilee, in the third week, in the first year thereof, Ragev took unto himself a wife, and her name was Orâ, the daughter of Or, the daughter of the son of Kêsêd, and she bore him a son, and he called his name Sêrûg, in the seventh year of this week of this jubilee. 2. And the sons of Noah began to fight with each other, to take captive and to slay each one his brother, and to spill the blood of men over the earth, and to eat blood, and to build strong cities, and walls, and towers (and single men elevated themselves above the people, and first founded kingdoms), and to make war, a nation against a nation, and nations against nations, and city against city, and all things became worse, and they acquired for themselves arms, and taught their sons war, and began to take captive the cities and to sell male and female slaves. 3. And Ur, the son of Kêsêd, built Erâ of the Chaldees, and called its name after his own name and by the name of his father. 4. And he made for himself molten images, and they worshipped each one his own image which they had made for themselves by molding, and they began to make sculptured images and unclean forms, and the terrible spirits assisted them and misled them to commit transgression and uncleanness. 5. And the prince Mastêma gave his power to make all this, and through the angels who had been given under his hand, he sent out his hand to do all wickedness and sin and all transgression, and to destroy and to murder and to shed blood over the earth. 6. On this account his name was called Sêrâch, for Sêrâch turned himself in all things to do all kinds of sin. 7. And he grew and dwelt in Ur of the Chaldees near to the father of the mother of his wife, and he worshipped idols, and he took to himself a wife in the thirty-sixth jubilee, in the fifth week, in the first year thereof, and her name was Mêlka, the daughter of Kêher, the daughter of the brother of his father. And she bore him a son Nakôr, in the first year of this week, and he grew and dwelt in Ur of the Chaldees, and his father taught him the researches of the Chaldees, divination and astrology according to the signs of the heavens. 8. And in the thirty-seventh jubilee, in the sixth week, in the first year thereof, he took to himself a wife, and her name was Ijôsek, the daughter of Nêsteg of the Chaldees. 9. And she bore him Tarah in the seventh year of this week. 10. And the prince Mastema sent ravens and birds that they should eat what was sown on the land, in order to destroy the land, so that they might deprive the children of men of their labor, for before they plowed in the seed the ravens picked it up from the surface of the ground. 11. On that account his father called his name Tarah, because the ravens and the birds robbed them and devoured their seed. 12. And the years began to be barren on account of the birds, and all the fruit of the trees they ate from the trees ; with great strength they were able to save a little from all the fruit of the land in their days. 13. And in the thirty-ninth jubilee, in the second week, in the first year, Tarah took to himself a wife, and her name was Edna, the daughter of Abram, the daughter of the sister of his father. 14. And in the seventh year of this week she bore him a son, and he called his name Abram by the name of the father of his mother, for he had died before his daughter conceived a son. 15. And the child began to understand the errors of the earth, that all went astray after the images and after uncleanness; and his father taught him writing when two weeks of years old; and he separated himself from his father that he might not worship the idols with him. 16. And he began to pray to the Creator of all things that he should save him from the errors of the children of men, and that his portion should not fall into error after uncleanness and shame. 17. And the time of seed came to sow it upon the land, and all came out together to watch their seed against the ravens, and Abram came out with those that came out, and he was a boy of fourteen years. 18. And a cloud of ravens came to devour the seed, and Abram ran to scatter them before they sat down on the earth to eat the seed, and said: "Do not devour; return to the place whence you came!" and they turned back. 19. And clouds of ravens returned that day seven times, and of all the ravens none sat down upon any of the land where Abram was, and not one was left there. 20. And all those that were with him on the whole land saw him crying, and all the ravens turned back; and great was his name in all the land of the Chaldees. 21. And there came to him in this year all those that had sowed seed, and he would go with them until the time of sowing in the land ceased, and they sowed in their land, and in this year they brought home grain, and ate it and were satisfied. 22. And in the fifth year of the fifth week Abram taught those who make the instruments for oxen, the workmen in wood, and they made utensils over the earth, opposite the crook timber of the plows in order to put the seed thereon, and to let the seed fall out of it into the seed furrows. 23. And it was hidden in the earth, and they no longer feared the ravens; and thus they did on all the crook-timber of the plows over the earth, and they sowed and worked the land each one as Abram had commanded them, and no longer feared the ravens.

CHAP. XII. 1. And it happened in the sixth week, in the seventh year thereof, Abram said unto Tarah, his father, saying, "Father!" And he said, "Behold, here I am, my son!" 2. And he said: "What assistance and what pleasure have we from all the idols which thou dost worship and before which thou dost prostrate thyself? 3. For there is no spirit in them, but they are dumb statues and a deception of the heart: do not worship them. 4. Worship the God of heaven, who sends down dew and rain upon the earth and does everything upon the earth and has created everything through his word and all living things are from before his face. 5. Why do ye worship those who have no heart and spirit in them; for they are the works of hands, and upon your shoulders do ye carry them, and ye have from them no help, but a great disgrace to those who make them and a deception of the heart to those who worship them: do not worship them!" 6. And Tarah said: "I also know it, my son; but what shall I do with this people who command me that I should serve them? 7. If I tell them the truth, they will slay me; for their soul clings to them to worship and to glorify them. 8. Keep silent, my son, lest they slay thee!" 9. And these words he spoke to his two brothers, and they became angry at him, and he kept silent. 10. And in the fortieth jubilee, in the second week, in the seventh year thereof, Abram took to himself a wife, and her name was Sara, the daughter of his father, and she became to him a wife. 11. And Arân, his brother, took to himself [a wife] in the third year of this week, and his wife bare him a son in the seventh year of this week, and he called his name Lot. 12. And Nachor also, his brother, took to himself a wife. 13. And in the [sixtieth] year of the life of Abram, that is, in the fourth year of the fourth week, Abram arose in the night, and burned down the house of his idols, and burned all that was in the house, and there was no man that knew it. 14. And they arose in the night and desired to save their idols from the midst of the flame. 15. And Arân ran in order to save them, and the fire burned over him and he burned in the midst of the fire, and he died in Ur of the Chaldees before Tarah, his father, and they buried him in Ur. 16. And Tarah went away from Ur of the Chaldees, he and his sons, in order to come into the land of the Lebanon and into the land of Canaan; and he dwelt in Haran, and Abram dwelt with his father Tarah in Haran two weeks of years. 17. And in the sixth week, in the fifth year thereof, Abram arose and sat in the night at the new moon of the seventh month, so that he might observe the stars from the evening to the morning, so that he might know what would be the character of the year with regard to the rains, and he was sitting alone and observing. 18. And a word came into his heart, and he said: "All the signs of the stars and the signs of the sun and of the moon are all in the hand of the Lord; why do I search them out? 19. If he desires, he causes it to rain, morning and evening; and if he desires, he causes it to descend, and all things are in his hands." 20. And he prayed in that night, and said: "My God, God Most High, thou alone art a God to me, and thou hast created all things, and all things that are are the works of thy hand, and thee and thy godship have I chosen. 21. Deliver me from the hands of the evil spirits who reign over the thoughts of the hearts of men, and let them not lead me astray from thee, my God, and cause thou me and my seed in eternity not to go astray from now on and to eternity! 22. And I say, shall I return to Ur of the Chaldees, who seek my face, that I should return to them; or shall I remain here in this place; the right path before thee prosper in the hands of thy servant, that he may follow it and not walk in the error of my heart, O my God!" 23. He completed his words and prayer, and, behold, the Lord sent a word to him through me, saying: Up, go thou out of thy country, and out of thy kindred, and out of the house of thy father, into a land which I will show to thee, and I will make thee in the land which is great into a great and numerous people. 24. And I will bless thee and will make thy name great, and thou shalt be blessed in the land, and all the nations of the earth shall be blessed in thee; those that bless thee I will bless, and those that curse thee I will curse. 25. And I will be a God to thee and to thy children and to thy children's children and to all thy seed, and behind thee will be thy God. 26. Fear not, from now on to all the generations of the earth I am thy God." 27. And the Lord God said to me: "Open his mouth and his ears that he may hear and speak with the language which has been revealed;" for it had ceased from the mouths of all the children of men. 28. And I opened his mouth and his lips, and I opened his ears, and I began to speak with him in Hebrew, in the tongue of creation; and he took the books of his father, and these were written in Hebrew, and he copied them, and he began to learn them from then on, and I made known to him every thing he was incapable [of understanding], and he studied them the six months of the rainy period. 29. And it happened in the seventh year of the sixth week, and he spoke with his father, and informed him that he would go from Haran to go to the land of Canaan to see it and to return to him. 30. And Tarah, his father, said to him: "Go in peace! the God of the worlds make straight thy path, and the Lord be with thee and protect thee from all evil, and give to thee good will and mercy and grace before those who see thee; and may none of the sons of men come over thee to do thee evil; go in peace! 31. And if thou seest a land pleasant to thy eyes to dwell in it, then up, and take me with thee; and take Lot with thee, the son of Arân thy brother, as thy son, and God be with thee. 32. But Nachor thy brother leave with me until thou returnest in peace and we go with thee together."

CHAP. XIII. 1. And Abram went from Haran, and took Sara, his wife, and Lot, the son of his brother Arân, to the land of Canaan, and he came into the land of Asur, and proceeded to Sakimôn, and dwelt near a great oak.¹ And he saw the land, and, behold, it was very beautiful from the entrance of Emêt to the great mountains. 2. And the Lord said to him: "To thee and to thy seed I will give this land." 3. And he built an altar there, and brought upon it a sacrifice to the Lord who had appeared to him. 4. And he arose from there, with the hill Bethel toward the sea [west], and Ai to the east, and fixed his tent there. 5. And he saw, and, behold, the land was pleasant and extended and very wide, and every thing grew on it, vines and figs and pomegranates and terebinths and oil trees and cedars and Lebanon trees and cypresses and all the trees of the field; and water was upon the hills. 6. And he blessed the Lord who had led him out of Ur of the Chaldees and brought him to this hill. 7. And it happened in the first year, in the seventh week, at the new moon of the first month, that he built an altar on this hill, and called upon the name of the Lord: "Thou art my God, the God unto eternity." 8. And he placed upon the altar a sacrifice unto the Lord, that he should be with him and should not desert him all the days of his life. 9. And he arose from there and went toward the north,² and he came to Hebron, and Hebron was built at that time,³ and he dwelt there two years in the land to the north of Boaz-Lot, and there was a famine in the land, and Abram went into Egypt in the third year of this week, and he dwelt in Egypt five years before his wife was torn away from him. 10. But Tanâi¹ in Egypt was then built in the seventh winter after Hebron. 11. And it happened that when Pharaoh seized Sara, the wife of Abram, the Lord punished Pharaoh and his whole house with large plagues, on account of Sara, the wife of Abram. And Abram was very conspicuous by wealth in sheep and oxen and asses and horses and camels and in man-servants and in maid-servants and in silver and in gold exceedingly, and Lot, also, the son of his brother, was wealthy. 12. And Pharaoh brought back Sara, the wife of Abram, and sent him out of the land of Egypt; and he came to a place where he had first fixed his tent, at the place of the altar at Agê to the east of Bethel, and he went and blessed the Lord his God who had brought him back in peace. 13. And it happened in the forty-first jubilee, in the third year of the first week, he returned to this place, and placed upon it a burnt sacrifice, and called upon the name of the Lord, and said: "Thou, O Lord, Most High God, art my God to all eternity." 14. And in the fourth year of this week Lot separated from him, and Lot dwelt in Sodom; but the men of Sodom were great sinners. And he grieved in his heart that the son of his brother had separated from him, for he had no children. 15. And in that year when Lot was taken captive, the Lord also said to Abram, after Lot had separated from him, in the fourth year of this week, and said: "Lift up thine eyes from the place here where thou art dwelling toward the north and south and west and east. 16. For the whole land which thou seest I will give to thee and thy seed to eternity, and I will make thy seed like the sand on the sea; and when man is able to count the sand on the sea, then thy seed will be counted. 17. Arise and go through it in its length and breadth and see it all, for to thy seed I will give it." 18. And Abram went to Hebron and dwelt there. 19. And in that year came Kôlôdôgômôr, the king of Elam, and Emâlphele, the king of Sînâr, and Ariôk, the king of Sêlâsar, and Tîrgâl, the king of the Gentiles, and slew the king of Gomorrhâ, and the king of Sodom fled, and many fell by wounds in Sêdêmâv and in the salt-district, and they took captive Sodom and Adam and Shêbôêm, and Lot, also, the son of the brother of Abram, and all his possessions, and went to Dan. 20. And one who had escaped came and told Abram, that the son of the brother of Abram had been taken captive.¹ 21. And the house-servant brought for Abram and his seed the first tenth to the Lord, and the Lord ordained it as an ordinance to eternity, that they should give [this] to the priests who served before him, that they should possess it forever. 22. And to this law is not a limit of days, but it is ordained to the generation of eternity, that they should give the tenth to the Lord, of their seed and of their wine and of their oil and of their oxen and of their sheep. 23. And he gave it to his priests to eat and to drink in joy before him. 24. And the king of Sodom came to him and bowed down before him, and said: "Our lord Abram, give us the souls thou hast saved, but let the booty be thine." 25. And Abram said to him: "I lift up my hands to God on high, from a thread to a shoe-latchet I will take nothing from all that is thine, so that thou sayest not, 'I have made Abram rich,' only except what the youths have eaten and the portion for the men who came with me, Avnân, Eskôl, and Mâmre, these shall take their share."

¹ Cf. Gen. xii. 6.

² It should, of course, be "southward,"—probably a blunder of a translator living in Ethiopia.

³ Cf. Num. xiii. 22.

¹ I. e., תַּנַּי, Tavîv. Num. xiii. 22.

CHAP. XIV. 1. And after these events, in the fourth year of this week, in the new moon of the third month, the voice of the Lord came to Abram in a dream, saying: "Fear not, Abram, for I am thy defender and thy exceeding great reward." 2. And he said: "O Lord, Lord, what wilt thou give me, and I have no son; and the son of Mâsêk, the son of my maid-servant,¹ this Eleazer of Damascus, he will be my heir; but to me thou hast not given any seed." 3. And he said to him: "This one will not be thy heir, but he that comes from thy body, he will be thy heir." 4. And he took him without and said to him: "Look upon the heavens and see the stars of heaven, if thou art able to count them." 5. And he looked at the heavens and saw the stars; and he said to him: "Thus shall be thy seed." 6. And he believed the Lord, and it was accounted to him for righteousness. 7. And he said to him: "I am the Lord thy God, who have brought thee out of Ur of the Chaldees, that I might give thee the land of Canaan for an eternal possession, and I will be to thee and thy children after thee a God." 8. And he said: "O Lord, Lord, by what am I to know that I shall inherit it?" 9. And he said to him: "Take to thyself a heifer of three years, and a goat of three years, and a sheep of three years, and a turtle-dove and a pigeon." 10. And he took all these in the middle of the month, and he dwelt near the oak Mâmre, which is near Hebron, and he built there an altar, and sacrificed all these and poured their blood upon the altar, and divided them into halves and laid them opposite each other; but the birds he did not divide. 12. And birds descended upon the pieces, and Abram drove them away and would not suffer the birds to touch them. 13. And it happened when the sun had set, a stupor fell upon Abram, and, behold, a great horror of darkness fell upon him, and it was spoken to Abram:² "Know in truth that thy seed will be a stranger in a strange land, and they will make them servants and oppress them four hundred years. 14. But the nation which they serve I will judge, and after that they will go out from there with many possessions. 15. And thou shalt go to thy fathers in peace and shalt be buried in a good age. 16. And in the fourth generation they shall return hither, for not yet are the sins of the Amorites completed." 17. And he awoke from his sleep, and he arose, and the sun had set, and there was a flame, and, behold, an oven was smoking, and a flame of fire passed through between the pieces. 18. And on that day the Lord made a covenant with Abram, saying: "To thy seed I will give this land from the river of Egypt unto the great river Euphrates, the Kenites and the Kenizzites and the Kadmonites and the Perizzites and the Rephaimites and the Ewites and the Amorites and the Canaanites and the Girgashites." 19. And Abram went and took up the pieces and the birds and the fruit and the drink offerings, and the fire devoured them. 20. And on that day we made a covenant with Abram according to the covenant which he had made in this month with Noah; and Abram renewed the festival and ordinance for himself unto eternity.¹ 21. And Abram rejoiced and told all these things to Sara, his wife, and he believed that he would have seed; but she did not bring forth. And Sara advised her husband Abram, and said to him: "Go in to Hagar, my Egyptian maid; it is possible that he will raise up for thee seed from her." 22. And Abram obeyed the voice of Sara, his wife, and said to her, "Do it," and Sara took her Egyptian maid Hagar and gave her to Abram, her husband, that she should become his wife. 23. And he went in to her, and she conceived and bore him a son, and he called his name Ishmael, in the fifth year of this week: and this was the eighty-sixth year of the life of Abram.²

¹ There is certainly a lacuna between this and the following verse, although there is nothing in the Ethiopic text to show it.

¹ Cf. LXX. on Gen. xv. 2.

² Cf. LXX. on Gen. xv. 13.

CHAP. XV. 1. In the fifth year of the fourth week of this jubilee, in the third month, in the beginning of the month, Abram celebrated the festival of the first of the grain harvest; and he brought new offerings beside offering of the first-fruits to the Lord, an ox and a goat and a sheep upon the altar as a sacrifice to the Lord, and their fruit offerings and their drink offerings he placed upon the altar together with frankincense. 2. And the Lord

¹ Cf. note on Chap. vi. 15.

² Gen. xvi. 16.

appeared to Abram and said to him: "I am the omnipotent God; be pleasing to me and be perfect, and I will establish my covenant between me and thee, and will increase thee exceedingly." 3. And Abram fell down on his face. 4. And the Lord spoke to him and said: "Behold my ordinance is with thee, and I will make thee the father of many nations, and thy name shall no longer be called Abram, and thy name henceforth and to eternity shall be Abraham, for I will make thee a father of many nations, and I will make thee exceedingly great, and will cause nations and kings to proceed from thee. 5. And I will establish my covenant between me and thee and between thy seed after thee in their generations, as an ordinance of eternity, that I will be a God to thee and to thy seed after thee in their generations, [and I will give thee] the land where thou art a stranger, the land of Canaan, that thou shalt be ruler over it to eternity, and I will be their God." 6. And the Lord said to Abraham: "And thou, preserve my covenant, thou and thy seed after thee, and circumcise all your foreskins, and let it be a sign of my ordinance unto eternity between me and thee and for thy descendants. 7. On the eighth day ye shall circumcise all the males in your generation, the members of the household, and him whom ye have bought with gold from all the sons of the strangers whom ye have as your property, who are not of thy seed,—they shall circumcise the children of the household, and whomsoever ye have bought shall be circumcised. 8. And my covenant shall be on your flesh as an eternal ordinance; and whosoever is not circumcised, all of thy males the flesh of whose foreskin is not circumcised on the eighth day, his soul shall be rooted out of his generation, for he has overthrown my covenant." 9. And the Lord said unto Abraham: "Sara, thy wife, shall no longer be called by her name Sara, for Sarah shall be her name;¹ for I will bless

¹ The actual change made, according to the Ethiopic, is from Sôrâ to Sârâ, which is the same as made in the best MSS. of the Ethiopic Bible in and give to thee a son from her, and I will bless him and he will become a people, and kings and nations shall proceed from him." 10. And Abraham fell upon his face and rejoiced, and he said in his heart: "Should there be born a son to one of a hundred years, and shall Sarah, who is ninety, yet bring forth!" 11. And Abraham said to the Lord: "O that Ishmael might live before thee!" 12. And the Lord said: "Yea, and Sarah also shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name Isaac, and I will establish my eternal covenant with him and with his seed after him. 13. And also in reference to Ishmael have I heard thee, and, behold, I will bless him, and I will make him great and will increase him exceedingly, and twelve princes he will beget, and I will make him a great nation; but I will establish my covenant with Isaac, whom Sarah will bear for thee, in these days, in the second year." 14. And having ended speaking with him, the Lord ascended from over above Abraham. 15. And Abraham did as the Lord had said to him, and took Ishmael his son, and all the members of his household, and those whom he had bought with gold, all the males that were in his house, and circumcised the flesh of their sexual member. 16. And at the time of these days Abraham was circumcised, and all the men of his house and all whom he had bought with gold from among the sons of the strangers were circumcised with him. 17. And this is the law for all the generations of eternity, with no change of days and no deviation of day from the eighth day, for it is an eternal ordinance, ordained and written in the tablets of heaven. 18. And every one that is born, the flesh of whose member is not circumcised upon the eighth day, is not of the children of the covenant which the Lord made with Abraham, but is of the children of destruction; and he has no sign upon him that he is the Lord's, but he is for destruction and slaying from the earth and for rooting out of the earth; for he has broken the covenant of the Lord our God. 19. For all the angels of the face and all the angels of glorification were thus created from the day of their creation; and he looked upon the angels of glorification, and he sanctified Israel that they should be with him and with his holy angels. 20. And thou command the children of Israel and let them observe the sign of this covenant, and for their generations as an eternal ordinance that they be not rooted out of the land. 21. For it is ordained as a command of the covenant that they should observe it forever among all the children of Israel. 22. For Ishmael and his sons and his brothers and Esau the Lord did not permit to approach him and did not choose them, for the sons of Abraham are those he acknowledged, and he chose Israel to be his people. 23. And he sanctified it and collected it from among all the children of men, for there are many nations and many peoples, and all are his, and over all has he appointed spirits to rule, that they should lead them astray from him, but over Israel he did not appoint any ruler, neither an angel nor a spirit, but he alone is their ruler, and he preserves them, and he contends for them against the hands of his angels and his spirits and all; and they shall keep all his commandments, and he will bless them, and they shall be his, and he will be theirs, from now on and to eternity. 24. And from now on I will announce to you that the children of Israel will break faith with this ordinance, and will not circumcise their sons according to this whole law, for they will omit this circumcision of the children on the flesh of their circumcision, and they all, the sons of Belial, will leave their children without circumcision as they were born. 25. And the wrath upon the children of Israel will be great from the Lord, for they have deserted his covenant.

Gen. xvii. 15. Really, throughout the text, before this, the Book of Jubilees has been using the word Sôrâ, for which now Sârâ is employed. In Ethiopic this involves no change in the meaning of the name. The LXX. changes from Σάρα to Σάρρα.

¹ The angels even are circumcised, or rather created in that condition. One of the MSS. upon which D. bases his Ethiopic text omits this sentence.

and have departed from his word, and enrage him and blaspheme him, as they do not observe this ordinance according to this sign, for they make their members like the Gentiles for being torn and rooted out of the land. And no longer is there forgiveness or pardon for them that all their sin may be forgiven and pardoned for this error to eternity.

CHAP. XVI. 1. And at the new moon of the fourth month we appeared to Abraham at the oak of Mâmre, and we conversed with him, and we announced to him that a son would be given him from Sarah his wife. 2. And Sarah laughed, for she heard that we spoke these words with Abraham; and we admonished her, and she became afraid and denied that she had laughed on account of the words. 3. And we told her the name of her son as it is written on the tablets of heaven, namely, Isaac, as his name. 4. And when we returned to her in a fixed time then she was pregnant with a son. 5. And in this month the Lord carried out the judgments of Sodom and Gomorrah and Sebrûem and all the circuit of the Jordan, and burnt them with fire and brimstone, and demolished them unto the present day, according to what we have made known to thee concerning all their actions, that they were terrible and very sinful and they defiled themselves and committed fornication and uncleanness over the earth. 6. And accordingly the Lord inflicted judgment upon all the places by the hand of his servants, according to the uncleanness of Sodom, according to the judgment of Sodom. 7. But Lot we saved, for the Lord remembered Abraham, and led him out of the destruction. 8. And he and his daughters committed sin on the earth, such as had not been from the days of Adam until now, for the man lay with his daughters. 9. And, behold, it is commanded and engraven concerning all his seed on the tablets of heaven, that they should tear them out and root them out and judge them according to the judgment of Sodom, and that no seed should be left this man on the earth in the day of judgment. 10. And in this month Abraham migrated from Hebron, and dwelt between Kades and Shur in the mountains of Gêrârôn. 11. And in the middle of the fifth month he migrated from there and dwelt at the well of the oath.¹ And in the middle of the sixth month the Lord visited Sarah, and did to her as he had said to her, and she conceived and bore a son. And in the third month, in the middle of the month, in the days which the Lord had said to Abraham, on the festival of the first harvest, Isaac was born; and Abraham circumcised his son on the eighth day: he was the first one circumcised in the covenant as it was ordained forever. 12. And in the sixth year, in this month, of the fourth week, we came to Abraham to the well of the oath, and we appeared to him as we had told Sarah, that we would come to her, but she became pregnant with a son, and we returned in the seventh month and found Sarah pregnant before us, and we blessed her and told her all things that had been commanded us concerning him [Abraham] that he should not die until six sons had been born to him, and that he would see them before he should die; but that in Isaac his name and seed should be called. 13. And all the seed of his [other] sons will become Gentiles and will be numbered with the Gentiles; but from the sons of Isaac one shall become a holy seed and shall not be numbered among the Gentiles. 14. For he shall become the portion of the Most High, and among those of whom God is ruler will be his abode and all his seed, that it become a seed of the Lord, a nation of inheritance among all the nations, and that it may be a kingdom and a priesthood and a holy nation. 15. And we went our way, and we announced to Sarah all that we had told him; and these two rejoiced with an exceeding great joy. 16. And he built there an altar to the Lord who had saved him and had filled him with joy in the land of his pilgrimage, and he celebrated a festival of great joy in this month, seven days, at the altar

¹ I. e., Beer-Sheba.

which he had built at the fountain of the oath; and he built tents for himself and his servants on this festival, and he was the first one to celebrate the festival of tabernacles on the earth. 17. And in these seven days Abraham would bring every single day upon the altar a burnt offering to the Lord, two oxen, seven sheep, one young goat, on account of his sins that thereby these might be forgiven him and his seed, and as an offering of salvation seven rams, seven goats, and their fruit offering and their drink offering; over all the fat thereof he burnt incense upon the altar as a sacrifice chosen to the Lord as a sweet savor. 18. At mornings and evenings he burnt frankincense, galbanum, staklē and wood and myrrh and spice and costum; all these seven he brought, united with each other in equal parts and clean. 19. And thus he celebrated his festival seven days, rejoicing with his whole heart and his whole soul, he and all those that were in his house; and there was not any stranger with him nor any bastard. 20. And he blessed his Creator who had created him in his generation, for according to his pleasure did he create him; for he knew and observed that from him would come the plant of righteousness for the generations of eternity, and that from him should also come the holy seed, like him who had made all things.¹ 21. And he blessed his Creator, and he was glad, and he called the name of this festival the festival of the Lord with a joy acceptable to the Most High God. 22. And we blessed him forever and all his seed after him in all the generations of the world on this earth, because he celebrated this festival in its house according to the testimony of the tablets of heaven. 23. On this account it is ordained in the tablets of heaven concerning Israel that they shall celebrate the festival of the tabernacles seven days in joy, in the seventh month, that it be accepted before the Lord as an eternal law in the generations of all the years. 24.

¹ This is one of the passages in this book which can be interpreted messianically.

And to this there is no limit of days, but it is ordained over Israel as a festival that they shall observe it, and shall dwell in tents, and shall place wreaths upon their heads, and they shall take a willow branch with foliage from the brook. 25. And Abraham took the heart of the palm and good fruit of trees, and every day and day he would go around the altar with the branches, seven times a day, and in the morning he praised and thanked his God for all things in joy.

CHAP. XVII. 1. And in the first year of the fifth week Isaac was weaned, in this jubilee, and Abraham made a great feast in the third month on the day his son Isaac was weaned. 2. And Ishmael, the son of the Egyptian Hagar, was before the face of his father in this place; and Abraham rejoiced and blessed the Lord, because that he could see sons to himself and had not died without sons. 3. And he remembered the words which he had spoken to him on the day that Lot separated from him; and he rejoiced, because the Lord had given him seed on the earth to inherit the land; and he blessed with his whole mouth the Creator of all things. 4. And when Sarah saw that Ishmael was playing and growing, and that Abraham was rejoicing exceedingly, she became jealous of Ishmael, and she said to Abraham: "Drive away this slave and her son, for the son of this one shall not inherit with my son Isaac." 5. And these words were grievous in the eyes of Abraham, on account of his maid, and on account of his son, that he should drive them away from him. 6. And the Lord said to Abraham: "Let it not be grievous in thy eyes concerning the child, and concerning the slave; all that Sarah says to thee, hear her words and do them, for in Isaac shall thy name and thy seed be called for thee. 7. But the son of this [slave] I will make into a great nation, for he is of thy seed. 8. And Abraham arose early in the morning and took bread and a bag of water and put them upon the shoulders of Hagar and of the boy and sent them away. 9. And she went wandering about in the desert Beer-Sheba; and the water was finished from the bag, and the boy was thirsty, and was not able to walk, and he fell down. 10. And his mother took him, and going, threw him under an olive tree, and she went and sat down opposite him, the distance of an arrow shot, saying: "I cannot see the death of my child;" and she sat weeping. 11. And an angel of God, one of the holy ones, said to her: "Why dost thou weep, Hagar? arising, take the boy, and lead him by the hand, for the Lord has heard thy voice." 12. And she looked at the bag and opened her eyes and saw a well of water, and she went and filled the bag with water and gave her boy to drink, and she arose and went toward the desert of Paran. 13. And the boy grew and became a horseman, and the Lord was with him. 14. And his mother took for him a wife from among the daughters of Egypt, and she bore him a son, and he called his name Nâbêmôth, for she said: "The Lord was near to me when I cried out to him." 15. And it happened in the seventh week, in the first year thereof, in the first month of this jubilee, on the twelfth of this month, there was a word in the heavens concerning Abraham, that he was a believer in all that the Lord told him, and that he loved him, because in all temptations he was faithful. 16. And the prince Mastêmâ approached and said before God: "Behold Abraham loves Isaac his son, and esteems him more than all other things; say that he should bring him as a burnt offering on the altar and thou wilt see if he will do this word, and thou wilt know if he is a believer in everything with which thou triest him." 17. And the Lord knew that Abraham was a believer in all trials which he spoke to him; for he had tried him in his country, and in the strange land, and had tried him with the wealth of kings, and had tried him again with his wife in that she was torn from him, and with the circumcision, and had tried him with Ishmael and Hagar his maid, when he sent them away, and in all in which he had tried him he was found faithful, and his soul did not become impatient, nor did he hesitate to do it, for he was faithful and a lover of God.¹

CHAP. XVIII. 1. And the Lord said to Abraham, "Abraham." And he said to him, "Behold, O Lord, here I am." 2. And he said to him: "Take thy son Isaac whom thou lovest, and go into the high land, and take him upon one of the hills which I will show thee." 3. And he arose in the morning from there and saddled his ass, and took two young men with him, and Isaac his son, and split the wood for a sacrifice, and he came to the place on the third day, and saw the place from afar. 4. And he came to a well of water, and he said to the young men: "Remain here with the ass, and I and the boy will go on and will worship, and after worshipping will return to you." 5. And he took the wood for the sacrifice and put it upon the shoulders of his son Isaac and he took in his hands the fire and the knife, and the two went together to that place. 6. And Isaac said to his father: "My father." 7. And he said to him: "Behold, here I am, my son." 8. [And he said] "Behold here is the fire, and the knife, and the wood; but where, my father, is the sheep for the sacrifice?" 9. And he said: "The Lord will show me the sheep for the sacrifice, my son." 10. And he came to the place of the hill of the Lord, and he built an altar and laid the wood upon the altar, and tied Isaac his son and placed him upon the wood over the altar, and he stretched out his hands to take the knife to sacrifice Isaac. 11. And I stood before him [God] and before the prince Mastêmâ, and the Lord said: "Tell him not to lay his hand upon the boy and to do him no harm; for I know that he fears the Lord." 12. And the Lord called to him from heaven and said to him: "Abraham! Abraham!" and he was frightened and said: "Behold, here I am." 13. And he said to him: "Do not lay thy hands upon the boy, and do him no harm, for now I know that thou fearest the Lord, and hast not spared from me thy first-born son." 14 And the prince Mastêmâ was confounded; and Abraham lifted up his eyes and looked, and behold a ram held fast with his horns. 15. And Abraham went and took the ram and brought him as a sacrifice in the place of his son Isaac. 16. And Abraham called this place "The Lord seeth," so that it is said "The Lord saw it" for Mount Zion. 17. And the Lord called Abraham by name a second time from heaven as he had appeared to us that we should speak to him in the name of the Lord. 18. And he said: "By my head, I swear, saith the Lord, because thou hast done this thing and hast not spared from me thy first-born son whom thou lovest, therefore I will surely bless thee and will surely increase thy head like the stars of heaven and like the sand of the shore of the sea. 19. And thy seed shall inherit the cities of their enemy, and in thy seed shall be blessed all the nations of the earth, for this that thou hast listened to my voice and hast shown unto all that thou art faithful unto me in all that I say to thee; go in peace." 20. And Abraham went to his young men, and they arose and went together to Beer-Sheba, and Abraham dwelt near the well of the oath; and he celebrated this festival in all the years, seven days in joy, and called it "the festival of the Lord," according to the seven days in which he had gone and returned in peace. 21. And thus it is, and it is engraven and written in the tablets of heaven concerning Israel and its seed to keep this festival seven days in joy.

¹ This list of temptations appears elsewhere, although with variation of figures, in similar writings. The Targum Jerusal. to Gen. xxii. 1 has the same number.

CHAP. XIX. 1. And in the first year of the first week in the forty-second jubilee Abraham returned and dwelt opposite Hebron, that is, Karjâtârbôk, two weeks of years. 2. And in the first year of the third week of this jubilee the days of the life of Sarah were completed, and she died in Hebron. 5. And Abraham went to mourn over and to bury her; and we tried him if his spirit was patient and if he was impatient in the words of his mouth, and he was found patient in this, and was not shaken. 4. For in the patience of his soul he conversed with the children of Kêti that they should give him a place that he could bury his body in it; and the Lord gave him grace before all who saw him, and he asked with modesty of heart of the children of Kêti, and they gave him the land of the double cave opposite Mâmre, which is Hebron, for forty pieces of silver. 5. But they begged him, saying: "We will give it to thee;" and he did not take anything from them for nothing, for he gave the price for the place, perfect silver; and he bowed down before them twice, and then he buried the body in the double cave. 6. And all the days of the life of Sarah were one hundred and twenty-seven years, and this is two jubilees and four weeks and one year; those are the days of the years of the life of Sarah. And this was the tenth trial with which Abraham was tempted, and he was found faithful and of patient spirit. 8. And he did not speak a single word concerning that God had said that he would give him and his seed after him this land when he petitioned that he might bury his body there, for he was found faithful and patient and was written down as a friend of the Lord in the tablets of heaven. 9. And in the fourth year thereof he took a wife for Isaac his son, and her name was Rebecca, the daughter of Betuel, the son of Nahor, the brother of Abraham. 10. And Abraham took to himself a third wife, and her name was Keturah, from among the sons of his household, for Hagar had died before Sarah. 11. And she bore him six sons, Zambari, and Joksan, and Madai, and Ejazbok, and Sachai in the second week of years.¹ 12. And in the sixth week, in the second year, Rebecca bore to Isaac two sons, Jacob and Esau: but Jacob was pious and righteous and Esau was a rough man, a tiller of the field and hairy, but Jacob dwelt within tents. 13. And the youths grew, and

¹ Only five names are given in the Ethiopic text. The similarity of the names Medan and Midian (Gen. xxv. 2) has manifestly led to the omission of one.

Jacob learned writing ; but Esau did not learn it, for he was a man of the field and a hunter, and learned war and all rough deeds. 14. But Abraham loved Jacob, but Isaac loved Esau. 15. And Abraham saw the deeds of Esau, and he knew that his name and seed should be called for him in Jacob, and he called Rebecca, and commanded her concerning Jacob, for he saw that she too loved Jacob much more than Esau. 16. And he said to her: " My daughter, watch my son Jacob, for he shall be in my stead upon the earth as a blessing among the sons of men and to all the seed of Shem, and for an honor, and I know that the Lord has chosen him for himself as a people secluded from all those upon the face of the earth, and behold, Isaac, my son, loves Esau more than Jacob, and I see that thou lovest righteousness for Jacob ; add yet to do something good for him and let thine eyes be over him as the beloved, for he shall be to me a blessing over the earth, from now on and to all the generations of the earth. 17. Let thy hands be strong, and thou shalt rejoice in thy son Jacob, for him do I love exceedingly above all my children ; for to eternity the Lord will be blessed in him, and his seed shall fill all the land. 18. If a man can number the dust of the earth, then his seed will be numbered. 19. And all the blessings with which the Lord has blessed me and my seed shall be to Jacob and his seed all the days, and in his seed shall my name be blessed and the names of my fathers, Shem, and Noah, and Enoch, and Mahaalel, and Seth, and Adam ; and these will serve to a founding of heaven and a strengthening of the earth and for a removal of all the stars upon the firmament."¹ 20. And he called Jacob before the eyes of his mother Rebecca, and he kissed him, and blessed him, and said to him ; " My beloved son Jacob, whom my soul loveth, may God bless thee from the firmament above and give thee all the blessings with which he blessed Adam, and Enoch, and Noah, and Shem, and all that he has conversed with me and all that he has said that he would give me, may he fasten these to thee and to thy seed to eternity, according to the days of heaven over the earth. 21. And the spirits of Mastêmâ shall not become masters over thee and over thy seed to remove thee from the Lord who is thy God, from now on and to eternity. 22. And may the Lord God be thy father, and thou his first-born son, and his people for all days: go, my son, in peace!" 23. And the two went together from Abraham. 24. And Rebecca loved Jacob with all her heart, and with all her soul, exceedingly more than Esau; and Isaac loved Esau exceedingly more than Jacob.

¹ This probably means that a great nation is to come from Jacob, referring either to the Israel of history or to that of the messianic period.

CHAP. XX. 1 And in the thirty-second jubilee, in the first year of the seventh week, Abraham called Ishmael and his twelve sons, and Isaac and his two sons, and the six sons of Keturah and their sons. 2. And he commanded them that they should preserve the path of the Lord to do righteousness and should love each his neighbor, and that they should be thus in all the wars that they go into against every one that is against them, and do justice and righteousness over the earth, and that they circumcise their sons according to the covenant which he had made with them, and that they should not transgress neither to the right hand nor to the left from all the paths which the Lord had commanded them, and that they should preserve themselves from all uncleanness, and that we should remove from our midst all uncleanness and fornication. 3. And if any woman or maid commit fornication amongst you, burn her with fire, and do not commit fornication after their eyes and hearts; and that they should not take unto themselves wives from among the daughters of Canaan, for the seed of Canaan shall be rooted out of the land. 4. And he spoke to them concerning the judgment of the giants and the judgment of Sodom, that these had been judged on account of their wickedness, and on account of fornication and uncleanness and destruction among each other. 5. "But be on your guard against all fornication and uncleanness and contamination of sin, so that ye do not make our name a curse and bring your lives and your sons to destruction by the sword and ye become accursed like Sodom, and all your remnant like the sons of Gomorrah. 6. And I call upon you as witnesses, my sons, love the God of heaven and submit to all his commandments, and do not walk after their idols and after their uncleanness, and do not make molten gods for yourselves nor wooden ones. 7. For they are vanity, and have no spirit, but they are the work of hands, and all who depend upon them Do not worship them nor bow down to them. 8. But worship ye the Most High God and bow down to him ever, and hope upon his face at all times, and do rectitude and righteousness before him, that he may find pleasure in you and give you his mercy, and send down rain to you morning and evening, and bless all your work which ye do on the earth, and bless thy grain and thy water, and bless the seed of thy body, and the seed of thy land, and the herds of thy oxen, and the herds of thy sheep. 9. And thou shalt be for a blessing over the earth, and all the nations of the earth shall desire for you and will bless thy sons in my name that they be blessed as I am." 10. And he gave to Ishmael his son and to the sons of Keturah a gift and sent them away from Isaac his son. 10. And Ishmael and his sons and the sons of Keturah and their sons went together and dwelt from Pharmon (Pharan) to the entrance of Babylon, in all the land which faces toward the east opposite the desert. 12. And these mingled with each other, and their name was called Arabs and Ishmaelites.

CHAP. XXI. 1. And in the sixth year of the seventh week of this jubilee Abraham called Isaac his son, and his father commanded him saying: "I am gray and do not know the day of my death, for I am satisfied in my days. 2. And behold, my son, I am one hundred and seventy-five years old, and in all the days of my life I have ever remembered the Lord and sought with all my might that I might do the will of my God, and that I might walk aright in all his paths. 3. My soul hated idols so that I could be on my guard to do the will of him that created me, for he is the living God, and he is holy, and he is faithful, and he is just above all, and no evil is with him to have regard for persons and to take presents, for he is a god of righteousness, and a doer of judgment over all who transgress his commandments, and all that violate his covenant. 4. And thou, my son, observe his commandments and his ordinance and his judgment, and walk not after the unclean and after the wooden images and after the molten ones. 5. And do not eat any blood of an animal, or of a beast, or of any bird that flies in the heavens. 6. And if thou slaughterest, slaughter as a pure sacrifice that is acceptable; slaughter it and pour out its blood upon the altar and all the fat of the sacrifice place upon the altar with flour and fruit offering, mixed with oil together with drink offering; place all this together upon the altar as a sacrifice of sweet savor before the Lord. 7. Like the fat of the thank offering lay them upon the fire, like the fat of the belly, and all the fat upon the entrails, and the two kidneys and all the fat that is upon them, and upon the thigh pieces, and the liver, together with the kidneys wrapped up in them; bring this all as a sweet savor which will be acceptable before the Lord together with fruit and drink offerings, thou shalt bring them all together for a sweet savor as the bread of the burnt offering for the Lord. 7. And the meat eat on that day and on the second day, and do not let the sun go down on it on the second day until it is eaten and nothing shall be left over for the third day, for it is not acceptable nor chosen, and it shall no longer be eaten, and all who eat bring sin upon themselves. 8. For thus have I found it written in the books of my forefathers, in the words of Enoch and in the words of Noah. 9. And upon all thy sacrifices thou shalt put salt, and thou shalt not violate the covenant of salt in all thy sacrifices before the Lord. 10. And watch all the wood of the sacrifices, that thou dost not bring sacrificing wood besides the following: cypress, fir, and almond, and pine, and fir, and cedar, and savin, and citron, and olive, and myrrh, and balsam.¹ 11. Of these kinds of wood lay upon the altar, under the sacrifice, having examined its appearance, and do not place any broken or dark wood; hard wood and unbroken, perfect, and nearly grown, and not old, for its savor is gone and there is no more savor in it, as at first. 12. Besides these kinds of wood thou shalt place no other kinds, for its savor has departed, and thou shalt send up the smell of its savor to heaven. 13. Observe this commandment and do it, my son, that thou mayest be right in all thy actions. 14. And at all times be clean in thy body and wash thyself with water, before thou goest to sacrifice upon the altar, and wash thy hands and thy feet before thou approachest the altar; and when thou art done sacrificing, return and wash thy hands and thy feet. 16. And let there not appear upon any one of you any blood, nor upon your clothes: be on thy guard, my son, guard thyself exceedingly against blood; bury it in the ground. 16. And do not eat any blood for it is the soul, eat no blood whatever. 17. And do not receive any present for any blood of man that it should be spilt in vain without judgment, for this blood which is spilt causes sin upon the earth, and it cannot be cleansed of the blood except by blood being shed; and do not receive a present or any gift for the blood of man; blood for blood; and ye shall become acceptable before the Lord God Most High, and he will be the protector of good, and that thou mayest be preserved from all evil and be saved from all death. 18. I see, my son, all the deeds of the sons of men, that they are sin and evil, and all their deeds are uncleanness, and rebellious and defiling, and there is no righteousness with them. 19. Guard thyself, do not go on their paths to step into their footprints and do not commit the error of death before the Most High God, lest he hide his face from thee, and return thee into the hands of thy transgression and root thee out of the land, and thy seed from under heaven, and thy name be destroyed and thy seed from all the earth. 20. Preserve thyself from all their deeds and from all their uncleanness, and observe the observance of the Lord Most High and do his will and do right in all things. 21. And he will bless thee in all thy deeds, and will bring forth from thee a plant of righteousness in all the earth, in all the generations of the earth. And my name shall be known, and thy name, under heaven, in all the days. 22. Go, my son, in peace. May the Most High God, my God and thy God, strengthen thee to do his will, and may he bless all thy seed and the descendants of thy seeds to the generations of eternity, with all the blessings of righteousness, that thou mayest be a blessing on all the earth." 23. And he went out from him, rejoicing happy.

¹ Cf. on these names Dillmann's Lexicon Æthiopico-Latinum.

CHAP. XXII. 1. And it happened in the first week of the forty-third [fourth] jubilee, in the second year, that is the year in which Abraham died, Isaac and Ishmael came from the fountain of the oath that they might celebrate the festival of the seven days, that is, the festival of the first-fruits of the harvest, with Abraham, their father; and Abraham rejoiced because his two sons came to him. 2. For Isaac had much possessions in Beer-Sheba, and Isaac went out to see his possessions and returned to his father. 3. And in these days Ishmael came to see his father, and they all came together, and Isaac offered up a sacrifice as a burnt offering, and brought it upon the altar which his father had made at Hebron. 4. And he offered a thank offering and made a feast of joy before his brother Ishmael, and Rebecca made new cakes out of new grain, and she gave thereof to Jacob, her best son, that he should bring to Abraham, his father, from the first-fruits of the land, that he might eat and bless the Creator of all before he died. 5. And Isaac, too, sent by the hand of Jacob, who excelled, a thank offering to Abraham, that he should drink and eat. 6. And he ate and drank and blessed the Most High God, who had created the heavens and the earth, and had made all the fat of the earth and had given it to the children of men to eat and to drink and that they should bless their Creator. 7. "And now I humbly thank thee, my Lord, that thou hast shown to me this day: behold, I am one hundred and seventy-five years old and full of days, and all the days were peace. 8. The sword of the hater did not overcome me in all that thou hast given me and my children all the days of my life until the present day. 9. My God, thy grace be over thy servant and over the seed of his sons, that he may be to thee a chosen nation and an inheritance from amongst all the nations of the earth, from now on and to all the days of the generations of the earth unto all eternities." 10. And he called Jacob and said to him: "My son Jacob, the Lord of all bless thee and strengthen thee to do righteousness and his will before him, and may he choose thee and thy seed that ye may be a people for his inheritance, according to his will in all the days. 11. And thou, my son Jacob, come hither and kiss me." 12. And he approached and kissed him, and he said: "Blessed be Jacob, my son, and all his children to the Lord Most High in all eternities; may the Lord give thee a seed of righteousness from amongst thy sons, to sanctify him in the midst of all the earth; and may all the nations serve thee and bow down to thy seed. 13. Become powerful before men, as thou rulest over all the seed of the earth and among the seed of Seth, when thy path and the path of thy sons is just for being his holy nation. 14. May the Most High God give thee all the blessings with which he blessed me and with which he blessed Noah and Adam; may they rest upon the sacred head of thy seed to all the generations and to eternity. 15. And may the Lord preserve thee clean from all unclean defilement, that thou mayest be forgiven of all the sins which without knowledge thou hast committed, and may he strengthen thee and bless thee, and mayest thou inherit the whole earth. 16. And may he renew his covenant with thee, that thou mayest be to him a nation for his inheritance to all eternities, and he may be to thee and to thy seed a God in reality and in truth in all the days of the earth. 17. And thou, my son Jacob, remember my words and observe the commandments of Abraham, thy father; withdraw from among the Gentiles and do not eat with them, and do not according to their actions, and be not their companion; for their actions are unclean and all their ways are defiled and their sacrifices an abomination. 18. They sacrifice to the dead, and the evil spirits they worship, and in the graves they eat, and all their doings are in vain and for naught. 19. They have no heart to think and no eyes to see any of their actions and when they err, saying to a piece of wood, "Thou art my God," and to a stone, "Thou art my Lord and my saviour," and these have no heart. 20. And thou, my son Jacob, may the Most High Lord aid thee, and the God of heaven bless thee and preserve thee from all their uncleanness and from all their error. 21. Be thou on thy guard, my son Jacob, that thou takest not a wife from among all the seed of the daughters of Canaan, for all its seed is to be rooted out of the land; for on account of the sin of Ham and the transgression of Canaan also all his seed will be destroyed from the earth, and none will be left and escape of them on the day of judgment. 22. And all those that worship idols and all haters will have no hope in the land of the living, for they will descend into Sheol and will go unto the place of judgment, and there will not be any remembrance of them on the earth; just as the children of Sodom were taken away from the earth, there will be taken away all those that worship idols. 23. Fear not, my son Jacob, and do not tremble, son of Abraham; the Most High God will protect thee from all destruction, and from all the paths of error he will deliver thee. 24. This house I have built for myself, that I might place my name above it upon the land which is given to thee and to thy seed forever, and that it should be called the house of Abraham; it is given to thee and to thy seed forever, since thou wilt build up my house and wilt establish my name before God unto eternity, and thy seed and thy name will stand in all the generations of the earth."

25. And he ceased speaking and commanding and blessing. 26. And the two lay together on one bed, and Jacob slept in the bosom of Abraham, the father of his father, and his thoughts kissed him seven times, and his love and his heart rejoiced over him. 26. And he blessed him with his whole heart and said: "The Most High God, the God of all, the Creator of all, who has led me out of Ur of the Chaldees, that he might give me this land as an inheritance to eternity and that I should establish a holy seed, may the Most High be blessed to eternity." 28. And he blessed Jacob and said: "My son, who is in all my heart and in all my thoughts, may I rejoice in him, and may thy grace and thy mercy be extensive over him and over his seed all the days. 29. And do not desert him and do not neglect him from now on and to the eternity of days, and may thy eyes be open over him and over his seed, that thou protectest him and blessest him and sanctifiest him, to be a nation for thy inheritance. 30. And bless him with all thy blessings from now on and to all days to eternity, and renew thy covenant, and be merciful with him and with his seed, in all thy will to all the generations of the earth."

CHAP. XXIII. 1. And he laid two fingers of Jacob upon his eyes, and he blessed the God of gods, and he covered his face and stretched out his feet and slept the sleep of eternity and was gathered to his father. 2. And during all this, Jacob was lying on his bosom and did not know that Abraham, the father of his father, was dead. 3. And Jacob awoke from his sleep, and, behold, Abraham was cold like ice, and he said, "Father! father!" and no one answered, and he knew that Abraham was dead. 4. And he arose from his bosom and ran and told it to

Rebecca, his mother, and Rebecca went to Isaac in the night and told him, and they went together and Jacob with them, and a lamp was in his hand, and going they found Abraham as a corpse. 5. And Isaac fell upon the face of his father Abraham, and wept and blessed him and kissed him; and the words were heard in the house of Abraham, and Ishmael, his son, arose and came to his father Abraham, and wept over Abraham, his father, he and all the house of Abraham, and they wept exceedingly. 6. And his sons Isaac and Ishmael buried him in the double cave, near to Sarah, his wife, and they mourned over him forty days, all the people of his house, Isaac and Ishmael and all their children and the children of Keturah in their places; and the lamentation and weeping over Abraham was ended. 7. And he lived three jubilees and four weeks of years, one hundred and seventy-five years, and the days of his life were completed, and he was old, perfect in days. 8. For the days of the lives of the first fathers were nineteen jubilees, and after the flood they began to decrease from nineteen jubilees, diminishing in the jubilees and becoming speedily old and satisfying their days on account of the many sufferings and the wickedness of their ways, with the exception of Abraham. 9. But Abraham was perfect in his deeds with the Lord and well pleasing and in righteousness all the days of his life; and behold, he did not complete four jubilees in his life until he grew old on account of wickedness, and satisfied with days. 10. And all the generations that arise from then and unto the day of the great judgment age die speedily before completing two jubilees. 11. And it will be since their knowledge leaves them on account of their old age that also all their knowledge ceases. 12. And on that day if a man lives a jubilee and a half jubilee, they say concerning him, "He has lived long;" and the mass of his days are sufferings and pain and trouble and no peace, for punishment follows upon punishment, hostility upon hostility, trouble upon trouble, wickedness upon wickedness, sickness upon sickness, and all evil judgments of this kind, as sickness and inflammation and hail and ice and snow and fever and suffering and becoming stiff, and sterility and death and sword and captivity and all the punishments and sufferings. 13. All this comes in the evil generation which sins upon the earth with the uncleanness of fornication and defilement and the abomination of their deeds. 14. And then they will say: "The days of the fathers were many, even to one thousand years, and were good, and behold the days of our lives, if a man has lived many, are seventy years, and if he is strong, eighty years, and all were evil and no peace will be in this evil generation." 15. And in that generation the children will be about to upbraid their fathers and their sires concerning the sin, and concerning the injustice, and concerning the words of their mouth, and concerning the great wickedness which they do, and concerning their deserting the ordinances which the Lord had covenanted between them and him, that they should observe and do all his commandments and his ordinances and all his laws and not depart to the right or to the left. 16. For all are wicked, and every mouth speaks transgression, and all their deeds are unclean and an abomination, and all their paths are contamination and uncleanness and destruction. 17. Behold, the earth will be destroyed on account of all their deeds, and there will be no seed of wine and no oil, because all their deeds are unbelief, and they all will be destroyed together, the beasts and the animals and the birds and all the fish of the sea, on account of the sons of men. 18. And they will contend with each other, the young with the old and the old with the young; the poor with the rich, and the lowly with the great, and the beggar with the prince, on account of the law and on account of the covenant, for they have forgotten his commandments and his covenant and the festivals and the months and the sabbaths and the jubilees and all law. 19. And they will arise with swords and murder to bring them back to the path, but they will not return until the blood of many has been spilt upon the earth, one over the other. 20. And those who escape will not return on the path of righteousness from their wickedness, for they all will arise for a robbery for wealth, that each one may take that which is his neighbors' and be called by a great name, but not in reality and in truth, and the most holy will be defiled in the uncleanness of the destruction of their defilement. 21. And a great punishment will be over the deeds of this generation from the Lord, and he will give them over to the sword and to judgment and to captivity and to robbery and to devouring. 22. And he will awaken over them the sinners of the Gentiles, who will have no mercy or grace for them, and who regard the face of none, neither old nor young nor any one; for they are wicked and powerful that they act more wickedly than all the children of men; and in Israel they practise violence and sin in Jacob, and the blood of many will be spilt on the land; and there will be none to gather and to bury. 23. And in those days they will cry aloud and call and pray that they be saved from the hands of the sinful Gentiles, and there will be none to save them. 24. And the heads of the children will be white with gray hair, and a child of three weeks will appear as old as a man of a hundred years, and their standing will be destroyed by trouble and oppression. 25. And in those days the children will begin to seek the laws and to seek the commandments and to return to the path of righteousness. 26. And the days will begin to increase and grow many, and the children of men generation by generation and day by day, until their days approach to one thousand years and to a multitude of years and days. 27. And no one will be old or satisfied with days, for all will be [like] children and youths. 28. And all their days will be in peace, and in joy they will end them and live, and there will be no satan nor any destroyer, for all their days will be days of peace and healing and blessings. 29. And at that time the Lord will heal his servants, and they will arise and will see great peace and will cast out their enemies; and the just shall see it and be thankful and rejoice in joy to all eternity, and shall see judgment and curses upon all their enemies. 30. And their bones shall rest in the earth, but their spirits shall increase in joy, and they shall know that the Lord is the doer of judgment, and gives mercy to the hundreds and thousands and to all that love him. 31. And thou, Moses, write down all these words, for thus are they written, and they have raised them upon the tablets of heaven to the generation of eternity.¹

CHAP. XXIV. 1. And it happened after the death of Abraham that the Lord blessed Isaac, his son, and he arose from Hebron and went and dwelt at the fountain of the vision, in the first year of the third week of this jubilee, seven years. 2. And in the first year of the fourth week a famine began in the land, in addition to the first famine which was in the days of Abraham. 3. And Jacob cooked a mess of lentils, and Esau came from the field hungry. 4. And he said to Jacob, his brother, "Give me of thy mess of pulse;" and Jacob said to him, "Give up to me thy right of first birth, and I will give thee bread and also from this mess of pulse." 5. And Esau said in his heart, "I shall die; what is it to me to be born first?" 6. And he said to Jacob, "I will give it to you." 7. And Jacob said, "Swear to me this day," and he swore to him. 8. And Jacob gave to his brother Esau bread and the mess, and he ate and was satisfied, and Esau despised his right of first birth; and from this was Esau called Edom,² on account of the mess of grain which Jacob gave him for his right of first birth. 9. And Jacob became the older, but Esau diminished from his greatness. 10. And the famine was over the land, and Isaac went to go down to Egypt in the second year of this week, and he went to the king of the Philistines at Gêrârâ, to Abimelech. 11. And the Lord appeared to him and said to him: "Do not go down to Egypt; dwell in the land which I tell thee of: be a stranger in this land, and I will be with thee and will bless thee. 12. For to thee and to thy seed I will give all this land, and I will confirm my oath which I swore to Abraham, thy father, and I will increase thy seed like the stars of the heavens, and I will give to thy seed all this land. 13. And in thy seed shall be blessed all the nations of the earth, because thy father hearkened unto my voice and observed my words and my commandments and my law and my ordinances and my covenant; and now hear my voice and dwell in this land." 14. And he dwelt at Gerar three weeks of years. 15. And Abimelech commanded on his account and on account of all that was his, saying: "Every man that touches him or any thing that is his, shall surely die." 16. And Isaac increased in Philistia, and he secured many possessions, oxen and sheep and camels and asses and many possessions. 17. And he sowed in the land of Philistia and he raised a hundred-fold, and Isaac became exceedingly great, and the Philistines were jealous of him, and all the wells which the young men of Abraham had dug during the life of Abraham the Philistines covered after the death of Abraham and filled them with earth. 18. And Abimelech said to Isaac: "Go from me, for thou art exceedingly greater than I;" and Isaac went in the first year of this seventh week from there, and migrated to valleys of Gêrânôn. 19. And they returned and dug open the wells of water, which the servants of Abraham, his father, had dug, and which the Philistines had covered over after the death of Abraham, his father, and he called their names as Abraham, his father, had named them. 20. And the young men of Isaac dug wells in the valley, and found living water; and the shepherds of Gêrânôn quarrelled with the shepherds of Isaac, saying, "This is our water," and Isaac called the name of this well Contention, "because ye have contended with us." 21. And they dug another well, and quarrelled on its account, and Isaac called its name Narrowness. 22. And he arose from there, and they dug another well, and did not quarrel on its account, and he called its name Extension, and Isaac said, "Now the Lord has extended us;" and he increased in the land. 23. And he ascended from there to the well of the oath in the first year of the first week in the forty-third jubilee. 24. And the Lord appeared to him in this night, at the new moon of the first month, and said to him: "I am the God of Abraham, thy father: fear not, for I am with thee, and I will bless thee and increase thy seed like the sand of the sea, on account of Abraham, my servant." 25. And he built an altar there where Abraham, his father, had first built one, and he called upon the name of the Lord, and offered sacrifices to the God of Abraham, his father. And they dug a well and found living water. 26. And the young men of Isaac dug another well, and did not find water, and they went and told Isaac that they had not found water, and Isaac said: "I have sworn this day to the Philistines, and this is to us the affair." 27. And Isaac called the name of this place The Well of the Oath, for there had he sworn to Abimelech and Akôsat, his friend, and Phikôl his companion. 28. And Isaac knew on that day that in injustice they had sworn to them to keep the peace with them. 29. And Isaac on that day cursed the Philistines, and he said: "Cursed be the Philistines to the day of wrath and rage above all the nations: may the Lord make them an ignominy and a curse and anger and rage in the hands of sinful nations, and by the hands of the Hittites let him root them out. 30. And whoever escapes from the sword of the enemy and from the Hittites, may the people of the just root them out in judgment from under heaven, for they will be enemies and haters to my children in their days over the earth. 31. And may no remnant of them be left nor may any be saved on the day of the judgment of wrath, for to destruction and rooting out and being destroyed from the land are all the seed of the Philistines, and no remnant or name shall be left of their seed over the earth. 32. For even if he had ascended to heaven, they would bring him down from there; and if he is fortified upon the earth they will tear him from there; and if he hides himself among the Gentiles, they will destroy him from there; and even if he descends into Sheôl, there too shall his judgment be great, and no peace shall be to him; and if he go into captivity, by the hand of those that seek his soul on the way he shall be killed, and no name or seed shall be left him on the whole earth, for he shall go into the curse of eternity." 33. And thus is it written and engraved concerning him on the tablets of heaven, to do to him on the day of judgment, that he may be rooted out of the earth.

¹ These somewhat crass messianic views this book has in common with other and similar works of the same period. Cf. Enoch c. 5 et passim.

² The Ethiopic translator must have read ἐψήματος πυροῦ for πυρρόν. Cf. LXX. on Gen. xxv. 30.

CHAP. XXV. 1. And in the second year of this week in this jubilee Rebecca called Jacob her son, and spake to him, saying: "My son, do not take to thyself a wife from among the daughters of Canaan, like Esau, thy brother, who took to himself as wives two from the seed of Canaan, and they embittered my spirit with all their unclean deeds, for all their deeds are fornication and shame, and there is no righteousness in them, but it is evil. 2. And I, my son, love thee exceedingly, and my mercy, my son, blesses thee at every hour and watch of the night; and now, my son, hear my voice, and do the will of thy mother, and do not take to thyself a wife from among the daughters of this land, except from the house of thy father and except from the family of thy father: take to thyself a wife from the house of my father, and the Most High God will bless thee, and thy children will be a generation of righteousness and thy seed holy." 3. And then spake Jacob with his mother Rebecca, and said to her: "Behold, I am now nine weeks of years old and know no woman: I have touched none nor betrothed myself to any, nor do I think of taking to myself a wife from all the seed of the daughters of Canaan. 4. For I remember, O mother, the words of Abraham, our father, that he commanded me not to take my wife from among all the seed of the house of Canaan, but from the seed of my father's house I should take to myself a wife and from my relationship. 5. I have heard before that daughters have been born to Laban, thy brother, and upon them is my heart set to take a wife of them. 6. On this account I have preserved myself in my spirit not to sin nor defile myself in all my ways all the days of my life, for with reference to lust and fornication my father Abraham gave me many commands. 7. And with all that he has commanded me these twenty-two years my brother contends with me and continually converses, saying: My brother, take to wife one of the sisters of my two wives; but I am not willing to do as my brother has done. 8. I swear before thee, my mother, that all the days of my life I will not take to myself a wife from the seed of all the daughters of Canaan, and will not act wickedly as my brother has done. 9. And do not fear, mother; trust me that I will do thy will, and will walk in rectitude, and my paths will not be destroyed in eternity." 10. And then she lifted up her face to heaven and extended the fingers of her hand toward heaven, and opened her mouth and blessed the Most High God, who had created heaven and earth, and she gave him thanks and praise. 11. And she said: "Blessed be the Lord God and blessed be his name for ever and ever, who has given to me Jacob as a pure son and a holy seed; for thine he is and thine shall be his seed unto all the days and in all the generations of the world. 12. Bless him, O Lord, and place the blessing of righteousness in my mouth that I may bless him." 13. And at that hour the Holy Spirit descended into her mouth, and she placed her two hands upon the head of Jacob, and she said: "Blessed art thou, Lord of righteousness and God of the worlds, and thee do all the generations of men praise: may he give thee, my son, the path of righteousness, and reveal to thy seed righteousness. 14. And may thy sons increase in thy life, and stand to the number of the months of the year, and may thy sons increase and grow more than the stars of the heavens, and more than the sand of the sea increase their numbers. 15. And may he give them this fruitful land, as he said he would give it to Abraham and his seed after him in all the days, and may they possess it to eternity. 16. And may I see for thee, my son, blessed children in this life, and may holy seed be all thy seed. 17. And as the spirit of thy mother in her life caused thee to rest in her womb to give thee birth, thus my affection blesses thee, and my breasts bless thee and my mouth and my tongue praise thee. 18. Increase and be poured over the earth, and thy seed be perfect in all the earth in the joy of heaven and earth, and may thy seed rejoice, and on the great day of peace may the peace of thy name be theirs. 19. And may thy seed abide to all the worlds, and may the Most High God be their God, and may the Most High God dwell with them and his sanctuary be built to all the eternities. 20. He that blesses thee be blessed, and all flesh that curses thee in lies, may it be cursed." 21. And she kissed him and said to him, "May the Lord of the world love thee as the heart of thy mother, and may her affection rejoice in thee and bless thee." 22. And she ceased from blessing him.

CHAP. XXVI. 1. And in the seventh year of this week Isaac called Esau, his elder son, and said to him: "My son, I am old, and behold my eyes are dull of seeing, and I do not know the day of my death. 2. And now take thy hunting weapon and thy bow and thy quiver, and go to the field and hunt and catch something for me, my son, and prepare me a meal such as my soul loves, and bring it to me, so that I may eat and my soul bless thee before I die." 3. But Rebecca heard Isaac speaking to Esau. 4. And Esau went early to the field to hunt and catch something and bring it to his father. 5. And Rebecca called Jacob, her son, and said to him: "Behold, I have heard thy father Isaac speaking with thy brother Esau, saying, 'Hunt me something and prepare a meal and bring it in to me, and I will bless thee before the Lord before I die.' 6. But now hear, my son, my words which I command thee: Go to thy flocks and bring me two good young kids, and I will make a meal out of them such as he loves, and thou shalt bring it in to thy father and he shall eat, that he may bless thee before the Lord before he dies, and thou become blessed." 7. And Jacob said to his mother Rebecca: "O mother, I will not hold back any thing that my father may eat and is pleasing to him; only I fear, my mother, that he will know my voice and will desire to touch me; and thou knowest that I am smooth, but my brother Esau is rough, and I may be before his eyes like an evil-doer, and I should do a deed which he has not commanded me, and he might become angry with me and I should bring a curse upon myself and not a blessing." 8. And Rebecca, his mother, said to him: "Upon me, my son, be thy curse; and again listen to my voice." 9. And Jacob obeyed the words of his mother Rebecca, and he went and took two good and fat young kids and brought them in to his mother, and his mother made a meal out of them as he liked it. 10. And Rebecca took the clothing of her elder son Esau, the most precious with her in the house, and clothed Jacob with them, and the skins of the kids she placed over his hands and upon the exposed parts of his body; and she gave the meat and the bread which she had made into the hands of her son Jacob. 11. And he went in to his father and said: "Behold, I am thy son; I have done as thou hast said to me: arise and sit up and eat of what I have hunted, my father, that thy soul may bless me." 12. And Isaac said to his son, "What is this, that thou hast so suddenly found it, my son?" 13. And Jacob said to him: "He who has caused me to find it, thy God, is before me." 14. And Isaac said: "Come hither to me, that I may touch thee, my son, if thou art my son Esau, or if not." 15. And Jacob came near to Isaac his father, and he touched him.

16. And he said: "The voice is the voice of Jacob, but the hand is the hand of Esau;" and he did not know him, for it was a fate from heaven to remove his spirit; and Isaac did not know him, for his hands were like his [i. e., Esau's] hands, and hairy like the hands of Esau, so that he should bless him. 17. And he said, "Art thou my son Esau?" And he said, "I am thy son." And he said: "Bring hither to me, and I will eat of what thou hast hunted, my son, that my soul may bless thee." 18. And he brought to him the meal, and he ate; and he brought in wine, and he drank. 19. And Isaac, his father, said to him: "Approach and kiss me, my son;" and he approached and kissed him. 20. And he smelt the smell of his clothes, and he blessed him, and said: "Behold, the smell of my son is like the smell of the field which the Lord has blessed; and may the Lord give to thee and increase thee like the dew of the heaven and the dew of earth, and may grain increase and oil be plenty to thee, and may the nations serve thee and the peoples bow down to thee. 21. Be the lord of thy brother, and may the sons of thy mother bow down to thee, and may all the blessings with which the Lord has blessed me and has blessed my father Abraham be thine and thy seed's to eternity: he that curseth thee shall be cursed, and he that blesseth thee shall be blessed." 22. And when Isaac ended blessing his son Jacob, then Jacob went out from Isaac his father to hide himself. 23. But Esau, his brother, came in from hunting, and he too prepared a meal and brought it in to his father, and said to his father, "Arise, my father, and eat of my prey, that thy soul may bless me." 24. And Isaac, his father, said to him, "Who art thou?" 25. And he said to him, "I am thy first-born son Esau; I have done as thou hast commanded me." 26. And Isaac was very much astounded; and said: "Who was he that hunted and caught something for me, and brought it in, and I ate of all before thou camest in, and I blessed him? 27. Blessed shall he be and his seed to eternity." 28. And when Esau heard the words of his father Isaac he cried with a loud and very bitter voice, and said to his father: "Bless me too, father!" 29. And he said to him, "Thy brother came and took thy blessing." 30. [And Esau said:] "And now I know why his name is called Jacob; behold he has ensnared me twice; the first time he took my birth-right, and now he takes my blessing. 31. And he said, "Hast thou not a blessing left for me, my father?" 32. And Isaac answered and said to Esau: "Behold, I have set him as lord over thee and all his brothers, and have given them to be his servants, and with much grain and oil and wine I have strengthened him, and what shall I do to thee, my son?" 33. And Esau said to his father Isaac: "Hast thou but one blessing, father? Bless also me, father." 34. And Esau raised his voice and wept. And Isaac answered and said to him: "Behold, from the fatness of the earth shall be thy substance and from the dew of heaven above; and thou shalt live by thy sword and thou shalt serve thy brother. 35. And it will happen when thou art great and shalt break his yoke off thy neck, thou shalt commit a sin unto death, and all thy seed shall be rooted out from under heaven." 36. And Esau was wroth at Jacob on account of the blessing with which his father had blessed him; and he said in his heart, "Now the days of grief may come for my father, that I may kill my brother Jacob."

CHAP. XXVII. 1. And the words of Esau, her elder son, were told to Rebecca in a dream, and Rebecca, sending, called for Jacob, her younger son. 2. And she said to him: "Behold, thy brother Esau is making his plans to kill thee; and now hear my words: arise and flee to my brother Laban and dwell with him a number of days, until the anger of thy brother has turned and his anger has departed from thee and he forget every thing that thou hast done him, and I will send to bring thee from there." 3. And Jacob said: "I have no fear: if he desires to kill me, I will kill him." 4. And she said to him, "Then should I be deprived of both my sons in one day." 5. And

Jacob said to his mother Rebecca: "Behold, thou knowest that my father is old, and I see that his eyes have become dull, and if I leave him it will be evil in his eyes that I leave him and go away from thee, and my father will be angry and will curse me. I will not go; only if he sends me will I go from here." 6. And Rebecca said to Jacob: "I will go in and will speak to him, and he will send thee." 7. And Rebecca went in and spake to Isaac: "I am aggrieved in my life on account of the two daughters of Heth which Esau has taken to himself as wives from among the daughters of Canaan: why should I yet live? for the daughters of the land of Canaan are evil." 8. And Isaac called his son Jacob, and blessed him, and admonished him, and said to him: "Do not take to thee a wife from among all the daughters of Canaan; arise and go to Mesopotamia, to the house of the father of thy mother, to the house of Bethuel, and take to thee from there a wife from among the daughters of Laban, the brother of thy mother. And may the God of heaven bless thee and increase and enlarge thee, and become thou a collection of nations, and may he give the blessings of thy father Abraham to thee and thy seed after thee, that thou mayest inherit the land of thy pilgrimage and all the land which the Lord gave to Abraham: go, my son, in peace!" 9. And Isaac sent away Jacob, and he went to Mesopotamia to Laban, the son of Bethuel, the Syrian, the brother of Rebecca, the mother of Jacob.. 10. And it happened when Jacob had arisen to go to Mesopotamia, the spirit of Rebecca was sad after her son had gone, and she wept. 11. And Isaac said to Rebecca: "My sister, weep not on account of Jacob, my son, for he is going in peace, and in peace he will return. 12. The Most High God will preserve him from all evil and will be with him, for he will not desert him any day of his life, for I perceive that the Lord will prosper his path wherever he goes, until he returns in peace to us and we see him in peace. 13. Do not fear on his account, my sister, for right is his path and he is a perfect and faithful man and will not be destroyed: do not weep!" 14. And Isaac comforted Rebecca on account of Jacob her son, and blessed him. 15. And Jacob went from The Well of the Oath that he might come to Haran in the first year of the second week in the forty-fourth jubilee, and came to Lôzâ among the mountains, that is, Bethel, in the beginning of the first month of this week, and he came to the place at eve, and he turned off from the way toward the west from the highway in this night, and slept there, for the sun had set. 16. And he took one from among the stones of that place and laid it under a tree, and he was travelling alone, and he slept. 17. And he dreamed in that night a dream, and behold, a ladder was planted upon the earth, and its head reached to the heaven, and behold, the angels of the Lord ascended and descended on it, and behold, the Lord stood upon it. 18. And the Lord spake unto Jacob and said: "I am the Lord God of Abraham, thy father, and the God of Isaac: the land upon which thou art sleeping I will give to thee and to thy seed after thee, and thy seed shall be like the sand of the sea, and thou shalt increase to the west and east and south and north; and all the countries of the nations shall be blessed in thee and in thy seed. 19. And behold, I will be with thee and still watch over thee in all things wherever thou goest, and will bring thee back into this land in peace; for I will not leave thee until I do all that I have said to thee." 20. And Jacob finished his sleep, and said: "Truly this place is the house of the Lord, and I did not know it." 21. And he was afraid, and said: "Dreadful is this place, which is nothing but the house of the Lord, and this is the portal of heaven." 22. And Jacob awoke early in the morning and took the stone from under his head and placed it up as a pillar, as a sign of this place; and he poured oil upon its head, and called the name of this place Bethel; but its first name was Lôzâ, like the land. 23. And Jacob prayed a prayer to the Lord, saying: "If the Lord will be with me and guard me on this path upon which I walk, and if the Lord give me bread to eat and clothes to clothe myself, and I return in peace to the house of my father, then the Lord shall be my God, and this stone, which I have set up as a pillar, as a sign in this place, shall be a house of the Lord. 24. And all things that thou givest me, of that I will give the tenth to thee, my God."

CHAP. XXVIII. 1. And he lifted up his feet and went to the land of the east, to Laban, the brother of his mother Rebecca, and he was with him and served him for Rachel, his daughter one week. And in the first year of the third week he said to him: "Give me my wife, for whom I have served thee seven years. 2. And Laban said to Jacob, "I will give thee thy wife." And Laban made a feast, and took Leah, his older daughter, and gave her to Jacob as a wife, and gave her Zalapha as a maid to serve her; and Jacob did not know it, for he thought she was Rachel. 3. And he went in to her, and behold, it was Leah; and Jacob was angry at Laban and said to him: "Why hast thou done thus? 4. Have I not served thee for Rachel and not for Leah? Why hast thou injured me? Take thy daughter and I will go; for thou hast done evil to me." 5. For Jacob loved Rachel more than Leah, for the eyes of Leah were dull, but her form was very beautiful; but Rachel had beautiful eyes and a beautiful and very attractive form. 6. And Laban said to Jacob: "It is not the custom in our land to give the younger before the elder." 7. And it is not right to do this, for thus is it ordained and written on the tablets of heaven, that no one shall give his younger daughter before the older, but shall give the younger after her. 8. And the man that does this loads sin upon himself on this account in heaven, and no one who does this is just, for it is an evil deed before the Lord. 9. And thou command the children of Israel that they do not this thing, and neither take nor give the younger before the older has been established, for it is very wicked. 10. And Laban said to Jacob:

“Let the seven days of this feast pass by, and I will give thee Rachel that thou mayest serve me another seven years, that thou mayest herd my sheep, as thou hast done in the first week.” 11. And on the day when the seven days of the feast of Leah were passed, Laban gave Rachel to Jacob, that he might serve him a second seven years, and he gave Rachel Balla, the sister of Zalapha, as a maid to serve her. 12. And he served seven years again for Rachel, for Leah had been given to him. 13. And the Lord opened the womb of Leah, and she became pregnant and bore Jacob a son, and he called his name Reuben, on the fourteenth of the ninth month of the first year of the third week. 14. But the womb of Rachel was closed, for the Lord saw that Leah was hated but Rachel was beloved. 15. And again Jacob went in to Leah, and she conceived and bore Jacob a second son, and he called his name Simeon, on the twenty-first of the tenth month and the third year of this week. 16. And again Jacob went in to Leah, and she became pregnant and bore him a third son, and he called his name Levi, in the beginning of the third month, in the sixth year of this week. 17. And again Jacob went in to Leah, and she became pregnant and bore him a fourth son, and he called his name Judah, on the fifteenth of the third month in the first year of the fourth week. 18. And in all this Rachel was jealous of Leah, for she did not bear; and she said to Jacob, “Give me a son!” 19. And Jacob said to her, “Am I preventing fruit of the womb from thee: have I left thee?” 20. And when Rachel saw that Leah had borne Jacob four sons, Reuben, Simeon, Levi, and Judah, then she said to him, “Go in to Balla, my maid, and she will conceive and bear a son for me.” 21. And he went in to her, and she became pregnant and bore him a son, and she called his name Dan, on the ninth of the sixth month, in the sixth year of the third week. 22. And again a second time he went in to Balla, and she became pregnant and bore Jacob another son, and Rachel called his name Naphtalim, in the fifth of the seventh month of the second year of the fourth week. 23. And when Leah saw that she had become sterile and did not bear, she became jealous of Rachel, and she gave Zalapha, her maid, to Jacob as a wife, and she became pregnant and bore him a son, and she called his name Gad, on the twelfth of the eighth month in the third year of the fourth week. 24. And again he went in to her, and she became pregnant and bore him another son, and Leah called his name Asher, on the second of the eleventh month in the fifth year of the fourth week. 25. And Jacob went in to Leah, and she became pregnant and bore Jacob a son, and she called his name Issachar, on the fourth of the fifth month in the fourth year of the fourth week, and she gave him to a nurse. 26. And Jacob again went in to her, and she became pregnant and she bore him two [children], a son and a daughter, and she called his name Zebulon and the name of the daughter Dinah, on the seventh of the seventh month in the sixth year of the fourth week. 27. And the Lord was gracious to Rachel and opened her womb, and she became pregnant and bore a son, and she called his name Joseph, in the beginning of the fourth month of the sixth year of this fourth week. 28. And in the days when Joseph was born Jacob said to Laban: "Give me my wives and my children, and I will go to my father Isaac, and I will make for myself a house, for I have completed the years which I have served thee for thy two daughters, and I will go to the house of my father." 29. And Laban said to Jacob: "Remain with me for wages, and herd my folds again and receive thy wages." 30. And they agreed with each other, that he would give him as wages all the young sheep and goats should be his wages. And the possessions of Jacob increased very much, and he possessed oxen and sheep and asses and camels and sons and daughters. 31. And Laban and his sons were jealous of Jacob, and Laban gathered his sheep away from him, and thought out evil.

CHAP. XXIX. 1. And it happened when Rachel had given birth to Joseph that Laban went out to shear his sheep, for they were distant from him a journey of three days. 2. And Jacob saw that Laban had gone to shear his sheep, and he called Leah and Rachel, and spake unto their hearts, that they should go with him to the land of Canaan, for he told them all that he had seen in the dream, and all that he [God] had spoken to him, that he should return to the house of his father; and they said to him: "We will go everywhere thou goest, with thee we will go." 3. And Jacob blessed the God of his father Isaac, and the God of Abraham, the father of his father, and he arose and prepared his wives and children, and took all his possessions and crossed the river and came to the land of Gilead, and Jacob hid his heart from Laban and did not tell him. 4. And in the seventh year of the fourth week Jacob returned to Gilead in the first month, on the twenty-first; and Laban followed after him, and found Jacob in the mountains of Gilead, in the third month, on the twelfth thereof. 5. And the Lord did not permit him to injure Jacob, for he appeared to him in a dream by night; and Laban spake to Jacob. 6. And on the fifteenth thereof, on that day, Jacob made a feast to Laban and all who had come with him, and Jacob swore to Laban on this day and Laban to Jacob, that they would not cross for evil to one another the mountains of Gilead. 7. And he made there a large stone heap as a testimony; on this account the name of this place is called "The Stone Heap of Testimony;" such is the heap. 8. But before they had called the land of Gilead the land of Raphaim, for it was the land of the Raphaim, and the Raphaim, or giants, were born there, whose length is ten, nine, eight, and seven ells, and their dwellings were from the land of the sons of Ammon to Mount Hermon, and the seats of their kingdom were Kôrônâêm and Adrâ and Mîsûr and Bêôn. 9. And the Lord slew them on account of the wickedness of their deeds, for they were most terrible, and the Amorites inhabit it in their place, evil and sinful, and there is no nation to-day that has completed all their sin, and therefore they have no length of life upon the earth. 10. And Jacob sent Laban away, and he came into the land of Mesopotamia, the land of the east, but Jacob returned to the land of Gilead and crossed over the Jabbok in the ninth month on the eleventh thereof. 11. And on that day Esau, his brother, came to him, and they settled their troubles; and they went from here into the land of Seir, but Jacob dwelt in tents. 12. And in the first year of the fifth week of this jubilee he crossed the Jordan and lived opposite the Jordan, that he might pasture his sheep from the land of Stone Heap to Betâ-Zôn and to Dôtâêm and to Akrâbil. 13. And he sent to his father Isaac of all his possessions clothing and food and meat and drink and milk and oil and bread of milk and of the palms of the valley; and to his mother Rebecca he also sent four times a year, between the times of the months, between the plowing and the harvest, between the spring and the rain, and between winter and summer; to the tower of Abraham, for Isaac had returned from The Well of the Oath and had gone up to the tower of his father Abraham, and he dwelt there apart from his son Esau. 14. For in the days when Jacob went to Mesopotamia, Esau took to himself as wife Mâlit, the daughter of Ishmael, and collected all the herds of his father and his wives and went up and dwelt in the mountains of Seir, and left Isaac, his father, at The Well of the Oath alone; and Isaac went up from The Well of the Oath, and dwelt in the tower of Abraham, his father, on the mountains of Hebron. 15. And from here Jacob sent all things which he sent to his father Isaac and to his mother from time to time all their sorrows; and they blessed Jacob with all their heart and all their souls.

CHAP. XXX. 1. And in the first year of the sixth week he went up to Salem, which is opposite the east of Shechem, in peace, in the fourth month; and there they brought by force Dinah, the daughter of Jacob, into the house of Shechem, the son of Hamor, the Hivite prince of the land, and he slept with her and defiled her, and she was a small girl twelve years of age. 2. And he begged her father and her brothers for her, that she should be given to him as wife; and Jacob and his sons were angry on account of the men of Shechem, because they had defiled their sister Dinah; and they spoke with them for evil, and intrigued against and deceived them. 3. And Simeon and Levi secretly came to Shechem and inflicted punishment upon all the men of Shechem, and slew all the men they found in it, and did not leave a single one in it. 4. They killed all in torments, because they had dishonored their sister Dinah. 5. And thus ye shall not do from now on and to eternity to defile a daughter of Israel, for in heaven it was ordained over them as a punishment that they should root out all the men of Shechem, because they committed a shame on a daughter of Israel, and the Lord turned them over into the hands of the sons of Jacob, that they should root them out with the sword, and that they should inflict punishment upon them; and never again shall it be thus in Israel, that a daughter of Israel be defiled. 6. And if there is any man in Israel who desires to give his daughter or his sister to any man who is of the seed of the Gentiles, he shall surely die, and they shall slay him with stones, for he has committed a sin and a shame in Israel; and his wife they shall burn with fire, for she has defiled the name of the house of her father, and she shall be rooted out of Israel. 7. And no fornication or defilement shall be found in Israel all the generations of the earth; for Israel is holy to the Lord, and every man that defiles must surely die, and they shall slay him with stones. 8. For thus is it ordained and written on the tablets of heaven concerning all the seed of Israel, that he who defiles must surely die, and they shall slay him with stones. 9. And to this law there is no limit of days and no ceasing and no forgiveness, but he shall be rooted out who defiles his daughter, among all Israel, because he has given of his seed to Moloch and has sinned by defiling. 10. And thou, Moses, command the children of Israel and testify over them that they shall not give any of their daughters to the Gentiles and that they shall not take any of the daughters of the Gentiles; for this is accursed before the Lord. 11. And on this account I have written for thee in the words of the law all the deeds of Shechem which they did against Dinah, and how the children of Jacob conversed saying: "We will not give our daughter to an uncircumcised man, for this is disgraceful to us." 12. And it is disgraceful to Israel to those that give and to those that receive from the Gentiles any daughters, for it is unclean and accursed to Israel; and Israel will not be clean of this uncleanness of him who has of the daughters of the Gentiles for a wife, or who has given of his daughters to a man who is of any of the seed of the Gentiles; for there will be plagues upon plagues, curse upon curse, and all punishment and plagues and curses will come. 13. And if they do this thing, and if they blind their eyes to those that commit uncleanness and to those that defile the sanctuary of the Lord and those that profane his holy name, then shall the whole people together be punished, on account of all this uncleanness and this profaneness, and there will be no respect for persons, and no consideration for persons, and no taking of fruits from his hands and fruit offering and burnt offering and fat and incense offering as a sweet savour, that it may be acceptable. 14. And every man and woman in Israel who defiles the sanctuary shall be thus. 15. And on account of this I have commanded thee, saying: "Testify this testimony over Israel: see how it happened to the Shechemites and their sons, how they were given into the hands of the two sons of Jacob and they slew them in torments, and it was justice to them, and it is written down for justice concerning them."

CHAP. XXXI. 1. And in the new moon of the month, Jacob spoke to all the men of his house, saying: "Purify yourselves and change your clothes, and arising let us go up to Bethel, where I made a vow when I was fleeing from the face of Esau, my brother; because he [God] has been with me, and has brought me into this land in peace. 2. And remove the false gods that are in your midst. 3. And tear away the false gods which are in your ears and on your necks, and the idols which Rachel took from her father Laban, and which she gave all to Jacob." 4. And he burned and broke and destroyed and hid them under an oak, which was in the land of Shechem. 5. And he ascended at the new moon of the seventh month to Bethel. 6. And he built an altar at the place where he had slept, and he erected there a monument, and he sent for his father Isaac to come to him to the sacrifice, and to his mother Rebecca. 7. And Isaac said: "Let my son Jacob come and let me see him before I die." 8. And Jacob went to Isaac his father, and to his mother Rebecca, to the house of his father Abraham, and he took two of his sons with him, Levi and Judah, and came to his father Isaac and his mother Rebecca. 9. And Rebecca came out of the tower to the front of the tower, that she might kiss Jacob and to embrace him, for her spirit was alive when she heard, "Behold thy son Jacob has come!" and she kissed him. 10. And she saw the two sons and she knew them, and said to him: 11. "Are these thy sons, my son?" and she embraced them and kissed them and blessed them, saying: "In you may the seed of Abraham be honored, and may ye be a blessing over the earth!" 12. And Jacob went in to his father Isaac to his chamber where he slept, and his two sons with him, and he took the hand of his father, and bending down kissed him, and Isaac clung to the neck of Jacob his son, and wept on his neck. 13. And the darkness left the eyes of Isaac, and he saw the two sons of Jacob, Levi and Judah, and he said, "Are these thy sons, my son? for they are like thee." 14. And he said that in truth they were his sons, and "in truth thou seest that they are my sons." 15. And they approached him, and they turned, and he kissed them and embraced them all together. 16. And the spirit of prophecy fell into his mouth, and he took Levi by the right hand, and Judah by the left hand. 17. And he turned to Levi and began to bless him first, saying, "May the Lord God of all, the Lord of all the worlds, bless thee and thy children in all the worlds. 18. And may the Lord give thee and thy seed greatness and great honor, and cause thee and thy seed to approach to him from among all flesh, that they shall serve him in his sanctuary like the angels of the face, and like the holy ones that shall be the seed of thy sons for honor and greatness and holiness: and may he make them great in all the worlds. 19. And they shall be princes and lords and leaders for all the seed of the sons of Jacob: they shall speak the words of the Lord in truth, and shall judge all his judgments in truth, and speak my ways to Jacob, and they shall appear to Israel: may the blessing of the Lord be given into their mouths, that they may bless all the seed of the beloved. 20. And thy mother has called thy name Levi, and in truth has she thus called thee: thou shalt be very near to the Lord, and shalt have a part with all the sons of Jacob: his table shall be thine, and thou and thy sons shall eat thereof, and to all the generations may thy table be full, and may thy food not decrease to all eternity. 21. And all those that hate thee shall fall before thee, and all thy enemies shall be rooted out and be destroyed, but they that bless thee shall be blessed, and all the nations that curse thee shall be cursed." 22. And to Judah he spoke: "May the Lord give thee strength and power that thou mayest tread down all that hate thee: be thou a prince, thou and one of thy sons over the sons of Jacob. 23. May thy name and the name of thy sons be one that goes and encompasses the whole earth and the cities; then shall the Gentiles fear thy face, and all the nations shall tremble and all the people shake. 24. In thee let there be help to Jacob, and in thee may deliverance be found for Israel. 25. And if thou sittest on the throne of the honor of thy righteousness, there shall be great peace to all the seed of the sons of the beloved. 26. He that blesseth thee shall be blessed, and all that hate and trouble thee, and those that curse thee, shall be rooted out and be destroyed from the earth, and shall be accursed.”

27. And turning around he kissed him again and embraced him and rejoiced greatly; for he had seen sons of Jacob, who was his son in truth. 28. And he came from between his feet, and fell down and prostrated himself, and he blessed them, and he remained with Isaac, his father, on that night, and they ate and drank with joy. 29. And he caused the two sons of Jacob to sleep, the one at his right, the other at his left, and it was accounted to him for righteousness. 30. And Jacob told his father everything during the night, how the Lord had been merciful to him, and how he had prospered him in all his ways and had protected him from all evil. 31. And Isaac blessed the God of his father Abraham, who had not ceased his mercy and righteousness from the sons of his servant Isaac. 32. And in the morning Jacob told his father Isaac of the vow he had made to the Lord, and of the vision he had seen, and how he had built an altar, and that everything was ready for the sacrifice before the Lord, as he had vowed, and that he had come to place him upon an ass. 33. And Isaac said to his son Jacob: “I am not able to go with thee, for I am old and not able to endure the way: go, my son, in peace, for I am one hundred and sixty-five years old to-day; I am not able to travel. 34. Take thy mother and let her go with thee. 35. And I know, my son, that thou hast come on my account; and may this day be blessed upon which thou hast seen me alive and I have seen thee, my son. 36. Prosper, and fulfil the vow which thou hast vowed, and do not delay thy vow, for thou must seek the vow. 37. And now hasten to fulfil thy vow; and may he be pleased who has made all things, to whom thou hast made thy vow.” 38. And he said to Rebecca: “Go with Jacob, thy son.” 39. And Rebecca went with Jacob, and Deborah with her, and they came to Bethel. 40. And Jacob remembered the prayer with which his father had blessed him and his two sons, Levi and Judah, and he rejoiced and blessed the God of his fathers, Abraham and Isaac. 41. And he said: "Now I know that I have an eternal hope, and my sons also before the God of all; and thus it is ordained concerning the two, and they have placed it as a testimony for them to eternity, upon the tablets of heaven as Isaac blessed them.

CHAP. XXXII. 1. And he remained in that night in Bethel, and Levi dreamed that they had appointed and made him priest, and his sons to eternity, priests of the Most High God; and he awoke from his sleep and blessed the Lord. 2. And Jacob started early in the morning, on the fourteenth of this month, and the tenth of all that came with him of men and beasts, and gold, and all possessions and clothing. 3. And in those days Rachel became pregnant with her son Benjamin, and Jacob counted his sons from him on and upwards; and the portion of the Lord fell upon Levi, and his father clothed him with the garments of the priesthood, and filled his hands. 4. And on the fifteenth of this month he brought to the altar fifteen oxen from among the cattle, twenty-eight rams, and forty-nine sheep, and sixty lambs, and twenty-nine young goats, as a burnt sacrifice on the altar, and as an acceptable gift for a sweet savor to the Lord God. 5. This was the fulfilment of the vow he had made to give the tenth; together with their fruit and their drink offerings. 6. And when the fire had consumed them, he scattered frankincense over them on the fire; and for thank offering two oxen, and four rams, and four sheep, and a sheep of two years, and two young goats; thus he did distributing over seven days. 7. And he remained there eating, and all his sons and his men in joy seven days, and he blessed and thanked the Lord, who had delivered him from all his trouble, and to whom he had fulfilled his vow. 8. And he took the tenth of all the clean animals and made a burnt offering; and the unclean animals he gave to his son, and the men he gave him, and Levi exercised his priestly office in Bethel before Jacob, his father, in preference to his ten brothers, and he was there a priest, and Jacob fulfilled to him his vows: and thus he gave the tenth again to the Lord, and sanctified it, and it was holy for him. 9. And on this account it is ordained on the tablets of heaven as a law concerning the giving of a second tenth—to eat before the Lord at the place upon which he has chosen his name to dwell year after year, and to this law there is no limit of day to eternity. 10. And this ordinance is written to do it year after year for eating a second tenth before the Lord in the place which he has chosen, and nothing shall be left over from it to the following year. 11. For in its year shall the seed be eaten until the seed of the year and the wine change their days to the days of wine and oil, and to the days of oil in its season. 12. And all that is left thereof and which becomes old, let it be considered contaminated; burn it with fire, for it is unclean. 13. And thus they shall eat together in the sanctuary, and shall not let it become old. 14. And all the tenth of oxen and sheep shall be holy to the Lord, and shall belong to his priests, who will eat it before him from year to year; for thus is it ordained and engraven concerning the tenth on the tablets of heaven. 15. And in the following night, on the twenty-second day of this month, Jacob planned that he would build this place and erect a wall around it, and that he would sanctify it and make it holy to eternity, for himself and his children after him. 16. And the Lord appeared to him in the night, and blessed him, and said to him: “Thou shalt not call thy name Jacob only, but Israel also shall thy name be called.” 17. And he said to him again: “I am the Lord thy God, who has created heaven and earth; and I will increase and multiply thee exceedingly, and kings shall come from thee, and they shall rule over all, wherever the foot of the sons of man has trod. 18. And I will give to thy seed all the land under heaven, and they shall rule over all the nations as they desire, and after that they will gather to themselves the whole earth, and shall inherit the world.” 19. And he completed conversing with him, and ascended from there, and Jacob looked until he ascended to heaven. 20. And he saw in a vision of the night, and behold an angel descended from heaven with seven tablets in his hands, and he gave them to Jacob, and he read all that was written on them, what would happen to himself and his sons in all the years.

21. And he showed him all things that were written on the tablets, and said to him: "Do not build up this place, and do not make it an eternal sanctuary, and do not dwell here, for this is not the place. 22. Go to the house of Abraham, thy father, and dwell there with Isaac, thy father, until the day of the death of thy father. 23. For in Egypt thou shalt die in peace, and in this land thou shalt be buried in honor, in the grave of thy fathers, with Abraham and Isaac. 24. Fear not; for as thou hast seen and read it, thus shall it all be. 25. But write thou down all as thou hast seen and read."

26. And Jacob said: "How can I remember all as I have seen and read it?" 27. And he said to him: "I will recall it all for thee." 28. And he went up from there: and he awoke from his sleep and remembered all that he had seen and read, and he wrote down all the words that he had read and that he had seen. 29. And he stayed there yet another day, and sacrificed there according to all that had been ordained on former days, and called its name "addition," for this day was added; and the first day he called "the festival."

30. And thus it appeared that it would be, and it is written on the tablets of heaven; and on this account it was revealed to him, that he should celebrate it, and that he should add it to the seven days of the festival, and its name was called "addition," because it comes to the seven days; and thus is the festival by number of days of the year. 31. And in the night of the twenty-third of this month, Deborah, the nurse of Rebecca, died, and he buried her below the city under the oak of the river, and called the name of this river "the river of Deborah," and of the oak, "lamentation oak of Deborah."

32. And Rebecca went and returned to her house, to Isaac, his father; and Jacob sent by her rams and calves and sheep, that she should prepare for his father a meal, as he loved it. 33. And he too went after his mother until he came to the land of Kêbrâtân, and he dwelt there. 34. And Rachel in that night gave birth to a son, and called his name "Son of my sorrow," for she suffered in giving birth; but his father called him Benjamin, on the eleventh of the eighth month, in the first year of the sixth week of this jubilee. 35. And Rachel died there, and was buried in the land of Ephrathah, that is, Bethlehem ; and Jacob erected upon the grave of Rachel a column, on the road above her grave.

CHAP. XXXIII. 1. And Jacob went and dwelt toward the north at Mâgdêlraep. 2. And he went to his father Isaac, he and Leah, his wife, on the new moon of the tenth month. 3. And Reuben saw Balla, the maid of Rachel, the concubine of his father, while she was bathing in water at a hidden place, and he loved her. 4. And he hid himself at night, and he entered the house of Balla at night, and found her lying alone on her bed, and sleeping, and he lay down with her. 5. And she awoke, and saw, and behold, Reuben was lying with her on the bed ; and she uncovered the edge and seized him and cried out, and discovered that it was Reuben, and she was ashamed on his account, and let go her hand from him, and he fled. 6. And she lamented on account of this thing exceedingly, and did not mention it to anybody. 7. And when Jacob returned and sought her, she said to him : " I am not clean for thee, for I have been defiled for thee, for Reuben has defiled me and lay with me in the night, and I was asleep and did not discover it until he uncovered the edge, and he lay with me." 8. And Jacob was very angry at Reuben that he had lain with Balla, for he had uncovered the covering of his father ; and Jacob did not approach her any more, because Reuben had defiled her, for his deed was very wicked, for it is accursed before the Lord. 9. On this account it is written and ordained on the tablets of heaven, that a man shall not sleep with the wife of his father, and that he shall not uncover the covering of his father, for this is unclean ; they must surely die together, the man that lies with the wife of his father, and the woman, for they do an unclean thing in the land. 10. And there shall be nothing unclean before our God in the nation he has chosen for himself as a kingdom. 11. And again it is written : " Cursed be the one that lieth with the wife of his father, for he hath uncovered the shame of his father, and all the holy ones of the Lord shall say : 'Thus be it ! Thus be it !'' 12. And thou, Moses, command the children of Israel that they observe this word, for the punishment is death, and it is unclean, and there is no forgiveness to atone for a man that does this wicked deed, except slaying and stoning him to death, or rooting him out from amongst the people of our God. 13. For there shall not remain alive on earth a single day any man that does this in Israel, for it is accursed and unclean. 14. And let them not say that Reuben lived and was forgiven that he had slept with the concubine of his father, and she too, although her husband, Jacob, his father, was yet alive. 15. For hé had not yet revealed the ordinance and the punishment and the law in its entire completeness ; for in thy days it is as a law since his days and as a law to eternity, to the generation of eternity ; and there is not any passing of days to this law, nor any forgiveness to him, except that they both be rooted out together from the midst of the people : on the day on which they do it they shall slay them. 16. And thou, Moses, write it down for Israel that they observe it according to these words, and let them not commit a mortal sin, for the Lord our God is a judge who has no regard for persons and receives no presents. 17. And tell them these words of the ordinance, that they obey and preserve them, and watch themselves, and be not destroyed and rooted out of the land ; for unclean and an abomination and contamination and profanation are all they that do this on the earth before our God. 18. And there is no sin on earth greater than fornication, which they commit on the earth, for Israel is a nation holy unto God, and a nation of inheritance for its God, and a nation of priesthood and royalty and a possession, and no one shall appear thus unclean in the midst of the holy people. 19. And in the third year of this sixth week Jacob and all his sons went and dwelt in the house of Abraham, near Isaac, his father, and Rebecca, his mother. 20. And these are the names of the sons of Jacob : the first bore Reuben, Simeon, Levi, Judah, Issachar, Zebulun, the sons of Leah ; and the sons of Rachel, Joseph and Benjamin ; and the sons of Balla, Dan and Naphtali ; and the sons of Zalapha, Gad and Asur ; and Dinah, the daughter of Leah, the only daughter of Jacob. 21. And going, they bowed down before Isaac and Rebecca ; and when they saw them, they blessed Jacob and all his sons. 22. And Isaac rejoiced exceedingly that he saw the sons of Jacob, his youngest son, and he blessed them.

CHAP. XXXIV. 1. And in the sixth year of this week of the forty-fourth jubilee, Jacob sent his sons to pasture his sheep, and his servants with them to the pasture of Shechem. 2. And the seven kings of the Amorites assembled themselves against them to slay them, hiding themselves under the trees, and to take away their cattle and their wives. 3. And Jacob and Levi and Judah and Joseph were at the house where Isaac their father was, for his spirit was sad, and they could not leave him ; and Benjamin was the youngest, and on this account remained with his father. 4. And the kings of Tâphô and of Azêsa and Sarâgôn and Sêlô and Gâez, and the king of Bêtôrôn and of Mânîsâkêr came, and all those that dwell in those mountains, who dwell in the woods of the land of Canaan. 5. And they announced this to Jacob, saying : " Behold the kings of the Amorites have surrounded thy sons in order to rob their herds." 6. And he arose from his house, he and his three sons and the young men of his father, and went forth and went against them, eight hundred men who carried swords. 7. And they slew them on the fields of Shechem, and pursued those that fled and slew them with the edge of the sword, and slew them at Arêsa and Thapha and Sêrâgen and Selo and Amânîsakêrô and Gâgâas. 8. And he collected his herds ; and he was more powerful than those and ordained a tax over them, that they should give him tribute, fine fruits of their land, and he built Reuben and Tâmnâtârês. 9. And he returned in peace, and made peace with them, and they were his servants until the day he and his sons descended down to the land of Egypt. 10. And in the seventh year of this week he sent Joseph to learn about the safety of his brothers, from his house to Shechem, and he found them in the land of Dothan. 11. And they waylaid him and made a plot against him to slay him ; and changing, they sold him to Ishmaelite merchants, and they brought him to Egypt, and sold him to Potiphar, the eunuch of Pharaoh, the head cook, the one that sacrificed in the city of Êlêw. 12. And the sons of Jacob killed a young goat, and dipped the clothes of Joseph in its blood, and sent it to their father Jacob. 13. And it was on the tenth of the seventh month, and they stayed all this day until the evening, and they brought it to him ; and he became fevered in his grief unto death, and said : “ A wild beast has devoured Joseph ; ” and on that day all the men of his house were with him, and mourned and lamented with him all the day. 14. And his sons and his daughter arose to comfort him, but he could not be comforted on account of his son. 15. And on that day Balla heard that Joseph had been killed, and she died in her grief, and she was living at Kertârêtêf ; and Dinah, his daughter, died also after Joseph had been slain. 16. This threefold sorrow came over Israel in one month. 17. And he buried Balla opposite the grave of Rachel, and Dinah, his daughter, he also buried there. 18. And he continued mourning for Joseph one year, and did not cease, saying : “ I will descend into the grave grieving for my son. ” 19. And on this account it is ordained for the children of Israel, that they shall mourn on the tenth of the seventh month, on the day when they brought the sad news concerning Joseph to his father Jacob, that on it pardon should be sought by the death of a young goat, on the tenth of the seventh month, once a year, for their sins ; for they had grieved the heart of their father on account of his son Joseph. 20. And this day has been ordained that they shall lament on it over their sins, and on account of all their transgressions, and on account of their error, that they shall cleanse themselves on this day once a year. 21. And after the death of Joseph the sons of Jacob took wives to themselves : first, the name of the wife of Reuben is Adâ ; secondly, the name of the wife of Simeon is Adîbâ, a Canaanite woman ; third, the name of the wife of

Levi is Mêlkâ, from among the daughters of Arâm, from the seed of the sons of Târâm ; fourth, the name of the wife of Judah is Bêtasûêl, a Canaanite woman ; fifth, the name of the wife of Issachar is Jesâkôr Hêzkâ ; sixth, the name of the wife of Zebulun is Nîimân ; seventh, the name of the wife of Dan, Êglâ ; eighth, the name of the wife of Naphtali is Rasûa, of Mesopotamia ; ninth, the name of the wife of Gad is Mâk ; and tenth, name of the wife of Asur is Ijôn ; eleventh, the name of the wife of Joseph is Asnêth, an Egyptian woman ; twelfth, the name of the wife of Benjamin is Ijôskâ. 22. And Simeon repented and took a second wife from Mesopotamia, like his brothers.

CHAP. XXXV. 1. And in the first year of the first week of the forty-fifth jubilee, Rebecca called her son Jacob and gave him command concerning his father and concerning his brother, that he should honor them all the days of the life of Jacob. 2. And Jacob said : " I will do all thou commandest me, for this thing will be honor and greatness to me and righteousness before the Lord, that I should honor them. 3. And thou, my mother, knowest me from the time I was born until this day, all my deeds and everything that is in my heart, that always I think good concerning all. 4. And how should I not do this which thou hast commanded me, that I should honor my father and my brother ? 5. Tell me, my mother, what perversity thou seest in me ? 6. And I am far removed from him, and gentleness is in me." 7. And she said to him : " My son, all my days I have not seen in thee any perversity, and no depraved actions, but righteousness. 8. But in truth I tell thee, my son, I will die in this year, and will not get beyond this year in my life, for I saw in a dream the day of my death, that I should not live beyond one hundred and fifty-five years. 9. And behold, I have completed all the days of my life which I was to live." 10. And Jacob laughed at the words of his mother, because she said that she would die, and she was sitting opposite him with her strength upon her, without any decrease of strength, for she went in and out, and saw, and her teeth were strong, and no ailment had touched her all the days of her life. 11. And Jacob said to her: "Happy am I, my mother, if my days approach the days of thy life, and my strength abide in me as thy strength; and thou wilt not die, for in vain dost thou speak with me concerning thy death." 12. And she went in to Isaac, and said to him: "One petition I ask of thee: let Esau swear that he will not harm Jacob, and will not persecute him in enmity, for thou knowest the thoughts of Esau, that he was terrible from his youth on, and there is not gentleness in him; for he desires after thy death to kill him. 13. And thou knowest how he has done all the days from the day when Jacob, his brother, went to Haran to this day, that he has left us with his whole heart, and does evil with us. 14. He has collected thy flocks, and all thy possessions he robs from before thy face, and when we entreated and asked for what was ours, he did as a man that practises usury on us. 15. And he is bitter at thee because thou didst bless that perfect and righteous son Jacob; for in him there is no evil, but goodness. 16. And since he came from Haran to this day, he has not deprived us of the least; but he brings us everything in its time and always, and he rejoices in his whole heart when we take anything from his hands, and he blesses us and does not separate from us since he came from Haran to the present day, and he lives with us ever in our house, honoring us." 17. And Isaac said to her: "I know and I see the deeds of Jacob with us, that with all his heart he honors us; but I loved Esau formerly more than Jacob, on account of his birth; but now I love Jacob more than Esau, because he has increased in evil doings, and there is no righteousness in him, for all his ways are injustice and violence, and there is no righteousness in him at all. 18. And now my heart trembles concerning all his deeds, and neither he nor his seed shall abide, for they shall be destroyed from the earth, and they shall be rooted out from under heaven; for he has deserted the God of Abraham, and goes after his women after uncleanness and after error, he and his children. 19. And thou dost tell me that I shall make him swear not to kill

Jacob: even if he swears he will not keep to his oath, and will not do good but evil. 20. And if he desires to kill his brother Jacob, he shall be given into the hands of Jacob and shall not escape from his hands, but fall into his hands. 21. And thou fear not concerning Jacob, for the watchman of Jacob is great and powerful, and honored and worshipped above the watchman of Esau." 22. And Rebecca sent for and called Esau, and he came to her, and she said to him, "One prayer I have, my son, which I ask of thee, and grant it, that thou mayest do what I ask of thee, my son." 23. And he said to her: "I will do all that thou tellest me, and will not refuse any thing that thou askest." 24. And she said to him: "I ask of thee that the day I die thou wilt take me and bury me near the grave of Sarah, the mother of thy father, and that thou and thy brother Jacob will love each other, and that neither will undertake evil against his brother, but love him, so that ye may be prosperous, my son, and be honored in the midst of the land and that an enemy may not rejoice over you, and that ye may be a blessing and mercy before the eyes of all that love you." 25. And he said: "I will do all that thou sayest to me, and I will bury thee on the day of thy death near Sarah, the mother of thy father, as thou lovest her bones, that they shall be near to thy bones. 26. But Jacob, my brother, I will love above all flesh, and I have no other brother in all the world except him alone, and this is not a great thing for me that I shall love him, for he is my brother, and together we were sown in thy womb, and together we came forth from thee, and if I do not love my brother, whom shall I love? 27. And I then beg of thee that thou wilt exhort Jacob concerning me and concerning my children, for I know that he will rule as king over me and over my children, for on the day when my father blessed him, he made him the higher and me the lower. 28. And I swear to thee that I will love him and will not seek out evil against him all the days of my life, but only good." 29. And he swore to her concerning this whole matter. 30. And she called Jacob before the eyes of Esau, and commanded him according to the words she had spoken with Esau. 31. And he said, "I will do thy pleasure, promising that no evil shall proceed from me and from my sons against Esau, my brother, and nothing shall be shown him except love." 32. And they ate and drank, she and her sons, on this day, and she died, three jubilees and one week and one year old, in this night, and her two sons, Esau and Jacob, buried her in the cave near Sarah, the mother of their father.

CHAP. XXXVI. 1. In the sixth week of this year, Isaac called his two sons, Esau and Jacob, and they came to him, and he said to them: "My sons, I shall go the way of my father into the house of eternity, where my fathers are. 2. Bury me near to Abraham, my father, in the south cave in the field of Êphrôn, the Hittite, which Abraham bought as a burial place; there bury me. 3. And this I command you, my sons, that ye practise righteousness and rectitude on the earth, so that the Lord may bring upon you all that the Lord said that he would do to Abraham and to his seed. 4. And be ye to each other as loving brothers as a man that loves himself, and each seeking for his brother that which is good for him, and acting together from the heart upon earth, and loving each other as yourselves. 5. And concerning the matter of idols, I command ye, that ye cast them away and hold them in abomination, and hate them, and that ye do not love them, for they are full of deception for those that worship them, and for those that bow down to them. 6. And remember, O my sons, the Lord God of Abraham, your father, and how I too worshipped him and served him in truth, that he may increase you in joy and may enlarge your seed like the stars of the heaven in multitude, and plant you upon the earth as a plant of righteousness, which is not rooted out to all the generations of eternity. 7. And now I will make you swear a great oath, for there is no oath greater than the one by the glorious and honored and great name of him who created the heavens and the earth and all things together, that ye will fear and worship him, and that each will love his brother in tenderness and in truth, and that neither will wish evil against his brother, from now on and to eternity, all the days of your life, that ye may be prosperous in all your deeds, and be not destroyed. 8. And if either of you devises evil against his brother, know from now on, that every one that devises evil against his brother shall fall into his hands, and shall be rooted out of the land of the living, and his seed shall be destroyed from under heaven. 9. And on that day of cursing and turbulence he [God] will also burn with devouring fire, as he burned Sodom, thus also will he burn his land and his city and all that is his, and he will be erased out of the book of the discipline of the sons of men, and shall not ascend into the book of life, for he shall be destroyed and shall depart to the eternal curse, so that for all days their punishments may be renewed in hate and in cursing, and in wrath, and in torments, and in fury, and in plagues, and in sickness to eternity. 10. And I say and testify to you, my sons, how that my judgment will come upon the man who desires to do evil against his brother." 11. And he divided all the possessions he had between the two on that day, and he gave the preference to him that was born first, both the tower and all around it, and everything that Abraham possessed around the well of the oath. 12. And he said: "This preference shall be his who was born first." 13. And Esau said: "I have sold and given my age to Jacob, to him it has been given, and I will not say anything more about it, not one word, for it is passed." 14. And Isaac said: "May blessing rest upon you, my sons, and upon your seed this day, for ye have given me rest, and my heart is not sad on account of the birthright, that no strife will take place concerning it. 15. The Most High Lord bless the man that does righteousness, him and his seed to eternity." 16. And he ended commanding them and blessing them, and they ate and drank before him together; and he rejoiced, for there was a reconciliation between them, and they went out from him and rested on that day and slept. 17. And Isaac slept on his bed that day rejoicing, and he slept the sleep of eternity, and died one hundred and eighty years old. 18. And he completed twenty-five weeks and five years. 19. And his two sons, Esau and Jacob, buried him. 20. And Esau went to the land of Edom, to the mountains of Seir and dwelt there. 21. And Jacob dwelt in the land of Hebron, in the tower of the land of the pilgrimage of his father Abraham, and worshipped God with his whole heart, and according to the command of him who appeared to him, who had distinguished him on the day of his birth. 22. And Leah, his wife, died, in the fourth year of the second week of the forty-fifth jubilee, and he buried her in the double cave near to Rebecca, his mother, to the left of the grave of Sarah, the mother of his father. 23. And all of her sons and his sons came to weep over Leah, his wife, with him, and that they might comfort each other on her account, for he mourned over her. 24. For he loved her exceedingly after Rachel her sister died, for she was perfect and righteous in all her ways and honored Jacob: and in all the days which she lived with him, he did not hear from her mouth a hard word, for she was gentle and upright and peaceful and honorable. 25. And he remembered all her deeds which she had done in her life, and mourned exceedingly, for he loved her very much with all his heart and with all his soul.

CHAP. XXXVII. 1. And on the day of the death of Isaac, the father of Jacob and Esau, when the sons of Esau heard that Isaac had given the birthright to his younger son Jacob, they were very angry. 2. And they quarrelled with their father, saying: "Why hath thy father, although thou art the elder and Jacob the younger, given to Jacob the birthright and left thee behind?" 3. And he said to them: "Because I sold my right of first birth to Jacob for a small mess of lentils, 4. And on the day that my father sent me out to hunt and catch and bring something to him that he should eat it and bless me, he came in deception and brought to my father something to eat and to drink, and my father blessed him and put me under his hand. 5. And now our father has made us swear, me and him, that we will not devise any evil one against his brother, and that each will continue in love and in peace with his brother, and will not destroy our ways." 6. And they said to him: "We will not listen to thee to keep peace with him, for our strength exceeds his strength, and we are more powerful than he. 7. We will go out against him, and will slay him, and destroy his children; and if thou dost not go out with us, we will do thee harm also. 8. Listen now to us: We will send to Aram and to Philistia and to Moab and to Ammon, and we will pick out for ourselves chosen men who are prepared for battle, and we will go against him and will battle with him, and we will root him out of the land, before he has taken root and is strong." 9. And their father said to them: "Ye shall not go and make war upon him, that ye may not fall before him." 10. And they said to him: "This is as thou hast done from thy youth on to the present day, and thou hast brought thy neck under his yoke. 11. We will not listen to these words." And they sent to Aram and to Aduram to the associates of their father, and they hired with themselves one thousand fighting men and chosen warriors. 12. And there came to them from Moab and from the children of Ammon those that were hired, one thousand chosen men, and from Philistia one thousand chosen warriors, and from Edom and the Horites one thousand chosen fighters, and from the Hittites strong fighting men. 13. And they said to their father: "Go out, lead them, and if not, we will kill thee." 14. And he was filled with anger and wrath at the time when he saw his sons that they were forcing him to go before them to lead them against Jacob, his brother. 15. And then he remembered all the evil which had been hidden in his heart against his brother Jacob, and did not remember the oath which he had sworn to his father and his mother, that he would not devise any evil all his days against his brother Jacob. 16. And in all this time Jacob did not know that they were coming against him for battle, but he was lamenting over Leah, his wife, until they approached him very near to the tower, four thousand warlike, powerful, and chosen fighters. 17. And the men of Hebron sent to him saying: "Behold thy brother is coming against thee to fight with thee with four thousand heavily girded men, and they carry shields and weapons;" for they loved Jacob more than Esau, and told it to him, for Jacob was a more gracious and mild man than Esau. 18. But Jacob did not believe it until he approached very near the tower. 19. And he fastened the gates of the tower and stood upon the top of the tower, and spoke with his brother Esau and said: "Hast thou come to me bringing me a good consolation on account of my wife who has died? 20. Is this the oath which thou hast sworn to thy father and thy mother twice before they died? 21. Thou hast violated the oath, and on account of what thou hast sworn to thy father, thou shalt be judged." 22. And then Esau answered and said to him: "There is not to the sons of men and to the animals of the earth any oath of trust which they swear to them unto eternity; but on that morning yet they devise evil against each other, so that one may kill his hater and his enemy. 23. And thou too dost hate me and my children to eternity, and there is no brotherly dealing with thee. 24. Hear these my words which I announce to thee: If one can change the bristles of the swine and change them into wool, and if horns will come out of its head like the horns of the deer and rams, then I will maintain brotherly relations with thee. 25. And if the breasts are separated from the mother—for wast not thou to me a brother—and if the wolves make peace with the lambs, so that they do not devour and rob them; and if their hearts incline to doing each other good, then will there be peace in my heart toward thee. 26. And when the lion becomes the friend of the ox, and when he is put into one yoke with him and plows with him, then I will make peace with thee. 27. And when the raven becomes white like the rice bird, then I will know that I love thee and will make peace with thee. Thou shalt be rooted out and thy sons shall be rooted out, and there shall be no peace." 28. And then Jacob saw that his heart was evil against him, and that from his whole soul he would slay him, and he had come springing like a wild animal which comes against the spear that pierces it through and kills it, and it does not depart from it. 29. And then he said to his sons and to his servants that they should attack him and all his companions.

CHAP. XXXVIII. 1. And after that Judah spoke to his father Jacob and said to him: "Bend thy bow, father, and send forth thy arrow and cast down thy hater and slay thy enemy: and mayest thou have the power, for we will not slay thy brother, for to thee and with thee and to us it will be an honor." 2. And immediately Jacob bent the bow and sent forth his arrow, and cast down his brother Esau, and slew him. 3. And again he sent forth his arrow and hit Adôrân, the Aramæan, on the left breast, and drove him back and killed him. 4. And then the sons of Jacob and their servants came out breaking forth from the four sides of the tower. 5. Out came completely Judah, and Naphtali and Gad with him, and fifty young men with him out of the north side of the tower, and killed all that they found before them, and none escaped of those, not one. 6. And Levi and Dan and Asher came out from the east side of the tower, and fifty with them, and they slew the warriors of Moab and Ammon. 7. And Reuben and Issachar and Zebulun came out of the south side of the tower, and fifty with them, and they killed the fighters of Philistia. 8. And Simeon and Benjamin and Enoch, the son of Reuben, came out of the west side of the tower, and fifty with them, and killed of those of Edom and Chorán four hundred powerful men, and seven hundred escaped, and four of the sons of Esau fled with them, and left their father behind dead, as he had fallen on the hill which is [called] Adûrâm. 9. And the sons of Jacob pursued after them to the mountains of Seir. And Jacob buried his brother on the hill which is [called] Adûrâm, and returned to his house. 10. And the sons of Jacob overcame the sons of Esau in the mountains of Seir, and made them bend their necks, so that they became the servants of the sons of Jacob; and they sent word to their father inquiring if they should make peace with them, or if they should kill them. 11. And Jacob sent word to his sons that they should make peace; and they made peace with them, and they placed the yoke of servitude upon them that they should pay tribute to Jacob and his sons all the days. 12. And they continued to pay tribute to Jacob until the day when Jacob descended to the land of Egypt, and the sons of Esau did not cease from the yoke of servitude which the twelve sons of Jacob had imposed upon them, until the present day. 13. And these are the kings which ruled over Edom before a king ruled over the children of Israel, until the present day in the land of Edom; and Bâlâk, the son of Bêôr, was king, and the name of his city was Dînâbâ. 14. And Bâlâk died, and Jôbâb, the son of Zârâ, of Bêzôr, ruled in his stead. 15. And Jôbâb died, and Adat, the son of Barad, who slew the Mediarites on the field of Moab, was king in his place, and the name of his city was Amôt. 16. And Adat died and Salmân, of Amalek, was king in his stead. 17. And Salman died and Sâûl, of the river Rôbâêt, was king in his stead. 18. And Sâûl died, and Beûlûnân, the son of Akbûr, was king in his stead. 19. And Beûlûnân died, and Adat was king in his stead, and the name of his wife was Mâtîlât, the daughter of Mâtrît, the daughter of Mêtbed Zaab. 20. These are the kings who ruled in the land of Edom.

CHAP. XXXIX. 1. And Jacob dwelt in the land of the pilgrimage of his father, the land of Canaan. 2. These are the generations of Jacob: When Joseph was seventeen years old they took him down into Egypt, and sold him to Potiphar, the eunuch of Pharaoh, the head of the cooks. 3. And he set Joseph over his whole house: and the blessing of the Lord was in the house of the Egyptian on account of Joseph, and all that he did the Lord prospered. 4. And the Egyptian left in Joseph's hands all that was before him, for he saw that the Lord was with him, and that everything he did the Lord prospered. 5. But Joseph was beautiful to look at and very attractive in form, and the wife of his master lifted up her eyes and saw Joseph. 6. And she loved him and entreated him to lie with her. 7. But he did not give over his soul, but remembered the Lord and the words which his father Jacob had read from among the words of Abraham, that no one among men should commit fornication with the wife of another, and with a woman who has a husband, and that as a punishment for this one death has been established in the heavens before the Most High God, and the sin on account of it will be inscribed on the books which are in eternity, all the days, before the Lord. 8. And Joseph remembered these words, and was not willing to lie with her. 9. And she entreated him one year, and he refused, and would not listen. 10. But she embraced him and seized him in the house in order to force him to lie with her, and locked the doors of the house; but he tore himself out of her hands and left his garment in her hand, and broke the lock, and fled without away from her presence. 11. And the woman saw that he would not lie with her, and she lied before her lord, saying: "Thy Hebrew servant, whom thou lovest, sought to do me violence that he might lie with me, and it happened that when I raised my voice, he fled and left his garment in my hand, when I had seized him, and broke the lock." 12. And the Egyptian saw the garment of Joseph and the broken lock, and he obeyed the words of his wife, and cast Joseph into prison, into the place where the prisoners stayed whom the king had caused to be imprisoned. 13. And there he was in the prison, and the Lord gave Joseph grace in the eyes of the head of the prison guards, and good will before him, for he saw that the Lord was with him, and all that he did the Lord prospered. 14. And he left all things to him, and the head of the prison guards looked to nothing, for all things that Joseph did the Lord perfected. 15. And he remained there two years. 16. And in those days Pharaoh was angry with two of his eunuchs, the chief of the butlers and chief of the bakers, and he cast them into prison, into the house of the chief of the cooks, the prison where Joseph was held. 17. And the chief of the prison guards ordered Joseph to serve them, and he served them before him. 18. And both of them dreamed a dream, the chief of the butlers and the chief of the bakers, and they told it to Joseph. 19. And as he explained to them, thus it happened to them; and the chief of the butlers Pharaoh put back into his office, and the chief of the bakers he killed, as Joseph had explained to them. 20. And the chief of the butlers forgot Joseph in the prison, although he had informed him what would become of him, and did not remember to inform Pharaoh as Joseph had told him, for he forgot.

CHAP. XL. 1. And in those days Pharaoh dreamed two dreams in one night, concerning the matter of a famine which would come over all the land; and he awoke from his dream and called all the dream interpreters that were in Egypt, and the sorcerers, and told them both his dreams, and they were not able to understand them. 2. And then the chief of the butlers recalled Joseph to memory, and spoke concerning him to the king; and he brought him out of prison and narrated his two dreams before him. 3. And he spoke before Pharaoh that his two dreams were one, and he said: "Seven years will come of plenty over all the land of Egypt, and after that, seven years of famine, such as has not been upon the whole earth. 4. And now, O Pharaoh, establish throughout all the land of Egypt storehouses that grain may be gathered into them from city to city, in the days of the years of plenty, so that there may be grain for the seven years of famine, and that the land be not destroyed on account of the famine, for it will be very severe." 5. And the Lord gave Joseph grace and good will before the eyes of Pharaoh, and Pharaoh said to his servants: "We shall not be able to find a wise and intelligent man like this man, for the spirit of the Lord is upon him." 6. And he appointed him the second over the whole kingdom, and made him prince over all Egypt; and caused him to ride upon the second chariot of Pharaoh, and clothed him with byssus garments, and put a golden chain around his neck, and proclaimed before him, saying: "Êl Êl wa abrir." And he put [a ring] upon his hand, and made him master of his whole house, and made him great, and said to him: "I will not be greater than thee except in regard to the thronedom." 7. And Joseph was lord in all the land of Egypt, and all the princes of Pharaoh loved him, and all the servants and all those that did the offices of the king, for he walked in rectitude and without pride and haughtiness of heart, and did not regard persons nor take bribes, but in rectitude he judged over all the peoples of the land. 8. And the land of Egypt was governed peacefully before Pharaoh on account of Joseph, for the Lord was with him, and gave him grace and good will over all his race, before all who knew him and heard reports concerning him; and the kingdom of Pharaoh was in a right condition, without any enemy or evil. 9. And the king called the name of Joseph, Sephnetiphanz, and gave the daughter of Potiphar as a wife to Joseph, the daughter of the one that sacrifices at Heliopolis, the chief of the cooks. 10. And on the day that Joseph stood before Pharaoh he was thirty years old, when he stood before the face of Pharaoh. 11. And in that year Isaac died. 12. And it happened as Joseph had said concerning the explanation of the two dreams, and there were seven years of plenty, and the land of Egypt was full of fruit, for one measure eighteen measures. 13. And Joseph gathered food from city to city, until they were full of grain, until they were not able to count and measure it on account of multitude.

CHAP. XLI. 1. And in the forty-fifth jubilee, in the second week and in the second year, Judah took a wife for Er, his first-born, from among the daughters of Aram, and her name was Tamar. 2. And he hated her and did not lie with her, because his mother was from among the daughters of Canaan, and he desired to take a wife to himself from the relatives of his mother, but his father Judah would not permit him. 3. And this his first-born was wicked, and the Lord slew him. 4. And Judah said to his son Onan: "Go in to the wife of thy brother, and make her thy wife and raise up seed for thy brother." 5. And Onan knew that the seed would not be his, but rather his brother's, and he went to the house of the wife of his brother, and poured the seed upon the ground, and was wicked before the eyes of the Lord, and he slew him. 6. And Judah said to

Tamar, his daughter-in-law, "Abide in the house of thy father as a widow until my son Shelah has grown, and I will give thee to him for a wife." 7. And he grew up; but Bêdsûêl, the wife of Judah, would not permit her son Shelah to marry her. 8. And Bêdsûêl, the wife of Judah, died in the fifth year of this week. 9. And in the sixth year thereof Judah went up to shear his sheep at Timnath. 10. And she laid aside her widow's garments and clothed herself with a vail, and beautified herself, and sat down at the gate on the way to Timnath. 11. And when Judah came, he found her, and thought her a harlot, and said to her: "I will go in to thee." 12. And she said to him, "Come in," and he came in unto her. 13. And she said to him, "Give me my pay." 14. And he said to her, "I have nothing in my hand except my ring on my finger and my bracelet and my staff, which is in my hand." 15. And she said to him, "Give me these until thou sendest me my pay." 16. And he said to her, "I will send thee a young kid;" and he gave them to her. 17. And she conceived from him; and Judah went to his sheep, but she went to the house of her father. 18. And Judah sent a young kid through a shepherd of Adullam, and he did not find her, and asked the people of the place, saying, "Where is the harlot which was here?" 19. And they said, "There has been no harlot here, and there is no harlot among us." 20. And he returned and told him that he had not found her, and said, "I asked the people of the place and they said to me that there was no harlot there." 21. And he said, "Arise, let us go that we do not become a laughing stock." 22. And when three months were over she learned that she was pregnant, and they told Judah, saying, "Behold, thy daughter-in-law Tamar has conceived by whoredom." 23. And Judah went to the house of her father, and said to her father and mother and brothers: "Bring her out that she be burned, for she has done an unclean thing in Israel. 24. And it happened when they brought her out to burn her, she sent to her father-in-law the ring and the bracelets and the staff, saying, "Dost thou recognize whose these are, for from him have I conceived?" 25. And Judah recognized them and said, "Tamar is more just than I." 26. And they did not burn her. 27. And on this account she was not given to Shelah; and he did not again approach her. 28. And after that she gave birth to two male children, Pharez and Zarah, in the seventh year of this second week. 29. And three more completed the seven years of fruitfulness of which Joseph had said to Pharaoh. 30. And Judah knew that it was an evil deed which he had done, for he had lain with his daughter-in-law, and regarded it as a sin before his eyes, and he knew that he had sinned and erred, because he had uncovered the skirt of his son. 31. And he began to lament it and ask for mercy before the Lord on account of his sin. 32. And he told him in a dream, that it would be forgiven him, because he begged exceedingly for mercy and lamented, and did not repeat it. 33. And he obtained forgiveness, for he turned from his sin and ignorance, for it was a great transgression before the Lord our God; and every one that does thus, and lies with his daughter-in-law shall be burned with fire, that he may burn therein, for it is uncleanness and defilement upon them: with fire they shall be burnt. 34. And thou, Moses, command the children of Israel, that there be no uncleanness among them, for every one that lieth with his mother-in-law or his daughter-in-law does an unclean thing: with fire shall be burnt the man who lies with her, and the woman also, and he [God] shall remove the anger and punishment from Israel. 35. But to Judah he said that because his two sons did not lie with her, on that account his seed stands for a second generation, and should not be rooted out; for in the innocence of his eyes he had gone and sought punishment, namely, according to the judgment of Abraham which he commanded his children, that Judah should be burned with fire.

CHAP. XLII. 1. And in the first year of the third week of the forty-fifth jubilee, the famine began to come into the land, and rain refused to be given to the earth; for none fell. 2. And the earth was unfruitful, and in the land of Egypt alone there was food, for Joseph had gathered that he might give them food, and Joseph had gathered the seed of the earth in the seven years of fruitfulness and had guarded it. 3. And the Egyptians came to Joseph that he should give them food, and he opened the storehouses where the grain was in the first year, and he sold it to the people of the land for gold. 4. And Jacob heard that there was food in the land of Egypt, and he sent ten sons, that they should go for him to Egypt, but Benjamin he did not send. 5. And they came, together with those that went there. 6. And Joseph knew them, but they did not know him; and he spoke with and asked them, and said to them: "Are ye not spies and have come to examine the traces of the land?" 7. And he locked them in. 8. And then again he released them and incarcerated Simeon alone, and his nine brothers he sent away. 9. And he filled their sacks with grain, and he placed their gold in their sacks, and they did not know it. 10. And he commanded them that they should bring their youngest brother, for they had told him that their father was yet living and also their youngest brother. 11. And they went up from the land of Egypt, and came to the land of Canaan, and told their father all that had happened to them, and how the prince of the land had spoken with them and had seized Simeon until they should bring Benjamin. 12. And Jacob said, "Ye have robbed me of my children: Joseph is no more, Simeon is no more, and ye will also take Benjamin; your wickedness is upon you." 13. And he said: "My son shall not go with you; it is possible that he will become sick; for their mother has given birth to two sons, one is destroyed and this one ye will take. 14. He might take a fever on the road, and ye will bring my gray hairs in sorrow into death." 15. For he saw that all their gold was returned in their packages, and on this account he feared to send him. 16. But the famine increased and became strong in the land of Canaan, and in all the lands, except in the land of Egypt, for many of the sons of Egypt had gathered their seeds for food when they saw that Joseph was collecting the seed and placing it into the storehouses, and preserving it for the years of famine, and the men of Egypt fed themselves in the first year of their famine. 17. And when Israel saw that the famine was very powerful in the land, and that there was no deliverance, he said to his sons: "Go, return, and bring us food that we die not." 18. And they said: "We will not go: unless our youngest brother goes with us we will not go." 19. And Israel saw that if he would not send him with them all would be destroyed on account of the famine. 20. And Reuben said: "Give him to me into my hand, and if I do not return him to thee, slay my two sons in place of his soul." 21. And he said, "He shall not go with thee." 22. And Judah approached and said to him: "Send him with me; and if I do not bring him back to thee, I shall be a transgressor before thee all the days of my life." 23. And he sent him with them in the second year of this week and in the new moon of the month, and they came to the land of Egypt with all those that went, and presents in their hands; and stacte and nuts and pistachio and pure honey. 24. And they came and stood before Joseph, and he saw his brother Benjamin, and knew him, and said to them: "Is this your youngest brother?" 25. And they said to him: "Yea, it is he." 26. And he said, "The Lord be merciful to thee, my son." 27. And he sent them into his house, and brought out Simeon to them and made them a feast, and they brought to him what they had brought in their hands. 28. And they ate before him, and he gave them all a portion, and increased the portion of Benjamin over the portion of the others seven times, and they ate and drank, and arose and remained with their asses. 29. And Joseph thought out a plan how he could learn their thoughts, whether their thoughts were peace among each other; and he said to the man who was over his house: "Fill all their sacks with food, but their gold return to them in the midst of their receptacle, and my goblet out of which I drink put into the sack of the youngest, the silver goblet, and send them away."

CHAP. XLIII. 1. And he did as Joseph had told him, and filled all their sacks for them with food, but their gold he put into their sacks, and the goblet he put into the sack of Benjamin. 2. And early in the morning they departed. 3. And it happened when they had gone from there that Joseph said to the man : " Follow them, run and upbraid them, saying : ' For good ye have returned evil, and have stolen the silver cup out of which my master drinks.' And bring back to me their youngest brother, quickly before that I go to my official work." 4. And he ran after them and said to them according to these words. 5. And they said to him : " Far be it from thy servants to do this thing : we have not stolen out of the house of thy lord any utensil, and the gold which we found the first time in our sacks, we, thy servants, have brought back out of the land of Canaan. 6. How then would we steal any utensil : behold, here we are, and our sacks ; search, and wherever thou findest the cup in the sack of any man among us, he shall be killed, but we and our asses will serve thy lord." 7. And he said to them : " Not thus, the man with whom I find it, him alone will I take as a servant, but ye shall return in peace to your houses. 8. And when he searched in their vessels, beginning with the oldest and ending with the youngest, it was found in the sack of Benjamin, the youngest. 9. And they were terrified and rent their clothes, and loaded their asses and returned to the city and came to the house of Joseph, and all fell down before him upon their faces on the ground. 10. And Joseph said to them : " Ye have done evil ; " and they said to him : " What shall we say, and with what shall we defend ourselves that our Lord has found the guilt of his servants ? 11. Behold, we are thy servants, O our lord, together with our asses." 12. And Joseph said to them : " I, too, fear the Lord, and ye shall go to your houses, but your youngest brother shall be my servant, for ye have done evil : do ye not know that one like me who drinks out of his cup values it ? 13. And ye have stolen it." 14. And Judah said : " For us, my lord, let me speak a word into the ear of my lord : his mother has borne thy servant, our father, two sons; one has left and was lost, and no one found him, and this one alone is left from his mother; and thy servant, our father, loves him and his soul cleaves to his soul, and it will happen when we return to thy servant, our father, and if the young man is not with us, he will die, and our father will sink away through grief unto death. 15. But I will become a servant to my lord in the place of the boy; but let the youth go with his brothers, for I have given promise for him to thy servant, our father; and if thou dost not return him, then thy servant will be guilty to our father all the days." 16. And Joseph saw the heart of all that they were friendly to each other and well disposed, and he was not able to restrain himself, and he said that he was Joseph, and conversed with them in the Hebrew tongue, and he fell upon their neck and wept; but they had not known him, and began to weep. 17. And he said to them: "Do not weep over me; but hasten and bring my father to me, that I may see him before I die, and the eyes of my brother Benjamin while I see. 18. For, behold, this is the second year of the famine, and there are yet five years without any harvest or fruit of trees or any plants. 19. Hasten ye to come down with your households, so that ye be not destroyed by the famine, and do not grieve yourselves on account of yourselves, and on account of your possessions, for the Lord has sent me before you as a provider, that many people might live. 20. And tell my father that I am yet alive. 21. But ye, behold, see me, that the Lord has set me as a father to Pharaoh, and that I should rule in his house and over all the land of Egypt. 22. And tell my father of all my honor and all the measure which the Lord has given me of wealth and of honor." 23. And at the command of Pharaoh, he gave them wagons and provisions for the road and gave them all colored garments and silver. 24. And to their father, Pharaoh sent garments and silver and ten asses that carried grain and he sent them away. 25. And they went up and announced to their father that Joseph was alive, and that he was measuring out grain to all the nations of the earth, and that he was lord of all the land of Egypt. 26. And their father did not believe it, for he was terrified in his thoughts, but when he saw the wagons which Joseph had sent, his spirit revived and lived, and he said: "It is a great thing for me that Joseph lives: I will go down to see him before I die."

CHAP. XLIV. 1. And Israel arose from Haran, from his house, at the new moon of the third month, and came by the way of the well of the oath, and offered a sacrifice to the God of his father Isaac, on the seventh of this month, and Jacob remembered the dream which he had dreamed at Bethel, and he feared to descend down to Egypt. 2. And while he was thinking that he would send word to Joseph that he should come to him, and that he would not go down, he remained there seven days, if he might see a vision, whether he should remain or go down. 3. And he celebrated the harvest festival of first fruits with old grain, for there was not a handful of seed in all the land of Canaan, for it was unfruitful for all the animals and beasts and birds, and also human beings. 4. And on the sixteenth thereof the Lord appeared to him and said to him: "Jacob, Jacob!" 5. And he said: "Here I am." 6. And he said to him: "I am the God of thy fathers Abraham and Isaac: fear not to go down to Egypt, for I will make thee into a great people. 7. I will go down with thee and I will bring thee back into this land that thou be buried here, and Joseph shall lay his hands upon thy eyes: fear not to go down to Egypt." 8. And he arose, and his sons and his sons' sons, and they placed their father and their vessels upon the wagons. 9. And Israel started from the well of the oath on the sixteenth of third month, and went to the land of Egypt. 10. And Israel sent before him to Joseph, his son Judah, that he should examine the land of Goshen, for there Joseph had told his brothers that they should come, that they should dwell there, that they might be near him; and this was good in the land of Egypt and near to him, for them all and for their animals. 11. And these are the names of the sons of Jacob who went into Egypt with Jacob their father; Reuben, the first-born of Israel: and these are the names of his sons: Ênôch and Phâlûs and Êzêrôm and Charâmî, five: Simeon and his sons, and these are the names of his sons: Ijâmôêl and Ijâmên and Amet and Ijâkîm and Saâr and Sâmêl, the son of the Sephanite; seven: Levi and his sons; and these are the names of his sons, Gêdsôn and Kaât and Mêrârî, four: Judah and his sons; and these are the names of his sons: Sêlêm and Phâlûs and Zârâ, four: Issachar and his sons; and these are the names of his sons: Tôlâ and Phûa and Ijâseb and Samarôm, five: Zebulun and his sons, and these are the names of his sons: Azôr and Êlôn and Ijâlûêl, four. 12. And these are the sons of Jacob and their sons whom Leah had borne to Jacob in Mesopotamia, six, and one sister to them, Dinah; and all the souls whom Leah had borne and their sons, who went with their father Jacob to Egypt, were twenty-nine, and Jacob, their father, with them, it thus was thirty. 13. And the sons of Zalapha, the handmaid of Leah, the wife of Jacob, whom she bore to Jacob: Gad and Asher. 14. And these are the names of their sons who went with them to Egypt; the sons of Gad: Zêphjôn and Agâtî and Sômî and Asôhên . . . and Arôli and Arôdi; eight. 15. And the sons of Asher: Ijâmuâ and Jesûa and Bârjâ and Sârâ, their sister, seven. 16. And all the souls are fourteen, and all of Leah were forty-four. 17. And the sons of Rachel, the wife of Jacob, were Joseph and Benjamin. 18. And to Joseph were born in Egypt before his father came to Egypt, whom Asnêt bore him, the daughter of Potiphar, the sacrificer of Heliopolis, Manasseh and Ephraim, three. 19. The sons of Benjamin are Bâlâ and Bâchôr and Êsâbêl, Zuêl and Nemân and Abdljî and Râê and Sanâim and Aphêm and Gâom, eleven. 20. And all the souls of Rachel were fourteen. 21. And the sons of Bilâ, the handmaid of Rachel, the wife of Jacob, were Dan and Naphtali. 22. And these are the names of their sons who went with them to Egypt; the sons of Dan are Chûsî and Sâmôn and Asûdî and Ijâk and Salamôn, six. 23. And they died in Egypt in the year in which they went down, and there was left to Dan only Chûsî. 24. And these are the names of the sons of Naphtali: Ijâsiêl and Gûhanî and Asaâr and Sûlônî and Êmê, six ; and Êmê died in Egypt, who was born after the year of the famine. 25. And all the souls of Rachel were twenty-six. 26. And all the souls of Jacob, that went with him to Egypt, were seventy souls ; but his children and his childrens' children, all together were seventy-five, but five died in Egypt, who were not married and had no children ; and in the land of Canaan two sons of Judah died, Er and Onan, and had no children. 27. And the sons of Israel buried those that were destroyed, and these were counted among the seventy peoples.

CHAP. XLV. 1. And Israel went to the land of Egypt unto the land of Goshen at the new moon of fourth month of the second year of the third week of the forty-fifth jubilee. 2. And Joseph went to meet his father Jacob in the land of Goshen, and he fell upon the neck of his father and wept. 3. And Israel said to Joseph : " I would die now after I have seen thee. 4. And now may the Lord God of Abraham and Isaac be blessed, who has not withdrawn his mercy and kindness from his servant Jacob : It is a great thing to me that I have seen thy face in my life, for true is the vision which I saw in Bethel, blessed be the Lord God to all eternity, and blessed be his name." 5. And Joseph and his brothers ate bread before their father and drank wine ; and Jacob rejoiced exceedingly much, for he saw that Joseph ate with his brothers and drank before him ; and he blessed the Creator of all, who had preserved for him his twelve sons. 6. And Joseph gave his father and his brothers as a present that they should dwell in the land of Goshen and in Râmâsîtinô, and their whole territory, that they should rule it before Pharaoh. 7. And Israel and his sons dwelt in the land of Goshen, the best part of the land of Egypt : but Israel was one hundred and thirty years old when he came into Egypt. 8. And Joseph gave provisions to his father and brothers, and their possessions as much as supported them for the seven years of famine. 9. And the land of Egypt suffered on account of the famine, and Joseph gathered in all the land of Egypt to Pharaoh for food, both the people and their cattle, and Pharaoh possessed everything. 10. And the years of the famine were completed, and Joseph gave to the people that were in the land of Egypt seed and food to sow in the eighth year, for the river had overflowed into all the land of Egypt. 11. For in the seven years of the famine it had watered only a few spots along the bank of the river, but now it overflowed; and the Egyptians sowed upon their land and it produced much grain in that year. 12. And this was the first year of the fourth week of the thirty-fifth jubilee. 13. And Joseph took of the grain which they sowed the fifth part for the king, and the fourth he left them for food and for sowing: and Joseph made it a law for the land of Egypt unto this day. 14. And Israel lived in the land of Egypt seventeen years, and all the days which he lived were three jubilees, one hundred and forty-seven years. 15. And he died in the fourth year of the fifth week of the forty-fifth jubilee. 16. And Israel blessed his sons before he died, and told them everything as it would happen to them in the land of Egypt, and what would come upon them in the latter days, and everything he made known to them, and blessed them and gave Joseph two portions in the land. 17. And he slept with his fathers and was buried in the double cave in the land of Canaan beside Abraham, his father, in the grave which he had dug for himself, in the double cave, in the land of Hebron. 18. And he gave all his books and the books of his fathers to his son Levi, that he should guard them and renew them for the sons of Israel to this day.

CHAP. XLVI. 1. And it happened after the death of Jacob that the children of Israel increased in the land of Egypt. 2. And they became a great people, and they were all united in their hearts, so that each loved his brother and every man assisted his brother, and they increased and multiplied and increased very much. 3. And ten weeks of years were all the days of the life of Joseph which he lived after his father, and he was no enemy or anything wicked in all the days of the life of Joseph which he lived after his father Jacob, for all the Egyptians honored the sons of Jacob during all the days of the life of Joseph. 4. And Joseph died when he was one hundred and ten years old: seventeen years he lived in the land of Canaan and ten years he was a servant, and three years he was in prison, and eighty years he was under the king ruling all the land of Egypt. 5. And all his brothers died, and all that generation. 6. And he commanded the children of Israel, before he died, that they should carry up his bones when they would go out of the land of Egypt. 7. And he made them swear concerning his bones, for he knew that the Egyptians would not again bring out his bones and bury them in the land of Canaan, for Memkerôn, the king of Canaan, while he was dwelling in the land of Asur, was fighting in the valley with the king of Egypt and killed him there and pursued the Egyptians to the gates of Êrômôn. 8. But he was unable to enter, for a second new king ruled over Egypt, and he was more powerful than he; and he returned to the land of Canaan, and the gates of Egypt were locked and no one entered Egypt. 9. And Joseph died in the forty-sixth jubilee, in the sixth week, in the second year; and they buried him in the land of Egypt, and all his brothers died after him. 10. And the king of Egypt went out to fight with the king of Canaan in the forty-seventh jubilee, in the second week, in the second year thereof; and the children of Israel brought out the bones of all the sons of Jacob except the bones of Joseph, and buried them in the fields, in the double caves in the mountains. 11. And the most returned to Egypt, and a few of them remained behind in the mountains of Hebron, and thy father Anbaram [Amram] remained with them. 12. And the king of Canaan overcame the king of Egypt and locked the portals of Egypt. 13. And he devised an evil plan against the children of Israel that he would torment them, and he said to the men of Egypt: "Behold, the people of the children have increased and multiplied more than we; behold, we will plot against them before they become too many, and will torment them with slavery, before a murder comes over us and before these become our enemies; if not, these will unite with the enemy and will depart out of our land, for their faces and hearts are toward the land of Canaan." 14. And he set over them work-overseers that they should torment them with slave work. 15. And they commanded them, and they built strong cities for Pharaoh, Pithom and Ramses, and they built all the walls and sides which had fallen in in the cities of Egypt. 16. And they oppressed them with service, but as much as they abused them so much they increased and so much they multiplied. 17. And the men of Egypt considered the children of Israel unclean.

CHAP. XLVII. 1. And in the seventh week, in the seventh year, in the forty-seventh jubilee, thy father came from the land of Canaan, and thou wast born in the fourth week, in the sixth year, in the forty-eighth jubilee, which are the days of the persecution over the sons of Israel. 2. And King Pharaoh, of Egypt, issued a command concerning them, that they should throw all their children, every male, into the river. 3. And they threw them in seven months, until the day when thou wast born: but thy mother hid thee three months; and they told about her. 4. And she made for thee an ark, and covered it with pitch and asphalt, and laid it in the grass, on the bank of the river, and placed thee into it seven days; and thy mother came in the night and nursed thee, and during the days thy sister Miriam protected thee from the wild animals. 5. And in those days Tarmûth, the daughter of Pharaoh, came to bathe in the river, and she heard thy voice crying, and she told her Hebrew maidens that they should bring thee out; and they brought thee to them. 6. And they took thee out of the ark, and she pitied thee. 7. And thy sister said: "Shall I go and call for thee one of the Hebrew women, who shall raise and nurse this child for thee?" 8. And she said: "Go." 9. And she went and called thy mother Jokabed, and she gave her wages, and she raised thee. 10. And when thou didst grow, they brought thee to the house of Pharaoh, and thou becamest his son; and Anbaram, thy father, taught thee writing. 11. And when thou didst complete three weeks, he brought thee to the royal court. 12. And thou wast in the court three weeks of years, until the day when thou didst go out of the royal court, and didst see the Egyptian as he was beating thy friend from among the children of Israel. 13. And thou slewest him and hid him in the sand, and on the following day thou foundest two of the children of Israel quarrelling, and didst say to the more powerful: "Why dost thou beat thy brother?" 14. And he became angry and wroth, and said: "Who has set thee a ruler and prince over us?" 15. Dost thou desire to kill me, as thou didst kill the Egyptian yesterday?" 16. And thou didst fear and flee on account of these words.

CHAP. XLVIII. 1. And in the sixth year of the third week of the forty-ninth jubilee, thou didst go and dwell here five weeks and one year, and didst return to Egypt in the second week, in the second year, in the fiftieth jubilee. 2. And thou knowest what he spoke to thee at Mt. Sinai, and what the prince Mastema desired to do with thee, as thou returnest to Egypt, on the way, at the feast of tabernacles. 3. Did he not with all his power seek to kill thee, and to save the Egyptians out of thy hand, when thou sawest that thou wert sent to deliver judgments and vengeance over the Egyptians? 4. And I delivered thee out of his hands, and thou didst the signs and wonders for which I had sent thee to do in Egypt over Pharaoh and over all his house and over his servants and over his people. 5. And the Lord inflicted a great vengeance upon them for Israel's sake, and beat them and killed them through blood and frogs and flies and dog flies and breaking-out skin-diseases, and also their animals by death, and through hail, by which he destroyed everything that grew for them; and through grasshoppers, who ate the rest that had been left by the hail, and through darkness; and also the first-born of man and animals; and on all their idols the Lord took vengeance and burned them with fire. 6. And everything was sent through thy hand, that thou shouldst do it before it was done, and thou didst tell it to the king of Egypt and before all of his servants and before his people. 7. And everything took place according to thy words: ten great and terrible judgments came over the land of Egypt, that they might take vengeance for Israel. And all the deeds of the Lord concerning Israel and according to his ordinance which he covenanted with Abraham, that he would take vengeance upon them, according as they had served the Egyptians in oppression. 8. And the prince Mastema placed himself against thee, and endeavored to throw thee into the hand of Pharaoh and aided the sorcerers of the Egyptians, and stood by them, and they performed them before thee: the evils, however, we permitted them to perform, but their remedies we did not suffer them to perform by their hands. 9. And the Lord struck them with a dire pox, and they were not able to withstand, for we destroyed them so that they could not do a single sign. 10. And amid all the signs and wonders, the prince Mastema was not ashamed, until he became powerful and cried to the Egyptians that they should pursue after thee with all the power of the Egyptians, with their wagons and with their horses and with all the masses of the people of Egypt. 11. And I stood between the Egyptians and thee, and between them and Israel, and I saved the Israelites out of their hands and out of the hands of the Egyptians. 12. And the Lord led them through the middle of the sea, as if it were dry land. 13. And all the people he caused to come out to pursue Israel, the Lord our God cast into the midst of the sea, into the depths of the abysses, instead of the children of Israel, because the people of Egypt had thrown their children by the hundreds into the river: vengeance was taken upon them and one thousand powerful men, and those that were strong, perished on account of one suckling babe which they had cast into the river from amongst thy people. 14. And on the fourteenth day, and on the fifteenth day, and on the sixteenth day, and on the seventeenth day, and on the eighteenth day, the prince Mastema was bound and chained behind the children of Israel, so that he could not accuse the children of Israel. 15. But on the nineteenth day we let him loose, so that he could help the Egyptians, and that they could pursue the children of Israel; and he made hard their hearts and strengthened them and he became powerful according to the Lord our God, so that he could smite the Egyptians and hurl them into the sea. 16. And on the fifteenth day we bound him, so that he could not accuse the children of Israel on the day when they asked for the utensils and clothing from the men of Egypt, utensils of silver and utensils of gold and utensils of iron, in order to despoil the Egyptians for having served him a service in oppression: and we did not cause the children of Israel to go out of Egypt empty handed.

CHAP. XLIX. 1. Remember the command which the Lord commanded thee concerning the Pascah, that thou shalt keep it in its time, on the fourteenth of the first month, that thou shalt kill it before the evening come, and that they shall eat it during the night, on the evening of the fifteenth, from the time of the setting of the sun, for this is the first day of the festival and the first Pascah. 2. But ye were engaged in eating the Pascah in Egypt while all the powers of Mastema were sent forth in Egypt to destroy all the first-born in the land of Egypt, from the first-born of Pharaoh to the first-born of the captive servant maid in the mill, and down to the the animals. 3. And this is the sign which the Lord gave them: In every house at whose portals they had thrown the blood of a year old sheep, into this house they did not enter to kill those that were locked in it, so that all who were in the house were saved, because the sign of blood was upon the portals. 4. And the powers of the Lord did everything as the Lord commanded them, and they passed by all the sons of Israel, and no plague came over them to destroy any soul from their midst, neither of beast nor of man, not even a dog. And the plague was in Egypt exceedingly great, and there was no house in Egypt in which there was no dead body and weeping and lamentation. 5. And all Israel was engaged in eating the meat of the Pascah and drinking wine, and they lauded and thanked and blessed the Lord God of their fathers, and were prepared to go out from under the yoke of Egypt and from under its slavery. 6. But thou, remember this day all the days of thy life, once in the year, on its day, according to all the law thereof, and thou shalt not change the day for another day, or the month for another month. 7. For it is an ordinance of eternity, which is engraven on the tablets of heaven concerning the children of Israel, that they shall observe each year by year the festivals; once a year, in all their generations, and it has no limit of days, for it is ordained for eternity. 8. And a man, if he is pure and does not come to observe in its time the day, to bring an offering which is acceptable before the Lord on the day of the festival, and to eat and to drink before the Lord, on the day of his festival, that man shall be rooted out, if he is pure and near, because he has not brought the offering to the Lord in its time, and that man places a sin upon himself. Let the children of Israel, who will yet come, observe the Pascah on the day of its time, on the fourteenth of the first month, between the evenings, in the third part of the day to the third part of the night; for two parts of the day are given to the light and the third to the evening; this it is that the Lord has commanded that thou shalt observe it between the evenings. 9. And it shall not take place in the morning, at any time of daylight, but only at the limits of the evenings; and they shall eat it in the time of evening until the third night, and whatever is left of all the meat on the third night, they shall again burn in the fire. 10. And they shall not cook it in water and shall not eat it raw, but carefully roasted on the fire and broiled on the fire; its head together with the intestines they shall roast, and its feet, and shall not break any bone within it, for none of the children of Israel shall have any bone broken. 11. On this account the Lord has commanded the children of Israel to observe the Pascah on the day of its time, and that no bone in it shall be broken, for it is a festival and a day commanded, and there must be no change from it from one day to another, or from one month to another, but on the day shall its festival be observed. 12. But thou, command the children of Israel that they should observe the Pascah on its days in all the years, once each year, on the day of its fixed time, and that it shall become a memorial before the Lord which is acceptable, and that no plague come over them to kill them and to scourge them in that year. 13. If they observe the Pascah in its time in everything as they have been commanded, then it is not allowed them to eat it outside of the sanctuary of the Lord, and all the people of the assembly of Israel shall observe it in its time. 14. Every man who is twenty years and above who comes on that day shall eat it in the sanctuary of your God before the Lord, for thus it is written and ordained that they shall eat it in the sanctuary of the Lord. 15. And when the children of Israel come into the land which they shall possess, into the land of Canaan, and plant the tent of the Lord in the midst of the land, within one of their hosts, until the time when the sanctuary of the Lord shall have been built in the land, then they shall come and observe the Pascah in the midst of the tent of the Lord, and shall sacrifice it before the Lord from year to year. 16. And in the days when a house shall have been built in the name of the Lord in the land of their inheritance, they shall go there and slay the Pascah in the evening, as the sun goes down, in the third part of the day. 17. And they shall place the blood on the foundation of the altar, and the fat they shall lay upon the fire upon the altar, and shall eat flesh thereof that has been roasted at the fire, in the court of the sanctuary in the name of the Lord. 18. And they must not observe the Pascah in their cities and in all their districts, but only before the tent of the Lord or before his house, where his name dwells, so that ye do not trespass against the Lord. 19. But thou, Moses, command the children of Israel, that they shall observe the ordinance of the Pascah as it has been commanded to thee, that they shall observe the day year by year, and its day and the festival of the unleavened bread, that they shall eat unleavened bread seven days, so that they observe its festival, that they bring an offering day by day in these seven days of the Pascah before the Lord on the altar of your God. 20. For this festival ye observed with trembling when ye went out of Egypt until ye had gone through the sea into the desert of Sur, for on the shore of the sea ye completed it.

CHAP. L. 1. And after this law I made known to thee the days of Sabbaths in the desert Sinai, which is between Elam and Sinai. 2. And I told you concerning the Sabbaths of the earth on Mt. Sinai, and concerning the years of jubilees with the Sabbaths; and also the year I mentioned to you; but the year thereof we did not tell you, until thou comest into the land which ye shall possess; and ye shall make the land also observe the Sabbaths for those dwelling in it, and the years of jubilees shall learn. 3. Concerning this I have ordained for thee the weeks of years and the jubilees, from the days of Adam to this day: forty-nine [jubilees] and one week and two years; and yet forty years are before for learning the commandments of the Lord, until ye cross the border of the land of Canaan, crossing the Jordan on the western side, and jubilees will pass by until Israel shall be cleansed from all fornication and guilt and uncleanness and contamination and sin and transgression, and shall dwell in all the land in safety, and no Satan and no evil one will injure him, and the land will be cleansed from that time on and to eternity. 4. And, behold, the command of the Sabbaths I have written down for thee, and all the judgments of its laws. 5. Six days thou shalt do work, and on the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord, your God; ye shall not do any work on it, neither ye, nor your children, nor your male servants, nor your maid servants, nor any of your beasts, nor your stranger who is with you. 6. The man that does any work on it shall die, and every man who desecrates this day, who lies with a wife, and who says that he will do something on it, that he will make a trip on it, or concerning all buying and selling, and who draws water on it which he did not prepare for himself on the sixth day, and whoever takes up a burden to carry it out of his tent or out of his house, he shall die. 7. Ye shall not do any work on the Sabbath which ye have not prepared for yourselves on the sixth day, to eat or to drink or to rest or to keep Sabbath from all your work on that day, and to bless the Lord your God, who has given it to you as a festival day; and a holy day it shall be, and a day of the holy kingdom, for all Israel this day, among your days, in all the days. 8. For great is the honor which the Lord has given to Israel to eat and to drink and to be satisfied on this festival day, after resting on this day from all the work of the children of men, except burning frankincense and bringing offerings and sacrifices before the Lord on the days and the Sabbaths. 9. This work alone shall be done on the Sabbath days, in the sanctuary of the Lord your God, so that these shall appear over Israel as a constant atonement, day by day, as a memorial, which is acceptable before the Lord and received forever, day by day, as I have commanded thee. 10. And every man who does any work on this day, or makes a journey, or works his land, be it in the house or at any other place, and whoever lights a fire or rides upon any beast, or travels by ship upon the sea, and everyone that strikes or kills anything, or kills an animal or a bird, and who catches an animal and bird and fish, and who contends or engages in war on the Sabbath day, the man that does any of these things on the Sabbath day, shall die, so that the children of Israel shall observe the Sabbaths, according to the command of the Sabbath of the land, as it is written on the tablets of heaven, which he gave into my hands, that I should write for thee the laws of the times, and the different times in the division of their days.

Grimoirium Verum

or

The True Grimoire

The Most Approved Keys
of Solomon, The Hebrew Rabbi

Wherein The Most Hidden Secrets, Both Natural And Supernatural Are Immediately Exhibited.

Modo operator per necessaria et contenta facit scia tamen oportet Daemonum potentia dum taxat per agantur.

Translated From The Hebrew
by Plangiere,
Jesuit Dominicane.

with a Curious collection of Rare and Astounding Magical Secrets.

Edited, With A Preface By James Banner, Gent.

Originally Published By Alibeck The AEgyptian

at Memphis

1517.

The Grimoirium Verum

PDF edition, 1999 Phil Legard

INTRODUCTION

In the first part is contained various dispositions of characters, by which powers the spirits or, rather, the devils are invoked, to make them come when you will, each according to his power, and to bring whatever is asked: and that without any discomfort, providing also that they are content on their part; for this sort of creature does not give anything for nothing. In the first part is taught the means of calling forth the Elemental Spirits of the Air, Earth, Sea or of the Infernus, according to their affinities.

In the second part are expressed the secrets, both Natural and Supernatural which operate by the power of the Daemons. You will find the manner to make use of them, and all without deceit.

In the third part is the Key to the Work, with the manner of using it. But, before starting this, it will be necessary to be instructed in the following: There are three powers, which are Lucifer, Beelzebuth and Astaroth. You must engrave their Characters in the correct manner and at the appropriate hours. Believe me, all this is of consequence, nothing is to be forgotten.

THE FIRST BOOK

Concerning the Characters of the Daemons.

You must carry the aforesaid character with you. If you are male, in the right pocket, and it is to be written in your own blood, or that of a sea-turtle. You put at the two half-circles the first letter of your name and surname. And if you wish more, you may draw the character on an emerald or ruby, for they have a sympathy for the spirits, especially those of the Sun, who are the most knowledgeable, and are better than the others. If you are a female, carry the character on the left side, between the breasts, like a Reliquary; and always observing, as much as the other sex, to write or have engraved the character on the day and in the hour of Mars. Obey the spirits in this, that they may obey thee.

The spirits who are powerful and exalted, serve only their confidants and intimate friends, by the pact made or to be made according to certain characters at the will of Singambuth or of his Secretary. Aabidandes, of whom we will give you information, is the perfect acquaintance to call, conjure and constrain, as you will see in the Key, where you will be given a method of making a pact with the spirits.

Of the Nature of Pacts.

There are only two kinds of pact, the tacit and the apparent [or explicit]. You will know the one from the other, if you read this little book. Know, however, that there are many kinds of spirits, some attractive and others not attractive.

It is when you make a pact with a spirit, and have to give the spirit something which belongs to you, that you have to be on your guard.

The Kinds of Spirits.

In regard to spirits, there are the superior and the inferior. Names of the superiors are: Lucifer, Beelzebuth, Astaroth. The inferiors of Lucifer are in Europe and Asia, and obey him. Beelzebuth lives in Africa, and Astaroth inhabits America.

Of these, each of them has two who order their subjects all that which the Emperor has resolved to do in all the world, and vice-versa.

The Visible Appearance of Spirits.

Spirits do not always appear in the same shape. This is because they are not themselves of matter or form, and have to find a body to appear in, and one suitable to their intended manifestation and appearance.

Lucifer appears in the form and figure of a fair boy. When angry, he seems red. There is nothing monstrous about him.

Beelzebuth appears sometimes in monstrous forms, sometimes like a giant cow, at times like a he-goat, with a long tail. When angry, he vomits fire.

Astaroth appears black, in human shape.

Here are three characters of Lucifer, outside his circle:

The following are those of Beelzebuth and Astaroth placed outside their circles:

To Invoke the Spirits.

It is only necessary, when you desire to invoke them, to call them by their characters, which they themselves have given. And when you wish to invoke them, call them to serve you, in the manner taught in the Third Part.

Descending to the Inferiors.

Lucifer has two demons under him: Satanackia and Agalierap. Those of Beelzebuth are Tarchimache and Fleruty. The characters of Satanackia and Fleruty are:

The two inferiors of Astaroth are Sagatana and Nesbiros, and their characters are:

There are yet other daemons, apart from these, who are under Duke Syrach. There are eighteen of these, and their names are:

- I. Clauneck
- II. Musisin
- III. Bechaud
- IV. Frimost
- V. Klepoth
- VI. Khil
- VII. Mersilde
- VIII. Clisihert
- IX. Sirchade
- X. Segal
- XI. Hicpacth
- XII. Humots
- XIII. Frucissiere
- XIV. Guland
- XV. Surgat
- XVI. Morail
- XVII. Frutimiere
- XVIII. Huictiigaras

These are the characters of fifteen inferior spirits:

BUCON

CLISTHERT

FRUCISSIERE

GULAND

MORAIL

HICPACTH

FRUTIMIERE

HUICHTIGARAS

HUMOTS

KHIL

MERSILDE

MINOSON

SEGAL

SIRCHADE

SURGAT

THE SECOND BOOK

AGLA * ADONAY * JEHOVA

There are other daemons, but as they have no power, we shall not speak of them. The powers of the eighteen above-mentioned ones are these:

CLAUNECK has power over riches, can cause treasures to be found. He can give great riches to he who makes a pact with him, for he is much loved by Lucifer. It is he who causes money to be brought.

MUSISIN has power over great lords, teaches all that happens in the Republics, and the affairs of the Allies.

FRIMOST has power over women and girls, and will help you to obtain their use.

KLEPOTH makes you see all sorts of dreams and visions.

KHIL makes great earthquakes.

MERSILDE has the power to transport anyone in an instant, anywhere.

CLISTHERT allows you to have day or night, whichever you wish, when you desire either.

SIRCHADE makes you see all sorts of natural and supernatural animals.

HICPACTH will bring you a person in an instant, though he be far away.

HUMOTS can bring you any book you desire.

SEGAL will cause all sorts of prodigies to appear.

FRUCISSIERE revives the dead.

GULAND causes all illnesses.

SURGAT opens every kind of lock.

MORAIL can make anything invisible.

FRUTIMIERE prepares all kinds of feasts for you.

HUICTIIGARAS causes sleep in the case of some, and insomnia in others.

Under Satanachia and Sataniciae are forty-five [or, according to other versions, fifty-four] daemons. Four of these, the chiefs, are Sergutthy, Heramael, Trimasael and Sustugriel. The others are of no great consequence.

These spirits are of great advantage, and they work well and speedily, in the case that they are pleased with the operator.

Sergutthy has power over maidens and wives, when things are favourable.

Heramael teaches the art of healing, including the complete knowledge of any illness and its cure, He also makes known the virtues of plants, where they are to be found, when to pluck them, and their making into a complete cure.

Trimasael teaches chemistry and all means of conjuring of the nature of deceit or sleight-of-hand. He also teaches the secret of making the Powder of Projection, by means of which the base metals may be turned into gold or silver.

Sustugriel teaches the art of magic. He gives familiar spirits that can be used for all purposes, and he also gives mandragores.

Agalierept and Tarihimal are the rulers of Elelogap, who in turn governs matters connected with water.

Nebirot rules Hael and Surgulath. The former (Hael) enables anyone to speak in any language he will, and also teaches the means whereby any type of letter may be written. He is also able to teach those things which are most secret and completely hidden.

Sergulath gives every means of speculation. In addition, he instructs as to the methods of breaking the ranks and strategy of opponents. Subject to these are the eight most powerful subordinates:

I. PROCULO, who can cause a person to sleep for forty-eight hours, with the knowledge of the spheres of sleep.

II. HARISTUM, who can cause anyone to pass through fire without being touched by it.

III. BRULEFER, who causes a person to be beloved of women.

IV. PENTAGNONY, who gives the two benefits of attaining invisibility and the love of great lords.

V. AGLASIS, who can carry anyone or anything anywhere in the world.

VI. SIDRAGOSAM, causes any girl to dance in the nude.

VII. MINOSON, is able to make anyone win at any game.

VIII. BUCON, can cause hate and spiteful jealousy between members of the opposite sexes.

THE THIRD BOOK

The Invocation.

This is the Invocation:

HELOY + TAU + VARAF + PANTHON + HOMNORCUM + ELEMIATH + SERUGEATH + AGLA + ON + TETRAGRAMMATON + CASILY.

This Invocation is to be made on virgin parchment, with the characters of the D³/₄mon upon it, which causes the intermediary Scirlin to come. For from this depend all the others, and it can constrain them to appear in spite of themselves, as he has the power of Emperor.

Orison : Preparation.

Lord God Adonay, who hast made man in Thine own image and resemblance out of nothing! I, poor sinner that I am, beg Thee to deign bless and sanctify this water, so that it may be healthy for my body and my soul, and that all foolishness should depart from it.

Lord God, all-powerful and ineffable, and who led Thy people out of the land of @gypt, and has enabled them to cross the Red Sea with dry feet! Accord me this, that I may be purified by this water of all my sins, so that I may appear innocent before Thee! Amen.

When the operator has thus purified himself, he is to set about the making of the Instruments of the Art.

Of the Magical Knife.

It is necessary to have a knife or lancet, of new steel, made on the day and hour of Jupiter with the Moon crescent. If it cannot be made, it may be bought, but this must be done at the time, as above.

Having achieved this, you will say the Orison or Conjunction following, which will serve for the knife and lancet.

Conjunction of the Instrument.

I conjure thee, O form of the Instrument, by the authority of our Father God Almighty, by the virtues of Heaven and by the Stars, by the virtue of the Angels, and by the virtue of the Elements, by the virtues of the stones and herbs, and of snow-storms, winds and thunder: that thou now obtain all the necessary power into thyself for the pefectioning of the achievement of those things in which we are at present concerned! And this without deception, untruth, or anything of that nature whatsoever, by God the Creator of the Sun of Angels! Amen.

Then we recite the Seven Psalms, and afterwards the following words:

Dalmaley lamekh cadat pancia velous merroe lamideck caldurech anereton mitraton : Most Pure Angels, be the guardians of these instruments, they are needed for many things.

The Sacrificial Knife.

On the day of Mars [Tuesday] at the New Moon, make a knife of new steel which is strong enough to cut the neck of a kid with one blow, and make a handle of wood on the same day and in the same hour, and with an engraver you engrave on the handle these characters:

9233

Then asperge and fumigate it, and you have prepared an instrument for service when and where you wish.

The Manner of Asperging & Fumigation.

First, there is the Orison which is needful on asperging, and it is thus recited:

In the name of the immortal God, asperge [N] and clean you of all foolishness and all deceit, and you will be whiter than snow. Amen.

Then pour as the aspersion blessed water thereon, saying:

In the name of the Father + and of the Son + and of the Holy + Ghost, Amen.

These aspersions are necessary for every item of equipment; so also is the fumigation which follows.

To fumigate, it is necessary to have a cruse, in which you place coal newly kindled with a new fire, and let it be well ablaze. On this you place aromatics, and when perfuming the article in question, say the following:

Angels of God, be our help, and may our work be accomplished by you. Zalay, Salmay, Dalmay, Angrecton, Ledrion, Amisor, Euchey, Or. Great Angels: And do thou also, O Adonay, come and give to this a virtue so that this creature may gain a shape, and by this let our work be accomplished. In the name of the Father + and of the Son + and of the Holy + Ghost, Amen.

Then recite the Seven Psalms which come after Judicum tuum Regida and Laudate Dominum omnes gentes.

Of the Virgin Parchment.

Virgin parchment can be made in many ways. Generally it is made of the skin of a goat or a lamb, or other animal, which must be virgin.

After inscribing on the blade AGLA, and having fumigated it, the knife will serve you for all purposes.

Remember that when you make the Sacrifice in order to obtain the virgin parchment from the kid, all the instruments must be on the altar.

You make the baton [or Rod, staff] of the Art from Hazel wood that has never borne, and cut it with a single stroke on the day and in the hour of Mercury [Wednesday], at the Crescent Moon. And you engrave it with the needle, the pen or the lancet, in the following characters:

The seal and character of Frimost to be inscribed on the first Rod:

Then you make another baton of Hazel wood, which has never borne, and which is without seed, and cut it in the day and hour of the Sun [Sunday], and on this you engrave these characters:

The seal and character of Klippoth is to be inscribed on the second Rod.

This having been done, you say over your baton the following Orison:

Orison.

Most wise, most powerful Adonay, deign to bless, sanctify and conserve this batTMn so that it may have the necessary virtue, O most holy Adonay, to whom be honor and glory for all time. Amen.

Of the Lancet.

It is necessary to have a new lancet, conjured and prepared like the knife and sickle. Make it in the day and hour of Mercury, at the Crescent Moon. Now follows the method of Making the Sacrifice of the Kid.

Take your goat and place it on a flat surface, so that the throat is uppermost, the better to cut it. Take your knife and cut the throat with a single stroke, while pronouncing the name of the Spirit you wish to invoke.

For example, you say:

I kill you in the name and in the honor of [N]. . .

This is to be well understood, and take care that you sever the throat at first, and do not take two strokes, but see that he dies at the first.

Then you skin him with the knife, and at the skinning make this Invocation:

Adonay, Dalmay, Lauday, Tetragrammaton, Anereton, and all you, Holy Angels of God, come and be here, and deign to infuse into this skin the power that it may be correctly conserved, so that all that is written upon it may become perfected.

After the skinning, take well-ground salt, and strew this upon the skin, which has been stretched, and let the salt cover the skin well. Before you use the salt it must have the following Benediction said over it.

The Benediction of the Salt.

I exorcise you, O creature of the Salt, by the God who is living, the God of all Gods, the Lord of all Lords, that all fantasies may leave you, and that you may be suitable for the virgin parchment.

When this is finished, let the skin with the salt upon it remain in the sun for a full day. Then obtain a glazed pottery jar, and write these characters around it with the Pen of the Art:

Get quicklime and slake this with exorcised water, and put these in the jar. When it is liquid place it in your goatskin, and leave it long enough for the hairs to peel off of themselves.

As soon as the hair is in such a condition as to come off with a touch, remove it from the jar and peel the hairs with a knife made from carved Hazel. The knife must have had these words said over it:

O holiest Adonay, put into this wood the power to cleanse this skin, through the holy name Agason, Amen.

The skin, when peeled, may be stretched over a piece of new wood, and stones are to be placed on the skin, so that they hold it down. These are to be stones from a river bank. Before placing the stones, say the following Orison over them.

The Orison of the Stones.

O Adonay, most puissant and all-powerful Lord, allow that these stones may stretch this skin, and remove from them all wickedness, so that they may possess the required power. Amen.

Of the Aspersion of the Water.

All water used in these experiments must be asperged, by saying this over it:

Lord God, Father, all-powerful, my refuge and my life, help me, Holy Father, for I love you, God of Abraham, of Isaac, of Jacob, of the Archangels and Prophets, Creator of All. In humility, and, calling upon Thy holy Name, I supplicate that thou wilt agree to bless this water, so that it may sanctify our bodies and our souls, through Thee, most holy Adonay, Everlasting Ruler, Amen.

The skin is allowed to dry after this, and before quitting the spot, say over the parchment:

Je, Agla, Jod, Hoi, He, Emmanuel! Stand guard over this parchment, in order that no spectra may take charge of it!

When the skin is dry it may be removed from its wooden frame, blessed and fumigated, and then it is ready for use.

It is important that this must not be seen by any women, and more especially during certain times of theirs [i.e., during menstruation], otherwise it will lose its power. It must also be known that when you make and use this parchment, you must be clean, pure and chaste.

The operator is to say one Mass of the Nativity then, and all the instruments are to be on the altar.

Of Aspersions.

You take an asperser made with a bunch of mint, marjoram and rosemary which is secured by a thread which has been made by a virgin maiden.

The asperger is made in the day and hour of Mercury when the Moon is at its crescent.

Of the Perfumes.

These are to be wood of aloes, incense and mace. As for the mace, this is all that you need for the circle, and over the perfumes is to be said the following Orison:

The Orison of the Aromatic Perfumes.

Deign, O Lord, to sanctify the creature of this, in order that it may be a remedy for the human race, and that it may be a remedy for our souls and bodies, through the invoking of Thy holy Name! Agree that all creatures which may breathe in the vapor of this may have wealth of their bodies and souls: through the Lord who has fashioned the time eternal! Amen.

Of the Pen of the Art.

Take a new quill, and asperge and fumigate this in the same way as the other instruments, and when you are cutting its points, say:

Ababaloy, Samoy, Escavor, Adonay: I have from this quill driven out all illusions, so that it may hold within it with effectiveness the power needed for all those things which are used in the Art: for both the operations and the characters and conjurations. Amen.

Of the Ink-horn.

You buy a new Ink-horn on the day and in the hour of Mercury. At this time, also, these characters are [to be] inscribed upon it:

JOD HE VAU HE + METATRON + JOD + KADOS + ELOHIM SABAOTH.

Then newly-made ink is exorcised with this exorcism before being placed in the horn:

I exorcise you, Creature of this Ink, by the names Anston, Cerreton, Stimulator, Adonay, and by the Name of He who created all by one word, and who can achieve all, so that you shall assist me in my work, and so this work may be accomplished by my desire, and brought to a successful end through the agreement of God, He who rules all things, and through all things, omnipresent and eternal. Amen.

Then the ink is to be blessed with this Blessing:

Lord God, Almighty, ruler over all and forever, Thou who dost cause to take place the greatest wonders in Thy creations, deign to grant the grace of Thy holy spirit through this ink. Bless it, and sanctify it, and impart to it a special power, that whatever we may say or do or desire may be accomplished: through Thee, Most Holy Prince, ADONAY. Amen.

The Preperation of the Operator.

When the implements are ready, the operator must prepare himself. This is first done by this Preparatory Orison:

Lord God, ADONAY, who hast formed man in Thine image, I, the unworthy and sinful, beseech Thee to sanctify this water, to benefit my body and soul, cause me to be cleansed.

As he says this the operator is to wash his face and hands with the water that he is blessing.

NOTE: This water is to be used for washing the hands and feet, and know alsoÑand know and know againÑthat it is necessary and most necessary, to abstain three days from sin: and above all mortally, however much the human frailty may be, and especially guard your chastity.

During the three days, study the book and during this time, pray five times during the day and four times each night, with the following form:

Astrachios, Asach, Ascala, Abedumabal, Silat, Anabotas, Jesubilin, Scingin, Geneon, Domol: O Lord my God, Thou who art seated higher than the Heavens, Thou who art seated higher than the Heavens, Thou who seeth even unto the depths, I pray that Thou unto me the things which I have in my mind and that I may be successful in them: through Thee, O Great God, the Eternal and who reigns for ever and ever. Amen. [Shah gives a note of a variation: "Astrocio, Asath, a sacra Bedrimubal, Felut, Anabotos, Serabilem, Sergen, Gemen, Domos: . . ."]

All this having been done correctly, all that remains is to follow your invocations and draw your characters and you do as follows.

In the day and hour of Mars [Tuesday] the Moon being at the crescent, and at the first hour of the day—which is a quarter of an hour before sunrise—you will prepare a piece of virgin parchment, which shall contain all the characters and the invocations of the spirits which you wish to produce.

For example, in the said day and hour, you will attach to the small finger of the hand (which is the finger of Mercury) a thread spun by a virgin girl, and pierce the finger with the lancet of the Art, to get blood from it, with which you form your Scirlin character, as is given at the commencement of this book. Then write your invocation, which is that which follows.

Invocation to Scirlin.

HELON + TAUL + VARF + PAN + HEON + HOMONOREUM + CLEMIALH + SERUGEATH + AGLA + TETRAGRAMMATON + CASOLY.

You must write the first letter of your name where is the letter A [in the sign & character of Scirlin], and that of your surname where is the letter D. The spirit Aglassis, whose character it is, is very potent to render you service, and will cause you to have power over the other spirits.

Make above the Character of the Spirit that you desire to come, and burn incense in his honor. Then make the conjuration which is addressed to the spirit that you want to cause to appear, and burn incense in his honor.

Conjuration for Lucifer.

Lucifer, Ouyar, Chameron, Aliseon, Mandousin, Premy, Oriet, Naydrus, Esmony, Eparinesont, Estiot, Dumosson, Danochar, Casmiel, Hayras, Fabelleronthou, Sodirno, Peatham, Come, Lucifer, Amen.

Conjuration for Beelzebuth.

Beelzebuth, Lucifer, Madilon, Solymo, Saroy, Theu, Ameclo, Sagrael, Praredun, Adricanorom, Martino, Timo, Cameron, Phorsy, Metosite, Prumosy, Dumaso, Elivisa, Alphrois, Fubentrotty, Come, Beelzebuth, Amen.

Conjuration for Astaroth.

Astaroth, Ador, Cameso, Valuerituf, Mareso, Lodir, Cadomir, Aluiel, Calniso, Tely, Plorim, Viordy, Cureviorbas, Cameron, Vesturiel, Vulnavij, Benez meus Calmiron, Noard, Nisa Chenibranbo Calevodium, Brazo Tabrasol, Come, Astaroth, Amen.

After having said seven times the conjuration addressed to superior spirits, you will see the spirit at once appear, to do whatever you desire.

Dismissal of the Spirit.

When you have written the conjuration on the virgin parchment, and have seen the spirit, being satisfied, you can dismiss him by saying this:

Ite in pace ad loca vestra et pax sit inter vos redituri ad mecum vos invocavero, in nomine Patris + et Filii + et Spiritus Sancti + Amen.

[Go in peace unto your abode and let there be peace between you and I, and be ready to come to me when you are called, in the name of the Father + and the Son + and of the Holy Spirit + Amen]

Conjuration for Inferior Spirits.

OSURMY + DELMUSAN + ATALSLOYM + CHARUSIHOA + MELANY + LIAMINTHO + COLEHON + PARON + MADDOIN + MERLOY + BULERATOR + DONMEDO + HONE + PELOYM + IBASIL + MEON + ALYMDRICTELS + PERSON + CRISOLSAY + LEMON SESSLE NIDAR HORIEL PEUNT + HALMON + ASOPHIEL + ILNOSTREON + BANIEL + VERMIAS + SLEVOR + NOELMA + DORSAMOT + LHAVALA + OMOR + FRAMGAM + BELDOR + DRAGIN + Come, N. . .

Dismissal of the Inferior Spirit.

Go in peace, N., whence you came, peace be with you, and come every time I shall call you, in the name of the Father + and of the Son + and of the Holy Spirit + Amen.

Then you will burn the characters, because they will serve only once.

Another Conjuration.

I conjure thee, N., by the name of the Great Living God, Sovereign Creator of all things, that thou appear in human form, fair and agreeable, without noise or inconvenience, to answer truthfully in all the interrogations that I shall make. I conjure thee to do this by the power of the Holy and Sacred Names.

Orison of the Salamanders.

Immortal, eternal, ineffable and Holy Father of all things, who is carried by the revolving chariot unceasingly, of the worlds which continually revolve: dominator of the Etherian countries where there is raised the throne of Thy power: above which Thy redoubtable eyes see all, and Thy holy ears hear all—Naid Thy children whom Thou hast loved since the birth of the centuries: for thy golden and great and eternal majesty shines above the world, the sky and the stars, Thou art elevated above all, O sparkling fire, and Thou illuminatest Thyself by Thy splendor, and there go out from Thy essence untarnishable rays of light which nourish Thy infinite spirit. That infinite spirit produces all things, and makes the mighty treasure which cannot fail, to the creation which surrounds Thee, due to the numberless forms of which she bears, and which Thou hast filled at the start. From this spirit comes also the origin of those most holy kings who are around Thy throne, and who compose Thy court, O Universal Father!

O Unique One, O Father of happy mortals and immortals! Thou hast created in particular the powers which are marvellously like the eternal thought, and from Thy adorable essence. Thou hast established them over the angels, Thou hast created a third kind of sovereign in the elements. Our continual exercise is to worship Thy desires. We burn with the desire to possess Thee, O Father, O Mother, the most tender of Mothers! O wonderful example of feelings and tenderness of Mothers! O Son, the flower of all sons! O Form of all forms! Soul, Spirit, Harmony, and Name of all things, preserve us and we shall be blessed. Amen.

Of the Pentacle and the Manner of Working.

I have put here the form of the Pentacle of Solomon so that you may make the arrangements, they being of great importance.

When you make your circle, before entering therein, it is to be perfumed with musk, amber, aloes wood and incense. And for the perfume which you will need for the invocations, that is incense alone.

It is to be observed that you need to have always a fire during invocations, and when you perfume, this will be in the name of the spirit that you would invoke. When you are placing the perfume on the fire, say all the time:

I burn this, N., in the name and to the honor of N.

It is to be remembered that you must hold the invocation in the left hand, and in the right a rod of elder, and a ladle and a knife are to be at your feet.

When all this is ready, stand inside the circle. If you have companions with you, they are to hold a hand one of the other. When inside, trace the form of the circle with the knife of the Art.

Then pick up the wands, one after the other, reciting the Fiftieth Psalm. When the circle is complete, perfume and sprinkle it with holy water. Characters are to be written at the four corners of the circle. There are generally four pentacles, one at each point of the compass; and the spirit is prohibited specifically from entering into the precincts of the circle.

Then the invocations are to be repeated seven times. When the spirit appears, make him sign the character which you are holding in your hand, which promises that he will come whenever you may call him. Ask for what you think needed, and he will give it to you.

Dismissal of the Spirit.

Let him go away in these words:

Ite in pace ad loca vestra et pax sit inter vos redituri ad mecum vos invocavero, in nomine Patris + et Filii + et Spiritus Sancti + Amen.

[Go in peace unto your abode and let there be peace between you and I, and be ready to come to me when you are called, in the name of the Father + and the Son + and of the Holy Spirit + Amen]

Rare & Suprising Magical Secrets.

The manner of making the Mirror of Solomon, useful for all divinations.

In the name of the Lord, Amen. YE shall see in this mirror anything which you may desire. In the name of the Lord who is blessed, in the name of the Lord, Amen. Firstly, you shall abstain from all actions of the flesh, and also from any sin, whether in word or action, during the period of time laid down herein. Secondly, you must perform acts of good and piety. Thirdly, take a plate of finest steel, burnished and slightly curved, and with the blood of a white pigeon write upon it, at the four corners, these names: JEHOVA, ELOYM, METATRON, ADONAY.

Place the steel in a clean, white cloth. Look for the new Moon, in the first hour after the Sun has set, and when you see it, go to a window, look devoutly towards Heaven, and say:

O Eternal, O King Eternal! God Ineffable! Thou, who hast created all things for the love of men, and by a concealed decision for the wellbeing of man, deign Thou to look on me, N., who am Thy most unfit and unworthy Servant, and look upon this, which is my intention.

Deign to send unto me Thine Angel, Anael upon this same mirror; he does command and order his companionsÑwhom Thou hast formed, O Most Powerful Lord, who hast always been, who art, and who shall ever be, so that in Thy name they may work and act with equity, giving me knowledge in everything that I shall seek to know of them.

Now you are to throw down upon the burning embers a perfume. While you are doing this, say:

In this and with this, that I pour forth before Thy face, O God, my God, Thou who art blessed, Three in One, and in the state of exaltation most sublime, who sits above the Cherubim and Seraphim, who will judge the earth by fire, hear me!

This is to be said three times. When you have done so, breathe three times upon the surface of the mirror, and say:

Come, Anael, come: and let it be thy agreement to be with me willingly: in the name + of the Father, the Most Puissant, in the name + of the Son, Most Wise, in the name + of the Holy Spirit, the Most Living!

Come, Anael, in the terrific name of Jehova! Come, Anael, by the power of the everliving Elohim! Come, thee, by the right arm of the mighty Metatron!

Come to me, N., and order thy subjects so that they may make known to me through their love, joy and peace, the things that are hidden from my eyes.

When you have finished this, raise your eyes toward Heaven and say:

O most powerful Lord, who does cause all things to move in accordance with Thy will, listen to my prayer, and may my intentions be agreeable to Thee! O Lord, if it be Thy will, deign to gaze upon this mirror and sanctify it, that Thy Servant Anael may come thereto with his companions, and be agreeable to me, N., Thy poor and humble servant! O God, blessed and raised above all the spirits of Heaven, Thou who livest and reignest for all time. Amen.

When this is done, make the Sign of the Cross over yourself, and also on the mirror on the first day, and also on the next forty and five days. At the end of this time, the angel Anael will appear to you, like unto a beautiful child. He will greet you, and will order his companions to obey you.

It does not always require as long as this to cause the angel to appear, however. He may come on the fourteenth day, but this will depend upon the degree of application and fervor of the operator.

When he comes, ask him whatever you may desire, and also beg him to come and do your will whenever you shall call him.

When you want Anael to come again, after the first time, all you have to do is to perfume the mirror, and say these words: Come, Anael, come, and let it be thy agreement --and the rest of this prayer to Anael as we have given you above, until the Amen.

Dismissing the Spirit.

When he has answered your questions, and you are satisfied with him, you must send him away by saying this:

I thank thee, Anael, for having appeared and having fulfilled my requests. Thou mayest therefore depart in peace, and shall return when I call unto thee.

The perfume of Anael is saffron.

Divination by the Word of Uriel.

To succeed in this operation, he who makes the experiment must do all things which are told herein. He is to choose a small room or place which for nine days or more has not been visited by women in an impure state [i.e., during their menstruation period].

This place must be well cleaned and consecrated, by means of consecrations and aspersions. In the middle of the room there is to be a table covered with a white cloth. On this is a new glass vial full of spring water, brought shortly before the operation, with three small tapers of virgin wax mixed with human fat; a piece of virgin parchment, and the quill of a raven suitable for writing with; an inkpot of chine full of fresh ink; a small container of metal with materials to make a fire.

You must also find a boy of nine or ten years old, who shall be well behaved and cleanly dressed. He should be near the table.

A large new needle is taken, and one of the three tapers is mounted upon it, six inches behind the glass. The other two tapers should be positioned at the right and left of the glass, and an equal distance away.

While you are doing this, say:

Gabamiah, Adonay, Agla, O Lord of Powers, aid us!

Place the virgin parchment on the right of the glass and the pen and ink on the left. Before starting, close the door and windows.

Now stir the fire, and light the wax tapers. Let the boy be on his knees, looking into the glass vial. He should be bareheaded and his hands joined.

Now the Master orders the boy to stare fixedly into the vial, and speaking softly into his right ear, he says:

The Conjunction.

URIEL + SERAPH + JOSATA + ABLATI + AGLA + CAILA, I beg and conjure thee by the four words that God spoke with His mouth to His servant Moses: JOSTA + AGLA + CAILA + ABLATI. And by the name of the Nine Heavens in which thou livest, and also by the virginity of this child who is before thee, to appear at once, and visibly, to reveal that truth which I desire to know. And when this is done, I shall discharge thee in peace and benevolence, in the Name of the Most Holy Adonay.

When this conjunction is finished, ask the child whether he sees anything in the vial. If he answers that he sees an angel or other materialization, the Master of the operation shall say in a friendly tone:

Blessed spirit, welcome. I conjure thee again, in the Name of the Most Holy Adonay, to reveal to me immediately . . . (Here the operator petitions the spirit for what he will.)

Then say to the spirit:

If, for any reason, thou dost not wish what thou sayest to be heard by others, I conjure thee to write the answer upon this virgin parchment, between this time and the morrow. Otherwise thou mayst reveal it to me in my sleep.

If the spirit answers audibly, you must listen with respect. If he does not speak, after you have repeated the supplication three times, snuff the tapers, and leave the room until the following day. Return the next morning, and you will find the answer written on the virgin parchment, if it has not been revealed to you in the night.

Divination by the Egg.

The operation of the Egg is to know what will happen to anyone who is present at the experiment.

One takes an egg of a black hen, laid in the daytime, breaks it, and removes the germ.

You must have a large glass, very thin and clear. Fill this with clear water and into it put the egg-germ.

The glass is placed in the Sun at midday in summer, and the Director of the operation will recite the prayers and conjurations of the day.

These prayers and conjurations are such as are found in the Key of Solomon, in which we treat amply of airy spirits.

And with the index finger, agitate the water, to make the germ turn. Leave it to rest a moment, and then look at it through the glass, not touching it. Then you will see the answer, and it should be tried on a working-day, because these are spirits that will come during the times of ordinary occupations.

If one wishes to see if a boy or a girl is a virgin, the germ will fall to the bottom; and if he (or she) is not, it will be as usual.

To See Spirits of the Air.

Take the brain of a cock, the powder from the grave of a dead man (which touches the coffin), walnut oil and virgin wax. Make all [this] into a mixture, wrapped in virgin parchment, on which is written the words:

GOMERT KAILOETH, with the character of Khil.

Burn it all, and you will see prodigious things. But this experiment should be done only by those who fear nothing.

To make 3 Girls or 3 Gentlemen appear in your Room, after Supper.

It is necessary to be three days chaste, and you will be elevated.

I. Preparation. On the fourth day, as soon as it is morning, clean and prepare your room, as soon as you have dressed. You must be fasting at this time. Make sure that your room will not be disturbed for the whole of the ensuing day. Note that there shall be nothing hanging, neither anything crosswise to anything else, no tapestries or clothes hanging, and no hats or cages of birds, or curtains of the bed, and so on.

Above all, make sure that everything is clean in every way.

II. Ceremony. After you have supped, go secretly to your room, which has been cleansed as already described. Upon the table there is now to be set a white cloth, and three chairs at the table. In front of each place, set a wheaten roll and a glass of clear and fresh water. Now place a chair at the side of the bed, and retire, while saying this:

III. Conjuration. Besticium consolatio veni ad me vertat Creon, Creon, Creon, cantor laudem omnipotentis et non commentur. Stat superior carta bient laudem omviestra principiem da montem et inimicos meos o prostantis vobis et mihi dantes que passium fieri sincisibus.

The three people, having arrived, will sit by the fire, eating and drinking, and will thank the person who has entertained them. If you are a gentleman, three girls will come; but if you are a lady, three young men will be involved.

Then the three will draw lots as to whom is to stay with you. If the operator is a man, the girl who wins will sit in the chair which you have placed by the bed, and she will stay and be with you until midnight. At this time she will leave, with her companions, without having been dismissed.

The two others will stay by the fire, while the first entertains you.

While she is with you, you may ask her any question, about any art or science, or upon any subject at all, and she will at once give you a definite reply. You can ask the whereabouts of hidden treasure, and she will tell you where it is, and how and when to remove it. If the treasure is under the guardianship of infernal spirits, she will come herself, with her companions, and defend you against these fiends.

When she leaves, she will give you a ring. If you wear this on your finger, you will be fortunate at gambling. If you place it on the finger of any woman or girl, you will be able at once to obtain your will of her. Note: The window is to be left open. You can do this experiment as often as you please.

To Make a Girl come to You, however Modest she may Be.

Experiment of a marvelous power of the superior intelligences.

Watch for the crescent or the waning moon, and when you see it, make sure that you see also a star, between the hours of eleven and midnight. Before beginning the process, do thus:

Take a virgin parchment, and write on it the name of the girl whom you desire to come. The shape of the parchment is to be as you see in this figure:

On the other side of the parchment, write MELCHIAEL, BARESCHAS. Then put the parchment on the earth, with the part where the name of the person is written next to the ground. Place your right foot upon the parchment, and your left knee, bent, upon the ground.

Then look to the highest star in the sky, while in this position. In your right hand hold a taper of white wax, sufficiently large to burn for one hour. Then say the following:

The Conjunction.

I salute thee and conjure thee, O beautiful Moon, O most beautiful Star, O brilliant light which I have in my hand. By the light which I have in my hand. By the air that I breathe within me, by the earth that I am touching: I conjure thee. By the names of the spirit princes living in you. By the ineffable name ON, which created everything! By you, O resplendent angel GABRIEL, with the planet Mercury, Prince, MICHIAEL and MELCHIDAEL.

I conjure you again, by all the Holy Names of God, so that you may send down power to oppress, torture and harass the body and soul and the five senses of N., she whose name is written here, so that she may come unto me. Let her then be tortured, made to suffer. Go, then, at once! Go, MELCHIDAEL, BARESCHES, ZAZEL, FIRIEL, MALCHA, and all those who are with thee! I conjure you by the Great Living God to obey my will, and I, N., promise to satisfy you.

When this conjuration has been said three times, burn the parchment with the taper. On the next day, take the parchment, put it in your left shoe, and let it stay there until the person whom you have called comes to seek you out. In the conjuration you must say the date that she is to come, and she will not be absent.

To Make oneself Invisible.

Collect seven black beans. Start the rite on a Wednesday, before sunrise. Then take the head of a dead man, and put one of the black beans in his mouth, two in his eyes and two in his ears. Then make upon his head the character of Morail.

When you have done this, bury the head, with the face upwards, and for nine days, before sunrise, water it each morning with excellent brandy. On the eighth day you will find the spirit mentioned, who will say to you: "What wilt thou?"

You will reply: "I am watering my plant." Then the spirit will say: "Give me the bottle, I desire to water it myself." In answer, refuse him this, even though he will ask you again.

Then he will reach out with his hand, and will display to you that same figure which you have drawn upon the head. Now you can be sure that it is the right spirit, the spirit of the head. There is a danger that another one might try to trick you, which would have evil consequences—and in that case your operation would not succeed.

Then you may give him the bottle, and he will water the head and leave. On the next day--which is the ninth--when you return, you will find the beans that are germinating. Take them and put them in your mouth, and look at yourself in the mirror. If you can see nothing, it is well. Test the others in the same way, either in your own mouth, or in that of a child. Those which do not confer invisibility are to be reburied with the head.

To Have Gold and Silver, or the Hand of Glory

Tear out the hair of a mare in heat, by the roots, closest to the nature, saying DRAGNE, DRAGNE, DRAGNE. Then tie them into a knot. Now go out and buy, without dispute over the price, a new pot of earthenware, which shall have a lid. Return to your house as fast as you can, fill the pot with water from a spring, until it is not quite full. Place the knotted hairs in it, cover it, and place it where neither you nor anyone else can see it, for there is danger in this.

After nine days, at the hidden hour, bring out the pot and open it, and you will find that there is a small animal like a snake therein. This will jump up. Then say: I ACCEPT THE PACT.

Do not touch the animal with your hand. Place it in a new box, which you have bought for this purpose, and that without bargaining as to price. You must feed the creature on wheat-husks alone, daily.

When you need gold or silver, place as much as you require in the box. Go to bed, with the box at the side of the bed. Sleep, if you desire, for three or four hours. Rise, then, and you will find that the money you have placed in the box has been doubled. But what you put first into the box must be left in it.

If it is an ordinary-looking snake, you should not ask for more than one hundred francs at each time. If, however, it has a human face, then you will be able to obtain a thousand francs each time.

If you want to kill the creature, place in the box instead of its daily husks, some of the flour which has been used for the consecration in the first Mass said by the priest. After eating this it will die. Above all, do not omit anything, because this is not intended as a joke!

Garters for Distances

Go out of the house, fasting; march to your left until you find a ribbon-seller. Buy one ell of white ribbon. Pay what is asked, and drop a farthing (un liard) into the box.

Return home by the same route. Next day do the same, until you have found a seller of pens. Buy one, as you bought the ribbon. When you are locked in your own room, write with your own blood on the ribbon the characters of the third line on the plan. This is the right garter. Those of the fourth line are for the left. [These are presumably the planetary symbols in the concentric circles of the plan of the Grimoire.]

When this is done, go out. The third day after, take your ribbon and pen, walk to the left until you find a pastry cook or bakery. Buy a cake or bread for a halfpenny. Go to the first tavern, order a half bottle of wine, have your glass rinsed three times by the same person, break in three the cake or bread.

Put the three pieces in the glass with wine. Take the first piece and throw it under the table without looking at it, saying IRLY, FOR THEE.

Then take the second piece and throw it likewise, saying TERLY, FOR THEE. Write on the other side of the garter the two names of these spirits with your blood. Throw down the third piece, saying, ERLY, FOR THEE. Throw down the pen, drink the wine without eating, pay the cost and go away.

Being outside the town, take the garters, make no mistake as to which is the right and which the left. This is important. Stamp three times with the foot on the ground, pronounce the names of the spirits TERLY, ERLY, BALTAZARD, IRLY, MELCHIOR, GASPARD, LET US GO. Then make your trip.

To Make a Girl Dance in the Nude

Write on virgin parchment the Character of FRUTIMIERE with the blood of a bat. Then put it on a blessed stone, over which a Mass has been said. After this when you want to use it, place the character under the sill or threshold of a door which she must pass.

When she comes past, she will come in. She will undress and be completely naked, and will dance increasingly until death, if one does not remove the character; with grimaces and contortions which will cause more pity than desire.

To See in a Vision Anything from the Past or Future

The two N N which you see in the second small circle mark the place where you put your name [see To Make a Girl Come to You . . .]. To know what you will, write the names in the circle on virgin parchment, before sleeping, and put it under your right ear on retiring, saying the following orison:

Orison

O Glorious Name of Great God the ever-living, to whom all things are present, I am Thy servant N. . . . Father Eternal, I beg You to send me Thy Holy Angels, who are written in the Circle and that they shall show me what I want to know, by Jesus Christ our Lord. So be it Having completed the orison, lie down on your right side, and you will see in a dream that which you desire to know.

To Nail (an Enemy)

Go to a cemetery, remove a nail from an old coffin, saying:

Nails, I take you, so that you may serve to turn aside and cause evil to all persons whom I will. In the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen..

When you wish to use it, you must look for a footprint and making the three figures of GULAND, SURGAT and MORAIL, fix the nail in the middle saying:

Pater noster upto in terra [our father who art on earth]

Hit the nail with a stone, saying:

Curse evil to N . . ., until I remove thee.

Re-cover the place with a little dust, and remember it well, because one cannot remove the evil which this causes, but by removing the nail, and saying:

I remove thee, so that the evil which thou has caused to N. . ., shall cease. In the Name of the Father, and of the Son. and the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Then take the nail out, and efface the characters: not with the same hand as you make them, but with the other. Thus it will be without danger.

FIN

The Grimoire Of

Honorius

The person who desires to invoke the perverse “Spirits of Darkness must observe a three days’ fast; he must also confess and approach the Holy Altar. After these three days, upon the morrow, and at the hour of sunrise, he shall recite the Seven Gradual Psalms, with the accompanying Litanies and Prayers,¹ the whole on his knees; further, he must drink no wine and eat no meat on that day. Next, he shall rise at midnight on the first Monday of the month,² and a priest shall say a Mass of the Holy ² The three days’ fast must therefore have been regulated so that it expired on the previous Saturday.

Ghost.³ After the consecration, taking the Host in his left hand, he shall recite the following prayer on his knees :

PRAYER

My Sovereign Saviour Jesus Christ, Son of the living God! Thou who for the salvation of all mankind didst suffer the death of the Cross; Thou who, before being abandoned to Thine enemies, by an impulse of ineffable love didst institute the Sacrament of thy Body; Thou who hast vouchsafed to us miserable creatures the privilege of making daily commemoration thereof; do Thou deign unto thine unworthy servant, thus holding thy Living Body in his hands, all strength and ability for the profitable application of that power with which he has been entrusted against the horde of rebellious spirits. Thou art their true God, and if they tremble at the utterance of Thy Name, upon that Holy Name will I call, crying Jesus Christ! Jesus, be Thou my help, now and for ever! Amen.

After sunrise a black cock must be killed, the first feather of its left wing being plucked and preserved for use at the required time. The eyes must be torn out, and so also the tongue and heart; these must be dried in the sun and afterwards reduced to powder. The remains must be interred at sunset in a secret place, a cross of a palm in height being set upon the mound, while at each of the four corners the signs which here follow must be drawn with the thumb :

3 The Mass of Pentecost, except the Epistle, which should be that of the Tuesday after Pentecost, and the Gradual, for which there are special versicles.

On this day also the operator should drink no wine and abstain from eating meat.

On Tuesday, at break of day, let him say a Mass of the Angels,¹ placing the feather taken from the bird upon the altar, together with a new penknife. The signs hereinafter represented must be inscribed on a sheet of clean paper with the consecrated wine which is the Blood of Jesus Christ :

W I Z T W

They should be written upon the altar, and at the end of the Mass the paper should be folded in a new veil of violet silk, to be concealed on the morrow, together with the oblation of the Mass and a part of the consecrated Host.

On the evening of Thursday the operator must rise at midnight, and, having sprinkled holy water about the chamber, he must light a taper of yellow wax, which shall have been prepared on the Wednesday and pierced in the form of a cross. When it is lighted he shall recite Psalm *lxxvii.*²—Attendite, popule meus, legem meam, &c.—without the Gloria Patri. He shall then begin the “Office of the Dead” with I/enite exultemus Domino, &c. He shall recite Matins and Lauds, but in place of the versicle of the ninth Lesson 1 he shall say: Deliver us, O Lord, from the fear of hell. Let not the demons destroy my soul when I shall raise them from the deep pit, when I shall command them to do my will. May the day be bright, may the sun and moon shine forth, when I shall call upon them. Terrible of aspect are they, deformed and horrible to sight; but do Thou restore unto them their angelic shapes when I shall impose my will upon them. O Lord deliver me from those of the dread visage, and grant that they shall be obedient when I shall raise them up from hell, when I shall impose my will upon them.

¹ The Mass for the Apparition of St. Michael, May 8, with a special Epistle, Gospel, Commemoration, &c,

After the “Office of the Dead” the operator shall extinguish the taper, and at sunrise shall cut the throat of a male lamb of nine days, taking care that the blood does not gush forth upon the earth. He shall skin the lamb, and shall cast its tongue and heart into the fire. The fire must be freshly kindled, and the ashes shall be preserved for use at the proper time. The skin of th~ lamb shall be spread in the middle of a field, and for the space of nine days shall be sprinkled four times every day with holy water. On the tenth day, before the rising of the sun, the lambskin shall be covered with the ashes of the heart and tongue, and with the ashes also of the

2 This Psalm is numbered lxxviii. in the Authorised Version.

1 This is extremely confused; the Office of the Dead does not begin with the Venite exultemus. The ninth Lesson belongs to the third Nocturne of the Matins. The prayer given in the Grimoire is based on the verses which it replaces.

cock. On Thursday², after sunset, the flesh of the lamb shall be interred in a secret place where no bird can come, and the priest with his right thumb shall inscribe on the grave the characters here indicated

Moreover, for the space of three days he shall sprinkle the four corners with holy water, saying: Sprinkle me, O Lord, with hyssop, and I shall be cleansed! Wash me, and I shall be made whiter than snow!

After the aspersion let him recite the following prayer, kneeling with his face towards the east

PRAYER.

Christ Jesus, Redeemer of men, who, being the Lamb without spot, wast immolated for the salvation of the human race, who alone wast found worthy to open the Book of Life, impart such virtue to this lambskin that it may receive the signs which we shall trace thereon, written with Thy blood, so that the figures, signs, and words may become efficacious; and grant that this skin may preserve us against the wiles of the demons; that they may be terrified at the sight of these figures, and may only approach them trembling. Through Thee, Jesus Christ, who livest and reignest through all ages. So be it.

2 The days on which the various operations should be performed have been confused, after the prevailing manner of the Grimoires.

The Litanies of the Holy Name of Jesus must then be repeated, but instead of the Agnus Dei, substitute:

Immolated Lamb, be Thou a pillar of strength against the demons³ Slain Lamb, give power over the Powers of Darkness! Immolated Lamb, grant favour and strength unto the binding of the Rebellious Spirits. So be it.

The lambskin shall be stretched for eighteen days, and on the nineteenth day the fleece shall be removed, reduced into powder, and interred in the same place. The word vellus shall be written above it with the finger, together with the following character and the words: May this which hath been reduced into ashes preserve against the demons through the name of Jesus.

ſ 2 8 4 1 3 2 7 6

Add also these signs

7 † R 3 5 9 9 9

Lastly, on the eastern side, the said skin must be set to dry in the sun for three days, the ensuing characters being cut with a new knife:

∇ n γ × h B + † †

— This being accomplished, recite Psalm lxxi., Deus, judicium tuum regi da, &c., and cut the following characters

† † O D ≡ † O

The figure being thus far completed, recite the verses Afferte Domino, patria' gentium, occurring in Psalm xcv.:

Cantate Domino Canticum novum, of which the seventh versicle is: Offerte Domino, Full Del, &c., and cut subsequently these characters :

† v s h

— Next recite Psalm lxxvii.: Attendite, popule meus, legem meam, and compose the following figure:

∪ √ z z z z ∘ [√ w } h z

— Which being accomplished, recite Psalm ii.: Quart'

fre, nuerunt gentes et populi ineditati sunt inania Then make another figure as follows

And recite Psalm cxv.: (_redidi pro pter quod locutus sum. Finally, on the last day of the month a Mass for the Dead shall be offered; the prose shall be omitted, and also the Gospel of St. John, but at the end of the Mass the priest shall recite the Psalm *Confitemini Domino quoniam bonus, &c.*¹

In Honour of the Most Holy and August Trinity, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost. Amen.

The Seventy-two Sacred Names of God.—TRINITAS, SOTHER, MESSIAS, EMMANUEL, SABAHOT, ADONAY, ATHANATOS, JESU, PENTAGNA, ARGAGON, ISCHIRO, ELEYSON, OTHEOS, TETRAGRAMMATON, ELY, SADAY, AQUILA, MAGNUS HOMO, Vzsro, FLOS, ORIGO, SALVA-

TOR, ALPHIA AND OMEGA, PRIMIS, NovissIMus, PRINI
At this point the process of the Grimoire becomes almost unintelligible. The relation of the seventy-two names apparently succeeds the Psalm, and is followed by the Second Gospel, which is not omitted after all. There is then an extension of the Deo Gratias; this concluded the Mass, which seems immediately followed by the evocation. But the use of the Pentacles of Solomon and St. John does not appear, in the one case, till the close of the Conjurations, and not at all in the other.

CIPUM ET FINIS, PRIMOGENITUS, SAPIENTIA, VIRTUS, PARACLITUS, VERITAS, VIA, MEDIATOR, MEDICUS, SALUS, AGNUS, OVIS, VITULUS, SPES, ARIES, LEO, LUX, IMAGO, PANIS, JANUA, PETRA, SPONSA, PASTOR, PROPHETA, SACERDOS, SANCTUS, IMMORTALITAS, JESUS, CHRISTUS, PATER, FILIUS HOMINIS, SANCTUS, PATER OMNIPOTENS, DEUS, AGIOS, RESSURRECTIO, MISERICORDIA, CHARITAS, AETERNITAS, CREATOR, REDEMPTOR, UNITAS, SUMMUM BONUM, INFINITAS. AMEN.

Hereinafter follow the three small pentacles of Solomon, and that of the Gospel of St. John.

The Beginning of the Holy Gospel according to John.

Glory be to Thee, O Lord.

In the beginning was the Word, &c., in extenso, so far as the end of the fourteenth versicle.

Thanks be to God. Hosanna to the Son of David!

Blessed is He who cometh in the Name of the Lord.

Hosanna in the Highest. We invoke Thee. We adore Thee.
We praise Thee. We glorify Thee, O blessed and glorious Trinity! May the Name of the Lord be blessed, now and henceforth for ever! Amen. In the Name of the Father, of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, Jesus of Nazareth, King of the Jews. May Christ conquer, reign, command, and defend me from all evil. Amen.

UNIVERSAL CONJURATION.

I, N., do conjure thee, O Spirit N., by the living God, by the true God, by the holy and all-ruling God, who created from nothingness the heaven, the earth, the sea, and all things that are therein, in virtue of the Most Holy Sacrament of the Eucharist, in the name of Jesus Christ, and by the power of this same Almighty Son of God, who for us and for our redemption was crucified, suffered death, and was buried; who rose again on the third day, and is now seated on the right hand of the Creator of the whole world, from whence he will come to judge the living and the dead; as also by the precious love of the Holy Spirit, perfect Trinity. I conjure thee within the circle, accursed one, by thy judgment, who didst dare to tempt God: I exorcise thee, Serpent, and I command thee to appear forthwith under a beautiful and well-favoured human form of soul and body, and to fulfil my behests without any deceit whatsoever, as also without mental reservation of any kind, by the great times of the God of gods and Lord of lords, ADONAY, TETRAGRAM MATON, JEHOVA, TETRAGRAM MATON, ADONAY, JEHOVA, OTHEOS, ATHANATOS, ISCHYROS, AGLA, PENTACRAM MATON, SADAY, SADAY, SADAY, JEHOVA, OTHEOS, ATHANATOS a Liciat TETRAGRAMMATON, ADONAY, ISCHYROS, ATHANATOS, SADY, SADY, SADY, CADOS, CADOS, CADOS, ELOY. AGLA, AGLA, AGLA, ADONAY, ADONAY.

I conjure thee, Evil and Accursed Serpent, N.. to appear at my will and pleasure, in this place, before this circle, without tarrying, without companions, without grievance, without noise, deformity, or murmuring. I exorcise thee by the ineffable names of God, to wit, Gog and Magog, which I am unworthy to pronounce; Come hither, Conic hither, Come hither. Accomplish my will and desire, without wile or falsehood. Otherwise St. Michael, the invisible Archangel, shall presently blast thee in the utmost depths of hell. Come, then, N., to do my will.

A.P.

Why tarriest thou, and why delayest? What doest thou? Make ready, obey your master, in the name of the Lord, BATHAT or RACHAT flowing over ABRACM ENS, ALCHOR or ABERER.

L.Q. L. F. A. P.

Behold the Pentacle of Solomon which I have brought into thy presence! I command thee, by order of the great God, ADONAY, TETRAGRAMMATON, and JEsUs!

Hasten, fulfil my behests, without wile or falsehood, but in all truth, in the name of the Saviour and Redeemer, Jesus Christ.

DISCHARGE.

Go in peace unto your places. May there be peace between us and you, and be ye ready to come when ye are called. In the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

ACT OF THANKSGIVING.

Praise, honour, glory, and blessing be unto Him who sitteth upon the throne, who liveth for ever and ever. Amen.

*CONJURATION OF THE BoO*K*.*¹

I conjure thee, 0 Book, to be useful and profitable unto all who shall have recourse to thee for the success of their affairs. I conjure thee anew, by the virtue of the Blood of Jesus Christ, contained daily in the chalice, to be serviceable unto all those who shall read thee. I exorcise thee, in the name of the Most Holy Trinity, in the name of the Most Holy Trinity, in the name of the Most Holy Trinity!

What follows must be said before the sealing of the Book.

I conjure and command you, O Spirits, all and so many as ye are, to accept this Book with good grace, so that whensoever we may read it, the same being approved and recognised as in proper form and valid, you shall be constrained to appear in comely human form when you are called, accordingly as the reader shall judge. In no circumstances shall you make any attempt upon the body, soul, or spirit of the reader, nor inflict any harm on those who may accompany him, either by mutterings, tempests, noise, scandals, nor yet by lesion or by hindrance in the execution of the commands of this Book. I conjure you to appear immediately when the conjuration is made, to execute without dallying all that is written and enumerated in its proper place in the said book. You shall obey, serve, instruct, impart, and perform all in your power for the benefit of those who command you, and the whole without illusion. If perchance some of the invoked spirits be unable to come or appear when required, they shall be bound over to send others vested with their power, who also shall swear solemnly to execute all that the reader may demand, and ye are all hereby enjoined by the Most Holy Names of the Omnipotent Living God, ELOYM, JAH, EL, ELOY, TETRAGRAMMATON, to fulfil everything as it is set forth above. If ye obey me not, I will force you to abide in torments for a thousand years, as also if any one of you receive not this Book with entire resignation to the will of the reader.

1 This is the Liber Spirituum of Pseudo-Agrippa, sufficiently described in Part I. The introduction of it in this Grimoire presupposes either an acquaintance in the reader or information which is omitted.

CONJURATION OF THE DEMONS.

In the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Take heed! Come, all Spirits! By the virtue and power of your King, and by the seven crowns and chains of your Kings, all Spirits of the Hells are forced to appear in my presence before this pentacle or circle of Solomon, whensoever I shall call them. Come, then, all at my orders, to fulfil that which is in your power, as commanded. Come, therefore, from the East, South, West, and North! I conjure and command you, by the virtue and power of Him who is three, eternal, equal, who is God invisible, consubstantial, in a word, who has created the heavens, the sea, and all which is under heaven.

After these Conjurations you shall command them to affix the Seal.

CONCERNING THE FIGURE OF THE CIRCLE.

Circles should be described with charcoal or holy water, sprinkled with the wood of the blessed Cross.

The Magic Circle of Honorius

When they have been duly made, and the words have been written about the circle, the holy water which has served to bless the same may also be used to prevent the spirits from inflicting any hurt. Standing in the middle of the circle, you shall command them in a lively manner, as one who is their master.

What must be said in Composing the Circle.

O Lord, we fly to Thy virtue! O Lord, confirm this work! What is operated in us becomes like dust driven before the wind, and the Angel of the Lord pausing (sic), let the darkness disappear, and the Angel of the Lord ever pursuing, ALPHA, OMEGA, ELY, ELOTHE, FLOHIM, ZABAHOT, FLION, SADY.

Behold the Lion who is the conqueror of the Tribe of Judah, the Root of David! I will open the Book, and the seven seals thereof. I have beheld Satan as a bolt falling from heaven. It is Thou who hast given us power to crush dragons, scorpions, and all Thine enemies beneath Thy feet. Nothing shall harm us, not even ELOY, ELOHIM, ELOHE, ZABAHOT, ELI0N, ESARCHIE, ADONAY, JAH, TETRAGRAMMATON, SADY. The earth is the Lord's and all those who dwell therein, because He established it upon the seas and prepared it in the midst of the waves. Who shall ascend unto the mountain of the Lord? Who shall be received in his Holy Place? The innocent of hands and clean of heart. Who hath not received his soul in vain, and hath not sworn false witness against his neighbour. The same shall be blessed of God, and shall obtain mercy of God to his salvation. He is of the generation of those who seek Him. Open your gates, ye princes, open the eternal gates, and the King of Glory shall enter! Who is this King of Glory? The Lord Almighty, the Lord, mighty in battle. Open your gates, ye princes! Lift up the eternal gates. Who is this King of Glory? The Lord Almighty. This Lord is the King of Glory. Glory be to the Father, &c.

To dismiss them, the Pentacle of Solomon must be exhibited, at the same time saying a-s follows :— Behold your sentence!

Behold that which forbids rebellion to our wills, and doth ordain you to return unto your abodes. May peace be between us and you, and be my will.

CONJURATION OF THE KING OF THE EAST.

I conjure and invoke thee, O powerful King of the East Magoa, by my holy labour, by all the names of Divinity, by the name of the All-Powerful: I command thee to obey, and to come to me, or that failing, forthwith and immediately to send unto me Massayel, Ariel, Satiel, Arduel, Acorib, to respond concerning all that I would know and to fulfil all that I shall command. Else thou shalt come verily in thine own person to satisfy my will; which refusing, I shall compel thee by all the virtue and power of God.

The Grand Pentacle or Circle of Solomon will answer for the above and following Conjurations, which can be said on all days and at all hours. If it be desired to speak only with one spirit, one only need be named, at the choice of the reader.

CONJURATION OF THE KING OF THE SOUTH.

O Egym, great King of the South, I conjure and invoke thee by the most high and holy Names of God, do thou here manifest, clothed with all thy power; come before this circle, or at least send me forthwith Fadal, Nastrache, to make answer unto me, and to execute all my wishes. If thou failest, I shall force thee by God Himself.

CONJURATION OF THE KING OF THE WEST.

O Baymon, most potent King, who reignest in the Western quarter, I call and I invoke thee in the name of the Deity! I command thee by virtue of the Most High, to send me immediately before this circle the Spirit Passiel Rosus, with all other Spirits who are subject unto thee, that the same may answer in everything, even as I shall require them. If thou failest, I will torment thee with the sword of fire divine; I will multiply thy sufferings, and will burn thee.

CONJURATION OF THE KING OF THE NORTH.

O thou, Amaymon, King and Emperor of the Northern parts, I call, invoke, exorcise, and conjure thee, by the virtue and power of the Creator, and by the virtue of virtues, to send me presently, and without delay, Madael, Laaval, Bamlahe, Belem, and Ramath, with all other Spirits of thine obedience, in comely and human form! In whatsoever place thou now art, come hither and render that honour which thou owest to the true living God, who is thy Creator. In the name of the Father, of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, come therefore, and be obedient, in front of this circle, without peril to my body or soul. Appear in comely human form, with no terror encompassing thee. I conjure thee, make haste, come straightway, and at once. By all the Divine names— SECHIEL, BARACHIEL—if thou dost not obey promptly, BALANDIER, suspensus, iracundus, Origratiumgu, Partus, Olemdemis, and Bautratis, N. I exorcise thee, do invoke, and do impose most high commandment upon thee, by the omnipotence of the living God, and of the true God; by the virtue of the holy God, and by the power of Him who spake and all things were made, even by His holy commandment the heaven and earth were made, with all that is in them! I adjure thee by the Father, by the Son, and by the Holy Ghost, even by the Holy Trinity, by that God whom thou canst not resist, under whose empire I will compel thee; I conjure thee by God the Father, by God the Son, by God the Holy Ghost, by the Mother of Jesus Christ, Holy Mother and perpetual Virgin, by her sacred heart, by her blessed milk, which the Son of the Father sucked, by her most holy body and soul, by all the parts and members of this Virgin, by all the sufferings, afflictions, labours, agonies which she endured during the whole course of her life, by all the sighs she uttered, by the holy tears which she shed whilst her dear Son wept before the time of His dolorous passion and on the tree of the Cross, by all the sacred holy things which are offered and done, and also by all others, as in heaven so on earth, in honour of our Saviour Jesus Christ, and of the Blessed Mary, His Mother, by whatsoever is celestial, by the Church Militant, in honour of the Virgin and of all the Saints. In like manner, I conjure thee by the Holy Trinity, by all other mysteries, by the sign of the Cross, by the most precious blood and water which flowed from the side of Jesus Christ, by the sweat which issued from His whole body, when He said in the Garden of Olives: My Father, if it be possible, let this chalice pass from me—I conjure thee by His death and passion, by His burial and glorious resurrection, by His ascension, by the coming of the Holy Ghost. I adjure thee, furthermore, by the crown of thorns which was set upon His head, by the blood which flowed from His feet and hands, by the nails with which He was nailed to the tree of the Cross, by the holy tears which He shed, by all which He suffered willingly through great love of us: by the lungs, the heart, the hair, the inward parts, and by all the members, of our Saviour Jesus Christ. I conjure thee by the judgment of the living and the dead, by the Gospel words of our Saviour Jesus Christ, by His preachings, by His sayings, by all His miracles, by the child in swaddling-clothes, by the crying child, borne by the mother in her most pure and virginal womb; by the glorious intercession of the Virgin Mother of our Saviour Jesus Christ; by all which is of God and of His Most Holy Mother, as in heaven so on earth. I conjure thee by the holy Angels and Archangels, and by all the blessed orders of Spirits, by the holy patriarchs and prophets, by all the holy martyrs and confessors, by all the holy virgins and innocent widows, and by all the saints of God, both men and women. I conjure thee by the head of St. John the Baptist, by the milk of St. Catherine, and by all the Saints.

CONJURATION FOR EACH DAY OF THE WEEK.

For Monday, to Lucifer.

This experience is commonly performed between eleven and twelve o'clock, or between three and four. Requisites: coal, and consecrated chalk to compose the circle, about which these words must be written: I forbid thee, Lucifer, in the name of the Most Holy Trinity, to enter within this circle. A mouse must be provided to give him; the master must have a stole and holy water, an air also and a surplice. He must recite the Conjunction in a lively manner, commanding sharply and shortly, as a lord should address his servant, with all kinds of menaces: SATAN, RANTAM, PALLANTRE, LUT AIS, C0RI-CACOEM, SCIRCIGREUR, I require thee to give me very humbly, &c.

Conjuration

I conjure thee, Lucifer, by the living God, by the true God, by the holy God, who spake and all was made, who commanded and all things were created and made! I conjure thee by the ineffable name of God, ON, ALPHA and OMEGA, ELOY, ELOYM, YA, SADAY, LUX, MUGIENS, REX, SALUS, ADONAY, EMMANUEL, MESSIAS; and I adjure, conjure, and exorcise thee by the names which are declared under the letters V, C, X, as also by the names

JEHOVAH, SOL, AGLA, RIFFASORIS, ORISTON, ORPHITNE, PHATON, IPRETU, OCIA, SP1~RATON, IMAGON, AMUL, PENATON, SOTER, TETRAGRAMMATON, ELOY, PREMOTON, SITMON, PERIGARON, IRATATON, PLEGATON, ON, PEROHIRAM, TIROS, RUBIPHATON, SIMULATON, PERPI, KLARIMUM, TREMENDUM, MERAY, and by the most high ineffable names of God, GALI, ENGA, EL, HABDANUM, INGODUM, OBU ENGLABIS, do thou make haste to come, or send me N., having a comely and human form in no wise repulsive, that he may answer in real truth whatsoever I shall ask him, being also powerless to hurt me, or any person whomsoever, either in body or soul.

For Tuesday, to Frimost.¹

This experience is performed at night from nine to ten o'clock, and the first stone found is given to him. He is to be received with dignity and honour. Proceed as on Monday; compose the circle, and write about it:

Obey me, Frimost! Obey me, Frimost! Obey me, Frimost!

CONJURATION.

I conjue and command thee, Frimost, by all the names wherewith thou canst be constrained and bound! I exorcise thee, Nambroth, by thy name, by the virtue of all spirits, by all characters, by the Jewish, Greek, and Chaldean conjurations, by the confusion and malediction, and I will redouble thy pains and torments from day to day for ever, if thou come not now to accomplish my will and submit to all that I shall command, being powerless to harm me, or those who accompany me, either in body or soul.

For Wednesday, to Astaroth.

This experience is performed at night, from ten to eleven o'clock; it is designed to obtain the good graces of the King and others. Write in the circle as follows:

Come, Astaroth! Come, Astaroth! Come, Astaroth!

CONJURATION.

I conjure thee, Astaroth, wicked spirit, by the words Christ of Nazareth, unto whom all demons are submitted, who was conceived of the Virgin Mary; by the mystery of the Angel Gabriel, I conjure thee; and again in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost; in the name of the glorious Virgin Mary, and of the Most Holy Trinity, in whose honour do all the Archangels, Thrones, Dominations, Powers, Patriarchs, Prophets, Apostles, and Evangelists sing without end; Hosannah, Hosannah, Hosannah, Lord God of Hosts, who art, who wast, who art to come, as a river of burning fire! Neglect not my commands, refuse not to come. I command thee by Him who shall appear with flames to judge the living and the dead, unto whom is all honour, praise, and glory. Come, therefore, promptly, obey my will, appear and give praise to the true God, unto the living God, yea, unto all His works; fail not to obey me, and give honour to the Holy Ghost, in whose name I command thee.

This experience is made at night, from three to four o'clock, at which hour he is called, and appears in the form of a King. A little bread must be given him when he is required to depart; he renders man happy and also discovers treasures. Write about the circle as follows:

Holy God! Holy God! Holy God!

CONJURATION.

I conjure thee, Silcharde, by the image and likeness of Jesus Christ our Saviour, whose death and passion redeemed the entire human race, who also wills that, by His providence, thou appear forthwith in this place. I command thee by all the Kingdoms of God. Act—I adjure and constrain thee by his Holy Name, by Him who walked upon the asp, who crushed the lion and the dragon. Do thou obey me, and fulfil my commands, being powerless to do harm unto me, or any person whomsoever, either in body or soul.

For Friday, to Bechard.

This experience is performed on a night from eleven to twelve o'clock, and a nut must be given to him. Write within the circle:
Come, Bechard! Come, Bechard! Come, Bechard!

CONJURATION.

I conjure thee, Bechard, and constrain thee, in like manner, by the Most Holy Names of God, ELOY, ADONAY, ELOY, AGLA, SAMALABACTAY, which are written in Hebrew, Greek and Latin; by all the sacraments, by all the names written in this book; and by him who drove thee from the height of Heaven. I conjure and command thee by the virtue of the Most Holy Eucharist, which hath redeemed men from their sins; I conjure thee to come without any delay, to do and perform all my biddings, without any prejudice to my body or soul, without harming my book, or doing injury to those that accompany me.

For Saturday, to Guland.¹

This experience is performed at night from eleven to twelve o'clock, and so soon as he appears burnt bread must be given him. Ask him anything you will, and he will obey you on the spot. Write in his circle: Enter not, Guland! Enter not, Guland! Enter not, Guland!

CONJURATION.

I conjure thee, O Guland, in the name of Satan, in the name of Beelzebuth, in the name of Astaroth, and in the name of all other Spirits, to make haste and appear before me. Come, then in the name of Satan and in the names of all other demons. Come to me, I command thee, in the name of the Most Holy Trinity. Come without inflicting any harm upon me, without injury to my body or soul, without maltreating my books, or anything which I use. I command thee to appear without delay, or, that failing, to send me forthwith another Spirit having the same power as thou hast, who shall accomplish my commands and be submitted to my will, wanting which, he whom thou shalt send me, if indeed thou comest not thyself, shall in no wise depart, nor until he hath in all things fulfilled my desire.

For Sunday, to Surgat.¹

This experience is performed at night from eleven to one o'clock. He will demand a hair of your head, but give him one of a fox, and see that he takes it. His office is to discover and transport all treasures, and perform anything that you may will. Write in his circle:

TnTRAGRAM MATON, TETRAGRAM MATON, TETRAGRAM MATON. ISMAEL, ADONAY, IHUA. And in a second circle:

Come, Surgat! Come, Surgat t Come, Surgat!

CONJURATION.

I conjure thee, 0 Surgat, by all the names which are written in this book, to present thyself here before me, promptly and without delay, being ready to obey me in all things, or, failing this, to despatch me a Spirit with a stone which shall make me invisible to every one whensoever I carry it! And I conjure thee to be submitted in thine own person, or in the person of him or of those whom thou shalt send me, to do and accomplish my will, and all that I shall command, without harm to me or to any one, so soon as I make known my intent.

Very Powerful Conjuration for all days and hours of the Day or Night, being for Treasures hidden by men or Spirits, that the same may be possessed and transported.

I command you, O all ye demons dwelling in these parts, or in what part of the world soever ye may be, by whatsoever power may have been given you by God and our holy Angels over this place, and by the powerful Principality of the infernal abysses, as also by all your brethren, both general and special demons, whether dwelling in the East, West, South, or North, or in any side of the earth, and, in like manner, by the power of God the Father, by the wisdom of God the Son, by the virtue of the Holy Ghost, and by the authority I derive from our Saviour Jesus Christ, the only Son of the Almighty and the Creator, who made us and all creatures from nothing, who also ordains that you do hereby abdicate all power to guard, habit, and abide in this place; by whom further I constrain and command you, nolens volens, without guile or deception, to declare me your names, and to leave me in peaceable possession and rule over this place, of whatsoever legion you be and of whatsoever part of the world; by order of the Most Holy Trinity, and by the merits of the Most Holy and Blessed Virgin, as also of all the saints, I unbind you all, spirits who abide in this place, and I drive you to the deepest infernal abysses. Thus: Go, all Spirits accursed, who are condemned to the flame eternal which is prepared for you and your companions, if ye be rebellious and disobedient. I conjure you by the same authority, I exhort and call you, I constrain and command you, by all the powers of your superior demons, to come, obey, and reply positively to what I direct you in the name of Jesus Christ. Whence, if you or they do not obey promptly and without tarrying, I will shortly increase your torments for a thousand years in hell. I constrain you therefore to appear here in comely human shape, by the Most High Names of God, HAIN, L0N, HILAY, SABAOTH, HELIM, RADISH~~, LEDIEHA, ADONAY, JEHOVA, YAH, TETRAGRAMMATON, SADA!, MESSIAS, AGIOS, ISCHYROS, EMMANUEL, AGLA, Jesus who is ALPHA and OMEGA, the beginning and the end, that you be justly established in the fire, having no power to reside, habit, or abide in this place henceforth; and I require your doom by the virtue of the said names, to wit, that St. Michael drive you to the uttermost of the infernal abyss, in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. So I conjure thee, Acham, or whomsoever thou mayst be,

by the Most Holy Names of God, by MALHAME, JAE, MAY, MABRON, JACOB, DASMEDIAS, EL0Y, ATERESTIN, JANASTARDY, FINI5, AGI0s, JSCHYROS, OTHEOS, ATHAN-ATOS, AGLA, JEHOVA, HOM0SION, AGA, MESSIAS, SOTHER, CHRISTUS VINCIT, CHRISTUS IMPERAT, INCREATUS

SPIRITUS SANCTUS.

I conjure thee, Cassiel, or whomsoever thou mayest be, by all the said names, with power and with exorcism! I warn thee by the other sacred names of the most great Creator, which are or shall hereafter be communicated to thee; hearken forthwith and immediately to my words, and observe them inviolably, as sentences of the last dreadful day of judgment, which thou must obey inviolately, nor think to repulse me because I am a sinner, for therein shalt thou repulse the commands of the Most High God. Knowest thou not that thou art bereft of thy powers before thy Creator and ours? Think therefore what thou refusest, and pledge therefore thine obedience, swearing by the said last dreadful day of judgment, and by Him who bath created all things by His word, whom all creatures obey. P. per sedem Balda'rey et per gratiam et diligentiam tuam habuisti ab eo ha~ic n&atimanamilam, as I command thee.

The Grand Grimoire With
The Great Clavicle of Solomon

Compiled by:
goldtrend@yahoo.com
Dark Lodge of the Desert Yahoo Group http://groups.yahoo.com/group/Dark_Lodge/

The Grand Grimoire

Chapter I

This Book is so rare and sought after in our country it has been called, by our Rabbis, the true Great Work. They were the ones who left us this precious original that many charlatans uselessly wanted to counterfeit, attempting to imitate the truth that they never found, in order to swindle ingenuous individuals who have faith in initial encounters without seeking their true Source.

This manuscript has been copied from various writings of the great King Solomon. This great king spent all of his days in the most difficult search and in the most obscure and unexpected secrets. In the end he succeeded in all of his endeavors and he reached his goal of penetrating the most profound dwelling of the spirits, whom he obliged to obey him by the power of his talisman, the clavicle, since who else but this powerful genius would have dared bring to light the thundering words that he made use of to constrain the rebel spirits to his will, having penetrated up to the celestial beings to learn more thoroughly the secrets and the powerful words that have the force of a terrible and respected God?

This great King discovered the secrets of which the great Divinity made use, and then enabled us to understand the influence of the stars, the constellation of the planets. To prepare the fulminating (or Conjuror's) rod, with its effects which make the spirits tremble and of which God made use of to arm the angel who expelled Adam and Eve from the Garden of Eden; with which God struck down the Rebel Angels, precipitating their pride (or imagination) into the most horrendous abyss. With the power of this rod clouds are formed, hurricanes are dispersed and one can make them fall on the part of the earth that one desires.

Chapter II

Weak men and mortals! Tremble at your temerity when you blindly think that you possess such a profound science. You are taking your spirit beyond its spheres. Learn from me that before undertaking this work it is necessary to be steadfast, constant and most careful to observe exactly, point by point, everything that I will tell you (without which) everything would rebound to your disadvantage, confusion and total loss. If, to the contrary, you comply exactly that which I tell you, you will leave behind your baseness and indigence and you will have full success in all of your enterprises.

Arm yourselves then with intrepidity, prudence and virtuosity in order to succeed at this great and immense task, at which I have spent 67 years working day and night. To succeed at this great goal it is necessary to do exactly that which I will hereby indicate.

----Solomon

Principio

You will pass a quarter of a month abstaining from the company of the opposite sex, so as to not fall into impurity.

Begin the quarter of a month by promising to the great ADONAY, who is the leader of all of the spirits to have two meals a day every 24 hours of the above-mentioned quarter month, during which you will eat at midday and midnight, or at seven in the morning and seven in the evening, reciting the following prayer before dining for this entire period.

The manner in which one can make any sort of spirit appear, reciting the great invocation that you will find in this book. So also, the true method of preparation.

Prayer

"I implore you, O great and powerful ADONAY, head of all spirits. I implore you O ELOHIM I implore you O JEHOVA, O great King ADONAY, condescend to be favorable. So it shall be. Amen."

Then eat your meals, and don't undress, and sleep as little as possible for the prescribed quarter of a month, continually thinking of your undertaking and putting all of your faith and hope in the infinite good of the Great ADONAY.

The second day of this period, you will buy a bloodstone called Ematille from the druggist and you will always carry it with you and it will preserve you from all fears and worries since the spirit that you intend to bring into your servitude will do all that he can to dissuade you from your undertaking, believing with these means to liberate himself and thereby break the twines of the net that you begin to fasten around him. This project must be undertaken only by one other person, including the Karcist, (the one who must speak to the spirit), keeping in his hand the fulminating wand.

It is essential to choose a solitary location for this operation, which is far from any uproar, so that the operator is not interrupted. Following this, you will buy a young virgin kid, that on the third day of the quarter you will adorn with a garland of vervain (or, the sacred herb) which you will attach to his head with a green ribbon. Then you will transport it to the place that has been chosen for your operation; your right arm will be bare to the shoulder, armed with a blade of pure steel, a fire of white wood will be lit, you will say the following words with hope and resolve.

First Offering

“I offer you this victim, O great ADONAY, ELOHIM, ARIEL and JEHOVA, and this in the honor, glory and power of your superior and to all if the spirits, be so kind, O great ADONAY, as to appreciate it. Amen.”

Following this you will skin the kid and take its skin, putting the rest of it in the fire until it is reduced to ashes, which you will gather and throw to the rising Sun pronouncing the following words:

“It is for the honor, glory and power of your name, O ADONAY, ELOHIM, ARIEL and JEHOVA, that I shed the blood of this victim. Deign yourself to accept these ashes, O great ADONAY.”

While the sacrifice burns, rejoice in the honor and glory of the great ADONAY, ELOHIM, ARIEL and JEHOVA taking care to conserve the kids skin to make the round, or the grand cabalistic circle in which you will stay the day of the great undertaking. Containing the true composition of the mysterious or fulminating wand as it is depicted here below.

Chapter III

On the eve of the great undertaking you will search for a rod or wand of wild hazel tree that has not yet born fruit, at the highest point of the sought-after branch there should be a second little branch in the form of a fork with two ends; its length should be nineteen and a half inches.

After having found a branch of this shape, only look at it but abstain from touching it, waiting for the following day, a day destined for action, in which you will go and cut it precisely at sunrise, and denude it of its leaves and small twigs, if there are any of these and with the same blade that was used to skin the sacrifice, which will still be tainted with its blood; you will cut it when the Sun starts to break forth on this hemisphere, pronouncing the following words:

“I beseech you, O great ADONAY, ELOHIM, ARIEL and JEHOVA to be favorable and to give this rod that I am cutting the strength of Jacob and the virtue of Moses and that of the great Joshua; and I beseech you, O great ADONAY, ELOHIM, ARIEL and JEHOVA to enclose in this rod all the power of Samson, the righteous rage of Emmanuel and the Thunderbolt of ZARIATNATMICK who will avenge man’s affronts on the day of Judgement.”

After having pronounced these great and terrible words, always keeping your eyes turned toward the rising sun, cut the branch and take it to your room, then take a piece of wood that is of the same thickness as the two ends of the rod and take it to a Smith to cap the two ends of the fork with the steel blade that was used to skin the sacrifice, ensuring that the two blades are sharp and when they are fitted to the two pieces of wood, take them home, putting the two irons on the true rod yourself, then take a Lodestone, heat it in the fire to magnetize the points of the rod pronouncing the following words:

“By the power of the great ADONAY, ELOHIM, ARIEL and JEHOVA, I beseech you to unite all of the materials that I desire by the power of the great ADONAY, ELOHIM, ARIEL and JEHOVA I command you by the incorruptibility of water and fire, to separate all of the materials as they were separated the day of the creation of the world. Amen.”

Following this I assure you (in the honor of the great ADONAY) being certain that you possess the greatest Treasure of the Light. The following evening take your rod, the kid skin, the Bloodstone, the two garlands of vervain, then also, the two candleholders and two pounds of virgin wax that has been blessed; take also the lodestone and two smooth Flintstones to light the fire also half a bottle of Spirit of Water and a portion of blessed incense mixed with some Camfora and four nails that were used in the coffin of a child who has recently died. Then take yourself to the place where you have to do the Great Work, doing exactly the following, executing point-by-point the great KABBALISTIC CIRCLE in the manner indicated.

TRIANGOLO

DEI PATTI

Lucifuge Rofocale

Chapter IV

Containing the true method to make the great cabalistic circle.

Start by forming a circle with the kid skin that you will nail down with the four nails, then with the Bloodstone you will make a triangle inside of the circle, starting from the direction of the rising sun; make also with the Bloodstone the four letters that are written outside of the circle. So also the saintly name of Jesus in this manner: † JHS † between two crosses so that the spirits can't harm you from behind.

Following this, the Karcist (who is the operator) will let his Associates into the Triangle and he will also enter without letting himself become frightened by any noise that he could hear, putting the two candleholders with the two garlands of vervain to the right and to the left of the internal triangle. That done, light the two candles and put a new vase in front of you, that is, in front of the Karcist, filled with the ash of the Willow wood that you have burned earlier that same day.

The Karcist will light it and pouring in a part of the Spirit of Water and part of the incense and Camfor, and conserving the remaining part to maintain a continuous flame that will suffice for the entire operation.

Having done everything exactly as has been described here you will pronounce the following words.

"I present you, O great ADONAY, this incense as the most pure, at the same time I present you with these ashes which come from the lightest (or finest) wood. I offer you them, O great ADONAY, ELOHIM, ARIEL and JEHOVA, with ll my heart and spirit. Condescend, O great ADONAY, to accept them. Amen."

Pay attention not to have any impure metal on your person but only some gold or silver coins folded in a piece of paper to throw at the spirit so that he cannot harm you when he presents himself to you before the circle and while he takes the coin you will begin the following prayer, arming yourself with courage, strength and prudence.

Be careful that only the Karcist, or Operator, speaks; the others must remain silent, even if the spirit interrogates or threatens them.

First Oration

"O great living God, the only and same person, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost, I adore you with the most profound respect and I submit myself to your saintly and your custody with full faith. I sincerely believe that you are my creator, my benefactor and my support and master; I declare to you that I have no other wish but that of belonging to you for eternity. So it shall be. Amen.”

Second Oration

“O great living God, who created man to be happy in this life and who created everything for our needs, and who said that everything shall be dependent on man; be favorable and do not permit that the rebel spirits possess the treasures that were formed by your hands for earthly needs. Give me, O great God, the faculty to possess them by the powerful and terrible words of the Clavicle: ADONAY, ELOHIM, ARIEL, JEHOVA, TAGLA, MATHON. Be favorable. So shall it be.”

Be careful to maintain your flame with the spirits of the wine, incense and canphora and then make the following offering.

“I offer you this incense as the purest that I could find, O great ADONAY, ELOHIM, ARIEL and JEHOVA deign to accept it. O great ADONAY use your power to be favorable and enable me to succeed in this great undertaking. So it shall be. Amen.”

First Invocation to Emperor Lucifer

“Emperor Lucifer, prince and master of the rebel spirits, I implore you to abandon your dwelling, in whatever part of the world you should be, to come and speak to me. I command and entreat you by the authority of the great living God, the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit, to come noiselessly and without giving off any offensive scents, to respond in a clear and intelligible voice, point by point, to all that I shall ask you, failing which, thou shalt be most surely compelled to obedience by the power of the divine ADONAY, ELOHIM, ARIEL, JEHOVA, TAGLA, MATHON, and by the whole hierarchy of superior spirits, who shall constrain you against your will.

Second Invocation to Emperor Lucifer

“I command and entreat you Emperor Lucifer, by the authority of the great living God, by the power of EMMANUEL his Son, your only master and mine, and by virtue of his precious blood which he spilled to liberate man from his chains, I order you to abandon your dwelling in whatever part of the world you should be, swearing to you that I will not give you a moment of rest, but that you come to speak to me immediately with an intelligent voice or, if you cannot come in person, send me your messenger Astaroth in human guise noiselessly and without foul scents otherwise I will strike you and your entire kind with the blasting rod as far as the bottom of the abysses and it will be with the power of these great words of the Clavicle, by ADONAY, ELOHIM, ARIEL, JEHOVA, TAGLA, MATHON, ALMOZIN, ARIOS, PITHONIA, MAGOTS, SYLPHAE, TABOTS, SALAMANDRAE, GNOMUS, TERRAE, CELLIS, GODIUS, AQUA; immediately.”

Warning

Prior to reading of the third invocation, if the spirit doesn't appear, read the Clavicle as follows, and strike all of the spirits, putting the two ends of the fork of your rod in the fire. At this point do not be frightened by the horrible cries that you will hear because all of the spirits will appear. Before reading the Clavicle, while the noise continues, read again the third invocation.

Third Invocation to Emperor Lucifer

“I command you, Emperor Lucifer, by the great living God, his dear son and the Holy Ghost and by the power of the great ADONAY, ELOHIM, ARIEL AND JEHOVA, to appear now or send me your ASTAROTH. I command you to abandon your dwelling in whatever part of the world it should be, declaring to you that if you do not appear immediately, I will strike you and all of your cohorts again with the blasting rod of the great ADONAY, ELOHIM, ARIEL AND JEHOVA.”

If the spirit still has not appeared put the two ends of your rod in the fire and read the following words of Solomon's Clavicle.

Grand Invocation of the Great Kabbala

“I supplicate you, O Spirit! by the power of the grand ADONAY, to appear instanter, and by ELOHIM, by ARIEL, by JEHOVA, by AGLA, TAGLA, MATHON, OARIOS, ALMOAZIN, ARIOS, MEMBROT, VARIOS, PITHONA, MAJODS, SULPHAE, GABOTS, SALAMANDRAE, TABOTS, GINGUA, JANNA, ETITNAMUS, ZARIATNATMIX, etc.. A + E + A + J + A + T + M + O + A + A + M + V + P + M + S + C + S + J + C + G + A + J + F + Z + etc..”

After having twice repeated these great and powerful words you can be sure that the spirit will appear in the following manner.

The Apparation of the Spirit

“Here I am, what will you ask of me? Why do you torment my peace? Desist from striking me again with that terrible rod.”

-----Lucifuge Rofocale

Lucifuge Rofocale

Lucifuge Rofocale

Query to the Spirit

“Had you appeared when I called you, I would not have struck you: consider that if you do not confer upon me that which I ask, I will eternally torment you.”

-----Solomon

Response of the Spirit

“Do not bother or disturb me further. Tell me immediately what you want.”

-----Lucifuge Rofocale

Query to the Spirit

“I command you to come and speak to me twice daily during the night, or to those who have the book which you will approve and sign. I will leave it to you to choose which times are most convenient to you, if you do not want to approve the following times hereby indicated, that is:

On Monday at nine o'clock and at midnight.

On Tuesday at ten o'clock and at one in the morning.

On Wednesday at eleven o'clock and at two in the morning.

On Thursday at eight and ten o'clock.

On Friday at seven in the evening and at midnight.

On Saturday at nine in the evening and at eleven at night.

Moreover, I command you to give me the nearest treasure and I promise you as reward the first piece of gold or silver which I touch with my hands on the first day of every month. Here is what I ask of you.”

-----Solomon

Response of the Spirit

“I cannot grant what which you ask of me, if not on this, nor on any others, unless you give yourself over to me in fifty years, to do with thy body and soul as I please.

-----Lucifuge Rofocale

Query to the Spirit

"I am going to strike you and all of your cohorts by the power of the great ADONAY if you do not immediately grant to me that which I ask of you."

-----Solomon

Warning

Put the two ends of the blasting rod in the fire again; re-reading the great invocation of the Clavicle, until the spirit submits to your wishes."

Response and Covenant with the Spirit

"Do not strike me anymore! I promise to do everything that you want. Two hours at night-time every day of the week, that is:

On Monday at ten o'clock and at midnight.

On Tuesday at eleven o'clock and at one in the morning.

On Wednesday at midnight and at two in the morning.

On Thursday at eight and eleven o'clock.

On Friday at nine in the evening and at midnight.

On Saturday at ten o'clock in the evening and at one in the morning.

I also approve your book and I give my signature in parchment which I will attach to this book so that you can use it for your needs; I also submit myself to appear before you whenever I am called and when you open the book and are purified and have the terrible blasting rod and have prepared the great kabbalistic circle and Pronouncing the name Rofocale. I promise to appear and treat you, and those who have this book which will bear my signature, considerately and in a friendly manner as long as you shall call me to order as soon as have need of me. I shall also induce myself to give you the treasure for which you have asked, provided that you keep the secret forever; that you shall be charitable towards the poor and that you give me a gold or silver coin all the first days of every month. If you neglect to do this things you shall be mine forever."

-----Lucifuge Rofocale, Approved

The Signature:

Response to the Spirit

"I will adhere to your demand."

-----Solomon

✚ Centum Regum ✚

Conjuring Lucifer

LUCIFER, OUIA, KAMERON, ALISCOT, MANDESUMINI, POEMI, ORIEL, MAGREUSE, PARINOSCON, ESTIO, DUMOGON, DIVORCON, CASMIEL, HUGRAS, FABIEL, VONTON, ULI, SODIERNO, PETAN! Come LUCIFER. Amen.

The Promise of the Spirit

First Article

I, Lucifer, am the extremely powerful Emperor, supreme and independent, free and absolute ruler of the subterranean kingdom, despotic lord over all my jurisdiction. I, the formidable, terrible, most noble, rule everything in the most regular fashion, moving and governing the fortunes and misfortunes of my subjects with absolute power, wise and sagacious, endowed with the most sublime and luminous character, am the dominator of Europe and of all misfortunes in general.

Second Article

I promise and swear, in the name of the God of the living, obedience, promptitude, and submission to the owner of this book; signed and sworn, in the name of the undersigned and of my aforementioned subjects, and by the virtue of the oath and signature I swear to adhere to all that will please the owner of this book.

Third Article

Additionally, as for one of my own subjects that reading my summons from the first article may cause them to appear at once in the guise of a handsome young man with a pleasing appearance without making any uproar or noise or anything else that might cause my master to be offended or frightened, to respond truthfully and clearly, without duplicity, to his interrogations and to fulfill that which is commanded of me, with complete loyalty and sincerely, without spreading scents or any other magical invocations, actions or ceremonies but rather to appear instantaneously ready to execute your commands.

Fourth Article

Without in these occasions ever, ever, ever damaging the countryside or anything else that springs from the earth. I will accomplish my service and leave at once without causing any commotion.

Fifth Article

Additionally, I promise and swear to the aforesaid: servitude of all my subjects to the owner of this book without differentiation in rank, dignity or any other division but any time, in any weather, season, year, month, week, day, hour or quarter, that at the moment my invocation is read to provide any of my subjects to appear in the form of a handsome young man to the service of the owner of this book and not to leave unless I or my subjects given license with the simple formula, either from myself or from others.

Sixth Article

Moreover, I promise and swear my subjects in the name of God and of other mysterious dispositions will practice secrecy and invincible loyalty without ever failing to fulfill my oath and promises.

Seventh Article

Also I promise and swear on behalf of all my subjects to protect and defend the owner of this book from all misfortunes, dangers and other natural and accidental occurrences, and for whatever he might want when I am called to assist him with anything he might need, although it is not noted in this book.

Method of Dismissal

I leave you in peace and I will permit you to retire to wherever you please, to return immediately with my invocation. In the name of the Father, The Son and the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Orders of the Spirit

“Follow me and you will come to identify the treasure.”

Then the Karcist, armed with the blasting rod and the Bloodstone, will leave the circle at that point where the door of mighty ADONAY is figured, towards the place where the treasure is located, and will follow the spirit; the others shall not move from there place in the circle and shall remain there without any fear, despite the noise that they will hear and any vision that they see.

The spirit will then take the Karcist to the entrance of the treasure and it might be that the Karcist will see something like a big dog with a collar that shines like the Sun that will block the entrance; this is the gnome that you will drive away from you by presenting the forked part of the rod, then he will walk towards the treasure. You will follow him and having arrived at the treasure, you will be surprised to see the person who originally hid it, who will want to throw himself over it however he will not be able to approach it. It is necessary to be armed with a sheet of virgin parchment on which you will have written the great conjuration of the Clavicle which you will throw over the treasure.

At the same time, take a coin as a token of gratitude, and throwing first one of yours that you have bitten and withdrawing backwards, that is, with your shoulders back, taking with you all of the coins that you can from the treasure. The rest can not disappear considering the precautions that have been taken. Be careful not to turn back despite any noise you might hear since at the time it will seem to you that all of the mountains of the world are falling on your head.

It is necessary to arm yourself with intrepidity and not to become frightened, but to remain resolute whilst the Spirit conducts you back to the entrance of the circle. The Karcist will begin to read the Returning of the spirit, as follows.

Entreating and Returning of the Spirit

O Prince Lucifer, I am satisfied with you at the present; I leave you in peace and I will permit you to retire to wherever you please, without making any noise or leaving bad odors; think of your promise, since if you fail for even a moment to fulfill your duties you can be certain that I will strike you eternally with the fulminating rod of the great ADONAY, ELOHIM, ARIEL and JEHOVA. Amen.

Rendering Thanks

O great God, you who have created all things for the service and utility of man, we render you humble thanks for all of your generosity which has overwhelmed tonight and for all your precious favors and for that which you have granted us, fulfilling all of our desires. At present, O great God, we have come to know the extent of the power of your great promises taken when you said "seek and you shall find", "knock and the door shall be opened", since you have recommended that we help the poor; we promise by the great ADONAY, ELOHIM, ARIEL and JEHOVA to be charitable and to spread over them the rays of the Sun of which these four powerful divinities have come to cover us. So it shall be. Amen.

✚ The Second Book ✚

Second Book containing the Sanctum Regnum of the Clavicle or the true manner of making pacts, with the names and powers and talents of all of the great superior Spirits and also the manner of making them appear by the power of the great invocations of the chapter of the pacts of the Clavicle that forces them to obey in whatever operation one wishes to execute.

Following other Magick Secrets

The true manner of making pacts with any spirit without them being able to do you any harm. The true Sanctum Regnum of the great Clavicle otherwise referred to as Pacta Conventa Daemoniorum which has already been talked about for a long while, is a necessary thing for the understanding of those who want to force the spirits and who do not have the capacity to prepare the blasting rod or the cabalistic circle that were discussed in the preceding book.

The individuals cannot arrive at their goal of forcing any spirit to appear if they don't do exactly that which I will hereby describe, concerning the manner of making pacts with any spirit, whether it is for gaining treasures or for the enjoyment of some earthly pleasure, or whatever favor one would desire or in order to discover the most hidden (well-kept) secrets of all of the courts and cabinets of the world; be it to reveal the most impenetrable thoughts to make or constrain a spirit to work at night-time at whatever task; to make it hail or storm wherever it pleases you and you see fit; to render yourself invisible; to have yourself transported to any part of the earth; to open all of the keyholes and see everything that occurs in the houses of others; so also to gain understanding of necromancy or to gain glory, to know all of the qualities and virtues of all the minerals, vegetables and all of the animals, pure and impure, and to do many very surprising things.

There is no man who does not become astonished at the discovery that in making a pact with a spirit one can unveil nature's greatest secrets that have remained hidden from the eyes of all men and by means of the great King Solomon's Clavicle the true manner of making pacts has been discovered and that he himself made use of it to acquire many riches and to enjoy many women and to know the most impenetrable secrets of nature which one can do any sort of good deed while avoiding any kind of evil.

Finally, at least we will begin by listing the names of the principle spirits along with their respective strengths and powers; following which we will explain the pacta dæmoniorum, which contains the manner of making pacts with any spirits, with the names of the three principle spirits.

The Names and Offices of the Spirits

Lucifer, Emperor
Belzebuth, Prince
Astaroth, Grand Duke

Then come the superior spirits who are beneath the three above-mentioned, that is:

Lucifuge, Prime Minister Satanachia, Great General Agliairept, General
Fleurèty, Lieutenant General Sargatanas, Brigadier Nebiros, Camp Marshal

The first seven superior spirits that I will name direct their power over all of the internal powers and have at their service 18 other spirits that are beneath them, that is:

- | | | |
|-------------|------------|-------------------|
| 1. Bael | 7. Buer | 13. Loray |
| 2. Agares | 8. Gusoyne | 14. Valefor |
| 3. Marbas | 9. Botis | 15. Farai |
| 4. Pruslas | 10. Bathim | 16. Ayperos |
| 5. Aamon | 11. Hursan | 17. Naberus |
| 6. Barbatos | 12. Eligor | 18. Glosialabolas |

TRIANGLE

DES PACTES.

	Lucifer
	Belzebuth
	Astaroth
	Lucifuge
	Satanachia
	Agaliarept
	Fleurety
	Sargatanas
	Nebiros

After having indicated to you the above names of the 18 spirits who are inferior to the first six already mentioned, it is necessary to understand the following, that is:

Lucifuge commands the first three who are called Bael, Agares and Marbas.
Satanachia over Pruslas, Aamon and Barbatos.
Aglia rept over Buer, Cusgyn and Betis.
Fleurèty over Bathim, Hursan and Eligor.
Sargatanas over Loray, Valefar and Farai.
Nebiros over Ayperos, Naberus and Glosialabolas.

Although there are millions of spirits that are all inferior to those above, it would be useless to describe them because they are employed by the superior ones. To work in their place all of these inferior spirits are employed as if they were workers of slaves.

Now then, in making a pact with one of the first principle spirits, of which you will have need, it won't matter which spirit serves you, nonetheless always ask for the one with which you have made the pact, whether it is one of the three principle ones, or one of their subjects which serve you.

Now you come to know the power, science, art and talents at all of the subject spirits, so that he who you would like to make a pact can find in each one of the six superior spirits the power that he will need.

The first is the great Lucifuge Rofocale, the infernal Prime Minister who possesses the power that Lucifer gave him over all worldly riches and treasures. He has beneath him Bael, Agares and Marbas along with thousands of other demons or spirits who are his subordinates.

The second is the great Satanacha, the Great General who has the power to make all young or old. Women submit to him; he commands a strong legion of spirits and has beneath him Pruslas, Aamon and Barbatos.

Agaliarept, General, has the power to uncover the most well-hidden secrets of all of the courts and cabinets of the world and reveals the greatest mysteries; he commands the second legion of spirits and has Guer, Gusoyne and Boris etc.. under his command.

Fleurèty, Lieutenant General, has the power has the power to do whatever thing one could want at night-time. He makes hail fall wherever he deigns and commands a considerably body of spirits and has Bathim, Hursan and Eligor etc.. beneath him.

Sargatanas, Brigadier, has the power to render one invisible and to transport you anywhere, to open all of the keyholes and to let you see what is going on in other houses and to teach you Necromancy. He commands other brigades of spirits and has beneath him Loray, Valefar and Farai, etc..

Naberus, Field Marshal, or Inspector General, has the power to do evil to whomever he pleases and enables one to find the Hand of Glory and teaches the qualities of minerals, vegetables and of all of the animals, pure and impure, possesses the art of foretelling the future, being one of the best Necromancers of all of the Infernal Spirits. He can go anywhere and inspects all of the Infernal Militias and has beneath him Ayperos, Naberus and Glosialobolas, etc..

Warning

When you want to make your pact with one of the principal spirits that I have named, begin the day before the eve of the pact cutting a branch of wild hazel that has never bloomed with a new blade that has never been used, in the same manner that I have described in the first book, precisely at the moment that the sun appears on the horizon.

Then procure a Bloodstone and two candles that have been blessed and choose a place that nobody can disturb you for the operation.

You can make a pact in a room that is far from turmoil or in some hamlet of an old, ruined castle so that the spirit has the power to transport the treasure where he pleases.

Having returned to the opportune place, draw a triangle with the Bloodstone and you only need to do this operation the first time the pact is made.

Then put the two blessed candles on the sides of the triangle, as is described in the triangle of the pacts, making the saintly name of Jesus behind, so that the spirits can not do you any harm.

Following this, go to the center of the triangle with the mysterious rod and the great invocation of the spirit, the Clavicle, the petition, the pact that you in mind to make with the spirit, and the sending back of the spirit as will hereby be explained. If what has been explained up to this point is executed with exactitude then start to recite the following invocation with hope and steadfast firmness.

Great Invocation to Summon the Spirit with whom one wishes to the pact excerpted from The Great Clavicle

“Emperor LUCIFER, master of all the rebel spirits, I ask you to be favorable in my summons of your Great Minister LUCIFUGE ROFOCALE, since I wish to make a pact with him. I also request that you, Prince BELZEBUTH, protect me in my undertaking; O Come ASTAROTH BE propitious and ensure that the great LUCIFUGE appears to me tonight in human guise and without emitting foul odors and he grant me as per the pact that I will present to him, all of the riches which I require. O great LUCIFUGE, I request that you abandon your dwelling, in whatever part of the world it should be, to come and speak with me. Otherwise, I will force you by the power of the great living God and his dear Son and the Holy Spirit: obey now, or I will eternally torment you by the authority of the powerful words of Solomon's great Clavicle of which he made use to oblige the rebel Spirits to receive his pact; therefore, appear as quickly as possible or I will continually torment you by the authority of the powerful words of the Clavicle:

Aglon, Tetragram, vaycheon stimulamaton ezphares Tetragrammaton, olyaram irion esytion existion eryona onera orasim mozm messias soter Emanuel Sabaoth ADONAY, te adoro et te invoco. Amen."

You can be certain that before having finished reading the above-mentioned powerful words the spirit will appear and will tell you the following.

Apparition of the Spirit

"Here I am. What would you ask of me? Why do you torment my rest? Answer me!"

-----Lucifuge Rofocale

Request to the Spirit

"I may ask you to make a pact with me so that you make me rich as soon as possible, otherwise I will torment you by the powerful words of the Clavicle.

-----Karcist

Response of the Spirit

I can not grant your request except on the condition that you give yourself to me for the next 20 years so that I can use your body and soul as I see fit.

-----Lucifuge Rofocale

Then you will throw him your pact, which must be in your handwritting on a sheet of virgin parchment, which will consist of these few words, with your signature written in your blood. Here is the pact:

"I promise to repay the great Lucifuge in 20 years for all of the treasures that he will give me. On my honor I sign this in good faith."

-----Signature in blood

Response of the Spirit

"I can not grant your request."

-----Lucifuge Rofocale

Seguimi e prendi il tesoro che vado a mostrarti

"Follow me and take the treasure I will show you"

Second Appearance of the Spirit

Then, in order to force the spirit to obey you, re-read the great Invocation of the terrible words of the Clavicle, until the spirit appears and tells you the following:

“Why do you torment me more and more? If you leave me in peace, I will give you the nearest treasure on the condition that you consecrate a coin to me all of the Mondays of every month and that you will call me one day every week, from ten o’clock in the evening until 2 two in the morning. Take your pact which I have signed; and if you do not maintain your word you will be mine in 20 years.”

-----Lucifuge Rofocale

Response to the Spirit

“I adhere to your demands, on the condition that you enable me to have the nearest treasure and that I can take it with me right away.”

-----Karcist

Response of the Spirit

“Follow me and take the treasure that I am going to show you.”

-----Lucifuge Rofocale

Then follow the spirit on the path to the treasure that will be indicated (at the triangle) without taking fright and throw the signed pact over the treasure and touching it with the rod take as much of it as you can. Then return inside the triangle, making certain to walk backwards, where you will deposit your treasure in front of yourself, dismissing the spirit as follows:

The Conjuring and Dismissal of the Spirit with whom the pact is made

“O great LUCIFUGE, I am satisfied with you at present; I will leave you to peace and permit you to retire to wherever you wish without making any noise or leaving any bad odors. Think then, about your duty regarding my pact; since, if the one instant you shirk your obligation, you can be sure that I will torment you eternally with the great and powerful words of the great Clavicle of the great King Solomon with which he forced all of the rebel spirits to obey him.”

Prayer to the Omnipotent in Thanksgiving

“Omnipotent God, heavenly father, who created all things for the service and use of man, I humbly thank you, that in your great goodness and that you have permitted that I could make a pact with a spirit that is a rebel of your authority and subdue it to obey me in fulfilling all of my needs. I thank you, O omnipotent God, for the good that you have done me tonight to have shown myself to be worthy to have granted to me, miserable creature, your precious favors and to present, great God, now that I have come to know the force and power of your great promises, when you said: “seek and you shall find”, “knock and the door shall be opened” as you have recommended to raise the poor, condescend O great God to inspire me to true sentiment of charity so that I can spread with this Great Work a great portion of the possessions your great divinity permitted that I could receive. Let it be, O great God, that I can enjoy these great riches that I possess, with tranquillity and do not permit any rebel spirit to harm my enjoyment of these precious treasures over which you permit me to own. Inspire in me, O great God, the necessary sentiment to unbind me from the grips of the devil and all malefficient spirits. I trust, O great God, in the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit and in your saintly protection. Amen.”

Oration to Protect Oneself from Evil Spirits

“O omnipotent Father, O Mother, the most tender of all mothers, O admirable example of the sentiments, O Son, O flower of all sons, soul, spirit, harmony and number of all orders, preserve us, protect us, guide us and be propitious. Amen.”

CITATIO PRAEDICTORUM SPIRITUM

§ I.

Ubi quem volueris spiritum, hujus nomen et officium supra cognosces: imprimis autem ab omni pollutione minimum tres vel quatuor dies mundus esto in prima citatione, sic et spiritus postea obsequentiores erunt; fac et circulum, et voca spiritum, cum multa intentione primum vere anulum in manu contineatur: inde banc resitata benedictionem tuo nomine e socii, si praesto fuerit et effectum tui instituti sortieris, nec detrimentum e spiritibus senties imo tuae animae perditionem.

§ II.

In nomine domini nostri Jesus Christi, patris et filii et spiritus sancti: sancta Trinitas et inseparabilis unitas te invoco, ut sis mihi salus et defensio et protectio corporis et animae meae et omnium rerum mearum. Per virtutem sanctae crucis et per virtutem passionis tuae deprecor te Domine Jesus Christi, per merita beatissimae Mariae Virgini et matris tuae atque ominis sanctorum tuorum, ut mihi concedas gratiam et potestatem divinam super omnes malignos spiritus, ut quoscumque nominibus invocavero, statim ex omni parte conveniant, et voluntatem meam perfecte adimpleant quod mihi nihil nocentes, neque timorem inferentes, sed potens obedientes et ministrantes, tua distincte virtute praecipiente, mandata mea perficiant. Amen.

Sanctus, sanctus, dominus Deus sabaot, qui venturus est judicare vivos et mortuos: tu qui es primus et novissimus, rex regum et dominum dominantium Joth, Agladabrach, Elabiel, anarchi enatiel amaz in sedomel gayes tol ma elias ischiro atgadatas mas heli messias per hac tua sancta nomina, et per omnia alia invocare et obsecro te Domine Jesu Christe, per quam nativitatem per baptismum tuum, per passionem et crucem tuam, per ascensionem tuam per adventum Spiritus Sancti paraclite per amaritudinae anime tuae quando exivi de corpore tuo per quinque vulnera tua, per sanguinem et aquam quae exierant de corpore tuo, per virtutem tuam, per sacramentum quod dedisti discipulis tuis pridie quam passus fuisti per sanctam Trinitatem, per individuum unitatem, per beatam Mariam, matrem tuam, per Angelos, et arcangelos, per prophetas et patriarchas, et per omnes sanctos tuos et per omnia sacramenta quae fiant in honore tuo; adoro et te obsecro, te benedicto tibi, et rogo ut acceptes orationes has et conjurationes et verba oris mei; quibus uti volucro peto Domine Jesu Christe: da mihi virtutem et potestatem tuam super omnes angelos tuos, qui de coelo ejectioni sunt ad decipiendum genus humanum; ad attrahendum eos, ad constringendum, ad ligandum eos pariter et solvendum; et ad congregandum eos coram me; quae possunt, faciant et verba mea vocem quae meam nullo modo contemnant, sed mihi et dictis meis obediant, et me teneant per humanitatem et misericordiam et gratiam tuam deprecor et peto et ADONAY amay hora videgora mitay hel suranay syota y fiesy, et per omnia nomina tua sancta per omnes sanctos et sanctos tuos, per angelos et archangelos, potestates, dominationes et virtutes, et per illud nomen per quod Salomo costringebat daemones et conclusit ipso. Eth rocebant hangle goth joih athio venoh aubru et per omnium tua nomina quae scripta sunt in hoc librum et per virtutem sorundem, quatenus me potentem faciat congregare contringere omnes tuos spiritus de coelo depulsos ut mihi veraciter de omnibus meis interrogatis de quibus quaram responsionem veracem tribuant et omnibus meis mandatis illi satis faciant sine laesione corporis et animae meae, et omnibus ad me pertinentium, per dominum nostrum Jesum Christum filium tuum, qui tecum vivit et regnat in unitate spiritus sancti Deus, per omnia saecula.

§ III.

O pater omnipotens!, o filii sapiens, o spiritus sancte corda hominum illustrans! vos tres in personis una vero deitas in substantia qui Adam et Evae in peccatis eorum perpercistis et propter eorum peccata mortem subieci tu filii turpissima in lignoque sancte crucis sustinuisti. O misericordissime quando ad tuam confugio misericordiam, et supplico modis omnibus quibus possum per haec nomina sancta tui filii scilicet A et a et per omnia alia sua nomina, quatenus concedas mihi virtutem et potestatem tuam, ut valeam tuos spiritus qui de coelo eieci sunt, ante me citare, et ut ipsi mecum loquantur, et mandata mea perficiant statim et fine mora cum eorum voluntate, sine omni laesione corporis animae et honorum meorum. Amen.

§ IV.

O summa et eterna virtus altissimi! que te disponente his iudicio vocatis vaycheon stimulamaton esphares tetagrammaton ilioram rion esytio existioneriona onera brasym moyne messias sodxer, EMMANUEL, SABAOth, ADONAY, te adoro, te invoco, totius mentis viribus meis, imploro, quatenus per te praesentes orationes et consecrationes consequantur videlicet, et ubicumque maligni spiritus in virtute tuorum dominum sunt vocati, et voluntatem mei exorcisatores diligenter adimpleant fiat, fiat, fiat. Amen.

The Magick Secret; or The Art of Speaking with the Dead

For this operation it is necessary to attend midnight mass at Christmas and at midnight precisely to have a conversation with the inhabitants of the other world and at the moment that the Priest lifts the Host, bow down and with a frank and severe voice say "Esurgens mortuus et ad me veni." As soon as you have pronounced these six words it is necessary to go to the cemetery and at the first tomb that meets your eye offer this prayer:

"Infernal powers, you who bring the turbid in the universe, abandon your obscure dwelling and retire to the other side of the River Styx."

Then remain there for a moment of silence. "If you have your power, he or she that interests me, I supplicate you in the name of the King of Kings to make him appear before me at the hour and moment that I will indicate to you."

After this ceremony, which is indispensable to carry out, take a fistful of earth and spread it as one sows grain in a field, saying in a low voice: "He who is in dust awake from his tomb and leave his ashes and answer the questions that I pose him in the name of the Father of all men."

Then bend a knee to the ground, turning your eyes to the East and when you see that the doors of the Sun are going to open, arm yourself with the two bones of the dead man that you will put in a cross of Saint Andrew. Then throw them at the first temple or church that offers itself to your eyes.

Having well-executed the aforesaid, set out in a western direction and when you have taken 5,900 steps, lay yourself down to sleep on the ground in an elongated position, holding the palms of your hand against your thighs, and your eyes to the sky towards the Moon and in this position, call he or she whom you wish to see, when you see the specter appear, solicit their presence with the following words "Ego sum te peto, et videre queo."

After these words, your eyes will be satisfied to see the object that dearest to you and give you the most pleasurable delight.

When you have obtained from the shadow which you have Invoked, that which you believe to be to your satisfaction, send it away in this manner: "Return to the kingdom of the elect, I am content with you and your presence."

Then picking yourself up, return to the same tomb where you made the first prayer above which you need to make a cross with the end of your blade which you will be holding in your left hand.

The reader should not neglect any of the prescribed ceremonies otherwise he could incur some risk.

Secrets of the Magick Art

Observe that these secrets can not be employed by those who have not done all that is described in Chapters II, III and IV of the first book of this volume.

The Composition of Death, or Philosopher's Stone

Take a new earthen pot, put in it a pound of red copper with half a bottle of Nitric Acid. Boil it for half an hour. Afterwards add three ounces of verdegriis (Copper Carbonate), and boil for one hour. Then add two and a half ounces of arsenic, and boil one hour. Add three ounces of oak bark, well pulverized, and let it boil a half hour, add a 64 fluid ounces of rose water boil twelve minutes, then add three ounces of lampblack, and let it boil until the composition is good. To see whether it is cooked enough, dip a nail in it; if it adheres, remove it. It will produce a pound and a half of good gold. If it does not adhere, it is proof that it has not cooked enough; the liquor can serve four times.

To make the divining rod and make it work

At the moment the sun appears on the horizon, take your left hand a virgin branch from the wild hazel tree, and cut it in three strokes while saying: I collect you in the name of ELOHIM, MITRATHON, ADONAY and SEMIPHORAS, so that you have the virtue of the rod of Moses and Jacob, to discover all that I will want to know. To make it work, hold it tightly in your hands by the two ends which make the fork, and say: I command you in the name of ELOHIM, MITRATHON, ADONAY and SEMIPHORAS to reveal to me, etc.

To Enchant Firearms

Say: "God has a share in it and the devil has the exit", and when you fire, say the following while crossing your left leg over your right: 'non tradas Dominum nostrum Jesum Christum. Mathon. Amen.'

To win any time one plays the lottery

Lying down, recite three times the following prayer, after what to you will put it under your pillow, written on virgin parchment, on which you will have a mass of the Holy Spirit said, and during sleep the genius of your planet will come and tell you the hour that you must get your ticket.

"Domine Jesu Christe, qui dixisti ego sum via, veritas et vita, ecce enim veritatem dilexisti, incerta et occulta sapientiæ tuæ manifestasti mihi, adhuc quæ reveles in hac nocte sicut ita revelatum fuit parvulis solis, incognita et ventura unaque alia me doceas, ut possim omnia cognoscere, si et si sit; ita monstra mihi montem ornatum omni nivo bono, pulchrum et gratum pomarium, aut quandam rem gratam, sin autem ministra mihi ignem ardentem, vel aquarum currentem vel aliam quamcumque rem quæ Domino placeat, et vel Angeli ARIEL, Rubiel et Barachiel sitis mihi multum amatores et factores ad opus istud obtinendum quod cupio scire, videre cognoscere et prævidere per illum Deum qui venturus est judicare vivos et mortuos, et sæculum per ignem. Amen."

Say three "Our Father" 's and three "Hail Mary" 's for the souls left in purgatory.

To speak with the Spirits on the Eve of St. John the Baptist

From eleven at night until Midnight go stand by a fern, and say: "I ask of God that the spirits with which I wish to speak will appear at precisely midnight"; and at three-quarters repeat nine times these five words: Bar, Kirabar, Alli, Alla Tetragrammaton.

To be Insensible to Torture

Write these lines on a small piece of paper, which you will then swallow.

*Dismas et gestas damnatur potestas.
Disma et gestas damnatur.
Ad astra levatur.*

When you will have to be tortured say: "This rope is so soothing to the my limbs, like the Holy Virgin's milk to Our Lord."

To Compel one dance completely naked

On Eve of St. John the Baptist, gather at midnight, three walnut leaves, three sweet marjoram plants, three myrtle plants, and three vervain plants. Dry it all in the shade, and make it into a powder. When you want to make use of the powder, Throw some like a small pinch of tobacco into the air of the room where there are the people whom you wish to enjoy.

To make oneself invisible

Take a black cat, and a new pot, a mirror, a lighter, coal and tinder. Gather water from a fountain at the strike of midnight.

After you light your fire, and put the cat in the pot. Hold the cover with your left hand without moving nor looking behind you, no matter what noises you may hear.

After having made it boil 24 hours, put the boiled cat on a new dish. Take the meat and throw it over your left shoulder, saying these words: "accipe quod tibi do, et nihil ampliùs.".

Then put the bones one by one under the teeth on the left side, while looking at yourself in the mirror; and if they are do not work, throw them away, repeating the same words each time until you find the right bone; and as soon you cannot see yourself any more in the mirror, withdraw, moving backwards, while saying: "Pater, in manus tuas commendo spiritum meum." This is bone you must keep.

To Render Oneself Favorable to Judges

Upon seeing the Judge, say these words: "Phalay, Phalay, Phalay; preside in my favor, let your power shine. Make me satisfied."

To be Impervious to White Arms

With the head of a needle, write these words on your arm: Ales ✚ Dales ✚ Tolas ✚. Then put the needle in the middle cross, from which no blood will flow.

To make the garter of twenty miles per hour

Buy a young wolf under one year old, and cut its throat with a new knife, in the hour of Mars, pronouncing these words: Adhumatis cados ambulavit in fortitudine cibi ilius; then cut his skin into broad garters of an inch, and write there upon the same words that you said while slaughtering it. Write the first letter with your blood, the second with that of the wolf, and continue in the same way until the end of the sentence.

After it is written and dries, it is necessary to cover it by wrapping the garter in white cloth, and to attach two purple ribbons to the two ends, so to tie the garters to the knee braces; Make sure that no woman or girl sees the garters; also remove the garters before crossing a river, Less it loses it's power.

Formula for a plaster to travel ten miles per hour

Take two ounces of human fat, one ounce of oil of stag, one ounce of oil of bay-tree, one ounce of fat of stag, one ounce of natural mummy, a half-cup of spirit of wine, and seven vervain leaves. Boil the whole in a new pot, until half-reduction, then form a plaster of it on a fresh wolf skin. When you wear it on the spleen, you go like the wind.

To not fall when you are done, take three drops of blood in a glass of white wine and soak your feet in the wine.

Composition of the ink for writing pacts

The pacts should not be written with ordinary ink. It must be changed each time that there is occasion to write a pact, that is to say, whenever the appellation of a spirit is made. Place river-water in a new, water-proof earthenware pot, together with the powder described below. Take sprigs of fern gathered on the Eve of St. John and vine twigs cut in the full moon of March. Kindle this wood by means of virgin paper, and when the water boils the ink will be made. It must be changed each time that there is occasion to write, that is to say, whensoever the appellation of a spirit is undertaken.

10 oz. Of Gall nuts, 3 oz. Of Roman Vitriol or Green Copperas, 3 oz. Of Rock Alum or dried Gum Arabic. Make a fine powder, and when you would compose the ink, use as described above.

Solomon's Mirror

How to Make Solomon's Mirror

✚ in nomine domini. amen. ✚

The manner upon which the Cabbalist Scholars relied to make the Mirror of Solomon, David's son, who had the gift of wisdom and the occult science; this mirror is made in forty-eight days, starting from the New Moon until the following Full one. You will see (in this mirror) all of the hidden things that you desire in the name of our Lord.

First, abstain from any carnal action or thought for the entire aforementioned time and meanwhile do many pious and compassionate deeds.

Take a shiny and well cleaned plate of steel and write in the four corners these precise words in the blood of a White Dove: JEHOVA, ELOHIM, MITRATHON, ADONAY. Then put the steel plate in a piece of new white cloth and when you observe the New Moon one hour after the sun has set go to the window and gazing at the sky and the moon say with devotion: “O rex eternæ Deus! Creator ineffabilis, qui cuncta as hominis sanitatem meagratio, et occulto judicio creasti respice me (N.N.), indignissimum servum tuum, et ad intentionem meam, et mittere mihi dignare angelum Anael, in speculum istud, qui mandet, et inspiret et jubeat cum sociis suis, et subditis nostris ut in nomine tuo qui fuisti, es et eris potens, et jus, jud, judicent mihi quecumque ab illis exposcam.”

Take some ashes made from Laurel wood and add some perfume into it in three shots saying: “In hoc, per hoc, et cum hoc, quod effundo ante conspectum tuum, Deus meus, trinus et unus benedictus et per excelsus qui vides super Cherubin et Seraphin et venturus est judicare seculum per ignem.”

Recite this prayer three times, blow on the mirror and then call out this invocation: “Veni Anael, et tibi complaceat esse per socios tuos mecum, in nomine patris potentissimi, in nomine filio sapientissimo, in nomine spiritus amabilissimi. Veni Anael, in nomini terribilis JEHOVA; veni Anael in virtute immortalis Eliom; veni Anael in brachio omnipotentis Mitraton; veni Anael in potentia sacratissimi ADONAY; veni ad me (N.N.) in ispeculo isto, et jubeat subditis tuis ut cum amore gaudio et pace ostendat mihi occulta in oculis meis. Amen.”

This said, raise your eyes to the sky and say: “Domini Deus omnipotens, cujus nutu omnia moventur, exaudi deprecationem meum et desiderium meum tibi complaceat, respice domini speculum istud, et benedice illi ut Anael, unus ex subditis fuisse sistat in illo cum sociis et satisfaciat mihi famulo tuo (N.N.), cui vivis et regnas benedictus et excelsus, in saecula saeculorum. Amen.”

After the aforementioned prayer, cross yourself and the mirror, and this you will do everyday for as long as it takes to make the mirror. In the end, the angel Anael will appear in the guise of a most handsome young man will greet you and command his companions to obey you. Be aware that 48 days are not always necessary to obtain what you intend; often he appears after 14 days, that depends on the intention and devotion of the Operator.

So when the spirit appears to you, as him everything that you wish and request that he appear to you whenever you call him to satisfy your requests. Then you will see everything you wish to see without reciting the preceding oration; but having anointed him with scent (the scent of Anael is Saffron) say the following:

Oration

“Veni Anael, veni tibi complaceat esse per socios tuos mecum, in nomini mecum, in nomini Patris potentissimi, in nomini Filii sapientissimi, in nomine Spiritus Sancti amabilissimi; veni Anael, in virtutis immortalis ELOHIM; veni Anael, in brachio omnipotentis Mitraton; veni Anael, in potentia sacratissimi ADONAY; veni ad me (N.N.) in speculo isto, et jubeas subditis tuis, ut cum amore, gaudio et pace ostendam mihi occulta in oculis meis. Amen, Amen.”

After you have recited this oration he will appear to you and satisfy all of your desires.

Method of taking Leave of the angel Anael

“Gratias tibi ago Anael quod venisti, et petitioni meæ satisfacisti, ibi in pace et placeat tibi redire quando to vocavero.”

Cross yourself and the mirror.

Table of Auspicious and Inauspicious Days

Auspicious Days	Month	Inauspicious Days
3, 10, 27 and 31	January	13 and 23
7, 8 and 18	February	2,10,17 and 22
3, 9, 12, 14 and 16	March	13, 19, 23 and 28
5 and 17	April	18, 20, 29 and 30
1, 2, 4, 6, 9 and 14	May	10, 17 and 20
3, 5, 7, 9, 12 and 23	June	4 and 20
2, 6, 10, 23 and 30	July	5, 13 and 27
5, 7, 10, 14 and 29	August	2, 13, 27 and 31
6, 10, 13, 18 and 30	September	13, 16, 18 and 19
13, 16, 25 and 31	October	3, 9 and 27
1, 13, 23 and 30	November	6 and 25
10, 20 and 29	December	15, 26 and 31

Observation

Many wise men believe this table was dictated to Abraham by an angel and that it determined his actions: he neither sowed nor transplanted except on auspicious days and for this reason everything went marvelously for him. If your ploughmen did likewise their yield would certainly increase.

The Secret of the Black Hen

The famous secret of the Black Hen, a secret without which one can not count on the success of any cabala, was lost for a long time: after much investigation we have succeeded in finding it and the tests which we have carried out, to assure ourselves that it was positively that which we sought, exactly matched our expectations. Therefore we are completely satisfied. It is to share our happiness with all those who have the courage to imitate us that we have transcribed it.

Take a Black Hen that has never been laid eggs and that has never been approached by a rooster and in taking her make certain that she does not cry out so that you will have to do this at eleven at night, when she is sleeping. Take her neck and close her throat so that she can not scream.

Then go where two streets form a cross and at midnight precisely make a circle with a Cyprus branch, go into the middle of the circle and cut the hen's body into two parts uttering the following words three times: ELOHIM, ESSAIM, search and then turn your gaze toward the East, kneel and recite the prayer:

Prayer to the Omnipotent in Thanksgiving

"Omnipotent God, heavenly father, who created all things for the service and use of man, I humbly thank you, that in your great goodness and that you have permitted that I could make a pact with a spirit that is a rebel of your authority and subdue it to obey me in fulfilling all of my needs. I thank you, O omnipotent God, for the good that you have done me tonight to have shown myself to be worthy to have granted to me, miserable creature, your precious favors and to present, great God, now that I have come to know the force and power of your great promises, when you said: "seek and you shall find", "knock and the door shall be opened" as you have recommended to raise the poor, condescend O great God to inspire me to true sentiment of charity so that I can spread with this Great Work a great portion of the possessions your great divinity permitted that I could receive. Let it be, O great God, that I can enjoy these great riches that I possess, with tranquillity and do not permit any rebel spirit to harm my enjoyment of these precious treasures over which you permit me to own. Inspire in me, O great God, the necessary sentiment to unbind me from the grips of the devil and all malefficient spirits. I trust, O great God, in the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit and in your saintly protection. Amen."

Oration to Protect Oneself from Evil Spirits

“O omnipotent Father, O Mother, the most tender of all mothers, O admirable example of the sentiments, O Son, O flower of all sons, soul, spirit, harmony and number of all orders, preserve us, protect us, guide us and be propitious. Amen.”

Great Invocation to Summon the Spirit with whom one wishes to the pact excerpted from The Great Clavicle

“Emperor LUCIFER, master of all the rebel spirits, I ask you to be favorable in my summons of your Great Minister LUCIFUGE ROFOCALE, since I wish to make a pact with him. I also request that you, Prince BELZEBUTH, protect me in my undertaking; O Come ASTAROTH BE propitious and ensure that the great LUCIFUGE appears to me tonight in human guise and without emitting foul odors and he grant me as per the pact that I will present to him, all of the riches which I require. O great LUCIFUGE, I request that you abandon your dwelling, in whatever part of the world it should be, to come and speak with me. Otherwise, I will force you by the power of the great living God and his dear Son and the Holy Spirit: obey now, or I will eternally torment you by the authority of the powerful words of Solomon’s great Clavicle of which he made use to oblige the rebel Spirits to receive his pact; therefore, appear as quickly as possible or I will continually torment you by the authority of the powerful words of the Clavicle:

Aglon, Tetragram, vaycheon stimulamaton ezphares Tetragrammaton, olyaram irion esytion existion eryona onera orasim mozm messias soter Emanuel Sabaoth ADONAY, te adoro et te invoco. Amen.”

At that moment the foul spirit will appear, dressed in a scarlet outfit with braids, a yellow shirt, green pants, his head resembles that of a dog, but he has the ears of an ass, with two horns, legs and feet like a heifer. He will ask you your demands; you give them as you think best since he will not be able to disobey you and he can make you one of the richest and therefore happiest of men.

Before you do what has been explained you need to make vyour devotions. Say your prayers and be above reproach; this is so essential that in doing the opposite you could end up at the spirits command, instead of him being at yours.

Other Magick Secrets

To prevent a woman from conceiving

To prevent a woman, with whom you are having relations, from having children, take a sponge the size of a nutmeg, and soak it with pure milk mixed with a little fine oil. Put it in her left hand and walk away from her and every time you do this you will be sure to gave good results.

To find out whether a Woman can have Children

Take the fat of a dear, melt it in hot water; the woman should drink it on an empty stomach and afterwards take a hot bath. If this gives her pain in her stomach, then she will have children, otherwise not.

To make Three young Ladies, or rather three Spirits come into your room after Dinner

Preparation

Eat neither meat nor fatty foods for three days; on the fourth day clean your room as soon as you have arisen from bed, fast for the entire day and ensure that no one enters the room all day and that there is nothing hung on the walls, neither clothes, nor hats, nor bird cages, nor curtains on the windows or on the bed and above all, put freshly washed white linens on the bed.

Ceremony

After dinner, go secretly to the room that you have prepared, light a good fire, put a clean white cloth on the table and three chairs around the table and three loaves of bread and three glasses of clear, fresh water at each place. Then put a recliner or chair beside your bed and get into bed.

Upon entering the room the three persons will seat themselves beside the fire and taking refreshment and thank he or she who has received them, since, if he is a man who makes the ceremony three ladies will come, and if it is a woman, three men will come. The three spirits will choose by lots among themselves to determine who will remain seated in the chair beside your bed to converse with you until midnight.

At midnight she will leave with her companions without you having to ask her to leave, as for the other two, they will remain by the fire while the other converses with you beside your bed and you will to ask her about any art or science that you desire and she will immediately answer your questions, you can ask her the location of the nearest hidden treasure and she will reveal to you the most opportune time and place to recover it. She will also be there accompanied by her two companions to protect you from any infernal spirit who could be in possession of the treasure. When she leaves, she will give you a ring which will make you lucky in any game when you wear it and if you place it on a young maid's finger you can make her your wife.

Note: Leave the window open so that they may enter and you can repeat this operation and make them come as many times as you wish. You should repeat the following prayer after each conjuration:

O summa et eterna virtus altissimi! que te disponente his iudicio vocatis vaycheon stimulamaton esphares tetagrammaton ilioram rion esytio existioneriona onera brasym moyne messias sodxer, EMMANUEL, SABAOth, ADONAY, te adoro, te invoco, totius mentis viribus meis, imploro, quatenus per te praesentes orationes et consecrationes consequentur videlicet, et ubicumque maligni spiritus in virtute tuorum dominum sunt vocati, et voluntatem mei exorcisatores diligenter adimpleant fiat, fiat, fiat. Amen.

To be Lucky in every Enterprise

Take a green frog, cut off its head and his four feet. Then on a Friday with a full Moon put them in an elder tree and keep them there for twenty-one days, removing them on the twenty-first day precisely at midnight.

Then expose the parts of the frog to the light of the Moon for three nights. Afterwards, dry the frog parts in a new earthenware pot that has never been used. Take the dried frog parts, and grind to a powder. Mix the powder in equal measure with earth taken from a cemetery, if possible from the grave of someone in your family.

Carry the powder mixture with you, it will help you succeed in any undertaking.

To make a Woman disclose her secrets

Take the heart of a pigeon and the head of a frog. Dry them as above, and reduce them to fine powder. Put the powder into a little purse, and add moss for fragrance.

Put the purse under the woman's ear while she is sleeping, fifteen minutes later, she will unveil all of her secrets. Make certain to remove the purse a few minutes after she has stopped speaking otherwise she could fall into delirium.

To see and do the Supernatural

Put a gold studded plate under your tongue, it should be half the size of your thumb. Under your feet put the border of a mortuary sheet or linen and hold a quince tree branch in your hand. Abstain from having sexual relations for thirty-five days, for thirty-five is the number that puts you under the protection of favorable constellations and sorcery and with this secret one can do prodigious deeds, as did Mousu with this secret did supernatural things.

To make everything in an apartment appear Black.

Soak the wick of the lamp used to light the apartment in well beaten sea foam, adding to the lamp oil some sulfur and Litharge in equal parts, and all those who enter the room will appear drunk and delirious.

Glue to attach Crystals

Take some wine spirits and whitest and clearest Gum Arabic. Liquefy the Gum Arabic with the spirits. Heat up the two broken pieces in the fire, then with a little brush apply the glue to the two pieces. Attach the two pieces, and hold together until they have cooled.

Glue to Repair Porcelain Vases

Take two fresh egg whites, mix them together, add a little quicklime. Put a little of this mixture on the broken pieces, hold them together for two or three minutes. Then boil them with milk and the cracks will become invisible.

The Secrets of Love

Of reciprocal love between a Man and a Woman

There is nothing more natural to man than loving and being loved. Without invoking Venus or Cupid, who are the dominant divinities regarding this noble passion of man, every day produces material substances that are favorable to success in love.

One often finds on the forehead of a newborn foal, a little piece of flesh that has marvelous virtue in love. Dry it in a new pot, and wear it, especially on Fridays, since this is the day dedicated to Venus, Goddess of Love.

Another Love Secret

Take a gold ring that is studded with a small diamond that has not been worn by anyone. Wrap it in a piece of green fabric and for nine days and nine nights wear it against your skin over your heart. On the ninth day, before the Sun rises, engrave the following word inside the ring: Scheva, with a new scribe or engraver.

Find a way to have three hairs of the person who you want to love you, unite them with three of your own hairs, while saying: "Body, that you could love me, that your desires could be as passionate as mine, by Scheva's most potent virtue.” Tie the hairs in a love snare knot around the ring. Wrap the ring in a piece of silk, and wear it against your skin over your heart for another six days. On the seventh day, Fast. On an empty stomach, unwrap the ring and give it to the person you desire to love you.

If your ring is accepted then you can be certain to be loved by that person. If the ring is refused, rest assured that the heart of that person belongs to another and in that case, you should seek your fortune elsewhere.

Other Secrets that Achieve the Same Effect

Here is the secret that the wise Cabbalists have called “Apple of Love” which is prepared as follows:

Go pick an apple from a tree on a Friday morning before sunrise. Write your name with your blood on a piece of paper and also write the name of the person whom you wish to love you. On another sheet of paper, write the name Scheva, also in your own blood.

Find a means of procuring three strands of that person’s hair, which you will unite with three of yours. Cut the apple in half, and remove the seeds. In the place of the seeds, place the pieces of paper. Take the apple and tie it back together, with the united hairs, using a green myrtle twig to twist together the two halves of the apple like a tourniquet.

Dry well in the oven, and wrap them in bay and myrtle leaves. Have a well trusted person put the apple under the young woman’s pillow without her noticing. In a few days you will notice the appearance of her love.

Fin

THE SECRET GRIMOIRE OF TURIEL

A SYSTEM OF CEREMONIAL MAGIC

THE GREAT ARCANUM
(The Rites of Ceremonial Magick).

PART I. THE SECRET GRIMOIRE OF TURIEL.

INTRODUCTION.

THE S.S. Umvoti, on which I was travelling from Beira, Portugese East Africa, to London, reached Las Palmas in November, 1927, after a very stormy passage. Like the rest of the passengers, I was thankful to get ashore.

The usual vendors, beggars, and guides were soon in evidence. One old man in the garb of a peasant offered me his services as a guide, which I gladly accepted. The man was bearded, swarthy of complexion, and very thin. He spoke in broken English and suggested that we visit the Cathedral. This we did, and as we walked the stranger informed me that the Cathedral was founded in the 16th century but only completed in the 19th. He conducted me to a lift inside the Cathedral, and smiled at two most corpulent priests who were seated at confessional boxes. The priests turned their heads away from the guide, who entered the lift with me. Soon we were speeding upward to enjoy the most enchanting scene imaginable. In the sunlight, on each bank of the river, lay the houses of the capital. Down below the people walked, Lilliputians in size.

We stood for a considerable time, and indeed I could have remained much longer drinking in the view, but the guide suggested that we leave. We did so and visited the bazaars and other places of interest including taverns where we enjoyed native cigars and wine.

As we made our way back to the ship my guide produced a little metal crucifix and some papers which he begged me to buy. He informed me that the papers were the manuscripts of a system of ceremonial magic, "The Secret Grimoire of Turiel". These were the original dated 1518. written in Latin, and a copy written in English, a translation from the original. The original copy was in fragments, almost worn away, but the copy was intact. I told the guide the original was not worth taking, but I would buy the cross and the copy. He agreed to this, and thus I became the possessor of the Grimoire. Since 1927 I have rewritten the manuscript owing to the fact that I was on the move so often, and for the sake of convenience the new writing was entered into a note book of convenient size, and the copy purchased in Las Palmas I destroyed. I have reason to believe that the present manuscript is the only one in existence. In publishing same I feel sure that it will appeal to all students of occultism as an additional item of interest. It has much to commend it. Though small in volume it is a complete system of Ceremonial Magic. The former owner admitted that he had made use of the formula contained therein. For his experiments in the Art he, a former priest, had been defrocked. This he said was the reason why the two priests in the Cathedral had not acknowledged his smile.

MARIUS MALCHUS.

Westminster, 1954.

THE SECRET GRIMOIRE OF TURIEL

OBSERVATIONS and method of Invoking related with great pains and diligent research.

Retire thyself Seven Days free from all company and fast and pray from sunset to sunrise. Rise every morning at Seven of the clock, and the three days previous to the Work fast upon bread and water and humble thyself before Almighty God. Watch and pray all night before the Work.

And on the day before draw the lines of the Circle in a fair place. and let the diameter of the Circle be 9 feet. Wash thyself the same day quite clean.

Make the pentacles forthwith and provide the other things necessary, with Incensing. Then being clothed in pure Vestments and having covered the Altar and lighted the candles begin about half an hour before sunrise on the Day assigned for the Work and say with great Devotion as follows:—

First Morning Prayer :— Almighty and Most Merciful Father I beseech Thee that Thou wilt vouchsafe favourably to hear me at this time whilst I make my humble prayer and Supplication unto Thee. I confess unto Thee O Lord Thou hast justly punished me for my manifold sins and offences but Thou hast promised at what time soever a sinner doth repent of his sins and wickedness Thou wilt pardon and forgive him and turn away the remembrance of them from before Thy face.

Purge me therefore O Lord and wash me from all my offences in the Blood of Jesus Christ that, being pure and clothed in the Vestments of Sanctity, I may bring this Work to perfection, through Jesus our Lord who liveth and reigneth with Thee in the Unity of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

Sprinkle thyself with Holy Water and say —Asperges me Domine hysope, et mundabor. Lavabis me et super nivem dealbabor.

Hail O Mighty God, for in Thy power alone abideth the Key to all exorcising of Principalities, Powers, Thrones, Angels and Spirits. Amen.

Then bless your Girdle, saying : —

O God Who by the breath of Thy nostrils framed Heaven and Earth and wonderfully disposed all things therein in six days, grant that this now brought to perfection by Thine unworthy servant may be by Thee blessed and receive Divine virtue, power and Influence from Thee that every thing therein contained may fully operate according to the hope and confidence of me Thine unworthy servant through Jesus Christ our Lord and Saviour. Amen.

The Blessing of the Light

I bless thee in the Name of the Father. O Holy, Holy Lord, God, Heaven and Earth are full of Thy Glory before Whose face there is a bright shining light forever; bless now, O Lord, I beseech Thee, these creatures of light which Thou hast given for the kindly use of man that they, by Thee being sanctified, may not be put out or extinguished by the power, malice, or filthy darkness of the devil, but may shine forth brightly and lend their assistance to this my Work, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Then say, ‘Asperges me, etc.’”

Consecration of the Sword :—

O Great God Who art the God of strength and fortitude and greatly to be feared, bless O Lord, this Instrument that it may be a terror unto the Enemy, and therewith I may fight with and over-come all phantasms and oppositions of the Enemy, through the influence and help of Thy most Holy Mighty Name, On, St.

Agla, and in the Cross of Jesus Christ our only Lord. Amen.

Be thou blessed and consecrated in the Name of the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost.

Asperges me, etc.

Benediction of the Lamens (Symbois. Circles) :—

O God Thou God of my Salvation I call upon Thee by the mysteries of Thy most holy Name, On, St. Agla, I worship and beseech Thee by Thy Names El, Elohim, Elohe, Zebaoth, and by Thy Mighty Name Tetragrammaton, Saday, that Thou wilt be seen in the power and force of these Thy most holy names so written filling them with divine virtue and Influence through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Benediction of the Pentacles:— Eternal God which, by Thy Holy Wisdom, hast caused great power and virtue to lie hidden in the characters and Holy Writings of Thy Spirits and Angels, and hast given unto man that with them, faithfully used, power thereby to work many things; bless these, O Lord, framed and written by the hand of me Thine unworthy servant that being filled with divine virtue and Influence by Thy Commands, O Most Holy God, they may shew forth their virtue and power to Thy praise and Glory through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

I bless and consecrate you in the Name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost, the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

Asperges me, etc. Amen.

Benediction of the Garment

O Holy, blessed and Eternal Lord God Who art the God of purity and delightest that our souls should appear before Thee in clean and pure and undefiled Vestments being cleansed, blessed, and consecrated by Thee, I may put them on, being therewith clothed I may be whiter than snow both in soul and body in Thy presence this day, in and through the ment, death, and passion of our onty Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, Who liveth and reigneth with Thee in the Unity of the Holy Spirit, ever one God, world without end. The God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob bless thee, purge thee, and make thee pure, and be thou clean in the Name of the Father, Son and Holy Ghost. Amen.

In this Thy Holy Sign O God, ; fear no evil. By Thy Holy Power, and by this Thy Holy Sign all evil doth flee.

By Thy Holy Name and Thy Power which Secret was revealed to Moses, through the Holy Names written in this Book, depart far from me all ye workers of iniquity.

Bless, O Lord, I beseech Thee, this place and drive away all evil and wickedness far from it. Sanctify and make it become meet and convenient for Thy Servant to finish and bring to pass therein his desires, through Jesus Christ our Lord, Amen.

Be thou blessed and purified in the Name of the Father, Son, ami Holy Ghost. Amen.

Benediction of the Perfumes :— The God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, the God of Jacob, bless here the creatures of these kinds that they may give forth the power of their odours so that neither the Enemy nor any false Imaginaions may be able to enter into them, through our Lord Jesus Christ, to whom be honour and Glory now, henceforth, and for ever. Amen.

Sprinkle them with Holy Water, saying, “Asperges me, Domine, etc.”

Exorcism of Fire

I exorcise thee, O thou creature of Fire, by Him by Whom all things are made, that forthwith thou wilt cast away every phantasm from thee that it shall not be able to do any hurt in any thing. Bless, O Lord, this creature of Fire and sanctify it, that it may be biessed to set forth the praise of Thy Holy Name that no hurt may be able to come unto me, through the virtue and defence of our Lord Jesus Christ. Amen.

HAZEL
WAND

SWORD

Invocation for Sunday (SOL) :— Come, Heavenly Spirits who have the effulgent rays of the Sun, Luminous Spirits who are ready to obey the power of the great Tetragrammaton, come and assist me in the operation that I am making under the auspices of the Grand Light of Day which the Eternal Creator hath formed for the use of universal nature. I invoke you for these purposes. Be favourable and auspicious to what I shali ask in the Name of Amioram, Adonai, Sabaoth.

Invocation for Monday (MOON)

Haste ye Sublime and Intelligent Genil who are obedient to the Sovereign Arcana, come and assist me in the operation that I undertake under the auspices of the Grand Luminary of the Night. I invoke you to this end and implore you to be favourable and hear my entreaties in the Name of Him Who commands the spirits of the Four Quarters of the Universal Mansions: Inhabit, Bileth, Mizabu, Abinzaba.

Invocation for Tuesday (MARS)

Come Children of the Red Genii who have executed the order of the Sovereign Master of the Universe upon the armies of the rash Sennacherib, come and assist me in the operation that I undertake under the auspices of the third brilliant luminary of the firmament; be favourable to my entreaties in the Name of Adonay Sabaoth.

Invocation of Wednesday (MERCURY) :— Run to me with speed, come to me ye Spirits of Mercury who preside over the operation of this day, hear favourably the present invocation that I make to you under the Divine Names of Venoel, Urael, be kind and ready to second my undertakings. Render them efficacious.

Invocation for Thursday (JUPITER)

Come speedily ye Olepid Spirits who preside over the operation of this day.
Come, Incomprehensible Zebarel and all your legions, haste to my assistance and be propitious to my undertakings, be kind and refuse me not your powerful aid and assistance.

Invocation for Friday (VENUS)

Come on the wings of the wind, ye happy Genii who preside over the workings of the heart. Come in the Name of the Great Tetragrammaton; hear favourably the Invocation that I make this day, destined to the wonder of love. Be ready to lend me your assistance to succeed in what I have undertaken under the hope that you will be favourable to me.

Invocation for Saturday (SA TURN)

Come out of your gloomy solitude ye Saturnine spirits, come with your cohort, come with diligence to the place where I am going to begin my operation under your auspices; be attentive to my labours and contribute your assistance that it may rebound to the honour and glory of the Highest.

CHARACTER OF ARATRON LORD OF SATURN.

Perfumes :— Saifron, with the wood of Atoes, the Elder and the Pine. Add to it a grain of Musk, and consecrate the whole, pulverized and mixed together in a paste.

CHABACTER OF PRALEG LORD OF MARS.

Perfumes

The head of a frog, the Bovine Blood, a grain of White Poppy, Fiowers of Camomile, and Camphor, pulverized into a paste by the mixing of the blood of a Virgin Kid.

CHARACTER of PHUL LORD OF THE Moon.

Perfumes :— Leaves of the Mandrake, Sal Ammonia, Roots of Gentian, Valerian herbs finely cut, a little Sulphur, made into a paste with the blood of a black Cat.

CHARACTER OF J3ETHOR LORD OF JUPITER.

Perfumes

Sandalwood of the East, leaves of Agrimony, Choves, powder of Henbane. Beat all into a powder. Make thereof a paste with Foxes' blood and the brains of a Magpie.

CHARACTER OF OPHIEL LORD OF MERCURY.

Perfumes

The seed of an Ash Tree, the wood of the Aloe, leaves of the Scullcap Herb, Mandrake roots, and the end of a Quili, made into small balls (pihis).

CRARACTER OF HAGITH LORD OF VENUS.

Perfumes

Musk, Juniper berries, wood of Áloes, dried Red Roses, dried leaves of Elder, pulvenzed, and made into a paste with the blood of a Pigeon.

CHARACTER OF OCH LORD OF THE SUN.

Perfumes

Grains of Bhack Pepper, grains of Hogsbane, powder of Sulphur, made into a paste with the blood of a Bat, and the brains of a black Cat.

PART THE SECOND

CONTAINING INVOCATIONS, CONJURATIONS, ARO EXORCISMS OF TREE

BAND OF SPIRITS

FORM OF CONJURING AND EXORCISING SPIRITS TO ~

Oration lo be said when putting on the Vestures ∴— Amacor, Amacor, Amides, Theodamai, Aintor, by the merits of Thy Angels, O Lord, I with I put on the garments of Righteousness, that this which I desire I may bring to perfection through the most holy Adonay, Whose kingdom endureth for ever and ever. Amen.

This on the ather side

The Lamien

Prayer

• Holy, Holy Lord God, from Whom all holy desires do proceed, I beg Thou wilt be merciful unto me at this time, granting I may become a True Magician and contemplate of Thy wondrous works at all times, in the Name of the Father and of the Son. Therefore in all my doings and at all times I will call upon Thy Most Holy Name, O Lord, for Thy help and assistance.

I beseech Thee, O Lord, that Thou wilt purge me and wash me in the blood of our Saviour, from all my sins and frailties, and that Thou wilt henceforward vouchsafe to keep and defend me from pride, lusts, cursing, blasphemy, unfaithfulness, and all other deadly sins and enormous offences, profaneness and spiritual wickedness ; but that I may lead a godly, sober, faithful, constant and pure life, walking uprightly in Thy sight, through the merits of Jesus Christ, Thy Son, our Lord and Saviour.

Omnipotent and Eternal Lord God Who sittest in Heaven and dost from thence behold all the dwellers upon earth, most mercifully I beseech Thee to hear and answer the petition of Thine unworthy servant, which I shali make unto Thee at this time, through Jesus Christ our Lord, Who hiveth and reigneth with Thee in the unity of Thy Holy Spirit, ever One God, worlhd without end.

Sead down, O Lord, the Spirit of Thy Grace upon me. O God, put fear far from me, and give me an abundance in Thy faith, whereby all things are made possib!e unto man; put evexy wicked phantom far from my mind, and grant me true zeal, fervour, and intentive spirit of zeal, and prayer, that I may offer up a welh-pleasing sacrifice unto Thee. Let me use Thy ministering spirits and Angels, O Lord, as thereby I may attain true wisdom and knowledge.

Our Father, etc.

Credo, etc.

Ave Maria, etc.

Glory be to the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost; as it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shalll be, world without end. Amen.

Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of Sabaoth, which will come to judge the quick and the dead; Thou art Alpha and Omega, the first and the iast, King of Kings, and Lord of Lords, Ioth, Abiel, Anathiel, Aniasim, Alganabro, El, Sedomel, Gayes, Hehi, Messias, Tolosm, Elias, Eschiros, Athanatos; by these Thy Holy Names, and al! others, I do call upon Thee and beseech Thee, O Lord, by Thy Nativity and baptism, by Thy Cross and Passion, by Thine ascension, and by the coming of Thy Holy Ghost, by the bitterness of Thy Soul when it departed from Thy body; by Thine Angels, Archangels, prophets, patriarchs, and by al! Thy Saints, and by alt the Sacraments which are made in Thine honour, I do worship and beseech Thee, I bless and desire Thee, to accept these prayers and conjurations.

I implore Thee, O Holy Adonay, Amay, Horta, Vegadoro, Ysion, Ysesy, and by al! Thy Holy Names, and by al! Thine Angels, Archangels, and Powers, Dominations, and Virtues, and by Thy Name with which King Solomon did bind up the devils and shut them np, Ethrack, Evanher, Agla, Goth, Joth, Othie, Venock, Nabrat, and by al! Thy Holy Names which are written in this book, and by the virtue of them all, that Thou enable me to congregate all Thy spirits, that they may give me true answers to all my demands.

O Great and Eternal Virtue of the Highest, which Thou disposest their being come to judgment, Viachem, Stimilomaton, Esphares, Tetragrammaton, Oboram, Cryon, Elijtion, Onela, Brassim, Aoym, Messias, Soter, Emanuel, Sabaoth, Adonay, I worship Thee. I implore Thee with all the strength of my mmd that by Thee my present prayers, consecrations, and conjurations may be ha!!owed. In the Name of the most merciful God of Heaven and of Earth, of the Seas and of the Infernais, by Thine Omni-potent help may I perform this Work.

Helie, Helion, Esseju, Deus Eternis, Eloy, Clemens Deus, Sanctus Sabaoth, Deus Exercillum, Adonay, Deus Mirabilis, Jao, Verax, Ampheneton, Saday, Dominator, On, Fortissimus Deus, invest with Thy blessed help this Work begun of Thee, that it may be consummated by Thy mighty power. Amen.

Amoruli, Tametia, Latisten, Rabur, Tanetia, Latisten, Escha, Aloelin, Alpha et Omega, Leytse, Oraston, Adonay. Amen.

Names and Offices of the Spirits. Messengers. and Intelligences of the Seven Planets Spirits of the Sun.

Gabriel.

Vianathraba.

Corat.

Messengers of the Sun.

Burchat.

Suceratos.

Capabile.

Intelligences of the Sun.

Haludiel

Machasiel.

Chassiel.

Spirits of the Moon.

Gabriel.

Gabraei.

Madios.

Messengers of the Moon.

Anael.

Pabael.

Ustael.

Intefligences of the Moori.

Uriel.

Naromiel.

Abuori.

Spirits of Saturn.

Samael.

Bachiel.

Astel.

Messengers of Saturn.

Sachieh.

Zoniel.

Hubaril.

Intefligences of Saturu.

Mael.

Orael.

Valnum.

Spirits of Jupiter.

Setchiel.

Chedusitanieh.

Corael

Messengers of Jupiter.

Tunel. (See Secret Grimoire of Turiel).

Conieh.

Babiel.

Intelligences of Ju/iter.

Kadiel.

Maltiel.

Huphatrieb.

Estael.

Spirits of Venus.

Thamael.

Tenariel.

Arragon.

Messengers of Venus.

Coiznas.

Peajel

Penael.

Intelligences of Venus.

Penat.

Thiel.

Rael

Teriapel.

Spirits of Mercury.

Mathlai.

Tarmiel.

Baraborat.

Messengers of Mercury.

Raphael.

Ramel.

Doremiel.

Intelligences of Mercury.

Aiediat.

Modiat.

Sugmonos.

Sal!ales.

Presiding Spirits of Jupiter.

Sachiel.

Castiel.

Asasiel.

Presiding Spirits of Venus.

Anael.

Rachiel.

Sachiel.

Presiding Spirits of Mars.

Samael.

Satael.

Amabiel.

Presiding Spirits of Mercury.

Raphael.

Uriel.

Seraphiel.

Angeli Glorioso supradicti estote coadjutores et auxiliares in omnibus negotijs et interrogationibus in omnibus celensq (?)
causis per Eum qui venturus est judiciase vivos et mortuos.

Omnipotent and Eternal God Who hast ordained the whole creation for Thy praise and glory and for the salvation of man, I earnestly beseech Thee that Thou wouldst send one of Thy spirits of the Orden of Jupiter, one of the messengers of Sachiel whom Thou hast appointed presiding spirit of Thy firmament at this time, most faithfully, willingly to show unto me those things which I shall demand or require of him, and truly execute my desires. Nevertheless, O most Holy God, Thy will and not mine be done, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Invocation : I call upon thee, Sachiel, Castiel, and Asasiel!, in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, Blessed Trinity, Inseparable Unity, I invoke and entreat thee, Sachiel, Castiel, and Asasiel, in this hour to attend to the words and conjurations which I shall use by the Holy Names of God, El, Elohim, Elohe, Eeoba, Sabaoth, Elion, Eschiros, Adonay, Jay, Tetragrammaton, Saday; I conjure and excite you by the Holy Names of God, Hagios, Otheos, Ischyros, Athanatos, Paracletos, Agla, On, Alpha and Omega, Ausias, Tolimi, Elias, Irnos, Aniaya, Horta, Vegadora, Antir, Sibranat, Amatha, Baldachia, Anuoram, Anexpheton, Via, Vita, Manus, Fons, Origo, Filius and by all the other Holy, Glorious, Great, and Unspeakable, Mysterious, Mighty, Powerful, and Incomprehensible Names of God, that you attend unto the words which I shall utter, and send unto me Tarje!, Coniel, on Babel, messengers of your sphere, to tel! unto me such things as I shall demand of him, in the Name of the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost.

I entreat thee, Setchiel, Chedustaniel, and Corael, by the whole host of Heaven, Seraphims, Cherubims, Thrones, Dominations, Virtues, Powers, Principalities, Archangels and Angels, by the great and glorious Spirits Orphaniel, Tetra, Pagiel, Salmia, Pastor, Salun, Azimor, and by your Star which is Jupiter, and by all the constellations of Heaven, and by whatsoever you obey, and by your Character which you have given and proposed and confirmed, that you attend unto me according to the prayers and petitions which I have made unto Almighty God, and that you forthwith send unto me one of your messengers who may willingly and truly and faithfully fulfil all my desires, wishes and commands, and that you command him to appear unto me in form of a beautiful angel clothed in white vestures, gently, courteously, kindly, and affably entering into communication with me, and that he neither bring terror nor fear unto me, or obstinately deny my requests, neither permitting any evil spirits to appear or approach in any way to hurt, terrify, or affright me, nor deceiving me in any wise; through the virtue of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, in Whose Name I attend, waiting for and expecting your appearance. Fiat, Fiat, Fiat. Amen.

Interrogations : –“Comest thou in peace, in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost ““Yes”.

“Thou art welcome, noble Spirit. What is thy name?

“Turiel .

“I have called thee here, Turiel, in the Name of Jesus of Nazareth, at Whose Name every knee doth bow, both of things in Heaven, Earth, and Heil, and every tongue shall confess there is no Name like unto the Name of Jesus, Who hath given power unto man to bind and to loose all things in His Name, yea, even unto them that trust in His salvation. Art thou the messenger of Setchiel

“yes”

“Wilt thou confirm thyself unto me at this time, and from henceforward reveal all things unto me that I shall desire to know and teach me how to increase my wisdom and knowledge, and show unto me the secrets of the Magick Art, and of the liberal sciences, that I may set forth the praise and glory of Almighty God

“Yes”.

“Then, I pray thee, give and confirm thy Character unto me, whereby I may call thee at all times, and also swear unto me this Oath, and I will righteously keep my vow and covenant unto Almighty God, and will courteously receive thee at all times when thou dost appear to me “Forasmuch as thou camest in peace and quietness and hast answered me and unto my petitions, I give humble and hearty thanks unto Almighty God, in whose Name I called thee and thou camest. And now thou mayest depart in peace unto thy Orders, and return unto me again at what time soever I shall call thee by

Licence to Depart : —thine own Oath, or by thy name, or by thine Order, or by thine

Office which is granted from the Creator. And the Grace of God be with thee and me and upon the whoie Israel of God. Amen. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost, as it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Fiat. Fiat. Fiat. Amen “.

Form of a Bond of Spirits given by Turiel, Messenger of the Spirits of Jupiter:

Gloria Deo in Excelsis.

I, Turiel, Messenger of the Spirits of Jupiter, appointed there-unto by the Creator of all things visible and invisible, do swear and promise, and plighting faith and troth unto thee in the presence, by, and before the Great Lord of Heaven and the whole company of Heaven, by all the Holy Names of God, do swear and bind myself unto thee, by all the contents of God's Sacred Writ, by the Incarnation, death and passion, resurrection, and glorious Ascension of Jesus Christ, by all the Holy Sacraments, by the Mercy of God, by the Glory and Eyes of Heaven, by the forgiveness of sin, and hope of eternal salvation, by the Great Day of Doom, by all the Angels and Archangels, Seraphim, Cherubim, Dominations, Thrones, Principalities, Powers, and Virtues, Patriarchs, Prophets, Saints, Martyrs, Innocents, and all others of the blessed and glorious Company of Heaven, and by al! the sacred powers and virtues above rehearsed, and by whatever is holy and binding, thus do I swear now, and promise unto thee that I will hasten unto thee, and appear clearly unto thee at all times and places, and in all hours, days, and minutes, from this time forward until thy life's end, wbensoever thou shalt call me by my name, or by my Office, and will come unto thee in what form thou shalt desire, whether it be visibly or invisibly; I will answer a!! thy desires. And in testimony whereof, and before all the Powers of Heaven, I have hereunto set, subscribed, and confirmed my Character unto thee. So help me God. Fiat. Amen.

The Character of Turiel.

FINIS

THE MAGIC OF ARMADEL

Electronic Version Prologue

This grimoire was first translated by Mr. MacGregor Mathers into English. Now for the first time in English I Frater Alastor , rendering into the html format. When Mathers made his translation he notice that the title page was the last page of the grimoire, so he moved to the front but keep the rest of the chapters in the same order. He also notice that this grimoire began speaking about the magick circle like if it where something that the reader should already know.

Now it is my believe that the whole grimoire was written backward, this is to say that you should read the last page first (the title page) then the last chapter and so on. If you read it this way you will see that make a lot of sense. In Mathers version the first chapter is a reference to the magick circle and the License to depart, it make no sense to begin a grimoire that way since the license to depart is the last think that a magician read. Also if you fallow the Latin titles in Mathers version the text begin with the Sanhedrin, Jesus and go on to the creation of Adam and the demons and the angels etc. This order is completely the opposite of that one on the bible this is god first, then the angels, the demons, Adam, Jesus, the Crucifixion and the Sanhedrin. So neither to say I had inverted the orders of the chapters in Mathers version under the believing that this is the way that was intended to be read.

Frater Alastor.

LIBER ARMADEL

Seu totius Cabalae perfectissima brevissima et infallibilis Scientia tam speculativa quam practiqua

Dominum Deum timebus et illi seli serbies per nomen illius tremendae at adorabilis Majestatis omnibus diebus vitae tuae.

operaribus

TRANSLATTON OF THE FOREGOING

The Fear of the Lord is the Beginning of Wisdom. In the Name of the God of Israel, One and Triune, Abraham believed, and it was counted unto him for righteousness. Amen.

Nisi Dominus Operitus nobiscum in vanum laborant qui operantur.

Unless the Lord work with us, in vain do they strive who labour.

De Profundis Clamavi ad Te Domine, Domine Exaudi Orationem meam.

Out of the Depths Have I cried unto Thee O Lord, O Lord hear my prayer.

Fiant aures tuae intendentes un vocem Deprecationis mea.

Let Thine ears be inclined unto the voice of my supplication.

THE CHARACTERS OF MICHAEL

The Characters of Michael

(Taken from the German Original)

Therefore Hear O Man The Lord, the Lord Our God, is one Lord. Thou shalt love

the Lord thy God with thine whole heart, with thy whole Soul, and with thy whole strength, and thy neighbour as thyself. And these words which I teach unto thee shall be in thine heart, thou shalt relate them unto thy children and thou shalt meditate upon them, when thou sittest in thine house, when thou walkest by the wayside, when thou sleepest, and when thou arisest; and thou shalt bind them like unto a staff for thine hand, and thou shalt place them between thine eyes and thou shalt write them upon the threshold and portals of thy dwelling place. AMEN.

Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God, in any soever of thy works; but keeping His precepts and testimony, and ceremonies, most pure, thou shalt do that which is pleasing and good in the sight of the Lord with zeal and charity, not out of curiosity or ostentation.

If thus thou shalt have heard the voice of the Lord thy God and shalt have walked in his ways, that thou mayest do and keep His commandments, the Lord thy God shall make these more excellent than all the Nations which be spread abroad upon the Earth; and by reason of that blessing shall they come unto thee and learn of thee, Blessed shalt thou be in the City, and blessed shalt thou be in the field, and blessed shall be the fruit of thy body. AMEN.

But the God of these, Who is also our God, is in Heaven, and in Earth, and in the Abysses, and He doeth whatsoever He will. They who fear the Lord have put their trust in the Lord, He is their helper and defender. Would that my life were directed to the safeguard of thy justification. Also I have sought thee out, because thou hast caused me to have life hereby. Let it go forth unto my works. Direct thou them according to Thy saying, and let not injustice have dominion over me

When, therefore, thou shalt be worthy to understand in what manner thy vow and thy natal day are to be observed with circumspection and purity:

Take note of this:

Are there not twelve Months in the Year?

Is there not one hour in each single month?

Does not this hour pass by?

And thus let it then pass by with chastity, fasting, ardent prayer and desire, desiring also your Vow by the Divine inspiration and therefore fit to be carried out.

This following is a fitting prayer.

ORATIO

Initium Sapientiae Timor Domini in Nomine Dei Israel, LIni et Trino, Credidit Abraham et ei reputatumfuit in justitiam. AMEN.

THE PREPARATION OF THE SOUL (II)

Santi Andrea et Thoma circumvallate me.

O Saint Andrew and (Saint) Thomas, be a defence about me.

Sancte Michael auxiliate omnibus operationibus meis quoniam quis sicut Dominum Virtutum et nullus certe nisi solus deus meus magnus et terribile super omnes qui in exercitu ejus sunt ideo enim voto voverint domino Deo meo Jesu me possidents et circumvallante gratia sua et dominus Deus Jesus imposita mihi Lege sua sit mihi semper a cunctis diebus et momentis vitae meae unum patrem et deum meum— et si vere Emmanuel amabilis.

O Saint Michael bring thine aid unto all mine Operations, for who is like unto the Lord of Virtues; and assuredly there is none else but my Lord God, the only Great and terrible over all who be in His Army, for hereunto by vow are they vowed unto my Lord God Jesus, Who possesseth and defendeth me by His Grace. Also may the Lord God Jesus having imposed upon me His Law, be ever mine in every Day and moment of my life as my Father and God, and thus truly my beloved Emmanuel.

Sancte Petre ad glorium et utilitatem proximi ure in me omnes iniquitates meas.

O Saint Peter, unto the (Divine) Glory and the good of my neighbour, bum up in me all mine iniquities.

San te Paule obviam este deprecationis meae.

O Saint Paul, be thou propitious unto my prayer.

Confitebor Jesu tibi Christi rex Aeternae gloriae verbum caro factum est, ex

Maria de Spiritu Sancte te humillime deprecor per vulnere tua sanctissima quae sunt fons regenerationis nos trahere in fide et charitate per delectissimam Mariam Matrem tuam semper immaculatam et omnes sanctes tuos ne impediar opere ad mortem justificari in fide et charitate quoniam fides sine operibus mortua, non nobis domine non nobis sed nomini tuo, nequando dicant gentes ubi est.

I will confess myself unto Thee, O Jesus Christ, King of Eternal Glory, the Word is made flesh from Mary by the Holy Spirit; I pray Thee most humbly by Thy most holy wounds which are the Foundation of our Regeneration in Faith and Charity; by Thy Most delightful Mother Mary, ever Immaculate; and by all Thy Saints let me not be hindered in my work, unto death be justified in Faith and in Charity, since Faith without Works is dead. Not unto us, O Lord, not unto us, but unto thy Name; lest the heathen may say: Where is He

Let us become as little children at birth, for unless we be born again we shall not see the wonders of God, nor yet in any way progress in the Art.

Good is fasting with prayer, and almsgiving, and vow.

Before the Oration, prepare the Soul

THE PREPARATION OF THE SOUL (1)

Before invoking the Spirits it is necessary to make a (Magical) Circle, and place thyself in the midst thereof after having sprinkled the same with Holy Water saying:

‘In Nomine Patris + et Fuji + et Spiritus Sancti.’¹

‘In the Name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost.’

‘Res pice in me per Sanctissimos Angelos Tuos in Nomine Jeus de Maria Virgine semper immaculata Nati, et Ventas Tua manet in aeternum—Amen.

‘Examine me thoroughly by Thy most Holy Angels, in the Name of Jesus, born of Mary, the ever Immaculate Virgin; and may Thy Truth endure for ever— Amen.’

The Magick Circle

(Taken from the German Original)

Before the Oration prepare thy Soul, and be not thou like unto a man who tempteth a God.

ORATION SEMPER PRECEDENS ACTUM

(Dirigatur quaese et humillime.

Deprecor Domine Deus Meus Omnipotens in conspectu Tuo Operatio mea et comittentier mihi et operatione mea sanctissimi (here follow a collection of scratches evidently intended to represent Hebrew Letters which I imagine are intended to stand for the words: ‘IHVH Elohim, Ab, Ben Ve-Ruach Haqodesh.’ ‘Tetragrammaton Elohim, Father, Son and Holy Spirit.’)

Ad Majorem Nomini Tui gloriam, edificationem et utilitatem proximi mei. Amen.

Translation of the Foregoing.

THE ORATION ALWAYS TO BE MADE BEFORE OPERATION

(also I warn you that it is to be performed with the greatest humility).

In Thy Sight O Lord mine Omnipotent God, do I pray for mine Operation, and may these most Holy (Names) be in charge over me and my Operation... unto the Greater Glory of Thy Name, and the edification and profit of my neighbour. Amen.

COR ERGO ET SCIETUR UNUM SUNT

PUTREUS M ALE STUM

THE VISION OF DUST

Wherefore let it be granted that dry bones having been reduced in to a most fine powder, that this also may be refined and compounded together like unto the Thine in a name of Moses the Blood. Neither ever hereafter shouldest thou despise this holiest Mystery; for thee the Spirit of Life is herein like as in the Dust of a Man.

Since all these (matters) have been placed before thy true heart, which also the Lord God hath chosen for the legitimate Tabernacle, may He further bless all thy works in thy time

By His Angel Raphael He appeareth unto the blessed Tobias and in his journey he put to flight all Malice of heart and every kind of Demon which obsesses, and (caused) Simplicity of heart, Purity and Faith in Prayer to have entire dominion with him.

Is there not sought in the Imagination those things which one hath not known, and is there not pleasure in the excitation thereof? Hath not Memory been willing to aid that which the Imagination hath clothed with form, so that one may see of what nature such things may be and whether any further development of them may be (advisable)? Hath not the Intellect having applied them unto Itself, known how to treat in thee the things cast forth by the Memory, and this to what degree and extent according unto their faculties and powers? Do not Memory, imagination, and Intellect operate (simultaneously) together? For at once and in unity these (three) which be united together do then become Intellectual Action. Is not the Heart a recurved Vase of Blood? If among all these so many be found similar that they may be perfected hereunto, it will be the same concerning His people.³

Study this weH O Man, ardent for Wisdom, in the following out of this Path desiring all things, seeking all things, and understanding all things, seeing that in thyself are all things.

Assimilated; Contained: Willed. Was it not on the Fifth Day⁵ that Man was made a Living Soul?

Was there not a Soul⁶ which came forth (into manifestation) on the Third Day? Did it not also give forth and withdraw (the faculty of) Hope, and before that it withdrew, did it not rejoice in the Quinary Number; going forth and returning in that same Number; for it rejoiced in the Nature of the Creatures which do exist in the Number of the Quinary.

First God, (then) Spirit and Matter. Most powerfully do these operate the separation of Matter violently transformed by Life. How can such (Life) do aught but delight in the Number of the Five, seeing that therein is hidden every Mystery of a (Past), Present and Future Age, since in such (Eternal) Epoch is the Name of the Lord God.

Also in the Prophecy of Ezekiel, as it was taught unto him, the Lord God said: ‘Let the Spirit come from the Four Winds, and brood over these that they may revive in the Name PELECH, now JESUS.’ The Lord God PELEG, now JESUS. The Spirit having entered into them, also they spake. It is not also related by inspiration that the Lord said unto Moses: ‘Take unto thee Aromatics; Stacte, Galbanum of good odour, and thus Luci, of equal weight: hereof shalt thou make a perfume composed according to the Art of the Apothecary, mixed with care; pure and sanctified, and most fitting to be offered unto me. And when thou shalt have beaten it into most fine powder, then shalt thou place it before the Tabernacle of the Testimony in the which place I will appear unto thee, Holy of Holies shall it be. Thou shalt compose nothing similar for thine own use, seeing that it is Holy unto the Lord.’ Man who was called Adam, also called by their (true) Names all the Animals, as well the Birds of Heaven as the Beasts of Earth, But there was not found an aid for Adam who was like unto him.^o

Is it not written and reported by tradition’ that the Lord God led forth Ezekiel in His Spirit, and left him in the midst of a field which was full of dry bones, and led him round about these bones in that region, and prophesied over those bones. And in the Name of the Lord he said unto them: ‘O Dry Bones, hear ye the Word of the Lord Thus said the Lord unto you: “So therefore will I send forth My Spirit unto you, and ye shall live, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.” Also thus was it done at the same time that Ezekiel did prophesy over those dry bones.’

Since in that prophesying there was a sound made, and behold there was a great movement, and the bones approached and joined each unto the other together, and the nerves and flesh formed upon them, and the skin was spread above, though as yet they had not the Spirit of Life. Unto that Spirit, then did Ezekiel prophesy his Will, in all humility, sobriety, mercy and patience. And though, whosoever thou mayest be, who in thy life and action possesses thy Soul in peace, when therefore thou shalt know the Mystery,¹² be thou well ware not to reveal it. When the Spirit willeth seek to enter into the Knowledge of the Lord, and there shall rise an intellectual fountain of Understanding and Wisdom. The (celestial) LIGFIT fleeth the (Earthly) Light, and operateth in Secret until thine Heart is tormented with understanding and with the desire of Understanding, since it is that which seeketh and which is hidden from Man. Is it not written and reported by tradition, and hast thou not read, that the Lord God formed Man of the Mud¹³ of the Earth, and that Man became a Living Soul, and that when He had formed Man He placed him in the Paradise of Pleasure to work it and to keep it.

And seeing that the Lord God, having formed from the ground all the animals of the Earth and all the winged things of heaven, did bring all these living creatures before Adam himself, then did his Name (that is) the Spirit (or Breath) go forth (upon them); and the Dust¹⁴ being arrested, there did it remain, and the Rose¹⁵ was restored. And so also is the Man who understandeth the Mysteries of the Book, and of the Similitude of the Rose, and the Mystery of the Dust; preserving the same in the inmost of his heart like a Magically guarded Treasure: and as a Gift of the Highest, most sacred and most unutterable nature. But shouldest thou make an abuse hereof, then shall it be unto thee as a most heavy and scandalous thing and shall bring about the utter ruin of all thy worldly possessions, of thy body, of thine intellect, and of thy Soul. Further also take heed that thou reveal it not to any in writing, nor yet even the least part of the Mysteries of this Book. Wherefore mayest thou be contented herein, with all charity and zeal thereof, and thou shalt have done sufficient; for God knoweth who desireth truly for His Grace, His Light and the Understanding of His Empire; seeing that in His Name he hath known Him.

When thou shalt have comprehended the Misterium Stile, which is the Most Holy Gift of God, this is that which the Lord God PELECH now JESUS revealeth or permitteth to be revealed unto those who do seek His Will.

Is it not reported by tradition and written ‘In the Beginning the Elohim created’ (Bereshith Bara Elohim). . . Man on the Sixth Day; whom the Lord God took and placed in the Paradise of Pleasure, wherem was the Fountain divided into Four

Heads. There is that Most Holy Mystery, let him who hath ears to hear, hear and live O Lord God, may he be Anathema (accursed) whosoever he be, who shall have despised this most precious Mystery. Amen

Hear, O my Soul, turn unto the Lord thy God; for where there hath been Pride, there shall be also Abasement; but where there is humility (there is) also Wisdom. So, therefore, abide fast in the Lord God, saying with thine whole heart, ‘Truly I have sinned in all my ways, but I beseech Thee O Lord to take away the Iniquity of Thy Servant, seeing that nevertheless I have put my trust in Thee’

O Lord God, thou art become my oppressor, because of the multitude of my sins, seeing that I have greatly sinned, and that mine Iniquities be multiplied like unto the Sands of the Sea, and I am not worthy to lift up mine eyes unto the Height of Heaven.

THE VISION OF ANOINTING

Hath it not been written in the Scriptures, — ‘Take unto thee sweet spices, five hundred shekels of myrrh the finest and most choice, likewise thou shalt reckon two hundred and fifty shekels of Calamus,’ Are these not in the Blood, Vital and Animal Spirits? Is there not Blood in the whole Body? And there is (a certain proportion) of fat joined thereunto preserving the Spirits thereof. In the Body of the Fish preserved by Tobias were there not these Spirits (derived from) the purest faculties of all true Elementary Forces? Know thou then what most holy thing existeth as regardeth (these Elementary Forces) preserved in Nature

Therefore the Lord Pelech, now Jesus, by His Omnipotent Grace mercifully operating in Nature, protecting the Heart of the Operator in Simplicity, in Faith, in Hope and going forth in Charity, rejoicing also in Itself, directeth such Spirits according to their most sacred faculties to cooperate with such Operation of a Simple Heart.

Is it not manifested in the Book of Tobias, who himself was of a Simple Heart, that the Lord God directed the Spirits of the Liver of the Fish according to their most secret faculties, in His Adorable Name, by His Angel Raphael, to co-operate with Tobias in the casting away of the Albumen (from the eyes of his) father?

By a Number (namely) through the Tetary, is the Mercy of God the Highest Lord, Jah, turned, therefore revealing all things. David took unto himself five most clear stones from the Brook and five cakes of Shewbread, the which Bread the Laity might not have, but only the Elect. Is not the Head the seat of Imagination, of Memory and of Intellect?

THE RATIONAL TABLE:

or the QABALISTICAL LIGHT;

PENETRATING WHATSOEVER THINGS BE MOST HIDDEN AMONG THE CELESTIALS,
THE TERRESTRIALS AND THE INFERNALS

THE FIRST CHARACTERS

The First Characters which should be made upon virgin parchment, on Sunday in the Hour of the sun (see Figure 46), The first letter of your name should be written in the semi-circle 'A', and that of your surname in the semi-circle 'B'. You should wear this upon your left side (near the heart) before you proceed to invoke the Spirits, in order to make them obey you, and to gain from them that which you shall desire.

ISRAEL hath gone forth from the Beginning, from the Days of Etemity. O my Soul, possess thyself in searching out and foliowing out in thyself the Will of thy Lord PELECH Who is Jesus; for that Peace shall be thine, when M e m o r o t h the Assyrian and M e t r u m shall come to turn thee from the Eternal Law, and thus disturb thee in all thy ways.

Be unwilling to fast,¹ O my Soul; let it be at the hour of Day that thy cry may be heard on high. Is it also such a fást which the Lord hath chosen to afflict thee by day, through the depth and multitude of my iniquities, whereby 1 have excited thy wrath, and have done evil before thee unintentionally, also 1 have kept thy commands.²

The Lord God presseth me hard because of my many sins; nevertheless bow down (unto Him) O my Soul; that thou mayest rather fall into the hands of the Lord God, seeing that many are His Mercies, than into the hands of Man. Turn then, O my Soul and humble thyself before the Lord thy God. The Lord thy God hath created Israel, and truly there is a Providence which acteth in the sight of God; and him who hath cried unto Him, also He observeth intently, and listeneth unto his prayer.

Cry unto the Lord, with great insistence, and humiliate thyself O Soul, also in Chastity, in fasting, in mercy, in power, seeking out with thine whole heart in thy prayers the Will of the Lord God, and all things shall be added unto thee. From thine inmost heart and in tears shalt thou say unto the Lord thy God, 'I have sinned, nevertheless O Lord return unto me whom Thou hast humiliated.' Be in thine whole heart ever seeking Jesus, in chastity and in sobriety, in mercy and patience, and thus shalt thou possess the Soul in faith, hope, and charity; and thus shalt thou pray confidently. And whatsoever thou shalt seek in Bereshith, shall be given back unto thee in Mercavah.

CONCERNING THE PATHS OF WISDOM

These be the Characters of the Spirits of Force and Counsel (see Figure 43).

Spirits of Force & Counsel

Characters of the Spirit of Force and Counsel

This is the Sigil of Joy, and of the Spirit which goeth forth and retireth. The Characters of the Spirits of Joy (see Figure 44).

Characters of the Spirits of Joy

Thou shalt have fasted with the Lord God Pelech, now (called) Jesus, for Seven Days, the which shall be passed in humility and sobriety, in mercy and patience, in peace and equilibrium; (that is to say) in the beginning of all the Sigils of Love and Charity, and from which they do proceed.

The Characters of the Angels of Love and Charity (see Figure 45).

Characters of the Angels of Love and Charity

Is it not written and reported by tradition that ‘there were Six Men² who carne from the way of the Upper Gate which looketh toward the North, each holding in his hand a weapon of death. Also in the midst of them was one Man clothed with a robe of fine linen, and he had instruments for writing hung at his side. And when they had entered, they stood beside the Altar of Brass, And the Glory of the Lord of Israel withdrew from the cherub which was etc. . . ‘ Also in the Books of Moses (it is written)³ that with 250 shekels of each of various ingredients and with 500 shekels of Myrrh, etc., according to the weight of the Sanctuary, and with a certain measure of Olive Oil, thou shalt make a certain Holy Anointing Oil composed according to the Art of the Apothecary; and that herewith thou shalt anoint the Tabernacle of Testimony and the Ark of the Covenant, the Table with its Vessels, the Candlesticks, the Altar of Incense and that of Burnt Offering, and all things pertaining unto the Cult.

CONCERNING GOD THE UNIVERSALLY ONE

These be the Characters of the Spirits who do teach unto you all kinds of Sciences (see Figure 42). They be under the domination of CASSIEL, and are to be invoked on a Saturday at eleven o'clock at night,

In this Sigil is manifested the most glorious Science of God.

In this are taught the Paths of Wisdom¹ and their profoundest Mysteries; how we can know such paths; and how we may become worthy to wait therein. There be also shown the Mysteries of our hearts through this Number of Thirty-two. Its significations teach the Mysteries of the Regeneration of our Heart; whether from the beginning it was constituted to operate hereby and herewith, and by the Word of God; whether it was distinct in the Mind of God; and what be its place, Science and dubitation, its hope, faith and ultimate desire.

If you shalt desire to know thoroughly these Paths of Perfect and Profound Wisdom together with their Mysteries; remember the combinations of writings in the Sigil (He) which is in the centre of the figure of the Heart.

Whosoever thou mayest be, despise not this wonderful Science and Geometrical Searching Out, and the points of E o n,³ and the Mystical Numbers of the Letters. Also the Lord said unto God:⁴ ‘Go forth through the midst of the City, through the midst of Jerusalem, and sign a Symbol upon the foreheads of the men who groan and grieve over all the abominations which be in the midst thereof. ‘Also he said unto them: ‘Hear me, go ye forth through the City follow-ing after him, and smite ye every man upon whom ye shall see ‘T ha un e’.⁵ Ye shall slay them from my Sanctuary. —Begin.’

CONCERNING GOD IN HIS TRINE

PERSONALITY

(MICHAEL and his Spirits) These be the Characters of the Spirits who do teach unto you all Mystical Sciences (see Figure 41).

In this Sigil be taught the Mysteries of the Trinity Whom Abraham our Father knew, believed in and confessed. There is also taught herein how It is pleasing and harmonious in Itself, and by what ways It may be propitiated, as hath been communicable through Its Adorable Attributes. There is also (herein) taught how the whole may be communicable unto and in Thee, and as regardeth Thee in a profound and wonderful manner, through the Combinations of the Letters which be in the Great Central Triangle, between the Small Orb and Triangle. There is also (herein) taught how the Science of God may be communicable through His Attributes unto all Created Beings; and especially those most profound Mysteries which He operateth with regard both to Angels and Men, the which be shown through the combinations of the Letters which be without the Small Orb.

Also in all this Science thou shalt observe the Combinations of the Letters, of Geometry, and Gilgud or of their Numbers, in thy searching examination of all Sigils.

CONCERNING GOD, THE PRESERVER, THE DESTROYER, AND THE CREATOR

(GABRIEL and his Spirits) These Spirits do teach you all kinds of Mysteries. Thus is the Character (see Figure 40).

In this Sigil is taught what Mysteries the Lord God is willing to permit to operate in Creation, through the uncontaminate Inner Knowledge whereof also (Abraham) did rule and govern himself and went forth by the command of the Lord God to travel in the Land of Chanaan, wherein also he sojourned and was buried by his two (Sons) in a Mystical Sepulchre, that is to say in the Cave near unto Cariatarbee, wherein also Abraham, Isaac and Jacob were interred. Now this same Cariatarbee is Hebrew Mambre, and Ephrata.

In this land did Abraham behold Three and Adore One, and thus was it counted unto him for righteousness.

In this Sigil is taught Who be those Three Persons meet to be adored, and how they do harmonise together; also as concerneth the Angels and Men what Mysteries they do operate; also how they do harmoniously act through Created Beings, Angels and men. All these things be shown forth in the Letters and in the Sigil herewith given, through their Number and Combination.

CONCERNING THE CREATION OF ALL THE ANGELS

(OCH and his Spirits) These do teach you what is the Nature of the Angels. These subjects fail under the domination of Och who is a Solar Spirit, and should be invoked on a Sunday at Daybreak. Thus are the Characters (see Figure 39).

In this Sigil there is taught what is the Nature of Angels; what may be the object and end of such Creation and whether it be established to operate in the preservation and destruction of all Creatures. There is also taught Who and What is that Promised Messiah; what is the Kingdom; What is the Kingdom of Israel; what the Restitution through Him for the Wretched; what kind of a Prophet He may be; and what things can be performed by the Messiah for the welfare, restitution all liberation of His people in Daya (sic).

In this Sigil as in others (Magical ones), there be Mysteries through the combination of Geometry, Gilgud and Numbers, as well as points relating to Geometrical (Symbolism).

CONCERNING THE LIFE OF THE ANGELS BEFORE THE FALL

(ZAPHKIEL and his Spirits) These do (not) teach you of what nature is the Life of all Angels, and their business and intercourse. Thus be their Characters (see Figure 38).

Zaphkiel

In this Sigil there is taught what was the Life of the Angels before the Fall. There be taught also the Mysteries of their habitation; whether there be a place of habitation for the Rebellious Angels; whether there may be found a Place Impassable and Void; whether the Angels were without any affection of passion soever; whether they were created in happiness; and whether such is confirmed unto them.

CONCERNING THE EVANGELIC REBELLION AND EXPULSION

(LUCIFER . BELZEBUT . ASTAROT) These Spirits teach you what were the Rebellion and Fail of the Evil Spirits. Thus be their Characters (see Figures 35,36 and 37).

Characters of his Princes

In this Sigil there be taught what was the Rebellion of the Angels and what was its cause; what were the Mysteries of their Life; whether their life should be understood as a continual action; whether the Names of these Angels were given unto them through the commands of God; what things have been committed unto them, whence and of what kind; and whether a certain Angel be allotted unto any or unto some especial commands. There be taught also herein certain most hidden Mysteries, alike admirable and not admirable, concerning their Life, which same be revealed unto very few, (especially the comprehension of their Mode of Life before the Fall).

CONCERNING THE CREATION OF THE SOULS OF MEN

(ARATRON) This Spirit teacheth unto you the Creation of the Souls of Men, and what they really are; as also their estate after Death. When you cause these Spirits (under Aratron) to come unto you, see that you remain not long in their company. They will also tell you by writing, that which you desire to know. This is his Character (see Figure 34).

In this Sigil is taught what is the creation of the Souls of Mankind, and what is the object and end of such Creation. Also what portion of the Angelic Host did rebel; and what time they rebelled; and how the Rebellious Angels were cast out. Also by the Virtue and in the Virtue (of this Sigil) there be also taught Unrelatable Mysteries regarding that Rebellion and that Expulsion, as well as the Time of that Rebellion and Expulsion.

CONCERNING THE LIFE OF MAN

(PHUL. GABRIEL) These Spirits, besides the Life of Souls and of Man, do teach unto you all the Sciences which you shall desire to know. Thus are his Characters (see Figures 32 and 33).

In this Sigil there is taught what may be the Life (of Man) and the Creation (of Souls) even until the time of their sending forth into Bodies.

There be also taught the great Mysteries which the Lord is willing to perform; and whether all Souls were created from such a creation alike and at one time, and so also whether such be reserved in a certain place so that going forth thence they may be sent into Bodies and rule therein for a period of time.

These Spirits are to be invoked on a Monday and at Daybreak.

CONCERNING THE WAYS OF KNOWING THE GOOD ANGELS, AND OF CONSULTING THEM

(ZADKIEL, SACHIEL) These Spirits do give you in all things whatsoever advice may be good and fitting; they discover unto you all kinds of treasures, give them unto you and carry them whithersoever you request. They can also give you a Purse wherein is Gold and Silver. They appear unto you as soon as you invoke them, which should be on a Thursday and at Daybreak. Thus are their Characters (see Figures 30 and 31).

In this Sigil is taught of what description be the Angels of Light and Glory. There be also taught the Mystical Period of such a Life; and Mysteries, as they were unutterable, concerning such a Life; also that there was a certain Interval between their Creation and sending forth, and what be the Mysteries of such Interval.

CONCERNING THE DEVILS AND THEIR LIFE

(BETOR) This Spirit maketh you comprehend who and what the Devils or Angels of Darkness really are; the difference of their Names; their Powers; and what they can do. He, being invoked, appeareth speedily, and that at any time and at any hour. Thus is his Character (see Figure 29).

In this Sigil there be taught what are the Devils or Angels of Darkness; how they can be known and understood by their proper Names; and how they are to be distinguished from the Angels. Also whether the Devils can fully be known by proper Names; and whether the Virtue of God is impressed upon them, or followeth hereupon.

There is also herein taught how we can attract such Angels unto us as Familiar Spirits by the knowledge of their Names.

Also the Mysterious Operations of such Angels, both as regardeth ourselves and our actions.

CONCERNING THE WAYS OF KNOWING THE DEVILS AND OF BANISHING THEM

(LAUNE) This Spirit again giveth unto you the knowledge of the Devils, but I counsel you not to avail yourself of his services, for he is a very wicked Spirit and a deceiver, who will do all in his power to entrap you, and afterwards he will mock you. Thus is his Character (see Figure 28).

In this Sigil there is taught whether they can have proper Names as distinct from the Angelic Names, seeing that they were transformed through their casting out: whether they can lead their lives in any definite place, or wherein there is a place determined; whether it be permitted in the Spheres or in the compounded

Elements. Also there is herein taught whether they have free will; in what way they conduct themselves in the places which they occupy; Also whether where they live be determined by the Power of their Expulsion.

Whether again there was an interval between their Expulsion and the Creation of Adam, and (if so) what interval. Herein also are taught unheard of and most terrible Mysteries, of such Interval and of Life.

CONCERNING THE DEVILS AND HOW THEY MAY BE BOUND AND BECOME VISIBLE

(BRUF0R) This Spirit again teacheth unto you the nature and quality of the Devils, and the difference of their names and titles; how they can bind invisibly and how we can bind them. Avail not yourself of him. This is his Character. (See Figure 27).

In this Sigil is taught how we can compel the Devils to show themselves visibly in the forms which they usually take to frighten and deceive (men).

There is also (here) taught how we may know them, for the Devils are known by their Names. Also whether and how from their Names their actions and operations can be known. Also how by the light hereof we can find out the means of driving them away from us and from our works and operations.

CONCERNING THE DEVILS AND HOW THEY CAN BECOME VISIBLE

(HEMOSTOPILE) This Spirit again will make you see and know the Malice of

the Devils, and will give you as many of them as you may wish. Avail not yourself of their services. Thus is his Character (see Figure 26).

In this Sigil there be taught the methods whereby we can oblige the Devils to show themselves visibly in torments. They can deceive men and assume their forms, and change the just inclinations of men into evil passions. (Also there is herein shown) how they can take such forms, and from what media, and what methods they make use of (to do so).

CON CERNING THE DEVILS AND HOW

THEY MAY BE BOUND AND COMPELLED TO VISIBLE APPEARANCE

Now this is the Object of the Diabolic Qabalah.

(ASMODEUS. LEVIATAN) These Spirits teach you further the Malice of the Devils. Avail not yourself of the services of these Evil Spirits who are deceivers. It is alone the Name of God which can enable you to force them and all others to come unto you. Thus are their Characters (see Figures 24 and 25).

In this Sigil be the methods whereby we can force the Devils to show themselves unto us in their torments and that in bodily form.

THE SACRO-MYSTIC THEOLOGY OF OUR FATHERS

CONCERNING THE SCIENCE OF THE REGENERATION OF ADAM AND HIS CHILDREN BY PELECH

We have given and told unto you many things regarding the Good Spirits who can serve you faithfully. Those we are here about to speak of can also do the same, seeing that they served our First Parents from the Creation of the World.

OPHIEL is a Spirit of Piety. He will teach you all the Wisdom of our First Father. Thus is his Character (see Figure 23).

Characters of the Spirit which be under the
domination of OPHIEL

In this Sigil there be taught the Mysteries of the Regeneration of Adam and his Children in Time, through Pelech now shown forth visibly as Jesus. Also the forms of those in torment.

CONCERNING THE NATURE OF THE GENII

ANAEL is a Spirit which will give unto you the Knowledge of all things which he in the Order of Nature (understands), for he is a Spirit of Power, who appeareth speedily if he shall be invoked on a Sunday at Daybreak by one who is alone and in a retired place. Thus is his Character (see Figure 22).

In this Sigil there be taught who and what the Genii are, as also their power and virtue. There be further shown the Mysteries of the Present, Past and Future Age. In this Sigil is hidden the Science of Merchants. Also here be those things which do appear and are reputed to be supernatural. Also herein we can obtain the revelation of unknown things, but this (is only granted) unto the Elect of God.

Also the Praxis of those Arcane Secrets of the Lord is declared and demonstrated in this Sigil, wherefore Adore the Lord thy God with thy whole heart, and love thy neighbour. In the Praxis or working of this Sigil thou shalt constate that the effects hereof be certain and true yet (causing) the greatest wonder and astonishment.

CONCERNING THE TRANSFORMATION OF THE GENII

HANIEL teacheth unto you the transformation of all precious stones and giveth unto you as many as you wish thereof. He is to be invoked on a Friday before daybreak. Thus is his Character (see Figure 21).

Characters of the Spirits which be under

HANIEL

In this seal there is taught how Genii may be transformed into Man. They can pass from him into their nature, and correspond unto him in the compounded elements. There is here also taught how such may be necessary unto the Human Race. Also the necessity of such a Mystery.

CONCERNING THE COMMUNICATION OF THE GENII

CAMAEL giveth unto you a perfect knowledge of your Genius, who will have the power to grant you everything that you shall demand of him. There be many Spirits under the rule of (Camael) who can serve you in many things, and especially such as you shall demand of them. Thus is his O-taracter (see Figure 20).

Characters of the Spirit which be under the
domination of CAMAEL

In this Sigil is taught what and after what manner may be this communication of the Genius; (transforming in us) our evil (qualities) into good, and our good (qualities) into better and best; there is also taught the method of such transformation. Wherefore adore the Lord God and love thy neighbour

CONCERNING PHITONE OR THE ABUSES OF NECROMANCY

SAMAEEL is a spirit of Counsel. He teacheth you Magic, Necromancy, Jurisprudence, and all the Occult Sciences, with facility. He is to be invoked on a Tuesday at Midnight, care being taken to fast the day that you shall wish to avail your self of his services. He hath much in his power, and on your demand he will tell you the extent thereof. Thus is his Character (see Figure 19).

In this Sigil there be taught what are all the abuses of Necromancy which may expose a man (to danger) through such communication; whether such communication may have such virtue as to link you unto the Angels and unto God, and to confer upon you power over all creatures, or the union of the love of all beings with the most profound and familiar knowledge of them, or whether it may join us unto the Devil even as in our mortal familiar (relationships) so can we be linked with all things which may be pleasing unto us. There is also taught (herein) how such communications maybe formed.

THE VISION OF EDEN, OR OF THE TERRESTRIAL PARADISE

PHALET will teach unto you all that did happen in the Terrestrial Paradise, from the time of the Creation of Adam and Eve. There be many Spirits under his leadership who can do much in the manner of serving you, and in many ways. Thus is his Character (see Figure 18).

In this Sigil there be taught the Mysteries of the Creation of the World, and of all Creatures, and what (of these) be sacred; but also how those (creatures) are proper to be detested for superstitious reasons when they draw their origin from Corpses of the dead, and from collections thereof, and from sepulchres; and thence also is the arising of every kind of superstitions. In this Sigil be (also) taught all the Arcana of Necromancers and of Diviners of that same class,¹ and whence in a Scientific (sense) these (arts) take their rise.

THE VISION OF FORMATION—ADAM

DALETE is a Spirit who will show unto you the Visions which Adam beheld while he was upon the Earth. He hath many Spirits under his leadership, who will teach unto you many things if you tell unto them that which you shall desire. Thus is his character (see Figure 17).

In this Sigil be taught and demonstrated the Mystical Formation of Adam; what Animals were in the Lord and brought in this place unto Adam by the Lord God.

THE BEHOLDING OF THE SERPENT

GIMELA maketh you to know and behold the form of the Serpent who did tempt Eve in the Terrestrial Paradise; (he also) can give unto you some of his Spirits who can transport you from one place to another and can even make you travel at the speed of an hundred leagues in an hour. Thus is his Character (see Figure 16).

In this Sigil there be taught all the Mysteries which the Lord is willing to allow to be worked by the Serpent and from the Serpent; what may be his corporeal moulding or proportion, and whether he can contain in himself all invisible beings (or creatures) and in what manner.

THE WISDOM OF OUR FOREFATHER ADAM

BETEL teacheth unto you the Sciences which God had revealed unto Adam. He is a very docile Spirit who appeareth as soon as he is invoked. (This should be either) in a wood, or in a secluded garden, and one should be alone, whether it be by day or by night. Thus is his Character (see Figure 15).

BETEL

In this there is taught in what way we can arrive at the possession of the virtues of all Creatures (or created things); there is (further) taught what and of what kind¹ be the virtues hereof, and what (virtues) be truly most powerful above all virtues of Creatures. There is also taught the reason of the laws of (such) virtues and of their uses.

THE GOING-FORTH OF ABRAHAM FROM UR OF THE CHALDEES AND FROM HARAN

ALEPTA maketh you see how Abraham went forth from Ur from among the

Chaldeans, and from Haran. He can give unto you great riches. Thus is his Character (see Figure 14).

In this Sigil is taught how a Man may be exalted, and how a Man may become formidable unto all Creatures, at any hour (and how he may be rescued) whether out of the hands of cruel men, or from a crowd of men.

THE CAVE OF EPHRON

TETAHATIA is a Spirit of Science and Virtue, who hath preserved our Forefathers from their enemies, rendering them formidable unto them so as to put them to flight. He will do the same unto the Enemies of those who shall wish to avail themselves of his services. Thus is his Character (see Figure 13).

In this Sigil be noted the ways whereby a blinding darkness may be produced, or a thing terrible unto one's enemies, also how a blessing may fail hereon.

MOSES IN THE INTERIOR OF THE DESERT

HETHATIA maketh you see even as Moses saw the benefits which he had received from God, when he was in the Desert of the Land of Midian. He can do much for those who invoke him, but it must not be in the desert place. Thus is his Character (see Figure 12).

In this Sigil is taught the Science and Wisdom of Moses, and the Arcana of the Egyptian Magi and Diviners; perfect happiness and the ways of causing and inspiring fear, and of going forth from a land and for the preservation of a Man in that (case) and place.

THE ROD OF MOSES

ZAINAEL is a Spirit who did teach unto Moses the methods of availing himself of the Rod with the which he did perform so many miracles in Egypt, and among the chaldeans. He hath much power to render those rich who avail themselves of his services. He can be invoked at any hour. Thus is his Character (see Figure 11).

In this Sigil is taught the Practice of the Science and Wisdom of the Diviners and Magi of the Egyptians and Chaldeans, and by what ways and means they may be acquired.

THE VISION OF ‘MAN’

VAU-AEL is a Spirit who causeth all kinds of pleasant visions to appear, such as our Forefathers in the Old Testament beheld. He serveth you faithfully in all that you desire to know. Thus is his Character (see Figure 10). He hath many Spirits under his dominion.

In this Sigil, howbeit, there is formed a certain species of ‘Man’ for castings out.

THE EXPLORER AND LEADER JOSHUA

HETAEL is a Spirit who guides armies and also can destroy them, as he did unto the enemies of the Children of Israel under the command of Joshua, when by his prayer the latter arrested the course of the Sun. He can render you invulnerable unto every kind of weapon, and can give you Spirits to serve you unto this end. He is to be invoked on a Tuesday. Thus is his Character (see Figure 9).

In this Sigil there is taught the declaring of the intentions of Enemies and the like. Also there can be expelled all things noxious unto body and mind, and further in like manner this Mystic (Sigil) operateth in their restoration. Also there be Mysteries regarding 'Man'.

THE WISDOM OF SOLOMON

RAPHAEL is a Spirit of Science who did teach unto Solomon¹ Knowledge and Wisdom. He is to be invoked on a Sunday before Sunrise. Thou must be both pure and chaste when thou dost invoke him, and thou must have fasted on the previous eve. Thus is his Character (see Figure 8).

In this Sigil is taught the manner of joining Actives and Passives together the one unto the other, in natural things. There is also taught concerning the 'KANSSUD' of Earthly regions and powers, from one class unto another.

OF THE LIFE OF ELIJAH

GABRIEL is a Spirit who did teach unto the Prophet Elijah all the Mysteries of Divinity. He is to be invoked on a Thursday before Daybreak. His Power is very Great, and he can do you great good, in the which he will instruct you. Thus is his Character (see Figure 7).

In this Sigil there be taught the Methods of restoring and transplanting both health and mental force.

THE SPIRIT OF ELISHA

MICHAEL is a Spirit who guided the Prophet Elisha in all his actions. He is the Protector of all Kingdoms. After God Himself, he is almost all-powerful as regardeth those who perform his Invocation, which latter should be worked upon a Sunday, and in the evening. Thus is his Character (see Figure 6).

In this Sigil is taught how there may be formed a certain composite thing by means of which the faculties and vital Spirits (exist) as well in Man as in other creatures, according to what is necessary for and convenable unto them.

IN THE FIELDS OF BABYLON

URIEL is a Spirit who did reveal unto the Prophet Esdras every description of Prophecy, he did also aid the Children of Israel in the Camp of the Babylonians. He teacheth natural Sciences, Physic, and Medicine. He is to be invoked on a Wednesday, before daybreak. Thus is his Character (see Figure 5).

In this Sigil there be taught the method of understanding what and of what Kind were those twin Souls (namely) Henoch. The faculties of the Mind and Understanding are purified, and these also in such a manner that they may be exalted from the lowest degree unto that which is most perfect of all. By the

which composition also there can be a transmission made of the participating Power or that power of communication of the comprehension of Spirits.

THE SON OF ZACHARIAS IN THE DESERT

SAMAEL is the Spirit who did never abandon Saint John during the time in which he dwelled in the desert before his preaching. He is the protector of preachers in Missions among foreign nations. He teacheth Theology. He is to be invoked on a Wednesday, and in the morning. His Character is thus formed (see Figure 4).

In this Sigil is taught the harvest of the Plants of Blessedness, and such harvests; together with the envy of the Kingdom of Behemoth and Leviathan, of the which the Lord God did make use from the Beginning, and preserved (the same) for the production of all creatures, and also in what manner such souls be produced (and come forth).

BY THE FLOWING OF JORDAN

CAPHAEL is a Spirit who guided St. John in the desert, and when he was preaching the Baptism of Penitence by the River of Jordan where the people were baptized, he filled their hearts with Charity and Benediction. He teacheth an infinitude of matters with facility.

In this his Sigil (see Figure 3) there is taught concerning the healing of barrenness and of death concerning the Kingdom of God, and the most ardent Charity; in the which blessed mystical Numbers (of the Sigil) there is taught unto whatsoever Operations this is to be applied, howbeit certain special Operations do fail under the head of certain especial Numbers. Also concerning Sciences and Arts of all kinds and of all perfections whatsoever they may be.

He is to be invoked on Fridays and in the morning.

THE CIRCUMCISION OF JESUS AT NAZARETH

The Prophet of the Greatest One; or the Languor of the Nature.

THAVAEEL. This Spirit had a particular care of our Lord Jesus Christ. It was he who conducted the Holy Virgin and Saint Joseph into Egypt when they were fleeing from the persecution of Herod. He giveth unto us a perfect knowledge of all the simples and their virtues. He can be invoked at any time. His Character is thus (see Figure 2).

In this Sigil is taught the planting or the sowing of the Seed of Plants, the comprehension of virtue; there are also (herein) taught the manners of flowering as regardeth Plants, and also those inspirations of virtue and grace which be as it were the fundamental plants of the Qabalistical ART.

They who shall write with the ginger upon the forehead of these letters I.. .N. R. .I, will never die by a sudden death.

THE THEOSOPHY OF OUR FATHERS

AS REGARDETH THE PLANETS THE SANHEDRIN

ZADKIEL will teach unto you all the Sciences Active and Passive, with a remarkable facility, with all honesty and courtesy, together with every kind of benediction. They who avail themselves hereof will possess all things in content.

He is to be invoked on a Monday and in the Morning. His Character is this (see Figure 1)

In this Sigil is taught the method of joining together Actives and Passives, or in everything the manner of modesty and grace. In the which Numbers the Lord God doth sanctify these Planets, so that they may work marvels, and as it were portents, through such Numerations.

Seeing that we possess the explanation of the (Magical) Circle, (let us here state) that it is (Employed) for the Invocation of Spirits, so as to escape the dangers which might arise through their malice. Now it having been duly prepared for you to avail yourself of the Services of the Spirit you desire (to Summon) it is necessary to take heed that you comprehend the power which he hath and whether he can grant you that which you shall demand.

Being, then, in the midst of the Circle, wherein you are to perform the Operation, and having made the Character (or Sigil) of the Spirit who shall serve you: you shall see that the Circle be (correctly) formed according to the instructions we have (elsewhere) given. Being then, I say, in the midst thereof, after having recited the Pater, an Aye, together with the Credo, you shall repeat the following Conjunction:

CONJURATIO

Omnipotens Aeterne Deus, Qui totam Creaturam condidisti in laudem et honorem tuum, ac ministerium hominis, OTO ut Spiritum (N.N.) de () ordine mittas, qui me informat et doceat quo ilium interrogavero, non mea voluntas fiat, sed Tua, per Jesum Christum Filium Unigenitum. Amen.

O Eternal Omnipotent God, Who hast formed every creature unto Thy praise and honour, and for the Ministry of Man: I beseech Thee to send unto me the Spirit (here give the name of the Spirit) of the (here give the name of of class or Order of Spirits) Order, who may inform and teach me concerning those things which I shall demand of him, nevertheless not my Will, but Thine, be done, through Thine Only-begotten Son Jesus Christ. Amen.

Having obtained from the Spirit that which you desire, you shall license him to depart in these words:

THE LICENCE TO DEPART

Quia Placide et quiete venisti, et hac petitione mihi respondisti, ago Deo gratias in Cujus Nomen venisti, ite in pace ad loca tua et rediturus ad me cum te vocavero per Christum Dominum nostrum. Amen.

TRANSLATION OF THE FOREGOING LICENCE TO DEPART

Seems that peaceably and in quiet thou has come, and hast made answer unto me in this (my) petition, I return thanks unto God, in Whose Name thou hast come. Depart hence in peace unto thine habitations, and be thou ready to return whensoever I shall have called thee. Through Christ our Lord Amen.

After having repeated this Conjunction three times, if so be that the Spirit appeareth not unto you, you shall repeat the present (following) Conjunction three times. And these Conjunctions should be written out on virgin parchment, together with the Licence to Depart.

THE CONJURATION

I (N.N.) do Conjure thee (O Spirit N.N.) by the virtue of the Great and Holy Names of God, that immediately and without delay thou art to appear unto me

under an agreeable form, and without noise, nor injury unto my person, to make answer unto all that I shall command thee; and I do conjure thee herein by

EL ELOHIM ELOHO ELOHIM SEBAOTH ELION EIECH ADIER
EIECH ADONAY JAH SADAY TETRÁGRAMMATON SADAY AGIOS OTHEOS ISCHIROs ATHANATOS AGLA Amen.

After having performed this Conjunction three times following, it is necessary to continue the same for three days successively, in the same place, and at the same hour.

And when (your desire shall be) satisfied, and having obtained from Him that which you wish, you must license him to depart (saying):

‘Go in peace unto the place which hath been destined unto you from all Eternity; let there be peace between us and you’

THE GRIMOIRE OF ARMADIEL

TRANSLATED AND EDITED FROM THE ANCIENT MANUSCRIPT IN THE
LIBRARY OF THE ARSENAL, PARIS

BY S. L. MACGREGOR MATHERS
Comte de Glanstrae

WITH AN INTRODUCTION AND ADDITIONAL NOTES BY FRANCIS KING

THE GRIMOIRE OF ARMADEL

Operation of URIEL SERAPHIM.

THE GRIMOIRE OF ARMADEL

TRANSLATED AND EDITED FROM THE ANCIENT MANUSCRIPT IN THE LIBRARY OF THE ARSENAL, PARIS

BY

S. L. MACGREGOR MATHERS

Comte de Glenstrae

With an introduction and additional notes by

FRANCIS KING

ROUTLEDGE & KEGAN PAUL LONDON AND HENLEY

*First published in 1980
by Routledge & Kegan Paul Ltd 39 Store Street, London WC1E 7DD and Broadway House, Newtown Road, Henley-on-Thames, Oxon RG9 1EN Set in 11/14pt Palatino by Oxprint Ltd and printed in Great Britain by Lowe & Brydone Ltd*

© Routledge & Kegan Paul Ltd 1980 No part of this book may be reproduced in any form without permission from the publisher, except for the quotation of brief passages in criticism

*British Library Cataloguing in Publication Data
The grimoire of Armadel.*

1. Magic

I. Mathers, S Liddell MacGregor

133.4'3 BF1602 79-40851

ISBN 0 7100 0083 9

CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION p1

1. MACGREGOR MATHERS AND HIS TRANSLATIONS p1
2. THE GRIMOIRE OF ARMADEL AND ITS USE IN MAGIC p6

THE MAGIC OF ARMADEL p15

THE THEOSOPHY OF OUR FOREFATHERS OF THEIR SACRED AND MYSTIC THEOLOGY BY ARMADEL p21

- AS REGARDETH THE PLANETS. THE SANHEDRIN p23
- THE CIRCUMCISION OF JESUS AT NAZARETH p24
- BY THE FLOWING OF JORDAN p25
- THE SON OF ZACHARIAS IN THE DESERT p26
- IN THE FIELDS OF BABYLON p27
- THE SPIRIT OF ELISHA p28
- OF THE LIFE OF ELIJAH p29
- THE WISDOM OF SOLOMON p30
- THE EXPLORER AND LEADER JOSHUA p31
- THE VISION OF 'MAN' p32
- THE ROD OF MOSES p33
- MOSES IN THE INTERIOR OF THE DESERT p34
- THE CAVE OF EPHRON p35
- THE GOING-FORTH OF ABRAHAM FROM UR OF THE CHALDEES AND FROM HARAN p36
- THE WISDOM OF OUR FOREFATHER ADAM p37
- THE BEHOLDING OF THE SERPENT p38
- THE VISION OF FORMATION — ADAM p39

THE VISION OF EDEN, OR OF THE TERRESTRIAL PARADISE p40 CONCERNING PHITONE OR THE ABUSES OF NECROMANCY p41
CONCERNING THE COMMUNICATION OF THE GENII p42 CONCERNING THE TRANSFORMATION OF THE GENII p43
CONCERNING THE NATURE OF THE GENII p44

THE SACRO-MYSTIC THEOLOGY OF OUR FATHERS p47

CONCERNING THE SCIENCE OF THE REGENERATION OF ADAM AND HIS CHILDREN BY PELECH p47 CONCERNING THE DEVILS AND HOW THEY MAY BE BOUND AND COMPELLED TO VISIBLE APPEARANCE p48
CONCERNING THE DEVILS AND HOW THEY CAN BECOME VISIBLE p50
CONCERNING THE DEVILS AND HOW THEY MAY BE BOUND AND BECOME VISIBLE p51 CONCERNING THE WAYS OF KNOWING THE DEVILS AND OF BANISHING THEM p52
CONCERNING THE DEVILS AND THEIR LIFE p53 CONCERNING THE WAYS OF KNOWING THE GOOD ANGELS, AND OF CONSULTING THEM p54
CONCERNING THE LIFE OF MAN p55
CONCERNING THE CREATION OF THE SOULS OF MEN p56
CONCERNING THE EVANGELIC REBELLION AND EXPULSION p57 CONCERNING THE LIFE OF THE ANGELS BEFORE THE FALL p58
CONCERNING THE CREATION OF ALL THE ANGELS p59 CONCERNING GOD, THE PRESERVER, THE DESTROYER, AND THE CREATOR p60 CONCERNING GOD IN HIS TRINE PERSONALITY p61
CONCERNING GOD THE UNIVERSALLY ONE p62 CONCERNING THE PATHS OF WISDOM p64

THE RATIONAL TABLE p67

THE FIRST CHARACTERS p67
THE VISION OF ANOINTING p69
THE VISION OF DUST p70
THE PREPARATION OF THE SOUL (I) p74
THE PREPARATION OF THE SOUL (II) p75
THE CHARACTERS OF MICHAEL p77
ORIGINAL LATIN TITLE PAGE p79

FIGURES

OPERATION OF THE URIEL SERAPHIM FRONTISPIECE

- A THE MAGIC SQUARE OF MARS p8
- B THE SQUARES OF BRTzBAL p9
- C THE TRUE SIGIL OF BRTzBAL p9
- D THE FORMAL SIGIL OF BRTzBAL p9
- 1 THE SIGIL OF ZADKIEL p23
- 2 THE SIGIL OF THAVAEI p24
- 3 THE SIGIL OF CAPHAEL p25
- 4 THE SIGIL OF SAMAEL p26
- 5 THE SIGIL OF URIEL p27
- 6 THE SIGIL OF MICHAEL p28
- 7 THE SIGIL OF GABRIEL p29
- 8 THE SIGIL OF RAPHAEL p30
- 9 THE SIGILS OF HETAEL p31
- 10 THE SIGILS OF VAU-AEL p32
- 11 THE SIGILS OF ZAINAEL p33
- 12 THE SIGILS OF HETHATIA p34
- 13 THE SIGILS OF TETAHATIA p35
- 14 THE SIGILS OF ALEPTA p36
- 15 THE SIGILS OF BETEL p37
- 16 THE SIGILS OF GIMELA p38
- 17 THE SIGILS OF DALÉTÉ p39
- 18 THE SIGILS OF PHALET p40
- 19 THE SIGILS OF SAMAEL p41
- 20 THE SIGILS OF CAMAEL p42
- 21 THE SIGILS OF HANIEL p43
- 22 THE SIGILS OF ANAEL p44
- 23 THE SIGILS OF OPHIEL p47
- 24, 25 THE SIGILS OF ASMODÉ AND LEVIATAN p49

- 26 THE SIGILS OF HEMOSTOPILÉ p50
- 27 THE SIGILS OF BRUFOR p51
- 28 THE SIGILS OF LAUNÉ p52
- 29 THE SIGILS OF BETOR p53
- 30, 31 THE SIGILS OF ZADKIEL AND SACHIEL p54
- 32, 33 THE SIGILS OF PHUL AND GABRIEL p55
- 34 THE SIGILS OF ARATRON p56
- 35, 36, 37 THE SIGILS OF LUCIFER, BELZEBUT AND ASTAROT p57
- 38 THE SIGILS OF ZAPHKIEL p58
- 39 THE SIGILS OF OCH p59
- 40 THE SIGILS OF GABRIEL p60
- 41 THE SIGILS OF MICHAEL p61
- 42 THE SIGILS OF CASSIEL p62
- 43 THE SIGILS OF THE SPIRITS OF FORCE AND COUNSEL p64
- 44 THE SIGILS OF THE SPIRITS OF JOY p64
- 45 THE SIGILS OF THE ANGELS OF LOVE AND CHARITY p65
- 46 THE SIGIL OF GOOD FORTUNE p67

INTRODUCTION

1. MACGREGOR MATHERS AND HIS TRANSLATIONS

The Grimoire of Armadel is one of those do-it-yourself textbooks of ceremonial magic of which the most famous are the Key of Solomon and the (forged) fourth book of Cornelius Agrippa's Occult Philosophy. Hitherto the Armadel seems to have circulated only in manuscript form and one of the principal points of interest about this, its first printed edition, is that the translation and notes are by S. L. MacGregor Mathers, Comte de Glenstrae (1854–1918), who was himself not only a practising magician, the man responsible for transforming a small, secret sodality known as the Hermetic Order of the Golden Dawn into the magical fraternity that was undoubtedly the fons et origo of the current craze for ritual magic, but one of the most amusing English eccentrics of the last 150 years. English eccentrics? Yes, for in spite of the Celtic splendours of the names MacGregor and Glenstrae their bearer was by birth a Londoner and his actual connections with Scotland were almost certainly quite imaginary.

I have been unable to trace any records of Mather's birth or baptism but Wynn Westcott, his magical colleague and eventually his rival, has recorded that he was born in Hackney, the son of a commercial clerk named William Mathers. A tenuous Scottish connection is suggested by a surviving tradition that William Mathers's wife was a Glaswegian by birth but, if so, she was probably of Irish rather than Scottish ancestry, for Westcott believed that her maiden name had been Collins.¹

¹ The full text of Westcott's memorandum can be found on pp. 37–8 of Ellic Howe's painstakingly researched and often amusing The Magicians of the Golden Dawn (Routledge & Kegan Paul, 1972). This book has been responsible for a good deal of ill-tempered wing fluttering in certain present-day magical dovescotes but is, nevertheless, essential reading for Yeatsian scholars, nineteenth-century social historians and, above all, magicians.

Mathers went to Bedford School, leaving it a few months before his seventeenth birthday. Nothing is known of how he occupied himself in the years immediately following this event but, like Aleister Crowley (who, years later, was to become his pupil in magic) he was hardly cut out for the tedium of ordinary life and it is likely that any periods of paid employment were of but brief duration. By 1877 he was living in Bournemouth with, and presumably upon, his widowed mother. Mathers must have enjoyed this period of his life; he became an amateur soldier, probably in the 1st Hampshire Infantry Volunteers, was initiated into freemasonry and, under the tuition of a bibliophile named Frederick Holland, began the studies in mysticism and magic that for the rest of his life were to occupy much of his time.

It may have been before the Bournemouth period that Mathers first read Bulwer Lytton's Zanoni, a 'three-decker' occult novel which exerted a considerable influence upon him—as, indeed, it did upon a whole generation of nineteenth-century occultists. The novel tells the story of Glyndon, an eighteenth-century Englishman with mystical inclinations who studies 'Rosicrucian' philosophy under the mysterious Zanoni, a character Lytton clearly based on that intriguing charlatan, the Comte de St-Germain. So great was Zanoni's fascination for Mathers, so obvious his attempts to model his behaviour upon that of Lytton's hero that Moina Bergson (who eventually became Mathers's wife) nicknamed him 'Zan' and familiarly addressed him by that name until the end of his life. Mathers looked upon Zanoni as something beyond a mere novel; he believed that Lytton was an authentic Rosicrucian who had chosen to convey important occult teachings under the guise of fiction² and that almost every incident in the story had some magical significance. Thus, for example, in a didactic Golden Dawn treatise entitled On the Tattwas of the Eastern School—it deals with various types of 'etheric energy' and how they can be controlled by such means as breathing exercises³—Mathers inserted an odd note explaining that:

Zanoni secured success in gaming for Cetosa and overcame the effects of the poisoned wine of the Prince di D— as follows. In the first place, he changed his breath to the right nostril, and threw an envelope of the Akasa Tattwa over his antagonist, who consequently became all empty, the money in gaming flowing towards the Surya Swara. In the latter he brought the Apas Tattwa into course, directed it with the full force of his ² Mathers's opinion may not be quite so outlandish as it might seem. Lytton dabbled in occultism, was on friendly terms with the French magician, Eliphas Lévi, and was Grand Patron of the quasi-monastic Rosicrucian Society of England.

³ On the Tattwas of the Eastern School was little more than a précis of Rama Prasad's Nature's Finer Forces, an early Theosophical work which was itself derived from Tantric sources.

trained will towards the poisoned wine, and consequently the burning heat of the poison was counteracted for a very long time, and before it could recover strength enough to act on the system, it was there no longer.

By Akasa was meant 'elemental spirit'—something very like the quintessence of the Alexandrian Hermetic philosophers; by Apas was meant a lunar, fluid principle, 'elemental water'; and by Surya Swara was meant a current of elemental force supposedly attracted to a 'yogic nerve' traditionally associated with the right nostril and bronchus.

Mathers found his cultivated Zanonian mask of lordly indifference of comfort to him in 1885 when he was suddenly reduced to poverty by the death of his mother—presumably her income had been derived from an annuity which had ceased with her death. She may have left a little money to her son but, if so, he must have spent all of it on the printing bill for the publication of his first original work, The Fall of Granada: A Poem in Six Duans (1885), which fell still-born from the press. He moved to London where, fortunately for himself, he was already on friendly terms with William Wynn Westcott—both men were members of the Rosicrucian Society of England—who extended to him hospitality and, probably, a certain amount of financial assistance. Westcott, described by his acquaintance, A. E. Waite, as being 'like a dull owl hooting dolefully among cypresses over tombs of false adepts', was a qualified physician with some pretensions to occult scholarship, a love of dressing up in exotic masonic regalia and a considerable admiration for Madame Blavatsky, the Russian adventuress who had founded the Theosophical Society in 1875.

Mathers knew H. P. Blavatsky well; he had been introduced to her by Anna Kingsford, a Victorian seeress who cries out for a biographer, and it is clear that Blavatsky, whose learning was only skin-deep, was impressed by the erudition of the young magician whose remarks on the subject of the cabbalah she quoted with approval in her book, The Secret Doctrine. At this time Mathers was deeply involved in the study of cabbalism and in 1887 he published The Kabbalah Unveiled, a translation of three of the major books of the Sepher ha Zohar. It is unlikely that Mather's scholarship would have been equal to making a direct translation from the Aramaic Chaldee of the original text and in fact he used the seventeenth-century Latin version of Knorr von Rosenroth.⁴

The publisher of The Kabbalah Unveiled was George Redway, a somewhat dubious dabbler in occultism and mild pornography who succeeded in buying the copyright outright for only £35. This was a real bargain; since its first publication The Kabbalah Unveiled has remained almost continuously in print and it was in its eleventh impression in 1972. For an even smaller sum Redway also bought the copyright of The Key of Solomon, the first of three grimoires translated by Mathers.

⁴ Nevertheless when alleged mistakes in the translation were pointed out by a Theosophical reviewer Mathers defended himself with the claim that there had been errors in the Latin version which he had discovered and corrected on the basis of his examination of the original Chaldee text.

The Key of Solomon splendidly illustrates Mathers's odd blend of curious learning and intense credulity. On the one hand his reconstruction of the mangled sigils and Hebrew lettering of the various pentacles (talismans) showed a detailed knowledge of the magical literature of the Renaissance, a considerable acquaintance with the Massoretic version of the Old Testament and a capacity for hard work. On the other hand he naïvely assigned the authorship of the grimoire to King Solomon, airily remarking that he saw 'no reason to doubt the tradition which assigns the authorship of the Key to King Solomon'.

Thinking as he did that the Key was 'a work of the highest authority', the 'fountain-head and storehouse of Qabalistical Magic', Mathers was puzzled by certain elements in it, notably the advocacy of blood sacrifice and the presence of certain 'experiments' that clearly smacked of black magic. He carried out as much bowdlerization as his conscience allowed, and explained what remained as allegory. The exact nature of Mathers's allegorical interpretation is unknown, for he regarded it as valuable magical knowledge, to be conveyed only to trusted pupils under oath of secrecy, but we can get a fair idea of it from similar interpretations put forward by contemporary magicians. One grimoire, for example, gives a formula for 'discovering a woman's deepest secret' which involves taking out the tongue of a living toad and placing it over the heart of the woman when she is asleep. A modern occult commentator has claimed that 'the toad is the third of Beelzebub's 72 spirits, Bilifares, who appears as a great black-headed toad—he is the opposite of the good spirit Vassago. The spell means that Bilifares is to be compelled to make her talk in her sleep.' The same occultist has given a complex demonic explanation of a messy spell (pick a lily in June under the waning moon, moisten it with laurel juice and bury it in dung; worms will breed, dry them and scatter on the victim's pillow) designed to produce a restless night. 'The lily in June under a waning moon', we are informed, 'means Lilith Queen Night under the influence of the demon Shimri; the laurel is the Raven of Dispersion, Q'areb Zarag'.

In 1892 Mathers and his wife moved to Paris where they lived on the involuntary donations of their friends, occupying their time with eccentric politics—Mathers and his friend, J. W. Brodie-Innes, seem to have been active on the lunatic fringe of Spanish Carlism⁵—the invocation of spirits and much esoteric research. Mathers soon discovered the vast collections of magical material in the Parisian libraries and in 1896 began his translation of The Sacred Magic of Abramelin the Mage, a magical textbook which is quite unlike anything else in European occult literature. Abramelin the Mage, whoever he may have been, was essentially a radical; he abandoned the rituals, consecrated swords, protective circles, etc. of classical western magic in favour of a yoga-like technique of isolation and withdrawal from the world. This lasted six months and supposedly concluded with the adept gaining 'the Knowledge and Conversation of his Holy Guardian Angel', following which he could proceed with safety to the manufacture of the forty-nine talismans designed to produce such wonders as 'the finding of a great treasure' and the control of phantom armies.

⁵ My supposition is based on the facts that (a) Mathers and Brodie-Innes are known to have had a close political relationship, (b) Brodie-Innes's novel, Old as the World, shows an inside knowledge of late

Originally The Sacred Magic was to have been published by Redway but Mathers, infuriated by some suggestions made by that publisher's reader—A. E. Waite, who saw Mathers as 'a comic Blackstone of occult lore'—and by the miserliness of the sum offered for the copyright, got one of his followers, a stockbroker named F. L. Gardner, to publish it on a profit-sharing basis. The profits to be shared were in fact non-existent, for the book sold very badly; Mathers did quite well out of it, however, for he had managed to extract a £55 loan (to be paid back out of profits) from his partner.

I would speculate that Mathers's version of the Armadel was prepared at some time between July 1897, the month in which Mathers delivered his completed Abramelin manuscript to Gardner, and February 1899; by the latter date it had become clear that the Sacred Magic was a financial disaster and it is most unlikely that Mathers would have wasted his time on producing yet another grimoire subsequently.

By this time Mathers's behaviour had alienated many of his followers and his contacts with them were few. By 1901 such contacts had become non-existent, for the great majority of Golden Dawn members had rebelled against their Chief and established a schismatic magical fraternity. The rebels seem to have remained in complete ignorance of the existence of the Armadel but copies did circulate amongst the members of the Rosicrucian Order of the Alpha et Omega (the group which remained loyal to Mathers) who used it in ways described in the second part of this introduction.

The later histories of Mathers and the magic fraternities inspired by him do not concern us here, but they are not without interest and those readers who desire some knowledge of them are referred to Mr Howe's Magicians of the Golden Dawn, which deals in great detail with the period 1887–1923, and to my nineteenth-century Carlism and its association with Iberian anarchism, and (c) Aleister Crowley, at the time on terms of close friendship with Mathers, was very probably involved in the Jacobite-Carlist conspiracy of 1899.

own Ritual Magic in England which gives, to quote Mr Howe, 'an account of the post-1923 Temples which continued to keep the Golden Dawn tradition more or less alive'.

2. THE GRIMOIRE OF ARMADDEL AND ITS USE IN MAGIC

While the etymological origin of Armadel is uncertain, the word seems not to have any occult significance but to be a personal name. The British Museum's manuscript, Lansdowne 1202, is entitled The True Keys of King Solomon by Armadel, but this is no more than a version of the Key of Solomon with a number of sigils (seals) of evil spirits added at the end.

These sigils bear a certain resemblance to some of those reproduced in the text of this book, but according to Mathers they were derived from a medieval black-magical text entitled the Grimorium Verum and falsely attributed to King Solomon. I have not had an opportunity of examining a copy of this last-mentioned work, but if Mathers's statement was correct the Armadel may be ultimately derived from the Grimorium Verum; in this case, however, it must have suffered a major reworking in the period 1650–1700 for although the manuscript from which Mathers worked (Bibliothèque de l'Arsenal, Sc. et A. No. 88) is written in French it clearly belongs to a family of seventeenth-century German magical texts which were manufactured to exploit commercially the reputation of the semi-legendary Dr Faust.

Nothing is known of the original Faust. Probably he was a magician of the late fifteenth century, for the earliest of references to an occultist of that name seems to imply that he was the imitator of some well-known original. The allusion in question, made by Trithemius in a letter dated August 1507, is given in the form of a warning against a man 'who is a fool and no philosopher' and who has 'adopted the following title: Magister Georgius Sabellicus, Faustus Junior, Fountain of Necromancers, astrologer, magus secundus, chiromancer, aeromancer, pyromancer, second in hydromancy'.

The fame of both first and second Faustus spread throughout Germany and, with time, they became confused with one another—or so it seems from the nature of the incompatible stories, some representing their hero as almost a semi-divine being, others showing him as a vulgar confidence trickster, that made up the Faust legend as it was recorded in the first Faustbook (1587). This seems to have had an almost universal appeal; translated into English it inspired Marlowe, stumblingly read aloud by the light of peasant firesides its stories soon became part of popular German folklore, and studied by the more materialistically motivated of would-be sorcerers it created in them a desire to have access to the Faustian formulae that would produce, among other things, an ever-full purse and the love of Helen of Troy.

One of the curiosities of the history of occult literature is the fact that a potential market for any magical text, even an imaginary one, will ultimately be supplied with the required article. Thus in the sixteenth century Edward Kelley, that strange companion of John Dee, claimed to have discovered a hitherto unknown alchemical text, the Book of St. Dunstan, and to have transmuted base metal into gold by the use of its formulae. All over Europe the alchemists became excited, feeling that perhaps Kelley's book (which no one save the gullible Dee had ever seen) would teach them the long-sought secret of the manufacture of the philosophers' stone; within fifty years at least three different (forged) versions of the book were on the market. Such credulity is still widespread; H. P. Lovecraft, the American pulp writer, used the Necronomicon, an imaginary magical text, as a piece of literary machinery in many of his stories. Inevitably, certain present-day magicians have chosen to believe in the real existence of this work and their desire to own a copy of it was first met by an ingenious forger whose manuscript production sold at up to £50 a copy and then by two printed versions—amusing hoaxes which will probably become collectors' items.

In exactly the same way the desire of seventeenth-century magicians to emulate Faust led to the production of a whole family of occult MSS, purporting to contain authentic Faustian formulae. It is to this family that the Armadel belongs and, like its siblings, its most notable characteristics are its descriptions of the natures and offices of the various evil spirits and its reproduction of the sigils—seals supposedly giving power over demons—appropriate to those same spirits. How exactly the sigils of the Armadel were created has been forgotten, but it must not be assumed that they were the products of the random fantasies of some eccentric occultist and it is probable that they were designed by the use of some variation of the techniques employed in the construction of the seals of the 'planetary intelligences and spirits' to be found in the writings of Cornelius Agrippa.

The rationale of these last-mentioned seals has puzzled several distinguished historians of Renaissance thought. It must be admitted, however, that this puzzlement has arisen from the curious tendency of academics to disregard totally occult sources of their own day. Thus even K. A. Nowotny, who came nearer to solving the problem,⁶ failed to realize that the secret of the construction of these seals lies in the use of Aiq Beker, the 'cabbalah of nine chambers', described in detail in such easily accessible sources as Mathers's introduction to his Kabbalah Unveiled and Dr Israel Regardie's Golden Dawn.

The 'cabbalah of nine chambers' is neither more nor less than a Hebrew form of 'Theosophical Addition', a numerological technique which still has many devotees,⁷ and it simply involves 'knocking the noughts off the end' of the numerical values of the Hebrew alphabet. The letter Shin, for example, which has a numerical value of 300, is taken as 3. The names of the planetary spirits are first written out in Hebrew, then transposed into their simplest numerical form; finally, lines are drawn on the 'magic square'⁸ of the particular planet connecting up the appropriate numbers, thus giving the required seal.

Take, for example, Bartzabal, the spirit of Mars whom Aleister Crowley claimed to have invoked in 1910 (suitably enough, Bartzabal prophesied the coming World War). In Hebrew his name is spelt BRTzBAL,⁹ with a numerical value of 2, 200, 90, 2, 1 and 30 which, by Aiq Beker, becomes 2, 2, 9, 2, 1 and 3. The magic square of Mars is as follows:

11	24	7	20	3
4	12	25	8	16
17	5	13	21	9
10	18	1	14	22
23	6	19	2	15

FIGURE A

⁶ In his article on pp. 46-57 of the Journal of the Warburg Institute, XII, 1949.

⁷ An excellent description of the use of 'Theosophical Addition' in popular, contemporary numerology may be found in the appropriate section of Richard Cavendish's The Black Arts (Routledge & Kegan Paul, 1967).

⁸ It is uncertain when the planets were first associated with magic squares; certainly they were by the late classical period.

⁹ I have adopted the mode of transliteration customarily employed by western occultists.

and the significant squares for BRTzBAL are indicated as:

				3 9
		1
			2

FIGURE B

A double loop (ω) is drawn on the figure 2, representing the first two letters, a line is drawn to the figure 9, back to 2, on to 1 and finally to 3 where by convention, a small circle is drawn indicating the conclusion of the sigil. Thus:

FIGURE C

Or, in the slightly formalized form usually adopted by occultists:

FIGURE D

The Armadel's sigils of spirits are likely to have been produced by this method.¹⁰ In addition, however, some of them probably incorporate conventionalized pictorial representations of the supposed attributes of the symbolized entities. Thus the sigil of Anael, who is described as a 'spirit of Power', seems to me to be meant to represent an erect penis, while that of Gimela, a spirit who 'maketh you to know and behold the form of the serpent which did tempt Eve in the Terrestrial Paradise', is, I think, nothing more than a diagrammatic representation of male ejaculation.

Such occultists as Mathers would have been deeply shocked by sexual interpretations of this kind, but there is little doubt that an undercurrent of allegorized sexual magic, similar to that associated with Aleister Crowley, is present in parts of the Armadel—for example, in the chapters entitled The Vision of Anointing and The Vision of Dust.

One further point is worth noticing—the surprising resemblance between some of the sigils of the Armadel and the vevers (large symbolic diagrams usually traced with cornmeal or coloured powders) employed in the ceremonies of Haitian voodoo. It may be that these resemblances are entirely coincidental, but it is more likely that eighteenth-century grimoires reached Haiti in the colonial period and subsequently influenced the more literate of the voodoo priesthood. It is of some interest that the Sixth, Seventh and Eighth Books of Moses, a Faustian textbook of the same family as the Armadel, has reached West Africa in English translation and currently enjoys a high reputation among Ghanaian occultists.

But how were the sigils of the Armadel employed? The answer depends on whether the magician who used them was a man of the seventeenth century or the nineteenth. Those of the earlier period had a strangely materialistic approach to the nature of the spirit world. Mephistopheles, for example, was looked upon as a person in exactly the same way as the magician was himself a person, and subject to the same laws of time and space—hence the solemn injunctions to evoked spirits contained in many medieval magical texts urging the demon to send a substitute in his place if he was already employed in being evoked by someone else! Sigils were regarded as pictorial representations of the true names of the spirits and, once a spirit had been evoked, the possession of its sigil gave the magician power over it (compare the widespread primitive custom of the individual having a secret name, never used in ordinary life, and the belief that knowledge of the secret name would give the knower power over its owner).

¹⁰ The seals of the planets themselves, however, present a much more difficult problem. In his introduction to the American edition of Francis Barrett's The Magus Mr Timothy d'Arch Smith gives a characteristically elegant 'solution' which, alas, does not appear to work for any of the seals except that of Saturn.

Mathers and his fellow magicians of the nineteenth century held much more subtle beliefs about the world of spirits. They too believed in the existence of discarnate entities, not so much as an objective reality but rather as a reasonable working hypothesis. J. W. Brodie-Innes, who combined being a lawyer with holding office in an eccentric literary society called Ye Sette of Odde Volumes and the practice of magic, wrote that: 'Whether the Gods . . . really exist is comparatively unimportant; the point is that the universe behaves as though they do. . . .'

Sigils were used in two ways by these latter-day Fausts; first, as a basis for the manufacture of talismans, and, second, as what they called 'astral doorways'.

Talismans, material objects supposedly charged with specific forms of psychic force, have a long history. Originally their virtue was held to lie in the materials employed in their manufacture and in the words or symbols carved or written upon them, and in the way in which they were worn on the body; thus to enjoy safety from being struck on the head by lightning one took a piece of serpentine, engraved it with the word ON and carried it under one's left armpit. By the late eighteenth century a more sophisticated view prevailed and the real virtue of talismans was believed to lie in their consecration, the magical processes to which they had been submitted. By the 1890s the members of the Golden Dawn drew their talismans on cardboard and then consecrated them by a complex process designed to imbue them with the type of 'spiritual energy'¹¹ symbolized by the designs drawn upon them. Such designs were sometimes original and would incorporate the geometrical figures of geomancy, the colours corresponding to the desired force—the Golden Dawn employed four elaborate systems of colour correspondences—and Hebrew versicles drawn from the Old Testament. On other occasions the design would be a traditional one—perhaps one of the talismanic drawings from the Key of Solomon, perhaps one of the lettered Abramelin squares or, on occasions when the desired force was perhaps a little sinister, one of the sigils of the Armadel.

Only a minority of Golden Dawn members and their present-day admirers have been serious practising magicians. The majority have studied the theory, they have manufactured magical robes and implements, they may even have taken part in the occasional invocation, but they have not engaged in the regular performance of the time-absorbing and emotionally exhausting techniques of ritual magic. Apart from anything else the sheer expense of it all would have been too much for most of them; consider, for example, the invocation of a 'Mercurial Spirit' by four of Mathers's disciples in 1896. This involved the purchase and use of such exotic materials as snake-fat, alcohol in which a snake had been preserved, spermaceti and rare gums and spices.¹²

¹¹ Examples of such consecration ceremonies may be found in Vol. I, No. 3, of Dr Regardie's recently reprinted Golden Dawn. See also the descriptions given in Richard Cavendish, op. cit.

Far more easily practised, and more popular, are and have been Mathers's techniques of the use of 'astral doorways' and 'skrying in the spirit vision'. The practice of skrying—the use of mirrors, ink-pools etc. as a means of obtaining a dissociation of consciousness and visionary experience—is of great antiquity and until the latter half of the nineteenth century its techniques had changed very little in over two thousand years. Take, for instance, the following process described in a Graeco-Egyptian magical text¹³ of the early Christian era: to be wrought by the help of a boy, with a lamp, a bowl. . . .

I invoke thee, O Zeus, Mithra, Sarapis, unconquerable, possessor of honey, Melicerteo . . . appear and give heed to him who was manifested before fire and snow for thou art he who didst manifest light and snow, terrible-eyed-thundering-and-lightning-swift-footed-one. . . . Tell what I enquire of thee. . . . Let the throne of the god enter . . . let the throne be brought in. Then if it be borne by four men, inquire what they are crowned with and what precedes the throne. If he say, They are crowned with olive and a censer precedes, the boy speaks true. . . .

This is perhaps a little obscurely worded, but it seems to mean that a young boy should be used as a medium, that he should attain a dissociated state of consciousness by staring into the rays of a lamp reflected in a bowl of water and that all his visions should be accepted as authentic provided that the first of them was the sight of the entry of the god's throne borne by four laurel-crowned servitors. An almost identical method was described in Lane's Modern Egyptians (1846)—a remarkable example of the persistence of the underground magical tradition.

While Mathers was undoubtedly familiar with the Graeco-Egyptian system described above, he derived much of his skrying technique from Fred Hockley, a wealthy book collector who dabbled in mesmerism, claimed the 'power of vision in the Crystal' and was greatly admired by all the earlier members of the Golden Dawn. Hockley believed that either a crystal or a 'magic mirror'—a polished black glass—should be used for a skrying and that to be fully effective it should be consecrated to a particular spirit. In 1871 he gave an account¹⁴ of the use of such a consecrated 'black mirror' which he had supplied many years before to a young army officer. The officer had passed the mirror on to a 'seeress' who used it to observe his actions when he was travelling in unexplored lands.

¹² The full rubric of this extraordinary ceremony may be found in The Equinox, Vol. I, No. 3. It is also briefly described in Ellic Howe, op. cit.

¹³ The text in question was translated into English by C. W. Goodawin and published in 1852 by Deighton Macmillan and Co. of Cambridge under the title, Fragment of a Graeco-Egyptian Work Upon Magic. This pamphlet, only fifty-seven pages in length, was greatly valued by Mathers and exerted a major influence upon him. His Bornless Ritual for the invocation of the Higher Genius was derived from it, as was Crowley's Liber Samekh, originally published as an appendix to his Magick in Theory and Practice (now appearing in Magick, Routledge & Kegan Paul, 1973).

One day my seeress called him into the mirror [said Hockley]. She plainly recognised him, although he was dressed as an Arab and sunburnt, and described what he was doing. He was quarreling with a party of Bedouins in Arabian and speaking energetically to them in Arabic. An old man at last pulled out his dagger and the Lieutenant his revolver, when up rode a horseman and separated them. A long time afterwards the Lieutenant came to me and I told him what she had seen . . . he assured me it was correct in every particular and attached his name to the account I had written down at the time, to certify it was true.

One of the most interesting things about this account is that the lieutenant was R. F. Burton, the young linguist and explorer who was to become the English translator of The Arabian Nights and The Perfumed Garden. It is likely that the recipient of Hockley's magic mirror was Burton's wife, Isabel, who, in spite of her fanatical Roman Catholicism, remained fascinated until the end of her life by tales of hauntings, witchcraft and prophecy.

It was usual for practitioners of Hockley's type of crystal-gazing to 'see' their visions two-dimensionally, rather as though they were watching a television screen. On occasion, however, the seer would find himself entering into the vision, becoming part of it. This was considered to be skrying of a more advanced sort and occultists considered that the souls of those who experienced it had actually left their bodies.

Mathers was impressed by this type of 'astral projection', which he and his disciples called 'skrying in the spirit vision', but he felt that its main disadvantage was its lack of control—the fact that the seer had little or no power to direct the course and content of his vision. To overcome this he evolved the still widely used technique of astral doorways. That is to say the use of symbols, such as the Tarot trumps or the sigils of the Armadel, as devices for auto-hypnosis. The exact way in which these astral doorways were (and are) used is illustrated by the following extracts from a Golden Dawn document.¹⁵

Proceed to contemplation of some object; say a Tarot Trump: either by placing it before you and gazing at it, until you seem to see into it; or by placing it against your forehead or elsewhere, and then keeping the eyes closed; in this case you should have given previous study to the Card. . . . In either case you should then deeply sink into the abstract idea of the card; being in entire indifference to your surroundings. . . . The vision may begin by the concentration passing into a state or reverie; or with a distinct sense of change . . . do not resist . . . let yourself go. . . .

¹⁴ In his evidence on the subject of spiritualism to the committee of the London Dialectical Society.

¹⁵ The full text of Flying Roll No. IV, the document in question, may be found in Astral Projection, Magic and Alchemy (Spearman, 1972).

The document then goes on to describe a vision actually experienced by two Golden Dawn initiates, one of them being Florence Farr, the friend of both Yeats and Shaw. Their 'astral journey' involved them in entering 'a Gothic Temple of ghostly outlines', meeting the goddess Isis, and experiencing the vision of the Holy Grail!

The sigils of the Armadel would have been used in precisely the same way as the Tarot card that produced the visions of Florence Farr. Exactly which sigil was used would have depended upon exactly which aspect of the astral world the seer wished to investigate. If, for example, he wanted to know something about 'The Mysteries of the Creation of the World' he would have used the sigil of Phaet and travelled to the appropriate section of the astral plane.

Such were the ways in which Mathers's disciples used the Armadel.

It remains only to add, first, that all notes to the body of the text are by Mathers unless prefaced by the words Additional Note (in which case they are my own), and, second, that the text of the Armadel printed in the following pages is taken from one of the manuscript copies that circulated amongst the members of the Rosicrucian Order of the Alpha et Omega. This manuscript found its way into the collection of Mr Gerald Yorke (whose activities in the field of document preservation have placed many students of the magical revival greatly in his debt) and will eventually be placed in the library of the Warburg Institute.

Francis King

THE MAGIC OF ARMADEL

THE BOOK OF ARMADEL

or

The Most Perfect, Short and Infallible Science, as well Speculative as Practical of the Whole

QABALAH
I.·H.·V.·H

The Lord thy God thou shalt fear and Him only shalt thou Serve all the days of thy Life, through this Name of Tremendous and Adorable Majesty.¹

¹ This species of title-page occurs in the original MS. at the extreme end of the book, instead of at the beginning, but I have placed it here as more suitable, while giving the Latin of it at the end.

THE MAGIC OF ARMADEL

Seeing that we possess the explanation of the (Magical) Circle, (let us here state) that it is (Employed) for the Invocation of Spirits, so as to escape the dangers which might arise through their malice. Now it having been duly prepared for you to avail yourself of the Services of the Spirit you desire (to Summon) it is necessary to take heed that you comprehend the power which he hath and whether he can grant you that which you shall demand.¹

Being, then, in the midst of the Circle, wherein you are to perform the Operation, and having made the Character (or Sigil) of the Spirit who shall serve you: you shall see that the Circle be (correctly) formed according to the instructions we have (elsewhere) given. Being then, I say, in the midst thereof, after having recited the Pater, an Ave, together with the Credo, you shall repeat the following Conjunction:

CONJURATIO

*Omnipotens Aeterne Deus, Qui totam Creaturam condidisti in laudem et honorem tuum, ac ministerium hominis, oro ut Spiritum (N.N.) de () ordine mittas, qui me informat et doceat quo illum interrogavero, non mea voluntas fiat, sed Tua, per Jesum Christum Filium Unigenitum. Amen.*²

¹ All this paragraph is somewhat complicated in the original French.

² I have given this Conjunction in the Latin of the MS. as some students may prefer to use it in that language.

TRANSLATION OF THE FOREGOING CONJURATION

O Eternal Omnipotent God, Who hast formed every creature unto Thy praise and honour, and for the Ministry of Man: I beseech Thee to send unto me the Spirit (here give the name of the Spirit) of the (here give the name of of class or Order of Spirits) Order, who may inform and teach me concerning those things which I shall demand of him, nevertheless not my Will, but Thine, be done, through Thine Only-begotten Son Jesus Christ. Amen.

Having obtained from the Spirit that which you desire, you shall licence him to depart in these words:

THE LICENCE TO DEPART³

Quia Placide et quiete venisti, et hac petitione mihi respondisti, ago Deo gratias in Cujus Nomen venisti, ite in pace ad loca tua et rediturus ad me cum te vocavero per Christum Dominum nostrum. Amen.

TRANSLATION OF THE FOREGOING LICENCE TO DEPART

Seeing that peaceably and in quiet thou has come, and hast made answer unto me in this (my) petition, I return thanks unto God, in Whose Name thou hast come. Depart hence in peace unto thine habitations, and be thou ready to return whensoever I shall have called thee. Through Christ our Lord! Amen.

After having repeated this Conjunction three times, if so be that the Spirit appeareth not unto you, you shall repeat the present (following) Conjunction three times. And these Conjunctions should be written out on virgin parchment, together with the Licence to Depart.

THE CONJURATION⁴

I (N.N.) do Conjure thee (O Spirit N.N.) by the virtue of the Great and Holy Names of God, that immediately and without delay thou art to appear unto me under an agreeable form, and without noise, nor injury unto my person, to make answer unto all that I shall command thee; and I do conjure thee herein by

³ I have here likewise given this 'Licence to Depart' in the original Latin.

⁴ This Conjunction is not given in the Latin in the original MS., but only in French.

the Great Name of the Living God, and by these Holy Names:

EL ELOHIM ELOHO ELOHIM SEBAOTH ELION EIECH ADIER
EIECH ADONAY JAH SADAY TETRAGRAMMATON SADAY AGIOS O THEOS ISCHIOS ATHANATOS AGLA ⁵ Amen.

After having performed this Conjunction three times following, it is necessary to continue the same for three days successively, in the same place, and at the same hour.

And when (your desire shall be) satisfied, and having obtained from him that which you wish, you must licence him to depart (saying):

'Go in peace unto the place which hath been destined unto you from all Eternity; let there be peace between us and you!'

⁵ El (Hebrew), is God the Mighty One.

Elohim (Hebrew), is The Gods, the God and Goddess, who are the Father and Mother of all, the Great Mother Goddess.

Sebaoth (Hebrew), should be Tzabaoth, is Hosts or Armies.

Elion (Hebrew), is God the Mighty and Living.

Eiech Adier Eiech (Hebrew), should be Ehyeh Asher Ehyeh, is the Name of God signifying 'Eternal Life', ill rendered by the translation 'I am that I am.'

Adonay (Hebrew), should be Adonai, is Lord.

Jah (Hebrew), cf. the passage in the Psalms, 'Praise Him in His Name Jah.'

Saday (Hebrew), should be Shaddai, is God the Shedder or Dispenser.

Tetragrammaton (Greek), is fourfold writing, a mode of indicating the Name of four Letters, which we usually call Jehovah.

Agios (Greek), is Holy.

O Theos (Greek), is God.

Ischios (Greek), is Strong.

Athanatos (Greek), is Immortal.

Agla (Hebrew), is formed from the initials of a sentence meaning 'Thou O God, art mighty for ever!'

THE THEOSOPHY OF OUR FOREFATHERS OR THEIR SACRED AND MYSTIC THEOLOGY

by ARMADEL¹

¹In the MS. this title-page is blank, so I have supplied this text of a title. As in the case of the first title, the design is evidently intended to represent a door; the Portal of Wisdom, as it were.

THE THEOSOPHY OF OUR FATHERS

AS REGARDETH THE PLANETS THE SANHEDRIN

ZADKIEL will teach unto you all the Sciences Active and Passive, with a remarkable facility, with all honesty and courtesy, together with every kind of benediction. They who avail themselves hereof will possess all things in content. He is to be invoked on a Monday and in the Morning. His Character is this (see Figure 1)

ZADKIEL
Red

FIGURE 1

In this Sigil is taught the method of joining together Actives and Passives, or in everything the manner of modesty and grace. In the which Numbers the Lord God doth sanctify these Planets, so that they may work marvels, and as it were portents, through such Numerations.¹

THE CIRCUMCISION OF JESUS AT NAZARETH

The Prophet of the Greatest One; or the Languor of the Nature.

THAVAEI. This Spirit had a particular care of our Lord Jesus Christ. It was he who conducted the Holy Virgin and Saint Joseph into Egypt when they were fleeing from the persecution of Herod. He giveth unto us a perfect knowledge of all the simples and their virtues. He can be invoked at any time. His Character is thus (see Figure 2).

FIGURE 2

¹ In this and the following descriptions of the Offices of these Spirits, the first paragraph is in French, and the second in Latin, the latter being not always either particularly classical or easy of translation.

By the Numbers above referred to are to be understood their mystical values and symbolism according to the Qabalah.

In this Sigil is taught the planting or the sowing of the Seed of Plants, the comprehension of virtue; there are also (herein) taught the manners of flowering as regardeth Plants, and also those inspirations of virtue and grace which be as it were the fundamental plants of the Qabalistical ART.

They who shall write with the ginger upon the forehead of these letters I. . N. . R. . I, will never die by a sudden death.

BY THE FLOWING OF JORDAN

CAPHAEL is a Spirit who guided St. John in the desert, and when he was preaching the Baptism of Penitence by the River of Jordan where the people were baptized, he filled their hearts with Charity and Benediction. He teacheth an infinitude of matters with facility.

CAPHAEL

Red

FIGURE 3

In this his Sigil (see Figure 3) there is taught concerning the healing of barrenness and of death concerning the Kingdom of God, and the most ardent Charity; in the which blessed mystical Numbers (of the Sigil) there is taught unto whatsoever Operations this is to be applied, howbeit certain special Operations do fall under the head of certain especial Numbers. Also concerning Sciences and Arts of all kinds and of all perfections whatsoever they may be.

He is to be invoked on Fridays and in the morning.

THE SON OF ZACHARIAS IN THE DESERT

SAMAEL is the Spirit who did never abandon Saint John during the time in which he dwelled in the desert before his preaching. He is the protector of preachers in Missions among foreign nations. He teacheth Theology. He is to be invoked on a Wednesday, and in the morning. His Character is thus formed (see Figure 4).

FIGURE 4

In this Sigil is taught the harvest of the Plants of Blessedness, and such harvests; together with the envy of the Kingdom of Behemoth and Leviathan, of the which the Lord God did make use from the Beginning, and preserved (the same) for the production of all creatures, and also in what manner such souls be produced (and come forth).

IN THE FIELDS OF BABYLON

URIEL is a Spirit who did reveal unto the Prophet Esdras every description of Prophecy, he did also aid the Children of Israel in the Camp of the Babylonians. He teacheth natural Sciences, Physic, and Medicine. He is to be invoked on a Wednesday, before daybreak. Thus is his Character (see Figure 5).

FIGURE 5

In this Sigil there be taught the method of understanding what and of what Kind were those twin Souls (namely) Henoch.¹ The faculties of the Mind and Understanding are purified, and these also in such a manner that they may be exalted from the lowest degree unto that which is most perfect of all. By the which composition also there can be a transmission made of the participating Power or that power of communication of the comprehension of Spirits.

¹ It is noteworthy what is here said concerning the dual nature of Enoch!

THE SPIRIT OF ELISHA

MICHAEL is a Spirit who guided the Prophet Elisha in all his actions. He is the Protector of all Kingdoms. After God Himself, he is almost all-powerful as regardeth those who perform his Invocation, which latter should be worked upon a Sunday, and in the evening. Thus is his Character (see Figure 6).

MICHAEL

FIGURE 6

In this Sigil is taught how there may be formed a certain composite thing by means of which the faculties and vital Spirits (exist) as well in Man as in other creatures, according to what is necessary for and convenable unto them.

OF THE LIFE OF ELIJAH

GABRIEL is a Spirit who did teach unto the Prophet Elijah all the Mysteries of Divinity. He is to be invoked on a Thursday before Daybreak. His Power is very Great, and he can do you great good, in the which he will instruct you. Thus is his Character (see Figure 7).

GABRIEL

Red

Red

FIGURE 7

In this Sigil there be taught the Methods of restoring and transplanting both health and mental force.¹

¹ The Latin is: Sanitatem et Spiritus.

THE WISDOM OF SOLOMON

RAPHAEL is a Spirit of Science who did teach unto Solomon¹ Knowledge and Wisdom. He is to be invoked on a Sunday before Sunrise. Thou must be both pure and chaste when thou dost invoke him, and thou must have fasted on the previous eve. Thus is his Character (see Figure 8).

FIGURE 8

In this Sigil is taught the manner of joining Actives and Passives together the one unto the other, in natural things. There is also taught concerning the 'KANSSUD'² of Earthly regions and powers, from one class unto another.

¹ Many Magical Works say that Solomon was taught by the Angels Hamaliel and Michael.

² Docetur Kanssud Terrenarum et potestatem de uno capite in aliud. This word 'Kanssud' which here occurs in the middle of the Latin is, I think, a contraction for the German 'Sud Kante' and I think must here mean the 'Southern division of our Earth,' or 'the Knowledge of the countries and races South of the Equator,' concerning most of which the civilised Ancients knew very little, or nothing.

THE EXPLORER AND LEADER JOSHUA

HETAEL is a Spirit who guides armies and also can destroy them, as he did unto the enemies of the Children of Israel under the command of Joshua, when by his prayer the latter arrested the course of the Sun. He can render you invulnerable unto every kind of weapon, and can give you Spirits to serve you unto this end. He is to be invoked on a Tuesday. Thus is his Character (see Figure 9).

FIGURE 9

In this Sigil there is taught the declaring of the intentions of Enemies and the like. Also there can be expelled all things noxious unto body and mind, and further in like manner this Mystic (Sigil) operateth in their restoration. Also there be Mysteries regarding 'Man'.^{1*}

¹ In hoc Sigillo docetur enarratio cordium inimicorum et quorum cumque expellenda omnia noxia corporis et animi et restauratione eorum sicut illud misterium operatur docentur quoque misteria Man.'

The Latin is rather obscurely worded. I do not think for a moment that by 'Man' the English word is intended, but perhaps it may be German 'Man' the pronoun 'one'. In this case I should consider here that it most likely means 'personality' but perhaps also the Indian 'Mantra' or Spell is intended.

* Additional Note Mathers's suggestion that the word 'Man' might be derived from Mantra betrays his total lack of historical sense! The word is clearly derived from the German and illustrates the Armadel's Faustian connections.

THE VISION OF 'MAN'¹

VAU-AEL is a Spirit who causeth all kinds of pleasant visions to appear, such as our Forefathers in the Old Testament beheld. He serveth you faithfully in all that you desire to know. Thus is his Character (see Figure 10). He hath many Spirits under his dominion.

FIGURE 10

In this Sigil, howbeit, there is formed a certain species of 'Man'¹ for castings out.

¹ See note to description of the Sigil of the previous Spirit, Hetael.

THE ROD OF MOSES

ZAINAEL is a Spirit who did teach unto Moses the methods of availing himself of the Rod with the which he did perform so many miracles in Egypt, and among the Chaldeans. He hath much power to render those rich who avail themselves of his services. He can be invoked at any hour. Thus is his Character (see Figure 11).

FIGURE 11

In this Sigil is taught the Practice of the Science and Wisdom of the Diviners and Magi of the Egyptians and Chaldeans, and by what ways and means they may be acquired.

MOSES IN THE INTERIOR OF THE DESERT

HETHATIA maketh you see even as Moses saw the benefits which he had received from God, when he was in the Desert of the Land of Midian. He can do much for those who invoke him, but it must not be in the desert place. Thus is his Character (see Figure 12).

In this Sigil is taught the Science and Wisdom of Moses, and the Arcana of the Egyptian Magi and Diviners; perfect happiness and the ways of causing and inspiring fear, and of going forth from a land and for the preservation of a Man in that (case) and place.

THE CAVE OF EPHRON

TETAHATIA is a Spirit of Science and Virtue, who hath preserved our Forefathers from their enemies, rendering them formidable unto them so as to put them to flight. He will do the same unto the Enemies of those who shall wish to avail themselves of his services. Thus is his Character (see Figure 13).

FIGURE 13

In this Sigil be noted the ways whereby a blinding darkness may be produced, or a thing terrible unto one's enemies, also how a blessing may fall hereon.

ALEPTA maketh you see how Abraham went forth from Ur from among the Chaldeans, and from Haran. He can give unto you great riches. Thus is his Character (see Figure 14).

ALEPTA maketh you see how Abraham went forth from Ur from among the Chaldeans, and from Haran. He can give unto you great riches. Thus is his Character (see Figure 14).

FIGURE 14

In this Sigil is taught how a Man may be exalted, and how a Man may become formidable unto all Creatures, at any hour (and how he may be rescued) whether out of the hands of cruel men, or from a crowd of men.¹

¹ This is the best translation I can give of the crabbed Latin 'Singulis horis ex duris hominibus seu posse hominis.'

THE WISDOM OF OUR FOREFATHER ADAM

BETEL teacheth unto you the Sciences which God had revealed unto Adam. He is a very docile Spirit who appeareth as soon as he is invoked. (This should be either) in a wood, or in a secluded garden, and one should be alone, whether it be by day or by night. Thus is his Character (see Figure 15).

FIGURE 15

In this there is taught in what way we can arrive at the possession of the virtues of all Creatures (or created things); there is (further) taught what and of what kind¹ be the virtues hereof, and what (virtues) be truly most powerful above all virtues of Creatures. There is also taught the reason of the laws² of (such) virtues and of their uses.

¹ In the MS. 'Equales'; I think a slip for 'et quales'.

² 'Latium', I think the word is in the MS. In Latin this means rather an Act, such as an Act of Parliament, than a Law properly so called.

THE BEHOLDING OF THE SERPENT

GIMELA maketh you to know and behold the form of the Serpent who did tempt Eve in the Terrestrial Paradise; (he also) can give unto you some of his Spirits who can transport you from one place to another and can even make you travel at the speed of an hundred leagues in an hour. Thus is his Character (see Figure 16).

FIGURE 16

In this Sigil there be taught all the Mysteries which the Lord is willing to allow to be worked by the Serpent and from the Serpent; what may be his corporeal moulding or proportion, and whether he can contain in himself all invisible beings (or creatures) and in what manner.

THE VISION OF FORMATION—ADAM

DALÉTÉ is a Spirit who will show unto you the Visions which Adam beheld while he was upon the Earth. He hath many Spirits under his leadership, who will teach unto you many things if you tell unto them that which you shall desire. Thus is his Character (see Figure 17).

DALÉTÉ
Black

FIGURE 17

In this Sigil be taught and demonstrated the Mystical Formation of Adam; what Animals were in the Lord¹ and brought in this place unto Adam by the Lord God.

¹ i.e., symbolically included in the Name IHVH and its power as distinct from that of the Evil Spirits and Demons.

THE VISION OF EDEN, OR OF THE TERRESTRIAL PARADISE

PHALET will teach unto you all that did happen in the Terrestrial Paradise, from the time of the Creation of Adam and Eve. There be many Spirits under his leadership who can do much in the manner of serving you, and in many ways. Thus is his Character (see Figure 18).

FIGURE 18

In this Sigil there be taught the Mysteries of the Creation of the World, and of all Creatures, and what (of these) be sacred; but also how those (creatures) are proper to be detested for superstitious reasons when they draw their origin from Corpses of the dead, and from collections thereof, and from sepulchres; and thence also is the arising of every kind of superstitions. In this Sigil be (also) taught all the Arcana of Necromancers and of Diviners of that same class,¹ and whence in a Scientific (sense) these (arts) take their rise.

¹ i.e., those who Divine by means of the dead. This whole paragraph is in atrocious Latin and very obscurely worded.

CONCERNING PHITONE¹ OR THE ABUSES OF NECROMANCY

SAMAEL is a spirit of Counsel. He teacheth you Magic, Necromancy, Jurisprudence, and all the Occult Sciences, with facility. He is to be invoked on a Tuesday at Midnight, care being taken to fast the day that you shall wish to avail your self of his services. He hath much in his power, and on your demand he will tell you the extent thereof. Thus is his Character (see Figure 19).

SAMAEI

FIGURE 19

In this Sigil there be taught what are all the abuses of Necromancy which may expose a man (to danger) through such communication; whether such communication may have such virtue as to link you unto the Angels and unto God, and to confer upon you power over all creatures, or the union of the love of all beings with the most profound and familiar knowledge of them, or whether it may join us unto the Devil even as in our mortal familiar (relationships) so can we be linked with all things which may be pleasing unto us. There is also taught (herein) how such communications may be formed.²

¹ Probably an error for 'Pythene' the Ablative case of the Latin word 'Pythe' or 'Pythen', meaning the Spirit of Necromantic Divination. See Acts of the Apostles.

² This whole paragraph is in very obscure Latin and without the slightest punctuation.

CONCERNING THE COMMUNICATION OF THE GENII

CAMAEEL giveth unto you a perfect knowledge of your Genius, who will have the power to grant you everything that you shall demand of him. There be many Spirits under the rule of (Camael) who can serve you in many things, and especially such as you shall demand of them. Thus is his Character (see Figure 20).

FIGURE 20

In this Sigil is taught what and after what manner may be this communication of the Genii; (transforming in us) our evil (qualities) into good, and our good (qualities) into better and best; there is also taught the method of such transformation. Wherefore adore the Lord God and love thy neighbour!

HANIEL teacheth unto you the transformation of all precious stones and giveth unto you as many as you wish thereof. He is to be invoked on a Friday before daybreak. Thus is his Character (see Figure 21).

Reed

This image displays a collection of 15 calligraphic letters from various scripts, including Latin, Greek, and Cyrillic. Each letter is annotated with a red or green label indicating a specific stroke or feature:

- Top Row:
 - A large, stylized letter (possibly a variant of 'E' or 'G') with a green label.
 - A six-pointed star-like symbol with a red label.
 - A letter with a yellow label.
 - A letter with a green label.
- Middle Row:
 - A letter with a red label.
 - A letter with a green label.
 - A letter with a green label.
- Bottom Row:
 - A letter with a green label.
 - A letter with a red label.
 - A letter with a green label.
 - A letter with a yellow label.

43

In this seal there is taught how Genii may be transformed into Man. They can pass from him into their nature, and correspond unto him in the compounded elements. There is here also taught how such may be necessary unto the Human Race. Also the necessity of such a Mystery.

CONCERNING THE NATURE OF THE GENII

ANAEL is a Spirit which will give unto you the Knowledge of all things which he in the Order of Nature (understands), for he is a Spirit of Power, who appeareth speedily if he shall be invoked on a Sunday at Daybreak by one who is alone and in a retired place. Thus is his Character (see Figure 22).

FIGURE 22

In this Sigil there be taught who and what the Genii are, as also their power and virtue. There be further shown the Mysteries of the Present, Past and Future Age. In this Sigil is hidden the Science of Merchants. Also here be those things which do appear and are reputed to be supernatural. Also herein we can obtain the revelation of unknown things, but this (is only granted) unto the Elect of God.¹

Also the Praxis of those Arcane Secrets of the Lord is declared and demonstrated in this Sigil, wherefore Adore the Lord thy God with thy whole heart, and love thy neighbour. In the Praxis or working of this Sigil thou shalt constate that the effects hereof be certain and true yet (causing) the greatest wonder and astonishment.

¹ This whole paragraph is in most vile Latin, and is difficult of purely literal translation.

THE SACRO-MYSTIC THEOLOGY OF OUR FATHERS¹

CONCERNING THE SCIENCE OF THE REGENERATION OF ADAM AND HIS CHILDREN BY PELECH²

We have given and told unto you many things regarding the Good Spirits who can serve you faithfully. Those we are here about to speak of can also do the same, seeing that they served our First Parents from the Creation of the World.

OPHIEL is a Spirit of Piety. He will teach you all the Wisdom of our First Father. Thus is his Character (see Figure 23).

Characters of the Spirit which be under the
domination of OPHIEL

FIGURE 23

¹ Here the title changes.

² Here follow three characters which are evidently intended for the Hebrew letters P L Ch, Pelech.

In this Sigil there be taught the Mysteries of the Regeneration of Adam and his Children in Time, through Pelech³ now shown forth visibly as Jesus. Also the forms of those in torment.

CONCERNING THE DEVILS AND HOW THEY MAY BE BOUND AND COMPELLED TO VISIBLE APPEARANCE

Now this is the Object of the Diabolic Qabalah.

(ASMODEUS. LEVIATHAN) These Spirits teach you further the Malice of the Devils. Avail not yourself of the services of these Evil Spirits who are deceivers. It is alone the Name of God which can enable you to force them and all others to come unto you. Thus are their Characters (see Figures 24 and 25).

³ Later in the Work 'Pelech' is used as the Name of Jesus.

ASMODEÉ
Green

LEVIATAN
Green

FIGURE 24

FIGURE 25

In this Sigil be the methods whereby we can force the Devils to show themselves unto us in their torments and that in bodily form.

CONCERNING THE DEVILS AND HOW THEY CAN BECOME VISIBLE

(HEMOSTOPHILÉ)¹ This Spirit again will make you see and know the Malice of the Devils, and will give you as many of them as you may wish. Avail not yourself of their services. Thus is his Character (see Figure 26).

FIGURE 26

In this Sigil there be taught the methods whereby we can oblige the Devils to show themselves visibly in torments. They can deceive men and assume their forms, and change the just inclinations of men into evil passions. (Also there is herein shown) how they can take such forms, and from what media, and what methods they make use of (to do so).

¹ Probably the same as Mephistopheles, yet the seal is different from his.

CONCERNING THE DEVILS AND HOW THEY MAY BE BOUND AND BECOME VISIBLE

(BRUFOR) This Spirit again teacheth unto you the nature and quality of the Devils, and the difference of their names and titles; how they can bind invisibly and how we can bind them. Avail not yourself of him. This is his Character. (See Figure 27).

FIGURE 27

In this Sigil is taught how we can compel the Devils to show themselves visibly in the forms which they usually take to frighten and deceive (men).

There is also (here) taught how we may know them, for the Devils are known by their Names. Also whether and how from their Names their actions and operations can be known. Also how by the light hereof we can find out the means of driving them away from us and from our works and operations.

CONCERNING THE WAYS OF KNOWING THE DEVILS AND OF BANISHING THEM

(LAUNÉ) This Spirit again giveth unto you the knowledge of the Devils, but I counsel you not to avail yourself of his services, for he is a very wicked Spirit and a deceiver, who will do all in his power to entrap you, and afterwards he will mock you. Thus is his Character (see Figure 28).

FIGURE 28

In this Sigil there is taught whether they can have proper Names as distinct from the Angelic Names, seeing that they were transformed through their casting out: whether they can lead their lives in any definite place, or wherein there is a place determined; whether it be permitted in the Spheres or in the compounded Elements. Also there is herein taught whether they have free will; in what way they conduct themselves in the places which they occupy; Also whether where they live be determined by the Power of their Expulsion.

Whether again there was an interval between their Expulsion and the Creation of Adam, and (if so) what interval. Herein also are taught unheard of and most terrible Mysteries, of such Interval and of Life.

CONCERNING THE DEVILS AND THEIR LIFE

(BETOR)¹ This Spirit maketh you comprehend who and what the Devils or Angels of Darkness really are; the difference of their Names; their Powers; and what they can do. He, being invoked, appeareth speedily, and that at any time and at any hour. Thus is his Character (see Figure 29).

FIGURE 29

In this Sigil there be taught what are the Devils or Angels of Darkness; how they can be known and understood by their proper Names; and how they are to be distinguished from the Angels. Also whether the Devils can fully be known by proper Names; and whether the Virtue of God is impressed upon them, or followeth hereupon.

There is also herein taught how we can attract such Angels unto us as Familiar Spirits by the knowledge of their Names.

Also the Mysterious Operations of such Angels, both as regardeth ourselves and our actions.*

¹ This is usually considered as the Name of the Olympic Spirits of the Planet Jupiter, which is a Spirit of a good and benevolent nature.

* Additional Note In fact several of the names of Spirits given in the Armadel seem to be variations on the names of the so-called 'Olympic Planetary Spirits' who feature in almost all the Faustian grimoires of the seventeenth century.

CONCERNING THE WAYS OF KNOWING THE GOOD ANGELS, AND OF CONSULTING THEM

(ZADKIEL, SACHIEL) These Spirits do give you in all things whatsoever advice may be good and fitting; they discover unto you all kinds of treasures, give them unto you and carry them whithersoever you request. They can also give you a Purse wherein is Gold and Silver. They appear unto you as soon as you invoke them, which should be on a Thursday and at Daybreak. Thus are their Characters (see Figures 30 and 31).

ZADKIEL

Red

FIGURE 30

SACHIEL

Red

FIGURE 31

In this Sigil is taught of what description be the Angels of Light and Glory. There be also taught the Mystical Period of such a Life; and Mysteries, as they were unutterable, concerning such a Life; also that there was a certain Interval between their Creation and sending forth, and what be the Mysteries of such Interval.

CONCERNING THE LIFE OF MAN

(PHUL. GABRIEL) These Spirits, besides the Life of Souls and of Man, do teach unto you all the Sciences which you shall desire to know. Thus are his Characters (see Figures 32 and 33).

FIGURE 32

FIGURE 33

In this Sigil there is taught what may be the Life (of Man) and the Creation (of Souls) even until the time of their sending forth into Bodies.

There be also taught the great Mysteries which the Lord is willing to perform; and whether all Souls were created from such a creation alike and at one time, and so also whether such be reserved in a certain place so that going forth thence they may be sent into Bodies and rule therein for a period of time.

These Spirits are to be invoked on a Monday and at Daybreak.

CONCERNING THE CREATION OF THE SOULS OF MEN

(ARATRON) This Spirit teacheth unto you the Creation of the Souls of Men, and what they really are; as also their estate after Death. When you cause these Spirits (under Aratron) to come unto you, see that you remain not long in their company. They will also tell you by writing, that which you desire to know. This is his Character (see Figure 34).

FIGURE 34

In this Sigil is taught what is the creation of the Souls of Mankind, and what is the object and end of such Creation. Also what portion of the Angelic Host did rebel; and what time they rebelled; and how the Rebellious Angels were cast out. Also by the Virtue and in the Virtue (of this Sigil) there be also taught Unrelatable Mysteries regarding that Rebellion and that Expulsion, as well as the Time of that Rebellion and Expulsion.

CONCERNING THE EVANGELIC REBELLION AND EXPULSION¹

(LUCIFER . BELZEBUT . ASTAROT) These Spirits teach you what were the Rebellion and Fall of the Evil Spirits. Thus be their Characters (see Figures 35, 36 and 37).

LUCIFER

Green

FIGURE 35

Characters of his Princes

BELZEBUT

Green

FIGURE 36

ASTAROT

Green

FIGURE 37

In this Sigil there be taught what was the Rebellion of the Angels and what was its cause; what were the Mysteries of their Life; whether their life should be understood as a continual action; whether the Names of these Angels were given unto them through the commands of God; what things have been committed unto them, whence and of what kind; and whether a certain Angel be allotted unto any or unto some especial commands. There be taught also herein certain most hidden Mysteries, alike admirable and not admirable, concerning their Life, which same be revealed unto very few, (especially the comprehension of their Mode of Life before the Fall).

¹ i.e., referred to in the New Testament.

CONCERNING THE LIFE OF THE ANGELS BEFORE THE FALL

(ZAPHKIEL and his Spirits) These do (not) teach you of what nature is the Life of all Angels, and their business and intercourse. Thus be their Characters (see Figure 38).

ZAPHKIEL

Red

Black

Black

Black

Black

Black

Black

Black

Black

Black

Black

Black

Black

Black

Black

FIGURE 38

In this Sigil there is taught what was the Life of the Angels before the Fall. There be taught also the Mysteries of their habitation; whether there be a place of habitation for the Rebellious Angels; whether there may be found a Place Impassable and Void; whether the Angels were without any affection of passion soever; whether they were created in happiness; and whether such is confirmed unto them.

CONCERNING THE CREATION OF ALL THE ANGELS

(OCH and his Spirits) These do teach you what is the Nature of the Angels. These subjects fall under the domination of Och who is a Solar Spirit, and should be invoked on a Sunday at Daybreak. Thus are the Characters (see Figure 39).

FIGURE 39

In this Sigil there is taught what is the Nature of Angels; what may be the object and end of such Creation and whether it be established to operate in the preservation and destruction of all Creatures. There is also taught Who and What is that Promised Messiah; what is the Kingdom; What is the Kingdom of

In this Sigil as in others (Magical ones), there be Mysteries through the combination of Geometry, Gilgud² and Numbers, as well as points relating to Geometrical (Symbolism).

(GABRIEL and his Spirits) These Spirits do teach you all kinds of Mysteries. Thus is the Character (see Figure 40).

FIGURE 40

¹ At this point in the original MS. a leaf is interpolated bearing only the Hebrew words transliterated as: IHVH El Adonai Elohim Shaddai Agla Elohi.

² 'Gilgud', from the Hebrew, means Wheel or Revolution and is often applied to Permutation of Names by Substitution, transposition, etc. of the Letters composing them.

(Abraham) did rule and govern himself and went forth by the command of the Lord God to travel in the Land of Chanaan, wherein also he sojourned and was buried by his two (sons) in a Mystical Sepulchre, that is to say in the Cave near unto Cariatarbee, wherein also Abraham, Isaac and Jacob were interred. Now this same Cariatarbee is Hebrew Mambre, and Ephrata.

In this land did Abraham behold Three and Adore One, and thus was it counted unto him for righteousness.

In this Sigil is taught Who be those Three Persons meet to be adored, and how they do harmonise together; also as concerneth the Angels and Men what Mysteries they do operate; also how they do harmoniously act through Created Beings, Angels and men. All these things be shown forth in the Letters and in the Sigil herewith given, through their Number and Combination.

CONCERNING GOD IN HIS TRINE PERSONALITY

(MICHAEL and his Spirits) These be the Characters of the Spirits who do teach unto you all Mystical Sciences (see Figure 41).

MICHAEL
Red

FIGURE 41

In this Sigil be taught the Mysteries of the Trinity Whom Abraham our Father knew, believed in and confessed. There is also taught herein how It is pleasing and harmonious in Itself, and by what ways It may be propitiated, as hath been communicable through Its Adorable Attributes. There is also (herein) taught how the whole may be communicable unto and in Thee, and as regardeth Thee in a profound and wonderful manner, through the Combinations of the Letters which be in the Great Central Triangle, between the Small Orb and Triangle. There is also (herein) taught how the Science of God may be communicable through His Attributes unto all Created Beings; and especially those most profound Mysteries which He operateth with regard both to Angels and Men, the which be shown through the combinations of the Letters which be without the Small Orb.

Also in all this Science thou shalt observe the Combinations of the Letters, of Geometry, and Gilgud or of their Numbers, in thy searching examination of all Sigils.

CONCERNING GOD THE UNIVERSALLY ONE

These be the Characters of the Spirits who do teach unto you all kinds of Sciences (see Figure 42). They be under the domination of CASSIEL, and are to be invoked on a Saturday at eleven o'clock at night,

FIGURE 42

In this Sigil is manifested the most glorious Science of God.

In this are taught the Paths of Wisdom¹ and their profoundest Mysteries; how we can know such paths; and how we may become worthy to walk therein. There be also shown the Mysteries of our hearts through this Number of Thirty-two. Its significations teach the Mysteries of the Regeneration of our Heart; whether from the beginning it was constituted to operate hereby and herewith, and by the Word of God; whether it was distinct in the Mind of God; and what be its place, Science and dubitation, its hope, faith and ultimate desire.

If you shalt desire to know thoroughly these Paths of Perfect and Profound Wisdom together with their Mysteries; remember the combinations of writings in the Sigil (He)² which is in the centre of the figure of the Heart.

Whosoever thou mayest be, despise not this wonderful Science and Geometrical Searching Out, and the points of E o n,³ and the Mystical Numbers of the Letters. Also the Lord said unto God:⁴ 'Go forth through the midst of the City, through the midst of Jerusalem, and sign a Symbol upon the foreheads of the men who groan and grieve over all the abominations which be in the midst thereof.' Also he said unto them: 'Hear me, go ye forth through the City following after him, and smite ye every man upon whom ye shall see 'T h a u n e'.⁵ Ye shall slay them from my Sanctuary. — Begin.'

¹ i.e., the thirty-two Paths of the Sepher Yetzirah.

² This is evidently the Hebrew letter Hé though it looks more like the numbers 33 in the MS.

³ The Gnostic term for emanation of the Deity.

⁴ Cf. Ezekiel.

⁵ The Greek Letter Tau(?).

CONCERNING THE PATHS OF WISDOM

These be the Characters of the Spirits of Force and Counsel (see Figure 43).

Characters of the Spirit of Force and Counsel.

FIGURE 43

This is the Sigil of Joy, and of the Spirit which goeth forth and retireth. The Characters of the Spirits of Joy (see Figure 44).

Characters of the Spirits of Joy

FIGURE 44

Thou¹ shalt have fasted with the Lord God Pelech, now (called) Jesus, for Seven Days, the which shall be passed in humility and sobriety, in mercy and patience, in peace and equilibrium; (that is to say) in the beginning of all the Sigils of Love and Charity, and from which they do proceed.

The Characters of the Angels of Love and Charity (see Figure 45).

Characters of the Angels of Love and Charity

FIGURE 45

Is it not written and reported by tradition that 'there were Six Men² who came from the way of the Upper Gate which looketh toward the North, each holding in his hand a weapon of death. Also in the midst of them was one Man clothed with a robe of fine linen, and he had instruments for writing hung at his side. And when they had entered, they stood beside the Altar of Brass, And the Glory of the Lord of Israel withdrew from the Cherub which was etc. . . ' Also in the Books of Moses (it is written)³ that with 250 shekels of each of various ingredients and with 500 shekels of Myrrh, etc., according to the weight of the Sanctuary, and with a certain measure of Olive Oil, thou shalt make a certain Holy Anointing Oil composed according to the Art of the Apothecary; and that herewith thou shalt anoint the Tabernacle of Testimony and the Ark of the Covenant, the Table with its Vessels, the Candlesticks, the Altar of Incense and that of Burnt Offering, and all things pertaining unto the Cult.⁴

¹ From this point on to the end of the book, the whole of the original MS. is in execrable and obscure Latin.

² See Ezekiel.

³ See Exod. xxx.

⁴ Here by an evident slip the Characters of the Spirits of Joy are given a second time.

THE RATIONAL TABLE: or the QABALISTICAL LIGHT; PENETRATING WHATSOEVER THINGS BE MOST HIDDEN AMONG THE CELESTIALS, THE TERRESTRIALS AND THE INFERNALS

THE FIRST CHARACTERS

The First Characters which should be made upon virgin parchment, on Sunday in the Hour of the sun (see Figure 46), The first letter of your name should be written in the semi-circle 'A', and that of your surname in the semi-circle 'B'. You should wear this upon your left side (near the heart) before you proceed to invoke the Spirits, in order to make them obey you, and to gain from them that which you shall desire.

FIGURE 46

ISRAEL hath gone forth from the Beginning, from the Days of Eternity. O my Soul, possess thyself in searching out and following out in thyself the Will of thy Lord PELECH Who is JESUS; for that Peace shall be thine, when M e m o r o t h the Assyrian and M e t r u m shall come to turn thee from the Eternal Law, and thus disturb thee in all thy ways.

Be unwilling to fast,¹ O my Soul; let it be at the hour of Day that thy cry may be heard on high. Is it also such a fast which the Lord hath chosen to afflict thee by day, through the depth and multitude of my iniquities, whereby I have excited thy wrath, and have done evil before thee unintentionally, also I have kept thy commands.²

The Lord God presseth me hard because of my many sins; nevertheless bow down (unto Him) O my Soul; that thou mayest rather fall into the hands of the Lord God, seeing that many are His Mercies, than into the hands of Man. Turn then, O my Soul and humble thyself before the Lord thy God. The Lord thy God hath created Israel, and truly there is a Providence which acteth in the sight of God; and him who hath cried unto Him, also He observeth intently, and listeneth unto his prayer.

Cry unto the Lord, with great insistence, and humiliate thyself O Soul, also in Chastity, in fasting, in mercy, in power, seeking out with thine whole heart in thy prayers the Will of the Lord God, and all things shall be added unto thee. From thine inmost heart and in tears shalt thou say unto the Lord thy God, 'I have sinned, nevertheless O Lord return unto me whom Thou hast humiliated.' Be in thine whole heart ever seeking Jesus, in chastity and in sobriety, in mercy and patience, and thus shalt thou possess the Soul in faith, hope, and charity; and thus shalt thou pray confidently. And whatsoever thou shalt seek in Bereshith,³ shall be given back unto thee in Mercavah.⁴

¹ Noli jejunare.

² Like nearly all the latter part of the MS. this paragraph is most obscurely worded in Latin.

³ The Beginning of Genesis.

⁴ The Vision of the Cherubim in Ezek. i. called also 'Mercavah' or 'the Vision of the Chariot'.

THE VISION OF ANOINTING

Hath it not been written in the Scriptures, — 'Take unto thee sweet spices, five hundred shekels of myrrh the finest and most choice, likewise thou shalt reckon two hundred and fifty shekels of Calamus,'¹ Are these not in the Blood, Vital and Animal Spirits? Is there not Blood in the whole Body? And there is (a certain proportion) of fat joined thereunto preserving the Spirits thereof. In the Body of the Fish preserved by Tobias were there not these Spirits (derived from) the purest faculties of all true Elementary Forces? Know thou then what most holy thing existeth as regardeth (these Elementary Forces) preserved in Nature!

Therefore the Lord Pelech,² now Jesus, by His Omnipotent Grace mercifully operating in Nature, protecting the Heart of the Operator in Simplicity, in Faith, in Hope and going forth in Charity, rejoicing also in Itself, directeth such Spirits according to their most sacred faculties to cooperate with such Operation of a Simple Heart.

Is it not manifested in the Book of Tobias, who himself was of a Simple Heart, that the Lord God directed the Spirits of the Liver of the Fish according to their most secret faculties, in His Adorable Name, by His Angel Raphael, to co-operate with Tobias in the casting away of the Albumen (from the eyes of his) father?

By a Number (namely) through the Ternary, is the Mercy of God the Highest Lord, Jah, turned, therefore revealing all things. David took unto himself five most clear stones from the Brook and five cakes of Shewbread, the which Bread the Laity might not have, but only the Elect. Is not the Head the seat of Imagination, of Memory and of Intellect?

¹ See Exod. xxx. 23.

² P L C h = 118, to pass, renew, change, to ferment (in Hebrew) פ ל ח

COR ERGO ET SCIETUR UNUM SUNT
PUTREUS M ALE STUM¹
THE VISION OF DUST²

Wherefore let it be granted that dry bones having been reduced in to a most fine powder, that this also may be refined and compounded together like unto the T h i n i a n a of Moses the Blood. Neither ever hereafter shouldest thou despise this holiest Mystery; for thee the Spirit of Life is herein like as in the Dust of a Man.

Since all these (matters) have been placed before thy true heart, which also the Lord God hath chosen for the legitimate Tabernacle, may He further bless all thy works in thy time!

By His Angel Raphael He appeareth unto the blessed Tobias and in his journey he put to flight all Malice of heart and every kind of Demon which obsesses, and (caused) Simplicity of heart, Purity and Faith in Prayer to have entire dominion with him.

Is there not sought in the Imagination those things which one hath not known, and is there not pleasure in the excitation thereof? Hath not Memory been willing to aid that which the Imagination hath clothed with form, so that one may see of what nature such things may be and whether any further development of them may be (advisable)? Hath not the Intellect having applied them unto Itself, known how to treat in thee the things cast forth by the Memory, and this to what degree and extent according unto their faculties and powers? Do not Memory, imagination, and Intellect operate (simultaneously) together? For at once and in unity these (three) which be united together do then become Intellectual Action. Is not the Heart a recurved Vase of Blood? If among all these so many be found similar that they may be perfected hereunto, it will be the same concerning His people.³

Study this well O Man, ardent for Wisdom, in the following out of this Path desiring all things, seeking all things, and understanding all things, seeing that in thyself⁴ are all things.

¹ This piece of mutilated Latin is very difficult of translation. I suggest the following: 'Therefore let it be understood that the heart which is one thing yet when decaying is reduced into a bitter powder,' taking 'Male' for 'Malleatus' and 'Stum' for 'Stymma.'

² Visio Stile. This word Stile probably stands for dust but it may also be a perversion of 'Still' from 'Stilla' a drop, as a drop of Dew.

³ This whole sentence is very obscurely worded in Latin.

⁴ Inipso.

Assimilated; Contained: Willed. Was it not on the Fifth Day⁵ that Man was made a Living Soul?

Was there not a Soul⁶ which came forth (into manifestation) on the Third Day? Did it not also give forth and withdraw (the faculty of) Hope, and before that it withdrew, did it not rejoice in the Quinary Number;⁷ going forth and returning in that same Number; for it rejoiced in the Nature of the Creatures which do exist in the Number of the Quinary.

First God, (then) Spirit and Matter. Most powerfully do these operate the separation of Matter violently transformed by Life. How can such (Life) do aught but delight in the Number of the Five, seeing that therein is hidden every Mystery of a (Past), Present and Future Age, since in such (Eternal) Epoch is the Name of the Lord God.

Also in the Prophecy of Ezekiel, as it was taught unto him, the Lord God said: 'Let the Spirit come from the Four Winds,⁸ and brood over these that they may revive in the Name PELECH, now JESUS.' The Lord God PELECH, now JESUS. The Spirit having entered into them, also they spake. It is not also related by inspiration that the Lord said unto Moses: 'Take unto thee Aromatics; Stacte, Galbanum of good odour, and thus Luci, of equal weight:⁹ hereof shalt thou make a perfume composed according to the Art of the Apothecary, mixed with care; pure and sanctified, and most fitting to be offered unto me. And when thou shalt have beaten it into most fine powder, then shalt thou place it before the Tabernacle of the Testimony in the which place I will appear unto thee, Holy of Holies shall it be. Thou shalt compose nothing similar for thine own use, seeing that it is Holy unto the Lord.' Man who was called Adam, also called by their (true) Names all the animals, as well the Birds of Heaven as the Beasts of Earth, But there was not found an aid for Adam who was like unto him.¹⁰

Is it not written and reported by tradition¹¹ that the Lord God led forth Ezekiel in His Spirit, and left him in the midst of a field which was full of dry bones, and led him round about these bones in that region, and prophesied over those bones. And in the Name of the Lord he said unto them: 'O Dry Bones, hear ye the Word of the Lord! Thus said the Lord unto you: "So therefore

⁵ ?Sixth.

⁶ i.e., that Germination of Life on the Earth.

⁷ i.e., that of the Spirit and the Four Elements, (that is, the Creative.) cf. the Cherubim and the Elemental Spirits.

⁸ i.e., as it were the Ethers of the Four Elements, see Ezekiel.

⁹ See Exod. xxx. 34 et seq.

¹⁰ See Gen. ii. 19-20.

¹¹ Ezek. xxxvii.

will I send forth My Spirit unto you, and ye shall live, and ye shall know that I am the Lord." Also thus was it done at the same time that Ezekiel did prophesy over those dry bones.'

Since in that prophesying there was a sound made, and behold there was a great movement, and the bones approached and joined each unto the other together, and the nerves and flesh formed upon them, and the skin was spread above, though as yet they had not the Spirit of Life. Unto that Spirit, then did Ezekiel prophesy his Will, in all humility, sobriety, mercy and patience. And though, whosoever thou mayest be, who in thy life and action possesses thy Soul in peace, when therefore thou shalt know the Mysterium,¹² be thou well ware not to reveal it. When the Spirit willesh seek to enter into the Knowledge of the Lord, and there shall rise an intellectual fountain of Understanding and Wisdom. The (celestial) LIGHT fleeth the (Earthly) Light, and operateth in Secret until thine Heart is tormented with understanding and with the desire of Understanding, since it is that which seeketh and which is hidden from Man. Is it not written and reported by tradition, and hast thou not read, that the Lord God formed Man of the Mud¹³ of the Earth, and that Man became a Living Soul, and that when He had formed Man He placed him in the Paradise of Pleasure to work it and to keep it.

And seeing that the Lord God, having formed from the ground all the animals of the Earth and all the winged things of heaven, did bring all these living creatures before Adam himself, then did his Name (that is) the Spirit (or Breath) go forth (upon them); and the Dust¹⁴ being arrested, there did it remain, and the Rose¹⁵ was restored. And so also is the Man who understandeth the Mysteries of the Book, and of the Similitude of the Rose, and the Mystery of the Dust; preserving the same in the inmost of his heart like a Magically guarded Treasure¹⁶: and as a Gift of the Highest, most sacred and most unutterable nature. But shouldest thou make an abuse hereof, then shall it be unto thee as a most heavy and scandalous thing and shall bring about the utter ruin of all thy worldly possessions, of thy body, of thine intellect, and of thy Soul. Further also take heed that thou reveal it not to any in writing, nor yet even the least part of the Mysteries of this Book. Wherefore mayest thou be contented herein, with all charity and zeal thereof, and thou shalt have done sufficient; for God knoweth who desireth truly for His Grace, His Light and the Understanding of His Empire; seeing that in His Name he hath known Him.

¹² Cf. the 'Mysterium' of the Rosicrucians.

¹³ De limo terrae.

¹⁴ Or 'Drop' or 'Grain'.

¹⁵ i.e., the Rose of Creation.

¹⁶ Tanquam thesaurum imprecabilem.

When thou shalt have comprehended the Misterium Stile,¹⁷ which is the Most Holy Gift of God, this is that which the Lord God PELECH now JESUS revealeth or permitteth to be revealed unto those who do seek His Will.

Is it not reported by tradition and written 'In the Beginning the Elohim created' (Bereshith Bara Elohim) . . . Man on the Sixth Day; whom the Lord God took and placed in the Paradise of Pleasure, wherein was the Fountain divided into Four Heads. There is that Most Holy Mystery, let him who hath ears to hear, hear and live! O Lord God, may he be Anathema (accursed) whosoever he be, who shall have despised this most precious Mystery. Amen!

Hear, O my Soul, turn unto the Lord thy God; for where there hath been Pride, there shall be also Abasement; but where there is humility (there is) also Wisdom. So, therefore, abide fast in the Lord God, saying with thine whole heart, 'Truly I have sinned in all my ways, but I beseech Thee O Lord to take away the Iniquity of Thy Servant, seeing that nevertheless I have put my trust in Thee!'

O Lord God, thou art become my oppressor, because of the multitude of my sins, seeing that I have greatly sinned, and that mine Iniquities be multiplied like unto the Sands of the Sea, and I am not worthy to lift up mine eyes unto the Height of Heaven.

¹⁷ The Mystery of the Dust or of the Drop.

THE PREPARATION OF THE SOUL (I)

Before invoking the Spirits it is necessary to make a (Magical) Circle, and place thyself in the midst thereof after having sprinkled the same with Holy Water saying:

*'In Nomine Patris + et Filii + et Spiritus Sancti.'*¹

'In the Name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost.'

*'Respice in me per Sanctissimos Angelos Tuos in Nomine Jeus de Maria Virgine semper immaculata Nati, et Veritas Tua manet in aeternum— Amen.'*²

'Examine me thoroughly by Thy most Holy Angels, in the Name of Jesus, born of Mary, the ever Immaculate Virgin; and may Thy Truth endure for ever— Amen.'

Before the Oration prepare thy Soul, and be not thou like unto a man who tempteth a God.

ORATION SEMPER PRECEDENS ACTUM

(Dirigatur quae et humillime.

Deprecor Domine Deus Meus Omnipotens in conspectu Tuo Operatio mea et comittentier mihi et operatione mea sanctissimi (here follow a collection of scratches evidently intended to represent Hebrew Letters which I imagine are intended to stand for the words: 'IHVH Elohim, Ab, Ben Ve-Ruach Haqodesh.' 'Tetragrammaton Elohim, Father, Son and Holy Spirit.')

Ad Majorem Nomini Tui gloriam, edificationem et utilitatem proximi mei. Amen.

Translation of the Foregoing.

THE ORATION ALWAYS TO BE MADE BEFORE OPERATION

(also I warn you that it is to be performed with the greatest humility).

¹ Make the Sign of the Cross at each Cross.

² I give the exact Latin of the original MS. here and in other cases.

In Thy Sight O Lord mine Omnipotent God, do I pray for mine Operation, and may these most Holy (Names) be in charge over me and my Operation . . . unto the Greater Glory of Thy Name, and the edification and profit of my neighbour. Amen.

THE PREPARATION OF THE SOUL (II)

Santi Andrea et Thoma circumvallate me.

O Saint Andrew and (Saint) Thomas, be a defence about me.

Sancte Michael auxiliate omnibus operationibus meis quoniam quis sicut Dominum Virtutum et nullus certe nisi solus deus meus magnus et terribile super omnes qui in exercitu ejus sunt ideo enim voto voverint domino Deo meo Jesu me possidentis et circumvallante gratia sua et dominus Deus Jesus imposita mihi Lege sua sit mihi semper a cunctis diebus et momentis vitae meae in patrem et deum meum — et si vere Emmanuel amabilis.

O Saint Michael bring thine aid unto all mine Operations, for who is like unto the Lord of Virtues; and assuredly there is none else but my Lord God, the only Great and terrible over all who be in His Army, for hereunto by vow are they vowed unto my Lord God Jesus, Who possesseth and defendeth me by His Grace. Also may the Lord God Jesus having imposed upon me His Law, be ever mine in every Day and moment of my life as my Father and God, and thus truly my beloved Emmanuel.

Sancte Petre ad glorium et utilitatem proximi ure in me omnes iniquitates meas.

O Saint Peter, unto the (Divine) Glory and the good of my neighbour, burn up in me all mine iniquities.

Sante Paule obviam este deprecationis meae.

O Saint Paul, be thou propitious unto my prayer.

Confitebor Jesu tibi Christi rex Aeternae gloriae verbum caro factum est, ex Maria de Spiritu Sancte te humillime deprecor per vulnere tua sanctissima quae sunt fons regenerationis mostrae in fide et charitate per delectissimam Mariam Matrem tuam semper immaculatam et omnes sanctes tuos ne impediar opere ad mortem justificari in fide et charitate quoniam fides sine operibus mortua, non nobis domine non nobis sed nomini tuo, nequando dicant gentes ubi est.

I will confess myself unto Thee, O Jesus Christ, King of Eternal Glory, the Word is made flesh from Mary by the Holy Spirit; I pray Thee most humbly by Thy most holy wounds which are the Foundation of our Regeneration in Faith and Charity; by Thy Most delightful Mother Mary, ever Immaculate; and by all Thy Saints let me not be hindered in my work, unto death be justified in Faith and in Charity, since Faith without Works is dead. Not unto us, O Lord, not unto us, but unto thy Name; lest the heathen may say: Where is He!

Let us become as little children at birth, for unless we be born again we shall not see the wonders of God, nor yet in any way progress in the Art.

Good is fasting with prayer, and almsgiving, and vow.

Before the Oration, prepare the Soul!

THE CHARACTERS OF MICHAEL

Therefore Hear O Man! The Lord, the Lord Our God, is one Lord. Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with thine whole heart, with thy whole Soul, and with thy whole strength, and thy neighbour as thyself. And these words which I teach unto thee shall be in thine heart, thou shalt relate them unto thy children and thou shalt meditate upon them, when thou sittest in thine house, when thou walkest by the wayside, when thou sleepest, and when thou arisest; and thou shalt bind them like unto a staff for thine hand, and thou shalt place them between thine eyes and thou shalt write them upon the threshold and portals of thy dwelling place. AMEN.

Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God, in any soever of thy works; but keeping His precepts and testimony, and ceremonies, most pure, thou shalt do that which is pleasing and good in the sight of the Lord with zeal and charity, not out of curiosity or ostentation.

If thus thou shalt have heard the voice of the Lord thy God and shalt have walked in his ways, that thou mayest do and keep His commandments, the Lord thy God shall make these more excellent than all the Nations which be spread abroad upon the Earth; and by reason of that blessing shall they come unto thee and learn of thee, Blessed shalt thou be in the City, and blessed shalt thou be in the field, and blessed shall be the fruit of thy body. AMEN.

But the God of these, Who is also our God, is in Heaven, and in Earth, and in the Abysses, and He doeth whatsoever He will. They who fear the Lord have put their trust in the Lord, He is their helper and defender. Would that my life were directed to the safeguard of thy justification. Also I have sought thee out, because thou hast caused me to have life hereby. Let it go forth unto my works. Direct thou them according to Thy saying, and let not injustice have dominion over me!

When, therefore, thou shalt be worthy to understand in what manner thy vow and thy natal day are to be observed with circumspection and purity:

Take note of this:

Are there not twelve Months in the Year?

Is there not one hour in each single month?

Does not this hour pass by?

And thus let it then pass by with chastity, fasting, ardent prayer and desire, desiring also your Vow by the Divine inspiration and therefore fit to be carried out.

This following is a fitting prayer.

ORATIO

Initium Sapientiae Timor Domini in Nomine Dei Israel, Uni et Trino, Credidit Abraham et ei reputatum fuit in iustitiam. AMEN.

TRANSLATION OF THE FOREGOING

The Fear of the Lord is the Beginning of Wisdom. In the Name of the God of Israel, One and Triune, Abraham believed, and it was counted unto him for righteousness. Amen.

Nisi Dominus Operitus nobiscum in vanum laborant qui operantur.

Unless the Lord work with us, in vain do they strive who labour.

De Profundis Clamavi ad Te Domine, Domine Exaudi Orationem meam.

Out of the Depths Have I cried unto Thee O Lord, O Lord hear my prayer.

Fiant aures tuae intendentes in vocem Deprecationis mea.

Let Thine ears be inclined unto the voice of my supplication.

LIBER ARMADEL¹

Seu totius Cabalae perfectissima brevissima et infallibilis Scientia tam
speculativa quam practiqua

Dominum Deum timebus et illi seli serbies per nomen illius tremendae at adorabilis Majestatis omnibus

diebus vitae tuae.

operaribus

FIN

¹ This is a reproduction of the original title-page.

THE MAGIC OF ARMADEL

Electronic Version Prologue

This grimoire was first translated by Mr. MacGregor Mathers into English. Now for the first time in English I Frater Alastor , rendering into the html format. When Mathers made his translation he notice that the title page was the last page of the grimoire, so he moved to the front but keep the rest of the chapters in the same order. He also notice that this grimoire began speaking about the magick circle like if it where something that the reader should already know.

Now it is my believe that the whole grimoire was written backward, this is to say that you should read the last page first (the title page) then the last chapter and so on. If you read it this way you will see that make a lot of sense. In Mathers version the first chapter is a reference to the magick circle and the License to depart, it make no sense to begin a grimoire that way since the license to depart is the last think that a magician read. Also if you fallow the Latin titles in Mathers version the text begin with the Sanhedrin, Jesus and go on to the creation of Adam and the demons and the angels etc. This order is completely the opposite of that one on the bible this is god first, then the angels, the demons, Adam, Jesus, the Crucifixion and the Sanhedrin. So neither to say I had inverted the orders of the chapters in Mathers version under the believing that this is the way that was intended to be read.

Frater Alastor.

LIBER ARMADEL

Seu totius Cabalae perfectissima brevissima et infallibilis Scientia tam
speculativa quam practiqua

Dominum Deum timebus et illi seli serbies per nomen illius tremendae at adorabilis Majestatis omnibus

diebus vitae tuae.

operaribus

TRANSLATTON OF THE FOREGOING

The Fear of the Lord is the Beginning of Wisdom. In the Name of the God of Israel, One and Triune, Abraham believed, and it was counted unto him for righteousness. Amen.

Nisi Dominus Operitus nobiscum in vanum laborant qui operantur.

Unless the Lord work with us, in vain do they strive who labour.

De Profundis Clamavi ad Te Domine, Domine Exaudi Orationem meam.

Out of the Depths Have I cried unto Thee O Lord, O Lord hear my prayer.

Fiant aures tuae intendentes un vocem Deprecationis mea.

Let Thine ears be inclined unto the voice of my supplication.

THE CHARACTERS OF MICHAEL

The Characters of Michael

(Taken from the German Original)

Therefore Hear O Man The Lord, the Lord Our God, is one Lord. Thou shalt love

the Lord thy God with thine whole heart, with thy whole Soul, and with thy whole strength, and thy neighbour as thyself. And these words which I teach unto thee shall be in thine heart, thou shalt relate them unto thy children and thou shalt meditate upon them, when thou sittest in thine house, when thou walkest by the wayside, when thou sleepest, and when thou arisest; and thou shalt bind them like unto a staff for thine hand, and thou shalt place them between thine eyes and thou shalt write them upon the threshold and portals of thy dwelling place. AMEN.

Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God, in any soever of thy works; but keeping His precepts and testimony, and ceremonies, most pure, thou shalt do that which is pleasing and good in the sight of the Lord with zeal and charity, not out of curiosity or ostentation.

If thus thou shalt have heard the voice of the Lord thy God and shalt have walked in his ways, that thou mayest do and keep His commandments, the Lord thy God shall make these more excellent than all the Nations which be spread abroad upon the Earth; and by reason of that blessing shall they come unto thee and learn of thee, Blessed shalt thou be in the City, and blessed shalt thou be in the field, and blessed shall be the fruit of thy body. AMEN.

But the God of these, Who is also our God, is in Heaven, and in Earth, and in the Abysses, and He doeth whatsoever He will. They who fear the Lord have put their trust in the Lord, He is their helper and defender. Would that my life were directed to the safeguard of thy justification. Also I have sought thee out, because thou hast caused me to have life hereby. Let it go forth unto my works. Direct thou them according to Thy saying, and let not injustice have dominion over me

When, therefore, thou shalt be worthy to understand in what manner thy vow and thy natal day are to be observed with circumspection and purity:

Take note of this:

Are there not twelve Months in the Year?

Is there not one hour in each single month?

Does not this hour pass by?

And thus let it then pass by with chastity, fasting, ardent prayer and desire, desiring also your Vow by the Divine inspiration and therefore fit to be carried out.

This following is a fitting prayer.

ORATIO

Initium Sapientiae Timor Domini in Nomine Dei Israel, LIni et Trino, Credidit Abraham et ei reputatumfuit in justitiam. AMEN.

THE PREPARATION OF THE SOUL (II)

Santi Andrea et Thoma circumvallate me.

O Saint Andrew and (Saint) Thomas, be a defence about me.

Sancte Michael auxiliate omnibus operationibus meis quoniam quis sicut Dominum Virtutum et nullus certe nisi solus deus meus magnus et terribile super omnes qui in exercitu ejus sunt ideo enim voto voverint domino Deo meo Jesu me possidents et circumvallante gratia sua et dominus Deus Jesus imposita mihi Lege sua sit mihi semper a cunctis diebus et momentis vitae meae unum patrem et deum meum— et si vere Emmanuel amabilis.

O Saint Michael bring thine aid unto all mine Operations, for who is like unto the Lord of Virtues; and assuredly there is none else but my Lord God, the only Great and terrible over all who be in His Army, for hereunto by vow are they vowed unto my Lord God Jesus, Who possesseth and defendeth me by His Grace. Also may the Lord God Jesus having imposed upon me His Law, be ever mine in every Day and moment of my life as my Father and God, and thus truly my beloved Emmanuel.

Sancte Petre ad glorium et utilitatem proximi ure in me omnes iniquitates meas.

O Saint Peter, unto the (Divine) Glory and the good of my neighbour, bum up in me all mine iniquities.

San te Paule obviam este deprecationis meae.

O Saint Paul, be thou propitious unto my prayer.

Confitebor Jesu tibi Christi rex Aeternae gloriae verbum caro factum est, ex

Maria de Spiritu Sancte te humillime deprecor per vulnere tua sanctissima quae sunt fons regenerationis nos trahere in fide et charitate per delectissimam Mariam Matrem tuam semper immaculatam et omnes sanctes tuos ne impediar opere ad mortem justificari in fide et charitate quoniam fides sine operibus mortua, non nobis domine non nobis sed nomini tuo, nequando dicant gentes ubi est.

I will confess myself unto Thee, O Jesus Christ, King of Eternal Glory, the Word is made flesh from Mary by the Holy Spirit; I pray Thee most humbly by Thy most holy wounds which are the Foundation of our Regeneration in Faith and Charity; by Thy Most delightful Mother Mary, ever Immaculate; and by all Thy Saints let me not be hindered in my work, unto death be justified in Faith and in Charity, since Faith without Works is dead. Not unto us, O Lord, not unto us, but unto thy Name; lest the heathen may say: Where is He

Let us become as little children at birth, for unless we be born again we shall not see the wonders of God, nor yet in any way progress in the Art.

Good is fasting with prayer, and almsgiving, and vow.

Before the Oration, prepare the Soul

THE PREPARATION OF THE SOUL (1)

Before invoking the Spirits it is necessary to make a (Magical) Circle, and place thyself in the midst thereof after having sprinkled the same with Holy Water saying:

‘In Nomine Patris + et Fuji + et Spiritus Sancti.’¹

‘In the Name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost.’

‘Res pice in me per Sanctissimos Angelos Tuos in Nomine Jeus de Maria Virgine semper immaculata Nati, et Ventas Tua manet in aeternum—Amen.

‘Examine me thoroughly by Thy most Holy Angels, in the Name of Jesus, born of Mary, the ever Immaculate Virgin; and may Thy Truth endure for ever— Amen.’

The Magick Circle

(Taken from the German Original)

Before the Oration prepare thy Soul, and be not thou like unto a man who tempteth a God.

ORATION SEMPER PRECEDENS ACTUM

(Dirigatur quaese et humillime.

Deprecor Domine Deus Meus Omnipotens in conspectu Tuo Operatio mea et comittentier mihi et operatione mea sanctissimi (here follow a collection of scratches evidently intended to represent Hebrew Letters which I imagine are intended to stand for the words: ‘IHVH Elohim, Ab, Ben Ve-Ruach Haqodesh.’ ‘Tetragrammaton Elohim, Father, Son and Holy Spirit.’)

Ad Majorem Nomini Tui gloriam, edificationem et utilitatem proximi mei. Amen.

Translation of the Foregoing.

THE ORATION ALWAYS TO BE MADE BEFORE OPERATION

(also I warn you that it is to be performed with the greatest humility).

In Thy Sight O Lord mine Omnipotent God, do I pray for mine Operation, and may these most Holy (Names) be in charge over me and my Operation... unto the Greater Glory of Thy Name, and the edification and profit of my neighbour. Amen.

COR ERGO ET SCIETUR UNUM SUNT

PUTREUS M ALE STUM

THE VISION OF DUST

Wherefore let it be granted that dry bones having been reduced in to a most fine powder, that this also may be refined and compounded together like unto the Thine in a name of Moses the Blood. Neither ever hereafter shouldest thou despise this holiest Mystery; for thee the Spirit of Life is herein like as in the Dust of a Man.

Since all these (matters) have been placed before thy true heart, which also the Lord God hath chosen for the legitimate Tabernacle, may He further bless all thy works in thy time

By His Angel Raphael He appeareth unto the blessed Tobias and in his journey he put to flight all Malice of heart and every kind of Demon which obsesses, and (caused) Simplicity of heart, Purity and Faith in Prayer to have entire dominion

with him.

Is there not sought in the Imagination those things which one hath not known, and is there not pleasure in the excitation thereof? Hath not Memory been willing to aid that which the Imagination hath clothed with form, so that one may see of what nature such things may be and whether any further development of them may be (advisable)? Hath not the Intellect having applied them unto Itself, known how to treat in thee the things cast forth by the Memory, and this to what degree and extent according unto their faculties and powers? Do not Memory, imagination, and Intellect operate (simultaneously) together? For at once and in unity these (three) which be united together do then become Intellectual Action. Is not the Heart a recurved Vase of Blood? If among all these so many be found similar that they may be perfected hereunto, it will be the same concerning His people.³

Study this weH O Man, ardent for Wisdom, in the following out of this Path desiring all things, seeking all things, and understanding all things, seeing that in thyself are all things.

Assimilated; Contained: Willed. Was it not on the Fifth Day⁵ that Man was made a Living Soul?

Was there not a Soul⁶ which came forth (into manifestation) on the Third Day? Did it not also give forth and withdraw (the faculty of) Hope, and before that it withdrew, did it not rejoice in the Quinary Number; going forth and returning in that same Number; for it rejoiced in the Nature of the Creatures which do exist in the Number of the Quinary.

First God, (then) Spirit and Matter. Most powerfully do these operate the separation of Matter violently transformed by Life. How can such (Life) do aught but delight in the Number of the Five, seeing that therein is hidden every Mystery of a (Past), Present and Future Age, since in such (Eternal) Epoch is the Name of the Lord God.

Also in the Prophecy of Ezekiel, as it was taught unto him, the Lord God said: ‘Let the Spirit come from the Four Winds, and brood over these that they may revive in the Name PELECH, now JESUS.’ The Lord God PELEG, now JESUS. The Spirit having entered into them, also they spake. It is not also related by inspiration that the Lord said unto Moses: ‘Take unto thee Aromatics; Stacte, Galbanum of good odour, and thus Luci, of equal weight: hereof shalt thou make a perfume composed according to the Art of the Apothecary, mixed with care; pure and sanctified, and most fitting to be offered unto me. And when thou shalt have beaten it into most fine powder, then shalt thou place it before the Tabernacle of the Testimony in the which place I will appear unto thee, Holy of Holies shall it be. Thou shalt compose nothing similar for thine owrt use, seeing that it is Holy unto the Lord.’ Man who was called Adam, also called by their (true) Names all the Animals, as well the Birds of Heaven as the Beasts of Earth, But there was not found an aid for Adam who was like unto him.^o

Is it not written and reported by tradition’ that the Lord God led forth Ezekiel in His Spirit, and left him in the midst of a field which was full of dry bones, and led him round about these bones in that region, and prophesied over those bones. And in the Name of the Lord he said unto them: ‘O Dry Bones, hear ye the Word of the Lord Thus said the Lord unto you: “So therefore will I send forth My Spirit unto you, and ye shall live, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.” Also thus was it done at the same time that Ezekiel did prophesy over those dry bones.’

Since in that prophesying there was a sound made, and behold there was a great movement, and the bones approached and joined each unto the other together, and the nerves and flesh formed upon them, and the skin was spread aboye, though as yet they had not the Spirit of Life. Unto that Spirit, then did Ezekiel prophesy his Will, in all humilty, sobriety, mercy and patience. And though, whosoever thou mayest be, who in thy life and action possesses thy Soul in peace, when therefore thou shalt know the Mysterium,¹² be thou well ware not to reveal it. When the Spirit willeth seek to enter into the Knowledge of the Lord, and there shall rise an intellectual fountain of Understanding and Wisdom. The (celestial) LIGFIT fleeth the (Earthly) Light, and operateth in Secret until thine Heart is tormented with understanding and with the desire of Understanding, since it is that which seeketh and which is hidden from Man. Is it not written and reported by tradition, and hast thou not read, that the Lord God formed Man of the Mud¹³ of the Earth, and that Man became a Living Soul, and that when He had formed Man He placed him in the Paradise of Pleasure to work it and to keep it.

And seeing that the Lord God, having formed from the ground all the animals of the Earth and all the winged things of heaven, did bring all these living creatures before Adam himself, then did his Name (that is) the Spirit (or Breath) go forth (upon them); and the Dust¹⁴ being arrested, there did it remain, and the Rose¹⁵ was restored. And so also is the Man who understandeth the Mysteries of the Book, and of the Similitude of the Rose, and the Mystery of the Dust; preserving the same in the inmost of his heart like a Magically guarded Treasure: and as a Gift of the Highest, most sacred and most unutterable nature. But shouldest thou make an abuse hereof, then shall it be unto thee as a most heavy and scandalous thing and shall bring about the utter ruin of all thy worldly possessions, of thy body, of thine intellect, and of thy Soul. Further also take heed that thou reveal it not to any in writing, nor yet even the least part of the Mysteries of this Book. Wherefore mayest thou be contented herein, with all charity and zeal thereof, and thou shalt have done sufficient; for God knoweth who desireth truly for His Grace, His Light and the Understanding of His Empire; seeing that in His Name he hath known Him.

When thou shalt have comprehended the Misterium Stile, which is the Most Holy Gift of God, this is that which the Lord God PELECH now JESUS revealeth or permitteth to be revealed unto those who do seek His Will.

Is it not reported by tradition and written 'In the Beginning the Elohim created' (Bereshith Bara Elohim). . . Man on the Sixth Day; whom the Lord God took and placed in the Paradise of Pleasure, wherem was the Fountain divided into Four

Heads. There is that Most Holy Mystery, let him who hath ears to hear, hear and live O Lord God, may he be Anathema (accursed) whosoever he be, who shall have despised this most precious Mystery. Amen

Hear, O my Soul, turn unto the Lord thy God; for where there hath been Pride, there shall be also Abasement; but where there is humility (there is) also Wisdom. So, therefore, abide fast in the Lord God, saying with thine whole heart, ‘Truly I have sinned in all my ways, but I beseech Thee O Lord to take away the Iniquity of Thy Servant, seeing that nevertheless I have put my trust in Thee’

O Lord God, thou art become my oppressor, because of the multitude of my sins, seeing that I have greatly sinned, and that mine Iniquities be multiplied like unto the Sands of the Sea, and I am not worthy to lift up mine eyes unto the Height of Heaven.

THE VISION OF ANOINTING

Hath it not been written in the Scriptures, — ‘Take unto thee sweet spices, five hundred shekels of myrrh the finest and most choice, likewise thou shalt reckon two hundred and fifty shekels of Calamus,’ Are these not in the Blood, Vital and Animal Spirits? Is there not Blood in the whole Body? And there is (a certain proportion) of fat joined thereunto preserving the Spirits thereof. In the Body of the Fish preserved by Tobias were there not these Spirits (derived from) the purest faculties of all true Elementary Forces? Know thou then what most holy thing existeth as regardeth (these Elementary Forces) preserved in Nature

Therefore the Lord Pelech, now Jesus, by His Omnipotent Grace mercifully operating in Nature, protecting the Heart of the Operator in Simplicity, in Faith, in Hope and going forth in Charity, rejoicing also in Itself, directeth such Spirits according to their most sacred faculties to cooperate with such Operation of a Simple Heart.

Is it not manifested in the Book of Tobias, who himself was of a Simple Heart, that the Lord God directed the Spirits of the Liver of the Fish according to their most secret faculties, in His Adorable Name, by His Angel Raphael, to co-operate with Tobias in the casting away of the Albumen (from the eyes of his) father?

By a Number (namely) through the Tetary, is the Mercy of God the Highest Lord, Jah, turned, therefore revealing all things. David took unto himself five most clear stones from the Brook and five cakes of Shewbread, the which Bread the Laity might not have, but only the Elect. Is not the Head the seat of Imagination, of Memory and of Intellect?

THE RATIONAL TABLE:

or the QABALISTICAL LIGHT;

PENETRATING WHATSOEVER THINGS BE
MOST HIDDEN AMONG THE CELESTIALS,
THE TERRESTRIALS AND THE INFERNALS

THE FIRST CHARACTERS

The First Characters which should be made upon virgin parchment, on Sunday in the Hour of the sun (see Figure 46), The first letter of your name should be written in the semi-circle 'A', and that of your surname in the semi-circle 'B'. You should wear this upon your left side (near the heart) before you proceed to invoke the Spirits, in order to make them obey you, and to gain from them that which you shall desire.

ISRAEL hath gone forth from the Beginning, from the Days of Etemity. O my Soul, possess thyself in searching out and foliowing out in thyself the Will of thy Lord PELECH Who is Jesus; for that Peace shall be thine, when M e m o r o t h the Assyrian and M e t r u m shall come to turn thee from the Eternal Law, and thus disturb thee in all thy ways.

Be unwilling to fast,¹ O my Soul; let it be at the hour of Day that thy cry may be heard on high. Is it also such a fást which the Lord hath chosen to afflict thee by day, through the depth and multitude of my iniquities, whereby 1 have excited thy wrath, and have done evil before thee unintentionally, also 1 have kept thy commands.²

The Lord God presseth me hard because of my many sins; nevertheless bow down (unto Him) O my Soul; that thou mayest rather fall into the hands of the Lord God, seeing that many are His Mercies, than into the hands of Man. Turn then, O my Soul and humble thyself before the Lord thy God. The Lord thy God hath created Israel, and truly there is a Providence which acteth in the sight of God; and him who hath cried unto Him, also He observeth intently, and listeneth unto his prayer.

Cry unto the Lord, with great insistence, and humiliate thyself O Soul, also in Chastity, in fasting, in mercy, in power, seeking out with thine whole heart in thy prayers the Will of the Lord God, and all things shall be added unto thee. From thine inmost heart and in tears shalt thou say unto the Lord thy God, 'I have sinned, nevertheless O Lord return unto me whom Thou hast humiliated.' Be in thine whole heart ever seeking Jesus, in chastity and in sobriety, in mercy and patience, and thus shalt thou possess the Soul in faith, hope, and charity; and thus shalt thou pray confidently. And whatsoever thou shalt seek in Bereshith, shall be given back unto thee in Mercavah.

CONCERNING THE PATHS OF WISDOM

These be the Characters of the Spirits of Force and Counsel (see Figure 43).

Spirits of Force & Counsel

Characters of the Spirit of Force and Counsel

This is the Sigil of Joy, and of the Spirit which goeth forth and retireth. The Characters of the Spirits of Joy (see Figure 44).

Characters of the Spirits of Joy

Thou shalt have fasted with the Lord God Pelech, now (called) Jesus, for Seven Days, the which shall be passed in humility and sobriety, in mercy and patience, in peace and equilibrium; (that is to say) in the beginning of all the Sigils of Love and Charity, and from which they do proceed.

The Characters of the Angels of Love and Charity (see Figure 45).

Characters of the Angels of Love and Charity

Is it not written and reported by tradition that ‘there were Six Men² who carne from the way of the Upper Gate which looketh toward the North, each holding in his hand a weapon of death. Also in the midst of them was one Man clothed with a robe of fine linen, and he had instruments for writing hung at his side. And when they had entered, they stood beside the Altar of Brass, And the Glory of the Lord of Israel withdrew from the cherub which was etc. . . ‘ Also in the Books of Moses (it is written)³ that with 250 shekels of each of various ingredients and with 500 shekels of Myrrh, etc., according to the weight of the Sanctuary, and with a certain measure of Olive Oil, thou shalt make a certain Holy Anointing Oil composed according to the Art of the Apothecary; and that herewith thou shalt anoint the Tabernacle of Testimony and the Ark of the Covenant, the Table with its Vessels, the Candlesticks, the Altar of Incense and that of Burnt Offering, and all things pertaining unto the Cult.

CONCERNING GOD THE UNIVERSALLY ONE

These be the Characters of the Spirits who do teach unto you all kinds of Sciences (see Figure 42). They be under the domination of CASSIEL, and are to be invoked on a Saturday at eleven o'clock at night,

In this Sigil is manifested the most glorious Science of God.

In this are taught the Paths of Wisdom¹ and their profoundest Mysteries; how we can know such paths; and how we may become worthy to wait therein. There be also shown the Mysteries of our hearts through this Number of Thirty-two. Its significations teach the Mysteries of the Regeneration of our Heart; whether from the beginning it was constituted to operate hereby and herewith, and by the Word of God; whether it was distinct in the Mind of God; and what be its place, Science and dubitation, its hope, faith and ultimate desire.

If you shalt desire to know thoroughly these Paths of Perfect and Profound Wisdom together with their Mysteries; remember the combinations of writings in the Sigil (He) which is in the centre of the figure of the Heart.

Whosoever thou mayest be, despise not this wonderful Science and Geometrical Searching Out, and the points of E o n,³ and the Mystical Numbers of the Letters. Also the Lord said unto God:⁴ ‘Go forth through the midst of the City, through the midst of Jerusalem, and sign a Symbol upon the foreheads of the men who groan and grieve over all the abominations which be in the midst thereof. ‘Also he said unto them: ‘Hear me, go ye forth through the City follow-ing after him, and smite ye every man upon whom ye shall see ‘T ha un e’.⁵ Ye shall slay them from my Sanctuary. —Begin.’

CONCERNING GOD IN HIS TRINE

PERSONALITY

(MICHAEL and his Spirits) These be the Characters of the Spirits who do teach unto you all Mystical Sciences (see Figure 41).

In this Sigil be taught the Mysteries of the Trinity Whom Abraham our Father knew, believed in and confessed. There is also taught herein how It is pleasing and harmonious in Itself, and by what ways It may be propitiated, as hath been communicable through Its Adorable Attributes. There is also (herein) taught how the whole may be communicable unto and in Thee, and as regardeth Thee in a profound and wonderful manner, through the Combinations of the Letters which be in the Great Central Triangle, between the Small Orb and Triangle. There is also (herein) taught how the Science of God may be communicable through His Attributes unto all Created Beings; and especially those most profound Mysteries which He operateth with regard both to Angels and Men, the which be shown through the combinations of the Letters which be without the Small Orb.

Also in all this Science thou shalt observe the Combinations of the Letters, of Geometry, and Gilgud or of their Numbers, in thy searching examination of all Sigils.

CONCERNING GOD, THE PRESERVER, THE DESTROYER, AND THE CREATOR

(GABRIEL and his Spirits) These Spirits do teach you all kinds of Mysteries. Thus is the Character (see Figure 40).

In this Sigil is taught what Mysteries the Lord God is willing to permit to operate in Creation, through the uncontaminate Inner Knowledge whereof also (Abraham) did rule and govern himself and went forth by the command of the Lord God to travel in the Land of Chanaan, wherein also he sojourned and was buried by his two (Sons) in a Mystical Sepulchre, that is to say in the Cave near unto Cariatarbee, wherein also Abraham, Isaac and Jacob were interred. Now this same Cariatarbee is Hebrew Mambre, and Ephrata.

In this land did Abraham behold Three and Adore One, and thus was it counted unto him for righteousness.

In this Sigil is taught Who be those Three Persons meet to be adored, and how they do harmonise together; also as concerneth the Angels and Men what Mysteries they do operate; also how they do harmoniously act through Created Beings, Angels and men. All these things be shown forth in the Letters and in the Sigil herewith given, through their Number and Combination.

CONCERNING THE CREATION OF ALL THE ANGELS

(OCH and his Spirits) These do teach you what is the Nature of the Angels. These subjects fail under the domination of Och who is a Solar Spirit, and should be invoked on a Sunday at Daybreak. Thus are the Characters (see Figure 39).

In this Sigil there is taught what is the Nature of Angels; what may be the object and end of such Creation and whether it be established to operate in the preservation and destruction of all Creatures. There is also taught Who and What is that Promised Messiah; what is the Kingdom; What is the Kingdom of Israel; what the Restitution through Him for the Wretched; what kind of a Prophet He may be; and what things can be performed by the Messiah for the welfare, restitution all liberation of His people in Daya (sic).

In this Sigil as in others (Magical ones), there be Mysteries through the combination of Geometry, Gilgud and Numbers, as well as points relating to Geometrical (Symbolism).

CONCERNING THE LIFE OF THE ANGELS BEFORE THE FALL

(ZAPHKIEL and his Spirits) These do (not) teach you of what nature is the Life of all Angels, and their business and intercourse. Thus be their Characters (see Figure 38).

Zaphkiel

In this Sigil there is taught what was the Life of the Angels before the Fall. There be taught also the Mysteries of their habitation; whether there be a place of habitation for the Rebellious Angels; whether there may be found a Place Impassable and Void; whether the Angels were without any affection of passion soever; whether they were created in happiness; and whether such is confirmed unto them.

CONCERNING THE EVANGELIC REBELLION AND EXPULSION

(LUCIFER . BELZEBUT . ASTAROT) These Spirits teach you what were the Rebellion and Fail of the Evil Spirits. Thus be their Characters (see Figures 35,36 and 37).

Characters of his Princes

In this Sigil there be taught what was the Rebellion of the Angels and what was its cause; what were the Mysteries of their Life; whether their life should be understood as a continual action; whether the Names of these Angels were given unto them through the commands of God; what things have been committed unto them, whence and of what kind; and whether a certain Angel be allotted unto any or unto some especial commands. There be taught also herein certain most hidden Mysteries, alike admirable and not admirable, concerning their Life, which same be revealed unto very few, (especially the comprehension of their Mode of Life before the Fall).

CONCERNING THE CREATION OF THE SOULS OF MEN

(ARATRON) This Spirit teacheth unto you the Creation of the Souls of Men, and what they really are; as also their estate after Death. When you cause these Spirits (under Aratron) to come unto you, see that you remain not long in their company. They will also tell you by writing, that which you desire to know. This

is his Character (see Figure 34).

In this Sigil is taught what is the creation of the Souls of Mankind, and what is the object and end of such Creation. Also what portion of the Angelic Host did rebel; and what time they rebelled; and how the Rebellious Angels were cast out. Also by the Virtue and in the Virtue (of this Sigil) there be also taught Unrelatable Mysteries regarding that Rebellion and that Expulsion, as well as the Time of that Rebellion and Expulsion.

CONCERNING THE LIFE OF MAN

(PHUL. GABRIEL) These Spirits, besides the Life of Souls and of Man, do teach unto you all the Sciences which you shall desire to know. Thus are his Characters (see Figures 32 and 33).

In this Sigil there is taught what may be the Life (of Man) and the Creation (of Souls) even until the time of their sending forth into Bodies.

There be also taught the great Mysteries which the Lord is willing to perform; and whether all Souls were created from such a creation alike and at one time, and so also whether such be reserved in a certain place so that going forth thence they may be sent into Bodies and rule therein for a period of time.

These Spirits are to be invoked on a Monday and at Daybreak.

CONCERNING THE WAYS OF KNOWING THE GOOD ANGELS, AND OF CONSULTING THEM

(ZADKIEL, SACHIEL) These Spirits do give you in all things whatsoever advice may be good and fitting; they discover unto you all kinds of treasures, give them unto you and carry them whithersoever you request. They can also give you a Purse wherein is Gold and Silver. They appear unto you as soon as you invoke them, which should be on a Thursday and at Daybreak. Thus are their Characters (see Figures 30 and 31).

In this Sigil is taught of what description be the Angels of Light and Glory. There be also taught the Mystical Period of such a Life; and Mysteries, as they were unutterable, concerning such a Life; also that there was a certain Interval between their Creation and sending forth, and what be the Mysteries of such Interval.

CONCERNING THE DEVILS AND THEIR LIFE

(BETOR) This Spirit maketh you comprehend who and what the Devils or Angels of Darkness really are; the difference of their Names; their Powers; and what they can do. He, being invoked, appeareth speedily, and that at any time and at any hour. Thus is his Character (see Figure 29).

In this Sigil there be taught what are the Devils or Angels of Darkness; how they can be known and understood by their proper Names; and how they are to be distinguished from the Angels. Also whether the Devils can fully be known by proper Names; and whether the Virtue of God is impressed upon them, or followeth hereupon.

There is also herein taught how we can attract such Angels unto us as Familiar Spirits by the knowledge of their Names.

Also the Mysterious Operations of such Angels, both as regardeth ourselves and our actions.

CONCERNING THE WAYS OF KNOWING THE DEVILS AND OF BANISHING THEM

(LAUNE) This Spirit again giveth unto you the knowledge of the Devils, but I counsel you not to avail yourself of his services, for he is a very wicked Spirit and a deceiver, who will do all in his power to entrap you, and afterwards he will mock you. Thus is his Character (see Figure 28).

In this Sigil there is taught whether they can have proper Names as distinct from the Angelic Names, seeing that they were transformed through their casting out: whether they can lead their lives in any definite place, or wherein there is a place determined; whether it be permitted in the Spheres or in the compounded

Elements. Also there is herein taught whether they have free will; in what way they conduct themselves in the places which they occupy; Also whether where they live be determined by the Power of their Expulsion.

Whether again there was an interval between their Expulsion and the Creation of Adam, and (if so) what interval. Herein also are taught unheard of and most terrible Mysteries, of such Interval and of Life.

CONCERNING THE DEVILS AND HOW THEY MAY BE BOUND AND BECOME VISIBLE

(BRUF0R) This Spirit again teacheth unto you the nature and quality of the Devils, and the difference of their names and titles; how they can bind invisibly and how we can bind them. Avail not yourself of him. This is his Character. (See Figure 27).

In this Sigil is taught how we can compel the Devils to show themselves visibly in the forms which they usually take to frighten and deceive (men).

There is also (here) taught how we may know them, for the Devils are known by their Names. Also whether and how from their Names their actions and operations can be known. Also how by the light hereof we can find out the means of driving them away from us and from our works and operations.

CONCERNING THE DEVILS AND HOW THEY CAN BECOME VISIBLE

(HEMOSTOPILE) This Spirit again will make you see and know the Malice of

the Devils, and will give you as many of them as you may wish. Avail not yourself of their services. Thus is his Character (see Figure 26).

In this Sigil there be taught the methods whereby we can oblige the Devils to show themselves visibly in torments. They can deceive men and assume their forms, and change the just inclinations of men into evil passions. (Also there is herein shown) how they can take such forms, and from what media, and what methods they make use of (to do so).

CON CERNING THE DEVILS AND HOW

THEY MAY BE BOUND AND COMPELLED TO VISIBLE APPEARANCE

Now this is the Object of the Diabolic Qabalah.

(ASMODEUS. LEVIATAN) These Spirits teach you further the Malice of the Devils. Avail not yourself of the services of these Evil Spirits who are deceivers. It is alone the Name of God which can enable you to force them and all others to come unto you. Thus are their Characters (see Figures 24 and 25).

In this Sigil be the methods whereby we can force the Devils to show themselves

unto us in their torments and that in bodily form.

THE SACRO-MYSTIC THEOLOGY OF OUR FATHERS

CONCERNING THE SCIENCE OF THE REGENERATION OF ADAM AND HIS CHILDREN BY PELECH

We have given and told unto you many things regarding the Good Spirits who can serve you faithfully. Those we are here about to speak of can also do the same, seeing that they served our First Parents from the Creation of the World.

OPHIEL is a Spirit of Piety. He will teach you all the Wisdom of our First Father. Thus is his Character (see Figure 23).

Characters of the Spirit which be under the
domination of OPHIEL

In this Sigil there be taught the Mysteries of the Regeneration of Adam and his Children in Time, through Pelech now shown forth visibly as Jesus. Also the forms of those in torment.

CONCERNING THE NATURE OF THE GENII

ANAEL is a Spirit which will give unto you the Knowledge of all things which he in the Order of Nature (understands), for he is a Spirit of Power, who appeareth speedily if he shall be invoked on a Sunday at Daybreak by one who is alone and in a retired place. Thus is his Character (see Figure 22).

In this Sigil there be taught who and what the Genii are, as also their power and virtue. There be further shown the Mysteries of the Present, Past and Future Age. In this Sigil is hidden the Science of Merchants. Also here be those things which do appear and are reputed to be supernatural. Also herein we can obtain the revelation of unknown things, but this (is only granted) unto the Elect of God.

Also the Praxis of those Arcane Secrets of the Lord is declared and demonstrated in this Sigil, wherefore Adore the Lord thy God with thy whole heart, and love thy neighbour. In the Praxis or working of this Sigil thou shalt constate that the effects hereof be certain and true yet (causing) the greatest wonder and astonishment.

CONCERNING THE TRANSFORMATION OF THE GENII

HANIEL teacheth unto you the transformation of all precious stones and giveth unto you as many as you wish thereof. He is to be invoked on a Friday before daybreak. Thus is his Character (see Figure 21).

Characters of the Spirits which be under

HANIEL

In this seal there is taught how Genii may be transformed into Man. They can pass from him into their nature, and correspond unto him in the compounded elements. There is here also taught how such may be necessary unto the Human Race. Also the necessity of such a Mystery.

CONCERNING THE COMMUNICATION OF THE GENII

CAMAEL giveth unto you a perfect knowledge of your Genius, who will have the power to grant you everything that you shall demand of him. There be many Spirits under the rule of (Camael) who can serve you in many things, and especially such as you shall demand of them. Thus is his O-taracter (see Figure 20).

Characters of the Spirit which be under the
domination of CAMAEL

In this Sigil is taught what and after what manner may be this communication of the Genius; (transforming in us) our evil (qualities) into good, and our good (qualities) into better and best; there is also taught the method of such transformation. Wherefore adore the Lord God and love thy neighbour

CONCERNING PHITONE OR THE ABUSES OF NECROMANCY

SAMAEEL is a spirit of Counsel. He teacheth you Magic, Necromancy, Jurisprudence, and all the Occult Sciences, with facility. He is to be invoked on a Tuesday at Midnight, care being taken to fast the day that you shall wish to avail your self of his services. He hath much in his power, and on your demand he will tell you the extent thereof. Thus is his Character (see Figure 19).

In this Sigil there be taught what are all the abuses of Necromancy which may expose a man (to danger) through such communication; whether such communication may have such virtue as to link you unto the Angels and unto God, and to confer upon you power over all creatures, or the union of the love of all beings with the most profound and familiar knowledge of them, or whether it may join us unto the Devil even as in our mortal familiar (relationships) so can we be linked with all things which may be pleasing unto us. There is also taught (herein) how such communications maybe formed.

THE VISION OF EDEN, OR OF THE TERRESTRIAL PARADISE

PHALET will teach unto you all that did happen in the Terrestrial Paradise, from the time of the Creation of Adam and Eve. There be many Spirits under his leadership who can do much in the manner of serving you, and in many ways. Thus is his Character (see Figure 18).

In this Sigil there be taught the Mysteries of the Creation of the World, and of all Creatures, and what (of these) be sacred; but also how those (creatures) are proper to be detested for superstitious reasons when they draw their origin from Corpses of the dead, and from collections thereof, and from sepulchres; and thence also is the arising of every kind of superstitions. In this Sigil be (also) taught all the Arcana of Necromancers and of Diviners of that same class,¹ and whence in a Scientific (sense) these (arts) take their rise.

THE VISION OF FORMATION—ADAM

DALETE is a Spirit who will show unto you the Visions which Adam beheld while he was upon the Earth. He hath many Spirits under his leadership, who will teach unto you many things if you tell unto them that which you shall desire. Thus is his character (see Figure 17).

In this Sigil be taught and demonstrated the Mystical Formation of Adam; what Animals were in the Lord and brought in this place unto Adam by the Lord God.

THE BEHOLDING OF THE SERPENT

GIMELA maketh you to know and behold the form of the Serpent who did tempt Eve in the Terrestrial Paradise; (he also) can give unto you some of his Spirits who can transport you from one place to another and can even make you travel at the speed of an hundred leagues in an hour. Thus is his Character (see Figure 16).

In this Sigil there be taught all the Mysteries which the Lord is willing to allow to be worked by the Serpent and from the Serpent; what may be his corporeal moulding or proportion, and whether he can contain in himself all invisible beings (or creatures) and in what manner.

THE WISDOM OF OUR FOREFATHER ADAM

BETEL teacheth unto you the Sciences which God had revealed unto Adam. He is a very docile Spirit who appeareth as soon as he is invoked. (This should be either) in a wood, or in a secluded garden, and one should be alone, whether it be by day or by night. Thus is his Character (see Figure 15).

BETEL

In this there is taught in what way we can arrive at the possession of the virtues of all Creatures (or created things); there is (further) taught what and of what kind¹ be the virtues hereof, and what (virtues) be truly most powerful above all virtues of Creatures. There is also taught the reason of the laws of (such) virtues and of their uses.

THE GOING-FORTH OF ABRAHAM FROM UR OF THE CHALDEES AND FROM HARAN

ALEPTA maketh you see how Abraham went forth from Ur from among the

Chaldeans, and from Haran. He can give unto you great riches. Thus is his Character (see Figure 14).

In this Sigil is taught how a Man may be exalted, and how a Man may become formidable unto all Creatures, at any hour (and how he may be rescued) whether out of the hands of cruel men, or from a crowd of men.

THE CAVE OF EPHRON

TETAHATIA is a Spirit of Science and Virtue, who hath preserved our Forefathers from their enemies, rendering them formidable unto them so as to put them to flight. He will do the same unto the Enemies of those who shall wish to avail themselves of his services. Thus is his Character (see Figure 13).

In this Sigil be noted the ways whereby a blinding darkness may be produced, or a thing terrible unto one's enemies, also how a blessing may fail hereon.

MOSES IN THE INTERIOR OF THE DESERT

HETHATIA maketh you see even as Moses saw the benefits which he had received from God, when he was in the Desert of the Land of Midian. He can do much for those who invoke him, but it must not be in the desert place. Thus is his Character (see Figure 12).

In this Sigil is taught the Science and Wisdom of Moses, and the Arcana of the Egyptian Magi and Diviners; perfect happiness and the ways of causing and inspiring fear, and of going forth from a land and for the preservation of a Man in that (case) and place.

THE ROD OF MOSES

ZAINAEL is a Spirit who did teach unto Moses the methods of availing himself of the Rod with the which he did perform so many miracles in Egypt, and among the chaldeans. He hath much power to render those rich who avail themselves of his services. He can be invoked at any hour. Thus is his Character (see Figure 11).

In this Sigil is taught the Practice of the Science and Wisdom of the Diviners and Magi of the Egyptians and Chaldeans, and by what ways and means they may be acquired.

THE VISION OF 'MAN'

VAU-AEL is a Spirit who causeth all kinds of pleasant visions to appear, such as our Forefathers in the Old Testament beheld. He serveth you faithfully in all that you desire to know. Thus is his Character (see Figure 10). He hath many Spirits under his dominion.

In this Sigil, howbeit, there is formed a certain species of 'Man' for castings out.

THE EXPLORER AND LEADER JOSHUA

HETAEL is a Spirit who guides armies and also can destroy them, as he did unto the enemies of the Children of Israel under the command of Joshua, when by his prayer the latter arrested the course of the Sun. He can render you invulnerable unto every kind of weapon, and can give you Spirits to serve you unto this end. He is to be invoked on a Tuesday. Thus is his Character (see Figure 9).

In this Sigil there is taught the declaring of the intentions of Enemies and the like. Also there can be expelled all things noxious unto body and mind, and further in like manner this Mystic (Sigil) operateth in their restoration. Also there be Mysteries regarding 'Man'.

THE WISDOM OF SOLOMON

RAPHAEL is a Spirit of Science who did teach unto Solomon¹ Knowledge and Wisdom. He is to be invoked on a Sunday before Sunrise. Thou must be both pure and chaste when thou dost invoke him, and thou must have fasted on the previous eve. Thus is his Character (see Figure 8).

In this Sigil is taught the manner of joining Actives and Passives together the one unto the other, in natural things. There is also taught concerning the 'KANSSUD' of Earthly regions and powers, from one class unto another.

OF THE LIFE OF ELIJAH

GABRIEL is a Spirit who did teach unto the Prophet Elijah all the Mysteries of Divinity. He is to be invoked on a Thursday before Daybreak. His Power is very Great, and he can do you great good, in the which he will instruct you. Thus is his Character (see Figure 7).

In this Sigil there be taught the Methods of restoring and transplanting both health and mental force.

THE SPIRIT OF ELISHA

MICHAEL is a Spirit who guided the Prophet Elisha in all his actions. He is the Protector of all Kingdoms. After God Himself, he is almost all-powerful as regardeth those who perform his Invocation, which latter should be worked upon a Sunday, and in the evening. Thus is his Character (see Figure 6).

In this Sigil is taught how there may be formed a certain composite thing by means of which the faculties and vital Spirits (exist) as well in Man as in other creatures, according to what is necessary for and convenable unto them.

IN THE FIELDS OF BABYLON

URIEL is a Spirit who did reveal unto the Prophet Esdras every description of Prophecy, he did also aid the Children of Israel in the Camp of the Babylonians. He teacheth natural Sciences, Physic, and Medicine. He is to be invoked on a Wednesday, before daybreak. Thus is his Character (see Figure 5).

In this Sigil there be taught the method of understanding what and of what Kind were those twin Souls (namely) Henoch. The faculties of the Mind and Understanding are purified, and these also in such a manner that they may be exalted from the lowest degree unto that which is most perfect of all. By the

which composition also there can be a transmission made of the participating Power or that power of communication of the comprehension of Spirits.

THE SON OF ZACHARIAS IN THE DESERT

SAMAEL is the Spirit who did never abandon Saint John during the time in which he dwelled in the desert before his preaching. He is the protector of preachers in Missions among foreign nations. He teacheth Theology. He is to be invoked on a Wednesday, and in the morning. His Character is thus formed (see Figure 4).

In this Sigil is taught the harvest of the Plants of Blessedness, and such harvests; together with the envy of the Kingdom of Behemoth and Leviathan, of the which the Lord God did make use from the Beginning, and preserved (the same) for the production of all creatures, and also in what manner such souls be produced (and come forth).

BY THE FLOWING OF JORDAN

CAPHAEL is a Spirit who guided St. John in the desert, and when he was preaching the Baptism of Penitence by the River of Jordan where the people were baptized, he filled their hearts with Charity and Benediction. He teacheth an infinitude of matters with facility.

In this his Sigil (see Figure 3) there is taught concerning the healing of barrenness and of death concerning the Kingdom of God, and the most ardent Charity; in the which blessed mystical Numbers (of the Sigil) there is taught unto whatsoever Operations this is to be applied, howbeit certain special Operations do fail under the head of certain especial Numbers. Also concerning Sciences and Arts of all kinds and of all perfections whatsoever they may be.

He is to be invoked on Fridays and in the morning.

THE CIRCUMCISION OF JESUS AT NAZARETH

The Prophet of the Greatest One; or the Languor of the Nature.

THAVAEEL. This Spirit had a particular care of our Lord Jesus Christ. It was he who conducted the Holy Virgin and Saint Joseph into Egypt when they were fleeing from the persecution of Herod. He giveth unto us a perfect knowledge of all the simples and their virtues. He can be invoked at any time. His Character is thus (see Figure 2).

In this Sigil is taught the planting or the sowing of the Seed of Plants, the comprehension of virtue; there are also (herein) taught the manners of flowering as regardeth Plants, and also those inspirations of virtue and grace which be as it were the fundamental plants of the Qabalistical ART.

They who shall write with the ginger upon the forehead of these letters I.. .N. R. .I, will never die by a sudden death.

THE THEOSOPHY OF OUR FATHERS

AS REGARDETH THE PLANETS THE SANHEDRIN

ZADKIEL will teach unto you all the Sciences Active and Passive, with a remarkable facility, with all honesty and courtesy, together with every kind of benediction. They who avail themselves hereof will possess all things in content.

He is to be invoked on a Monday and in the Morning. His Character is this (see Figure 1)

In this Sigil is taught the method of joining together Actives and Passives, or in everything the manner of modesty and grace. In the which Numbers the Lord God doth sanctify these Planets, so that they may work marvels, and as it were portents, through such Numerations.

Seeing that we possess the explanation of the (Magical) Circle, (let us here state) that it is (Employed) for the Invocation of Spirits, so as to escape the dangers which might arise through their malice. Now it having been duly prepared for you to avail yourself of the Services of the Spirit you desire (to Summon) it is necessary to take heed that you comprehend the power which he hath and whether he can grant you that which you shall demand.

Being, then, in the midst of the Circle, wherein you are to perform the Operation, and having made the Character (or Sigil) of the Spirit who shall serve you: you shall see that the Circle be (correctly) formed according to the instructions we have (elsewhere) given. Being then, I say, in the midst thereof, after having recited the Pater, an Aye, together with the Credo, you shall repeat the following Conjunction:

CONJURATIO

Omnipotens Aeterne Deus, Qui totam Creaturam condidisti in laudem et honorem tuum, ac ministerium hominis, OTO ut Spiritum (N.N.) de () ordine mittas, qui me informat et doceat quo ilium interrogavero, non mea voluntas fiat, sed Tua, per Jesum Christum Filium Unigenitum. Amen.

O Eternal Omnipotent God, Who hast formed every creature unto Thy praise and honour, and for the Ministry of Man: I beseech Thee to send unto me the Spirit (here give the name of the Spirit) of the (here give the name of of class or Order of Spirits) Order, who may inform and teach me concerning those things which I shall demand of him, nevertheless not my Will, but Thine, be done, through Thine Only-begotten Son Jesus Christ. Amen.

Having obtained from the Spirit that which you desire, you shall license him to depart in these words:

THE LICENCE TO DEPART

Quia Placide et quiete venisti, et hac petitione mihi respondisti, ago Deo gratias in Cujus Nomen venisti, ite in pace ad loca tua et rediturus ad me cum te vocavero per Christum Dominum nostrum. Amen.

TRANSLATION OF THE FOREGOING LICENCE TO DEPART

Seems that peaceably and in quiet thou has come, and hast made answer unto me in this (my) petition, I return thanks unto God, in Whose Name thou hast come. Depart hence in peace unto thine habitations, and be thou ready to return whensoever I shall have called thee. Through Christ our Lord Amen.

After having repeated this Conjunction three times, if so be that the Spirit appeareth not unto you, you shall repeat the present (following) Conjunction three times. And these Conjunctions should be written out on virgin parchment, together with the Licence to Depart.

THE CONJURATION

I (N.N.) do Conjure thee (O Spirit N.N.) by the virtue of the Great and Holy Names of God, that immediately and without delay thou art to appear unto me

under an agreeable form, and without noise, nor injury unto my person, to make answer unto all that I shall command thee; and I do conjure thee herein by

EL ELOHIM ELOHO ELOHIM SEBAOTH ELION EIECH ADIER
EIECH ADONAY JAH SADAY TETRÁGRAMMATON SADAY AGIOS
OTHEOS ISCHIROs ATHANATOS AGLA Amen.

After having performed this Conjuration three times following, it is necessary to continue the same for three days successively, in the same place, and at the same hour.

And when (your desire shall be) satisfied, and having obtained from Him that which you wish, you must license him to depart (saying):

‘Go in peace unto the place which hath been destined unto you from all Eternity; let there be peace between us and you’

HEKHALOT RABBATI

היכלות רבתי

THE GREATER TREATISE CONCERNING THE PALACES OF HEAVEN

translated from the Hebrew and Aramaic by Morton Smith

corrected by Gershom Scholem

transcribed and edited with notes by
Don Karr

Translation © Morton Smith (estate) 1943-7, 2009
Edition © Don Karr 1995, 2009, corrected 2013, 2015, 2020-2023 (email: dk0618@yahoo.com)

Reproduced with permission from Morton Smith's literary executor:
Shaye J. D. Cohen

All rights reserved.
License to Copy

This publication is intended for personal use only.
Paper copies may be made for personal use.

With the above exception, no part of this publication may be reproduced or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic or mechanical, including photocopy, without permission in writing from the editor and executor. Reviewers may quote brief passages.

Preface to the July 1995 edition

The following sections of Hekhalot Rabbati (hereafter HR) have been edited from an English draft prepared by Morton Smith (1915-1991). The draft shows corrections and marginal notes made by Gershom Scholem (1897-1982). Smith made the translation in the early 'forties from an unpublished edition (in the original Hebrew and Aramaic) prepared by Scholem and Chaim Wirszubski (1915-1977).¹ In a note² accompanying the photocopy of HR, Smith stated that the translation was based on a "somewhat inferior manuscript" (MS New York 8128) and that "a new translation based on two better manuscripts is now being made." That was 1981.

In 1978, David Blumenthal published Understanding Jewish Mysticism: A Source Reader, vol. 1 (Ktav Publishing House, New York), which contained a translation of roughly the second half of HR prepared by Lauren Grodner. The translation was based on the edition of S. A. Wertheimer in his Batei Midrashot, with some adaptations according to spot English translations in

- (1) Smith's "Observations on Hekhalot Rabbati," in Biblical and Other Studies edited by Alexander Altmann (Cambridge: Harvard University Press, 1963);
- (2) Scholem's Jewish Gnosticism, Merkavah Mysticism, and Talmudic Tradition (New York: The Jewish Theological Seminary of America, 1960; 2nd, improved edition: 1965);
- (3) Scholem's Major Trends in Jewish Mysticism (New York: Schocken Books, 1941; reprinted frequently).

In 1982, Rabbi Aryeh Kaplan presented again roughly the second half of HR in English in Meditation and Kabbalah (York Beach: Samuel Weiser, Inc.), adding chapters I and II as a preface. Kaplan also based his work on Wertheimer, correcting it according to other versions.

It is now July 1995, and the first half of HR has yet to be published in English, so I have been grateful to the late Professor Smith for having provided me with a copy of his draft, whatever its shortcomings.

The following is a presentable edition of the first half of HR³, prepared to fill the gap until the whole of HR appears in translation.

The as-yet unpublished (in English, at any rate) "first half," presented here, is Smith's Chapters I to XII. Smith's Chapter XIII is where Grodner's translation begins, though she calls it "Chapter 15." Kaplan's translation cuts in a chapter or so later. Through my typescript, numbers in square brackets indicate paragraph (segment, or microform) numbers from Synopse zur Hekhalot-Literatur, edited by Peter Schäfer, Margarete Schlüter, and Hans Georg von Mutius (Tübingen: J. C. B. Mohr [Paul Siebeck], 1981). In recent scholarly books and articles, it has become conventional to refer to Synopse § numbers when citing or quoting hekhalot material.

—Don Karr

¹ I have learned that Ithamar Gruenwald, long-time professor of Jewish mysticism at Tel Aviv University and author of the pioneering Apocalyptic and Merkavah Mysticism (Leiden – Köln: E. J. Brill, 1980), From Apocalypticism to Gnosticism (Frankfurt am Main: Verlag Peter Lang, 1988), and Rituals and Ritual Theory in Ancient Israel (Leiden – Boston: Brill, 2003), had a hand in the translation of (at least) the first twelve chapters. See "Preface to the January 2009 edition."

The first page of Smith's typescript is reproduced below, page 45.

² March 17, 1981. The letter is reproduced below, page 46.

³ The transcription below has been completed. See "Preface to the January 2009 edition."

Preface to the January 2009 edition (with additions and revisions: 2013 & 2015)

Smith's chapters XIII-XXX have been added to the transcription, making this a complete edition of Smith's translation. Inconsistencies in Smith's spelling have been retained, e.g., within a few lines we find "spendour" and "splendor" (as in CHAPTER XXIV); elsewhere, "Shekinah" and "Shekhinah."

To place Synopse § numbers, I have compared segments of Smith's translation with passages translated in

- Boustani, Ra'anan. From Martyr to Mystic: Rabbinic Martyrology and the Making of Merkavah Mysticism (Tübingen: Mohr Siebeck, 2005).
- Davila, James R. Hekhalot Literature in Translation: Major Texts of Merkavah Mysticism (Leiden – Boston: Brill, 2013).
- Halperin, David J. The Faces of the Chariot: Early Jewish Responses to Ezekiel's Vision (Tübingen: J. C. B. Mohr [Paul Siebeck], 1988).
- Kuyt, Annalies. The 'Descent' to the Chariot. Towards a Description of the Terminology, Place, Function and Nature of the YERIDAH in Hekhalot Literature (Tübingen: J. C. B. Mohr [Paul Siebeck], 1995).
- Wolfson, Elliot R. Through a Speculum That Shines (Princeton: Princeton University Press, 1994).

It is of interest to follow the hapless course of Smith's translation of HR in the letters recently published as Morton Smith and Gershom Scholem, Correspondence 1945-1982, edited with an introduction by Guy G. Stroumsa (Leiden – Boston: Brill, 2008). The HR translation is mentioned more than two dozen times over the full range of years covered; indeed, the first mention is in 1945, the last in 1982. An excerpt from Ithamar Gruenwald's note to me (December 23, 2012) provides some details of this "hapless course."

[Sometime in the late 1960s] Scholem showed me the typescript of Smith's translation of HR. I read it and told Scholem that it needed revision on the basis of manuscripts which Scholem did not know about, especially Vatican 228. Scholem told me to contact Smith, with whom I exchanged letters for several years. Morton agreed that when I came to New York we should meet and discuss ways to compose the revision.

In February-June 1981, I held a position of visiting professor at the Revel Graduate School at Yeshiva University. When I arrived in New York, Morton and I agreed to meet once or twice a week to work on the revised translation. We did so on a regular basis, and my wife and I were welcome guests at his home.

The process was as follows: between one session and the next, Morton prepared an almost new translation of several paragraphs based on MS Vatican 228. He did masterful work. When I came to his apartment, we read his latest translations, and in most cases he accepted my comments.⁴

In June, we had to interrupt the work because I had to go back to Jerusalem.

When I left in June of 1981, we had reached chapter 12 or so. Morton said that between then and my return to New York (in less than a year), he would work on the translation, and possibly send me the materials by mail. However, this did not work out.

On January 1st, 1982, our son Eviatar was killed during his service in the army, and Scholem died a short while afterwards [February 21, 1982]. These events delayed my return to New York.

When I returned to New York, I called Morton and he told me that he could no longer work on the translation. A short while later I called him again and—to my shock—he told me, "Finally, my senile condition is under control. I hope that I shall be able to continue the work soon." This condition is referred to in Guy G. Stroumsa's book [Morton Smith and Gershom Scholem, Correspondence 1945-1982], where, on page 190, Morton asked Scholem, "Please give my regards to Gruenwald when you see him, my retranslation of Hekhalot Rabbati was sidetracked during the fall by a long series of petty problems." The "petty problems" were the "senile condition" mentioned. Scholem was not aware of the problem, and he did not seem to catch on even when Morton reiterated in the same letter, "First, however, I have to dispose of a lot of petty problems...." [—Smith's letter to Scholem of January 10, 1982].

My sincere thanks to Professor Shaye J. D. Cohen of Harvard University, literary executor to Morton Smith, for granting me permission to reproduce Smith's translation of HR. I wish to thank Sergiusz Cichosz for informing me of numerous errors in my typescript while he was in the process of translating Smith's Hekhalot Rabbati into Polish (January-February of 2015).

—Don Karr

⁴ The collaborative work of Smith and Gruenwald is not reflected in the transcription presented here.

Morton Smith, 1981
Working on his translation of Hekhalot Rabbati Photograph in possession of Ithamar Gruenwald

THE GREATER TREATISE CONCERNING THE PALACES OF HEAVEN

translated from the Hebrew and Aramaic by Morton Smith with corrections by Gershom Scholem transcribed and edited with notes by Don Karr

(...) = Smith's additions
[...] (words) = Smith's additions
[...] (numbers) = Synopse § numbers
{...} (letters/words) = my additions (DK) {...} (ellipses) = a gap – a place where material appears in other MSS

CHAPTER I:

[81] Said Rabbi Ishmael: What are those songs which he recites who would behold the vision of the Merkabha, who would descend in peace and would ascend in peace?

[82] Greatest of all [his achievements] it is that [the angels] have a care for him, to gather him in and bring him unto the chambers of the palace of the seventh heaven, to cause him to stand on the right hand of the throne of the glory of God; for there be times when he standeth over against Tazsh the Lord God of Israel, to see all that which is done before the throne of His glory and to know all that which is destined to come to pass in the world:

Who shall be cast down, who exalted;
Who shall be weakened, who made strong;
Who shall be crushed with poverty, who made rich;
Who shall die, who shall live;
From whom shall inheritance be taken,
To whom shall inheritance be given;
Who shall be granted the Law for his portion
And who be given Wisdom.

[83] Greatest of all* it is that he beholdeth all the works of the children of men, yea even those which they work in their secret chambers, whether these be seemly works or works corrupt:

A man stole – he knoweth and recognizeth it;
A man committed adultery – he knoweth and recognizeth it;
A man committed murder – he knoweth and recognizeth it;
A man was suspect to have lain with a woman in her uncleanness –
he knoweth and recognizeth it (the truth of the matter);
A man spread slander – he knoweth and recognizeth it.

* “Greatest of all” is Scholem’s correction from § 83 to § 92. Smith had “Still greater,” which may indeed make better sense. Kaplan opens each of these lines, “When one is on a (still) higher level...”

[84] Greatest of all it is that he recognizeth all those who know sorcery.

Greatest of all it is that any man who lift up his hand against him and smite him is clothed with scalls and covered with leprosy and crowned with a pox.

Greatest of all it is that any man who slander him is subject to all manner of injuries: morbid growths and discolourations and wounds which give rise to running ulcers.

[85] Greatest of all it is that he is set apart from all the children of men and is exalted in all his doings and is honored by those above and those below. And if any man find cause of offense in him, upon that man do offenses, great and evil and harsh, fall from heaven. And if any man stretch forth his hand against him in reproach, against that man doth the heavenly court of justice stretch forth its hand to consume him from the world.

 Greatest of all it is that all men are set before him as silver before the refiner, to know which is alloyed silver, which is pure silver. And, moreover, he beholdeth in families:

 How many in a family be children of forbidden unions,
 How many in a family be children of their mother's impurity,
 How many in a family be wounded in the stones,
 How many in a family be cut off of their privy members,
 How many in a family be children of slaves,
 How many in a family be children of the uncircumcised,
 How many in a family be unfit for the priesthood.

CHAPTER II:

[86] Greatest of all it is that any man who harden his face against him to gainsay him is darkened from the light of the balls of his eyes.

 Greatest of all it is that if any man treat him despitefully he leaves neither root nor branch nor yet inheritor.

 Greatest of all it is that any man who spread evil report against him is consumed, his judgment is determined and no mercy is had upon him.

{...}

[92] Greatest of all it is that in the heavenly court of justice, three times each day (from the day when permission was given to Israel, to the honest and to the upright, to the humble and to the humiliated, to the understanding and to the chosen and to the separated, that they might descend to the Merkabha and ascend thence) three times each day they blow the trumpets thrice and excommunicate with the lesser excommunication and again excommunicate with the greater excommunication, saying: "Let him be excommunicated to Tazsh the Lord God of Israel, to him and to the throne of His glory and to the crown upon His head, to the heavenly court of justice and to the earthly court of justice and to all the host of heaven and to all its servants, he who standeth before one beholding the Merkabha and who abandoneth him."

[93] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Thus ran the teaching as to the vision of the Merkabha: He who beholdeth the Merkabha hath no right to stand up [out of courtesy to a superior], except before three authorities only: before a king and before a high priest and before a sanhedrin (and that, when a patriarch is with the sanhedrin, thus if a patriarch is not with a sanhedrin, then even before a sanhedrin he shall not stand up). And should he stand up he would be guilty of death because he had stood up before it, and he would lessen his days and cut short his years.

[94] Said Rabbi Ishmael: What be the words of the songs which a man doth recite when he descendeth to the Merkabha? Let him begin and recite the principal songs [OR, the first songs]:

 The beginning of praise and the commencement of song
 The beginning of jubilation and the commencement of exultation
 Do the princes sing who serve each day
 The Lord God of Israel and the throne of His glory;
 They bear up the wheel of the throne of His glory, [singing]:
 "Sing, sing for joy, supernal dwelling!

“Shout, shout for joy, precious vessel!
“Made marvelously and a marvel.
“Surely thou shalt gladden the King who sitteth upon thee,
“[With a joy] as the joy of the bridegroom in his bridechamber.
[Thus said I] when I came to take refuge under the shadow of Thy wings
In the joy of my heart which rejoiced in thee.
(For thy converse [my heart] is with the converse of the King
And with thy Maker thou dost hold discourse.)
(As it is said, “Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.”)

- [95] “From the praise and song of each day,
“From the jubilation and exaltation of each hour,
“And from the utterance which preceedeth out of the mouths of the holy ones
“And from the melody which welleteth up out of the mouths of the servants
“Mountains of fire and hills of flame
“Are piled up and hidden and poured out each day.”
(As it is said, “Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.”)

CHAPTER III:

- [96] “Why should’st thou be affrighted, faithful servant?
“Why should’st thou be terrified, servitor beloved?”
“I say to thy face, Zoharaiel, Lord God of Israel, “If I be not affrighted, who is he that shall be affrighted?
“If I be not terrified, who is he that shall be terrified?
“For I am summoned before the Omnipotent six hours in each day,
“And a thousand times I am dragged upon my knees
“Until I touch the throne of glory.”

And then the voice would answer say{ing}:
(As it is said [Ez. 1:25]: “And there was a voice above the firmament that was over their heads; when they stood they let down their wings.”)
“As for those who practice upon you those practices – “Reproach shall not be cast upon their words, “Nor shall any contradict their discourse,
“Nor any contradict their words.”
His kingly servants behold the King majestic
Enthroned in the chambers of the palace of silence,
Dread and fear, holiness and purity.
(As it is said, “Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.”)

- [97] King of miracles, King of powers,
King of wonders, King transcendent.
Thy throne doth fly and standeth still.
Years very many, generations without end have passed Since thou didst drive the peg for the weaving of the web
On which the perfection of the world and the excellence thereof do stand

And even yet hath Thy throne not rested its foot upon the firm ground of the seventh heaven,
But as a bird doth fly it fly and standeth still.

- [98] The loftiest of the lofty, they whose brows be bound with diadems,
*And all angels, the chief hypostases which Thou hast created,
Stand harnessed beneath the throne of glory
And do hold it up continually with strength, might and power.
And they also have not rested their feet upon the firm ground of the seventh heaven,
But as a bird do they fly yet stand still.

* A marginal note in Smith's hand at this place reads: "Translated at first "all the angels of the chief hypostases" מַלְאָכִים Prof. Scholem corrected to this {as shown above}, which seems to suppose מַלְאָכִים instead of מַלְאָכִים. What is the final Hebrew text?"

- [99] And three times in each day
Doth the throne of Thy glory prostrate itself before Thee and say to Thee,
"Zoharariel, Lord God of Israel,
"Pray seat Thyself upon me, O splendid King,
"For Thy burden is delightful to me
"And weigheth not heavy upon me."
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.")

- [100] Wonderful loftiness and strange lordship
Is the loftiness of exultation and the lordship of splendor
With which the angel of the presence doth conduct himself
Three times each day
In the heavenly court of justice
As he goeth and cometh upon the seventh heaven
Which is upon the heads of the cherubim and upon the heads of the ophanim
And upon the heads of the holy beasts.

- [101] And the cherubim and the ophanim and the holy beasts
Are harnessed and stand beneath the throne of glory.
And when they behold anyone in the height
As he goeth and cometh upon the seventh heaven
(Which is upon the heads of the cherubim and upon the heads of the ophanim
And upon the heads of the holy beasts)
They are terrified and affrighted and faint and fall backward,
For no creature is able to attain unto that place
By a distance of one hundred and eighty five thousand myriad parasangs
Because of the streaming fires which flow and issue forth
From the mouths of the cherubim and from the mouths of the ophanim and from the mouths of the holy beasts
Who open their mouths to say "Holy"
When Israel saith before Him "Holy"
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.")

- [102] A measure of holiness, a measure of dominion,
A measure of fearfulness, a measure of consternation,
A measure of trembling, a measure of shaking,
A measure of terror, a measure of panic
Is the measure of the garment of Zoharariel Lord God of Israel
Who cometh crowned to the throne of His glory.
- [103] And it is every part engraved from within and from without with the words The Lord, The Lord.
And the eye of no creature is able to behold it,
Not the eyes of flesh and blood, and not the eyes of His servants.
And as for him who doth behold it, or glimpseth or seeth it, Hallucinations lay hold upon the balls of his eyes
And the balls of his eyes emit and send forth torches of fire
And these enkindle him and these burn him.
(For the fire which cometh out from the man who beholdeth, This enkindle him and burneth him.)
Why? Because of the measure of the garment
Of Zoharariel, Lord God of Israel,
Who cometh crowned to the throne of His glory.
And pleasant and sweet is His beauty
As the appearance of the beauty of the glory of the majesty
Of the eyes of the likeness of the holy beasts
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.")

CHAPTER IV:

- [104] Who is like unto our King among all the lofty ones of them who lay hold upon kingship?
Who is like our Maker? Who is like unto the Lord our God?
Who is like unto Him among those who knot the knots of diadems?
For with six voices do the supernal servants,
The bearers of the throne of His glory,
The cherubim and the ophanim and the holy beasts, sing before Him,
For each voice is exalted beyond its fellows and differeth form that which was before it.
The first voice: Everyone who heareth it at once crieth out and prostrateth himself.
The second voice: Everyone who hearkeneth unto it at once falleth into confusion and thereafter returneth not.
The third voice: Everyone who heareth it at once is seized by convulsions and at once dieth.
The fourth voice: Everyone who hearkeneth unto it at once hath the skull of his head and his body broken and most of the ends of his ribs are torn out.
The fifth voice: Everyone who heareth it at once poureth himself out as a vessel and is utterly dissolved into blood.

The sixth voice: Everyone who hearkeneth unto it at once is seized at heart by a fierce fire, and his heart is tumultuous and overturneth his inmost bowels, and his bile is dissolved within him as to be as water.
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.")

[105] Who is like unto our King? Who is like unto our Maker? Who is like unto the Lord our God?
The sun and the moon emit and send forth the crown on His head.
The Pleiades and Orion and the star of morning,
Constellations and stars and planets
Flow and issue forth from the garment of Him
Who sitteth crowned upon the throne of His glory.
And He gave forth a great light from between His eyes.
For King of miracles, King of powers,
King of wonders, King transcendent is He.
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.")

[106] Said Rabbi Ishmael: All these songs did Rabbi Akiba hear when he descended to the Merkabha, and he laid hold upon them and learned them before the throne of God's glory, for there His servants sang them before God.

CHAPTER V:

[107] Said Rabbi Ishmael: That day was the fifth day of the week when there came abysmal tidings from the great city of Rome saying: "Four men from among the mighty of Israel have been seized – Rabbi Simon ben Gamaliel and Rabbi Ishmael ben Elisha and Rabbi Elazar ben Dama and Rabbi Judah ben Baba; and eight thousand students from Jerusalem shall be their ransom."

[108] And when Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah saw this decree, he caused me at once to descend to the Merkabha and I questioned Surya the Prince of the Presence. And he said to me: "Ten men did the heavenly court of justice write down, and gave them unto Sammael the wicked, the genius of Rome, saying: 'Go out and destroy from the mighty of Israel every good member, thigh and shoulder, to fulfill the decree' [Ex. 21.16]: "And he that stealeth a man and selleth him, or if he be found in his hand, he shall surely be put to death." And the sons of Jacob stole Joseph their brother and sold him, what shall be done concerning them? At once was the authority given to Sammael to destroy ten of the mighty in their stead, in order to fulfill the decree. And a vengeance to be avenged upon him is laid up against him until the time shall come when [Is. 24.21] 'The Lord shall punish the host of the high ones on high,' for he shall be cut down and cast upon the earth, ne and all the princes of the kingdoms in the height, as the goats and sheep of the day of atonement."

[109] Said Rabbi Ishmael: All these warnings and all these conditions were made known to and laid upon Sammael the wicked, and he saith, 'I have taken all upon me provided only that ten of the mighty shall be destroyed, to wit: Rabbi Akiba ben Joseph, and Rabbi Judah ben Baba, and Rabbi Jeshbab the scribe, and Rabbi Hananya ben Teradyon, Rabbi Hozpit the interpreter, Rabbi Elazar ben Shammua, Rabbi Hanina ben Hakinai, Rabbi Ishmael ben Elisha, Rabban Simon ben Gamaliel, Rabbi Eliezer ben Dama.'

[110] Said Rabbi Ishmael: What then did Zoharariel the Lord God of Israel? Because of the wrath with which He was filled against Sammael as having ~~taken~~ upon him all those conditions, [His patience] did not then suffice Him that He should say to the scribe: "Write decrees of punishment and great plagues, strong and harsh and fearful and terrible, heavy and disgraceful against the wicked city, Rome.” Nay, but at once He Himself took paper and wrote upon the paper. And thus He wrote against the day of vengeance which is destined and laid up for the wicked city, Rome. “One cloud shall come up and stand above Rome six months and pour down a running sore upon man and upon beast and upon the silver and upon the gold and upon all the fruit and upon all kinds of metals. And thereafter shall another cloud come up and drive away its fellow and stand in its place six months and pour down a scall of leprosy and scab and pox and all manner of scalls whatsoever upon the wicked city Rome, until the time shall come when a man shall say to his fellow, ‘Behold, the wicked city Rome, she and all that which is in her, are thine for one farthing,’ and he shall say to him, ‘I want her not.’”

[111] Said Rabbi Ishmael: When I came and bore witness to this [which I had received] from before the throne of glory, all [my] fellows rejoiced and they made that day before Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah a day of feasting and rejoicing; and yet more - the Patriarch himself did say in his joy, “Bring in before us all manner of musical instruments, and we shall drink wine to their accompaniment, inasmuch as Zoharariel the Lord God of Israel shall surely wreak vengeance and do wonders and wonders of wonders upon the wicked city Rome, and we shall exult with joy of harp and flute.”

[112] Said Rabbi Ishmael: What then did the heavenly court of justice? They at once gave command to the angels of torment, and these descending, wrought upon Lupinus Caesar utter destruction; and there was not left in all his palace a fugitive nor a remnant, and Rufa the wife of his youth and all his mistresses and all his maid-servants and all his concubines were cast dead on the earth before him, and all his sons and all his daughters and all the delights of his eyes were rent asunder and thrown [dead] before him.

[113] Said Rabbi Ishmael: What was done to that wicked man himself? He was abased and made contemptible by reason of his dead, that they lay ever before him. And whensoever and man stretched forth his hand to take one of the dead of Lupinus Caesar, that he should lay it upon the bier and take it forth to bury it, then would the abyss swallow up that body, and, when the burier withdrew his hand, would the abyss again vomit it forth. Thus did his dead lie ever before him; and yet more – they were noisome and stank throughout all his royal palace and he was ashamed before the royal princes who came in and went out before his face.

CHAPTER VI:

[117] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Surya, the Prince of the Presence, spoke to me [saying]: “Friend, why did all this disgrace, all this revilement, and all this shame befall that wicked man? Because of Rabbi Hanaya ben Teradyon. For when the day came which he had set for his execution, [some of his servants] said to him, ‘Lord Caesar, repeal [the sentence which] thou [hast passed] upon that sage, that he be not killed.’ [But] he replied, ‘Let him die. For though I and all these of my family, yea, even though all Rome be destroyed with him – yet in this matter I will not change my mind.’”

[118] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Surya, the Prince of the Presence, spoke to me [saying]: “Friend, I shall tell thee why the strength of that wicked man was great: Because he came from the line of Esau the wicked, and therefore he confirmed and strengthened and hardened his heart.”

[119] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Surya, the Prince of the Presence, spoke to me [saying]: “Friend I say unto thee, thou shalt not be grieved at this death in which thou departest to thine eternal dwelling, for already hath Zoharariel the Lord God of Israel filled His mouth with laughter at that wicked man and said: ‘By the glory of the loftiness of the fearful palace in which I dwell, and by the throne of My glory which is My concern and which I leave not from [the time of] its creation and unto eternity: In Gehenna, at the hand of Rabbi Hananya ben Teradyon, I will cause that wicked man to taste the taste of flame of fire and fiery coals of cherubim and ophanim and the holy beasts.’”

[120] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Surya, the Prince of the Presence, spoke to me [saying]: “Friend, I shall tell thee what did then the pure effulgence of the splendor of the effulgence of ’Uzhaya the Lord God of Israel. At that time He commanded me and I descended and banished and drove out Lupinus Caesar from his palace in which he was sleeping during the night and took him to a pig sty and a dog pound and put him asleep [there], and I brought in Rabbi Hananya and put him asleep in the palace of Lupinus Caesar. Next day came the executioners who had been commanded concerning Rabbi Hananya to this effect: ‘He is sitting and doing wonders in the school and is teaching law to the mighty of Israel. Off with his head!’ Lupinus Caesar appeared to them as Rabbi Hananya ben Teradyon and they cut off his head. And Rabbi Hananya ben Teradyon bound on the diadem of his royalty and reigned over the wicked city Rome in the likeness of Lupinus Caesar, six months, and killed in it six thousand bishops, a thousand bishops a month. [121] And something in the form of Rabbi Hananya ben Teradyon was then put before the men of the wicked city Rome and they laid hold upon it and cast it into the fire. And who was he whom they cast into the fire? Lupinus Caesar. For after he was killed, he was made alive again in the heavenly court of justice. And they laid hold upon him and cast him into the fire, and he was in anguish in the midst of the fierce fire. And after this manner did they with all ten sages of Israel, for the proclamation goeth forth from the seventh heaven proclaiming and saying in the heavenly court of justice: ‘As for the design which the wicked city Rome designed against the mighty of Israel to destroy them, Zoharariel the Lord God of Israel has agreed, but even the meditation of the heart which Rome meditateth against his children is weighty to them as if they carried it out.’”

[The First Apocalypse]

[122] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Seganzegael, the Prince of the Presence, said to me, “My friend, sit in my bosom and I shall tell thee what is to come upon Israel.” I sat in his bosom and he gazed upon me and did weep, and his tears ran down continually from his eyes and fell upon my face. I said to him, “Why does your Excellency weep?” He said to me, “My friend, come, and I shall take thee in and teach thee what is laid up for Israel, the holy people.” He grasped me by my hand and took me in to the inmost chambers and to the most secret rooms and to the treasuries. He took tablets and opened them and showed me letters written with griefs each different from the other. I said to him, “For whom are these?” He said to me, “For Israel.” I said to him, “And can Israel bear them?” He said to me, “Come tomorrow and I shall teach thee of griefs yet different from these.” On the morrow he took me in to the inmost chambers and showed me griefs more bitter than the first: [There] those [who shall perish] by the sword [were destined already] for the sword; those [who shall perish] by hunger, for hunger; those who shall be led captive, for captivity. I said to him, “And did then, your Excellency, Israel alone sin?” He said to me, “Griefs more bitter than these are laid on them anew each day. And when, assembling in synagogues and schools, they say, ‘Amen. Let the great name be blessed,’ we do not permit these [griefs] to go forth from the inmost chambers.”

[123] When I went down from before him I heard a voice speaking in the Aramaic language, and thus it said:
 “The holy shrine shall be a ruin;
 and the temple, a fire burning;
 “And the dwelling of the king, desolation;
 and she in whom the king rejoiced shall mourn as a widow;
 “And the virgins and the youths shall be spoiled;
 and the servants of the king, be killed;
 “And the pure altar, polluted;
 and the table which was set before the Lord, taken as spoil by the enemy;
 “And Jerusalem shall be desolation;
 and the land of Israel trembling.”

[124] When I heard the voice of this vision I was terrified and struck silent and fell backwards. But then came the angel Hadariel and gave me breath and spirit and stood me upon my feet. He said to me, "My friend, what came over thee?" I said to him, "Your Excellency, is there no restoration for Israel?" He said to me, "Come, and I shall bring thee in to treasuries of consolations and to treasuries of salvations and shall show thee." He brought me in to treasuries of salvations and to treasuries of consolations and I beheld the companies of ministering angels, that they were sitting and weaving garments of salvations and making crowns of life and fixing in them precious stones and pearls and compounding all manner of spices and perfumed wines for the righteous. And I beheld one crown which differed from all the [other] crowns, and the sun and the moon and the twelve signs of the zodiac were fixed in it. I said to him, "Your Excellency, for whom are these crowns?" He said to me, "For Israel." "And that different crown, for whom is that destined?" He said to me, "For David, the king of Israel." I said to him, "Your Excellency, show me the glory of David." He said to me, "My friend, wait for three hours until David cometh hither and thou shalt behold his greatness." [125] He took me and seated me in his bosom. He said to me, "What dost thou see?" I said to him, "I see seven lightnings which strike as one." He said to me, "My son, close thine eyes that thou not be shaken by those that shall go forth to meet David." At once, all ophanim and seraphim and the holy beasts and treasuries of snow and treasuries of hail and clouds of glory and planets and stars and ministering angels and fiery spirits of the fourth heaven cried out in tumult, saying: "For the chief musician, a psalm of David. The heavens are telling the glory of God." And I heard a sound of a great uproar which came from Gozen, saying: "The Lord shall reign forever and ever." And behold David, the King of Israel, came first, and I beheld all the kings of the house of David following after him, and each had his crown on his head and the crown of David was more brilliant and differed from all the other crowns and its splendor went forth from one end of the world to the other. [126] When David went up to the great school which is in the firmament, there was set for him a throne of fire which was forty parasangs in height and double in length and double in breadth. And when David came and sat down upon his throne which was prepared for him opposite the throne of his Creator (and all the kings of the house of David sit before him, and all the kings of the house of Israel stand behind him) at once David arose and uttered songs and praises [such as] ear hath not heard from [the creation of] the world. And when David began and said, "The Lord shall rule forever; thy God, Zion, to all generations, Hallelujah!" Metatron and all his servants began and said, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts, all the earth is full of His glory," and the beasts praise God saying, "Blessed be the glory of the Lord from His [dwelling] place," and the firmaments say, "The Lord shall reign forever," and all the earth saith, "The Lord has been King, the Lord is King, the Lord shall be King, forever and ever," and all the kings of the house of David say, "The Lord shall be King over all the earth, in that day shall the Lord be one and His name One."

{...}

[The Second Apocalypse]

[130] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Thus did 'Akhtariel Yah the Lord God of Hosts converse with me, saying: "My friend Ishmael, know that I have not given to any of the nations of the world [permission] to enslave Israel, except for one day in this world, [and that] because Israel forsook Me and bowed down to other gods and set up a graven image in my house (and [therefore] did I drive My Shekinah forth from [that place] where I had sworn to cause My name to dwell forever). And they did anger Me and did provoke Me, they, their kings and their princes, their priests and their prophets. And for seven hundred years did they remain separate from Me. And I swore in Mine anger that I would subdue them beneath the [kingdom of] iron and the [kingdom of] clay. And their princes shall they kill and their kings shall they slaughter, their youths shall they cast out and their children shall they dash to pieces, and they shall make the yoke of their old men heavy and shall decree upon them harsh decrees until they shall pine away in their iniquity and in the iniquity of their fathers. Either let them return to Me, or the end shall be fulfilled, for thus have I sent unto them by the hand of My servants the prophets, that I will visit upon them the days of the Baalim when they did burn incense to them. And even as they did provoke Me to anger seven hundred years, so I will surely anger them and make them jealous with a foolish nation and a nation for which I set apart no kingdom, in that day when I cast lots for all the peoples. Because, even because....”

[131] Said Rabbi Ishmael: When I heard “Because, even because” my hands grew feeble and I fell prostrate upon my face and I was terrified and there was no force in me, neither to speak nor to answer. At once did Metatron the Prince of the Presence answer and said to me, “My friend, rise and stand and strengthen thy loins and understand and be intelligent in [the matter of] the words which He will speak to thee.” And I heard a voice going forth from between the two cherubim and saying: “My friend, Ishmael, fear not, for I will not exact from them payment measure for measure, for I know that they have not in them the strength to endure; but I act for My Name’s sake and I set division between the nations and great enmity between Edom and Ishmael, that they make war one with another and so destroy not utterly my people Israel.”

[132] Said Rabbi Ishmael: I sat and did reckon the reckoning which was first given me, and I reckoned to Babylon seventy years, and to Media fifty and two years, and to Greece an hundred and eighty years, and for Edom I had not yet made reckoning till I arose in the same prayer and in the same affliction in which I had first fallen aforetime. Straightway I heard a voice from heaven going forth and saying, “My friend, Ishmael, know thou that if Israel repent, forthwith shall they be re- deemed, for thus did I stipulate with Isaiah [30.15]: ‘In repenting and rest shall ye be saved.’”

[133] Said Rabbi Ishmael: I retorted word against word, and said, “If they do not repent, shall they never be redeemed?” He said to me, “Either they shall pine away in their iniquity or the end shall be completed.”

[134] Said Rabbi Ishmael: I retorted word against word, and said, “And may not the end of this wicked kingdom be revealed?” I heard a voice going forth and saying, “My friend Ishmael, at the end of the fulfillment of seven hundred years, from the time of the building of {the} house [which was built by the authority] of the kings of Persia, all things shall come to an end and they shall finally cease from off all the face of the earth and that shall be the cleansing of iniquities. Even as they did forsake Me seven hundred years and did serve the Baalim, so I, even I, will forsake them and will cast them off into the hand of the cruel, seven hundred years. And there shall be for them no saviour, no priest, neither teacher, and no prophet and no king and no leader and no prince until they turn and return to Me in prayer and in supplications for mercy. And yet, if they seek My Face, I shall be found of them, and I shall bring them back to their land.”

[135] Said Rabbi Ishmael: I retorted word against word and said, “And if they do not repent shall they never be redeemed?” He said to me “I will set over them a king whose decrees shall be harsh as Haman’s, and against their will, by compulsion, they shall return to Me. And this shall be [Daniel 8.23] ‘a king of fierce countenance and understanding dark sentences.’ [7.25] ‘And he shall speak words against the Most High, and shall wear out the saints of the Most High; and he shall think to change the times and the law; and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and half a time.’”

[136] Said Rabbi Ishmael: I reckoned the reckoning: For Babylon seventy years and for Media fifty and two and for Greece and hundred and eighty and for Edom accordingly I found the years to the destruction of the second temple to complete seven hundred years. And I sought in books which Daniel had closed up and sealed, and I found written in them: “Seven hundred years were determined and decreed upon Thy people and upon Thy holy city and at their fulfillment shall the transgressors cease and the sinners shall come to an end and the iniquity of a small people shall be atoned and He that is righteous forever shall bring the Messiah who has remained hidden and sealed [from the sight] of all the prophets and he shall anoint the Holy of Holies.”

[137] Said Rabbi Ishmael: And even as Daniel explained I found written [Daniel 9.24] “Seventy weeks are decreed upon Thy people and upon Thy holy city to finish the transgression and to make an end of sins and to make reconciliation for iniquity and to bring in everlasting righteousness and to seal up vision and prophecy and to anoint the Holy of Holies.” And these seventy weeks be a sign for seven hundred years, and when these do come to their end they shall end at even{ing}, and straightway shall come the light, for it is said [Zachariah 14.7] “And it shall come to pass that at evening time there shall be light.”

[138] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Why was this [vision of the] end revealed to me? Inasmuch as I had set my heart to study wisdom and to reckon seasons and times, minutes and ends, and a period of periods and a season of seasons. And I turned my face to the supernal Holy One in prayer and in supplications and in fasting and in sackcloth and in mourning, and I did often pray saying: “O Lord God of Hosts, God of Israel, how long are we to be loathsome and broken, made a mock and a derision among the peoples. All those who see us will mock us and say, ‘These are they, the people of the Lord. Why did He smite them and why did He cast them out from before His face?’ And they say, ‘Because of the greatness of their iniquity and the strength of their sin did He abominate them and loathed them and put them away from before His face and He shall bring them back no more?’” And because of this prayer did ‘Akhtariel Yah, the Lord God of Israel converse with me.

[The Third Apocalypse]

[140] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Metatron, the great Prince of the Presence, spoke to me [saying]: “My friend, come and I shall reveal the Messianic end which even they of old time were not worthy that it should be revealed to them, but thy glory is weighed equal to [that of] Aaron the Priest. As for that generation in which the son of David shall come, in it are all the peoples like unto a woman in travail, eating and drinking but with no thought. And there shall be wailing among the holy, and cries of terror among the images of the mighty ones, and trembling shall arise in the cities and quaking in the provinces. And the vine shall yield its fruits, yet shall wine cost dear, and the olives shall be smitten and oil shall be dear. And none that laboreth, he and his household, all the day long suffereth to support himself and to support his household, because of the great cost of living. And when the nations of the world do see that this be so, they give authority for assistance in all things, as it is said [Psalms 97.7] ‘Ashamed be all they that serve graven images, that boast themselves of idols.’ And when thou seest all these signs, know that this is the Messianic end.

[142] Thereafter come four from the four winds of the world and these be they: the children of Maskidia from one quarter, the children of Shabhur from one quarter, the children of Mash and Marghish from one quarter, the children of Piston from one quarter and they make war with one another and kill one another, and there fall of them, that day, more than two hundred thousand slain. At that time do they say to one another, ‘Why should we make war? Come and we shall compromise and whoever winneth shall be supreme king and we shall all serve him.’

[143] Then shall the Messiah come forth from prison with [naught save] his staff and his sack, and he warneth them, ‘I am patient with you.’ Then do they say one to another, ‘With what shall he conquer us. His countenance is not that of men and his form is not that of men. His wealth is not that of men. His strength is not that of men. We are rich, strong, warlike, the children of kings. And this fellow – with what shall he conquer us?’ They say to him, ‘If we conquer you what do you give us?’ The Messiah saith unto them, ‘If you conquer me, behold I and all the children of Israel are your slaves.’ When they hear this, from the greatness of the love with which they love to enslave Israel doth each one say unto him ‘Say what thou wilt.’ The Messiah saith unto them, ‘The thing which I propose is small and is not great: He who bring to life all these slain shall be king over us.’ Straightway are their words stopped up and they have no mouth to speak. [144] Then doth the Messiah stand and wrap himself in prayer and gird himself as an hero before Him who spoke and the world was. He saith before Him, ‘Master of worlds, remember on my behalf the suffering and grief and darkness and obscurity in which I was cast, mine eyes which beheld no light and mine ears which heard great reviling and the scurvy of my skin upon my bones and the breaking of my heart in my vitals and the weakening of my strength with pain and grief. It is revealed and known before Thee that in this matter I have not acted for my own glory,

nor yet for the glory of my father's house have I acted, but for Thy glory have I acted, for Thy sake and for Thy temple {and} for Thy children who dwell in sorrow among the peoples of the world.' Then do those two hundred thousand stand upon their feet and say, 'We are of Israel, we are of Israel' as it is said [Zech. 2.15], 'And many nations shall join themselves unto the Lord.' Then doth the Messiah say unto them, 'Go ye and assemble all your brethren from all the nations.' And they go and assemble all Israel and bring them and cause them to stand before the Messiah as it is said [Isaiah 66.20], 'And they shall bring all your brethren out of all the nations as an offering unto the Lord.'"

[145] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Zegangael, the Prince of the Presence, said to me, "All the peoples of the world are destined to come to the Messiah and say to him, 'We have heard concerning thee that thou hast power to kill and to make alive. We pray thee, speak with the Holy One, blessed be He, that He receive from us a gift.' He saith unto them, 'And what gift do you bring to me?' They say unto him, 'We have destroyed the house of dwelling, from it we shall enter.'* And we say unto them, 'Those men are wicked. He needeth not your building, for of it is written [Ps 147.2] "The Lord doth build up Jerusalem" etc.' They say unto him, 'We, if that be so, shall gather in it precious stones and pearls the like of which is not in all the world.' He saith unto them, 'Ye wicked, all precious stones and pearls are His, for it is said [Haggai 2.8], "The silver is Mine and the gold is Mine" etc.' Then doth the Holy Spirit answer them and saith unto them, 'Fools and evil-doers, what do ye bring in place of the great men and the lords whom ye have killed?' Straightway they go forth from before him in disappointment."

* In a marginal note, Scholem suggests that the reading of this quote be 'We shall enter from the temple which is destroyed'; that is, as their gift, the nations offer to rebuild the temple. This passage is similar to the offer—and rejection—of the Samaritans in Ezra 4.

[146] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Splendor of Height said to me, "Come and I shall show thee their appearance. Between firmament and firmament is hung water; between water and water, fire; between fire and fire, water; between water and water, fire and hail and water. Fire burneth more fiercely and there is a wall of fire on either side of the throne and seraphim standing before Him and saying, 'Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts' and beasts uttering praise, 'Blessed be the glory of the Lord from His [dwelling] place.' And the firmament saith, 'The Lord shall reign forever.' And the earth saith, 'The Lord reigneth, He is apparelled with majesty.' And the seas and the rivers utter praise and say, 'To Him who divided the Red Sea into parts' etc."

[147] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Splendor of Height said to me, "I make a request of thee: Say unto Israel, 'Love the repentant.' For repentance reacheth and goeth to the throne of glory, three hundred and ninety firmaments (removed). The repentant are greater than the ministering angels. [148] For at the time when Israel went into exile, Metatron and Yikhael and Gabhriel said 'What shall we do?' Forthwith they laid their hands upon their heads and wept with a loud voice and said, 'Who will go up to the height of heights and weep before Him who spoke and the world was, that He shall return from the fierceness of His anger and shall have mercy upon His children. [149] Metatron said to them, 'I shall go up when they go up.' All those who glowed with fire shrank trembling from before him. When he had ascended [through] eighty firmaments the heavens and the heavens of the heavens shook and the holy ones above said with one voice, 'How comes it that the odor of one born of woman ascendeth on high' until the Holy One, blessed be He, said unto them, 'He is one of the servants of justice and of My seraphs. Permit him that he come and weep over [the fate of] My children who have gone into exile among wolves and among lions, and over their temple and their Law, that the son of the son of Nimrod the wicked has burned them, and over sages and students who were killed in the holy temple. Heaven forbid that My hands were relaxed and that I was not able to deliver them because they themselves relaxed from the study of the Law, and there were not among them penitents who might beseech mercy upon them. For if only there had been among them penitents who might have besought mercy upon them I had not made them over death.' Behold, thou hast learned that the repentant are greater than the ministering angels."

[150] Said Rabbi Ishmael: These heavens [of which I speak] are 390 [in number] for such [is the numerical value of the word] Shamaim [viz: heavens] in gematria. And lest thou shouldst say that these [heavens] alone exist [I state in advance that the fact is not so] but this far it is permitted to speak, from here on thou hast no right to speak. For there is no number to the membranes, and there is no end and reckoning, and there is no sum to firmaments of fire. And the conflagration cometh. But search not deeply into this matter, that thou be not banished from the world, but put an end [to the questionings] in thy heart.

[151] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Once I was burning whole burnt offering upon the altar and I beheld 'Akhtariel Yah the Lord of Hosts sitting on a throne high and lifted up. He said to me, "Ishmael, my son, bless Me." I said before Him, "Master of the Worlds, may it be Thy will, O Lord my God, that Thy mercy conquer Thine anger, and may Thy mercy prevail over Thine [other] attributes, and deal with Thy children according to Thine attribute of mercy, and walk, for their sakes, within the line of justice." And He nodded toward me.

CHAPTER VII:

[152] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Surya, the Prince of the Presence, spoke to me, saying, "Friend, I shall tell thee the praise of the King and of his throne." Therefore it is said:

Thou hast uplifted the throne of Thy glory upon the cherubim of heaven,
And the ophanim of greatness do bear it,
And creatures of frost, creatures of mist, creatures of flame,
Crowned with loftiness and with splendor.
And the eyes of Shaddai are lifted up upon them,
And they were extended beneath it
As rams beneath the plough.
And it was erected upon their heads
With strength, might and power.
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.")

[153] Be exalted, be raised on high, be lifted up, O splendid King!
Upon the throne raised high and lifted up, fearful and terrific.
Thou dwellest in the chambers of the temple of loftiness.
The servants of Thy throne are terrified and make tremble
The heavens which are the footstool of Thy feet, each day,
With voice of exultation and tumult of psalmody and roar of songs.
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.")

[154] Messengers of the Power [of God] and awakeners of the Shekhinah (Tumultuous of voice, who magnify song
To the voice of the servants and the voice of the mighty)
Sing, with sweet mouth and with holy melody,
Him who dwelleth in the lava stream of flaming coals.

[155] They bear up the wheel of the throne of His glory, [singing]:
"Sing, sing for joy, supernal dwelling!
"Shout, shout for joy, precious vessel!
"Made marvelously and a marvel.
"Surely thou shalt gladden the King who sitteth upon thee,
"[With a joy] as the joy of the bridegroom in his bridechamber.
"Let him rejoice, and let all the seed of Jacob be glad."
[Thus said I] when I came to take refuge under the shadow of Thy wings
In the joy of my heart which rejoiced in thee.

(For thy converse [my heart] is with the converse of the King
And with thy Maker thou dost hold discourse.)
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.")

- [156] O wreathed with splendor, crowned with crowns, Supernal singers in the song of jubilation Extol ye the Lord of flame,
For in the innermost Shekhinah, in the innermost chamber
Of the chamber of His chambers do ye dwell.
He hath distinguished your name from the name of His servants,
He hath separated you from the servants of the Merkabha.
He who nameth the name of one from among you –
Fire flames, flame encircles,
Blaze encompasseth, coals of splendor brought forth.
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.")

- [157] O beloved of the Fearful, chosen of the Most High,
Ye who lift up [your] faces, whose converse is majestic,
Agreeable and pleasant in the eyes of Shaddai,
Who speak and are heard in the presence of the splendid King, Servants of his majesty, crying: "King majestic
"Enthroned in the chambers of the palace of silence
"Dread and fear, holiness and purity."
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.")

CHAPTER VIII:

- [158] O ye who cancel decrees, who annul vows,
Who avert wrath, who quiet jealousy,
Who cause love to be remembered, who set forth friendship
Before the loftiness of the majesty of the fearful palace,
What aileth ye that ye be fearful
And there be times when ye rejoice?
What aileth ye that ye do sing for exultation,
And there be times when ye are terrified?
They said:
"When the ophanim of the power of God darken the Merkabha
"We rejoice with great joy."
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.")
- [159] A lovely face, a majestic face,
A face of beauty, a face of flame,
Is the face of the Lord God of Israel
When He sitteth upon the throne of His glory
And His dignity is established in the dwelling of His majesty.
His beauty is more lovely than the beauty of the powers,
His majesty surpasseth the majesty of the bridegrooms
And brides in their bride-chambers.
He that beholdeth Him is at once torn in pieces,
And he that glimpseth His beauty at once poureth himself out as a vessel.

[160] They who serve Him to-day
Serve Him not to-morrow,
And they who serve Him to-morrow
Serve Him never again.
For their strength grew feeble and their faces darkened,
Their hearts wandered and their eyes were obscured
After [the vision of] His majesty, the splendor of the beauty of their King.
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy.")

Servitors beloved, servitors lovely,
Servitors who hasten, servitors swift,
Are they who stand upon the stone of the throne of the glory
And who are stationed upon the wheel of the Merkabha.
As the stone of the throne of the glory returneth upon them,
As the wheel of the Merkabha snatches them
They who stand to the right return and stand to the left
And they who stand to the left return and stand to the right,
And they who stand before return and stand behind
And they who stand behind return and stand before.
He who beholdeth the other saith, "This is he,"
For the feature of the face of the one
Is like the feature of the face of the other,
And the feature of the face of the other
Is like the feature of the face of the one.
Happy the King of whom those be the servants!
And happy the servants of whom this be the King!
Happy the eye which feedeth itself
And which gazeth upon this wonderful light,
A vision wonderful and exceeding strange!
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy.")

[161] Rivers of joy, rivers of rejoicing,
Rivers of jubilation, rivers of content,
Rivers of love, rivers of friendship,
Pour themselves, issuing forth from before the throne of glory,
Strengthen themselves and pass through the gates of the seventh heaven.
From the sound of the playing of the harps of His beasts,
From the sound of the exultation of the drums of His ophanim,
And from the sound of music of the cymbals of His cherubim
A sound strengtheneth itself and goeth forth in a great tumult
When Israel saith before Him,
"Holy, Holy, Holy."

CHAPTER IX:

[162] In the sound of the seas, in the tumult of rivers
In the waves of Tarshish which the south wind troubleth,
In the sound of the song of the throne of glory
Which maketh music and praiseth the splendid King –
A multitude of sounds and great tumult! –

Many did utter their voices
Before the throne of glory, to aid it and to strengthen it,
When it maketh music and applaudeth the Mighty One of Jacob.
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy.")

- [163] "Blessed be ye to the heavens and to the earth, ye who descend to the Merkabha,
"If ye will say and will declare to My children what I do,
"In morning prayer and in noonday and in evening prayer
"And in each day and in each hour
"When Israel saith before me 'Holy.'
"Teach them, and say unto them,
"Lift up your eyes to the firmament over against your house of prayer
"At the time when you say before Me "Holy."
"For I have no pleasure in all My world which I have created
"Like in that time when your eyes are lifted up to Mine
"And Mine eyes are lifted up to yours,
"At the time you say before Me, 'Holy.'
"For the breath which goeth forth from your mouths at that time
"Moveth and riseth up before Me as a pleasant savor.
[164] "And bear witness to them, witness of what ye have seen,
"What I do to the feature of the face of Jacob your father
"Which is graven for Me upon the throne of My glory,
"For at the time when you say before Me, 'Holy,'
"I bow down upon it and clasp it
"And embrace it and kiss it
"And My hands rest upon its arms three times
"As against the three times that you say before Me, 'Holy.'"
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy.")

- [165] Who will not attribute majesty to the King majestic,
Who will not give praise to the King who is praised,
Who will not hallow the King who is hallowed?
For each day do powers and many wonders
Come to pass before Him, each surpassing and more strange than the other.
For from the breath of the eyelids of His chief servants,
Which moveth and goeth out from their mouths
When they make mention of that splendid name,
The name which entereth by the ears and goeth out by the mouth
And which is forgotten from the heart that is not fitted for it.
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy.")

- [166] For in that place where it be mentioned
It lighteneth and dawneth and gildeth and silvereth
And moveth topaz and onyx and sapphire,
Carbuncle and emerald and pure marble,
For wonderful and strange and great secret is it,
The name by which heaven and earth were created
And by which all the categories of creation
Were swallowed up and bound together and suspended and sealed.
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy.")

CHAPTER X:

- [167] Be proud, be proud ye lofty!
 Lift yourselves up, lift yourselves up ye splendid!
 Strengthen, strengthen yourselves, ye strong!
 Exalt, exalt yourselves, ye haughty!
 For to the King of the world and to all His servants,
 To them alone,
 [Belong] loftiness and strength, haughtiness and splendor.
 For it is fitting that the servants of His sublimity should exalt themselves,
 And it is proper that they who bear up His throne should make themselves strong.

{Shi'ur Qomah material begins}

For from the throne of His glory and upwards His height is one hundred and eighty thousands of myriads of parasangs, and from the throne of His glory and downwards there be one hundred and eighty thousands of myriads of parasangs. His stature is two hundred and thirty and six thousands of myriads of parasangs. From the ball of the right eye to the ball of the left eye there be thirty myriads of parasangs. The width of His right eye is three myriads of parasangs and three thousand of parasangs, and so for His left eye. And from His right arm to His left arm His width is seventy and seven myriads of parasangs, and His arms are folded upon His shoulders. His right arm – The Mover is its name, and the name of His left arm is The Follower (?) The palms of His hands are four thousands of myriads of parasangs, each one. The right palm – its name is Just, and of the left the name is Holy. Therefore He was called “God the great, the strong, and the fearful.” Said Metatron, “Thus far have I beheld the height of Jedidiah, the Master of the world. Peace.” [These revelations enable us to understand the verses in the Song of Songs 5.9 ff.] “What is thy beloved move than another beloved, O thou fairest among women?” etc. “My love is white and ruddy,” etc., all the section down to “daughters of Jerusalem.”

{Shi'ur Qomah material ends}

- [168] For how many of the mighty are they
 Who bear up the throne of the glory of this mighty King, Standing laden, day and night,
 Evening and morning and noon, in trembling and in terror,
 In fright, in shivering, in shaking and in fear!
 And how great strength is there in ye, ye servants of our God,
 That ye recall to Him and cause Him to hear
 The reminder of His name, in the height of the world!
 There is no searching out and no telling the sound and the strength.
 (As it is said, “Holy, holy, holy.”)
- [169] The ban of Heaven be upon ye, ye who descend to the Merkabha,
 If ye remember not and declare not what ye have heard
 And if ye bear not witness of what ye have seen on the faces,
 The faces of loftiness, the faces of strength,
 The faces of sublimity, the faces of splendor,
 Which lift themselves up, and maintain themselves on high, which crowd upward and make themselves great,
 The faces exalt and strengthen themselves
 Three times each day, on high,
 And the children of men know them not and recognize them not.
 (As it is said, “Holy, holy, holy.”)

CHAPTER XI:

[170] When the Angel of the Presence goeth in to arrange and to set in order the throne of His glory and to prepare a seat for the Mighty One of Jacob, a thousand diadems doth he bind upon the head of each one of the ophanim of majesty, and a thousand times doth he kneel and fall down and prostrate himself before each one of them. Two thousand diadems doth he bind upon the head of each one of the cherubim of glory, and two thousand times doth he kneel and fall down and prostrate himself before each one of them. [171] Three thousand diadems doth he bind upon the head of each one of the Holy Beasts, and three thousand times doth he kneel and fall down and prostrate himself before each one of them. Six thousand diadems doth he bind to [him who is called] Shining Light, to him and to eight thousand thousands of thousands of myriad myriads of myriads of diadems, and six thousand times doth he kneel and fall down and prostrate himself before each one of them. Twelve thousand diadems doth he bind upon [the angel of] lightning, upon him and upon sixteen thousand thousands and myriad myriads of myriads of diadems, twelve thousand times doth he kneel and fall down and prostrate himself before each one of them.

[172] I make a request of ye*

Hypostates, who bear the throne of His glory
With whole heart and with longing soul:
Increase jubilation and exultation and song and the making of music
Before the glorious throne of Totrosiai Nebhobh Medhath Za'an.
(And there be those who say Tesar Nadhibh Merath Za'an the Lord God of Israel.)
And let His heart rejoice at the time of the prayer of his children,
And He will permit Himself to be sought and to be found of them that descend to the Merkabha
At the time when they stand before the throne of His glory.

* Smith's indication of a lacuna here appears unnecessary. Kuyt has, "I ask of you, MDWT of the bearers of the throne of glory" (—The 'Descent' to the Chariot, page 176).

[173] Each day, when the dawn beginneth to appear,
The King majestic sitteth and blesseth the beasts”
“To ye, Beasts, do I speak,
“Ye, Creatures, do I cause to hear.
“O Beasts, who bear the throne of My glory
“With whole heart and with longing soul,
“May that hour be blest in which I created ye,
“May that planet be exalted under which I formed ye,
“May the light of that day
“In which ye occurred to the thoughts of My heart, shine.
“For ye are a precious vessel which I have prepared and have completed.
“Be silent before Me, all creatures which I have made,
“That I may listen and give ear to the voice of the prayer of My children.”

$$\{\dots\}$$

{A marginal note at this place reads: '(Something omitted / ית' = ית' ? So probably best left out / thrice below)'}

[178] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Happy are Israel! How much dearer are they in the sight of the Holy One, blessed be He, than are the ministering angels! For when the ministering angels wish to sing a song of heaven above, they first gather about the throne of glory, like mountains of fire and hills of flame, and the Holy One, blessed be He, saith unto them, "Be silent before Me each angel and each beast and each ophan and each seraph whom

I have created until I shall first have heard and have given ear unto the voice of the song of the praise of Israel My children.” For it is said [Job 38.7], “When the morning stars sang together,” these be Israel; “And all the sons of God shouted for joy,” these be the household of the angels. When is there glory in heaven, as it is written [Psalms 57.11], “Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens”? At the time when “thy glory [is over] all the earth,” etc. Thousands of myriads of ministering angels stand to the right of the throne, and over against them to the left of the throne, and between the surrounding rivers stand the princes, the great ones, they who stand in command of each troop and each host to the right of the throne and to the left of the throne, and who teach [them] to sing songs and to make music for the glory of the King of Kings of Kings, the Holy One, blessed be He.

[179] When it cometh the time of the angels to sing songs and to make music before the Holy One, blessed be He, the Lord, [then doth] the angel Shamiel, the great, honored and fearful prince stand above the windows of the lowest firmament to hear and to attend to the sound of the songs and the music and the praises which ascend from the earth, from the synagogues and from the schools, that he may cause them to be heard before the seventh heaven. And why doth he stand above the windows of the firmament? Because the ministering angels have not permission to sing a song [in heaven] above until Israel first open their mouths in song [on earth] below, as it is said, “Praise ye the Lord our God.” And all the ministering angels and all angels of each heaven, when they hear the voice of songs and praises which Israel saith [on earth] below, do commence [in heaven] above with “Holy, holy, holy.” [180] And why is the name of that prince called Shamiel? Because at each dawn he standeth and causeth the voice of songs and praises which ascend from earth, from synagogues and schools, to be heard before each firmament unto the seventh heaven and the holy beasts and ophanim and seraphim and cherubim of majesty. When they heareth [the voice of Israel] and causeth it to be heard in each firmament, straightway there descend troops upon troops, ranks upon ranks, companies upon companies, camps upon camps, divisions upon divisions of ministering angels from every firmament to the midst of rivers of fire and rivers of flame and rivers of burning and immerse themselves therein seven times and examine themselves in fire three hundred and sixty and five times.

[181] And have, then, the ministering angels flux and [are they liable to] impurity, that they need immersion? But these are those ministering angels who are set over the service of the world and who descend each day to make peace in the world. And when the time of song cometh they mount up to the firmament. And because of the odor of the children of men born of women, because they do have flux are [are liable to] impurity, [these angels] immerse themselves in fire and cleanse and make brilliant and separate and examine and strengthen and magnify and better themselves in fire until they make themselves holy and hallowed, clean and cleansed, and they return and are once more the angels of the seventh heaven.

[182] And thereafter do they call one to another and speak one to another and they ascend from the rivers of fire each with the permission of the other and they strengthen themselves and make themselves like unto light and unto lightning of the splendors of splendor. And thereafter they go up on a ladder of fire, each with the permission of the other, with laud, with praise, with psalm, with rejoicing, with exultation, until they come unto the soldiers of the seventh heaven, unto lightnings of brilliance, unto cherubim and ophanim, unto holy beasts, unto the wheels of the Merkabha, unto the majesties of the countenance, unto the winged beings, unto the throne which is high and lifted up. [183] Forthwith do they stand in fear and in trembling and in shaking and in holiness and in truth and in humility and cover their faces with their wings that they behold not the likeness of God who sitteth upon the Merkabha, and there stand troops upon troops of a thousand thousands of thousands and ranks upon ranks of a myriad myriads of myriads and camps upon camps uncountable and hosts upon hosts without number, like unto mountains upon mountains of fire, and like unto hills upon hills of flame, before the throne of glory. And then doth the Holy One, blessed be He, seat Himself upon the throne of glory, and His glory filleth the world, as it is said, “All the earth is full of His glory.”

[184] And moreover the holy beasts do strengthen and hallow and purify themselves more than these, and each beast has bound upon its head a thousand thousands of thousands of crowns of luminaries of diverse sort, and they are clothed in clothing of fire and wrapped in a covering of flame and cover their faces with lightning. And the Holy One, blessed be He, uncovereth His face.

[185] And wherefore do the holy beasts and the ophanim of magnificence and the cherubim of majesty hallow and purify and clothe and wrap and adorn themselves yet more? Because the Merkabha is upon their faces and the throne of glory upon their heads and the Shekhina over them and rivers of fire pass between them, accordingly do they strengthen themselves and make themselves splendid and purify themselves in fire seventy times and do all of them stand in cleanliness and holiness and sing songs and music, praise and rejoicing and applause, with one voice, with one utterance, with one mind and with one melody.

[186] And not only [do they purify themselves] but [nevertheless] there fall from them – that is, from the ministering angels – a thousand thousands and myriad myriads, fall to the river of fire and are burned. Wherefore? Because there may not be among them any who preceedeth or delayeth, who singeth more softly or loudly the song and the sanctus [which are sung] before the King of Kings of Kings. Accordingly any who preceedeth the rest or who delayeth [and singeth] after them in the song is at once burned.

[187] But among the holy beasts there is none that preceedeth or delayeth because their height is one and their breadth is one and their clothing is one and their strength is one and the crowns on their heads are one and their splendor is one. And the creatures are arranged at the four feet of the throne, one over against the other: One wheel over against another, one ophan over against another, one beast over against another, one cherub over against another and one melody over against another. And they open their mouths in song, in thanksgiving, in fear, in fright, in terror, in trembling, in shaking, in shivering, in cleanliness and in holiness and in a still, small voice, as it is said, “and after the tumult (sic) a still, small voice.”

[188] And they lift up the Merkabha with a sound of songs, with praise and with laud. Then do the holy hallow, the pure applaud, the messengers exalt, the wheels rejoice, the cherubim praise, the beasts bless, the seraphim give utterance, the troops magnify, the angels make music and they are divided into three groups of a thousand thousands and myriad of myriads. One group saith, “Holy, holy, holy,” and kneeleth and falleth prostrate; and the second group saith, “Holy, holy, holy,” and kneeleth and falleth prostrate; and the third group saith, “Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts, all the earth is full of His glory,” and it kneeleth and falleth prostrate. And the beasts from under the throne of glory answer after them and say, “Blessed be the glory of the Lord from His dwelling place.”

[189] Each day, when [the time of] the afternoon prayer arriveth,
The King majestic sitteth and praiseth the beasts,
But before He have finished speaking
The holy beasts come forth from beneath the throne of glory,
Their mouths full of exultation, their wings full of jubilation,
Clapping their hands, their feet dancing,
And they encircle and surround their King,
One on His right and one on His left
And one before Him and one behind Him.
And they embrace and kiss Him and uncover their faces,
(They uncover, and the King of glory covereth His face)
And the seventh heaven is broken like a sieve
Because of the effulgence of the splendor of the beauty of the dignity
Of the loveliness of the mercy of the desire of the brilliance
Of the glory of the praise of the appearance of their faces.
(As it is said, “Holy, holy, holy.”)

CHAPTER XII:

- [190] They who cancel decrees, who annul vows,
 Who avert wrath, who quiet jealousy,
 Who cause love to be remembered – the love of Abraham – before their King,
 When they behold Him, that He is angry against His children,
 What do they do?
 They beat upon their crowns and ungird their loins
 And strike their heads and fall upon their faces
 And say:
 “Release, release, O Maker of Creation!
 “Pardon, pardon, O mighty One of Jacob!
 “Atone, atone, O Holy One of Israel!
 “For loftiest of Kings art thou.
- [191] “King fearful, King terrific,
 “King beloved, King honored,
 “Why shouldst Thou be hostile against the seed of Abraham?
 “Why shouldst Thou be jealous against the seed of Isaac?
 “Why shouldst Thou be contentious against the seed of Jacob?
- [192] “For Thou hast called them the purchase of heaven and earth.”
- And horns come out from beneath the throne of His glory
 In many multitudes, and blow long and loud, and bless [saying]:
 “Blessed be ye who are advocates for My children, “Praised be ye who laud the Patriarchs”

And all the host on high rendered them glory and greatness, 'drw 'th t'n 'wry tzt the Lord God of Israel, which they were called.

[196] Behold it saith [I Chr. 29.2 ff.]: “Thine, Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty: for all that is in the heaven and in the earth [is Thine]; Thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and Thou art exalted as head above all. Both riches and honor come of Thee, and Thou rulest over all, and in Thine hand is power and might, and in Thine hand it is to make great and to give strength unto all. Now, therefore, our God, we thank Thee, and praise Thy glorious name.” And it saith, “How many are Thy works, O Lord, all of them hast Thou made with wisdom. The earth is full of Thy creatures.” Therefore be clothed with majesty, be exalted and be lifted up, O splendid King, be blessed and be praised and be hallowed, Totrosi'ai Lord God of Israel. (For He is called Totrosi'ai, Totrosyah, Totrosy'a, Totrosih, Totrosiel, Totrosig, Totrosikh, Totrosiph, Totrosiz, Totrosish, Totrosibh, Totrosin, Totrosis, Totrosi', Totrosik, Totrosith, Zurtag, Zoharariel, 'Ashrawwili'ai. And the right procedure in dealing with this paragraph with these great [magical] names is to read Totrosi'ai to Totrosith according to this order, Yod, He, Aleph, Heth, Lamed, Gimel, Kaph, Pe, Zade, etc. [These being the final letters of the names.]

CHAPTER XIII:

[198] Said Rabbi Ishmael: When Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah saw that the wicked city Rome had taken counsel against the mighty ones of Israel to destroy them, he straightway revealed the secret of the world, that which is seen of him who is worthy to gaze upon the King and His throne, in His glory and His beauty, and [upon] the holy beasts, upon the cherubim of the Power [of God], and upon the ophanim of the Shekinah, upon lightning terrific, upon chain-lightning terrible, when the lava-stream which encompasseth His throne, upon its bridges and upon conflagrations which increase in strength and rise up between one bridge and another, and upon dust of smoke and upon wind of splendour which raised all the dust of coals which was covering and hiding with the darkness of coals all the chambers of the palace of the seventh heaven. And Surya, Prince of the Presence, the servant of Totrakhiel the Lord, is great.

[199] To what can this scheme for those who descend to the Merkabha be likened? It is like unto a man who hath a ladder in his house, [and] who was going up and down on it and there is no creature that preventeth him. Whoever is clean and guiltless of idolatry and of sexual sins and of murder and of slander and vain oaths and of blasphemy and presumption and of groundless enmity and who keepeth every positive and negative commandment.

[200] Said Rabbi Ishmael: My master Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah said to me: Scion of nobles, fortunate is he (who is thus clean) and fortunate is his soul, for everyone who is clean and guiltless of these eight matters (which Totrakiel the Lord and His servant Surya the Prince of the Presence loathe) may go down and gaze

On the wonderful loftiness and strange lordship
Loftiness of exaltation and lordship of splendor,
Which come to pass before the throne of His glory
Three times each day, on high
From the day when the world was created and until now, for praise,
With which Totrakiel the Lord doth conduct himself on high.

CHAPTER XIV

[201] Said Rabbi Ishmael: When my ears heard this warning my strength grew feeble. I said to Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah my master, "If so there is no end to the matter. For you will find no man whose soul is yet in his body who is clean and guiltless of these eight matters." He said to me, "Scion of nobles, and if not – ? Arise and bring before me all the great ones of the company and all the mighty ones of the academy, and I shall declare before them the hidden, the concealed secrets, wonders of the ascent, and the weaving of the web upon which the perfection of the world and the excellence thereof doth stand, and the beauty of heaven and earth (wherein all the ends of the earth and the world and the ends of the firmaments of the height are bound, sewed and joined, hung and standing) and the path of the ladder to the height, of which one end is on earth and one end on the right foot of the throne of glory."

[202] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Straightway I arose and assembled all the Sanhedrin, great and small, to the third entrance which was in the house of the Lord. And he was sitting upon a chair of pure marble which Elisha my father gave me, for it was of the goods of her that bore me which she did bring to him in her dowry. [203] And there came Rabban Simon ben Gamliel and Rabbi Eliezer the Great and Rabbi Elazar ben Dama and Elazar ben Shammua and Jonathan ben Dahabhai and Haninah ben Hakkanai and Jonathan ben Uziel and Rabbi Akiba and Rabbi Judah ben Babba. We came and sat down before him. And all the multitude of companies were standing upon their feet, for they saw spiderwebs of fire and torches of light which made a separation between them and between us. And Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah sitteth and setteth in order before them all the teachings concerning the Merkabha, [the] descent and [the] ascent, how he descendeth who descendeth, and how he ascendeth who ascendeth.

[204] And whenever a man wished to descend to the Merkabha he would call to Surya the Prince of the Presence and conjure him one hundred and twelve times by Totrosi'ai the Lord (who is called Totrosi'ai Zurtak Totrakhiel Tophgar 'Ashrawwili'ai Zebhodi'el Zoharari'el Tandiel, and Shekhadhozi'ai Dehibhiron, and 'Andiriron the Lord God of Israel. And let him beware that he do not exceed an hundred and twelve times and do not diminish from them. And if he exceed or diminish his blood is upon his own head. Bit his mouth must utter [the words of conjuration] and the fingers of his hands must count one hundred and twelve and forthwith he may go down and rule in the [world of the] Merkabha.)

CHAPTER XV

[206] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Thus did Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah say to me: Totrosi'ai the Lord God of Israel of Hosts sitteth within seven palaces, one within another. And at the entrance to each palace are eight door-keepers, four to the right of the lintel and four to the left of the lintel. [207] These be the names of the door-keepers of the first palace: Lahabhiel, and Kashrael, Gahoriel, Zekhuthiel, Tophhiel, and Lahariel, Mathkiel, and Shuwael. And there be those who say, And Shubhael. [208] These be the names of the door-keepers of the second palace: Tagriel, and Mathpiel, Sarhiel, and 'Azpiel, Shaharariel, and Starel, Rig'iel, and Sahabiel. [209] And these be the names of the door-keepers of the third palace: Shebhuriel, and Rezuziel, and Shalmiel, Sabhlael, and Zahazhael, Hadarel, and Puriel, and Paltriel. [210] These be the names of the door-keepers of the fourth palace: Pahdiel, Gebhurthiel, Pozaziel, and Shekhinael, Shathkael, and 'Arbhiel, and Kapiel, and 'Anaphiel. [211] These be the names of the door-keepers of the fifth palace: Tehilael, and 'Azziel, Gatoel, Gathoel, and Sa'aphriel, Naraphiel, and Gariel, Hadiel. [212] And these be the names of the door-keepers of the sixth palace: Domiel, and Kazpiel, Gahaghiel, and 'Arasbarasbiel, 'Anromiel, and Parziel, and Magogael, and Tophrael.

[213] And at the door of the seventh palace stand angry all the heroes, warlike, strong, harsh, fearful, terrific, taller than mountains and sharper than peaks. Their bows are strung and stand before them; their swords are sharpened and in their hands. And lightnings flow and issue forth from the balls of their eyes, and spider-webs of fire from their nostrils and torches of fiery coals from their mouths. And they are equipped with helmets and with coats of mail, and javelins and spears are hung upon their thews.

CHAPTER XVI

[214] Their horses be heroes of darkness, horses of the shadow of death, horses of thick darkness, horses of fire, horses of blood, horses of hail, horses of iron, horses of fog. The horses upon which they ride stand beside mangers of fire full of coals of juniper and eat fiery coals from their mangers, [taking] a measure of forty bushel of coals in one mouthful. And the measure of the [content of the] mouth of such horse is [the content of] three mangers such as the mangers of Caesaraea, and the measure of each manger is the measure of the gate of Caesaraea. [215] And there be rivers of fire beside their mangers, and each of their horses drinks as the measure of the fullness of the watercourse which is in the valley of Kidron, which bringeth and containeth all the rainwater of all Jerusalem. And in that place was a cloud above their heads, showering blood above their heads and [above the heads] of their horses. And this is the sign and the measure of the horses of the entrance of the seventh palace and a horse of the entrance of each palace.

[216] And all those who descend to the Merkabha ascend and are not harmed, but they behold all this trouble and descend safely and come to stand and bear witness and tell the fearful and terrific vision. (Whereas, in the palaces of kings who are flesh and blood, matters are otherwise. [Neither are such visions seen, nor do visitors get safely out.]) And they bless and praise and applaud and glorify and exalt and magnify and attribute honor and beauty and greatness to Totrosi'ai the Lord God of Israel who rejoiced in those who descend to the Merkabha and who sat and looked for each one of Israel, to know when he would descend and behold

The wonderful loftiness and strange lordship,
Loftiness of exaltation and lordship of splendor,
Which come to pass before the throne of His glory
Three times each day, on high,
From the time when the world was created
And until now, for praise.

[217] King just, King faithful, King beloved, King lovely, King supporting King lowly, King humble, King righteous, King pious, King holy, King pure, King blessed, King lofty, King mighty, King gracious, King merciful, King of Kings of Kings and Lord of the Crowns.

[218] Totrosi'ai the Lord God of Israel desireth and awaiteth –
In such measure as He awaiteth for the redemption and for the season of salvation
Which is laid up for Israel for a day of vengeance
After the destruction of the last temple –
When shall he that descendeth to the Merkabha descend?
When shall he see the loftiness of the height?
When shall he see the end which bringeth salvation?
When shall he hear the end which is wrought by wonders?
When shall he see that which eye hath not seen?
When shall he ascend and tell to the seed of Abraham who loved Him?

CHAPTER XVII

[219] Said Rabbi Ishmael: When thou comest and standest at the entrance of the first palace take two seals in thy hands, one that of Totrosi'ai the Lord and one that of Surya the Prince of the Presence. Show that of Totrosi'ai the Lord to those standing to the right, and show that of Surya the Prince of the Presence to those standing on the left. Straightway Dahabhiel the Prince who is head of the entrance of the first palace and is appointed over the first palace and standeth to the right of the lintel, and Tophahiel the Prince who standeth to the left of the lintel with him, – straightway they seize thee, one from thy right and one from thy left until they bring thee and hand thee over to Taghriel and Mathpiel and make thy peace with them and warn them concerning thee. Now Taghriel is the prince who is head of the entrance of the second palace and standeth to the right of the lintel, and Mathpiel is the prince who standeth to the left of the lintel with him. [220] And show them two seals, one of 'Adhriwaron the Lord and one of 'Uzhiy'a the Prince of the Presence. Show that of 'Adhriwaron the Lord to those standing to the right, and show that of 'Uzhiy'a the Prince of the Presence to those standing to the left. Straightway they seize thee, one from thy right and one from thy left, until they bring thee and hand thee over to Shebhoriel and Reziziel and make thy peace with them and warn them concerning thee. Now Shebhoriel is the prince who is head of the entrance of the third palace and standeth to the right of the lintel, and Reziziel is the prince who standeth to the left of the lintel with him. Show them two seals, one of Zurtak the Lord to those standing to the right, and show that of Dehabhyoron the Prince of the Presence to those standing to the left. Straightway they seize thee, one from thy right and one from thy left, and these bring thee – two princes before and two princes behinds the – and hand thee over to Pahdiel and Gebhortiel and make thy peace with them and warn them concerning thee. Now Pahdiel is the prince who is head of the entrance of the fourth palace and standeth to the right of the lintel, and Gebhortiel is the prince who standeth to the left of the lintel with him. And show them two seals, one of Zebhoriel the Lord and one of Margiwiel the Prince of the Presence. Show that of Zebhoriel the Lord to those standing to the right, and show that of Margiwiel the Prince of the Presence to those standing to the left. Straightway they seize thee, one from thy right and one from thy left, until they bring thee and hand thee over to Tehilael and 'Azriel and make thy peace with them and warn them concerning thee. Now Tehilael is the prince who is head of the entrance of the fifth palace and standeth to the right of the lintel, and 'Azriel is the prince who standeth to the left of the lintel with him. And show them two seals, one of Totrakhriel the Lord and one of Zehaphtariai the Prince of the Presence. Show that of Totrakhriel to those standing to the right, and show that of Zehaphtariai to those standing to the left. Straightway they seize thee and bring thee – three princes before thee and three princes behind thee and two princes at thy sides, [224] because the door-keepers of the sixth palace would destroy all those who “do and do not” descend to the Merkabha because they act without permission. And [the superior powers] did give the door-keepers orders and beat them and burn them and set others in their place. And also the others who replace them behave in the same fashion, for they do not fear, nor do they consider, saying: “Why should we be burned and what pleasure is it to us that we should destroy [all] those that do and do not descend to the Merkabha because they act without permission?” And this is still the behaviour of the door-keepers of the sixth palace.

CHAPTER XVIII:

[225] Said Rabbi Ishmael: All the companions said to me: “Scion of nobles, thou who rulest by the light of the Law as doth Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah, see him and bring him back that he sit with us, leaving the vision which he glimpseth in the vision of the Merkabha, and that he tell us who is he who doth and doth not descend to the Merkabha – he whom the door-keepers of the sixth palace would attack, for they would not touch at all those who [really] descend to the Merkabha. What is the difference between those [who would not be attacked] and those [who would]?”

[226] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Thereupon I took a piece of woolen cloth and gave it to Rabbi Akiba, and Rabbi Akiba gave it to a servant of ours, saying, “Go and lay this cloth beside a woman who immersed herself and yet did not become pure, and let her immerse [herself a second time]. For if that woman will come and will declare the measure of her menstrual flow before the company, it is known that one forbids [her to her husband] and the majority permit. Say to that woman, ‘Touch this cloth with the end of the middle finger of thy hand, and press not the end of thy finger upon it, but [only] as a man [presseth] who taketh a hair, which hath fallen therein, from out his eye-ball, pushing it very gently.’” [227] They went and did so, and placed the cloth before Rabbi Ishmael. He [picked it up by] thrusting into it a bough of myrrh full of oil of spikenard which was laid up in clean balsam and they placed it upon the knees of Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah and therewith caused him to be dismissed from before the throne of glory where he had been sitting and beholding

Wonderful loftiness and strange lordship
Loftiness of exaltation and lordship of splendor,
Which come to pass before the throne of His glory
Three times each day, on high,
From the time when the world was created
And until now, for praise.

[228] And we besought of him [to know] who is he who “doth and doth not” descend to the Merkabha. He said unto us, “These be the men whom those who [really] descend to the Merkabha do take and cause to stand above them or to sit before them and do say unto them, ‘Behold and see and give ear and write down all that which we say and all that which you hear from before the throne of glory.’ And if those men be not fit for this task, then would the door-keepers of the sixth palace attack them. And take care that ye choose for yourselves fit men and these from the tested companions.”

[229] When thou comest and standest at the entrance of the sixth palace, display three seals of the door-keepers of the sixth palace. Display two seals to Kazpiel the Prince, whose sword is drawn in his hand, and there issue forth from it lightnings, and he shaketh it against everyone who is not fit to behold the King and his throne, and there is no creature who may stay his hand. And his sword crieth and saith: “Pain!” And he standeth by the lintel of the [entrance on the] right. And one seal show Dumiel. [230] And is Dumiel indeed his name And is not ’byrghydrhym (i.e. Air Earth Water Fire) his name? And why was his name called Dumiel? Said Rabbi Ishmael: Thus said Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah: “Each day doth a voice go forth from the seventh heaven and proclaimeth and saith in the heavenly court of justice (saying as follows): ’t ‘ws wbrmnzh / wpwr g ‘st _____ the Lord God of Israel called him Dumiel according to His Own Name, [saying]: ‘Just as I see and hold my peace so doth Dumiel [viz: The silence of God].’” His authority [extendeth over] the right lintel, but Kazpiel the Prince driveth him away, yet he cherisheth against him neither enmity nor hatred nor jealousy nor contention, but each [doteth] for His honor.

CHAPTER XIX:

[232] Zoharriel and Pa'ali Pa'ali: Show something of these two seals to Kazpiel, and show Beronyah to Dumiel the Prince, a just and humble prince. And at once would Kazpiel the Prince string his bow and draw his sword and bring thee a whirlwind and seat thee in a chariot of brilliance and trumpet before thee as eight thousands of myriads of horns and three thousands of myriads of rams' horns and four thousands of myriads of bugles. And Dumiel the Prince seizeth a gift and walketh before thee. And what gift? Said Rabbi Ishmael: Thus said Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah my master: "This gift which Dumiel the Prince would seize [and carry] before the chariot of that man who doth deserve by reason of his righteousness to descend to the Merkabha is not a gift of silver and not a gift of gold, but it is that they grant him the privilege that he should not be questioned, not in the first palace and not in the second palace and not in the third palace and not in the fourth palace and not the in the fifth palace and not in the sixth palace and not in the seventh palace, but he showeth them his seal and they leave him [in peace] and he entereth."

[233] And in the entrance of the sixth palace Dumiel the Prince guardeth the sill of the right [side] of the entrance of the sixth palace, sitting on a chair [wrought] of a pure gem which [hath] in it the splendour of the luminaries of the firmament such as [they were at] the creation of the world. (Fortunate Day. Best of luck. Show the sign. Peace. The Lord God of Israel) And Dumiel the Prince receiveth him kindly and seateth him upon a chair wrought of a pure gem, and himself sitteth beside him at his right.

CHAPTER XX:

[234] And Dumiel would say to him: "I bear witness and warn thee concerning two things: That none of those who descend to the Merkabha succeed to descend except only he who hath these two qualifications: He who hath read the Bible and studieth mishna, midrash, halakhoth and agadoth, and the explanation of halakhoth as to what is forbidden and permitted; and he who hath fulfilled all that which is written in the law and keepeth all warnings of statutes and of judgments and of laws which were declared to Moses on Sinai." [235] If he said to Dumiel the Prince, "I have one of these two qualifications," Dumiel the Prince would at once get in connection with Gabhriel the Secretary and write his the paper with red paint and would hang the paper upon the chariot of that same man, saying: "Thus and so is the knowledge of such a one in the Torah, thus and so are his actions, and he desireth to enter in before the throne of His glory." [237] And when the door-keepers of the seventh palace would see that Dumiel and Kazpiel and Gabhriel, were before the chariot of that man who deservingly descendeth to the Merkabha, they [would] cover their faces, which had been angry, and they [would] at once unstring the strung bows, and return the drawn swords to their sheaths. And nevertheless it is necessary to show them a great seal and a fearful crown: God of heaven, Master of earth the Lord God of Israel. And they would enter in before the throne of His glory and bring out before that man all sorts of [instruments for] music and song, and they would come making music before him until they bring him up and seat him beside the cherubim, beside the ophanim, beside the holy beasts. And he beholdeth wonders and powers, loftiness and greatness, holiness and purity, fear, humility and justice. Then said Rabbi Ishmael: "All the companions made a parable of this scheme [for those who descend to the Merkhaba: It is like] unto a man who hath a ladder in his house, [and] who was going up and down on it, and there is no creature that preventeth him." Blessed be thou, O Lord, who art wise in secrets and master of hidden things. Amen. Amen.

CHAPTER XXI:

[238] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Rabban Simon ben Gamliel was angry with me. He said to me, "Almost had Zahaphtariai rebuked us and shucked {us} as husks of corn. Why didst thou, by criminal carelessness, sin against us? Dost thou, perhaps, think that Jonathan ben Uzziel is a man of small account in Israel? If he simply descended and came and stood at the entrance of the seventh palace without any seal, what would happen to him? He could not blink an eye before the door-keepers of the seventh palace had utterly exterminated him. [And yet you have said nothing about the necessary seals nor the names of the angels to whom they must be shown.] [239] Said Rabbi Ishmael: I went and was angry with Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah my master, saying, "The patriarch is angry with me, why do I live?" He said to me, "Scion of nobles, if [you ask for an answer] on this point [then tell me,] what is my distinction among you? I put in your mouths the prophets, the writings, mishna and midrash, halakhoth and agadoth, and the explanation of halakhoth as to what is forbidden and permitted. Were it not for the mysteries of the law [in which] I have initiated some of you, would ye have come and appeared before me at all? I know why thou hast come. Thou hast only come because of the door-keepers of the seventh palace. [240] Go and say to the Patriarch: 'As for all the door-keepers of the [first] six palaces, it is permitted to mention the names of each one of them and to touch them; but as for the door-keepers of the seventh palace, by the sound of their names is a man terrified and is not able to touch them, inasmuch as the name of them is called according to the name of the King of the world. Consequently I have not stated them. But now – since you say to me, "State them." – come ye and stand upon your feet and, each one of you, when His name goeth forth from my mouth, kneel and fall upon your face.'" Forthwith came all the great ones of the company and all the mighty ones of the academy and stood upon their feet before Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah and he speaketh and they fall upon their faces and the scribes write.

CHAPTER XXII:

[242] These be the names of the door-keepers of the seventh palace: Zahaphtari'ai the Lord, a prince honored and beloved; 'Abhirahi'ai the Lord, a prince honored and beloved and fearful; 'Atrighael the Lord, a prince honored and beloved and fearful and terrifying; Barnael the Lord, a prince honored and beloved and fearful and terrifying and dear; Noraphneel the Lord, a prince honored and beloved and fearful and terrifying and dear and splendid; Na'aroriel the Lord, a prince honored and beloved and fearful and terrifying and dear and splendid and strong; Sastitiel the Lord, a prince honored and beloved and fearful and terrifying and dear and splendid and strong and mighty; 'Anaphiel the Lord, a prince honored and beloved and fearful and terrifying and dear and splendid and strong and mighty and powerful and just and gallant, a prince whose name is mentioned on high before the throne of His glory three times each day from the day when the world was created and until now, for praise. Why? Because the ring of the seal of heaven and earth is given over to his hand. [243] And whenever they see him all those on high kneel and fall down and prostrate themselves before him, a thing which is not done in the height [before any other prince]. If you say, 'They do not fall down before the Prince of the Presence' [This is true] for those who stand before the throne of His glory, who do not prostrate themselves before the Prince of the Presence, but before 'Anaphiel the Prince [even] so with the permission and according to the will of 'ntrws rbyhg. Some say pwmyl smh brz', the Lord God of Israel.

[244] These be the names of the door-keepers of the seventh palace of the descent, for those whose names I have just stated were of the ascent. Noraphiel the Lord, a prince honored and beloved and fearful, who was called 'Abhirzahi'ai the Lord; Dalkokiel the Lord, a prince honored and beloved and fearful, who was called Lebhakhiel the Lord; Yekariel the Lord, a prince honored and beloved and fearful, who was called 'Atrighiel the Lord; Yeshishiel the Lord, a prince honored and beloved and fearful, who was called Ben'an'ael the Lord; Teraphiel the Lord, who was called Shakdihiel the Lord; Na'aroriel the Lord, a prince honored and beloved, who was called Zohaliel the Lord; 'Anaphiel the Lord, a prince honored and beloved and fearful and terrifying and dear and splendid and strong and mighty and powerful and just and gallant, who was called Tophriel the Lord. [245] And why was his name called 'Anaphiel? Because of the ramification 'anaph of the crowns [which were] placed upon his head, for he overcast and covered all of the chambers of the seventh heaven as did the Maker of Creation. Just as, concerning the Maker of Creation it is written [Hab. 3.3]: "His glory covered the heavens," so also [does the glory (of)] 'Anaphiel the Prince as a servant who is called by his master's name. And why is he more lovely and beloved than all the [other] door-keepers of the palaces? Because he openeth the doors of the entrance of the seventh palace and closeth them before the throne of glory which is set high and standeth opposite the entrance of the seventh palace. And the holy beasts are opposite the entrance of the seventh palace, and the cherubim and the ophanim are opposite the entrance of the seventh palace, and there be 256 faces in each of the holy beasts opposite the entrance of the seventh palace. [246] Still greater it is that there be 512 eyes in [each of] the four beasts opposite the entrance of the seventh palace. Their faces are of the likeness of the face of a man, faces of 16 faces each are there in each beast opposite the entrance of the seventh palace.

CHAPTER XXIII:

[247] And whenever a man desired to descend to the Merkabha, 'Anaphiel would open for him the doors of the entrance of the seventh palace and that man would go in and stand on the door-sill of the entrance of the seventh palace and the holy beasts would lift up upon him 512 eyes and each one of the eyes of the holy beasts is pierced as a sieve of withes, and the appearance of their eyes [is described in Nahum 2.4]: "they run like lightnings." And these are in addition to the eyes of the cherubim of the Power [of God] and the ophanim of the Shekinah, which are like torches of fire and conflagrations of coals of juniper. [248] And that man would sway and tremble and start backward and be frightened and be terrified, faint and fall backward. And 'Anaphiel the Prince would support him, he and sixty and three door-keepers of the entrances of the seven palaces. And all of them would help him and say to him:

"Fear not, son of a seed beloved,

"Enter and see the King in His beauty,

"And thou shalt not be destroyed and thou shalt not be burned.

[249] "A just King is He, a faithful King is He, a submissive King is He, a humble King is He, a righteous King is He, a pious King is He, a holy King is He, a pure King is He, a blessed King is He, a lofty King is He, a mighty King is He, a gracious King is He, a merciful King is He, a lowly King [is He] – blessed be He." [250] And they attribute to Him power. Forthwith a horn soundeth from above the firmament and cherubim and ophanim turn away their faces and he goeth in and standeth before the throne of His glory.

CHAPTER XXIV:

[251] When he standeth before the throne of glory he beginneth and reciteth a song which the throne of glory singeth each day: "Laud, song, and music, blessing, praise and celebration and applause and thanks and thanksgivings, victory and melody, speech and jubilation, rejoicing and joy and gladness, exultations, accord, humility, brilliance, propriety, truth, righteousness and justice, treasure, ornament and might, delight and ecstasy and elevation, calm and rest and consolation, contentment and quiet and peace, tranquility, security and prosperity, love, loveliness, grace and mercy and pulchritude, renown, acclaim and pity, splendor, glory, innocence, effulgence, appearance, adornment, brilliance, fire, ramification, sublimity, wonders and salvation, perfume, salt, light, loftiness, help, violence, potency, height, preciousness, mightiness, lordship, fortitude, elevation, exaltation and brightness, kingliness, power and force, holiness, purity and cleanliness, pride, greatness and kingship, magnificence and majesty, honour, and beauty to Zoharariel the Lord God of Israel."

[252] Spendid King, He robed with splendour,
Made majestic with embroideries of song,
Crowned with magnificence and majesty,
A crown of loftiness and a diadem of fearfulness.
For His name is agreeable to Him, and His title is sweet to Him,
And His throne is splendid to Him and His palace is magnificent
And His glory is delightful to Him, and His majesty is becoming to Him,
And His strength is pleasant to Him and His servants sing pleasantly to Him,
And Israel tell to Him the kingliness of His wonders.

- [253] King of Kings, God of Gods, and Lord of Lords
He surrounded with chains of crowns, encompassed
 with the ramifications of the rulers of brilliance,
He who covereth the heavens with the ramification of His magnificence, and who, in His majesty, appeared from the heights,
From His beauty the deeps were enkindled,
 and from His stature did the clouds shower rain.
His stature sendeth out the lofty,
 and His crown blazeth out the mighty,
 and His garment floweth with the precious.
And all trees shall rejoice in His word,
 and herbs shall exult in His rejoicing,
And His words shall liquefy as perfumes,
 flowing and sent forth in flames of fire, Giving joy to those who search these,
 and quiet to those who fulfill them.
- [254] King beloved and lovely and clean,
Exalted beyond all the haughty,
Haughty, clothed in majesty beyond the majestic,
Majestic, lifted up beyond the mighty,
Mighty, upraised beyond the powerful.
Splendor of kings, praise of nobles,
Treasure of the holy, humility of the lowly, Pleasant in the mouth of all those that call upon Him, Sweet to them that hope in His name,
Righteous in all His ways, upright in all His doings Just in counsel and in knowledge, clear in understanding and
 in practice,
Judge of every soul, witness of every transaction, judge of every word, Mighty in wisdom and in every secret, lofty in purity and in holiness.
- [255] King true and only, King who liveth forever,
King who killeth and maketh alive, King who sayeth and doeth,
King who formeth every disease, and createth every cure,
King who maketh every blessing, and establish every good,
King who feedeth all his works, and supporteth all his creatures, King who is high to each of the lowly, and who is strong to each of good courage.

CHAPTER XXV:

King high and lifted up, sublime and wonderful,
Beloved and old, upright and faithful,
Precious and honored, strong and stout-hearted,
Righteous and true, holy and pure,
Pious, great and mighty,
Strong, powerful, precious, fearful and terrific,
High-placed upon perfections of loftiness,

Established upon the adornments of splendour
In the chambers of the palace of loftiness.
Who seest profundities, beholdest mysteries, observest dark matters,
And who, in every place is
And there is no changing His purpose, nor retorting to His word, nor delaying His will
And there is no place to flee from Him, and no secret place to hide from before Him.

[256] Reign forever, King merciful and gracious, Pardoner and forgiver, who rolleth away and taketh away [sin],
Let Thy majesty be declared in every song, Thy splendor in every chant.
Be high above the palaces of loftiness, be lifted up above the adornments of splendor,
Be exalted above all Thy doings, be praised above all created things, Be honored above the throne of Thy glory, be precious above the vessel of Thy loveliness,
Be blessed with all blessings, be praised with all praises,
Be lauded with all laud, be applauded with all songs,
Be magnified forever, be holy world without end, Totrosi'ai the Lord.

[257] King of all worlds, Lord of all actions,
Wise in all secrets, ruler in all generations,
One God who art from eternity,
Unique King who art forever and ever. Selah.

[258] And I beheld something like unto the appearance of lightning which was fixed and stationary and was divided, among those who descend to the Merkabha, between those who were fit to descend to the Merkabha and those who were not fit to descend to the Merkabha. If a man were fit to descend to the Merkabha, when they say to him "Enter" and he doth not enter, they repeat themselves and say to him "Enter," and he at once entereth. They would then praise him, saying, "Surely this is on of those who descend to the Merkabha." But if a man be not fit to descend to the Merkabha, when they say to him "Enter" and he entereth, they at once place upon him a thousand pieces of iron, [259] because the door-keepers of the sixth palace place upon him a thousand thousands of waves of water, and there is not in that place even a single drop. And if he said, "What is the nature of this water?" they at once run after him, stoning him, and saying to him, "Wretch, are thou not of the seed of them that kissed the [golden] calf, and art unfit to see the King and His throne in his bea{u}ty." And if he be such, a voice goeth forth from the seventh heaven saying, "well have ye said [that] he is from the seed of them that kissed the [golden] calf and is not fit to see the King and His throne." He does not move from the spot before they place on him a thousand thousands of pieces of iron.

[260] Who is like unto Thee Totrosi'ai Lord God of Israel, who doest mightily, To Thee Totrosi'ai Lord God of Israel, shall the throne of Thy glory
sing praise,
To Thee shall be attributed loftiness and greatness, strength and beauty, Thou shalt be called strong, Thou, mighty; for Thee shall they make new [song] for Thee exult.
With Thee shall converse be held, Thou shalt be blessed, Thou praised,
Thou exalted.
To Thee shall splendor be attributed, Thou shalt be lifted up, Thou magnified, Thou called majestic.

Thou shalt be praised, Thou applauded, Thou sanctified,
For Thee, Totrosi'ai Lord God of Israel, shall Thy servants weave diadems
And shall sing unto Thee a new song
And shall declare The King forever and ever.
All things are Thy kingdom, and over all things is Thy kingdom,
And Thou shalt be called One, world without end, Totrosi'ai, Lord God of Israel.
Blessed be Thou O Lord, King of all secrets and Lord of all hidden things.

{...}

CHAPTER XXVI:

- [269] Thou workest wonders, dost bring to pass new things, Renewest Thy creatures each day,
Servants [created] from fire to lift up praise of Thy mystery,
O Sacred One. Who shinest in the midst of myriads of fire,
Who loathest hatred and jealousy,
Who despiseth enmity and contention,
Who settest anger afar, who turnest away wrath,
Who multiplieth all grace and goodness,'
The cherubim of Thy glory are fire.
[O Thou] who art exalted upon cherubim of fire, Prince over princes, Seraphim, seraphim of flame do stand about Thy throne, Hither and other sound forth: "Make way for Him who rideth the heavens."
- [270] Blessing, praise and laud, song, thanks and thanksgivings, Splendor and whispering, applause, humility and mercy
To the lofty, to the powerful, to the brave,
To the elect, to the chosen, to the choosing,
To the mighty, to the haughty, to the high.
In their mouths music, on their tongues exultation,
They slumber not, neither night nor day,
But music and laud are as blazing light.
- [271] Thou art the great Lord
The mighty and fearful, the righteous and pious,
The holy and the faithful, slow to anger and plenteous in mercy and truth.
It is Thou who art Lord, O God of Gods and Lord of Lords,
It is Thou who art Great, Thee do all the great magnify,
It is Thou who art Mighty, Thee do all the mighty declare strong,
It is Thou who art Fearful, Thee do all the singers celebrate,
It is Thou who art Righteous, Thee do all the righteous justify,
It is Thou who art Pious, Thee do all the pious expect,
It is Thou who art Holy, Thee do all the holy hallow,
It is Thou who art Faithful, Thee do all the faithful believe.

- [272] It is Thou who hast revealed thy secret to Moses
And who hast not concealed from him any of Thy mighty works.
When the words goeth not forth from Thy mouth
All the lofty mountains trembled
And stood before Thee in great consternation;
When the word goeth forth from Thy mouth
They were all of them burned with flames of fire.
It is Thou who examinest the inward parts and choosest the faithful
Thou dwellest in the flame of rivers of fire and conflagrations.
It is Thou who art mighty, more lofty than all the lofty and lifted up above all,
Who dost cast down the haughty and exaltest the humble.
- [273] The most lofty of creation is man,
 The likeness of a man hast Thou fixed in Thy throne:
 They have the face of a man, and the hands of a man are under their wings,
 They run as a man, they toil as a man,
 They kneel down and prostrate themselves in song as a man doth,
 And the fear of Thee, O King, is upon them.
The most lofty of cattle is the ox.
 The likeness of an ox hast Thou fixed in Thy throne:
 They run as an ox, they toil as an ox,
 They stand in the places as an ox,
 And the fear of Thee, O Holy One, is upon them.
The most lofty of wild beasts is the lion.
 The likeness of a lion hast Thou fixed in Thy throne:
 They roar as a lion, they are feared as a lion,
 The thew of their strength is as that of a lion,
 And the fear of Thee, O terrible One, is upon them.
The most lofty of birds is the eagle.
 The likeness of an eagle hast Thou fixed in Thy throne:
 They move as an eagle, they are swift as an eagle,
 They fly as an eagle, they soar as an eagle,
 And the fear of Thee, O Pure One, is upon them.
And all of them do triply declare Thy sanctitude with the triple sanctus.
 (As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy.")
- [274] Be honoured, be made majestic, be raised, be lifted up,
Be made splendid, be blessed, be praised, be magnified,
Be hallowed, be exalted, be lauded, be applauded,
For such is the duty of all creatures:
To honour Thee, to own Thy majesty, to raise Thee, to lift Thee up,
To show forth Thy splendour, to bless Thee, to praise Thee, to magnify Thee,
To hallow Thee, to exalt Thee, to laud Thee, to applaud Thee,
The great and holy King, who rulest
Over the highest and over the lowest,
Over the first and over the last,
Which, from the midst of trembling and quaking,
Do triply declare Thy sanctitude with triple sanctus.
 (As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy.")

[275]	Assembly and applause are His who liveth forever, Beauty and bliss are His who liveth forever, Compassion and caresses{?} are His who liveth forever, Doctrine and deed are His who liveth forever, Eternity and end are His who liveth forever, Fervour and faith are His who liveth forever, Glory and grace are His who liveth forever, Humility and holiness are His who liveth forever, Innocence and insight are His who liveth forever, Justice and jubilation are His who liveth forever, Kingdom and knowledge are His who liveth forever, Loveliness and laud are His who liveth forever, Majesty and mercy are His who liveth forever, Nobility and name are His who liveth forever, Obedience and observance are His who liveth forever, Purity and power are His who liveth forever, Righteousness and reason are His who liveth forever, Strength and salvation are His who liveth forever, Trust and truth are His who liveth forever, Understanding and utterance are His who liveth forever, Victory and vengeance are His who liveth forever, Wonder and wisdom are His who liveth forever, Excellence and exultation are His who liveth forever, Years and youth are His who liveth forever, Zest and zeal are His who liveth forever.*	[honour faith understanding blessing greatness might knowledge utterance magnificence majesty assembly trustworthiness brilliance effulgence grace mercy purity goodness preciousness salvation crown glory doctrine encouragement kingdom power beauty victory secret intelligence strength humility jubilation righteousness applause holiness splendour wonder song praise laud loveliness]
-------	---	---

* This list of words is similar to those used in Scholem's translation (shown on the right) of the same hymn in Major Trends in Jewish Mysticism, pages 58-9, which represent a truer translation of the terms in the text. In the left column, Smith imitates the text's alphabetical device, even shifting from 22 to 26 letters, instead of directly translating.

[276] Who is able to state one from a thousand thousands of thousands
And a myriad myriads of myriads of Thy mighty deeds, O King of Kings of Kings, Before whom the beasts are stationed and stand [speaking] with a still small voice –
They are fire, their palate is fire, their movement is fire, their speech is fire,
Yet are they afraid because of fire,
Lest they be burned in flames of fire,
It is Thou whom they encompass, it is Thou whom they surround,
With Thee are they hidden, in Thy bosom do they give utterance,
In secret and intelligence, girded with strength, clothed with magnificence.
The eye may not travel to where Thou dwellest,
King great and holy, ruler
Over the highest and over the lowest,
Over the first and over the last.
There is none among the highest, nor among the lowest,
Nor among the first, nor among the last,
Who can know Thy works
And search out all Thy wonders.

[277] Just as none is able to imagine ab, bc, cd, de, ef, fg, gh, hi, ij. Metatron whose name is called according to eight names, his name is Margawiel, his name is Gayothiel, his name is Ziwathiel, his name is 'Izihiel, his name is Yahawiel, his name is Mayoel, his name is Segansagiel, his name is Segansayriyah. And from the love with which they love him on high, they call him in the camps of the holy ones, Metatron, Servant of the Lord, slow to anger and plenteous in mercy. Blessed be thou O Lord, wise in secrets and Lord of hidden things, Amen, Amen, Selah.

CHAPTER XXVII:

{Sar Torah material: CHAPTERS XXVII TO XXX}

[278] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Three years did Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah behold me in affliction and in great sorrow and in great danger: That portion of the Bible which I would read one day, would I forget the next, and that mishna which I would study one day, the next day would I forget. What did I do? When I saw that the Law did not remain in me, I laid hold upon myself and denied myself food and drink and washing and anointment, and deprived myself of conjugal intercourse, and I neither exulted nor rejoiced, nor did any music nor song go forth from my mouth. [279] Thereupon did Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah, my master, take me from my father's house and bring me into the chamber of the Temple in which the Sanhedrin met and cause me to swear by a great seal and by a great oath which appertaineth to Zebhoriel the Lord God of Israel who is Metatron the Lord God of Israel, God of the heavens and God of the earth, God of Gods, God of the sea and God of the land. And he revealed the secret of the Law, which was in his possession. And at once my heart was {as} enlightened as the gates of the East and mine eyes beheld the depths and the ways of the Law and thenceforth I forgot nothing. All things which mine ears heard from the mouth of my master and from the mouth of scripture and from the ways of the Law which I had truly practiced, thenceforth I forgot none of them.

[280] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Had I done nothing in the Law, yet would this method which I have fixed in Israel be more than sufficient for me, as against all the Law, [since I have revealed it] in order that men may increase their knowledge of the Law without weariness.

[281] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Rabbi Akiba did indeed say in the name of Rabbi Eliezer the Great: From the day when the Law was given to Israel until the last temple was built, the Law was given, its majesty was not given, and its preciousness, its glory and its greatness and its beauty, its terror, its reverence and its fear, its richness and its loftiness and its exaltation, its trembling and its splendour, its strength, its rule and its might were not given, until the last temple was built and the Shekinah did not dwell in it. [282] Thereupon Israel began to pour forth complaint before their Father who is in heaven, saying: "Thou hast laid many troublesome tasks upon us. Which shall we hold to and which shall we abandon? Thou hast thrown upon us great labour and great burden; Thou hast said to us, 'Build Me a house, and although ye build, yet study the Law.'" This is the plea of His children. [283] And this is the answer of their Father who is in heaven. Ye had a long rest between captivities, and I longed [saying], 'When shall I hear the sound of the words of My Law from your mouths?' Ye have not done well, and I have not done well. Ye have not done well in that ye have differed from Me, and I was angry against you and arose and brought utter destruction on My city and My house and My children. And I did not do well in that I arose against you and sealed a decree of judgment against you. Indeed, shall that which endureth forever and ever, world without end, contend with that which hath no endurance but for a year, or two, or ten, or thirty, and if at most for an hundred years, and then passeth away? But in that ye have rebuked Me, ye did well. Already have I accepted your rebuke.

[284] "For the sigh of Israel is sweet to Me, and the desire for the Law hath covered Me,
"Your words have found grace in My ears, and I accept the sayings of your mouths.
"Ye have labored in the house of My choice, and the Law shall not move from your mouths,

- [285] “For I am master of wonders, the transcendent Lord, I am He.
“Mighty works come to pass before Me, miracles and marvels before My throne.
“Who hath come before Me and I have not fulfilled his [prayer]?
 Who hath called upon Me and I have not straightway answered him?
“State before Me all your requests, and multiply upon Me the desire of your hearts.
- [286] “My storehouses and My treasures, – nothing in them is lacking.
“State your requests and they shall be given you, and the desire of your hearts shall be done forthwith, “For there is no season like to this season, and no time like to this time.
“There is no season like to this season, for My soul bowed down till
 I beheld you,
“And there is no time like to this time, for the love of you cling to My heart.

CHAPTER XXVIII:

- [287] “I know what ye request, and My heart perceiveth what ye desire.
“Ye request much [knowledge of] Law, and a multitude of Talmud and many halakhic traditions, “Ye hope to ask questions on points of law, and ye covet a multitude of secrets.
“To multiply testimony in mountains upon mountains, to make wisdom wonderful in hills upon hills,
“To increase knowledge of the Talmud in the streets, and subtleties in the roads,
“To multiply laws as the sand of the sea, and rabbis as the dust of the world,
- [288] “To seat academies in the gates of the tents, to expound therein what is prohibited and what is permitted, “Therein to declare the impure impure, and therein to declare the pure pure,
“Therein to declare the fit fit, and therein to declare the unfit unfit, “Therein to recognize the [sorts] of blood, and to teach the menstruants what they should do,
“To bind diadems upon your heads, and crowns of royalty upon the heads of your children,
“To force kings to prostrate themselves before you, to compel princes to fall down in your presence, “To send forth your name beneath all the heavens, and your memory in the great ports,
“To illumine your faces as the brilliance of the day,
 and the space between your eyes as a blazing star.
“And if ye be worthy [to employ] this seal,
 and to make use of the fearful crown, “Neither vulgar nor ignorant shall be found in you,
 nor fool nor idiot shall be of your number,

- [289] “Ye rejoice, and My servants are grieved, “That this secret goeth forth from My treasury.
“By virtue of it the voice of your academies [soundeth] as [the voice of] fatted calves.
“Not with toil and not with weariness [do they learn],
“But with the name of this seal and with the mention of the fearful crown.
“He that marveleth at you, and he that grieveth grieveth because
of you;
“Many die in their sighing, and their souls go forth by reason of the repute of your glory,
[290] “Wealth and riches increase upon you; the great of the world cleave unto you;
“That family from which ye marry a daughter is known on all sides to be noble, “He that is blessed in you is truly blessed, he that rejoiceth in you rejoiceth truly.
“Ye are called, ‘Those who turn many to righteousness’;
they call ye, ‘Those who prove men innocent.’
“The determinations of the months proceed from your [council], and the intercalulation of years from the subtlety of your wisdom.
“By your hands are patriarchs anointed, and presidents of the sanhedrin take office according to your words;
[291] “Ye set up exilarchs, and the judges of cities are appointed by your authority.
“The order of society shall go forth from you,
and none shall differ therefrom.
“A great war was waged with Me and My servants,
“As accuser appeared the greatest of the ministering angels.
“This is his plea:

CHAPTER XXIX:

- [292] “Let not this secret go forth from Thy storehouse, and mystery of prudence from Thy treasures;
“Let not flesh and blood as our equals, suppose not the children of men our substitute.
“Let them grow weary in the study of the Law as much as they wish,
“And let those who come from their descendants, and after,
“Fulfill it with labor and great anguish.
“This is thy glory, this is thy beauty.
“In the midst of their rejoicing they bethink themselves and pray to Thee,
“They cry out before Thee whole-heartedly, they beseech Thee with desirous soul:
““May that which we have read remain in our possession, may that which we have studied remain in our possession, ““May our inward parts grasp all that which our ears have heard,
““May our hearts hold firmly the ways of the teaching which we have heard from the mouth of the teacher.”
“And let them continue to honour one another.
“But if Thou revealest this secret to Thy children,
“The small will be as the great and the fool as the wise.”

[293] This is the reply which He replieth to His servants:

“Nay, My servitors, nay, My servants, trouble Me not in this matter.

“This secret shall go forth from My storehouse, and mystery of prudence from My treasuries.

“To a beloved people I reveal, to a faithful seed I teach;

“For them it is laid up from the fountainhead of the world, and from the days of creation prepared for them.

“And I never thought to give it to any of the generations, from the days of Moses and until now.

“For they shall go from evil to evil, and Me shall they not know,

“For their understanding was obscured by exile, and the words of the Law were hard as brass and iron.

“It is proper for them to make use of it, to bring the Law as water in their inward parts and as oil in their bones.

“For Israel was in affliction from the day when Mine anger waxed hot against them

“And I smote them, and because of them mountains trembled, and their carcasses were as refuse in the midst of the street.

[294] “With what shall I appease them? With what shall I comfort them?

“Or what good form of treasure is there on high

“That I should bring it forth and give it them and cause them to rejoice?

“For I have beheld and seen:

“I have gold, [but] there is gold in the world;

“I have silver, [but] there is silver in the world;

“I have precious stones and pearls, [but] there are precious stones and pearls in the world.

“Wheat and barley, honey and oil, I have already placed in the world.

“But what is lacking the world? This secret and this mystery which is not in the world.

“Therefore I shall give them this means of loftiness, that thereby My children shall raise themselves up.”

[295] Said Rabbi Akiba: I heard a voice going forth from under the throne of glory, saying. And what was it saying? “I strengthened him, I took him, I commanded him (i.e. Enoch ben Jared whose name is Metatron), and I took him from among the children of men, and I made a throne for him over against my throne.” And what is the measure of that throne? Forty thousand myriads of parasangs of fire. And I gave over to him seventy angels, as against seventy peoples, and I gave into his hand all my servants in the world above and all my servants in the world below, and I explained to him all the categories of creation, and I set, as his name, The Lesser Lord [which is the numerical equivalent of ‘My Lord; and he is lesser than The Lord]. (For his name, reckoning by the numerical equivalents of the letters, is 71.) And I gave him wisdom and understanding more than all the angels and made him greater than any of the ministering angels.

[296] Said Rabbi Akiba: Each day doth an angel stand at morning in the midst of the firmament and beginneth and saith, “The Lord is King!” And all the host on high answer after him until he reacheth [the word], “Bless ye,” and when he reacheth “Bless ye” a beast standeth in the midst of the firmament and the name [of this beast] is Israel, and engraven on its forehead [are the words] “My people is Mine.” And it saith, “Bless ye the Lord, the Blessed.” And all the princes on high answer after it, “Blessed be the Lord, the Blessed, forever and ever.” While this is yet unfinished, the ophanim break forth in tumult and tremble and shake the whole world and say, “Blessed be the glory of the Lord from His [dwelling] place.” And that same beast standeth in the midst of the firmament until all the princes on high break forth in tumult, and seraphim and cherubim and troops and all the camps and each one in his place saith to the beast, “Hear, O Israel, the Lord our God, is one Lord.”

[297] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Thus said Rabbi Akiba in the name of Rabbi Eliezer the Great: Our fathers did not undertake to put one stone upon another in the Temple until they compelled the King of the world and all his servants and He met with them and showed them the secret of the Law, how they should do it and how they should explain it and how they should practice it. At once the Holy Spirit appeared from the great entrance which is in the House of the Lord – since the Shekinah did not dwell in the Holy of Holies because of the decree. And when our fathers saw that the throne of glory made its way and stood between the cella and the altar – for although up to that time they had not built the building, [yet the throne moved] over the place of the rooks which they were shaping to found upon them the cella and the temple and the altar and all the structure generally – and when our fathers saw that the throne of glory was set on high between the altar and the cella, and the King of the World upon it, they at once fell upon their faces, [298] and concerning that moment it says [Haggai 2.9]: “The latter glory of this house shall be greater than the former.” “For in the first temple I did not communicate with My children but by voice and in this temple ye have compelled Me and My throne and all My servants [to appear]. And would that it might endure! My children, why are ye fallen and lying upon your faces? Stand and seat yourselves before My throne in the order in which you sit in the academy and take hold upon a crown and receive a seal and hear the order of this secret of the Law, how ye shall do it, how explain it, and how practice it, how ascend the roads of your hearts, how your hearts may behold the Law.” At once did Zerubabel the son of Shealtiel answer and stood upon his feet as an interpreter and stated the names of the princes of the Law, each one according to his name, the name of a crown and the name of a seal.

CHAPTER XXX:

[299] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Thus said Rabbi Akiba in the name of Rabbi Eliezer the Great: “He who presenteth himself to serve in [connection with] this secret of the Law shall wash his garment and his undergarments and shall immerse himself in the most thorough manner lest semen should separate [any part of his skin from the water], and shall enter and sit for twelve days in a room or in an upper chamber. He shall neither go out nor come in nor eat nor drink but from evening to evening. And he shall eat, as his food, bread [baked by] his own hands [and he shall be wrapped] in a clean tallith. And he shall not taste any sort of vegetable. And water shall be his drink. [300] And he shall regularly read this midrash concerning the secret of the Law three times each day after [the regular daily] prayers which he shall pray from beginning to end. And thereafter he shall sit and shall repeat them – [the prayers and the Midrash] – twelve days the days of his fast, from morning until evening and shall not be silent. And whenever he finisheth it he shall stand upon his feet and conjure, as [one would conjure] by [the name of] their king, and shall call twelve times upon every prince, and thereafter he shall conjure him with the seal, [and so] for each one of them. [301] And these are their names which he shall say: The Prince Shekadhozi’ai the Lord, the Prince Nihappardiyuel the Lord, the Prince ‘Abhirgehwhedhiryah* the Lord (and there be those who say Gehwedhiryahu) the Prince Plitriyah the Lord, the

* In the margin, Scholem notes, “...I should prefer ‘Abhirgehīdoryah if the Heb. text permitted (ע so in the following, transposing the י ע the first”).”

Prince Zehubh’adyah the Lord, the Prince ‘Ogbohad’ay the Lord, the Prince Totrosi’ai the Lord, the Prince ‘Ashrawwili’ai the Lord, the Prince Zebhudiel the Lord, the Prince Margawwiel the Lord, the Prince Daharbyoron the Lord, the Prince ‘Adiron the Lord. [302] And he shall conjure them by the permission of his King for twelve [days] in the name of Yopphiel Splendor of Height, and in the name of Sarbiel who is one of the princes of the Merkabha, and in the name of Shadriel who is a beloved prince, and in the name of Hasdiel who is called to the Power [of God] six hours daily. And he shall repeat and shall conjure the same last four princes with a great seal and with a great oath in the name of ‘Ezboghah, which is a great seal, and in the name of Zurtak, a holy name and a fearful crown. [303] And when he finesheth twelve days let him go forth to any form of the Torah which he desire, whether Bible, whether Mishnah, whether the vision of the Merkabha. For he goeth forth in a clean spirit and from great sorrow and anguish, for it is a teaching known to us, an ordinance made by the first teachers, and a tradition of the men of old which they wrote down and left for coming generations, that the humble might practice it. And he who is worthy is answered thereby.

[304] Said Rabbi Akiba in the name of Rabbi Eliezer the Great: Happy is he who is aided by the desert of his fathers, and whom the righteousness of his ancestors stands [in good stead], that he may practice this crown and this seal, and they shall communicate with him, and he exalteth himself in the loftiness of the Law.

[305] Said Rabbi Ishmael: This was done by Rabbi Eliezer and he was answered and did not believe; and it was done by me and I did not believe until I brought a fool and he was made like unto me. And again it was done by shepherds and they were made like unto us. By the authority of the court they sent down Rabbi Akiba outside the Land [of Israel] and he waited until it was done by many who neither read nor studied and they became equal [to] others and were made learned students. And he came and verified [the matter] and agreed in the evidence which he bore in the court of the Patriarch, saying: "This was done also outside the Land [of Israel] and succeeded." And thus said Rabbi Eliezer the Great. And the Sages say, "Perhaps we possess it by virtue of the Land of Israel." And they did not believe until they sent Rabbi Akiba down to Babylon and it was done [there] and succeeded. And thereafter we rejoiced.

[306] Said Rabbi Ishmael: How shall a man begin before he pray this secret of the Law? When he arose (sic) he shall say:

"Be made magnificent, be exalted, be lifted up, O splendid King,
"Upon a throne high and lifted up, fearful and terrible.
"Thou dwellest in the chambers of the palace of loftiness.
"The servants of Thy throne are terrified, and set trembling
"The heavens which are the footstool of Thy feet, each day,
"With sound of exultation and with tumult of music and multitude of song."
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.")

And let him conjure and say:

"Who will not exalt Thee, O King fearful
"And terrible above all Thy servants?
"In shaking and in trembling do they serve Thee,
"In terror and in quaking they are terrified before Thee.
"With identical words, with one mouth they utter forth Thy fearful name.
"Because of fright and fear [among those] who stand before Thee
"There is none who goes ahead and none who lags [in the song].
"And whoever delayeth the sound after his companion, in [the pronunciation
of] Thy name
"[Though but] as by the measure of a hair's breadth,
"Is consumed, and flaming fire trampleth him down."
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts, all the earth is full of His glory.")

APPENDIX

A chart prepared for my 1987 edition shows the alignment of chapters for three translations of Hekhalot Rabbi:

- Smith = Morton Smith: chapters I-XXX
- Grodner = Lauren Grodner: chapters 15-29, which appear in David Blumenthal's Understanding Jewish Mysticism: A Source Reader (New York: Ktav Publishing House, 1978) pages 59-89.
- Kaplan = Aryeh Kaplan: "a synthesis of the best readings found in various editions" of chapters 1, 2, and 16-26 in his Meditation and Kabbalah (York Beach: Samuel Weiser, 1982) pages 41-54.

Within the column showing Smith's chapters is a band indicating "text" (also "tx" and "t") or narrative sections and "hymns" (also "h") or songs.

Smith		Grodner	Kaplan
ch I	text		ch 1
ch II	hymns		ch 2
ch III
ch IV	text ch V
ch VI	hymns
ch VII
ch VIII	hymns
ch IX
ch X	hymns
ch XI	hymns
ch XII	hymns
ch XIII	tx	ch 15
ch XIV	h	ch 16	ch 16
ch XV	text	ch 17	ch 17
ch XVI	h	ch 18	ch 18 (2)
ch XVII		ch 19	ch 19
ch XVIII		ch 20	ch 20
ch XIX	t	ch 21	ch 21
ch XX	e	ch 22
ch XXI	x	ch 23	ch 22
ch XXII	t	ch 24	ch 23
ch XXIII			ch 24
ch XXIV		ch 25	ch 25
ch XXV	h		(2)
ch XXVI	t	ch 26	ch 26
ch XXVII	h	ch 27
ch XXVIII	text	ch 28 (1) ch XXIX	hymns	ch 29
ch XXX	tx

(1) Grodner omits the first paragraph of Smith's CHAPTER XXVII.

(2) Kaplan omits material here, primarily hymns.

With Kama regards - your own work!! Givsham
THE GREATER TREATISE CONCERNING THE PALACES OF HEAVEN

Chapter I:

Said Rabbi Ishmael: What are those songs which he ^{recites} must-recite who would behold the vision of the Merkabha, who would descend in peace and would ascend in peace?

Greater of all ⁱⁿ [his achievements] it is that [the angels] shall have a care for him, to gather him ⁱⁿ and bring him ~~it~~ unto the chambers of the palace of the seventh heaven of the firmament, to cause him to stand on the right hand of the throne of the glory of God; for there be times when he standeth over against ~~the~~ ^{the} Lord God of Israel, to see all that which is done before the throne of His glory and to know all that which is destined to come to pass in the world:

Who shall be cast down; who exalted;
Who shall be weakened; who made strong;
Who shall be crushed with poverty; who made rich;
Who shall die; who shall live;
From whom shall inheritance be taken;
To whom shall inheritance be given;
Who shall be granted the Law for his portion
And who shall inherit Wisdom.

^{Greater of all} Still greater it is that he beholdeth all the works of the children of men, yea even those which they work in their secret chambers, whether these be seemly works or works corrupt;

A man steal - he knoweth and recognizeth it;
A man commit adultery - he knoweth and recognizeth it;
A man commit murder - he knoweth and recognizeth it;
A man ^{was} suspect to have lain with a woman in her uncleanness - he knoweth and recognizeth it (the truth of the matter);
A man spread ~~the~~ slander - he knoweth and recognizeth it.

^{Greater of all} Still greater it is that he recognizeth all those who know sorcery ^{and smite him} ~~him~~ ^{is} clothed with scalls and covered with leprosy and crowned with a pox.

^{Greater of all} Still greater it is that any man who slander him shall be subject to all manner of injuries: morbid growths and discolourations and wounds which shall give rise to running ulcers.

^{Greater of all} Still greater it is that he is set apart from all the children of man and is exalted in all his doings and is honored by those above and those below.

Columbia University in the City of New York

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY

FOYERBROTHER HALL
NEW YORK, N. Y. 10027

17/11/81

Dear Mr. Karr,

I left the original MS of my translation of the Hekhalot Rabbati with Scholom, and now have only a bad xerox of this with his corrections. The translation was made almost 40 years ago and further study has inevitably revealed that the text used had been based on a somewhat inferior manuscript. A new translation based on two better manuscripts is now being made, but probably will not be out for a year or so. If you were in the meantime a xerox of the xerox of my translation I'll be glad to send you one provided you will assure me

- 1) that you will not publish it
- 2) that if you quote short sections of it (as normally permitted by copyright laws) in publications you will acknowledge the source of the translation, and
- 3) that you will pay the cost of xeroxing and mailing. — There are 57 pages; at 6¢ per page this comes to $3.42. Mailing will probably cost about $1.50. Accordingly on receipt of a letter with the indicated assurances and with your check for $5 — I shall have the xerox made and shall send it to you. Sincerely, Morton Smith

Morton Smith's letter of March 17th, 1981

HEKHALOT RABBATI

היכלות רבתי

THE GREATER TREATISE CONCERNING THE PALACES OF HEAVEN

translated from the Hebrew and Aramaic by Morton Smith

corrected by Gershom Scholem

transcribed and edited with notes by
Don Karr

Translation © Morton Smith (estate) 1943-7, 2009

Edition © Don Karr 1995, 2009, 2013

(email: dk0618@yahoo.com)

Reproduced with permission from Morton Smith's literary executor:
Shaye J. D. Cohen

All rights reserved.

License to Copy

This publication is intended for personal use only.

Paper copies may be made for personal use.

With the above exception, no part of this publication may be reproduced or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic or mechanical, including photocopy, without permission in writing from the editor and executor. Reviewers may quote brief passages.

Preface to the July 1995 edition

The following sections of Hekhalot Rabbati (hereafter HR) have been edited from an English draft prepared by Morton Smith (1915-1991). The draft shows corrections and marginal notes made by Gershom Scholem (1897-1982). Smith made the translation in the early 'forties from an unpublished edition (in the original Hebrew and Aramaic) prepared by Scholem and Chaim Wirszubski (1915-1977).¹ In a note² accompanying the photocopy of HR, Smith stated that the translation was based on a "somewhat inferior manuscript" (MS New York 8128) and that "a new translation based on two better manuscripts is now being made." That was 1981.

In 1978, David Blumenthal published Understanding Jewish Mysticism: A Source Reader, vol. 1 (Ktav Publishing House, New York), which contained a translation of roughly the second half of HR prepared by Lauren Grodner. The translation was based on the edition of S. A. Wertheimer in his Batei Midrashot, with some adaptations according to spot English translations in

- (1) Smith's "Observations on Hekhalot Rabbati," in Biblical and Other Studies edited by Alexander Altmann (Cambridge: Harvard University Press, 1963);
- (2) Scholem's Jewish Gnosticism, Merkavah Mysticism, and Talmudic Tradition (New York: The Jewish Theological Seminary of America, 1960; 2nd, improved edition: 1965);
- (3) Scholem's Major Trends in Jewish Mysticism (New York: Schocken Books, 1941; reprinted frequently).

In 1982, Rabbi Aryeh Kaplan presented again roughly the second half of HR in English in Meditation and Kabbalah (York Beach: Samuel Weiser, Inc.), adding chapters I and II as a preface. Kaplan also based his work on Wertheimer, correcting it according to other versions.

It is now July 1995, and the first half of HR has yet to be published in English, so I have been grateful to the late Professor Smith for having provided me with a copy of his draft, whatever its shortcomings.

The following is a presentable edition of the first half of HR³, prepared to fill the gap until the whole of HR appears in translation.

The as-yet unpublished (in English, at any rate) "first half," presented here, is Smith's Chapters I to XII. Smith's Chapter XIII is where Grodner's translation begins, though she calls it "Chapter 15." Kaplan's translation cuts in a chapter or so later. Through my typescript, numbers in square brackets indicate paragraph (segment, or microform) numbers from Synopse zur Hekhalot-Literatur, edited by Peter Schäfer, Margarete Schlüter, and Hans Georg von Mutius (Tübingen: J. C. B. Mohr [Paul Siebeck], 1981). In recent scholarly books and articles, it has become conventional to refer to Synopse numbers when citing or quoting hekhalot material.

—Don Karr

¹ I have learned that Ithamar Gruenwald, long-time professor of Jewish mysticism at Tel Aviv University and author of the pioneering Apocalyptic and Merkavah Mysticism (Leiden – Köln: E. J. Brill, 1980), From Apocalypticism to Gnosticism (Frankfurt am Main: Verlag Peter Lang, 1988), and Rituals and Ritual Theory in Ancient Israel (Leiden – Boston: Brill, 2003), had a hand in the translation of (at least) the first twelve chapters. See "Preface to the January 2009 edition."

² March 17, 1981.

³ The transcription below has been completed. See "Preface to the January 2009 edition."

Preface to the January 2009 edition

Smith's chapters XIV-XXX have been added to the transcription, making this a complete edition of Smith's translation.

Inconsistencies in Smith's spelling have been retained, e.g., within a few lines we find "spendour" and "splendor" (as in CHAPTER XXIV); elsewhere, "Shekinah" and "Shekhinah."

To place Synopse § numbers, I have compared segments of Smith's translation with passages translated in

- Boustán, Ra'anan. From Martyr to Mystic: Rabbinic Martyrology and the Making of Merkavah Mysticism. Tübingen: Mohr Siebeck, 2005.
- Halperin, David J. The Faces of the Chariot: Early Jewish Responses to Ezekiel's Vision. Tübingen: J. C. B. Mohr (Paul Siebeck), 1988.
- Kuyt, Annalies. The 'Descent' to the Chariot. Towards a Description of the Terminology, Place, Function and Nature of the YERIDAH in Hekhalot Literature. Tübingen: J. C. B. Mohr (Paul Siebeck), 1995.
- Wolfson, Elliot R. Through a Speculum That Shines. Princeton: Princeton University Press, 1994.

It is of interest to follow the hapless course of Smith's translation of HR in the letters recently published as Morton Smith and Gershom Scholem, Correspondence 1945-1982, edited with an introduction by Guy G. Stroumsa (Leiden – Boston: Brill, 2008). The HR translation is mentioned more than two dozen times over the full range of years covered; indeed, the first mention is in 1945, the last in 1982.⁴

My sincere thanks to Professor Shaye J. D. Cohen of Harvard University, literary executor to Morton Smith, for granting me permission to reproduce Smith's translation of HR.

I sincerely hope that readers will inform me of errors.

—Don Karr

⁴ An excerpt from Ithamar Gruenwald's note to me (December 23, 2012) provides some details of this "hapless course."

[Sometime after 1976] Scholem showed me the typescript of Smith's translation of HR. I read it and told Scholem that it needed revision on the basis of manuscripts which Scholem did not know about, especially Vatican 228. Scholem told me to contact Smith, with whom I exchanged letters for several years. Morton agreed that when I came to New York we should meet and discuss ways to compose the revision.

In February-June 1981, I held a position of visiting professor at the Revel Graduate School at Yeshiva University. When I arrived in New York, Morton and I agreed to meet once or twice a week to work on the revised translation. We did so on a regular basis, and my wife and I were welcome guests at his home.

The process was as follows: between one session and the next, Morton prepared an almost new translation of several paragraphs based on MS Vatican 228. He did masterful work. When I came to his apartment, we read his latest translations, and in most cases he accepted my comments.

In June, we had to interrupt the work because I had to go back to Jerusalem.

When I left in June of 1981, we had reached chapter 12 or so. Morton said that between then and my return to New York (in less than a year), he would work on the translation, and possibly send me the materials by mail. However, this did not work out.

On January 1st, 1982, our son Evyathar was killed during his service in the army, and Scholem died a short while afterwards [February 21, 1982]. These events delayed my return to New York.

When I returned to New York, I called Morton and he told me that he could no longer work on the translation. A short while later I called him again and—to my shock—he told me, "Finally, my senile condition is under control. I hope that I shall be able to continue the work soon." This condition is referred to in Guy G. Stroumsa's book [Morton Smith and Gershom Scholem, Correspondence 1945-1982], where, on page 190, Morton asked Scholem, "Please give my regards to Gruenwald when you see him, my retranslation of Hekhalot Rabhati was sidetracked during the fall by a long series of petty problems." The "petty problems" were the "senile condition" mentioned. Scholem was not aware of the problem, and he did not seem to catch on even when Morton reiterated in the same letter, "First, however, I have to dispose of a lot of petty problems...." [—Smith's letter to Scholem of January 10, 1982].

THE GREATER TREATISE CONCERNING THE PALACES OF HEAVEN

*translated from the Hebrew and Aramaic by Morton Smith
with corrections by Gershom Scholem
transcribed and edited with notes by Don Karr*

(...) = Smith's additions
[...] (words) = Smith's additions
[...] (numbers) = Synopse § numbers
{...} (letters/words) = my additions (DK)
{...} (ellipses) = a gap – a place where material appears in other MSS

CHAPTER I:

[81] Said Rabbi Ishmael: What are those songs which he recites who would behold the vision of the Merkabha, who would descend in peace and would ascend in peace?

[82] Greatest of all [his achievements] it is that [the angels] have a care for him, to gather him in and bring him unto the chambers of the palace of the seventh heaven, to cause him to stand on the right hand of the throne of the glory of God; for there be times when he standeth over against Tazsh the Lord God of Israel, to see all that which is done before the throne of His glory and to know all that which is destined to come to pass in the world:

Who shall be cast down, who exalted;
Who shall be weakened, who made strong;
Who shall be crushed with poverty, who made rich;
Who shall die, who shall live;
From whom shall inheritance be taken,
To whom shall inheritance be given;
Who shall be granted the Law for his portion
And who be given Wisdom.

[83] Greatest of all* it is that he beholdeth all the works of the children of men, yea even those which they work in their secret chambers, whether these be seemly works or works corrupt:

A man stole – he knoweth and recognizeth it;
A man committed adultery – he knoweth and recognizeth it;
A man committed murder – he knoweth and recognizeth it;
A man was suspect to have lain with a woman in her uncleanness –
 he knoweth and recognizeth it (the truth of the matter);
A man spread slander – he knoweth and recognizeth it.

* "Greatest of all" is Scholem's correction from § 83 onward. Smith had "Still greater," which may indeed make better sense. Kaplan opens each of these lines, "When one is on a (still) higher level..."

[84] Greatest of all it is that he recognizeth all those who know sorcery.

Greatest of all it is that any man who lift up his hand against him and smite him is clothed with scalls and covered with leprosy and crowned with a pox.

Greatest of all it is that any man who slander him is subject to all manner of injuries: morbid growths and discolourations and wounds which give rise to running ulcers.

[85] Greatest of all it is that he is set apart from all the children of men and is exalted in all his doings and is honored by those above and those below. And if any man find cause of offense in him, upon that man do offenses, great and evil and harsh, fall from heaven. And if any man stretch forth his hand against him in reproach, against that man doth the heavenly court of justice stretch forth its hand to consume him from the world.

 Greatest of all it is that all men are set before him as silver before the refiner, to know which is alloyed silver, which is pure silver. And, moreover, he beholdeth in families:

 How many in a family be children of forbidden unions,
 How many in a family be children of their mother's impurity,
 How many in a family be wounded in the stones,
 How many in a family be cut off of their privy members,
 How many in a family be children of slaves,
 How many in a family be children of the uncircumcised,
 How many in a family be unfit for the priesthood.

CHAPTER II:

[86] Greatest of all it is that any man who harden his face against him to gainsay him is darkened from the light of the balls of his eyes.

 Greatest of all it is that if any man treat him despitefully he leaves neither root nor branch nor yet inheritor.

 Greatest of all it is that any man who spread evil report against him is consumed, his judgment is determined and no mercy is had upon him.

{...}

[92] Greatest of all it is that in the heavenly court of justice, three times each day (from the day when permission was given to Israel, to the honest and to the upright, to the humble and to the humiliated, to the understanding and to the chosen and to the separated, that they might descend to the Merkabha and ascend thence) three times each day they blow the trumpets thrice and excommunicate with the lesser excommunication and again excommunicate with the greater excommunication, saying: "Let him be excommunicated to Tazsh the Lord God of Israel, to him and to the throne of His glory and to the crown upon His head, to the heavenly court of justice and to the earthly court of justice and to all the host of heaven and to all its servants, he who standeth before one beholding the Merkabha and who abandoneth him."

[93] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Thus ran the teaching as to the vision of the Merkabha: He who beholdeth the Merkabha hath no right to stand up [out of courtesy to a superior], except before three authorities only: before a king and before a high priest and before a sanhedrin (and that, when a patriarch is with the sanhedrin, thus if a patriarch is not with a sanhedrin, then even before a sanhedrin he shall not stand up). And should he stand up he would be guilty of death because he had stood up before it, and he would lessen his days and cut short his years.

[94] Said Rabbi Ishmael: What be the words of the songs which a man doth recite when he descendeth to the Merkabha? Let him begin and recite the principal songs [OR, the first songs]:

 The beginning of praise and the commencement of song
 The beginning of jubilation and the commencement of exultation
 Do the princes sing who serve each day
 The Lord God of Israel and the throne of His glory;
 They bear up the wheel of the throne of His glory, [singing]:
 "Sing, sing for joy, supernal dwelling!

“Shout, shout for joy, precious vessel!
 “Made marvelously and a marvel.
 “Surely thou shalt gladden the King who sitteth upon thee,
 “[With a joy] as the joy of the bridegroom in his bridechamber.
 [Thus said I] when I came to take refuge under the shadow of Thy wings
 In the joy of my heart which rejoiced in thee.
 (For thy converse [my heart] is with the converse of the King
 And with thy Maker thou dost hold discourse.)
 (As it is said, “Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.”)

[95] “From the praise and song of each day,
 “From the jubilation and exaltation of each hour,
 “And from the utterance which preceedeth out of the mouths of
 the holy ones
 “And from the melody which wellet up out of the mouths of
 the servants
 “Mountains of fire and hills of flame
 “Are piled up and hidden and poured out each day.”
 (As it is said, “Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.”)

CHAPTER III:

[96] “Why should’st thou be affrighted, faithful servant?
 “Why should’st thou be terrified, servitor beloved?”
 “I say to thy face, Zoharariel, Lord God of Israel, “If I be not affrighted, who is he that shall be affrighted?
 “If I be not terrified, who is he that shall be terrified?
 “For I am summoned before the Omnipotent six hours in each day,
 “And a thousand times I am dragged upon my knees
 “Until I touch the throne of glory.”

And then the voice would answer say{ing}:
 (As it is said [Ez. 1:25]: “And there was a voice above the firmament that was over their heads; when they stood they let down their wings.”)
 “As for those who practice upon you those practices – “Reproach shall not be cast upon their words,
 “Nor shall any contradict their discourse,
 “Nor any contradict their words.”
 His kingly servants behold the King majestic
 Enthroned in the chambers of the palace of silence,
 Dread and fear, holiness and purity.
 (As it is said, “Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.”)

[97] King of miracles, King of powers,
 King of wonders, King transcendent.
 Thy throne doth fly and standeth still.
 Years very many, generations without end have passed
 Since thou didst drive the peg for the weaving of the web
 On which the perfection of the world and the excellence thereof do stand

And even yet hath Thy throne not rested its foot upon the firm ground
of the seventh heaven,
But as a bird doth fly it fly and standeth still.

- [98] The loftiest of the lofty, they whose brows be bound with diadems,
*And all angels, the chief hypostases which Thou hast created,
Stand harnessed beneath the throne of glory
And do hold it up continually with strength, might and power.
And they also have not rested their feet upon the firm ground of the seventh heaven,
But as a bird do they fly yet stand still.

* A marginal note in Smith's hand at this place reads: "Translated at first "all the angels of the chief hypostases" & Prof. Scholem corrected to this {as shown above}, which seems to suppose מואכיק instead of מואכי. What is the final Hebrew text?"

- [99] And three times in each day
Doth the throne of Thy glory prostrate itself before Thee and say to Thee,
"Zoharariel, Lord God of Israel,
"Pray seat Thyself upon me, O splendid King,
"For Thy burden is delightful to me
"And weigheth not heavy upon me."
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.")

- [100] Wonderful loftiness and strange lordship
Is the loftiness of exultation and the lordship of splendor
With which the angel of the presence doth conduct himself
Three times each day
In the heavenly court of justice
As he goeth and cometh upon the seventh heaven
Which is upon the heads of the cherubim and upon the heads of the ophanim
And upon the heads of the holy beasts.

- [101] And the cherubim and the ophanim and the holy beasts
Are harnessed and stand beneath the throne of glory.
And when they behold anyone in the height
As he goeth and cometh upon the seventh heaven
(Which is upon the heads of the cherubim and upon the heads of the ophanim
And upon the heads of the holy beasts)
They are terrified and affrighted and faint and fall backward,
For no creature is able to attain unto that place
By a distance of one hundred and eighty five thousand myriad parasangs
Because of the streaming fires which flow and issue forth
From the mouths of the cherubim and from the mouths of the ophanim and
from the mouths of the holy beasts
Who open their mouths to say "Holy"
When Israel saith before Him "Holy"
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.")

[102] A measure of holiness, a measure of dominion,
A measure of fearfulness, a measure of consternation,
A measure of trembling, a measure of shaking,
A measure of terror, a measure of panic
Is the measure of the garment of Zoharariel Lord God of Israel
Who cometh crowned to the throne of His glory.

[103] And it is every part engraved from within and from without with
the words The Lord, The Lord.
And the eye of no creature is able to behold it,
Not the eyes of flesh and blood, and not the eyes of His servants.
And as for him who doth behold it, or glimpseth or seeth it, Hallucinations lay hold upon the balls of his eyes
And the balls of his eyes emit and send forth torches of fire
And these enkindle him and these burn him.
(For the fire which cometh out from the man who beholdeth, This enkindle him and burneth him.)
Why? Because of the measure of the garment
Of Zoharariel, Lord God of Israel,
Who cometh crowned to the throne of His glory.
And pleasant and sweet is His beauty
As the appearance of the beauty of the glory of the majesty
Of the eyes of the likeness of the holy beasts
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.")

CHAPTER IV:

[104] Who is like unto our King among all the lofty ones of them
who lay hold upon kingship?
Who is like our Maker? Who is like unto the Lord our God?
Who is like unto Him among those who knot the knots of diadems?
For with six voices do the supernal servants,
The bearers of the throne of His glory,
The cherubim and the ophanim and the holy beasts, sing before Him,
For each voice is exalted beyond its fellows and differeth from that which was before it.
The first voice: Everyone who heareth it at once crieth out and prostrateth himself.
The second voice: Everyone who hearkeneth unto it at once falleth into confusion and thereafter returneth not.
The third voice: Everyone who heareth it at once is seized by convulsions and at once dieth.
The fourth voice: Everyone who hearkeneth unto it at once hath the skull of his head and his body broken and most of the ends of his ribs are torn out.
The fifth voice: Everyone who heareth it at once poureth himself out as a vessel and is utterly dissolved into blood.

The sixth voice: Everyone who hearkeneth unto it at once is seized at heart by a fierce fire, and his heart is tumultuous and overturneth his inmost bowels, and his bile is dissolved within him as to be as water.
(As it is said, “Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.”)

[105] Who is like unto our King? Who is like unto our Maker? Who is like unto the Lord our God?
The sun and the moon emit and send forth the crown on His head.
The Pleiades and Orion and the star of morning,
Constellations and stars and planets
Flow and issue forth from the garment of Him
Who sitteth crowned upon the throne of His glory.
And He gave forth a great light from between His eyes.
For King of miracles, King of powers,
King of wonders, King transcendent is He.
(As it is said, “Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.”)

[106] Said Rabbi Ishmael: All these songs did Rabbi Akiba hear when he descended to the Merkabha, and he laid hold upon them and learned them before the throne of God’s glory, for there His servants sang them before God.

CHAPTER V:

[107] Said Rabbi Ishmael: That day was the fifth day of the week when there came abysmal tidings from the great city of Rome saying: “Four men from among the mighty of Israel have been seized – Rabbi Simon ben Gamaliel and Rabbi Ishmael ben Elisha and Rabbi Elazar ben Dama and Rabbi Judah ben Baba; and eight thousand students from Jerusalem shall be their ransom.”

[108] And when Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah saw this decree, he caused me at once to descend to the Merkabha and I questioned Surya the Prince of the Presence. And he said to me: “Ten men did the heavenly court of justice write down, and gave them unto Sammael the wicked, the genius of Rome, saying: ‘Go out and destroy from the mighty of Israel every good member, thigh and shoulder, to fulfill the decree’ [Ex. 21.16]: “And he that stealeth a man and selleth him, or if he be found in his hand, he shall surely be put to death.” And the sons of Jacob stole Joseph their brother and sold him, what shall be done concerning them? At once was the authority given to Sammael to destroy ten of the mighty in their stead, in order to fulfill the decree. And a vengeance to be avenged upon him is laid up against him until the time shall come when [Is. 24.21] ‘The Lord shall punish the host of the high ones on high,’ for he shall be cut down and cast upon the earth, ne and all the princes of the kingdoms in the height, as the goats and sheep of the day of atonement.”

[109] Said Rabbi Ishmael: All these warnings and all these conditions were made known to and laid upon Sammael the wicked, and he saith, ‘I have taken all upon me provided only that ten of the mighty shall be destroyed, to wit: Rabbi Akiba ben Joseph, and Rabbi Judah ben Baba, and Rabbi Jeshbab the scribe, and Rabbi Hananya ben Teradyon, Rabbi Hozpit the interpreter, Rabbi Elazar ben Shammua, Rabbi Hanina ben Hakinai, Rabbi Ishmael ben Elisha, Rabban Simon ben Gamaliel, Rabbi Eliezer ben Dama.’

[110] Said Rabbi Ishmael: What then did Zoharariel the Lord God of Israel? Because of the wrath with which He was filled against Sammael as having ~~taken~~ upon him all those conditions, [His patience] did not then suffice Him that He should say to the scribe: “Write decrees of punishment and great plagues, strong and harsh and fearful and terrible, heavy and disgraceful against the wicked city, Rome.” Nay, but at once He Himself took paper and wrote upon the paper. And thus He wrote against the day of vengeance which is destined and laid up for the wicked city, Rome. “One cloud shall come up and stand above Rome six months and pour down a running sore upon man and upon beast and upon the silver and upon the gold and upon all the fruit and upon all kinds of metals. And thereafter shall another cloud come up and drive away its fellow and stand in its place six months and pour down a scall of leprosy and scab and pox and all manner of scalls whatsoever upon the wicked city Rome, until the time shall come when a man shall say to his fellow, ‘Behold, the wicked city Rome, she and all that which is in her, are thine for one farthing,’ and he shall say to him, ‘I want her not.’”

[111] Said Rabbi Ishmael: When I came and bore witness to this [which I had received] from before the throne of glory, all [my] fellows rejoiced and they made that day before Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah a day of feasting and rejoicing; and yet more - the Patriarch himself did say in his joy, “Bring in before us all manner of musical instruments, and we shall drink wine to their accompaniment, inasmuch as Zoharariel the Lord God of Israel shall surely wreak vengeance and do wonders and wonders of wonders upon the wicked city Rome, and we shall exult with joy of harp and flute.”

[112] Said Rabbi Ishmael: What then did the heavenly court of justice? They at once gave command to the angels of torment, and these descending, wrought upon Lupinus Caesar utter destruction; and there was not left in all his palace a fugitive nor a remnant, and Rufa the wife of his youth and all his mistresses and all his maid-servants and all his concubines were cast dead on the earth before him, and all his sons and all his daughters and all the delights of his eyes were rent asunder and thrown [dead] before him.

[113] Said Rabbi Ishmael: What was done to that wicked man himself? He was abased and made contemptible by reason of his dead, that they lay ever before him. And whensoever and man stretched forth his hand to take one of the dead of Lupinus Caesar, that he should lay it upon the bier and take it forth to bury it, then would the abyss swallow up that body, and, when the burier withdrew his hand, would the abyss again vomit it forth. Thus did his dead lie ever before him; and yet more – they were noisome and stank throughout all his royal palace and he was ashamed before the royal princes who came in and went out before his face.

CHAPTER VI:

[117] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Surya, the Prince of the Presence, spoke to me [saying]: “Friend, why did all this disgrace, all this revilement, and all this shame befall that wicked man? Because of Rabbi Hanaya ben Teradyon. For when the day came which he had set for his execution, [some of his servants] said to him, ‘Lord Caesar, repeal [the sentence which] thou [hast passed] upon that sage, that he be not killed.’ [But] he replied, ‘Let him die. For though I and all these of my family, yea, even though all Rome be destroyed with him – yet in this matter I will not change my mind.’”

[118] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Surya, the Prince of the Presence, spoke to me [saying]: “Friend, I shall tell thee why the strength of that wicked man was great: Because he came from the line of Esau the wicked, and therefore he confirmed and strengthened and hardened his heart.”

[119] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Surya, the Prince of the Presence, spoke to me [saying]: “Friend I say unto thee, thou shalt not be grieved at this death in which thou departest to thine eternal dwelling, for already hath Zoharariel the Lord God of Israel filled His mouth with laughter at that wicked man and said: ‘By the glory of the loftiness of the fearful palace in which I dwell, and by the throne of My glory which is My concern and which I leave not from [the time of] its creation and unto eternity: In Gehenna, at the hand of Rabbi Hananya ben Teradyon, I will cause that wicked man to taste the taste of flame of fire and fiery coals of cherubim and ophanim and the holy beasts.’”

[120] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Surya, the Prince of the Presence, spoke to me [saying]: "Friend, I shall tell thee what did then the pure effulgence of the splendor of the effulgence of 'Uzhaya the Lord God of Israel. At that time He commanded me and I descended and banished and drove out Lupinus Caesar from his palace in which he was sleeping during the night and took him to a pig sty and a dog pound and put him asleep [there], and I brought in Rabbi Hananya and put him asleep in the palace of Lupinus Caesar. Next day came the executioners who had been commanded concerning Rabbi Hananya to this effect: 'He is sitting and doing wonders in the school and is teaching law to the mighty of Israel. Off with his head!' Lupinus Caesar appeared to them as Rabbi Hananya ben Teradyon and they cut off his head. And Rabbi Hananya ben Teradyon bound on the diadem of his royalty and reigned over the wicked city Rome in the likeness of Lupinus Caesar, six months, and killed in it six thousand bishops, a thousand bishops a month. [121] And something in the form of Rabbi Hananya ben Teradyon was then put before the men of the wicked city Rome and they laid hold upon it and cast it into the fire. And who was he whom they cast into the fire? Lupinus Caesar. For after he was killed, he was made alive again in the heavenly court of justice. And they laid hold upon him and cast him into the fire, and he was in anguish in the midst of the fierce fire. And after this manner did they with all ten sages of Israel, for the proclamation goeth forth from the seventh heaven proclaiming and saying in the heavenly court of justice: 'As for the design which the wicked city Rome designed against the mighty of Israel to destroy them, Zoharariel the Lord God of Israel has agreed, but even the meditation of the heart which Rome mediteth against his children is weighty to them as if they carried it out.'"

[The First Apocalypse]

[122] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Seganzegael, the Prince of the Presence, said to me, "My friend, sit in my bosom and I shall tell thee what is to come upon Israel." I sat in his bosom and he gazed upon me and did weep, and his tears ran down continually from his eyes and fell upon my face. I said to him, "Why does your Excellency weep?" He said to me, "My friend, come, and I shall take thee in and teach thee what is laid up for Israel, the holy people." He grasped me by my hand and took me in to the inmost chambers and to the most secret rooms and to the treasuries. He took tablets and opened them and showed me letters written with griefs each different from the other. I said to him, "For whom are these?" He said to me, "For Israel." I said to him, "And can Israel bear them?" He said to me, "Come tomorrow and I shall teach thee of griefs yet different from these." On the morrow he took me in to the inmost chambers and showed me griefs more bitter than the first: [There] those [who shall perish] by the sword [were destined already] for the sword; those [who shall perish] by hunger, for hunger; those who shall be led captive, for captivity. I said to him, "And did then, your Excellency, Israel alone sin?" He said to me, "Griefs more bitter than these are laid on them anew each day. And when, assembling in synagogues and schools, they say, 'Amen. Let the great name be blessed,' we do not permit these [griefs] to go forth from the inmost chambers."

[123] When I went down from before him I heard a voice speaking in the Aramaic language, and thus it said:
"The holy shrine shall be a ruin;
and the temple, a fire burning;
"And the dwelling of the king, desolation;
and she in whom the king rejoiced shall mourn as a widow;
"And the virgins and the youths shall be spoiled;
and the servants of the king, be killed;
"And the pure altar, polluted;
and the table which was set before the Lord, taken as spoil by the enemy;
"And Jerusalem shall be desolation;
and the land of Israel trembling."

[124] When I heard the voice of this vision I was terrified and struck silent and fell backwards. But then came the angel Hadariel and gave me breath and spirit and stood me upon my feet. He said to me, "My friend, what came over thee?" I said to him, "Your Excellency, is there no restoration for Israel?" He said to me, "Come, and I shall bring thee in to treasuries of consolations and to treasuries of salvations and shall show thee." He brought me in to treasuries of salvations and to treasuries of consolations and I beheld the companies of ministering angels, that they were sitting and weaving garments of salvations and making crowns of life and fixing in them precious stones and pearls and compounding all manner of spices and perfumed wines for the righteous. And I beheld one crown which differed from all the [other] crowns, and the sun and the moon and the twelve signs of the zodiac were fixed in it. I said to him, "Your Excellency, for whom are these crowns?" He said to me, "For Israel." "And that different crown, for whom is that destined?" He said to me, "For David, the king of Israel." I said to him, "Your Excellency, show me the glory of David." He said to me, "My friend, wait for three hours until David cometh hither and thou shalt behold his greatness." [125] He took me and seated me in his bosom. He said to me, "What dost thou see?" I said to him, "I see seven lightnings which strike as one." He said to me, "My son, close thine eyes that thou not be shaken by those that shall go forth to meet David." At once, all ophanim and seraphim and the holy beasts and treasuries of snow and treasuries of hail and clouds of glory and planets and stars and ministering angels and fiery spirits of the fourth heaven cried out in tumult, saying: "For the chief musician, a psalm of David. The heavens are telling the glory of God." And I heard a sound of a great uproar which came from Gozen, saying: "The Lord shall reign forever and ever." And behold David, the King of Israel, came first, and I beheld all the kings of the house of David following after him, and each had his crown on his head and the crown of David was more brilliant and differed from all the other crowns and its splendor went forth from one end of the world to the other. [126] When David went up to the great school which is in the firmament, there was set for him a throne of fire which was forty parasangs in height and double in length and double in breadth. And when David came and sat down upon his throne which was prepared for him opposite the throne of his Creator (and all the kings of the house of David sit before him, and all the kings of the house of Israel stand behind him) at once David arose and uttered songs and praises [such as] ear hath not heard from [the creation of] the world. And when David began and said, "The Lord shall rule forever; thy God, Zion, to all generations, Hallelujah!" Metatron and all his servants began and said, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts, all the earth is full of His glory," and the beasts praise God saying, "Blessed be the glory of the Lord from His [dwelling] place," and the firmaments say, "The Lord shall reign forever," and all the earth saith, "The Lord has been King, the Lord is King, the Lord shall be King, forever and ever," and all the kings of the house of David say, "The Lord shall be King over all the earth, in that day shall the Lord be one and His name One."

{...}

[The Second Apocalypse]

[130] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Thus did 'Akhtariel Yah the Lord God of Hosts converse with me, saying: "My friend Ishmael, know that I have not given to any of the nations of the world [permission] to enslave Israel, except for one day in this world, [and that] because Israel forsook Me and bowed down to other gods and set up a graven image in my house (and [therefore] did I drive My Shekinah forth from [that place] where I had sworn to cause My name to dwell forever). And they did anger Me and did provoke Me, they, their kings and their princes, their priests and their prophets. And for seven hundred years did they remain separate from Me. And I swore in Mine anger that I would subdue them beneath the [kingdom of] iron and the [kingdom of] clay. And their princes shall they kill and their kings shall they slaughter, their youths shall they cast out and their children shall they dash to pieces, and they shall make the yoke of their old men heavy and shall decree upon them harsh decrees until they shall pine away in their iniquity and in the iniquity of their fathers. Either let them return to Me, or the end shall be fulfilled, for thus have I sent unto them by the hand of My servants the prophets, that I will visit upon them the days of the Baalim when they did burn incense to them. And even as they did provoke Me to anger seven hundred years, so I will surely anger them and make them jealous with a foolish nation and a nation for which I set apart no kingdom, in that day when I cast lots for all the peoples. Because, even because....”

[131] Said Rabbi Ishmael: When I heard “Because, even because” my hands grew feeble and I fell prostrate upon my face and I was terrified and there was no force in me, neither to speak nor to answer. At once did Metatron the Prince of the Presence answer and said to me, “My friend, rise and stand and strengthen thy loins and understand and be intelligent in [the matter of] the words which He will speak to thee.” And I heard a voice going forth from between the two cherubim and saying: “My friend, Ishmael, fear not, for I will not exact from them payment measure for measure, for I know that they have not in them the strength to endure; but I act for My Name’s sake and I set division between the nations and great enmity between Edom and Ishmael, that they make war one with another and so destroy not utterly my people Israel.”

[132] Said Rabbi Ishmael: I sat and did reckon the reckoning which was first given me, and I reckoned to Babylon seventy years, and to Media fifty and two years, and to Greece an hundred and eighty years, and for Edom I had not yet made reckoning till I arose in the same prayer and in the same affliction in which I had first fallen aforetime. Straightway I heard a voice from heaven going forth and saying, “My friend, Ishmael, know thou that if Israel repent, forthwith shall they be re- deemed, for thus did I stipulate with Isaiah [30.15]: ‘In repenting and rest shall ye be saved.’”

[133] Said Rabbi Ishmael: I retorted word against word, and said, “If they do not repent, shall they never be redeemed?” He said to me, “Either they shall pine away in their iniquity or the end shall be completed.”

[134] Said Rabbi Ishmael: I retorted word against word, and said, “And may not the end of this wicked kingdom be revealed?” I heard a voice going forth and saying, “My friend Ishmael, at the end of the fulfillment of seven hundred years, from the time of the building of {the} house [which was built by the authority] of the kings of Persia, all things shall come to an end and they shall finally cease from off all the face of the earth and that shall be the cleansing of iniquities. Even as they did forsake Me seven hundred years and did serve the Baalim, so I, even I, will forsake them and will cast them off into the hand of the cruel, seven hundred years. And there shall be for them no saviour, no priest, neither teacher, and no prophet and no king and no leader and no prince until they turn and return to Me in prayer and in supplications for mercy. And yet, if they seek My Face, I shall be found of them, and I shall bring them back to their land.”

[135] Said Rabbi Ishmael: I retorted word against word and said, “And if they do not repent shall they never be redeemed?” He said to me “I will set over them a king whose decrees shall be harsh as Haman’s, and against their will, by compulsion, they shall return to Me. And this shall be [Daniel 8.23] ‘a king of fierce countenance and understanding dark sentences.’ [7.25] ‘And he shall speak words against the Most High, and shall wear out the saints of the Most High; and he shall think to change the times and the law; and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and half a time.’”

[136] Said Rabbi Ishmael: I reckoned the reckoning: For Babylon seventy years and for Media fifty and two and for Greece and hundred and eighty and for Edom accordingly I found the years to the destruction of the second temple to complete seven hundred years. And I sought in books which Daniel had closed up and sealed, and I found written in them: “Seven hundred years were determined and decreed upon Thy people and upon Thy holy city and at their fulfillment shall the transgressors cease and the sinners shall come to an end and the iniquity of a small people shall be atoned and He that is righteous forever shall bring the Messiah who has remained hidden and sealed [from the sight] of all the prophets and he shall anoint the Holy of Holies.”

[137] Said Rabbi Ishmael: And even as Daniel explained I found written [Daniel 9.24] “Seventy weeks are decreed upon Thy people and upon Thy holy city to finish the transgression and to make an end of sins and to make reconciliation for iniquity and to bring in everlasting righteousness and to seal up vision and prophecy and to anoint the Holy of Holies.” And these seventy weeks be a sign for seven hundred years, and when these do come to their end they shall end at even {ing}, and straightway shall come the light, for it is said [Zachariah 14.7] “And it shall come to pass that at evening time there shall be light.”

[138] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Why was this [vision of the] end revealed to me? Inasmuch as I had set my heart to study wisdom and to reckon seasons and times, minutes and ends, and a period of periods and a season of seasons. And I turned my face to the supernal Holy One in prayer and in supplications and in fasting and in sackcloth and in mourning, and I did often pray saying: “O Lord God of Hosts, God of Israel, how long are we to be loathsome and broken, made a mock and a derision among the peoples. All those who see us will mock us and say, ‘These are they, the people of the Lord. Why did He smite them and why did He cast them out from before His face?’ And they say, ‘Because of the greatness of their iniquity and the strength of their sin did He abominate them and loathed them and put them away from before His face and He shall bring them back no more?’” And because of this prayer did ’Akhtariel Yah, the Lord God of Israel converse with me.

[The Third Apocalypse]

[140] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Metatron, the great Prince of the Presence, spoke to me [saying]: “My friend, come and I shall reveal the Messianic end which even they of old time were not worthy that it should be revealed to them, but thy glory is weighed equal to [that of] Aaron the Priest. As for that generation in which the son of David shall come, in it are all the peoples like unto a woman in travail, eating and drinking but with no thought. And there shall be wailing among the holy, and cries of terror among the images of the mighty ones, and trembling shall arise in the cities and quaking in the provinces. And the vine shall yield its fruits, yet shall wine cost dear, and the olives shall be smitten and oil shall be dear. And none that laboreth, he and his household, all the day long suffereth to support himself and to support his household, because of the great cost of living. And when the nations of the world do see that this be so, they give authority for assistance in all things, as it is said [Psalms 97.7] ‘Ashamed be all they that serve graven images, that boast themselves of idols.’ And when thou seest all these signs, know that this is the Messianic end.

[142] Thereafter come four from the four winds of the world and these be they: the children of Maskidia from one quarter, the children of Shabbur from one quarter, the children of Mash and Marghish from one quarter, the children of Piston from one quarter and they make war with one another and kill one another, and there fall of them, that day, more than two hundred thousand slain. At that time do they say to one another, ‘Why should we make war? Come and we shall compromise and whoever winneth shall be supreme king and we shall all serve him.’

[143] Then shall the Messiah come forth from prison with [naught save] his staff and his sack, and he warneth them, ‘I am patient with you.’ Then do they say one to another, ‘With what shall he conquer us. His countenance is not that of men and his form is not that of men. His wealth is not that of men. His strength is not that of men. We are rich, strong, warlike, the children of kings. And this fellow – with what shall he conquer us?’ They say to him, ‘If we conquer you what do you give us?’ The Messiah saith unto them, ‘If you conquer me, behold I and all the children of Israel are your slaves.’ When they hear this, from the greatness of the love with which they love to enslave Israel doth each one say unto him ‘Say what thou wilt.’ The Messiah saith unto them, ‘The thing which I propose is small and is not great: He who bring to life all these slain shall be king over us.’ Straightway are their words stopped up and they have no mouth to speak. [144] Then doth the Messiah stand and wrap himself in prayer and gird himself as an hero before Him who spoke and the world was. He saith before Him, ‘Master of worlds, remember on my behalf the suffering and grief and darkness and obscurity in which I was cast, mine eyes which beheld no light and mine ears which heard great reviling and the scurvy of my skin upon my bones and the breaking of my heart in my vitals and the weakening of my strength with pain and grief. It is revealed and known before Thee that in this matter I have not acted for my own glory, nor yet for the glory of my father's house have I acted, but for Thy glory have I acted, for Thy sake and for Thy temple {and} for Thy children who dwell in sorrow among the peoples of the world.' Then do those two hundred thousand stand upon their feet and say, 'We are of Israel, we are of Israel' as it is said [Zech. 2.15], 'And many nations shall join themselves unto the Lord.' Then doth the Messiah say unto them, 'Go ye and assemble all your brethren from all the nations.' And they go and assemble all Israel and bring them and cause them to stand before the Messiah as it is said [Isaiah 66.20], 'And they shall bring all your brethren out of all the nations as an offering unto the Lord.'"

[145] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Zegangael, the Prince of the Presence, said to me, "All the peoples of the world are destined to come to the Messiah and say to him, 'We have heard concerning thee that thou hast power to kill and to make alive. We pray thee, speak with the Holy One, blessed be He, that He receive from us a gift.' He saith unto them, 'And what gift do you bring to me?' They say unto him, 'We have destroyed the house of dwelling, from it we shall enter.'* And we say unto them, 'Those men are wicked. He needeth not your building, for of it is written [Ps 147.2] "The Lord doth build up Jerusalem" etc.' They say unto him, 'We, if that be so, shall gather in it precious stones and pearls the like of which is not in all the world.' He saith unto them, 'Ye wicked, all precious stones and pearls are His, for it is said [Haggai 2.8], "The silver is Mine and the gold is Mine" etc.' Then doth the Holy Spirit answer them and saith unto them, 'Fools and evil-doers, what do ye bring in place of the great men and the lords whom ye have killed?' Straightway they go forth from before him in disappointment."

* In a marginal note, Scholem suggests that the reading of this quote be 'We shall enter from the temple which is destroyed'; that is, as their gift, the nations offer to rebuild the temple. This passage is similar to the offer—and rejection—of the Samaritans in Ezra 4.

[146] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Splendor of Height said to me, "Come and I shall show thee their appearance. Between firmament and firmament is hung water; between water and water, fire; between fire and fire, water; between water and water, fire and hail and water. Fire burneth more fiercely and there is a wall of fire on either side of the throne and seraphim standing before Him and saying, 'Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts' and beasts uttering praise, 'Blessed be the glory of the Lord from His [dwelling] place.' And the firmament saith, 'The Lord shall reign forever.' And the earth saith, 'The Lord reigneth, He is apparelled with majesty.' And the seas and the rivers utter praise and say, 'To Him who divided the Red Sea into parts' etc."

[147] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Splendor of Height said to me, "I make a request of thee: Say unto Israel, 'Love the repentant.' For repentance reacheth and goeth to the throne of glory, three hundred and ninety firmaments (removed). The repentant are greater than the ministering angels. [148] For at the time when Israel went into exile, Metatron and Yikhael and Gabhriel said 'What shall we do?' Forthwith they laid their hands upon their heads and wept with a loud voice and said, 'Who will go up to the height of heights and weep before Him who spoke and the world was, that He shall return from the fierceness of His anger and shall have mercy upon His children. [149] Metatron said to them, 'I shall go up when they go up.' All those who glowed with fire shrank trembling from before him. When he had ascended [through] eighty firmaments the heavens and the heavens of the heavens shook and the holy ones above said with one voice, 'How comes it that the odor of one born of woman ascendeth on high' until the Holy One, blessed be He, said unto them, 'He is one of the servants of justice and of My seraphs. Permit him that he come and weep over [the fate of] My children who have gone into exile among wolves and among lions, and over their temple and their Law, that the son of the son of Nimrod the wicked has burned them, and over sages and students who were killed in the holy temple. Heaven forbid that My hands were relaxed and that I was not able to deliver them because they themselves relaxed from the study of the Law, and there were not among them penitents who might beseech mercy upon them. For if only there had been among them penitents who might have besought mercy upon them I had not made them over death.' Behold, thou hast learned that the repentant are greater than the ministering angels."

[150] Said Rabbi Ishmael: These heavens [of which I speak] are 390 [in number] for such [is the numerical value of the word] Shamaim [viz: heavens] in gematria. And lest thou shouldst say that these [heavens] alone exist [I state in advance that the fact is not so] but this far it is permitted to speak, from here on thou hast no right to speak. For there is no number to the membranes, and there is no end and reckoning, and there is no sum to firmaments of fire. And the conflagration cometh. But search not deeply into this matter, that thou be not banished from the world, but put an end [to the questionings] in thy heart.

[151] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Once I was burning whole burnt offering upon the altar and I beheld 'Akhtariel Yah the Lord of Hosts sitting on a throne high and lifted up. He said to me, "Ishmael, my son, bless Me." I said before Him, "Master of the Worlds, may it be Thy will, O Lord my God, that Thy mercy conquer Thine anger, and may Thy mercy prevail over Thine [other] attributes, and deal with Thy children according to Thine attribute of mercy, and walk, for their sakes, within the line of justice." And He nodded toward me.

CHAPTER VII:

[152] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Surya, the Prince of the Presence, spoke to me, saying, "Friend, I shall tell thee the praise of the King and of His throne." Therefore it is said:

Thou hast uplifted the throne of Thy glory upon the cherubim of heaven,
And the ophanim of greatness do bear it,
And creatures of frost, creatures of mist, creatures of flame,
Crowned with loftiness and with splendor.
And the eyes of Shaddai are lifted up upon them,
And they were extended beneath it
As rams beneath the plough.
And it was erected upon their heads
With strength, might and power.

(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.")

[153] Be exalted, be raised on high, be lifted up, O splendid King!
Upon the throne raised high and lifted up, fearful and terrific.
Thou dwellest in the chambers of the temple of loftiness.
The servants of Thy throne are terrified and make tremble
The heavens which are the footstool of Thy feet, each day,
With voice of exultation and tumult of psalmody and roar of songs.

(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.")

[154] Messengers of the Power [of God] and awakeners of the Shekhinah (Tumultuous of voice, who magnify song
To the voice of the servants and the voice of the mighty)
Sing, with sweet mouth and with holy melody,
Him who dwelleth in the lava stream of flaming coals.

[155] They bear up the wheel of the throne of His glory, [singing]:
"Sing, sing for joy, supernal dwelling!
"Shout, shout for joy, precious vessel!
"Made marvelously and a marvel.
"Surely thou shalt gladden the King who sitteth upon thee,
"[With a joy] as the joy of the bridegroom in his bridechamber.
"Let him rejoice, and let all the seed of Jacob be glad."
[Thus said I] when I came to take refuge under the shadow of Thy wings
In the joy of my heart which rejoiced in thee.

(For thy converse [my heart] is with the converse of the King
And with thy Maker thou dost hold discourse.)
(As it is said, “Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.”)

- [156] O wreathed with splendor, crowned with crowns, Supernal singers in the song of rejoylation
Extol ye the Lord of flame,
For in the innermost Shekhinah, in the innermost chamber
Of the chamber of His chambers do ye dwell.
He hath distinguished your name from the name of His servants,
He hath separated you from the servants of the Merkabha.
He who nameth the name of one from among you –
Fire flames, flame encircles,
Blaze encompasseth, coals of splendor brought forth.
(As it is said, “Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.”)

- [157] O beloved of the Fearful, chosen of the Most High,
Ye who lift up [your] faces, whose converse is majestic,
Agreeable and pleasant in the eyes of Shaddai,
Who speak and are heard in the presence of the splendid King, Servants of his majesty, crying: “King majestic “Enthroned in the chambers of the palace of silence
“Dread and fear, holiness and purity.”
(As it is said, “Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.”)

CHAPTER VIII:

- [158] O ye who cancel decrees, who annul vows,
Who avert wrath, who quiet jealousy,
Who cause love to be remembered, who set forth friendship
Before the loftiness of the majesty of the fearful palace,
What aileth ye that ye be fearful
And there be times when ye rejoice?
What aileth ye that ye do sing for exultation,
And there be times when ye are terrified?
They said:
“When the ophanim of the power of God darken the Merkabha
“We rejoice with great joy.”
(As it is said, “Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.”)
- [159] A lovely face, a majestic face,
A face of beauty, a face of flame,
Is the face of the Lord God of Israel
When He sitteth upon the throne of His glory
And His dignity is established in the dwelling of His majesty.
His beauty is more lovely than the beauty of the powers,
His majesty surpasseth the majesty of the bridegrooms
And brides in their bride-chambers.
He that beholdeth Him is at once torn in pieces,
And he that glimpseth His beauty at once poureth himself out as a vessel.

[160] They who serve Him to-day
 Serve Him not to-morrow,
 And they who serve Him to-morrow
 Serve Him never again.
 For their strength grew feeble and their faces darkened,
 Their hearts wandered and their eyes were obscured
 After [the vision of] His majesty, the splendor of the beauty of their King.
 (As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy.")

Servitors beloved, servitors lovely,
 Servitors who hasten, servitors swift,
 Are they who stand upon the stone of the throne of the glory
 And who are stationed upon the wheel of the Merkabha.
 As the stone of the throne of the glory returneth upon them,
 As the wheel of the Merkabha snatches them
 They who stand to the right return and stand to the left
 And they who stand to the left return and stand to the right,
 And they who stand before return and stand behind
 And they who stand behind return and stand before.
 He who beholdeth the other saith, "This is he,"
 For the feature of the face of the one
 Is like the feature of the face of the other,
 And the feature of the face of the other
 Is like the feature of the face of the one.
 Happy the King of whom those be the servants!
 And happy the servants of whom this be the King!
 Happy the eye which feedeth itself
 And which gazeth upon this wonderful light,
 A vision wonderful and exceeding strange!
 (As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy.")

[161] Rivers of joy, rivers of rejoicing,
 Rivers of jubilation, rivers of content,
 Rivers of love, rivers of friendship,
 Pour themselves, issuing forth from before the throne of glory,
 Strengthen themselves and pass through the gates of the seventh heaven.
 From the sound of the playing of the harps of His beasts,
 From the sound of the exultation of the drums of His ophanim,
 And from the sound of music of the cymbals of His cherubim
 A sound strengtheneth itself and goeth forth in a great tumult
 When Israel saith before Him,
 "Holy, Holy, Holy."

CHAPTER IX:

[162] In the sound of the seas, in the tumult of rivers
 In the waves of Tarshish which the south wind troubleth,
 In the sound of the song of the throne of glory
 Which maketh music and praiseth the splendid King –
 A multitude of sounds and great tumult! –

Many did utter their voices
Before the throne of glory, to aid it and to strengthen it,
When it maketh music and applaudeth the Mighty One of Jacob.
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy.")

- [163] "Blessed be ye to the heavens and to the earth, ye who descend to the Merkabha,
"If ye will say and will declare to My children what I do,
"In morning prayer and in noonday and in evening prayer
"And in each day and in each hour
"When Israel saith before me 'Holy.'
"Teach them, and say unto them,
"Lift up your eyes to the firmament over against your house of prayer
"At the time when you say before Me "Holy.""
"For I have no pleasure in all My world which I have created
"Like in that time when your eyes are lifted up to Mine
"And Mine eyes are lifted up to yours,
"At the time you say before Me, 'Holy.'
"For the breath which goeth forth from your mouths at that time
"Moveth and riseth up before Me as a pleasant savor.
- [164] "And bear witness to them, witness of what ye have seen,
"What I do to the feature of the face of Jacob your father
"Which is graven for Me upon the throne of My glory,
"For at the time when you say before Me, 'Holy,'
"I bow down upon it and clasp it
"And embrace it and kiss it
"And My hands rest upon its arms three times
"As against the three times that you say before Me, 'Holy.'"
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy.")
- [165] Who will not attribute majesty to the King majestic,
Who will not give praise to the King who is praised,
Who will not hallow the King who is hallowed?
For each day do powers and many wonders
Come to pass before Him, each surpassing and more strange than the other.
For from the breath of the eyelids of His chief servants,
Which moveth and goeth out from their mouths
When they make mention of that splendid name,
The name which entereth by the ears and goeth out by the mouth
And which is forgotten from the heart that is not fitted for it.
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy.")
- [166] For in that place where it be mentioned
It lighteneth and dawneth and gildeth and silvereth
And moveth topaz and onyx and sapphire,
Carbuncle and emerald and pure marble,
For wonderful and strange and great secret is it,
The name by which heaven and earth were created
And by which all the categories of creation
Were swallowed up and bound together and suspended and sealed.
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy.")

CHAPTER X:

- [167] Be proud, be proud ye lofty!
Lift yourselves up, lift yourselves up ye splendid!
Strengthen, strengthen yourselves, ye strong!
Exalt, exalt yourselves, ye haughty!
For to the King of the world and to all His servants,
To them alone,
[Belong] loftiness and strength, haughtiness and splendor.
For it is fitting that the servants of His sublimity should exalt themselves,
And it is proper that they who bear up His throne should make themselves strong.

{Shi'ur Qomah material begins}

- [167] For from the throne of His glory and upwards His height is one hundred and eighty thousands of myriads of parasangs, and from the throne of His glory and downwards there be one hundred and eighty thousands of myriads of parasangs. His stature is two hundred and thirty and six thousands of myriads of parasangs. From the ball of the right eye to the ball of the left eye there be thirty myriads of parasangs. The width of His right eye is three myriads of parasangs and three thousand parasangs, and so for His left eye. And from His right arm to His left arm His width is seventy and seven myriads of parasangs, and His arms are folded upon His shoulders. His right arm – The Mover is its name, and the name of His left arm is The Follower (?) The palms of His hands are four thousands of myriads of parasangs, each one. The right palm – its name is Just, and of the left the name is Holy. Therefore He was called “God the great, the strong, and the fearful.” Said Metatron, “Thus far have I beheld the height of Jedidiah, the Master of the world. Peace.” [These revelations enable us to understand the verses in the Song of Songs 5.9 ff.] “What is thy beloved move than another beloved, O thou fairest among women?” etc. “My love is white and ruddy,” etc., all the section down to “daughters of Jerusalem.”

{Shi'ur Qomah material ends}

- [168] For how many of the mighty are they
Who bear up the throne of the glory of this mighty King, Standing laden, day and night,
Evening and morning and noon, in trembling and in terror,
In fright, in shivering, in shaking and in fear!
And how great strength is there in ye, ye servants of our God,
That ye recall to Him and cause Him to hear
The reminder of His name, in the height of the world!
There is no searching out and no telling the sound and the strength.
(As it is said, “Holy, holy, holy.”)

- [169] The ban of Heaven be upon ye, ye who descend to the Merkabha,
If ye remember not and declare not what ye have heard
And if ye bear not witness of what ye have seen on the faces,
The faces of loftiness, the faces of strength,
The faces of sublimity, the faces of splendor,
Which lift themselves up, and maintain themselves on high, which crowd upward and make themselves great,
The faces exalt and strengthen themselves
Three times each day, on high,
And the children of men know them not and recognize them not.
(As it is said, “Holy, holy, holy.”)

CHAPTER XI:

[170] When the Angel of the Presence goeth in to arrange and to set in order the throne of His glory and to prepare a seat for the Mighty One of Jacob, a thousand diadems doth he bind upon the head of each one of the ophanim of majesty, and a thousand times doth he kneel and fall down and prostrate himself before each one of them. Two thousand diadems doth he bind upon the head of each one of the cherubim of glory, and two thousand times doth he kneel and fall down and prostrate himself before each one of them. Three thousand diadems doth he bind upon the head of each one of the Holy Beasts, and three thousand times doth he kneel and fall down and prostrate himself before each one of them. Six thousand diadems doth he bind to [him who is called] Shining Light, to him and to eight thousand thousands of thousands of myriad myriads of myriads of diadems, and six thousand times doth he kneel and fall down and prostrate himself before each one of them. Twelve thousand diadems doth he bind upon [the angel of] lightning, upon him and upon sixteen thousand thousands and myriad myriads of myriads of diadems, twelve thousand times doth he kneel and fall down and prostrate himself before each one of them.

[172] I make a request of ye^{*}
Hypostates, who bear the throne of His glory
With whole heart and with longing soul:
Increase jubilation and exultation and song and the making of music
Before the glorious throne of 'Totrosiai Nebhobh Medhath Za'an.
(And there be those who say 'Tesar Nadhibh Merath Za'an the Lord God of Israel.)
And let His heart rejoice at the time of the prayer of his children,
And He will permit Himself to be sought and to be found of them that descend to the Merkabha
At the time when they stand before the throne of His glory.

^{*} Smith's indication of a lacuna here appears unnecessary. Kuyt has, "I ask of you, MDWT of the bearers of the throne of glory" (—The 'Descent' to the Chariot, page 176).

[173] Each day, when the dawn beginneth to appear,
The King majestic sitteth and blesseth the beasts"
"To ye, Beasts, do I speak,
"Ye, Creatures, do I cause to hear.
"O Beasts, who bear the throne of My glory
"With whole heart and with longing soul,
"May that hour be blest in which I created ye,
"May that planet be exalted under which I formed ye,
"May the light of that day
"In which ye occurred to the thoughts of My heart, shine.
"For ye are a precious vessel which I have prepared and have completed.
"Be silent before Me, all creatures which I have made,
"That I may listen and give ear to the voice of the prayer of My children."

{...}

{A marginal note at this place reads: '(Something omitted / ית' = תכרך ? So probably best left out / thrice below)'}
{...}

[178] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Happy are Israel! How much dearer are they in the sight of the Holy One, blessed be He, than are the ministering angels! For when the ministering angels wish to sing a song of heaven above, they first gather about the throne of glory, like mountains of fire and hills of flame, and the Holy One, blessed be He, saith unto them, "Be silent before Me each angel and each beast and each ophan and each seraph whom

I have created until I shall first have heard and have given ear unto the voice of the song of the praise of Israel My children.” For it is said [Job 38.7], “When the morning stars sang together,” these be Israel; “And all the sons of God shouted for joy,” these be the household of the angels. When is there glory in heaven, as it is written [Psalms 57.11], “Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens”? At the time when “thy glory [is over] all the earth,” etc. Thousands of myriads of ministering angels stand to the right of the throne, and over against them to the left of the throne, and between the surrounding rivers stand the princes, the great ones, they who stand in command of each troop and each host to the right of the throne and to the left of the throne, and who teach [them] to sing songs and to make music for the glory of the King of Kings of Kings, the Holy One, blessed be He.

[179] When it cometh the time of the angels to sing songs and to make music before the Holy One, blessed be He, the Lord, [then doth] the angel Shamiel, the great, honored and fearful prince stand above the windows of the lowest firmament to hear and to attend to the sound of the songs and the music and the praises which ascend from the earth, from the synagogues and from the schools, that he may cause them to be heard before the seventh heaven. [180] And why doth he stand above the windows of the firmament? Because the ministering angels have not permission to sing a song [in heaven] above until Israel first open their mouths in song [on earth] below, as it is said, “Praise ye the Lord our God.” And all the ministering angels and all angels of each heaven, when they hear the voice of songs and praises which Israel saith [on earth] below, do commence [in heaven] above with “Holy, holy, holy.” [180] And why is the name of that prince called Shamiel? Because at each dawn he standeth and causeth the voice of songs and praises which ascend from earth, from synagogues and schools, to be heard before each firmament unto the seventh heaven and the holy beasts and ophanim and seraphim and cherubim of majesty. When they heareth [the voice of Israel] and causeth it to be heard in each firmament, straightway there descend troops upon troops, ranks upon ranks, companies upon companies, camps upon camps, divisions upon divisions of ministering angels from every firmament to the midst of rivers of fire and rivers of flame and rivers of burning and immerse themselves therein seven times and examine themselves in fire three hundred and sixty and five times.

[181] And have, then, the ministering angels flux and [are they liable to] impurity, that they need immersion? But these are those ministering angels who are set over the service of the world and who descend each day to make peace in the world. And when the time of song cometh they mount up to the firmament. And because of the odor of the children of men born of women, because they do have flux are [are liable to] impurity, [these angels] immerse themselves in fire and cleanse and make brilliant and separate and examine and strengthen and magnify and better themselves in fire until they make themselves holy and hallowed, clean and cleansed, and they return and are once more the angels of the seventh heaven.

[182] And thereafter do they call one to another and speak one to another and they ascend from the rivers of fire each with the permission of the other and they strengthen themselves and make themselves like unto light and unto lightning of the splendors of splendor. And thereafter they go up on a ladder of fire, each with the permission of the other, with laud, with praise, with psalm, with rejoicing, with exultation, until they come unto the soldiers of the seventh heaven, unto lightnings of brilliance, unto cherubim and ophanim, unto holy beasts, unto the wheels of the Merkabha, unto the majesties of the countenance, unto the winged beings, unto the throne which is high and lifted up. [183] Forthwith do they stand in fear and in trembling and in shaking and in holiness and in truth and in humility and cover their faces with their wings that they behold not the likeness of God who sitteth upon the Merkabha, and there stand troops upon troops of a thousand thousands of thousands and ranks upon ranks of a myriad myriads of myriads and camps upon camps uncountable and hosts upon hosts without number, like unto mountains upon mountains of fire, and like unto hills upon hills of flame, before the throne of glory. And then doth the Holy One, blessed be He, seat Himself upon the throne of glory, and His glory filleth the world, as it is said, “All the earth is full of His glory.”

[184] And moreover the holy beasts do strengthen and hallow and purify themselves more than these, and each beast has bound upon its head a thousand thousands of thousands of crowns of luminaries of diverse sort, and they are clothed in clothing of fire and wrapped in a covering of flame and cover their faces with lightning. And the Holy One, blessed be He, uncovereth His face.

[185] And wherefore do the holy beasts and the ophanim of magnificence and the cherubim of majesty hallow and purify and clothe and wrap and adorn themselves yet more? Because the Merkabha is upon their faces and the throne of glory upon their heads and the Shekhina over them and rivers of fire pass between them, accordingly do they strengthen themselves and make themselves splendid and purify themselves in fire seventy times and do all of them stand in cleanliness and holiness and sing songs and music, praise and rejoicing and applause, with one voice, with one utterance, with one mind and with one melody.

[186] And not only [do they purify themselves] but [nevertheless] there fall from them – that is, from the ministering angels – a thousand thousands and myriad myriads, fall to the river of fire and are burned. Wherefore? Because there may not be among them any who preceedeth or delayeth, who singeth more softly or loudly the song and the sanctus [which are sung] before the King of Kings of Kings. Accordingly any who preceedeth the rest or who delayeth [and singeth] after them in the song is at once burned.

[187] But among the holy beasts there is none that preceedeth or delayeth because their height is one and their breadth is one and their clothing is one and their strength is one and the crowns on their heads are one and their splendor is one. And the creatures are arranged at the four feet of the throne, one over against the other: One wheel over against another, one ophan over against another, one beast over against another, one cherub over against another and one melody over against another. And they open their mouths in song, in thanksgiving, in fear, in fright, in terror, in trembling, in shaking, in shivering, in cleanliness and in holiness and in a still, small voice, as it is said, “and after the tumult (sic) a still, small voice.”

[188] And they lift up the Merkabha with a sound of songs, with praise and with laud. Then do the holy hallow, the pure applaud, the messengers exalt, the wheels rejoice, the cherubim praise, the beasts bless, the seraphim give utterance, the troops magnify, the angels make music and they are divided into three groups of a thousand thousands and myriad of myriads. One group saith, “Holy, holy, holy,” and kneeleth and falleth prostrate; and the second group saith, “Holy, holy, holy,” and kneeleth and falleth prostrate; and the third group saith, “Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts, all the earth is full of His glory,” and it kneeleth and falleth prostrate. And the beasts from under the throne of glory answer after them and say, “Blessed be the glory of the Lord from His dwelling place.”

[189] Each day, when [the time of] the afternoon prayer arriveth,
The King majestic sitteth and praiseth the beasts,
But before He have finished speaking
The holy beasts come forth from beneath the throne of glory,
Their mouths full of exultation, their wings full of jubilation,
Clapping their hands, their feet dancing,
And they encircle and surround their King,
One on His right and one on His left
And one before Him and one behind Him.
And they embrace and kiss Him and uncover their faces,
(They uncover, and the King of glory covereth His face)
And the seventh heaven is broken like a sieve
Because of the effulgence of the splendor of the beauty of the dignity
Of the loveliness of the mercy of the desire of the brilliance
Of the glory of the praise of the appearance of their faces.
(As it is said, “Holy, holy, holy.”)

CHAPTER XII:

[190] They who cancel decrees, who annul vows,
Who avert wrath, who quiet jealousy,
Who cause love to be remembered – the love of Abraham – before their King,
When they behold Him, that He is angry against His children,
What do they do?
They beat upon their crowns and ungird their loins
And strike their heads and fall upon their faces
And say:
“Release, release, O Maker of Creation!
“Pardon, pardon, O mighty One of Jacob!
“Atone, atone, O Holy One of Israel!
“For loftiest of Kings art thou.
“King fearful, King terrific,
“King beloved, King honored,
“Why shouldst Thou be hostile against the seed of Abraham?
“Why shouldst Thou be jealous against the seed of Isaac?
“Why shouldst Thou be contentious against the seed of Jacob?
“For Thou hast called them the purchase of heaven and earth.”

And horns come out from beneath the throne of His glory
In many multitudes, and blow long and loud, and bless [saying]:
“Blessed be ye who are advocates for My children,
“Praised be ye who laud the Patriarchs”

And all the host on high rendered them glory and greatness, 'drw 'th t'n 'wry tzt the Lord God of Israel, which they were called.

[196] Behold it saith [I Chr. 29.2 ff.]: “Thine, Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty: for all that is in the heaven and in the earth [is Thine]; Thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and Thou art exalted as head above all. Both riches and honor come of Thee, and Thou rulest over all, and in Thine hand is power and might, and in Thine hand it is to make great and to give strength unto all. Now, therefore, our God, we thank Thee, and praise Thy glorious name.” And it saith, “How many are Thy works, O Lord, all of them hast Thou made with wisdom. The earth is full of Thy creatures.” Therefore be clothed with majesty, be exalted and be lifted up, O splendid King, be blessed and be praised and be hallowed, Totrosi'ai Lord God of Israel. (For He is called Totrosi'ai, Totrosyah, Totrosy'a, Totrosih, Totrosiel, Totrosig, Totrosikh, Totrosiph, Totrosiz, Totrosish, Totrosibh, Totrosin, Totrosis, Totrosi', Totrosik, Totrosith, Zurtag, Zoharariel, 'Ashrawwili'ai. And the right procedure in dealing with this paragraph with these great [magical] names is to read Totrosi'ai to Totrosith according to this order, Yod, He, Aleph, Heth, Lamed, Gimel, Kaph, Pe, Zade, etc. [These being the final letters of the names.]

CHAPTER XIII:

[198] Said Rabbi Ishmael: When Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah saw that the wicked city Rome had taken counsel against the mighty ones of Israel to destroy them, he straightway revealed the secret of the world, that which is seen of him who is worthy to gaze upon the King and His throne, in His glory and His beauty, and [upon] the holy beasts, upon the cherubim of the Power [of God], and upon the ophanim of the Shekinah, upon lightning terrific, upon chain-lightning terrible, when the lava-stream which encompasseth His throne, upon its bridges and upon conflagrations which increase in strength and rise up between one bridge and another, and

upon dust of smoke and upon wind of splendour which raised all the dust of coals which was covering and hiding with the darkness of coals all the chambers of the palace of the seventh heaven. And Surya, Prince of the Presence, the servant of Totrakhiel the Lord, is great.

[199] To what can this scheme for those who descend to the Merkabha be likened? It is like unto a man who hath a ladder in his house, [and] who was going up and down on it and there is no creature that preventeth him. Whoever is clean and guiltless of idolatry and of sexual sins and of murder and of slander and vain oaths and of blasphemy and presumption and of groundless enmity and who keepeth every positive and negative commandment.

[200] Said Rabbi Ishmael: My master Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah said to me: Scion of nobles, fortunate is he (who is thus clean) and fortunate is his soul, for everyone who is clean and guiltless of these eight matters (which Totrakiel the Lord and His servant Surya the Prince of the Presence loathe) may go down and gaze

On the wonderful loftiness and strange lordship
Loftiness of exaltation and lordship of splendor,
Which come to pass before the throne of His glory
Three times each day, on high
From the day when the world was created and until now, for praise,
With which Totrakiel the Lord doth conduct himself on high.

CHAPTER XIV

[201] Said Rabbi Ishmael: When my ears heard this warning my strength grew feeble. I said to Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah my master, "If so there is no end to the matter. For you will find no man whose soul is yet in his body who is clean and guiltless of these eight matters." He said to me, "Scion of nobles, and if not – ? Arise and bring before me all the great ones of the company and all the mighty ones of the academy, and I shall declare before them the hidden, the concealed secrets, wonders of the ascent, and the weaving of the web upon which the perfection of the world and the excellence thereof doth stand, and the beauty of heaven and earth (wherein all the ends of the earth and the world and the ends of the firmaments of the height are bound, sewed and joined, hung and standing) and the path of the ladder to the height, of which one end is on earth and one end on the right foot of the throne of glory."

[202] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Straightway I arose and assembled all the Sanhedrin, great and small, to the third entrance which was in the house of the Lord. And he was sitting upon a chair of pure marble which Elisha my father gave me, for it was of the goods of her that bore me which she did bring to him in her dowry. [203] And there came Rabban Simon ben Gamliel and Rabbi Eliezer the Great and Rabbi Elazar ben Dama and Elazar ben Shammua and Jonathan ben Dahabhai and Haninah ben Hakkanai and Jonathan ben Uziel and Rabbi Akiba and Rabbi Judah ben Babba. We came and sat down before him. And all the multitude of companies were standing upon their feet, for they saw spiderwebs of fire and torches of light which made a separation between them and between us. And Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah sitteth and setteth in order before them all the teachings concerning the Merkabha, [the] descent and [the] ascent, how he descendeth who descendeth, and how he ascendeth who ascendeth.

[204] And whenever a man wished to descend to the Merkabha he would call to Surya the Prince of the Presence and conjure him one hundred and twelve times by Totrosi'ai the Lord (who is called Totrosi'ai Zurtak Totrakhiel Tophgar 'Ashrawwili'ai Zebhodi'el Zoharari'el Tandiel, and Shekhadhozi'ai Dehibhiron, and 'Andiriron the Lord God of Israel. And let him beware that he do not exceed an hundred and twelve times and do not diminish from them. And if he exceed or diminish his blood is upon his own head. Bit his mouth must utter [the words of conjuration] and the fingers of his hands must count one hundred and twelve and forthwith he may go down and rule in the [world of the] Merkabha.)

CHAPTER XV

[206] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Thus did Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah say to me: 'Totrosi'ai the Lord God of Israel of Hosts sitteth within seven palaces, one within another. And at the entrance to each palace are eight door-keepers, four to the right of the lintel and four to the left of the lintel. These be the names of the door-keepers of the first palace: Lahabhiel, and Kashrael, Gahoriel, Zekhuthiel, Tophhiel, and Lahariel, Mathkiel, and Shuwael. And there be those who say, And Shubhael. These be the names of the door-keepers of the second palace: Tagriel, and Mathpiel, Sarhiel, and 'Azpiel, Shaharariel, and Starel, Rig'iel, and Sahabiel. And these be the names of the door-keepers of the third palace: Shebhuriel, and Rezuziel, and Shalmiel, Sabhlael, and Zahazhael, Hadarel, and Puriel, and Paltriel. These be the names of the door-keepers of the fourth palace: Pahdiel, Gebhurthiel, Pozaziel, and Shekhinael, Shathkael, and 'Arbhiel, and Kapiel, and 'Anaphiel. These be the names of the door-keepers of the fifth palace: Tehilael, and 'Azziel, Gatoel, Gathoel, and Sa'aphriel, Naraphiel, and Gariel, Hadiel. And these be the names of the door-keepers of the sixth palace: Domiel, and Kazpiel, Gahaghiel, and 'Arasbarasbiel, 'Anromiel, and Parziel, and Magogael, and Tophrael.

And at the door of the seventh palace stand angry all the heroes, warlike, strong, harsh, fearful, terrific, taller than mountains and sharper than peaks, Their bows are strung and stand before them; their swords are sharpened and in their hands. And lightnings flow and issue forth from the balls of their eyes, and spider-webs of fire from their nostrils and torches of fiery coals from their mouths. And they are equipped with helmets and with coats of mail, and javelins and spears are hung upon their thews.

CHAPTER XVI

Their horses be heroes of darkness, horses of the shadow of death, horses of thick darkness, horses of fire, horses of blood, horses of hail, horses of iron, horses of fog. The horses upon which they ride stand beside mangers of fire full of coals of juniper and eat fiery coals from their mangers, [taking] a measure of forty bushel of coals in one mouthful. And the measure of the [content of the] mouth of such horse is [the content of] three mangers such as the mangers of Caesaraea, and the measure of each manger is the measure of the gate of Caesaraea. And there be rivers of fire beside their mangers, and each of their horses drinks as the measure of the fullness of the watercourse which is in the valley of Kidron, which bringeth and containeth all the rainwater of all Jerusalem. And in that place was a cloud above their heads, showering blood above their heads and [above the heads] of their horses. And this is the sign and the measure of the horses of the entrance of the seventh palace and a horse of the entrance of each palace.

[216] And all those who descend to the Merkabha ascend and are not harmed, but they behold all this trouble and descend safely and come to stand and bear witness and tell the fearful and terrific vision. (Whereas, in the palaces of kings who are flesh and blood, matters are otherwise. [Neither are such visions seen, nor do visitors get safely out.]) And they bless and praise and applaud and glorify and exalt and magnify and attribute honor and beauty and greatness to 'Totrosi'ai the Lord God of Israel who rejoiced in those who descend to the Merkabha and who sat and looked for each one of Israel, to know when he would descend and behold

The wonderful loftiness and strange lordship,
Loftiness of exaltation and lordship of splendor,
Which come to pass before the throne of His glory Three times each day, on high,
From the time when the world was created
And until now, for praise.

[217] King just, King faithful, King beloved, King lovely, King supporting King lowly, King humble, King righteous, King pious, King holy, King pure, King blessed, King lofty, King mighty, King gracious, King merciful, King of Kings of Kings and Lord of the Crowns.

[218] Totrosi'ai the Lord God of Israel desireth and awaiteth –
 In such measure as He awaiteth for the redemption and for the season of salvation
 Which is laid up for Israel for a day of vengeance
 After the destruction of the last temple –
 When shall he descendeth to the Merkabha descend?
 When shall he see the loftiness of the height?
 When shall he see the end which bringeth salvation?
 When shall he hear the end which is wrought by wonders?
 When shall he see that which eye hath not seen?
 When shall he ascend and tell to the seed of Abraham who loved Him?

CHAPTER XVII

[219] Said Rabbi Ishmael: When thou comest and standest at the entrance of the first palace take two seals in thy hands, one that of Totrosi'ai the Lord and one that of Surya the Prince of the Presence. Show that of Totrosi'ai the Lord to those standing to the left. Straightway Dahabhiel the Prince who is head of the entrance of the first palace and is appointed over the first palace and standeth to the right of the lintel, and Tophahiel the Prince who standeth to the left of the lintel with him, – straightway they seize thee, one from thy right and one from thy left until they bring thee and hand thee over to Taghriel and Mathpiel and make thy peace with them and warn them concerning thee. Now Taghriel is the prince who is head of the entrance of the second palace and standeth to the right of the lintel, and Mathpiel is the prince who standeth to the left of the lintel with him. [220] And show them two seals, one of 'Adhriwaron the Lord and one of 'Uzhiy'a the Prince of the Presence. Show that of 'Adhriwaron the Lord to those standing to the right, and show that of 'Uzhiy'a the Prince of the Presence too those standing to the left. Straightway they seize thee, one from thy right and one from thy left, until they bring thee and hand the over to Shebhoriel and Reziziel and make thy peace with them and warn them concerning thee. Now Shebhoriel is the prince who is head of the entrance of the third palace and standeth to the right of the lintel, and Reziziel is the prince who standeth to the left of the lintel with him. Show them two seals, one of Zurtak the Lord to those standing to the right, and show that of Dehabhyoron the Prince of the Presence to those standing to the left. Straightway they seize thee, one from thy right and one from thy left, and these bring thee – two princes before and two princes behinds the – and hand thee over to Pahdiel and Gebhortiel and make thy peace with them and warn them concerning thee. Now Pahdiel is the prince who is head of the entrance of the fourth palace and standeth to the right of the lintel, and Gebhortiel is the prince who standeth to the right of the lintel with him. And show them two seals, one of Zebhoriel the Lord and one of Margiwiel the Prince of the Presence. Show that of Zebhoriel the Lord to those standing to the right, and show that of Margiwiel the Prince of the Presence to those standing to the left. Straightway they seize thee, one from thy right and one from thy left, until they bring thee and hand thee over to Tehilael and 'Azriel and make thy peace with them and warn them concerning thee. Now Tehilael is the prince who is head of the entrance of the fifth palace and standeth to the right of the lintel, and 'Azriel is the prince who standeth to the left of the lintel with him. And show them two seals, one of Totrakhiel the Lord and one of Zehaphtariai the Prince of the Presence. Show that of Totrakhiel to those standing to the right, and show that of Zehaphtariai to those standing to the left. Straightway they seize thee and bring thee – three princes before thee and three princes behind thee and two princes at thy sides, [224] because the door-keepers of the sixth palace would destroy all those who “do and do not” descend to the Merkabha because they act without permission. And [the superior powers] did give the door-keepers orders and beat them and burn them and set others in their place. And also the others who replace them behave in the same fashion, for they do not fear, nor do they consider, saying: “Why should we be burned and what pleasure is it to us that we should destroy [all] those that do and do not descend to the Merkabha because they act without permission?” And this is still the behaviour of the door-keepers of the sixth palace.

CHAPTER XVIII:

[225] Said Rabbi Ishmael: All the companions said to me: “Scion of nobles, thou who rulest by the light of the Law as doth Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah, see him and bring him back that he sit with us, leaving the vision which he glimpseth in the vision of the Merkabha, and that he tell us who is he who doth and doth not descend to the Merkabha – he whom the door-keepers of the sixth palace would attack, for they would not touch at all those who [really] descend to the Merkabha. What is the difference between those [who would not be attacked] and those [who would]?”

[226] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Thereupon I took a piece of woolen cloth and gave it to Rabbi Akiba, and Rabbi Akiba gave it to a servant of ours, saying, “Go and lay this cloth beside a woman who immersed herself and yet did not become pure, and let her immerse [herself a second time]. For if that woman will come and will declare the measure of her menstrual flow before the company, it is known that one forbids [her to her husband] and the majority permit. Say to that woman, ‘Touch this cloth with the end of the middle finger of thy hand, and press not the end of thy finger upon it, but [only] as a man [presseth] who taketh a hair, which hath fallen therein, from out his eye-ball, pushing it very gently.’” [227] They went and did so, and placed the cloth before Rabbi Ishmael. He [picked it up by] thrusting into it a bough of myrrh full of oil of spikenard which was laid up in clean balsam and they placed it upon the knees of Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah and therewith caused him to be dismissed from before the throne of glory where he had been sitting and beholding

Wonderful loftiness and strange lordship
Loftiness of exaltation and lordship of splendor,
Which come to pass before the throne of His glory
Three times each day, on high,
From the time when the world was created
And until now, for praise.

[228] And we besought of him [to know] who is he who “doth and doth not” descend to the Merkabha. He said unto us, “These be the men whom those who [really] descend to the Merkabha do take and cause to stand above them or to sit before them and do say unto them, ‘Behold and see and give ear and write down all that which we say and all that which you hear from before the throne of glory.’ And if those men be not fit for this task, then would the door-keepers of the sixth palace attack them. And take care that ye choose for yourselves fit men and these from the tested companions.”

[229] When thou comest and standest at the entrance of the sixth palace, display three seals of the door-keepers of the sixth palace. Display two seals to Kazpiel the Prince, whose sword is drawn in his hand, and there issue forth from it lightnings, and he shaketh it against everyone who is not fit to behold the King and his throne, and there is no creature who may stay his hand. And his sword crieth and saith: “Pain!” And he standeth by the lintel of the [entrance on the] right. And one seal show Dumiel. And is Dumiel indeed his name And is not ’byrghydrhym (i.e. Air Earth Water Fire) his name? And why was his name called Dumiel? Said Rabbi Ishmael: Thus said Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah: “Each day doth a voice go forth from the seventh heaven and proclaimeth and saith in the heavenly court of justice (saying as follows): ‘t ‘ws wbrmnzh / wpwr g ‘st the Lord God of Israel called him Dumiel according to His Own Name, [saying]: ‘Just as I see and hold my peace so doth Dumiel [viz: The silence of God].’” His authority [extendeth over] the right lintel, but Kazpiel the Prince driveth him away, yet he cherisheth against him neither enmity nor hatred nor jealousy nor contention, but each [doteth] for His honor.

CHAPTER XIX:

[232] Zoharariel and Pa'ali Pa'ali: Show something of these two seals to Kazpiel, and show Beronyah to Dumiel the Prince, a just and humble prince. And at once would Kazpiel the Prince string his bow and draw his sword and bring thee a whirlwind and seat thee in a chariot of brilliance and trumpet before thee as eight thousands of myriads of horns and three thousands of myriads of rams' horns and four thousands of myriads of bugles. And Dumiel the Prince seizeth a gift and walketh before thee. And what gift? Said Rabbi Ishmael: Thus said Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah my master: "This gift which Dumiel The Prince would seize [and carry] before the chariot of that man who doth deserve by reason of his righteousness to descend to the Merkabha is not a gift of silver and not a gift of gold, but it is that they grant him the privilege that he should not be questioned, not in the first palace and not in the second palace and not in the third palace and not in the fourth palace and not in the fifth palace and not in the sixth palace and not in the seventh palace, but he showeth them his seal and they leave him [in peace] and he entereth."

[233] And in the entrance of the sixth palace Dumiel the Prince guardeth the sill of the right [side] of the entrance of the sixth palace, sitting on a chair [wrought] of a pure gem which [hath] in it the splendour of the luminaries of the firmament such as [they were at] the creation of the world. (Fortunate Day. Best of luck. Show the sign. Peace. The Lord God of Israel) And Dumiel the Prince receiveth him kindly and seateth him upon a chair wrought of a pure gem, and himself sitteth beside him at his right.

CHAPTER XX:

[234] And Dumiel would say to him: "I bear witness and warn thee concerning two things: That none of those who descend to the Merkabha succeed to descend except only he who hath these two qualifications: He who hath read the Bible and studieth mishna, midrash, halakhoth and agadoth, and the explanation of halakhoth as to what is forbidden and permitted; and he who hath fulfilled all that which is written in the law and keepeth all warnings of statutes and of judgments and of laws which were declared to Moses on Sinai." [235] If he said to Dumiel the Prince, "I have one of these two qualifications," Dumiel the Prince would at once get in connection with Gabhriel the Secretary and write his the paper with red paint and would hang the paper upon the chariot of that same man, saying: "Thus and so is the knowledge of such a one in the Torah, thus and so are his actions, and he desireth to enter in before the throne of His glory." [237] And when the door-keepers of the seventh palace would see that Dumiel and Kazpiel and Gabhriel, were before the chariot of that man who deservingly descendeth to the Merkabha, they [would] cover their faces, which had been angry, and they [would] at once unstring the strung bows, and return the drawn swords to their sheaths. And nevertheless it is necessary to show them a great seal and a fearful crown: God of heaven, Master of earth the Lord God of Israel. And they would enter in before the throne of His glory and bring out before that man all sorts of [instruments for] music and song, and they would come making music before him until they bring him up and seat him beside the cherubim, beside the ophanim, beside the holy beasts. And he beholdeth wonders and powers, loftiness and greatness, holiness and purity, fear, humility and justice. Then said Rabbi Ishmael: "All the companions made a parable of this scheme [for those who descend to the Merkhaba: It is like] unto a man who hath a ladder in his house, [and] who was going up and down on it, and there is no creature that preventeth him." Blessed be thou, O Lord, who art wise in secrets and master of hidden things. Amen. Amen.

CHAPTER XXI:

[238] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Rabban Simon ben Gamliel was angry with me. He said to me, "Almost had Zahaphtariai rebuked us and shucked {us} as husks of corn. Why didst thou, by criminal carelessness, sin against us? Dost thou, perhaps, think that Jonathan be Uzziel is a man of small account in Israel? If he simply descended and came and stood at the entrance of the seventh palace without and seal, what would happen to him? He could not blink an eye before the door-keepers of the seventh palace had utterly exterminated him. [And yet you have said nothing about the necessary seals nor the names of the angels to whom they must be shown.] [239] Said Rabbi Ishmael: I went and was angry with Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah my master, saying, "The patriarch is angry with me, why do I live?" He said to me, "Scion of nobles, if [you ask for an answer] on this point [then tell me,] what is my distinction among you? I put in your mouths the prophets, the writings, mishna and midrash, halakhoth and agadoth, and the explanation of halakhoth as to what is forbidden and permitted. Were it not for the mysteries of the law [in which] I have initiated some of you, would ye have come and appeared before me at all? I know why thou hast come. Thou hast only come because of the door-keepers of the seventh palace. [240] Go and say to the Patriarch: 'As for all the door-keepers of the [first] six palaces, it is permitted to mention the names of each one of them and to touch them; but as for the door-keepers of the seventh palace, by the sound of their names is a man terrified and is not able to touch them, inasmuch as the name of them is called according to the name of the King of the world. Consequently I have not stated them. But now – since you say to me, "State them." – come ye and stand upon your feet and, each one of you, when His name goeth forth from my mouth, kneel and fall upon your faced.'" Forthwith came all the great ones of the company and all the mighty ones of the academy and stood upon their feet before Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah and he speaketh and they fall upon their faces and the scribes write.

CHAPTER XXII:

[242] These be the names of the door-keepers of the seventh palace: Zahaphtari'ai the Lord, a prince honored and beloved; 'Abhirahi'ai the Lord, a prince honored and beloved and fearful; 'Atrighael the Lord, a prince honored and beloved and fearful and terrifying; Barnael the Lord, a prince honored and beloved and fearful and terrifying and dear; Noraphneel the Lord, a prince honored and beloved and fearful and terrifying and dear and splendid; Na'aroriel the Lord, a prince honored and beloved and fearful and terrifying and dear and splendid and strong; Sastitiel the Lord, a prince honored and beloved and fearful and terrifying and dear and splendid and strong and mighty; 'Anaphiel the Lord, a prince honored and beloved and fearful and terrifying and dear and splendid and strong and mighty and powerful and just and gallant, a prince whose name is mentioned on high before the throne of His glory three times each day from the day when the world was created and until now, for praise. Why? Because the ring of the seal of heaven and earth is given over to his hand. [243] And whenever they see him all those on high kneel and fall down and prostrate themselves before him, a thing which is not done in the height [before any other prince]. If you say, 'They do not fall down before the Prince of the Presence' [This is true] for those who stand before the throne of His glory, who do not prostrate themselves before the Prince of the Presence, but before 'Anaphiel the Prince [even] so with the permission and according to the will of 'ntrws rbyhg. Some say pwnyl smh brz', the Lord God of Israel.

[244] These be the names of the door-keepers of the seventh palace of the descent, for those whose names I have just stated were of the ascent. Noraphiel the Lord, a prince honored and beloved and fearful, who was called 'Abhirzahi'ai the Lord; Dalkokiel the Lord, a prince honored and beloved and fearful, who was called Lebhakhpiel the Lord; Yekariel the Lord, a prince honored and beloved and fearful, who was called 'Atrighiel the Lord; Yeshishiel the Lord, a prince honored and beloved and fearful, who was called Ben'an'ael the Lord; Teraphiel the Lord, who was called Shakdihiel the Lord; Na'aroriel the Lord, a prince honored and beloved, who was called Zohaliel the Lord, 'Anaphiel the Lord, a prince honored and beloved and fearful and terrifying and dear and splendid and strong and mighty and powerful and just and gallant, who was called Tophriel the Lord. [245] And why was his name called 'Anaphiel? Because of the ramification 'anaph of the crowns [which were] placed upon his head, for he overcast and covered all of the chambers of the seventh heaven as did the Maker of Creation. Just as, concerning the Maker of Creation it is written [Hab. 3.3]: "His glory covered the heavens," so also [does the glory] 'Anaphiel the Prince as a servant who is called by his master's name. And why is he more lovely and beloved than all the [other] door-keepers of the palaces? Because he openeth the doors of the entrance of the seventh palace and closeth them before the throne of glory which is set high and standeth opposite the entrance of the seventh palace. And the holy beasts are opposite the entrance of the seventh palace, and the cherubim and the ophanim are opposite the entrance of the seventh palace, and there be 256 faces in each of the holy beasts opposite the entrance of the seventh palace. [246] Still greater it is that there be 512 eyes in [each of] the four beasts opposite the entrance of the seventh palace. Their faces are of the likeness of the face of a man, faces of 16 faces each are there in each beast opposite the entrance of the seventh palace.

CHAPTER XXIII:

[247] And whenever a man desired to descend to the Merkabha, 'Anaphiel would open for him the doors of the entrance of the seventh palace and that man would go in and stand on the door-sill of the entrance of the seventh palace and the holy beasts would lift up upon him 512 eyes and each one of the eyes of the holy beasts in pierced as a sieve of withes, and the appearance of their eyes [is described in Nahum 2.4]: "they run like lightnings." And these are in addition to the eyes of the cherubim of the Power [of God] and the ophanim of the Shekinah, which are like torches of fire and conflagrations of coals of juniper. [248] And that man would sway and tremble and start backward and be frightened and be terrified, faint and fall backward. And 'Anaphiel the Prince would support him, he and sixty and three door-keepers of the entrances of the seven palaces. And all of them would help him and say to him:

"Fear not, son of a seed beloved,

"Enter and see the King in His beauty,

"And thou shalt not be destroyed and thou shalt not be burned.

[249] "A just King is He, a faithful King is He, a submissive King is He, a humble King is He, a righteous King is He, a pious King is He, a holy King is He, a pure King is He, a blessed King is He, a lofty King is He, a mighty King is He, a pure King is He, a merciful King is He, a lowly King is He – blessed be He." [250] And they attribute to Him power. Forthwith a horn soundeth from above the firmament and cherubim and ophanim turn away their faces and he goeth in and standeth before the throne of His glory.

CHAPTER XXIV:

[251] When he standeth before the throne of glory he beginneth and reciteth a song which the throne of glory singeth each day: "Laud, song, and music, blessing, praise and celebration and applause and thanks and thanksgivings, victory and melody, speech and rejubilation, rejoicing and joy and gladness, exultations, accord, humility, brilliance, propriety, truth, righteousness and justice, treasure, ornament and might, delight and ecstasy and elevation, calm and rest and consolation, contentment and quiet and peace, tranquility, security and prosperity, love, loveliness, grace and mercy and pulchritude, renown, acclaim and pity, splendor, glory, innocence, effulgence, appearance, adornment, brilliance, fire, ramification, sublimity, wonders and salvation, perfume, salt, light, loftiness, help, violence, potency, height, preciousness, mightiness, lordship, fortitude, elevation, exaltation and brightness, kingliness, power and force, holiness, purity and cleanliness, pride, greatness and kingship, magnificence and majesty, honour, and beauty to Zoharariel the Lord God of Israel."

Spendid King, He robed with splendour,

Made majestic with embroideries of song,

Crowned with magnificence and majesty,

A crown of loftiness and a diadem of fearfulness.

For His name is agreeable to Him, and His title is sweet to Him,

And His throne is splendid to Him and His palace is magnificent

And his glory is delightful to him, and His majesty is becoming to Him,

And His strength is pleasant to Him and His servants sing pleasantly to Him,

And Israel tell to Him the kingliness of His wonders.

King of Kings, God of Gods, and Lord of Lords
 He surrounded with chains of crowns, encompassed
 with the ramifications of the rulers of brilliance,
 He who covereth the heavens with the ramification of His magnificence,
 and who, in His majesty, appeared from the heights,
 From His beauty the deeps were enkindled,
 and from His stature did the clouds shower rain.
 His stature sendeth out the lofty,
 and His crown blazeth out the might
 and His garment floweth with the precious.
 And all trees shall rejoice in His word,
 and herbs shall exult in His rejoicing,
 And His words shall liquefy as perfumes,
 flowing and sent forth in flames of fire, Giving joy to those who search these,
 and quiet to those who fulfill them.

[254] King beloved and lovely and clean,
 Exalted beyond all the haughty,
 Haughty, clothed in majesty beyond the majestic,
 Majestic, lifted up beyond the mighty,
 Mighty, upraised beyond the powerful.
 Splendor of kings, praise of nobles,
 Treasure of the holy, humility of the lowly,
 Pleasant in the mouth of all those that call upon Him, Sweet to them that hope in His name,
 Righteous in all His ways, upright in all His doings Just in counsel and in knowledge, clear in understanding and
 in practice,
 Judge of every soul, witness of every transaction, judge of every word, Mighty in wisdom and in every secret, lofty in purity and in holiness.

[255] King true and only, King who liveth forever,
 King who killeth and maketh alive, King who sayeth and doeth,
 King who formeth every disease, and createth every cure,
 King who maketh every blessing, and establish every good,
 King who feedeth all his works, and supporteth all his creatures, King who is high and to each of the lowly, and who is strong to each of good courage.

CHAPTER XXV:

King high and lifted up, sublime and wonderful,
 Beloved and old, upright and faithful,
 Precious and honored, strong and stout-hearted,
 Righteous and true, holy and pure,
 Pious, great and mighty,

Strong, powerful, precious, fearful and terrific,
 High-placed upon perfections of loftiness,
 Established upon the adornments of splendour
 In the chambers of the palace of loftiness.
 Who seest profundities, beholdest mysteries, observest dark matters,
 And who, in every place is
 And there is no changing His purpose, nor retorting to His word, nor delaying His will
 And there is no place to flee from Him, and no secret place to hide from before Him.

[256] Reign forever, King merciful and gracious, Pardoner and forgiver, who rolleth away and taketh away [sin],
 Let Thy majesty be declared in every song, Thy splendor in every chant.
 Be high above the palaces of loftiness, be lifted up above the
 adornments of splendor,
 Be exalted above all Thy doings, be praised above all created things, Be honored above the throne of Thy glory, be precious above the
 vessel of Thy loveliness,
 Be blessed with all blessings, be praised with all praises,
 Be lauded with all laud, be applauded with all songs,
 Be magnified forever, be holy world without end, Totrosi'ai the Lord.

[257] King of all worlds, Lord of all actions,
 Wise in all secrets, ruler in all generations,
 One God who art from eternity,
 Unique King who art forever and ever. Selah.

[258] And I beheld something like unto the appearance of lightning which was fixed and stationary and was divided, among those who descend to the Merkabha, between those who were fit to descend to the Merkabha and those who were not fit to descend to the Merkabha. If a man were fit to descend to the Merkabha, when they say to him "Enter" and he doth not enter, they repeat themselves and say to him "Enter," and he at once entereth. They would then praise him, saying, "Surely this is on of those who descend to the Merkabha." But if a man be not fit to descend to the Merkabha, when they say to him "Enter" and he entereth, they at once place upon him a thousand pieces of iron, [259] because the door-keepers of the sixth palace place upon him a thousand thousands of waves of water, and there is not in that place even a single drop. And if he said, "What is the nature of this water?" they at once run after him, stoning him, and saying to him, "Wretch, are thou not or the seed of them that kissed the [golden] calf, and art unfit to see the King and His throne in his bea{u}ty." And if he be such, a voice goeth forth from the seventh heaven saying, "well have ye said [that] he is from the seed of them that kissed the [golden] calf and is not fit to see the King and His throne." He does not move from the spot before they place on him a Thousand thousands of pieces of iron.

[260] Who is like unto Thee Totrosi'ai Lord God of Israel, who doest mightily,
 To Thee Totrosi'ai Lord God of Israel, shall the throne of Thy glory
 sing praise,
 To Thee shall be attributed loftiness and greatness, strength and beauty, Thou shalt be called strong, Thou, mighty; for Thee shall they make new [song]
 for Thee exult.
 With Thee shall converse be held, Thou shalt be blessed, Thou praised,
 Thou exalted.

To Thee shall splendor be attributed, Thou shalt be lifted up, Thou magnified, Thou called majestic.
Thou shalt be praised, Thou applauded, Thou sanctified,
For Thee, Totrosi'ai Lord God of Israel, shall Thy servants weave diadems
And shall sing unto Thee a new song
And shall declare The King forever and ever.
All things are Thy kingdom, and over all things is Thy kingdom,
And Thou shalt be called One, world without end, Totrosi'ai, Lord God of Israel.
Blessed be Thou O Lord, King of all secrets and Lord of all hidden things.

{...}

CHAPTER XXVI:

- [269] Thou workest wonders, dost bring to pass new things, Renewest Thy creatures each day,
Servants [created] from fire to lift up praise of Thy mystery,
O Sacred One. Who shinest in the midst of myriads of fire,
Who loathest hatred and jealousy,
Who despiseth enmity and contention,
Who settest anger afar, who turnest away wrath,
Who multiplieth all grace and goodness,
The cherubim of Thy glory are fire.
[O Thou] who art exalted upon cherubim of fire, Prince over princes, Seraphim, seraphim of flame do stand about Thy throne,
Hither and other sound forth: "Make way for Him who rideth the heavens."
- [270] Blessing, praise and laud, song, thanks and thanksgivings,
Splendor and whispering, applause, humility and mercy
To the lofty, to the powerful, to the brave,
To the elect, to the chosen, to the choosing,
To the mighty, to the haughty, to the high.
In their mouths music, on their tongues exultation,
They slumber not, neither night nor day,
But music and laud are as blazing light.
- [271] Thou art the great Lord
The mighty and fearful, the righteous and pious,
The holy and the faithful, slow to anger and plenteous in mercy and truth.
It is Thou who art Lord, O God of Gods and Lord of Lords,
It is Thou who art Great, Thee do all the great magnify,
It is Thou who art Mighty, Thee do all the mighty declare strong,
It is Thou who art Fearful, Thee do all the singers celebrate,
It is Thou who art Righteous, Thee do all the righteous justify,
It is Thou who art Pious, Thee do all the pious expect,
It is Thou who art Holy, Thee do all the holy hallow,
It is Thou who art Faithful, Thee do all the faithful believe.

[272] It is Thou who hast revealed thy secret to Moses
 And who hast not concealed from him any of Thy mighty works.
 When the words goeth not forth from Thy mouth
 All the lofty mountains trembled
 And stood before Thee great consternation;
 When the word goeth forth from Thy mouth
 They were all of them burned with flames of fire.
 It is Thou who examinest the inward parts and choosest the faithful
 Thou dwellest in the flame of rivers of fire and conflagrations.
 It is Thou who art mighty, more lofty than all the lofty and lifted up above all,
 Who dost cast down the haughty and exaltest the humble.

[273] The most lofty of creation is man,
 The likeness of a man hast Thou fixed in Thy throne:
 They have the face of a man, and the hands of a man are under
 their wings,
 They run as a man, they toil as a man,
 They kneel down and prostrate themselves in song as a man doth,
 And the fear of Thee, O King, is upon them.
 The most lofty of cattle is the ox.
 The likeness of an ox hast Thou fixed in Thy throne:
 They run as an ox, they toil as an ox,
 They stand in the places as an ox,
 And the fear of Thee, O Holy One, is upon them.
 The most lofty of wild beasts is the lion.
 The likeness of a lion hast Thou fixed in Thy throne:
 They roar as a lion, they are feared as a lion,
 The thew of their strength is as that of a lion,
 And the fear of Thee, O terrible One, is upon them.
 The most lofty of birds is the eagle.
 The likeness of an eagle hast Thou fixed in Thy throne:
 They move as an eagle, they are swift as an eagle,
 They fly as an eagle, they soar as an eagle,
 And the fear of Thee, O Pure One, is upon them.
 And all of them do triply declare Thy sanctitude with the triple sanctus.
 (As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy.")

[274] Be honoured, be made majestic, be raised, be lifted up,
 Be made splendid, be blessed, be praised, be magnified,
 Be hallowed, be exalted, be lauded, be applauded,
 For such is the duty of all creatures:
 To honour Thee, to own Thy majesty, to raise Thee, to lift Thee up,
 To show forth Thy splendour, to bless Thee, to praise Thee, to magnify Thee,
 The hallow Thee, to exalt Thee, to laud Thee, to applaud Thee,
 The great and holy King, who rulest
 Over the highest and over the lowest,
 Over the first and over the last,
 Which, from the midst of trembling and quaking,
 Do triply declare Thy sanctitude with triple sanctus.
 (As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy.")

[275]	Assembly and applause are His who liveth forever, Beauty and bliss are His who liveth forever, Compassion and caresses {?} are His who liveth forever, Doctrine and deed are His who liveth forever, Eternity and end are His who liveth forever, Fervour and faith are His who liveth forever, Glory and grace are His who liveth forever, Humility and holiness are His who liveth forever, Innocence and insight are His who liveth forever, Justice and jubilation are His who liveth forever, Kingdom and knowledge are His who liveth forever, Loveliness and laud are His who liveth forever, Majesty and mercy are His who liveth forever, Nobility and name are His who liveth forever, Obedience and observance are His who liveth forever, Purity and power are His who liveth forever, Righteousness and reason are His who liveth forever, Strength and salvation are His who liveth forever, Trust and truth are His who liveth forever, Understanding and utterance are His who liveth forever, Victory and vengeance are His who liveth forever, Wonder and wisdom are His who liveth forever, Excellence and exultation are His who liveth forever, Years and youth are His who liveth forever, Zest and zeal are His who liveth forever.	[honour faith understanding blessing greatness might knowledge utterance magnificence majesty assembly trustworthiness brilliance effulgence grace mercy purity goodness preciousness salvation crown glory doctrine encouragement kingdom power beauty victory secret intelligence strength humility jubilation righteousness applause holiness splendour wonder song praise laud loveliness]*
-------	--	---

* This list of words is similar to those used in Scholem's translation of the same hymn in Major Trends in Jewish Mysticism, pages 58-9; these likely represent a truer translation of the terms used in the text. In the left column, Smith imitates the text's alphabetical device instead of directly translating.

[276] Who is able to state one from a thousand thousands of thousands
And a myriad myriads of myriads of Thy mighty deeds, O King of Kings of Kings, Before whom the beasts are stationed and stand [speaking] with a still small voice –
They are fire, their palate is fire, their movement is fire, their speech
 is fire,
Yet are they afraid because of fire,
Lest they be burned in flames of fire,
It is Thou whom they encompass, it is Thou whom they surround,
With Thee are they hidden, in Thy bosom do they give utterance,
In secret and intelligence, girded with strength, clothed with magnificence.
The eye may not travel to where Thou dwellest,
King great and holy, ruler
Over the highest and over the lowest,
Over the first and over the last.
There is none among the highest, nor among the lowest,
Nor among the first, nor among the last,
Who can know Thy works
And search out all Thy wonders.

[277] Just as none is able to imagine ab, bc, cd, de, ef, fg, gh, hi, ij. Metatron whose name is called according to eight names, his name is Margawiel, his name is Gayothiel, his name is Ziwathiel, his name is 'Izihiel, his name is Yahawiel, his name is Mayoel, his name is Segansagiel, his name is Segansayriyah. And from the love with which they love him on high, they call him in the camps of the holy ones, Metatron, Servant of the Lord, slow to anger and plenteous in mercy. Blessed be thou O Lord, wise in secrets and Lord of hidden things, Amen, Amen, Selah.

CHAPTER XXVII:

{Sar Torah material: CHAPTERS XXVII TO XXX}

[278] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Three years did Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah behold me in affliction and in great sorrow and in great danger: That portion of the Bible which I would read one day, would I forget the next, and that mishna which I would study one day, the next day would I forget. What did I do? When I saw that the Law did not remain in me, I laid hold upon myself and denied myself food and drink and washing and anointment, and deprived myself of conjugal intercourse, and I neither exulted nor rejoiced, nor did any music nor song go forth from my mouth. [279] Thereupon did Rabbi Nehunya ben Hakkanah, my master, take me from my father's house and bring me into the chamber of the Temple in which the Sanhedrin met and cause me to swear by a great seal and by a great oath which appertaineth to Zebhoriel the Lord God of Israel who is Metatron the Lord God of Israel, God of the heavens and God of the earth, God of Gods, God of the sea and God of the land. And he revealed the secret of the Law, which was in his possession. And at once my heart was {as} enlightened as the gates of the East and mine eyes beheld the depths and the ways of the Law and thenceforth I forgot nothing. All things which mine ears heard from the mouth of my master and from the mouth of scripture and from the ways of the Law which I had truly practiced, thenceforth I forgot none of them.

[280] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Had I done nothing in the Law, yet would this method which I have fixed in Israel be more than sufficient for me, as against all the Law, [since I have revealed it] in order that men may increase their knowledge of the Law without weariness.

[281] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Rabbi Akiba did indeed say in the name of Rabbi Eliezer the Great: From the day when the Law was given to Israel until the last temple was built, the Law was given, its majesty was not given, and its preciousness, its glory and its greatness and its beauty, its terror, its reverence and its fear, its richness and its loftiness and its exaltation, its trembling and its splendour, its strength, its rule and its might were not given, until the last temple was built and the Shekinah did not dwell in it. [282] Thereupon Israel began to pour forth complaint before their Father who is in heaven, saying: "Thou hast laid many troublesome tasks upon us. Which shall we hold to and which shall we abandon? Thou hast thrown upon us great labour and great burden; Thou hast said to us, 'Build Me a house, and although ye build, yet study the Law.'" This is the plea of His children. [283] And this is the answer of their Father who is in heaven. Ye had a long rest between captivities, and I longed [saying], 'When shall I hear the sound of the words of My Law from your mouths?' Ye have not done well, and I have not done well. Ye have not done well in that ye have differed from Me, and I was angry against you and arose and brought utter destruction on My city and My house and My children. And I did not do well in that I arose against you and sealed a decree of judgment against you. Indeed, shall that which endureth forever and ever, world without end, contend with that which hath no endurance but for a year, or two, or ten, or thirty, and if at most for an hundred years, and then passeth away? But in that ye have rebuked Me, ye did well. Already have I accepted your rebuke.

[284] "For the sigh of Israel is sweet to Me, and the desire for the Law
hath covered Me,
"Your words have found grace in My ears, and I accept the sayings
of your mouths.
"Ye have labored in the house of My choice, and the Law shall not move from your mouths,

- [285] “For I am master of wonders, the transcendent Lord, I am He.
 “Mighty works come to pass before Me, miracles and
 marvels before My throne.
 “Who hath come before Me and I have not fulfilled his [prayer]?
 Who hath called upon Me and I have not straightway answered him?
 “State before Me all your requests, and multiply upon Me the desire of your hearts.
- [286] “My storehouses and My treasures, – nothing in them is lacking.
 “State your requests and they shall be given you, and the desire of your hearts shall be done forthwith, “For there is no season like to this season, and no time like to this time.
 “There is no season like to this season, for My soul bowed down till
 I beheld you,
 “And there is no time like to this time, for the love of you cling to My heart.

CHAPTER XXVIII:

- [287] “I know what ye request, and My heart perceiveth what ye desire.
 “Ye request much [knowledge of] Law, and a multitude of Talmud and
 many halakhic traditions, “Ye hope to ask questions on points of law, and ye covet a multitude of secrets.
 “To multiply testimony in mountains upon mountains, to make wisdom wonderful in hills upon hills,
 “To increase knowledge of the Talmud in the streets, and subtleties
 in the roads,
 “To multiply laws as the sand of the sea, and rabbis as the dust of
 the world,
- [288] “To seat academies in the gates of the tents, to expound therein
 what is prohibited and what is permitted, “Therein to declare the impure impure, and therein to declare the
 pure pure,
 “Therein to declare the fit fit, and therein to declare the unfit unfit, “Therein to recognize the [sorts] of blood, and to teach the menstruants
 what they should do,
 “To bind diadems upon your heads, and crowns of royalty upon the heads of your children,
 “To force kings to prostrate themselves before you, to compel princes to fall down in your presence, “To send forth your name beneath all the heavens, and your memory in
 the great ports,
 “To illumine your faces as the brilliance of the day,
 and the space between your eyes as a blazing star.
 “And if ye be worthy [to employ] this seal,
 and to make use of the fearful crown, “Neither vulgar nor ignorant shall be found in you,
 nor fool nor idiot shall be of your number,

- [289] “Ye rejoice, and My servants are grieved, “That this secret goeth forth from My treasury.
 “By virtue of it the voice of your academies [soundeth] as [the voice of] fatted calves.
 “Not with toil and not with weariness [do they learn],
 “But with the name of this seal and with the mention of the fearful crown.
 “He that marveleth at you, and he that grieveth grieveth because
 of you;
 “Many die in their sighing, and their souls go forth by reason of the
 repute of your glory,
 [290] “Wealth and riches increase upon you; the great of the world cleave unto you;
 “That family from which ye marry a daughter is known on all sides to be noble, “He that is blessed in you is truly blessed, he that rejoiceth in you rejoiceth truly.
 “Ye are called, ‘Those who turn many to righteousness’;
 they call ye, ‘Those who prove men innocent.’
 “The determinations of the months proceed from your [council], and the intercalulation of years from the subtlety of your wisdom.
 “By your hands are patriarchs anointed,
 and presidents of the sanhedrin take office according to
 your words;
 [291] “Ye set up exilarchs, and the judges of cities are appointed by your authority.
 “The order of society shall go forth from you,
 and none shall differ therefrom.
 “A great war was waged with Me and My servants,
 “As accuser appeared the greatest of the ministering angels.
 “This is his plea:

CHAPTER XXIX:

- [292] ““Let not this secret go forth from Thy storehouse,
 and mystery of prudence from Thy treasures;
 ““Let not flesh and blood as our equals, suppose not the children of men our substitute.
 ““Let them grow weary in the study of the Law as much as they wish,
 ““And let those who come from their descendants, and after,
 ““Fulfill it with labor and great anguish.
 ““This is thy glory, this is thy beauty.
 ““In the midst of their rejoicing they bethink themselves and pray to Thee,
 ““They cry out before Thee whole-heartedly, they beseech Thee with desirous soul:
 ““ “May that which we have read remain in our possession,
 may that which we have studied remain in our possession, ““ “May our inward parts grasp all that which our ears have heard,
 ““ “May our hearts hold firmly the ways of the teaching which we have heard from the mouth of the teacher.”
 ““And let them continue to honour one another.
 ““But if Thou revealest this secret to Thy children,
 ““The small will be as the great and the fool as the wise.””

- [293] This is the reply which He replieth to His servants” “Nay, My servitors, nay, My servants, trouble Me not in this matter.
 “This secret shall go forth from My storehouse, and mystery of prudence from My treasures.
 “To a beloved people I reveal, to a faithful seed I teach;
 “For them it is laid up from the fountainhead of the world, and from the days of creation prepared for them.
 “And I never thought to give it to any of the generations,
 from the days of Moses and until now.
 “For they shall go from evil to evil, and Me shall they not know,
 “For their understanding was obscured by exile, and the words of the Law were hard as brass and iron.
 “It is proper for them to make use of it, to bring the Law as water in their inward parts and as oil in their bones.
 “For Israel was in affliction from the day when Mine anger waxed hot against them
 “And I smote them, and because of them mountains trembled, and their carcasses were as refuse in the midst of the street.
- [294] “With what shall I appease them? With what shall I comfort them?
 “Or what good form of treasure is there on high
 “That I should bring it forth and give it them and cause them to rejoice?
 “For I have beheld and seen:
 “I have gold, [but] there is gold in the world;
 “I have silver, [but] there is silver in the world;
 “I have precious stones and pearls, [but] there are precious stones and pearls
 in the world.
 “Wheat and barley, honey and oil, I have already placed in the world.
 “But what is lacking the world? This secret and this mystery which is not in the world.
 “Therefore I shall give them this means of loftiness, that thereby My children shall raise themselves up.”

CHAPTER XXIX

[295] Said Rabbi Akiba: I heard a voice going forth from under the throne of glory, saying. And what was it saying? “I strengthened him, I took him, I commanded him (i.e. Enoch ben Jared whose name is Metatron), and I took him from among the children of men, and I made a throne for him over against my throne.” And what is the measure of that throne? Forty thousand myriads of parasangs of fire. And I gave over to him seventy angels, as against seventy peoples, and I gave into his hand all my servants in the world above and all my servants in the world below, and I explained to him all the categories of creation, and I set, as his name, The Lesser Lord [which is the numerical equivalent of ‘My Lord; and he is lesser than The Lord]. (For his name, reckoning by the numerical equivalents of the letters, is 71.) And I gave him wisdom and understanding more than all the angels and made him greater than any of the ministering angels.

[296] Said Rabbi Akiba: Each day doth an angel stand at morning in the midst of the firmament and beginneth and saith, “The Lord is King!” And all the host on high answer after him until he reacheth [the word], “Bless ye,” and when he reacheth “Bless ye” a beast standeth in the midst of the firmament and the name [of this beast] is Israel, and engraven on its forehead [are the words] “My people is Mine.” And it saith, “Bless ye the Lord, the Blessed.” And all the princes on high answer after it, “Blessed be the Lord, the Blessed, forever and ever.” While this is yet unfinished, the ophanim break forth in tumult and tremble and shake the whole world and say, "Blessed be the glory of the Lord from His [dwelling] place." And that same beast standeth in the midst of the firmament until all the princes on high break forth in tumult, and seraphim and cherubim and troops and all the camps and each one in his place saith to the beast, "Hear, O Israel, the Lord our God, is one Lord."

[297] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Thus said Rabbi Akiba in the name of Rabbi Eliezer the Great: Our fathers did not undertake to put one stone upon another in the Temple until they compelled the King of the world and all his servants and He met with them and showed them the secret of the Law, how they should do it and how they should explain it and how they should practice it. At once the Holy Spirit appeared from the great entrance which is in the House of the Lord – since the Shekinah did not dwell in the Holy of Holies because of the decree. And when our fathers saw that the throne of glory made its way and stood between the cella and the altar – for although up to that time they had not built the building, [yet the throne moved] over the place of the rooks which they were shaping to found upon them the cella and the temple and the altar and all the structure generally – and when our fathers saw that the throne of glory was set on high between the altar and the cella, and the King of the World upon it, they at once fell upon their faces, [298] and concerning that moment it says [Haggai 2.9]: "The latter glory of this house shall be greater than the former." "For in the first temple I did not communicate with My children but by voice and in this temple ye have compelled Me and My throne and all My servants [to appear]. And would that it might endure! My children, why are ye fallen and lying upon your faces? Stand and seat yourselves before My throne in the order in which you sit in the academy and take hold upon a crown and receive a seal and hear the order of this secret of the Law, how ye shall do it, how explain it, and how practice it, how ascend the roads of your hearts, how your hearts may behold the Law." At once did Zerubabel the son of Shealtiel answer and stood upon his feet as an interpreter and stated the names of the princes of the Law, each one according to his name, the name of a crown and the name of a seal.

CHAPTER XXX:

[299] Said Rabbi Ishmael: Thus said Rabbi Akiba in the name of Rabbi Eliezer the Great: "He who presenteth himself to serve in [connection with] this secret of the Law shall wash his garment and his undergarments and shall immerse himself in the most thorough manner lest semen should separate [any part of his skin from the water], and shall enter and sit for twelve days in a room or in an upper chamber. He shall neither go out nor come in nor eat nor drink but from evening to evening. And he shall eat, as his food, bread [baked by] his own hands [and he shall be wrapped] in a clean tallith. And he shall not taste any sort of vegetable. And water shall be his drink. [300] And he shall regularly read this midrash concerning the secret of the Law three times each day after [the regular daily] prayers which he shall pray from beginning to end. And thereafter he shall sit and shall repeat them – [the prayers and the Midrash] – twelve days the days of his fast, from morning until evening and shall not be silent. And whenever he finisheth it he shall stand upon his feet and conjure, as [one would conjure] by [the name of] their king, and shall call twelve times upon every prince, and thereafter he shall conjure him with the seal, [and so] for each one of them. [301] And these are their names which he shall say: The Prince Shekadhozi'ai the Lord, the Prince Nihappardiyuel the Lord, the Prince 'Abhirgehwdhiryah* the Lord (and there be those who say Gehwedhiryahu) the Prince Plitriyah the Lord, the

* In the margin, Scholem notes, "...I should prefer 'Abhirgehidyryah if the Heb. text permitted (& so in the following, transposing the 1 & the first 2)."

Prince Zehubh'adyah the Lord, the Prince 'Ogbohah'ay the Lord, the Prince Totrosi'ai the Lord, the Prince 'Ashrawwili'ai the Lord, the Prince Zebhudiel the Lord, the Prince Margawwiel the Lord, the Prince Daharbyoron the Lord, the Prince 'Adiriron the Lord. [302] And he shall conjure them by the permission of his King for twelve [days] in the name of Yophiel Splendor of Height, and in the name of Sarbiel who is one of the princes of the Merkabha, and in the name of Shadriel who is a beloved prince, and in the name of Hasdiel who is called to the Power [of God] six hours daily. And he shall repeat and shall conjure the same last four princes with a great seal and with a great oath in the name of 'Ezbooghah, which is a great seal, and in the name of Zurtaq, a holy name and a fearful crown. [303] And when he finesheth twelve days let him go forth to any form of the Torah which he desire, whether Bible, whether Mishnah, whether the vision of the Merkabha. For he goeth forth in a clean spirit and from great sorrow and anguish, for it is a teaching known to us, an ordinance made by the first teachers, and a tradition of the men of old which they wrote down and left for coming generations, that the humble might practice it. And he who is worthy is answered thereby.

[304] Said Rabbi Akiba in the name of Rabbi Eliezer the Great: Happy is he who is aided by the desert of his fathers, and whom the righteousness of his ancestors stands [in good stead], that he may practice this crown and this seal, and they shall communicate with him, and he exalteth himself in the loftiness of the Law.

[305] Said Rabbi Ishmael: This was done by Rabbi Eliezer and he was answered and did not believe; and it was done by me and I did not believe until a brought a fool and he was made like unto me. And again it was done by shepherds and they were made like unto us. By the authority of the court they sent down Rabbi Akiba outside the Land [of Israel] and he waited until it was done by many who neither read nor studied and they became equal [to] others and were made learned students. And he came and verified [the matter] and agreed in the evidence which he bore in the court of the Patriarch, saying: "This was done also outside the Land [of Israel] and succeeded." And thus said Rabbi Eliezer the Great. And the Sages say, "Perhaps we possess it by virtue of the Land of Israel." And they did not believe until they sent Rabbi Akiba down to Babylon and it was done [there] and succeeded. And thereafter we rejoiced.

[306] Said Rabbi Ishmael: How shall a man begin before he pray this secret of the Law? When he arose (sic) he shall say:

"Be made magnificent, be exalted, be lifted up, O splendid King,
"Upon a throne high and lifted up, fearful and terrible.
"Thou dwellest in the chambers of the palace of loftiness.
"The servants of Thy throne are terrified, and set trembling
"The heavens which are the footstool of Thy feet, each day,
"With sound of exultation and with tumult of music and multitude of song."
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts.")

And let him conjure and say:

"Who will not exalt Thee, O King fearful
"And terrible above all Thy servants?
"In shaking and in trembling do they serve Thee,
"In terror and in quaking they are terrified before Thee.
"With identical words, with one mouth they utter forth Thy fearful name.
"Because of fright and fear [among those] who stand before Thee
"There is none who goes ahead and none who lags [in the song].
"And whoever delayeth the sound after his companion, in [the pronunciation
of] Thy name
"["Though but] as by the measure of a hair's breadth,
"Is consumed, and flaming fire trampleth him down."
(As it is said, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Hosts, all the earth is full of His glory.")

APPENDIX

A chart prepared for my 1987 edition shows the alignment of chapters for three translations of Hekhalot Rabbati:

- Smith = Morton Smith: chapters I-XXX
- Grodner = Lauren Grodner: chapters 15-29, which appear in David Blumenthal's Understanding Jewish Mysticism: A Source Reader (New York: Ktav Publishing House, 1978) pages 59-89.
- Kaplan = Aryeh Kaplan: "a synthesis of the best readings found in various editions" of chapters 1, 2, and 16-26 in his Meditation and Kabbalah (York Beach: Samuel Weiser, 1982) pages 41-54.

Within the column showing Smith's chapters is a band indicating "text" (also "tx" and "t") or narrative sections and "hymns" (also "h") or songs.

Smith		Grodner	Kaplan
ch I	text		ch 1
ch II			ch 2
ch III	hymns
ch IV
ch V	text ch VI
ch VII
ch VIII	hymns
ch IX
ch X	text
ch XI
ch XII	tx
ch XIII	h	ch 15
ch XIV	text	ch 16	ch 16
ch XV		ch 17	ch 17
ch XVI	h	ch 18	ch 18 (2)
ch XVII		ch 19	ch 19
ch XVIII		ch 20	ch 20
ch XIX	t e x t	ch 21	ch 21
ch XX		ch 22
ch XXI		ch 23	ch 22
ch XXII		ch 24	ch 23
ch XXIII			ch 24
ch XXIV	h	ch 25	ch 25 (2)
ch XXV	t	ch 26
ch XXVI	h	ch 27	ch 26
ch XXVII	text	ch 28 (1)
ch XXVIII	hymns	ch 29
ch XXIX	tx
ch XXX	h

- (1) Grodner omits the first paragraph of Smith's CHAPTER XXVII.
 (2) Kaplan omits material here, primarily hymns.

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2007 with funding from Microsoft Corporation

18

THE HOLY BIBLE,

CONTAINING

THE OLD AND NEW TESTAMENTS,

WITH THE APOCRYPHAL BOOKS,

IN THE EARLIEST ENGLISH VERSIONS

MADE FROM THE LATIN VULGATE BY

JOHN WYCLIFFE AND HIS FOLLOWERS;

EDITED BY .

THE REV. JOSIAH FORSHALL, F.R.S. ETC.

LATE FELLOW OF EXETER COLLEGE,

AND

SIR FREDERIC MADDEN, K.H. F.R.S. ETC.

KEEPER OF THE MSS. IN THE BRITISH MUSEUM.

VOLUME III.

OXFORD,
AT THE UNIVERSITY PRESS.

M.DCCC.L.

PROVERBS.

[Prologue on the book of Proverbs^a.]

IN these Prouerbis of Salomon is contened myche prudence and vndurstonding, ȝouen to Salomon bi the Spirit of God, and acordinge in many places with the gospel of Crist. And as Crist techith in his gospel goostli wisdom oonli, so Salomon techith worldli warnesse, how a man owith to gouerne him prudentli in the world, and to be war of perels and mescheues, and to fle nedynesse, and to schewe bi his gouernaunce, that the prudence of God is with him, which is arettid as lizt, and folie is arettid as derknesse.

Heere bygyneth the prologe in the booc off Prouerbys^a.

To Cromacie and Eliodere, bishopis, Jerome sendeth greeting^b. Joyne^c the epistil whom ioyneth presthod; ȝhe, the chartre twynne not, whom the looue of Crist knytteth. Expositiouns in Osee, Amos, Zacharie, and Malachie, the^d whiche ȝee asken, I shulde han write, if it hadde ben leeful for siknesse. Ȝee senden solacys of costis, ȝoure notories, and bokis writeres sustenende, that to ȝou most oure^e wit trauaile. And lo! aside^f the hauntende puple of men diuerse thingis askende, as or^g euene it be me^h to trauailen, ȝou hungrende, also to othere, or, in resoun of ȝyuen thing and taken, to any, saue ȝou, I be bounde. And so thurȝ long siknesse brosid, lest fulli this ȝeer I shulde be stille, and anentⁱ ȝou I were dounb, the werc of thre dazis to ȝoure name I sacride; the remenyng, that is, of theȝ thre volumes of Salomon, Masloch, that Ebrues Parablis, the comun making Prouerbis clepeth; Coelech, that Grecli Ecclesiasten, Latinli a Spekere wee moun seyn; Cirasirym, that in to oure tunge is turned Song of Songis. It is told and^k Panarethos, the boc of Jhesu, sone of Cirach; and an other falsly writen, that is inwriten^l the Wisdam of Salamon. Of whiche^m the rathere I fond Ebru, not Ecclesiasticum, as anent the Latynes, but Parablis befor notid; to whom weren ioyned Ecclesiastes and the Song of Songis; that he shulde euene toⁿ the licnesse of Salamon, not onli in noumbre of bokis, but also in maner^o of mateeris. The secounde anent the Ebrues is neuer no wher, for and that maner of speche sauoureth the Grekis faire speche^p; and summe of olde writeres afermen this boc to ben of Jew Filon. As thanne Judith, and Tobie, and the bokis of

^a This prologue is from M.

^a Heer begynneth the preface of seynt Jerom in the booc of Prouerbis. EGH I. Here bigynneth the prolog on the Parablis of Salamon. L. No initial rubric in AR. ^b Jerom sendith greetinge to Cromacie and to Eliodere, bishopis L. ^c I iojne R. ^d Om. R. ^e ȝoure L. ^f of the side I. ^g Om. R. ^h Om. R. ⁱ anentis A et E et L passim. ^j Om. C. ^k Om. LR. ^l writen LR. ^m the whiche C pr. m. I. ⁿ Om. AHLR. ^o the maner L. ^p spechis R.

Macabeis, redeth hem forsothe the chirche, but among the reuleer scripturis resceyueth not; so and these two volumes rede he^a to the edificacioun of the^r puple, not to the autorite of chirche teching^s to ben confermed. If to any man forsothe more plesse the translacioun of the seuenti remenoures, he hath it sum time amended of vs. Ne forsothe so newe thingis wee maken, that olde thingis wee destroe. And 'neuer the lateret, whan most diligentli redeth he^u, wite he oure written thingis to ben vnderstonde, that ben not corruptid held^v into the thridde vessel, but, anoon from the presse most pureli the vessel zeuen, han kept their sauour.

Here endith the prolog, and here bigynnen the Parablis of Salomon^w.

Here bigynneth the Parablis of Salomon^x.

CAP. I.

1 THE parabis of Salamon, sone of Da-
2 uid, king of Irael; to ben koud wisdam, 3 and discipline; to ben vnderstonden the woordis of prudence; and to ben vndir-take enformyng of doctrine, riztwysnesse, 4 and dom, and equite; that felnesse be zeue to litle childer, and to the zunge ful waxen, kunnyng and vnderstanding.
5 Herende the wise wisere shal ben; and vnderstondende gouernaile he shal welde.
6 Take he heede the parable, and the remenyng; the woordis of wise men, and 7 the derke spechis of hem. The drede of the Lord the^y begynnyng of wisdam; 8 wisdam and lore foolis dispisen. Here, my sone, the discipline of thi fader, and 9 ne leue thou the lawe of thi modir; that ther be added grace to thin hed, and a 10 beze^z to thi necke. My sone, if thee^a synneres fulfille with mylc, ne assente 11 thou^b to them. If thei sey, Cum thou with vs, waite wee to the blod, hide wee grenes a3en the innocent in veyn; 12 swolewe wee hym, as helle the liuende; and hol as the descendende in to the 13 lake; alle precious substaunce we shul

Here bigynnen the Prouerbis of Salomon^b.

CAP. I.

The parabis of Salomon, the sone of 1
David, king of Israel; to kunne wisdom 2 and kunnyng; to vndurstonde the wordis 3 of prudence; and to take the lernyng of teching; to take riztfulnesse, and dom, and equyte; that felnesse^{bb*} be 3ouun to litle 4 children[†], and kunnyng, and vndurston-ding to a 3ong wexyng man. A wise man 5 heringe schal be wisere^c; and a man vn-durstondinge schal holde gouernails. He 6 schal perseyue a parable, and expownyng^{d†}; the wordis of wise men, and the derk figuratif spechis of hem. The^e drede 7 of the Lord is the bigynning of wisdom; foolis dispisen wisdom and teching. My 8 sone, here thou the teching of thi fadir[§], and forsake thou not the lawe of thi modir; that grace be addid, ethir en-9
creessid^f, to thin heed, and a bie^{||} to thi necke. Mi sone, if synneris flateren thee, 10 assente thou not to hem. If thei seien, 11 Come thou with vs, sette we aspies to blood^g, hide we snaris of disseitis a3ens an innocent without cause; swolowe we 12 him, as helle swolowith a man lyuynge;
and al hool, as goynge down in to a lake;

* felnesse; to eschewe yuelis.
Live here c.
† children; that is, symple men.
Live here. c et alii.

‡ expownyng;
that is, in se-
inge the veri vndurstanding thereof. Live
here. c.

§ fadir; that is, God. and thi modir; that is,
of hooli chirche.
Live here. c.
|| and a bie, etc.;
bi eld tyme wise
men weren
wont to haue a goldun bie, in signe of wisdom. Live
here. c.

^a hem L. ^r Om. LR. ^s techingis E. ^t neuer lattere LR. ^u hem L. ^v heeldid AEHLR.
^w From E. Here endith the prolog of Prouerbis, se now the book. I. Here eendith the prolog, and bigynneth the firste c^o. L. Here eendith the prolog, and bigynneth the book of Prouerbis of Salamon. R. No final rubric in the other Mss. ^x From A. Incipit liber Proverbiorum. G. No initial rubric in the other Mss.
^y is the A. ^z wrethe E pr. m. ^a thee souken E pr. m. ^b thou not E pr. m.

^b From EM. Here bigynnen the Prouerbis. G. Heere bigynnith the book of Prouerbis. I. Here biginnith the Prouerbis of Salomon. Rg. No initial rubric in the other Mss. ^{bb} felnesse, or warnesse v. ^c the wisere I. ^d the expownyng I. ^e Om. I. ^f encrease w. ^g schede blood I.

finde, wee shul fulfillen oure housis with 14 spoilis; lot ley with vs, o bagge of 15 monee be of vs alle; mi sone, ne go thou with hem; forfende thi foot fro the 16 sties of hem. Forsothe the feet of hem to euel rennen; and heezen that thei 17 sheden out blod. In vein forsothe is throwen a net befor the e3en of the 18 fethered. Thei also a3en ther blod awaiten; and casten gilyls a3en ther 19 soulis. So the pathis of the auerous man raueshen the liues of the welderes. Wis-20 dam withouteforth precheth; in stretis 21 it 3yueth his vois. In the hed of cum-panyes it ofte crieth; in the doris of the 3atis of the cite he bringeth forth 22 his woordis, seiende, Hou longe, 3ee litle childer, loouen childhed, and foolis tho thingus that ben no3esum to them shul coueiten, and vnprudent^c men shuln 23 haten kunnyng? Be 3ee conuertid at my correccioun; lo! I shal bringe forth to 3ou my spirit, and shewen my woordis.
 24 For I clepede, and 3ee forsoken; I strazte out myn hond, and ther was not that 25 wolde beholden. 3ee despiseden al my counsel; and my blamyngis^d 3ee ro3ten 26 not of. I forsothe in 3oure deth shal law3he; and vndermouwe 3ou, whan to 3ou that, that 3ee dreden, shal come.
 27 Whan shal falle feerli wrecchidnesse, and deth as tempest shal a3en come; whan shal come vp on 3ou tribulacioun and an-28 guysh. Thanne thei shul inwardli clepe me, and I shal not ful out heren; erly they shuln rise togidere, and not finde 29 me. For thi that hatesum thei hadden disciplyne, and the drede of the Lord 30 thei vndertoken not, ne assentiden to my counsel, and bacbitiden to al my correc-31 cioun. Thei shuln ete therfore the frutis of ther weie; and with ther counseilis 32 thei shul be fulfild. The turning awei we schulen fynde al preciose catel, we 13 schulen fille oure housis with spuylish^{h*}; sendeⁱ thou lot with vs, o purs be^k of vs 14 alle; my sone, go thou not with hem; 15 forbede thi foot fro the pathis of hem.

 For the feet of hem rennen to yuel; and 16 thei hasten to schede out blood. But a 17 net[†] is leid in veyn[†] bifore the 3en[§] of briddis, that han wengis. Also 'thilke 18 wickid disseyueris setten^l aspies a3ens her owne blood; and maken redi fraudis^m a3ens her soulis. So the pathis of ech 19 auerouse man rauschenⁿ|| the soulis of hem that welden^o. Wisdom[¶] prechith 20 with outforth; in stretis it 3yueth his vois.
 It crieth ofte in the heed of cumpenyes; 21 in the leeuves of 3atis of the citee it bringith forth hise wordis, and seith, Hou 22 long, 3e^p litle men in wit, louen^q 3ong childhod^{}, and foolis schulen coueyte tho thingis, that ben harmful to hem silf, and^r vnprudent men schulen hate kunnyng? Be 3e conuertid at my repreu- 23 yng; lo, Y schal profres forth to 3ou my spirit, and Y schal schewe my wordis.
 For Y clepide^{††}, and 3e forsoken; Y helde 24 forth myn hond, and noon was^t that bihelde. 3e dispisiden^u al my counsel; and 25 chargiden not my blamyngis. And Y 26 schal leize in 3oure perisching; and Y schal scorne^v 3ou, whanne that, that 3e dreden, cometh to 3ou. Whanne sodeyne wretch- 27 idnesse fallith in, and perisching^w bifallith as tempest; whanne tribulacioun and an-gwisch cometh^x on 3ou. Thanne thei 28 schulen clepe me, and Y schal not here^{††}; thei schulen rise eerli, and thei schulen not fynde me. For^y thei hatiden^z teching^a, 29 and^b thei token not the^c drede of the Lord, nether^d assentiden to my counsel, 30 and^e depraueden al myn amending. Ther- 31 for thei schulen ete the fruytis^{§§} of her weie; and thei schulen be fillid with her

* spuylish; that is, richessis rausched fro the innocentis hows. Live here. c.
 † net; bi the net is signefied disseit of wickid men, and this is set forth in veyn to wise men, that han 3en to se yuel suyng, and ben wyngid bi vertu to eschewe it. Live here. c.
 † in veyn; ben disseitis or disseyuable wordis putte bifore vertuose wise men. ka.
 § bifor the 3en; that is, bifor briddis seinge scharpeli the peril, and eschewing bi flizt. c.
 || rauschen, etc.; that is, alien thing to helle. Live here. cna.
 ¶ Wisdom; that is, God, wisdom with out bigynnyng. prechith; bi profetis and techeris. in stretis; for thei that han hoolsom doctryn, techen in comyn places, as a3enward thei that han yuel doctryn and suspect, techen in priuy places; for he that doith yuele, hatith list, and he cometh not to the list, lest hise werkis ben repreud, but he that doith truthe, cometh to the list, that hise werkis be schewid, for tho ben doon in God, as Crist seith, in iij. co. of Joon. Live here. c.  childhod; that is, wantonnesse. Live here. cna.
 †† Y clepide; that is, bi wise

^c vnkunnyng ^a. ^d blamyng ^a.

^h robries ⁱ. ⁱ putte ⁱ. ^k be ther ⁱ. ^l thei setten ⁱ. that setten ^s. ^m fraudis, or gijles ⁱ. ⁿ rauschen or taken away ⁱ. ^o that is, wisdom ^k marg. ^p Om. ⁱ. ^q louen 3e ⁱ. ^r and hou longe ⁱ. ^s bryng ceteri. ^t ther was ⁱ. ^u haue dispisid ⁱ. ^v bymowe ^{ny}. ^w spillyng ⁱ. ^x comen ⁱ. ^y For cause that ⁱ. ^z hadden ⁱ. ^a teching in hate ⁱ. ^b and for ⁱ. ^c Om. ⁱ. ^d nether thei ⁱ. ^e and thei ⁱ.

of litle childer shal slen hem; and the 33 prosperite of foolis shal leesen hem. Who forsothe me shal heren, withoute ferd shal resten; and abundaunce he shal parfitli vsen, the ferd of euelis taken away.

CAP. II.

1 My sone, if thou vndertakest my woordis, and my maundementes hidist 2 anent thee; that thin ere here wisdom, inwardliche bowe thin herte to ben 3 knowne wisdom. If forsothe wisdom thou shalt inwardli clepen, and inwardli 4 bowe thin herte to prudence; if thou shalt sechen it as money, and as tresoris 5 deluen it out; thanne thou shalt vnderstonden the drede of the Lord, and the 6 kunnyng of God finde. For the Lord 3yueth wisdom; and of the mouth of 7 hym prudence and kunnyng. He shal kepen the helthe of rijt^e men, and de-8 fende the goende symplely; withholdende the pathis of rijt^{wisnesse}, and the weies 9 of halewis kepende. Thanne thou shalt vnderstonde rijt^{wisnesse}, and dom, and 10 equite, and eche good path. If wisdom shul go in to thin herte, and the kun-11 nyng to thi soule plese, counseil shal kepe thee, and prudence shal withholde 12 thee; that thou be pullid out fro an euel wey, and fro a man that speketh shreude 13 thingus. Thei that forsaken the rijt go-14 ing, and wenten bi derke weies; that for-sothe gladen, whan thei don euele, and 15 ful out iozen in werst thingus; of whom the weies shreude, and yuel losid the go-16 ingys of hem. That thou be take away fro an alien womman, and fro a straunge, 17 that softeth hir woordis; and forsaketh 18 the ledere of hir childhed, and the coue-naunt of hir God hath forjete. Forsothe inwardly bowid is to deth the hous of 19 hir, and to helle the pathis of hir. Alle counseils. The turnyng awei of litle men 32 in wit schal sle hem; and the prosperite of foolis schal leese^f hem. But he that 33 herith^g me*, schal reste with outen drede; and he schal vse abundaunce, whanne the drede of yuels is takun awei.

CAP. II.

Mi sone, if thou resseyuest my wordis, 1 and hidist myn heestis[†] anentis thee; that 2 thin eere here wisdom, bowe thin herte to knowe prudence. For if thou inwardli 3 clepist wisdom, and bowist thin herte^b to prudence; if thou sekist it as money[†], 4 and diggist it out as tresours; thanne 5 thou schalt vndirstonde the drede of the Lord, and schalt fynde the kunnyng of God. For the Lord 3yueth wisdom 6; and prudence and kunnyng is of his mouth. He schal kepe the heelte of rijt- 7 ful men, and he schal defende hem that goen sympli. And he schal kepe the 8 pathis of rijtfulness^l, and he schal kepe the weies of hooli men. Thanne thou 9 schalt vndirstonde rijtfulness, and dom, and equitye, and ech good path||. If 10 wysdom entrith in to thin herte, and kunnyng plesith thi soule, good counsel schal 11 kepe thee, and prudence schal kepe thee; that thou be delyuered fro an yuel weie[¶], 12 and fro a man that spekith weiward thingis. Whiche^m forsaken a rijtful weie, 13 and goen bi derk weies; whicheⁿ ben 14 glad, whanne thei han do yuel, and maken ful out ioye in worste thingis; whose 15 weies ben weywerd, and her goyingis ben of yuel fame. That thou be delyuered fro 16 an alien womman, and fro a straunge womman, that makith soft hir wordis; and forsakith the duyke^o of hir tyme of 17 mariage, and hath forjete the couenaunt 18 of hir God. For the hous of hir is bowid to deeth, and hir pathis to helle. Alle 19 that entren to hir^{††}, schulen not turne azen, men and pro-

 fetis, noon was,
 etc.; that is, fewe bihelden, in comparisoun of the multitude.
 Live here. c.
 † schal nothere;
 for the tyme of merit is passid,
 as to deed men,
 ether for thei
 that synnen repenten not verily, that is,
 for the loue of good, but onely for drede, and hidousnesse of peyne. Live
 here. c.
 †† set the fruytis,
 etc.; that is,
 schulen be punyschid bi her
 yuele werkis.
 Live here. cv.
 * he that her-
 ith me; that is,
 obeyeth to Goddis heestis.
 abundaunce;
 of goostli goodis, and of the higeste good in blis. Live
 here. c.
 † and hidist
 myn heestis;
 not in hidinge
 tho fro othere
 men, for siche owen to be comyned to neijboris, but in keepinge tho
 as a precious
 thing. thyn eere;
 that is, the eere
 of bodi and of
 soule. wisdom;
 is properly
 knowing of dy-
 uyn thingis.
 and prudence;
 is knowing of manus thingis worthi to be doon. kunnyng;
 is of thingis to be biholdun in wit.
 Live here. c.
 † as money;
 that is, with so
 greet enforsing,
 as an auarouse
 man sekith
 money, and as a mynour sek-
 ith gold hid.
 Live here. c.
 †† 3yueth wisdom;
 to hem that
 desiren it. c.
 || ech good path;
 that is, his ver-tu, that ledith

^e rijtwise 1.

^f fordo 1. ^g wel herith 1.
^o duyke, or ledere 1.

^h ere 1.

ⁱ rijt^{wisnesse} 1.

^m The whiche 1.

ⁿ the whiche 1.

that gon in to hir, shul not turne azeen, 20 ne take the sties of lif. That thou go in a good weye, and the pathis of riztwis 21 men thou kepe. Who forsothe ben rizte, shul dwelle in the erthe; and the symple 22 shul parfitli wone in it. The vnpitouse forsothe fro the erthe shul be lost; and that wickidli don, shul be take fro it awei.

CAP. III.

1 My sone, ne forzete thou my lawe; 2 and thin herte kepe myn hestis. For-sothe lengthe of dazis, and zeeris of lif, 3 and pes, thei shul ley to^f to thee. Mercy and treuthe forsake thei not thee; cumpase them to thi throte, and descryue in 4 the tablis of thin herte. And thou shalt finde grace, and good discipline befor 5 God and men. Haue trost in the Lord, of al thin herte; and ne lene thou to thi 6 prudence. In alle thi weies thenc hym, 7 and he shal rizt reulen thi goingsis. Ne be thou wis anent thiself; dred God, and 8 go away fro euel. Helthe forsothe shal ben in thi nauele, and watring of thi 9 bones. Honoure the Lord of thi substance, and of the cheef of alle thi 10 frutis 3if to pore men; and thi bernis shul ben fulfild with fulnesse, and with 11 win thi presses shul rebounden. The discipline of the Lord, my sone, ne caste thou away; ne faile thou, whan of hym 12 thou art chastisid. Whom forsothe the Lord looueth, he chastiseth; and as fader in the sone it with pleseth to hym.
 13 Blisful the man that findeth wisdam, 14 and that flowith prudence. Betere is the purchasing of it, than the chaffering of gold and of siluer; first and most pure 15 the frutis of it. More precious than alle richesses it is; and alle thingus that be desirid, to it moun not be comparisound.
 16 Lengthe of dazis in his rizt half, and in the left half of it richessis and glorie.
 17 The weies of it faire, and alle the pathis nether^p schulen catche the pathis of lijf.

 That thou go in^q a good weie, and kepe²⁰ the pathis of iust men. Forsothe thei that²¹ ben riztful, schulen dwelle in the lond; and symple men schulen perfitli dwelle ther ynne. But vnfeithful men schulen be²² lost fro the loond; and thei that doen wickidli, schulen be takun away fro it.

CAP. III.

Mi sone, forzete thou not my lawe; and thyn herte kepe my comaundementis. For² tho^r schulen sette to thee the lengthe of daies, and the zeeris of lijf, and pees.
 Merci and treuthe forsake thee not^{*}; ³ bynde thou tho to thi throte, and write^s in the tablis of thin herte. And thou⁴ schalt fynde grace, and good teching bi-fore God and men. Haue thou trist in⁵ the Lord, of al thin herte; and triste^t thou not to thi prudence. In alle thi weies⁶ thenke thou^u on hym, and he schal dresse thi goyngis. Be thou not wijs anentis thi⁷ silf[†]; drede thou God, and go awei fro yuel. For whi helthe schal be in thi⁸ nawle[‡], and moisting of thi boonys.
 Onoure thou the Lord of thi catel, and of⁹ the beste of alle thi fruytis 3yue thou to pore men; and thi bernis schulen be¹⁰ fillid with abundaunce, and pressours^v schulen flowe with wiyn. My sone, caste¹¹ thou not awei the teching of the Lord;
 and faile thou not, whanne thou art chastisid of him. For the Lord chastisith¹² hym, whom he loueth; and as a fadir in the sone he plesith hym. Blessid is the¹³ man that fyndith wisdom, and which^w flowith with prudence. The geting therof¹⁴ is betere than the marchaundie of gold and of siluer; the fruytis therof ben the firste and clenneste^x. It is preciousere^y than alle richessis; and alle thingis that ben desirid, moun not be comparisound to this. Lengthe of daies is in the rizthalf¹⁶ therof, and richessis and glorie ben in the schortly to blys.

Live here. c.
[†] yuel wey;
 that is, idola-
 trie. c.

^{} an alien
womman; that
 is, fro idolatrie,
 that makith
 alien fro God, ether fro a womman auoutresse, as to the synne of fleisch.
Live here. c.

that is, fro any womman that is leecherous, ajenus the bidding of Goddis lawe. Live

here. k.
^{††} Alle that en-
tern to hir, etc.;
 that is, for we schulen turne
 ajen to veri
 feith and onour
 of God. Live
here. c.

^{*} forsake thee
not; that is,
 be not forsakun
 of thee, for whi vertues forsaken not a man, no but for he forsakith
 tho. good tech-
ing; ether temperance and on-estie in vir-
 mere conuersa-cioun. Live

here. c.

[†] in thiyn owne reputacioun. k.

[‡] in thi nawle;

this is a figura-

tif speche, for

bi the helthe of the nawle, is vndurstondun

good disposi-

cioun of the

soule in pro-

sperites; and bi moisture of

boonys, is vn-

derstondun

stidefastnesse

in aduersites.

Live here. c.

^{*} It is a tre of

lygf; as lyf was contynnued, bi

the tre of lyf,

and as man,

dwellinge in

the staat of innocence, schulde

haue passid fro

the lyf of

kynde to the

lyf of glorie,

without deth

goyng bitwixe,

so wisdom

and prudence leden

^f Om. AGH.

^p nether thei I. ^q in to A. ^r thei I. ^s write hem I. ^t lene I. ^u Om. I. ^v thi pressours I.
^w that I. ^x the clenneste I. ^y more precious I.

18 of it pesible. The tre of lif it is to them that cacchen it; and that holden it, ben 19 blisful. The Lord bi wisdom foundede the erthe; bi prudence stablide heuenes.
20 Bi the wisdom of hym brecken out depe wattris; and the cloudis bi dew togidere 21 waxen. My sone, ne flowe these thingis awei fro thin e3e; kep thou my lawe, and 22 counseil^g; and there schal ben lif to thi 23 soule, and grace to thi chekis. Thanne thou shalt go trostli in thi wey; and thi 24 foot schal not offende. If thou shul slepe, thou shalt not drede; thou shalt resten, 25 and sweete schal be thi slep. Ne drede thou with sodeyn gastnesse, and the poweris of the^h vnpitous men fallende 26 on to thee. The Lord forsothe schal ben in thi side; and kepe thi foot, that thou 27 be not take. Wile thou^l not forfenden hym that mai wel don; if thou maist, 28 and thiself wel do. Ne sey thou to thi frend, Go, and turne a3een, to moru I shal 3yue to thee; whan anoon thou maist 29 3iue. Ne caste thou to thi frend euel, 30 whan he in thee hath trost. Ne striue thou a3en a man^k in veyn, whan he no 31 thing of euel hath don to thee. Ne enuye thou the vnri3twis man, ne folewe 32 thou the weies of hym. For^l abhomynacioun of the Lord is eche gilour; and with the simple the sermounyng of hym.
33 Nede of the Lord in the hous of the vnpitouse; the dwelling placis forsothe of 34 ri3twis men shul be blessid. He schal desceyue the desceyueres; and to the de-35 bonere he shal 3yue grace. Glorie wise men shul welde; of foolis the out io3ing shenshipe.

CAP. IV.

1 Here 3ee, sones, the discipline of the fader; and taketh heede, that 3ee knowen 2 prudence. A good 3ifte I shal 3yuen to 3 3ou; my lawe ne forsake 3ee. For and I lifthalf therof. The weies therof ben 17 a man fro the feire weies, and alle the pathis therof ben pesible. It is a tre of lijf* to hem 18 a liyf of grace to that taken it; and he that holdith it, is the liyf of glo-blessid. The Lord foundide the erthe bi 19 rie, without wisdom; he stablischide heuenes bi pru- deth of dedly dence. The depthis of wattris braken out 20 synne goynge bi his wisdom; and cloudis wexen togi- bitwixe, so that dere bi² dewe. My sone, these thingis 21 a man contynue flete not away fro thin i3en; kepe thou in tho; therfor my lawe, and my counsel; and lijf schal 22 it sueth, and he be to thi soule, and grace schal be^a to thi that holdith it, chekis. Thanne thou schalt go tristili in 23 is blessid; for thi weie; and thi foot schal not snapere. certeynly he If thou schalt slepe, thou schalt not drede; 24 schal be led to thou schalt reste, and thi sleep schal be blis. schal not soft. Drede thou not bi^b sudeyne feer, and 25 snapere; in the powers of wickid men fallynge in on fullinge in to thee. For the Lord schal be at thi side; 26 dedly synne. and he schal kepe thi foot, that thou be the Lord schal not takun. Nil thou forbede to do wel 27 be at thi side; him that mai; if thou maist, and^c do that if he nyle thou wel. Seie thou not to thi frend, 28 kepe thee fro Go^d, and turne thou^e a3en, and to morewe temporal peyae, Y schal 3yue to thee; whanne thou maist this schal be to 3yue anoon. Ymagyne thou not yuel to 29 thi good, that thi freend, whanne he hath trist in thee. is to exercisce of Stryue thou not a3ens a man with out 30 patience, and cause, whanne he doith noon yuel to to merit of thee. Sue thou not an vniust man, sue 31 glorie. Lire thou not hise weies. For ech disseyuer[†] 32 here. c. is abhomynacioun of^f the Lord; and his † disseyuere; speking is with simple men. Nedinesse 33 that bihetith is sent of the Lord in the hous of a good with the wickid man; but the dwelling places of mouth, that iust men schulen be blessid[‡]. He schal 34 thenkith yuel scorne scorneris; and he schal 3yue grace in the herte. to mylde men. Wise men schulen haue 35 Lire here. c. glorie; enhaunsing of foolis is schen- ‡ be blessid; schipe§. that is, schulen § Many Latyn be multiplied bokis han thus, in temporal the ful out io3- goodis and yng of foolis is goostli. Lire schenschipe; that is, ful of here. c. of schenschipe, § Many Latyn for thei ben bokis han thus, glad, whanne the ful out io3-thei han do yuele, and yng of foolis is make ful out schenschipe; ioye in worste for thanne the things; nethe- filthe of her foli les in Ebrew it aperith more, is, enhaunsing as the filthe of of foolis is the hyndre schenschipe; partis of an ape for thanne the aperith more, the filthe of whanne he

the hyndre stiet an hij; partis of an and oure Latyn ape aperith more, translacioun more, semeth corrupt for the licnesse bi writeri-, of wordis. Lire for the licnesse here. c. of wordis. Lire
|| of the fadir;

CAP. IV.

Sones, here 3e the teching of the^g fadir||; 1 and perseiue 3e, that 3e kunne prudence.
Y schal 3yue to 3ou a good 3ifte; forsake 2 3e not my lawe. For whi and Y was^h the 3

^g my counseile A. ^h Om. A. ⁱ Om. A. ^k man, a comelyng tiliere E pr. m. ^l Forsothe AH.

² with I. ^a Om. I. ^b of I. ^c also I. ^d And go thou N. ^e Om. N. ^f to I. ^g 3oure I.
^h was also I.

was the sone of my fader, sum what tender, and the onli goten befor my moder.
 4 And he tazte me, and seide, Take my woordys thin^m herte; kep thou myn
 5 hestis, and thou shalt liue. Weld wisdom, weld prudence; ne forȝete thou, ne 6 bowe thou down fro the wordis of my mouth. Ne leue thou it, and it shal kepe thee; looue it, and it shal withholde thee.
 7 Begynnyng of wisdom, welde thou wisdom; and in al thi possessioun purchaseⁿ 8 prudence. Tac it, and it shal enhaunce thee; thou shalt be glorified of it, whan 9 thou hast clippid it. It shal ȝiue to thin hed encreis of graces; and a noble crowne 10 shal defende thee. Here thou, my sone, and vndertac my woordis; and be ther 11 multeplied to thee ȝeris of lif. The weie of wisdom I shal shewe to thee; and lede 12 thee bi the pathys of equityte. The whiche whan thou shalt gon in, thi goingis shul not be streitid; and rennende thou shalt 13 not han letting. Hold discipline, and ne 14 leue thou it; kep it, for it is thi lyf. Ne delite thou in the pathis of vnпиты men; and to thee plese not the weie of euele 15 men. Flee^o fro it, and passe thou not bi 16 it; bowe down, and forsake it. Forsothe they slepen not, but if thei don euele; and 17 slep is not caȝt of hem, but if thei supplaunte. Thei eten the bred of vnпиты 18 tounesse, and the win of wickidnesse^p drinken. Forsothe the path of riȝtwis-19 men as shynende liȝt goth forth, and growith in to a parfit day. The weie of vnпиты men derk^q; thei witen not wher 20 thei falle. My sone, herkne my woordis; and to my spechis bowe in thin ere. Ne 21 go thei away fro thin eȝen; kep thou hem in the myddel of thin herte. Forsothe 22 lif thei ben to the findende hem, and of alle flesh the helthe. With alle warde 23 kep thou thin herte, for of it lif goth forth. Remoue from thee a shreude 24 mouth; and bacbitende lippis be thei sone of my fadir, a tendir sone, and oon 'gendride bifore^l my modir. And my fadir⁴ tauȝte me, and seide, Thin herte resseyue my wordis; kepe thou myn heestis, and thou schalt lyue. Welde thou wisdom, 5 welde thou prudence; forȝete thou not, ne-6 thir bowe thou away fro the wordis of my mouth. Forsake thou not it, and it schal 6 kepe thee; loue thou it, and it schal kepe^k thee. The bigynnyng of wisdom*, welde 7 thou wisdom; and in al thi possessioun gete thou prudence. Take thou it, and it 8 schal enhaunse thee; thou schalt be glorified[†] of it, whanne thou hast biclippid it.

 It schal ȝyue encresyngis of graces to thin 9 heed; and a noble coroun schal defende thee. Mi sone, here thou, and take my 10 wordis; that the ȝeris of lijf be multiplid to thee. Y schal schewe to thee the weie 11 of wisdom; and Y schal lede thee bi the pathis of equityte. In to whiche^l whanne 12 thou hast entrid, thi goyngis schulen not be maad streit; and thou schalt rennen, and schalt not haue hirtyng. Holde thou 13 teching^m, and forsake it not; kepe thou it, for it is thi lijf. Delite thou not in the 14 pathis of wyckid men; and the weie of yuele men plese not thee. Fle thou fro it, 15 and passe thou not therbi; bowe thou awei, and forsake it. For thei slepen not, 16 'no butⁿ thei han do yuele; and^o sleep is rausched^p fro hem, no^q but thei^r han dis-seyued[‡]. Thei eten the breed of vnpite, 17 and^s drinken the wyn of wickidnesse[§].
 But the path of iust men goth forth as 18 liȝt schynynge, and encreessith^{||} til to per-fit dai. The weie of wickid men is derk; 19 thei witen not wher thei schulen falle.
 Mi sone, herkne thou my wordis; and 20 bowe down thin eeris to my spechis. Go 21 not tho^t awei fro thyn iȝen; kepe thou hem^u in the myddil of thin herte. For 22 tho^v ben lijf to men fyndynge thoo^w, and^x heelthe 'of al fleisch^y. With al kep-23 ing^z kepe thin herte, for lijf cometh forth this may be vnderstondun of Dauid, the fadir of Salomon; and of God, cheef fadir of alle; and this letre may be vnderstondun bothe of Salomon and of Crist. Live here. c.

* The bigynnyng of wisdom; that is, to gete wisdom. *welde thou wisdom; that is, possessioun of wisdom in this liyf, is the bigynnyng to haue wisdom in heuenli cun- trey, which stonith in the cleer siȝt and knowing of God. and in al thi possessioun; that is, bifor al thing that may be getun in to thi possessioun. take thou it; that is, haaste thou to gete it. In Ebreu thus, the bigynnyng of wisdom, be thou wisdom; that is, the bigynnyng to gete wisdom, is to bie to thee bi priys ether seruyce a wiȝs techere, which is seid here wisdom. and in al thi biȝng, gete thou prudence; that is, bifor alle thingis that moun be bouȝt, ether moun be had of eny man in eny maner. Live here. c. † be glorified; that is, thou schalt be onourid bifor many men for it. Live here. c. ‡ disseyued; symple men. Live here. ckn. § of wickidnesse; that is,*

^m in thin AH. ⁿ purchase thou c pr. m. ^o Flee thou A. ^p wickidnesse EG pr. m. ^q is derk A.

^l bigotun tofore I. ^k warishe I. ^l the whiche I. ^m disciplyne or teching I. ⁿ but if I.
^o neither A sec. m. ^p take away I. ^q Om. A sec. m. ^r if thei I. ^s and thei I. ^t thei I. ^u tho cvw.
 Om. FHV. ^v tho wordis I. ^w hem I. ^x and thei ben I. ^y to ech man I. ^z warde I.

25 ferr fro thee. Thin ezen see thei rizte thingis; and thin ezelidis beforgo thei thi 26 goingis. Rizt reule the pathis to thi feet, 27 and alle thi weies be they stablid. Ne bowe thou down to the rizt, ne to the lift; turne awei thi foot fro euel. Forsothe the weies that ben on the rizthalf the Lord knew³; shreude forsothe ben^r, that of the lift ben. He forsothe rizt shal make thi goingus; thi weies forsothe in pes shul be broyt forth.

CAP. V.

1 My sone, tac heed to my wisdam, and to my prudence bowe thou thin ere;
2 that thou kepe tho³tis, and discipline thi lippis withholden. Ne^a wile thou not entende to the desceyuyng of womman;
3 forsothe an hony comb droppende the lippis of a strumpet, and clerere than oile 4 the throte of hir; forsothe the laste of hir bitter as wormod, and the tunge of 5 hir sharp as a twei bitende swerd. The feet of hir gon down in to deth; and to^t 6 helle the goingis of hir persen. Bi the path of lif thei gon not; vagaunt ben 7 the goingus of hir, and vnserchable. Now thanne, my sone, here thou me, and ne go thou awei fro the woordis of my 8 mouth. Aferr mac fro hir thi weie, and ne nezhe thou to the doris of hir hous.
9 Ne 3yue thou to alienes thi wrshi^e, and 10 thi 3eris to the cruel; lest perauenture be fulfid straungeres with thi strengthis, and thi trauailis ben in an^a aliene hous;
11 and thou weile in^v thi laste, whan thou hast wastid thi flesh, and thi bodi; and 12 sey, Whi wariede I discipline, and to 13 snybbingis assentede^w not myn herte; ne I herde the vois of men techende me, and 14 to maistris I bowide not myn ere? Ne³h I was in alle euel, in the myddel of the 15 chirche, and of the synagoge. Drink watir of thi cisterne, and the flowingus of it. Remoue thou^a a schrewid mouth 24 fro thee; and backbitynge lippis be fer fro thee. Thin 3en se riztful thingis; and thin 25 3eliddis go bfore thi steppis. Dresse thou 26 pathis to thi feet^{*}, and alle thi weies schulen be stablischid. Bowe thou not to the 27 riztside[†], nether to the leftside; turne awei thi foot fro yuel. For the Lord[†] knowith the weies that ben at the rizt- side; but the weies ben weiward, that ben at the leftside. Forsothe he schal make thi goyngis riztful; and thi weies schulen be brouzt forth in pees.

CAP. V.

Mi sone, perseyue thou my wisdom, 1 and bowe down thin eere to my prudence; that thou kepe thi thou³tis, and thi lippis 2 kepe teching. 3yue thou not tent to the falsnesse of a womman; for the lippis of 3 an hoore[§] ben an hony coomb droppinge, and hir throte is clerere than oile; but 4 the last thingis ben bittir as wormod, and hir tunge is scharp as a swerd keruyng on ech side. Hir feet gon down in to deeth; 5 and hir steppis persen to hellis. Tho goon 6 not bi the path of lijf; hir steppis ben vn- certeyn, and moun not be souzt out. Now 7 therfor, my sone, here thou me, and go^b not awei fro the wordis of my mouth. Make fer thi weie fro hir, and neize thou 8 not to the doris of hir hous. 3yue thou 9 not thin onour to aliens^{||}, and thi 3eeris to the cruel; lest perauenture straungeris 10 be fillid with thi strengthis, and lest thi trauels be in an alien^c hous; and thou 11 biweile[¶] in the laste daies, whanne thou hast wastid thi flesch^d, and thi bodi; and thou^e seie, Whi^f wlatide Y teching, and 12 myn herte assentide not to blamyngis; nether Y herde the voys of men techinge 13 me, and Y bowide not down myn eere to maistris? Almost Y was in al yuel, in the 14 myddis of the chirche, and of the synagoge. Drinke thou watir^{} of thi cisterne^{††}, 15 and the floodis of thi pit. Thi wellis be 16 getun bi wick- idnesse. Live here. c.

|| and encreess- ith, etc.; in go- ynge forth fro vertu in to vertu, til God be seyen in Syon. tho ben lijf; that is, ben cause of lijf of grace, and maken good disposicioun of bodi to hem that kepen tho. Live here. c.
* to thi feet; that is, to thyn affeccions. Live here. cx na.
† Bowe thou not to the rizt side, etc.; that is, be thou not drawun fro the weye of riztful- nesse [riztwis- nesse x] bi prosperites, nether [or faire x] biheestis, nether be thou brokun bi ad- uersites, nether ma. asis. Live here. cx.
† For the Lord, etc.; al this til to the ende of the chapitre, is not of the text, for it is not in Ebreu. Live here. c.
§ of an hoore; summe Ebreys, as Rabi Sala- mon, expownen this of idolatrie, signefied bi an hoore. Live here. c.
|| that is, to ribaudis and enemyes of Goddis lawe. x.
¶ withouten fruyt, as dampned men doon aftir deeth. Sap. vto. x.
 Drynke thou water; that is, if thou maist not, ether nylt lyue chaste, vse thi wiyf. Live here. c.
vse thou with drede thin owne wiyf, kepe hire fro othere, bring- inge forth chil- dren in ver- tuous loue. x.
†† bi water of

^r thei ben A. ^a Om. A. ^t in to A. ^u Om. E pr. m. ^v Om. c. ^w assente c.

^a Om. i. ^b go thou i. ^c aliens A1. ^d fleish i. ^e Om. i. ^f Thanne whi i.

16 of thi pyt. Ben lad out thi wellis with-oute forth; and in stretis thi watir de-17 uyde thou. Haue thou hem alone; and 18 be not alienes thi parceneres. Be thi veyne blissid; and glade thou with the 19 womman of thi ful waxende 3outhen. A most cheere^x hynde; and a most kindeli hert calf. The tetis of hir inwardli make thee drunke alle time; and in the looue 20 of hire delite thou bisili. Whi art thou bro3t doun, sone myn, of an alien womman; and art fed in the bosum of an 21 othere? The Lord loketh the weie of a man; and alle the goingis of hym be-22 holdith^y. His wickenesses^z taken the vnpitouse; and with the cordis of his synnes 23 he is togidere streyned. He schal dien, for he hadde not discipline; and in the multitude of his folie he schal ben begyld.

CAP. VI.

1 My sone, if thou become bor3 for thi frend; thou hast pi3t doun anent a straun-2 ger thin hond. Thou art gnarid with the woordis of thi mouth; and taken with thi 3 proper woordis. Do thanne, my sone, that I seie, and deliuere thi self; for thou hast fallen in to the hond of thi ne3hebore.
Ren hider and thider, hee3e, rere vp thi 4 frend; ne 3iue thou slep to thin e3en, 5 and nappe not thin e3elidis. Be thou pullid out as a^a foun fro the hond; and as 6 a brid fro the spies of the foulere. Go to the anpte, O! thou slowe; and behold 7 the weies of it, and lerne wisdom. The whiche, whan it hath no ledere, ne co-8 maundere, ne prince; it greitheth in the somer mete to hymself^b, and gedereth 9 togidere in time of rip, that it etc. Hou longe, thou slowe, shalt thou slepe?
10 whanne shalt thou rise fro thi slep? A litol while thou shalt slepe, a litil while thou shalt nappe; a litil while thou shalt leyn togidere thin hondis, that thou slepe.

stremed forth^{*}; and departe thi watris in stretis. Haue thou aloone tho watris^g; 17 and aliens be not thi parceneris[†]. Thi 18 veyne[‡] be blissid; and be thou glad with the womman of thi 3ong^h wexynge age[§].
An hynde moost dereworth^{||}; and an hert 19 calf moost acceptable. Hir teetis fille thee in al tyme; and delite thou contynueli in the loue of hir^{}. Mi sone, whi art thou 20 disseyued of an alien womman; and art fostrid in the bosum of an othere? The 21 Lord seeth the weie of a man; andⁱ bi-holdith alle hise steppis. The wickid- 22 nessis of a wyckid man taken hym; and he is boundun with the roopis of hise synnes. He schal die, for he hadde not 23 lernyng^k; and he schal be disseyued in the mychilnesse of his fooli.

CAP. VI.

1 Mi sone, if thou hast bihi3t for thi freend; thou hast fastned thin hoond at a straunger. Thou art boundun bi the wordis 2 of thi mouth; and thou art takun with thin owne wordis^l. Therfor, my sone, do 3 thou that that Y seie, and delyuere thi silf; for thou hast fallun^m in to the hond of thi ne3bore. Renne thou aboute, haste thou, reise thi freend; 3yue thou not sleep 4 to thin 3en, nether thin 3eliddis nappe.
Be thou rauyschid^{††} as a doo fro the 5 hond; and as a bridde froⁿ aspiyngis^p of the foulere. O^q! thou slowe man, go to the 6
'amte, ether pissemire^r; and biholde thou hise weies, and lerne thou wisdom. Which^s 7 whanne^t he hath^u no duyck, nethir comaundour, nether^v prince; makith redi 8 in somer mete to hym silf, and gaderith togidere in heruest that, that he schal etc. Hou long schalt thou, slow man, 9 slep? whanne schalt thou rise fro thi sleep? A litil thou schalt slepe, a litil 10 thou schalt nappe; a litil thou schalt ioynen cisterne; is signified the watir

of helthe and of wisdom, that cometh forth of
hooly scripture.
A man owith
to departe this wisdom in stretis, that is comyn places;
also he alone
owith to haue this watir of wisdom, not excludinge othere feithful
men and good dissipulis, but scornis and vnfeithful men.

^{*} thi wellis be stremed forth;
that is, children
be gendrid of thee in matry-monye. *Live
here. c.*
[†] *and departe
thi watris, etc.*;
that is, 3yue
thou to mariage thi children
comun to age.
Live here. c.
[‡] aliens be not thi parceneris;
that is, kepe so thi wyf, that children borun
of hir be thyne,
and that aliens
be not parceneris in thi wyf, nether in children. *Live
here. c.*
[§] thi veyne;
that is, the
children borun
of veri matry-
monye. c.
^{||} *with a wom-
man of thi 3ong
wexynge age*;
that is, with Goddis lawe 3ounn to the puple of Israel
in the 3outhen
therof. c.
^{} *an hynde moost dere-
worth*; is Goddis lawe.
*an hert calf
moost acceptable*; is a studious dissiple in Goddis lawe;
ether bi an hynde is vndur-stonde a feithful spousesse.
an hert calf;
that is, a feith-

^x cleere A. ^y he beholdith AGH. ^z wickidnessis AGH. ^a Om. A. ^b it silf AH.

³ hem I. ^h Om. I. ⁱ and he I. ^k lernyng ether chastising CEF GK MN PQ RS UV Y A C. discipline or chas-tising I. ^l spechis I. ^m feld CHNUV. ⁿ for R. ^p spiyngis MY. ^q A plures. ^r amte, ether spisse-mire NQUW. amte H. amte, ether the spissmire S. pismire, ether ampte Y. ^s The which emte I. ^t thou3 I.
^u haue I. ^v ne I.

11 And ther shal come to thee as a weie goere, nede; and porenese, as a man armed. If forsothe vnslo; thou shul be, shal come as a welle thi rip; and nede 12 ferr shal flee fro thee. A man apostata, a man ful of strengthe vnprofitable, goth 13 with peruertid mouth; he twincleth with the ejen^c, he tramplith with the foot, 14 with the fingir he speketh, with shreude herte he castith euel; and alle times 15 striues he sowith. To this anoon shal come his perdicoun, and sodeynli he shall be to-treden; and he shal han no mor 16 medecyn. Sixe thingis ben, that the Lord hateth; and the seuenthe the lif of 17 hym varieth. Heze ejen, a tunge liere, hondis shedende out the innocent blod, 18 the herte castende most euel tho;tis, the 19 swifte feet to rennen in to euel, the bringende forth lesingis, the desceyuable witness; and hym that sowith among 20 brether discordis. Withhold, my sone, the hestis of thi fader; and ne leue thou 21 the lawe of thi moder. Bind hem bisili in thin herte; and enuyroune to thi throte.
22 Whan thou shalt go, go thei with thee; whan thou shalt slepe, kepe thei thee; 23 and wakende speke thou with hem. For the maundement is a lanterne, and the lawe lijt^d, and the weie of lif the snyb-24 bing of discipline; that thei kepe thee fro an euel womman, and fro the flater-ende tunge of the straunge womman.
25 Coueite not thin herte the fairnesse of hir; ne be thou take^e with the beckis of 26 hir. The price forsothe of the strumpet vnethe is of o lof; the womman forsothe 27 taketh the precious lif of a man. Whether mai a man hide fir in his bosum, that his 28 clothis brenne not; or gon vpon colis^f, 29 and his solis ben not brent? So he that goth in to the womman of his ne;hebore; shal not ben clene, whan he touchith hir.
30 Not gret is the blame, whan a man stelith; togidere thin hondis, that thou slepe. And^y 11 ful spouse, ether nedynesse, as a weigoere*, schal come to thee; and pouert, as an armed man. For-sothe if thou art not slow, thi ripe corn shal come as a welle; and nedynesse schal fle fer fro thee. A man apostata†, a^y man 12 vnprofitable, he goith with a weiward mouth; he bekeneth with ijen†, he tramp- 13 ith with the foot, he spekith with the fyngur‡, bi^z schrewid herte he ymagyneth 14 yuel, and in al tyme he sowith dissenciouns. His perdicoun schal come to hym 15 anoon, and he schal be brokun sodeynli; and he schal no more haue medecyn||. Sixe 16 thingis ben^a, whyche the Lord hatith; and hise soule cursith the seuenthe thing. Hi- 17 ze ijen¶, a tunge liere, hondis schedinge out innocent blood, an herte ymagyn- 18 ynge worste^b thou;tis, feet swifte to renne in to yuel, a man bringynge forth lesingis, 19 a fals witness; and him that sowith discordis^c among britheren. Mi sone, kepe 20 the comaundementis of thi fadir††; and forsake not the lawe of thi modir. Bynde 21 thou tho continueli in thin herte; and cumpasse^d to thi throte^d. Whanne thou goist, 22 go tho^e with thee; whanne thou slepist, kepe tho^f thee; and thou wakyng speke with tho^g. For the comaundement of God 23 is a lanterne, and the lawe is lijt, and the blamyng of techyng^h is the weie of lijf;

'that the comaundementisⁱ kepe thee fro 24 an yuel womman, and fro a flaterynge tunge of a straunge womman. Thin herte 25 coueite not the fairnesse of hir; nether be thou takun bi the signes^k of hir. For the 26 prijs of an hoore is vnnethe of^l o loof††;
but^m a womman takithⁿ the preciose soule of a man. Whetherⁿⁿ a man mai 27 hide fier in his bosum, that hise clothis brenne not; ethir go on colis, and hise 28 feet be not brent? So^o he that entrieth to 29 the wijf of his ne;hbore; schal not be cleene, whanne he hath touchid hir. It^p is not^q 30 ful spouse, ether

hosebonde.
Live here. c.
 in the loue of hir; that is, in hir felouschipe
in 3ongthe and eelde. Live
here. c.
†† Be thou ra-uyschid; that is, swiftd; fro
the hond of him, to whom thou hast
bounde thee.
Live here. c.
* as a wei-
goere; that is,
sone and su-deynli; armed so that thou maist not defende thee agens it. Live
here. c.
† apostata;
that is, brekere
of religioun, is maad a man vnprofitable,
etc. cknw.
‡ bekeneth with ijen; schew-
inge to wym-
men signes of leccherie. c.
§ with the fyn-
gur; that is,
with pride.
Live here. ckn.
|| no more haue medecyn; for aftir deth is no place to fruyt-
ful penance.
Live here. c.
¶ hi;ze ijen;
that is, opyn
signes of pride.
Live here. ckn.
 a tunge liere; that is,
customable to
dedly leeing.
Live here. c.
†† of thi fadir;
that is God.
modir; that is, hooli scripture, ethir hooli chirche.
to thi throte;
that is, in holdinge tho in mynde stidefastli, and in spekinge of tho.
whanne thou
slepist, etc.; for in slepinge in the mynde of tho, thou slepist in the Lord, and in his proteccioun.
weie of lijf;
that is, to hem

^c eye A. ^d of lijt E pr. m. ^e not take AE pr. m. H. ^f the colis AEGH.

^y And thanne I. ^{yy} is a I. ^z with I. ^a ther ben I. ^b ful wickid I. ^c discord I. ^d with hem I.
^e thei I. ^f thei I. ^g hem I. ^h disciplyne I. ⁱ that thei I. that, that is, the comaundementis. Live here. N sec. m. ^k beckis I. ^l the value of I. ^m forsothe I. ⁿ takith away I. ⁿⁿ Wher ceteri passim.
^o Riht so I. ^p And it A. ^q no rs pr. m.

forsothe he steleth, that he fulfille the hun-31 grende soule. Ca3t therewith forsothe he shal 3elde the^g seuene fold; and al the substaunce of his hous he shal take, and 32 deliueren hymself. Who^h forsothe is auoutrer; for miseise of herte he shal lesen 33 his soule. Filthe and shenshepe he geder-eth to hymself; and the repref of hym 34 shal not ben don awei. For the ielous-nesse and the wodnesse of the man shal 35 not sparen in the dai of veniaunce, ne assente to the pre3eeris of any man; and he shal not take for the a3een bizing manye 3iftis.

CAP. VII.

1 My sone, kep thou my woordis; and myne hestis ley vp to thee. Sone, ho-noure thou the Lord, and thou shalt fare wel; biside hym forsothe thou shalt not 2 dredenⁱ an other. Kep my maundemens, and thou shalt liue; and my lawe as the 3 appil of thin e3e. Bind it in thi fingris; 4 wryt it in the tablis of thin herte. Sey to wisdom, My sister thou art; and pru-5 dence clep thou thi lemman. That it kepe thee fro^a a straunge womman; and fro an alien, that hir woordis maketh sweete.
 6 Fro the windowe forsothe of myn hous bi the latys I beheeld the 3unge man; 7 and I see litle childer. I beholde the sori 8 hertid 3unge man, that passeth thur3 the stretis, biside the corner; and ne3 the weie 9 of that hous goth in derc, the dai wax-ende to euen, in the ny3tis dercnessis and 10 mystynesse. And lo! a womman a3en cam to hym, with strumpet aray befor 11 a chaterere, and vagaunt of reste, vnpacient, ne mowende in the hous abide stille 12 with hir feet; now withouteforth, now in the stretys, now beside the corneres^k 13 aspiende. And the ca3te 3unge man she kisseth; and with wowende chere she 14 flatereth, seiende, Sacrifies^l of victorie^m greet synne*, whanne a man stelith; for he stelith to fille an hungri soule. And he 31 takun schal 3elde the seuenthe fold; and he schal 3yue al the catel of his hous, and schal delyuere hym silf. But he that is 32 avouter; schal leese his soule, for the^r pouert of herte[†]. He gaderith filthe, and 33 sclaudrith^a to^t hym silf; and his schen-schip schal not be don awei[†]. For the 34 feruent loue and strong veniaunce of the man3 schal not spare in the dai of ven-iaunce, nether schal assente to the preieris 35 of ony; nether schal^v take ful^w many 3iftis for raunsum.

CAP. VII.

Mi sone, kepe thou my wordis||; and 1 kepe^x myn heestis to thee. Sone, onoure[¶] thou the Lord, and thou schalt be^y my3ti; but outakun hym drede thou not an alien^y.
 Kepe thou myn heestis, and thou schalt 2 lyue; and^z my lawe as the appil of thin 3 3en^a. Bynde thou it in thi fyngris; write thou it in the tablis of thin herte.
 Seie thou to wisdom, Thou art my sistir;
 4 and clepe thou prudence thi frendesse^b.
 That it kepe thee fro a straunge wom- 5 man^{††}; and fro an alien womman, that makith hir wordis swete. For whi fro 6 the wyndow^{††} of myn hous bi the latijs Y bihelde; and Y se litle children33. I bi- 7 holde a 3ong man coward, that passith bi 8 the stretis, bisidis^c the^d corner; and he goith ni3 the weie of hir hous in derk 9 tyme, whanne the dai drawith to ni3t, in the derknessis^e and myst off^f the ny3t.
 And lo! a womman, maad redi with our- 10 nement of an hoore to disseyue soulis, meetith hym, and sche is a ianglere, and goynge^g about, and vnpacient of reste, 11 and mai not stonde in the hous with hir feet; and now without forth, now in 12 stretis, now bisidis corneris sche 'aspieth^h.
 And sche takith, and kisseth the 3ong man; 13 and flaterith with wowynge cheer|||, and that synnen bi ignorance

 ether frelte.
 a straunge
 womman; that is, a uoutresse,
 that makith hir
 strange fro
 hir hosebonde.
 Lire here. c.
 †† a loof; in Ebreu it is, is ennethe a gobet
 of breed.
 precious soule;
 the soule of man is seid precious, for it is maad to the ymage of God, and is or-deyned to blis
 aboue kynde;
 but a womman
 as a sustir of the deuel takith it to auou-trie and dampnacioun. Lire
 here. c.
 * not greet
 synne, etc.;
 that is, thefte
 in comparisoun
 of auoutrie.
 Lire here. c.
 sec. m.
 † pouert of herte; that is,
 [wanting ɛ]
 of resoun. c.
 ‡ schal not be doon away; for the payne of helle is with-outen ende.
 Lire here. c.
 § the man;
 that is, God.
 c et alii.
 that is, Crist. i.
 || my wordis;
 in fillinge tho
 bi werk, and kepinge as a precousere tresour. Lire
 here. c.
 ¶ Sone, onoure,
 etc.; this vers
 is not in Ebreu.
 Lire here. c.
  in thi fyn-
 gris; that is,
 fille it in werk.
 Lire here. c.
 †† a straunge
 womman; that
 is, auoutresse.
 Lire here. c.
 ‡† fro the wyndow, etc.; that is, priyete of consience. Lire
 here. c.
 §§ litle children;
 that is, foolis
 that han litil
 wit. Lire here.
 c.
 ||| with wowynge

g Om. A. h Who so A. i holden E pr. m. k corner AH. l Sacrifice A. m victories c pr. m.

r Om. i. s sclaudre wq. t Om. c. v he schal i. w Om. i. x gadre in tresour i. y myche worth, and drede thou noon oother but him i. z and kepe i. a 3e i. b leef i. c biside i. d a i. e derknesse c. f in c. g a goer i. h spieth c.

for helthe I haue gretli vouwid; to dai 13 I haue 3olde my vouwis. Therfore I wente out in to thin a3en comyng, desirende 16 thee to seen; and I haue founde. I haue arazid with cordis my litil bed, and spred 17 with peintid tapitis of Egipt; I haⁿ sprengd my ligging place with myrre, 18 and aloes, and canell. Cum, and be wee inwardli drunke with tetes, and vse wee the coueitid clippingis; to the time that 19 the dai waxe list. There is not a man in hir hous; he 3ide awei the most ferr 20 weie. The bagge of his monee he toc with hym; in the dai of the^o fulle moone 21 he is to turne a3een in to his hous. She grenede hym with manye wordis; and with flatering of lippis she fordrow hym.
 22 Anoon he folewith hir, as an oxe lad to the sacrificis of victorie; and as a lomb pleiende and vnknowende, that to bondis 23 the fool is drawe, to the time that the arwe thirle thur3 his mawe. As if a brid hee3e to the grene; and wot not, that of 24 the^p perile of his lif me purposeth. Now thanne, sone myn^q, here thou me; and tac 25 tente to the wordis of my mouth. Ne be drawen awei in the weies of hir thi mynde; ne be thou bigilid in the sties of 26 hir. Manye forsothe woundid she threw down; and alle the strongeste^r ben slain 27 of hir. The weies of helle the housis of hir; persende in to the innermor thingus of deth.

CAP. VIII.

1 Whether not wisdam ofte crieth; and 2 prudence 3yueth his vois? In the he3est and he3e frountis, aboue the weie, in the 3 myddel pathis, stondende beside the 3ate of the cite; in tho 3ate doris it speket, 4 seiende, O! men, to 3ou I ofte crie; and 5 my vois to the sonas of men. Vnderstondeth, 3ee litle childer, witnesse; and, 6 3ee vnwise men, taketh heed. Hereth, for of grete thingis I am to speke; and my lippis shul ben opened, that euene seith, Y ou3te sacrificis^{i*} for heelthe; to 14 dai Y haue 3olde my vouwis. Therfor Y 15 3ede^k out in to thi meetyng, and Y desiride to se thee; and Y haue founde thee. Y 16 haue maad my bed with coordis, Y haue arayed^l with tapetis peyntid of Egipt; Y 17 haue bispreynt my bed with myrre, and aloes, and canel. Come thou, be we fillid 18 with tetis[†], and vse we collyngis that ben^m coueitid; til the dai bigynne to be cleer. For myn hosebonde is not in his 19 hows; he is goon a ful long weie. He 20 took with hym a bagge of money; he schal turne a3en in to his hous in the dai of ful moone. Sche boonde hym[†] with 21 many wordis; and sche drow forth hym with flateryngis of lippis. Anoon he as 22 an oxe led to slayn sacrifice sueth hir, and as a ioli lomb and vnkunyngeⁿ; and the fool woot not, that he is drawun to bondys[§], til an arowe perse^o his mawe. 23

 As if a brid hastith^{||} to the snare; and woot not, that it is don of the perel of his lijf. Now therfor, my sone, here thou me; 24 and perseyue the wordis of my mouth.
 Lest thi soule be drawun awei in the weies 25 of hir; nether be thou disseyued in the pathis of hir. For sche castide^p down[¶] 26 many woundid men; and alle strongeste men weren slayn of hir^{}. The weies of 27 helle is hir hous; and persen in to^q ynnere thingis of deeth.

CAP. VIII.

Whether wisdom crieth not ofte; and 1 prudence 3yueth his^r vois? In souereyn-2 este^{††} and hi3 coppis, aboue the weie, in the myddis of pathis, and it stondith bisidis 3 the 3ate of the citee, in thilke closyngis, and spekith, and seith, A! 3e men, Y crie 4 ofte to 3ou; and my vois is to the sonas of men. Litle children^{††}, vndirstonde 3e wis-5 dom; and 3e vnwise men, 'perseyue wisdom^t. Here 3e, for Y schal speke of grete 6 thingis; and my lippis schulen be openyd, ⁿ han AGH. haue E. ^o this A. ^p Om. C. ^q Om. AGH. ^r strengthid A.

ⁱ sacrifice A. ^k wente I. ^l arayed it K. ^m Om. ceteri. ⁿ vnkunynge I. ^o perishe I. ^p hath cast I.
^q to the I. ^r hir I. ^s souereyne A sec. m. moost souereyne I. ^t perseyueth in herte I. perseyue wisdam. Lire here. N text.

cheer; that is, vnresteful,
 and with out schame. Lire
 here. c.
^{*} Y ou3te sacrifice; thus it is in bokis amendid, but summe bokis
 han, Y auow-ide. Lire here.
 c.
[†] with tetis;
 that is, with toching of tetis. Lire
 here. c.
[†] Sche boond
 him; that is,
 withhelde and wlapide him
 in coueytise of fleisch, as in a
 net. Lire
 here. c.
[§] to boondis;
 of synne and of peyne. Lire
 here. c.
^{||} a brid hast-
 ith; as a brid
 is takun in a snare, for the coueytise of a litil meete, so he that is vn-contynent, ether
 a lechour, ren-neth in to the snare of synne,
 and in to the
 deth of helle,
 for couetise of desiring of a woman. Lire
 here. c.
[¶] sche castide down; fro the
 staat of grace;
 many woundid
 men, bi the wounde of fleischli couey-tise. Lire
 here. c.
^{} strongeste men weren
 slayen of hir;
 as it is opyn of Adam, the moste man, for he was in the staat of innocence, and was ful of kunnyng
 and vertu, and of Sampson, the strongeste man,
 and of Dauyth,
 the holieste
 man, and of Salamon, the wiseste man,
 and of many mo in the Eldre and Newe Testament. c.
^{††} in souereyneste; that is,

7 thingus thei preche. Treuthe my throte shal sweteli bethenke; and my lippis shul 8 wlate the vnпитыouse. Ríztwise ben alle my sermownes; ther is not in hem any 9 thing shreude, ne peruertid. Rízte thei ben to vnderstondende men; and euene to 10 men findende kunnyng. Taketh my discipline, and not money; doctrine mor 11 than tresor cheseth. Betere is wisdom than alle the most precious richessis; and al desirable thing to it mai not be com-12 parisound. I, wisdom, dwelle in coun-13 seil; and am among to lerned tho3tis. The drede of the Lord hateth euel; enhauncing, and pride, and the shreude weie, and the mouth of the twisil tunge I wlate.
14 Myn is conseil, and equite; myn is pru-15 dence, myn is and strengthe. By me kingus regnen; and makeris of lawis rízte 16 thingus demen. Bi me princis comaund-17 en; and my3ti men deme ríztwísnesse. I men loouende me looue; and that erli 18 waken at me, shul finde me. With^a me ben richessis, and glorie; and proud plen-19 teuousnessis, and ríztwísnesse. Betere is my frut than gold, and than precious ston; and my buriounyngis than chosen 20 siluer. In the weies of ríztwísnesse I go, 21 in^t the myddel of pathis of dom; that I make riche men loouende me, and fulfille 22 the tresores of hem. The Lord weldide me in the begynnyng of his weies; er any thing shulde be maad, of the firste cause.
23 Of the euere lastende I am ordeyned; and of the olde, er the erthe shulde be maad.
24 Not 3it weren the depthis of watir; and I now was conceyued. And not 3it the wellis 25 of watris hadden broken out, ne 3it the mounteynes^u in heuy mykilnesse hadden 26 ben maad; er the hillis I was born. 3it the erthe he hadde not maad; and flodis, and the utmost^v poyntys of the round-27 nesse of the erthe. Whan he greithede heuenes, I was thereat; whan in certein lawe and cumpas he closide the depnesse 28 of watris. Whan the eir he fastnede aboue; to preche ríztful thingis. My throte schal⁷ bithenke treuthe; and my lippis schulen curse a wickid man. My wordis ben iust; 8 no schrewid thing, nether weiward is^u in tho^v. 'My wordis^w ben ríztful to hem that 9 vndurstonden; and ben^x euene to hem that fynden kunnyng. Take 3e my chastisyng, 10 and not money; chese 3e teching more than tresour. For wisdom is betere than 11 alle richessis moost preciose; and al desirable thing mai not be comparisound therto. Y, wisdom, dwelle in counsel^{*}; 12 and Y am among lernyd thou3tis. The 13 drede of the Lord hatith yuel; Y curse boost, and pride, and a schrewid weie, and a double tungid mouth. Counsel is myn, 14 and equyte 'is myn^y; prudence is myn, and strengthe 'is myn^z. Kyngis regnen bi 15 me; and the^a makeris of lawis demen iust thingis bi me. Princis comaunden bi me; 16 and my3ti men demen ríztfulnesse bi me.

I loue hem that louen me; and thei that 17 waken eerli to me, schulen fynde me. With 18 me ben rychessis, and glorie; souereyn richessis, and ríztfulnesse. My fruyt is 19 betere than gold, and precyouse stoon; and my seedis ben betere than chosun siluer. Y go in the weies of ríztfulnesse, 20 in the myddis of pathis^b of doom; that 21 Y make riche hem that louen me, and that Y fille her tresouris. The Lord weld- 22 ide[†] me in the bigynnyng of hise weies; bifore that he made any thing, at the bigynnyng. Fro with out bigynnyng Y 23 was ordeined; and fro elde tymes, bifer that the erthe was maad. Depthis of wa- 24 tris weren not 3it; and Y was conseyued thanne. The wellis of watris hadden not brokun out 3it, and hillis stoden not to- 25 gidere 3it bi sad heuynesse; bifer lital hillis Y was born. 3it he hadde not maad 26 erthe; and floodis, and the^c herris^d of the world. Whanne he made redi heuenes, 27 Y was present; whanne he cumpasside the depthis of watris bi certeyn lawe and cumpas. Whanne he made stidfast the eir 28 in profetis and holl doctouris.

Live here. c.
†† lital children; that is,
lital of wit. Live
here. c.

* wisdom dwelle
in counsel; for hoolsun councel is 3oun bi wisdom, and wise thou3tis comen forth of wisdom and encreessen it.
Live here. c.

† the Lord
weldide, etc.;
here Salamon
spekith of wisdom vnmaad,
that is, of the secunde persoone in Tri-nyte, which is the kyndly Sone of God,
with oute bigynnyng and ende.
of hise weies;
that is, of his
werkis.
conseyued; for
as a word in vs,
is the conseit
of soule, so and in dyuyn thingis the word is the conseit, ether
the sone gendrid of the fadir.
the herris; that is, the princy-
pal partis of the world, that ben the eest and west, south and north. Live
here. c.

^s To E. ^t and in AGH. ^u hillis E pr. m. ^v vttermoost AGH.

^u ther is I. ^v hem I. ^w Thei I. ^x thei ben I. ^y Om. I. ^z Om. I. ^a Om. I. ^b the pathis I. c Om. cl. ^d erthis a.

29 and wejede the wellis of watris. Whan he cumpaside to the se his terme; and lawe putte to watris, that thei passe not there coostis. Whan he heeng^w vp the 30 foundemens of the erthe; with hym I was, alle thingis puttende togidere. And I delitede bi alle dazes, beforn hym alle time, 31 pleiende in to the roundnesse of erthis; and my delcis to be with the sones of 32 men. Now thanne, sones, hereth me; 33 blisful that kepen my weies. Hereth discipline, and beth wise men; and wileth 34 not casten it awei. Blisful the man that hereth me, and that waketh at my zate dores al dai; and that waitith at the 35 postis of my dore^x. Who me shal finde, shal finde lif; and drawen helthe of the 36 Lord. Who forsothe in me shal synnen, shal hurten his soule; alle that hateden^y me, loouen deth.

CAP. IX.

1 Wisdam bilde out to hym an hous;
2 heew^z out seuen pileris, offride his sacrifises of victorie, mengde win, and sette 3 forth his bord. He sente his hand wym-men, that thei shulde clepe to the hei3te; 4 and to the wallis of the cite. If any is a litol child; come he to me. And to vnwise 5 men he^a spac, Cometh, etith my bred; and drinketh win, that I mengde to 3ou.
6 Forsaketh childhed, and liueth^b; and goth 7 bi the weies of prudence. Who lerneth a scornere, doth wrong he to hymself; and who vndernemeth the vnpitouse, to 8 hymself a wem gendrieth. Wile thou not vndernyme the scornere; lest he shul hate thee. Vndirnym the wise man; and he 9 shal looue thee. 3if to the wise man ocasioun; and ther shal ben addid to hym wisdam. Tech the riztwis man; and he 10 shall hee3e to take. The begynnyng of wisdam the drede of the Lord; and the 11 kunnyng of halewis prudence. Forsothe bi me shul be multiplied thi^c dazes; and about; and weiede the wellis of watris.

Whanne he cumpasside to the see his²⁹ marke; and settide lawe to watris, that tho^d schulden not passe her coostis.
Whanne he peiside the foundementis of erthe; Y was making alle thingis with³⁰ him. And Y delitide bi alle daies, and pleiede bfore hym in al tyme, and Y³¹ pleiede in the world; and my delices ben to be with the sones of men. Now ther-³² for, sones, here 3e me; blessid ben thei that kepen my weies. Here 3e teching,³³ and be 3e wise men; and nile 3e caste it awei. Blessid is the man that herith me,³⁴ and that wakith at my 3atis al dai; and kepith at the postis of my dore. He that³⁵ fyndith me, schal fynde lijf; and schal^e drawe helthe of the Lord. But he that³⁶ synneth a3ens me, schal hurte his soule; alle that haten me, louen deeth.

CAP. IX.

Wisdom^{*} bildide an hous to him silf; 1 he hewide out seuene pileris, he offride² his slayn sacrifices, he medlide wijn, and settide forth his table. He sente hise hand-³ maidens^f, that thei schulden clepe to the tour; and to the wallis of the citee. If ony⁴ man is litil^g; come he to me. And wisdom spak to vnwise men, Come 3e, ete 3e my⁵ breed; and drynke 3e^h the wiyn, whichⁱ Y haue medlid to 3ou. Forsake 3e 3ong⁶ childhed, and lyue 3e; and go 3e bi the weyes^k of prudence. He that techith a⁷ scornere[†], doith wrong to him silf; and he that vndirnymmeth a wickid man, gen-drieth a wem to him silf. Nile thou vndir-⁸ nyme a scornere; lest he hate thee. Vndir-nyme thou a wise man; and he schal loue thee. 3yue thou occasioun to a wise man;⁹ and wisdom schal be encreessid to hym.
Teche thou a iust man; and he schal haste to take^l. The bigynnyng of wisdom *is*¹⁰ the^m drede of the Lord; and prudence is the kunnyng of seyntis. Forⁿ thi daies¹¹

* Wisdom, etc.; that is, Goddis Sone, vnmaad, with out bigynnyng and ende. an hous; that is, holy chirche, which he bildide bi word and ensaumple in manhed takun.

vii. pileris; that is, vii. 3iftis of the Hooly Goost, ether ordeynede vii. sacramentis, bi whiche al the chirche is borun up.

slayn sacrifices; that is, himsilf in the croce, which is 3eid sacrifices, for it conteyneth the vertu of ech other sacrifice; and the memorial of this sacrifice, is the sacrament of the auter.

medlid wyn; that is, 3af to vs his blood which is sacrid in wyn medlid with water. handmaydis; that is, apostlis and othere meke dissipils to the wallis, etc.; that is, to the feith of Crist, and to the thingis that ben annexid to the articlis of the feith. litil; that is, meke.

my breed; that is, my bodi 3ouun vndur the licnesse of breed.

and wyn; that is, my blood vndur the spice of wyn, wherynne water is medlid; bi eld tyme cristen men comyneden in euer either spice, but it is ordeyned for perel of scheding out of the blood, that it is 3ouun to lewid men vndur the spice of breed onely. 3ong childhed; that is, vnpro-

^w hangide AEGH. ^x dores AGH. ^y haten AH. ^z hewide AEGH. ^a sche c sec. m. ^b cometh E pr. m. ^c her A.

^d thei I. ^e he schal I. ^f handmaidens I. ^g litil, that is, meek. Lire here. KNA. ^h Om. I. ⁱ that I. ^k wey I. ^l take it I. ^m Om. I. ⁿ Forsothe I.

12 ben added to thee the ȝerys of lif. If a wis man thou shul be; to thiself thou shalt be, and to thi neȝheboris. If for-sothe a gilere; alone thou shalt bern euel.
13 A fool womman, and crious, and ful of euele draȝtis to delicis, and no thing 14 outerli kunnende, sat in the ȝate doris of hir hous, vpon a sete, in the heȝe place 15 of the cite; that she myȝte clepe men passende bi the weie, and men goende in 16 ther gate. Who is a litil child; bowe he doun to me. And to the sory hertid she 17 spac, Stoln watris ben swettere, and hid 18 bred more swete. And he knew not that there ben ieauntis; and in the depthis of helle the^d gestis of hir. Who forsothe shal be ioyned to hir; shal falle doun in to helle. For whi he that goth away from hir; shal be saued.

CAP. X

1 A wys sone gladeth the^e fader; for-sothe a sone fool, the sorewe is of his 2 modir. No thing shal profiten the tre-sours of vnpitousnesse; riȝtwisnesse for-3 sothe shal deliuere fro deth. The Lord shal not tormente thurȝ hungir the soule of the riȝtwise; and the spies of the vnpitous men he shal turn vpso doun.
4 Nedynesse wercheth the slowe hond; the hond forsothe of stronge men greitheth richessis. Who forsothe vseth lesingis, this fedeth windis; the same folewith 5 fleende briddes. Who gedereth in rep, is a wis sone; who forsothe routeth in 6 somer^f, is the sone of confusioun. The blissing of God vpon the hed of the riȝt-wis; the mouth forsothe of vnpitous men 7 wickidnesse couereth. The mynde of the riȝtwise with preisingis; and the name of vnpitous^g men shal waxe stinkinge.
8 The wise man in herte shal kepen the 9 heatis; the fool is beten with lippis. Who goth simpleli, goth trostli; who forsothe schulen be multiplied bi me; and ȝeeris of lijf schulen be encreessid to thee. If thou 12 art wijs; thou schalt be^o to thi silf^{*}, and to thi neȝheboris. Forsothe if thou art a scornere; thou^p aloone schalt bere yuel.

A fonned womman, and ful of cry, and 13 ful of vnleueful lustis, and that kan no thing outirli, sittith in the doris of hir 14 hous, on a seete, in^q an hij place of the cite; to clepe men passenge bi the weie, 15 and men goynge in her iournei. Who is a litil man 'of wit'^r; bowe he to me. And sche spak to a coward, Watris of thefte 17 ben swettere, and breed hid is swettere^s.
And wiste^t not that giauntis ben there; 18 and the gestis^u 'of hir' ben in the depthis of helle. Sotheli he that schal be applied, ether fastned, to hir^w; schal go doun to hellis. For whi he that goith awei fro hir^w; schal be saued.

CAP. X.

The parablis of Salomon. A wijs sone 1 makith glad the^x fadir; but a fonned sone is the sorewe of his modir. Tresouris of 2 wickidnesse[†] schulen not profite; but riȝtfulnesse schal delyuere fro deth. The Lord 3 shal not turmente the soule^y of a iust man with hungur; and he schal distrie the tresouns of vnpitouse men. A slow 4 hond hath wrouȝt nedynesse; but the hond of stronge men makith redi richessis. Forsothe he that enforsith to gete 'ony thing'^z bi^a leesyngis, fedith the^b wyndis[†]; sotheli the same man sueth briddis fleyng. He that gaderith togi- 5 dere in heruest, is a wijs sone; but he that slepith in sommer, is a sone of con-fusioun. The blessing of God is ouer^c the heed of a iust man; but wickidnesse hilith the mouth of wickid men. The mynde of 7 a iust man schal be with preisingis; and the name of wickid men schal wexe rotun.
A wijs man schal resseyue comaunde- 8 mentis with herte[§]; a fool is betun with fitable and

veyn thingis.
lyue ȝe, in grace. of prudence; that is,
of comaundementis and counselis of
God. Lire
here. c.
† a scornere,
etc.; for he stirith the scornere to do
wrong to him.
Lire here. c.
 to thiself;*
that is, to do good to thi silf principally, and afterward to
othere men.
a fonnid wom-
man; that is,
fals and veyn
teching.
ful of cry; for it hath not no
but wordis.
vnleueful lustis; for not onely it graunt-ith, but also bringith to siche lustis.
kan no thing;
for so litil of trithe is there,
that it is aret-
tid as nouȝt.
in the doris,
and so forth;
forliche doctryne is tauȝt sumtyme bi autorite.
bi the weye;
that is, bi the brode weye of viciis.
in her iourney;
that is, suyng
the fernesse of her conceite.
a coward; that is, to him that sueth lustis.
of thefte; that is, fals doctryn.
breed hid, etc.;
the herere of
fals doctryne.
geauntis, that is, of endis.
in the depthis of helle; that is, they that ben tauȝt and fillid bi sich doctryne goen doun to the
peyne of helle,
with fendis
that disseyuen
hem. Lire
here. c.
† tresouris of wickidnesse;
that is, yuele

^d Om. AGH. ^e his AGH. ^f the somer AEGH. ^g the vnpitous AGH.

^o be wijs i. ^p forsothe thou i. ^q on cx. ^r in wit i. of wit. Lire here. n text. ^s esier to ete i.
^t I wiste; I, the heerere of fals doctryn wiste. Lire here. n text. ^u gistis A. felawis i. ^v therof plures.
^w it plures. ^x his i. ^y lijf i. ^z auȝt i. ony thing. Lire here. n text. ^a with i. ^b Om. i. ^c Om. c i n.

beshrewith his weies, shal be maad opene.
 10 Who twinclith with eȝe, shal ȝiue sorewe; the fool with lippis shal be bete.
 11 The veyne of lif the mouth of theⁱ riȝt-wis; the mouth forsothe of vnpitous 12 men couereth wickidnesse. Hate rereth striues; and alle giltis charite couereth.
 13 In the lippis of the wis man is founde wisdom; and a ȝerde in the rigge of hym 14 that is nedi in herte. Wise men hiden kunnyng; the mouth forsothe of the fool 15 is next to confusioun. The substaunce of the riche man the cite of his strengthe;
 the ferd of pore men the nedynesse of 16 hem. The werc of the riȝtwis man to lif; the frut forsothe of the vnpitous to 17 synne. The weie of lif to the^k kepene discipline; who forsothe vnder nemynge 18 forsaketh, erreth. Liende lippis hiden^l hate; who speketh^m wrongful blamyng, 19 is an vnwis man. In myche speche shal not lacke synne; who forsothe temperth 20 his lippis, is most prudent. Chosen siluer the tunge of the riȝtwis; the herte of 21 vnpitous men for noȝt. The lippis of the riȝtwise techen manye; who forsothe ben vntaȝt, in the nedynesse of herte shul die.
 22 The blessing of the Lord maketh riche men; ne shal be felashipid to them tor-23 menting. As by laȝhing the fool werch-ith hidous trespas; wisdom forsothe is to 24 a man purueing. That that the vnpitouse dredeth, shal come vpon hym; therⁿ de-25 sir to riȝtwis men shal be ȝiue. As tempest passende, shal be the vnpitouse; the riȝtwise forsothe as euere durende ground.
 26 As eisel to teeth, and smoke to eȝen; so the slowe to hem that senten hym in the 27 weie. The drede of the Lord leith to daȝes; and the ȝeris of vnpitous men shul 28 be shortid. The bidding of riȝtwis men gladnesse; the hope forsothe of vnpitous 29 men shal pershen. The strengthe of the simple the weie of the Lord; and ferd 30 to them that werken euel. The riȝtwis into withoute ende shal not be moued; lippis*. He that goith simpli, goith tristili; 9 but he that makith schrewid hise weies, schal be opyn. He that bekeneth with 10 the ȝe, schal ȝyue sorewe; a fool schal be betun with lippis. The veyne of lijf is 11 the mouth of a iust man; but the mouth of wickid men hilith wickidnesse. Ha- 12 trede reisith^e chidingis; and charite hilith alle synnes. Wisdom is foundun in the 13 lippis of a wise man; and a ȝerd in^f the bak of him that is nedi of herte. Wise 14 men hiden[†] kunnyng; but the mouth of a fool is nexte to confusioun. The catel of 15 a riche man is the citee of his strengthe; the drede of pore men is the nedynesse of

 hem. The werk of a iust man is to lijf; 16 but the fruyt of a wickid man is to synne.
 The weie of lijf is to him that kepith 17 chastising^g; but he that forsakith blamyngis, errith. False lippis hiden hatrede; 18 he that bringith forth dispisinge is vnwijs. Synne schal not faile in myche 19 spekyng; but he that mesurith hise lippis, is moost prudent. Chosun siluer is the 20 tunge of a iust man; the herte of wickid men is for nouȝt[†]. The lippis of a iust 21 man techen ful manye men; but thei that ben vnlerned, schulen die in nedynesse of herte. The blessing of the Lord makith 22 riche[§] men; and turment schal not be fe-lowschipid to hem. A fool worchith wick- 23 idnesse as bi leizyng; but wisdom is prudence to a^h man. That that a wickid man 24 dredith, schal come on hym; the desire of iust men schalbe ȝouun to hem. As a 25 tempeste passynge, a wickid man schal not be; but a iust man shal be as an euerlastynge fundament. As vynegre noieth 26 the teeth, and smoke noieth^l the ȝen; so a slow man noieth hem that senten hym in the weie. The drede of the Lord en- 27 creasith daies; and the ȝeeris of wickid men schulen be maad schort. Abiding of 28 iust men is gladnesse; but the hope of wickid men schal perische. The strengthe 29 of a symple man is the weie of the Lord;

getun. Live here. CKN.
 schulen not profile; for tho
 ben occasionn
 of synne and
 of deth of helle
 if penaunce sueth not, and ofte of temporal
 deth. Live here. c.
 † fedith the wyndis; that is, seeth his trauel.
 that slepith in somer; that is,
 he that is idil in tyme of worching, is worthi to haue
 confusioun.
Live here. c.
 § herte; that is, in obeying
 to hem. Live here. CKN.
 * a fool is betun
 with lippis;
 for he arettith betingis, the wordis of his blamyng. Live here. c.
 † hiden; that is, fro scorn-eris. Live here. CKN.

ⁱ Om. A. ^k Om. AGH. ^l hidith A. ^m speketh or bryngeth forth E pr. m. ⁿ his E pr. m.

^e reisith up 1. ^f is founde in 1. ^g chastisingis E. ^h prudence is to a wijs 1. ⁱ Om. 1.

vnpitouse forsothe shul not dwelle vp on 31 erthe. The mouth of the ríztwis shal bere wisdam; the tunge of shrewis shal 32 pershen. The lippis of the ríztwis beholden plesid thingis; and the mouth of vnpitouse peruertid thingis.

CAP. XI.

1 A treccherous weje abominacioun is anent God^o; and an euen^{oo} weízt the wil 2 of hym. Wher shal be pride, there shal be wrongful blamyng; wher forsothe is 3 mecnesse, and there wisdam. Simple-nesse of ríztwis men shal rízt reule them;
and supplaunting of peruertid men shal 4 waste them. Richessis shul not profiten in the day of veniaunce; forsothe ríztwis-5 nesse shal deliuere fro deth. Ríztwisnesse of the simple shal rízt reulen his weie;
and the vnpitous in his vnpitousnesse 6 shal falle. The ríztwisnesse of rízt men shal deliuere them; and wicke^p men in 7 ther aspies shul be take. The vnpytous man dead, noon hope shal ben ouer; and the abiding of bisy men shal pershe.
8 The ríztwis fro anguysh is deliuered; and shal be take the vnpitous for hym.
9 The feynere in mouth desceyueth his frend; ríztwis men forsothe shul ben de-10 liuered with kunnyng. In goodis of rízt-wis men shal ben enhauncid the cite;
and in the leeing of vnpitous^{pp} men^q shal 11 ben preising. Thur³ the blessing of rízt-wis men shal ben enhauncid the cite;
and bi the mouth of vnpitous men it shal 12 be turned vp so down. Who desceyueth his frend, is nedi in herte; the prudent 13 man forsothe shal be stille. Who goth gilendeli, shewith priue thingus; who forsothe is feithful, hilith the gilte of 14 the frend. Wher is not a gouernour, the puple fallith; helthe forsothe, wher ben 15 manye counselis. He shal be tormentid and drede to hem that worchen yuel. A 30 iust man shal not be moued* with outen ende; but wickid men schulen not dwelle on the erthe†. The mouth of a iust man 31 shal bringe forth wisdom; the tunge of schrewis schal perische. The lippis of a 32 iust man biholden pleasaunt thingis; and the mouth of wickid men byholdith weiward thingis¹.

CAP. XI.

A gileful balaunce is abhominacioun 1 anentis God; and an euene weízte is his wille. Where pride is, there also dispis- 2 ing schal be; but where meeknesse is, there also is wisdom. The simplenesse of 3 iust men schal dresse hem; and the disseyuyng of weiward men schal destrie hem. Richessis schulen not profite in the 4 dai of veniaunce; but ríztfulnesse schal delyuere fro deth. The ríztfulnesse of a 5 simple man schal dresse his weie; and a wickid man schal falle in his wickidnesse.
The ríztfulnesse of ríztful men schal dely- 6 uere hem; and wickid men schulen be takun in her aspiyngis. Whanne a wickid 7 man is deed, noon hope schal be fer-ther‡; and abidyng of bisy men^k† schal perische. A iust man is delyuered from 8 angwisch; and a wickid man schal be 3ouun for hym. A feynere bi mouth dis- 9 seyueth his freend; but iust men schulen be deliuered bi kunnyng. A citee schal 10 be enhaunsid in the goodis of iust men; and preysyng schal be in the perdicoun of wickid men. A citee schal be enhaunsid 11 bi blessing of iust men; and it schal be distried bi the mouth of wickid men. He 12 that dispisith his freend, is nedi in herte; but a prudent man schal be stille. He that 13 goith gilefuli, schewith priuetees; but he that is feithful, helith the priuete of a freend. Where a gouernour is¹ not, the 14 puple schal falle; but helthe of the pu-ple^m is^{mm}, where ben many counsels§. He 15 that makith feith|| for a straunger, schal

* not be moued;
that is, fro the stabilnesse of vertu. CKN.
† not dwelle on the erthe; that is, on the erthe
of hem that
lyuen in blis.
‡ pleasaunt thing-
is, etc.; that is, to God and to goode men.
§ weyward thing-
is, etc.; that is, blasfemes agenus God, and wrongis agenus
the neibore.
Live here. c.

‡ of bisi men,
etc.; that is,
of hem that
serueden bisily
a wickid man,
and hopiden to be auansid of
him. *Live
here.* c.
|| that is, blamed
in the gospel. k.

§ many counsels; bi whiche bothe yuels ben eschewid, and goodis ben
getun. c.
|| makith feith,
etc.; that is,
obligacioun.
CKN.

^o the Lord c pr. m. ^{oo} trewe c pr. m. ^p wickid AGH. ^{pp} the vnpitous A. ^q man A.

¹ thing I. ^j ferther of him I. ^k men in euel A sec. m. ^l ther is I. ^m Om. I. ^{mm} is. Live here. n text.

with euel, that doth feith for a stranger; who forsothe shoneth grenes, shal be si-16 kir. A gracious womman shal finden glorie; and stronge men shuln han richessis.
 17 Wel doth to his soule the merciful man; who forsothe is cruel, casteth awei nee3h 18 men. The vnpitouse maketh were vnstable; to the sowende forsothe riztwis-19 nesse feithfull^r mede. Noble mercy shal greithe lif; and folewing of euelis deth.
 20 Abhominable a^s shreude herte to the Lord; and his wil in hem, that simply 21 gon. Hond in hond, shal not ben innocent the euele man; the sed forsothe of 22 riztwis men shal be saued. A goldene cercle in the nosethirlis of a souwe, a 23 fair womman and a fool. The desir of riztwis men alle good thing is; the abid-24 ing of vnpitous men wodnesse. Othere men deuyden proper thingus, and ben maad richere; othere reuen not their owne, and euermor ben in nedynesse.
 25 The lif that blisseth, shal ben inwardli fattid; and he that maketh inwardli drunken, also hymself shal ben inwardli 26 maad drunken. He that hideth whete in time, shal be cursid in puplis; blessing 27 forsothe vp on the hed of silleris. Wel riseth erli, that secheth goodis; who for-sothe is enserchere of euelis, of hem shal 28 be oppressid. Who trosteth in his richessis, shal falle; riztwis men forsothe as 29 a greene lef shul burioune. Who distur-bith his hous, shal han windis; and he that is a fool, shal seruen to the wise 30 man. The frut of the riztwise the tree of lif; and he that vndertaketh soulis, is 31 a wis man. If the riztwise in the erthe resceyueth, myche more the vnpitous, and the synnere.

CAP. XII.

1 Who looueth discipline, looueth kunnyng; who forsothe hateth blamyngus, is 2 vnwis. Who forsothe is good, shal drawe to hym grace of the Lord; who forsothe be turmentid with yuel; but he that eschewith snaris, schal be sikur. A gra-16 cious womman* schal fynde glorie; and stronge men schulen haue richessis. A 17 merciful man doith wel to his soule; but he that is cruel, castith awei, 3he, kynnesmen. A wickid man makith vnstable 18 werk; but feithful mede is to hym, that sowith riztfulnesse. Merci schal make 19 redi lijf; and the suying of yuelsⁿ 'schal make redi^o deth. A schrewid herte is 20 abhomynable to the Lord; and his wille is in hem, that goen symply. Thou3 hond 21 be^p in the^q hond, an yuel man[†] schal not be innocent; but the seed of iust men schal be sauyd. A goldun 'sercle, ether^r 22 ryng, in the 'nose thrillis^t of a sowe, a womman fair and fool. The desir of iust 23 men is al good; abiding of wickid men is wodnesse. Sum men departen her owne 24 thingis, and ben maad richere; other men rauyschen thingis, that ben not hern, and ben^u euere in nedynesse. A soule that 25 blessith, schal be maad fat[‡]; and he that fillith^v §, schal be fillid also. He that hidith 26 wheete 'in tyme^w, schal be cursid among the puplis; but blessing^{yng} schal come on the heed of silleris. Wel he risith eerli, 27 that sekith good thingis; but he that is a serchere of yuels, schal be oppressid of tho.

 He that tristith in hise richessis, schal 28 falle; but iust men schulen burioune as a greene leef. He that disturblith his 29 hows, schal haue wyndis|| in possessioun; and he that is a fool, schal serue a wijs man. The fruyt of a riztful man is the 30 tre of lijf ¶; and he that takith soulis^{}, is a wijs man^{††}. If a iust man receyueth 31 in erthe^{‡‡}, how miche more an vnfeithful man, and synnere^x.

CAP. XII.

He that loueth chastisyng, loueth kun-1 nyng; but he that hatith blamyngis, is vnwijs§§. He that is good, schal drawe to 2 hym silf grace of the Lord; but he that

* a graciouse
 womman; that is, onest and schamefast. c.

† thou3 he worcheth no thing, but holdeth the too hond in the tothir, thinketh
 yuel. k.

‡ bi fatnesse of grace. k.
 § his neizbore with good tech-
 ing. k.

|| of wratthe
 and tempta-
 cioun. k.

¶ the tre of lijf; that is,
 Crist in blisful sijt; for the werk of a iust
 man bringith herto. c.

 takith soulis;
 that is, the
 cure of soulis.
 ck.

†† is a wijs
 man; that is,
 owith to be a wijs man; for as Greg. seith in his Pastorals, the craft of craftis is the gouernail of soulis. c.

‡‡ erthe; that is, turmentis
 of God. Live
 here. xx.

§§ is vnwijs;
 for he is liyk
 a wood man,
 that eschewith heelful medicyn. Live
 here. c.

^r is feithful A. ^s is a A.

ⁿ yuel i. ^o Om. i. ^p is a pr. m. c et plures. nese thorlis E. nose thirllis F et alii. ^u thei ben i.

^q Om. A sec. m. F sec. m. i. ^r Om. i. ^t nostris CN.
^v fullith A. ^w Om. A pr. m. cu pr. m. ^x a synnere i. e trostith in his thoȝtis, vnpitously doth.

 3 A man shal not be strenghtid of vnpitounesse; and the roote of riȝtwis men^t 4 shal not ben al moued. A bisi womman a croune is to hir man; and stinc in the bones of hir, that berth thingus wrthi 5 confusioun. The thoȝtis of riȝtwis men domes; and counseilis of vnpitous men 6 gilesum. The woordis of vnpitous men spien to blod; the mouth of riȝtwis 7 men shal deliuere them. Turne vnpitous men, and thei shul not be; the housis forsothe of riȝtwis men shal abide stille.
 8 Bi his doctrine shal be knowen a man; who forsothe is veyn and herteles, shal 9 ben open to despising. Betere is a pore man, and suffisaunt to hymself, than a 10 glorious, and nedi bred. The riȝtwis knew³ the liues of his helpeli bestis; the bowelis forsothe of vnpitous men cruel.
 11 Who^a werketh his lond, shal be fulfild with loues; who forsothe folewith idel reste, most fool is. Who is sweete, liueth in tempringis; in his monestingis he for-12 saketh wrongful blamyngis^v. The desir of the vnpitous is the myndeful place of werst thingis; the roote forsothe of riȝt-13 wis men shal profiten. For the synnes of lippis falling neȝheth to the euel man; forsothe the riȝtwis man shal fleen out of 14 anguysh. Of the frut of his mouth eche^w shal be fulfild of goodis; and after the werkis of his hondis it shal be ȝolde to 15 hym. The weie of the fool riȝt in the eȝen of hym; who forsothe is a wis 16 man, hereth counseilis. The fool shewith anoon his wrathe; who forsothe dissymu-17 lith wrongus, is fel. Who that he knew³, speketh, domes man of riȝtwisnesse is;
 who forsothe lieth, is a gileful witenesse.
 18 Ther is that behoteth, and as with a swerd is pungid to the conscience; the tunge forsothe of wise men is helthe.
 19 The lippe of truthe shal be fast in to withoute ende; who forsothe is a feerli witenesse, maketh a tunge of lesing.

tristith in hise thouȝtis, doith wickidli.
 A man schal not be maad strong by³ wyckidnesse; and the root of iust men schal not be moued. A diligent womman⁴ is a coroun to hir hosebond; and rot is in the boonys of that womman, that doith thingis worthi of confusioun. The thouȝtis⁵ of iust men ben domes; and the counseilis of wickid men ben gileful. The wordis⁶ of wickid men setten tresoun to blood;
 the mouth of iust men schal delyuere hem.
 Turne thou^{*} wickid men, and thei schu-7 len not be[†]; but the housis of iust men schulen dwelle perfitli. A man schal be⁸ knowun bi his teching; but he that is veyn and hertles, schal be open to dispising. Betere is a pore man, and sufficient⁹ to him silf, than a gloriouse man, and nedi of breed. A iust man knowith the^y soulis¹⁰ of hise werk beestis[‡]; but the^a entrailis of wickid men ben cruel. He that worchith¹¹ his lond, schal be fillid with looues; but he that sueth idilnesse, is moost fool. He that is swete^b, lyueth in temperaunces; and in hise monestyngis he forsakith dispisyngis. The desir of a wickid man is¹² the memorial of worste thingis; but the roote of iust men schal encreesse. For the¹³ synnes of lippis 'falling doun^c neȝheth to an yuel man; but a iust man schal scape fro angwisch. Of the fruyt of his mouth¹⁴ ech man schal be fillid with goodis; and bi^d the werkis of hise hondis it schal be ȝoldun to him. The weie of a fool is riȝt-¹⁵ ful in hise iȝen; but he that is wijs, herith counsels. A fool schewith anoon his ire;¹⁶ but he that dissymelith wrongis, is wijs.
 He that spekith that, that he knowith, is¹⁷ a iuge of riȝtfulnesse; but he that lieth, is a gileful witenesse. A man is that bi-¹⁸ hetith[§], and he is prickid as with the swerd of conscience; but the tunge of wise men is helthe. The lippe of treuthe schal¹⁹ be stidfast with outen ende; but he that is a sudeyn witenesse, makith redi the tunge of leesyng. Gile is in the herte of hem²⁰

* that is, to goodnesse. K.
 † wickid, or dampned. K.

‡ werk beestis;
 that is, of his
 seruauntis.
 Live here. CKN.

§ bihetith; and payeth not.
 Live here. CNA.

^t Om. AGH. ^u Who so A. ^v blamyng AG pr. m. H. ^w ech on AEGH.

^y Om. c. ^z lijues I. ^a Om. A pr. m. ^b softe or esy I. swete, that is, mylde KNA. ^c ruyne or myschef I. ^d aftir I.

20 Treccherie in the herte of men thenk-ende euelys; who forsothe gon^x in to the 21 counseilis of pes, hem folewith io3e. Shal not holli sorewen^y the rijt^zwis man, what euere thing shal falle to hym; vn^zpitous men forsothe shul be fulfild^z of euel.
22 Abomynacioun is to the Lord liende lippis; who forsothe feithfulli don, ple-23 sen to hym. A man turned to deceit, hilith kunnyng; the herte of vn^zwise 24 men stireth to folie. The hond of stronge men shal lordshepen; the whiche for-25 sothe is slo3, shal serue to tributis. Mornyng in the herte of the rijt^zwis man shal meken hym; and with a good woord he 26 shal be maad glad^a. Who dispisith harm for a frend, is rijt^zwis; the weie forsothe 27 of vn^zpitous men shal desceyue them. The gileful man shal not finde wynnyng; and the substaunce of a man shal be the pris 28 of gold. In the path of rijt^zwisnesse^b lif; the going out wei forsothe ledeth to deth.

CAP. XIII.

1 The wise sone the doctrine of the fader; who forsothe is a gilere, hereth not, 2 whan he is vnder nomyn. Of the frut of his mouth a man shal be fild with goodis; the soule forsothe of the lawe brekeris^c 3 wicke. Who kepeth his mouth, kepeth his soule; who forsothe is vnausid to 4 speken, shal felen euelis. The slowe wile, and wile not; the soule forsothe of werkende men shal ben inwardliche fattid.
5 A lesing woord the rijt^zwis man shal wlaten; the vn^zpitous^d man forsothe 6 shendeth, and shal be shent. Rijt^zwis-nesse kepeth the weie of the innocent; vn^zpitousnesse forsothe supplauntith the 7 synnere. Ther is as a riche man, whan no thing he hath; and ther is as a pore man, whan in many riches 8 he is. The a3een biyng of the soule of a man his richessis; who forsothe is a 9 pore man, blamyng suffreth not. The list that thenken yuels; but ioye sueth hem, that maken counsels of pees. What euere 21 bifallith to a iust man, it schal not make hym sori; but wickid men schulen be fillid with yuel. False lippis is abhominacioun 22 to the Lord; but thei that don feithfuli, plesen him. A fel^e man hilith kunnyng; 23 and the herte of vn^zwise men stirith foli.

The hond of stronge men schal haue lord- 24 schip; but the hond that is slow, schal serue to tributis. Morenyng in the herte 25 of a iust man schal make hym meke; and he schal be maad glad bi a good word.
He that dispisith harm* for a frend, is a 26 iust man; but the weie of wickid men schal disseyue hem. A gileful man schal 27 not fynde wynnyng; and the substaunce^f of man schal be the prijs of gold[†]. Lijf 28 is in the path of rijt^zfulnesse^f; but the wrong weie leedith to deeth.

CAP. XIII.

A wijs sone is the teching of the fadir; 1 but he that is a scornere, herith not, whanne he is repreuyd. A man schal be fillid with 2 goodis of the fruit of his mouth; but the soule of vn^zpitouse men is wickid. He that 3 kepith his mouth, kepith his soule; but he that is vnwar to speke, schal feel yuels.
A slow man wole, and wole not[‡]; but the 4 soule of hem that worchen schal be maad fat. A iust man schal wlate a fals word; 5 but a wickid man schendith, and schal be schent. Rijt^zfulnesse kepith the weie of 6 an innocent man; but wickidnesse disseyueth a synnere. A man is as riche^{||}, 7 whanne he hath no thing[¶]; and a man is as pore^{}, whanne he is in many richessis. Redempcioun of the soule of 8 man is hise richessis; but he that is pore, suffrith not blamyng. The list of 9 iust^{††} men makith glad; but the lanterne of wickid men schal be quenched.

* dispisith harm; that is, chargith not temporal harm for the helping of a frend. Live here. c.
† the substaunce; that is, liyf. Live here. c. k. n. a.
‡ the prijs of gold; that is, presiousere than gold. Live here. c.
§ wole and wole not; for he wole haue good profitable, ether worschipful, but he nyle suffre the trauele which is axid herto, and so he nyle spedily; therfor he is liyk the cat that wolde ete fisch, ne theles he eschewith to putte hise feet in to the water. Live here. c.
|| that is, wole haue prosperite in this world and ioie in heuen, but he wole not trauele vertuouali therfore. x.
¶ a man is as riche; whanne that litil thing that he hath, which is aret- tid as nou3t, suffisith to him self. Live here. c.
¶ that is, but fode and hiling, and desireth noo more. x.
 as pore, etc.; this is an aua- rouse man, to whom no thing suffisith. Live here. c.
and kannot holde him paid, but euere crieth, Bryng, Bring. x.
†† the list of iust men; that is, her prosperite. Live here. c. k. n. a. makith glad; the peple, for thei vsen wel her prosperite. Live here. c.

^x goth AGH. ^y serue E pr. m. ^z fild AGH.
^c vn^zpitouse men E pr. m. ^d vnrijt^zwis A.

^a gladen E pr. m. ^b rijt^zwis men AG. rijt^zwys man H.

^e fool A sec. m. ^f rijt^zwisnesse I.

of riȝtwis men maketh glad; the lanterne forsothe of vnпитыous men shal ben 10 quenched. Among proude men euermor ben striues; who forsothe alle thingis don with counseil, ben gouerned with 11 wisdom. Substaunce hastid shal be lasid; that forsothe litlemele^e is gedered, 12 with hond shal be multeplied. Hope that is deferrid, tormenteth the soule;
 13 the tree of lif desir comynge^{ee}. Who bacbiteth to any thing, he oblisheth hymself in to the^f time to come; who forsothe 14 dredeth the heste, in pes shal wone. The lawe of a wis man the welle of lif; that he bowe awei fro the falling of deth.
 15 Good doctrine shal ȝyue grace; in the weye of dispiseris a swolwȝ. A witti man alle thingis^g doth with counseil;
 16 who forsothe is a fool, shall opene folie. The messenger of the vnпитыous shal falle in to euil; the feithful sent is helthe.
 17 Nedynesse and shenshipe to hym that forsaketh discipline; who forsothe assenteth to the vndernymere, shal ben 18 glorified. Desir, if it be fulfild, delitith the soule; foolis wlaten hem that flen 19 euelis. Who with wise goth, a wis man shal ben; the frend of folis lic shal 20 be maad. Synneres euel pursueth; and to riȝtwis men goode thingis shul be 21 ȝolde. A good man leueth eiris sones, and sonys sones; and is kept to the riȝt-wise the substaunce of the synnere.
 22 Manye metis in the newid^h feeldis of fadris; and to othere men thei ben gedered withoute dom. Who spareth to the ȝerde, hatith his sone; who forsothe 23 looueth hym, bisili techeth. The riȝtwis eteth, and fulfillith his soule; the wombe forsothe of vnпитыousⁱ vnfilable.

CAP. XIV.

1 The wise womman bildeth vp hir hous; the vnwise the maad out^k forsothe with 2 hondis shal destroye. The goende in riȝt weie, and dredende God, is dispisid

^e with litlemel A. ^{ee} comende C pr. m. ^f Om. AEGH. ^g thing AC. ^h precious E pr. m. ⁱ the vnriȝt-wijs A. the vnпитыous GH. ^k Om. A. vp GH.

^g that I. the which A. ^h ȝoue I.

Stryues ben euere a mong proude men; 10 but thei that don alle thingis with counsel, ben gouerned bi wisdom. Hastid^{*} 11 catel schal be maad lesse; but that that is gaderid litle and litle with hond, schal be multiplid. Hope which^g is dilaied, 12 turmentith the soule; a tre of lijf is desir comyng. He that bacbitith any thing, 13 byndith hym silf in to tyme to comynge; but he that dredith[†] the comaundement, schal lyue in pees. The lawe of a wise 14 man is a welle of lijf; that he bowe awei fro the falling of deth[†]. Good teching 15 schal ȝyue grace; a swolowe is in the weie of dispiseris[§]. A fel man doith alle 16 thingis with counsel; but he that is a fool, schal opene foli. The messenger of 17 a wickid man schal falle in to yuel; a feithful messenger is helthe. Nedynesse 18 and schenschip is to him that forsakith techyng; but he that assentith^{||} to a blamere, schal be glorified. Desir, if it is 19 fillid, delitith the soule; foolis wlaten hem that fleen yuels. He that goith with wijs 20 men[¶], schal be wijs; the frend of foolis schal be maad lijk hem. Yuel pursueth 21 synneris; and goodis schulen be ȝoldun^h to iust men. A good man schal leue afir 22 him eiris, sones, and the sones of sones; and the catel of a synnere is kept to a iust man. Many meetis ben in the new 23 tilid feeldis of fadris; and ben gaderid to othere men with out doom^{}. He that 24 sparith the ȝerde, hatith his sone; but he that loueth him, techith bisili. A iust 25 man etith, and fillith his soule; but the wombe of wickid men is vnable to be fillid^{††}.

^{*} catel hastid; that is, getun hastily, as bi raueyn ether bi veure. with hond; that is, getun bi iust maner. Live here. c.

[†] dredith, etc.; that is, the breking of Goddis heestia. Live here. c.
^{††} of deth; that is, of synne and of helle. Live here. c.

[§] dispiseris; of good teching, for thei fallen fro synne into synne. Live here. c.

^{||} assentith, etc.; in amendinge him silf mekely. Live here. c.

[¶] with wise men; in conformyng him silf to hem. Live here. c.

^{} doom; that is, with out her trauel. Live here. c.

^{††} to be fillid; for tho thingis that ben set forth suffisen not to hem, but, euere more thei seken delicat thingis. Live here. c.

CAP. XIV.

A wijs womman bildith hir hous; and 1 an unwijs womman schal distrie with hondis^{††} an hous bildid. A man goynge 2 in riȝtful weie, and dredinge God, is dis-

^{††} with hondis; that is, with hir yuele werkis. Live here. c.

of hym, that goth in the euel losid weie.
 3 In the mouth of the fool a 3erde of pride; the lippis of wise men kepen 4 hem. Wher ben not oxen, the cracche is voide; wher forsothe aperen many tilthis, there is open maad the strengthe 5 of the oxe. A feithful wisse schal not lien; the trecherous wisse speketh 6 lesing. The scornere seketh wisdom, and findeth not; the doctrine of prudent men 7 lizt. Go a3en the fol¹; and he schal not 8 knowe the lippis of prudence. The wis-dam of the witti man is to vnderstonde his weie; and the^m vnprudence of foolis 9 erring. The fool scorneth synne; among 10 riztwis men grace shal wone. The herte that knew the bitternesse of his soule; in io3e to hym shal not be togidere 11 mengd a straunger. The hous of vnpitous men shal be don awei; the taber-naclis of riztwis men shal burioune.
 12 Ther is forsothe a weie, that semeth to a man riztwis; the laste thingus forsothe 13 of it bringen^a down to deth. Law3ing with sorewe shal be mengd; and the 14 endis of io3e weiling occupieth. With his weies shal be fulfid the fol; and aboue 15 hym shal be a good man. The innocent trowith to eche woord; the witti behold-16 eth his goingis. The wise man dredeth, and bowith down fro euel; the fol ouer-17 lepth, and troseth. The vnpacient shal werche folie; and the desseyuable man 18 is hateful. Litle childer shul welde folie; 19 and witti men shul abide kunnyng. Euel men shul lyn befor good men; and vnpitous men befor the 3atis of riztwis men.
 20 Also to his nezhebore the^o pore man hateful shal be; the frendis forsothe of 21 riche men manye. Who despisith his nezhebore, synneth; who forsothe doth merci to the pore man, shal be blisful.
 Who leeueth in the Lord, looueth merci;
 22 thei erren, that werchen euel. Mercy 23 and treuthe greithen goodis; in alle good werch plente shal be. Wher forsothe pisid of hym, that goith in aⁱ weie of yuel fame. The 3erde of pride^{*} is in the 3 mouth of a fool; the lippis of wijs men kepen hem. Where oxis^k ben not[†], the 4 cracche is void; but where ful many cornes apperen, there the strengthe of oxe^l is opyn. A feithful wisse schal 5 not lie; a gileful wisse bringith forth a leeing. A scornere[‡] sekith wisdom, and 6 he fyndith^m not; the teching of prudent men is esy. Go thou a3ens a man a fool; 7 and he schal not knowe the lippis of prudence[§]. The wisdom of a fel man is to 8 vnderstonde his weie; and the vnwarnesse of foolis errith. A fool scorneth synne^{||}; 9 grace schal dwelle among iust men. The 10 herte that knowith the bittirnesse[¶] of his soule; a straunger schal not be medlid in the ioie therof. The hous of wickid men 11 schal be don awei; the tabernaclis of iust men schulen buriowne. Sotheli a weie is, 12 that semeth iust to a man; but the laste thingis therof leden forth to deth. Lei3- 13 yng schal be medlid with sorewe; and morenyng occupieth the laste thingis of ioie. A fool schal be fillid with hise 14 weies; and a good man schal be aboue hym. An innocent man bileueth to eche 15 word; a felle man biholdith hise goyngis.

 A wijs man dredith, and bowith awei fro 16 yuel; a fool skippith^{} ouer, and tristith.
 A man vnpacient schal worche foli; and 17 a gileful man is odiouse. Litle men of 18 wit schulen holde foli; and felle men schulen abide kunnyng. Yuel men schulen 19 ligge bifor goode men; and vnpitouse men bifor the 3atis of iust men. A pore 20 man schal be hateful, 3he, to his nez-bore; but many men ben frendis of riche men. He that dispisith his nez3bore, doith 21 synne; but he that doith merci to a pore man, schal be blessid. He that bileueth in the Lord, loueth merci; thei erren 22 that worchen yuel. Merci and treuthe maken redi goodis; abundaunce 'schal 23 beⁿ in ech^o good werk. Sotheli where ful

* that is, mannas and proud correccion. K.
 † oxis ben not;
 that is, where defaute of techeris is, ther
 ben fewe feithful men. Live
here. CK.
 ‡ a scornere;
 he is seid a scornere, that dispisith to se
 the seiyingis of elde men, and bileueth to fynde wisdom
 bi his wit, but he fyndith not,
 for pride blynd-ith him. Live
here. C.
 § that is, he shal not re-sceyue heuenli wisdom. K.
 || scornith synne; that is,
 hath for nou3t
 to do synne.
Live here. C.
 ¶ bitternesse;
 that is, for contricioun of synne passid.
 a straunger;
 that is, alien fro
 veri penaunce.
 in the ioie ther-
 of; that is, of remyscioun of synne, and of
 hope of glorie.
 leden forth to deeth; that is,
 the weye of synnes that semeth iust to a synnere, ledith
 to deth of synne
 and of helle.
 an innocent
 man; that is,
 an vnkunnyng
 man, that kan not deme bi twixe a good councel and yuel. Live here.
 C.
  a fool skippeth; rennyng
 liztly fro synne
 in to synne.
 and tristith; to gete for3eunesse bi be-nyngnet, which he mysusith.
Live here. C.

¹ fol man E pr. m. ^m Om. AGH. ⁿ bringith A. ^o a AGH.

^l the C. ^k oxen I. ^l oxen A. the oxe R. ^m fyndith it I. ⁿ Om. C. ^o eueri Y.

ben manye woordis, there nedynesse ofte.
 24 The croune of wise men the riches of 25 hem; the folie of foolis vnprudence. A feithful wnesse deliuereth soulis; and 26 speketh lesingus the peruertid. In the drede of the Lord trost of strengthe; and 27 to the sones of hym shal ben hope. The drede of the Lord the welle of lif; that 28 he bowe down fro falling of deth. In the multitude of puple the dignete of the king; and in fewnesse of folc the shen-29 shipe of the prince. Who is pacient, is gouerned with myche wisdom; who for-sothe is vnpacient, enhaunceth hys folie.
 30 The lif of flesh helthe of herte; the 31 stink of bones enuye. Who wrongfulli chalengeth the nedi, mysseith to his makere; he honoureth hym forsothe, 32 that hath reuthe of the pore. In hys malice is put out the vnpitous; the rízt-33 wis forsothe hopeth in his deth. In the herte of the prudent man shal reste wis-dam; and vntaȝt men also^p it shal lerne.
 34 Ríztwísnesse rereth vp folc^q; wreccheful 35 maketh pupilis synne. Alowid is to the king an vnderstondende seruau^t; the plente of his wrathe the vnprofitable shal suffre.

CAP. XV.

1 A nesshe answere breketh wrathe; 2 an hard woord rereth woodnesse. The tunge of wise men enhourneth kunnyng; 3 the mouth of foolis boylith^r out folie. In alle place the eȝen of the Lord beholden^s 4 goode men, and euele. A plesable^t tunge the tre of lif; whiche forsothe is vn-5 temprid, shal defoule the spirit. The fol scorneth the discipline of his fader;
 who forsothe kepith blamyngis, shal be more witti. In plenteuous ríztwísnesse is 6 most vertue; thoȝtys forsothe of vnpitous men shul be pullid out bi the roote. The hous of the ríztwise myche strengthe; and in the frutis of vnpitouse al dis-7 turbaunce. The lippis of wise men shul many wordis ben, there nedynesse is ofte.

The coroun of wise men is the riches^{* 24} of hem; the fooli of foolis is vnwarnesse.
 A feithful wnesse delyuereth soulis; and 25 a fals man bringith forth leesyngis. In the drede of the Lord is triste of strengthe; and hope schal be to the sones of it^p. The drede of the Lord is a welle of lijf; that it bowe awei fro the fallyng of deth. The 28 dignite of the king is in the multitude of puple; and the schenscipe of a^q prince is in the fewnesse of puple. He that is 29 pacient, is gouerned bi^r myche wisdom; but he that is vnpacient, enhaunsith his foli. Helthe of herte is the lijf of 30 fleischis^s; enuye is rot of boonys[†]. He 31 that falsli chalengith a nedi man, dispisith his maker; but he that hath merci on a pore man, onourith that^t makere. A 32 wickid man is put out for his malice; but a iust man hopith in his deth. Wisdom 33 restith in the herte of a wijs man; and he schal teche alle vnlerned men. Rízt-34 fulnesse reisith a folc; synne makith puplis wretchis. A mynystre^u vnderstond-35 ynge[†] is acceptable to a kyng; a mynystre^u vnprofitable schal suffre the wrathfulnesse of him.

CAP. XV.

A soft answere brekith ire; an hard word reisith woodnesse. The tunge of 2 wise men ourneth^v kunnyng^q; the mouth of foolis buylith out foli. In ech place 3 the iȝen of the Lord biholden good men, and yuel men. A plesaunt tunge^{||} is the 4 tre of lijf; but the tunge which^w is vn-mesurable, schal defoule the spirit. A 5 fool scorneth the techyng of his fadir; but he that kepith blamyngis[¶], schal be maad wisere. Moost vertu schal be in plenteuouse ríztfulnesse; but the thouȝtis of wickid men schulen be drawun vp bi the roote. The hous of a iust man is 6 moost^x strengthe; and disturbing is in the fruitis of a wickid man. The lippis⁷

* richness; that is, kunnyng and vertue.

† vnwarnesse; that is, herfor thei ben foolis, for thei biforseen not thingis to comynge.

Live here. c.

† boons; that is, vertues ben corrupt bi enuye comynge on tho. Live here. c.

‡ vnderstondinge; that is, a good prelat is acceptable to the king Jhesu Crist, and an yuel prelat schal be punyschid of him scharply.

Live here. c.

§ ourneth kunnyng; that is, it bringith forth kunnyng in tyme and place acceptable.

|| buylith out; that is, bringith forth feruently and feraly. c.

¶ a plesaunt tunge; that is, of swete speche to the neizbore, and ententif to preyer anentis God, to plesse him.

¶ is a tre of lijf; for as bodily lijf is contynued bi the tre of lijf, so goostly lijf is contynued bi sich a tunge.

¶ vnmesurable; to speke.

¶ schal defoule the spirit; for synne schal not faile in myche speche. Live here. c.

¶ that kepith blamyngis; in amending him self.

¶ wisere; in eschewing yuelis to comynge.

¶ in plesaunt ríztfulnesse; that is, in kep- ing of Cristis counsels.

¶ strengthe; for the Lord schal defende it.

Live here. c.

^p eche E pr. m. ^q the nedy E pr. m. ^r bolkith A. ^s beholdith A. ^t pesable C.

^p him I. ^q Om. CN. ^r with I. ^s fleish I. ^t his I. ^u seruau^t I. ^v onourneth A pr. m. honourith I. onourith U. ^w that I. ^x ful gret I.

sowen abrod kunnyng; the herte of foolis 8 vnlic shal ben. The sacrificse of victorie of vnpytous men wlatesum to the Lord;
 the vouwis of ríztwys men plesable.
 9 Abominacioun is to the Lord the lif of the vnpytous; who folewith ríztwysnesse, 10 shal be loued of hym. Euel doctrine to the forsakende the weie of lif; who 11 blamyngis hateth, shal dien. Helle and perdicoun befor the Lord; myche more 12 the hertis of the sonus of men. The bacbitere looueth not hym that chastis-13 eth hym; ne to wise men goth. The iozende herte maketh out gladsum the face; in mornying of inwit shal be 14 throwe down the spirit. The herte of the wise man shal seche doctrine; and the mouth of foolis is fed with vnwis-15 dam. Alle the dazis of the pore euele; a sikir mynde as a contynuel feste.
 16 Betere is a litil with the drede of the Lord, than grete tresoris and vnfillable.
 17 Betere is to be clepid to wrtis with 18 charite, than to a fat calf with hate. A man ful of wrathe stirith striues; who 19 is pacient^u, swageth the vprered. The weie of slowe men as heggis of thornes; the weie of ríztwis men withoute thing 20 of hurting. A wis sone maketh glad the fader; and a fool man despiseth^v his 21 moder. Folie is ioze to the fool; and a prudent man shal rízt reulen his goingus.
 22 Thoztis ben to-scatered, wher is not counseil; wher forsothe ben manye 23 counseileris, thei ben confermed. A man gladeth in the sentence of his mouth; 24 and the spedful sermoun is best. The path of lif vp on the tazt man; that he 25 bowe down fro the last helle. The hous of proude men the Lord shal destroye; and stedefast he shal make the termes of 26 the widewe. Abominacioun of the Lord euele thoztis; a pure sermoun most fair 27 shal be fastned of hym. He al disturb-ith his hous, that folewith auarice; who of wise men schulen sowe abrood kunnyng; the herte of foolis schal be vnlic.

 The sacrifices of wickyd men ben abho-8 mynable to the Lord; avowis^y of iust men ben plesaunt. The lijf of the^z vnpytouse* 9 man is abhomynacioun to the Lord; he that sueth ríztfulnesse, schal be loued of the Lord. Yuel teching is of men for- 10 sakinge^a the weie of lijf; he that hatith blamyngis, schal die. Helle and perdi- 11 cioun ben open bifor the Lord; hou myche more^b the hertis of sonus of men.
 A man ful of pestilence loueth not hym 12 that repreueth him; and he goith not to wyse men. A ioiful herte makith glad 13 the face; the spirit is cast down in the^c morenyng of soule. The herte of a wijs 14 man sekith techyng; and the mouth of foolis is fed[†] with vnkunnyng. Alle the 15 daies of a pore man ben yuele^d; a sikir soule is a^e contynuel feeste. Betere is a 16 litil with the^f drede of the Lord, than many tresouris and vnfillable^g. It is betere 17 to be clepid to wortis with charite, than with hatrede to a calf maad fat. A wrath- 18 ful man reisith chidyngis; he that is pacient, swagith chidyngis reisid^h. The weie 19 of slow men is anⁱ hegge of thornes; the weie of iust men is with out hirtyng. A 20 wise sone makith glad the^k fadir; and a fonned man dispisith his modir. Foli is 21 ioye to a fool; and^l a prudent man schal dresse hise steppis. Thouztis ben distried, 22 where^m no counseil is; but where many counseleris[†] *ben*ⁿ, tho^o ben confermyd. A 23 man is glad in the sentence of his mouth[§]; and a couenable word is best. The path 24 of lijf is on a lernyd man; that he bowe awei fro the laste helle. The Lord schal 25 distrie the hows^p of proude men; and he schal make stidefast the coostis of a widewe. Iuele thouztis is abhomynacioun 26 of the Lord; and a cleene word moost fair schal be maad stidfast of hym. He 27 that sueth aueryce, disturblith his hous;

* vnpytouse,
 etc.; for it is propirte of God,
 to spare and haue mersy, and so to be pitouse;
 and therfor he hath abhomynacioun of an vnpytouse man.
 schal die; that is, bi deth of synne, and ofte bi temporal deth. Live
here. c.

† fed; that is,
 delith in spek-inge fonned
 thingis.

ben yuele; bi yuele of payne,
 for pouert is de-
 faute of thingis nedeful to sus-tenaunce.

and vnfillable;
 that is, for tho fillen not the nedynesse, but more encreesen
 it.

the weye of slowe; for a slow man dredith euere to fynde lettingis
 in the weye.
Live here. c.

† counsellours; feithful and goode, thouztis ben brougt to effect. Live
here. c.

§ of his mouth;
 that is, whanne
 it is appreued
 of othere goode
 men and wise.
Live here. c.

^u pacient forsothe c pr. m. E pr. m. ^v desceyueh E pr. m.

^y the avowis I. ^z an I. ^a that forsaken I. ^b more rather I. ^c Om. I. ^d disesy I. ^e as a A sec. m.
^f Om. I. ^g vnprofitable I. ^h that weren reisid I. ⁱ as an A sec. m. ^k his I. ^l but I. ^m there I.
ⁿ ther ben I. ^o thei I. ^p housis I.

forsothe hatith ȝiftis, shal liue. Bi merci and feith ben purgyd synnes; bi the drede forsothe of the Lord bowith doun 28 eche man fro euel. The mynde of the riȝtwis sweteli thenketh wisdam; the mouth of vnpitous men reboundeth to 29 euelis. Ferr is the Lord fro vnpitous men; and the orisouns^w of riȝtwis men 30 he shal ful out heren. The liȝt of eȝen maketh glad the soule; good los in-31 wardli fattith bones. The ere that hereth blamyngus of lif, in the myddel of 32 wise men shal al abide. Who casteth awei discipline, despiseth his soule; who forsothe assenteth to vndirnymyngis, 33 weldere is of herte. The drede of the Lord discipline of wisdam; and mekenesse goth befor glorie.

CAP. XVI.

1 Off a man is to make redy the inwit;
and of the Lord to gouerne the tunge.
2 Alle the weies of man ben opene to the eȝen of hym; of spiritis the peisere is 3 the Lord. Shewe to the Lord thi werkis; 4 and riȝt reulid shul ben thi thoȝtis. Alle thingus for hymself wroȝte the Lord; 5 also the vnpitouse to the euele dai. Abominacioun is of the Lord eche proud man; also if hond at hond were, he 'shal not be^x innocent. The begynnyng of the good wey to do riȝtwysnesse; is^y alouwid 6 anent^z God, more than to offre ostis. Bi merci and treuthe wickidnesse is forboȝt; and in drede of the Lord is bowid awei 7 fro euel. Whan shul plesse to the Lord the weies of man, the enemys forsothe 8 of hym he shal turne to pes. Betere is a litil with riȝtwysnesse, than manye 9 frutis with wickidnesse. The herte of man shal disposen his weie; but of the 10 Lord is to riȝt reulen his goyngis. De-uynnyng in the lippis of the king; in 11 dom his mouth shal not erre. Weiȝte and balaunce ben the domes of the Lord;

but he that hatith ȝiftis schal lyue.
Synnes ben purgid bi merci and feith; ech man bowith awei fro yuel bi the drede of the Lord. The soule of a iust²⁸ man bithenkith obedience; the mouth of wickid men is ful of yuelis. The Lord is²⁹ fer fro wickid men; and he schal here the preyers of iust men. The liȝt of iȝen³⁰ makith glad the soule; good fame makith fat* the boonys. The eere that herith³¹ the blamyngis of lijf, schal dwelle in the myddis of wise men. He that castith³² awei chastisyng, dispisith his soule; but he that assentith to blamyngis, is^a pesible holdere of the herte. The drede of the³³ Lord is teching of wisdom; and mekenesse goith bfore glorie.

* fat; that is,
encreesith ver-
tues, wherynne
the strengthe of
soule stondith,
for vertu preisith encreesith. Lire
here. c.
that is, encreas-
eth his vertues,
that ben the substance of the soule. x.

CAP. XVI.

It perteyneth to man to make redi the soule; and it perteyneth to the Lord to gouerne the tunge. Alle the weies of² men ben opyn to the iȝen of God; the Lord is a weiere of spiritis†. Schewe thi³ werkys to the Lord; and thi thouȝtis schulen be dressid^r. The Lord wrouȝte⁴ alle thingis for hym silf; and he made redi a wickid man to the yuel dai. Abho-⁵ mynacioun of the Lord is ech proude man; ȝhe, thouȝ the hond is^{rr} to the hond, he schal not be innocent. The bigynnyng of good weie is to do riȝtwysnesse^s; for-sothe it is more acceptable at^t God, than to offre sacrifices. Wickidnesse is aȝen⁶ bouȝt bi merci and treuthe; and me bowith awei fro yuel bi the^a drede of the Lord. Whanne the weyes of man plesen⁷ the Lord, he schal conuerte, ȝhe, hise ene-myes to pees. Betere is a litil with riȝt-⁸ fulnesse, than many fruytis with wickidnesse. The herte of a man schal dispose⁹ his weie; but it perteyneth to the Lord to dresse hise steppis. Dyuyynyng† is in¹⁰ the lippis of a king; his mouth schal not

† that is, of willis, yelding to man afir his desseruings. x.

† Dyuyynyng; that is, reding
in hooli scripture, therfor in xvii. c^o of Deut.
the king schal
rede in the book of Goddis
lawe, in alle
daies of his lijf,
that he lerne
for to drede
God. cx.
not erre in doom; that is,
he schal not
ȝyue an yuel
sentence, if he studieth in hooli scripture, and dredith God. c.

^w orisoun A. ^x is not E pr. m. ^y Om. c pr. m. ^z anentis E passim.

^q is a i. ^r dressid, into good issu. Lire here. n text. ^{rr} be i. ^s riȝtfulnesse plures. ^t anentis i.
^u Om. i.

and his werkis alle the stones of the 12 world. Abominable to the king, that don vnpolitously; for bi riȝtwisnesse is fastned 13 the kingis dignete. The wil of the king riȝtwis lippis; that riȝt thingus speketh, 14 shal be riȝt reulid. The indignacioun of the king messageres of deth; and a 15 wis man shal don aseeth to hym. In gladnesse of the chere of the king lif; and the noble mercy of hym as euetid^z 16 weder. Weld wisdom, for betere it is than gold; and purchase prudence, for 17 it is mor precious than siluer. The path of riȝtwis men bowith awei euelis; the kepere of his soule holdeth faste his 18 weye. Pride goth befor contricioun; and befor falling the spirit shal ben en-19 hauncid. Betere is to be meke^a with mylde men, than to deuyde spoilis with 20 proude men. The lerned in woord shal finde goodis; and that hopeth in the 21 Lord is blisful. Who is wis in herte, shal be clepid prudent; and who is sweete in fair speche, more thingis shal 22 finde. The welle of lif the lernyng of the weldere; the doctrine of foolis folie.
 23 The herte of the wise man shal lerne the mouth of hym; and to the lippis of hym 24 it shal adde grace. The comb of hony wel set woordis; swetnesse of soule is 25 helthe of bones. Ther is a weie that semeth to a man riȝt; and the last 26 thingis of it leden^b to deth. The soule of the trauailere trauaileth to hymself; 27 for hys mouth compellide hym. An un-wis man delueth euel; and in^c the lippis 28 of hym fyr brenneth. A man peruertid rereth striues; and the man ful of 29 woordis seuereth princis. The wicke^d man flatereth his frend; and ledeth hym 30 bi a weie not good. That with stonezid ezen thenketh shreude thingis, bitende 31 his^e lippis parformeth euel. The croune of dignete elde, that in the weie^f of riȝt-32 wisnesse shal be founde. Betere is the pacient, than a strong man; and that erre in doom. The domes of the Lord¹¹ ben weizte and a balaunce; and hise werkis 12 ben alle the stoonys of the world. Thei¹² that don wickidli ben abhomynable to the king; for the trone of the rewme is maad stidfast bi riȝtfulnesse. The wille of¹³ kyngis is iust lippis; he that spekith riȝtful thingis, schal be dressid*. Indigna-¹⁴ cioun of the kyng is messengeris of deth; and a wijs man schal plese him. Lijf *is*¹⁵ in the^v gladnesse of the 'cheer of the king^w; and his merci is as a^x reyn comynge late. Welde thou wisdom, for it is¹⁶ betere than gold; and gete thou prudence, for it is^y precyousere than siluer. The¹⁷ path of iust men bowith awei yuelis; the kepere of his soule kepith his weie. Pride¹⁸ goith bifore sorewe; and the spirit schal be enhaunsid byfor fallyng. It is betere¹⁹ to be maad meke with mylde men, than to departe spuylis with proude men. A²⁰ lerned man in word schal fynde goodis; and he that hopith in the Lord is blessid.

 He that is wijs in herte, schal be clepid²¹ prudent; and he that is swete in speche, schal fynde grettere thingis. The welle²² of lijf is the lernyng of him that weld-ith†; the techyng of foolis is foli. The²³ herte of a wijs man schal teche his mouth;
 and schal encrease grace to hise lippis.
 Wordis wel set togidere is a coomb of²⁴ hony; helthe of boonys‡ is the swetnesse of soule. A weye *is*²⁵ that semeth riȝtful to a man; and the laste thingis therof leden to deth. The soule of a man§ tra-²⁶ uelinge trauelith to hym silf||; for his mouth¶ compellide hym. An vnwijs man²⁷ diggith yuel††; and fier‡‡ brenneth in hise lippis. A weiward man reisith stryues;²⁸ and a man ful of wordis departith princis.
 A wickid man flaterith his frend; and²⁹ ledith hym bi a weie not good. He³⁰ that thenkith schrewid thingis with izen astonyed, bitith hise lippis, and parformeth yuel§§. A coroun of dignyte is eelde,³¹ that schal be foundun in the weies of weizte and a balaunce; that is, Goddis domes ben iust. iust lippis; that is, iust lippis in iugis ben the wille of iust kingis. as a reyn; for as reyn comynge late is good and swete to the fruytis of erthe, so the mercy of the king is good to hem that han ned to remyscioun. Live here. c. * dressid, of God into an end. Live here. KN.

† wisdom and wille to teche Goddis pleasure. K.
 ‡ that is, sadness of feith and othere vertues. K.
 § euer more morking in the erthe bi couetise. K.
 || principali for his owne profit. K.
 ¶ for al goith in to the mouth of glotterouse laborers. K.  diggith yuel; that is, sekith it with diligence. fier brenneth; of wrathfulnesse and of pride. Live here. c.
 †† that is, worchith vnwiseli and out of tyme. K.
 ‡‡ of wraththe and distemperance. K.
 §§ parformeth yuel; that is, ymagyneth to parforme. Live here. c.

^z an euetid c. ^a meked AE GH. ^b ledith A. ^c Om. A. ^d wickyd A. ^e with A. ^f weies AE GH.

^v Om. I. ^w kingis chere I. ^x Om. I. ^y is more I. ^z ther is I.

lordshipeth to his wil, than an ouer-33 comere of cites. Lotis ben put in to the bosum; but of the Lord thei ben temprid.

CAP. XVII.

1 Betere is a drie morsel with io3e, than an hous ful of sacrifices of victorie with 2 strif. A wis seruauant shal lordshipen to sones foolis; and among bretheren 3 eritage he shal deuyde. As bi fyr is proued siluer, and gold bi the chymney, 4 so hertes the Lord preueth. The euele man obesheth to the wicke tunge; and the desceyuable consenteth to the liende 5 lippis. Who dispiseth a pore man, mys-seyth to his makere; and who gladeth in the falling of an other, shal not ben vn-6 punshid. The croune of olde men sones of sones; and the glorie of sones the 7 fadris of hem. There semeth not the fool faire set woordis; ne the prince a 8 liende lippe. Most kinde iemme the abiding of the abidere; whider euere he turneth^g hymself, prudentli he vnder-9 stand^h. Who helith the gilte, secheth frenshipis; who with an other sermoun 10 reherceth, seuereth the federedⁱ. Mor profiteth correccioun anent the prudent, than an hundrid veniaunces anent the 11 fol. Euermor strues secheth the euel man; the cruel forsothe aungil shal be 12 sent a3en hym. It spedeth mor to a3en come to a she bere, whan hir whelpis ben take away, than to a fol trostende 13 to hymself in his folie. Who 3eldeth euelis for goodis, shal not go awei euel 14 fro his hous. Who leueth water, hed is of strues; and er he suffre wrong blam-15 yng, dom he forsaketh. And who iustefieth the vnpitouse, and who condempneth the ri3twise, abominable is either 16 anent God. What profiteth to the fol to han richessis, whan wisdam bie he mai ri3tfulnesse. A pacient man is betere than 32 a stronge man; and he that 'is lord^a of his^b soule*, is betere than an ouercomere of citees. Lottis[†] ben sent into the bosum; 33 but tho^c ben temperid of the Lord[§].

CAP. XVII.

Betere is a drie mussel with ioye, than 1 an hous ful of sacrifices with chidyng.
A wijs seruauant schal be lord of fonned 2 sones; and he schal departe eritage among britheren. As siluer is preued bi fier, 3 and gold is preued bi a chymnei, so the Lord preueth hertis. An yuel man obei- 4 eth to a wickid tunge||; and^d a fals man obeieth to false lippis. He that dispisith 5 a pore man, repreueth his maker; and he that is glad in the fallyng of another man, schal not be vnpunyschid. The coroun 6 of elde men is the sones of sones; and the glorie of sones is the fadris of hem.
Wordis wel set togidere bisemen not a 7 fool; and a liyng lippe bicometh not a prince. A preciouze stoon¶ moost accept- 8 able is the abiding of hym that sekith; whidur euere he turneth hym silf, he vn-durstandith prudentli. He that helith 9 trespas, sekith frenshipis; he that rehersith||| bi an hi3 word, departith hem, that ben knyght togidere in pees. A blam- 10 yng profitith more at a prudent man, than an hundryd woundis at a fool. Euere an 11 yuel man sekith stryues; forsothe a cruel aungel schal be sent a3ens hym. It sped- 12 ith more to meete a femal bere, whanne the^e whelpis ben rauyschid^f, than a fool tristynge to hym silf in his foli. Yuel 13 schal not go a wei fro the hous of hym, that 3eldith yuels for goodis. He that 14 leueth^g watir^{††}, is heed^h of stryues^{‡‡}; and bifor that he suffrith wrong, he forsakith dom. Bothe he that iustifieth a wickid 15 man, and he that condempneth a iust man, euer ethir is abhominable atⁱ God.
What profitith^{§§} it to a fool to haue 16

* lord of his soule; bi re-freynnyng of conciuisis, is betere. Live here. c. x. x. x.
† that is, vpon
hid thingis. k.
‡ whanne God
chesith which he wole. k.

|| wickid tunge; that is,
to a tyrant commanding
wickid thing.
Live here. c.
¶ A preciouze ston; that is,
the thing abe-dun of a desirere, is a precious stoon in hise i3en, and ech werk he doith prudently,
that he be not defraudid of his desire. Live
here. c.
that is, lijf enelasting, for the wich a wijs marchaunt solde al that he hadde, and bouzte it. Mt.
xiiij. k.
 of ech ver-tuous man, that Poul clepeth a croune of lijf.
k.
||| that rehers-ith, etc.; that is, pupplischith
with out iust cause. Live
here. c.
†† leueth wa-
tir; that is,
drynkith ouer
strong wyn.
of stryues;
that risen of drunkenesse.
he forsakith
doom; in hirt-
ing his neishore
with out cause.
Live here. c.
‡‡ that is, be that letteth water renne forth,
and he that higyneth strifes, doon lijf
thingis. k.
§§ What profitith it, etc.; as if he seie, no thing; for he vsith not tho
to good but to yuel, and may not gete wisdom bi tho.
Live here. c.

g turne AEGH. h vnderstandeth AEGH. i federed or boundun in loue c sec. m. marg. E sec. m. marg. AGH.

a hath power i. b his owne i. c thei i. d Om. i. e her i. f take away i. g leueth, or let go i.
letteth ka. h the heed a. i to c.

not? Who heiȝ maketh his hous, secheth falling; and who shoneth to lerne, 17 falleth in to euelis. Alle time looueth, that is a frend; and a brother in an-18 guysshis is preued^k. A fool man shal for ioȝe flappe with hondis, whan he 19 shal behoten for his frend. Who sweteli thenketh discordis, looueth striues; and who enhauncith his herte, secheth fall-20 ing. Who is of peruertid herte, findeth not good; and who turneth the tunge, 21 shal falle in to^l euel. Born is the fool in his shenshipe; but ne^m the faderⁿ in 22 the fol shal glade. Ioȝende inwit mak-eth briȝt age; a drery spirit ful out dri-23 eth bones. Ȝiftis of the bosum the vnpitous taketh, that he peruerte the pathis 24 of dom. In the face of the prudent shyneth wisdom; the eȝen of foolis in 25 the endis of erthe. The wrathe of the fader a sone fol; the sorewe of the mo-26 dir that gat hym. It is not good to bern in harm to the riȝtwis; ne to smyte a 27 prince that riȝt demeth. Who tempreth his woordis, taȝt and prudent is; and of 28 precious^o spirit the man lerned. The fool forsothe, if he holde his pes, wis shal ben holde; if he threste togidere his lippis, vnderstondende.

CAP. XVIII.

1 Ocasoun secheth, that wil gon awei fro a frend; alle time variable he shal 2 be. A fol resceiueth not the woordis of prudence; but tho thingis thou^p shul seyn, that ben ofte turned in his herte.
3 The vnpitous, whan in to depthe of synne^q shal^r come, dispiseth; and ther folewith hym shenshipe and repreff.
4 Deep water woordis of the mouth of a man; and a stef strem the reboundende 5 welle of wisdom. To alouwen the persone of the vnpitouse in dom, is not good, that thou bowe awei fro the sothfastrichessis, sithen^k he mai not bie wisdom?

He that makith his hous* hiȝ, sekith falling†; and he that eschewith^l to lerne, shal falle in to yuels. He that is a frend, 17^k loueth in al tyme; and a brother is preuyd in angwischis. A fonned man 18 shal make ioie with hondis, whanne he hath bihiȝt for his frend. He that bi- 19 thenkith discordis, loueth chidingis; and^m he that enhaunsith‡ his mouth, sekith fallyng. He that is of weiward herte, 20 shal not fynde good; and he that turn-eth the tunge§, schal falle in to yuel. A 21 fool is borun in his schenschipe; but nether the fadir schal be glad in a fool. A 22 ioiful soule makith likinge age; a sorewful spirit makith drie boonys. A wickid 23 man takith ȝiftis fro the bosum, to mys-turne the pathis of doom. Wisdom schyn- 24 eth in the face of a prudent man; the iȝen of foolis ben in the endis of erthe. A 25 fonned sone is the ire of the fadir, and the sorewe of the modir that gendrideⁿ hym. It is not good to brynge in harm 26 to a iust man; nether to smyte the prince that demeth riȝtfuli. He that mesurith 27 his wordis, is wiȝs and prudent; and a lerud man is of preciouſe spirit. Also a 28 foole, if he is stille, schal be gessid a wiȝs man; and, if he pressith togidre hise lippis, he 'schal be^o gessid an vndurstondynge man.

CAP. XVIII.

He that wole go a wei fro a frend, 1
sekith occasiouns||; in al tyme he schal be dispisable. A fool resseyueth not the 2 wordis of prudence; 'no but^p thou seie tho thingis, that ben turned in his herte.
A wickid man, whanne he cometh in to 3 depthe of synnes, dispisith¶; but sclaudre and schenschipe sueth hym. Deep 4 watir is the wordis of the mouth of a man; and a stronde fletinge ouer†† is the welle of wisdom. It is not good to take 5 the persone of a wickid man in doom, that thou bowe awei fro the treuthe of

* of yuel geten good. k.
† disserueth falling to helle.
k.

‡ in boasting and other cursed speche. k.

§ that turneth
the tunge; that is, flaterith in presence, and deffameth in absence of a man. Live here.
c.

|| sekith occa-
siouns; that is,
feyneth causis.
Live here. c.n.
¶ hoolsum loore and amaundement.
k.

 deep watir;
that is, the
wordis of a man perfit in kun-
nyng and vertu, conteynen deep sentence, to which not ech
man may listly ateyne, as nethir to the botme of deep
watir. c.k.
a stronde flow-
inge ouer; in to othere men
bi good teching.
is the welle of wisdom, in the
soule of a wise man, fro whiche welle the watir
of wisdom is brouȝt out to
othere men.
chidingis; of
othere men
chidinge to gidere. double tunge; that flaterith in presence, and bacbitith in absence. of the
wombe; that is,
til to the herte.
dredre; this vers til thidur
he that is neische, is not in Ebreu. Live
here. c.
†† into other men bi good teching. k.

^k aproued E. ^l Om. A. ^m Om. A. ⁿ faders A. ^o the precious A. ^p he AE pr. m. ^q synnes AGH.
^r he shal c pr. m.

^k sith I passim. ^l ethchewith I passim. ^m Om. A pr. m. M. ⁿ baar I. ^o is I. ^p but if I.

6 nesse of dom. The lippis of the^r fol shul menge themself with striues; and 7 the mouth of hym debatis stireth. The mouth of the fool 'to-treding^s of hym; and the lippis of hym the falling of his 8 soule. The woordis of the twisil tunge as simple^t; and tho³ thur³ comen vnto the entrailis of the wombe. The slowe drede threw³ down; the soulis forsothe 9 of wommanysh men shul hungren. Who is nesshe, and dissolut in his werk, brother is of the man scaterende his werkes.
10 The most strong tour the name of the Lord; to it renneth the ríztwise, and he 11 shal ben enhauncid. The substaunce of the riche man the cite of his strengthe;
and as a strong wal cumpassende hym.
12 Er it be to-treden, is enhauncid the herte of a man; and er it be glorified, it is 13 mekid. Who rathere answereth than he hereth, a fool hymself to ben he shew-14 ith; and confusioun wrthi. The spirit of the man susteneth his febleness; the spirit forsothe lízt to wrathen, who shal 15 moun sustene? The herte of the prudent shal welde kunnyng; and the ere 16 of wise men secheth doctrine. The free 3ifte of a man spreadeth abroad his weie; and befor princis space to hym maketh.
17 The ríztwis rathere is the acuser of hymself; ther cometh his frend, and he 18 shal enserchen hym. Azenseiyngus lot thresteth togidere; and among my3ti 19 men^v also dyuersly demeth. The brother that is holpen of the brother, as a stef cite; and the domes as barris of cites.
20 Of the frut of the mouth of a man shal be fulfid his wombe; and the burioun-yngis of the lippis of hym shul fulfillen 21 hym. Deth and lif in the hondis of the tunge; who loouen^w it, shuln ete the 22 frutis of it. Who findeth a good womman, findeth good; and shal drawn merthe of the Lord. Who putteth out a good womman, putteth out good; who forsothe holdeth avoutresse, is a fool and

dom. The lippis of a fool medlen hem⁶ silf with chidyngis; and his mouth ex-citith^a stryues. The mouth of a fool is⁷ defoulyng of hym; and hise lippis ben the fallynge of his soule. The wordis of⁸ a double tungid man ben as symple; and tho^r comen 'til to^s the ynnere thingis of the wombe*. Drede castith down a slowe man[†]; forsothe the soulis of men turned in to wymmens condicioun schulen haue hungur. He that is neisch, and vnstid-⁹ fast^t in his werk, is the brother of a man distriynge hise werkis. A strongeste^u tour¹⁰ is the name of the Lord; a iust man renneth to hym, and schal be enhaunsid.
The catel of a riche man is the citee of¹¹ his strengthe; and as a stronge wal cum-passinge hym. The herte of man^v is en-¹² haunsid, bifor that it be brokun; and it is maad meke, bifore that it be glorified.
He that answerith bifore that he herith,¹³ shewith hym silf to be a fool; and worthi of schenschipec. The spirit of a man sus-¹⁴ teyneth his febleness; but who may sus-teyne a spirit lízt to be wrooth? The¹⁵ herte of a prudent man schal holde stid-fastli kunnyng; and the eere of wise men sekith techyng. The 3ifte of a man alarg-¹⁶ ith his weie; and makith space to hym bifore princes. A iust man is the first¹⁷ accuser[‡] of hym silf; his frend cometh, and schal serche hym[§]. Lot ceessith azen-¹⁸ seyngis; and demeth also among mizti men. A brother that is helpid^w of a brothir, is as a stidfast citee; and domes ben as the barris of citees. A mannus^{||} wombe[¶] schal be fillid of the fruit of his mouth; and the seedis of hise lippis schulen fille hym. Deth and lijf ben in²¹ the werkis of tunge; thei that louen it, schulen ete the fruytis therof. He that²² fyndith a good womman, fyndith a good thing; and of the Lord he schal drawe vp myrthe. He that puttith a wey a good womman, puttith awei a good thing; but he that holdith auowtresse, is a fool and

* that is, to the herte. K.
† castith out a slow man; that is, the drede of trauel castith
him down fro bigynnyng of good werk.
to wymmens
condicioun;
that is, men
that ben neische
as wymmens
worche good.
the catel of a
riche man, etc.;
that is, he trist-
ith in hise richessis, as in a wallid citee, thou; he is ofte disseyued
in this. C.

‡ to God and to a true frend.
K.
§ ordeynnyng the weie of his delyueraunce.
K.
|| a mannus
wombe; that is,
the kunnyng of vertuose man
schal be en-creessid bi his trewe teching.
deth and lijf;
that is, deth of synne is in the myssyng of the tunge, and the lijf of grace is in the goode
vying therof.
Live here. C.
¶ that is, his mynde, or his desire, shal be fulfilled for his vertuous word-
is; of thi word-is thou shalt be iustified. Mt.
xii. K.

^r a AGH. ^s the to-treding AH. ^t tormentis E pr. m. ^u throwith A. ^v Om. AGH. ^w loueth A.

^a stirith I. ^r thei I. ^s vnto I. ^t dissolute, ether vnstidfast CEF GHIKMN PQRSUXYAÇ. ^u ful strong I.
^v a man I. ^w holpun I.

23 vnwis. With obsecracious spekethe the pore man; and a riche man schal speke out 24 ruggidli. A man amyable to felashipe mor a frend shal be, than a brother.

CAP. XIX.

1 Betere is a pore man, that goith in simplenes, than a riche man tormentende 2 his lippis, and vnwis. Wher is not kunnyng of soule, is not good; and who is 3 hastif, with feett stumblith. The folie of a man supplauntith hise goingis; and 4 azen God boileth in his inwit. Richesses addene manye frendis; fro the pore for-sothe and tho that he hadde, ben seuered.
5 A fals witness shal not ben vnpunshid; and he that lesing spekethe, shal not 6 ascapen. Manye herien^x the persone of the myzti; and frendis ben of the ziuende 7 ziftis. The brethern of the pore man hateden hym; ferthermor and frendis aferr wenten awei fro hym. Who onli woordis folewith, no thing shal han; 8 who forsothe weldere is of the mynde, loueth his soule, and the kepere of pru-9 dence shal finde goodis. The false wit-nesse shal not ben vnpunshid; and that 10 spekethe lesing, shal pershen. Delicis semen not the fool; ne the seruaunt to 11 lordshipen to princis. The doctrine of a man bi pacience is knowe; and the glorie of hym is to go biside wicke thingys.
12 As the gnasting of a leoun, so and^y the wrathe of the king; and as deu vpon 13 erbe, so and the gladnesse of hym. The sorewe of the fader, the sone a fol; and rooues contynueli thur; droppende, a 14 womman ful of strif. Housis and richessis ben zeue of the fadris; of the Lord 15 forsothe properli a prudent wif. Slouth sendeth in slep; and a dissolut soule shal 16 hungre. Who kepeth the maundement, kepeth his soule; who forsothe despisith 17 his weie, shal be maad dead. He vsureth to the Lord, that hath reuthe of the pore; and his while he shal zelde to hym.

vnwijs. A pore man schal speke with 23 bisechingis; and a riche man schal speke sterneli. A man freendli to felouschipe 24 shal more be a frend, than a brothir.

CAP. XIX.

Betere is a pore man, that goith in his 1 simplenesse, than a riche man bitynge hise lippis, and vnwijs. Where is not 2 kunnyng of the soule, is^x not good; and he that is hasti*, in feet hirtith. The 3 foli of a man disseyueth hise steppis; and he brenneth in his soule azens God†.
Richessis encreessen ful many freendis; 4 forsothe also thei ben departid fro a pore man, whiche he hadde. A fals witness 5 shal not be vnpunyschid; and he that spekith leesingis, schal not ascape‡. Many 6 men onouren the persooone of a myzti man;
and ben^y frendis of hym that deelith ziftis.
The britheren of a pore man haten hym; 7 ferthermore and the freendis zeden awei fer^z fro hym. He that sueth^a wordis oonliḡ, schal haue no thing; but he that 8 holdith stabli the mynde||, loueth his soule, and the kepere of prudence schal fynde goodis. A fals witness schal not 9 be vnpunyschid; and he that spekith leesyngis, schal perische. Delices bicomene 10 not a fool; nether ^{it} bicometh^b a seruaunt to be lord of princis. The teching of a 11 man is knowun bi pacience¶; and his glorie is to passe ouere wickid thingis.
As the gnasting of a lioun, so and the ire 12 of the^c king; and as deewe on eerbe, so and the gladnesse of the kyng. The so- 13 rewe of the fadir is a fonnede sone; and roofes droppynge contynueli is a womman ful of chiding. Housis and richessis ben 14 3ouun of fadir and modir; but a prudent wif is 3ouun propirli of the Lord. Slouth 15 bringith^d in sleep; and a negligent soule shal haue hungur. He that kepith the 16 comaundement of God, kepith his soule; but he that chargith not his weie, schal be slayn. He that hath mercy on a pore 17

* that is, doith heedli hise
werkis. x.
† azens God;
that is, bi vn-pacience he brekith out in to the blasfemye
of God. Lire
here. ck.
‡ not ascape;
Goddis doom,
in whiche he must zelde re-
soun of ech idil word, and myche more of a leesing. c.
§ wordis oneli; that is,
a dissiple that loueth more
the fairnesse of wordis than the good sentence,
reportith no thing of truthe
of the techere,
ethir so litil,
that it is worthi
to be rekenyd
as for nouzt;
ethir thus, a techere that hath onely wordis and no
goode dedis,
shal gete no
mede of God.
goodis; of grace
in present tyme,
and of glorie in tyme to com-
ynge. Lire
here. c.
|| mynde bi
Goddis vertue.
Lire here. kva.
¶ knowun bi pacience; that is, the teching
of apostlis and of othere techeris, in the bigynnyng of
the chirche, was knowun bi this,
that they dred-
den not to die for it. to passe ouer wickid thingis; that is, to do not wickid thingis,
but more to
suffre peyne.
Lire here. c.
 hungur; in suffringe de-
faute of goostly goodis, and ofte of bodily goodis.
his weye; that is, the keepinge of Goddis
heestis.
shal be slayn;
bi deth of synne
and of helle.
Lire here. c.

x worschipe n. y Om. n.

x ther is i. y thei ben i. z Om. c. a sowith a. b Om. i. c a i. d sendith CEFHNPVY.

18 Lerne thou thi sone, ne despeire thou; to the slazter forsothe of hym ne poote 19 thou thi soule. Who forsothe is vn-pacyent, shal suffre harm; and whan he shall cacche, other thing he shal putte 20 to. Here thou counseil, and vnderdiscipline; that thou be wijs in thi laste 21 thingis. Manye tho3tis in the herte of a man; the wil forsothe of the Lord shal 22 abide stille. A man nedi is merciful; and betere the pore man ri3twis, than a 23 man liere. The drede of the Lord to lif; and in plenteuousnesse^z it shal abide stille, withoute visiting of the werste.
24 The slowe hideth his^{zz} hond vnder the arm pit; ne to his mouth he leith it.
25 The 'man ful of pestilence^a scourgid, a fool the wisere shal ben. If forsothe thou chastise the wise man, he shal vnder-26 stonde discipline. Who tormentith the fader, and fleeth the modir, shenful shal 27 be, and vnblisful. Cese thou not, sone, to here doctrine; ne vnknowe thou the 28 wordis of kunnyng. The wicke wyt-nesse scorneth dom; and the mouth of vnпиты men deuoureth wickidnesse.
29 Greithid ben to scorneres domes; and smytende hameres to the bodies of foolis.

CAP. XX.

1 A leccherous thing win, and noiseful drunkenesse; who so euere in these 2 thingis delitith, shal not be wis. As the roring of a leoun, so and^b the ferd of the king; who terreth hym, synneth a3en 3 his soule. Wrshi3pe is to the man that seuereth hym fro striues; alle^c forsothe foolis shul be mengd with wrong blam-4 yngis. For cold the slowe wolde not eren; thanne he shal begge in somer, 5 and it shal not ben 3iue to hym. As dep watir, so counseil in the herte of a man, leeneth to the Lord; and he schal 3elde his while to hym. Teche thi sone^{*}, 18 and despeire thou not[†]; but sette thou not[†] thi soule to the sleynge of hym. For- 19 sothe he that is vnpatient, schal suffre harm; and whanne he hath rauyschid, he schal leie to anothir thing. Here thou 20 counsel, and take thou doctryn; that thou be wijs in thi laste thingis. Many thou3tis 21 ben^e in the herte of a man; but the wille of the Lord schal dwelle. A nedi man is 22 merciful; and betere is a pore iust man, than a^f man liere3. The^s drede of the 23 Lord ledith to lijf^h 'of blis^l'; and he 'that dredith God^k schal dwelle in plentee, with outen visityng^l 'of the worste^m. A slow 24 man hidith his hond vnder the^a armpit; and putteth^o it not to his mouth. Whanne 25 a man ful of pestilence is betun, a fool shal be^p wisere. If thou blamist a wijs man, he schal vnderstonde techyng. He 26 that turmentith the^q fadir, and fleeth fro the^q modir, schal be ful of yuel fame, and shal be cursid. Sone, ceesse thou not to 27 here techyng; and knowe thou the wordis of kunnyng. A wickid witnesse scorneth 28 doom; and the mouth of vnпиты men deuourith^{||} wickidnesse. Domes ben maad 29 redi to scorneris; and hameris smytynge ben maad redi to the bodies of foolis[¶].

CAP. XX.

Wiyn is a letcherouse thing^{}, and 1 drunkenesse is ful of noise; who euere delitith in these, schal not be wijs. As 2 the roryng of a lioun, so and the drede of the^r kyng; he that territh hym to ire, synneth a3ens his owne lijf^s. It is onour 3 to a man that departith hym silf fro stryuyngis; but fonned men ben medlid with dispisyngis. A slow man nolde^t ere 4 for coold; therfor he schal begge in somer, and me schal not 3yue to hym.
As deep watir, so counseil is in the herte 5

* the drede of the Lord and his lawe. x.
† despeire thou not; of his lernyng, thou3 he takith litil ether nou3t in the bigynnyng, for ofte sicke children ben wel larned in the ende. c.
‡ thou3 he lerne not at the bigynnyng; but contynue in techinge, and he shal lerne. x marg.
‡ in withdrawyng of teching.
x.
§ a man liere; that is, than a my3ti man that bowith away fro ri3tfulnesse, bi leeingis.
plente; of blis, of the worste; deuel, which in no maner may ne3e thidur. wisere; that is, lesse fool, for [it] schal amende him in sum thing. Lire here. c.
|| deuourith; that is, swolowith greedily.
Lire here. c.
¶ foolis; that is, brekeris of Goddis lawe.
Lire here. c.

 uyn is lecherouse thing; that is, makith lecherie; wherfor Jerom seith, a wombe brennyng of wyn, spueth out soone in to lecherie. Wherfor Loth, bi the drynk- ing of wyn, dide lecherie with hise dou- tris, in xix. c^e. of Gen. delitith in these; that is, drunkenesse and lecherie. wijs; for euer eithir deuour- ith resoun, and causith dul- nesse. c.

^z the plenteuousnesse AGH. ^{zz} the c pr. m. ^a bacbitere E pr. m. man of pestilence c. ^b Om. A. c men E pr. m.

^e ther ben I. ^f a riche I. ^g Om. I. ^h the lijf a. ⁱ Om. I. of blis. Lire here. x text. ^k Om. I.
^l ful yuel visityng I. ^m Om. I. ⁿ his I. ^o dressith I. ^p be the I. ^q his I. ^r a I. ^s soule I. ^t wolde not I.

man; but a wis man shal drawe it out.
 6 Many men merciful ben clepid; a feith-7 ful man forsothe who shal finde? The riȝtwis forsothe that goth in his simple-nesse, blisful sones aftir hym shal leuen.
 8 The king that sit^d in the see of dom, scattereth alle euelis^e in his clere loking.
 9 Who mai sey, Clene is myn herte; pure 10 withoute synne? Peis and peis, mesure and mesure, either is abhominable^f anent 11 God. Of his^g studies is the child vnderstonde, if riȝt ben and clene the workis 12 of hym. The herende ere, and the seende 13 eȝe, the Lord made euer either. Wile thou not looue slep, lest thee nedynesse^h opresse; opene thin eȝen, and be thou 14 fulfild with loues. Euel it is, euel it is, seith eche biere; and whan he goth awei, 15 thanne he shal glorien. Gold, and the multitude of iemmes, and precious ves-16 sel, the lippis of kunnyng. Tac the cloth of hym, that borȝ was of theⁱ alien; and for straungeres tac awei the wed fro hym.
 17 Swete is to a man the bred of lesing; and aftir shal be fulfild the mouth of 18 hym with a litil pibbil ston. Thoȝtis bi counseilis ben strengthid; and bi go-19 uernailis bataillis ben to be tretid. To hym that openeth priuetees, and goth gilendeli, and spreadeth abrod his lippis, 20 ne be thou togidere mengd. Who cursith to his fader and moder, shal be quenchid 21 his liȝt in myddyl derknesses. Eritage to the whiche is heeȝid in the begynnyng, 22 in the laste shal lacke blissing. Ne sey thou, I shal ȝelde euel for euel; abide the 23 Lord, and he shal deliuere thee. Abominacioun is anent God weiȝte and weiȝte; 24 a treeccherous balaunce is not good. Of the Lord ben riȝt reulid the goingis of a man; who forsothe of men mai vnder-25 stonde his wei? Falling is of men ofte to 'vouwe to^k seintis, and aftir the rouwis 26 aȝeen drawe. Scattereth vnpiȝous men a wis king; and he bowith in vpon hem of a man; but a wiȝs man* schal drawe it out. Many men ben clepid merciful; 6 but who schal fynde a feithful man? 7 Forsothe a iust man that goth in his 8 simplenesse, schal leue blessid sones aftir hym. A king that sittith in the seete of 8 doom, distrieth al yuel bi his lokyng. Who 9 may seie, Myn herte is clene; Y am clene of synne? A weiȝte† and a weiȝte, a me- 10 sure and a mesure, euer eithir is abhomy-nable at God. A child is vndurstonde bi 11 hise studies, yf his werkis ben riȝtful and cleene. An eere heringe, and an iȝe se- 12 ynge, God made euer eithir. Nyle thou 13 loue sleep, lest nedynesse oppresse thee; opene thin iȝen, and be thou fillid with looues. Ech biere seith, It is yuel, it is 14 yuel; and whanne he hath go away, thanne he schal haue glorie. Gold, and 15 the multitude of iemmes, and a preciose vessel, ben the lippis of kunnyng. Take 16 thou awei the cloth of hym, that was borewe of an othere man; and for straun-geris take thou awei a wed fro hym. The 17 breed of a leeing‡ is sweet to a man; and aftirward his mouth schal be fillid with rikenyng. Thouȝtis ben maad strong 18 bi counselis; and bateils schulen be tretid bi gouernails. Be thou not medlid with 19 him that schewith pryutees§, and goth gylefulli, and alargith hise lippis. The 20 liȝt of hym that cursith his fadir and modir, schal be quenchid in the myddis of derknessis. Eritage to which me haastith 21 in the bigynnyng, schal wante blessing in the laste tyme. Seie thou not, Y schal 22 ȝelde yuel for yuel; abide thou the Lord, and he schal delyuere thee. Abhomyna- 23 cioun at^u God is weiȝte and weiȝte; a gile-ful balaunce is not good. The steppis of 24 man^v ben dressid of the Lord; who for-sothe of men mai vndurstonde his weie?

 Falling of man is to make auow to seyntis, 25 and aftirward to withdrawe the^w vowis.
 A wiȝs kyng scatterith wickid men; and 26

* a wise man; that is, a diligent disciple.
schal drawe it out; in axinge of him diligently and warily. Live
here. c.

† a weiȝte; grettere in biynge, and a weiȝte lesse in sillig; and so
 of a mesure.
abhominable;
 for it is thefte, colourid by the colour of riȝtfulnesse; wher-
 for Jerom seith feyned hooly-nesse ether equyte, is double wickid-
 nesse. sleep; vnmeasurable
 bi slouthe.

opene thyn
iȝen; that is,
 be thou wakir,
 and diligent in thi werkis. c.
 ‡ the breed of leeing; that is, getun bi a leeing. to a man; liere.

with rikenyng;
 bi bittirnesse of penaunce, for he seith that he diide yuel.
 bi gouernayls;
 that is, prudence, councel, and experiens, and not oneli bi bodily
 strengthe;

therfor at Ro-mayns, that maden al the world soiet to hem til bi batels, a knyȝt,
 were he neuere
 so strong, if he hadde not wisdom, he was seid a knyȝt
 with outen iȝen. Live
here. c.

§ schewith pryuetees;
 that is, coun-cels bitakun to his feithful-
 nesse. gylefully;
 schewing fren-
 schipe, whanne
 he is an enemy
 priueli. alargith hise lippis; that is, bihetith grete thingis, and
 fillith lile ethir

^d sitteth AECH. ^e euel AECH. taken awei deuocioun fro E pr. m.

^f abominacioun c. ^g the A. ^h the nedynes A. ⁱ Om. A. ^k to ^u anentis I. ^v a man I. ^w tho c.

27 a stonene bowe. The lanterne of the Lord the brething place of a man, that enserchith alle the priuetees of the wombe. 28 Mercy and treuthe kepen the king; and his trone is strenghtid with noble mercy. 29 The ful out iozing of yunge men the strengthe of hem; and the dignete of 30 olde men hornesse. The wannesse of wounde schal clense awei euelis, and woundis in the^l priuyere^m partys of the wombe.

CAP. XXI.

1 As deuseouns of watris, so the herte of the king in the hond of the Lord; whider euer he wile, he schal bowe it. 2 Eche weie of a man riȝt to hym semeth; 3 the Lord forsothe peiseth the hertis. To do mercy and dom, more pleseth to the 4 Lord, than sacrifices of victorie. The enhauncing of eȝen is the larging of the herte; the lanterne of vnпитыous men 5 synne. The thoȝtis of the strong man euermor in plente; eche forsothe slouȝⁿ 6 euermor is in nedynesse. Who gedereth tresores with the tunge of lesing, vein and herteles is; and he schal be put in^o 7 to the grenes of deth. Raueynes of vnпитыous men shul drawe them down; for 8 thei wolden not do dom. The peruertid weie of a man alien is fro God; who forsothe is clene, riȝt is the werc of hym. 9 Betere is^p to sitte in the corner of the hous, than with the womman ful of strif, 10 and in the hous of feste. The soule of the vnпитыouse^q desireth euel; he schal not 11 han merci to his neȝhebore. Punshid the bacbitere, the wisere schal be the litte child; and if he folewe the wise man, he 12 schal take kunnyng. The riȝtwis bethenkithe of the hous of the vnпитыous, that he 13 drawe awei vnпитыous men fro euel. Who stoppeth his ere at the cri of the pore, and he schal crie, and schal not ben herd. 14 Ȝifte hyd quencheth wrathis; and fre ȝifte bowith a bouwe of victorie^{x*} ouer hem. The lanterne[†] of the Lord is the spirit of 27 man, that sekith out alle the priuetees of the wombe. Merci and treuthe[‡] kepen a 28 kyng; and his trone is maad strong bi mekenesse. The ful out ioiung of yonge 29 men is the strengthe of hem; and the dignyte of elde men is hoornesse[§]. The 30 wannesse of wounde schal wipe awei yuels, and woundis in the priuyere thingis of the wombe.

CAP. XXI.

As departyngis of watris, so the herte¹ of the kyng is in the power of the Lord; whidur euer he wole, he schal bowe it. Ech weye of a man semeth riȝtful to² hym silf; but the Lord peisith the hertis. To do merci and doom^{||}, plesith more the³ Lord, than sacrifices doen^y. Enhaunsyng⁴ of iȝen is alargyng of the herte; the lanterne of wickid men is synne. The thoȝtis⁵ of a stronge man ben euer in abundaunce; but ech slow man is euer in nedynesse. He that gaderith tresours bi the tunge of a leesyng^{z¶}, is veyne, and with outen herte; and he schal be hurtlid^{zz} to the snaris of deth. The raueyns of vnпитыouse men⁷ schulen drawe hem down; for thei nolden^a do doom. The weiward weie of a man⁸ is alien fro God; but the werk of hym that is cleene^b, is riȝtful. It is betere to⁹ sitte in the corner of an hous with oute roof, than with a womman ful of chydyng, and in a comyn hous. The soule of an¹⁰ vnпитыouse man desirith yuel; he schal not haue merci on his neȝbore. Whanne a¹¹ man ful of pestilence is punyschid, a litil man of wit schal be the wisere; and if he sueth a wiȝs man, he schal take kunnyng. A iust man of the hous of a wickid man¹² thenkith, to withdrawe wickid men fro yuel. He that stoppith his eere at the¹³ cry of a pore man, schal crye also, and^c schal not be herd. A ȝift hid quenchith¹⁴

nouȝt. hastith; bi coueitise to gete it vnduly. wante blessing; for the grettere schal auffre peyne aftir deth, and comynly his eir schal not reioysche it at the ende. Live here. c.

* that is, a stoon bouwe. x. † The lanterne; for kindly list of resoun is sum preenting of Goddis list. of the wombe; that is, herte. Live here. c.

‡ Mercy and treuthe; for merci without riȝtfulnesse, is cowardise, and riȝtfulnesse with out merci, is crueltie, for tho distrien a king and rewme. Live here. c.

§ hoornesse; that is, the eldneesse and sadnesse of wittis, with hoornesse of the heed. The wannesse of wounde; causith distriyng of rychesse in yuele werkis. Live here. c.

|| mercy and doom; that is, the werkis of merci doon to ned men, and the werkis of riȝtfulnesse doon to men oppressid, please more God than doen sacrifices; for Crist in his membris hath nede to these werkis, as he seith in xxv. c^o. of Math.

is synne; that is, thei kunnen dresse her vnderstanding to synne, and not to good, as Jeremye seith in iiii. c^o. strong man; that is, bi strengthe of soule and of bodi. Live here. c.

¶ tunge of

¹ Om. A G H. ^m priuye H. ⁿ slowe man A. ^o inwardly saidid E pr. m. ^p it is A E G H. ^q vnпитыous man A.

^x a victorie a. ^y Om. I. ^z leesyng makere I. ^{zz} hurlid I. ^a wolden not I. ^b cleene of synne c sec. m. ^c and he I.

15 in the bosum most indignacioun. Ioye to the rijtwis is to don dom; and ferd to 16 men werkende wickidnesse. The man that erreth fro the weie of doctrine, in 17 the felashipe of ieauntis shal wone. Who^r looeth deynte metis, in nedynesse shall be; who looueth win and fatte thingus, 18 shall not be maad riche. For the rijtwise shal ben zoue the vnпитыouse; and for the 19 rijt man the wicke. Betere is to dwelle in desert lond, than with a ianglende 20 womman, and wratheful. Desyrable tresor and oile in the dwelling place of the rijtwis; and the vnprudēt man shal 21 scatteren it. Who folewith rijtwisnesse and mercy, shal finde lif and rijtwisnesse 22 and glorie. The cite of stronge men the wise man stezede vp, and destroȝide the 23 strengthe of the trost of it. Who kepeth his mouth and his tunge, kepeth his soule 24 fro anguysshis. The proud man and the^{rr} enhaunsende hymself is clepid vntaȝt, the 25 whiche in wrathe wercheth pride. Desires slen the slowe; wolden not forsothe the hondis of hym any thing werchen^s.
26 Al dai he coueitith and desireth; who forsothe is rijtwis, shal zelde, and not 27 cese. The ostis of vnпитыous men abomi-28 nable, that ben offrid of hidous gilte. A witnessē liere shal pershe; the obeisaunt 29 man shall speke victorie. The vnпитыous man wowendeli stablith his chere; who 30 forsothe is rijt, mendeth his weie. Ther is not wisdom, ther is not prudence, 31 ther is not counseil aȝen the Lord. An hors is maad redi to the dai of bataile; the Lord forsothe helthe shal zeelden.

CAP. XXII.

1 Betere is a good name, than manye richessis; ouer siluer forsothe and gold 2 good grace. The riche man and the pore metten togidere; the werkere of euer 3 either is the Lord. The felle man seeth euel, and hideth hymself; and the innochidyngis; and a ȝift in bosum quenichith the^d moost indignacioun. It is ioye to a 15 iust man to make doom^{e*}; and it is drede to hem that worchen wickidnesse. A man 16 that errith fro the weie of doctryn, schal dwelle in the cumpany of giauntis[†]. He 17 that loueth metis[‡], schal be in nedynesse; he that loueth wiyn and fatte thingis, schal not be maad riche. An vnпитыouse 18 man schal be zouun for^f a iust man[§]; and a wickid man schal be zouun for a rijtful man. It is betere to dwelle in a desert 19 lond, than with a womman ful of chidyng, and wrathful. Desirable^g tresoure and oile 20 is in the dwelling places^h of a iust man;

and an vnprudēt man schal distrie it.
He that sueth rijtfulnesse and mercy, schal 21 fynde lijf and glorie. A wijs man stiede 22 in toⁱ the citee of stronge men, and distriede the strengthe of trist therof. He 23 that kepith his mouth and his tunge, kepith his soule from angwischis. A 24 proude man and boosteere is clepid a fool, that worchith pride in ire. Desiris sleen 25 a slow man; for hise hondis nolden^k worche ony thing. Al dai he coueitith and de- 26 sirith; but he that is a iust man, schal ȝyue, and^l schal not cesse. The offringis 27 of wickid men, that ben offrid of greet trespas^{||}, ben abhomynable. A fals wit- 28 nesse schal perische; a man obedient schal speke victorie[¶]. A wickid man makith 29 sad his cheer vnschamefastli; but he that is rijtful, amendith his weie. No wis- 30 dom is^m, no prudence is^m, no counsel is^m aȝens the Lord. An hors is maad redi to 31 the dai of batel; but the Lord schal ȝyue helthe.

CAP. XXII.

Betere is a good name, than many 1 richessis; for good grace is aboue siluer and gold. A riche man^{} and a pore man 2 metten hem silf; the Lord is worchere of euer eithir. A felle man seeth yuel, and 3 hidith him silf; and an innocent man leessing; as flatereris of riche men and false avocatis doen.

weyn; that is,
voide of vertu.
and with outen herte; for he suffrith defeaute
of good herte.
to the snaris
of deth; of synne, and of
helle. hemdoun;
to helle. nolden
do doom; that is,
lyue iustli with
the neibore.

Live here. c.
^{*} to make
doom; that is,
to parfume rijtfulnesse.
drede; for thei dreden euere to be takun ther-
ynne, therfor
ben dredeful comynly.

of doctryn; that is, good doctryn.
Live here. c.
[†] giauntis; that is, of men yuele rudid, ether of fendis. c.

[‡] metis; that is,
vnmesurably.

Live here. c.

[§] for a iust
man; that is,
for the yuel of peyne doon
to a iust man, an vnпитыouse
man, that dide
that yuel, schal
be zouun to grettere payne.

Live here. c.
^{||} of greet tres-
pas; that is,
of raueyn, ether
of thefte. Live
here. c.

[¶] victorie; for he makith the lowere myȝtis
soiet to resoun,
and this is the
mooste victorie.
amendith his weie; that is,
of litle defaultis
whiche he doith
in this lijf, thouȝ
he be ful iust.

Live here. c.

^{} A riche man, etc.; God mak-
ith a pore man,
that he haue
merit of pa-cience, and he makith a riche
man, that he haue merit of mercy, in help-
inge a pore man.
Live here. c.

^r Who so A. ^{rr} Om. c pr. m. ^s Om. A.

^d Om. i. ^e iust doom i. ^f to i. ^g Desiderable ca. ^h place A sec. m. i. ⁱ vnto i. ^k wolden not i.
^l and he i. ^m ther is i.

cent passede, and is tormentid with harm.
 4 The ende of manernesse the dred of the 5 Lord; richessis, and glorie, and lif. Armes and swerdis in the weie of the proud;
 the kepere forsothe of his soule ferr goth 6 awei fro hem. A prouerbe is, A 3ung ful waxen man aftyr his weie, and whan he 7 eldeth, shal not gon awei fro it. The riche man to pore men comaundeth; and he that taketh borewing, seruauent is of 8 the vsurer. Who sowith wickidnesse^t, shal repen euelis; and the 3erde of his wrathe 9 shal be ful endid. Who redi is to mercy, shal be blissid; of his loues forsothe he 3af to the pore. Victorie and worship shal purchase, that 3eueth 3iftis; for-sothe he taketh awei the soule of the 10 resceyueres. Cast away the scornere, and with hym shal gon out strif; and causis 11 shul cese, and wrong blamyngis. Who looueth clenness of herte, for the grace of his lippis shal han the king frend.
 12 The e3en of the Lord kepe kunnyng; and supplauntyd ben the woordis of the 13 wicke. The slowe shal seyen, A leoun is withoute; in the myddel of the stretes 14 I am to be slain. A dep dich the mouth of the alien womman; to whom the Lord 15 is wroth, shal falle in to hir. Folie is bounde togidere in the herte of the child; and the 3erde off discipline shal driuen 16 awei it. Who wrong chalengeth the pore, that he eeche his richessis, he shal 3yue 17 to a richere, and neden. My sone, bowe in thin ere, and here the woordis of wise men; lei to forsothe herte to my doctrine.
 18 The whiche fair shal be to thee, whan thou kepist it in thi wombe, and shal 19 rebounde in thi lippis. That in the Lord be thyn trost; wherfore and I shal shewe 20 to thee it to dai. Lo! I haue discriued it thre wise, in tho3tus and kunnyng, 21 that I shulde shewe to thee stedefast-nesse; and faire spechis of treuthe thou shuldest answeere of these thingis to them passidⁿ, and he was turmentid bi^v harm.

 The ende of temperaunce is the drede of the Lord; richessis, and glorye, and lijf *.
 Armuris and swerdis ben in the weie of a weiward man; but the kepere of his soule goith away fer fro tho. It is a prouerbe, 6 A 3ong wexynge man bisidis^p his weie, and whanne he hath wexe^q elde, he schal not go awei fro it. A riche man co-7 maundith to pore men; and he that takith borewyng, is ther seruauent of the leenere. He that sowith wickidnes^t, 8 schal repe yuels; and the 3erde of his yre schal be endid. He that is redi^s to merci, 9 schal be blessid; for of his looues he 3af to a pore man. He that 3yueth 3iftis[†], schal gete victorie and onour; forsothe he takith awei the soule of the takeris. Caste 10 thou out a scornere, and strif schal go out with hym; and causis and dispisyngis schulen ceesse. He that loueth the clen-11 nesse of herte, schal haue the kyng a frend, for^t the^u grace of hise lippis. The 12 3zen of the Lord kepen kunnyng[§]; and the wordis of a wickid man ben disseyued.
 A slow man schal seie, A lioun is without-13 forth; Y schal be slayn in the myddis of the stretis. The mouth of an alien^{||} wom-14 man is a^v deep dicke; he to whom the Lord is wrooth, schal falle in to it. Foli¹⁵ is boundun togidere in the herte of a child; and a 3erde of chastisyng schal dryue it away. He that falsli chalengith¹⁶ a pore man, to encrease hise owne richessis, schal 3yue to a richere man, and^w schal be nedi. My sone, bowe down thin¹⁷ eere, and here thou the wordis of wise men; but sette thou the^x herte to my techyng. That schal be fair to thee, whanne thou hast kept it in thin herte, and it schal flowe a3en in thi lippis. That¹⁹ thi trist be in the Lord; wherfor and Y haue schewid it to thee to dai. Lo! Y haue²⁰ discryued it in thre maneres[¶], in thou3tis and kunnyng, that Y schulde schewe to²¹

* richessis, glorie, and lijf; that is, euerlastinge richessis, glorie of seyntia, and euerlastinge lijf.

Armuris and swerdis; that is, the mys-vayng of tho. fro tho; that is, fro mys-vayng of tho.

a prouerbe; that is, a word seid comynly. Lire here. c.

† sowith wickidnesse; that is, yuel teching, dissencion, and hatrede.

yuels; of synne and of peyne. 3erde of his ire; that is, the power bi which he hide yuels. Lire here. c.

‡ He that 3yueth 3iftis; this vers, til thidur, Caste thou out, etc., is not in Ebreu.

§ kepen kunnyng; that is, a man hauyng very kunnyng, which is of the helthe of soule. Lire here. c.

|| The mouth of an alien; that is, of fals doctryn, for it ledith to the depthe of helle. wrooth; for bi ire a3enus a man, he with drawith fro him his grace, and so he fallith fro synne in to synne, and ofte in to fals doctryn and eresie.

¶ in thre maneres; that is, in thre partis of the Elde Testament, that ben the lawe, hooly stories, and profetis; and herbi Salamon spekith in the persone of God, ether he spekith this in ⁿ passid, bi a perelous place. Lire here. N text. ^o with I. P aftir A sec. m. marg. I text. ^q woken I.

^t wickenesse E.

^r Om. I. ^s enclinaunt, ether redi CEGHKMNPRQSUXYA. enclynaunt, or bowith I. ^t fro a. ^u Om. c.
^v the c. ^w and he I. ^x Om. A sec. m.

22 that senten thee. Do thou not violence to the pore, for he is pore; ne to-trede 23 thou the nedy in the zate. For the Lord shal deme the cause of hym, and he shal stike them, that stekeden the lif of hym.
24 Wile thou not be frend to a man ful of wrathe, ne go thou with a wood man; 25 lest paraenture thou lerne the pathis of hym, and take sclaunder to thi soule.
26 Wile thou not be with them that ficche doun ther hondis, and that borewis offren 27 hemself for dettis; if forsothe thou hast wherof thou restore, what of cause is, that^a thou take coueryng fro^v thi bed?
28 Ne ouerpasse thou olde termes, the 29 whiche thi fadris setteden. Hast thou seen a swift man in his werc? befor kingis he shal stonde, ne he shal ben beforn vnnoble men.

CAP. XXIII.

1 Whan thou shal sitte, that thou ete with a prince, besili tac heede that ben 2 set befor thi face, and set a culter in thi throthe. If ^{ner} the latere^{vv} thou haue 3 power in to thi soule, ne desire thou of the metis of hym, in the whiche is the 4 bred of lesing. Wile thou not trauailen that thou be riche, but to thi prudence 5 put maner. Ne rere thou thin eȝen to richessis, that thou maist not han; for thei make to them federis, as of an egle, 6 and thei shul flee in to heuene. Ne ete thou with an enuyous man, and ne de-7 sire thou the metis^w of hym; for in lic-nesse of a deuyngour and of a fals castere, he eymeth that he knowith not. Et and drink, he shal sei to thee; and the mynde 8 of hym is not with thee. The metes that thou hast eten, thou shalt spewen out; 9 and thou shalt leesen thi faire wrdis. In the eres of vnwise men speke thou not;
for thei shul dispisen the doctrine of thi 10 speche. Ne ateyne thou the termes of thee the sadnesse and spechis of trewth; to answere of these thingis to hem, that senten thee. Do thou not violence to a 22 pore man, for he is pore; nethir defoule thou a nedi man in the zate. For the Lord 23 shal deme his cause, and he schal turmente hem, that turmentiden his soule.

Nyle thou be frend to a wrathful man, 24 nether go thou with a wood man; lest 25 peraenture thou lerne hise weies, and take sclaunder to thi soule. Nyle thou be 26 with hem that oblischen^y her hondis, and that proferen hem silf^z borewis for dettis; for if he hath not wherof he schal restore, 27 what of cause is^a, that thou take awei hilyng^b fro^c thi bed? Go thou not ouer 28 the elde markis^d, whiche thi faders han set. Thou hast seyn a man smert in his 29 werk; he schal stonde bifore kyngis, and he schal not be bifor vnnoble men.

CAP. XXIII.

Whanne thou sittist, to ete with the prince, perseyue thou diligentli what thingis ben set bifore thi face, and sette 2 thou a withholding^e in thi throthe. If netheles thou hast power on thi soule, desire 3 thou not of his metis, in whom is the breed of 'a leeing^f*. Nyle thou trauele 4 to be maad riche, but sette thou mesure to thi prudence. Reise^g not thin iȝen to 5 richessis, whiche thou maist not haue;
for tho schulen make to hem silf pennes, as of an egle, and tho^h schulen flee in to heuene. Ete thou not with an enuyouse 6 man, and desire thou not hise metis; for 7 at the licnesse of a fals dyuynour and of a coniectere[†], he gessith that, that he knowith not. He schal sei to thee, Ete thou and drinke; and his soule is not with thee[‡]. Thou schalt brakeⁱ out the 8 metis^k, whiche thou hast ete; and thou schalt leese thi faire wordis. Speke thou 9 not in the eeris of vnwise men; for thei schulen dispise the teching of thi speche.

his owne persoone of his thre bokis, Prouerbis, Ec-clesiastes, and Songis, that techen what is trewe and fals,
what is good and yuel, and what is leueful
and vnleueful.
that senten thee; in Ebreu
it is, to men
axinge thee,
and thus the sentence is pleyn. c.

* breed of a leeing; that is, getun bi a leeing.
riche; ouer
dwe mesure.
mesure; of iust
resoun.
to thi pru-
dence; that is,
sutilte ether felnesse in geting. Live
here. c.

† coniectere;
that is, expownere of dremes. Live here. CN.

‡ with thee;
that is, he
sekith not thi profiyt. Live
here. c.

^u if A. ^v for A. ^{vv} neuerthelater A et alii. ^w meet AGH.

^y fastnen, ether oblischen CEFHGKMNPQRSUXYA. fastnen, or bynden I. ^z silf to be I. ^a ther is I. ^b the hilyng I. ^c of I. ^d termes, ether markis CEFHGKMNPQRSUXYA. ^e culter, or a withholding I. ^f liyng I.
^g Reise thou I. ^h thei I. ⁱ spue CEFHGKMNPQRSUXYA. caste F pr. m. I. ^k mete P.

litle^x childer; and the feeld of moderles 11 childer go^y thou not in. The neezh for-sothe of them is strong, and he shal 12 demen azen thee the causes of hem. Go in to doctrine thin herte, and thin eris 13 to the wrdis of kunnyng. Wile thou not withdrawe fro a child discipline; if for-sothe thou smyte^z hym with 3erde^a, he 14 shal not die. Thou with a 3erde shalt smite hym, and the soule of hym fro 15 helle thou shalt deliueren. My sone, if wijs were thin inwit, myn^b herte shal 16 iozen with thee; and ful out shuln iozen my^c reenes, whan thi lippis shul speke 17 ri3t. Ne enuye^d thin herte synneres; but in the drede of the Lord be thou al 18 dai. For thou shalt han hope in the laste, and thin abiding shal not ben taken 19 awei. Heere, my sone, and be thou wijs; and ri3t reule in the weie thin inwit.
 20 Wile thou not ben in the festis of drinkeris, ne in the meteshipsis of hem, that 21 flesh to eten bringen. For thei tendende to drinkis, and 3iuende scot, shul ben wastid, and napping shal be clad^e with 22 clothis. Heere thou thi fader, that gat thee; and ne dispise thou, 'whan shal 23 eelden thi moder^f. Bie treuthe, and wile thou not selle wisdom, and doctrine, and 24 vnderstanding. Ful out io3eth with io3e the fader of the ri3twise; that a wis man 25 gat, shal gladen in hym. Io3e thi fader and thi moder, and^g ful out io3e, that gat 26 thee. 3if, sone myn, thin herte to me, 27 and thin e3en my weies kepe thei. A dep dich forsothe is^h a strumpet, and a streit 28 pit an alien womman. She waiteth in the weie, as a thef; and whom vnslei3 29 she seeth, she shal slen. To whom wo? to whos fader wo? to whom strif? to whom dichis? to whom withoute cause woundis? to whom 'thrusting out^g of Touche thou not the termes of litle children; and entre thou not in to the feeld of fadirles and modirles children. For the neizbore of hem is strong, and he schal deme her cause a3ens thee. Thin herte entre to techyng, and thin eeris 'be redi' to the wordis of kunnyng. Nile thou withdrawe chastisyng fro a child; for thou3 thou smyte^m hym with a 3erde, he schal not die. Thou schalt smyte hym with a 3erde, and thou schalt delyuere his soule fro helle. Mi sone, if thi soule is wijs, myn herte schal haue ioeye with thee; and my reynes^{*} schulen make ful out ioeye, whanne thi lippis speken ri3tful thing. Thin herte sue not synneris; but be thou in theⁿ drede of the Lord al dai.

 For^o thou schalt haue hope at the laste, and thin abidyng schal not be don awei.
 Mi sone, here thou, and be thou^p wijs, and dresse thi soule in the weie. Nyle thou be in the feestis of drinkeris, nether in the ofte etyngis of hem, that bryngen togidere fleischis to ete. For men 3yuyng tent to drinkis, and 3yuyng mussels togidere, schulen be waastid[†], and napping schal be clothid with clothis. Here thi fadir, that gendride^q thee; and dispise not thi modir, whanne sche is eld. Bie thou treuthe, and nyle thou sille wisdom, and^r doctryn, and^r vnderstanding. The fadir of a iust man ioieth ful out with ioie; he that gendride^s a wijs man, schal be glad in hym. Thi fadir and thi modir haue ioeye, and he that gendride^s thee, make ful out ioeye. My sone, 3yue thin herte[†] to me, and thin i3en kepe my weyes. For an hoore is a deep dicke, and an alien womman is a streit pit. Sche settith asprie in the weie, as a theef; and sche schal sle hem, whiche sche schal se vnwar. To whom is wo[§]? to whos fadir is wo?

* mi reynes;
 that is, my body. Live
 here. c.
 † wastid; as to outermere goodis; that ben spendid in suche thingis,
 and as to goodis
 of kynde, that ben peirid and corrupt in suche
 thingis.
 with clothis;
 that is, with vile clothis;
 therfor in Ebreu it is, with clothis to-rent;
 as if he seye,
 no thing schal
 dwell to thee
 wheryne thou schalt slepe, no
 but vile clothis
 and to-rent.
 Bie thou treuthe;
 bi the trauel
 of studie. nyle thou sille wisdom and tech-
 ing; for it owith to be 3ounn frely,
 and for it
 passith al priys
 of money, ne-
 theles a techere of wisdom may take liyflode
 and clothing
 for his trauel, 3he, it is due to him of the comynalte, for the prestis of Egypt, that studieden in filosofie, weren susteyned of the comun goodis. Live
 here. c.
 ‡ thyn herte;
 to thenke on my teching.
 mi weyes; in suyng my werkis. an hoore; that is,
 fals doctryn.
 a streit pit;
 for of hard a man may go out therof.
 vnwar; that kunnen not deme bitwixe hoolsom doc-
 tryn and yuel doctryn. schal
 sle; bi deth
 of synne and
 of helle; in

Ebreu it is, schal adde dispiseris in men; that is, schal multiplie dispiseris of God among men. Also this letre mai be expowned of a bodili hoore, which is seid a deep dich, for many 3onge men and elde fallen in to it; also sche is seid a streit pit; for a man goith not out of the synne of lecherie, no but with hardnesse. And sche settith aspries, in drawinge vnchast men bi flatteringis and cossis. c. § is wo; that is, cursing and myshap. dichis; that is, prisouns vndur the erthe. without cause; that is, not maad bi swerd, but bi her owne falling. putting out; that is, febling and derking of the i3en. Live here. c.

^x thi litle c. ^y ne go g sec. m. ^z smytyst AEGH. ^a a 3eerde A. ^b thyn AE pr. m. H. ^c thy E pr. m.
^d or folowe c sec. m. marg. E sec. m. marg. enuye or folewe AGH. ^e clothid AEGH. ^f thi moder, whanne she shal eelde A. ^g Om. c pr. m. ^h Om. c pr. m. ⁱ stidyng E pr. m.

^l Om. I. ^m smytist CFGKMNQRUXY. ⁿ Om. I. ^o And thanne I. ^p Om. I. ^q gaat I. ^r ne I.
^s gaat I.

30 ejen? Whether not to them, that dwellen in win, and studien to chalices to ben 31 drunken vp? Ne beholde thou the win, whan it floureth, whan shal shine in the 32 verr the colour of it. It shal gon in softe, but in^b the laste it shal bite as a shadewe eddere, and as a kokatrice ve-33 nymys shal heelden abroad. Thin ejen shul beholde straunge wymen, and thin 34 herte shal speke peruertid thingus. And thou shalt ben as slepende in the myddil se, and as the steris man al forslept, the 35 steer staf lost. And thou shalt sey, Thei beeten me, but I sorewide not; thei drowen me, and I felide not; whanne shal I wake, and eft wines finden?

CAP. XXIV.

1 Ne enuyeⁱ thou euele men, ne desire 2 thou to ben with them. For raueynes sweteli thenketh the mynde of hem, and 3 giles the lippis of hem speken. Bi wis-dam shal the^k hous ben bild, and bi pru-4 dence it shul be strenghtid. In doctrine shul be fulfild^l the celeris, with alle pre-5 cious substaunce and most fair. A wis man is strong, and a tajt man is stal-6 wrthe and myyti. For with disposicioun me goth in to bataile; and helthe shal ben, 7 wher ben many counseilis. Ful hee; to the fool wisdom; in^m the zate he shal 8 not openen his mouth. Who thenketh 9 euelis to don, a fool shal ben clepid. The thenking of the fool is synne; and abho-10 minacioun of men the bacbitere. If slyden thou despeire, in the dai of anguyshⁿ 11 shal beⁿⁿ maad lital^o thi strengthe. Deliuere hem, that ben lad to deth; and that ben drawen to diyng, to deliuere ne cese and is enclyned herto bi yuel custom, so he that is customable to lecherie, thou; he wakith sumtyme, turneth agen to his spyng, for the yuel custom ether corrupcioun of fleisch hurlinge him therto. Live here. c. § prudence; that is, good gouernayl. Celeris; that is, the hertis of hereris. ful fair; for goostly richessis ben euer preciose, and ful faire, but bodily richessis han sumtyme filthe knyrt to tho. hiz to a fool; for he mai not ateyne therto. Live here. c. ¶ dispeirist; of ascaping of perel. Live here. c. ¶ to deth; vnustly. Live here. c.

^h at AH. ⁱ or folowe c sec. m. marg. E sec. m. marg. folewe A. enuy or folewe GH. ^k thin A. ^l fild A.
^m and in A. ⁿ veniaunce AH. ⁿⁿ Om. c pr. m. ^o founden E pr. m.

^t Om. i. ^u steere [steerne N], ether [the EPY] instrument of gouernail CEF GH K M N P Q R S U X Y A. steere of gouernail i. ^v and whanne i. ^w and if i. ^x with al i. ^y Om. omnes præter c. ^z yslide i. ^a and dispeirist KX.

to whom ben chidingis? to whom ben dichis? to whom ben woundis with out cause? to whom is puttyng out of ijen?
Whether not to hem, that dwellen in 30 wyn*, and studien to drynke al of cuppis?
Biholde thou not wyn, whanne it spar- 31 clith, whanne the colour therof schyneth in a ver. It entrith swetli, but at the laste 32 it schal bite as an eddre doith^t, and as a cocatrice it schal schede abroad venymys.
Thin ijen schulen se straunge wymmen[†], 33 and thi herte schal speke weiwerd thingis.
And thou schalt be as a man slepinge in 34 the myddis of the see, and as a gouernour aslepid, whanne the steere^{u†} is lost. And 35 thou schalt seie, Thei beeten me, but Y hadde not sorewe; thei drowen me, and Y feelide not; whanne schal Y wake out, and^v Y schal fynde wynes eft?

CAP. XXIV.

Sue thou not yuele men, desire thou not 1 to be with hem. For the soule of hem bi- 2 thinkith raueyns, and her lippis speken fraudis. An hous schal be bildid bi wis- 3 dom, and^w schal be maad strong bi prudence§. Celeris schulen be fillid in tech- 4 ing, al^x riches preciose and ful fair. A 5 wijs man is strong, and a lerned man is stalworth and mizti. For whi batel is bi- 6 gunnun with ordenaunce, and helthe schal be, where many counsels ben. Wisdom is 7 hiz to a fool; in the zate he schal not opene his mouth. He that thenkith to do 8 yuels, schal be clepid a fool. The thou;te 9 of a fool is synne; and a bacbitere is abhomynacioun of men. If thou that^y hast 10 slide^z, dispeirist^{a||} in the dai of angwisch, thi strengthe schal be maad lesse. Dely- 11 uere thou hem, that ben led to deth; and ceesse thou not to delyuere hem, that ben drawun to deth¶. If thou seist, Strengthis 12

* in wyn; drunkun ouere myche. as an adde, etc.; for it wastith temporal goodis, and goodis of kynde, and goodis of grace, for it indusith to vices, and most of lecherie. as a man slepinge; for the couetise of lecherie byndith the resoun and wit. of the see; that is, of this world, for it is hurlid with the watris of temptaciouns and of vices. a gouernour aslepid; the bodi is the schip, the soule is the gouernour; the soule is seid aslepid, whanne it is boundun with sleep ether with lust of lecherie. Live here. c.

† straunge wymmen; that is, hooris and auoutressis. Live here. c. ‡ the steere; is rytful doom of resoun. schall seie; whanne the sleep ether lust is passid. thei beeten me, etc.; for as a man oppressid bi sleep for ouer greet drunkenesse, perseiueh not thanne, thou; he is smytun ether drawun, so he that is holdun with greet lust of lecherie, perseiueh not thanne the yuels of synne and of peyne, in to whiche he renneth. schal Y wake, etc.; as he that is customable to drunkenesse, goith agen to drynking soone after waking,

12 thou. If thou shul seyn, Strengthis seruen not; he that is the inward beholdere of herte, vnderstondith, and the kepere of thi soule no thing begilith, and shall zelde to a man after his werkis.
13 Et, sone, hony for good; and the most 14 swete honycumb to thi throte. So and the doctrine of wisdom to thi soule; the whiche whan thou findist, thou shalt han in the laste thingus hope; and thin hope 15 shal not pershe. Ne asprie thou, and seche vnpitousnesse in the hous of the rihtwis, ne waste thou the reste of hym.
16 Seuene sithes forsothe shal falle the riht-wis, and risen; the vnpitouse forsothe 17 shal fallen in to euel. Whan thin enemy fallith, ne ioze thou; and in the falling 18 of hym ful out ioze not thin herte; lest perauenture the Lord see, and it displese to hym, and he take awei fro hym his 19 wrathe. Striue thou not with the werste men, and enuye^p thou not vnpitouse^q men.
20 For euele men han not hope of thingus to come, and the lanterne of vnpitous 21 men shal be quenched. Dreed God, sone myn, and the king; and with bachiteres 22 be thou not mengd. For sodeynli at ones shal rise the perdicioun of hem, and the falling of euer either who knew^r?
23 These thingus forsothe to wise men. To known persone in dom is not good.
24 Who seith to the vnpitous, Thou art rihtwis, puples shal cursen to hym; and 25 linages shul wlaten hym. Who vndernymyn, shul ben preisid; and vp on hem 26 shal come blessing. Lippes shal kisse, 27 that riht wrdis answerth. Greithe out forth thi werc, and bisili enhaunte thi feeld, that aftir thou bilde vp thin hous.
28 Be thou not a witnesse in idil azen thi nezhebore; and ne flatere thou any man 29 with thi lippes. Ne sey thou, As he dide to me, so I shal do to hym, and I shal 30 zelde to eche man after his werc. Bi the feld of the slowe man I passede, and bi 31 the vyne of the fool man; and lo! al suffisen not; he that is biholdere of the herte, vnderstondith, and no thing disseyueth the kepere of thi soule, and he schal zelde to a man bi^b his werkis. Mi¹³ sone, ete thou hony, for it is good; and an^c honycumb ful^d swete to thi throte.

'So and^e the techyng of wisdom is good to¹⁴ thi soule; and whanne thou hast founde^{*} it, thou schalt haue hope in the laste thingis, and thin hope schal not perische.
Aspie thou not, and seke^f not wickidnesse¹⁵ in the hous of a iust man, nether waste thou his reste. For a iust man schal falle¹⁶ seuene sithis in the dai, and schal rise azen; but wickid men schulen falle in to yuele. Whanne thin enemye fallith, haue¹⁷ thou not ioze; and thin herte haue not ful out ioiying in his fal; lest perauenture¹⁸ the Lord se, and it displese hym, and he take awei his ire fro hym. Stryue thou¹⁹ not with 'the worste^g men, nether sue thou wickid men. For whi yuele men han²⁰ not hope of thingis to comynge^h, and the lanterne of wickid men schal be quenched.
My sone, drede thou God, and the kyng; ²¹ and be thou not medlid with bachiteris.
For her perdicioun schal rise togidere²² sudenli, and who knowith the fal of euer either? Also these thingis that suen ben²³ to wise men. It is not good to knowe[†] a persoone in doom. Pupilis schulen curse²⁴ hem, that seien to a wickid man, Thou art iust; and lynagis schulen holde hem abhomynable. Thei that repreuen *iustli*²⁵ *synners*ⁱ, schulen be preisid; and blessing schal come on hem. He that answerith²⁶ rihtful wordis, schal kisse lippis. Make²⁷ redi thi werk with outforth, and worche thi feelde dilygentli, that thou bilde thin hous aftirward. Be thou not a witnesse²⁸ with out resonable cause azens thi neiz-bore; nether flatere thou any man with thi lippis. Seie thou not, As he dide to²⁹ me, so Y schal do to him, and Y schal zelde to ech man aftir his werk. I passide³⁰ bi the feeld of a slow man, and bi the

* founde; that is, in thinking, and in filling in werk.
laste thingis;
in goods of the world to comynge. wickid-
nesse; that is,
occasioun to defame him,
for he tres-
passide in sum
thing. seuene
sithis; that is,
ofte, for present liyf may not be led with out synne by comyn cours.
falle in to yuel;
without amend-
inge. ire fro him; and turne it on thee, for the yuel stiring of thi soule.
Stryue thou
not; that is,
with vncor-rigible men bi word of blam-
yng, but a iuge-
ment with stryue
with sicke men bi peynes, that thei be refreyn-
ed fro yuel, and other men be maad aferd. to wise men; that is, to iugis, and to men stond-
ing ny hem.
Live here. c.
† to knowe a persoone in
doom; that is,
to fauore him more than is rihtful, for any familiarite.
kisse lippis;
that is, schal
reforme pees, whos signe is kissing to gidere. Make redi thi werk;
that is, first purueye to thee of feeldis,
and vyneris,
and othere necessaries to
lyf. bilde thyn hous; that is,
take a wyf,
and gendre
children; ether
thus, first stu-
die thou hooly
writ, and se the glosis of trewe doctouris, and aftirward make to thee dissiplis bi hool-
sum teching.
Live here. c.

^p or folowe E sec. m. marg. folowe A. enuye or sew GH. ^q to vnpitouse E pr. m.

^b aftir i. ^c the i. ^d for it is ful i. ^e Riht so i. ^f seke thou a. ^g ful wickid i. ^h come i. ⁱ synners. Live here. n text.

netlis hadden fulfild, thornes hadden covered the vtmost^x of it, and the wal of 32 stones was destroyed. The whiche whan I hadde see, I putte in myn herte, and 33 bi exsaumple lernede discipline. Hou longe, slowe, thou slepist? hou longe fro slep thou shalt rise? A litil forsothe thou shalt slepe, a litil while thou shalt nappe, a litil thin hondis thou shalt lei 34 togidere, that thou reste; and ther shal come to thee as a corour thi nedynesse, and thi beggingnesse as a man armyd. 1 These forsothe the^y Parablis of Salamon, the whiche translateden the men of Ezechie, king of Juda.

CAP. XXV.

2 The glorie of God is to hilyn a wrd; and the glorie of kingis to enserchen a 3 sermoun. Heuene aboue, and erthe^z benethe, and the herte of kingus vnserchable. Do awei rust from siluer, and ther shal gon out a most pure vessel. 5 Do awei vnpitousnesse fro the chere of the king, and bi riztwisnesse shal ben 6 fastned the trone of hym. Ne glorious apere thou befor the king, and in place^a 7 of grete men stonde thou not. Betere is^b forsothe, that it be seid to thee, Ste3e vp hidir, than that thou be mekid be- 8 forn a prince. That thin e3en se3en, ne speke thou soone in strif; lest parauenture thou mowe not amende, whan thou 9 hast dishonestid thi frend. Thi cause trete with thi frend, and priuyte to a 10 straunger opene thou not; lest perauenture he asaile to thee, whan he shal heren, and to repreuen cese not. Grace and frendshipe delyueren, the whiche kepe thou to thee, lest thou be maad 11 repreuable. A goldene cheke bon in siluerene beddis, that speketh a wrd in his 12 tyme. A goldene erering, and a margarite shynende, that vndernemeth a wis 13 man, and an ere obedient. As cold of sno3 in the dai of rep, so^c an feithful messenger to hym that sente hym; the vyner of a fonnid man; and, lo! nettlis 31 hadden fillid al, thornes hadden hilid the hizere part therof, and the wal of stoonys with out mortar was distried. And whanne 32 Y hadde seyn this thing, Y settide in myn herte, and bi ensaumple Y lernyde techyng*. Hou longe slepist thou, slow man? 33 whanne schalt thou ryse fro sleep? Sotheli thou schalt slepe a litil, thou schalt nappe a litil, thou schalt ioyn togidere the hondis a litil, to take reste; and^k thi 34 nedynesse as a currou schal come to thee, and thi beggerie as an armed man.

CAP. XXV.

Also these ben the Parablis of Salomon, 1 whiche the men of Ezechie, kyng of Juda, translatiden. The glorie of God is to hele 2 a word†; and the glorie of kyngis is to seke out a word. Heuene aboue, and the 3 erthe bynethe, and the herte of kyngis is vnserchable. Do thou a wei rust fro sil- 4 uer, and a ful cleene vessel schal¹ go out. Do thou awei vnpite fro the cheer of the 5 kyng, and his trone schal be maad stidfast bi riztfulnesse. Appere thou not glori- 6 ouse‡ bfore the kyng, and stonde thou not in the place of grete men. For it is 7 betere, that it be seid to thee, Stie thou hidur, than that thou be maad low bfore the prince. Brynge thou not forth soone 8 tho thingis in strijf, whiche thin i3en sien^m; lest aftirward thou maist not amende, whanne thou hast maad thi frend vn honest §. Trete thi cause with thi 9 frend, and schewe thou not priuyte to a straunge man; lest perauenture he haue 10 ioie of thi fal, whanne he hath herde, and ceesse not to do schenschi to thee. Grace|| and frenschip delyueren, whicheⁿ kepe thou to thee, that thou be not maad repreuable. A goldun pomel in beddis of 11 siluer is he, that spekith a word in his time. A goldun eere ryng, and a^o schin- 12 ynge peerle is he, that repreueth a wijs man, and an eere obeiyng. As the coold 13 of snow¶ in the^p dai of heruest, so a

* teching; wise men seynge the negligence of slowe men, and of foolis, ben more bisi to kepe and tile her possessions; ether bi the feeld and vyner, is vnderstondun the consience of a man, which whanne it is not kept bisily, is fillid with dyuerse vices; and wise men that biholden this, ben bisiere to purge her owne consience. Live here. c.

† The glorie of God is to hele a word; that is, the priuyte of hooly scripture.

The bigynnyngis of Genesis and of Ezechiel ben 30oun priuely, ether bi heling, that vnfeithful men be scorned, and Cristen men ful of studie be occupied, and wondre on the depthe of Goddis wisdom. seke out a word; that is, the sentence of Goddis word, tau3t priuely. Live here. c.

‡ glorouse, etc.; in pressynge forth thee ouere dwe measure, lest thi schame sue. Live here. c.

§ vn honest; that is, telle thou not soone to othere men the pryuyt yuels of thi neibore, lest thou maist not zelde good fame to thi neibore, which fame thou hast birt. Live here. c.

|| Grace; this vers til thidur, a goldun pomel, etc., is not in Ebreu. Live here. c.

¶ the coold of snow; that is, wynd keling reperis, at the maner of coold of snow. Live here. c.

^x vttermoost AGH. ^y ben the A. ^z the erthe EH. ^a the place AGH. ^b it is EG sec.m. ^c Om. AG pr.m. H.

^k and thanne I. ¹ ther shal I. ^m saw3en I. ⁿ the whiche I. ^o Om. c. ^p Om. I.

soule of hym to resten he maketh.
 14 Cloud and wind, and reines not folewende, a man glorious, and the behestes 15 not fulfillende. Bi pacience shal ben maad softe the prince; and a nesshe 16 tunge shal to-breke hardnesse. Hony thou hast founden, ett that suffiseth to thee; lest paraenture fulfild thou spewe 17 it out. Withdra³ thi foot fro the hous of thi ne³hebore; lest any time fulfild, he 18 shul hate thee. Spere, and swerd, and sharp arwe, a man that speketh a³en his 19 ne³hebore fals wittenesse. A roten toth, and a foot sliden, that hopith vpon the 20 vnfeithful in the dai of anguysh, and leeseth the mantil in the dai of cold.
 Eisel in glas, that singeth dities with peruertid herte. As a mo³he^d to the cloth, and a werm to the tree, so sorewe 21 of a man no³eth to the herte. If thin enemy shul hungren, feed hym; if he 22 thirstith, 3if hym watir to drinke; for-sothe colis thou shalt gadere togidere vp on the hed of hym; and the Lord shal 23 3elde to thee. A northerne wind scatereth reynes; and a dreri face the bac-24 bitende tunge. Betere is to sitte in a corner of a roof, than with a womman 25 ful of strif, in the hous of a feste. Cold watir to the threstende soule; and a good 26 messenger fro a ferr lond. A welle trublid bi foot, and a veyne corrupt, the 27 ri³t³wis fallende beforⁿ the vnpitous. As he that etith myche hony, and it is not to hym good; so that^e is a serchere of 28 mageste, shal ben oppressid of glorie. As an opyn cite, and withoute enuyrounyng of wallis; so a man that mai not in speking chastisen his spirit.

CAP. XXVI.

1 What maner sno³ in somer, and reyn in rep time; so vnsemende is to the fool hem that wolen entre, so the priuytes of sich a man ben opyn to othere men. Live here. c. ¶ as snow; is vnsemely. in somer; for it is agenus the kynde of the tyme. in heruist; for it peirith the ripe corn, and disposith to corrupecioun. glorie; that is, onour, to be 3ouun in opyn place. This word forwhi is not in Ebreu, but it sueth thus, as a brid, etc. so cursing brouzt forth with out resonable cause schal not come; that is, on him in to whom it is brouzt forth, as a bird vnstable of abiding, that fleeth ouer to a certeyn place, turneth not a³en. Live here. c.

^d mouzth A. mo³zte E. ^e he that A.

^q him I. ^r spue CEF pr. m. GHIKMN PQRSUXYA. ^s full therof I. ^t Om. I. ^u for so I. ^v scaterith abrod I.

feithful messenger to hym that sente 'thilke messenger^q, makith his soule to haue reste. A cloude and wind, and reyn 14 not suyng, is a gloriouse man, and not fillynge biheestis. A prince schal be maad 15 soft bi pacience; and a soft tunge schal breke hardnesse. Thou hast founde hony, 16 ete thou that that suffisith to thee; lest paraenture thou be fillid, and brake^r it out. Withdraw^e thi foot fro the hous of 17 thi ne³hebore; lest sum tyme he be fillid^s, and hate thee. A dart, and a swerd, and 18 a scharp arowe, a man that spekith fals witnessing a³ens his ne³hebore. A rotun 19 tooth, and a feynt foot is he, that hopith on an vnfeithful man in the dai of an-gwisch, and leesith his mentil in the dai 20 of coold. Vynegre in a vessel^t of salt is he, that singith songis to the worste herte.
 As a mouzte noieth a cloth, and a worm noieth^t a tree, so the sorewe of a man noieth the herte. If thin enemy hungrith, 21 feede thou him[†]; if he thirstith, 3yue thou watir to hym to drinke; for^u thou 22 schalt gadere togidere coolis on his heed; and the Lord schal 3elde to thee. The 23 north wind scatereth^v reynes; and a sorewful face distrieth a tunge bacbitinge. It 24 is betere to sitte in the corner of an hous without roof, than with a womman ful of chidyng, and in a comyn hous. Coold 25 watir to a thirsti man; and a good messanger fro a fer lond. A welle[§] dis-26 turblid with foot, and a veyne brokun, a iust man fallinge bifore a wickid man.
 As it is not good to hym that etith myche 27 hony; so he that is a serchere of maieste^{||}, schal be put down fro glorie. As a citee 28 opyn, and with out cumpas of wallis; so is a man that mai not refreyne his spirit in speking.

CAP. XXVI.

As snow[¶] in somer, and reyn in her-1 uest; so glorie is vnsemeli to a fool. For²

* be fillid; that is, annoyed. Live here. c.
 † Vynegre in a vessel; this vessel is a spice of salt, and brekith and frothith, whanne vynegre is put on it. songis; that is, the seiyngis of the lawe and of profetis. to the worste herte; that is, to a man obstynat in synne, for he is not amended, but more is wroth, and is stirid to dyspayning. Live here. c.
 ‡ fede thou him; that is, helpe thi ne³hebore set in neede. colis, etc.; that is, thou schalt induce him to do repentaunce of the yuel which he dide to thee, ether asayed to do. schal 3elde to thee; that is, meede for the charite of the ne³hebore; in Ebreu thus, and the Lord schal make him possible to thee. Live here. c.
 § A welle; troubled leuith fairnesse bi a litil mouyng, a brokun veyne is signe of deth. so is a iust man fallinge; that is, doinge synne bifor a wickid man, for he defameth him myche for a litil fal, and of a festu he makith a beem. Live here. c.
 || a serchere of maieste; that is, wole mesure dyuyn thingis bi his owne wit. schal be oppressid of glorie; that is, schal falle in to errour. as a citee opyn, etc.; that is, as the ynnere thingis of sich a citee ben opyn to

2 glorie. For as a brid to heze thingus ouerfleende, and a sparewe^f whider hym list goende; so curs in veyn spoken in 3 to sum man shal comen ouer. A scourge to an hors, and a bernacle to an asse; and a 3erde in the reg of vnprudent men.
4 Answer thou not to a fool aftir his folie, lest thou be maad out lic to hym.
5 Answer to a fool aftir his folie, lest he 6 seme to ben wis to hymself. Halt in feet, and drinkende wickidnesse, that 7 sendith wordus bi a fool messenger. What maner the halte hath in veyn faire leggis; so vnsemende thing is in the 8 mouth of foolis a parable. As he that sendith a ston in to an hep of monee; so he that 3iueth to an vnwis man wrshi-9 pe. What maner if a thorun be growen in the hond of the drunken; so a parable in 10 the mouth of foolis. Dem determyneth causes; and he that puttith silence to a 11 fool, swageth wrathis. As an hound that tourneth a3een to his vome; so an vnprudent man, that reherseth his folie.
12 Hast thou seen a man wis to be seen to hymself? more than he an vnwis man 13 shal han hope. The slowe seith, A leoun is in the weie, and^g a leounesse is in the 14 gatis. As a dore is turned in his heeng; 15 so a slo3 man in his litle bed. A slo3 man hidith his^b hondis vnder his arm pit; and trauailith, if to his mouth he 16 shal turneⁱ them. Wisere to hymself the slowe semeth, than seuene men spekende 17 sentences. As he that cachith bi the eres a dogge; so he that passeth, and vnpacient shal be mengd with^k to the 18 strif of an other. As gilti he is, that 19 sendith speres and arwes in to deth; so the man that gilendeli no3eth to his frend, and whan he were ca3t, shal sey, whi as a brid flynge ouer to hi3 thingis, and^w a sparowe goynge in to vncerteyn;

so cursing brou3t forth with out resonable cause schal come aboue in to sum man.
Beting^x to an hors, and a bernacle to an 3 asse; and a 3erde in^y the bak of vnprudent men. Answer thou not^{*} to a fool 4 bi^y his foli, lest thou be maad lijk hym^z.
Answer thou a fool bi^a his fooli, lest he 5 seme to him silf to be wijs. An haltinge 6 man in feet, and drinkinge wickidnesse[†], he that sendith wordis by a fonned messanger. As an haltinge man hath faire 7 leggis in veyn; so a parable[‡] is vnsemeli in the mouth of foolis. As he that cast- 8 eth^b a stoon in to an heap of mercurie[§]; so he that 3yueth honour to an vnwijs man.
As if a thorn growith in the hond of a 9 drunkun man; so^c a parable in the mouth of foolis. Doom determyneth causis ||; 10 and he that settith silence to a fool, swagith iris^d. As a dogge that turneth a3en 11 to his spuynge; so is an vnprudent man, that rehersith his fooli[¶]. Thou hast seyn 12 a man seme wijs to hym silf; an vnkunnyng man schal haue hope more than he.
A slow man seith, A lioun is in the weie, 13 a liounesse is in the foot pathis. As a 14 dore is turned in his^e hengis^f; so a slow man in his bed. A slow man hidith hise 15 hondis vndur his armpit; and he trauelith, if he turneth tho^g to his mouth. A slow 16 man semeth wysere^{} to hym silf, than seuene men spekyng sentensis. As he 17 that takith a dogge bi the eeris; so he that passith, and is vnpacient, and is med-dlid with the chiding of anothir man^{††}.
As he is gilti, that sendith speris and 18 arowis in to deth; so a man that anoi- 19 eth gilefuli his frend, and whanne he is takun, he schal seie, Y dide pleiyng.

^{} semeth wisere; in sekinge the reste of his fleisch, than excelent wise men. Live here. c.

^{††} chiding of anothir man; that is, he that s rich no wrong of an othir man, excitith him with whom he chidith with out cause, to bite him bi word ether dede. Y dide pleyng; whanne may not excuse the opyn malice of dede, he denyeth the malice of entent which is hid. to the ynneste thingis of the herte; that is, he feyneth him speke for the loue of rightfulness, ether for the good of him to whom he spekith, ether of whom he spekith; but he purposith to anoye til to the he with foul siluer; that is, with the dros of siluer, as it is in Ebreu. bolnyng lipis; that is, spekinge with bolnyng of pride. for vii. wickidnes

^f spare c. ^g Om. c. ^h Om. AEH. ⁱ chaungen E pr. m. ^k Om. AG pr. m. H.

^w and as I. ^x Beting ben I. ^y to I. ^{yy} aftir I. ^z to him ka. ^a aftir I. ^b sendith CEFHNPUY.
^c so is I. ^d wraththis I. ^e the R. ^f herre, ether heengis CEFHGHIKMNPPQRSUXYA. ^g hem up I.

* Answer thou not; that is, folly, as he spok folily. answer thou a fool, etc., in declaryng resonably. Live here. c.

† drynkinge wickidnesse; that is, drynkyng noyful to him silf. Live here c.

‡ so a parable; that is, teching, for foolis techen vnsemely. Live here. c.

§ sendith a stoon in to the heap of mercurie; that is, to bielede a temple in the onour of this idol.

¶ onour to an vnwise man; for euer either onour is lost; in Ebreu thus

He that sendith a stoon in to the brood place of the slyng, etc.

that is, a stoon is leid there, be sent an hys ajensthe king of the stoon;

so onour 3oum to an vnwise man, is ajenst resoun, sither it owth to be 3oum to a wijs man onely. a thorn; as a drunkun man hauyng a thorn in his hond, prickith him silf and othere men, doith a fool techinge ethi preching. Live here. c.

¶ his folly; that is, greet folly, ether malice, that mal ith him abho mynable to G and men. an unkunnyng man; that is, knowinge his ignorance.

Live here. c.

20 Pleiende I dide. Whan wodis shuln failen, the fyr shal ben queynt¹; and the groynere withdrawen, striues togidere resten. As deade colis to quyke colis, and wode to fyr; so a wrathful man rereth striues. The wrdis of a groynere as simple; and thei comen thur; 23 to^m the inmostis of the herte. What maner as with foul siluer thou wilt honoure britil vessel; so swellende lippis 24 with werst herte felashipid. In his lippis is vndirstonde the enemy, whan in 25 herte he hath tretid treccheries. Whan he shal vndirputte his vois, ne 3iue thou credence to hym; for seuene wickidnesses ben in the herte of hym. Who couereth hate gilendeli, shal ben opened 27 the malice of hym in counseil. Who delueth a dich, shal falle in to it; and who ouirturneth a ston, it shal ben a3een 28 turned to hym. A deseyuable tunge looueth not the treuthe; and the slideriⁿ mouth werchith fallngis.

CAP. XXVII.

1 Ne glorie^o thou in to the moru, vnknowende what the dai to ouercome 2 bringe forth. Preise thee an alien, and not thi mouth; a straunger, and not 3 thi lippis. Heuy is the ston, and charious is the grauel; but the wrathe of the 4 fool is heuyere than either. Wrathe hath not mercy, ne brekende out wodnesse; and the bure of the stirid spirit 5 bern who shall moun? Betere is open 6 amending, than hid looue. Betere ben the woundis of the loouere, than the 7 gileful kosses of the hatere. The soule fulfild shal to-trede the hony comb; the soule forsothe hungrende also bitter for 8 sweete shal take. As a brid ouerpassende fro his nest, so a man that forsaketh 9 his place. With oynement and diuers smellis deliteth the herte; and with goode counseilis of the frend the soule is Whanne trees failen, the fier schal be 20 quenched; and whanne a priuy bachitere is withdrawun, stryues resten. As deed 21 coolis at quic coolis, and trees at the fier; so a wrathful man reisith chidyngis. The 22 wordis of a pryuei bachitere ben as symple; and tho comen til^h to the ynnesteⁱ thingis of the herte. As if thou wolt^k 23 ourne^l a vessel of erthe with foul siluer; so ben bolnyng lippis felouschipid with 'the werste^m herte. An enemy is vndir- 24 stondun bi hise lippis, whanne he tretith giles in theⁿ herte. Whanne he 'makith 25 low^o his vois, bileue thou not to hym; for seuene wickidnessis ben in his herte. The malice of hym that hilith hatrede 26 gilefuli, schal be schewid in a counsel. He that delueth a dicke, schal falle in to 27 it; and if a man walewith a stoon, it schal turne a3en to hym. A fals tunge 28 loueth not treuth; and a slidir^p mouth worchith fallngis.

ben in his herte; that is, the vyuersite of malice, ethir of wickidnesse. u dich delueth i that is, makith redy falling to another man. slidur mouth; that kepith not priuete. teor-chith fallngis; in openyng counsel to aduersaries. Lire here. c.

 Haue thou not glorie on the morewe; that is, dilaye thou not a good werk, vndur hope of tyme to comynge more able. stirid; bi ire, ethir woodnesse; no man may suffre this, no but ful wiys and pacient. Lire here. c.*

† opyn repreuyng; bi which repreuyng good cometh to him that is repreuyed. than loue hid; that is, not schewid in werk, for no good cometh therof to him that is loued. woundis of the louyers; that ben doon to amending of him that is loued. gileful kossis; than ben maad to disseyuing of him that is kissed. forsakith his place; that is, hows, and meynee, and chargith not of the cure of hem; and bi this is vndurston dun the malice of a prelat, dispisyng the cure ether helche of soulis, for bisynessis and offices of erthely thingis. Lire here. c.

CAP. XXVII.

Haue thou not glorie on^q the morewe*, 1 'not knowyng^r what thing the dai to^s comynge schal bringe forth. Another 2 man, and not thi mouth preise thee; a straunger, and not thi lippis 'preise thee^t. A stoon is heuy, and grauel is chariouse; 3 but the ire of a fool is heuyere than euer eithir. Ire hath no merci, and^u wood- 4 nesse brekyng out 'hath no merci^v; and who mai suffre the fersnesse of a spirit stirid^w? Betere is opyn repreuyng[†], than 5 loue hid. Betere ben the woundis of hym 6 that loueth, than the gileful kossis of hym that hatith. A man fillid schal dispise 7 an hony coomb; but an hungri man schal take, 3he, bittir thing for swete. As a 8 brid passinge ouer fro his nest, so is a man that forsakith his place. The herte 9 delitith in oynement, and dyuerse odours; and a soule is maad swete bi the good

¹ quenched AEGH. ^m unto AEGH. ⁿ slyper A. ^o ioye A.

^h Om. a. ⁱ ynnere M. innerest PY. ^k woldist I. ^l onouren PY. honoure a. ^m a ful wickid I. ⁿ his I. ^o sendith doun, ether makith low CEF GHIKMN PQRSUXYA. ^p sliper M. ^q of I. ^r that knowist not I. ^s Om. CGI. ^t Om. I. ^u ne I. ^v Om. I. ^w yuel stirid I.

10 swetid. Thi frend, and the frend of thi fader, ne leue thou; and the hous of thi brother go thou not in, in the dai of thi tormenting. Betere is a ne3hebore bi-11 side, than a brother aferr. Studie to wisdam, sone myn, and glade thou myn herte; that thou mowe to the repreuere 12 answern a wrd. The felle seende euel is hid; litle childer forth passende suf-13 freden harmys. Tac the clothing of hym, that behotith for a straunger; and for an alien tac awei to hym a wed.
 14 Who blissith to his ne3hebore with a gret vois, fro ny3t risende, to the cursere 15 shal be lic. Rooues thur3 droppende in the dai of cold, and a womman ful of 16 strif ben comparisound togidere. Who holdith hir, as he heelde wind; and the^o 17 oile of his ri3t side he auoide out. Iren with iren is whettid out; and a man 18 whettith out the face of his frend. Who kepith a fige tree, shal ete the frutis of it; and who kepere is of his lord, shal 19 ben glorified. What maner wise in watris a3een shinen the cheres of men lokende; so the hertes of men ben opened 20 to prudent men. Helle and perdicoun neuere ben fulfid; and the ezen of men 21 vnfillable. What maner wise siluer is preued in the 3eting vessel, and gold in the furneis; so is preued a man in the mouth of preiseris. The herte of the 22 wicke sechith out euelis; the ri3t forsothe herte secheth out kunnyng. If thou bete togidere a fool in a mortar, as 23 hoolid barli smytende there vp on the pestel; shal not ben take awei fro hym 24 his folie. Bisili knowe thou the chere of thi beeste; and thi flockis behold.
 25 Forsothe thou shalt not han continuelli power; but a croune shal be 3olde to thee in ieneracioun of ieneraciouns. Opened ben the medwis, and apereden greene erbis; and gedered ben heys fro the hillis.

counsels of a frend. Forsake thou not 10 thi frend, and the frend of thi fadir; and entre thou not in to the hous of thi bro-thir, in the dai of thi turment. Betere is a ne3bore ny3, than a brothir afer. Mi 11 sone, studie thou a boutte wisdom, and make thou glad myn herte; that thou maist answer a word to a dispisere*.
 A fel man seyng yuel was hid; litle men 12 of wit passinge forth suffriden harmes.
 Take thou awei his clooth, that bihi3te 13 for a straunger; and take thou awei a^x wed fro hym for an alien man. He that 14 blessith his[†] ne3bore with greet vois; and risith bi ni3t, schal be lijk hym that cursith. Roouys droppynge in the dai of 15 coold, and a womman ful of chidyng ben comparisond^y. He that withholdith[†] hir, 16 as if he holdith^z wynd; and auoidith the oile of his ri3t hond. Yrun is whettid bi^a 17 irun; and a man whettith the face of his frend. He that kepith a fige tre, schal 18 ete the fruytis therof; and he that is a kepere of his lord, schal be glorified. As 19 the cheris of men biholdinge schynen in watris; so the hertis of men ben opyn to prudent men. Helle and perdicoun 20 schulen not be fillid; so and the 3en of men[§] moun not be fillid. As siluer is 21 preuyd in a wellyng place, and gold^{'is} preued^b in a furneys; so a man is preued bi the mouth of preyseris. The herte|| of a wickid man sekith out yuels; but a ri3tful herte sekith out kunnyng. Thou3 22 thou beetist^c a fool[¶] in a mortar, as with a pestel smytynge aboue dried barli; his foli schal not be don awei fro him.
 Knowe thou diligentli the cheere of thi 23 beeste; and biholde thou thi flockis. For 24 thou schalt not haue power contynueli; but a coroun schal be 3ounn to thee in generacioun and in to generacioun. Mede- 25 wis ben openyd, and greene eerbis apperiden; and hey is gaderid fro hillis.

* answere a word to a dispisere; that is, to him that dispisith truthe, in conuynctinge ether ouercomynge him reasonably. Live here. c.
[†] that blessith his, etc.; that is, flaterith him opynli. and risith bi ny3t; that is, doith this bisili. Live here. c.
[‡] with holdith; that is, enforseth to withhold fro her nysete. holdith wynd; and this is impossible, ether ful hard. the oile of his ri3thond; for oile holdun in the ri3t hond, be it streyned neuere so harde, goith out; so a nyse womman, how myche euer sche be restreyned, fyndith weyes to do yuele. Live here. c.
[§] so and the 3en of men, etc.; coueytouse men moun not be fillid; for whi coueytise is not decressid, but encreesid bi thingis getun. bi the mouth of preiseris; for herbi it apperith, wher he is verli vertuose, ether nay, if he is not enhaunsid, ether proud, bi the preissing in ony maner, but is maad betere, the truthe of the vertu apperith, which preisid, encreesith; if he is enhaunsid, the falsnesse aperith. Live here. c.
^{||} the herte; this vers is not in Ebreu. Live here. c.
[¶] thou3 thou beetist a fool, etc.; that is, he schal not be amendid, bi what ener chastising ethir beting moun. Live here. c.  the cheere of thi beeste; this is expowned of prelatys that han cure of soulis thus. knowe thou diligentli the cheere of thi beeste; that is, the liyf and condiciouns of men suget to thee. for thou schalt not haue power to amende hem contynueli; that is, aftir deth. but a coroun, of glorie, schal be 3ounn to thee, if thou vsist well the power bitakun to thee. Live here. c.

^o as the E pr. m.

^x the i. ^y likned to gidre i. ^z holde i. ^a with i. ^b Om. i. ^c beetist A. pownedist i.

26 Lombis ben to thi clothing; and geet to 27 the pris of the feeld. Suffise to thee the myle of got in to thi metes; in to the necessaries of thin hous, and to liflode to thin hond wymmen.

CAP. XXVIII.

1 The vnpitouse fleeth, no man pursu-ende; the rijt wis forsothe as a leoun 2 trostende without ferd shal be. For the synnes of the erthe manye princis of it; and for the wisdam of a man, and the kunnyng of these thingus that ben seid, 3 the lif of a duk shal ben lengere. A man pore chalengende pore men, lic is to hidous weder, in whiche is greithid 4 hunger. Who forsaken the lawe, preisen the vnpitous; who kepen, shul ben tend 5 vp azen hym. Euele men thenken not dom; who forsothe azen sechen the 6 Lord, taken to heed alle thingus. Betere is a pore man goende in his simplenesse, than a riche man in his shreude weies.
7 Who kepith the lawe, a wis sone is;
who forsothe glotounes fedith, shendith 8 his fader. Who kepith togidere richesses with vsures, and with free wynnyng of vsure, in to pore men he gedereth hem 9 togidere. Who bowith doun his eres, that he here not the lawe; his orisoun 10 shal be maad cursful. Who desceyueth rijte men in an euel weie, in his deth shal falle; and simple men shuln welden 11 his goodis. A wis man to hymself is seen a riche man; the pore forsothe 12 prudent shal enserchen hym. In the ful out iojing of rijt wis men myche glorie^p is; regnende vnpitous men, fallingus ben 13 of men. Who hidith his hidous giltis, shal not ben rijt reulid; who forsothe knoulechith and forsakith, mercy shal 14 gete. Blisful the man, that euermor is Lambren be to^d thi clothing; and kidis 26 * and kidia to be to the^e prijs of^f feeld*. The mylke 27 *the pryjs of the feeld; that is,

that thou bie feeldis bi the prijs of tho,
ethir that thou
tile feeldis now had; and bi lambren and kidis ben vndurstondun
here, also othere beestis nedeful to liyfode. Lire
here. c.*
of geete suffice to thee for this meetis; in to the necessarie thingis of thin hous, and to lijfode to^h thin handmaidis[†].

CAP. XXVIII.

A wickid man fleeth, whanne no man 1 pursueth; but a iust man as a lioun tristynge[‡] schal be with out ferdfulnesse.
For the synnes of the lond ben^k many² princis therof¹; and for the wisdom of a man, and for the kunnyng of these thingis[§] that ben seid, the lijf of the duyk schal be lengere^m. A pore man 3 falsli calengynge pore men, is lik a grete reyn, wherynne hungur is maad redi. Thei that forsaken the lawe, preisen 4 aⁿ wickid man; thei that kepen 'the lawe^o, ben kyndlid^{p||} azens hym. Wickid⁵ men thenken not^a doom; but thei that seken the Lord, perseyuen alle thingis[¶].
Betere is a pore man goynge in his sym- 6 pilnesse, than a riche man in schrewid weies. He that kepith the lawe, is a 7 wijs sone; but he that fedith^{} glotouns, schendith his fadir. He that gaderith 8 togidere richessis bi vsuris, and fre en-crees^{††}, gaderith tho^r togidere azens pore men. His preyer schal be maad cursid, 9 that bowith awei his eere^{‡‡}; that he here not the lawe. He that disseyueth iust 10 men in an yuel weye, schal falle in his perisching; and iuste men schulen welde hise goodis. A ryche man semeth wijs to 11 him silf; but a pore man prudent schal serche him^{§§}. In enhaunsing of iust men 12 is miche glorie; whanne wickid men regnen, fallyngis^s of men ben^t. He that 13 hidith hise grete trespassis^{|||}, schal not be maad rijtful; but he that knoulechith and forsakith tho^u, schal gete merci. Blessid 14

sience; for it cometh of greet lust to do synne, that a man nyle kunne the lawe, lest bi kunnyng therof he be lettid of synne, ether withdrawun therfro. in an yuel weye; that is, drawith hem to yuel, bi his counsel. perisching; of dedly synne, and of helle. Lire here. c. §§ schal serche him; that is, schal knowe his counsel. Lire here. c. ||| that hidith his grete trespassis; in the doom of consience, that is confessioun. Lire here. c.

P ioze E pr. m.

^d in to I. ^e Om. M. ^f of the INQ pr. m. of thi KX. ^g Om. s. ^h of I. ⁱ hond maidens IKSA.
^k there ben I. ^l of it I. ^m the lengere I. ⁿ the I. ^o it I. ^p leendid or stirid I. ^q not on I. ^r Om. I.
^s myscheues I. ^t ther ben I. ^u hem I.

ferdful; who forsothe is of hard mynde, 15 shal falle in to euel. A leoun rorende, and a bere hungrende, an vnпитыous prince 16 on^a a pore puple. A nedi duk of prudence manye shal opresse bi chalenge; who forsothe hatith auarice, long shul 17 be made the dazes of hym. The man that wrongfulli chalengith to the soule, the blod of hym, if vn to the lake he 18 shul flee, no man susteneth^r. Who goth simpleli, shal ben saaf; who in peruertid weies shal go, shal falle togidere at ones.
 19 Who werchith his erthe, shal be fulfild with loeues; who folewith idil reste, shal 20 ben fulfild with nedynesse. A man feithful myche shal ben preisid; who forsothe hee3-eth to be maad riche, shal not ben inno-21 cent. Who^s knowith in dom face, he this doth not wel; and for a morsel of bred 22 he forsaketh the treuthe. The man that hee3eth to be maad riche, and to othere men enuyeth; vnknowith that nedinesse 23 come vp on to hym. Who chastiseth a man, grace aftir shal find anent hym; more than he that bi flateringus of tunge 24 bigilith. Who withdrawith any thing fro his fader and moder, and seith that not to ben synne, parcener is of a man 25 sleere. Who bostith of hymself, and spreadeth abrod, sterith striues; who for-sothe hopeth in the Lord, shal be saued.
 26 Who trostith in his herte, is a fool; who forsothe goth wisly, he^t shal ben preisid.
 27 Who 3iueth to the pore, shal not neden; who dispiseth the preiere louli, shal suf-28 fre scarnesse. Whan vnпитыous men shuln risen, men shul ben hid; and whan thei han pershid, the riztwise shul ben multiplied.

CAP. XXIX.

1 To the man, that the chastisere with hard noll dispisith, feerli deth shal come rishyng; of body and of soule. with hard nol; that is, an obstynat soule. helthe schal not sue him; for his synne is vncurable, for it is a spice of synne azenus the Hooly Goost, which synne is seid vnable to be for3ouun, that is, is not able to be for3ouun eseli, ethir of ful hard to be for3ouun. Live here. c.

^a up on AEGH. ^r shal susteynen E pr. m. ^s Who forsothe E pr. m. ^t Om. A.

^v of hard herte I. ^w susteyne I. ^x vn to I. ^y giltles I. ^z anentis I. ^a reisith up I. ^b him I.
^c and whanne I. ^d thei I. the s. ^e Om. I.

is the man, which is euere dredeful*; but he that is 'harde of soule^v, shal falle^t in to yuel. A rorynge lioun[†], and an 15 hungry bere, is a wickid prince on a pore puple. A duyk nedi of prudence schal 16 oppresse[§] many men bi fals chalenge;
 but the daies of hym that hatith aueryce, schulen be maad longe. No man sus- 17 teyneth^w a man that falsly chalengith the blood^{||} of a man, if he fleeth 'til to^x the lake. He that goith simpli[¶], schal be 18 saaf; he that goith bi weiward weies, schal falle down onys^{}. He that worch- 19 ith his lond, schal be fillid with looues; he that sueth ydelnesse, schal be fillid with nedynesse. A feithful man schal be 20 preisid myche; but he that hastith^{††} to be maad riche, schal not be innocent^r.
 He that knowith a face in doom^{‡‡}, doith 21 not wel; this man forsakith treuthe, 3he, for a mussel of breed. A man that hast- 22 ith to be maad riche, and hath enuye to othere men; woot not that nedinesse schal come on hym. He that repreueth a man, 23 schal fynde grace aftirward at^z hym; more than he that disseyueth bi flateryngis of tunge. He that withdrawith any thing 24 fro his fadir and fro his modir, and seith that this is no synne, is parcener of a manuellere. He that auauntith^{§§} hym 25 silf, and alargith, reisith^a stryues; but he that hopith in the Lord, schal be sauyl.
 He that tristith in his herte^{|||}, is a fool; 26
 but he that goith wiseli, schal be preysid.
 He that 3yueth to a pore man, schal not be nedi; he that dispisith 'a pore man^b bi-sechyng, schal suffre nedynesse. Whanne 28 vnпитыouse men risen, men schulen be hid; whanne^c tho^d 'vnпитыouse men^e han perisch-id, iust men schulen be multiplied.

CAP. XXIX.

Sodeyn perischyng^{¶¶} schal come on that man, that with hard nol dispisith a

* euere dred-ful; lest he offende God in any thing. Live here. c.
[†] of hard soule, schal falle, etc.; that is, he that chargith not of trespas azenus Goddis lawe, schal falle in to yuel of synne and of peyne. c.
[†] A roryng lioun, etc.; as a lioun denour-ith beestis, so a wickid king spulith hise augetis of her goodis, that moun not azen stonde him. Live here. c.
[§] schal oppresse, etc.; for he hath wickid mynystris indusinge him to this malice, and he kan not perseyue. Live here. c.
^{||} the blood; that is, sekith vniusti the deth of a man. Live here. c.
[¶] simpli; that is, innocentli. Live here. c.
^{} schal falle down onys; that is, with out rising azen to good. Live here. c.
^{††} that hastith, etc.; coueytinge ouer myche hereto. Live here. c.
^{‡‡} a face in doom; that is, fauerith a man for singular fauour. Live here. c.
^{§§} auauntith; in magnifyng ouer mesure hise seiynge ether dedis. Live here. c.
^{|||} tristith in his herte; that is, ouer myche in his owne wit. Live here. c.
^{¶¶} Sodeyn perischyng; that is, a sudden perischyng. Live here. c.

vp on to hym; and hym helthe shal not 2folewe. In the multepliying of rīztwis men shal gladen the comun; and whan vnpitous men han taken princehed, the 3puple shal weilen. The man that looueth wisdom, gladith his fader; who for-sothe nurshith an hoore, shal leese sub-4staunce. A rīztwis king rereth vp the lond; an auerous man shal destroyed it.
 5The man that with flaterieng and feyned wrdis spekith to his frend; a net spred-6ith to his goings. The sinnende wicke man a grene shal inwrappe; and the 7rīztwise shal preisen, and iojen. The rīztwise kneȝ the cause of pore men;
 the vnpitous vnknowith kunnyng men.
 8Bacbitende scateren the cite; wise men 9forsothe turnen awei wodnesse. A wis man if with a fool shul striue; whethir he lazhe, or wrathe, he shal not finde 10reste. Men of blodis hateden the simple; rīztwis men forsothe sechen the 11soule of hym. Al his spirit bringeth forth the fool; a wis man berth ouer, 12and kepith vnto afterward. A prince that gladli hereth the wrdis of lesing; 13alle the mynystris hath vnpitouse. The pore and the creaunsour metten togidere; of either the līztner is the Lord.
 14The king that demeth in treuthe pore men; the trone of hym in to withoute 15ende shal be fastned. Ȝerde and correccioun shal ȝelde wisdom; the child for-sothe, that is laft to his wil, confoundith 16his modir. In the multiplieng of vnpit-ous men shuln ben multiplied hidous giltis; and the fallingis^a of hem rīztwis 17men shul see. Lerne thi sone, and he shal refreshen thee; and he shal ȝiue 18delices to his soule. Whan prophecie shal faile, the puple shal ben scatterid; who forsothe kepith the lawe, is blisful.
 19The seruauant in wrdis mai not ben lerned; for that that thou seist, he vn-releue the pore man; and wille to the pore man, to preye for the riche man. Live here. c.

blamere; and helth schal not sue hym.
 The comynalte schal be glad in the multi-2plieng of iust men; whanne wickid men han take prinshod, the puple schal weyle.
 A man that loueth wisdom, makith glad his fadir; but he that nurschith 'an hoore^f, schal leese catel^g. A iust king⁴ reisith the lond; an auerouse man schal distrie it. A man that spekith bi flater-5yng and feyned wordis to his frend; spredith abroad a net* to hise steppis.
 A snare schal wlappe a wickid man do-6yng synne; and a iust man schal preise, and schal^h make ioye. A iust man know-7ith the cause of pore men; anⁱ vnpitouse man knowith not kunnyng. Men ful of pestilence distryen a citee; but wise men turnen awei woodnesse. If a wijs man 9stryueth with a fool[†]; whether^k he be^l wrooth, 'ether he leizith^m, he schal not fynde reste. Menquelleris haten a simple 10man; but iust men seken his soule. A fool bringith forth al his spirit; a wise man dilaieth, and reserueth in to tyme comyng afterward. A prince that herith 12wilfuli the wordis of aⁿ leesyn[‡]; schal haue alle mynystris^o vnfeithful^p. A pore 13man and a leenere metten hem silf; the Lord is līztner[§] of euer ethir. If a 14kyng demeth pore men in treuthe; his trone schal be maad stidfast with outen ende. A ȝerde and chastisieng schal ȝyue 15wisdom; but a child, which^q is left to his wille^r, schendith his modir. Grete tres-16passis schulen be multiplied in the multiplieng of wickid men; and iust men schulen se the falliengis of hem. Teche 17thi sone, and he schal coumforte thee; and he schal ȝyue delices to thi soule.
 Whanne prophesie faylith, the puple schal 18be distried; but he that kepith the lawe, is blessid. A seruauant^{||} mai not be tauȝt 19bi wordis; for he vndirstondith that that thou seist, and^s dispisith for^t to answe-re.

* a net, etc.;
 for he lettith
 his going forth
 in hise werkis, in withdraw-
 inge fro him the bibeest in which he trieste. A snare; of many fold synne and of helle. A iust man knowith;
 that is, enfor-
 ith to knowe,
 that he may helpe. kun-
 nyng; to do
 wel, for wickid
 men kunnan
 not do wel.
Live here. c.

† If a wise man stryueth
 with a fool;
 that is, trauel-
 ith to amende
 the fool. wher
 he; that is, the wise man. is wrooth; in repreuynge scharply the fool. leizith; in monestinge him
 swetely. reste;
 that is, amending of the fool.
 Menquelleris;
 ether men of bloodis, that is,
 schederis out of
 myche blood.
 haten a symple
 man; that is,
 goyng with out doublenesse of gile. seken his
 soule; that is,
 to saue his liyf.
 alle mynystris
 vnfeithful; for they seken to plesse him, and sue him of sicke wordis of flater-yng and of bac-biting; as it is opyn of kyng
 Saul, that pursuede Dauid,
 for the flateryngis of Doech,
 and othere men
 liyk him. *Live
 here. c.*

‡ of leesing;
 that is, of flater-
 ing and of bac-biting. *Live
 here. c.*
 § the Lord is līztner, etc.;
 for he enspirith
 wille to the riche man, to

|| A seruauant; vnboxum and rebel. Live here. c.

^a falling A.

^f a strumpett I. ^g his catel I. ^h Om. I. ⁱ and an cs. as q. ^k wher CEGHMNPQRUXY. ^l is not CEGH KMNPRQSUX pr. m. Ya. is x sec. m. ^m wher he leizith CEGHIKMNPRUXY. or leize I. whether he leiz-ith sa. ⁿ Om. I. ^o his seruauantis I. ^p vnpitous x sec. m. marg. ^q that I. ^r owen wille I. ^s and he I.
^t Om. I.

dirstant^w, and to answern he dispisith.
 20 Hast thou seen a man swift to speken?
 folie more is to ben hopid than the cor-21 reccioun of hym. Who delicatli fro childhed^x nurshith his seruau^t; after-22 ward shal feelen hym vnobeisaunt. The man wrathful stireth striues; and he that is list to han indignacioun, shal be 23 to synnes more redi. The proude man lounesse folewith^y; and the meke man in 24 spirit glorie shal resceyue. Who with a thief is parcener, hatith his soule; the adiurere he hereth, and not shewith.
 25 Who dredith a man, soone shal falle; who hopith in the Lord, shal ben vp rerid.
 26 Many sechen the face of the prince; and dom of eche^z shal gon out fro the 27 Lord. Ritzwis men wlaten the vnpitous man; and vnpitous men wlaten hem, that ben in the ritz weie. The sone kepende the wrd shal ben out of perdi-1 cioun. The wrdis of the gederere, vo-mende sone.

CAP. XXX.

The viseoun that a man spac, with whiche is God, and that, God with hym 2 wonende, coumfortid, seith, Most fool I am of men; and the wisdom of men is 3 not with me. I lernede not wisdom; and 4 I knew^z the kunnyng of seintus. Who stejide vp in to heuene, and who cam down? Who with heeld spirit in his hondis? who bond togidere watris as in a cloth? Who rerede alle the termes of the erthe? What name is of hym? and what name of the sone of hym, if thou 5 knewe? Eche sermoun of God frid^a, a 6 sheld it is to alle hoperis in itself. Ne adde thou any thing to the wordis of hym^b; and thou be vndernome, and wisdom gaderid in him, and the excelence of his teching. Live here. c. || Y am the moste fool; Salomon bi the Hooly Goost bifor si^z, that simple men not lettrid schulden be listned of God in thingis that perteynen to helthe of souls; and this in the tyme of Crist; and of sich a symple man seith Salomon, Y am the moste fool of men, that is, vnettrid and symple. and the wisdom of men; that is, wisdom of temporal gouernail of mennus thingis, is not with me. Y lernede not wisdom; that is, kunnyng of filosofie. and Y knew not the kunnyng of seyntis; that disposit to euerlastinge helthe. Who stiede in to heuene and cam down; that is, it is God that gouerneth heuene thingis and erthli thingis, and God the Fadir, and God his Sone, ben with out bigynnyng and ende. And a filosofore may not knowe this bi worldly wisdom, but this is knowun oneli by Goddis wisdom. Live here. c.

^w vnderstondith AH. ^x his childhed E pr. m. ^y hatith E sec. m. ^z echon AEFGH. ^a is frid A.
^b it E pr. m.

^u soone fro ritzfulnesse N. ^v visioun ether profecie CEFGHKMNPQRSUXYA. visioun I. ^w that I. ^x the I.
^y a man A pr. m. Y. ^z Om. I. ^a Om. I. ^b the name I.

Thou hast seyn a man swift to speke; foli²⁰ * He that tak- schal be hopid more than his amending. ith part with a He that nurschith his seruau^t delicatli²¹ theef; etc.; in fro childhod; schal fynde hym rebel aftir- ix. maneris is ward. A wrathful man territh chidingis; maad part tak- and he that is list to haue indignacioun, ing ether con- schal be more enclynaunt to synnes. Low- sent of thefte; nesse sueth a proude man; and glorie schal firste whanne a vp take a meke man of spirit. He that²⁴ man comaund- takith part with a theef*, hatith his ith his seruau^t soule; he herith a man chargynge† ether suget to greetli, and schewith not. He that dred- do thefte; the ith a man, schal falle soon^u; he that ii. in counsel- hopith in the Lord, shal be reisid. Many²⁶ inge a straun- men seken the face of the prince; and the gere to do thefte; doom of alle men schal go forth of the iii. in consent- Lord. Iust men han abhomynacioun of²⁷ inge, where a wickid man; and wickid men han abho- it schulde not mynacioun of hem, that ben in a ritzful be don with out weye. A sone kepynge‡ a word, schal his consent; be out of perdicoun. iiii. in flater- yng ether preisinge a theef, ether a raueynour; v.
in ressetinge a theef, ether his thefte; vi. in beynge stille, whanne he seeth thefte doon, which he myzte lette bi speking, ether cry; vii. in not putting forth
him silf and lettinge not thefte, whanne
he is holdun
herto, as a inge, ether kepere of
the lond; viii.
whanne, aftir
theft don, enquering is maad therof, that it be foundun, and he knowith sum
thing therof,
and schewith
not; the ix. in takinge part of the thefte. Live
here. c.
 † charginge;
 that is, enquer-
 ing thefte, vn-
 dur the peyne
 of curs, ether in other maner.
 Live here. c.
 ‡ a sone kep-
ing, etc.; this vers is not in Ebreu. Live
here. c.
 § that gader-
ith, etc.; Salomon is seid a sone gaderinge
and spuynge, to signefie the greetnesse of

CAP. XXX.

The wordis of hym that gaderith§, of¹ the sone spuynge. The prophesie^v which^w a man spac, with whom God was, and^x which man^y was^z coumfortid bi God dwellyng with hym, and^a seide, Y am² the moost fool|| of men; and the wisdom of men is not with me. Y lernede not³ wisdom; and Y knew not the kunnyng of hooli men. Who stiede in to heuene, and⁴ cam down? Who helde togidere the spirit in hise hondis? who bonde togidere watris as in a cloth? Who reise alle the endis of erthe? What is name^b of hym? and what is the name of his sone, if thou knowist? Ech word of God is a scheld⁵ set a fiere, to alle that hopen in hym.

7 founde a liere. Two thingus I preȝede to thee; ne denien thou to me, er I die.
8 Vanyte and lesing wrdis^c fer do awei fro me; beggerie and richessis ne ȝiue thou to me; ȝif onli to my liflode nede-9 ful thingus; lest par auenture I fulfild, be drawen to denyen, and seie, Who is the Lord? and thurȝ nede constreyned, stele, 10 and forswere the name of my God. Ne acuse thou a seruaunt to his lord, lest par auenture he curse to thee, and thou 11 falle. Jeneracioun is, that to his fader cursith, and that to his moder blisseth 12 not. Jeneracioun that to hymself clene is seen, and neuer the latere it is not 13 wasshe fro his filthis. Jeneracioun of the whiche ben the eȝen and the eȝe lidis of 14 it in to heȝe thingus vp rerid. Jenera-cioun that for teth hath swerdis, and chewith with his wang teth; that he ete helpeles^{cc} fro the erthe, and pore men 15 fro men. Waterlechis two ben doȝtris, seiende, Bring on, bring on. Thre thingus ben vnfillable, and the ferthe, that seith neuermore^d, It suffisith; 16 helle, and the mouth of a womman wombe, and the erthe that neuer is fild with water; fiȝr forsothe neuermore^e 17 seith^f, It suffiseth. The eȝe that scorneth the fader, and that dispiseth the birthe of his moder, pecken hym out crowis of the stremes; and ete hym the 18 sonus of the egle. Thre thingus ben hard to me, and the ferthe outerli I 19 knowe not; the weie of an egle in heuene, the weie of the shadewe eddere on^g a ston, the weie of a ship in the mydd^h se, and the weie of a man in his 20 waxende ȝouthⁱ. Such is the weie of the womman auoutresse, that etith, and wipende hir mouth, seith, I haue not wroȝt 21 euil. Bi thre thingus is moued the erthe, 22 and the ferthe it^k mai not sustene; bi a seruaunt, whan he regneth; bi a fool, 23 whan he were fulfild with mete; bi an

Adde thou not^{*} any thing to the wordis⁶ of hym, and^e thou^d be repreued, and be foundun a liere. I preiede^e thee twei⁷ thingis; denye not thou^f to me, bifor that Y die. Make thou fer fro me vanytes⁸ and wordis of leesyng; ȝyue thou not to me beggery^g† and richessis; ȝyue^b thou oneli necessities to my lijflode; lest per-⁹ aenture Y be fillidⁱ, and be drawun to denye, and^k seie, Who is the Lord? and lest Y^l compellid bi nedynesse, stele^m, and forswere the name of my God. Accuse¹⁰ thou not[†] a seruaunt to his lord, lest per-aenture he curse thee, and thou falle doun. A generacioun that cursith his¹¹ fadir, and that blessith not his modir. A¹² generacioun that semeth cleene to it silf, and netheles is not waischun fro hise filthis. A generacioun whose iȝen ben¹³ hiȝȝ, and the iȝe liddis therof ben reisid in to hiȝ thingis. A generacioun that¹⁴ hath swerdis for teeth, and etith with hise wank teeth; that it ete nedi men of erthe, and the porails of men. The watir leche¹⁵ hath tweiⁿ doȝtris ||, seiynge, Brynge, bringe. Thre thingis ben vnable to be fillid, and the fourthe, that seith neuere, It suffisith; helle[¶], and the mouth of the¹⁶ wombe, and the erthe which^o is neuere fillid with water; but fier seith neuere, It suffisith. Crowis of the stronde picke out¹⁷ thilke iȝe, that scorneth the fadir, and that dispisith the child beryng of his modir; and the briddis of an egle ete that iȝe. Thre thingis ben hard to me,¹⁸ and outirli Y knowe not the fourthe thing; the weie of an egle^{} in heuene,¹⁹ the weie of a serpent on a stoon, the weie of a schip in the myddil of the see, and the weie of a man in ȝong wexynge age.
Siche is the weie of a womman auow-²⁰ tresse, which^p etith, and wipith hir mouth, and seith, Y wrouȝte not yuel. The erthe²¹ is moued bi thre thingis, and^q the fourthe thing, which it may not susteyne; bi a²²

* Adde thou not, etc.; contrarie, netheles tho thingis that declaren Goddis word, moun he addid wel and meedefully. Live here. c.

† beggeri; he spekith this in the persone of a siyk man, that kan not wel vse prosperites with out pride, nether aduersite with out gruching. Live here. c.

‡ Accuse thou not, etc.; that is, no but for a iust cause. Live here. c.

§ iȝen ben hiȝ, etc.; that is, whos pride of herte apperith opinli with out forth, in the iȝen and lippis. Live here. c.

¶ twei doȝtris, etc.; that is, auarice and lecherie, that ben neuere fillid. Live here. c.

¶ helle, etc.; that is, the deuil, that euere enforst more and more to drawe synneris to himsilf. of the wombe; that is, of a lecherouse womman. Live here. c.

 weie of an egle; that is, of Crist, in his assencion. weie of a serpent; that is, of Crist, in his rising agen. of a schip in the myddis of the see; that is, of Crist, in his conuersacioun in the world. of a man; that is, of Crist, perfit man in kunnyng and vertues. in a ȝong weyringe womman; that is, in the blessed Virgyn. Live here. c.

^c wordis c sec. m. ^{cc} the helpeles A. ^d euermore A. ^e Om. E pr. m. ^f that seith not E pr. m. ^g up on AEGH. ^h myddel AEGH. ⁱ ȝongth A passim. ^j a AEGH. ^k that it E pr. m.

^c and so I. ^d Om. I. ^e preie EPY. ^f thou hem I. ^g beggyng I. ^h but ȝyue I. ⁱ fulfillid I. ^k and Y c. ^l Y be I. ^m and stele I. ⁿ two I passim. ^o that I. ^p that I. ^q and bi I.

hateful womman, whan she were taken in to matrimoyne; and bi an hand womman, whan she were eir of hir ladi.
24 Foure thingus ther ben the leste of erthe¹, and thei ben wisere than wise 25 men; amptis, a feble puple, that greithen 26 in rep time mete to them; a litil hare, a folc vnmy3ti, that in a ston his bed set-27 tith; a king the locuste hath not, and it 28 goth out alle bi cumpanyes; a lisard with hondis cleueth, and he dwellith in 29 the housis of a king. Thre thingus ben^m, that weel gon, and the ferthe, that goth 30 welsumly. A leoun, most strong of bestes, at 'azen coomyngⁿ of noon shal dreden; 31 a cok gyrd vp the leendis, and a ram, and ther is not that withstonde to hym.
32 And that fool shal seme, aftir that he is rerid vp in to hee3; if forsothe he hadde vnderstonden, to his mouth he hadde put 33 on hond. Who forsothe strongli thresteth tetes, to drawen out mylc, threstith out buttere; and who hugeli smyteth, drawith out blod; and who terreth 1 wrathis, bringeth forth discordis. The wrdis of Lamuel, the^o king; the sizte in 2 whiche^p his^q moder tau3te hym. What my leef? what my leef of my wombe?
what my leef of my vouwis?

CAP. XXXI.

3 Ne 3iue thou to wimmen thi substance, and^r thi^s riches to ben don 4 awei kingus. Wile thou not to kingus, O! Lamuel, wile thou not to kingus 3iue win; for no priuyte is, where drunke-5 nesse regneth. Lest par auenture thei drinken, and for3eten domes, and chaungen 6 the cause of the sonus of the pore. 3iue either to mornende men, and win to hem 7 that ben in bitter inwit. Drinke thei, and for3ete thei of ther nedynesse; and of ther sorewe^t recorde thei no more.
8 Opene thi mouth to the doumbe, and to and this acordith betere to the lettre suyng. Lire here. c.

that is, drynk able to make drunkun. Lire here. c.

seruaunt, whanne he regneth; bi a fool, whanne he is fillid with mete; bi an²³ hateful womman, whanne sche is takun in matrimoyne; and bi an handmaide, whanne sche is eir of hir ladi. Foure ben²⁴ the leeste thingis of erthe, and tho ben wisere than wise men; amtis, a feble²⁵ puple, that maken redi mete in heruest to hem silf; a^r hare, a puple vnmy3ti, that²⁶ settith his bed in a stoon; a locust hath²⁷ no kyng, and al goith out bi cumpanyes; an euete enforsith with hondis, and dwell-²⁸ ith in the housis of kingis. Thre thingis²⁹ ben^s, that goon wel, and the fourthe thing, that goith richeli^t. A lioun, strongeste of³⁰ beestis*, schal not drede at the meetyng of ony man; a cok gird the leendis, and³¹ a ram, and noon is^u that schal azenstonde him. He[†] that apperith a fool, aftir that³² he is reisid an hi3; for if he hadde vndurstonde, he hadde sett hond on his mouth. Forsothe he that thristith strongli³³ teetis, to drawe out mylk, thristith out botere[‡]; and he that smytith greetli, drawith out blood; and he that stirith iris, bringith forth discordis.

CAP. XXXI.

The wordis of Lamuel, the king[§]; the¹
visioun^{||} bi which his modir tau3te hym.
What my derlyng? what the derlyng of² my wombe? what the derlyng of my desiris? 3yue thou not thi catel to wym-³ men, and thi richessis to do awei kyngis[¶].
A! Lamuel, nyle thou 3iue wyn^{} to⁴ kingis; for no pryuete is^v, where drunkenesse regneth. Lest perauenture thei⁵ drynke, and for3ete domes, and chaunge the cause of the sonus of a pore man.
3yue 3e sidur^{††} to hem that morenen, and⁶ wyn to hem that ben of bitter soule.
Drinke thei, and for3ete thei her nedi-⁷ nesse; and thenke thei no more on her  wyn, etc.; that is, to drynke ouer mesure. Lire here. c.

¹ the erthe AEGH. ^m there ben A. ⁿ the azen coomyng AGH. ^o Om. C. ^p the whiche AEGH.
^q is C. ^r ne AG pr. m. H. ^s Om. A. ^t sorewis A. sorewen GH.

^r an I. ^s ther ben I. ^t richeli, ether bi prosperite CEFHGKMNPRQSUXYA. richeli, or welsumly I.
^u ther is I. ^v ther is I.

* A lioun strongeste of beestis; that is, the rewme of Babiloyne. a cok gird the leendis; that is, the rewme of Perseys, ne theles cok is not in Ebreu. a ram; that is, Alisaundre the Grete, ether the rewme of Grekis. and a king azenus whom no man schal reise the hond; thus it is in Ebreu, that is, azenus whom no man schal moun azenstonde; and this signifieth the rewme of Romayns, that was strongere than the rewmes bi-forgoinge. apperith a fool; foli apperith more in a fool, whanne he is set in an hi3 staat; and if he hadde wist this, he hadde be stille vnauauna-id. Lire here. c. [†] He; thou; Latyn bookis han here and he, in Ebreu is not and; for the sentence of this vers is not couplid to that, that goith bi-fore. Lire here. c. [‡] botere; that is, mater sad-dere than mylk, that schulde not be thristid out. Lire here. c. [§] Lamuel, the king; that is, Salomon. La-muel is in-terpretid, with whom God is, for God was with Salomon in the bigyn-nyn of his rewme. Lire here. c. ^{||} the visioun; that is, teching ether blamyng. Lire here. c. [¶] do awey kyngis; Ebreys seyen, to make fatte kingis; ^{††} 3yue 3e sidur;

9 the causes of alle sones that passen, opene thou thi mouth. Deme that is ríztwís, and venge the helpeles and the pore.
 10 Aleph. A strong womman who shal finde? aferr and^u fro the utmost^v endis 11 the pris of hir. Beth. Trosteth in hir the herte of hir man; and spoiles he 12 shal not neden. Gimel. She shal zelde to hym good, and not euel, alle the dazes 13 of hir lif. Deleth. She sozte wíle and flax; and wrozte bi the counseil of hir 14 hondis. He. She is mad as a ship of a marchaund, fro aferr bringende hir 15 bred. Vau. And fro the nyzt she ros, and 3af prei to hir homli men, and metis 16 to hir hand wymmen. Zay. She beheeld a feeld, and bozte it; of the frut of hir 17 hondis^w she plauntide a vyne. Heth. She girde to with strengthe hir leendis, and 18 made stalwrthe hir arm. Teth. She tastide, and sa3, for good is the chaffaring of hir; shall not ben quenchild in the 19 nyzt the lanterne of hir. Joth. Hir hond she putte to stronge thingus, and 20 hir fingris ca3ten the spindle. Caf. Hir hond she openede to the helpeles, and hir paumes she strazte out to the pore.
 21 Lameth. She shal not drede to hir hous of coldys of sno3; alle forsothe hir homli^x men ben^y clad^z with double.
 22 Men. A rai cloth she made to hir; bijs and purpre the clothing of hir.
 23 Num. Noble in the 3ates the man of hir, whan he shal sitte with the senatoures 24 of the erthe. Sameth. Sendel she made, and solde; and a litil girdil she toc to 25 Canane. Ayn. Strengthe and fairnesse the clothing of hir; and she shal lazhen 26 in the laste dai. Fee. Hir mouth she openede to wisdom; and the lawe of noble merci in the tunge of hir. Sade.
 27 She beheeld the pathis of hir hous; and 28 idil bred she eet not. Cof. Ther risen the sones of hir, and most blisful prech-

sorewe. Opene thi mouth* for a doubt⁸ man, and opene thi mouth for the causes⁹ of alle sones that passen forth†. Deme thou that that is iust, and deme thou a nedi man‡ and a pore man. Who schal¹⁰ fynde a stronge womman§? the prijs of her is fer, and fro the laste endis. The¹¹ herte of hir hosebond tristith in hir; and sche^w schal not haue nede to spuylis^x. Sche schal zelde to hym good, and not yuel,¹² in alle the daies of hir lijf. Sche souzte¹³ wolle and flex; and wrouzte bi the counsel of hir hondis. Sche is maad as the¹⁴ schip of a marchaunt, that berith his breed fro fer. And sche roos bi nyzt, and¹⁵ 3af prey|| to hir meyneals, and metis to hir handmaidis^y. Sche bihelde a feeld,¹⁶ and bouzte it; of the fruyt of hir hondis sche plauntide a vyner. Sche girde^z hir¹⁷ leendis with strengthe, and made strong hir arm. Sche taastide, and si3^a, that hir¹⁸ marchaundie was good; hir lanterne schal not be quenchild in the níz^t. Sche putte¹⁹ hir hondis to stronge thingis¶, and hir fyngris token the spyndil. Sche openyde²⁰ hir hond to a^b nedi man, and stretchide forth hir hondis to a pore man. Sche²¹ schal not drede for hir hous of the cooldis of snow; for alle hir meyneals ben clothid with double clothis. Sche made to hir²² a ray cloth; bijs^c and purpur is the cloth of hir. Hir hosebonde is noble in the²³ 3atis, whanne he sittith with the senatours of erthe. Sche made lynnun^d cloth, and²⁴ selde^e; and 3af a girdil to a Chananei^{}. Strengthe and fairnesse is the^{ee} clothing of²⁵ hir; and sche schal leize in the laste dai. Sche openyde hir mouth to wisdom; and²⁶ the lawe of merci is in hir tunge. Sche²⁷ bihelde the pathis of hir hous; and sche eet not breed idili. Hir sones risiden^f,²⁸ and prechiden hir moost blessid; hir hosebonde roos, and preiside hir. Many²⁹ dou3tris gaderiden richessis; thou pass-

* Opene thi mouth, etc.; that is, allegge thou ríztfulness, for him that kan not plete in his cause. Live here. c.
 † that passen forth; that is, of straungeris goinge thorow the lond. Live here. c.
 ‡ deme thou a nedi man, etc.; that is, do thou executioun of ríztfulness, for nedi men and pore, that han a iust cause. Live here. c.
 § a strong womman; Cristen doctours expownen comynly this letre, til to the ende, of hooly chirche, which bi figuratif speche, is seid a strong womman; hir hosebonde is Crist, hir sones and dou3tris ben Cristen men and wymmen; and this is the literal vnderstanding, as thei seyen; and this expositioun is reasonable, and set opinly in the comyn glos. But Rabi Salomon seith, that bi a strong womman is vnderstandun hooli Scripture; the hosebonde of this womman, is a studiouse techere in hooly Scripture, bothe men and wymmen; for in Jeroms tyme summe wymmen weren ful studiouse in hooly Scripture. Live here. c.
 || 3af prey, etc.; in Ebreu it is, liyflode. Live here. c.
 ¶ to stronge thingis; in Ebreu it is, to the wherne; and the letre suynghe acordith wel herto.

Live here. c.  to a Cananey; Ebreys seyen, to a marchaunt; and this acordith more to the letre biforgoinge. Live here. c.

^u Om. A. ^v vttermoost AGH. ^w hond c. ^x deboner E pr. m. ^y she A. ^z clothide AGH.

^w he I. ^x robries I. ^y handmaidens I. ^z girdide I. ^a sau3 I passim. ^b the I. ^c bijs, ether whiyt silk CEFGHKMNPRUXYA. ^d a lynnun c. ^e solde it I. ^{ee} in the E. ^f risen E. resen up I.

eden; and the man of hir preiside hir.
 29 Res. Manie doztris gedereden riches; and 30 thou ouerpassedist alle. Syn. Desceyuable grace and veyn is fairnesse; the womman dredende the Lord, she shal be 31 preisid. Thau. 3iue^h to hir of the frut of hir hondis; and preisen hir in the 3ates hir werkis.

idist^s alle. Fairnesse is disseiuable grace,³⁰ and veyn; thilke womman, that dredith the Lord, schal be preisid. 3yue 3e to³¹ hir of the fruyt^h of hir hondis; and hir werkis preise hir in the 3atis.

Here endith the book of Prouerbis, and here bigynneth Ecclesiastes¹.

^s hast ouer passid i. ^h frutis e. ⁱ From CHNSX. Here enden Prouerbis, and here bygynneth Ecclesiastes. F. Here endith the book of Prouerbis, and bigynneth a prolog on Ecclesiastes. G. Heere endith the book of Prouerbis, and biginnith Ecclesiastes. IQ. Here eendeth the booc of Prouerbis; se now the prolog in the booc of Ecclesiastes, that is to seie, booc of talkere to the puple, or togidere calle[re]. K. Here endith the book of Prouerbis, and here bigynneth the book of Ecclesiastes, that tretith also of wisdom and prudence, and nedith noon other prologe. M. Here endith the Prouerbis, and here bigynneth Ecclesiastes. V. Here eendith the Parablis, and bigynneth the prolog on Ecclesiastes. A. No final rubric in AEPHY.

ECCLESIASTES.

Heere gynneth^a the prologe in the boc of Ecclesiastes, that is to sey, boc^b of talker to the puple, or togidere clepere.

THIS almost the fiftē ȝeer, whan ȝit I was at Rome, that Ecclesiasten I shulde reden to Seint Blesill, that hir I shulde stire to the^c dispising of thes^d world, and that she shulde sett al that in the world she beholdith^e, to ben for noȝt, I^{ee} haue mynde, me preȝid of^f hir, that in to^g maner of a^h short exposicioun alle the hard thingus I shulde clerli expoune, that, withoute me, she myȝte vnderstonde thatⁱ she radde; and so for^j in the firste greithing of oure werch, she withdrawn with sodeyn deth, and^k, O! Paule and Eustoche, wee deserueden not to^l ha^m such a felawe of oure lif, and with so myche wounde smyten, thanne I becam dounb. Now in Bethlem set, that is, inⁿ a streitere^o cite, I ȝeelde that I owe and to the mynde of hir and to ȝou; this shortli doende to witen, that the autorite of no man I folewede, but translatende^p fro Ebru most I confoormede me to the custum of the Seuenti Remenoures, in these thingus onli that not myche fro Ebrues^q they discordeden^r. Otherwhile also I recordid of Aquile, also and of Simake, and of Theodocian^s, that I shulde not feren^t the studi of the redere with to myche newenesse, ne, on^u the other^v side, the welle of treuthe left, aȝen my concience I shulde togidere folewen the stremes of opinyouns.

Here endeth the prolog of Ecclesiastes; se now the booc^w.

^a begynneth AEGH. ^b the book A. ^c Om. C. ^d the C pr. m. ^e behalt C pr. m. ^{ee} and I L. ^f for ILR. ^g two L. ^h Om. LR. ⁱ that that I. ^j fro L. ^k Om. I. ^l Om. A. ^m han AEGH. haue ILR. ⁿ Om. I. ^o streit I. ^p ful translatynge R. ^q Ebrew A. ^r discorden I. ^s Theodosi L. ^t seete L. ^u in R. ^v tother AGHILR. ^w From I. Here eendith the prolog, and biginneth the firste chapitre. L. Heere eendith the prolog, and bigynneth Ecclesiastes. R. No final rubric in the other Mss.

Heer gynneth the booc^a.

CAP. I.

1 The wrdis of Ecclesiastes, sone of 2 David, king of Jerusalem. Vanite of vanites, seide Ecclesiastes; vanite of va-3 nytes, and alle thingus vanyte. What hath a man more ouer of^b al his trauale, that he trauaileth vnder the sunne?
 4 Jeneracioun goth, and ieneracioun cometh; the erthe forsothe in to with oute ende 5 stant^c. The sunne risith vp, and goth doun, and to his place turneth azen; 6 and there azen risende goth aboute bi the south, and turneth azen to the north.
 Enuyrounende alle thingus the spirit in cumpas passeth, and in to his cercles 7 turneth azen. Alle flodis entren in to the se, and the se redoundith not; to the place whennes the flodis wenten out, thei turnen azen, that eft thei flowen 8 out. Alle thingus harde, and a man mai not them tellen out pleyntli with wrd;
 the eze is not fild with sizte, ne fulfid is 9 the ere with heering. What is that was, it that is to come? What is that is 10 mad, it that is to be maad? No thing vnder the sunne newe, ne any man mai seyn, Lo! this is fresh newe; now for-sothe it wente befor in worldis, the 11 whiche weren befor vs. Ther is not mynde of the rathere thingus, but and of tho thingis forsothe, that ben aftir to come, shal not ben recording anent^d hem 12 that be to come in the laste time. I Ecclesiastes was king of Irael in Jerusa-13 lem; and I purposide in myn inwit to seche and enserchen wisli of alle thingus, that ben mad vnder sunne^e. This werste ocupacioun 3aff God to the sonus of men,

Here bigynneth Ecclesiastes^a.

CAP. I.

The wordis* of Ecclesiastes†, sone of 1 David, the^b kyng of Jerusalem. The^{bb} 2 vanyte‡ of vanytees, seide Ecclesiastes;
 the^b vanyte of vanytees, and alle thingis 3 ben vanite. What hath a man more of alle 3 his trauel, bi which he traueilith vnder the^c sunne? Generacioun^d passith awei, 4 and^e generacioun cometh; but the erthe stondith with outen ende. The sunne 5 risith, and goith doun, and turneth azen to his place; and there it risith azen, and 6 cumpassith bi the south, and turneth azen to the north. The spirit§ cumpassyng alle thingis goith in cumpas^f, and turneth azen in to hise cerclis. Alle floodis entren 7 in to the see, and the see fletith not ouer the markis set of God; the floodis turnen azen to the place fro whennus tho^g comen forth, that tho^h floweⁱ eft. Alle thingis 8 ben hard||; a man may not declare tho thingis bi word; the i3e is not fillid bi sizt, nether the eere is fillid bi hering.
 What is that thing that was¶, that that 9 schal come? What is that thing that is maad, that that schal be maad? No thing 10 vndir the sunne is newe, nether ony man may seie, Lo! this thing is newe; for now it 3ede bifore in worldis, that weren bifore vs. Mynde of the formere thingis is not, 11 but sotheli nether thenkyng of tho thingis, that schulen come afterward, schal be at hem that schulen come in the last tyme.
 I Ecclesiastes was king of Israel in Jeru- 12 salem; and Y purposide in my soule to 13 seke and enserche wiseli of alle thingis, that ben maad vnder the sunne. God 3af this werste ocupacioun to the sonus of

* The wordis : for many men erriden in the mater of blis of man, and summen seiden, that mannus blis stondith in richessis, othere men seiden in delices, othere men seiden in onours, and so of many othere goodis, that moun be getun in present tyme bi mannus trauel; therfor Salomon schewith in this book, that mannus blis stondith not in sicke goodis, but in God, which is good with outen ende; and in i. c. he preueth that mannus blis stondith not in kunnyng, for kunnyng getun bi mannus weye is vnprofit and diseseul, and quyeth not a mannus desir.
 Live here. c. † of Ecclesiastes; that is, of Salomon, for Ecclesiastes is seid a spekere to the puple.
 Live here. c. ‡ The vanyte, etc.; that is, the moste vanyte. and alle; thingis in whiche false men setten blis.
 ben vanyte; that is, ful veyne. vnder the sunne; that is, in present liyf; as if he seye, ech man may preue bi experience, that he getith not of his trauels no but vinstable good and able to be lost, nameli, bi deth, which he may not ascape.
 Live here. c. || ben harde; to be vnderstondun. Live here. c. ¶ that was; bothe in thingis and in opynyons of men. schal come; thou3 in the meene tyme it ceessith and is forjetun. Live here. c.  this werste ocupacioun; in Ebreu it is yuel ocupacioun; for thou3 kunnyng getun bi mannus weye is good in it silf, nethes it is yuel, in as myche as it hath trauel and turment of studie knyhterto, and for sumtyme it is a letting of more good, that is, of deuocioun and of preyer. Live here. c.

§ The spirit, etc.; that is, the sunne; not for it hath a soule, but for it causith liyf in these lowere thingis. Live here. c. || ben harde; to be vnderstondun. Live here. c. ¶ that was; bothe in thingis and in opynyons of men. schal come; thou3 in the meene tyme it ceessith and is forjetun. Live here. c.  this werste ocupacioun; in Ebreu it is yuel ocupacioun; for thou3 kunnyng getun bi mannus weye is good in it silf, nethes it is yuel, in as myche as it hath trauel and turment of studie knyhterto, and for sumtyme it is a letting of more good, that is, of deuocioun and of preyer. Live here. c.

^a Ecclesiastes. A. Heer begynneth the book. E. No initial rubric in GH. ^b Om. AGH. ^c stondith AH.
^d anentis E passim. ^e the sunne AEGH.

^a From AG. Here biginneth the bok of Ecclesiastes. EPY. No initial rubric in the other Mss. ^b Om. I.
^{bb} Om. I. ^c Om. plures. ^d A generacioun I. ^e an oother I. ^f aboute I. ^g thei I. ^h thei I. ⁱ flowe out c.

14 that thei schulden ben ocupied in it. I saz alle thingus that ben mad vnder the sunne, and, lo! alle thingus vanite and 15 tormenting of spirit. Peruertid men of hard ben amendid; and withoute ende 16 is the noumbre of foolis. I spac in myn herte, seiende, Lo! gret I am mad, and I wente befor alle in wisdam, that weren befor me in Jerusalem; and my mynde beheeld manye thingus wisli, and I lern-17 ede. And I 3af myn herte, that I knewe prudence and doctrine, and errouris and folie. And I knew^e that in these thingis also was trauaile and tormenting of spi-18 rit; for thi that in myche wisdam is myche indignacioun, and that addith kunnyng, addeth and trauaile.

CAP. II.

1 I seide in myn herte, I shal go, and flowe^f delices^g, and I shal take the frutis in^h goodis; and I saz also that that was 2 vanyte. And la3hing I heeld errour, and to io3e I seide, Wherto in veyn thou art 3 bigilid? I tho3te in myn herte to with-drawe fro wyn my flesh, and myn inwit to bern ouer to wisdam, and that I schulde eschewe folie, to the tyme that I schulde seen, what were profitable to the sonus of men; the whiche thing don, nede is to ther lif in the noumbre of dajes vnder 4 the sunne. I magniefiede my werkis, I bilde to me houses, and plauntide vynes; 5 I made gardynes and appil gardynes, and I plauntide them with the trees of 6 alle kinde; and I made out to me cys-ternesⁱ of watris, that I schulde watren 7 the wode of the buriounynge tres. I weldide seruauuns and hand wymmen,^j and myche^k meyne I hadde; droues^l also,
and grete flockis of sheep, ouer alle men 8 that weren befor me in Jerusalem. I hepede to me siluer and gold, and substaunces of kingus and of prouynces; I made to me singeris and singeresses, and the delices of sonus of men, cuppis and men, that thei schulden be ocupied therynne. I si3 alle thingis that ben maad 14 vndur the sunne, and lo! alle thingis ben vanyte and turment of spirit. Weiward 15 men ben amendid^k of hard; and the noum-bre of foolis is greet with outen ende. I 16 spak in myn herte, and Y seide, Lo! Y am made greet, and Y passide in wisdom alle men, that weren bfore me in Jerusalem; and my soule si3 many thingis wiseli, and Y lernede. And Y 3af myn herte, that 17 Y schulde knowe prudence* and doctryn, and errours and foli. And Y knew that in these thingis also was trauel and turment of spirit; for in myche wisdom† is myche 18 indignacioun, and he that encessith kunnyng, encreessith also trauel‡.

* that Y schulde knowe prudence; that rulith wel in mannus thingis
worthi to be doon. and doc-
tryn; that is,
the vertu of Goddis lawe.
and errours;
aboute dyuyn
thingis. and
folly; aboute
mannus thingis,
to eschewe and impyngne sicke errours and foli. Lire here.

† in myche wisdom; of man.
is myche indignacioun; for sicke kunnyng bolnyth with pride, and a proud man is lytli stirid to indignacioun.
Lire here. c.
‡ also trauel;
for men that han dedeyn
and ben vnpaciant, feelen
many angwischis with ynne hem silf.
Lire here. c.
§ Y seide in myn herte; in
ii. c°. Salomon schewith, that mannus blis is not in delices of bodi. Lire
here. c.

CAP. II.

Therfor Y seide in myn herte§, Y schal go, and Y schal flowe in delices, and Y schal vse goodis; and Y si3 also that this was vanyte. And leizyng Y arrettide er-2 rour, and Y seide to io3e, What^l art thou disseyued in veyn? I thou3te in myn 3 herte to withdrawe my fleisch fro wyn, that Y schulde lede ouer my soule to wisdom, and that Y schulde^m eschewe foli, til Y schulde se, what were profitable to the sones of men; in which dede the noumbre of daies of herⁿ lijf vndur the sunne is nedeful. Y magniefiede^o my werkis, Y bild-4 ide housis to me, and Y plauntide vynes; Y made 3erdis and orcherdis, and Y set-5 tide^p tho^q with the^r trees of al kynde; and 6 Y made cisternes of watris, for to watre thè wode of trees growynge. I hadde in 7 possessioun seruauantis and handmaidis^s; and Y hadde myche meynee, and droues of grete beestis, and grete flockis of scheep, ouer alle men that weren bfore me in Jerusalem. Y gaderide togidere to me sil-8 uer and gold, and the castels of kingis and of prouyncis; Y made to me syngeris and syngeressist, and delices of the sonus of men, and cuppis and vessels in seruyce,

^e kne3 c. ^f folewe A. ^g with delices AEGH. ^h of AG pr. m. H. ⁱ fishpondis c pr. m. E pr. m. ^k mychel E.

^k mendid I. ^l Wherto I. ^m wolde I. ⁿ Om. c. ^o magniefiede, ether made greet c et plures.
^p sette I. ^q hem N. ^r Om. CI. ^s handmaidens IR. ^t syngsters I.

pottis in seruise, to wynes to ben held; 9 and I passede in riches alle, that before me weren in Jerusalem. Wisdam 10 also abod stille with me, and alle thingus that desireden myn eȝen, I denyede not to them; ne I forfendide^l myn herte, but that of alle voluptuouse he shulde take frut, and al delicen hym self in these thingus that I hadde greithid; and this I alouwide my part, for I shulde vsen 11 my trauaile. And whan me I hadde turned to alle the werkis that myn hondis hadden don, and to the^m trauailes in whiche in veyn I hadde swat, I saȝ in alle thingus vanyte and tormenting of inwit, and no thing to dwelle stille vnder 12 the sunne. I passede, and to ben beholden wisdam, and erroures, and folie; what is forsothe a man, that he mowe 13 folewen the king, his makere? And I saȝ, that so myche wisdam wente befor folie, hou myche liȝt is in difference fro 14 derknesses. Of the wise man the eȝen in his hed, the fool goth in derknesses; and I lernede, that o diyng was of euer 15 either. And I seide in myn herte, If oon and of the fool and my diyng shal be, what to me profiteth, that more bisynesse I ȝaf to wisdam? And spoken with my mynde, I toc heed, that that also was 16 vanyte. Forsothe ther shal not be the^{mm} mynde of the wise man, lic maner as of the fool in to withoute ende, and the times to come with forȝeting alle thingus shul couere togidere; the taȝt man dieth 17 also and the vntaȝt. And therefore it noȝede me of my lif, seende alle euelis to ben vnder the sunne, and alle thingus va-18 nytesⁿ and tormenting of spirit. Eft I wlatede alle my bisynesse, that vnder the sunne most studiousli I trauailede, to han^o 19 an eir after me, whom I knowe^p not, whether wis or fool he be to ben; and shal lordshipen in my trauailes, in the whiche to helde out wynes; and Y passide in richess alle men, that weren bifor me in Jerusalem. Also wisdom dwellide* stabli with me, and alle thingis whiche^u myn¹⁰ iȝen desiriden, Y denyede not to hem; nether Y refreynede myn herte, that ne it vside al lust, and delitide it silf in these thingis whiche I hadde maad redi; and Y demyde this my part[†], if Y vside my trauel. And whanne Y hadde turned me¹¹ to alle werkis^v whiche myn hondys hadden maad, and to the trauels in whiche Y hadde swet^w in veyn, Y siȝ in alle thingis vanyte and turment of the^x soule, and that no thing vndir sunne dwellith stabli.

 I passide^v to biholde wisdom[†], erroours^z,¹² and foli; Y seide, What is a man, that he may sue the king, his maker? And Y siȝ,¹³ that wisdom ȝede so mych bifor foli, as miche as liȝt is dyuerse fro derknessis.
 The iȝen of a wijs man ben in his heed^ȝ,¹⁴
 a fool goith in derknessis^{||}; and Y lernede, that o perisching was of euer either. And¹⁵ Y seide in myn herte, If o deth schal be bothe of the fool and of me, what pro-fitith it to me, that Y ȝaf more bisynesse to wisdom? And Y spak with my soule, and perseyuede, that this also was vanyte.
 For mynde^a of a wijs man schal not be, in¹⁶ lijk maner as nether of a fool with outen ende, and tymes to comynge schulen hile alle thingis togidere with forȝetyng; a lerned man dieth in lijk maner and^b an vnlearned man. And therfor it anoiede me¹⁷ of my lijf, seyng that alle thingis vndir sunne ben yuele, and that alle thingis ben vanyte and turment of the spirit. Eft¹⁸ Y curside al my bisynesse, bi which Y trauelide moost studiousli vndir sunne, and Y schal haue an eir after me, whom¹⁹ Y knowe^{bb} not, whether he schal be wijs ether a fool; and he schal be lord in my trauels, for whiche^c Y swatte greetli, and was bisi; and is^d only thing so veyn?

* wisdom dwell-ide, etc.; til that he was disseyued bi wymmen. Lire
here. c.
 † and Y de-nyde this my part; that is,
 lustful liyf.
 my part; that is, blis; for he was disseyued
 by wymmen,
 and felde in to this errour.
Lire here. c.
 † Y passide to biholde wisdom;
 that is, Y bihelde that tra-
 uel is aboute
 the geting of kunnyng, and most in dyuyn thingis, which is seid wisdom properly. Of this place and othere liyk,
 sum men seyen,
 that Salomon
 dide penaunce
 in the ende;
 but it semeth
 that this penaunce was not sufficient and perfit, for he distriede not the idols whiche he hadde maad,
 as Y seide fulliere in xxx. c.
 of Prouerbis.
 what is a man,
 etc.; that is, of what vertu,
 that he may ateyne to God
 bi the knowing
 of creaturis.
 Salomon spekith ofte in this book, in the persone of
 othere men,
 not oneli that seyen truthe,
 but also that erren, that the truthe appere
 more bi contraries leid togidere. Lire
here. c.
 § ben in his heed; that is,
 in the hizere
 part of soule
 that ȝyueth tent to contemplacioun of dyuyn thingis.
Lire here. c.
 || in derknessis; for he thenkith
 and of the fool.

erthely thingis aloone and sensible, whiche comparisound to God ben derknessis. was of euer either; that is, of the wise man and of the fool. Salomon seith this in the persone of hem that denyeden vnedlynnesse of mannus soule. ben yuel; that is, defaultif. and turment of the spirit; Salomon asoilith not here this obieccioun maad aȝenus the truthe, for obieccioun takith opinli fals, and for a wijs man and iust schal haue moede, and a fool schal haue payne with outen ende. Lire here. c.

^l forfendide not E pr. m. ^m Om. A. ^{mm} Om. C pr. m. ⁿ vanyte AGH. ^o haunge E pr. m. ^p knewe AGH.

^u that I. ^v the werkis I. ^w swat I. ^x Om. I. ^y passide forth I. ^z and erroours A sec. m. ^a the mynde I. ^b as I. ^{bb} knew E. ^c the whiche I. ^d is ther I.

I haue myche swat, and ben bisy; and 20 alle thing^p is so^a veyn. Wherfore I cesede, and myn herte forsoc more to trauailen 21 vnder the sunne. For whan an other shal trauailen in wisdom, and doctrine, and besynesse, and to an idil man the purchasid thingus lefeth; and that thanne 22 vanyte^r, and gret euel. What forsothe shal profite to a man of al his trauaile, and of the tormenting of spirit, that vnder 23 the sunne he is tormentid? Alle the dazes of hym of sorewes and myseyse^s ben ful, and bi the nyzt in mynde he resteth not; and whether is not that vanyte?
 24 Whether is it^t not betere to eten and drinke^u, and to shewe to his lif the goodis of his trauailes? and that is of the hond 25 of God. Who shal so^v deuouren, and de-26 licis flowen, as I? To a good man in his sizte God 3af wisdom, and kunnyng, and vnderstanding; to the synnere forsothe he 3af tormenting, and wast bisynesse, that he adde, and gedere togidere, and take to hym that shal plesen to God; but and this vanite, and wast^w besynesse of mynde.

CAP. III.

1 Alle thingus han time, and in ther spaces passen alle thingus vnder the 2 sunne. Time of hauyng birthe, and time of diyng; time of plaunting, and time of 3 pulling vp that is plauntid. Time of sleying, and time of heling; time of de-4 stroying, and time of bilding. Time of weping, and time of lashing; time of 5 weiling, and time of leping. Time of sprenging abrod stones, and time of gadering togidere; time of clipping, and time to ben maad aferr fro clippingus.
 6 Time of purchasing, and time of leeing;
 time of keping, and time of casting awei.

is wont to be desirid of men, ontakun feweste men and ful perfit, as Poul desiride to be deed, and to be with Crist. Live here. c. aduersaries of rixtfulnesse ether of comynalte. Live here. c. †† tyme to colle; that is, to 3yue tent to generacioun, in 3ong age of hem that ben weddid. tyme to be fer; that is, in eelde, whanne the vertu of gendring failith, and whanne comyn turment is of the puple; therfor men and beestis weren chast in the arke in the grete flood of Noe, as Ebreys seyen. Live here. c.

^p thingus c. ^a also A. ^r gret vanyte E pr. m. ^s of miseyse c pr. m. ^t Om. AG pr. m. H. ^u to drinke E. ^v thanne A. ^w brosed E pr. m.

^e with I. ^f be I. ^g trauel s. ^h in M. Om. E et plures. ⁱ haue I. ^k colle ether biclippe c et plures. colle eithir to-clippe a. ^l gete I.

VOL. III.

I

Wherfor Y ceesside, and myn herte for-20 sook for to trauele ferthere vnder sunne.
 For whi whanne another man trauelith in 21 wisdom, and techyng, and bisynesse, he leeueth thingis getun to an idel man; and therfor this is vanyte, and greet yuel. For 22 whi what schal it profite to a man of al his trauel, and turment of spirit, bi^e which he was turmentid vndur sunne? Alle hise 23 daies ben ful of sorewis and mescheys, and bi nyzt he restith not in soule; and whether this is^f not vanyte*? Whether 24 it is not betere to ete and drynke†, and to schewe to hise soule goodis of hise trauels? and this thing is of^h the hond of God. Who schal deuoure so, and schal 25 flowe in delicis‡, as Y dideⁱ? God 3af 26 wisdom, and kunnyng, and gladnesse§ to a good man in his sizt; but he 3af turment, and superflu bisynesse to a synnere, that he encreesse, and gadere togidere, and 3yue to hym that plesith God||; but also this is vanyte, and veyn bisynesse of soule.

CAP. III.

Alle thingis han tyme¶, and alle thingis vndur sunne passen bi her spaces. Tyme 2 of birthe, and time of diyng; tyme to plaunte, and tyme to drawe vp that that is plauntid. Tyme to sle, and tyme to 3 make hool; tyme to distrie, and tyme to bilde. Tyme to wepe, and tyme to lei3e; 4 tyme to biweile, and tyme to daunse.
 Tyme to scatere stoonys, and tyme to 5 gadere togidere; tyme to colle^k††, and tyme to be fer fro collyngis. Tyme to 6 wynne^l, and tyme to leese; tyme to kepe, and tyme to caste awei. Tyme to kitte, 7 and tyme to sewe togidere; tyme to be

* vanyte; that is, veyn trauel, and with out fruyt, as if he sele, 3is. Live here. c.
 † to ete and drynke; that is, to lyue couenabli bi thingis getun. goodis of hise trauels; in spendinge a part of the goodis in the werkis of pitee and of liberalite. and this is of the hond of God; that is, good grauntid of God, and is not so greet good, that it is man- nus blis. Live here. c.
 ‡ in delicis, etc.; that is, wyymmen, as if he seide, no man. Live here. c.
 § and glad- nesse; that is, glad liyf in vsinge wel temporal goodis. Live here. c.
 || and 3yue to him that plesith God; not that he 3yueh wil- fully to goode men; but for whanne he is deed, sicke goodis ben 3ouun to goode men ful ofte, as whanne Na- bal was deed, hise goodis camen to Da- uyth, in III. book of Kingis, xxv. c. but also this; that is, bisynesse in sich gadering of goodis, whiche goodis the getere vsith not, but ben 3ouun to othere men. Live here. c.
 ¶ han tyme; in iii. c. Salo- mon remoneth long liyf fro mannis blis, which long liyf  Tyme to sle;

7 Time of kutting, and time of souwing togidere; time of holding pes, and time of 8 speking. Time of loouing, and time of hate; time of bataile, and time of pes.
 9 What hath a man more of his trauaile?
 10 I saȝ the affliccioun, that God ȝaf to the sonus of men, that thei be tormentid in it.
 11 Alle thingus he made goode in ther time, and the world he toc to^x the^y disputisoun^z of them, that a man finde not the were that God wroȝte fro the bigynnyng to 12 the ende. And I kneȝ that ther was not^a betere, but to gladen, and to do good 13 in ther lif. Eche man forsothe that etith and drinketh, and seeth good of his 14 trauaile; that the ȝifte of God is. I lernede that alle werkis, that God made, dwellen stille in to with oute ende; wee moun not to them any thing adden, or taken awei, that God made, that he be 15 drad. That is maad, it dwellith stille; that ben to come, now weren; and God 16 restoreth that, that ȝide awei. I saȝ vnder sunne^b in the^c place of dom vnpitousnesse; and in the^d place of riȝtwis-17 nesse wickidnesse. And I seide in myn herte, The riȝtwise and the vnpitouse the Lord shal demen; and tyme of alle thing 18 thanne shal be. I seide in myn herte of the sonus of men, that God shulde prouen hem, and shewen to ben lic to bestis.
 19 Therefore oon is the diyng of men and of bestis, and euene the condicioun of euere either; as a man dieth, so and tho dien; lic maner brethen alle thingus, and no thing hath a man more than a beste.
 20 Alle thingus vnderlin to vanyte, and alle thingus gon to o^e place; of erthe thei ben maad, and in to erthe togidere thei 21 turnen aȝeen. Who kneȝ, if the spirit^f of the sonus of Adam steȝe vp aboue, and stille, and tyme to speke. Tyme of^m loue, 8 and tyme of hatredé; tyme of batel, and tyme of pees. What hath a man more* 9 of his trauel? I siȝ the turment, which 10 God ȝaf to the sonus of men, that thei be occupied therynne. God made alle thingis 11 good in her tyme†, and ȝaf the world to disputyng of hem, that a man fynde not the werk whichⁿ God hath wrouȝt fro the bigynnyng 'til in to^o the ende. And Y 12 knew that no thing was betere 'to a man^p, 'no but^q to be glad, and to do good werkis in his lijf‡. For whi ech man that etith 13 and drinkith, and seeth good of his trauel; this is the ȝifte of God. I haue lerned 14 that alle werkis^r, whiche^s God made, lasten stidfastli 'til in to^t with outen ende; we moun not addeȝ any thing to tho^u, nether take awei fro tho thingis, whiche God made, that he be dred. That thing that 15 is maad, dwellith perfitli; tho thingis that schulen come, weren bifore; and God restorith that, that is goon. I siȝ vndur 16 sunne|| vnfeithfulnesse in the place of doom; and wickidnesse in the place of riȝtfulnesse. And Y seide in myn herte, 17

 The Lord schal deme a iust man, and an vnfeithful man; and the tyme of ech thing schal be thanne. I seide in myn 18 herte of the sonus^v of men, that God schulde preue hem, and schewe that thei ben lijk vnresonable^v beestis. Therfor oon 19 is the perisching of man and of beestis, and euene condicioun is of euer eithir; as a man dieth, 'so and tho^w beestis dien; alle beestis^x brethen in lijk maner, and a man hath no thing more than a beeste. Alle 20 thingis ben suget to vanyte, and alle thingis goen to^y o place; tho ben maad of erthe, and tho turnen aȝen togidere in to erthe. Who knowith, if the spirit of 21

* What hath a man more; no but vnerteinte of kunnyng. of his trauel; in long bisynesse of studie; as if he seye, litil ether nouȝt; for thouȝ men lyuen neuere so longe, they atteynen not to perfit know-inge, ȝhe, of the leeste thing. Y siȝ the turment; in occupacioun of studie. which God ȝaf to the sonus of men; in as myche as he ȝaf to hem vnderstanding, to enquire sicke thingis. Lire here. c. † God made alle thingis goode in her tyme; that is, of creacioun. of hem; that is, of men. fynde not, etc.; in knowyng that werk parfitly, thouȝ he schulde lyue bi ful long tyme. Lire here. c. ‡ in his lijf; that is, to lyue couenabli and vertuously, bi the cours of kynde, so that he be apayed with the terme of lijf, which the kynde ȝaf to him. etith and drynkith; in lyuyng onestly and with out superflu bisynesse. good of his trauel; in ȝuyng the thingis that he gat, in party liberaly, in party mercifully. ȝifte of God; that is, good in present tyme. Lire here. c. § we moun not adde, etc.; therfor we owen to be apayed with the terme of oure lijf, and to be not bisi of encreessing bi the lengthe of lijf. Lire here. c. || Y siȝ vndur sunne, etc.; that is, in the dwellinge place of men. vnfeithfulnesse in the place, etc.; that is, where riȝtful doom was wont to be ȝouun, is ȝouun wickid doom. Lire here. c. ¶ Y seide in myn herte of the sonus, etc.; Salomon spekith this in the persoon of vnfeithful men, that denyen lijf to comyn in blis ether payne aftir deth. Lire here. c.

^x in to AGH. ^y Om. A. ^z disposicioun E. ^a no AEGH. ^b the sunne G sec. m. ^c Om. AGH.
^d Om. GH. ^e oon E passim. ^f spiritis AGH.

^m to I. ⁿ that I. ^o vnto I. ^p Om. I. to man N. ^q than I. ^r the werkis I. ^s that I. ^t vn to I.
^u tho werkis I. ^v Om. I. ^w riȝt so I. ^x tho I. ^y til N.

if the spirit of bestis go doun bynethe?
 22 And I parceyuede no thing to ben betere, than a man to gladen in his werc, and that to ben the part of hym; who for-sothe hym shal leden to, that aftir hym he knowe thingis to come?

CAP. IV.

1 I turnede me to othere thingus, and I saȝ chalenges, that vnder the sunne ben don, and the teres of innocens, and no man coumfortende; ne to moun^h with-stonde the violence of them, benomen the 2 helpe of alle. And I preisede more the 3 deade than the liuende; and I demede hym welsumere than either, that ȝit is not born, ne saȝ the euelis that ben don 4 vnder the sunne. Eft I beheeld alle the trauailis of men, and the besynesses I tooc heed to ben opened to the enuye of 5 neȝbore^l; and in that thanne vanyte, and wast besynesse is. The fool foldeth togidere his hondis, and eteth his^k flesh, 6 seiende, Betere is a litil handful with reste, than ful either hond with trauaile 7 and tormenting of inwit. Beholdende I founde and an other vanyte vnder the 8 sunne; oon is, and the secunde hath not; nouthur sone, ne brother; and ner the latere to trauailen he ceseth not, and ner the latere his eȝen ben not fild with riches; ne he thenketh aȝeen, seiende, To whom trauaile I, and begile my soule of goodis? In^l that also ys 9 vanyte, and werst tormenting. Betere is that two^m ben togidere than oon; forsothe thei han auantage of ther fela-10 shipe. If oon shul fallen, of the tother he shal ben holden vp; wo to the alone, for whan he shal fallen, he hath not a 11 man rerende hym vp. If two shul slepe, thei shul ben nurshid togidere; oon, what the sones of Adam stieth vpward, and if^z the spirit of beestis goith^a downward?

 And Y perseyuede that no thing is betere, 22 than that a man be glad in his werk^{*}, and that this be his part; for who schal brynge hym, that he knowe thingis that schulen come after hym?

CAP. IV.

I turnede me to othere thingis, and Y siȝ fals chalengis, that ben don vnder the sunne[†], and the teris of innocentis^b, and no man coumfortour; and that thei forsakun^c of the help of alle men, moun not aȝenstonde the violence of hem. And Y² preiside more deed men than lyuynge men; and Y demyde hym, that was not³ borun ȝit, and siȝ^d not the yuels that ben don vnder the sunne, to be blisfulere^e than euer eithir[†]. Eft Y bihelde alle the tra-4 uelis of men, and bisynesses; and Y per-seyuede that tho ben opyn to the^f enuye of neȝbore^g; and therfor in this is va-nyte, and superflu bisynesse. A fool fold-5 ith togidere hise hondis, and etith hise fleischis^h, and seith, Betere is an handful⁶ with reste, than euer either hondful with trauel and turment of soule. I bihelde⁷ and foond also another vanytee || vnder theⁱ sunne; oon is^k, and he hath not a⁸ secunde; not^l a sone, not^m a brother;
 and netheles he ceesith not forⁿ to trauele, nether hise iȝen ben fillid with^o riches; nether he bithenkith^p, and seith, To whom trauele Y, and disseyue my soule in goodis?
 In this also is vanyte, and the^q worste^r turment. Therfor it is betere, that tweyne^s be togidere than oon; for thei han profite of her felouschipe. If oon fallith doun, he¹⁰ schal be vnder set of the tothere^t; wo to hym that is aloone[¶], for whanne he fallith, he hath noon reisyng^u him^v. And if¹¹ tweyne slepen^w, thei schulen be nurschid

* in his werk;
 that is, in ver-
 tuous werks.
 Live here. c.
 † that ben doon vnder the sunne; in iiii.
 c. he preueth
 that mannis
 blis stonidith not in lordschip, for it hath myche disese and tra-
 uel and perel of synne. Live
 here. c.

‡ than euer eithir; that is,
 lesse wrecchid
 than an yuel
 man deed, and an yuel man lyuynge; for he that is deed borun and dieth in original synne
 onely, hath no peyne of feeling, but he hath more de-
 litable liyf,
 than he myȝte
 haue in present
 liyf, as alle
 doctours seyen,
 that speken of hem that dien in original
 synne onely.
 Live here. c.

§ etith hise fleischis; for whi for he eschewith trauel, he hath litil to ete, and so hise fleischis
 ben maad thynne. Live
 here. c.

|| an other vanyte, etc.; that is, the wrecchid-nesse of an auarouse man.
 hath not a se-cunde; for he fleeth to haue meyne and frenschipe with any man, lest it bihoueth him
 spende sum-
 thing, and netheles he cees-
 sith not to gete catel, with greet turment
 of bodi and of soule. that tweyne be to gidere; that is,
 that many men
 be ioyned togidere in fren-

schip and felouschipe. Live here. c.

¶ wo to him that is aloone; that is, hath not felouschipe and frenschip with any man. Live here. c.

§ comynge AGH. ^h now E passim. ⁱ the neȝbour A. ^k Om. AGH. ^l And c. ^m thanne two to c.

^z Om. c. ^a goon s. ^b the giltles I. ^c destitut, ether forsakun c et plures. destitute, or failinge I.
^d Y siȝ CMÇ. ^e more blessid I. ^f Om. I. ^g the neȝbore I. ^h fleische I. ⁱ Om. IN pr. m. ^k ther is I.
^l nether I. ^m ne I. ⁿ Om. I. ^o of I. ^p bithenkith him I. ^q Om. I. ^r ful yuel I. ^s two I. ^t that oother I. ^u to reise I. ^v him up I. ^w slepen to gidre I.

12 maner shal he be maad hot? If any man haue the ouere hond azen oon, two^m withstonden to hym; a thre fold corde hard 13 is to-broken. Betere is a child pore and wis than a king old and fool, that can-14 not seen befor in to aftir. That and fro prisoun and cheynes otherwhile sum man goth out to a reume; and an other born into a reume with myseise is wastid.
15 I sa; alle liuende men that gon vnder the sunne, with the zunge ful waxynge the 16 secunde, that shal rise for hym. With oute ende is the noumbre of pupleⁿ, of alle that weren befor hym, and that aftir^o ben to comen, shul not gladen in hym; but and this vanyte and torment-17 ing of spirit. Kep thou thi foot, goende in to the hous of God, and nezhe that thou heere; forsothe myche betere is obeisaunce than victorie sacrifices^p of foolis, that wite not what thei don of euel.

CAP. V.

1 And speke thou not folili any thing, ne thin herte be swift to bringe forth a wrđ befor God; God forsothe in heuene, and thou vp^{pp} on erthe, and therefore fewe 2 be thi wrdis. Sweuenus folewen manye besynesses, and in manye wrdis shal ben 3 founde folie. If any thing thou haue^q vouwid to God, ne tarie thou to zelde; forsothe displesith to hym vnfeithful and fool beheste; but what euere thou auouw-4 ist, zeeld; and myche betere it is to^r not auouwen, than aftir the vow the bihestis 5 to not zelde. Ne ziue thou thi mouth, that thou make thi flesh to synnen; ne sey thou biforn the aungil, There is not purueying; lest paraenture the Lord, wroth vp on thi wrdis, scatere alle the 6 werkis of thin hondis. Wher many sweuenes ben, many vanytes, and wrdis togidere*; hou schal oon be maad hoot?

And if ony man hath maistri azens oon, 12 tweyne azen stonden hym; a threfolde corde is brokun of hard. A pore man 13 and wijs is betere than an eld kyng and fool, that kan not bifore se in to tyme to comynge. For sum tyme a man goith 14 out bothe fro prysoun and chaynes to a rewme; and anothir borun in to a rewme is wastid bi nedynesse. I si; alle men† 15 lyuynge that goen vndur the sunne, with the secunde zong wexynge man, that shal rise for hym. The noumbre of pu- 16 ple, of alle that weren bifore hym, is greet with outen mesure, and thei that schulen come aftirward, schulen not be glad in hym; but also this is vanyte and turment of the spirit. Thou that entrist in to the 17 hous of God, kepe thi foot†, and neize thou for to here; for whi myche betere is obedience^x than the sacrifices^y of foolis, that witen not what yuel thei don. Speke thou 1 not ony thing folily||, nether thin herte be swift to brynge forth a word bifore God; for^z God is in heuene, and thou art on erthe, therfor thi wordis be fewe.
Dremes suen many bisynessis, and foli 2 shal be foundun in many wordis. If thou 3 hast avowid ony thing to God, tarie thou not to zelde^a; for an vnfeithful and fonned biheest¶ displesith hym; but 'zelde thou^b what euer thing thou hast avowid^c; and 4 it is myche betere to make not a vowe, than aftir a vowe to zelde not biheestis^d.
Zyue thou not thi mouth, that thou make 5 thi fleisch to do synne; nether seie thou bifor an aungel, No puruyaunce is^e; lest perauenture the Lord be wrooth on^f thi wordis, and distruye alle the werkis of thin hondis. Where ben many dremes, 6 ben ful many vanytees, and wordis with out noumbre; but drede thou God. If 7

* nurschid togidere; herbi
in figuratif speche is vn-
durstondun
the reste of many men in o loue. hoot; in charite. a *thre
fold coorde*,
etc.; that is,
as myche as mo men and goode ben ioyned to gidere
in frenschipe, bi so myche the staot of hem is amendid. *Live
here. c.*

† Y si; alle men; that is,
many men.
with the se-
conde; that is,
the sone of the king that schal
regne aftir him.
Live here. c.

‡ kepe thi foot;
that is, go thou
not in boost-
fully nether proudly, as myzty men of this world, that ben enhaunsid
in her power,
ben wout to
do. neize thou;
to prestis and techeris of the lawe, for to here Goddis
heestis, to fille tho feithful in werk. *Live
here. c.*

§ betere is obedience; in the kepinge of Goddis heestis.
than the sacrifices of foolis;
that is, of brekeris of the lawe, that dreden not to breke Goddis heestis bi her power, and gessen to please hym bi of-fringis and sacrifices. *witen
not what yuel thei doen*; for bi this that thei ben proude,
they ben blynd-
id, and kun-
neu not knowe
the greuous-nesse of her synne. *Live
here. c.*

|| Speke thou not ony thing folili; of God ether of hise domes, in repreuyng the. Live here. c.
¶ vnfeithful, whanne aftir a vow maad in the tyme of nede, the purpos is chaungid anon whanne the nede ceessith; it is seid a fonned biheest, whanne it is of a thing vnleueful ether vndifferent, as if a man makith a vow, to reise a stre fro erthe, for this turneth not in ony thing to the onour of God, ethir if a vow is maad of a good thing, nethes impossible to him that makith a vow. Live here. c.
to gloteny. to do synne; bi the vice of lecherie. Live here. c.

¶ vnfeithful and fonned biheest; it is seid  thi mouth; in openyng it ouer myche

^m tweyne AEGH. ⁿ the puple A. ^o after hym A. ^p sacrifice C. ^{pp} Om. C pr. m. ^q hast AEGH. ^r Om. A.

^x the obedience M. ^y sacrifice A. ^z sothly I. ^a zelde it I. ^b Om. I. ^c auowid to God, zelde thou it I. ^d the biheestis I. ^e ther is I. ^f of I.

vnnoumbreable; thou forsothe dred God.
 7 If thou shalt seen wronge^r chalengis of nedi men, and violent domes, and ríztwisnesse to be turned vpso down in prouynce^s, wndre^t thou not vp on this nede; for than the hee³ an other is hezere, and vp on these othere also ben hezere stondsende; and ferthermore the king of al 9 erthe comaundith to the seruende. The auerouse shall not ben fulfid with monee; and that looueth richesses, frut shal not take of them; and this thanne vanyte.
 10 Wher ben many richesses, and manye that eten hem; and^u what profiteth to the weldere, but that he seeth the rich-11 esses with his e³en? Swete is slep to the werchere, whether lital or myche^v he ete; fulnesse forsothe of the riche man suf-12 frith hym not to slepen. Ther is and an other infirmyte werst, that I sa³ vndir the sunne; richesses kept in to euel^w of 13 his lord. Forsothe thei pershen in the werste tormenting; 'he gat^x a sone, that 14 in hezest nedynesse shal be. As he wente out nakid of the wombe of his moder, so he shal turne a³een; and no thing he shal take with hym of his trauaile.
 15 Wrecche^{ful} forsothe infirmyte; what maner he cam, so he shal turne a³een.
 What thanne profiteth to^v hym, that he 16 trauailede in to wind? Alle the dazes of his lif he eet in dercnesses, and in many besynesses, and in myseise, and sorewe.
 17 And so this to me is seen good, that a man ete, and drinke, and vse gladnesse of his trauaile, that he trauailede vnder the sunne, in noumbre of the dazes of his lif, 'the whiche^z God 3af to hym; and this 18 is his part. And to eche man, to whom God 3af richesses, and substaunce, and power he 3af to hym, that he ete of hem, and take the frut of his part, and glade of his trauaile; this is the 3ifte of God.
 19 Forsothe not 'a seeth^a he shal recorde of the dazes of his lif, ther thur³ that God ocupie in delicys his herte.

thou seest false chalengis of nedi men, and violent domes, and that ríztfulnesse is dis-tried in the prouynce, wondre thou not on this doynge; for another is hizere than an hiz man, and also othere men ben more hize aboue these men; and ferthermore^s the kyng of al erthe comaundith to the seruaunt*.

CAP. V.

An auerouse† man schal not be fillid of⁹ monei; and he that loueth richessis schal not take fruytis of tho^s; and therfor this is vanyte. Where ben^b many richessis, 10 also many men ben^b, that eten tho; and what profitith it to the haldere, noⁱ but that he seeth richessis with hise i³en? 11 Slepe is swete to hym that worchith, whether he etith^k lital ether myche; but the fulnesse of a ryche man suffrith not hym to slepe. Also anothir sijknese is ful 12 yuel, which^l Y si³ vndur the sunne; richessis ben kept in to the yuel^m of her lord†. 13 For thei perischen in the worste turment; he gendrideⁿ a sone, that schal be in soue-reyn nedynesse. As he 3ede nakid out of 14 his modris wombe, so he schal turne a³en; and he schal take awei with hym no thing of his trauel. Outirli it is a wretchid 15 sijknese; as he cam, so he schal turne a³en. What therfor^o profitith it to hym, that he trauelide in to the wynde^s? In 16 alle the daies of his lijf he eet in derknessis, and in many businessis, and in nedynesse^p, and^q sorewe. Therfor this semyde 17 good to me, that a man ete, and drynke, and vse gladnesse of his trauel, in which he trauelide vndir the sunne, in the noum-bre of daies of his lijf, which God 3af to hym; and this is his part. And to ech 18 man, to whom God 3af richessis, and catel, and 3af power to hym to ete of tho, and to vse his part, and to be glad of his trauel; this is the 3ifte of God. For he 19 schal not bithenke^r miche on the daies of his lijf, for God ocupieth his herte with delicis.

* to the ser-
 uant; that is,
 to ech creature
 soiet to him
 silf. Live here.

† An auerouse, etc.; here biginneth the
 v. c°. bi Jerom, and in this c°. Salomon schew-ith, that mannus blis stondith
 not in temporal richessis. schal
 not take, etc.;
 that is, that loueth richessis
 as an auarouse
 man doith,
 schal take no
 profit of tho,
 for his auarice suffrith him
 not to vse tho.
Live here. c.
 ‡ in to the yuel
 of her lord;
 for herbi ra-ueynours and couetouse men
 setten tresoun
 to riche men,
 and thei ben stranglid for her richessis.
Live here. c.

§ in to the wynd; as if he seye, no thing; for his trauel profitith
 not to him silf, nethir to hise sones. Live
here. c.

^r Om. c pr. m. ^s prouyncis A. ^t ne wondre E pr. m. ^u Om. CG sec. m. ^v mychel E. ^w the euel AGH.
^x Om. c pr. m. thei iendren E pr. m. he begat AE sec. m. GH. ^y Om. c pr. m. ^z that c pr. m. ^a ynow³ AE sec. m. marg. GH.

³ hem I. ^b ther ben I. ⁱ Om. I. ^k ete I. ^l that I. ^m harm I. ⁿ gaat I. ^o Om. c. ^p nedi nessis A. ^q of c. ^r thenke I.

CAP. VI.

1 Ther is and an other euel, that I saȝ vnder the sunne; and forsothe ofte anentis 2 men. A man to whom God ȝaf richesses, and substaunce, and wrshepe; and no thing lacketh to his soule of alle thingis that he desireth; and God ȝyueth not power to hym, that he ete of it, but a straunge man shal deuouren it. This is 3 vanyte, and gret wrecchidnesse. If any man geete an hundred free childer, and liue many ȝeris, and many dazes of his age hadde, and the soule of hym vse nott the goodis of his substaunce, and lacke sepulture; of that I pronounce, that betere than he be maad 'a dead born^z.
4 In veyn forsothe he cam, and wente to dercnesses; and bi forȝeting shal be don 5 awei the name of hym. He^a saȝ not the sunne, ne kneȝ the distaunce of good and 6 euel; also if two thousand ȝeer he shulde liue, and hadde not ful vsid the goodis; 7 whether not to o place gon alle? Al the trauaille of man in the mouth of hym, but the soule of hym shal not be fulfild 8 with goodis. What more hath a wis man than a fool? and what a pore, but 9 that he go thider, wher is lif? Betere is to seen that thou coueitist, than to desire that thou wost not; but and this is va-10 nyte, and presumpcioun of spirit. Who is to come, now is clepid the name of hym, and is knowen, that he be a man, and mai not aȝen a strengere than hym-11 self striuen with in^b dom. Wrdis ben many, and myche in disputing vanyte hauende.

CAP. VII.

1 What nede is to a man more thingus than hymself to sechen; whan he vn-knowith, what it bringe to hym in his

CAP. VI.

Also another yuel is^a, which^t Y siȝ¹ vndur the sunne; and certis it is oft vsid anentis men. A^u man is^v, to whom God² ȝaf^w richessis, and catel, and onour; and no thing failith^x to his soule^y of alle thingis which^z he desirith; and God ȝyueth not power^{*} to hym, that he ete therof, but a straunge man shal deuoure it. This is vanyte^a, and a gret wretchidnesse. If³ a man gendrith^b an hundrid[†] fre^c sones, and lyueth many ȝeris, and hath many daies of age, and his soule vsith not the goodis of his catel, and wantith biriyng; Y pronounce of this man, that a deed borun child is betere than he. For he⁴ cometh in veyn[‡], and goith to derknessis; and his name schal be don awei bi for-ȝetyng. He siȝ⁵ not the sunne, nether⁵ knew dyuersyte^d of good and of yuel; also thouȝ he lyueth^e twei thousynde⁶ ȝeeris, and vsith not goodis[§]; whether alle thingis hasten not^{||} to o place? Al⁷ the trauel of a man is in his mouth[¶], but the soule of hym schal not be fillid with goodis. What hath a wijs man more⁸ than a fool? and what hath a pore man, no^f but that he go thidur, where is lijf^{}?
It is betere to se that, that thou coueitist,⁹ than to desire that, that thou knowist not;
but also this is vanyte, and presumpcioun of spirit. The name of hym that schal¹⁰ come, is clepid now, and it is knowun, that he is a man, and he mai not stryue^{††} in doom aȝens a strongere than hym silf.
Wordis ben ful many, and han myche¹¹ vanyte in^g dispuyinge. What nede is it¹ to a man to seke grettere thingis than hym silf; sithen^h he knowith not, what schal bifalle to hym in his lijf, in the noubre of daies of his pilgrimage, and

* God ȝyueth not power, etc.; for God drawith him away sudehynly fro present liyf. Live here. c.
† If a man gendrith an hundrid, etc.; defaute that cometh of auarice makith a man wrecchid, ȝhe, thouȝ he hath richessis and many othere thingis that ben desirid in present liyf. and his soule; that is, he him silf. vsith not, in his owne per-soone, the goodis of his catel. a deed borun child; that assayed noon yuel of present liyf, and hath liyf more delitable than is this present liyf; therfor he is betere than an auarouse man, for in al his liyf he feelith not no but yuel, and angwisch of bodi and soule. Live here. c.
‡ he cometh in veyn; to birthe, and goith to the sepulchre. Live here. c.
§ and vsith not goodis; but euere yuels, as if he seide, long liyf profitith no thing to him, but anoyeth more. Live here. c.
|| wher alle thingis hasten not, etc.; that is, alle corruptible thingis hasten bi deth to the erthe, fro whennus tho weren takun. Live here. c.
¶ Al the trauel of a man is in his mouth; that is, for couenable sustenance of mannis liyf. but the soule of him; that is, of the auarouse man bifor seid. schal not be fillid with goodis; for he schal not vse his richessis, and therfor he hath richessis in veyn. Live here. c.  where is lijf; that is, to blis to comyng, where deth hath no place. Live here. c. †† he may not stryue, etc.; that is, allegge resonably aȝenus God, that it perteyneth to man to knowe thingis to comyng that ben vncerteyn, and not teld in hooly writ. wordis ben ful, etc.; of dyuynyngis aboute thingis to comyng, to seke grettere, etc.; that is, kunnyng that passith his vndurstonding. sithen he knowith not, etc.; that is, what is profitable to him in present liyf.

^z an abortif E pr. m. ^a I AG pr. m. H. ^b Om. A.

^s ther is I. ^t that I. ^u Sum I. ^v ther is I. ^w hath ȝoue I. ^x ther failith I. ^y lijf I. ^z that I.
^a a vanyte A. ^b getith I. ^c of fre I. ^d the dyuersite I. ^e lyue I. ^f Om. I. ^g and c. ^h sith I passim.

lif, bi noumbre of dazes of his pilgrimage, and bi time that as shadewe passede? or who to hym shal moun shewen, what after hym be to come vnder the sunne?

2 Betere is a good name than precious oynementes; and the dai of deth than 3 the dai of birthe. Betere is to go to the hous of weiling, than to the hous of a feste; in it forsothe the ende of alle men is warned, and liuende he thenketh, what 4 be to come. Betere is wrathe than lazing; for bi sorewe of the chere the wil-5 of the trespasere is amendid. The herte of wise men where is sorewe; and the 6 herte of foolis where is gladnesse. Betere is to be chastisid of a wis man, than bi 7 flatering of foolis to be desceyued; for as the soun of brennende thornes vnder a 8 pot, so the lazging of a fool. But and this vanyte. Chaleng disturbeth the wise man, and shal leesen the strengthe of his 9 herte. Betere is forsothe the ende of ori-soun^e than the begynnyng. Betere is a^d patient man than the enhauncende hyn-10 self. Be thou not swift to wrathen; for wrathe in the bosum of a fool restith.
11 Ne seye thou, What wenest thou of cause is, that the rather tymes betere weren than now ben? folie forsothe is such a 12 maner asking. Profitablere forsothe is wisdam with richesses, and more pro-13 fitith to men seende the sunne. Forsothe as wisdam defendith, so^o monee; this forsothe more hath lernyng and wisdam, 14 that lif thei zeelden to ther weldere. Behold the werkes of God, that no man mai 15 amende, whom he despiside. In the goode dai vse goodes, and the euele dai be war biforn; as forsothe this, so and in the tyme that passith as schadowe? ether who may schewe to hym, what thing vndur sunne schal come aftir hym?

CAP. VII.

A good name* is betere than precieuse² oynementis; and the dai of deth is betere than the dai of birthe. It is betere to go³ to the hous of morenyng†, than to the hous of aⁱ feeste; for in that hous of morenyng^k the ende of alle men is monestid^l, and a man lyuynge thenkith, what is to comynge. Yre is betere than leizyng; ⁴ for the soule of a trespassour is amendid^m bi theⁿ heuynesse of cheer. The herte of⁵ wise men is where^o sorewe is; and the herte of foolis is where gladnesse^p is. It⁶ is betere to be repreued of a wijs man, than to^q be disseyued bi the^r flaterynge of foolis; for as the sown of thornes bren-7 nyng vndur a pot, so is the leizyng of a fool. But also this is vanyte. Fals cha-8 lenge‡ disturbith a wijs man, and it schal leese^s the strengthe of his herte. For-9 sothe the ende of preyer is betere|| than the bigynnyng. A patient man is betere than a proud man. Be thou not swift to¹⁰ be wrooth; for ire^t restith in the bosum^u¶ of a fool. Seie thou not, What gessist¹¹ thou is of^v cause, that the formere tymes weren betere than ben now? for whi siche axyng is fonnid. Forsothe wisdom¹² with richessis is more profitable, and profitith more to men seynge†† the sunne.
For as wisdom defendith, so money de-¹³ fendith‡‡; but lernyng and wisdom§§ hath^w this more, that^x tho yuen lijf to her weldere^y. Biholde thou the werkis of God,¹⁴ that^z no man may amende hym, whom ether who may,

etc.; God aloone. Lire
here. c.

*A good name;
that cometh of onest liyf. is betere than precious oyme-
mentis; here Salomon tech-
ith of veri-
blis, that stondith in God
aloone, and in his cleer sijt,
and knowing,
and loue; and the disposicioun
of blis stondith
in meedful
werk, for whi
hope is certeyn abiding of blis
to comynge,
that risith of grace and good werkis, and sich vertuose lyif is a maner
of bigynnyng
of parfit blis.
day of deth; of iust men; for in the day of deth they bygynen to lyue verily, and therfor the day of deth of holy men is clepid
the birthe of
hem. Lire
here. c.

† hows of mornyng;
where moren-
yng is maad
for deed men.
to the hows of feeste; wher-
ynne the synne
of gloteny is ofte doon, and the synne of lecherie sueth ofte. Ire is
betere; the fadir, that
loueth the sone,
is wrooth,
whanne he seeth him do folily; but a straunger, that reckith not of him, leizith of his folie. Lire
here. c.

‡ Fals caleng;

§ it schal leese
the strengthe,
etc.; that is,
the vertu of
stidefastnesse,
if the troubling
wexith strong;
therfor a wijs man owith to arme him self bi preyer. Lire
here. c.

that is, greuouse wrong. disturbith, etc.; netheles it castith not him down anon fro the vertu of stidefastnesse. Lire here. c.
the strengthe, etc.; that is, the vertu of stidefastnesse, if the troubling wexith strong; therfor a wijs man owith to arme him self bi preyer. Lire here. c.
|| the ende of preyer is betere, etc.; for it bigynneth of sorewe for wrong doon, and it is endid in coumfort 3oun of God, bi which a man is maad patient in aduersites. Lire here. c.
¶ in the bosum; that is, in his herte. Lire here. c.  wisdom with richessis is more profitable; therfor Ambrose on Luk seith, As richessis ben lettynge to yuele men, so to goode men tho ben helpis. Lire here. c.
†† and profitith more to men seynge, etc.; that is, wisdom is betere with richessis, than with out richessis; and this is soth, whanne othere vertues ben euene in a riche man and a pore man; for a wise man hauynge richessis may do werkis of pitee and of liberalte, whiche he that hath no richessis, may not do. Lire here. c.
‡‡ so money defendith; that is, mynstrith spensis azenus visible enemyes, and it defendith azenus vnuysible enemyes, by meedful werkis of pitee and of liberalte. Lire here. c.
§§ but lernyng and wisdom, etc.; that is, liyf of grace, and of glorie to a wijs man, and without richessis, but richessis without wisdom moun not yue this. c.

^e the orisoun AGH. ^d the A. ^e so and c pr. m. so defendith G sec. m.

ⁱ o c. ^k Om. l. ^l warned l. ^m correctid l. ⁿ Om. l. ^o where that l. ^p folly gladnesse l. ^q Om. u.
^r Om. cix. ^s fordo l. ^t wratthe l. ^u herte l. text. or bosum l. marg. ^v the c sec. m. EFGHIKMPQ ^{RSUXYAQ.} ^w han l. ^x ouer that l. ^y hem that han hem l. ^z and se that l.

it God made, that a man finde not azen 16 hym riȝtwis pleyntes. These thingus also I sawȝ in the dazes of my birthe; the riȝtwis pershede in his riȝtwisnesse, and the vnпитыous myche time liueth, and in 17 his malice. Wile thou not ben myche riȝtwis, ne more sauouren^f than is nede; 18 lest thou become stoneid. Ne myche vn-pytousli do thou, and wile thou not ben a fool; lest thou die in the^{ff} time not thin.
 19 Good is, thee to sustenen the riȝtwis; but and fro hym ne withdrawe thou thin hond; for who dredeth God, no thing 20 necgligentli leueth. Wisdam coumfortede the wise, ouer ten princes of the cite.
 21 Ther is not forsothe a riȝtwis man in the erthe, that do good, and not synne.
 22 But and to alle wrdis, that ben seid, ne leeuē thou^g thin herte; lest paraenture thou heere a seruau^t cursende to thee; 23 thi conscience forsothe wot, for and thou 24 ofte sithes cursedist to othere. Alle thingis I saȝede^h in wisdam; I seide, Wis
 I shal be maad, and it ferthere wente 25 awei fro me, myche more than it was; 26 and heeȝ depnesse, who shal finde it? I cumpassede alle thingus in myn inwit, that I shulde witen, and beholde, and sechen wisdam and resoun, and that I shulde knowe the vnпитыousnes of the fool, 27 and the errour of vnprudent men. And I fond a womman bitterere than deth, the whiche is the grene of hunteres, and a net the herte of hir, bondis ben the hondis of hir; who plesith to God, shal ascapen hir, who forsothe is a synnere, 28 shal be caȝt of hir. Lo! this I fond, seide Ecclesiastes, oon and other, that I 29 shulde finde resoun, that ȝit sechith my soule; and I fond not. A man of a thou-send oon I fond, a womman of alle I fond

God hath dispisid*. In a good day vse¹⁵ * whom God thou goodis, and bifore eschewe thou an yuel day; for God made so this dai as that dai, that a man fynde not iust playnyngis aȝens hym. Also Y siȝ^a these 16 thingis in the daies[†] of my natyuyte^b; a iust man perischith in his riȝtfulnesse, and a wickid man lyueth myche tyme in his malice. Nyle thou be iust myche^c†, 17 nether vndurstonde thou more than is nedeful; lest thou be astonyed. Do thou 18 not wickidli myche^g, and nyle thou be a fool; lest thou die in a tyme not thin. It 19 is good, that thou susteyne a iust man; but also withdrawe thou not thin hond from hym; for he that dredith God, is not necligent of ony thing. Wisdom hath coum- 20 fortid a wise man, ouer ten pryncis^{||} of a citee. Forsothe no iust man is^d in erthe, 21 that doith good, and synneth not. But 22 also ȝyue thou not thin herte to alle wordis^e, that ben seid; lest perauenture thou here thi seruau^t cursynge thee; for 23 thi conscience woot, that also thou hast cursid ofte othere men. I asayedē alle 24 thingis in wisdom[¶]; Y^f seide, I schal be maad wiȝs, and it ȝede awei ferthere fro me, myche more than it was; and the 25 depthe is hiȝ^{g}, who schal fynde it? I 26 cumpasside alle thingis in^h my soule, to kunne, and biholdeⁱ, and seke wisdom and resoun, and to knowe the wickidnesse of a fool, and the^k errour of vnprudent men.
 And Y foond a womman bitterere^{††} than 27 deth, which^l is the snare of hunteris, and hir herte is a net, and hir hondis ben boondis; he that plesith God schal ascape hir, but he that is a synnere, schal be takun of hir. Lo! Y foond^{‡‡} this, seide 28 Ecclesiastes, oon and other, that Y schulde fynde resoun, which^m my soule sekith ȝit; 29 that is, hath dispisid; that is, hath forsake him finally; and a signe of this forsaking is, the hardnesse in yuel; brotheris repreu- yng ether priuy blamyng ow- ith to ceesse, whanne a man seeth his brother obstynat in synne, but the iuge owith not to ceesse herfor of pu- nysching, but more to pu- nysche so, ȝhe, by deth, if his trespas axith this, that the comyn good and pees be not disturblid bi him. Live here. c.

 † in the daies, etc.; that is, of present liyf, that passith sone away, so it is not no but vanyte. Live here. c.
 ‡ Nyle thou be iust myche; that is, in pu- nysching ouer scharply. nether vndurstonde, etc.; of thi riȝtfulnesse. astonyed; in ȝyuyngē a cruel sentence, and not iust. Live here. c.
 § Do thou not wickidly myche; for cruelte is a greet wickid- nesse, and for it makith a man to erre, and to gete to him silf dedly enemytes, it sueth, nyle thou be a fool, etc. not thyn; in hastinge thi deeth bi ene- mytes. a iust man; in de- fendinge him in his riȝtful- nesse. Live here. c.
 || ouer ten

prynces; that is, more than eny power of man. Live here. c.
 here. c.  the depthe is hiȝ; that is, the kynde of God, as to the knowing of persoones is an hiȝ depthe. who schal fynde it; as if he seye, no man bi mannus seking. Live here. c. †† a womman biterere, etc.; for a womman departith the soule fro his Creatour, but deth departith oneli fro the body. of hunteris; that is, of fendis. Live here. c. ‡‡ Lo! Y foond; that is, enqueride deligentli. oon and other; that is, in applynge my wit to ech thing. Live here. c.

¶ in wisdom; that is, for wisdom to be getun. it ȝede; in my reputacioun. Live here. c.

^f sauere E. sauere thou AGH. ^{ff} Om. c. pr. m. ^g thou not E pr. m. ^h asaȝede G.

^a sawȝ I passim. ^b birthe I. ^c ouer myche I. ^d ther is I. ^e the wordis I. ^f and Y I. ^g lowe I.
^h with I. ⁱ to beholde I. ^k Om. c. ^l the which I. ^m that I.

30 not. Onli this I fond, that God made man riȝt; and he hymself mengde with questiouns with oute ende. Who such^h oon as the wise is? and who kneȝ the solucioun of theⁱ wrd?

CAP. VIII.

1 The wisdam of a man liztneth^j in the chere of hym; and the most myȝti the 2 face of hym shal chaungen. I the mouth of the king kepe, and hestes and the othis
3 of God. Ne heȝe thou to gon awei fro the face of hym, ne abide thou stille in euel were. For al that he wille, he shal
4 do; and the sermoun of hym is ful of power, ne any man mai sey to hym, Whi 5 dost thou thus? Who kepeth the hest, shal not ben expert^k any thing 'of euel^{kk}; time and answering the herte of the 6 wise man vnderstant^l. To alle nede time is^m and couenableness; and myche tor-7 mentyng of a man, that vnknowith the passide thingus, and theⁿ to comen bi no
8 messenger he may wite. It is not in a mannys power to defende the spirit, ne he hath power in the dai of deth, ne it is suffrid to resten, bataile aȝencomende; ne vnpitousnesse shal saue the vnpitouse.
9 Alle these thingus I beheeld, and ȝaf myn herte in alle werkis, that ben mad vnder sunneⁿⁿ. Otherwhile a man lordshipeth to 10 a man, in to his euel. I saȝ vnpitous men biried, that alsoo, whan ȝit thei liueden, 'in holi place^o weren; and thei weren preised in the cite, as of riȝtwis werkis;
11 but and this is vanyte. Forsothe for ther is not broȝt forth anoon^{oo} aȝen euele men sentence, withoute any drede the 12 sones of men werchen eueles. And ner the latere the synnere, of that, that an hundrid sithes he doth euel, and bi pa-and Y foondⁿ not*. I foond o man of a thousynde; Y^o foond not a^p womman of alle. I foond this oonli, that God made³⁰ a man riȝtful; and he medlide hym silf with questiouns with out noubre. Who is siche as a wiȝs man? and who knowith the expownyng^q of a word[†]? The wisdom¹ of a man schyneth in his cheer; and the myȝtieste schal chaunge his face.

CAP. VIII.

I kepe the mouth of the kyng[†], and the² comaundementis and sweryngis of God. Haste thou not to go awei[§] fro his face,³ and dwelle thou not in yuel werk. For he schal do al thing, that he wole; and⁴ his word is ful of power, and no man mai seie to hym, Whi doist thou so? He that⁵ kepith the comaundement of God 'in this liȝf^r, schal not feeles ony^s thing of yuel; the herte of a wiȝs man vnderstondith tyme and answer. Tyme and^v cesoun^u is⁶ to ech werk; and myche turment is of a man, for he knowith not thingis passid,⁷ and he mai not knowe bi ony messenger thingis to comynge^v. It is not in the⁸ power of man to forbede the spirit ||, nethir he hath power in the dai of deth, nethir he is suffrid to haue reste, whanne the batel neizeth^w; nethir wickidnesse schal saue a wickid man. I bihelde alle⁹ thes thingis, and Y ȝaf myn herte in alle werkis, that ben don vnder the sunne. Sum tyme a man is lord of a man, to his yuel[¶]. Y siȝ wickid men biried, which,¹⁰ whanne thei lyueden ȝit, weren in hooli place; and thei weren preised in the citee, as men of iust werkis; but also this is vanyte. Forsothe^x for the sentence^{} is¹¹ not brouȝt forth soone aȝens yuele men, the sones of men^{††} doon yuels with outen

* and Y fond not; that is, til to perfectioun. o man, vertuose of a thousnde; that is, ful fewe men ben foundun vertuose in comparisoun of men failing fro vertu, for the noubre of foolis is greet with out noubre. Y foond not a womman of alle; that is, not oon vertuose; not that no womman is vertuose, but for fewe in comparisoun of men ben vertuose, as it is seid comynly, that no man is in the chirche, whanne ful fewe men ben there, in comparisoun of the multitude that is wont to come to gidere thidur. with questiouns; that is, hardnesis aboute the getting of sciences and vertues. Who is siche; that is, so worthe to be preised among men, as a wiȝs man; that is, a vertuose man bi vertues and vnderstonding; he that atteyneth to vertuose liȝf and trewe vnderstonding, is ful excelent among men. Lire here. c. † ether expownyng of a word; that is, of a priuy word, as if he seye, noon, no but a wiȝs man in vnderstonding and vertuose liȝf. chaunge his face; that is, in the rising aȝen, whanne he schal ȝyue to him a gloriouse face. Lire here. c.

† Y kepe the mouth, etc.; that is, the comaundement is brouȝt forth of his mouth, and this is seid in the persoune of a trewe obeiere to God. Lire here. c.

|| spirit; that is, his soule, fro goyng out fro the bodi. Lire here. c.

¶ to his yuel; that is, to the yuel of the Lord, whanne herbi he is reised aȝenus God. Lire here. c.

 the sentence; of Goddis punyschyng. Lire here. c.

†† the sones of men; that is, that ben nurschid in fleisly lustis, that ben the sones of men, and not of God. Lire here. c.

^h sechith A.

ⁱ Om. c pr. m.

^j lizteth E pr. m.

^k expert, or feeles AEGH.

^{kk} Om. c pr. m.

^l vnderstondeth AEH.

^m Om. A.

ⁿ the thingis A. tho G.

ⁿⁿ the sunne c pr. m.

^o Om. c pr. m.

^{oo} Om. c pr. m.

ⁿ foond it I. ^o and Y c. ^p oo Y. ^q soilyng, ether [the 18] expownyng c et ceteri. ^r Om. I. in his liȝf a.

^s of ony c. ^t eyther s. ^u leiser, ether cesoun c et ceteri. ^v come I. ^w neizeth niȝ I. ^x Sothly I.

VOL. III.

K

cience is sustened, I kneȝ that ther was good to men dredende God, that reue-13 rentli dreden the face of hym. Be ther not good to the vnpitouse, ne be ther aferr longid the dazes of hym; but as shadewe passe they, that dreden not the 14 face of the Lord. Ther is and an other vanyte, that is don vp^p on erthe. Ther ben riztwis men, to the^{pp} whiche eueles comen forth, as werkes thei diden of vnpitous men; and ther ben vnpitous men, that ben so sikir, as thoȝ^q thei hadden the deedis of riztwis men; but and this 15 most veyn I deme. I preisede therefore gladnesse, that ther was not to man good vnder sunne, but that he ete, and drinke, and ioȝe; and that onli with hym he take of his^{qq} trauaile, in the dazes of his lif, that God ȝaf to hym vnder the 16 sunne. And I leide to myn herte, that I wite wisdom, and vnderstande distincion, that goth^r on erthe. Ther is a man, that dazes and niztus slep taketh 17 not to his egen. And I vnderstod, that of alle the werkis of God, no resoun of them mai a man finde, that ben mad vnder the sunne; and hou myche more he trauailede to sechen, so myche lasse he shal finde; also if the wise man^{rr} shal sei hymself to han knowen, he shal not 1 moun finde. Alle these thingus I tretede in myn herte, that I vndirstonde curiously.

CAP. IX.

Ther ben riztwis and wise men, and the werkis of hem in the hond of God; and ner the latere a man wot not, whether looue or hate he be wrthi. But 2 alle thingus in to time to come ben kept vncerteyn; for thi that alle thingus euenli comen to the riztwis and to the vnpitous, to the goode and to the euele, to the clene and to the vnclene, to the offrende ostis and victorie sacrificis, and to the despisende sacrificis; as a good man, chosun men; wherfor God schal be glorified in alle thingis, and it is worthi to obeie to hise comaundementis. Live here. c.

 the ix. c^o. in Ebreu. Live here. c. ¶ ether of hatredis; of God. Live here. c.

ony drede. Netheles of that, that a syn-12 nere doith yuel^y an hundrid sithis, and is suffrid bi pacience, Y knew that good schal^z be to men dredynge God, that reuerensen his face^a. Good be not^{*} to the 13 wickid man, nethir hise daies be maad longe; but passe thei as schadewe, that dreden not the face of the Lord. Also 14 another vanyte is^b, which^c is don on erthe. Iust men ben^d, to whiche^e yuels comen, as if thei diden the werkis of wickid men; and wickid men ben^f, that ben so^g sikur, as if thei han^h the dedis of iust men; but Y deme also this moost veyn[†]. Therfor 15 Y preysid gladnesse[‡], that no good was to a man vndur the sunne, noⁱ but to ete, and drynke, and to be ioiful; and that he schulde bere awei with hym silf oneli this of his trauel, in the daies of his lijf[§], whiche God ȝaf to hym vndur the^k sunne. And
 16 Y settide myn herte to knowe wisdom, and to vndurstonde the departing, which is turned in erthe. A man is, that bi daies and niztis takith not sleep with^l izen. And 17 Y vnderstod, that of alle^m the werkis of God, a man may fynde no resoun of tho thingis, that ben don vndur the sunne; and in as myche as he traueilith more to seke, bi so myche he schal fynde lesse; ȝhe, thouȝ a wijs man seithⁿ that he knowith, he schal not mow fynde.

CAP. IX.

¶ I tretide alle these thingis in myn herte,
 1 to vndirstonde diligentli. Iust men, and wise men^o ben^p, and her werkis ben in the hond of God; and netheles a man noot^q, whether he is^r worthi of loue or^s of hatrede^t¶. But alle thingis ben kept vncer-
 2 teyn in to tyme^u to comynge; for alle thingis bifallen euenli to a iust man and to a wickid man, to a good man and to an yuel man, to a cleene man and to an vnclene man, to a man offrynge offryngis and sacrificis, and to a man dispisyng

* Good be not, etc.; that is, temporal prosperite, for he mysuith it. maad longe; for it is to him occasioun of multipliynge of synnes. Live here. c.
 † moost veyn; that is, moost vnreasonable; and he spekith here in the persone of a fleisly man and vnfeithful, that thenkith not on peynes and meedis to comynge. Y preyside, etc.; that is, lustful lijf. to vndurstonde the departing; aboute the tribulacioun of vniust men, and the prosperite of wickid men. Live here. c.
 ‡ gladnesse; that is, lustful lijf. Live here. c.
 § of his travel in the dayes of his lijf, etc.; of this it is opin, that Salomon spekith here in the persone of a fleisly man, that thenkith of present lijf onely. And Y settide myn herte, etc.; this, that God sufferith iust men to be set in tribulacioun in present lijf, and vniust men to haue prosperite, per- teyneth to the iust domes of God, but priuy to vs; and therfor siche thingis owen not to be sougt of vs, but it suffisith to knowe in general, bi feith and hooly scripture, that siche thingis that bifallen here, be ordeyned bi Goddis wisdom, to the glorie of him, and also of ¶ Here bigynneth

p Om. c pr. m. pp Om. c pr. m. q thof E passim. qq al his E pr. m. r gon c pr. m. rr Om. AGH.

y yuelis m. z it shal i. a face or presence i. b ther is i. c that i. d ther ben i. e whom i. f ther ben i. g as i. h hadden i. i Om. L k Om. I. l with his i. m Om. c. n sey i. o Om. s. p ther ben i. q woot not i. not s pr. m. wot not s sec. m. r be i. s ether ceteri. t hate m. u the tyme c.

so and a synnere; as a forsworn, so and 3 he that soth swerth. This is the werste among alle thingis, that vnder the sunne ben don, for the same thingus to alle men fallen; wherfore and the hertes of the sonus of men ben fulfild with malice and with dispising in ther lif; and aftir these^a to helle thei shul ben broȝt down.
 4 No man is, that euermor liue, and that of this thing haue trost; betere is a quyc 5 dogge thanne a leoun dead. Lyuende men forsothe witen themself to be to dien; deade forsothe no thing knewen more, ne han ouer meede; for to for-6 ȝeting taken is the mynde of hem. Looe also, and hate, and enuyes togidere persheden; and thei han not part in this world, and in the werk that vnder the 7 sunne is don. Go thanne, and ett in gladnesse thi bred, and drinc with ioȝe thi win; for to God plesen thi werkis.
 8 Alle times be thi clothis white, and oile 9 fro thin hed faile not. Parfitli vse lif with the wif that thou loouest, alle the dazes of thi lif of thin vnstabilnesse, that ben ȝyue to thee vnder sunne^t, al the time of thi vanyte; this is forsothe part in lif, and in thi trauaile, that thou 10 trauailist vnder sunne^t. What euere thing mai thin hond don, besili werc; for nouthur werc, ne resoun, ne wisdam, ne kunnyng is anent helle, whider thou 11 gost. I turnede me to an other thing, and^u I saȝ vnder sunne neither cours to ben of swifte men, ne bataile of stronge men, ne bred of wise men, ne riches-ses of tȝt men, ne grace off craftis men; but 12 time and chauns in alle thingus. A man wot not his ende; but as fisshis ben take with the hoc, and as briddes ben^v caȝt with the grene, so ben taken men in euel sacrifices; as a good man, so and a synnere; as a forsworn man, so^v and^w he that greetli swerith treuthe. This thing³ is the worste among alle thingis, that ben don vnder the sunne, that the same thingis bifallen to alle men; wherfor and the hertis of the sonus of men ben fillid with malice and^x dispising in her lijf; and aftir these thingis thei schulen be led down to^y hellis.

 No man is^z, that lyueth euere, and that⁴ hath trist of this thing; betere is a quik dogge^{*} than a deed lioun. For thei that⁵ lyuen witen that thei schulen die; but deed men knowen no thing more, nether han meede ferthere; for her mynde is ȝouun to forȝetyng. Also the loue, and⁶ hatrede, and enuye perischiden togidere; and thei han no part[†] in this world, and in the werk that is don vnder the^a sunne.
 Therfor go thou, iust man, and ete thi⁷ breed in gladnesse, and drynke thi wiyn with ioie; for thi werkis plesen God. In⁸ ech tyme thi clothis be white[‡], and oile faile not fro thin heed. Vse thou lijf with the⁹ wijf which thou louest, in alle the^b daies of lijf^c of thin vnstabilnesse, that ben ȝouun to thee vnder sunne^d, in al the tyme of thi vanyte; for this is thi part in thi lijf and trauel, bi which thou tra-uelist vnder the sunne. Worche thou¹⁰ bisili[§], what euer thing thin hond mai do; for nether werk, nether resoun, nethir^e kunnyng, nether^e wisdom schulen be at hellis, whidir thou haastist. I turnede me to¹¹ another thing, and Y siȝ vnder sunne, that rennyng is not of swift men, nethir batel is of stronge men, nether breed is of wise men, nether richessis ben of techeris, ne^f grace is of crafti men; but tyme and hap is in alle thingis^{||}. A man knowith not¹² his ende; but as fisshis ben takun with

* betere is a quyk dogge, etc.; lyoun and dogge ben vnderstondun yuele men, that is, a quyk synnere is of betere condicioun than a deed synnere, for he that lyueth may repente, and turne to good. her mynde is ȝouun to forȝeting; that is, bifor God, for he ȝyueh not to hem place of penaunce, thouȝ they ben in his mynde to punysche hem, and they knowen no thing, wherbi they moun turne agen to good, thouȝ they knowen many othere thingis. Live here. c. † and thei han no part, etc.; that is, in suffragies ether preieris and almes dedis, whiche quyke men doen for dede men; al this profitith not to hem that dien out of charite. Live here. c. ‡ thi clothis be white; that is, thi lijf be hooly and onest. and oyle; of Goddis grace. faile not fro thyn heed; that is, fro thyn vnderstonding, which is heed in the mystis of the soule; that is, lyue thou so, that God with-drawe not his grace fro thee. with the wijf which thou louest; that is, with the wis-dom of Goddis lawe, as Ebreyse seyen; for a good man chesith this wisdom to be his wiyf.

as it is seid in viii. c^o. of Wisdom. in the dayes of lijf of thyn vnstabilnesse; that is, of present lijf, which is vnstable, and owith to be spendid in the ocupacioun of Goddis lawe. this is thi part, etc.; that is, thou schalt bere these thingis with thee fro present lijf, and not temporal goodis. Live here. c. § Worche thou bisili, etc.; that is, as myche as thou maist, do thou bisili meedeful werkis. Live here. c. || hap is in alle thingis; that is, vncerteinte, that owith refreyne a man fro pride. Live here. c.

^s Om. c pr. m. ^t the sunne c pr. m. ^u that A. ^v Om. c pr. m.

^v riȝt so I. ^w Om. I. ^x and with I. ^y in to c. ^z ther is I. ^a Om. I. ^b Om. ceteri. ^c the lijf I. ^d the sunne cgsa. ^e ne I. ^f nether ceteri.

time, whan to them sodeynli it cometh 13 ouer. This also vnder sunne I saȝ wis-14 dam, and prouede the moste. A litil cite, and fewe men in it; ther cam aȝen it a gret king, and besegede it, and made out strengthis bi enuyroun; and ful mad is 15 the sege. And ther is founden in it a pore man and a wis; he delyuerede the cite bi his wisdom, and no man therafter 16 recordede of that pore man. And I seide, betere to ben wisdom than strengthe; what maner thanne the wisdom of the pore man is despisid, and the wrdis of 17 hym ben not herd? The wrdis of wise men ben herd in silence, more than the 18 cri of a prince among foolis. Betere is wisdom than armes for bataile; and who in oon shal synnen, many goodis shal leese.

CAP. X.

1 Fleȝis diende leesen the swotnesse of the oynement. More precious is wisdom 2 and litil glorie at tyme, than folie. The herte of the wise man in the riȝthalf of hym; and the herte of the fool in the 3 lifthalf of hym. But and in the weie a fool goende, whan he be an vnwis man, 4 alle foolis eymeth. If the spirit of the hauende power steȝe vp vp on thee, thi place ne lefe thou; for kuring maketh to 5 cese most synnes. Ther is euel, that I saȝ vnder the sunne, as bi errorr goende 6 out fro the face of the prince; a fool set in heeȝ dignete, and riche men to seete 7 benethe. I saȝ seruauentis in hors, and princes goende as seruauens vp on erthe.
 8 Who delueth a dich, fallith in to it; and who scatereth the hegg, shal biten hym 9 the shadewe eddere. Who berth ouer stones, shal be tormentid in hem; and an hook, and as briddis ben takun with a snare, so men ben takun in yuel tyme*, whanne it cometh sudeynli on hem. Also 13 Y siȝ this^g wisdom vndur the sunne, and Y preuede it the mooste. A litil citee†, 14 and a^h fewe men ther ynne; a greet kyng cam aȝens it, and cumpasside it with palis, and he bildideⁱ strengthis^k bi cumpas; and^l bisegyng was maad perfit^m. And a pore 15 man and a wiȝs was foundun ther ynne;

 and he delyuerede the citee bi his wisdom, and no man bithouȝte aftirward on that pore man. And Y seide, that wisdom is 16 betere than strengthe; hou therfor is the wisdom of a pore man dispisid, and hise wordis ben not herd? The wordis of wise 17 men ben herd in silence, more than the cry of a prince among foolis.

CAP. X.

Betere is wisdom than armuris of batel; 18 and he that synneth in o thing‡, schal leese many goodis. Flies that dien, leesenⁿ 1 the swetnesse of oynement. Litil^o foli at a^p tyme is precioussere^q than wisdom and glorie. The herte of a wiȝs man is in his 2 riȝt side; and the herte of a fool is in his left side. But also a fool goynge in the 3 weie, whanne he is vnwiȝs, gessith alle men foolis. If the spirit§ of hym, that 4 hath power, stieth on^r thee, forsake thou not thi place; for heeling^s schal make grettteste synnes to cesse. An yuel is^t, 5 which^u Y siȝ vndur the sunne, and goith^v out as bi errorr fro the face of the prince; a fool set in hiȝ dignyte, and riche men 6 sitte byneth. I siȝ seruauentis on horsis, 7 and princes as seruauentis goynge on the erthe. He that diggith a dicke, schal falle 8 in to it; and an eddre|| schal bite hym, that distrieth an hegge¶. He that berith 9

* in yuel tyme;
 that is, in the
 tyme of deth,
 that priueth fro liyf. Lire here.
 c.

† A litil citee, etc.; this myȝte
 be doon to the
 lettre, as a wiȝs womman sau-
 yde the citee
 Abela in 11. of Kingis xx. c.^o; netheles Cris-
 ten doctours expowen this comynli of Crist and hooly chirche; bi the citee is vndurstondun hooli chirche; the kyng biseginge
 it, is the deuil
 and his malice;
 the pore man
 and wiȝs, is Crist, that ledde a pore liyf, and as myche as perteyneth to him,
 he bi his wisdom delyueride
 his puple fro
 the fendis

power. and no man bithouȝte
 on that pore
 man; that is,
 ful fewe ben kynde in comparisoun of vnkynde men,
 and this vnkyndenesse
 cometh of foly.
 Lire here. c.

‡ that synneth
 in o thing, etc.; for bi o dedly synne al the heelp of me-
 ritis biforgo-
 inge is lost.

§ Litil foly at a tyme, etc.; this lettre must be takun thus bi
 the Ebreu,
 where it is writun thus,
 litil foly is heuyere than
 wisdom and glorie, that is, a litil defaute in vertues that is seid foly, is heuyere than
 wisdom and glorie, which defaute makith

wisdom and glorie to be vile ofte in a famouse persone. Lire here. c. Netheles oure Latyn lettre is thus, wisdom and litil glorie is precioussere than foli at a tyme. c. § If the spirit; that is, the violent stiring. of him that hath power; that is, of the fostering of synne, ether of the fend. stieth on thee; in hurlinge ether stiringe thee violently to synne. forsake thou not thi place; that is, stidefastnesse of vertu. and heeling; that is, myȝty withstanding aȝenus temptaciouns, which is seid helthe of soule, schal make moste synnes to cesse. Lire here. c. || an adde; that is, the deuil. Lire here. c. ¶ an hegge; that is, the lore of oneste, tauȝt of wise men. Lire here. c.

^g Om. c. ^h Om. ceteri. ⁱ bildide it with c. ^k strengthis, ether engyns c et ceteri. ^l and the i.
^m full i. ⁿ diynge fordon i. ^o A litil i. ^p sum i. ^q more precious i. ^r upon i. ^s curyng, ether heelyng c et plures. curyng, or takyng hede i. ^t ther is i. ^u that i. ^v goynge i.

who hewith trees, shal be woundid of 10 hem. If a3een smyten^v were the iren, and that not as bifore, but were bluntid, with myche trauaile shall be whettid out; and aftir the besynesse shal folewe 11 wisdam. If the eddere bijte in silence, no thing lasse than he hath, that priueli 12 bacbiteth. The^w wrdis of the wise mouth grace; and the lippis of the vnwise shuln 13 stumblen hym down. The bigynnyng of the wrdis of hym folie; and the last thing 14 of the mouth of hym werst errour. A fool multeplieth wrdes; a man vnknowith what beforn hym was, and what after is to come, who to hym shal moun 15 shewe? The labour of foolys shal tormenten hem, that kunnen not in to the 16 cite gon. Wo to thee, thou lond, whos king is a child, and whos princes erli 17 eten. Blisful the lond, whos king is noble; and whos princes eten in ther^x 18 time, to fillen^y, and not to leccherie. In slouthis shal be mekid the ioynnyng of sparres; and in infirmyte^z of hondis the 19 hous shal droppe thur3. In laz3ing thei make bred and wyn, that^a thei ete drink-ende; and to monee obeshen alle thingus.
 20 In thi thenking ne bacbite thou to the king, and in the priuyte of thi bed, ne curse thou to the riche man; for and the foulis of heuene shuln bern thi vois, and that hath federes, shal telle out sentence.

CAP. XI.

1 Send thi bred vp on men passende watris, for after manye times thou shalt 2 finden it. 3if partis seuene, and also eizte; for thou knowist not, what be to distrien doom for the 3iftis of riche men. Live here. c.

Live here. c. ^{††} he that hath pennes; that is, a swift tellere of wordis. shal telle the sentence; that is, thi wordis, to thi dampnyng; ether bi him that hath pennes, is vndurstondun an yuel iuge, which is ouer swift to brynge forth hard sentence a3enus symple men spekinge listli. Live here. c. ^{‡‡} Sende thi breed on watris; that is, 3yue thou mete and drinke to nedi men. fynde it; in resseyuyng meede in tyme to comynge, and sum tyme in present liyf. Live here. c. ^{§§} 3yue thou partis vii. etc.; that is, 3yue thou largeli of thi goodis to nedy men. yuel schal come on erthe; that is, in present liyf, and thou maist be delyuerid therfro bi werkis of pyttee 3ouun to nedi men. if a tre fallith down to the south; that is, if a man dieth, and goith to the part of chosun men. ether to the north; that is, to the part of repreuable men. there it schal be; that is, vnchaungably; and therfor in present liyf a man owith to be bisi aboute the werkis of pitee, as myche as he may disserue. Live here. c.

^v bluntid E pr. m. ^w In the A. ^x Om. A. ^y fulfillen AGH. ^z infirmytes C. ^a and A.

^w it I. ^x he I. ^y ben I. ^z wot not I. ^a her I. ^b leccherie A sec. m. marg. L.

ouer stoonys, schal be turmentid in tho; and he that kittith trees*, schal be woundid of tho. If yrun is foldid a3en, 10 and this^w is not as bifore, but is maad blunt, it schal be maad scharp with myche trauel; and wisdom schal sue aftir bisynesse†. If a serpent bitith, it^x bitith¹¹ in silence; he that bacbitith priueli, hath no thing lesse than it. The wordis of the 12 mouth of a wijs man is^y grace; and the lippis of an vnwijs man schulen caste hym down. The bigynnyng of hise¹³ wordis is foli; and the laste thing of his mouth is the worste errour. A fool¹⁴ multiplieth wordis; a man noot^z, what was† bifore hym, and who mai schewe to hym that, that schal come aftir hym?
 The trauel of foolis shal turment hem, 15 that kunnen not go in to the citee. Lond, 16 wo to thee, whos kyng is a child, and whose princes eten eerli. Blessid is the 17 lond, whos kyng is noble; and whose princis eten in her tyme, to susteyne the^a kynde, and not to waste^b. The hiznesse¹⁸ of housis schal be maad low in slouthis; and the hous schal droppe§ in the feble-nesse of hondis. In leizyng thei dis-19 posen|| breed and wyn, that thei drynk-ynge ete largeli; and alle thingis obeien to monei¶. In thi thou3t bacbite thou²⁰ not the kyng, and in the priuete of thi bed, curse thou not a riche man; for the briddis of heuene schulen bere thi vois, and he that hath pennys††, schal telle the sentence.

CAP. XI.

Sende thi breed on watris‡‡ passynge; forth, for aftir many tymes thou schalt fynde it. 3yue thou partis seuene§§, and 2 also eizte; for thou woost not, what yuel

* that kittith trees; so he that puttith forth him silf to occasiouns of synnes, schal suffre peyryng of soule. Live here. c.

† aftir bisynesse; that is, the staat of a vertuose man schal come a3en, aftir myche diligense to rekyuere vertu. Live here. c.

‡ a man noot what was, etc.; that is, a fonnid man, for he dispisith to biholde the dedis of wise men biforgoinge. that that schal come, etc.; that is, God aloone may do this, but the fool is not worth to sich reuelacioun. Live here. c.

§ in to the citee; that is, to the reste of seyntis. whos king is a child; in wit and yuele condicioun; for herbi sugetis ben wantoun, and vices ben encreessid many fold. eten eerli; that is, out of du ordre. is noble; that is, in vertues and kyn. Live here. c.

|| the hows schal droppe, etc.; that is, in the slouth of hondis fro goode werkis. Live here. c. ¶ In leizyng thei disposyn, etc.; that is, vnco-uenablemyrthe. Live here. c.

¶ obeien to money; that is, for thei han nede to myche money for greet meynee and large table, therfor thei to thyn accusing. Live here. c.

3 comen of euelis vp on erthe. If the cloudis weren fulfild, weder vp on erthe thei shul heelden out; if the tree shul falle to the south, or to the north, in what euer place it shul falle, there it 4 shal be. Who waiteth wind, sowith not;
and who biholdith cloudis, neuermore 5 shal repe. What maner wise thou know-est not, what be the weie of the spirit, and bi what resoun bones ben ioyned in the wombe of the womman with childe, so thou wost not the werkes of God, that 6 is forgere of alle thingus. Erli sowe thi seed, and at eue^b ne cese thin hond; for thou wost neuer, whiche more growe, this or that; and if either togidere, the^c 7 betere shal be. Sweete the tree, and de-8 litable is to ejen to seen the sunne. If manye 3eres a man lyuede, and in alle these thingus were glad, he owith to han mynde of the derke tyme, and of many dazes; the whiche whan thei shul come, of vanyte shul ben vndernomen the pass-9 ed tymes. Thanne glade thou, 3unge man, in thi waxende age, and in good be thin herte in the dazes of thi 3outhe, and go in the weies of thin herte, and in the sizte of thin ejen; and wite thou, that for alle these thingus God shal 10 bringe thee in to dom. Do awei wrathe fro thin herte, and put awei malice fro thi flesh; forsothe waxende age and vo-luptuouste ben veyn.

CAP. XII.

1 Haue mynde of thi creatour in the dazis of thi 3outhe, and er time^d come of tormenting, and ne3hen the 3eres, of the whiche thou seye, Thei plesen not to me.
2 Er the sunne waxe derc, and list, and^e sterres, and moone^f; and the cloudis ing of coueitise. Live here. c.  remoue thou malice; that is, lecherie. 3ongthe and lust; that is, 3ongthe sekinge veniaunce, and lust hauntinge lechery, passen away soone, and leden to an yuel ende. Live here. c.

ymage and licnesse. Live here. c.

schal come on erthe. If cloudis ben fill-3 ed, tho^c schulen schede out reyn on the erthe; if a tre fallith down to the south, ether to the north, in what euer place it fallith down, there it schal be. He that 4 aspieth the wynd*, sowith not; and he that biholdith the cloudis, schal neuere repe. As thou knowist not, which is the 5 weye of the spirit, and bi what resoun boonys ben ioyned togidere in the wombe of a womman with childe, so thou knowist not the werkis of God, which is makere of alle thingis. Erli sowe† thi seed, and 6 thin hond ceesse not in the euentid; for thou woost not, what schal come forth more, this ethir that; and if euer eithir cometh^d forth togidere, it schal be the betere. The list is sweet, and delitable 7 to the izen to se the sunne. If a man 8 lyueth many 3eeris, and is glad in alle these, he owith to haue mynde of derk tyme‡, and of many daies; and whanne tho schulen come, thingis passid§ schulen be repreued of vanyte. Therfor, thou 3onge 9 man, be glad|| in thi 3ongthe, and thin herte be in good^e in the daies of thi 3ongthe, and go thou in the weies¶ of thin herte, and in the biholding of thin izen;
and wite thou, that for alle these thingis God shal brynge thee in to doom. Do 10 thou awei ire fro thin herte, and remoue thou malice fro thi fleisch; for whi 3ongthe and lust ben veyne thingis.

CAP. XII.

Haue thou mynde on thi creatour†† in 1 the daies of thi 3ongthe, bifore that the tyme of thi turment come, and the 3eris of thi deth neize, of whiche^f thou schalt seie, Tho plesen not me^g. `Haue thou 2 mynde on thi creatour^h, bifor that the

* He that aspi-
eth the wynd;
that is, dilayeth
to sowe, for the wynd, and di-
layeth to repe,
for the schew-
ing of cloudis,
so thei that abiden an ablere tyme and
lengthe of liyf,
ben lettid ofte
to do the werkis of pitee. *Live
here. c.*

† Erli sowe,
etc.; that is,
bigynne thou
the werkis of pitee at the tyme of 3ongthe.
and thyn hond
ceesse not; to do werkis of pitee. in the euentid; that is, eelde, wher-ynne men ben wont to be more hard. thou woost not what schal come forth
more; that is,
schal be maad
more acceptable to God. euer eithir togidere;
that is, is acceptable to God.
the betere; bi the fruyt of meede. *Live
here. c.*

‡ of derk tyme;
that is, of deth.
of many daies;
that is, of tyme,
that hath noon
ende after deth.
Live here. c.

§ thingis passid; that is, delitable thingis
of this liyf, that passiden as schadewe. *Live
here. c.*

|| thou 3ong
man, be glad,
etc.; Ebreys seyen, that this is seid by scorn,
and this semeth
wel bi the lettre.
Live here. c.

¶ go thou in the weies, etc.; that is, bi the maner
of thyn owne
wille. biholding
of thyn izen;
that is, in su-
ynge the styr-

^b euen AGH. ^c Om. AEGH. ^d the tyme A. ^e Om. A. ^f the mone AH.

^c thei I. ^d come I. ^e goodnes CFGIKMNQRSXQ. ^f the which I. ^g to me I. ^h Om. I.

3 turnen azeen after reyn. Whan shul be moued the keperes of the hous, and the most strong men wagen; and idil shuln ben the wymmen grindende in a litol noumbre, and seende bi holes shul 4 waxe derc; and closen the dores in the strete, in the meknesse of the vois of hir grindende; and thei shul rise at the vois of the brid, and alle the doztris of the 5 song shul become doumb. Heze thingus also shul dreden, and quaken in the weie; the almaunder shal flouren, and the locust shal be mad fat, and the erbe caperis shal be scatered; for a man shal gon in to the hous of his euerlastingnesse, and men weilende shul gon aboute 6 in the strete. Er be to-broke the silueren corde, and azeen come the goldene flet, and the stene be to-brosid vp on the welle, and to-broke be the wheel vp 7 on the cisterne; and pouder turne azeen in to his erthe, whenes he was, and the 8 spirit go azeen to God, that 3af it. Va-nyte of vanytes, seide Ecclesiastes, va-nyte of vanytes, and alle thingus vanyte.
9 And whan Ecclesiastes was most wis, he tazte the puple, and tolde out what he 10 hadde^g do, and enserchende made manye parablis; he sozte profitable wrdis, and wrot most rizt sermounes, and ful of 11 treuthe. The wrdis of wise men as prickes, and as nailes in to heihte piht, that bi the counseiles^h of maistris ben 12 ziuen of oon^l shepperde. More than these, sone myn, ne seche thou; of making manye bokis is noon ende, and ofte bethenking is tormenting of the 13 flesh. Eende of speking alle heere wee togidere. Dred God, and his hestis sunne be derk, and the list, and sterrys, and the mone; and^l cloude^k turne azen after reyn*. Whanne the keperis of the hous schulen^l be mouyd, and strongeste men schulen tremble; and grynderis schulen be idel, whanne the noumbre schal be maad lesse, and seeris bi the hoolis schulen wexe derk; and schulen close the doris⁴ in the street, in the lownesse of vois of a gryndere; and thei schulen rise at the vois of a brid[†], and alle the douztris of song schulen wexe deaf. And hi³ thingis⁵ schulen drede, and schulen be aferd in the weie[‡]; an^m alemaunde tre schal floure, a locuste schal be maad fat, and capparis[§] shal be distried; for a man schal go in to the hous of his euerlastyngnesse, and weileris schulen go aboute in the street. Haue thou mynde on thi creatour,⁶ byfore that a siluerne roop^{||} be brokun, and a goldun lace renne azen, and a watir pot be al to-brokun on the welle, and a wheele be brokun togidere on the cisterne; and⁷ dust turne azen in to his erthe, wherof it was, and the spirit turne^p azen to God, that 3af it. The vanyte of vanytees, seide⁸ Ecclesiastes, the vanyte of vanytees, and alle thingis ben vanyte. And whanne⁹ Ecclesiastes was moost wijs[¶], he tauzte the puple, and he telde out the thingis whiche he dide, and he souzte out wisdom,¹⁰ and made many parablis; he souzte profitable wordis, and he wroot moost riztful wordis, and ful of treuthe. The wordis¹¹ of wise men ben as prickis, and as nailis fastned deepe, whiche^q ben 3ouun of o scheepherde^{} bi the counsels of maistris^{††}.

My sone, seke thou no more than these;¹² noon ende is^r to make many bookis, and

* after reyn; that is, after the tribulacioun of eelde. the keperis; that is, isen, keperis of the body, bi-gynnen to faile, and to be dullid. and strongeste men; that is, hipis and leggis. and grynderis; that is, teeth. and seeris; that is, isen, set bi-twix the holis of the heed. the doris in the street; that is, lippis, set in the pleyn place of the face. Live here. c.

† vois of a brid; that is, the cok. douztris of song; that is, eeris, that deliten in melodie. c.

‡ be aferd in the weie; that is, the hijere part of soule, and the lowere part that hath compassioun on the bodi; for alle men dreden kyndly the deth neijinge, and to go out of the weye of present liyf. an alemaund, etc.; that is, the heed schal wexe hoor. locuste; that is, the wombe.

capparis; that is, couetise of flech. go; bi deth. euerlastyngnesse; for he schal neuere turne azen to present liyf. Live here. c.

§ capparis is an herbe. x. || a siluerne roop; that is, acording in the bodi lyuyng, be brokun bi deth. a goldun lace; that is, liyf to comyng. on the welle; that is, on the ioynyng togi-

¶ Ecclesiastes was

dere of othere membris on the herte. the susterne; that is, the heed on the herte. and dust; that is, the body. Live here. c. ¶ Ecclesiastes was moost wijs; that is, Salomon was wiseste of alle men of his tyme. Live here. c.  o scheepherde; that is, God, that rulith and feedith alle thingis. Live here. c. †† maistris; that is, of the persoones in Trynity, ether of hooli aunghels. seke thou nomore than these; that is, than the bokis of hooli scripture; netheles herbi ben not excludid othere bokis, that ben nedeful to the vnderstanding of hooli scripture, but oneli tho bokis that ben not nedeful to helthe; of whiche bokis it sueth, noon ende is to make many bokis, for newe hardnessis risen euere in siche thingis. ofte thenking; aboute sich thingis. is turment of fleisch; that is, makith turment of fleisch, and is with out profit, sithen it is of thingis that ben not nedeful to helthe, and lettich the knowing of nedeful thingis; therfor a man owith with alle myztis and bisynnessis 3yue tent to tho thingis that ben nedeful to the helthe of soule. Live here. c.

g it shulde E pr. m. h counseile AGH. i Om. A.

^l and the EPR. ^k cloudis ceteri. ^l Om. s. ^m and an c. ^p go CEFGHIKMNQRSUXA. ^q the whiche r. ^r ther is r.

14kep; that is, eche man. Alle thingus that ben^k mad, he shal bringe in to dom; for eche errid thing, whether good or euel it be.

ofte thenkyng is turment of fleisch. Alle 13 we here togydere the ende of spekyng. Drede thou God, and kepe hise heestis; 'that is to seie, ech man^{s*}. God schal 14 brynge alle thingis in to dom, that ben don; for ech thing don bi errour, whether it be good, ether^t yuel.

Here endith Ecclesiastes, and here bigynneth the book, that is clepid Soongis of Soongis, of the bridalys of Crist and of the Chirche¹.

Here endith Ecclesiastes, and here bigynneth the Song of Songis^u.

^k he A. ¹ From A. Explicit E. Explicit Ecclesiastes. GH. No final rubric in C.

^s this is, al man CGHKMNQSUXA. this is, eueri man EF. that is to wite, euery man I. this al man R. ^t or I passim. SA. ^u Here endith the book of Ecclesiastes, and here bigynneth the book of Songis. F. Here endith Ecclesiastes, and bygynneth the prolog on Song of Songis. G. Heere endith Ecclesiastes, and bigynneth Song of Songis. ISXA. Here endeth the booc of Ecclesiastes; se now the book of Song of Songis. K. Here endith the book of Ecclesiastes, and here bigynneth the book of Song of Songis, that weren maad of Salomon, to be sungen in the temple of the Lord, in to euerlastinge wurschiping, and nedith noon other prologe. M. Here endith Ecclesiastes, and here bigynneth the book of Songis of Songis. N. Heere eendith the book of Ecclesiastes, and bigynneth the book of Songes. R. Here endith Ecclesiasticus, and here bigynneth the book of Songis. V. Here endith Ecclesiastes, and bigynneth Song of Songis, of the bridales of Christ and of the Chirche. X. No final rubric in EF.

* this is al man; that is, perfit man; that is, these twey partis, to drede God and kepe hise heestis, maken a man parfit in vertu. that ben doon; that is, of men that moun do wel and yuele, bi freedom of wille. ech thing doon bi errour; in Ebreu it is, for ech thing helid ether priuy; but thing doon bi errour is vndurstondun trespas by malice ether bi ignorance. good; in kynde, ne theles yuel bi circumstance ether entent. Live here. C.

SONG OF SOLOMON.

Heer gynneth^a the booc that is clepid Songus^b of Songis, of the bridalys of Crist and of the Chirche^c.

CAP. I.

*The Chirche, of the comyng of Crist 1 spekith, seiende, Kisse he me with the cos of his mowth. The vois of the Fader. For betere ben thi tetes than wyn, 2 smellende with best oynemens. The vois of the Chirche. Oile held out, thi name; therefore the 3unge waxende wymmen loueden thee ful myche. The vois of 3 the Chirche to Crist. Draz me aftir thee; wee shul rennen in the smel of thin oynemens. The Chirche seith of Crist.
Bro3te me in^d the king in to his celeris; wee shul ful out io3en, and gladen in thee, myndeful of thi tetes, vp on wyn; ri3t men loouen thee. The Chirche of 4 hir tribulaciouns. O! 3ee do3tris of Jerusalem, blac I am, but shapli, as the tabernacles of Cedar, as the skynnes of 5 Salomon. Wileth not beholden, that I*

Here^a biginneth the bok of the Songes of Songes^a.

CAP. I.

^b Kisse he me with the cos of his mouth*. ^cFor thi tetis† ben betere than² wyn, and 3yuen odour with beste oynementis. ^dThi name is oile† sched out; therfor 3onge damesels loueden thee.
^eDrawe thou me after thee; we schulen³ renne in to^f the odour of thin oynementis. ^gThe kyng ledde me in to hise celeris‡; we myndeful of thi teetis about wyn, schulen make ful out ioye, and^h schulen be glad in thee; ri3tful men louen thee. ⁱ3e dou3tris of Jerusalem,⁴ Y am blak, but fair, as the tabernaclis of Cedar, as the skynnes of Salomon.
Nyle 3e biholde me, that Y am blak, for⁵ the sunne hath|| discolourid me; the sones of my modir fou3ten azens me, thei settiden^j me a kepere in vyners; Y kepte not my vyner¶. ^kThou spouse, whom⁶

* In this book the spouse is God; the spousesse is hooli chirche, that comprehendith the staat of the Elde Testament and Newe; the chirche for the staat of the Elde Testament, is discryued in the vj. firste chapitris, and aftirward the staat of the Newe Testament, in viij. and viij. chapitris. This chirche is maad of dyuerse folkis, that is, of Jewis and hethen men, of iust men and of synners, of prelatys and of sugetis. Hooli chirche took specialy the name of spousesse, first in the 3yuyng of the laue, in the hil of Synay. The puple of Israel, signefied bi the name of spousesse, seith to God, Kisse he me with the cos of his mouth;

that is, Y wolde, that God schewe hym silf frendful to me bi signes and werkis, as a spouse to the spousesse. c. † thi tetis, etc.; that is, the fulnesse of Goddis mersi is swettere to mannus soule, than wyn most sauery among bodili thingis is swete to the tast. In Ebreu it is, for thi loues ben betere than wyn, etc.; that is, the loue of God is more sauery to a deuout soule, than ony bodili thing to bodili tast. Live here. c. ‡ oyle; that is, good fame; for bi the meruels that God dide to the sones of Israel in Egipt, and in the Reed See, the fame of his name and goodnesse was spred abroad to othere puplis, for which many men weren conuertid to the feith of Jewis. 3onge damesels; that is, othere folkis weren conuertid to thi loue. odour of thyn oynementis; that is, we schulen be drawun bi affeccions of thi goodnesse; netheles these wordis in to the odour of thyn oynementis, is not of the text; for it is not in Ebreu. Live here. c. § celeris; that is, the kyng of heuens shewide to me hise priuytes, bi Moises. of thi tetis; ether of thi loues, as Ebreys seyen. tabernaclis of Cedar, etc.; bi Cedar ben vndurstondun Agareneus, that ben seid now Saracenus. Bi Salomon is vndurstondun God; hise skynnes ben seid the hizere hiling of the tabernacle. c. || the sunne hath, etc.; that is, brennyng of tribulacioun. c. ¶ Y kepte not my vyner; that is, Y my3te not 3yue tent to my werkis, for ocupacioun in the werkis of Egipcians. c.

^a begynneth EGH. ^b Song c pr. m. ^c No initial rubric in A. ^d Om. A.

^a From EP. Here bigynneth the Song of Songes. g. No initial rubric in the other Mss. ^b The Chirche of the comyng of Christ spekith, and seith. x marg. ^c The vois of the Fadir. x marg. ^d The vois of the Chirche. x marg. ^e The vois of the Chirche to Crist. x marg. ^f Om. I. ^g The Chirche seith of Crist. x marg. ^h and we I. ⁱ The Chirche, of hir tribulaciouns. x marg. ^j setten I. ^k The voice of the Chirche to Crist. x marg.

be broun, for discoloured me hath the sunne; the sonus of my moder fozten azen me, thei setteden me kepere in vynes; my vynezerd I kepte not. The 6 vois of the Chirche to Crist. Shew thou to me, whom loueth my soule, wher thou 3iuest leswe, wher thou ligge^e in myddai; lest to gon vagaunt I bygynne, aftir the flockis of thi^f felawis^g. The 7 vois of Crist to the Chirche. If thou knowest not thee, O! thou most fair among wymmen, go out, and go awei after the steppis of thi flockis; and feed thi got, biside the tabernacle^h of shep-8 perdis. To my riding in charis of Farao 9 I licnede thee, O! my leef. Faire ben thi cheekes, as ofⁱ a turtill^k; thi necke 10 as brooches. Goldene ribanes wee shul make to thee, mad fijr red with siluer.
11 The vois of the Chirche of Crist. Whan the king was in his liyng place, my 12 mad encens 3af his smel. A bundelet^l of myrre my lemman is to me; betwe^m 13 my tetes he shal dwelle. The clustre of cypre tree my lemman to me, in the vynes of Engaddy. The vois of Crist 14 to the Chirche. Lo! thou art fair, my leef; lo! thou fair, thin e3en of culueres.
15 The vois of the Chirche to Crist. Lo!
thou art fair, my lemman, and semeli; 16 oure bed shynende. The trees of oure houses cedre; oure couplis cipresse.

CAP. II.

The vois of Crist, of hym and of the 1 Chirche. I the flour of the feeld, and the 2 lilie of aleyesⁿ. As a lilie among thornes, so my leef among doztres. The vois of 3 the Chirche of Crist. As an appil tree among the trees of wodis, so my lemman my soule loueth, schewe to me, where thou lesewist, where thou restist in myddai*; lest Y bigynne to wandre, aftir the flockis of thi felowis. *e*A! thou fair-7 est among wymmen, if thou knowist not thi silf, go thou out, and go forth aftir the steppis[†] of thi flockis; and feede thi kidis, bisidis the tabernaclis of scheepherdis. Mi frendesse^d, Y licnede thee to myn oost of kny3tis in the charis of Fa-rao. Thi chekis ben feire, as of a tur-9 tle; thi necke is as brochis. We schulen make to thee goldun ournementis, departid and maad dyuerse with silver. *e*Whanne 11 the kyng was in his restyng place, my narde^f 3af his odour. My derlyng is a 12 bundel of myrre to me; he schal dwelle bitwixe^g my tetis. My derlyng is to me 13 a cluster of cypre tre, among the vyneres of Engaddi. *h*Lo! my frendesseⁱ, thou 14 art fair; lo! thou art fair, thin i3en ben the i3en of culueris. *k*Lo, my derling, 15 thou art fair, and schapli; oure bed is fair as flouris. The trees of oure housis ben 16 of cedre; oure couplis ben of cipresse.

1 I am a flour of the feeld, and a lilye of grete valeis. As a lilie among thornes, so 2 is my frendesse[‡] among dou3tris. *m*As 3 an apple tre among the trees of wodis, so my derlyng among sones.

CAP. II.

I sat vndur the shadewe[§] of hym, whom Y desiride; and his fruyt was swete to my throte. The king ledde me in to the wyn celer; he ordeynede charite in me.
Bisette 3e me with flouris^{||}, cumpasse 3e
5 me with applis; for Y am sijk for loue.

that 3yuen hem silf to idolatrie. Live here. c. § Y sat vndur the schadewe; that is, Y dwellide vndur the piler of fier and of cloude, that 3af list in the nist, and temperide the heete of sunne in the day. his fruyt; that is, manna 3ouun in desert fro heuene. wyn celer; that is, to the auter of brent sacrifices, for wyn was sched out in moist sacrifices. Live here. c. || with flouris, etc.; bi these ben vndurston dun Goddis coumfortingis, that ben 3ouun to men hopinge in him; thou3 God is had bi charite in this liyf; this bi hope, and not in blisful sijt; therfor the absence of this good makith turment, which turment is seid here the siknesse of the spousesse.

^e liggist A. ^f my E pr. m. ^g lesewis A. ^h tabernaclis AGH. ⁱ Om. E pr. m. ^k tour E pr. m. turtir AE sec. m. G. ^l bundel A. ^m between E passim. ⁿ alle valeys AGH.

^e The vois of Crist to the Chirche. x marg. ^d leef I. ^e The vois of the Chirche, of Crist. x marg.
^f or oynement boxe I marg. ^g bitwene I. ^h The vois of Crist to the Chirche. x marg. ⁱ leef I. ^k The vois of the Chirche to Crist. x marg. ^l The vois of Crist, of him and of the Chirche. x marg. ^m The vois of the Chirche, of Crist. x marg.

* in mydday; that is, in the heete of tribulacioun. the flockis of thi felows; that is, where thou feedist thi feithful men, and restist bi feith formed with charite. after the flockis; that is, othere vnfeithful folkis. of thi felowis; that is, of hooli aungels, assigned to the keeping of vnfeithful men. A! thou fairest, etc.; that is, thou puple of Israel. knowist not; that is, if thou dredist for thi sike men to bowe away fro rijtful weye. Live here. c. [†] after the steppis, etc.; that is, of symple men bilyuynge; and siche weren Abel, Seth, Enok, Noe, and liyk men. thi chekis ben faire, etc.; in Ebreu it is, thi chekis ben faire in ordris, that is, in ournementis disposid in due ordre in thi face. restyng place; that is, propiciatorie. my narde, etc.; that is, encense of good odour. my tetis; that is, withinnemyn herte, by contynuel thenking. a clustre, etc.; that is, he delitith me more goostli, than ony sauerie thing and swete delitith bodili. Live here. c. [‡] my frendesse, etc.; that is, the puple of Israel among othere folkis, among sones. Vnder the shadewe of hym, whom I hadde desirid, I sat; and 4 his frut sweete to my throte. The king ledde me in his win celer; he ordeynde

 5 in me charite. Vnder ley see me with floures, setteth me aboute with appelis; for I languyshe for looue. The vois of the Chirche of Crist. The lift hond of hym vnder myn hed; and his riȝt hond shal clippe me. The vois of Crist, of the Chirche. I adiure ȝou, see doȝtris of Jerusalem, bi the capretes, and the hertes of feeldis, ne rere ȝee, ne maketh my^o leef to waken, to the time that she wile.
 8 The vois of the Chirche, of Crist. The vois of my lemman; lo! this cometh lepende in mounteynes, and ouer lepende 9 hillis. Lic is my lemman to a capret, and to an hert calf of hertis; lo! he stant^p bihynde oure wal, biholdende bi the windowes, aferr lookende thurȝ the 10 latis. Lo! my lemman speketh to me, Ris, go thou, my leef, my culuer, my 11 shapli, and cum; now forsothe wintre passede, weder ȝide fro, and is gon awei.
 12 Floures apereden in oure lond, time of kutting is come; the vois of the turtl^q 13 is herd in oure lond, the fige tree broȝte forth his first figus; the vynes flourende ȝiuen ther smel. The vois of Crist to the Chirche. Ris, go, my leef, myn 14 shapli, and cum thou. My culuer in the holis of the ston, in the chyne of a^r ston wal. Shewe thou to me thi face, sounne thi vois in myn eres; thi vois forsothe is swete, and thi face semeli. The vois of Crist to the Chirche, aȝen eretikis.
 15 Take see to vs litle foxes, that destroyed vynes; for oure vyne flourede. The vois of the Chirche of Crist. My looued to me, and I to hym, that is fed among 17 lilies; to the time that the dai springe, and shadewes be bowid in. Turne aȝen;

His left hond is vndur myn heed; and his riȝt hond schal biclippe me. ȝe douȝtris of Jerusalem, Y charge ȝou greetli, bi capretis, and hertis of feeldis, that ȝe reise not, nether make to awake^h the dereworthe spousesse, til sche wole. *The vois of my derlyng; lo! this der-lyng cometh lepyng in mounteyns, and skippyng ouer litle hillis. My derlyng⁹ is lijk a capret, and a calf of hertis; lo! he stondith bihynde oure wal[†], and biholdith bi the wyndows, and lokith thorouȝ the latis^k. Lo! my derlyng¹⁰ spekith to me, My frendesse^l, my culuer, my faire spousesse, rise thou[‡], haaste thou, and come thou; for wyntir is passid now, reyn is goon, and is^m departid awei. Flouris apperidenⁿ in oure lond, the tyme of schridyng is comun; the vois of a turtle is herd in oure lond, the fige tre hath brouȝt forth hise buddis; vyneris flouryng han ȝoue her odour. ȝMy frendesse^p, my fayre spousesse, rise thou, haaste thou, and come thou. My culuer is in the hoolis of stoon, in the chyne of a wal with out mortar. Schewe thi face[§] to me, thi vois sounne in myn eeris; for thi vois is swete, and thi face is fair. ȝCatches ȝe litle foxis to vs, that destrien the vyneris; for oure vyner hath flourid. My derlyng is to me, and Y am to hym, which is fed among lilies; til the dai spryng, and schadewis be bowid down. My derlyng, turne thou aȝen; be thou lijk a capret, and a calf of hertis, on the hillis of Betel^{||}.

ȝe douȝtris of Jerusalem; that is, sike men of the puple of Israel. bi capretis, etc.; that is, bi patriarkis. reise not; that is, that ȝe bowe not to ony orible synne, for which the coumfort of God schal be withdrawun, and al the puple schal be disturblid. til sche wole; that is, the spousesse schal neuere wile this. Live here. c.
 * my derling; pronounsinge x. heestis in the hil of Syna. Live here. c.
 † wal; that is, the thicke cloude. Live here. c.
 ‡ rise thou; that is, reise thi soule to my wordis. come thou; to serue me aloone. wyntir; that is, the hidouse tyme of thraldom of Egypt. Flouris; that is, the myrry tyme of fredom is comun, in which thou maist serue me frely. Live here. c.
 § Schewe thi face; in resseyuynge gladli my lawe. thi vois sounne; in knoueleching to kepe my lawe. Catches ȝe litle foxes, etc.; that is, sle ȝe per-soones that inducen bi gile the puple to idolatrie, for the puple of Israel hath flourid in deuout resseyuynge of Goddis lawe. Live here. c.
 || a calf of hertis on the hillis of Betel; that is, on the hil of Synay, where the Lord spak to Moyses.

Betel; that is, Goddis hows, for he dwellide there with Moyses; in Ebreu it is on the hillis of Bathar, that is, of departing; for there God was departid fro the puple, for idolatrie, but he was plesid fynaly, at the preyeris of Moyses. Live here. c.

^o the E pr. m. P stoondith A. q turtre AEG. r the AH.

[†] The vois of the Chirche, of Crist. x marg. [§] The vois of Crist, of the Chirche. x marg. ^h wake I.
^l The vois of the Chirche, of Crist. x marg. ^k latis I. ^l leef I. ^m it is I. ⁿ han apperid I. ^o The vois of Crist to the Chirche. x marg. P leef I. ^q The vois of Crist to the Chirche, aȝens heretikis. x marg.
^r The vois of the Chirche, of Crist. x marg.

lic be thou, O! my lemman, to a capret, and to the hert calf of hertis, vpon the mounteynes of Bethel.

CAP. III.

The vois of the Chirche, gedered to-1gidere of Jentiles. In my litle bed by niztis I sozte, whom loouede my soule; 2 I sozte hym, and I fond not. I shal rise, and gon aboute the cite, bi townes and stretis; I shal seche, whom looueth my 3 soule; I sozte hym, and fond^s not. There founden me the waccheres, that kepe the cite. The Chirche seith of Crist to the Apostolis. Whether whom looueth 4 my soule, zee sezen? A litil whan I hadde passed them, I fond, whom looueth my soule; I heeld hym, and I shal not lefe, to the time that I bringe hym in to the hous of my moder, and in to the bed of hir that gat me. The vois of 5 Crist, of the Chirche. I adiure zou, zee douztris off Jerusalem, bi capretis, and hertis of feeldis, ne rere zee, ne make zee my leef to wake, to the time that she wile. The sinagoge of the Chirche.
6 What is she, this that stezeth vp bi desert, as a lytil zerdè of smoke of the swote spices, of myrre, and of encens^t, and of alle pymentarie poudre? The 7 vois of the Chirche of Crist. Lo! the litle bed of Salamon sixty stronge men cum-passen, of the most stronge men of Irael; 8 the whyche alle ben holdende swerdis, and to batailes^u best tazt; of 'eche on^v the sward vp on his hipe, for the nyzt dredes.
Of^w Crist, and of the Chirche, chosen of 9 Jentilis. A chazer king Salamon made 10 to hym, of the trees of Liban; his pileris

CAP. III.

^aIn my litle bed* Y souzte hym bi¹ niztis, whom my soule loueth; Y souzte hym, and Y foond not. I shal rise, and² Y schal cumpasse the citee, bi litle stretis and large stretis; Y schal seke hym, whom my soule loueth; I souzte hym, and Y foond not. Wakeris^o, that kepen³ the citee, founden me. ^pWhether ze sien hym, whom my soule loueth? A litil⁴ whanne Y hadde passid hem, Y foond hym, whom my soule loueth; Y helde hym, and Y schal not leue hym^q, til Y brynge him in to the hous of my modir, and in to the closet of my modir. ^rZe⁵ douztris of Jerusalem, Y charge you greetli, bi the capretis, and hertis of feeldis, that ze reise not, nether make to awake the dereworthe spousesse, til sche wole. ^sWho⁶ is this womman, that stieth^t bi the deseert, as a zerde of smoke[†] of swete smellynge spices, of mirre, and of encence, and of al poudur of an oynement makere? ^uLo!⁷ sixti stronge men of the strongeste men of Israel cumpassen the bed of Salomon; and alle thei holden swerdis, and ^{ben}⁸ moost witti to batels; the sward of ech man ^{is} on his hipe, for the drede of nyztis.
^vKyng Salomon[†] made to hym a seete, of⁹ the trees of Liban; he made the pilers¹⁰ therof of siluer; ^{he} made a goldun restyng place, a styng^w of purpur; and he arayede the myddil thingis with charite, for the douztris of Jerusalem. ^xZe douz-¹¹ tris of Sion, go^y out, and se^z kyng Salo-

* In iij. c. is set the letting of the puple, that bifelde bi aspieris of the lond of biheest, that maden the puple so myche aferd, that thei wolden forsake Moises, and the arke of the Lord, and turne agen in to Egypt; and the spousesse biweilith this letting, and seith, in my litle bed; that is, in the tabernacle of Moises. bi nyztis; that is, in the tyme of tribulacioun, reisd bi thilke aspieris. Moises and Aaron in the tabernacle preyeden the Lord for the puple, that the forseid sentence schulde be temperid, ether reuokid, but for thei weren not herd, it sueth, Y souzte him, and foond not. cumpasse the citee; that is, the desert bi xl. zeer. the wakeris; that is, Moises and Aaron. founden me; and tolden the sentence of God; and for the puple repentide of that rebelte, and was redi to stie in to the lond of biheest, and so thei souzten the good wille of God, it sueth, wher ze sien him, etc. where the spousesse spekith to Moises and Aaron, and for they answeriden not to her desir, but more to the contrarie, and seiden, Nyle ze stie, therfor here is set noon answer to the forseid axing. Live here. c. [†] as a zerde of smoke, etc.; that is seid for encence maad of many swete smellynge spices, that signefiede deuocioun of the puple, bi which thei desserueden to be brouzt in to the lond of biheest. sixti stronge men; that is, sixti sithis ten thousinde that maken vj. hundrid thousynde of verriours, aboute the bed of Salomon, that is, the tabernacle of pees of the Lord. Live here. c. [†] Kyng Salomon; that is, God a king to zou, specially in the yuyng of lawe. a goldun resting place; that is, the propiciatorie, that was the seete of God was al of pure gold. stying of purpur; that is, a veil of purpur hanginge bitwixe the pilers, and was reisd vp, whanne me entride in to the hooli of hooli places. the myddil thingis with charite; for in the hooli of hooli places on the pawment was the arke of testament, with the tablis of lawe, and manna, and the zerde of Aaron, that weren signes of Goddis charite to the puple. Live here. c.

^a I foond AGH. ^t cense AEGH. ^u bataille AGH. ^v eche c pr. m. echon ceteri. ^w The vois of A.

^a The vois of the Chirche, gaderid togidere of Gentilis. x marg. ^o Wacche men I. ^p The Chirche seith of Crist to the Apostlis. x marg. ^q Om. c. ^r The vois of Crist, of the Chirche. x marg. ^s The synagoge, of the Chirche. x marg. ^t stieth up I. ^u The vois of the Chirche, of Crist. x marg. ^v Of Crist, and of the Chirche, chosen of Gentilis. x marg. ^w styng up I. ^x The vois of the Chirche, of Crist. x marg. ^y goth I. ^z se ze I.

he made siluerene, the lenyng place goldene, the stejyng vp purper; the myddes^x he enournede^y with charite, for the do3tris of Jerusalem. The vois of the 11 Chirche, of Crist. Goth out, and seeth, 3ee do3tris of Sion, king Salamon in the diademe, in the whiche crounede hym hys moder, in the dai of spousing of hym, and in the dai of gladnesse of his herte.

CAP. IV.

1 The vois of Crist to the Chirche. Hou fair art thou, my leef, hou fair art thou; thin ezen of culueres, withoute it that withynne forth is hid; thin heres as the flockes of get, that stejeden vp fro the 2 hil^z of Galaad. Thi teth as the flockys of clippid sheep, that stejeden vp fro the wassing place; alle with double lombis in the wombe, and bareyn ther is not 3 among hem. As a fyr red silkene filet thi lippes, and thi faire speche sweete; as the breking of a poumgarnet, so thi chekes, withoute it, that withinne forth 4 sit^a hid. As the tour of Dauid thi necke, that is bild out with pynacles; a thousand sheldis hangen of it, al the armoure 5 of stronge men. Thi two tetes as two 3unge capretes, twynlingus^b of the capret, 6 that ben fed in lilies, to the time that the dai brethe out, and the shadewes ben inbowed. I shal go to the mount of 7 mirre, and to the hil of cens. Al fair thou art, my leef, and wem is not in 8 thee. Cum thou fro Liban, my spouse; cum^c from Liban, cum; thou shalt be crouned fro the hed of Amana, fro the frount of Samur and of Ermon, fro the couches of leouns, and the hil of pardis. 9 Thou hast woundid myn herte, my sister; my spouse, thou hast woundid my herte, in oon of thin ezen, and in oon 10 her of thi necke. Hou faire ben thi tetes, my sister, my spouse; fairere ben mon in the diademe, bi^t which his modir^{*} crounede hym, in the dai of his spousing, and in^u the dai of the^v gladnesse of his herte.

CAP. IV.

"Mi[†] frendesse, thou art ful fair^x; thin 1 izen ben of culueris, with outen that that is hid with ynne; thin heeris ben as the flockis of geete, that stieden^{xx} fro the hil of Galaad. Thi teeth ben as the^y flockis 2 of clippid^z sheep, that stieden^a fro waischyng; alle ben with double lambren, and no bareyn is^b among tho. Thi lippis ben 3 as a reed lace, and thi speche is swete; as the relif of an appil of Punyk, so ben thi chekis, with outen that, that is hid with ynne. Thi necke is as the tour of 4 Dauid, which is bildid with strengthis maad bfore for defense; a thousynde scheldis hangen on it, al armure of stronge men. Thi twei tetis ben as twei 5 kidis, twynnes of a capret, that ben fed in^c lilies, til the dai sprynge, and shadewis 6 ben bowid down. Y schal go to the mounteyn of myrre[‡], and to the litil hil of encense. My frendesse^d, thou art al 7 faire, and no wem is^e in thee. My 8 spousesse, come thou fro the Liban; come thou fro the Liban, come thou; thou schalt be corowned fro the heed of Amana^{||}, fro the cop of Sanyr and Hermon, fro the dennys of liouns, fro the hillis of pardis. My sister spousesse, thou hast 9 woundid myn herte; thou hast woundid myn herte, in oon of thin izen[¶], and in oon^f heer of thi necke. My sistir 10 spousesse, thi tetis ben ful faire; thi tetis ben feirere than wyn, and the odour of

* his modir; that is, the puple of Jewis. of his spousing; that is, in 3yuyng of the lawe. Live here. c.

† In iij. c°. the goostli fairnesse of the spousesse is signified by this parable; the heed of the spousesse was the patriark Jacob; the heeris ben xij. patriarkis; the izen ben Moises and Aaron, rulinge the puple; the teeth ben werriouris, schapli to deuoure aduersaries; lippis, that bryngen forth swete speche, ben dekenes and singeris, seiyngge Goddis herinygis; the rodi chekis ben othere dekenes, mynstringe aboute the auter of brent sacrifices; the throte ben studiouse men in the lawe, liened to the tour of Dauith, maad strong with scheeldis; for whi armuris ajenus impyngneris of Goddis lawe, ben had bi sich studie; twei tetis ben twei tablis of witnessing, of whiche the mylk of kunnyng and deuocioun is sokun out; til the day, of the newe testament; schadewis, for the figuris of the elde lawe ceesen in the newe testament, of which thei weren schadewe. Live here. c.

‡ to the mounteyn of myrre, etc.; that is, to the lond of Judee, that is ful of hillis, and bath myche ¶ oon of thin myrre and encense. Live here. c. || heed of Amana; in Ebreu it is, biholdinge fro the heed of Amana. Live here. c. izen; that is, Moises. heer; that is, Joseph. Live here. c.

^x vtmost E. ^y enuyrounede AC. ^z hillis A. ^a sittith A. ^b iemeus E pr. m. ^c cum thou A.

^t with I. ^u Om. A. ^v Om. CM. ^w The vois of Crist to the Chirche. ^x marg. ^x fair, thou art ful fair c. ^{xx} stieden up I. ^y Om. C. ^z schorn I. ^a stieden up I. ^b ther is I. ^c among c. ^d leef I, ^e ther is I. ^f an I.

thi tetes than win, and the smel of thin 11 oynemens ouer alle spices. A droppende honycomb thi lippes, spouse; hony and mylc vnder thi tunge, and the smel of 12 thi clothingus as the smel of cens. A closid gardin, my sister spouse; a closid 13 gardyn, a welle selid. Thin outsendungus paradys of pougarnetes, with the frutis 14 of appilis, of cipre tre, with narde; and narde, and safrun, fistula, and canel, with alle the trees of Liban, myrre, and aloes, 15 with alle the firste oynemens. The welle of gardynes, the pit of liuende watris, 16 that flowen with bire fro Liban. Ris, north, and cum, south; blo3 thur3 my gardyn, and ther shul flowe swote spices of it.

CAP. V.

1 The Chirche seith of Crist. Come, my leef, in to his gardyn; and ete he the frut of his appelis. Crist seith to the Chirche. Cum in to my gardin, my sister, my spouse. I haue gedered my mirre, with my swoote spices; I eet myn honycomb, with myn hony; I dranc my wyn, with my mylc. Crist to the Apostolis seith. Eteth, 3ee frendes, and drinketh; and 3ee most derwrthe, beth 2 inwardli maad drunke. I slepe, and myn herte waketh. The vois of the Chirche of Crist. The vois of my lemman knock-ende; opene thou to me, myn sister, my leef, my culuer, myn vnwemed; for myn hed is ful of dew, and my temple heres 3 of the dropis of nyztis. I spoilede me my coote; hou shal I be clad^e it? I wesh^f my feet; hou shal I defoule them?
 4 My lemman putte his hond bi the hole; my wombe inwardli tremblede at the thi clothis is aboue alle swete smellynge oynementis. Spousesse, thi lippis ben an 11 hony* coomb droppynge; hony and mylk ben^f vndur thi tunge, and the odour of thi clothis is as the odour of encence. Mi 12 sister spousesse, a gardyn closid togidere;

 a gardyn closid togidere, a welle aseelid.
 Thi sendingis out ben paradys of applis[†] 13 of Punyk, with the fruytis of applis, cipre trees, with narde; narde, and safrun, an 14 erbe clepid fistula, and canel, with alle trees of the Liban, myrre, and aloes, with alle the beste[§] oynementis. A welle of 15 gardyns, a pit of wallynge^b watris, that flowen with fersnesse fro the Liban. Rise 16 thou northⁱ wynd, and come thou, south^k wynd; blowe thou thorou3 my gardyn, and the swete smellynge oynementis[‡] therof schulen flete.

CAP. V.

¹Mi derlyng, come¹¹ in to his gardyn,¹ to ete the fruyt[§] of hise applis. ^mMi sister spousesse, come thou in to my gar-dyn. Y have ropeⁿ my myrre, with my swete smellynge spices; Y haue ete an hony combe, with myn hony; Y haue drunke my wyn, with my mylk. ^oFrendis, ete 3e, and drynke^p; and dereworthe^q frendis, be 3e fillid greetli. Y slepe^{||},² and myn herte wakith. ^rThe vois of my derlyng knockynge; my sister, my frendesse^a, my culuer, my spousesse vn-wemed, opene thou to me; for myn heed is ful of dew, and myn heeris ben ful of dropis of nyztis. I haue vnclothid³ me of my coote; hou schal Y be clothid ther ynne? I haue waische my feet; hou schal Y defoule tho^t? Mi derlyng⁴ putte^u his hond bi an hoole; and my wombe tremblide at the touchyng therof.
 Y roos, for to opene^v to my derlyng; myn⁵

* thi lippis ben
 as hony; this is said of deuout preyeris of the highest preest, and of dekenes, that weren maad in the persone of
 al the chirche.
 Live here. c.
 † paradiys of applis, etc.;
 that is, strondis
 flowinge forth therfro maken
 the lond myrie,
 at the maner
 of paradiys of pumgranatis.
 Live here. c.
 ‡ oynmentis, etc.; alle these thingis ben seid
 in preising of the lond of biheeste, to reise
 the desir of the spousesse. Live
 here. c.
 § to ete the fruyt, etc.; that is, make me to ete in pees the fruyt of the lond
 grauntid to me.
 Live here. c.
 || Y slepe; that is, punysche
 not synnes at a tyme. wakith;
 that is, Y bifor se du tyme of punysching.
 knockinge;
 bi profetis and techeris, to clepe
 me to penaunce
 aftir idolatrie
 doon. frendesse;
 in tyme passid
 of thyn innocence. opene
 to me; bi consent of good.
 myn heed is ful, etc.; God
 spekith here bi the maner of a spouse, desiring to be recoun-celid to the spousesse, and sparith not for hardnesse of trauel; but the vnkynde spous-
 esse, yuele for-sakinge, this answerith. Y
haue vnclothid,
 etc.; that is,
 Y haue left Goddis reli-gioun. hou
schal Y be clothid ther

ynne; for the puple nolde turne a3en to Goddis religioun, at the monestingis of profetis. waische my feet; this is seid bi the gessing of the puple, that dide idolatrie, and arettide the worshipinge of God to be vnclene, and the worshiping of an idol to be clene. his hond; that is, the hond of his rijtfulnesse, to punysche me. tremblide; for the puple that was smytun of God, conseyuede drede. Live here. c. ¶ Y roos for to opene, etc.; that is, Y souste to be recouncelid to him, and so to be deliuerid of payne.

^e clothid AEGH. ^f washide AGH.

^f Om. c pr. m. [§] beste, ether firste x marg. ^b wellynge, ether quike K marg. ⁱ northerne A sec. m.
^k southerne A sec. m. ¹ The Chirche seith of Crist. x marg. ¹¹ come he I. ^m Crist seith to the Chirche.
x marg. ⁿ repe I. ^o Crist seith to the Apostelis. x marg. ^p drinketh I. ^q most dere I. ^r The vois of the Chirche, of Crist. x marg. ^a leef I. ^t hem I. ^u sente CEF pr. m. GHIKMN PQRSUXA^q.

5 touching of hym. I ros, that I shulde opene to my lemman; myn hondis droppeden mirre, and my fingres ful of best 6 proued myrre. The lach of my dore I openede to my lemman; and he hadde bowid aside, and passede. My soule is molten, as my^s lemman spac^h; I sozte, and I fond not hym; I clepede, and he 7 answerde not to me. Ther founden me theⁱ keperes that gon aboute the cite;
 thei smyten me, and woundeden me; token my mantil the keperes of the 8 wallis. I adiure 3ou, 3ee^k do3tris of Jerusalem, if 3ee shul finde my lemman, that 3ee telle to hym^l, for I languysse for looue. The vois of frendis seith to 9 the chirche. Whiche is thi lemman of the looued, O! thou most fair of wym-men? whiche is thi lemman of the looued?
 'for so^m thou hast adiurid vs. The vois of the chirche of Crist seith to the 10 frendis^{mm}. My lemman whit and roody; 11 chosen of thousandis. His hed best gold; his her as braunchis of palmes thicke 12 lefed, blac as a crowe. Hys e3en as culueres vp on litle ryueres of watris, that ben wassheⁿ with mylc, and sitten bi the 13 most ful flowingus of watris. The chekes of hym as litle flores of swote spicis, plaunted^o of pymentaries; his lippis^{oo} 14 droppende the first myrre. The hondis of hym able to turnen aboute, goldene, and ful of iacynctis; his wombe is 15 yuerene, departid bi safiris. His hipis^p marbil pileres, that ben foundid vpon goldene feet; his fairnesse as of Liban, 16 and chosen as of cedre. The throte of hondis droppiden myrre, and my fyngris weren ful of myrre moost preued. Y⁶ openede the wicket of my dore to my derlyng; and he hadde bowid awei, and hadde passid^s. My soule was meltid*, as the derlyng spak; Y souzte, and Y foond not hym; Y clepide, and he answerde not to me. Keperis[†] that cumpassiden⁷ the citee founden me; thei smytiden^u me, and woundiden me; the keperis of wallis token away my mentil. 3e dou3tris of⁸ Jerusalem, Y biseche 3ou bi an hooli thing, if 3e han founde my derlyng, that 3e telle to hym, that Y am sijk for loue. ^{uu}A! thou faireste of wymmen,⁹ of what manner condicioun is thi derlyng^v 'of the louede^w? of what manner condicioun is thi derling of a derling?

 for thou hast^x bisou3t vs bi an hooli thing.
^{xx}My derling is whyt and rodi[‡]; chosun¹⁰ of thousyndis. His heed is best gold; ¹¹ hise heeris ben as the bowis of palm trees, and^y ben blake as a crowe. Hise i3en¹² ben as culueris on the strondis of watris, that ben waischid^z in mylk, and sitten besidis fulleste ryueris. Hise chekis *ben*¹³ as gardyns of swete smellynge spices, set of oynement makeris; hise lippis ben lilies, droppynge down the best^a myrre||.
 Hise hondis ben able to turne aboute,¹⁴ goldun, and ful of iacynctis; his wombe is of^b yuer, ourned with safiris. Hise¹⁵ lippis ben pilers of marble, that ben foundid on foundementis of gold; his schapplinesse is as of^c the Liban, he is chosun as cedris. His throte is moost¹⁶ swete, and he is al desirable. 3e dou3-droppiden

 myrre; that is,
 Y dresside me
 to penaunce.
 the wicket of my dore; herbi
 it is signefied,
 that penaunce
 in the begyn-nyng is vnper-
 fit; therfor it sueth, and he bowide awey;
 for not anoon
 at the cry of the puple he de-lyueride hem fro peyne. Live
here. c.

* My soule was meltid; as fatnesse in a panne; therfor it is seid of a man left in turment, he is fried
 in his blood.
 foond not; for he delyueride
 not the puple anoon, but suf-fride hem to be turmentid of aduersaries.
Live here. c.

† Keperis; that is, the princes
 of hethen men, that weren in the cumpas of Jude. smytiden;
 in doyng anoye
 to persounes.
 tokun away; in spulyng me
 of my goodis.
 dou3tris of Jerusalem;
 that is, deuout persounes of the puple of Israel.
 han founde
 my derling;
 gracious to 3ou
 in 3oure prey-
 eris. that 3e telle to him; in bi-seching for me.
 that Y am sijk
 for loue; that is, for desir to be recounclid
 to him. derling
 of a derling;
 that is, worthi
 to be loued,
 more than alle;

ether this is seid to signefie the comyng forth of dyuyn persounes; for the Sone cometh forth of the Fadir, as the derling of a derling, and the Hooli Goost of euer either to other cometh forth of bothe. Live here. c. [‡] whit and rody; that is, benygne to iust men, and wroth to reпреuable men. chosun of thousindis; in Ebreu it is, banerid in thousyndis, that is, hauynge many thousyndis of aungels in his oost. His heed is best gold; that is, maad fair, with a goldun coroun, to signefie that he is King of kingis, and Lord of lordis. hise heeris; this signefieth, that his wisdom, and goodnes, and strength failen neuere. fulleste ryueris; that bi o symple loking he seeth alle thingis, and his vnderstanding wexith not foul, bi the knowing of tho thingis that ben with out him. Hise chekis; that is, his vertu, to drawe to him bi feith and loue chosun men. Live here. c. || the beste myrre; this signefieth his vertu to open priuytes, and that his wordis ben cleene, and kepen fro corrupcioun of synne. Hise hondis; signefien his power of worching; and alle the workis of God ben perfit. ful of iacynctis; that is, of steris, that ben of the colour of iacynth. his wombe; is whyt and cleene, that is, the biholding of Goddis preuytes makith the coold of drede withdrawn men fro synne. Hise lippis, etc.; that is, ben stronge, as siche pilers, and ben set on feet schoold with gold, in the hijere part of schoon; this signefieth, that his power berith vp alle thingis. his schapplinesse, etc.; for his fairnesse is word delitable, and hijnesse vncomprehensible. His throte is moost swete, etc.; as Goddis vertu, bi which he makith faithful men his membris bi grace, is signefied bi his chekis, so his vertu bi which he makith chosun men membris of his bodi bi glorie, is signefied bi his throte.

^s the E pr. m. ^h he spac E pr. m. ⁱ Om. AC sec. m. GH. ^k the AGH. ^l me E pr. m. ^m forsothe AG. ^{mm} seyntus c pr. m. ⁿ washed AEGH. ^o maad E pr. m. ^{oo} lippis as lilies E sec. m. marg. ^p lippis AG. thijs H sec. m.

^s passid forth I. ^t The keperis I. ^u smeten I. ^{uu} The vois of frendis seith to the Chirche. ^x marg. ^v of a derlyng COHINPQRSUVXG. ^w Orig. EM. ^x hast so I. ^{xx} The vois of the Chirche of Crist seith to the frendis. ^x marg. ^y and thei I. ^z weishe I. ^a thei firste x marg. ^b Om. I. ^c Om. c.

hym most sweete, and he al desirable. Such is my looued, and this is my lemman, 3ee doztris of Jerusalem. The vois 17 of holi soules, of the Chirche. Whider 3ide awei thi lemman, O! thou most fair of wymmen? whider bowed down thi leef? and wee shul sechen hym with thee.

CAP. VI.

1 The vois of the Chirche, of Crist. My leef wente down in to his gardeyn, to the flor of swote spices, that there he be fed 2 in the gardynes, and lilies he gedere. I to my leef; and myn leef to me, that is fed among lilies. The vois of Crist to 3 the Chirche. Fair thou art, my leef, sweete and fair as Jerusalem, ferful as 4 the sheltrun of tentes ordeyned. Turne away thin e3en fro me, for thei maden me to fleen awei; thin heres as the flockis of she got, that aperede fro Galaad. Thi teth as a floc of shep, that 5 ste3eden vp fro the wasshing place; alle with double frut of wombe, and barein there is not in hem. As the rinde of poun9arnet, so thi chekes, withoute thin
 7 hid thingus. Sixty ben quenes, and eizeti ben secundarie wifes; and of 3unge waxen wymmen ther is no noubre.
 8 Oon is my culuer, my parfit, oon is to hir moder, chosen of hir that gat hir; ther see3en hir the doztris of Sion, and most blisful precheden; the quenes, and 9 the secundarie wifes preyseden hir. What is she this, that goth forth as morutid rising, fair as the moone, chosen as the sunne, ferful as of tentes sheltrun ordeyned? The vois of the Chirche, of the 10 sinagoge. I wente down in to my gardyn, that I shulde seen the applis of aleies^p, and beholde, if the vynes hadden tris of Jerusalem, siche is my derlyng, and this is my freend. ^cThou faireste¹⁷ of wymmen, whidur 3ede thi derlyng? whidur bowide thi derlyng? and we schulen seke hym with thee.

CAP. VI.

^dMy derlyng 3ede down in to his or-cherd*, to the gardyn of swete smellynge spices, that he be fed there in orcherdis, and gadere lilyes. Y to my derlyng; ² and my derlyng, that is fed among the^e lilies, be to me. ^fMi frendesse^g, thou ³ art fair, swete and schappli as Jerusalem, thou art ferdful as the scheltrun of oostis set in good ordre. Turne awei thin ⁴ izen fro me, for tho^h maden me to fle awei; thin heeris ben as the flockis of geet, that apperiden fro Galaad. Thi⁵ teeth¹ as a^k flok¹ of scheep, that stieden fro^m waischyng; alle ben with double lambren, 'ether twynnes^a, and no bareyn is^o among tho^p. As the rynde of a pumgranate, so ben thi chekis, without thi priuutees. Sixti ben^q queenys[†], and eizti ⁷ ben secundarie wyues; and of 3ong damedels is^r noon noubre. Oon is my cul-⁸ uer, my perfit spousesse, oon is to hir modir, and is the chosun of hir modir; the dou3tris of Syon sien^s hir, and prechiden hir moost blessid; queenys, and secundarie wyues preysiden hir. Who is this, ⁹ that goith forth, as the moreutid risynge, fair as the moone, chosun as the sunne, ferdful as the scheltrun of oostis set in good ordre? ^tY cam down in to myn ¹⁰ orcherd[‡], to se the applis of grete valeis, and to biholde, if vyneris hadden flourid, and if pumgranate trees hadden buri-faireste of wymmen; that is, of alle folkis, in tyme of thi spousing to God, bi resseyuyng of thi lawe. whidur 3ede thi derlyng; this lettre is refferid to the tyme of taking of the arke bi Filisteis, and of translating ther of in to the lond of Filisteys. we schulen seke, etc.; this is refferid to the tyme wherynne Dauyth brou3te the arke of the Lord solemneli in to Jerusalem. Live here. c.

 my derlyng 3ede down in to his orcherd, etc.*; that is, in to the tabernacle, that Dauyth arayed to the setting of the arke. in orchardis, that is, in sacrifices and offringis offrid bi feith and deuocioun. lilies; that is, dresse cleene mynystris to his seruyce. Y to my derlyng; that is, Y wole serue him aloone. to me; in helpinge my nedis. Turne away; this is declaring of loue of ech to other; ether this is seid of studious men in the lawe, whiche sum tyme enqueren ouer curiously dyuyn thingis, and so God with drawith him fro hem; therfor bi this that is seid, turne away, etc. is forbedun curiouse seking of dyuyn thingis. Live here. c.

† queenys; that is, synagogis of lesse townes. Bi oon which is seid culuer and spousesse, is vnderstondun the tabernacle in Jerusalem, wherynne was the arke, and in Jerusalem oneli was maad the offryng of sacrifices; the modir of Jerusalem is the chirche hauyng victorie. Live here. c.

‡ in to myn orcherd; that is, in to the temple of Salomon. applis, etc.; that is, goode werkis of meke men. vyneris; that is, the bows of Israel. pumgranate trees; that is, prestis and dekenes.

P valeyes G sec. v. H sec. v.

^c The vois of hooli soules, of the Chirche. x marg. ^d The vois of the Chirche, of Crist. x marg.
^e Om. plures. ^f The vois of Crist to the Chirche. x marg. ^g leef I. ^h thei I. ⁱ teeth ben C sec. m. iv.
^k the EV. ^l flockis v. ^m up fro I. ⁿ Om. CI. ^o ther is I. ^p hem I. ^q ther ben I. ^r ther is I.
^s saw3en I passim. ^t The vois of the Chirche, of the synagoge. x marg.

floured, and the poungarnetis hadden 11 buriouned. I wiste not; myn soule disturbide me, for the foure horsid cartis of Amynadab. The vois of the Chirche, 12 of^q the feith of the natiuite. Turne azeen, turne azeen, Sunamytis; turne azeen, turne azeen, that wee byholde thee.

CAP. VII.

The vois of Crist to the Chirche, of the synagoge. What shalt thou seen in Sunamyte, but queres of tentes? The vois 1 of Crist to the Chirche. Hou faire ben thi goingus in shon, thou do3ter of the prince; the ioynitures of thin hipes^r as brooches, that ben forgid with the hond 2 of the craftisman. Thi nauele a turned cuppe, neuere nedende drinks; thi wombe as an hep of whete, set aboute 3 with lilies. Thi two tetus as two 3unge 4 capretis, iemews of the she capret. Thi necke as an yuerene tour; thin ezen as the cystemis^s in Esebon, that ben in the 3ate of the do3ter of the multitude; thi nose as the tour of Liban, that beholdith 5 azen Damasch. Thin hed as Carmel; thin heres of thin hed as the purper of 6 the king, ioyned to water pipes. Hou fair thou art, and hou semeli, thou most 7 derwrthe in delices. Thi stature is ligned to a palm, and thi tetes to clustris.
 8 Crist of the holi cros seith. I seide, I shal ste3en in to a palm tree, and I shal take the frutis of it. The vois of Crist to the Chirche. And thi tetes shul ben as the clustris of a vyne; and the smel owned. Y knew not; my soule dis-11 turbide me^r, for the charis of Amynadab. ^sTurne azen, turne azen, thou Su-12 namyte; turne azen, turne azen, that we biholde thee. ^tWhat schalt thou se in the Sunamyte, no^u but cumpenyes of oostis?

CAP. VII.

^vDou3tir of the prince*, thi goyngis 1 ben ful faire in schoon; the ioyncturis of thi heppis ben as brochis, that ben maad bi^w the hond of a crafti man. Thi 2 nawle^x is as^y a round cuppe, and wel formed, that hath neuere nede to drynkis; thi wombe is as an hep of whete, biset aboute with lilies. Thi twei teetis[†] ben 3 as twei kidis, twynnes of a capret. Thi 4 necke is as a tour of yuer; thin 3zen ben as cisternes in Esebon, that ben in the 3ate of the dou3ter of multitude; thi nose is as the tour of Liban, that bihold-ith azen Damask. Thin heed is as Car-5 mele; and the heeres of thin heed ben as the kyngis purpur, ioyned to trow3is^z.
 Dereworthe^a spousesse, thou art ful fair[†], 6 and ful schappli in delices. Thi stature is 7 ligned to a palm tree, and thi tetis to clustris of grapis. ^bI seide, Y schal 8 stie^c in to a palm tree||, and Y schal take the fruytis therof. ^dAnd thi tetis schulen be as the clustris of grapis of a vyner; and the odour of thi mouth as the odour of pumgranatis; thi throte schal be as 9 beste wyn. ^eWorthi to my derlyng for to drynke, and to hise lippis and teeth to

Y knew not; here is set the state aftir the tyme of Salomon, til to the caityte of Babiloyne. Y knew not; that is, Y koude not biholde Goddis benefices 3ouun to me in tymes passid. my soule distur- blide me, etc.; that is, Jero-boam induside the ten lynagis to idolatrie, for drede of leeing of the rewme, if the puple 3ede to Jerusa-lem, leste it wolde turne azen to the rewme of Juda, signefied bi Amynadab. Ebreis seien, this is the veri lettre, My soule hath set me the car-tis of the puple hauing prinse-hed, that is, my wille, that brou3t me in to do idolatrie, for whiche Y was conquerid, made me the cartis of Assi-riens and of Ba-biloynes, that ledden the sonas of Israel in to caityte, and leiden on hem, as cartis charg-id, greuouse birthuns to bere in the weye. turne azen; that is, fro caityte, in to the hool staat of thi feith. Sunamyte; ether Sulamyte, bi Ebreu lettre, that signefieth hool ether perfit. Live here. c.

* Dou3tir of the prince; here is descryued the loue of the spouse and of the spousesse for the staat of the newe testament. Dou3ter of the prince; that is, hooli chirche, which is the spousesse and dou3ter of Crist. thi goingis; bi the counceles of the gospel. in schoon; that is, in the myndis of Crist and martris. the ioyncturis of thyh hipis; that is, the ioynnyng togidere of Jewis and of hethen men in o chirche of Crist, maad bi the hond of Crist. Bi nawle and wombe is vnderstondun the plenteouse childbering of the chirche, to bringe forth the children of Crist goostly, not fleisly; therfor it sueth, biset with lilies of charite. a round cuppe; in Ebreu it is, as a cleer basin. Live here. c. [†] twei tetis; ben twey testamentis, of whiche mylk is sokun, wherynne children, gendren in Crist, ben nurschid and encressid. thi necke; that is, feith formed with charite. the 3zen; ben Cristis vertu of knowing, bi which he biholdith hise sones bi appreyung. as cisternes; for the 3zen ben full of watris of mersy. the nose; is doom of discrecioun. the heed; is Crist; the hignesse of his hed is Cristis Godhed. the heeres; ben apostlis. as purpur; for thei weren maad reed in her blood, for the loue of Crist. ioyned to trow3is; that is, put in trou3is to be waischid, aftir dryngis. Live here. c. [†] ful fair; bi feith and oneste of conuersacioun. a palme tree; in streitnesse of rizfulnessse, and in heit3e of deuout contemplacioun. clustris of grapis; for abundaunce of goostly mylk, ether doctryn. Live here. c. || Y schal stie in to a palm tre, etc.; that is, seith the spouse, Y schal make parfit men in the chirche, to stie in to the hignesse of contemplacioun, and make hem to take swetnesse and deliting, which is feelid in the hignesse of contemplacioun. thi tetis schulen be, etc.; that is, bi abundaunce of mylk of hooli doctryn. odour of thi mouth; that is, the fame of teching. Live here. c.

^q to AEGH. ^r lippis A. ^s fishpondis E pr. m.

^r Om. 1. ^s The vois of the Chirche, to the feith of the natyuite. x marg. ^t The vois of Crist to the Chirche, of the synagoge. x marg. ^u Om. 1. ^v The vois of Crist to the Chirche. x marg. ^w with 1. ^x lippis A pr. m. nable E. naule orq. nauele Rca. nauel S. ^y Om. a. ^z to be bathid ynne F marg. sec. m. ^a Most dere 1. ^b Crist of the hooli crosse seith. x marg. ^c stie up 1. ^d The vois of Crist to the Chirche. x marg. ^e The Chirche seith of Crist. x marg.

9 of thi mouth as the smel of appellis, and thi throte as best wyn. The Chirche seith of Crist. Wrthi to my leef to drinken, to the lippes and to the teth of 10 hym to chewen. 'I to^t my leef, and to me the turnyng of hym. The vois of 11 the Chirche to Crist. Cum, my leef, go wee out in to the feeld; dwelle wee to-12 gidere in tounes. Erli rise wee to the vyne; see wee, if the vyne flourede, if the floures frutes bringe forth, if the poumgarnetes floureden; there I shal 13 jiuue to thee my tetes. The mandrages jeuen ther smel in oure zates; alle appellis, newe and olde, my leef, I kepte to thee.

CAP. VIII.

1 The vois of patriarkis, of Crist. Who to me zyue^z thee, my brother, soukende the tetes of my moder, that I finde thee alone withoute forth, and kisse thee, 2 and now me no man dispise? I shal take thee, and leden in to the hous of my moder, and in to the bed place of hir that gat me; there thou shalt teche me, and I shal zyue to thee drinken^u of spiced win, and of the must of my poumgar-3 netes. The lift hond of hym vnder myn hed, and the rizt hond of hym shal clippe me. The vois of Crist, of the Chirche.
4 I adiure zou, zee doztris of Jerusalem, ne rere zee, ne maketh^{uu} to waken my leef, to the time that she wile. The vois of 5 the sinagoge, of the Chirche. What is she this, that stezeth vp fro desert, flow-chewe^z. Y schal cleue by loue to my der- 10 lyng, and his turnyng schal be to me.

11 ^aCome thou, my derlyng, go we out in to the feeld*; dwelle we togidere in townes.
Ryse we eerli to the vyner; se we, if the 12 vyner hath flourid, if the^{aa} flouris bryngen forth fruytis^b, if pumgranatis han flourid; there I schal zyue to thee my tetis.
Mandrogoris han zoue her odour in oure^c 13 zatis; my derlyng, Y haue kept to thee alle applis, new and elde.

CAP. VIII.

^dWho 'mai grantef to me^{dd} thee^e, my 1 brother, soukyng the tetis of my modir, that Y fynde thee aloone without forth, and^f that Y kisse thee, and no man dispise me thanne? Y schal take thee, and 2 Y schal lede thee in to the hous of my modir, and in to the closet of my modir; there thou schalt teche me, and Y schal zyue to thee drink of wyn maad swete, and of the must of my pumgranatis.
His lefthond vndur^g myn heed, and his 3 rizthond schal biclippe me. ^hZe douztris 4 of Jerusalem, Y charge zou greetli, that ze reise not, nether make the dereworthe spousesse to awake, til sche wole^{hh}. ⁱWho 5 is this spousesse, that stieth^j fro desert, and flowith in delices, and restith on hir derlyng? ^kY reise^k thee vndur a pum-

* go we out in to the feeld; bi spreding abroad
of feith in to the world. dwelle
we togidere,
etc.; in bildinge chirehis
in citees and townes. Rise we erly, etc.; that is, to conuerte
hethen puple.
if the vyner
hath flourid;
that is, for hethen puple hath flourid in reaseyunge ioyfulli Goddis
word. if pumgranatis, etc.;
that is, the fulnesse of martris in the firste chirche.
Y schal zeue
to thee my tetis;
that is, Y schal ordeyne the teching of euer
ether testament
to thi glorie.
Mandragoris
han zoue, etc.;
that is, excel-
ent men in Cristis chirche han zoue the odour of good fame, bi hooli liyf and hool-
sum techyng in the chirche of
God. alle applis, newe and elde;
that is, Y haue
ordeynd to thyn onour the witnessingis of the elde and newe testament. Live
here. c.
† Hooli chirche axith here to be delyuerid fro schenschebis
and dispitis
doon therto, in the bigynnyng
therof, aftir Cristis ascencioun. my brother; for the re-
soun of manhed

takun. soukinge the tetis of my modir; that is, of the Virgyn Marie, whiche is seid modir, bothe of Crist and of al hooli chirche. Y fynde thee aloone; onourid with onour, that perteyneth oneli to God; bi this word thee alone, the Fadir and the Hooli Goost ben not excludid, but the seruyce of idols is excludid herbi. without forth; that is, opynly, with out the drede of vnfeithful men. Y schal take thee; bi deuocioun of feith. schal lede; that is, bi preyeris Y schal make thee to come, bi condescending of thi goodnesse. in to the hous of my modir; that is, in to chirchis halewid to the blessid Virgyn and othere seyntis. there thou schalt teche me; in schewinge priuy mysteries to the mynysters of the chirche.
of wyn; that is, of deuocioun of feithful men. must; that is, deuocioun of men newly conuertid. his left hond, etc.; thanne he schal schewe frenschip to me, as a spouse doith to a ful dereworthe spousesse. nether make the dereworthe to awake; that is, whanne the spouse hath gete reste and pees, ze do not ony thing wherbi the spouse be offendid, and the reste of the spousesse be brokun. that stieth fro desert; that is, fro the scharpnesse of persecucioun fro tirauntis. Y reise thee vndur a pumgranate tre; thus it is in Ebrey, tho summe doctours taken ^t And to AN pr. m. ^u drinke A. ^{uu} make A.

^z schewe A pr. m. MRV. ^a The vois of the Chirche to Crist. x marg. ^{aa} Om. CV. ^b fruyzt AS.
^c zoure CEFGHIKMN PQRSUXAÇ. ^d The vois of patriarkis, of Crist. x marg. ^{dd} shal zeue to E. schal jiuue HPUV. ^e Om. CFGHIKMN PQRSXAÇ. ^f Om. C. ^g shal be vnder I. ^h The vois of Crist, of the Chirche. x marg.
^{hh} wile I. ⁱ The vois of the sinagoge, of the Chirche. x marg. ^j stieth up I. ^k The vois of Crist to the synagoge, of the hooli crosse. x marg.

ende delices, faste cleuende vpon^v hir leef? The vois of Crist to the sinagoge^{vv}, of the holi cros. Vndir an apil tree I rerede^w thee; there shent is thi moder, there defoulid is she that gat thee. Put me as a brooche vpon thin herte, as a brooche vpon thin arm; for strong is as deth looue, hard as helle ielousnesse^x; the laumpis of it the laumpes of fir, and of flaumes. Manye watris shul not moun quenchen out charite, ne flodis shul not throwen it down. If a man 3eue al the substaunce of his hous for looue, as no3t he dispisith it. The vois of Crist to the sinagoge^x, of the holi^z Chirche. Oure^a sister a litil child, and tetes she hath not; what shul wee do to oure sister, in the dai whan she is to ben spoken to? If a wal she is, bilde wee vp 'on it^b siluerene pynaclis; if a dore she is, ioayne wee it with ceder tables.
The vois of the Chirche answerende. I a wal, and my tetes as a tour; sithen I am mad befor thee as pes resceyuende.
The sinagoge of the Chirche seith. A vyne she was to the pesible; in hir that hath puples, she toc it to the keperes; a man taketh awei for^c the frut of it a thousand siluer^d plates. Crist to the granate tre; there thi modir was corrupt, there thi modir was defoulid. Set thou me as a signet on thin herte, as a signet on thin arm; for loue is strong as deth^{*}, enuy is hard as helle; the laumpis ther-of ben laumpis of fier, and of flawmes.

Many watris moun not quenche charite, nether floodis schulen oppresse it. Thou; a man 3yue^k al the catel of his hous for loue, he schal dispise^l 'that catel^m as nouzt. ⁿOure sistir is litil, and hath no tetys; what schulen we do to oure sistir, in the dai whanne sche schal be spokun to? If it is a wal, bilde we theronne siluerne tourisⁿⁿ; if it is a dore, ioayne we it togidere with tablis of cedre. ^oI am a wal, and my tetis ben as a tour; sithen Y am maad as fyndyng pees[†] bifore hym. ^pA vyner was to the pesible; in that citee, that hath puplis, he bitook it to keperis; a man bryngith a thousynde platys of siluer for the fruyt therof. ^qThe vyner is bifore me; a thousynde ben of thee pesible, and two hundrid to hem that kepen the fruytis therof. Frendis herkene thee, that dwellist in orchertis; make thou me to here thi vois. ^rMy derlyng, fle thou[‡]; be thou maad lik a capret, and a calf of this vnkunnyngly of the tre forebodon

to Adam and Eue; that is,
Y clepide thee inwardly, bi the vertu of the hooly cros, and of thi passion.
*there thi mo-
dir was corrupt; in Ebreu
it is, there thi
modir childide
thee. there; that is, bisidis the cros. thi
modir childide
thee; that is,
the blessid Vir-gyn Marie
hadde sorewe
for thee, as a woman beringe
child hath so-
rewe; for there
sche was persid
with the swerd
of sorewe for her sone, as Symeon bifor-seide, in ij. c.
of Luyk. there thi modir was defoulid; that is, the syna-goge, seid the modir of Crist, for he took mankynde of the puple of Jewis. was corrupt there; for the obseruaunces of Moises
lawe ceessiden,
as slayn in the passion of Crist.
as a signet on thyn herte; in louynge me perfitly. on*

thyn arm; in defendinge me bi the arm of thi power. Live here. c. * loue is strong as deth; that is, thou; thi loue is so strong in the perfit sones of hooli chirche, that they dreden not to suffre deth for thee, as it is opyn in martris, netheles enuye, that is, persecucioun of tirauntis, that cometh forth for enuye and hatrede of Cristen men, is hard as helle to feble men; and therfor thei han nede of the help of thi proteccioun, and to the benefice of pees. the laumpis therof; that is, of thi loue, in the soulis of perfit men. of fier; that is, so strong, that it may not be borun down bi the persecuciouns of tirauntis, but not so in feble men. many watris; that is, persecuciouns of tirauntis. he schal despise that catel as nouzt; as if he seye, men, 3he, feble men, moun dispise outermere goodis for thi loue, but thei moun not so dispise her owne lyf, in suffringe martirdom. Oure sister is litil, and hath no tetis; that is, hooli chirche is meke, and cast out among men of this world, and hath not fredom to schede out the mylk of hooli doctryn, bi preching of Cristen feith. be spokun to; of princes, as of Constantyn, and other princes in his tyme, that grauntiden pees to hooli chirche. siluerne touris; in Ebreu it is, a siluerne paleis, that is, ioayne we to it the princes of the world, bi resseyuyng of feith to the defence of syke men. ioayne we it to, etc.; that is, make we it strong with hooli techeris, clepid cedris; for the hijnesse of lyf and kunnyng, and for the hoolnesse of feith. Live here. c. † Y am maad as fyndyng pees, etc.; that is, Y haue fredom to preche Cristis feith opynly, for Constantyn, in the iij. day of his bapty, puplischide his lawe, that who euer dide wrong to a Cristen man, he schulde lease the half of his goodis. to keperis; that is, to Petre and hise successours. a man, etc.; that is, Con- stantyn 3af many costis for the fruyt of chirche. The vyner is bifore me; that is, seith Crist, Y stonde ny3 bi my presence, to kepe the chirche principaly. and ij. hundrid, etc.; that is, myche mo thankings ben due to Crist pesible, for the keping of hooli chirche, than to prelatys, that ben keperis of the chirche vndur him. to here; that is, aungels herken thee, spousesse, in chirchis spred abroad bi the world. thi vois; that is, the declaring of thi desir. Live here. c. ‡ My dirling, fle thou; bi this fli3t is not vndurston dun departing of the spouse fro the spousesse, but bi this fli3t is vndurston dun swift translating of the spousesse with the spouse to heuenly blis; which the spousesse desirith souereynly; therfor the spousesse seith, my dirling, fle thou, that is, lede thou me with thee, out of wrecchidnesse of present world. be thou maad lik a capret, etc.; that is, do this swiftly. on the hillis of swete smellynge spices; that is, in beringe me ouer with thee to heuenys, where is swetteste feeding of chosun men. Live here. c.

^v to E pr. m. ^{vv} sinage AH. linage G. ^w herde C. ^x gloriousnes A. ^y sinage AGH. ^z Om. AEGH.
^a My E pr. m. ^b to hir A. ^c fro A. ^d siluerene AEGH.

^k 3yueh c et ceteri. ^l dispise, or rette it I. ^m Om. I. ⁿ The vois of Crist to the synagoge of hooli Chirche. x marg. ⁿⁿ touris, ethir britagis v. ^o The vois of the Chirche ansverynge. x marg. ^p The synagoge of the Chirche seith. x marg. ^q Crist to the Chirche seith. x marg. ^r The vois of the Chirche to Crist. x marg.

- 12 Chirche seith. My vine bifer me is; a thousand thi pesiblis, and two hundrid to them that kepen the frutis of it.
13 The whiche dwellist in gardynes, frendis herknen thee^e; mac me to heren thi vois. The vois of the Chirche to Crist.
14 Flee thou, my leef; be thou ligned to a capret, and to an hert calf of hertes, vp on the mounteynes of swote spices.

hertis, on the hillis of swete smellynge spices.

Here endith the Songe of Songis, and here bigynneth Sapiens^v.

Here endith the Songis of Songis^f.

^e me A. ^f From A. Explicit. E. Explicit Canticum. GH. No final rubric in c.

^v Here endith the book of Songis, and here bigynneth the book of Wisdom. CUX. Here endith the book of Songis, and here bygynneth Wisdom. FH. Here endith the book of Songis, and bigynneth a prolog on the book of Wysdom. G. Heere endith the book of Songis, and biginnith the book of Wisdom. IQS. Here endeth the book of Songis; se now the booc of Sapiens or Wisdom. K. Here endith the book of Songis, and here bigynneth the book of Wisdom, which is red in holi cherche in lessouns of the masse; for the mater therof is goostli, and profecie of thingis to comynge. M. Here endith Songis of Songis, and bigynneth Sapiens. N. Here endith the book of Song of Songis, and bigynneth the book of Wysdom or Sapiens. V. Here eendith Cantica Canticorum, and biginneth the prolog on Sapiens. A. No final rubric in EPRY.

W I S D O M.

Heer gynneth^a the prolog in the booc of Wisdam.

THE booc of Wisdam anent^b Ebrues no3her^{bb} is; wherfore and that diting^c the more^d smelleth fair^e Grec speche^f.
Thys booc the Jewis afermen to ben of Filon, that therfore Wisdam is nemned^g, for in it the^{gg} comyng^h of Crist, that is the wisdam of the Fader, and the passion, diligentli is opened^{hh}.

Here eendith the prolog, and bigyn-neth Sapiensⁱ.

A prolog upon Sapience^a.

The book of Wisdom is not hadde among Ebreuys; wherfore the writyng therof sowneth moost in Greke speche.
This book the Jewis affermen to be of Philonys, and it is clepid the book of Wisdom, for in it the comyng of Crist, which is the wisdom of the Fader, and his passioun, opinli ben schewid.

Heer gynneth^k the booc^l.

1 Looue 3ee ri3twisnesse, that demen the erthe; feeleth of the Lord in goodnesse, and in simplenesse of herte secheth hym.

Here biginneth the bok of Sapience or Wysedom^{aa}.

3e that demen the erthe*, loue^b ri3tfulnesse; feele 3e of the Lord in goodnesse, and seke 3e hym in the^c symplenesse†

* the erthe;
that is, men
dwellinge in erthe. c.

† symplenesse;
that is, clennesse. Austyn and Live here.
c.

^a begynneth AEGH. ^b anentis AEL. ^{bb} nowhere A. ^c eendinge L. ^d Om. L. ^e the fair AEGH. the L.
^f speche the more fair L. ^g clepid L. ^{gg} Om. c pr. m. ^h kunnyng A. ^{hh} expowned AGHL. ⁱ From L.
No final rubric in the other Mss. ^k begynneth AE. ^l book of Wisdam. A. No initial rubric in GH.

^a This prologue is from R. ^{aa} From EGPY. Heere bigynneth Sapience. R. No initial rubric in the other Mss. ^b loueth I. ^c Om. CI.

2 For^{bb} he is founden of hem, that tempten hym not; he apereth forsothe to them, 3 that feith han in to^c hym. Shreude for-sothe thoȝtis seueren fro God; preued forsothe vertu chastiseth vnwise men.
4 For in to an euell willi soule shal not gon in wisdam; ne shal dwelle in a bodi 5 soget to synnes. An holi spirit forsothe shal flee the feynere^{cc} of discipline, and shal taken hymself awei fro thoȝtis, that ben without vnderstonding; and he shal be chastisid fro the ouercomende wickid-6 nesse. Benyngne is the spirit of wisdam, and he shal not deliuere the cursid fro his lippis; for of the reenus of hym wit-nesse is God, and of the herte of hym he is verre^d serchere, and of the tunge of 7 hym herere^e. For the Spirit of the Lord fulfilde^f the rondnesse of londis; and that,
that conteneth alle thingus, kunnyng hath 8 of vois. For that 'he that^g speketh wicke thingus, mai not lurke; ne chastysende 9 dom shal beside passen hym. In the thoȝtis forsothe of the vnþitous asking 10 shal be. Of the sermounes forsothe of hym heering to God shal come, and to the correccioun^h of the wickidnesses of hym; for the ere of the ielous hereth alle thingis, and the noise of grucchingusⁱ 11 shal not ben hid. Kepe ȝee thanne ȝou fro grucching, that no thing profiteth, and fro bacbiting 'spareth to the^k tunge;
for a derc sermoun in veyn shal not go;
the mouth forsothe that lieth, sleth the 12 soule. Wileth not loouen deth, in errour of ȝoure lif, ne purchase ȝee perdicoun of herte. For he is foundun of hem, 2 that tempten not hym; forsothe he ap-perith to hem, that han feith in to hym.

For whi weiward thouȝtis departen fro 3 God; but preued* vertu repreueth vnwise men. For whi wisdom schal not entre in 4 to an yuel willid soule†; nethir schal^d dwelle in a bodi suget to synnes. For- 5 sothe the Hooli Goost of wisdom schal fle awei fro 'a feyned man^e, and he schal take awei hym silf fro thouȝtis, that ben with out vnderstondyng; and the man^f schal be punyschid of wyckidnesse comyngne aboue. For the spirit of wisdom is 6 benyngne, and he schal not delyuere a cursid man fro hise lippis^g; for whi God is witnesse of hise reynes, and the serchere of his herte is trewe, and the herere of his tunge. For whi the Spirit 7 of the Lord hath fillid the world; and this thing, that conteyneth alle thingis, hath the kunnyng of vois. For^h this he that^g spekith wickid thingis, may not be hid;
and doom punyschyngⁱ schal not passe hym. For whi axyng schal be in the 9 thouȝtis of a wickid man. Forsothe the 10 heryng of hise wordis schal come to God, and to the punyschyng of hise wickid-nessis; for the eere of feruent loue herith alle thingis, and the noise of grutchyngis schal not be hyd. Therfor kepe ȝe ȝou 11 fro grutchyng, that profitith no thing, and fro bacbityng spare ȝe the tunge; for a derk word schal not go in to veyn; forsothe the mouth that lieth, sleth the soule†. Nyle ȝe coueyte deth, in the 12

* preued; that is, vertu ap-preued of God. vnwise men; that is, hem that synnen bi ignorance. Live here. c.
† yuel willed
soule; that is, to whom malice plesith for vici-
cious custom.
suget to synnes;
that is, in a man suget to fleisli vices, that maken dulnesse
of vnderstond-
ing. Goost of wisdom; that is autour of
wisdom in the
dissiple. a feyn-
ed man; that is,
him that sekith
in vertues not trute, but oneli apperith.
without vn-durstondyng;
that is, with out
resoun. a cursid
man, etc.; that is, a man obstynat in syn-
nes, fro blasfemyes and othere yuels, doon bi stirring of lippis.
reynes; that is,
of yuele affec-
cions. herte;
that is, of thouȝt
and entent.
conteyneth;
that is, the Hooli Goost,
that kepith alle thingis in being. kunnyng
of vois; that is,
knowing of ech
seyng. a derk
word, etc.; that is, colourid bi the semyng of hoolynesse, whanne it hath the venym of wickidnesse
withynne. Live
here. c.
‡ sleeth the
soule; this is

vnderstondun of a dedly leeing, not of a bourdeful leeing, and profitable. in the errour of ȝoure lyf; that is, bileuyng bi this to ascape al peynefulnesse. nether gete ȝe perdicoun; that is, dampnacioun of helle. in the werkis of ȝoure hondis; that is, in sleynge ȝou bi ȝoure hondis.
God made not deth; of man, whom he made myȝty to die not, bi the ȝifte of origenal riȝtfulnesse; and if man had kepte that ȝifte, he schulde haue passid with out deth to the glorie of bodi and of soule. Live here. c.

^{bb} Forsothe c pr. m. ^c Om. c pr. m. ^{cc} feyned thyng E pr. m. ^d the verre AGH. ^e he is herere E pr. m. ^f fulfillith AGH. ^g Om. A. ^h correccioun AGH. ⁱ the grucchingis A. grucchinge H.
^k of the twisel E pr. m.

^d it schal I. ^e feynynge thing I text. or a feyned man I marg. ^f vnwijs man I. ^g lippis, that is, obstynat V. ^h Therfor I. ⁱ and punyschyng I.

13 in the werkis of ȝoure hondis; for God made not deth, ne gladeth¹ in the leeing 14 of men 'of liue^m. Forsothe God made, that alle thingus weren; and able to helthe he made the naciouns of the roundnesse of londis. Forsothe ther is not in hem leching of destruccioun, ne 15 the reume of helle is in the erthe. Riȝt-wisnesse forsothe is perpetuel, and vn-deadli; vnriȝtwisnesse forsothe purchas-16 ing of deth. Vnpitous men forsothe with hondis and wrdis haunteden it, and eymende it a frend, flowedenⁿ down, and behestes they putteden to it; for deth thei ben wrthi, that ben of the part^o
of it.

CAP. II.

1 Forsothe vnpitouse men seiden, thenk-ende anent^{oo} hemselue not riȝt, Lital and with noȝe is the time of oure^p lif; ther is not refreshing in the ende of a man, and ther is not, that be knowen turned 2 aȝeen fro helle. For of noȝt wee ben born, and aftir these thingus wee shul be, as thoȝ^q wee hadden not ben; for smoke and blast is in oure nose therles, and sermoun of a sparcle to stirn togi-3 dere oure herte. For quenched ashent^r shal ben oure bodi, and the spirit shal be held abroad as 'softe eir^s; and oure lif shal passe as the step of a cloude, and as a lital cloude ben vnknyt, that is dryuen of the bemes of the sunne, and 4 of the hete of it aggreggid. And oure name forȝeting shal take by tyme; and no man shal han mynde of oure werkis.
5 Forsothe the passing of the^t shadewe is oure tyme, and ther is notⁿ turning aȝeen of oure ende; for it is al closid, 6 and no man turneth aȝeen. Cometh errour of ȝoure lijf, nether gete ȝe perdicioun in the werkis of ȝoure hondis; for God made not deth, nether is^m glad 13 in the perdicioun of lyuyng men. For 14 whi God made of nouȝt alle thingis, that tho schulden be; and he made the na-ciouns of the world able to be heeled.

Forwhi medecyn[†] of distriyng is not in tho men, nether the rewme of hellis is in erthe[‡]. For riȝtfulnesse is euerlastyng, 15 and vndeeli; but vnriȝtfulnesse is getyng of deeth. Forsothe wickid men clepiden 16 that vnriȝtfulnesse bi hondis and wordis, and thei gessiden it a frendesseⁿ, and fletiden awei, and thei puttiden biheestis to it; for thei ben worthi the deth[§], that ben of the part therof.

CAP. II.

Forsothe wickid men seiden, thenkyng¹ anentis^o hem silf not riȝtfuli, The tyme of oure lijf is lital, and with anoye; no refreisching is in the ende of a man, and noon is^p, that is knowun, that turnede aȝeen fro hellis. For we weren borun of 2 nouȝt, and aftir this tyme we schulen be,
as if we hadden not be; forwhi smoke^{||} is blowun out in oure nose thirlis, and a word of sparcle to stire oure herte. For 3 oure bodi schal be quenched aische, and the spirit schal be scaterid abroad as soft eir; and oure lijf schal passe as the step of a cloude, and it schal be departid as a myst, which is dryuun away of the beemys of the sunne, and is greued of the heete therof. And oure name schal take for- 4 ȝeting bi tyme[¶]; and no man schal haue mynde of oure werkis. Forwhi oure tyme 5 is the^q passyng of a schadewe, and no turnyng aȝeen of oure ende is^r; for it is aseelid^{}, and no man turneth aȝeen. Ther- 6 for come ȝe, and vse we the goodis that [†] medecyn, etc.; that is, remedi-azens wrecch-idness is not bi distriyng of

herowne liyf. c.
[‡] the rewme
of hellis is in erthe; that is,
in present liyf.
The lawe of helle is this, that noon may go
aȝen fro synne
and peyne; but
in present liyf
men moun be heeled fro synne bi pen-aunce, and come to glorie. riȝt-
fulnesse; which is bi grace.
getyng of deth;
that is, of helle,
bi dedly synne.
hondis; that is,
werkis. fletiden;
bi dyuerse vices.
puttiden biheestis to it;
that is, cleu-
yden to vnriȝtfulnesse without departing,
as a spouse cleueth to his spousesse. Lire
here. c.
[§] the deth; of helle. Lire
here. c.
^{||} smoke; for we lyuen bi brething in and brething
aȝeen of the eir.
a word of spar-
cle; that is,
kyndly heete is in oure bodi,
and first and last in the herte. as soft
eir; that is,
the soule schal
vanysche away,
as the soule of vnreasonable beestis. Lire
here. c.
[¶] bi tyme;
that is, bi pass-
yng of tyme.
Lire here. c.
^{} aseelid; bi a stoon put on the bodi of the deed man buried. Lire
here. c.

¹ gladeth not AE pr. m. GH. ^m aliue AGH. ⁿ foleweden A. ^o parti AEGH. ^{oo} anentis A et alii passim.
^p this E pr. m. ^q thof E passim. ^r asken EGH. ^s neshe wax E pr. m. ^t Om. AEGH. ^u no AH.

^m he is I. ⁿ freend I. ^o at I. ^p ther is I. ^q Om. c. ^r ther is I.

thanne, and vse wee^v the goodis that ben, and vse wee creature^w, as in oure 73outh, swiftli. With precyous win and oynemens fille wee vs; and passe not vs 8 the flour of tyme. Crowne wee vs with roses, er thei welewen; no medwe be,
that oure leccherie passe not thur3.
9 Noon of vs be withoute lot of oure leccherie; ouer al lefe wee^x signes of glad-nesse; for this is oure part, and this is 10 lot^y. Oppresse wee the riztwis pore man, and spare wee not to the widewe, ne wrshiþe wee hoere heres of the olde 11 man of myche time. Be forsothe oure strengthe the lawe of vnri3twisnesse; forsothe that that is feble, vnprofitable 12 is founde. Bigile wee thanne the riztwis man, for vnprofitable he is to vs, and contrarie to oure werkis; and repreuendeli puttith to vs the synnes of lawe, and defameth a3en vs the synnes of oure 13 disciplyne. He behoteth hym the kunnyng of God to han, and the sone of 14 God he nempneth hymself. He is mad to vs in to ouerleding of oure tho3tis.
15 Heuy he is to vs also to seen; for vnlic to othere is the lif of hym, and myche 16 chaungid ben the weies of hym. As trifleres wee ben eymed of hym, and he absteneth hymself fro oure weies, as fro vncleenneses^a; and he tellith biforn the laste thingus of riztwis men, and he glo-17 rieth hymself to han God to fader. See wee thanne, if the wrdis of hym ben trewe; and asa3e wee, what ben to comen to hym; and wee shul wite, what shul 18 ben the laste thingis of hym. If for-sothe he is verre^b sone of God, he shal vndertaken hym, and delyuere hym^c fro 19 the hondis of the contrariouse. With wrong vndernymyng and torment aske wee hym, that wee wite the reuerence of ben, and vse we a creature, as in 3ongthe, swiftli*. Fille we vs with precieuse wyn⁷ and oynementis; and the flour of tyme passe not vs. Corowne we vs with roosis,⁸ bifor that tho^s welewen; no medewe be, 'bi which^t oure letcherie passe not^u. No man⁹ of vs be^v with out part of oure letcherie; euery where leeue we the signes of glad-nesse; for this is oure part[†], and this is oure eritage. Oppresse we a pore iust¹⁰ man, and spare we not a widewe, nether reuerence we hoor heeris of an old man of myche tyme. But oure strengthe be¹¹ the lawe of riztfulness[‡]; forwhi that that is feble, is foundun vnprofitable.

Therfor disseyue we a iust man[§], for he¹² is vnprofitable to vs, and he is contrarie to oure werkis; and he vpbreidith^w to vs the synnes of lawe, and he defameth on vs the synnes of oure techyng. He biheet-¹³ ith that he hath the kunnyng of God, and he nemeth hym silf the sone of God. He¹⁴ is maad to us in to schewyng of oure thouztis||. He is greuouse to vs, 3he, to¹⁵ se; forwhi his lyf is vnli3k to other men, and hise weies ben chaungid. We ben¹⁶ gessid of hym to be triffleris¶, and he absteyneth^x hym silf fro oure weies, as fro vncleennesis; and he bifore settith the laste thingis of iust men, and he hath glorie, that he hath God a^y fadir. Ther-¹⁷ for se we, if hise wordis ben trewe; and asaie we, what thingis schulen come to hym; and we schulen wite, what schulen be the laste thingis of hym. For if he¹⁸ is the very sone of God, he schal vp take hym, and schal delyuere hym fro the hondis of hem that ben contrarie^z. Axe¹⁹ we hym bi dispisyng and turment, that we knowe his reuerence, and that we preue his pacience. Bi fouleste^a deth con-²⁰ dempne we hym; for whi biholdyng schal

* swiftli; that is, as soone as we moun. Live here. c.

† oure part; that is, we moun no thing more here of the goodis of this lyf. Live here. c.

‡ lawe of riztfulness; that is, gesse we leueful, what euer thing we moun do. vnprofitable; bi oure doom. Live here. c.

§ Therfor disseyue we a iust man, etc.; this is expownd specialy of the Jewis, that ymagyneden to sle Crist, thou3 the wise men of Jewis hadden first the knowing of Crist, as it is seid in xxj. c^o. of Math. netheles for he prechide a3enus her vices, thei consueyeden enuye and hatrede a3enus him, bi whiche the knowing, whiche thei hadden of Crist, was maad derk, and thei bigunnen to expowne weywardly the profesies of him. Live here. c.

|| of oure thouztis; in repreuynge tho, as many men diden, bi the spirit of profesie. Live here. c.

¶ trifleris; that is, men of no vertu. Live here. c.  biforsettith; that is, he settith bifor alle goodis of present lyf the goodis abedun of iust men. Live here. c.

^v Om. AGH.
^c Om. c pr. m.

^w a creature A.

^x Om. AGH.

^y oure lot A.

^a vncleennes AGH.

^b the verrei A.

^s thei I. ^t that I. ^u not bi I. ^v be ther I. ^w vpbreidith, ether edwitet c et ceteri. ^x withholdith I. ^y his I. ^z contrarie to him I. ^a most foul I.

hym, and proue the pacience of hym.
 20 Bi most foul deth condempne wee hym; forsothe respit shal be of the wrdis of 21 hym. These thingus thei tho3ten, and erreden; and the malice of hem blendede 22 them. And thei knewen not the sacramens of God, ne hopeden the meede of riztwisnesse, ne demeden the wrshepe of 23 holi soules. For God made man^d vn-deadli, and to the ymage of his licnesse 24 made hym. Forsothe thur3 the enuye of the deucl deth cam in in to the round-25 nesse of erthis; forsothe thei folewen hym, that ben of the part of hym.

CAP. III.

1 The soules of riztwis men ben in the hond of God; and torment of deth shal 2 not^{dd} touche them. Thei ben seen to the^e e3en of vnwise^f men to dien; tormenting 3 is eymed the issue of hem. And fro a riztwis weie thei wenten in to destruc-4 cioun; and that of vs ys weie of destruccioun; thei forsothe ben in pes. And if befor men thei suffreden tormentis, the 5 hope of hem is ful of vndeadlynesse. In fewe thingus trauailid, in manye thingus thei shul be weel disposid; for God temptede them, and fond hem wrthi 6 hymself. As gold in furneis he prouede them, and as brent sacrificise of ost he loouwed^g them; and in time shal ben 7 the biholding of hem. Thei shul shyne riztwis, and as sparles in reeddy places 8 thei shuln renne hider and thider. Thei shul deme naciouns, and lordshipen to puples; and the Lord of hem shal regne 9 in to withoute ende. Who trosten in hym, shuln vnderstonde treuthe; and feithful in loue thei shul assente to hym; for free 3ifte and pes is to the 10 chosen men of hym. Vnpitous men for-sothe, aftir that thei tho3ten, vndernym-men that dien, ben distried outirli. Live here. c.

be of hise wordis*. Thei thou3ten these²¹ thingis, and thei erriden; for whi her malice blyndide hem. And thei knewen²² not the sacramentis of God†, nethir thei hopiden the meede of riztfulnesse, nether thei demyden the onour of hooli soulis.
 For whi God made man vnable to be dis-²³ tried, and God made man to the ymage of his licnesse. But bi enuye of the²⁴ deucl‡ deth entride in to the world; for²⁵ sothe thei suen hym, that ben of his part.

* of his wordis; for the Jewis bileuyden, that whanne Crist was deed, hise wordis bifor goinge schulden
 be arettid fals,
 but the con-
 trarie bifelde.
Live here. c

† the sacramentis of God;
 that is, priuy
 goodis, whiche
 he made redi
 to hem that louen him.
undistrieable;
 that is, vndedly
 as to the soule,
 and to be dis-
 tried a3enus the corrupcioun of the bodi, for it is maad of con-
 trarie elementis;
 he 3af the 3ifte
 of original riztfulnesse, bi whiche the
 soule my3te kepe his bodi
 fro corrupcioun.
 to the ymage
 of his licnesse;
 for he made man able to take God, bi knowing and loue. Live here.
c.

‡ bi enuye of the deucl; for bi his tempta-
 cioun the firste
 fadir and modir braken Goddis
 comaundement,
 and losten original riztful-nesse, and en-triden into nede
 to die. c.

§ of deth; that is, of helle. Live
here. c.

|| And fro iust
 weie, etc.; that is, fro the weie
 of riztfulnesse,
 that theyhelden
 truly in this world. in to dis-triyng; bi the errour of vn-
 wise men. Live
here. c.

¶ wey of distri-yng; that is,
 bi the errour,
 that seith, that

 3ifte; of grace in present tyme. and pees; in tyme to comynge. Live here. c.

^d a man E pr. m. ^{dd} no c. ^e Om. AGH. ^f wijs AG pr. m. ^g alouwid A.

^b Om. c. ^c and thei r.

ynges^h shuln han; that dispisiden the rīztwis, and fro the Lord wenten awei.
 11 Wisdam forsothe and discipline who casteth awei, is vnsele; and voide is the hope of hem, and trauailes withoute frut, and vnprofitable the werkis of them, and 12 vnable to dwelle in. The wymmen of them ben vnwise, and most wicke the 13 sonus of hem. Cursid the creature of them; for seli is the bareyn, and the vndefoulid, that kneȝ not the bed in trespas, shal han frut in beholding of holi 14 soulis. And the gelding, that wroȝte not bi his hondis wickidnesse, ne thoȝte aȝen the Lord most wicke thingus; forsothe ther shal ben ȝiue to hym the chosen fre ȝifte of the beleue, and lot in the 15 temple of God most aloowid. Forsothe of goode trauailes glorious is the frut, and the whiche the roote of wisdam al 16 to-stereth not. The sonus forsothe of auoutreres in ending shul ben, and fro the wicke bed the seed shal ben out-17 lawid. And if forsothe of long lif thei shul be, in noȝt thei shul be countid; and withoute wrshiþe shal be the laste eelde 18 of hem. And if swiftliere thei shul ben dead, thei shul not han hope, ne in the 19 dai of knouleching speche. Forsothe wicke naciouns ben of hard ending.

CAP. IV.

1 Oi! hou fair is chast ieneracioun with clerte; vndeadi forsothe is the mynde of it, for anent God it is knowe, and anent 2 men. Whan present it is, thei folewe; and desiren it, whan 'it hath^k lad out itself^l, and it crowned in to withoute ende berth the victorie, takende bi vic-torie the meede of the vndefoulid striues.
 3 Forsothe the manyfold goten multitude of vnpitouse men shal not ben profitable; and auoutrie plauntingis shul not ȝiue heeȝe rootis, ne stable stedefastnesse set-that thei thouȝten, schulen haue punysch-yng; whiche dispisiden* iust thing, and ȝeden awei fro the Lord. For he that 11 castith awei wisdom and lore, is cursid; and the hope of wickid men is voide, and her trauels ben without fruyt, and her werkis ben vnhabitable^d, and vnprofitable. The wymmen of hem ben vnwitti, 12 and the sonus of hem ben ful weiward.

 The creature of hem is cursid; for whi a^e 13 womman bareyn and vndefoulid is blessid, that 'knew not^f bed in trespas; sche schal haue frut in the biholding of holy soulis.
 And a man vnmyȝti to gendre^g is blessid, 14 that 'wrouȝte not^h wickidnesse bi hise hondis, nether thouȝte moost weiward thingis aȝens the Lord; for whi a chosun ȝifte of feith schal be ȝouun to hym, and a most acceptable eritage in the temple of God. For whi the frut of good trauels 15 is gloriouse, and the roote of wisdom that fallith not down. But the sonus of avow- 16 treris schulen be in distriyng, and the seed of a wickid bed schal be destried. And 17 sotheli thouȝ thei schulen be of long lijf, thei schulen be arettid in to nouȝt; and the laste eelde of hem schal be withouten onour. And if thei ben deed swiftliere, 18 thei schulen not haue hope, nether alow-yng in the dai of knowyng. Forsothe 19 wickide naciouns ben of hard ending.

CAP. IV.

Ai! hou fair is chast^k generacioun† 1 with clerenesse; for the mynde therof is vndeedi, for it is knowun^l, both anentis God, and anentis men. Whanne 2 it is present, thei suen it; and thei desiren it, whanne it hath led out† it silf, and it ouercomyng getith bi victorie the mede of batels vndefoulid, and is corowned with outen ende. But the many fold gendrid³ multitude of wickid men schal not be profitable; and plauntynge of auoutrie^g schulen^m not ȝyue deepe rootis, nether

* dispisiden,
 etc.; that is,
 nolden do iust
 werkis.
 vnhabitable;
 that is, vnable
 to dwelle yune.
 alowing;
 that is, excus-
 ing of her yuels.
 in the dai
 of knowing;
 that is, of general doom.
 of hard ending; that is,
 of hard dampnyng to the
 peyne of helle.
 Live here. c.

† chast generacioun; that is,
 the multitude of iust men, which is chast in bodi,
 in refreynynge
 vnleueful
 lustis of fleisch,
 and also chast
 in soule, in eschewynge the synne of vnfeithfulnesse
 and of idolatrie.
 with clerenesse;
 of wisdom,
 which is ȝouun
 to iust men.
 it is knowun;
 bi knowing of appreuyng;
 sotheli no for-getyng fallith in God. Live here.
 c.

‡ led out;
 that is, fro present bi kyndly
 deth.
 ouercomynge; the flesch, and the world, and the deuel, that ben ouercomun perfitli of iust men
 in her deth.
 Live here. c.
 § of auoutrie;
 that is, alle
 wickid men,
 that ben the fendis sonus bi goostly auou-trie. Live here.
 c.

^h correcciouns E pr. m. ⁱ Om. ACGH. ^k thei han E pr. m. ^l themself E pr. m.

^d vnable for to dwelle 1. ^e the 1. ^f hath not knowen the 1. ^g gete 1. ^h hath not wrouȝt 1. ⁱ Om. 1a. ^k a chaast 1a. ^l vnknowun A. ^m thei schal 1.

4 ten. And if in the braunchis in the tyme buriounen, vnstabli set of the wind thei shul ben al to-stirid, and of the mychilnesse of windis pullid vp bi the rootis.
5 Forsothe braunchis vnendid shul be to-broken; and the frutis of them vnprofit-6 able. Forsothe alle the sonus, that shul ben born of wicke^m men, witnesses ben of shreudenesses azen fader and moder, 7 in ther asking. The rijtwis forsothe, if he were befor occupied bi deth, in re-8 freshing shal ben. The laste age for-sothe wrshipecful isⁿ not longe durende, ne in noumbre of 3eres countid; hoere^o 9 ben the wittis of man, and the age of 10 eelde lijf vndefoulid. The plesing to God mad looued, and lyuyng among syn-11 neres is translatid; he is raueshid, lest malice shulde chaunge the vnderstanding of hym, or lest feynyng shulde begile 12 the soule of hym. Forsothe priue de-sceyuyng of trifling derkneth goode thingus, and vnstablenesse of coueiting 13 ouerturneth wit withoute malice. The ful endid in short fulfild manye tymes; 14 plesid forsothe to God was the soule of hym; for that he wente to bringen hym out fro the myddel of shreudenesses^{oo}; puples forsothe seende and not vnderstandende, nouthen ben puttende in ther 15 hertes suche thingis. For grace of God and mercy is 'in to^p his seyntis, and ferthermor respit in to the chosyn of hym.
16 Forsothe the rijtwis dead condempneth the vnпиты men on liue; and 3outhen swiftliere endid, the longe lif of the^q 17 vnrijtwis. Forsothe thei shul see the ende of the wise man, and thei shul not vnderstonde, what God hath tho3t of schulen sette stable stidfastnesse. Thou³ 4 thei buriounen* in bowis inⁿ time, thei set vnstidfastli Schulen be moued of the wynd, and^o Schulen be drawun out[†] bi the roote of the greetnesse of wyndys.

For whi bowis vnperfit Schulen be brokun⁵ togidere; and the fruytis of hem ben vn-profitable, and soure to ete, and couenable to no thing. For whi alle sonus, that *ben*⁶ borun of wickid men, ben witnessis[‡] of wickidnesse azen faders and modris, in her axyng. But a iust man, thou³ he be⁷ bifore occupied[§] bi deth, schal be in refreischyng^{||}. For whi worschipful eelde⁸ is not of long tyme, nether is^p rikened bi the noumbre of 3eris; the wittis of a man ben hoore, and the age of eelde is⁹ lijf withouten wem. He pleside God,¹⁰ and was maad dereworth, and he lyu-yng among synneris was 'borun ouer[¶]¶ he was rauyschid, lest malice schulde¹¹ chaunge his vnderstondyng, ethir lest feynyng schulde disseyue his soule.
For whi disseyuyng of trifelyng makith¹² derk goode thingis, and the^r vnstable-nesse of coueitise turneth ouer the wit without malice. He was endid in schort¹³ tyme, and fillide many tymes; for whi his¹⁴ soule was plesant to God; for this thing God hastide to lede hym out fro the myddis of wickidnesses; but pupilis sien and vndurstoden not, nether settiden siche thingis in^s 'the inwardnesses^t. For^u¹⁵ whi^v the grace and merci^w of God is on hise seyntis, and biholdyng of 'Goddis coumfort^x is on hise chosun men. For¹⁶ sothe a iust man deed^{††} condempneth quyke wickid men; and 3ongthe endid swiftliere condempneth long^y lijf of an vniust man. For thei Schulen se the ende¹⁷

* buriounen;
that is, han prosperite in temporal good-
dis. Live here. c.

† schulen be
drawun out,
etc.; that is, bi Goddis sentence, fallinge
on hem, thei schulen be drawun out fro goodis of present liyf, in whiche thei hadden set roote. Live
here. c.

‡ ben witnessis,
etc.; for bi this that thei suen
the trespassis of faders, thei witnessen her malice. Live
here. c.

§ bifore occu- pied, etc.; that is, bifore that he come to ende. Live
here. c.

|| schal be in refreischyng;
that is, in reste fro wrecchidnessis of present liyf; and so a iust man
that lyueth litil
tyme, is of betere condi-cioun than a wickid man,
that lyueth longe, and that fallith in tribu-laciouns of bodi
and of soule.

worschipful;
that is, worthi
to be worschip-id, is not in multitude of 3eris, but in ripenesse of vertues, which a iust man get-ith, thou³ he be 3ong in age.
the wittis of a man; iust.

ben hoore; for tho ben ripe
and oneste.
and the age
of eelde; worthi to be worschipid.

is liyf without wem; whether

it be schort ether long. Live here. c. ¶ was borun ouer; that is, fro present liyf, and fro the felouschipe of wickid men, of whiche he my3te be peirid. lest malice; that is, apertly yuele men. schulde chaunge; bi violence of turmentis. feynyng; that is, ipocritis. schulde disseyue; bi apperyng of good. of trifeling; that is, of iangling of many wordis, ourned ether faire enditid. makith derke goode thingis; for ofte it makith tho to appere yuels. contynuaunce of couetise, etc.; for whi the greetnesse of lust mysturneth the doom of resoun, and most in simple men, in whiche resoun is leese strong. Live here. c.  but pupilis; that is, vnwise men. in the entrailis; that is, in the ynnere thingis of soule. Live here. c.

†† a iust man deed; for the mynde of his rijtfulnesse schewith, that wickid men ben worthi to be dampned. Live here. c.

¹ Om. c sec. m. ^m wickid AGH. ⁿ shul ben E pr. m. ^o olde E pr. m. ^{oo} shrewidnes A. P to A.
^q Om. AGH.

ⁿ for a I. in a ksa. ^o and thei I. P it is I. q translatid, or born ouer I. ^r Om. I. ^s Om. a.
^t the entrailis EHM PUVY. her hertis I. ^u Om. aq. ^v Om. I. while q. ^w the merci sa. ^x God I.
^y the long I.

hym, and whi the Lord mynushte, 'or 18 made lytil^r hym. Thei shul seen, and dispisen hym; hem forsothe the Lord 19 shal scorne. And thei shul ben after these thingus falling down with oute wrshipe, and in wrong blamyng among the deade in to withoute ende. For them inwardli blowen he shal to-breke withoute vois, and stern hem fro the foundemens; and vnto the hejest thei shul ben desolat. And thei shul be weilende, and the mynde of hem shal 20 pershen. Thei shul comen in the thenk-ing of ther synnes dredful; and shuln ouerleden hem forn azen the wickidnesses of hem.

CAP. V.

1 Thanne shul stonde ríztwis men in gret stedefastnesse azen hem that anguyssheden hem, and that token^a awei the tra-2 uailes of hem. Seende thei shul ben disturbid^t with horrible drede, and shul merueilen in the sodeynesse of the vn-hopid helthe^u, weilende for anguysh of 3 spirit, seiende, withinne themself pen-aunce doende, and for anguysh of spirit weilende, These ben, whom wee hadden
 'sum tyme^v in to scorn, and in to licnesse 4 of reprof. Wee vnwise eymeden the lif of hem wodnesse, and the ende of them 5 without wrshipe; hou thanne ben thei countid among the sonus of God, and 6 among seyntis the lot of hem is? Therfore wee erreden fro^w the weie of treuthe, and the lizt of ríztwisnesse liztede not to vs, and the sunne off vnderstanding is 7 not sprunge to vs. Weri wee ben in the weie of wickidnesse, and of perdicioun; 8 and wee han gon harde weies. The wei forsothe of the Lord wee knewen not; what profitede to vs pride, or bost of a wise man*, and thei schulen not vndurstonde, what thing God thouzte of hym, and whi the Lord made hym lesse.

 For thei schulen se, and schulen dispise 18 hym; but the Lord schal scorne hem.
 And aftir these thingis thei schulen be 19 fallynge down withouten onour, and in dispisyng among deed men with outen ende. For he schal al to-breke hem bolnyd with out vois, and he schal moue hem fro the foundementis; and thei schulen be desolat til to the laste thing.
 And thei schulen be weilynge, and the mynde of hem schal perische. Thei 20 schulen come ferdful in the thouzt of her synnes; and her wickidnessis on the contrarie side schulen lede hem ouer†.

CAP. V.

Thanne‡ iust men schulen stonde in 1 greet stidfastnesse azen hem that angwischiden^z 'iust men^a, and whiche^b token awei her trauelis. Thei schulen se, and 2 schulen^c be disturblyd with horrible drede, and thei schulen wondre in the sudeynte of heelthe^d vnhopid; and thei schulen weile for angwisch of spirit, and thei 3 schulen seie, doynge penaunce|| withynne hem silf, and weilyng for the^e angwysch of spirit, These men it ben, whiche we hadden sum tyme in to^f scorn, and in to licnesse of vpbreidyng^g. We woode men 4 gessiden her lijf woodnesse, and the ende of hem with oute onour^h; hou therfor ben 5 thei rekened among the sones of God, and her part is among seyntis? Therfor we 6 erriden fro the weie of treuthe, and the lizt of ríztfulnesse schynede not to us¶, and the sunne of vndurstondyng roos not vp to us. We weren maad weri in the 7 weie of wickidnesse and of perdicioun;
 and we zeden hard weies. But we 8 knewenⁱ not the weie of the Lord; what

* a wise man; that is, bifor takun with deth.
 made him lesse; in making schort his liyf. schal scorne hem; that is, schal schewe hem worthi to be scorned in deth, for thei aretten iust men foolis and woode, that putten forth hem silf to deth for ríztfulnesse.
 aftir these; that is, aftir delices and onours of this liyf.
 with outen onour; in the power of fendis.
 with out vois; for thei schulen not mowe defende hem silf, nether excuse. fro foundementis; that is, fro fleiali frendis, and ertheli goodis, in whiche thei tristiden. Lire here. c.

† schal lede hem ouer; that is, fro temporal prosperite in to euerlastinge wrecchidnesse.
 Lire here. c.
 § thanne; that is, in the tyme of doom. Lire here. c.

|| penaunce; vnfruytful, for thei schulen be out of the staat of merit, and for the penaunce schal not be for the offence of God, but for the hardnesse of turment. Lire here. c.

¶ schynede not to vs; thouz it schyneth to alle men, as myche as is of it silf, for whi Goddis stringis to good, ben maad comynly to alle men, but summen res-seyuen the stringis, and othere men putten away tho; and so tho ben not maad to hem, that is, to her profit, but more to her dampnacioun.

 Lire here. c.

^r Om. c et e pr. m. ^s taken A. ^t disturblyd EGH. ^u helpe c. ^v Om. c. ^w forsothe fro A.

^z anguischen sa. ^a hem I. ^b the whiche I. ^c Om. I. ^d her heelthe I. ^e Om. I. ^f Om. N.
^g vpbreiding, ether edwityng c et ceteri. ^h ony honour c sec. m. ⁱ knowen CHN.

9 of^x riches what ȝaf it to vs? Alle tho thingus passeden as shadewe, and as 10 a messenger rennende biforn. And as a ship, that passeth thurȝ the flowende water, of the whiche whan it is passid, a step is not to finde, ne a path of his 11 botme in the flodis. Or as a brid, that ouerfleth in the eir, of the whiche noon euydence is founden of his weie, but onli the soun of weengis betende the list wind, and kuttende bi fors the eir of the weie, and togidere stirid the weenges ouerfleth^y, and aftir that no signe is 12 founden of his weie. Or as an arwe sent out in to the ordeyned place, the eir deuydid contynueli is reclosid in it, 13 that the passing of it be vnknowen. So and wee born contynueli lefen to ben, and of vertue noon forsothe signe wee myȝten shewe; in oure wariedhed forsothe wee 14 ben wastid. Such thingus seyden in helle 15 these that synned. For the hope of the vnpitous is as a wille^{yy} loke, 'or thistil-doun^z that of the wind is taken awei, and as a smal fome^a that^b of tempest^c is sprengd awei, and as smoke that of the wind is held abroad, and as the mynde of 16 a geste of o dai, passende biside. Riȝtwise men forsothe in to withoute ende shul lyue, and anent^d the Lord is the meede of hem; and the thoȝt of hem 17 anent the heȝest. Therefore thei shul take the reume of wrshiȝe, and the diademe of fairnesse of the hond of the Lord; for with his riȝt hond he shal couere them, and with his holi arm de-18 fenden hem. And the ielouste of hym shal taken armure, and armen creature 19 to the veniȝng of enemys. He shal clothen for the brest plate riȝtwisnesse, and he shal take to for the helm certein 20 dom; he shal take the sheeld vnuenkus-21 able equite; he shal sharpe forsothe hard wrathe in to a spere, and the round-profitide pride to vs, ethir what brouȝte^k the boost of richessis to vs? All thoȝ thingis passiden as schadewe, and as a messenger bifore rennyȝe. And as a 10 schip, that passith thorou the flowyȝge watir, of which whanne it hath passid, it is not to fynde a step, nethir the path of the botme therof in wawys. Ethir as a 11 bryd, that flieth ouer in the eir, of which^l no preef is foundun of the weie therof, but oneli the soun of wengis betyȝge list wynde, and keruyȝge the eir by the^m myȝt of weie, and with wyȝgis moued togidere it flei ouer, and aftir this no signe is foundun of the weie therof. Ethir 12 as an arowe shotⁿ out in to a place or-deyned, the eir is^o departid, and^p is^q closid aȝen anoon, that the passyȝg therof be not knowun. 'So and^r we borun ceessiden 13 anoon to be, and sotheli we myȝten schewe no signe of vertu; but we weren wastid in oure malice^s *. Thei that synned, 14 seyden sicke thingis in helle. For the hope 15 of a wickid man is as the flour of a brere which is takun awei of the wynd, and as smal froth which is scaterid^t of a tempest, and as smoke which^u is spred abroad of wynd, and as the mynde of 'an herborid man^v of o dai, that passith forth. But 16 iust men schulen lyue withouten ende, and the meede of hem is anentis the Lord; and the thoȝt of hem is anentis the hiȝeste. Therfor thei schulen take 17 of the hond of the Lord the rewme of fairnesse, and the^w diademe of comely-nesse; for he schal gouerne hem with his riȝthond, and he schal defende hem with his hooli arm. And his feruent loue[†] 18 schal take armure, and he schal arme the creature to the venieaunce of enemys.

He schal clothe riȝtfulnesse for an ha- 19 burioun, and he schal take certeyn doom for a^x basynet; he schal take a scheeld 20 that may not be ouercomun, equyte^y;

* we weren
wastid in oure
malice, ether yuel willid-
nesse; is seid
yuel firyȝg,
that stondith
in the brennyȝg of co-ueytise, wher
ynne wickid
men ben wast-
id; for whi lecherouse men ben wastid bi
the fier of fleisly coueitise, coueytouse men
ben wastid bi
the fier of co-ueytise, and proude men
ben wastid bi
the fier of worldly hiȝnesse.

iust men
schulen liue;
in liȝf glorie.
anentis the Lord; of whom thei hope to be rewardid,
not of the world.
anentis the hiȝeste; to whose onour thei ordeynen
her dedis.
the rewme of fairnesse; that is, of heuenly glorie, where no vile thing is.
with his riȝt
hond; in kep-
ping hem in blis,
that is signefied
bi the riȝthond.
with his hooli
arm; in this is signefied the sikirnesse of blis, that may not be takun
away bi ony creature. Live
here. c.

† feruent loue;
for bi feruent
loue of riȝtful-
nesse he goith
forth, to the punysching of yuele men. c.

^x or c. ^y ouerfleiz AEGH. ^{yy} Om. c et E pr. m. ^z Om. c et E pr. m. or thistles doune GH.
^a thorn E pr. m. ^b Om. AGH. ^c the tempest AE sec. m. GH. ^d anentis A et E passim.

^k hath brouȝt I. ^l whos wey I. ^m Om. I. ⁿ sent ceteri. ^o Om. cv. ^p Om. cv. ^q it is I. ^r Riȝt so I. ^s malice, ether yuel willidnesse CEFHGKMQSUVYA. ^t scaterid abroad I. ^u the which I. ^v a geste I.
^w a I. ^x the I. ^y equyte, ether euenesse CEFHGKMNQSUVA. equyte, ether euenehede EPY.

nesse of erthis shal fize with hym azen 22 the vnwise. The sendingus out of leitis shul gon euene rize, and as at the teising the bowe of cloudis bent, thei shul ben outlawid; and to a certeyn place thei 23 shul lepen in. And fro the stony wratheful hailes shul ben sent, and water of the se shal teenden in to them, and flodis 24 shul renne togidere hard. Azen hem the spirit of vertue shal stonde, and as a whirle puff of wind deuyden^e hem; and to wilderness he shal fulli bringen al the lond of the wickidnesse^f of hem, and wariedhed shal turne awei the setis of 1 my3ti men. Betere is wisdom than strengthis, and a man prudent more than a strong man.

CAP. VI.

2 Hereth^g thanne, 3ee^b kingis, and vndir-stondith; lerneth, 3ee domes men of the 3 coestes of the erthe. 3iue^h eres, 3ee that holden togidere multitudis, and plesen to 3ou in cumpanyes of naciouns; 4 for ther is 3ouen of the Lord power to 3ou, and vertue of the heizeste, that shal aske 3oure werkis, and tho3tis serchen.
 5 For whan 3ee weren mynestres of his reume, not rize thei 3ee demeden, ne kepten the lawe of rize wisnesse, ne aftir the wil 6 of God 3ee wenten. Orribleli and soone he shal apere to 3ou; for most hard dom shal ben don in hem, that ben biforn.
 7 Forsothe 'to theⁱ litle^k is grauntid mercy; my3ty men forsothe my3tili tormentis 8 shul suffre. Forsothe he shal not with-drawe the persone of any man, the Lord, that is lordshipere of alle thingus, and he shal not drede the mykilnesse^l of any man; for litil and gret he made, and 9 euenli cure is to hym of^m alle. To the strengere forsothe strengere stantⁿ in 10 tormenting. To 3ou thanne, kingus, ben these my wrdis, that 3ee lerne wisdom, 11 and^o that 3ee falle^p not of^q. Who for-forsothe he schal whette hard wraththe*²¹ in to a spere, and the world schal fize with him azen vnwitti men. Streize²² sendyngis out of leythis schulen go, and as the sidis of a reynbouwe, whanne the bouwe of cloudis is crokid, thei schulen be destried; and thei schulen skippe in to a certeyn place. And fulle hailstones²³ schulen be sent fro a stony wreththe[†], and the watir of the see schal wexe whijt azen hem, and floodis schulen renne togider harde. The spirit of vertu²⁴ schal stonde azen hem, and as the whirl-yng of wind it schal departe hem; and the wickidnesse of hem schal brynge al the lond to desert, and malice schal distrye the seetis of my3ti men.

CAP. VI.

Wisdom is beter than strengthis, and a prudent man doith more than a strong man. Therfor, 3e kyngis, here, and vn-² durstonde^z; and 3e iugis of the coostis of erthe, lerne^a. 3e that holden togidere³ multitudis, and plesen 3ou[†] in the cumpenyes of naciouns, 3yue^b eeris; forwhi⁴ power is 3ouun of the Lord to 3ou, and vertu is 3ouun of the hizeste, that schal axe 3oure werkis, and schal serche thou3tis.
 For whanne 3e weren mynystris of his⁵ rewme, 3e demeden not rizefuli, nether 3e kepten the lawe of rizefulnesse, nether 3e 3eden bi the wille of God. Hidousli⁶ and soone[§] he schal appere to 3ou; for-whi hardeste doom schal be maad in hem, that ben souereyns. Forsothe merci⁷ is grauntid to a litil man; but mize men schulen suffre turmentis mize.
 For the Lord, which is lord of alle⁸ thingis, schal not withdrawe the persoone of ony man, nether he schal drede the greetnesse of ony man; for he made the^c litil man and the greet man, and charge^{||} is to hym euenli of alle men.
 But strongere turment neizeth to strongere⁹

* hard wraththe; that is, his ven-iance, which noon mai with-stonde. Live
here. c.
 † a stony wraththe; that is, of Goddis ire, that makith heuye hail stones.
 wexe whijt;
 that semeth
 whijt, whanne
 the see is tro-
 blid.
 The spirit of vertu; that is,
 strong wynd.
 Live here. c.
 ‡ plesen 3ou;
 that is, deliten
 in the gouernail
 of hem.
 of the Lord;
 whose vikeris 3e ben in this.
 Live here. c.
 § and soone;
 in deth, that
 tarieth not. c. hardeste
 doom; that is,
 greuouseste
 peyn.
 to a litil man;
 that is, to a man of litil staat, and of
 litil kunnyng,
 for sich a man synneth co-
 mynly bi ignorance.
 my3ty men;
 bi dignete of staat, and bi greetnesse of kunnyng.
 turmentis mize; that is, greuouseste turmentis; for
 in as myche as the staat is hizere, in so myche the fal
 is greuousere,
 and worthi of more peyne.
 withdrawe
 the persone;
 fro good to him,
 be he neuere so
 pore.
 the greetnesse
 of ony man;
 that ne he punyschith him duly. Live here.
c.
 || charge, etc.;
 that is, puruy-aunce, for he purueyeth for ech creature,
 bi the couena-
 ble of his kynde. Live
here. c.

^e deuydeth A. ^f wickennesse E. ^g Here 3ee AEGH. ^h Om. AEGH. ⁱ Om. E pr. m. ^k a litle while E pr. m. ^l mykil AGH. ^m Om. C sec. m. E sec. m. ⁿ stondith A. ^o Om. A. ^p passe E pr. m.
^q Om. E pr. m.

^z vndurstondeth I. ^a lerneth I. ^b 3iue^h to 3oure I. ^c bothe the I.

sothe shul kepe riȝtwisnesse, riȝtly shul be demed; and that shul lerne riȝt thingus, shul finde, what thei answeren.
12 Coueiteth thanne my wrdys, and looueth hem; and ȝee shuln han disciplyne.
13 Wisdam is cler, and that neuere welewith; and liȝtli is seen of hem that loouen it, and is founde of hem that 14 sechen it. It beforn ocupieth that coueyteth it, that to them rathere he shewe 15 hymself. Who fro liȝt shal wake to it, shal not trauailen; forsothe he shal finde 16 it sittende in his ȝates. Thanne to thenken of it is ful endid wit, and he that shal wake for it, soone shal be sikir.
17 For it goth aboute sechende the wrthi itself; and in his weis it shal shewe itself to them, and gladsumli in alle prouydence 'or bifore ordeynyng'^r it shal aȝen 18 come to them. The bigynnyng forsothe of it is most verre coueityng of disci-19 pline. Thanne cure of discipline is loouyng; and loouyng is keping of his lawis. Keping forsothe of lawes is ful 20 ending of vncorupcioun; vncorupcioun forsothe makith next to God to ben.
21 And so coueiting of wisdam shal lede 22 forth to the euerlastende kingdam. If thanne ȝee deliten in setes, and in kingus dignetees, O! ȝee kyngis of the puple, looueth wisdam, that in to withoute ende 23 ȝee regne. Looueth the liȝt of wisdam, 24 alle ȝee, that ben tofor to pupilis. What is forsothe wisdam, and hou it be mad, I shal telle; and I shal not hide fro ȝou the sacramentis of God; but fro the bigynnyng of birthe I shal enserche, and putten in to liȝt the kunnyng of it, and 25 I shal not passe beside the treuthe. Ne with the quyterende enuye weie I shal han; for such a man shal not ben par-cener of wisdam. The multitude for-sothe of wise men^s helthe is of the round-nesse of erthis; and a wis king is the 27 stablete of the puple. Thanne takith men. Therfor, ȝe kyngis, these my wordis 10 ben to you, that ȝe lerne wisdom, and that ȝe falle not down. For thei that kepen 11 riȝtfulnesse, schulen be deemed riȝtfuli; and thei, that lernen iust thingis, schulen fynde, what thei schulen answeren. Ther- 12 for coueite ȝe my wordis, and loue ȝe tho; and ȝe schulen haue techyng. Wisdom 13 is cleer, and that schal neuer fade; and it is seyn liȝtli of hem that louen it, and it is foundun of hem that seken it. It bi- 14 fore ocupieth hem that coueyten it, that it schewe it silf the formere to hem. He 15 that wakith bi liȝt to it, schal not trauele; forsothe he schal fynde it sittynge nyȝ hise ȝatis. Therfor to thenke* on^d wis- 16 dom^e is parfit wit, and he that wakith for it, schal soone be sikir. For whi it goith 17 aboute, and sekith men worthi to it; and in her^f weies it schal schewe it silf gladli to hem, and in al puruyaunce[†] it schal meete hem. For whi the bigynnyng of 18 wisdom is the verieste coueytise of lernyng. Therfor the bisynesse of lernyng is 19 loue; and loue is the kepyng of lawis therof. Sotheli the kepyng of lawis is perfeccioun of vncorupcioun[‡]; forsothe 20 vncorupcioun makith to be next to God.

Therfor the coueitise of wisdom schal 21 brynge to euerlastynge rewme. Therfor 22 if ȝe, kyngis of the puple, deliten in seetis, and in kyngis ȝerdis, 'ether regaltees'[§], loue ȝe wisdom, that ȝe regne with outen ende. Alle ȝe, that ben souereyns to pu- 23 plis, loue^{§§} the liȝt of wisdom. Sotheli 24 what is wisdom[¶], and hou it is maad, Y shal telle; and Y schal not hide fro ȝou the^h sacramentis^{||} of God; but fro the bigynnyng of birthe Y schal seke, and Y shal sette in to the liȝt the kunnyng therof, and Y schal not passe treuthe.
And Y schal not haue weye with enuye 25 wexynge rotun; for sicke a man schal not be parcener of wisdom. Forsothe the 26 multitude of wise men is the helthe of

* to thenke; bi hooly thouȝtis.
Lire here. c.

† puruyaunce;
that is, in rul-
inge hem in alle
thingis of man,
that ben worthi
to be doon. Lire
here. c.

‡ vncorupcioun; that is,
of goostly vncorrupcioun, bi eschewing of synne. vncorrupcioun; is clennesse fro synne. Lire
here. c.

§ what is wisdom; here the autour of this book spekith in the persone of Salomon, that hadde double kunnyng; the firste was knowing of creaturis of this world, that may be getun bi sek-
ing of resoun,
and bi trauele
of studie, ne-
theles in party,
and vuperfili,
and with errouis, as Aristotle, famousere among othere filoso-foris, erride in
many thingis,
as of the euer-lastingenesse of the world, with out bigynnyng,
and of the nombere of vndurstandingis,
and of the
blis of tho, as it is opin, in

xij. of Meta-fisikis; but Salomon hadde
this wisdom, bi
the ȝifte of God, perfytly, and sodeynly, and with out errou; and he hadde also kunnyng of profesie. Lire
here. c.

|| sacramentis;
that is, hise
priuytees
schewid to me.
Lire here.

^r Om. c et E pr. m. ^s Om. A.

^d of CGHIKMNQRBUVXaÇ. ^e it s. ^f his s. ^g or regalies I. ^{g§} loueth I. ^h tho I.

discipline bi my^t wrdis, and it shal profite to 3ou.

CAP. VII.

1 I am forsothe and a deadli man, lic to men, and of 'the erthi^u kinde of hym that rathere is mad, and in the wombe
2 of the modir figured I am flesh. In time of ten monethis cruddid I am in to blod, of the sed of man, and of couena-
3 ble^{uu} deliting of slep. And I born toc comun eir, and lic maner fel down in to the mad erthe; and the firste vois, lic 4 alle, I putte out weping. I was nurshid in swathing clothis, and in grete besy-
5 nesses; no man forsothe of kingis other hath bigynnyng of birthe. Oon entre 7 is to alle to lif, and lije issue. For that I desirede, and there is 3iue to me wit; and I inwardli clepide, and there cam in^v 8 me the spirit of wisdom. And I putte it biforn to reumes, and setes; and richesses I seide no thing to ben in comparisoun of it, ne I comparisounede to 9 it a precious ston; for alle gold in comparisoun of it is a litil grauel, and as clei siluer shal ben eymed in the sizte
10 of it. Ouer helthe and fairnesse I loouede it; and I purposide for list to han it, 11 for vnquenchable is the lyzt of it. Forsothe there camen to me alle goodis togidere with it; and vnnoumbrable honeste 12 by the hondis of it. And I gladede in alle thingus; for this wisdom wente befor me, and I kne3 not, for of alle goodis 13 it is moder. For withoute feynyng I lernede, and withoute enuye I comune; 14 and the oneste of it I hidde not. Forsothe tresor it is withoute ende to men, the whiche who useden, parcener ben mad of the frenshipe of God, com-15 mendid for the 3iftis^w of discipline. To me forsothe God 3af to seyn of sentence, and to take bfore the wrthi thingis of these that ben 3iue to me; for he is duk the world; and a wijs kyng* is the stabilischyng of the puple. Therfor take 3e²⁷ techyng bi my wordis, and it schal profite to 3ou.

CAP. VII.

Forsothe and Yⁱ am a deedli man, lijk^k 1 men, and of erthli kynde of hym that was maad first, and in the wombe of the^l modir Y was fourmed fleische. In the² time of ten monethis Y was cruddid togidere in blood, of the seed of man, and bi acordynge delit of sleep. And Y was³ borun, and^m took comyn eir, and in lijk maner Y felle down in to the erthe maad; and Y wepyng[†] sente out the firste vois, lijk alle men. Y was nurschid in wrap-⁴ pyngis, and in greet bisynesses; for whi no⁵ man of kyngis[‡] hadde othere bigynnyng of birthe. Therfor oon entryng to lijf is⁶ to alle men, and lijk goyng out. Her-⁷ for Y desiride, and wit was 3ouun to me; and Y inwardli clepide, and the spirit of wisdom cam in to me. And Y settide⁸ wisdom bifore rewmes, and seetis; and Y seide, that richessis ben nouzt in comparisoun therof, and Y comparisonede not⁹ a preciose stoon to it; forwhi al gold in comparisoun therof is a litil grauel, and siluer schal be arettid as cley in the sizt therof. Y louyde wisdom more than¹⁰ helthe and fairnesse; and Y purposide to haue it for list, for the list therof may not be quenchid. Forsothe alle goodis¹¹ camen togidere to me with it; and vnnoumbrable oneste is by the werkys therof. And Y was glad in alle thingis; ¹² for this wisdom 3ede bfore me, and Y knew not, for it is the modir of alle goodis. Whichⁿ wisdom Y lernyde with¹³ out feynyng, and Y comyne^o without enuye; and Y hide not the oneste therof. For it is tresour with out noubre to¹⁴ men, and thei, that vsiden that tresour, weren maad parceneris of Goddis frenschip, and weren preisid for the 3iftis of kunnyng. Forsothe God 3af to me to seie¹⁵

* a wijs kyng; for as an heed wel disposid 3yueth wit, and stiring wel ordeyned to the membris, so a wijs king rulith hise sugetis to comyn good. Live here. c.
† weping; for a knaue child borun seith in weilinge A! and a maide child seith E! as pleyninge of the trespas of Adam and of Eue, for which thei ben borun the sones and dougtris of veniaunce, and of wrecchidnesse. Live here. c.
‡ of kyngis; for thei ben borun vnmysty in bodi, and vnkunnyng in the soule, and also othere men.
oon entryng; as to noun power and vnkunnyng.
lijk goyng out; as to angwische and nakidnesse of alle temporal thingis.
Herfor; that is, for Y was borun al vnkunnyng.
Y desiride; the 3ifte of wisdom. and wit, that is, the 3ifte of wisdom and of vnderstanding. was 3ouun; the spirit of wisdom, that is, the Hooli Goost, that 3yueth wisdom. siluer schal be arettid as cley; that is, alle temporal thingis that ben comyn to goode men and yuele, and ben oftenere grauntid to yuele men than to goode men, schulen be arettid of no valu, in comparisoun of wisdom, with charite, that is 3ouun to goode men onely. Live here. c.

^t manye A. ^u that lond E pr. m. ^{uu} the couenable c pr. m. ^v to A. ^w 3ift A.

ⁱ Om. 1a pr. m. ^k lijk othere 1. ^l my 1. ^m and I 1. ⁿ The which 1. ^o comyne it 1.

of wisdom, and the mendere of wise men.
 16 In the hond forsothe of hym and wee, and oure wrdis, and alle wisdom, and disciplyne of the kunnyng of werkes.
 17 He forsothe ȝaf to me verre kunnyng of these that ben, that I wite the disposicioun of the roundnesse of erthis, and 18 the vertues of elemens; the begynnyng, and the^w ende, and the myddil of tymes; the chaungingus^x of whillemelis, and the endingus of times; the chaungingus^y of 19 maneris, and deuyseouns^z of times; the coursis of the ȝeer, and the disposicioun 20 of sterres; the kindis of bestes, and the wrathis of noȝous bestis^a; the strengthe of windis, and the thoȝtis of men; the differences of ȝunge trees, and vertues^b of 21 rootis. And what euere thing be hid and vnpurueid, I lernede; forsothe the craftus man of alle thingus ȝaȝte me bi wisdom.
 22 Forsothe ther is in it the spirit of vnder-standing, hoeli, many fold, onli, sotile, manerli, faire spekende, mouable, vnde-foulid, certeyn, sweete, loouende good deede, that no thing forfendith^c to do 23 weel; manli, benygne, stable, sikir, alle hauende vertue, alle thingus beholdende, and that taketh alle intelligible spiritis, 24 clene, sotile. Thanne^{cc} alle forsothe mouable thingis mor mouable is wisdom; forsothe it ateyneth ouer al, for his clen-25 nesse. Forsothe the humour of the vertu of God it is, and the maner going out is a clene clernesse of the Almyȝti God; 26 and therefore no thing defoulid renneth in to it. Forsothe whitnesse it is of the euerlastende liȝt, and a merour withoute wem of the maieste of God, and an 27 ymage of the goodnesse of hym. And sithen it is oon, alle thingus it mai; and abidende stille in itself^d, alle thingus it^e neweth, and bi naciouns to hoeli soules of sentence*, and to bifore take worthi thingis of these thingis that ben ȝouun to me; for he is the ledere of wisdom, and amendere of wise men. For whi bothe 16 we, and oure wordis, and al wisdom, and lernyng of kunnyng of werkis ben in his hond. Forsothe he ȝaf to me the veri 17 kunnyng of these thingis that ben, that Y knowe the disposicioun of the world, and the vertues of elementis; the bigyn- 18 nyng, and the endyng, and the myddil of tymes; the chaungyngis of whilis, and the endyngis of tymes; the chaungyngis of maneres, and departyngis of tymes; the coursis of the ȝeer, and the disposi- 19 ciouns of sterres; the kyndis of beestis, and the wraththis of wielde beestis; the strengthe of wyndis, and the thouȝtis of men[†]; the differences of trees, and the vertues of rootis. And Y lernede what 21 euere thingis ben hid and vnpurueyed; for whi wisdom, the crafti maker of alle thingis, ȝaȝte me. For in that wisdom 22 vnmaad is the spirit of vndurstanding, hooli, many fold[‡], oon aloone, sutil, temperat, wiȝs, mouable, vndefoulid, certeyn, swete, louyng a good dede, which^v spirit forbedith no thing to do wel; cur- 23 teis^q, benygne, stable, sikur, hauyng al vertu, biholdyng alle thingis, and which^r takith alle spiritis able to vndurstonde, and he is clene, and sutil. For whi wis- 24 dom is more mouable than alle mouable thingis; forsothe it stretchith forth euery where, for his clenness. For it is a 25 brething^s of Goddis vertu, and it is sum cleene comyngforth of the clernesse of Almyȝti God; and therfor no defoulid 26 thing renneth in to it. For it is briztnesse of euerlastyng liȝt, and it is a myrrour with out wem of Goddis ma-ieste, and it is an ymage of his goodnesse.

* of sentence; that is, to speke to the onour of God, and to the edifying of neigbore, bi grace ȝouun of God to me. and amendere of wise men; in encreessing hise giftis to hem, for her good vss. ben in his hond; for nether we moun do, nether speke, nether thanke ony good, with out him. Live here. c.
 † the thouȝtis of men; mennus thouȝtis moun be knowun certeynly onely bi Goddis reuelacioun, but wise men knowen the thouȝtis of othere men bi coniecting, ether supposing of outer-mere signes; and of this knowing spekith Salomon here. Live here. c.
 ‡ hooly, many fold; that is, in giftis. oon alone; in him silf; therfor Poul seith, Oon in the same spirit worchith alle these thingis, and departith to ech man as he wole. sutil; that is, persyng alle thingis bi his vertu. mouable; in worching, for he makith men mouable and swift to sue his good stiring. manly ether curteis; in hauyng com- passiou on oure defaultis. benygne; that is, wel louyng, in enflawmyng vs to Goddis loue. more mouable, etc.; this mounyng is seid bi licnesse, in as myche as Goddis wisdom strecchith forth to dispose alle the werkis of God, til to the leste thingis. Live here. c.

 § For it is a brething, ether vapour; vapour is a thing reysid vp, and cometh forth of water, and is of the kynde of water; so Goddis Sone, which is seid the wisdom of the Fadir, cometh forth of him, and is of the same kynde with him. briztnesse of euerlastyng liȝt; for Goddis Sone is liȝt of liȝt. a myrrour; in which alle thingis schynen most clerely. and ymage of his goodnesse; for it is propir of Goddis Sone, that he is the ymage of the Fadir, for whi aungels and men ben seid to ben his ymage. Live here. c.

^w Om. c pr. m. ^x chaungyng ah. ^y chaungis a. ^z the deuysiouns ah. ^a bestis, and of helpely bestis e pr. m. ^b the vertues AE GH. ^c shone e pr. m. ^{cc} Om. c pr. m. ^d hymself AE GH. ^e Om. a.

^p the which i. ^q manli, ether curteis c et ceteri. it is manli, ether curteis i. ^r the which i.

it berth ouer itself; the frendis of God 28 and profetes it ordeyneth. No man for-sothe God looueth, but hym that dwellith 29 with wisdom. Forsothe this is fairere than the sunne, and ouer al disposicioun of sterres; to list comparysouned, it is 30 founde rathere. To it forsothe nyzt goth down; wisdom forsothe malice ouercometh not.

CAP. VIII.

1 Therefore it ateyneth from ende vnto ende strongli, and disposeth alle thingus 2 sweeteli. This I louede, and sozte it out fro my zouth; and I sozte to taken it a spouse to me, and loouere I am mad of 3 the foorme of it. It hauende the cumpanye of God, glorifieth the ientilnesse of it; but and of alle thingis^e the Lord 4 louede it. Forsothe the techeresse it is of the discipline of God, and^f the cheser-5 esse of the werkis of hym. And if richesses ben desirid in the^{ff} lif, what richere than wisdom, that wercheth alle thingis?
 6 If forsothe wit wercheth, who of these that ben, more is crafti man than it?
 7 And if riztwisnesse a man looueth, the trauailes of this^g han grete vertues; sobrenesse forsothe and prudence it techeth, and riztwisnesse, and vertue; than the whiche more profitable no thing is in lif 8 to men^h. And if multitude of kunnyng desireth a man, it knowith the passid thingus, and of the to comen it eymeth; it knowith the felnesseⁱ of wrdis, and the soilingis off argumentis; the toknes and wndris it knowith, er thei ben don; and the chaunsis of tymes and of worldis.
 9 Thanne I purposide this to bringe to me, to festeye^k with me; witende for with me it shal comune of goodis, and ther shal be togidere speche of thenking, and of 10 myn anoze. I haue for this to cumpanyes clernesse, and wrshipec anent the 11 elderes; jung and sharp I shal be founde in dom, and in the sizte of myzti men

And whanne it is oon, it may alle thingis; 27 and it dwellith in it silf, and renulith alle thingis, and bi naciouns it berith ouer it silf in to hooli soulis; it makith the frendis of God* and profetis. For God loueth 28 no man, no^s but hym that dwellith with wisdom. Forwhi this wisdom is fairere 29 than the sunne, and is aboue al the^{ss} disposicioun of sterres; wisdom comparisound to list, is foundun the formere. Forwhi 30 nizt cometh aftir that list; but wysdom ouercometh malice. Therfor wisdom stretchith forth fro the ende til to the ende strongli, and disposith alle thingis swetly.

CAP. VIII.

I louede this wisdom maad, and Y 2 souzte it out fro my zongthe; and Y souzte to take it a spousesse[†] to me, and Y am maad a louyere of the fairnesse therof.
 He that hath the felouschip[‡] of God, glo- 3 rifieth the gentilnesse therof; but also the Lord of alle thingis louede it. For it 4 is the techeresse of the lernyng of God, and cheseresse^u of hise werkis. And if 5 richessis ben coueitid in lijf, what is richere than wisdom, that worchith alle thingis? Sotheli if wit worchith, who is 6 a crafti maker more than wisdom, of these thingis that ben? And if a man loueth 7 riztfulnesse, the trauels of this wisdom han grete vertues; for it techith sobre-nesse[§], and prudence, and riztfulnesse, and vertu; and no thing is profitablere than these in lijf to men. And if a man de- 8 sirith multitude^w of kunnyng, wisdom knowith thingis passid, and gessith of^x thingis to comynge; it kan the felnessis^y of wordis, and asoilyngis of argumentis; it kan signes and schewyngis of thingis to comynge, bfore that tho^z ben maad; and the bifallyngis of tymes and^a of worldus.
 Therfor Y purposide to brynge to me this 9 wisdom, to lyue togidere; witynge that it schal comyne with me of goodis, and spekyng^{||} togidere of my thouzt, and of

* frendis of God; bi feith formed with charite.

profetis; bi knowing aboue
 kynde.

that dwellith
 with wisdom;
 that is, no but he be in cha-

rite, for thanne
 God dwellith with him, and he with God.

the formere;
 this letre sem-
 eth to speke of wisdom vnmaad, without bigynnyng and

ende; wisdom
 maad is formere than list bi dignete, not bi during. Live

here. c.

† a spousesse;
 that is, to cleue in the

thouztis therof,
 with out departing. Live
here. c.

‡ felouschip;
 bi charite.
 glorifieth; that is, knowlech-

 ith and preisith
 it gloriousse.
Live here. c.

§ sobrenesse;
 that is, temperance.

vertu; that is, goostly
 strengthe.
Live here. c.

|| spekyng,
 etc.; for siche thouztis ben the wordis of
 soule.

^e Om. c pr. m. ^f Om. A. ^{ff} Om. c pr. m. ^g hym A. ^h me A. ⁱ felnesses E. ^k ete E pr. m. c pr. m. festene A.

^s Om. I. ^{ss} Om. I. ^t spousesse c. ^u chesister I. techeresse s sup. ras. chesere v. ^w the multitude I. ^x alle A pr. m. ^y felnesse CKRÇ. falsnessis HEPUY. falsnesse MY. ^z thei N. ^a Om. cç.

merueilous I shal be, and the faces of 12 princes shul merueilen me. Thei shul sustene me, beende stille, and me spek-ende, beholden; and me sermounende manye thingis, hondis to ther mouth thei 13 shul putte. Ferthermor I haue bi this vndeadlynnesse; and euere lastende mynde to them, that after me ben to come, I 14 shal lefe. I shal dispose puples; and 15 naciouns to me shul ben soget. Ferful kingus herende me shul dreden; and in multitude good I shal be seen, and in 16 bataile stronge. Entrende in to myn hous, I shal reste with it; forsothe the conuersacioun of it hath not bitternesse, ne noȝe the¹ with lyuyng of it, but 17 gladnesse and ioȝe. These thingus thenk-ende anent me, and togidere membrende in myn herte; for vndeadli is wisdom in 18 thenking, and in the frenshipe of it good delitende; and in the werkus of the hondis of it honeste with oute failing, and in the strif of the speche of it wisdom; and 'gret openyng in comunycacioun^m ofⁿ theⁿⁿ wrdis of it; I wente aboute, sechende 19 that to me it I shulde take. A child forsothe I was witti, and bi lot hauende 20 a good soule. And whan I was more 21 good, I cam to a bodi vndefoulid. And as I wiste, for other wise I mai not ben contentent^o, but God ȝeue, and that selue was wisdom, to knowen of whom was that ȝifte; I wente to the Lord, and preȝede^{oo} hym, and seide, of alle the entrailis of myn herte.

CAP. IX.

1 God of my^p fadris, and Lord of mercy, that madest alle thingus with thi^a wrd, 2 and with thi wisdom ordeynedest man, that^r he shulde lordshopen of creature^s,

¹ thou A sec. m. ^m greet openyng and comunycacioun A. noblenesse in the chaungyng E pr. m.
^o Om. c pr. m. ⁿⁿ Om. A. ^o conteyned A. ^{oo} I preȝede AE GH. ^p oure E pr. m. ^q Om. A. ^r in that that A. in that GH. ^s the creature c pr. m.

^b comyng ç. ^c Om. c. ^d took 1. ^e contyngent, ether chast c et ceteri. ^f but if 1. ^g ȝeue it 1.
^h that 1.

myn anoi schal be. For this wisdom Y¹⁰ schal haue clerenesse at cumpenynges, and onour at eldre men; Y schal be foundun¹¹ ȝong and scharp in doom, and in the ȝit of myȝti men Y schal be wondurful, and the faces of princes schulen worschipe me.
 Thei schulen abide me, beyng stille, and thei schulen biholde me, spekyng; and the while I speke many thingis, thei schulen sette hondis* on her mouth. Ferther-¹³ more bi this wisdom Y schal haue vnded-lynnesse; and Y schal leue euerlastyng mynde to hem, that schulen come aftir me. I schal dispose pupilis; and naciouns¹⁴ schulen be suget to me. Hidouse kyngis¹⁵ heryng me schulen drede; and in multitude Y schal be seyn good, and strong in batel. Y schal entre in to myn hous[†],¹⁶ and Y schal reste with wisdom; for the conuersacioun[‡] therof hath no bitternesse, and the dwellyng togidere therof hath noon anoye, but gladnesse and ioȝe.
 Y thouȝte these thingis at me, and Y re-¹⁷ membride in myn herte; forwhi wisdom is vndeedli in thouȝt, and good delityng¹⁸ is in the frendshipe therof; and onestee without defaute is in the werkis of hondis therof; and wisdom is in the strijf of speche therof; and greet clerenesse is in the comyng^b of wordis therof; Y ȝede aboute, sekinge to take wisdom to me.
 Forsothe Y was a witti child, and Y^c gat^d¹⁹ a good soule. And whanne Y was more²⁰ good, Y cam to a bodi vndefoulid. And²¹ as Y knew, that ellis Y mai not be chaste^e, no but^f God ȝeue^g, and this same thing was wisdom, to wite whos this ȝifte was;
 Y ȝede to the Lord, and Y bisouȝte hym, and Y seide, of alle myn entralis^g.

CAP. IX.

God of my fadris^{||}, and Lord of merci,¹ that madist alle thingis bi thi word, and² ordeynedist man bi thi wisdom, that he schulde be lord of creature, which^h is

¹⁰ anoi; to be excludid, for aiche thouȝtis excluden al anoye. *Live
 here. c.*

* sette hondis,
 etc.; that is,
 hou myche euer
 Y drawe along a sermoun, thei schulen herkne
 with reuerence.
Live here. c.

† myn hous;
 that is, con-sience. *Live
 here. c.*

‡ conuersa-cioun; that is,
 thouȝt, that cometh forth
 of vnderstand-
 ing, and custom of wisdom.
*werkis of hondis; that is, in werkis comyng forth
 of wisdom.*

Y gat a good
 soule; bi clen-
 nesse of loue.
 more good;
 that is, encreas-
 inge in vertues.
 a bodi vnde-foulid; that is,
 kept bi con-
 tynence of matrimonye. *Live
 here. c.*

§ myn entrailis; that is, of al myn vnderstanding and loue. *Live
 here. c.*

|| God of my fadris; which thou chesidist
 mercifully, as Abraham,
 Isaac, and Jacob, and specially Dauyth,
 my fadir, whom thou chesidist
 to the rewme.
*Lord of mer-
 ci; that hast forȝoue to my fadir the synne
 of the deth [of] Vrie. that he schulde be lord; for if man hadde stonde in the staat of kynde maad, he schulde haue
 had ful lordschip on creaturis lowere
 than him self.*

3 that of thee is mad, that he dispose the roundnesse of londis in equyte and ri3twisnesse, and in ri3t reuling of herte 4 he deme dom; 3if to me wisdom, the nee3h stondere of thi setis; and wile 5 thou not me repreuen of thi childer. For I am thi seruaunt, and the sone of thin hand woman; a feble man, and of litil time, and lasse to the vndirstonding of 6 dom and of lawes. And if any man shul ben ful endid of the sonus of men, if fro hym flee wisdom, in to no3t he shal be 7 countid. Thou forsothe chose me king to thi puple, and domysman of thi sonus 8 and do3tris; and thou seidist, me to bilden a temple in thin holi hil, and in the cite of thi dwelling an auter; the licnesse of thin holi tabernacle, that thou 9 greithedist fro the begynnyng. And with thee thi wisdom, that kne3 thi werkis, the whiche and was at thanne, whan the roundnesse of erthis thou shuldist make,
and he wist that, that was plesaunt to 'thin e3ent, and that, that is ri3t in thin 10 hestis. Send fro thin holi heuenes it, and fro the sete of thi mychilnesse, that with me it be, and with me trauaile; and I wite what be aloouwid anent thee.
11 Forsothe it wot alle thingus, and vndir-standith; and shal leden me forth in my werkes sobrelly^u, and kepen me in his 12 power. And my werkys shul ben aloou-wid, and I^v shal disposen thi puple ri3twisly, and I shal ben wrthi the setes of 13 my fader. Who forsothe of men shal moun wite the counseil of God? or who 14 shal moun thenke, what God wile? The tho3tis forsothe of deadli men dredful, 15 and vncerteyn oure purueauncis^w. For-sothe the body that is corrupid, greeueth the soule; and ertheli indwelling presseth down the wit, manye thingus 16 thenkende. And of hard wee eyemen, that ben in the erthe; and that in ferr 17 si3te ben, we finden with trauaile. That forsothe in heuenus ben, who shal enmaad of thee, that he dispose the world in equite and ri3tfulnesse, and deme doom in ri3t reulyng of herte; 3yue thou to me 4 wisdom, that stondith ny3 thi seetis; and nyle thou repreue me fro thi children.

For Y am thi seruaunt, and the sone of 5 thin hand mayde; Y am a sijk man, and of litil tyme, and lesse* to the vndurstandyng of doom and of lawis. And if 6 ony man is perfit among the sonus of men, if thi wisdom fleeth awei fro hym, he schal be rikenyd in to nou3t. Forsothe 7 thou hast chose me kyng to thi puple, and a iuge of thi sonus and dou3tris; and 8 thou seidist, that Y schulde bilde a temple in thin holi hil, and an auter in the citee of thi dwellyng place; the licnesse of thin hooli tabernacle, which thou madist redi at the bigynnyng†. And thi wisdom 9 is with thee, that knowith thi werkis, whichⁱ also was present thanne, whanne thou madist the world, and wiste what was plesaunt to thin i3en, and what was dressid in thi comaundementis. Sende 10 thou that wisdom fro thin hooli heuenes, and fro the seete of thi greetnesse, that it be with me, and trauele with me; and that Y wyte what is acceptable anentis thee.
Forwhi thilke wisdom knowith and vndir- 11 standith alle thingis; and it schal lede me forth in my werkis sobrelly, and it schal kepe me in his power. And my werkis 12 schulen be acceptable, and Y schal dispose thi puple iustli, and Y schal be worthi of the seetis of my fadir. For who of men 13 mai knowe the counsel of God‡? ether who mai thenke, what wole God? For 14 whi the thou3tis of deedli men ben dred-ful, and oure puruyaunces ben vncerteyn.
For whi the bodi that is corrupt, greueth 15 the soule; and ertheli dwellyng pressith down the wit, thenkyng manye thingis.
And of hard we gessen tho thingis, that 16 ben in erthe; and we fynden with trauel tho thingis, that ben in biholdyng. But 17 who schal serche§ tho thingis, that ben in in equite; in disposing creaturis to that,

that the ben
maad. of thi seetis; Salomon
spekith of God,
as of an hijeste
iuge; aboute
whom stonden
wise men, and fro whom wisdom is teld
forth to lowere iugis; and in this maner Salomon, as a lowere iuge, axith, that God 3yue wisdom to him. Live
here. c.
* and lesse;
that is, vnsufficient. Live
here. c.

† at the begyn-nyng; of the goyng out of Egipt. Live
here. c.

‡ I may knowe
the counsel of God; as if he seye, noon, no
but bi wisdom 3ounn of God
to him. Live
here. c.

§ But who schal serche; as if he seye, no man,
no but bi wisdom 3ounn of thee. Live here.
c.

^t the e3en of hym E pr. m. ^u Om. AGH. ^v Om. AH. ^w purueaunce A.

ⁱ the which I.

serche? Thi wit forsothe who shal knowe, but if thou shul 3yue wisdom, and sende thin Holi Spirit fro hejest thingus? And so^r amendid ben the pathis of hem, that ben in erthis^z, and that to^a thee pleseden^b, men lerneden. For whi bi wisdom thei ben helid, who so euer pleseden^c to thee, Lord, fro the bygynyng.

CAP. X.

1 This hym, that first is foormed of God, the^{cc} fader of the roundnesse of erthis, 2 whan alone he was foormed, kepte. And ladde hym out fro his gilte, and bro3te hym out of the slym of erthe^d, and 3af to hym vertue of hauynge alle thingus. 3 Fro this as the vnri3twis wente awei in his wrathe, bi the^{dd} wrathe of mansla3- 4 ter pershede fraternyte. For the whiche whan water shulde don awei the erthe, he helede eftsoone bi wisdom; bi the dispisable^e tree gouernende the ri3twis man. 5 This and in^f the^{ff} consenting of pride, whan naciouns rereden himself, knew the ri3twis, and kepte withoute blame to God; 6 and in^g the sones gret^h merci kepte. This the ri3twis fro the pershende vnpitous men deliuerede fleende, fijr descendende 7 in to the regioun of fiue citees. To the whiche, in to theⁱ witnessing of shreudenesse, the desert erthe is knowen ful of smoking, and in certeyn time the trees hauende frutes; and of the mysbeleued soule the mynde stondende is the foormyng of salt. Forsothe passende biside wisdom, not onli in that ben slyden, that thei vnknowen gode thingis, but and of ther vnwisdom thei han laft to men mynde, that in tho^j thingus, that thei synneden, thei my3ten not lurken. Wisdom forsothe them, that it kepen, al aboute 10 fro sorewes shal delyuere. This forsothe the ferr fugitif, or fleynge^k ri3twis fro the^l wrathe of the brother, ladde awei bi heuenes? But who schal knowe thi wit, 'no but^k thou 3yue wisdom, and sende thin Hooli Spirit fro hizeste thingis? And 18 if the pathis^{*} of hem, that ben in londis, ben amendid, and if men han lernyd tho thingis, that plesen thee. For whi, Lord, 19 whiche euer plesiden thee fro the bigynyng, weren maad hool bi wisdom.

CAP. X.

This wisdom 'of God¹ kepte hym, that 1 was formed first of God, the fadir of the world[†], whanne he aloone was maad of nou3t. And 'this wisdom^m ledde hym out 2 of his trespas, and ledde hym out of the sliym of ertheⁿ, and 3af to hym vertu to holde togider alle thingis[‡]. As the vn- 3 just man in his ire 3ede awei fro this wisdom, brotherhed perischide bi^o the ire of manquellyng. For which thing whanne 4 watir^p dide awei the erthe[§], wisdom heelide eft; gouernynge a^q iust man bi a dispisable tre. This wisdom also in the con- 5 sent of pride, whanne naciouns hadden reisid hem silf, knew^{||} a iust man, and kept with out playnt to God; and this wisdom kepte strong merci in sonen. 'This 6 wisdom^{qq} deliuerede a iust man fleynge fro wickid men perischinge, whanne fier cam down in to the place of fyue cytees. For 7 whiche^r wickid^s men the lond smokyng is maad deseert, in to witnessyng of weawardnesse[¶], and trees hauynge fruytis in vncerteyn tyme; and the mynde of an vnbileueful soule stondynge an ymage of salt. For whi men passynge wisdom, not 8 oneli fellen^{ss} in this, that thei knewen not goodis, but also thei leften to men the mynde of her vnwisdom, that in these synnes, whiche thei diden, thei mi3ten not be hid. Forsothe wisdom delyuerede hem 9 fro sorewis, that kepen it^{}. Sotheli this 10 wisdom ledde forth a iust man bi ri3tful weies, that fledde fro the ire of his bro-

* if the pathis; vndurstonde thou, no man may wite, no but bi thi wisdom and spirit schewing. Live here. c.

† of the world that is, of alle men. Live here. c.
‡ alle thingis; for it 3af to him the lordship ouer alle lowere thingis. Live here. c.
§ the erthe; that is, alle men dwellinge in erthe. c.
|| knew, etc.; that is, Abraham, whom it made to be known bi apreuyng. a iust man; that is, Loth. Live here. c.
¶ witnessing of weawardnesse; that is, of synne azenus kynde. in vncerteyn tyme; that is, out of comyn cours of kynde, in to witnessing, that the dwelleris of that lond synneden azenus kynde. vnbileueful soule, etc.; that is, of Lothis wyif, that bileuyde not to the angel, comaundinge that sche schulde not loke bihynde hir bak. Live here. c.
 that kepen it; bi hooly lyuyng and deuoute preyer. ledde forth a iust man; that is, Jacob, that was iust, and 3ede into Mesopotamy, and fledde the ire of Isau, his brother.

^y 3if E pr. m. ^z the erthis AEH. the erth G. ^a Om. A. ^b plesen AEGH. ^c plese E pr. m.
^{cc} Om. C pr. m. ^d the erthe AEGH. ^{dd} Om. C pr. m. ^e disseyable A. ^f Om. AC. ^{ff} Om. G. ^g Om. A.
^h of gret AGH. ⁱ Om. A. ^j the G. ^k Om. C et E pr. m. ^l Om. A.

^k but if I. ¹ Om. I. ^m it I. ⁿ the erthe s. ^o thorew s. ^p the watir s. ^q the I. ^{qq} And it I.
^r the whiche I. ^s Om. I. ^{ss} felden I pass.

riȝt weies; and shewede to hym the king-dam of God, and ȝaf to hym the kunnyng of seyntis; it honestede hym in trauailis, and fulfild the trauailis of 11 hym. In the gile of the men comende aboute to hym, it was nyȝ, and honest 12 made hym. It kepte hym fro enemys, and fro desceyueres defendide hym; and a strong strif it ȝaf to hym, that he shulde ouercome, and wite, for of alle 13 thingis^m the myȝtiere is wisdom. This this olde riȝtwis man forsoc not, but fro synneres deliuerede hym; and it descend-14 ide with hym in to the dich; and in bondis forsoc not hym, to the time that it shulde bringe to hym the dignete of the reume, and myȝt aȝen hem that hymⁿ thresteden down; and lieres he shewide, that defouleden hym, and he ȝaf to hym 15 euere lastende clernesse. This the riȝt-wis puple, and hoely withoute blame, delyuerede fro naciouns, that it^{na} oppress-16 eden^o. It entride in to the soule of the seruaunt of God, and stod aȝen grisful 17 kingus, in grete wondris and signes. And it ȝeeld to the^{oo} riȝtwis men the meede of ther^p trauailis, and broȝte them thennes in a merueylous weie; and it was to them in the coueryng of the day, and in 18 liȝt of sterres bi the nyȝt. And he bar them ouer thurȝ the rede se; and he ouercariede them thurȝ ful myche water.
19 The enemys forsothe of hem he drench-ide in the se; and fro the^{pp} depnesse^q of helle he ladde them out. Therefore riȝt-wis men token awei the spoiles of vnpi-20 tous men; and heeȝli sunge, Lord, thin holi name, and thin hond ouercomere thei 21 preiseden togidere. For wisdom openede the mouth of doumbe men, and the ther; and it schewide to hym the rewme of God, and ȝaf to hym the kunnyng of seyntis; it made hym onest in trauels, and fillide^t hise trauelis. It helpide 11 hym in the fraude of disseyueris, and made hym onest. It kepte hym fro 12 enemys, and defendide hym fro disseyueris; and it ȝaf to him a strong batel, that he shulde ouercome, and wite, that wisdom is the myȝtieste of alle. This 13 wisdom forsook not aⁿ iust man seeld*, but delyuerede hym fro synneris; and it 14 ȝede down with hym in to a dicke; and it forsook not hym in boondis, til it brouȝte to hym the ceptre^v of the rewme, and power aȝens hem that oppressiden hym; and it schewide hem lieris, that defouleden hym[†], and it ȝaf to hym euer-lastyng clernesse. This wisdom dely- 15 uerede a iust puple, and hooli[‡] without pleynt, fro naciouns that oppressiden it.

Wisdom^w entride in to the soule of Goddis 16 seruaunt, and he stood aȝens hidouse kyngis, in grete wondris and myraelis.
And it ȝeldide to iust men the meede of 17 her trauelis, and ledde hem forth in a wondurful weie; and it was to hem in hilyng of the dai, and in the liȝt of sterres bi nyȝt. And it ^xledde ouer^x hem thorouȝ 18 the reede see; and bar^y hem ouer thoruȝ ful myche watir. But it drenchide down 19 the enemys of hem in to the see; and ledde hem out fro the depthe of hellis[§].
Therfor iust men taken awei the spuylis of wickid men; and, Lord, thei magne- 20 fieden in song thin hooli name, and preys-eden togidere thin hond ouercomer. For- 21 whi wisdom openyde the mouth of doumbe men, and made the tungis of ȝonge children not spekyng to be wise. He dress-the rewme of God; whanne he siȝ the lad- dre, whos hiȝ- nesse touchide heuene, and the Lord fast- ned to the lad- dre, in xxviij. c^o. of Genesis, for thanne he hadde reuelacioun of he- uenly Jerusa- lem.

the kunnyng of seyntis; that is, knowing of hooly aungels, whiche he siȝ, styng and goyng down bi that laddre.
made hym onest in tra- uels; that is, made hym riche and no- ble, for hise trauelis, in kepinge the scheep of La- ban. fillide hise trauels; whanne bi God defend- inge hym, he ȝede away fro Mesopotamy, with hise wyues, chil- dren, and rich- essis. helpide hym; in multipliynge flockis, that ouȝten come in to the meede of Jacob bi coue- naunt.
of disseyueris; that is, of Laban and of hise sones, that ymagyn- eden to dis- seyne him, in chaunginge ofte his meed.
made him onest; in mak- inge riche, in temporal and goostly rich- essis. fro enemyes; that is, Laban and hise sones, pursuyng Jacob, goyng away to robbe him. a stronge batel to him; wrastlinge with the aungel. ouercome; Esau, his aduersarie. Lire here. c. * a iust man seeld; that is, Joseph, whanne hise bretheren seelden to men of Ismael. a dicke; that is, to the prisoun of the king of Egypt. Lire here. c. † that defouleden him; in puttinge auowtrie to him. Lire here. c. ‡ a iust puple and hooly; that is, the puple of Israel worschippinge God. fro naciouns; of Egipcians, that oppressiden it ouer greuously. Goddis wisdom entrede in to the soule of Goddis seruaunt; that is, Moises. aȝenys hidouse kyngis; that is, Farao and hise princes. the meede of her trauelis; for bi Goddis comaundement the sones of Israel goyng away spuyliiden Egypt, and axiden, bi borewing of neiȝboris, vessels of gold and of siluer, in xij. c^o. of Exodi; and this in quytting of trauels, in whiche the men of Egypt bigiliden hem vnjustly. Lire here. c. § depthe of hellis; that is, fro the botme of the see. the spuylis, etc.; that is, of Egipcians, drenchid, and cast up to the brinke of the see. Lire here. c.

^m Om. c pr. m. ⁿ Om. c pr. m. ^{na} hym AEGH. ^o ouer presside AGH. ^{oo} Om. c pr. m. ^p the A. thi H. PP Om. A. ^q heȝte E pr. m. c pr. m.

^t fulfillide I. ^u the I. ^v ceptre, ether the kyngis ȝerde c et ceteri. ^w It I. ^x translatid, ether ledde ouer CEFHGKMNPRQSUUVXYAÇ. translatide I. ^y it bar I.

tunges of vnspekende childer made faire 1 spekende. It riȝt reulede the werkis of hem, in the hondus of the holi profete.

CAP. XI.

2 Weie thei maden bi desertis, that ben not dwellid in; and in desert^r places thei 3 maden lital^{rr} cotes. Thei stoden aȝen enemys, and of the enemys thei venieden 4 hemself. Thei thristeden, and inwardli clepeden thee; and ther is ȝoue to them water of the heȝest ston, and reste of 5 thirst of the harde ston. Bi tho thingis forsothe that the enemys of hem suffreden peynes, fro the^s defaulting of ther drinc, and whan the sones of Irael had-6 den plente, gladen; bi these thingus, whan to them hadden failid, wel with 7 them is don. Forwhi forsothe for the welle of the^t euerlastende flod, mannys 8 blod thou ȝeue to vnriȝtwis men. The whiche whan thei weren mynusht, in the ouerleding of the slayne litle childer, thou ȝeue to them abundende water in maner 9 not hopid; shewende bi the thirst, that thanne was, hou thine thou shuldest en-hauncen, and the aduersaries of hem slen.
10 Whan forsothe thei weren temptid, for-sothe and with mercy disciplyne thei token; thei wisten, hou with wrathe vnpitous^u men demed, tormentis shulden 11 suffre. These forsothe as a fader warnende, thou prouedest; hem forsothe as an hard king askende, thou condempnedist.
12 Forsothe the absent men and the present 13 lic maner weren tormentid. Forsothe double noȝe hadde taken hem, and weil-ing with the mynde of the passid thingis.
14 Whan forsothe thei herden, bi ther tormentis wel with them to ben do, thei membreden the Lord, merueilende in to 15 the ende of the going out. Whom for-sothe in a shreude putting out thei scorneden cast aferr, in^v to the ende of that that fel, merueileden^w; not lic maner

^r the desert AH. ^{rr} Om. c pr. m. ^s Om. A.
^w thei merueileden E pr. m.

^z housis, ether hulkis CEFGHKMNPQRSUVXYA. housis, or cotis x sec. m. marg. housis, ether helkis ç.
^a this c. ^b thilke I. ^c monestyng CGHKMQSUVXaç.

ide the werkis of hem, in the hondis of an hooli profete.

CAP. XI.

Thei maden iourney bi desertis, that² weren not enhabitid; and thei maden litle housis^z in desert places. Thei stoden³ aȝens kyngis, and vengiden hem of ene-myes. Thei thirstiden, and thei inwardli⁴ clepiden thee; and watir of a ful hiȝ stoon was ȝouun to hem, and reste of thirst was ȝouun to hem of an hard stoon. For bi⁵ whiche thingis the enemyes of hem suffriden peynes, for defaute of her drink, and the sones of Israel weren glad, whanne thei hadden plente; bi these⁶ thingis, whanne these^a failiden to tho^b enemyes, it was don wel with hem^{*}. For⁷ sotheli for the welle of euerlastynge flood, thou ȝauest mannus blood to vniust men.
And whanne thei weren maad lesse, in the⁸ leding awei of ȝonge children slayn, thou ȝauest sudeynli plenteuouse watir to hem; and schewidist bi the thirst, that was⁹ thanne, hou thou woldist enhaunse thi seruauntis, and woldist sle the aduersaries of hem. For whanne thei weren¹⁰ asaied, sotheli thei token chastisyng with merci; thei wisten, hou wickid men demed with ire, schulden suffre turmentis. So-¹¹ theli thou amonestynge^c as a fadir, preuedist[†] these men; but thou as an hard kyng axynge condempnedist hem. For¹² whi men absent and men present weren turmentid in lijk maner. For whi double¹³ anoye hadde take hem, and weilyng with the mynde of thingis passid. Sotheli¹⁴ whanne thei herden, that it was don wel with hem silf bi her turmentis, thei bi-thouȝten on the Lord, and wondriden on the ende of the out goyng. For at the¹⁵ ende of the bifallyng, thei worschipiden him, whom thei scorneden cast out in schrewid puttyng forth; and thou didist

^{*} with hem;
that is, with the children of Israel. c.

[†] preuedist,
etc.; that is,
thi trewe ser-
uauntis.
condempned-
ist; that is,
thyn aduer-saries hardid in her synne. c.

16 to riȝtwis men doende. For vnwis^x thoȝtis forsothe^y the wickidnessis^z of hem, that summe errende herieden doumbe edderes, and ouer veyne bestes, thou sentist in to them a multitude of doumbe bestes, in to 17 veniaunce; that thei shulden witen, for^a bi tho thingus that a man synneth, bi tho 18 thingus also he shal be tormentid. For-sothe not impossible was thin almyȝti hond, that made the roundnesse of erthis of mater vnseen, to senden in to them a 19 multitude of beres, or hardi leouns, or of newe kinde vnknowen^{aa} bestes, and ful of wrathe, or spittende brething of fires, or bringende forth smel of smoke, or put-20 tende out grisful sparkes fro eȝen; of whiche not onli the hurting^b hadde mouȝt destroyed them, but and the looking bi 21 drede slen. But and withoute these with o spirit thei myȝten ben slayn, suffrid persecucioun of ther deedis self, and scatered bi the spirit of hys vertue. But and alle thingus in mesure, and noum-22 bre, and peis thou disposedist; forsothe myche to moun, to thee alone ouer was euermore; and to the vertue of thin arm 23 who shal aȝenstonde? For as a poynt of a balaunce, so is befor thee the round-nesse of erthis; and as a drope of morutid dew, that goth down in to the 24 erthe. And thou hast merci of alle, for alle thingus thou maist; and thou forberist the synnes of men, for penaunce.
 25 Forsothe thou loouest alle thingus that ben, and no thing thou hatedest of hem, that thou madist; ne forsothe hatende any 26 thing thou ordeynedest, or madist. Hou forsothe myȝte any thing abide stille, but thou haddest wold? or that of thee were 27 not clepid, shulde ben kept? Thou sparist forsothe to alle; for thine thei ben, Lord, that loouest soulis.

not in lijk maner to iust men. Forsothe^d 16 for vnwise thouȝtis the wickidnessis of hem weren punyschid; for summen err-ynge worschipiden doumbe serpentis, and superflu beestis, thou sentist in to hem a multitude of doumbe beestis, in to ven-iaunce; that thei schulden wite, that bi 17 what thingis a man synneth, he is turmentid also bi these^e thingis. For whi 18 thin hond almyȝti, that made the world of mater vnseyn, was not vnmyȝti to sende in to hem a multitude of beeris, ether hardi liouns, ether beestis of newe kynde 19 ful of ire, and vnknowun beestis, ether beestis frothinge heete of firis, ethir bryng-ynge forth the odour of smoke, ethir sendynge out^f fro the iȝen hidouse sparclis; of 20 whiche^g beestis not oneli the hirtyng myȝte distrie hem, but also the siȝt myȝte sle bi drede. For whi and with oute these 21 beestis thei myȝten be slayn bi o spirit, and suffre persecucioun of tho^h her owne dedis, and be scaterid by the spirit of thi vertu. But andⁱ thou hast disposid alle thingis in mesure, and in noumbre, and in weiȝte; for it was left euere to thee 22 aloone to mow do myche; and who schal aȝenstonde the vertu of thin arm? For as 23 the tunge of a balaunce, so is the world bifore thee; and as a drope of dew rys-ynge bifore the liȝt, that cometh down in to erthe. And thou hast merci of alle 24 thingis, for thou maist alle thingis; and thou dissymelist^k the synnes of men, for penaunce. For thou louest alle thingis 25 that ben, and thou hatist no thing of tho, that thou madist; for thou not hatynge ony thing ordeynedist, ether madist.
 But hou myȝte ony thing dwelle, 'no but^l 26 thou woldist? ether hou schulde a thing be kept, that were not clepid of thee?
 But, Lord, that^m louest soulis, thou sparist 27 alle thingis; for tho thingis ben thine.

^x the vnwis E pr. m.
^b hurting A.

^y Om. A.

^z wickidnes A.

^a that for AGH.

^{aa} of vnknownen C pr. m.

^d Sothly I.

^e these same I.

^f of E.

^g the whiche I.

^h thilke I.

ⁱ also I.

^k ether forberist X sec. m. marg.

^l but if I.

^m thou I.

CAP. XII.

1 O! hou good, and hou swete, Lord, is 2 thi Spirit in vs; therfore them that out erren in parties, thou chastisist; and of the whiche thingus thei synnen, thou warnest, and spekest to, that, the malice 3 laft, thei leeuē in thee, Lord. Forsothe tho^e olde dwelleris of thin holi lond, 'the 4 which^{cc} thou grisedist; for hateful werkis thei diden to thee, bi lechingus, and sacri-5 fises vnriȝtwise; and the sleeres of ther sonus, withoute mercy, and the eteres of the boweles of men, and the^d deuoureres of blod; and the fadris and modris^e, au-toures of the soules vnholpen^f, leese thou 6 woldist not fro thi myddel sacrament, bi the hondis of ther fadris and modris; 7 that the wrthi pilgrimaging of the childer of God thei shulden parceyue, the whiche is a lond more cheere^g to thee of 8 alle. But and to these as to men^{gg} thou sparedist, and sentist waspis, beforgoeres of thin ost, that 'them litilmel^h thei 9 shulden destroyen. Not for thou were vnmyȝti in bataile to sogeten vnpitous^{hh} men to riȝtwis men, or bi cruel bestes, 10 or bi hard wrd to destroye togidere; but bi parties demende, thou ȝaue place of penaunce, not vnknowende, for shreude is the nacioun of hem, and kindly the malice of them, and for the thoȝt of them myȝte not ben chaungid in to euermor.
 11 The sed forsothe was cursid fro the bigynnyng. Ne dredende any man, forȝyue-nesse thou ȝeue to the synnes of them.
 12 Who forsothe shal sey to thee, What madist thou? or who shal stonde aȝen thi dom? or who in thi siȝte shal comen, veniere of wicke men? or who shal wijte to thee, if naciouns pershen, that thou 13 hast mad? Forsothe there is noon other

CAP. XII.

Lord, hou good, and hou swete is thi Spirit in alle thingis; and therfor* thou 2 chastisist bi partis these men that erren; and thou monestist, of whiche thingis thei synnen, and thou spekist to hem, that whanne thei han forsake malice, thei bileue in thee, Lord. For thou woldist leeseⁿ 3 thilke elde dwelleris of thin hooli lond, whiche thou wlatidist; for thei diden 4 werkis hateful to thee, bi medicynes[†], and vniust sacrifices; and the slears of 5 her sones, with out merci, and eteris of entrailis of men, and^e deuowreris of blood; and bi the hondis of oure fadris thou woldist leese fro thi myddil sacrament[‡] fadris and modris, autours of soulis[§] vn- 6 helpid; that oure fadris schulden take 7 the worthi pilgrymage of Goddis children, which is to thee the derewortheⁿⁿ lond of alle. But also thou sparidist these as 8 men, and thou sentist waspis, the bifore goeris of thin oost, that tho schulden de-strie hem lital and lital. Not for thou 9 were vnmyȝti to make wickid men suget to iust men in batel^o; but thou demydist^{oo} 10 bi partis, and ȝauest place^p to penaunce, and wistist, that the nacioun of hem was weiward, and her malice was kyndli^{||}, and that her thouȝt myȝte not be chaungid[¶] with outen ende. For it was a cursid 11 seed at the bigynnyng. And thou not dredynge ony man, ȝauest forȝyuenesse to the synnes of hem^q. For whi who schal 12 seie to thee, What hast thou do? ether who schal stonde aȝens thi doom? ethir who schal come in thi siȝt, to be auengere of wickid men? ether who schal arette to thee, if naciouns perischen, whiche thou madist? For whi noon other 13 than thou is God, to whom is charge of

* and therfor; that is, for thi goodnesse. chastisidist bi partis; that is, punyschist curteisly, and bi dyuerse tymes, and not togidere in takinge hem away fro lyf, that they haue tyme to do penaunce.
 spekist to hem; sumtyme bi ynward ster- ing, sumtyme bi trauel of bodi, that ȝyueh vnder- standing. of thyn hooli lond; that is, of Judee, which is seid hooli, for Goddis wor- schiping throof there in the tyme of the elde testa- ment; and the mysterie of Crist was fillid there in the tyme of the newe testa- ment.
 hateful; that is, orible synnes.
 Live here. c.
 † bi medecynes, etc.; that is, bi wichecraftis, and false dy- uynnyngis, and sacrifices offrid to fendis. Live here. c.
 ‡ myddil sacra- ment; that is, fro Judee. Live here. c.
 § of soulis, etc.; that is, of her children, desti- tute of du help. Live here. c.
 || was kindeli; that is, maad hard bi long custum, which is a maner kynde. Live here. c.
 ¶ myȝte not be chaungid; this is not outirli noun- power; but in party, for as longe as a man lyueth, he may turne aȝen to good; but this nounpower is in parti, for siche men moun turne aȝen with hardnesse, for the custum of synne enclynyng bi maner of kynde: wherfor in v. book of Metafisikis, a thing is seid impossible in o maner, which thing is hard, as it is seid also in comyn speche of a man, seyng yuele, that he may not se. at the bigynnyng; in ix. c^o. of Genesis, Cursid be Canaan; he schal be seruaunt of seruaunts. Live here. c.

^e the A. ^{cc} that c pr. m. ^d Om. A. ^e the modris AGH. ^f vnhelpid AGH. ^g cleer A. ^{gg} man A.
^h them men litilmelum c pr. m. ^{hh} vnriȝtwis E pr. m.

ⁿ fordo i. ⁿⁿ dereworste c. ^o ether to distrie at oonys, bi cruel beestis, ether bi an hard word A sec. m. marg. ^{oo} dyuydist c. ^p places s. ^q men s.

God than thou, to whom is cure of alle, that thou shewe, for not vnri3twisly thou 14 demest dom. Ne¹ forsothe king ne tiraunt in thi sizte shul enserche of these 15 thingus^k, that thou hast destroyed. Sithen thanne thou art ri3twis, alle thingis ri3twisly thou disposist; hym also, O! fader, that owith not to be punshid, condemp-nende, and straunge thou eymest fro thi 16 vertue. Forsothe thi vertue is the bigynnynge of ri3twisnesse; and for that,
 that of alle thou art lord, to alle thou 17 makest thee to sparen. Forsothe vertue shewist thou, that art not beleued to ben in vertue ful endid; and hem that knownen not thee, in hardynesse thou 18 ouerledist. Thou forsothe, lordshipere of vertue, with pesiblenesse demest, and with gret reuerence disposist vs; forsothe ther vnderlith to thee, whan thou wilt, 19 to moun. Forsothe thou taztist thi puple bi suche werkis, for it behoueth to ben ri3twis, and manly; and thou madist thi sones of¹ good hope, for demende thou 20 3yuest place of penaunce in synnes. If forsothe the enemys of thi seruauens, and due to deth, with so myche tentifnesse^m thou tormentedist, and deliueredest, 3iueende time and place, bi theⁿ whiche thei 21 my3ten be chaungid fro malice; with hou myche diligence demest thou thi sones, to whos fadris and modris, othis and co-uenauntis thou 3eue of goode behestes?
 22 Thanne whan thou 3iuest to vs discipline, oure enemys manyfold thou scourgist, that thi goodnesse demende, wee thenken; and whan of vs is demed, wee 23 hope thi merci. Wherefore and to^o them, that in ther lif vnwisly and vnri3tfulli lyueden, bi tho thingus, that thei heri-24 eden, thou 3eue grettest tormentis. For-sothe in the weie of errour lengere thei erreden, eymende goddis tho thingis that in bestes ben ouer veyne, liuende bi ma-25 ner of vnwise 3unge childer. For that alle thingis, that thou schewe, that thou demest doom not vniustli. Nether king¹⁴ nether tiraunt in thi sizt schulen enquire of these men, whiche thou hast lost. Ther-¹⁵ for sithen thou art iust, thou disposist iustli alle thingis; also, fadir, thou con-dempnest^{*} hym, that owith not to be punyschid, and thou gessist hym a straunger fro thi vertu. For whi thi¹⁶ vertu is the bigynnynge of ri3tfulnesse; and for this, that thou art lord of alle men, thou makist thee to spare alle men.

 For thou, that art not bileued to be per-¹⁷ fit in vertu, schewist^r vertu; and thou ledist ouer[†] these^s men, that knowen^t not thee, in hardynesse. But thou, lord of¹⁸ vertu, demest with pesiblenesse, and disposist vs with gret reuerence; for it is suget to thee to mow, whanne thou wilt.
 Forsothe thou hast tau3t thi puple bi siche¹⁹ werkis, that it bihoueth a iuge to be iust, and benygne^u; and thou madist thi sones of good hope, for thou demest, and 3yuest place to penaunce in synnes. For if thou²⁰ turmentidist the enemyes of thi seruauens, and men due to deth with so gret per-seyuyng^v, and delyueridist, and 3auest tyme and place, bi which thei my3ten be chaungid fro malice; with hou greet²¹ diligence demest thou thi sones, to whos fadris thou 3auest othis and couenauntis of good biheestis? Therfor whanne thou²² 3yuest chastising[‡] to vs, thou betist many fold oure enemyes, that we demynge thenke thi goodnesse[§]; and whanne it is demyd of vs, that we hope thi merci. Wher-²³ for and to hem, that lyueden vnwiseli, and vniustli in her lijf, thou 3auest souereyn turmentis, bi these thingis whiche thei worschipiden. For thei erriden ful longe²⁴ in the weie of errour, and gessiden goddis^w these thingis that ben superflu in beestis^{||}, and lyueden bi custom of 3onge children vnwitti. For this thing thou 3auest doom,²⁵ in to scorn, as to children vnwitti; but²⁶

* thou con-dempnest; that is, punyschist sum tyme, to preuyng of his pacience, it is opyn of seynt Joob.

owith not to
 be punischid;
 in biholdinge
 his innocence.
 gessist; that is, suffrist to be gessid.

thi vertu; that is, thi power.
 Live here. c.

† thou ledist
 ouer; that is,
 suffrist to be led ouer fro synne in to synne.

in hardy-nesse; for by this that they knownen not God, they synnen hardili.

reuerence;
 not punysch-
 ynge synnes anoon, but abidinge to penaunce.
 to mow; that is, punysche
 synnes.

Live here. c.

‡ chastising;
 that is, betist
 vs, to oure
 amending.

Live here. c.

§ thenke thi goodnesse; that is, whanne we punyschen
 othere men,
 that we do this myldely, bi saumple of thi goodnesse.

demed of vs;
 that is, peyne
 is 3ouun to vs.

thi mercy;
 turnyng agen
 to thee, bi penaunce. Live
 here. c.

|| superflu in beestis; that is, vnprofitable
 to men, but more noyeful.
 Live here. c.

¹ Nether A. ^k Om. AGH. ¹ of men of E pr. m. ^m ententifnes A. ⁿ Om. c pr. m. ^o Om. A.

^r thou shewedist s. ^s Om. s. ^t knewen CEGHKNP SXVYAC. ^u benygne, ether merciful c et ceteri. ^v ethir tentifnesse x sec. m. marg. ^w to be goddis i.

as to vnwise childer thou ȝeue dom, in to 26 scorn; who forsothe with repreues and blamyngus^p ben not mendid^q, the wrthi dom of God ben expert 'or feliden'.
 27 In these thingus forsothe that thei suffreden, heuyli thei beeren, in the whiche suffring thei endeyneden; bi tho^s thingis that thei wenden goddis, in hem whan thei weren distrojid, seende hym, whom sum tyme thei denyeden hem to han knowen, verre God thei knewen; for the whiche and the ende of the condempnyng of hem shal come on^t hem.

CAP. XIII.

1 Veyne forsothe ben alle men, in whiche vnderlith not the kunnyng of God; and of tho that ben seen goode thingus, thei myzten not vndirstonde hym, that is, ne to the werkis takende heed, knewen who 2 was craftis man; but or fyr, or spirit, or swift eir, or cumpas of sterres, or ful myche watir, or sunne, or moone, the^{tt} gouernoures of the roundnesse of londis 3 goddis wenden; in whos fairnesse delitid, if thei wenden^u goddis, wite they, hou myche 'than these' the lordshipere of hem is the^w fairere^x; the getere forsothe of fairnesse alle these thingus ordeynede.
 4 Or if the^y vertue and werkis^z of them thei wndreden, vnderstonde they of tho thingis, for he that made these thingis, 5 is strengere than tho; forsothe of the mykilnesse of fairnesse, and of creature^a, knowendeli shal moun the creatour 6 of these ben seen. But 'ner the latere'^{aa} ȝit in these lasse pleynt is; and these forsothe parauenture erren, sechende God, 7 and willende to finden. And forsothe in the werkys of hym whan thei ben often turnende, and sechen^b, and ful shewid han, for goode thingis ben, that ben seen.
 8 Eft forsoothe ne to these owith to be for-9 ȝouen. If forsothe so myche thei myzten thei, that weren not amendid bi scornyngis and blamyngis, feeliden the worthi doom^{*} of God. For thei baren heuyli²¹ in these thingis, whiche thei suffriden, in whiche thingis thei suffrynge hadden indignacioun; thei seyng hym, whom thei denyeden sum tyme hem to knowe, knewen hym veri God, bi these thingis whiche thei gessiden goddis among hem, whanne tho weren destried; for which thing and the ende of her condempnacioun[†] schal come on hem.

CAP. XIII.

Forsothe alle men ben veyn[‡], in whiche 1 the kunnyng of God is not; and of these thingis that ben seyn goode, thei myzten not vndurstonde him, that is, and thei perseyuyng the werkis knewen not, who was the worchere; but thei gessiden 2 goddis[§] gouernours of the world, ethir the fier, ether the wynd, ethir the eir maad swift, ether the cumpas of sterres, ether ful myche watir, ethir the sunne and moone; and if thei delitiden in the 3 fairnesse of tho thingis, and gessiden tho^x goddis, wite thei^{||}, hou myche the lord of tho^y is fairere than tho; for whi the gendrer of fairnesse made alle these thingis. Ethir if thei wondriden on the 4 vertu and werkis of tho thingis, vndur-stonde thei[¶] of tho, that he that made these thingis, is strengere than tho; for 5 bi the greetnesse of fairnesse and of creature the creatour of these thingis myzte be seyn knowyngli^z. But netheles ȝit in 6 these men^{} is lesse playnt; for thei erren, in hap sekyng God, and willyng to fynde. For whanne thei lyuen in hise 7 werkis, thei seken, and holden for a soth, that tho thingis ben goode, that ben seyn.
 Eft sotheli it owith not to^a be forȝouen 8 to these men. For if thei myzten wite 9

^{*} worthi doom; that is, euerlasting peyne.
[†] heuyly; that is, vnpatiently.
Live here. c.
[‡] condempnacioun, etc.; that is, euerlasting peyne schal come on hem in the final doom, whanne thei schulen be turmentid in body and soule, in the peyne of helle. *Live
 here. c.*
[§] ben veyn; that is, voide of truthe.
^{||} the kunnyng of God; these ben idolatrous, that wanten the kunyng of veri God.
[¶] him that is; good, ether bi kynde ether beyng. *Live
 here. c.*
[§] gessiden goddis; that is, thei bileuyden, that tho weren goddis, gouernynge the world. *Live
 here. c.*
^{||} wite thei; as if he seide, thei ouzten wite this anon.
[¶] fairere; for his fairnesse passith with outen ende.
[¶] for the gen-dre of fair-nesse; that is, God, atour of al fairnesse.
[¶] made alle these thingis; and bi sayng of re-soun the fair-
 nesse of tho thingis is bifore in him, more excelently with out noumbre.
[¶] Live here. c.
[¶] vndurstonde thei; that is, thei owen to vndurstonde.
[¶] Live here. c.
^{} in these men; that worschip-iden excelent creaturis, as the sunne and moone, for goddis.

is lesse playnt; than in hem that worschipiden serpentis, and vile beestis. Live here. c.

^p blamyng A. ^q amendid A. ^r Om. c pr. m. E pr. m. ^s thee A. the GH. ^t upon AEGH. ^{tt} Om. c pr. m.
^u weneden E. ^v than tho c pr. m. more E pr. m. ^w Om. A. ^x fairere of them E pr. m. ^y Om. AEGH.
^z the werkis AGH. ^a the creature c pr. m. ^{aa} neuer the latere AEG. ^b sechyng A.

^x hem I. ^y thilke thingis I. ^z knowyngli, ether myzte be knowun bi hise werkis v. ^a Om. I.

kunne, that the world thei myzten eyen, hou the lord of this liztliere thei founden 10 not? Vnseli forsothe thei ben, and among the deade the hope of them is, that^c cle-peden^d goddis the werkis of the hondis of men, gold, and siluer, the finding of craft, and the licnesses of bestes, or vn-profitable ston, the werc of the olde hond.
 11 Or if any crafti man, forgere, hewe of the wode an euene tree, and of this taztli pare awei al the rinde, and, vsid his craft diligentli, forge a vessel vnpro-12 fitable in to conuersacioun of lif; the tother forsothe of his werk to the mak-13 ing of mete vse; and the tother of these thingis, that to noon vse, a crokid tree, and ful of knarres, he maketh, that he graue diligentli bi his voidenesse, and bi the kunnyng of his craft figure it, and 14 licne it to an ymage of man, or to sum of bestes it he comparisoune, thur; drawende with a reuler, and make the colour of it with red, and broun, and eche spot, 15 that is in it, ful^e 'daubende with erthe^f, and make it a wrthi dwelling, puttende it in a wal, and fastnende^g with iren, 16 lest parauenture it falle; beholdende to it, witende, for it mai not helpen the-self^h; forsothe an ymage it is, and nede 17 is to it helpe. And of his substaunce, and of his sones, and of sposailles, makende auow, ensercheth; he shameth not to speke with it, that withoute soule is; 18 and for helthe forsothe the feble he besecheth, and for lif he pre;eth the deade, and in to helpe he inwardli clepeth the 19 vnprofitable. And for thei going asketh of it^k, that may not go; and of purchasing, and of werching, and of the chauns of alle thingus he asketh of it, that in alle thingys ys vnprofitable.

so myche, that thei mizten gesse the world*, hou founden thei not liztliere the lord therof? forsothe thei ben cursid, 10 and the hope of hem† is among deed men, that clepiden goddis the werkis of mennus hondis, gold, and siluer, the fyndyng of craft, and licnessis of beestis, ether a stoon vnprofitable, the werk of an eld hond.
 Ethir if ony crafti man, a carpenter, hew- 11 ith doun of the wode a streijt tre, and rasith awei perfitli al the riynde therof, and vsith his craft diligentli, and makith a vessel ful profitable in to conuersacioun of lijf‡; sotheli he vsith the relifs of 12 this werk to the making redi of mete; and the residue^b of these thingis, which 13 he makith to no werk, a crokid tre, and ful of knottis, he graueth diligentli bi his voidnesse§, and bi the kunnyng of his craft he figurith it, and licneth it to the ymage of a man, ether makith it lijk to 14 sum of beestis, and anoyntith with reed colour, and makith the colour therof rodi with peynture, and anoyntith eche spotte which^c is in it, and makith to it a worthi 15 dwellyng place, and settith it in the wal, and he fastneth it with irun, lest per- 16 auenture it falle doun; and he purueyeth for it, and woot, that it may not helpe it silf; for it is an ymage, and help is nede-ful therto. And he makith auowe||, and 17 enquerith of his catel, and of hise sones, and of weddyngis; he is not aschamed to speke with hym, that is with out soule; and sotheli for helthe he bisechith a thing 18 vnmyzti, and for lijf he preieth a thing with out lijf, and he clepith an vnprofitable thing in to help. And for iourney 19 he axith of that thing, that mai not go;
 and of getyng, and of worchyng, and of bifallyng of alle thingis he axith of hym, which is vnprofitable in alle thingis.

* gesse the world; that is, knowe the ordre of creaturis. Live here. c.
 † the hope of hem, etc.; for noon hope is of her helthe, as long as thei ben siche.
 ‡ werkis of mennus hondis; for whi idols as to the figure, ether schap, ben maad bi craft, but the mater is thing of kynde; as gold, and siluer, and othere thingis, wherof tho ben maad.
 § the werk of an eld hond; for whi idols maad of eld tyme weren had in more reuerence; wherfor and summe symple Cristen men doen more reuerence to summe elde ymagis of the crucifix, that ben seid maad of Nyodemene.
 || Live here. c.
 || to conuersacioun of lijf; that is, to mannus profit, to whos lijf many vessels of tre ben nede-ful.
 || with the re-lifs; that is, the hewingis of this werk, to get mete.
 || Live here. c.
 || bi his voidnesse; that is, maad of hym bi his grauynge.
 || Live here. c.
 || makith auow; to the idol, that it here him.
 || and enquerith; that is, axith of the idol richessis, and sones, and weddingis of sones. Live here. c.

^c thei A. ^d clepen AGH. ^e ful of A. ^f peynting E pr. m. ^g fastne it A. ^h it self A. ⁱ Om. AE sec. m. GH. ^k Om. C pr. m.

^b residue, or the leuing 1. ^c that 1.

CAP. XIV.

1 Eft] an other thenkende to seilen, bi hidous flodis bigynnende to make weie, the tree berende hym, inwardli^k clepeth 2 a more frele tree. That forsothe coueitise of wynnyng^l tho³te^m out; and a 3 craftisman forgede bi his wisdom. Thou forsothe, fader, gouernest bi prouydence, for thou hast ³oue in the se weie, and 4 among flodis mostⁿ stedefast path; shew-ende, for thou art my³ti of alle thingus to helen, also if withoute ship a man go 5 to^o the se; but that the werkis of thi wisdam weren not voide, for that also men takende ther liues to a litil tree, and passende the se, bi a ship ben deli-6 uered. But fro the bygynnyng, whan proude ieauntis persheden, the hope of the roundnesse of erthis to a ship fleende, sente a³een to the world sed of birthe, 7 that bi thin hond was gouerned. Blissid forsothe is the tree, bi the^p whiche is do 8 ri³twisnesse. The maumet forsothe, that is maad bi hondys, is cursid, and it, and he that made it, for he forsothe wro³te vnleeffulnesse; that forsothe, whan it was 9 britil, is nempned God. Lic maner for-sothe to^a hate ben^r to God the vnpytouse, 10 and the vnpytousnesse of hym. Forsothe that is mad, with hym that made, tor-11 mentus shal suffre. For that and to the maumetis of naciouns shal not ben reward; for the creaturis of God in to hate ben mad, and tempting to the soule of men, and in to a mouscacche to the feet 12 of vnwise men. The bigynnyng forsothe of fornycacioun is the outseching of maumetis, and the finding of hem is corrup-13 cioun of lyf. Forsothe thei weren not

CAP. XIV.

Eft an other man thenkyng to seile in 1 schip^d, and bigynnyng to make iournei thorou³ ferse wawis^e, inwardli clepith^f a tre^{*} frelere^g than the tre that berith hym.
For whi couetise to gete money foond that 2 idol; and a crafti man made it bi his wisdom. But thou, fadir, gouernest bi 3 puruyaunce, for thou ³auest weie in the see, and a most stidfast path among wawis; schewyng that thou art mi³ti to 4 make hool of alle thingis, ³he, if a man goith to the see with out schip; but that 5 the werkis of thi wisdom[†] schulden not be voide, for this thing men bitaken her lyues, ³he, to a litil tre, and thei passen the see, and ben delyuered bi a schip.
But at the bigynnyng, whanne proude 6 giauntis perischiden, the hope of the world fledde to a schip, and sente efte seed of birthe to the world, which[‡] was gouerned bi thin hond. For whi blessid 7 is the tree, bi which ri³tfulesse was maad. But the idol which is maad bi 8 hond is cursid, bothe it, and he that made it, for sotheli he wrou³te grete trespas; sotheli that idol, whanne it was freel, was nemyd God. Forsothe in lijk 9 maner the wickid man[§] and his wickidnesse ben hateful to God. For whi that 10 that is maad schal suffre turmentis, with hym that made it^h. For this thing and 11 to the idols of naciouns schal not be biholdyng; for the creaturis of God ben maad in to hatrede, and in to tempta-cioun to the soule of men, and in to a trappe to the feet of vnwise men. For 12 the bigynnyng of fornycacioun|| is the sek-yng out of idols, and the fynding of tho

* a tre; that is,
an idol of tre.
frelere than the tre; that is, the schip.
thou fadir;
of heuene.
gouernest; the seiling of men,
but thilke idol
doith not this.
Live here. c.
† werkis of thi wisdom, etc.;
God made low-ere creaturis for man, and therfor if tho seuede not to the nedis of man, tho schulden seme
to be reyn as to this, in hise profitis; so-thely these pro-fitis ben maad bi seiling, bi which mar-
chauntis carien
tho thingis,
that ben plen-teouse in o
lond, to an other, where is scarsite of
siche thingis;
and thus the nedynessis of londis ben re-
leenyd.
But at the bigynnyng;
that is, in the firste age of the world, that duride fro Adam til to the
grete flood.
the hope of
the world; that is, Noe, and his wiyf, and hise sones, and her wyues.
seed of birthe;
for whi man-
kynde was multiplied bi him and hise sones, aftir the greet flood.
Live here. c.
‡ which; schip.
the tre; that is, thilke schip
maad of trees.
Live here. c.

§ the wickid man; that is, the maker of an idol, and the idol maad of him. that is maad; that is, the deuel, that was worschipid in the idol, and ³af answeris there sum tyme. to the idolis of naciouns; that is, to fendis dwelling in idolis. not be biholding; that is, of Goddis mersi, for whi the synne of fendis may not be for³oun. the creaturis of God; that is, fendis maad of God, as to the kynde. ben maad in to hatrede; for her synne, which is not of God autour, but of defeaute of fre wille. and in to temptacioun; for thei that ben caste down fro heuene, studien to lette men fro her helthe. and in to a trappe to the feet of vnwise men; that ben ouercomun bi temptaciouns of fendis, but to wise men, that a³enstonden manly; siche temptaciouns ben not in to a trappe, but more in to victorie and in to a coroun. Live here. c. || of fornycacioun; that is, idolatrie, which is goostly fornicacioun.

j Also A. k he inwardli AEGH. l purchasyng E pr. m. m so³te c. n a most c pr. m. o in to AGH. p Om. AEGH. q thei ben to E pr. m. r thei ben E pr. m. d a ship s. e watris c. f he clepith i. g more freel i. h Om. CEF pr. m. GHMNPQRSUVXYa^g.

fro the bigynnyng, ne shul ben in to 14 with oute ende. The oueruoidenesse for-sothe of men these thingis fond in to the roundnesse of erthis; and therfore short 15 the ende of hem is founden. Forsothe with bitter weiling the fader sorewende, soone^s of the raueshid sone made an ymage; and hym, that thanne as a man was dead, now as god^t he begynneth to herien; and ordeynede^u among his ser-16 uauns templis^v and sacrificises. Aftirward in the mene comende time waxende shreude custum, this errour as lawe^w is kept, and bi maundemens of tirauntis 17 false werkis ben heried. These whom in opene men myȝten not wrshipen, for that aferr thei weren, from aferr the figure of them is broȝt; the euydent ymage of the king, whom wrshipen thei wolden, thei maden; that hym that was aferr, as present thei shulden herien with 18 ther^x bisynesse. Forsothe the grete diligence of the^y craftis man droȝ to the heriung of hem and hem, that vnknewen.
 19 He forsothe wilnende more to plesen to hym, that hym toc, trauailede out bi his craft, that the licnesse in to betere he 20 shulde figuren. Forsothe the multitude of men, disceyued bi the fairnesse of the werk, hym that bifor time as a man was 21 wrshipid, now god thei eymeden. And this was disceyuyng of mannys lif; for to afecioun, or to kingus men deseruyng, the vncomunycable name to stones and 22 trees thei putten^z. And it suffisede not, them to han erred aboute the kunnyng of God; but and in gret bataile of vnkunnyng^a liuende, so fele and so grete eueles 23 pes thei clepen. Or forsothe ther sones sacrificiende, or derke sacrificises makende, 24 or hauende ful wacchis of wodnesse, ne lif, ne clene sposailis now thei kepen; but an other an other bi enuye sleth, or 25 auoutrende sorewith. And alle thingus idols is the corrupcioun of lijf. Forsothe 13 corrupcioun tho weren not at the bigynnyng, nethir of lijf; that is, tho schulen be with oute ende. For whi 14 of goostli lijf, the voidnesse of men foond these idols in that stondith in to the world; and therfor the ende of tho onyng to God, is foundun schort¹. For whi the fadir 15 which onyng is makinge sorewe with bittir morenyng, brokun bi idol- made soone to hym an ymage* of the sone atrie.

 'that was^k rauyschid; and bigan to wor- the voidnesse schipe hym now as a god, that was deed of men; that thanne as a man; and he ordeynede hooli is, defaute of thingis and sacrificises among hise seru- her wisdom. auntis. Aftirward in tyme comynge bi- 16 Live here. c. twixe¹, whanne the wickid custom was  an ymage;*
 strong, this errour was kept as a lawe, that is, bifor and ymagis weren worschapid bi lordschip the deth of the of tirauntis. The figure of hem was 17 fadir. brouȝt fro fer, whiche the men miȝten not hooli thingis; onoure in opyn, for thei weren fer; and to be ȝouun to thei maden an opyn ymage of the kyng, the ymage.
 whom thei wolden onoure; that bi her Live here. c. bisynesse thei schulden worschipe hym as present, that was absent. Forsothe the 18 noble diligence of a crafti man brouȝte in also hem, that knewen not, to the worschipyng^m of thes *kyngis*ⁿ. For he will- 19 ynge more to plesse that^o kyng, that took hym[†], trauelide perfitli^p bi his craft, to † took him; make a^q licnesse in to betere. Sotheli 20 that is, chees the multitude of men, disceyued bi the him to make fairnesse of werk, gessiden hym now a an ymage to god, that was onourid as a man bifore the king. that tyme. And this was the disseit of 21 a licnesse; mannys lijf; for whi men seruyng that is, ymage.
 greetli, ethir to afecioun, ethir to kyngis, in to betere; puttiden to stoonys and trees the name in makinge the that mai not be comynynd. And it suffside 22 king fairere.
 not, that thei erriden aboute the kunnyng Live here. c.
 of God; but also thei lyuyng in greet batel of vnkunnyng, clepen so many and so grete yuels pees. For ethir thei sle- 23 ynge her sones in sacrifice, ethir makyng derk sacrificises, ethir hauynge wakyngis ful of woodnesse, kepen now nether cleene 24

^s the soone AGH. ^t a God A. ^u ordeyne AGH. ^v behestis E pr. m. ^w a lawe AGH. ^x Om. A.
^y Om. A. ^z puttiden AGH. ^a vnkunnyng of God A.

¹ in schort c. ^k Om. FIKSA. ^l bitwene I. ^m wurship s. ⁿ thingis I. ^o the a. ^p more perfitli A pr. m. ^q Om. s.

ben mengd togidere, blod, manslaxter, thefte, and feynyng, corrupcioun, vnfeithfulnesse, disturbing, and forswering, strif, 26 the vnmynding of the goodes of the Lord, the defouling of soules, the mischaunging of birthe, the vnstabilnesse of bridales, the vnordeynyng of leccherie 27 and of vncleennesse. Forsothe the herinyng of cursid maumetis is the cause of 28 alle^e euel, and bigynnyng, and ende. Or forsothe, whil thei gladen, thei waxen wod; or certis thei profecien false thingus, or liuen vnrihtwisly, or forswern 29 soone. Whil forsothe thei trosten in maumetus, that ben withoute soule, euele swerende, thei hopen not themself to 30 ben nozed. Eithir thanne to them comen wrthili; for euele thei feleden of God, takende heed to maumetis, and sworn vnrihtwisly in the maumet, dispisende 31 rihtwisnesse. Forsothe of men swerendef is not vertue, but the peyne of synneres thurȝ goth euermor, in to the lawe breking of rihtwis thingus.

CAP. XV.

1 Thou forsothe, oure God, sweete, and verre, and pacient, and in mercy disposende alle thingis. Forsothe if wee synnen, thine wee ben, witende thi mykilnesse; and if wee synnen not, wee witen, 3 for anent thee wee ben countid. Forsothe to han knowen thee, is ful endid rihtwisnesse; and to witen rihtwisnesse and thi vertu, roote is of vndeadlynesse. 4 Forsothe not in to errour inladde vs the oute thenking of the euele craft of men, ne the shadewe of peyntyng trauaile withoute frut, the grauen licnesse bi dyuers coloures; whos sizte to the vnwise lijf, nether cleene weddyngis; but also o man sleeth another man bi enuye, ethir doynge auowtrie makith sory his neizbore. And alle thingis ben medlid* togidere, 25 blood†, mansleyng, thefte, and feynyng, corrupcioun, vnfeithfulnesse, disturbing, and forsweryng, noise, forȝetyng of goodis 26 of the Lord, defoulyng of soulis, chaungyng of birthe, vnstidfastnesse of weddyngis, vnordeynyng of letcherie and of vnchastite. For whi the worschipyng of 27 cursid idols is the cause, and the bigynnyng, and the ende of al yuel. For whi 28 ethir thei wexen woode, while thei ben glad; ether certis thei profecien false thingis, ethir thei lyuen vniustli, ethir thei forsweren soone. For the^r while thei 29 tristen in idols, that ben with out soule, thei sweren yuele, and hopen not, that thei schulen be anoyed. Therfor euer 30 eithir‡ schulen come to hem worthili; for thei demeden yuele of God, and ȝauen tent to idols, and thei sworn vniustli in an idol, and thei^s dispisiden rihtfulnesse. For whi an ooth is not vertu§, but the^s 31 peyne of synneris goith forth euere, in to the breking of iust thingis.

CAP. XV.

Forsothe thou, oure God, art swete, 1 and trewe, and pacient, and disposist alle thingis in merci. For if we synnen, we 2 ben thin, and knowen thi greetnesse; and if we synnen not||, we witen, that we ben acountid at thee. For whi to knowe 3 thee, is parfit rihtfulnesse; and to kunne thi rihtfulnesse and vertu, is the root of vndedlynesse. Forsothe the thenkyng out 4 of yuel craft of men brouȝte not vs in to errour, nether the schadewe of peynture trauel without fruyt, an ymage gravun bi dyuerse coloures; whos biholdyng ȝyueth 5 coueytise to an vnwise man, and he lou-

* medid; that is, schent, and put out of ordre of resoun. Live here. c.

† blood; in wounding of the neizbore. feynyng; that is, ipocrisie.

‡ corrupcioun; that is, defouling of virgyns. noyse; in stiring of dissencioun.

§ chaunging of birthe; that is, synne of Sodom. vnstidfastnesse of weddingis; bi which summen chaungiden togidere her owne wyues. Live here. c.

¶ Therfor euer eithir; that is, it is iust, that thei ben pun-ischid for euer eithir synne, that is for idolatrie, and for swering. Live here. c.

§ an ooth is not vertu; that is, an ooth owith not to be de-sid as good bi it silf, but it is to vse it onely in nede; to the stidefastnesse of trithe and of feithfulnesse among men.

going forth euere; that is, wexith and is encreessid.

¶ in to the breking of iust thingis; that is, of Goddis heestis, that ben iust; for no thing no but iust may come forth of God.

Live here. c. || synnen not; dedly, for whi venyal synne may not be eschewid hoolliche.

ben acountid; that is, bothe in noumbre and merit, with chosun men, for whi venyal synne doith not away grace.

to know thee; bi feith, formed with charite. and vertu; that is, bi parformyng in werk. in to errour; of idolatrie, and Philo, autour of this book, spekith here for his tyme; for bifor the caityfte of Babiloyne, the Jewis dide nmyche idolatrie. ȝyueth couetise, etc.; that is, drawith his soule to do reuerence to the idol.

^e Om. A. ^f sweringe the oth E pr. m.

^r Om. I. ^s Om. cv.

3yueþ coueiting, and looueth the licnesse 6 of the deade ymage withoute soule. The looueres of euelis ben wrthi deth, that hope han in suche thingus; and that don hem, and that loouen, and that herien.
7 But and the crockere, the nesshe erthe threstende, trauailously maketh to oure vses eche vessel; and of the same clei he made that ben clene vesselis in to vse, and also that to them ben contrarious;
forsothe of these vesselis what is the vse, 8 domesman is the crockere. And with veyn trauaile god he maketh of the same cley, he that a litil biforn of erthe was mad; and aftir a litil he ledith hymselfe whennes he is taken, aʒeen askid the dette of the soule that he hadde.
9 But and ther is cure to hym, not for he is to trauailen, ne for his lif is short, but that me spute^g with gold smythis, and siluer smythis; but and metal ma-keres he folewith, and glorie he berth biforn; for thingus ouervoide he mak-10 eth^h. Askenⁱ forsothe is the herte of hym, and erthe ouervoide the hope of hym, and foulere than cley the lif of 11 hym. For he kneʒ not that made hym, and that enspirede to hym a soule; and looueth that he wroʒte; and that^k bleʒ 12 in to hym a lifli spirit. But thei eym-eden a pleiyng place to ben the lif of hem, and the conuersacioun of lif mad to wynnyng, and to bihouen also on eche 13 side, of euel to purchasen. This forsothe wot hymself ouer alle men to trespassen, that of the mater of erthe britel vesselis 14 and grauen maketh. Forsothe alle the vnwise men and vnsely ouer maner of ther soule ben proude, enemys of thi 15 puple, and mysseiende to it; for alle the maumetis of naciouns godis thei eym-eden, to the whiche nouthir sizte of eʒen is to seen, ne nose therlis to parceyue eth the licnesse of a deed ymage with out soule. The louyers of yuels ben worthi⁶ the deeth, that han hope in siche; and thei that maken tho, and thei that louen, and thei that worschipen ben worthi the deth. But also a pottere, thristynge⁷ neische erthe, bi greet trauel makith ech vessel to oure vsis; and of the same clei he makith vessels that ben clene to vss, and in lijk maner tho that ben contrarie to these; forsothe what vss is of these vessels, the pottere is iuge. And he that⁸ was maad of erthe a litil bifore^t, makith a god of the same clei with veyn trauel; and the pottere, axid to ʒelde the dette of soule^u which he hadde, ledith hym silf aftir a litil tyme to the erthe, fro whennus he was takun. But he hath care, not for⁹ he schal trauele, nether for his lijf is schort, but he stryueþ with gold smythis and siluer^v smythis; but also he sueth* worcheris of bras, and settith bifore glorie; for he makith superflu thingis. For the herte¹⁰ of hym[†] is aische, and superflu erthe is his hope, and his lijf is vilere than clei.

For he knew not God, that made him,¹¹ and that enspiride a soule to hym; and he loueth tho thingis whiche he hath wrouʒt[‡]; and he knew not God, that blowide in hym a spirit of lijf. But thei¹² gessiden fleischli delityng to be oure lijf, and the conuersacioun of lijf to be maad to wynnyng^w, and that it bihoueth to gete on ech side, ʒhe, of yuel. Forsothe this¹³ man that makith freele vessels, and graun ymagis of the mater of erthe, woot[§] that he trespassith aboue alle men. Forsothe,¹⁴ Lord, alle vnwise men and cursid ben proude ouer the mesure of her soule, and ben enemyes of thi puple, and vpbreyden^x it; for thei gessiden alle the idols of¹⁵ naciouns to be goddis, that han nethir sizt of iʒen to se, nethir nose thirlis to louyeris of yuels; that is,

of idols.
tho that ben contrarie; that is,
vessels to serue
to vnonest vsis.
he that was maad; that is,
the pottere.
Live here. c.
* he sueth; in makinge idols
of erthe lijk
tho of bras.
settith bifore glorie; of his craft, for the multitude of men renneth to him to haue idols.
*superflu
thingis*; that is, idols of no prijs, ether
litil, in compa-
risoun of othere. *Live
here. c.*
[†] *the herte of
him*; that is,
of the pottere.
is aische; bi loue, for Austyn seith, If thou
louest erthe,
thou art erthe;
but this pot-
tere settith al
his bisynesse
to the forming of erthe; and if the erthe
were priued
from meddling of water, it schulde
be dryun in to dust, ether in to aische; wherfor
the herte of a pottere is seid aische.
superflu erthe;
wher he mak-
ith idols.
is his hope; for he hopith to
lyue herof.
and his lijf is vilere than cley;
which lijf is ordeyned to the wynnyng of cley, as to the ende, and to the ende betere;
than these thingis, that ben to the ende
Live here. c.
[‡] hath wrouʒt;
that is, idols.
^{||} But thei; that is, the for-eid
idolatouris.
Live here. c.
[¶] woot; that is,

owith to wite. aboue alle; makeris of idols. vnwise men; that ben idolatouris, and erren fro veri blis. proude, etc.; that is, presumen of hem silf, more than they moun do. Live here. c.

g togidere spute E pr. m. h made E pr. m. i Asshen A. k Om. c pr. m.

^t bifore to CEFHKMNPQRSUVXYAç. ^u the soule I. ^v siluerne C. ^w wynnyng, ether coueitise c et ceteri.
^x edwiten CFGHIMNOPQRSUVXYA. comaunden, ether edwiten K.

spirit, ne eres to heren, ne fingris of hondis to gropen, but and¹ the feet of hem slowe to gon. A man forsothe made them, and that the spirit borewide, he feynede them; no man forsothe mai maken a god lic to hym. Whan forsothe he be deadli, the deade he makith with wicke hondis; betere forsothe is he than these, that he herieth; for he forsothe liuede, whan he was deadli, thei forsothe neuere. But and thei most wrecchid herien bestes; witles forsothe, comparisouned to these, ben wers than tho. But neither with sizte any thing of these bestes mai beholden goode thyngis; forsothe they fledden the preisyng of God, and the blessing of hym.

CAP. XVI.

1 For these, and lic thingus to these, wrthily thei suffreden tormentis, and bi multitude of bestes thei ben destroyed. 2 For whyche^m tormentis thou disposidist wel thi puple, bi whiche thou zeue coueiting of ther delit a newe sauour, 3 greithende curleeu mete to them. That thei forsothe coueitende mete, for tho thingus that to them ben shewid, and sent, also fro nedeful coueiting thei shulden be turned awei; these forsothe nedi mad in short, tasteden newe mete. 4 Forsothe it bihouede to them, hauntende tiraundise, deth toⁿ comen on with oute excusacioun; to them forsothe onli to shewen, hou the enemys of them weren destroyed. Forsothe whan to them cam on the cruel wrathe of bestis, bi the bityngisⁿⁿ of shreude shadewe edderes thei weren destroyed. But not in to euermor thi wrathe abod stille; but to the correccioun in short thei ben disturbid, to the hauende of helthe, to the remembring of the maundement of thi lawe. 7 Who forsothe is turned, not bi that that he sa3, he was heled, but bi thee^o, saueour of alle^p. In that forsothe thou shewdist perseyue a spirit, ethir wynd, nether eeris to here, nethir fyngris of hondis to touche, but also her feet ben slowe to go. For 16 whi a man made tho, and he that borewide a spirit, made tho; forwhi no man mai make a god lijk hym silf. For sithen he 17 is deedli, bi wickid hondis he makith a deed idol; for he is betere than these goddis, whiche he worschipith; for sotheli he liuyde, whanne he was deedli, but thei lyueden neuere. But also moost 18 wretchid men worschipe beestis; for whi vnreasonable beestis, comparisound to these men, ben worse than thei. But nether bi 19 sijn ony man mai of these beestis biholde goodis; forsothe thei han dryue awei the heriung* of God, and his blessing.

CAP. XVI.

For these thingis†, and thingis lijk 1 these, thei suffriden turmentis worthili, and thei weren destried bi multitude of beestis. For whiche^z turmentis‡ thou dis- 2 posidist wel thi puple, to whiche thou 3 auest coueitise of her delityng a new sauour, makynge redi mete to hem a curlew§. That sotheli thei coueitynge mete, 3 weren turned awei, 3he, fro nedeful coueityng, for tho thingis that weren schewid, and sent to hem; but these men|| maad pore in schort tyme, tastiden newe mete. For sotheli it bihofte perischyng to come 4 on hem with outen excusyng¶, vsynge tirauntri; but to schewe oneli to^a these Ebries, hou her enemyes weren destried. Forsothe whanne the feers ire of beestis 5 cam on hem, thei weren destried bi the bityngis of weiward serpentis. But, Lord, 6 thin ire dwellide not with outen ende; but thei weren troblid in schort time to amending, and hadden a signe of helthe, to remembryng of the comaundement of thi lawe. For he that was conuertid, was 7 heeled not bi that that he sij3, but bi thee, sauyour of alle men. Forsothe in this 8 thou schewidist to oure enemyes, that thou

* dryue awei the heriung, etc.; and 3aue it to vnreasonable beestis. his blessing; that is, the gifte of his grace. Live here. c. † these thingis; that is, the forseid idolatries. thei; that is, Egipcians, idolatrouis. Live here. c. ‡ For which turmentis; that is, in the stide of turmentis doon to Egipcians. coueitise of her delityng; that is, delitable men coueitid of hem, in xj. c°. of Numery. thei coueitinge mete; that is, Egipcians, coueitynge mete to her nursching. turned awey fro nedeful coueiting; that is, of nedeful mete, hauynge hidousnesse to ete metis defoulid and venemyd. sent to hem; that is, for padokis and venemouse flies, defouling and venemyng the metis of Egipcians. Live here. c. § a curlew; that is, a multitude of curlewis. Live here. c. || these men; that is, Ebreys. Live here. c. ¶ excusing; that is, with outen remedy. on hem; that is, Ebreis, bitun of serpentis, in xxj. c°. of Numery. Live here. c.  to remembryng; that is, that thei smytun and heeled, schulden be mynde of thyn heestis, and do tho. Live here. c.

¹ Om. A. ^m the whyche c pr. m. ⁿ forsothe to c. ⁿⁿ bites c pr. m. ^o the AGH. ^p alle thingis E pr. m.

^z the whiche 1.

^a Om. A pr. m. c.

to oure enemys, for thou art, that delyuerest fro alle euel. Hem forsothe the bityngis of flejes and of locustis slown, and ther is not founden helthe to the soule of hem; for wrthi thei weren of 10 suche thingus to ben destroyed. This sonus forsothe, nouthur the teth of dragounes, ne of venymed thingus ouercamen; forsothe thi mercy comende to,
 11 helede them. In the mynde forsothe of thi wrdis thei weren destroyed, and swiftli thei weren saued; lest in to heeȝ forȝeting fallende, thei myȝten not vse thin 12 helpe. Forsothe neither erbe, ne plastre helde^q them; but thi wrd, Lord, that 13 heleth alle thingus. Thou art, Lord, that of lif and deth hast power; and bringest down to the ȝatis of deth, and 14 aȝeen bringest. A man forsothe^r sleth bi malice forsothe^s his soule; and whan the spirit goth out, he schal not turne 15 aȝeen, ne the soule, that is resceyued, shal aȝeen clepen; but thyn hond to 16 fleen is^t vnpossible. Vnpitouse men forsothe, denyng^u to han knowen thee, bi the strengthe of thin arm ben scourgid; with newe watris, and hailis, and reynes, they suffreden persecucioun, and bi fȝir 17 ben wastid. That forsothe was merueylous, in water, that alle thingis quencheth, more the fir myȝte; the world forsothe is veniere of riȝtwis men.
 18 Forsothe sum tyme the fyr was tamed, that the bestes, that weren sent to vnpitous men, weren not brent; but that thei seende shulden witen, for bi the dom of God thei suffren^v persecucioun.
 19 And sum tyme in water, aboue vertue, fyr brende out on either side, that the wicke nacioun of the lond it shulde de-20 stroȝen. For the whiche with the mete of aungelis thou nurshedist thi puple, and thou ȝeue to them bred mad redi it art, that delyuerist fro al yuel. For-sothe the bityngis of locustis and of flies killiden hem*, and heelte of her lijf was not foundun; for thei weren worthi to be destried of sicke thingis. But nether the 10 teeth of dragouns, nethir of venemouse beestis ouercamen thi children; for whi thi merci cam, and heelde hem. For thei 11 weren turmentid in mynde[†] of thi wordis, and thei weren heeld swiftli; lest thei fallynge in to deep forȝetyng of God, miȝten not vse thin help. For nethir eerbe, 12 nethir plastre heelde hem; but, Lord, thi word, that heelith alle thingis. Lord, 13 thou art, that hast power of lijf and of deth; and ledist forth to the ȝatis of deth[‡], and ledist aȝen. But sotheli a man sleeth 14 his soule bi malice; and whanne the spirit is goen out, it schal not turne aȝen, nether the bodi schal aȝen clepe the soule, which is resceyued; but it is vnpossible^b 15 to ascape thin hond. Forwhi wickid 16 men, denying to knowe thee, weren turmentid bi strengthe^c of thin arm; thei suffriden persecucioun bi newe watris, and hailis, and reines, and weren wastid bi fier. For whi that was wondrous, the 17 fier hadde more miȝt in the watir, that quenchith alle thingis; for whi the world was veniere[§] of iust men. For whi sum 18 tyme the fier was mylde, lest the beestis schulden be brent, that weren sent to wickid men^{||}; but that thei seyng[¶] schulden wite, that thei suffren persecucioun bi the doom of God. And sum 19 tyme the fier brente an hij on ech side in the water, aboue the vertu of fier, to destrie the wickid nacioun of the lond.

 For whiche thingis thou nurischidist 20 thi puple with mete of aungels, and thou ȝauest fro heuene breed maad redi to hem, with out trauel; hauyng^{††} al delityng in it silf, and the swetnesse of al sauour.

* killiden hem;
 that is, Egipcians. Live
here. c.

† in mynde;
 that is, that they schulden
 be myndeful of thyn heestis.

Live here. c.

‡ ȝatis of deth;
 that is, of bodili deth; but he ledith not to the ȝatis of goostly deth,
 for he is not
 autour of synne, but man, bi defaute of his fre wille, is au-
 tour of synne.
 sleeth his soule bi malice; of
 dedly synne;
 the soule is vn-dedly bi deth of kynde.

gon out; of the bodi. it
 schal not turne
 aȝen; bi weye
 of kynde.

resceyued;
 that is, depart-
 id fro the bodi.

vnpossible to ascape thyn

hond; for whi
 the soulis of iust men ben resceyued in the hond of Goddis
 merci, but the soulis of syn-neris ben resceyued in the hond of his riȝtfulnesse, ether iust punysch-
 ing. Live here. c.

§ the world was veniere, etc.;
 that is, creature
 of the world.

|| of iust men;
 that is, of Ebreys turment-id of Egipcians vniustly. Live
here. c.

¶ wickid men;
 that is, Egipcians. Live here.
c.

†† thei seyng;
 that beestis
 noyful to hem weren not brent, and that beestis profitable to hem, as weren oxis and
 werk beestis,
 weren wastid
 with the same fier.

of God; to whom the creature obeyeth at his wille. with mete of aungels; that is, that cam down bi the seruyce of aungels, that eten not bodily mete. hauyng^{††} al delityng; for it saueride to goode men, as eche man wolde. thi catel; that is, the richessis of thi goodnesse. Live here. c.

whiche thingis; that is, for the forseid turmentis of Egipcians. Live here. c.

^q helide AGH. ^r Om. G sec. m. ^s Om. A. ^t it is A. ^u demyng AGH. ^v suffreden CE pr. m.

^b impossible I. ^c the strengthe I.

fro heuene, with oute trauaile; hauende alle deliting in itself, and swetnesse of 21 alle sauour. Forsothe thi substaunce, and thi swetnesse, that in to sones thou hast, thou shewedist; and deseruende to the wil of echone, to what eche wolde, 22 it was conuertid. Sno3 forsothe and ijs suffreden the strengthe of fyr, and floweden not; that thei shulden witen, for brennende fyr, leiting in hail and reyn, destroyede the frutes of the enemys.
 23 That forsothe eft, that the ri3twis man shulde ben nurshid, the fyr also for3at his vertue. Forsothe the creature to thee makere deseruende, brenneth out in to torment a3en vnri3twis men, and softere^w is mad to weel don, for them
 25 that trosten in thee. For that and thanne thi graces deserueden in to alle thingus, transfigured to the vertue of alle, at the wil of them, that of thee ben desired; that thi sones, whom thou loouedyst, Lord, shulden wite, for not the frut of birthe fedde men, but thi wrd
 27 kepte them, that in thee leueden. That forsothe that of f3jr my3te not ben destroyed, anon of a litil bem of sunne 28 chaufid, flowede; that it were knownen to alle, for it byhoueth to comen befor the sunne to thi^x blessing, and at the 29 springing of li3t to honoure thee. Forsothe the hope of the vnkinde as cold ijs shal flowen, and dispershen as watir ouer voide.

CAP. XVII.

1 Forsothe grete ben thi domes, Lord, and vntellable^y thi wrdis; for these the 2 vndisciplyned soulis erriden. Whil forsothe wicke men han ful preued, to moun lordshipen to the holy nacioun, in bondis of dercnesses, and of long ny3t gyued, enclosid vnder rooues, fugitif to perpetuel
 3 prouydence, pleseden. And whil thei wenen them to lurken in derk synnes, bi the derc veil of for3eting thei ben sca-

For thou schewidist thi catel, and thi²¹ swetnesse, which thou hast, to sones; and the breed seruyng to the wille of eche man*, was turned to that, that ech man wolde. Forsothe snow and iys suffriden²² the mi3t of fier, and meltiden not; that thei schulden wite, that fier brennyng, in hail and reyn leytyng, destroyede the fruytis of enemyes. Sotheli eft this was²³ wondirful, also fier for3at his vertu[†], that iust men schulden be nurschid. For whi²⁴ the creature seruyng to thee the makere, wexith whijt in to turment azens vniust men, and is maad li3tere to do wel, for hem that tristen in thee. For this thing²⁵ and alle thingis transfigurid[‡] thanne^{dd} seruyden to thi grace, nurischere of alle thingis, to the wille of hem, that ben desired of thee; that, Lord, thi sones²⁶ schulden wite, whiche thou louedist, that not the fruytis of birthe[§] feeden men, but thi word kepeth hem, that bileuen in thee. For whi that that mi3te not^{||} be distried²⁷ of fier, meltide anon as it was maad hoot of a litil beam of the sunne; that it were²⁸ knowun to alle men, that it bihoueth to come before the sunne to thi blessing, and to worschipe thee at the risyng of the li3t^e. Forsothe the hope of an vnkynde²⁹ man schal melte awei as iys of wyntir, and^f schal perische as superflu watir.

* to the wille of ech man; beyng of the noumbre of goode men, for it was vnsauery mete to wickid
 men. Live
here. c.

† fier for3at his vertu; in the chymeney of thre children,
 in iij. c^o. of Danyel, and fier hurtide not the beestis of Ebreys, in the
 lond of Gessen.
Live here. c.
 ‡ transfigurid;
 that is, chaung-
 id fro the pro-perte of her
 kynde. Live
here. c.

§ fruytis of birthe; that is, not onely
 fruytis com-yng forth of erthe. Live
here. c.
 || that that mi3te
 not, etc.; that is, manna that was hardid at the fire, and meltide at the heete of the sunne.
 thi blessing;
 that is, to ga-
 dere manna.
Live here. c.

CAP. XVII.

Forsothe, Lord, thi domes ben greet,¹ and thi wordis[¶] moun not be fulli told out; vnlearned soulis erriden for these. For the while wickid men holden for stid-² fast, that thei moun be lordis of hooli nacioun, thei weren feterid with boondis of derknessis, and of long ni3t, and weren closid vnder rooues; and thei fugityues weren suget^s to euerlastinge puruyaunce. And the while thei gessen hem to be hid³

¶ thi wordis;
 that is, dedis maad bi thi
 word.
 vnlearned soulis;
 that is, men not
 louyng truthe.
Live here. c.

^w li3tere E pr. m. ^x the A. ^y vnwlatabe A.

^{dd} thanne, that is, chaungid fro the properte of her kynde v. ^e li3t, that is, sunne v. ^f and it i.
^s sugetis A sec. m.

tered, dredende grisfulli, and with ful 4 myche wndring disturbid. Ne forsothe the den that heeld^z hem, with oute drede kepte; for descendende soun disturbide^a them, and dreri persones aperende to 5 them, 3euen inward^b fere to them. And no strengthe forsothe of the^{bb} fjr myzte to them 3yuen lizt, ne the cleer flaumes of sterres^c myzten lizten that grisful nyzt.
 6 Forsothe ther aperede to them sodeyn fyr, ful of drede^{cc}; and smyten with the drede of that face, that was not seen, thei eymeden werse to ben, that weren 7 seen. And of deuyning craft the scornes weren leid to, and the glorie of wisdom 8 correccioun with strif. Thei forsothe, that bihi3ten dredes and perturbaciouns them to putten out fro the languysshende soule, these with scorn ful, of drede lan-9 guyssheden. For and if no thing hem of the wndris disturbide, bi passing of bestis, and hissing of edderes stirid, fer-ful thei persheden^d; and the eir, that bi no resoun a man myzte flee, denyende themself see3en; ofte forsothe they beforen ocupien werst thingis, the concience 10 vndernemende. Whan forsothe ther is ferful shreudenesse, it is 3ouen in to the condepnacioun of alle thingus; euermor presumeth cruel thingis a conscience dis-11 turbid. No thing forsothe is drede^e, but helpe of presumpcioun, betra3yng^f of 12 the helpis of tho3t. And whil fro withinne lasse is the abiding, the more it weneth the power of his cause, of the 13 whiche torment it 3yueth. Thei for-sothe, that verrelly the vnmy3ti nyzt, and slepende the same slep, ouercomende from 14 the lowest, and fro the he3est, otherwhile thei weren stirid hider and thider, bi the drede of the wndris, otherwhile the lyues faileden bi ouerleding; forsothe to in derk synnes, thei weren scaterid bi derk hidyng of for3etyng, dredyng hidousli, and disturblid with ful greet won-dryng. For the denne that withhelde hem,⁴ kepte not with out drede; for whi sown comyng doun disturblide hem, and soreuful persoones apperynge to hem, 3auen drede to hem. And sotheli no myzt of⁵ fier myzte 3yue lizt to hem, and the cleer flawmes of sterris myzten not liztne that hidouse nyzt. Sotheli sodeyn fier^{*} ful of⁶ drede apperide to hem; and thei weren smytun with the drede of that face, that was not seyn, and gessiden tho thingis to be worse, that weren seyn. And scornes[†]⁷ of whitche craft weren leid to, and the glorie of wisdom was chastisyng with dispisyng. For thei, that bihi3ten hem⁸ silf to putte awei dredis and disturblyngis fro a sijk soule, weren ful with scorn, and weren sijk for drede. For whi⁹ thou3 no thing of the wondris azens kynde disturblide hem, thei weren mouyd bi the passyng of beestis, and bi the hiss-yng of eddris, and^b trembliden, and pe-rischiden; and denyeden, that thei sien the eyr, which a man myzte not ascape bi ony resoun; for whi worste thingis bifore ocupien ofte, while the conscience repreu-eth. For sithen wickidnesse is dreedful[‡],¹⁰ it is 3ouun in to condempnacioun of alle men; for whi a conscience disturblid presumeth[§] euere wickid thingis. For whi¹¹ drede is no thing, noⁱ but help of pre-sumpcioun, and schewyng of thou3t of helpis. And the while lesse abydyng is¹² fro with ynne, it gessith gretter power of that cause, of which it 3yueth turment.

 Forsothe thei, that camen in to a my3ti ni3t^{||},¹³ and comyng aboue fro loweste thingis, and fro hi3este thingis, thei slepyng the same sleep, weren hurlid sum tyme bi¹⁴ in to thicke derknessis, that ben seid a my3ty nyzt bi long duryng, that is, of thre dayes, and bi thicknesse, for which thei myzten not stire hem silf fro her place. fro loweste; that is, fro erthe and water, fro whiche stieden smokis, makinge greet the eir. fro hi3este; that is, fro thicknesse of cloudis, lettynge the liztynge of the eir. slepyng; Egipcians, that slepten sum deel in tho thre dayes, suffriden anon ferdful dreyns, in so myche that summe of hem dieden. bi leding ouer; that is, bi departing of the soule fro the body. Lirs here. c.

^z hilyde A. ^a disturblid G. ^b inwardli A. ^{bb} Om. c pr. m. ^c the sterres A. ^{cc} dreden c.
^d perishen AGH. ^e dredeful A. ^f betra3yngis AC.

^h and thei I. ⁱ Om. I.

^{*} sodeyn fier; that is, apperyng at a moment, not to comfort of hem, but more to discourtment.

[†] And scornes; that is, scorn of the wiccheis of Farao, nei3ede to the for-seid yuels.

and the glorie of wisdom, etc.; that is, wisdom, of which the wiccheis hadden glorie, was chastisid with dispit, for they weren smytun with othere men, so that they myzten not helpe hem silf, nether othere men.

of wondris azens kynde; for thei weren customable to sicke wondris. passing of beestis, etc.; for whi drede makith to forme ymage of ferdful thingis bi a litil noyse, as he that dredith myche, bileueth that enemyes comen, bi the sowne of leuys, ether ony sych thing. Lirs here. c.

[‡] wickidnesse is dredeful; for it makith men dredeful. Lirs here. c.

[§] presumeth; that is, bi for-gessing grete yuels to comyng on it silf. of presumpcioun; that is, encressing of gessing of peyne nei3inge.

abidyng; that is, lesse hope of help is in the soule of him that dredith.

grettere; for he bileueth, that more yuels schulen come.

Lirs here. c. || in to a mi3ti nyzt; that is,

them sodeyn and vnhopid drede ouer-15 cam. Theraftir if any of hem hadde falle down, he was kept in prisoun, with 16 oute iren, reclosid; if forsothe a cherl who were, or a shepperde, or a werchere of feeldis, were befor occupied, vnscapable, 'or that myzt not be fled^g, 17 nede he suffrede. With oon forsothe cheyne of dercnnesses alle thei weren bounde togidere; or^h puffende wind, or sweet soun of briddes among thickeⁱ braunchis of tres, or^k strengthe of ful 18 myche rennende doun water, or strong soun of stones fallid doun, or the vnseen cours of pleiende bestes, or the stronge vois of loowende bestes, or the azen sounende rebounding of soun fro^l the hejest hillis, maden them failende for 19 drede. Forsothe al the roundnesse of erthis was liztid with cler lizt, and con-20 tened in werkis not lettid. Forsothe only to them was ouerset a greuous nyzt, ymage of dercnnesses, that was to come 'on to^m them; thanne thei to themself weren mor greuous than the dercnnessis.

CAP. XVIII.

1 To thi seyntes forsothe was most lizt, and the vois forsothe of these the enemys herden, but the figure thei sezen not;
 and^a for not and thei bi the same thingus hadden suffrid, thei magniefieden thee.
 2 And for biforn hurt thei weren, for thei weren not hurt, graces thei diden to thee; and that ther were difference, 3 thee, God, thei askeden. For the whiche thei hadden to the vnknowe lif ledere, a brennende piler of fyr; and thou zeue the sunne, withoute hurting of good her-4 berewe. Wrthi forsothe thei^o to^p lacken lizt, and to^p suffrin prisoun of dercnnesses, that enclosid kepten thin holi sones; bi whom the vncorrupt lizt of lawe bigan to 5 ben zouen to the world. Whan thei drede of wondris azens kynde, sum tyme the soulis failiden bi ledyng ouer; for why sudeyn drede and vnhopid, cam on

 hem. Afterward if ony of hem hadde fel¹⁵ doun, he was kept closid in prisoun, with out yrun; for if ony cheerl^{*} was, ethir¹⁶ scheepherd, ethir a^k werk man of feeldis, and was bifore occupied, he suffride nede that mizte not be ascapid. For whi alle¹⁷ men weren boundun togidere bi o chayne of derknnessis; ether a wynd hissyng, ether swete soun of briddis bitwixe the thicke bowis of trees, ethir the feersnesse of watir rennyng doun greetli, ethir a¹⁸ strong soun of stoonys cast doun, ethir the rennyng vnseyn of beestis pleiynge, ethir the strong vois of beestis lowynge, ethir ecco[†] sownynge azen fro hijeste hillis, maden hem failynge for drede.
 Forsothe al the world[‡] was liztned with¹⁹ cleer lizt, and was^l not^m withholdun in werkis lettid. But a greuouse nyzt, the²⁰ ymage of derknnessis, that was to comyng on hem, was set on hem aloone; therfor thei weren greuousere to hem silf than the derknnessis.

CAP. XVIII.

But ful greet lizt was^a to thin hooli¹ seruauntis, and sotheli enemyes herden the vois[§] of hem, but thei sien not the figure, ethir schap; and for also thei^o suffriden not bi the same thingis, thei magniefieden thee. And for thei weren² hirt bifore^{||}, thei diden thankyngis to thee, for thei weren not hirt; and that difference schulde be bitwixe hem and Egip- cians, thei axiden thee, God. For which³ thing thei[¶] hadden a brennyng piler of fier, the ledere of vnknowun weie; and thou zauest the sunne, with out hirtyng of good herbore. Forsothe thei *weren wor-*⁴ thi to wante lizt, and to suffre the prisoun of derknnessis, whiche helden thi sones enclosid^{}; bi whiche sones the vncorrupt

* ony cheerl; where euere ony man was occupied in feeld, ether in hows, whanne the derknnessis camen on hem, he dwellide there thre dayes. Live here. c.

† ether ecco; that is, a soun foldid azen. Live here. c.

‡ at the world, etc.; out of the place of Egipcians. Live here. c.

§ the vois; that is, of Ebreys. Live here. c.

|| hirt bifor; that is, of Egipcians, bi harde trauelis, in i. c^o. of Exodi. not hirt; in x. veniaunces, as Egipcians weren. Live here. c.

¶ thei; that is, Egipcians. Live here. c.  enclosid; and suffriden not hem go out of Egypt, to make sacrifice to the Lord. Live here. c.

^g Om. c et E pr. m. ^h outhur AEGH. ⁱ thoo E pr. m. ^k a A. bi E pr. m. ^l of A. ^m vnto AG. ⁿ Om. A. ^o thei ben A. P Om. E sec. m.

^k Om. I. ^l it was I. ^m Om. I. ⁿ ther was I. ^o thei, that is, Ebreis v.

tho3ten to slen the fauntis of ri3twis men; and oon sone leid out, and deliuered, and in to the ouerleding of them, thou tooke awei the multitude of sones, and togidere them thou spildist in strong 6 water. That forsothe ny3t is knowen biforn of^a oure fadris, that verreli witende bi what othis thei leeueden, thei 7 shulden ben mor stedefast. Forsothe ther is taken of thi puple helthe, forsothe of ri3twis men; of vnri3twis men
 8 forsothe destroying. Forsothe as thou hurtedest oure aduersaries, so and vs 9 sterende, thou magnifiedist. Hidendely forsothe the ri3twis childer of goode men sacrificeden, and the lawe of ry3twisnesse thei disposeden to^r acord; lic maner ri3twis men goodes and eueles to resceyuen, noble preisingus to the fader of^s alle
 10 singende. Forsothe the vncouenable vois of enemyes sounede, and wepful weiling 11 of bewepete 3unge childer was herd. Lic peyne forsothe the seruaunt with the lord is tormentid; and a man of the puple to the king lic thyngis suffrede.
 12 Thanne lic maner alle with o name of deth hadden vnnoumbrable deade men, ne the quyke forsothe suffiseden to birien; for o moment the nacioun of hem, that 13 was mor cler, is distro3ed. Of alle forsothe they not leeuende for the benefetes, thanne whan first was the deth of the first goten, thei bihi3ten himself the 14 puple of God to ben. Whan forsothe quyete silence contenede alle thingus, and the ny3t in his cours hadde the mene 15 weie, thin almy3ti wrd, Lord, goende out fro heuene, fro the kingus setes cam; and 16 an hard ouercomere it is, in to the myddel lond of deth; leep forth a sharp swerd berende in to thi licned empire; and stondende fulfilde alle thingus with deth, lijt of lawe bigan to be 3ouun to the world. Whanne thei thou3ten to sle the^s 3onge children of iust men; and whanne o sone was put forth, and delyuered, thou tokist^{*} awei the multitude of sones[†], for the ledyng ouer of hem^a, and thou lostist hem togidere in strong watir. Forsothe thilke ny3t was knowun bifore of oure fadris, that thei witynge verili to whiche othis thei bileuyden, schulden be more paciente. Forsothe helthe of iust⁷ men was resseyued verili of thi puple, and also^r distriyng of vniust men. For as⁸ thou hirtidist^s oure aduersaries, so thou excitidist also vs, and magnifiedist vs. For whi iust children of goode men^{†9} maden sacrifice priueli, and disposiden the lawe of ri3tfulnesse in to acordyng; thei disposiden iust men to resseyue goodis and yuels in lijk maner, and sungen heriyngis to the fadir of alle men. But vnsemeli vois of enemyes¹⁰ sownede, and wepful weilyng of biweperis of 3onge children was herd. Forsothe the seruaunt was turmentid bi lijk peyne with the lord; and a man of the puple suffride thingis lijk the kyng. Therfor in lijk maner alle men bi o name¹² of deth hadden deed men vnnoumbrable, for nether quyke men suffiseden to birie; for whi the nacioun of hem, that was clerere than othere, was destried in o moment. Forsothe of alle Egipcians men¹³ not bileuynges for benefices, bihi3ten hem thanne to be Goddis puple, whanne the distriyng of the firste gendryd thingis was first. Forsothe whanne alle thingis helden¹⁴ restful silence, and the ny3t hadde the myddil weie in his cours, Lord, thi word¹⁵ almy3ti|| comynge swiftli fro heuene, cam fro the kyngis seetis; a scharp swerd ber-¹⁶ ynge thi comaundement not feyned, cam

* tokist; fro present liyf. Live here. c. [†] of sones; that is, of the firste gendride of Egipt.

ledyng ouer; that is, in the ledyng of Ebreys out of Egipt.

lostist hem; that is, Egipcians, fadris of the children slayn.

whiche othis; that is, to Goddis affermyngis maad to hem and to her fadris. Live here. c.

† iust children of goode men, etc.; that is, Ebreys, the sones of patriarkis.

disposiden, etc.; that is, resseyueden acordyngly.

the lawe of ri3tfulnesse; 3ouun in the hil of Synay.

to resseyue goodis and yuels; that is, dispoide to resseyue paciently, for the loue of God, prosperites and aduersites sent, and to be sent, bi Goddis wille.

heriyngis; in prosperites and aduersites.

to the fadir of alle; that is, to God.

weilyng of biweperis; that is, which wepten for the sleynge of 3onge children. Live here. c.

§ men not bileuyng; to God and to Moyses.

for benefices; 3ouun in the doing awei of veniaunces; for whanne the veniaunces weren doon away, they turneden agen to her hardnesse in synne.

bihi3ten hem; ether Egipcians

|| Lord,

that is, knowlechen Moises and Ebreys. to be the puple of God; for thanne thei lesten hem go, as the seruauntis of God; bihi3ten hem self to be Goddis puple; bi this, that thei obeyeden to Goddis heeste, of the sendyng out of Ebreys. Live here. c. this word almy3ti; that is, thi comaundement of the sleynge of the firste gendrid thingis. swerd beringe; that is, fillinge. Live here. c.

.^a Om. A. .^r into AGH. .^s Om. A.

^p sones, the firste gendrid v. .^q hem, that is, Ebreys out of Egipt v. .^r but c et ceteri. .^s hurtist s.

and vnto heuene ateynede, stondende in 17 the erthe. Thanne anon the sizte of euele sweuenes disturbide them, and 18 dredes oncamen vnhopid. And an other elleswher cast forth half on lyue, for what^t cause of deth he diede, he shewede.
 19 Forsothe the viseouns that disturbeden hem, these thingus biforn warneden, that thei shulden not pershen vnkunynge, 20 whi thei suffreden eueles. Thanne for-sothe touchede and riztwismen the temptacioun of deth, and ther is mad of the multitude a stiring in wilderness; but 21 not longe abod stille thi wrathe. A man forsothe goende withoute blame to prezen for puples, bringende forth of hys seruyse the sheeld an^u orisoun, and bi encens prezing aleggyng, withstod to the wrathe, and ende putte to the nede, shewende for 22 thi seruaunt he is. Forsothe he ouercam companys, not in vertue of body, ne in^v armure of power; but in wrd hym that ouertrauilede hym, he vndircaste^w, remembrede the othis of fadris, and tes-23 tament. Whan forsothe now hipyllmelum thei hadden fallen dead, either vp on other, he stod betwen, and kutte awei the bure, and deuydede that^x weie, that 24 to the men on lyue ladde. Forsothe in the clothing of the preest coepe, that he hadde, was al the roundnesse of erthis; and the grete thingus of fadris weren grauen in foure ordres of stones; and thi grete doyng in the^{xx} dyademe of hys 25 hed was writen. To these^v forsothe 'he 3af stede^z, that distrojede^{zz}, and these thingus he ful out dredde; forsothe ther was alone sufficyent temptyng of wrathe.

forth, ouercomere in to the myddil of the lond of destriyng; and it stood, and fillide alle thingis with deeth, and it stood in erthe, and stretchide forth til to heuene.
 Thanne anon* the siztis of yuel dremes 17 disturbliden hem, and dredis not hopid camen aboue. And another man cast forth 18 half quyk in an other place, schewide for what cause of deth he diede. For whi 19 siztis that disturbliden hem, bifore warneden these thingis, that thei schulden perische not vnwityngli, why thei suffriden yuels. Forsothe temptacioun of 20 deth† touchide thanne also iust men, and mouyng togidere of multitude was maad in desert; but thin ire dwellide not longe.
 For a man without pleynt hastide to 21 biseche for puplis, and he brouzte forth preier the scheld of his seruyce, and he aleggide preier bi encence, and azen stood ire; and he settide an ende to the nede†, and schewide that he was thi seruaunt.
 Forsothe he ouercam cumpenyes, not bi 22 vertu of bodi, nether bi armure of power; but he remembrede the othis, and the testament of fadris, and bi word‡ he made hym suget, that trauelide hym silf. For 23 whanne deed men fellen down bi heepis, ech on other, he stood bitwixe 'deed men and lyuynge^t, and kittide^{tt} awei the feersnesse of brennyng, and departide that weie, that ledde to quyke men. For whi 24 al the world was|| in the cloth lastynge to the heelis, which he hadde; and the grete thingis of fadris weren grauun in foure ordres of stoonys; and, Lord, thi magnyficence^u was writun in the diademe of his heed. Forsothe he that dis- 25 triede, 3af stide to these thingis, and dredde these thingis; for whi the temptacioun aloone was sufficient to ire¶.

*Thanne anon;
 that is, next bifore. yuele dremes; to bi-fore figure the forseid sleing of the firste gen-
 drid children.
 Live here. c.

† temptacioun
 of deth; that is, punyschid
 bi deth.
 and; is set
 here for that is.
 mouyng togidere
 of dissencioun, reised by Choree
 and hise felowis.
 a man without playnt;
 that is, Aaron
 lyuynge feith-
 fulli anentis
 God, and iustly
 anentis the neibore. for the puphis;
 diynge.

azen stood ire;
 in plesinge God
 bi his preyer.
 ouercam cumpenyes; that is, witnessis of disturblinge the puple. Live
 here. c.

‡ to the nede;
 that is, to deth.
 Live here. c.
 § and bi word; of dyuout preyer.
 him that trauel-
 ide him silf;
 that is, the brennyng brennyng the puple, of whos brennyng Aaron was trauelid. Live
 here. c.

|| the world
 was; bi signe-
 fying ether figure.
 grete thingis
 of fadris; that is, the names
 of xij. lynagis.
 magnificence;
 that is, thyn
 hiz name tetra-gramaton. Live
 here. c.

¶ was sufficient to ire; that is,
 temptacioun of dissencioun mouyd, was sufficient cause
 of Goddis

veniaunce azenus al the puple; nobut the bischop hadde plesid. Live here. c.

^t the what E pr. m. ^u of an c pr. m. H. ^v Om. c. ^w ouercaste c. ^x it that E pr. m. ^{xx} Om. G.
^y this E pr. m. ^z wente awei E pr. m. ^{zz} distrojeden c.

^t the deede and the quyke 1. ^{tt} kitte 1. ^u magnyficence, that is, thin hiz name tetragramaton v.

CAP. XIX.

1 To the vnpytouse forsothe and to the laste withoute mercy wrathe cam vpon; forsothe he knew biforn and the thingis 2 to comen of hem. For whan thei weren turned, and hadden suffrid, that thei shulden lede them, and with gret bysnesse thei hadden sent them^a befor, ther folewede forsothe them the deede of pe-3 nauce. 3it forsothe among the hondys hauende weiling, and weping at the mo-numentes of the deade, an other thynking of vnkunnyng thei^{aa} token to them; and whom pre3ende thei hadden throwen awei, them as fugitifis thei pursueden.
4 Forsothe ther ladde them to that ende wrthi necessite, and of these thingis that hadden fallen, the mynde thei losten, that that lackeden of tormentis, punshyng 5 schulde fulfillen, and thi puple forsothe merueylously schulde passe; thei forsothe 6 newe deth shulden fynde. Eche creature forsothe to his kinde fro the bigynnyng was a3een figured, deseruend to thin hestes, that thi childer shulden be kept 7 vnhurt. For a cloude shadewede the tentes of hem, and in the water that was biforn, the erthe aperede drie; and in the rede se weie with oute lettyng, and a 8 buriounende feeld of ful gret depthe; bi the whiche alle nacioun passede, that was couered with thin hond; seende forsothe 9 thi merueiles and wndris. As hors for-sothe thei gnowen mete, and as lombis thei ful out io3eden, magnefiende thee, 10 Lord, for thou delyueredest hem. For-sothe myndeful they weren 3it^b of tho thingus, that were don in the comeling wonyng of hem; as for the nacioun of bestes, the erthe bro3te out fleezes, and for the^{bb} fisshes, the flod bolkede^c out mul-11 titude^{cc} of frogges. At the laste forsothe

CAP. XIX.

Forsothe ire with out merci cam on 1 wickid men til^v in to the laste*; forwhi God bifore knew also the thingis to comynge of hem. For whanne thei weren 2 turned, and hadden suffrid, that thei schulden lede out hem[†], and hadden bifor sent hem with greet bysynesse, the dedis of repentyng sueden hem. For thei hau- 3 ynge 3it morenyng bitwixe the hondis, and thei biwepyng at the sepulcris of deed men, token to hem anothir thou3t of vnkunnyng[‡]; and thei pursueden tho Ebreis, as fleeris awei, whiche thei preiynge hadden sent forth. For whi worthi 4 nede ledde hem to this ende, and thei losten remembryng of these thingis, that hadden bifeld^w, that punyschyng schulde fille tho thingis, that failiden of tur-mentis, and that sotheli thi puple schulde 5 passe wondurfuli; forsothe that thei schulden fynde a newe deth. For whi 6 ech creature seruyng to thin heestis, was refourmed[§] to his kynde at the bigynnyng, that thi children schulden be kept vnhirt. For whi a cloude bischadewide 7 the castels of hem, and drie erthe apperide in watir that was bifore; and a weie with out letting apperide in the reed see, and a feeld buriownyng fro ful greet depthe||; bi which feeld al the nacioun passide, that 8 was hilid with thin hond; forsothe thei sien thi merueilis and wondris. For thei 9 as horsis deuouriden mete[¶], and as lam-bren thei maden ful out ioye, magnefiyng thee, Lord, that delyueredist hem. For 10 thei weren myndeful 3it of tho thingis, that weren don in the dwellyng of hem among Egipcians; hou the lond brou3te forth flies, for the nacioun of beestis, and the flood brou3te forth multitude of paddokis, for fischis. Forsothe at the last 11

* to the laste;
that is, til to the drenching
of hem. Live
here. c.

† Iede out hem;
that is, Ebreys that Egipcians wolden sende
the sones of Israel out of Egipt.
repenting,
etc.; that is,
Egipcians repentide of the sending out of the puple of Israel. Live
here. c.

‡ vnkunnyng;
that is, of led-ing a3en of Ebreys.
worthi nede;
that is, deth,
that schulde be youn to hem iustly in the reed see. Live
here. c.

§ was refourmed; that is, to obeye to God,
of whom ech creature is maad. Live
here. c.

|| greet depthe;
that is, the botme of the
see was dried,
at the maner
of a feeld buriownyng.
Live here. c.
¶ deuouriden mete; that is,
taken the ar-muris of Egipcians, whiche
thei sien deed
on the brinke
of the see.
Live here. c.

^a Om. c pr. m. ^{aa} the AC. ^b Om. c pr. m. ^{bb} Om. c pr. m. ^c bowede GH. ^{cc} the multitude A.

^v Om. A sec. m. ^w bifalle r.

they sejen a newe creature of briddes, whan, lad bi lust, thei askeden metes of 12 delicious eting. In the speche forsothe of the desir, stezede vp to them fro the se a curlu; and trauailes to synneres camen vp on, not withoute tho euydences, that weren mad bi the fors of flodis.
Riȝtwisly forsothe thei suffreden, aftir 13 their shreudenesses; forsothe in to abhominable hospitalite thei stoden in. Othere forsothe vnknown comelingus rescey-eden not; othere forsothe goode gestes 14 in to seruage token. And not onli these thingus, but an other forsothe respit of hem was, for maugre theires thei re-15 sceyueden straungeres. Who forsothe with gladnesse resceyueden them, that hadden vsid the same enformyngus, with most cruel sorewes thei tormenteden.
16 Smyte forsothe thei ben with blindnesse, as thei in the^e ȝates of the riȝtwise, with sodeyn dercnesses, whan thei ben couered; eche oon^{ee} soȝte the passing out of his 17 dore. In to them self forsothe whil the elemens ben turned, as in an orgne of qualite the soun is chaungid, and alle kepen ther soun; wherfore of that ser-18 teyn siȝte it may be eymed. Feeldi wilde thingus in to watir^f ben turned; whateuer were swymmende, in the erthe 19 passeden. Fyr in the watir hadde strengthe ouer his vertue; and water 20 forȝat^g his quenchemde kinde. Flaumes aȝeenward trauaileden not the flesh of the corruptible bestes goende togidere; ne dissoluede it, that liȝtli was dissolued as ijs, good mete. In alle thingus forsothe thou magnifiedist thi puple, Lord, and wrshepedist; and dispisedist not, in alle thei sien a newe creature of briddis, whanne thei weren led bi coueitise, and axiden metis of feeste. For in the spek-12 ynge to^{*} of her desir, a^x curlew stiede to hem fro the see; and diseesis camen on synneris, and not with out preuyngis of tho thingis, that weren don bifor bi the^y feersnesse of floodis. For thei suffriden iustli, bi^z her wickidnessis; for thei ordeyneden 13 more abhomynable vnospitalite. Sotheli summe resseyueden not vnknowun comelyngis; sotheli othere token good men herborid in to thraldom. And not oneli thei 14 15 diden these thingis, but sotheli also another biholding of hem was, that thei aȝens her wille[†] resseyueden straungeris.

Forsothe thei that vsiden the same or- 15 dynaunces[‡], turmentiden with cruelest sorewis hem, that resseyueden with glad-nesse. Forsothe thei weren smytun with 16 blyndnesse, as thei in the ȝatis of the iust man, whanne thei weren hilid with sudeyne derknessis; ech man souȝte the passyng of his dore. Forsothe while ele- 17 mentis ben turned in to hem silf, as the sown of maner is chaungid in orgun, and alle thingis kepen her sown[§]; wherfor it mai be gessid of that certeyn siȝt. Beestis 18 of the feeld[¶] weren turned in to beestis of watir; what euer weren swymmynge thingis^{¶¶}, ȝeden in the lond. Fier in watir 19 hadde power aboue his vertu; and water forȝat the kynde quenchyng. Aȝenward 20 flawmes of corruptible beestis disesiden not the fleischis of Ebreis goynge togidere; nethir departiden that good mete, that was departid liȝtly as iys. Forsothe, Lord, thou magnifiedist thi puple in alle thingis, and onouridist; and dispisidist

* in the spek-
ing to, etc.;
that is, at the
axing of hem,
bi her desir.

a curlu; that is, a greet multitude of cur-lewis. Live
here. c.

† aȝenus her wille; that is,
with hardnesse
of cheer and of wordis.

resseyueden straungeris;
to herbore, as it bifallith sum-
tyme, that thei
that ȝyuen

almes, seyen
so many dispisingis to the axeris, that thei sillen to dere to hem.

Live here. c.

‡ thei that vsiden the same ordenaunces;
that is, Egip-
cians, that vsiden ordenaunces aȝenus
the good of ospitalite.

that resseyueden with glad-
nesse; that is,
Ebreys resseyu-

ynge straun-geris gladly.
with blynd-
nesse; thre dayes in derknessis, that myȝten be gropid.

as they; that is, Sodomytis.
in the ȝatis of the iust man;
that is, of Loth.
Live here. c.

§ kepen her sown; that is,
bi the disposi-
cioun of him
that makith melodie, so
the doynge of creature was chaungid, in the punysch-yng of Egipcians, bi disposicioun of the creatour. Live
here. c.

¶ beestis of the

feeld; that is, beestis dwellinge in feeldis, as oxis and werk beestis. were turned; not bi substaunce, but bi goyng, that is, Ebreys with her beestis ȝeden thorow the depthe of the see, which is the dwelling of fischis. Live here. c. ¶ swymmynge thingis; as it is opyn of paddokis, entring in to the housis of Egipcians. fier and water hadden power; in brennyng strongly, aboue his kyndly vertu. flawmes of corruptible beestis; that is, of eddris and draguns, brethinge out fier. disesiden not the fleischis, of the sones of Israel. goyng togidere; bi desert, wher ynne was a serpent brennyng bi blast, in viij. c^o. of Deutronome, that is, many sicke serpentis weren there. Live here. c.

^e Om. E. ^{ee} Om. c pr. m. ^f watir CG. ^g forȝat of AEGH.

^x the I. ^y Om. I. ^z aftir I.

tyme and in alle place stondende nyȝ to them.

not, and helpidist hem in ech tyme and in ech place^a.

Here endith the book of Sapiens, and now bigynneth the prolog of Ecclesiasticus^b.

^b From A. Explicit CEH. No final rubric in G.

^a Here endith the book of Wisdom, and here bigynneth the book of Ecclesiastici. CFHSXA. Here endith the book of Wysdom, and bigynneth a prolog on Ecclesiastici. G. Here endith the book of Wisdom, and bigynneth Ecclesiasticus. HU. Heere endith the book of Wisdom, and bigynnith the book of Ecclesiasticus. INQ. Here endith the booc of Sapiens or Wisdom; se now the prolog of the booc of Ecclesiastici. K. Here endith the book of Wisdom, and here bigynneth the book of Ecclesiastici, that tretith also of wisdom and prudence in many degrees of the world. M. Heere eendith Sapience, and bigynneth the prolog upon the book of Ecclesiastici. R. Here endith Sapiens, and bigyn[neth] the book of Ecclesiasticus. V. No final rubric in AEPY.

ECCLESIASTICUS.

Heer gynneth^a the prologe in the booc of Ecclesiastici^b.

[Prologue to Ecclesiasticus.]

OFF manye and grete bi the lawe, and profetes, and othere, that foleweden hem, wisdom to vs is shewed. In the whiche it behoueth to preisen Irael, bi cause of doctrine and of^c wisdom; for not onli hem spekende, nedful it is to be wis, but also straungeres to moun, and seiende and writende, to be mad most wis. Myn elde-fader Jhesus, aftir that hymself he ȝaf more to besynesse of lessoun of lawe, and of profetes, and of othere bokis, that to vs of oure fadris ben taken, and he wolde write sum what of these, that to wisdom and doctrine pertenen, that men desirende to lerne, and to be mad wise men, of hem more and more thei taken heed in inwit, and ben confermed to the lawful lif. Also I moneste^d ȝou to comen with wel^e willingnesse, and with mor bisy studi to do lessoun, and to han forȝyuenesse in tho^f thingus, in whiche wee ben seen folewende the ymage of wisdom, and to defauten^g in the making togidere of wrdys. For Ebru wrdis failen^h, whan thei weren translaid toⁱ an other tunge. Forsothe not oneli this, but and that lawe, and profetes, and othire thingis of bokes, han not a litil difference, whan betwen^k hemself thei ben seid. For in the eiȝte and threttithe^l ȝer, in the tymes of king

WISDOM is schewid to us of fele and greet bi the lawe, and prophetis, whiche folewide hem. In which thingis it bihoueth to preise Israel, bi cause of doctrine and wisdom; for not which it is necesarie thilke spekers to be wise, but also straungers mouȝe, and reders and writers, be also imade best itauȝte. My graunfadir Jhesus, bisiloker to diligence of redyng of the lawe, and prophetis, and of othir bokes, that beth of oure fadris itake to us, thanne wolde he write sum thing here of, which that perteynid to doctrine and wisdom, as desires to lerne and of hem to be made wijs, more and more in biholdyng in inwitt, and to be confermed to laweful lyf. Therfore I warne ȝou to come with goode wille with the more bisili stodie the lesson to make, and haue in hem forȝeuenesse, in which as semeth folwyng the ymage of wisdom, and lackide compassioun of wordis. For Ebrewe wordis lackide, whanne thei weren translaid to an alien tunge. Not oonli thei, but also the self lawe, and the prophetis, and othre thingis of bokis, haueth not a litil difference, whanne thei ben ispoken bitwixe hemself. For the eiȝte and the thrittenthe ȝeer of the tyme of Tolomeye Euergete king, aftir that he came in to Egypt, and I hadde there abide longe

^a bygynnith H. ^b From RH. Prologus C. No initial rubric in the other Mss. ^c Om. c pr. m.
^d amoneste AEGHI. ^e Om. C. ^f thes AGHI. ^g faile I. ^h failiden I. ⁱ in to AGHI. ^k bitwixe I,
^l the threttithe E.

Ptholome Euergeet^m, aftir that I cam in to Egipt, and whan myche of tyme I hadde ben there, I fond there bokes laft, not of litil doctrine, ne to ben dispisid. And soo good and necessarie trowede and I myself to adden sum diligence and trauaile ofⁿ remenyng^o this bok, and with myche waking I leide to^p besynesse of^q doctrine, in space of tyme to ȝyue this boc to tho thingus that leden to an ende, and to them that wiln the inwit bisiyn, and lernen, hou it behoueth to enformen maneres, that after the lawe of the Lord purposen lif^r to leden.

Here endith the prolog, and now begynneth the book of Ecclesiasticus^s.

Here begynnith the boke of Ecclesiastici^a.

CAP. I.

1 Alle wisdom of the Lord God is, and with hym was euermor, and is biforn 2 aungelis during. The grauel of the se, and the dropis of reyn, and the dazes of the world, who distinctli hath^b noumbrede? The heizte of heuene^c, and the brede of^d erthe, and the depthe of the 3 se, who distinctli mesurede? The wisdom of God goende befor alle thingus, 4 who enserchede? First of alle formed is wisdom, and the vnderstanding of prudence, fro the during of aungelis. The welle of wisdom the wrd of God in heiztes; and the ingoyng of it euere
5 lastende maundemens. The roote of wisdom to whom is it shewyd? and the 'sutil 6 wittis^e of it who kneȝ? The discyplyne of wisdom, to whom is it shewid, and tyme, I fonde there bokes ilefte not of schrewid, neithir of dispiseable doctrine. So I thouȝte good and necessarie to putte therto diligence and labour to expowne these bokes, and with grete wakyng I brouȝte the doctrine, in the space of tyme to thilke thingis that ledeth to the eend to ȝeue this boke, to hem that wolen ȝeue her inwitt, and lerne hou it bihoueth to lerne vertues, the which purposide to lede her lyf aftir the Lordis lawe^a.

Here bigynneth the book of Ecclesiastici^b.

CAP. I.

Al wisdom^{*} is of the Lord God, and I was euere with hym, and is bifore the world. Who noumbrede the grauel of the 2 see, and the dropis of reyn, and the daies of the world? Who mesuride the hiȝnesse of heuene, and the breed of erthe, and the depthe of the see? Who enserch-3 ide^c the wisdom of God, that goith bifore alle thingis? Wisdom was formed[†] firste⁴ of alle thingis, and the vnderstanding of prudence, fro the world^{d†}. The welle of 5 wisdom[§] is the sone of God in hiȝ thingis; and the entryng of that wisdom is euerlastyng comaundementis^{||}. To whom was 6 the roote of wisdom schewid? and who knewe the sutilites therof? To whom 7 was the lore of wisdom shewid, and maad opyn? and who vnderstood the multi-

* wisdom; that is, Goddis Sone, that conteyneth ful hiȝli alle maneris of wisdom maad, is of the Fadir, and cometh forth of him, with out bigynnyng. Live here. c.

† was formyd; that is, brouȝt forth bi euerlastinge generacioun. Live here. c.

‡ fro the world; that is, fro without bigynnyng. Live here. c.

§ The welle of wisdom; that is, wherof the werk of wisdom is spred forth as streemes.

|| in hiȝe thingis; for it flowith to hooli aungels, and aftirward to othere creaturis. the entryng; the entryngis of wisdom to men ben seid reuelaciouns therof. Live here. c.

|| euerlastinge comaundementis; in the hil of Synay God ȝaf comaundementis that ben seid euerlastinge, for tho ben weye to come to euerlastyng liyf.

the roote of wisdom schewid; that is, knowun perfytly, as if he seye, to no creature. schewid and maad opyn; that is, perfytly knowun, as if he seye, to no creature. Live here. c.

^m eueri ȝeer I. ⁿ in A. ^o renewing I. ^p Om. I. ^q Om. E sec. m. ^r her lijf A. ^s From A. Here endeth the prolog; se now the booc. I. No final rubric in the other Mss. ^a From A. Heer gynneth the booc. E. No initial rubric in the other Mss. ^b Om. c pr. m. ^c heuene c pr. m. ^d of the c pr. m. ^e sutil wittynesses E pr. m. AGH. witnesses c pr. m.

^a This prologue is taken from R. ^b From EGPY. Ecclesiasticus. R. No initial rubric in the other Mss. ^c deth enserchide c pr. m. HU. hath enserchide A sup. ras. doth encerche EY. doth encerchede P. ^d world withouten ende V.

opened? and the multeplyng of the 8 incommynge^f of it who vnderstod? Oon is the heigest makere of nozt of alle thingus, al myzti, and a myzti king, and wrthi to be drad ful myche, sittende vp on the trone of hym, and Godd lord-9 shipende. He formede it in the Hoeli Goest, and sa3, and distinctli noumbrede, 10 and mesurede; and helde out it vpon alle his werkes, and vp on alle flesh aftir his zifte; he 3yueth it to men loouende itself.
 11 The drede of the Lord glorie, and iozyng, and gladnesse, and coroun of outward 12 iozyng. The drede of the Lord shal de-lyten the herte; and shal 3yue gladnesse 13 and io3e in to the lengthe of dazes. To the dredende God, wel shal be in the laste endys; and in the dai of his diyng 14 he shal be blissid. To whom forsothe it shal aperen in sijt, thei loouen it in see-yng, and in the knowing of his grete 15 thingus^g. The loouyng of God wrshepe-16 ful wisdam. The bigynnyng of wisdam drede of the Lord; and with feithful men in the wombe he is togidere formed, and with chosen wymmen he goth, and with rijtwis and feithful men he is knowen.
 17 The drede of the Lord religiosite of kun-18 nyng. Religiosite shal kepen, and iustefien the herte; ful myrthe and io3e it 19 shal 3yue. To the dredende God wel shal be; and in the dazes of endyng^h 20 of hymⁱ he shal be blissid. Plente of wisdam to dreden God; and plente of 21 the frutes of it. Eche hous of hym it shal fulfille fro ieneraciouns, and the resceyuyng places fro^k the tresores of 22 hym. The croune of wisdam drede of the Lord, fulfillende pes, and the frut of 23 helthe. And it sa3, and distinctli noum-brede it; bothe^l forsothe ben the ziftis 24 of God. Kunnyng and vnderstanding of plyng of the entryng therof*? Oon is the 8 hizeste creatour of alle thingis, almyzti, and a myzti kyng, and worthi to be dred ful miche, sittynge on the trone of that wisdom, and God hauynge lordschipe. He 9 fourmyde† that wisdom^e in the Hooli Ghost, and he siz, and noumbrede, and he mesuride. And he schedde out it on alle 10 hise werkis, and on ech fleisch^f bi his zifte; he 3yueth it to hem that louen hym.

 The drede of the Lord is glorie†, and 11 gloriyng, and gladnesse, and a coroun of ful out ioiynge. The drede of the Lord 12 schal delite the herte; and schal^h 3yue gladnesse and ioie in to lengthe of daies^g.
 To hym that dredith God, it schal be wel 13 in the laste thingisⁱ; and he schal be blessid in the dai of his deth. Forsothe 14 thei to whiche^k wisdom apperith in sijt||, louen^l it in sijt, and in knowyng of hise grete thingis. The loue of God is onour- 15 able wisdom. The bigynnyng of wisdom 16 is the^m drede of the Lord; and it is formyd togidere in the wombe¶ with feithful men, and it goith with chosun wymmen, and isⁿ knowun with iust men and feithful. The^o 17 drede of the Lord is religioust^e of kunnyng. Religioust^e schal kepe, and schal^p 18 iustifie the herte; and schal 3yue myrthe and ioie. It schal be wel to hym that 19 dredith God; and he schal be blessid in the daies of his coumfort. The fulnesse 20 of wisdom is for to drede God; and fulnesse is of the fruytis therof. It schal 21 fille ech zifte†† of hym of generaciouns, and reseitis of the tresouris therof. The 22 coroun of wisdom is the drede of the Lord, and fillith pees, and the fruyt of heelthe. And he siz, and noumbrede it; 23 forsothe euer eithir†† ben^a the ziftis of God. Wisdom schal departe the kunnyng 24 and vndurstondyng of prudence; and it en-

* of the entring therof; that is,
 of the werk therof. Live
here. c.

† He fourmyde;
 he, that is, the Fadir mesuride.
 on ech fleisch;
 that is, on ech
 man. Live
here. c.

‡ The drede of Lord is glorie;
 for bi it a man disseruyth glo-
 rie. Live here. c.
 § lengthe of
 dayes; that is,
 with outen
 ende. Live
here. c.

|| apperith in sijt; that is, bi reuelacioun of profesie. Live
here. c.

¶ in the wombe;
 that is, in baptism, which is goostly generacioun, in whiche the grace of the Hooli Goost is 3ouun. Live
here. c.

 The drede of
 the Lord is religioust^e;
 that is, bynd-
 ing of kunnyng about God, lest it flete down, for to loue vnduly delitable thingis
 of the world.

†† myrthe; in present tyme, bi clenness of consience.

and ioie; in tyme to com-
 ynge, bi the
 geting of glorie.
 schal be wel;
 for in heuene
 schal be noon
 yuel.

schal be blissid;
 of God and
 aungels.

of his coum-
 fort; that is,
 of blisful vsing in heuene. The

fulnesse of wisdom is for to drede God; for it ledith to glorie, wherynne
 is fulnesse of wisdom in blisful sijt.

Live here. c.

†† schal fille ech zifte; for whi the ziftis of God ben fillid in heuenly cuntrey, to which the drede of God bryngith. and reseitis; that is, myztis of the soule, that schulen be fillid with souereyn perfeccioun in heuene. Live here. c. †† euer eithir; that is, wisdom and drede. Live here. c.

^f inwit E pr. m. comyng E sec. m. ^g habile thingis E pr. m. ^h the coumforting c et E pr. m. ⁱ it E pr. m.
^k of A. ^l either c et E pr. m.

^e it I. ^f fleisch ether man v. ^g Om. I. ^h it schal I. ⁱ daies I. ^k whom I. ^l that is louen v.
^m Om. I. ⁿ it is I. ^o Om. I. ^p Om. I. ^q that is, wijsdom and drede ben v.

prudence wisdom shal with departen; and the glorie of men holdende itself it en-25 haunceth. The roote of wisdom is 'to dreden^m God; the braunches forsotheⁿ of it long lyuyng. In the tresores of wisdom vnderstanding, and religiosite of kunnyng; kursyng forsothe to synneres 27 wisdom^o. The drede of the Lord putteth 28 awey synne, for^p who withoute drede is, shal not moun be iustefied; wrauthfulnesse forsothe of^q wilfulnesse 'or hardynesse^r of 29 hym is his turnyng vp so down. Vn to tyme^s the pacient shal suffre; and aftir-30 ward is^t zeldyng^u azeen of ful myrthe. Good wit vnto time shal hide his wrdis; and the lippis of manye shuln tellen out 31 the wit of hym. In the tresores of wisdom is tocyng of discyplyne; cursing forsothe to the synnere is the^v heriung of 33 God. Sone, coueitende wisdom, kep rihtwysnesse, and God shal 3yue it to thee. Wisdom forsothe and discyplyne the drede 34 of the Lord, and that weel plesid is to 35 hym, feith and debonernesse; and it shal 36 fulfille the tresores of hym. Be thou not rebel, and 'mys leeful^w to the dred 37 of the Lord; and ne 38 he thou to hym with double herte. Ne be thou an ipocrite in the sijte of men; and be thou not 38 sclaundred in thi lippes. Tac heed in tho thingus, lest parauenture thou falle, and 39 bringe to thi soule vnwrshaping; and God openeth in hid thingus, and^x in the myddel of the synagoge^y he hurtle thee; 40 for thou ne3hedist maliciously to the Lord, and thin herte is ful of treccherie and desceyt.

CAP. II.

1 Sone, ne3hende to the seruage of God, stond in rihtwysnesse, and drede; and 2 greithe thou thi soule to tempting. Ber down thin herte, and suffre, and bowe

^m the synagoge; that is, of gadering togidere of faithful men. Lire here. c.
^w patience. Lire here. c.

haunsith the glorie of hem, that holden it. The roote of wisdom is for to drede²⁵ God; forsothe the^r braunchis^s therof * ben longe duryng. Vndurstonding, and re-26 ligioust of kunnyng ben in the tresouris of wisdom; but wisdom is abhomynacioun to synners. The^t drede of the Lord put-27 tith awey synne, for he that is with out drede[†], mai not be iustified; for whi the wrauthfulnesse of his pride is the destriyng of hym. A pacient man schal suffre[‡] til 29 in to tyme; and aftirward schal^u be zelding of mirthe. Good wit schal hide the 30 wordis of hym til in to a tyme; and the lippis of many men schulen telle out the wit of hym. In the tresouris of wisdom 31 is signefiung of kunnyng; but the wor- 32 schipyng of God is abhomynacioun to a synnere. A! sone, coueitynge wisdom, 33 kepe thou rihtfulnesse, and God schal 3yue it to thee. For whi the^v drede of the 34 Lord is wisdom, and kunnyng, and that that is wel plesaunt to hym is feith and 35 myldenesse; and God schal fille the tresours of hym^s. Be thou not rebel, and 36 vnobileueful to the drede of the Lord; and neize thou not to hym in double herte. Be thou not an ypocrite in the sijt of 37 men; and be thou not sclaundrid in thi lippis. Take thou kepe to tho, lest thou 38 falle, and brynge disonour to thi soule; and lest God schewe thi priuytees, and 39 hurtle thee down in the myddis of the synagoge^{||}; for thou neizidist wickidli to 40 the Lord, and thin herte was ful of gile and of falsnesse.

CAP. II.

Sone, neizyng to the seruyce of God, 1 stonde thou in rihtfulnesse, and drede; and make redi thi soule to temptacioun. Bere down thin herte[¶], and suffre, and 2

[¶] bere down thyn herte; in refreyninge the stiringis of

* the braunchis therof; that is, vertues, that comen forth of wisdom. Lire here. c.
 † with out drede; of God. Lire here. c.
 ‡ a pacient man schal suffre; the disesie of a proud man. of myrthe; for the mede of glorie schal be zoldun to a pacient man, and the peyne of helle to a proude man. good wit; that is, a man of good discrecioun. schal hide the wordis of him; that is, of a proud man and ouerthwert, in beyng stille patiently til in to a couenable tyme. the wit of him; that suffrith patiently, as it is opyn of Dauith, whos wit many men comenden, for he herd patiently the wordis of Seimey doyng ouerthwertly azenus hym. In the tresours of wisdom; that is, among precious thingis therof. signefiung of kunnyng; bi which a man suffrith patiently disesie, as the scourgis of God, as of a fadir chastisinge. worschipping of God; which is worschippid bi feith, hope, and charite, as Austyn seith in Encheridion. Lire here. c.
 § the tresouris; of goostly goodis. of hym; that dredith God. Lire here. c.

^m the dreed of A. ⁿ Om. c. ^o is wisdom A. ^p and A. for whi G. ^q of the c pr. m. ^r Om. c et E pr. m. ^s the tyme E pr. m. ^t Om. AGH. ^u turnyng c et E pr. m. ^v Om. c pr. m. ^w mysbileueful AG. ^x Om. c. ^y lynage G.

^r Om. K. ^s braunchis, that is, vertues V. ^t Om. I. ^u ther schal I. ^v Om. I.

in thyn ere, and vndertac the wrdis of vndirstonding, and heeþe thou not in 3 tyme of opressing. Sustene the sustenyngus of God; be thou with ioyned to God, and suffre, that thi lif waxe in the 4 laste. Alle^a that^a to thee shul ben leid to, tac, and in sorewe sustene, and in thi 5 mecnesse haue pacience. For in fyr is preued gold and siluer; men forsothe resceyuable in the chymne of mecnesse. 6 3if feith to God, and he shal rekure^{aa} thee; and dresse thi weye, and hope in to hym. Kep the drede of hym, and in hym wax 7 old. 3ee dredende the Lord, susteeneth the mercy^b of hym, and bowith not down 8 fro hym, lest 3ee falle. 3ee that dreden the Lord, 3yueth feith to hym, and there 9 shal not be voidid awei 3oure meede. 3ee that dreden the Lord, hopeth in to hym, and in to liking shal come to 3ou mercy. 10 3ee that dreden the Lord, looueth hym, 11 and 3oure hertes shul be liztned. Beholdeth, 3ee sonus, the naciouns of men, and witeth, for no man hopide in the 12 Lord, and is shent; abod^c stille in his hestes, and is forsaken; or who inwardli 13 clepede hym, and he dispisede hym? For piteuous, and mercyful is God, and he shal for3yue in the day of tribulacioun synnes; and defendere he is to alle men, 14 ful out sechende hym in treuthe. Wo to the double in herte, and to the lippis of the 'hidously giltende^d, and to the hondes euele doende; and to the synnere goende 15 in to the erthe two weies. Wo to the dissolut 'or vnstable^e in herte, that 3yuen not feith to God; and therfore thei 'schul not 16 ben^f defendid of hym. Wo to them that han lost suffring, and that han forsake ri3t weies, and han turned aside in to shreude 17 weies. And what shul thei do, whan the Lord shal begynne to inwardli looken? 18 Who dreden the Lord, shul not ben of mysfeith to the wrd of hym; and who

bowe down thin eere, and take the wordis of vndirstonding, and haaste thou not in to the tyme of deeth*. Suffre thou the 3 susteynyngis of God; be thou ioyned to God, and abide thou, that thi lijf waxe in the last tyme. Take thou alle thing that 4 is set to thee, and suffre thou in sorewe, and haue thou pacience in thi lownesse. For whi gold and siluer is preued in fier; 5 forsothe men worthi to be resseyued ben preued in the chymeney of lownesse. Bileue thou to God, and he schal rekeuere 6 thee; and dresse thou thi weie, and hope thou in to hym. Kepe thou his drede, and waxe thou eld ther ynne. 3e that dreden 7 the Lord, abide^w his merci, and boowe 3e not awei fro hym, lest 3e falle down. 3e 8 that dreden the Lord, bileue to hym, and 3oure mede schal not be auoidid. 3e that 9 dreden the Lord, hope^x into hym, and merci^y schal come to 3ou into delityng. 3e that dreden the Lord, loue^z hym, and 10 3oure hertis schulen be liztned. Sones, 11 biholde 3e the naciouns[†] of men, and wite 3e, that no man hopide in the Lord, and was schent; noon dwellide in hise heestis, 12 and was forsakun; ether who inwardli clepede hym, and he despisede hym 'that clepide^a? For whi God is pitouse, and 13 merciful, and he schal for3yue synnes in the dai of tribulacioun; and he is defendere to alle men, that seken hym in treuthe. Woo to the 'man with^b double^c 14 herte, and with cursid lippis, and misdoyunge hondys; and to a synnere entrynge in to the lond bi twei^{cc} weies. Wo 15 to hem that ben dissolute[‡] of herte, that bileuen not to God; and therfor thei schulen not be defendid of him. Wo to hem 16 that han lost pacience, and that han forsake ri3tful weies, and han turned awei in to schrewid weies. And what schulen 17 thei do, whanne the Lord schal bigynne to biholde[§]? Thei that dreden the Lord, 18

* haste thou not in to the tyme of deeth; that is, be thou not brokun for the lengthe of aduersite, and desire deth. Suffre thou the susteynyngis of God; that is, suffre patiently aduersites, in whiche God schal susteyne thee. haue thou pacience in thi lownesse; that is, temporal casting down. he schal rekyuere thee; fro temporal turment to euerlastinge coumfort. Live here. c.

† biholde 3e the naciouns, etc.; biholding of hooly bokis, in whiche the dedis of fadris, that is, of Abraham, of Isaac, and of Jacob, and other men ben writun. Live here. c.

‡ that ben dissolute; that is, whos herte is vnboundun and departid fro God, bi vnfeithfulnesse. Live here. c. § to biholde; that is, to punysche; the Lord is seid to biholde synnes, whanne he punyschith tho. Live here. c.

^a And alle c et E pr. m. ^a that is, E pr. m. ^{aa} resceyuen c pr. m. ^b drede E pr. m. ^c or abod A. ^d hidous gilter AGH. ^e Om. c et E pr. m. ^f ben not c et E pr. m.

^w abideth I. ^x hopeth I. ^y his merci c. ^z loueth I. ^a Om. I. ^b Om. I. ^c double in I. ^{cc} two I passim.

loouen hym, shuln holli kepe the weie 19 of hym. Who dreden the Lord, shuln inwardli sechen, that ben wel plesid thingus to hym; and that loouen hym, shul be fulfild with the lawe of hym.
 20 Who dreden the Lord, shul greithe ther hertes, and in the sizte of hym thei shul 21 halewen ther soules. Who dreden the Lord, shul kepen the hestis of hym, and pacience shuln han vnto the inwardly 22 looking of hym; seiende, If penaunce wee shul not do, wee shul falle in to the hondus of the Lord, and not into the 23 hondis of men. Forsothe aftir the mykilnesse of hym, so and his mercy is^g with hym.

CAP. III.

1 The sonus of wisdom the chirche of riztwis men, and the nacioun of hem 2 obeisaunce and loouyng. The dom of the fader hereth, 3ee looued sonus; and 3 so doth, that 3ee be saf. God forsothe wrshepede the fader in sonus, and the dom of the moder ful out sechende he 4 fastnede in to the sonus. Who looueth God, shal full out prezen for synnes, and shal withholden hym fro them, and in the orisoun of daies he shal be ful out 5 herd. And as he that tresoreth, so and 6 he that wrshepith his moder. Who wrshepith his fader, shal be mad merie in sonus, and in the dai of his orisoun 7 he shal be full out herd. Who wrshipith his fader, with lengere lif shal lyue; and who obesheth to the fadir, shal refreshe 8 the moder. Who dredeth the Lord, wrshepith fader and moder; and as to lordis he shal serue to them that geeten 9 hym, in werc, and wrd, and in alle pa-10 cience. Wrshipec thou thi fader, that ther come vpon to thee blissing fro God; and the blessing of hym in the laste 11 dwelleth. The blissing of the fadir fastneth the houses of sonus; the cursing schulen not be vnbileueful to his word; and thei that louen hym, schuln kepe his weie. Thei that dreden the Lord, schuln 19 enquire tho thingis, that ben wel plesaunt to hym; and thei that louen him, schuln be fillid with his lawe. Thei that dreden 20 the Lord, schuln make redi her hertis, and schuln halewe her soulis in his sizt.

 Thei that dreden the Lord, schuln kepe 21 hise comaundementis, and^d schuln haue pacience til to the biholdyng* of hym; and 22 schuln seie, If we doon not penaunce, we schuln falle in to the hondis of the Lord, and not in to the hondis of men.
 For bi the greetnesse of hym, so and his 23 merci is^e with hym.

CAP. III.

The sonus of wisdom ben the chirche 1 of iust men, and the^f nacioun of hem is obedience and loue. Dereworthe sonus, 2 here 3e the^g doom of the fadir; and do 3e so, that 3e be saaf. For whi God onouride 3 the fadir[†] in sonus, and he sekith, and hath maad stidfast the doom of the^h modir in to sonus. He that loueth God, 4 schal preie for synnes, and he schal absteyne hym silf fro tho, and he schal be herd in the preier of daies. And as he 5 that tresourith, so andⁱ he that onourith his modir. He that onourith his fadir, 6 schal be maad myrie in sonus, and he schal be herd in the dai of his preier.
 He that onourith his fadir, schal lyue bi 7 lengere lijf; and he that obeieith to the fader, schal refreische the modir^k[‡]. He 8 that dredith the Lord, onourith fadir and modir; and he schal serue in werk, and word, and al^l pacience to hem that gendriden^m 9 hym as to lordis. Onoure thi fadir, that 10 the blessing of God come to thee; and his blessing dwellithⁿ in the laste. The bless- 11 yng of the fadir makith stidfast the housis of sonus; but the cursyng of the modir drawith out the^o foundementis. Haue 12

* have pacience til to the bihold- ing; thanne God biholdith pacient men, whanne he deliuerith hem, and makith hem ioyeful.
 † If we doon not penaunce; for synnes, fro whiche a man may not be al vngilti in present tyme.
 ‡ in to the hondis of the Lord; that is, in to Goddis punysching ful greuouse. bi the greetnesse of hym; that is, his power to punysch hem, that ben obstynat in synne.
 † his merci; in sparing hem, that doen penaunce.
 ‡ him; for whi euer either is the same thing with Goddis being.
 † of wisdom; that is, of God, which is wisdom, thorou beyng ether kynde.
 † obedience and loue; as a man liberal excellently is seid not onely liberal, but also liberalte.
 † Live here. c.
 † God onouride the fadir; that is, comaundide, that the fadir be onourid bi sonus.
 † sekith; for he sekith stidefastly the keperis of this heest, to rewarde hem, and the trespassours, to punysche hem.
 † Live here. c.
 † the modir; that is, schal coumforte hir.
 † Live here. c.

^g Om. c.

^d and thei i. ^e Om. n. ^f Om. c. ^g Om. i. ^h Om. ceteri. ⁱ Om. i. ^k modir, that is, shal coumforte hir v. ^l in al x. ^m bigaten i. ⁿ dwelle ca. ^o Om. i.

forsothe of the moder drawith out foun-12 demens bi the roote. Ne glorie thou in the wrong of thi fader; forsothe it is not 13 to thee glorie, but shenshepe. The glorie forsothe of a man, of the wrshepe of his fadir; and the vylenye of the sone, the 14 fader withoute wrshepe. Sone, mekeli tac the laste age of thi fader, and ne 15 sorewe thou hym in his lif; and if he faile in wit, 3if for3yuenesse, and dispyse thou not hym in thi^h vertue; forsothe the almesse deede of the fader shal not be 16 in for3etyng. For whi for the synne of the moder shal be restored to thee good, 17 and in ri3twisnesse it shal ben bild vp to thee; and in the dai of tribulacioun it shal be remembrid of thee, and as iys in 18 cleer, thi synnes shul ben loosed. Of hou euel loos is he, that forsaketh the fader;
 and he is cursid of God, that terreth to 19 wrathe the moder. Sone, in debonernesse thi werkes parforme, and ouer the glorie 20 of men thou shalt be looued. Hou myche thou art gret, meeke thee in alle thyngus, and byforn God thou shalt fynde grace; 21 for gret my3t is of God alone, and of 22 meeke men he is wrshipid. He3ere thyngus than thiself seche thou not, and strengere thingus than thiself ne serche thou; but the thingus that God comaund-ide to thee, thenk hem euermor; and in manye werkes of hym 'ne be thouⁱ kuri-23 ous. Forsothe it is not nedeful to thee, tho thingus that ben hid, to seen with 24 thin ezen. In oueruoide thingus wile thou not enserchen manyefold; and in manye werkes of hym thou shalt not be 25 curious; manye forsothe thyngus ouer the wit of men ben shewid to thee.
 26 Manye forsothe supplaunted the suspi-sioun of hem, and in vanytee heeld down 27 the wittis of hem. The harde herte shal han euel in the laste; and that 28 looueth perile, in it shal pershen. The thou not glorie in the dispisyng of thi fadir; for it is not glorie to thee, but confusoun. For whi the glorie of a man is 13 of the onour of his fadir; and the schen-schip of the sone is a fadir with out onour.

 Sone, resseyue the elde of thi fadir, and 14 make thou not hym sori in his lijf; and 15 if he failith in wit*, 3yue thou for3yuenesse, and dispise thou not hym in thi vertu; for whi the almes of the fadir schal not be for3etyng. For whi good 16 schal be restorid to thee for the synne of the moder, and bildyng schal be maad to 17 thee in ri3tfulnesse; and it schal remembre of thee in dai^p of tribulacioun, and thi synnes schulen be releessid, as iys in clere-nesse^q of the sunne. He is of ful yuel 18 fame, that forsakith the fadir; and he that wraththith^r the^s moder, is cursid of God. Sone, performe thi werkis in mylde- 19 nesse, and thou schalt be loued ouer the glorie of men. In as myche as thou art 20 greet†, make thee meke in alle thingis, and thou schalt fynde grace bfore God;
 for whi the power of God aloon is greet, 21 and he is onourid of meke men. Seke 22 thou not hizere thingis than thou, and enquere thou not strongere thingis than thou; but euere thenke thou tho thingis, whiche God comaundide to thee; and be thou not curiouse‡ in ful many werkis of
 hym. For it is not nedeful to thee to se 23 with thin izen tho thingis, that ben hid.
 In superflu thingis nyle thou seke many- 24 fold; and be thou not curiouse in many werkis of hym; for whi ful many thingis 25 aboute the wit of men|| ben schewid to thee. For the suspicioun of many men 26 hath disseyued hem, and withhelde her wittis in vanytee. An hard herte schal 27 haue yuel in the laste tyme; and he that loueth perel, schal perische ther ynne. An 28 herte that entrith bi tweie weies§, schal not haue prosperitees, ether reste; and a

* if he failith
 in wit; for it is not his synne, but kyndeli
 defaute.
 almes of the fadir; that is,
 3ounn for the soule of the fadir.
 synne of the moder; that is,
 almes 3ounn
 in to remyssioun of her
 synne. *Live
 here. c.*
 † art greet; in power, kunnyng, ether
 vertu.
 Seke thou not,
 etc.; as ben the priuytes of Godhed. *Live
 here. c.*
 ‡ be thou not
 curiouse, etc.;
 for in sicke is more vanyte
 than profit.
Live here. c.
 || many thingis
 aboute the wit
 of men; that is, tho that weren schewid
 to the hooly profetis, to the helthe of men,
 to whiche it is to assente mekely or stidefastly.
 suspicioun;
 for they that presumen of her wit, sup-
 posen that they moun come to the knowing of alle hize thingis. in vanyte; for bi this thei felden
 in to errours,
 and eresies.
 An herd herte;
 that azenstondith Goddis stir-
 ing to good.
 in the laste
 tyme; for, as Austyn seith,
 in a sermoun
 of the Inno-centis, a synnere is smytun bi this punysching, that whanne he dieth, he forgete him silf,
 which the while he lyuede, for3at God.
 loueth perel;
 that is, occa-
 siouns of synnes. Live

here. c.

§ bi tweie weyes; that is, that hath the knowing of good in vndurstonding, and malice in wille. Live here. c.

^h Om. A. ⁱ be thou not AGH.

^p the dai A pr. m. ^q clerenesse, ether heete CEF GHIMNPQR SUVXYC. ^r or whettith I marg. ^s his I.

herte goende in to two weies, shal not han welsum chaunces; and the shrewde 29 herte in them shal be sclaudred. A wicke^k herte shal ben greeued in so-rewes; and the synnere shal lei to to 30 synnen. To the synagoge of proude men shal not be helthe; forsothe the thicke^l bush of synne in hem shal ben taken vp bi the^m roote, and it shal not 31 be vnderstonde. The herte of the wise man is vnderstonde in wisdom, and the goode ere shal heren with alle coueitende 32 wisdom. The wis herte and vnderstandable shal abstenen hymself from synnes, and in werkes of riȝtwisnesse welsum 33 aftercomyngus shal han. Brennende fyr water shal quenche, and almes deede 34 aȝenstandeth to synnes. And God is the forlookereⁿ of hym that ȝeldeth grace; he hath mynde in to afterward, and in time of his falling he shal finde fastnyng.

CAP. IV.

1 Sone, the almesse deede of the pore man ne begile thou, and ouerturne thou not 2 thin eȝen fro the pore. The hungrende soule ne dispise thou, and terre thou not out to wrathe the pore in his myseise.
3 The herte of the helpeles ne tormente thou, and drawe thou not a long ȝifte to 4 the man^o put in streit. The preȝing of the troblid ne caste thou awei, and turne thou not awei thi face fro the nedi. Fro 5 the helpeles ne turne thou awei eȝen^p for wrathe, and 'leeue thou not, 'or ȝif thou not cause^q, to men sechende to curse bi-6 hynde to thee. Forsothe of the man cursende to thee in bitterness of soule, ful out herd shal be the preȝeere of hym; forsothe he shall here hym, that made 7 hym. To the congregacioun of pore men mac thou thee homli to speken, and to the man of schrewid herte schal be sclaudrid in tho. A wickid herte schal be greuyd 29 in sorewis; and a synnere schal 'hepe to do^t synne. Helthe schal not be^{*} to the 30 synagoge^u of proude men; for whi the thicke wode of synne schal be drawun out bi the roote in hem, and it schal not be vndurstondu[†]. The herte of a wise 31 man is vndurstonduⁿ in wisdom, and a good eere schal here wisdom with al coueitise. A wijs herte and able to vndur- 32 stonde schal absteyne it silf fro synnes, and schal^v haue prosperitees in the werkis of riȝtfulnesse. Watir quencheth fier bren- 33 nyng, and almes aȝenstonduⁿ synnes. And 34 God, the biholdere of hym that ȝeldith grace[‡], hath mynde aftirward; and he schal fynde stidefastnesse in the^w tyme of his fal.

CAP. IV.

Sone, defraude thou not the almes of a pore man, and turne not ouere thin iȝen[§] fro a pore man. Dispise thou not an 2 hungri man, and wrathe thou not a pore man in his nedynesse. Turmentes thou not the herte of a nedi man, and tarie thou not the ȝifte to a man that is set in angwisch. Caste thou not awei the 4 preiȝng of a man set in tribulacioun, and turne not awei thi face fro a nedi man.
Turne not awei thin iȝen fro a pore man 5 for ire^{||}, and ȝyue not occasioun to men axyng to curse thee byhynde. For the 6 preyer of hym that cursith thee in the^x bitternesse of soule, schal be herd; for-sothe he that made hym, schal here hym.
Make thee eesi to speke to the congrega- 7 cioun of pore men, and make meke thi soule to a preest[¶], and make meke thin

* Helthe schal
not be; that is,
goostly helthe,
that stonduⁿ
in good disposicioun of ver-
tues. wode;
that is, al excusacioun lous-
ing synne. Live
here. c.
† it schal not be vndurstonduⁿ;
of synneris that nylen thenke
on Goddis domes. Live
here. c.
‡ that ȝeldith
grace; that is,
doith almes,
of the goodis ȝouun of God
to hise mem-bris. hath mynde; in encreessinge his good. in the
tyme of his fal;
that is, of his deth, for as Austyn seith,
mersi aloone is the felow of deed men.
defraude thou
not the almes
of a pore man;
in witholdinge
to thee that,
that is bitakun
to ȝyue to pore men, ether in denyinge of thyn owne
good in the
tyme of nede,
in which it is due to a pore
man. Live
here. c.
§ turne not
ouer thyn iȝen;
that is, that thouȝ thou
maist not ȝyue almes bi the hond, thou ȝyue namely the wille, and benygne lokyng.
Live here. c.
|| Turne not
awei thin iȝen fro a pore man for ire; that is, thouȝ he wrathe the thee bifore, leeue thou not herfore to do good to him.
cursith; that is, wischith to thee yuel of peyne, that

ȝyueth vndurstonduⁿ to him to whom it is wischid, that so bi his owne turment he be stirid to haue compassioun of othere men. Live here. c.
¶ to a preest; that is, do thou du reuerence to an eld man. Live here. cv.

^k wicked A. ^l Om. c pr. m. ^m Om. A. ⁿ forth loker ÆGH. ^o anguyssh E pr. m. ^p thin eȝen A.
^q Om. c et E pr. m.

^t adde to to I. ^u synage I. ^v it schal I. ^w Om. I. ^x Om. I.

prest meeke thou thi soule, and to the 8 mad gret meeke thou thin hed. Bowe down to the pore thin ere^r withoute drerynesse, and zeld thi dette, and an-9 swere pesibli in debonernesse. Delyuere hym that wrong suffreth fro the hond of the proude man, and egreli, ^{or} heuyly^s, 10 bere thou not in thi soule. In demende be thou to the^t fadirles childer merciful as a fadir, and for a man, ^{or} husbonde^a, to 11 the moder of hem; and thou shal be as an obeisaunt sone of the heigest, and he shal han merci of thee more than a moder.
 12 Wisdam to his sonus inbrethede lif, and receyueth the men out sechende him, and he shal go befor in the weie of riztwis-13 nesse; and he that looueth it, looueth lif, and that waken to it, shul clippe togidere the^v 'gladnesse, or pesiblenesse'^w, of it.
 14 Who holden it, shuln eritagen lif; and whider it shal gon in, God shal blissen^x.
 15 Who seruen to it, obeshende shul ben to the hoeli man; and hem that loouen it, 16 God looueth. Who hereth it, demeth folkis of kinde; and who biholdeth it, shal 17 abide stille trostende. If he schal^y 3yue feith to it, he shal abide stille, and eritagen it; and the creatures of hem shul 18 be in fastnyng togidere. For in tempta-cioun it goth with hym, and in the first 19 thyngus it chees hym^z. Drede, and ferd, and prouyng it shal bringe in vp on hym, and schal^a tormenten hym in tribulacioun of his techyng, to the tyme that it tempte hym in his tho3tis, and he leue 20 to his soule. And it shal fastne hym, and a rizt euene weie bringe to hym, 21 and gladen hym; and nakenen his hidde thingus to hym, and tresoren vp on hym kunnyng, and vnderstanding of riztwis-22 nesse. If forsothe he schal^b ful^c erre, it shal forsaken hym, and it shall taken heed to a greet man. Boowe down with⁸ out sorewe thin eere to a pore man, and zelde thi debt, and answeere thou pesibli in myldenesse. Delyuere thou hym that⁹ suffrith wrong fro the hond of a proude man, and bere thou not heuyli in thi soule.

 In demynge be thou merciful as a fadir¹⁰ to fadirles children, and be thou for an hosebonde to the modir of hem; and thou¹¹ schalt be as an obedient sone of the hizeste, and he schal haue merci on thee more than a modir 'hath merci' on hir child. Wisdom^{*} enspirith lijf to hise sones,¹² and resseyueth men sekinge hym, and schal^z go bfore in the wei of riztfulnesse; and he that loueth that wisdom, loueth¹³ lijf, and thei that waken to it[†], schulen biclipe the pesiblenesse, ether swetnesse^a, therof. Thei that holden it, schulen en-¹⁴ herite lijf; and whidir it schal entre, God schal blesse. Thei that seruen it, schulen¹⁵ be obeynge to the hooli; and God loueth hem, that louen it. He that herith it,¹⁶ demeth folkis; and he that biholdith it^b, schal dwelle tristili. If a man bileueth to¹⁷ it, he schal dwelle, and enherite it; and the creaturis of hem schulen be in confermyng[†]. For in temptacioun it goith with¹⁸ hym, and among the firste it chesith hym[§]. It schal brynge in on hym drede,¹⁹ and feer, and preuyng, and it schal turmente hym in the tribulacioun of his doc-tryn, til it tempte hym in hise thou3tis, and bileue to his soule^{||}. And it schal²⁰ make hym stidefast, and schal brynge rizt weie to hym, and it schal make hym glad;
 and schal^c make nakid hise priuytees to²¹ hym, and schal tresore on hym kunnyng, and vnderstanding of riztfulnesse. For²² sothe if he errith, God schal forsake hym, and schal bitake hym in to^{cc} the hondis of his enemy. Sone, kepe thou tyme, and²³

^{*} Wisdom; vnmaad, that is, Goddis Sone. enspirith lijf; that is, purpos and desir of betere lyf, bi his teching. and resseyueth men sekinge him; in encreessinge to hem the gifte of wisdom. go bfore in the weye; of riztfulnesse, in schewyng it. Live here. c. [†] thei that waken to it; bi studie of reding, and of preyer. holden it; bi hert and werk. lijf; of grace and of glorie. that biholdith; that is, bi hooly meditacioun. Live here. c. [‡] in confermyng; that is, the werkis of hem schulen be confermed in good. Live here. c. [§] it chesith hym; that is, arettith him with chosun men, that ben the firste and beste anentis God. drede; of offence, and feer of helle. brynge in; that is, schal suffre to be brougt in for his good. tempte him; that is, make knowun to othere men the goodnesse of his soule. Live here. c. ^{||} and bileue to his soule; that is, make that credence be 3ouun to hise wordis; that comen forth of the conseit of soule. and schal bringe, etc.; that is, schal bringe him to rizt weie. schal make nakid, etc.; that is, schal schewe

the priuytes of his kunnyng. kunnyng and vnderstanding of riztfulnesse; that he kunne dresse him silf and othere men in to the weye of riztfulnesse.

^r eeze H. eye AG. ^s Om. c et E pr. m. ^t Om. AEGH. ^a Om. c et E pr. m. ^v in A. ^w gladnesse c pr. m. E pr. m. pesiblenesse E sec. m. marg. AGH. ^x ben blessed E pr. m. AGH. ^y Om. c pr. m. ^z Om. c pr. m. ^a Om. c pr. m. ^b Om. c pr. m. ^c ful out c pr. m.

^y Om. i. ^z it schal i. ^a the swetnesse o. ^b it bi hooli meditacioun v. ^c it schal i. ^{cc} Om. i.

23 hym in the hond of his enemy. Sone, waite tyme, and shone awei fro euel.
24 For thi soule, 'or lyyf^d, be thou not confoundid^e to seyn soth; ther is forsothe 25 confusioun 'bringende to^f synne, and ther is confusioun bringende to glorie and 26 grace. Ne take thou to face azen thi face, 27 ne azen thi soule lesing. Ne shame thou 28 thi nezhebore in his falling, ne azen holde thou a woord in time^g of helthe. Hide thou not thi wisdam in the fairnes of 29 hit; in the tunge forsothe wisdam is knownen, and wit, and kunnyng, and techyng, in the wrd of the weel feelende; and fastnyng in the werkis^h of 30 ryztwisnesse. Azensey thou not to the wrđ of treuthe any maner; and of lesingⁱ of thi myslernyng be thou confoundid.
31 Be thou not confoundid to knouelechen thi synnes; and^j ne sochete thou thee to 32 eche man for synne. Wile thou not with-stonde^k azen the face of the myzti, ne enforce thou azen the stroc of the flood.
33 For ryztwisnesse fyt for thi soule, and vnto deth strif for ryztwisnesse; and God shal outfytten, 'or ouer come^l, for thee 34 thin enemys. Wile thou not be swift in thi tunge, and vnprofitable and sloz in thi 35 werkis. Wile thou not ben as a leoun in thin hous, turnende awei thin homli men, and oppressende to men soget to 36 thee. Be not thin hond put forth to taken, and to zyuen^m drawn togidere.

CAP. V.

1 Wile thou not taken heed to wickideⁿ possessiouns, and ne seye thou, Ther is to me suffisaunt lif; no thing forsothe it shal profiten in the tyme of veniaunce, and 2 of oppressing, 'or deth^o. Ne folewe thou in thi strengthe the coueiting of thin herte, 3 and ne sey thou, What maner myzte I, or who me shal subiecten for my deedis?
4 God forsothe veniende shal venien. Ne vnonestly. Live here. c.

Y myzte; vndurstonde thou, so Y schal be myzty aftirward. Live here. c.

^d Om. c et E pr. m. ^e offendid A. ^f Om. c pr. m. ^g the time E pr. m. ^h wrdis c pr. m. ⁱ the lesynge AGH. ^j Om. AGH. ^k stonde AGH. ^l Om. c et E pr. m. ^m zyue thingis E pr. m. ⁿ wicke GH.
^o Om. c et E pr. m.

^d ethchewe I. ^e suget CNV. ^f of deth G.

eschewe^d thou fro yuel. Be thou not 24 aschamed for thi lijf^{*} to seie treuthe; for whi ther is schame that bryngith synne, and ther is schame that bryngith glorie 25 and grace. Take thou not a face azens 26 thi face[†], nethir a leesyng azens thi soule.
Schame thou not thi neizbore in his fal, 27 nether withholde thou a word in the tyme 28 of helthe. Hide not thi wisdom[‡] in the fairnesse therof; for whi wisdom is knowun 29 in tunge, and wit, and kunnyng, and techyng in the word of a wijs man; and stid-fastnesse is in the werkis of ryztfulnesse.
Azenseye thou not the word of treuthe in 30 only maner; and be thou aschamed of the leesyng of thi mislernyng. Be thou not 31 aschamed to knoueleche thi synnes[§]; and make thee not suget to ech man for synne.
Nyle thou stonde azens the face of the 32 myzti, nethir enforse thou azens the stroc of the flood. For ryztfulnesse fytte thou 33 for thi soule^{||}, and til to the deth stryue thou for ryztfulnesse; and God schal ouer-come thin enemyes for thee. Nyle thou 34 be swift in thi tunge, and vnprofitable and slak in thi werkis. Nyle thou be as 35 a lioun in thin hous, turnynge vpsedoun thi meneals, and oppressynge hem that ben sugetis^e to thee. Thin hond be not 36 redi to take[¶], and closid togidere to zyue.

CAP. V.

Nile thou take heed to wickid possessiouns, and seie thou not, Sufficient lijf^{} is to me; for it schal no thing profite in the tyme of veniaunce, and of failynge, ether deth^l. Sue thou not the coueitise of thin herte in thi strengthe, and seie thou 3 not, As Y myzte^{††}, ether who schal make me suget for my dedis? For whi God veng-ynge schal venge. Seie thou not, Y haue 4

²⁴ schame that bringith synne; that is, schame bi which a techere ceaseth to seye treuthe, lest he suffre schame of grettere prelatia in the sight of men. schame that bryngith glorie and grace; that is, schame, which is suffrid patiently for treuthe. Live here. c.
^{*} Be thou not aschamed for thi lijf; to be set forth to deth. Live here. c.
[†] azenus thi face; that is, azenus thi soule. Live here. c.
[‡] Hide not thi wisdom; in makinge derk the truthe bi curiosewordis. Live here. c.
[§] thi synnes; to him that can and may zyue remedy. to ech man for synne; to be curid, but onely to him that kan and may sette remedy. of the myzti; that is, of God. of the flood; that is, of Goddis ryztfulnesse, azenus which they withstonden, that ben obstynat in synnes. Live here. c.
^{||} for thi soule; that is, for the helthe of thi soule. til to deth; for good deth is worthi to be chosun more than the trespassing of ryztfulnesse. swift in thi tunge; that is, heedly to bringe forth sentence. slak in thi werkis; that is, in parfournynge the sentence zoun iustly. Live here. c.
[¶] to take; ziftis vniustly, ether ^{††} As

sey thou, I synnede, and what to me falleth sorewy^p? Forsothe the heizeste is 5 a pacient zeldere. Of the forzyuenesse of synnes, wile thou not^q be withoute drede, ne ley thou to synne vp on synne.
6 And sey thou not, The merci of God is gret; of the multitude of my synnes he 7 shal han mercy. Mercy forsothe and wrathe fro hym soone nezheth, and in to synneres beholdeth the wrathe of hym.
8 Ne tarie thou to be conuertid to the Lord, and ne putte^r thou it of fro dai in 9 to day. Sodeynli forsothe shal come the wrathe of hym, and in time of veniaunce 10 he shal distroze thee. Wile thou not ben anguysht in vnrizt riches; forsothe thei shul not profiten in the dai of deth 11 and of veniaunces. Ne throwe thou^s thee out in to eche wynd, and go thou not in to eche wei; so forsothe a synnere is 12 proued in double tunge. Be thou stede-fast in the weie of the Lord, and in the^{ss} treuthe of thi wit and kunnyng; and parfitli folewe thee the wrd of pes and 13 of rijtwisnesse. Be thou debonere to here^t the wrd of God, that thou vnderstonde, and with wysdam thou schalt^u 14 bringe forth 'a soth^v answer. If ther is to thee vnderstanding, answer to thi nezhbore; elles forsothe thin hond be vp on thi mouth, lest thou be take in an vndisciplined wrd, and thou be con-15 foundid. Wrshipe and glorie in the wrd of the weel felende; the tunge forsothe of the vnprudent is the turnyng vp so 16 doun of hym. Be thou not clepid a twisil tunge^w, 'or a priue bacbiter^{ww}, in thi lif, and be thou not take in thi 17 tunge, and confoundid. Forsothe vp on a theef is confusioun, and peyne taking,
and werst repref vp on the twisel tunge.
To the priue grucchere forsothe^x hate, 18 and enemyte, and strif. Iustefie thou lic maner the^y litle and the^y grete.

synned, and what sorewful thing bifelle to me? For the hizeste is a pacient zeldere.
Of the forzyuenesse of synnes, nyle thou⁵ be without drede^{*}, nether heepe thou synne on^s synne. And seie thou not, The⁶ merciful doying of God is greet; he schal haue merci on the multitude of my synnes.
For whi merci and ire neizeth soone fro⁷ hym, and his ire biholdith on synneris.
Tarie thou not to be conuertid to the⁸
Lord, and dilaie thou not fro dai in to dai.
For whi his ire schal come sodeynli, and⁹ he schal leese thee in the time of ven-iaunce. Nyle thou be angwischid in vn-¹⁰ iust richessit[†]; for tho schulen not profite in the dai of failing, ether of^h dethⁱ, and of veniaunce. Wyndewe[‡] thee not in to ech¹¹ wynd, and go thou not in to ech weie;
for so a synnere is preued in double tunge.
Be thou stidfast in the weie of the Lord,¹² and in treuthe and kunnyng of thi wit; and the word of pees and of rijtfulnesse sue thee perfitli. Be thou mylde to here¹³ the word of God[§], that thou vndurstonde, and with wisdom brynge thou forth a trewe answer. If thou hast vndirstond-¹⁴ yng, answer thi neizbore; ellis thin hond be on thi mouth, lest thou be takun in a word vnwiseli tauzt, and be aschamed.
Onour and glorie is in the word of a wijs¹⁵ man; but the tunge of an vnprudent man is his distriyng. Be thou not clepid a¹⁶ preuy yuel spekere in thi lijf, and be thou not takun in thi tunge, and be aschamed.
Schame and penaunce is on a theef, and¹⁷ worst^k schenschip^l is on a man of double tunge. Forsothe hatrede and enemytee and dispisyng is to a preuy bacbitere.
Iustifie thou a litil man and a greet man¹⁸ in lijk maner.

* nyle thou be with out drede;
for thou woost
not wher the penaunce is sufficient, and thou; it is sufficient to remouyng of synne, netheles
not of al peyne.
Live here. c.

† richessis; to be getun yuele, ether to with-holdun yuele.
Live here. c.

‡ Wyndewe, etc.; in tech-
ing boostfully
and presumptu-
ously. in to ech weye; that is,
in rehersyng ech opynyoun,
and cleuyng
now to this,
now to another.
in double tunge;
in techinge now
the truthe, and now affirm-
yng the con-
trarie of truthe, whiche thing
techeris doubt-
inge ether vnstidfast in feith, ben wont to do. in the weye of the Lord; as to feith. in the truthe, and kunnyng of thi
wit; that is,
in the stiring
of kyndly re-
soun as to ver-tues. Live here.
c.

§ to here the word of God;
in heringe
swetly an axing
of feith, ether of vertues, set forth to thee.
that thou vndurstonde; the entent of the axere. Live
here. c.

^p sorew A sec. m. EG. ^q Om. A. ^r bere E pr. m. ^s Om. A. ^{ss} Om. c pr. m. ^t Om c pr. m.
^u Om. c pr. m. ^v Om. AGH. ^w tungid A. ^{ww} Om. c et E pr. m. ^x Om. A. ^y to A.

^g vpon I. ^h Om. s. ⁱ deed v. ^k ful yuel I. ^l schenschip, ether cursyng c et ceteri.

CAP. VI.

1 Wile thou not be mad for a frend enemy to thi neȝheboꝛe; repref forsothe and strif the euel man shal eritagen, and eche synnere enuyous and twisil 2 tungid. Ne enhaunce thou thee in the thenking of thi soule, as a boole; lest perauenture be hurtlid awei thi strengthe 3 bi folie, and thi lefes it ete, and thi frutes it leese, and thou be laft as a drie 4 tree in wildernesse. A shreude forsothe soule shal destroyed hym that hath it, and in to ioȝe of his enemy it ȝyueþ hym, and shal bringe down in to the lot 5 of vnpytous men. A sweete wrd mul-plieth frendis, and swagith enemys; and a gracious tunge in a good man shal 6 abounde. Manye pesible ben to thee, and counsellour be to thee oon of a thousand.
 7 If thou weldist a frend, in temptacioun weld hym, and ne liztli opene, 'or trowe^a, 8 thou thiself to hym. Ther is forsothe a frend aftir his tyme, and 'schal not abide^b 9 stille in the dai of tribulacioun. And ther is a frend that is turned to enemyte; and ther is a frend, that hate, and strif, and 10 reprefes shal discoueren. Ther is for-sothe a frend, felawe of the bord, and 11 abidith not stille in the dai of nede. A frend if he^c abide stille stablid, he shal be to thee as euene with, and in thin 12 homli thingus trostli he shal do. If he shal meeken hymself aȝen thee, and hiden hymself fro thi face, thou shalt han good 13 frenshepe of o wil. Fro thin enemys be thou seuered, and of thi frendis tac heed.
 14 A feithful frend a strong^d proteccioun; who forsothe fyndeth hym, fyndith tresor.
 15 To a feithful frend is no comparisoun; ther is not wrthi peising of gold and of siluer aȝen the goodnesse of the feith of 16 hym. A feithful frend^e leching of lif, and of vndealdynesse; and who dreden^f

CAP. VI.

Nile thou for a freend be maad enemyte to the^m neȝboꝛe; for whi an yuele man schal enherite vpbreidyngⁿ and dispisyng, and ech synnere enuyouse and double tungid. Enhaunse thee not in the^o thouȝt² of thi soule, as a bole doith; lest thi vertu^{*} be hurtlid down bi foli, and it ete thi³ leeuës, and leese thi fruytis, and thou be left as a drye tree in deseert. Forsothe⁴ a wickid soule schal leese hym that hath it, and it ȝyueþ hym in to the^p ioie of the enemyte, and it schal leede forth in to the part of wickid men[†]. A swete word mul-⁵ tiplieth frendis, and swagith enemytes; and a tunge wel graciously schal be plenteuouse in a good man. Many pesible men be to⁶ thee, and oon of a thousynde be a coun-sellour to thee. If thou hast a frend, haue⁷ hym in temptacioun[‡], and bitake not liztli thi silf to hym. For ther is a frend bi his⁸ time, and he schal not dwelle in the dai of tribulacioun. And ther is a frend which⁹ is turned to enemyte; and ther is a frend, that schal schewe opynli hatrede, and chiding, and dispisyngis. Forsothe¹⁰ ther is a frend, felowe^q of table, and dwellith not in the dai of nede. If a frend¹¹ dwellith stidfast[§], he schal be as a man euene with thee, and he schal do tristili in thi meyneal^r thingis. If he mekith hym¹² silf bifore thee, and hidith hym^{rr} fro thi face, thou schalt haue good frendship of oon acord. Be thou departid fro thin¹³ enemytes, and take heede of thi frendis.
 A feithful frend is a strong defendyng; ¹⁴ forsothe he that fyndith him, fyndith tresour. No comparisoun is to a feithful¹⁵ frend; weiyng of gold and of siluer is not worthi aȝens the goodnesse of his feithfulnesse. A feithful frend is medecyn of¹⁶ lijf^{||}, and of vndealdynesse; and thei that dreden the Lord, schulen fynde hym. He¹⁷

* thi vertu;
 that is, sultile
 of thi wit. bi foli; that is,
 bi mysusing of thi kunnyng;
 and this foli
 ete thi leeuës;
 that is, distrie
 thi faire wordis.
 Lire here. c.
 † in to the part of wickid men;
 that is, in to helle, which is the eritage of wickid men. c.

‡ haue him in temptacioun;
 that is, preue thou him in
 thyn aduersite.
 bitake, etc.; in schewing thi
 priuytes to him,
 bifor that thou
 haue preued
 him. bi his tyme; that is,
 tyme of pros-
 perite, coue-nable to his wyynyng. Lire
 here. c.

§ If a frend dwellith stide-
 fast; with thee
 in frendship to God. mekith
 him; that is,
 consentith with thee in alle goodis. hidith
 hym; in procuring thi
 good more in thyn absence
 than in presence. Lire
 here. c.

|| is medecyn of lyif; for he loueth bi cha-rite, and procurith to his frend the goodis of grace, that quykeneth goostly, and bryngith to vndealdynesse of glorie. c.

^a Om. c et e pr. m. ^b abidith not c pr. m. e pr. m. ^c Om. c pr. m. ^d frend a strong feithful c pr. m. frend is a stroong feithful A. stronge frende and a feithful G. ^e frend is A. ^f dredith A.

^m thi I. ⁿ edwityng c et ceteri. ^o Om. c. ^p Om. I. ^q to felowe c. ^r memoreal c. ^{rr} hym silf A pr. m.

17 the Lord, shul finden hym. Who dredeth the Lord, euenly shal han good frenshipe; for after hym shal ben his frend.
18 Sone, fro thi 3outh the tac doctrine, and vn to hoore^g heris thou shalt finde wis-19 dam. As he that ereth, and that sowith, ne3he thou to it, and sustene the goode 20 frutes of it. In the werk forsothe of it a litil thou shal trauailen, and soone thou 21 shalt ete of^h the getingus of it. Hou sharp ful myche is wisdam to vnwise men, and ther shal not abide stille in it the 22 herteles. As the vertue of a ston, prouyng shal be in them; and thei shul not 23 abide to throwe it afer. The wisdam forsothe of doctrine isⁱ after the name of it, and not to manye it is opened; to whom forsothe it is knowen, it abit^j 24 stille, vnto the sizte of God. Here, sone, and tac counseil of vnderstandyng, and 25 caste thou not awei my counseil. Thro3 in thi feet in to the gyues of it, and in to 26 the coleris of it thi necke. Vnderlei thi shulder, and ber it, and ne bere thou 27 heuysumli in^k the bondis of it. In al thin inwit ne3he to it, and in al thi ver-28 tue kep the weies of it. Enserche it, and it shal be mad open to thee; 'and thou^l mad withholding, ne forsake thou^m it.
29 In the laste thingus forsothe thou shalt finde reste in it, and it shal be turned to 30 thee in to liking. And the gyues of it shul be to thee 'in toⁿ proteccioun of strengthe, and the feet of vertue, and the 31 coleris of it in a stoele of glorie. The fairnesse forsothe of lif is in it, and the 32 bondis of it holsum binding. Stoele off glorie thou shalt clothen it, and a crowne of thanking thou shalt putte aboue to 33 thee. Sone, if thou schalt^o take heed to me, thou shalt lerne it; and if thou lenest to,
'or dressist^p, thin inwit, thou shalt be wis.
34 If thou bowest in thin ere, thou shalt take doctrine; and if thou looue to heren, that dredith the Lord, schal haue euenli good frendschip; for whi his frend schal be at the licesse of hym. Sone, fro thi is 3ongthe take thou doctryn, and til to hoor heeris thou schalt fynde wisdom. As he¹⁹ * an hertles that erith, and that sowith, nei3e thou to it, and abide thou the goode fruytis therof.

For thou schalt trauele a litil in the werk²⁰ therof, and thou schalt ete soone of the generaciouns therof. Wisdom is ouer²¹ scharp to vntau3t men, and an hertles man^{*} schal not dwelle there ynne. As the²² vertu of a stoon, preuyng schal be in hem;
and thei schulen not tarie to caste awei it.
Forsothe the wisdom of techyng is bi the²³ name therof, and it is not opyn to many men; but it dwellith with hem, of whiche^t it is knowun, til to the sizt of God. Sone,²⁴ here thou, and take the counsel of vndurstandyng[†], and caste thou not awei my counsel. Set in thi foot in to the stockis²⁵ therof, and thi necke in to the bies therof.
Make suget thi schuldir, and bere it, and²⁶ be thou not anoiied in the boondis therof.
In al thi wille go to it, and in al thi vertu²⁷ kepe the weies therof. Enquere thou it,²⁸ and it schal be maad opyn to thee; and thou made holdinge wisdom forsake not
it. For in the laste thingis thou schalt²⁹ fynde reste ther ynne, and it schal turne to thee in to deliting. And the stockis³⁰ therof schulen be to thee in defence of strengthe, and the foundementis of vertu, and the bie therof in a stoele of glorie[†].
For whi the fairnesse of lijf is in wisdom,³¹ and the boondis therof ben heelfulⁿ bynd-yng. Thou schalt 'were it as a^v stoele of³² glorie, and thou schalt sette on thee a coroun of thankyng. Sone, if thou takist³³ heede to me, thou schalt lerne wisdom; and if thou 3yuest thi wille, thou schalt be wijs. If thou bowist down thin eere,³⁴ thou schalt take teching; and if thou louest for to here, thou schalt be wijs. Stonde³⁵

* an hertles
man, etc.; that is, a man with outen herte,
which is neegli-

gent in the geting of wisdom. the vertu
of a stoon; that is, weizte. to the sizt of God;
in ledinge hem
to the staat of glorie. Lire
here. c.

† of vndurstanding; that is, bi which thou schalt rede
with ynne thee,
good to sue it,
and ynel to fle
it. thi foot;
that is, affec-
cioun, ether
desir. in to the stockis therof;
that is, of wisdom, in cleu-

ynge to it without departing.
and thi necke;
that is, bere
gladly, and without anoy, trauel in the geting of wisdom. in al thi
soule; in appli-

ynge al thyn vndirstanding and loue to wisdom. in al
thi vertu; that is, good werk.
the stockis
therof, etc.;
that is, vnse-
parable cleuyng with wisdom. in defence
of strengthe;
for he that stondith on wisdom, is not brokun bi ad-
uersite. the bie
therof; that is,
the teching of wisdom, which is formed in the throote. Lire
here. c.

† a stoele of glorie; for whi,
double glorie
of bodi and of
soule is getun bi wisdom. Lire
here. c.

^g thyn hoore E pr. m. ^h Om. A. ⁱ Om. c pr. m. that AG. that thou H. ^m Om. c sec. m. E sec. m. leuest dressist AGH.

^j abideth AEGH. ^k to AGH. ^l and c pr. m. E pr. m. ⁿ in AGH. ^o Om. c pr. m. ^p Om. c et E pr. m.

^a ful c et celeri. ^t whom I. ^u heltheful c. ^v clothe it in a c pr. m. E. clothe it a HPUVY. clothe, ether weere it in a c sec. m. GKMNQRSAÇ. clothe it as a I text. or were I marg. were it a F.

35 thou shalt be wis. In the multitude of prudent prestis stond thou, and to the wisdom of hem of herte be thou ioyned; that al the telling of God thou mowe heren, and the prouerbis of preisyng 36 ascape not fro^q thee. And if thou see the wel felende man, wake out to hym, and thi foot ofte trede the grees 'of the 37 dores of hym^r. Thenking haue thou in the hestes of God, and in the maundemens of hym most bisi be thou; and he shal 3yue to thee an herte, and coueytinge of wisdom shal ben 3oue to thee.

CAP. VII.

1 Wile thou not don eueles, and thei
2 shul not cacche thee. Go awei fro the wicke, and ther shul failen eueles fro 3 thee. Sowe thou not eueles in foorewes of vnri3twisnesse^s, and thou shalt not repen^t them in to the seuethe^u fold.
4 Wile thou not sechen of a man the dignete of a ledere, ne of a king the chazer 5 of wrshepe. Iustefie thou not thee bifor God, for he ys knowere of the herte^v; and anent the king wile thou not wilne to 6 ben seen wys. Wile thou not sechen to be mad a domes man, but if thou mowe bi vertue breken wickidnesses; lest parauenture thou out drede the face of the 7 my3ti, and putte sclaunder in thin hider and thider deliuerne. Synne thou not 8 in the multitude of the cite, ne poote thee in to the puple; ne bynde thou to double synnes, ne forsothe thou shalt be 9 in oon gilteles. Wile thou not ben a 10 couward in thi soule, to prezen; and to 11 don almesse deede, ne dispise thou. Ne sei thou, In the multitude of my 3iftus God shal beholde; and me offrende to the 12 he3est God, my 3iftis he shal take. Scorne thou in the multitude of prudent* preestis, and be thou ioyned of herte to the wisdom of hem; that thou maist here ech telling of God, and the prouerbis of preisyng fle not away fro thee. And if thou seest a 36 wijs man, wake thou to hym, and thi foot trede on the greeces^{vv} of his doris. Haue 37 thou thou3t in the comaundementis of God, and be thou most bisi in his heestis; and he schal 3yue to thee herte[†], and coueitise of wisdom schal be 3ouun to thee.

CAP. VII.

Nile thou do yuels, and tho schulen not 1 take thee. Departe thou fro wickidnesse, 2 and yuels schulen faile fro thee. Sowe 3 thou not yuels in the forewis[†] of vnri3tfulnesse, and thou schalt not repe tho in seuene fold. Nyle thou seke of a man 4 ledyng, nethir of a kyng the chaier of onour. Iustifie thou not thee bifore God, 5 for he is the^w knowere of the herte; and nyle thou wilne to be seyn wijs anentis the king. Nile thou seke to be maad a 6 iuge, no^x but thou maist breke wickidnessis bi vertu; lest thou drede the face of a my3ti man, and sette sclaunder^s in^{xx} thi swiftnesse. Do thou not synne in the 7 multitude of a cytee, nether sende thee in to the puple; nether bynde thou double 8 synnes^{||}, for thou schalt not be giltles in oon. Nyle thou be a coward in thi soule, 9 to preie; and dispise thou not to do almes. 10 Seie thou not, God schal biholde in the 11 multitude of my 3iftis; and whanne Y schal offre to God alther hijeste, he schal take my 3iftis. Scorne thou not a man in 12 the bitternesse of soule; for whi God is the biholdere, that makith meke, and en-

* of prudent; bi this ben excludid vnwise elde men and faylinge in vertues; for whi othere vertues ben knyt to prudence.
† prestis; that is, elde men; and this may be expowned of good prestis, that ben holdun to kunne Goddis lawe, and teche it.
Lire here. c. † 3yue to thee herte; to vnderstonde and worche tho.
Lire here. c. † in the forewis; that is, 3yue thou not ensauple of yuel doing to men enclynant herto, not repe tho; in payne to be 3ouun to thee sevenfold, that is, manyfold; for whi to hou many men a man is cause of synne, bi so many peynes he schal be punyschid, bi the ordre of ri3tfulnesse.
Nyle thou seke of a man ledyng; that is, that thou be maad ledere of othere men in goostly thingis, ether temporal thingis; for whi vertues owen to be more excelent in souereyns; but it is presumptuous thing, that a man arette him silf to be more vertuous than othere, and therfor it is vicious to coueite, ether to seke prinshed outirly; netheles it is leueful and good to take it in the tyme of nede, as Austin seith. Lire here. c.

thee, etc.; in consentinge to it in yuel. Lire here. c.

thou schalt be punyschid for euer either, for a iuge is holdun to lette the dede of the puple in sicke thingis. Nyle thou be coward, etc.; as if he seye, Be thou not so bisy of the gouernail of the puple, that thou dispise to do the helthe of thi soule, bi preyeris and werkis of mersy. in the multitude of my 3iftis; in so myche, that he schal not punysche my synnes; for whi this is fals. Greg. seith, he that 3yueh mete ether clothis to a pore man, and is netheles defouled bi wickidnesse of soule, ether of bodi, 3yueh hise goodis to God, and him silf to the deuyl. Lire here. c.

^q Om. c pr. m.

^u seuenthe ceteri.

^r Om. A. of the house of him GH.

^v hertes c pr. m.

^s vnri3twijs AGH.

^t gedere c pr. m. E pr. m.

^{vv} grees i. ^w Om. i. ^x Om. i. ^{xx} to i.

thou not a man in the bitterness of soule; God forsothe the lokere aboute is, 13 that enhaunceth and meketh. Wile thou not looue lesing azen thi brother; and in 14 to a frend lic maner do thou not. Wile thou not wilne to lien eche lesing; the besynesse forsothe of hem is not good. 15 Wile thou not be ful of wrdis in the multitude of prestus; and reherse thou not 16 a wrd in thin orisoun. Hate thou not trauailous werkes, and cherlish doing 17 foormed of the heizest. Ne acounte thou thee in the multitude of men withoute 18 discipline. Haue mynde of wrathe, for 19 it shall not tarie. Meeke gretli thi spirit, for veniaunce of the flesh of the vnpi- 20 touse man is fier, and worm. Nyle thou trespasse azen thi frend dilaiynge monei; nether dispise thou a ful dereworth bro- 21 ther for gold. Nyle thou departe fro a wijs womman, and good, whom thou hast gete in the drede of the Lord; for whi the grace of hir schamefastnesse is aboue 22 gold. Hirte thou not a seruaunt worch- ynge in treuthe, nether an hirid man 30 ynge his lijf†. A witti seruaunt be dere- worthe to thee as thi soule; defraude thou not hym of fredom, nether forsake thou hym nedi. Beestis ben to thee? take 24 thou heede to tho; and if tho ben profitable, dwelle tho stille at thee. Sones 25 ben to thee? teche thou hem, and bowe thou‡ hem fro her childheed. Dou3tris 26 ben to thee? kepe thou the bodi of hem, and schewe thou not glad face to hem. 3yue thi dou3ter to mariage, and thou 27 doist a greet werk; and 3yue thou hir to a wijs man. If a womman is to thee aftir 28 thi soule§, caste hir not awei; and bitake thou not thee in alle thin herte to an hate- ful womman. Onoure thi fadir; and for- 29 zete thou not the weilyngis^{zz} of thi modir. Haue thou mynde that thou haddist not 30 be, no^a but bi hem, and zelde thou to hem as and^b thei diden to thee. In al thi soule 31 drede thou God, and halewe thou hise preestis. In al thi vertu loue thou him 32 that made thee; and forsake thou not hise haunsith. Nyle thou loue a leesyng azen 13 thi brother; nether do thou in lijk maner azen a frend. Nyle thou wilne to lie ony 14 leeing; for whi the contynuaunce therof is not good. Nyle thou be a ianglere in 15 the multitude of preestis; and reherse thou not a word in thi preier*. Haate thou not 16 trauelouse werkis, and erthetilk maad of the hizeste. Arette thou^y not thee in 17 the multitude of vnlernyd men. Haue 18 thou mynde on ire, for it schal not tarie. Make thou meke greetli thi spirit, for whi 19 the veniaunce of the fleisch of an vnpi- touse man is fier, and worm. Nyle thou 20 trespasse azen thi frend dilaiynge monei; nether dispise thou a ful dereworth bro- 21 ther for gold. Nyle thou departe fro a 21 wijs womman, and good, whom thou hast gete in the^z drede of the Lord; for whi the grace of hir schamefastnesse is aboue 22 gold. Hirte thou not a seruaunt worch- ynge in treuthe, nether an hirid man 30 ynge his lijf†. A witti seruaunt be dere- worthe to thee as thi soule; defraude thou not hym of fredom, nether forsake thou hym nedi. Beestis ben to thee? take 24 thou heede to tho; and if tho ben profitable, dwelle tho stille at thee. Sones 25 ben to thee? teche thou hem, and bowe thou‡ hem fro her childheed. Dou3tris 26 ben to thee? kepe thou the bodi of hem, and schewe thou not glad face to hem. 3yue thi dou3ter to mariage, and thou 27 doist a greet werk; and 3yue thou hir to a wijs man. If a womman is to thee aftir 28 thi soule§, caste hir not awei; and bitake thou not thee in alle thin herte to an hate- ful womman. Onoure thi fadir; and for- 29 zete thou not the weilyngis^{zz} of thi modir. Haue thou mynde that thou haddist not 30 be, no^a but bi hem, and zelde thou to hem as and^b thei diden to thee. In al thi soule 31 drede thou God, and halewe thou hise preestis. In al thi vertu loue thou him 32 that made thee; and forsake thou not hise

* in thi preier; preier may be takun here for an axing maad to wise men, and this owith to be set forth so distinctly and reasonably, that it bihoueth not it to be rehersid; ether thus, preier owith not to be maad to God in myche speche, in bi- leuynge that it is herd herbi. Arette not thee, etc.; in swynge the felouschipe and maneris of hem. Live here. c.

† 3yuyng his lijf; that is, spendynge his lijf in thi seruyce. Live here. c.

‡ bowe thou; vndur chastising. the bodi of hem; that thei renne not aboute, and so be corrupt. glad face; lest thei be wantoun bi sich flatering. Live here. c. § aftr thi soule; that is, if thou hast a wiyf consentinge to thi resonable wille. an hateful; in schewynge to hir the priuyte of thyn herte, as Samson dide to Dalida. Live here. c.

^w to c pr. m. ^x for delaying E pr. m. ^y derworthist E sec. m. AGH. ^z Om. c pr. m. ^a bi AGH.
^b If beestis A. ^c If sones A. ^d If do3tris A. ^e Tac c pr. m. ^f thou shalt 3yue A.

^y Om. plures. ^z Om. 1. ^{zz} weilyng A pr. m. ^a Om. 1. ^b Om. ci.

32 the prestes of hym halewe. In al thi vertue looue hym that made thee; and the seruauns of hym forsac thou not.
33 Wrshepe thou God of al thi soule; and wrshiþe prestus, and purge thee forth 34 with armes. 3if to them part, as and maundement is^e to thee, of first frutes, and of purging; and of thi^h negligenc 35 purge thee with fewe. The 3ifte^l of thin armes, and the sacrificise of halewing, thou shalt offre to the Lord, the bigynyngus 36 of hoeli thingus. And to the pore put forth thin hond, that plesing be parform-37 ed, and thi blessing. Grace of 3ifte in the sizte of alle lyuyng; and to the deade 38 forfende thou not grace. Fayle thou not to wepende men to ben in coumforting; 39 and with weilende men go thou. No3e it not thee to visiten the sike; of these thingus forsothe in louyng^k thou shalt 40 be fastned. In alle thi werkes haue in mynde thi laste thyngus; and withoute ende thou shalt not synne.

CAP. VIII.

1 Stryue thou not with a my3ti man, lest paraurenture thou falle in the hondys 2 of hym. Striue thou not with a riche man, lest paraurenture a3enward he sette 3 strif to thee. Manye men forsothe gold and siluer hath lost; and vnto the herte^l 4 of kingus it streccheth, and turneth.
Striue thou not with a tungy man, and^{ll} ne greithe thou in to the fir of hym wode.
5 Comune thou not to a man vnta3t, lest 6 he speke euele^m of thi progenye. Dispise thou not a man turnende awei hymself fro synne, ne putte thou repref to hym; haue mynde, for alle in corrup-7 cioun wee ben. Ne dispise thou a man in his elde; forsothe of vs thei waxen 8 olde. Wile thou not of thin enemy dead io3en, witende for alle wee dien, and in 9 to io3e wee wiln come. Dyspise thou not the telling of wise prestis, and in the prouerbis of hem togidere dwelle thou; mynystis. Onoure thou God of al thi³³ soule; and onoure thou preestis, and clense thee with armes*. 3yue thou to hem the^c 34 part^d of the firste fruytis, and of purgyng, as also it is comaundid to thee; and of thi negligenc purge thou thee with fewe men. Thou schalt offre to the Lord the³⁵ 3yfte of thin armes, and the sacrifice of halewyng, the bigynnyngis[†] of hooli men.

And dresse thin hond to a pore man, that³⁶ thi merci and blessing be performyd.
Grace is 3ouun in the sizt of ech that³⁷ lyueth; and forbede thou not grace to a deed man. Faile thou not in coumfort to³⁸ hem that wepen; and go thou with hem that morenen. Be thou not slow to visite³⁹ a sijk man; for bi these thingis thou schalt be maad stidfast in loue. In alle⁴⁰ thi werkis haue thou mynde on thi laste thingis; and thou schalt not do synne withouten ende^e.

CAP. VIII.

Chide thou not with a mi3ti man, leste¹ thou falle in to hise hondis. Stryue thou² not with a riche man, lest paraurenture he make ple a3enward to thee. For whi gold³ and siluer[†] hath lost many men; and it stretchith forth til to the herte of kyngis, and turneth^f §. Chide thou not with a⁴ man, a ianglere, and leie thou not trees in to his fier. Comyne thou not with an⁵ vntau3t man, lest he speke yuele of thi kynrede. Dispise thou not a man turn-⁶ yng awei hym silf fro synne, nether vp-breide^g thou hym; haue thou mynde, that alle we ben in corrupcioun. Dispise thou⁷ not a man in his eelde; for whi of vs men wexen eld. Nyle thou make ioie of thin⁸ enemy deed, witynge that alle we dien, and wolen not come in to ioie of oure enemys. Dispise thou not the tellyng of⁹ wise preestes, and be thou conuersaunt in the prouerbis of hem^{||}; for of hem thou¹⁰

g it is A. h the C. i first A. k looue C pr. m. l hertis A. ll Om. A. m eueles C pr. m.

c Om. I. d partis C. e ende, that is, neuere v. f turneth doom v. g edwite ceteri.

* with armes; that is, bi of-fringis getun
with thi trauel.
of purging;
that is, of
tithe, that was due to dekenes,
in xvij. c. of Numeri. with fewe men; for thyn owne defaute owth not to be schewid
to many men.
Live here. c.
† the bigyn-nyngis, etc.;
that is, the firste fruytis
and dymes
and siche of-fringis be the bigynnyngis of halewyng of men.
be performyd;
that is, the re-
myssioun of thi synnes, and the 3ifte of bene-fices. grace is 3ouun; that is,
schal he 3ouun
in the general
doom, for it
schal be seid thanne for the werkis of pitee, Come 3e the blessid of my fadir, etc. Live
here. c.
‡ gold and siluer, etc.; that is, couetise of gold and of siluer. Live
here. c.
§ and turneth;
that is, doom
fro trithe into falsnesse, and so ful many inocent men ben damned in thingis and bodies bi money
of riche men.
leie thou not trees, etc.; that is, mater to kyndle his woodnesse bi thi striuyng;
in corrupcioun;
that is, goen to corrupcioun,
ether deth; for we ben maad
of contrarie elementis. Live
here. c.
|| prouerbis of
hem; that is,
notable wordis
of hem. of el-dere men; in whiche is wisdom and experience of long tyme. Live
here. c.

10 of hem forsothe thou shalt lerne wisdom, and doctrine of vnderstanding, and fructu-tuousli vse grete men withoute pleynt.
11 Passe not beside thee the telling of elderes; thei forsothe lerneden of ther fa-12 dris. For of hem thou shalt lerne vnder-standing; and in tyme of nede thou shalt 13 3yue an answer. Teende thou not colis of synneres, vndernymende hem; and lest thou be tend with the flaume of theⁿ fyr 14 of the synnes of hem. Stonde thou not a3en the face of the strifful; lest he sitte 15 as a spiere to thi mouth. Wile thou not leenen to a man strengere than thiself; 16 that if thou leenest, haue it as lost. Be-hote thou not ouer thi vertue; that if 17 thou behote, as 3elding bethenk. Deme thou not a3en the iuge; for after that ys 18 riztwis, he demeth. With a fool hardy man go thou not in the weie, lest paraumenture he gregge his eueles in thee; he forsothe aftir his wil goth, and togidere with the folie of hym thou shalt 19 pershen. With the wrauthful man make thou not ianglyng, and with the fool^o hardy go thou not in to desert; for as no3t is^p anent hym blod, and where is not helpe, he shal hurtle thee down.
20 With fooles haue thou not counseil; for-sothe they shul not moun loouen, but 21 tho thingus that plesen to them. Beforn a straunger make thou not counseil; for-sothe thou wost not, what he bere out.
To alle men thin herte opene thou not;
lest par amenture it bringe in to thee fals grace, and yt poote reproof to thee.

CAP. IX.

1 Be thou not gelouse to the womman of thi bosum; lest she shewe vp on thee 2 the malice of shreude doctrine. 3yue thou not to a womman power of thi soule; lest she go in to thi vertue, and vnduly. the malice of yuel doctryn; in ymaginyng the deth, as siche wymmen ben taugt of yuele elde wymmen. power of thi soule; that is, that sche be lord of thee. entre in thi vertu; that is, mystake to hir that that is propir to the hosebonde. Live here. c.

schalt lerne wisdom, and techyng of vn-durstondyng, and to serue without pleynt to grete men. The tellyng of eldere men 11 passe not thee; for thei han lerned of her fadrir. For of hem thou schalt lerne vn- 12 durstondyng; and in the^h tyme of nede thou schalt 3yue answer. Kyndle thou 13 not* the coolis of synneris, and repreue hem; and be thou not brent with the flawme of fier of her synnes. Stonde thou 14 not a3ens the face of a man ful of dispisyng; lest he sitte as a spiere to thi mouth.
Nyle thou leene† to a man strongere than 15 thou; that if thou hast lent, haue thou it as lost. Biheeteⁱ thou not aboute thi 16 power^k; that if thou hast bihi3t, bithenke thou as 3eldyng†. Deme thou not a3ens 17 a iuge; for he demeth vp that, that is iust.
Go thou not in the weie with an hardi 18 man§, lest peramenture he agregge hise yuels in thee; for he goith aftir his wille, and thou schalt perische togidere with his foli. Make thou not chidyng with a 19 wrauthful man, and go thou not in to desert with an hardi man; for whi blood|| is as nou3t bifore hym, and where noon help is, he schal hurtle thee down. Haue 20 thou not counsel with foolis; for thei moun not loue, no^l but tho thingis that plesen hem. Make thou not a counsel bifore a 21 straunger; for thou noost^m, what he schal bringe forth. Make not thin herte knowun to ech man¶; lest peramenture he brynge to thee fals grace, and dispise thee.

CAP. IX.

Loue thou not gelousli the womman 1 of thi bosum; lest sche schewe on thee the malice of yuel doctryn. 3yue thou not to 2 a womman the power of thi soule; lest sche entre in thi vertu, and thou be schent.

* Kyndle thou
not, etc.;
whanne thei
ben obstynat,
ether ben set in wra3the
out of mesure,
for thanne thei ben not amend-
id, but ben
maad worse;
nethes this schal be vndurstondun of brotheris repreuyng, which is ordeyned to the amending of
him that is repreuyd, but not of repreuyng maad bi a iuge, for that repreuyng is ordeyned to
the good of multitude; so-thely a multitude is amendid bi the scharp
blamyng and
punysching of
him that is obstynat and wrooth. *Live
here. c.*
† Nyle thou leene, etc.; that suth the fers-nesse of his strengthe. *Live
here. c.*
‡ as 3eldyng;
for thou art
holdun to do thi my3t. *Live
here. c.*
§ hardi man;
that is, stirid heedly bi the fernesse of
ire. *Live here.
c.*
|| blood; that is, schedinge
out of innocent blood. *Live
here. c.*
¶ to ech man;
but onely to a very frend
and preued.
fals grace; that is, feyned frenschipe. *Live
here. c.*
 Loue thou
not gelously,
etc.; that is,
be thou not suspiciouse ouer myche of the chastite of
thyn owne
wiyf, and arte hir, ether make hir streit herfor

ⁿ Om. c pr. m. ^o Om. c pr. m. ^p Om. AGH.

^h Om. i. ⁱ Bihote i. ^k vertu EGHKMNPRQSUUVXYA. ^l Om. i. ^m woost not i.

3 thou be confoundid. Behold not a womman myche wilnende; lest par auenture 4 thou falle in to the snares of hir. With a leperesse, ^{or tumbler}^a, be thou not besy, ne here hir; lest par auenture thou pershe 5 in the delyuere doying of hir. A maiden beholde thou not; lest par auenture thou 6 be sclandred in the fairnesse of hir. 3yue thou not to^r lechhoures^s thi soule in any thing; lest thou leese thee, and thi soule, 7 and thin eritage. Wile thou not beholden aboute in the weies of the cite; ne erre 8 thou aboute in the stretis of it. Turne awei thi face fro a gai womman; and be-holde thou not aboute straunge fairnesse.
9 For the fairnesse of a womman manye men persheden; and of it lust as fyr 10 brenneth out. Eche womman that is lecherous, as a thost in the weie shal 11 ben ^{to-treden}^t. The fairnesse of an alien womman many men wndrid ben mad repreuable; forsothe the togidere speche 12 of hir as fyr brenneth out. With an alien womman outerli sitte thou not, ne 13 ly thou with hir vp on the arm; and striue thou not with hir in wyn, lest par auenture she bowe down thin herte in to hir, and bi thi blod thou slyde in to 14 perdicoun. Forsake thou not an old frend; forsothe the newe shal not be lic 15 to hym. Newe wyn a newe frend; it shal waxen old, and with swetnesse thou 16 shalt drinke it. Looue thou not the glorie and the richessis of the synnere; for-sothe thou wost not, what be to come 17 the turnyng vp so doun of hym. Plese not to thee the wrong of vnri3twis men, witende for vnto helle the vnpitous shal 18 not plesen. Aferr^u be thou awei fro a man hauende power of sleyng, and not of rering, and thou shalt not ouertrowen 19 the dred of deth; and if thou ne3hest to hym, wile thou not any thing don amys, lest par auenture he take awei thi lif.

men thei dreden to be poisoned in ech mete and drynke, and that tresouns ben set to hem in ech place. Live here. c.
be in dwellinge with a tiraunt. Live here. c.

Biholde thou not a womman of many³ willis^{*}; lest perauenture thou falle in to the snaris of hir. Be thou not customable⁴ with a daunseresseⁿ, nethir here thou hir; lest perauenture thou perische in the spedi werk of hir. Biholde thou not a virgyn;⁵ lest perauenture thou be sclaudrid in the feirnesse of hir. 3yue not thi soule[†] to⁶ hooris in any thing; lest thou leese thee, and thi soule, and thin eritage. Nyle thou⁷ biholde aboute in the lanys of the cytee; nethir erre thou in the large streetis ther-of. Turne awei thi face fro a womman⁸ ^{wel arayed}[†]; and biholde thou not aboute the fairnesse of othere^p. Many men han⁹ perischid for the fairnesse of a womman; and ^{herbi couetise}^q brenneth ^{an hiz}^r as fier. Ech womman which is an hoore,¹⁰ ethir customable to fornyacioun, schal be defoulid[§] as a fen^s in the weie. Many¹¹ men wondrynge on the fairnesse of an^t alien womman^u weren maad repreuable, for whi the speche of hir brenneth an hiz as fier. Sitte thou not in ony maner with¹² an alien womman, nether reste thou with hir on a bed; and iangle thou not with¹³ hir in wyn, lest perauenture thin herte boowe in to hir, and thou falle in to perdicoun bi thi blood. Forsake thou not an¹⁴ eld frend; for a newe frend^{||} schal not be lijk hym. Newe wijn is a newe frend; it¹⁵ schal wexe eld, and thou schalt drinke it with swetnesse. Coueyte thou not the¹⁶ glorie and richessis of a synnere; for thou noost^v, what distriyng of hym schal come.
The wrong of vniust men plese not thee,¹⁷ and wite thou that a wickid man schal not plese til to hellis[¶]. Be thou fer fro¹⁸ a man that hath power to sle^{}, and thou schalt not haue suspicioun of the drede of deth; and if thou nei3est to hym, nyle¹⁹ thou do ony trespasse, lest perauenture he take awei thi lijf. Knowe thou the²⁰ comynyng of deth^{††}; for thou schalt entre

^{*} a womman
of many willis;
that coueitith
now this man,
now that man.
^a daunseresse;
for sich strech-
ing forth of wommans membris ex-
citith the desir
of lecherie.
Live here. c.
[†] thi soule;
that is, thi consent. Live
here. c.
[‡] wel arayed;
for sich arai is a snare, to take men, and herbi;
that is bi vi-
chast lokingis
and spechis
and signes.
Live here. c.
[§] defoulid; of alle men, for sche is ful myche suget to lechery. Live
here. c.
^{||} a newe frend;
as me noot of newe wyn, what maner wyn it
schal be in the ende; so of a newe frend, me noot what feithfulnesse he schal haue.
Live here. c.
[¶] til to hellis;
for thanne and not bifore he in peyne schal
plese seyntis,
as he displeside
hem in synne.
Live here. c.
^{} fer fro a man that hath power
to sle; that is,
fro a cruel tyraunt. drede of deth; that is,
in makinge thee
fer fro him,
thou schalt do away fro thee
the drede of
deth. of snaris;
for whi ti-rauntis euere setten forth snaris to sugetis, that they haue occasioun to rauysche
her goodis
of hem that sorewen; that is, of tirauntis
that ben euere
in sorewe, for whi for the yuels that thei
diden to othere

^{††} of deth; that is, to

^a Om. c et e pr. m. ^r Om. g. ^s lecherous AH. ^t troden AGH. ^u Ferr c pr. m.

ⁿ daunstere i. ^o gay i. ^p an oother mannus wiff i. ^q herof concupiscence i. ^r out i. ^s toord ceteri.
^t Om. A pr. m. et plures. ^u wommen GSV. ^v wost not i.

20 The comunyoun of deth wite thou; for in the myddil of grenes thou shalt gon in,
and vp on the armes of men sorewende 21 thou shalt gon. Aftir thi vertue war thee fro thi `nexte, or ney3bore^a; and with wise 22 men and prudent men^v trete thou. Ri3twis men be thei^w to thee metefelawes^x; and in the drede of God be to thee glori-23 yng. And in the^y wit be to thee thenk-ing of God; and al thi telling out in the 24 hestes of the he3est. In the hond of 'craftis men^z werkes shul ben preisid, and the prince of a puple in wisdam off his sermoun; in the wit forsothe of el-25 deres a wrd. Ferful is in his cite a tungy man; and the fool hardy in hys woord hateful shal ben.

CAP. X.

1 A wis domesman shal demen his puple; and the princehod of the `wel felende, `or 2 witti^a, shal ben stable. Aftir the domesman of the puple, so and the seruauantis of hym; and whiche maner^b is the gouernour of the cyte, suche and the dwelleris in^c it.
3 An vnwis king shal leesen his puple; and cites shul ben enhabitid bi the wit of 4 prudent men. In the hond of God the power of the erthe, and abhominable alle wickidnesses of the^d Jentiles; and a profitable gouernour in tyme he shal reren vp 5 on it. In the hond of God is^e the power of man; and vp on the face of the `scribe, or man of lawe^f, he shal putte vp on his 6 wrshiþe. Of alle the wrong of thi ne3he-bore haue thou not mynde; and no thing 7 do thou in the werkes of wrong. Hateful biforn God and men is pride; and cursful alle wickidnessis^g of Jentiles.
8 Rewme^h fro folc in to folc is born ouer, for vnri3twisnesses, and wrongus, and 9 striues, and dyuers treccheries. Forsothe than the auerous man no thing isⁱ more in to the myddis of snaris, and thou schalt go on the armuris of hem that sorewen.

Bi^w thi vertu kepe thee fro thi ney3bore^{*}; 21 and trete thou with wise men and prudent men. Just men be gestis, ethir^x 22 mete feris, to thee; and^{xx} gloriyng be `to thee^y in the dreed of God. And the thou3t 23 of God be to thee in wit[†]; and al thi tell-yng be in the heestis^z of the hizeste.
Werkis schulen be preisid in the hond of 24 crafti men, and the prince of the puple in the wisdom of his word; forsothe in the^a wit of eldere men a word^{b†}. A man, a 25 ianglere, is dredeful in his citee; and a fool hardi man in his word schal be hateful.

CAP. X.

A wijs iuge schal deme his puple; and 1 the prinshed of a witti man schal be stidfast[‡]. Aftir the iuge of the puple, so and 2 hise mynystris; and what maner man is the gouernour of the citee, siche ben also men dwellinge ther ynne. An vnwijs king 3 schal leese his puple; and citees schulen be enhabitid bi the wit of prudent men. The 4 power of erthe is in the hond of God, and al the wickidnesse^{||} of hethene men is abho-mynable; and he schal reise a profitable gouernour at a tyme on it. The power of 5 man is in the hond of God; and he schal sette his onour on the face of a wijs man in the lawe. Haue thou not mynde on al 6 the wrong of the ney3bore; and do thou no thing[¶] in the werkis of wrong. Pride is 7 hateful bifore God and men; and al the wickidnesse of hethene men is abhomynable.
A rewme is translatid^c fro a folk in 8 to folk, for vnri3tfulnessis, and wrongis, and dispisyngis, and dyuerse gilis. No 9 thing is cursidere than an auerouse man^{}.
What art thou proude, thou erthe and

* ney3bore;
that may speke agenus thee to a tiraunt. Live
here. c.

† in wit; that is, applie thi wit to thenke
on God. Live
here. c.

‡ a word; that is, a schort word, seid of a wise man,
schal be preisid
more than a greet telling seid of an other
man. Live here.
c.

§ be stidfast;
summe bokis
han ferdful;
that is, to yuele
men. Live here.
c.

|| wickidnesse;
that is, the fe-lonye of idola-trie. Live
here. c.

¶ do thou no thing, etc.; that is, do thou no wrong to no man for thi power. Live
here. c.

 auerouse man; not that auarice is greuousere synne
than othere,
but for richessis gaderid bi auerice 3yuen
nursching to alle vices. c.

^a nexte c et e pr. m. AH. nexte ne3ebore G. ^v Om. c pr. m. ^w Om. c pr. m. ^x wacchis e pr. m.
^y Om. c pr. m. ^z crafti men A. ^a Om. c et e pr. m. ^b Om. c pr. m. ^c of A. ^d Om. AGH.
^e Om. AEGH. ^f scribe c pr. m. e pr. m. GH. scribe or maister of lawe A. ^g the wickidnes A. wicke-nesse E. wickidnes GH. ^h A rewme A. ⁱ Om. c pr. m.

^w Aftir I. ^x or i pass. ^{xx} and thi I. ^y Om. I. ^z heest I. ^a Om. A pr. m. EFHNPUVXY.
^b word schal be preised I. ^c translatid, ether takun away CEFHGKMNPRQSUXYac.

ful of hydous gilte. What pridist thou^k, 10 erthe and asken^l? No thing is more wicke, than to loouen moone; this for-sothe hath his soule sillable, 'or able to be sold'^m, 'for inⁿ his lif he thre; awei 11 his^o inward thingus. Of eche myztihed short lif; lengere infyrmyte greueth the 12 leche. Short sicknesse the leche kut-teth of; so and a king to dai is, and to 13 moru shal die. Whan forsothe a man shal dien, he shal eritagen serpentes, and 14 bestes, and wermes. The bygynnyng of the pride of man to go backward fro God; 15 for fro hym that made hym his herte wente away. For the bygynnyng of alle synne is pride; who 'schal holde^p it, shal be fulfid with cursis, and it shal turne 16 hym vp so down in to the ende. Therfore the Lord dispisid^q the couentis of euele men, and destroyede them 'in to^r 17 the ende. The setes of proude dukes God destroyede; and made mylde men to 18 sitte for hem. The rootis of proude folkis^s God driede; and plauntide meke men of 19 tho folkis. The londis of Jentiles the Lord turnede awei; and destroyede them 20 vn to the foundement. He made drie of them, and scaterede them; and made to cesen the mynde of hem fro the erthe.
 21 God lost^t the mynde of proude men; and lafte the mynde of meke men in wit.
 22 There is not shapen^u to men pride; ne wrathefulnesse to the nacioun of wym-23 men. The sed of men shal be wrshipid, that that dredeth God; that sed forsothe shall ben put out of wrshiipe, that passeth 24 the maundemens of 'the Lord^v. In the myddel off brethern the gouernour of them in wrshiipe; and that dreden^w God, 25 shul ben in the ezen of hym. The glorie of wrshepid riche men and of pore is the 26 drede of God. Wile thou not dispisen the ri3twis pore man; and not magnefien 27 the riche synful man. Gret is a iuge, and the my3ti is in wrshiipe; and he is aische*? No thing is worse, than for to 10 loue monei; for whi this man hath also^d his soule set to sale, for in his lijf he hath cast awei hise ynneste thingis. Ech 11 power is schort lijf; lengere^e siknesse greueth the leche. A leche kittith awei^t 12 schort siknesse; so and a king is to dai, and to morewe he schal die. Forsothe 13 whanne a man schal die, he schal enherite serpentis, and beestis, and wormes. The 14 bigynnyng of pride of man^f was to be apostata[†] fro God; for his herte zede 15 awei fro hym that made hym. For whi pride is the bigynnyng of al synne; he that holdith it, schal be fillid with cursyngis, and it schal distrye hym in to the ende. Therfor the Lord hath schent the 16 couentis of yuele men, and hath destried hem til 'in to^s the ende. God destriede 17 the seetis of proude duykis; and made mylde men to sitte for hem. God made 18 drie the rootis of proude folkis; and^h plauntide meke men of tho folkis. The 19 Lord destriede the londis of folkis; and loste tho 'til toⁱ the foundement. He made 20 drie the rootis of hem, and loste^k hem; and made the mynde of hem to ceesse fro the erthe. God loste the mynde of proude 21 men; and lefte the mynde of meke men in wit. Pride was not maad to men; nether 22 wrathfulnesse to the nacioun of wym-men[§]. This seed of men that dredith God, 23 schal be onourid; but this seed schal be disonourid, that passith^l the comaundementis of the Lord. In the myddis of 24 britheren the gouernour of hem is in onour; and thei that dreden God, schulen be in hise i3en||. The glorie of riche men 25 onourid and of pore men is the drede of God. Nyle thou dispise a iust pore man; 26 and nyle thou magnefie a riche synful man. The iuge is greet, and is^m mi3ti in 27 onour; and he is not grettere than that man that dredith God. Fre children 28 seruen a witti seruaunt; and a prudent

^{*} erthe and aische; that is, thou man schalt be turned soone in to erthe and aschis. his soule set to sale; and sillith it to the deuel for money. hise ynneste thingis; that is, vertues, bi vicis contrarie to tho, of which vicis couetise is the roote. whanne a man; that mysuith his power. schal die. he schal enherite serpentis; that is, fendis, as to the soule. and beestis; that is, frendis lyuynge beestly, as to the catel. and wormes; as to the bodi; and this departing is maad couenably, for the part of ech sufficieth to him silf; if the deuel hath the soule, he reckith not of othere thingis. Live here. c.
[†] kittith awei; that is, heelith soone a freisch siknesse, so synne is curid litly bifor that it wexith eld bi custom, but not aftirward. Live here. c.
[‡] apostata, etc.; that is, wilned not to be vnder the comaundement of God. Live here. c.
[§] of wymmen; that is, to alle men borun of wymmen. Live here. c.

^k thou thanne E pr. m. ^l ashen A. ^m Om. c et E pr. m. ⁿ and A. ^o Om. A. ^p holdith AC pr. m.
^q enourne out E pr. m. c pr. m. ^r vnto E. ^s folc C. ^t spilde E pr. m. c pr. m. ^u shapid AE GH.
^v God E pr. m. ^w dredith AGH.

^d zhe I. ^e longe I. ^f a man C. ^g vnto I. ^h and he I. ⁱ vnto I. ^k fordide I. ^l ouer passith I.
^m he is I.

28 not more than he that dredeth God. To the seruaunt wel felende shul seruen fre men; and a man prudent and lerned shal not grucchen chastisid, and the vnkun-29 nende shal not be wrshipid^w. Wile thou not enhaunce thee in thi werk to be do; and wile thou not dispeire^x in the time 30 of anguysh. Betere is that wercheth, and aboundeth in alle thingis, than that 31 glorieth, and nedeth bred. Sone, in de-bonernesse kep thi soule; and ȝif to it 32 wrshepe, aftir his dissert. The synnende in to his soule, who shal iustifen? and who shal worschip the puttere his soule 33 out of wrshipe? The pore glorieth bi disciplyne and his drede; and ther is a man that is wrshipid for his substaunce.
34 Who forsothe glorieth in porenese, hou^y myche more in substaunce? and who glorie^z in substaunce, porenese 'shame he^a.

CAP. XI.

1 The wisdam of the mekid shal en-hauncen the hed of hym; and in the myddel of grete men to sitten shal 2 maken hym. Preise thou not a man in his fairnesse; ne dispise thou a man in 3 his sijt. Short in foules is a bee; and the bigynnyng of swetnesse the frut of hym 4 hath. In clothing glorie thou neuermor, ne in the dai of thi wrshipe be thou enhauncid; for merueilous the werkes of the hejest alone, and glorious, and hid, 5 and vnseen the werkes of hym. Manye tirauntis seten in trone; and the vn-6 trouable, 'or of whom was no suspicioun^b, bar the diademe. Manye myȝti ben oppressid gretly; and the glorious ben taken in 'to the^c hondis of othere men.
7 Beforn that thou aske, ne blame thou any man; and whan thou shalt asken, 8 chastyse thou rijtly. Beforn that thou here, ne answeere thou a wrd; and in the myddel of eldere men ne ley thou to to 9 speken. Of that thing that greeueth not thee, striue thou not; and in the myddel 10 of synneres ne abide thou. Sone, be not in manye thingis thi deedus; and if thou man and lerned schal not grutche, whanne he is blamed, and an vnkunnyng man* shal not be onourid. Nyle thou enhaunse 29 thee in thi werk to be don; and nyle thou be slow in the tyme of angwisch. He is 30 betere that worchith, and hath plente in alle thingis, than he that hath glorie, and nedith breed. Sone, kepe thi soule in 31 myldenesse†; and ȝyue thou onour to it, aftir his merit. Who schal iustifie hym 32 that synneth azens his soule? and who schal onoure hym that disonourith his soule? A pore man hath glorie bi his 33 lernyng and drede; and ther is a man that is onourid for his catel. Forsothe if a 34 man hath glorie in pouert, hou myche more in catel? and he that hath glorie in catel, drede pouerte.

CAP. XI.

The wisdom of a man maad meke schal 1 enhaunse his heed; and schal make hym to sitte in the middis of grete men. Preise 2 thou not a man in his fairnesse; nether dispise thou a man in his sijt. A bee is 3 litol among briddis; and his fruyt hath the bigynnyng of swetnesse. Haue thou 4 neuere glorie in clothing, and be thou not enhausid in the dai of thin onour; for whi the werkis of the hijeste aloon ben wondurful, and hise werkis ben gloriouse, and hid, and vnseyn. Many tyrauntis 5 han sete in trone; and a man of whom was no supposyng bar the diademe. Many 6 myȝty men ben oppressid strongli; and gloriouse men ben ȝouun in to the hondis of othere men. Bifore that thou axe, 7 blame thou not any man; and whanne thou hast axid, blame thou iustli. Bifor 8 that thou here, answeere thou not a word; and in the myddis of eldere men† adde thou not to speke. Stryue thou not, of 9 that thing that disesith not thee; and stonde thou not in the doms of synnes.
Sone, thi dedis be not in many thingis; 10 and if thou art riche, thou schalt not be

* vnkunnyng
man; that takith not blamyng. that
worchith; ȝhe,
cherlis werk.
in alle thingis;
that is, in liyflode and clothing sufficient to his staat. hath glo-
rie; in boostinge of his kyn. Live
here. c.
† in mylde-nesse; that holdith du me-
sure and re-
freyneth exces.
aftir his merit; in makinge suget the fleich and de-sir of wittis, as it becometh.
that synneth
azens his soule; in setting the fleisch
bifor it, no man schal iustifie
him, for of the handmayde he makith a ladi,
and azenward,
and this is most vnrijtful. for his catel; that is, for richessis,
and not for vertu, and this is fals onour.
Live here. c.

† of eldere men; another
lettre hath, in the myddis of
wordis, that is,
in brekinge the wordis of him
that spekith.
Live here. c.
§ stonde thou
not in the doom,
etc.; that is, of hem that peruertten doom, appreue thou
not her sentence, nether
consente therto.
thi dedis ben
not in many thingis; for oon lettith another, whanne
many thingis
ben bigunnun, bifor that any of tho be endid.
if thou art
riche; that is.

^w chastisid c pr. m. ^x abide c pr. m. ^y Om. c pr. m. ^z glorieth AEGH. ^a schameth G. ^b Om. c et x pr. m. ^c Om. A.

were riche, thou shalt not ben gilteles fro^d trespas. If forsothe thou shalt follewe, thou shalt not ouertaken; and if thou shul renne biforn, thou shalt not 11 scapen^e. Ther is a man trauailende, and hezende, and sorewende vnпитыous; and so myche more he shal not abounde.
 12 Ther is a man welewid, nedende rekuring, more failende in vertue, and abunding, more failende in porenesse; and the eze of God beheeld hym in goode, and rered^f hym fro his lownesse, and enhauncide his hed; and manye merueileden in hym, 14 and wrshepiden God. Goodis and eueles, lijf and deth, porenesse and honeste, ben 15 of God. Wisdam, and disciplyne, and kunnyng of the lawe anent the Lord; loouyng and the weies of goode men 16 anent hym. Errour^{ff} and dercnesses to synneres ben foormed; who forsothe ful out iozen in to euell, waxen old togidere 17 in to euelis. The 3yuyng of God abidith stille to rijtwis men; and the profitus of it welsum aftircomyngus shuln han in to 18 withoute ende. Ther is that is mad riche scarsly doende, and this the part of 19 the meede of hym, in that that he seith, I fond reste to me, and now I shal eten 20 of my goodis alone. And he wot not that tyme passe biside hym, and deth ne3heth, and he^g forsaketh alle thingus to 21 othere men, and die. Stond in thi testament, and in it spec togidere; and in the 22 werk^h of thin hestis wax old. Abide thou not in the werkes of synneres; troste forsothe in God, and dwel in thi 23 place. Li3t is forsothe in the e3en of God, sodeynly to honesten the pore. The blissing of God in to the meede of the rijt-wise heezeth; and in swift wrshi-pe the 25 forth goyng of hym maketh fruyt. Ne sey thou, What to me is nede? and what 26 godis schulen be to me her aftir? Ne with out part of gilt. For if thou suest, thou schalt not take; and thou schalt not ascape, if thou rennist bifore. Ther is aⁿ 11 man trauelynge, and hastyng, and sorew-ynge, and vnпитыouse; and bi so myche more^o he schal not haue plentee. Ther 12 is a^p man fade*, nedi of rekyueryng, fail-ynge more in vertu, and plenteuouse in pouert; and the i3e of God bihelde hym 13 in good, and reside hym fro his lownesse, and enhaunsid his heed; and many men wondriden in him, and onouriden God. Goodis^{pp} and yuels†, lijf and deth, pouert 14 and oneste, ben of God. Wisdom, and 15 lernyng, and kunnyng of the lawe ben anentis the Lord; loue and the weies of goode men ben at him. Errour and derk- 16 nesis ben maad togidere to synneris; forsothe thei that maken ful out ioye in yuel, wexen eld togidere in to yuels. The 3ifte 17 of God dwellith to iust men; and encreess- yngis‡ of hym schulen haue prosperitees without ende. A^q man is^r that is maad 18 riche in doynge scarsli, and this is the part of his mede, in that that he seith, 19 Y haue founden reste to me, and now Y aloone schal ete of my goodis. And he 20 noot that tyme passith hym, and deth neizeth, and he schal leeu alle thingis to othere men, and schal die. Stonde thou 21 in thi testament§, and speke thou togidere in it; and wexe thou eld in the werk of thin heestis. Dwell thou not in the 22 werkis of synneris; but triste thou in God, and dwelle in thi place. For it is 23 esy in the i3en of God, sudeynli to make onest a pore man. The blessing of God 24 haastith in to the meede of a iust man; and the going forth of hym makith fruyt in swift onour. Seie thou not, What is 25 nede to me||? and what goodis schulen be me her aftir? Seie thou not, Y am suf- 26 ficient, and what schal Y be maad worse coueytouse of richessis vnmesurably.

 if thou suest;
 in sekinge rich-
 essis vnmesura-
 bly. thou schalt not take; that is, thou schalt not gete sufficiency, for whiche rich-
 essis ben soust;
 a coueitouse
 man hath not sufficiency bi richessis, but more nedinesse;
 for in as myche
 as he sekith
 to haue mo
 thingis coueyt-
 ously, he thirst-
 ith more mo
 thingis. thou schalt not ascape; nedy-
 nesse. if thou
 rennist bifore;
 in takinge rich-
 essis of thi fa-
 dir and modir;
 for if thou art
 coueytouse,
 thou schalt
 not be apaid
 with thingis had, but ouer-bisit to haue mo
 thingis; and if thou art a wastere, thou schalt soone
 waste thi
 goodis, and
 schalt be nedy.
 Live here. c.
 * a man fade;
 that is, feble, failinge more than othere. in vertu; of bodi.
 in pouert; for whi that litil thing that he hath, suffisith
 to him. bihelde
 him; goostly,
 for his pacience,
 and sumtyme
 also in temporal good. Live
 here. c.
 † Goodis and
 yuels; that is,
 prosperites and aduersites.
 pouert and oneste; that is,
 sufficiency of goodis. ben of God; that is,
 ben 3ouun to
 men. Live
 here. c.
 ‡ encreessyngis; etc.; that is, heapingis of meritis. prosperites; for whi gloriouse meede schal come aftir tho. Live here. c.
 § in thi testament; that is, in Goddis heest, which is ordeyned to thee, to be kept of thee. heestis; that is, of Goddis heestis put to thee. of synneris; in consenting to hem. dwelle in thi place; that is, bi loue in God, which is a place for to quyet the soule. onest; a pore man, in translating him to glorie. Live here. c.
 || What is nede to me; to triste on another man, for Y suffice to me for power, and wisdom, and siche temporal thingis; they that bileuen onely present lijf, doen this moost. what goodis etc. heraftir; that is, aftir this lijf, as if he seye, noone. c.

^d of A. ^e ascape AEGH. ^f arerede E. ^{ff} Erroures c pr. m. ^g Om. AEGH. ^h werkis E pr. m. c pr. m. ⁱ shuln ben to me of this goodes c pr. m.

ⁿ sum I. ^o the more I. ^p sum I. ^{pp} Good A pr. m. ^q sum I. ^r ther is I.

sey thou, I am suffisaunt, and what of 27 this I^k shall be mad^l werse? In the day of goodis be thou not vnmyndeful of eueles, and in the dai of eueles be thou 28 not vnmyndeful of goodis; for list is bi-for God in the day of deth to zelden to^m 29 eche aftir his weies. The malice of oon hour maketh forzetyngⁿ of most leccherie; and in the ende of a man ful nake-30 nyng^o of the werkis of hym. Bifor deth preise thou not any man; for in his sonus 31 is^p knowen a man. Not eche man bringe thou in to thin hous; manye forsothe 32 ben the spies of the treccherous. As for-sothe the entrailes of stinkende thingus bolken^q out, and as the partrich is brozt in to the pit falle, and as a capret in to the grene, so and the herte of proude men; and as the forlookere seende the 33 falling of his nezhebore. Forsoothe goode thingus in to euel^r turnyng he aspieth, and in chosen men he leith vp a wem.
34 Of oo sparcle fyr is eechid, and of oon treccherous blood is encresid; a man 35 forsothe synnere waiteth to blood. Tac heed to thee fro the deth berere, forsothe he forgeth eueles; lest perauenture he bringe vp on thee scornynge in to with 36 oute ende. Resceyue to thee an alien womman, and she schal turne thee vp so doun in a whirlewynd, and alienen thee fro thi propre weies.

CAP. XII.

1 Iff thou shul wel do, wite thou to whom thou shalt wel do; and ther shal 2 be myche grace in thi goodys. Wel do to the riztwis, and thou shalt finde gret zelding; and if not of hym, certes of the 3 Lord. It is not^s weel to hym that is besi in eueles, and to the not zyuende almes deede; for and the heizest to hate hath syneres, and hath merci to penaunce doeres.
4 3if to the merciful, and vndertake ^{or} resseyue^t thou not the synnere; and to heraftir? In the dai of goodis be thou 27 not vnmyndeful of yuels, and in the dai of yuels be thou not vnmyndeful of goodis; for it is esi bifor God to zelde in the dai 28 of deth to ech man aftir hise weies. The 29 malice of oon our^{*} makith forzeting of moost letcherie; and in the ende of a man is makyng nakid of hise werkis. Preise 30 thou not ony man bifore his deth; for whi a man is knowun in hise sones. Brynge 31 thou not ech man in to thin hous; for whi many tresouns ben of a gileful man.

For whi as the entrails of stynkyng 32 thingis breken out, and as a partrich is led in to a trap, ether net, and as a capret is led in to a snare, so and the herte of proude men; and as a biholdere seyng the fal[†] of his nezbore. For he turneth 33 goodis in to yuels, and settith tresouns, and puttith a wem on chosun men. Fier 34 is encreessid of a^s sparcle, and blood is encreessid of a^t gileful man; for whi a synful man settith tresoun to blood. Take 35 heede to thee fro a gileful man, for he makith yuels; lest perauenture he bringe yn on thee scornynge with outen ende.
Resseyue[‡] thou an alien to thee, and he 36 schal distrie thee in^u whirlewynd, and he schal make thee alien fro thin owne weies.

CAP. XII.

If thou doist wel[‡], wite thou^v to whom 1 thou doist^w; and miche grace schal be to thi goodis. Do thou wel to a iust man, 2 and thou schalt fynde greet zelding; thou not of hym, certis of the Lord. It is not 3 wel to hym that is customable in yuels, and to hym that zyueth not almes[§]; for whi the hizeste bothe hatith synneris, and doith merci to hem that doen penaunce.
Zyue thou to a merciful man, and resseyue 4 thou not a synnere^{||}; God schal zelde ven-

*maad worse; that is, schal suffre yuels for my dedis, as he seye, noone. They vndur- stondun this, that bileuen that the soule dieth with the body. in the day of goodis; that is, tyme of prosperite in this lyf. vn- myndeful of yuels; that is, of punysching in another lyf. and in the day of yuels; that is, of aduersite in presente lyf. be thou not vn- myndeful; that is, of reward- ing in heuenly blisse, for whi this mynde makith to suf- fre patiently aduersites. c. * the malice of oon hour; that is, schort tur- ment soupith vp most lust passid, and myche more long turment doith this. preise thou not; outirly and fynaly. hise sones; that is, werkis. Lire here. c. † seinge the fal; that is, wakith dili- gently to se the fal of his nez- bore, to haue ioye therof. c. ‡ If thou doist wel; in zyu- ynge thi goodis. wite thou to whom; that he be worthi to resseyue. Lire here. c. § zyueth not almes; and netheles mysty therto. Lire here. c. || resseyue thou not a synnere; that is, obstinat in synnes, that wolde be nurs- chid in synnes bi thi goodis. kepinge, etc.; that is, reser- ynge hem to the peyne of helle. Lire here. c.*

^k Om. AG pr. m. H. ^l tretid E pr. m. ^m Om. AGH. ⁿ to forzeten E pr. m. c pr. m. to forzetyng AGH. ^o openyng E pr. m. ^p shal be E pr. m. c pr. m. ^q bollen G. ^r euels AGH. ^s not forsothe E pr. m. ^t Om. c et E pr. m.

^o o plures. oon H. ^t o plures. ^u in a I. ^v Om. GN. ^w doist wel A sec. m.

vnpitouse and synneres he shal 3elde ven-iaunce, kepende them in the day of ven-iaunce. 3if to the goode, and resceyue 6thou not the synnere. Weel do to the meeke, and 3yue thou not to the vnpitous; forfende^a to 3yuen to hym loeues, lest in hem he be myztier than thou.
7 For double eueles thou shalt fynde in alle goodus, what euere thou shalt^v do to hym; for and the heizeste to hate hath synneres, and to the vnpitous he shal 8 3elde veniaunce. A frend shal not be knownen in goodis, and an enemy shal 9 not ben hid in eueles. In the goodes of a man the enemys of hym; and in the sorewe and in the malice of hym the 10 frend is knowen. Ne trowe thou to thin enemy vnto withoute ende; forsothe as bras rusteth out the shreudenesse of 11 hym. And if meekid he go crookid, thro3 awei thi wil, and keep thee fro 12 hym. Set not hym biside thee, and sitte he not at thi rizt half, lest turned he stonde in thi place; lest perauenture turned in to thi place he inwardli seche thi chaizer, and in the laste thou knowe my wrdes, and in mi wrdis thou be 13 prickid. Who shal lechen to the enchauntere smyten of the eddere, and to alle that nezhen to bestes, and that folewith with the wicke man, and is aboute 14 wrappid in his synnes? Oon hour with thee he shal abide stille; if forsothe thou 15 bowe down, he shal not vnderbern. In his lippis the enemy putteth^w in swetnesses^x, and^y in his herte he spieth, that he turne thee vp so down in to the dich.
16 In thin ezen the enemy wepith; and if he shul fynde tyme, he shal not be ful-17 fild with blod. If^z ther shul falle to thee eueles, thou shalt finde hym there rathere, 18 or former^a. In thin ezen the enemy shal wepen, and as helpende he shal vnder-19 delue thi plantes. His hed he shal moue, and flappe for io3e with the hond; and many thingus grucchendeli whistrende^b shal with chaunge his chere.

iaunce bothe to vnfeithful men and to synneris, kepyng hem in the dai of ven-iaunce. 3yue thou to a good man, and resceyue thou not a synnere. Do thou good to a meke man, and 3yue thou not to an vnpitouse man; forbede thou to 3yue looues to hym*, lest in tho he be myztier than thou. For thou schalt fynde double yuels in alle goodis, whiche euere thou doist to hym; for whi the hizeste bothe hatith synneris, and schal 3elde ven-iaunce to vnfeithful men. A frend schal not be knowun in goodis, and an enemy schal not be hid in yuels[†]. In the goodis of a man hise enemyes ben sori; and a frend is knowun in the sorewe and malice of him[‡]. Bileue thou neuer to thin enemy; for his wickidnesse roustith as irun.
Thou3 he be maad meke, and go lowe, caste awei thi soule, and kepe thee fro him. Sette thou not him bisidis thee, nether sitte he at thi rizt side, lest he turne and stonde in thi place; lest perauenture he turne in to thi place, and enquire thi chaier, and in the laste tyme thou know mi wordis, and be prickid in my wordis.
Who schal dq medecyn to an enchauntere smytun of a serpent, and to alle men that neizen to beestis, and to him that goith with an yuel man, and is wlapid in the synnes of him? In oon our3 he schal dwelle with thee; sotheli if thou bowist awei, he schal not bere vp. The enemy makith swete in hise lippis, and in his herte he settith tresoun to ouerturne^z thee in to the dich. The enemy wepith in hise ezen; and if he fyndith tyme, he schal not be fillid of blood. If yuels bifallen to thee, thou schalt fynde hym the formere there.
The enemy schal wepe bfore thin ezen, and he as helpynge schal vndurmyne thi feet. He schal stire his heed, and he schal beete with hond; and he schal speke priuyli many yuels of thee, and schal chaunge his chere.

* looues to hym; here he spekith of syn-neris obstynat.
double yuels;
that is, yuels
passid, whiche
he dide, and
to comynge,
whiche he schal
do, susteyned
bi thi goodis.
Live here. c.
† in yuels; that is, aduersites.
Live here. c.
‡ malice of
him; that is,
in aduersite of
him. neuere to thin enemy;
that is, whom thou hast pre-
ued an enemy.
roustith; that is, kepith the rust of hatrede, thou3 he schew-ith the contra-rie with out
forth. go lowe;
in doynge greet reuerence to thee. thi soule;
in no maner bileue thou to
him. bisidis
thee; in makinge him famy-lyar, ether hoomely to thee. Live here.
c.
§ in oon our;
that is, while prosperite
durith. bowist away; fro
prosperite.
schal not bere
vp; that is,
he schal not
helpe thee.
makith swete;
in disseyunge
hi swete wordis.
in hise lippis;
whanne he bi-leueth, that he schal be re-
leuyd herbi.
as helpinge;
that is, he schal
feyne to helpe
thee, and schal ymagyne to thi
gretter falling.
schal chaunge;
fro frenschipe
feyned bfore,
to opyn enmyte. Live
here. c.

^a forfende thou A. ^v hast C. ^w by puttith E pr. m. ^x swetnes AGH. ^y desseyueth and E pr. m.
^z And if A. ^a Om. C et E pr. m. A. rathere formere GH. ^b whistringe E.

^x yuels ether aduersitees v. ^z vndurturne A pr. m. et ceteri.

CAP. XIII.

1 Who shal touche pich, shal be defoulid of it; and who shal comunen to the 2 proude man, shal clothin pride. Berthen vp on hym he taketh, that comuneth to the honestere than hymself; and to the richere than thou, thou shalt not ben fe-3 lawe. What shal comune the caudron to the pot? whan forsothe thei shuln hurtle themself, it shal ben to-broken.
4 The riche man vnri3twisly dide, and shal gnaste; the pore man forsothe hurt shal 5 holde his pes. If thou shul 3yue, he shal take thee; and if thou haue not, he shal 6 forsake thee. If thou haue, he shal lyue with thee, and auoide thee out; and he 7 shal not sorewen vpon thee. If thou were necessarie to hym, he shal bigile thee; and vnder lazhende hope he shal 3yue, tellende to thee alle goodes; and 8 shal^c seyn, What nede is to thee? And he shal confounde thee in his metes, to the tyme he neentishe thee twies or thries, and in the laste he shal scorne thee; aftirward seende he shal forsake 9 thee, and hys hed moue^d to thee. Be thou mekid to God, and abid his hondis.
10 Tac heed, lest desceyued in folie thou be 11 mekid. Wile thou not be meeke in thi wisdam, and lest lowid in to folie thou 12 be lad aside. Clepid to of the my3tyere, go away; of that forsothe more he shal 13 clepe thee to. Be thou not ^{to} gredi^e, lest thou be put a3een; and be thou not fer 14 fro hym, lest thou go in to for3eteng. Ne withholde thou of euene to speken with hym, and trowe thou not to the manye wrdis of hym; forsothe of myche speche he shal tempte thee, and vnder lazhende the vnmylde inwit of hym shal aske thee

CAP. XIII.

He that touchith pitch, schal be de-1 foulid of it; and he that comyneth with a proude man, schal clothe pride*. He 2 reisith a wei3te on hym silf, that comyn-eth with a more onest man than hym silf; and be thou not felowe to a man richere than thou. What schal a cawdroun comyne 3 to a pot? for whanne tho hirtlen hem silf togidere, the pot schal be brokun. A riche 4 man schal do vniustli, and schal gnaste†; but a pore man hirt schal be stille. If 5 thou 3yuest, he schal take thee; and if thou hast not, he schal forsake thee. If 6 thou hast, he schal lyue togidere‡ with thee, and schal make thee voide; and he schal not haue sorewe on thee. If thou 7 art nedeful to hym, he schal disseyue thee; and he schal flatere, and schal 3yue hope, tellinge to thee alle goodis; and schal seie, What is nede to thee? And he 8 schal schende thee in hise metis§, til he anyntische thee twies and thries, and at the laste he schal scorne thee; aftirward he schal se, and schal forsake thee, and he schal moue his heed|| to thee. Be thou 9 maad meke to God, and abide thou hise hondis. Take heede, lest thou be dis- 10 seyued, and be maad lowe in foli. Nyle 11 thou be lowe in thi wisdom, lest thou be maad low, and be disseyued in to foli.
Whanne thou art clepid of a miztiere man, 12 go thou aweia¶; for bi this he schal more clepe thee. Be thou not greetli press- 13 yng^{b}, lest thou be hurtlid down; and be thou not fer fro hym, lest thou go in to for3etyng. Witholde thou not to speke 14 with hym euenli††, and bileue thou not to hise many wordis; for of myche speche he schal tempte thee, and he schal lei3e

* clothe pride; for whi men ben enclynaunt to vndu desir of her owne excellence, wher-ynne pride stondith, wher-for it cleueth listly to a man. with a more onest man; that is, with a myztier man, for he wole euere haue the betere for himsilf, and the tother may not wel a3enstonde him. a cawdroun; of bras. to a pot; of erthe. schal be brokun; that is, the pot, which is freel, schal be brokun. Live here. c.

† gnaste; as redie 3it to do worse. 3yuest; 3iftis to the riche man.

‡ schal take; that is, onour and sette thee bisidis him.

Live here. c. § lyue togidere; in clepinge thee to his table.

make thee voyde; that is, make thee pore, bi presentis maad to him. sorewe on thee; of thi pouert. Live here. c.

§ schende thee in his metis; in clepinge thee to his table, to haue presentis of thee. anyntische thee; that is, brynge to pouert.

twyes and thries; that is, fyue this, for in v. maneris pore men ben maad voyde of coueitouse riche men; first, in takinge away violently

the goodis of pore men; the ij., in withholdinge du hire; the thridde, in disseyunge bi double wordis; the iiij., in weiyng yuele to hem, bothe in absence of pore men that tristen in riche men, and in presence of hem that doren not a3enseye. Live here. c. || moue his heed; in repreuyng the of foli. be maad low; that is, a coward. in thi wisdom; that is, 3ouun of God to thee. Live here. c. ¶ go thou away; that is, excuse thee sumdel. Live here. c.  presing; in preessinge forth thee ouer myche. hurtlid down; that is, put away schamefastly. Live here. c. †† with hym euenli; that is, speke thou to him with out reuerence. Live here. c.

^c Om. CE pr. m. ^d moued A. ^e nedeles C et E pr. m.

^a aweia, or excuse y. ^b ethir to gredi x sec. m. marg.

15 of thin hid thingus. And he shal 'to gedir^f kepe thi wrdis, and not sparen fro 16 malice, and fro^g bondis. War to thee, and tac heed bisili to thin heering; for with thy turnyng vpsodoun thou gost.
17 Heerende forsothe tho thingus, as in 18 sweuenes see, and thou shalt waken. In al thi lif loue God, and inwardli clep 19 hym in thin helthe. Eche beste looneth lic to hym; so and eche man the nexte 20 to hym. Eche flesh to his lijch shal be ioyned, and eche man to his lic shal be 21 felashepid. As a wlf shal comune to a lomb otherwhile, so a synnere to a riht-22 wis. What comunycacioun to an hoeli man at a dogge? or what good parti to 23 a riche man at a pore? Hunting of a^b leoun an asse in wilderness; so pore 24 men ben the leswe of riche men. And as abhominacioun to a proud man is mek-ness, so and cursing of the riche is the 25 pore. The riche man stirid is confermed of his frendis; the meeke forsothe, whan he shal falle, shal be put out also fro 26 knowen. To the riche desceyued manye ben rekureresⁱ; he spac proudli, and thei 27 iustifieden hym. The meeke is desceyued, ferthermor and vndirnomyn; he spac felendely, 'or wisely^k, weel, and ther is not 28 3oue to hym a place. The riche spac, and alle heelden ther pes; and the wrd of 29 hym vnto the cloudys thei shul bern. The pore spac, and thei seyn, Who is this?
and if he schal^l offende, thei shul turne 30 hym vp so down. Good is substaunce, to whom is not synne in concience; and most wicke is porennes in the mouth of 31 the vnpitous. The herte of a man chaungeth the face of hym, or in good 32 or in euel. The step of a good herte, and a good face, hard thou shalt fynde, and with trauaile.

priuyli, and schal axe thee of thin hid thingis*. His cruel soule schal kepe thi wordis, and he schal not spare of malice, and of bondis. Be war to thee, and take heede diligentli to thin heryng; for thou goist with thi distriyng. But thou heringe tho thingis, se as in sleep, and thou schalt wake. In al thi lijf loue thou God, and inwardli clepe thou him in thin heelthe[†].
Ech beeste loueth a beeste lijk it silf; so and ech man owith to loue his neizbore.
Ech fleisch schal be ioyned to fleisch lijk it silf, and ech man schal be felouschipid to a man lijk hym silf. As a wulf schal comyne sum tyme with a lomb, so a synnere with a iust man. What cominge of^c an hooli man to a dogge[‡]? ethir what good part is of a riche man to a pore man? The huntynge of a lioun is a wielde asse in desert; so the lesewis of riche men ben pore men. And as mekenesse is abhomynacioun to a proude man, so and a pore man is abhomynacioun of a riche man. A riche man moued[§] is confermed of hise frendis; but a meke man, whanne he fallith, schal be cast out, 3he, of knowun men. Many rekyuereris ben to a riche man disseyued; he spac proudli, and thei iustifieden hym. A meke man is disseiued, ferthermore also he is repreuyd; he spac wiseli, and no place was 3ouun to hym.
The riche man spac, and alle men weren stille; and thei schulen brynge his word til to the cloudis. A pore man spac, and thei seien, Who is this? and if he offendith, thei schulen destrye hym. Catel is good to hym, to whom is no synne in conscience; and 'the worste pouert^d is in the mouth of a wickid man. The herte of a man chaungith his face, ethir in good ethir in yuel. Of hard and with trauel thou schalt fynde the step of a good herte||, and a good face.

* hid thingis; that is, if thou hast take in hid place any thing of his.
† of malice; that is, of peyne to be 3ouun to thee. and thou schalt wake; that is, feyne thee to vndurstonde not tho thingis that ben seid of the riche man, for thi taking; and in this thou schalt haue thee wakingli and diligently.
‡ Live here. c. † in thyn helthe; that is, for thyn helthe temporal and euerlasting.
§ his neizbore; for he is maad in the ymage of God, and is able to take blis. Live here. c.
‡ to a dogge; that is, to a doggische man, and siche is a chidere, and a wrathful man, and a glotoun; as if he seye, no good comyng is there. in desert; wherynne the lyoun pursueth the wielde asse, to deuoure hym. of riche men; coueitouse. ben pore men; whos goodis they rauischen with out cause.
§ A riche man moued; that is, disturbrid.
|| frendis; hopinge to haue part of hise goodis. in conscience; that is, of yuele geting, nether bi himsilf, nether bi hise fadir and modir. of a wickid man; that bi vnpacience blasfemeth God. Live here. c.
|| the step of a good herte; that is, thou schalt fynde in fewe men the yanere goodnesse of soule, and of outermere conuersacioun togidere. Live here. c.

^f Om. c pr. m.

^k Om. c et E pr. m.

^g Om. c.

^l Om. c pr. m.

^h Om. AG pr. m. H.

ⁱ rekeueris E. rekuuers A. rekuuerers GH.

^c to A pr. m. et ceteri.

^d pouert worste A sec. m.

CAP. XIV.

1 Blisful the man, that is not sliden in wrd fro his mouth, and is not prickid in sorewi 2 slouthe of gilte. Sely, 'or blessid^m, that hadde not sorewi slouthe of his inwit, and 3 falleth not awei fro his hope. To the coueitous man, and hard, withoute resoun is substaunce; and to an enuyous man, 4 wherto gold? Who hepithⁿ of his inwit vnri3twisly, to othere men gedereth; and in the goodis of hym an other shal don 5 leccherie. Who to hymself is shreude, to what other shal he ben good? and he shal 6 not ben merie in his goodus. No thing is wers, than he that enuyeth to hymself; and that is the 3elding^o of his malice.
7 And if he shul weel don, vnwitendely, and not wilnende he doth; and in the 8 laste he shewith his malice. Shreude is the e3e of the pale, and turnende awei 9 face^p, and dispisende his soule. Vnfillable^a the e3e of the coueitous; in to the part of wickidnesse he shal not be fild, to the tyme that he fulli ende vnri3twis-10 nesse, makende drie his soule. The euele e3e to eueles, and nedy shal not ben fild with bred; and in^r sorewi slouthe he shal 11 be vp on his bord. Sone, if thou hast, wel do with^a thee, and offre to God wrthi 12 offeringis. Be thou myndeful for deth shal not tarien, and the testament of helle, that is shewid to thee; the testament forsothe of this world bi deth shal 13 dien. Biforn deth wel do to thi frend, and aftir thi strengthis puttende out 3if 14 to the pore. Be thou not bigilid fro the good day, and the parcel of the goode 15 day passe^t thee not. Whether not to othere thou shalt lefe thi sorewis, and 16 thi trauailes? In departing of lot 3if, and 17 tac; and iustefie thi soule. Bifor thi deth werch ri3twisnesse; forⁿ to finde mete is

CAP. XIV.

Blessid is the man, that stood not bi the^e word of his mouth, and was not prickid^{*} in the sorewe of trespas. He is 2 blessid, that hath not sorewe of his soule[†], and fallith not down fro his hope. Catel[‡] 3 is with out resoun to a coueitouse man, and hard nygard; and wherto is gold to an enuyouse man? He that gaderith of 4 his wille vniustli, gaderith to othere men; and another man schal mak wast in hise goodis. To what othere man schal he be 5 good, which is wickid to hym silf? and he schal not be myrye in hise goodis. No 6 thing is worse[§], than he that hath enuye to hym silf; and this is the 3elding of his malice. And if he doith good, he doith 7 vnwityngli, and not wilfuli; and at the laste he schewith his malice. The ize of 8 an enuyous man is wickid, and turnynge awei the face, and dispisyng his soule.
The ize of the coueitouse man is neuere 9 fillid; he schal not be fillid in to the part of wickidnesse, til he performe vnri3tful-nesse, and make drie his soule. An yuel 10 ize to yuels, and the nedi man schal not be fillid of breed; and he schal be in sorewe on his table. Sone, if thou hast, 11 do wel with thi silf, and offre thou worthi offryngis to God. Be thou myndeful that 12 deth schal not tarie, and the testament of hellis^{||}, which is schewid to thee; for whi the testament of this world schal die bi deth. Bifore deth do thou good to thi 13 frend, and bi thi miztis stretche thou forth, and 3yue to a pore man. Be thou not dis- 14 seyued of a good dai, and a litil part of a good day passe not[¶] thee. Whether^{ee} thou 15 schalt not leue to othere men thi sorewis, and trauels? In the departyng of lot^{} 16 3yue thou, and take; and iustifie thi soule.
Bifore thi deth worche thou ri3tfulnesse; 17

* was not prickid; bi remors of conscience for vicious stilnesse. Live here. c.
† sorewe of his soule; in good werkis to be fillid. Live here. c.
‡ Catel; that is, richessis, that profiten not to him, for as wel that that an auarouse hath failith to him silf, as that that he hath not, as Jerom seith, in his pistle to Paulyn. to a coueitouse man; in getinge yuele. hard nygard; in holdinge yuele, therfor richessis noyen to an auarouse man, bothe to bodi and soule. to an enuyouse man; to his yuel. of his wille; that is, getinge vn- iustly, witingli, and of purpos. gaderith to othere men; for ofte tho ben priued of the vas of richessis, and tho ben wastid yuele of othere men. Live here. c.
§ No thing is worse; for he turmentith him silf, bothe to bodi and soule. enuye to him silf; sicke is an auarouse man, that with- drawith of his owene neces- saries. Live here. c.
|| the testament of hellis; that is, the orden- aunce of God, of the deth of ech man; it is seid the testa- ment of hellis, for whanne this book was maad, iust men

3eden down to helle. this world schal die bi deth; that is, worldli eritage, biquethun of fadris to children, schal faile sone. Live here. c.
¶ the face A. ¶ Vn- fillible, or that may not be fulfild E sec. m. marg. GH.  In the departing of lot; for God hath ordeyned that summen be pore, and othere men be riche, that riche men 3yue temporal thingis to pore men, and resseyue euerlastinge thingis for tho.

^m Om. c et E pr. m. ⁿ kepith AGH. ^o turnyng E pr. m. 3elding a3een sec. m. ^p the face A. ^q Vn- fillible, or that may not be fulfild E sec. m. marg. GH. ^r Om. c pr. m. ^s to A. ^t beside passe E pr. m.

^a Om. c pr. m.

^e Om. s. ^{ee} Wher ceteri fere passim.

18 not anent helle. Eche flesh as heiz̃ shal waxe old, and as a lef beryng frut in a 19 grene tree. Othere ben iendred, and othere fallen down; so ieneracioun of flesh and of blod, an other is endid, 20 and an other is born. Eche corruptible werc in the ende shal faile; and he that 21 wercheth it, shal go with it. And eche chosen werc shal be iustefied; and he that 22 wercheth it, shal be wrshipid in it. Blis-ful the man, that shal dwelle in wisdam, and that in rijtwisnesse sweteli shal thenke, and in wit shal thenke the look-23 ing aboute of God. Who thenketh out the weies of hym in his herte, and in hid thingus of it vnderstanding shal be; goende aftir it as enserchere, and in the 24 weies of it beende stille. Who byholdeth bi the wyndowes of it, and in the ȝatis of 25 it is herende; who resteth biside^v the hous of it, and in the walles of it piccheth a pale^w. He shal ordeyne his litle hous at the hondis of it, and ther shuln reste in the litle houses of it^x goodis, bi 26 aungelis during; he shal setten his sonus vnder the roof of it, and vnder the 27 braunchis of it he shal wone; he shal be defendid vnder the roof of it fro bren-nende hete, and in the glorie of it he shal reste,

CAP. XV.

1 Who dredeth God, shal do goode thingus; and who withholding is of rijt-2 wisnesse, shal taken it. And it shal meete to hym as a moder wrshipid, and as a womman fro maidynhed it shal vndir-3 take hym. It shal feede hym with the bred of lif, and of vnderstanding; and with the^v water of holsum wisdam it shal ȝyue drinke to hym; and it shal be fast-4 ned in hym, and not ben bowed. And it shal withholden hym, and he shal not be confoundid; and it shal enhaunce hym for at hellis it is not to fynde mete. Ech 18 fynde mete; man schal wexe eld as hey, and as a leef that is, place bryngynge fruit in a grene tree. Othere 19 of merit. of ben gendrid, and othere ben cast down; fleisch and so the generacioun of fleisch and blood, blood; that is, another is endid, and another is borun. of men. cor- Ech corruptible werk schal faile in the 20 ruptible; that ende; and he that worchith it, schal go is, ledging to with it. And al chosun werk schal be 21 corrupcioun, iustified; and he that worchith it, schal be that is, to onourid in it. Blessid is the man, that 22 synne. faile; schal dwelle in wisdom, and that schal that is, schal bithenke in rijtfulnesse, and schal thenke make to faile in wit the biholding of God. Which^f 23 of blis. al thenkith out, ether fyndith out, the weies chosun werk, of hym in his herte, and schal be vndur- etc.; that is,

stondynge in the hid thingis of hym; meritorie werk goynge as a serchere aftir it, and stond- schal be ap- ynge in the weies of it. Which biholdith 24 preued of God, bi the wyndows therof, and herith in the as iust werk.
ȝatis therof; which restith nyȝ the hous 25 thenke in wit;
therof, and settith a stak in the wallis that is, wittily. therof. He schal sette his litil hous at the weyes; that is, hondis of hym, and goodis schulen reste the werkis in his litil hous, bi duryng of the world; of God, that he schal sette hise sonus vndur the hilyng 26 ben weyes to therof, and he schal dwelle vndur the come in to his boowis therof; he schal be kyuerid vndur 27 knowyng. the hilyng therof fro heete, and he schal ȝatis; that is,
reste in the glorie therof. in the fyttinge chirche, bi which is en-tring to the chirche hau-
ynge victorie.
biholdith bi the wyndows; that is, bi reuelacioun, maad in the elde and newe testament. restith
in the hous;
in bileuyng stidfastly, and dwellenge in contemplacioun swetely. at the hondis of him;
that is, of God,
in abidinge contynuely the giftis of his grace. of the world; an other lettre
hath bi him,
that is, God.
hise sonus; that is, hise dissiplis. vndur the hiling therof;
in teching hem
in the forseid thingis. vndur
the boowis; in thenkinge and worchinge vn-
dur the tech-
ingis therof.
fro the heete;
of vices. Live
here. c.
 take it; that* is, wisdom.
Live here. c.
† with water of heelful wisdom; that is,
Live here. c.

CAP. XV.

He that dredith God, schal do goode 1 werkis; and he that holdith rijtfulnesse, schal take it*. And it as a modir onourid 2 schal meete hym, and as a womman fro virgynyte it schal take hym. It shal feede 3 hym with the breed of lijf, and of vndurstanding; and it schal ȝyue drynke to hym with watir of heelful wisdom†; it schal be maad stidfast in hym, and he schal not be bowid‡. And it schal holde 4 hym, and he schal not be schent; and it schal enhaunse hym at his neiȝboris. And 5 with grace of the Hooly Goost. Live here. c.

‡ bowid; fro the euennesse of rijtfulnesse. Live here. c.

^v bisedes c pr. m.
^y Om. AGH.

^w he is, piccheth a pale c sec. m. he is, picching a pole AECH.

^x hym c pr. m.

^f The which i.

anent his neȝhebores. And in the myddel of the chirche it shal opene his mouth, and shal fulfille hym with spirit^z of wisdom, and of vnderstanding; and with stoele of glorie it shall clothin hym. Myrthe and ful out ioȝing it shal tresoren vp on hym; and in euerlastende name it shal eritagen hym. Men foolis shul not take it, and men wel feelende shul meete to it. Men foolis shul not seen it; ferr forsothe it is, ferre awei fro pride, and fro treccherie. Men lieres shul not be myndeful of it, and sothfast men ben^a founden in it; and welsum aftir comyng thei shul^b han vnto the looking in of God. Feir^c preising is not in the mouth of the synnere, for he is not sent of the Lord. For gon forth is wisdom of God; forsothe to the wisdom of God preising shal stonden at, and in^d the feithful mouth shal abounde, and the lordshipere shal ȝyuen it to hym. Thou shalt not seyn, Bi God it is away; tho thingis forsothe that it hateth, thou shalt not do. Ne sey thou, He me^e disceyuede; forsothe vnpytous men ben not nedeful to hym. The Lord hateth al^f cursing of errour, and it shal not ben looueful^g to men dredende hym. God fro the bygynnyng ordeynede man, and lafte hym in the hond of his conseil. He leide to maundemens, and his hestes; if thou wilt the maundemens kepen, thei shul kepe thee, and to kepen plesid feith in to withoute ende. He putte to thee watir and fyr; to what thou wilt, put forth thin hond. Bifor man is lif and deth, good and euel; that plesith to hym, shal he ȝoue^h to hym. For myche is the wisdom of God, and strong in myȝt, and seende alle menⁱ withoute censing. The eȝen of the Lord to the dredende hym; and he knowith al the besynesse^k of man. To no man he comaundide vnpytously to do; and to no man he ȝaf space of syn-

in the myddis of the chirche he schal opene his mouth; and God schal fille hym with the spirit of wisdom*, and of vnderstanding, and schal clothe hym with the stoele of glorie. God schal tresore on hym⁶ myrthe, and ful out ioiying; and schal enherite hym with euerlastynge name. Fonned men schulen not take that wis-⁷dom, and witti men schulen meete it. Fonned men schulen not se it; for whi it goith away fer fro pride, and gile. Men⁸ leesyngmongeris schulen not be myndful therof, and sothfast men ben foundunther ynne; and schulen haue prosperite⁹ 'til to^g the biholding of God. Preisyng⁹ is not fair[†] in the mouth of a synnere, for he is not sent of the Lord. For whi¹⁰ wisdom ȝede forth fro God; forsothe heriying schal stonde ny; the wisdom of God, and it schal be plenteuouse in a feithful mouth, and the Lord schal ȝyue it to him. Seie thou not, It goith awei bi[†] God; for¹¹ whi do thou not tho thingis, whiche God hatith. Seie thou not, He made me for to¹² erre; for whi wickid men ben not nedeful to hym. The Lord hatith al cursidnesse¹³ of errour, and it schal not be amyable to hem, that dreden hym. At the bigynnyng¹⁴ God made man, and lefte him[§] in the hond of his counsel. He addide hise co-¹⁵maundementis, and lawis; if thou wolt¹⁶ kepe the comaundementis, tho schulen kepe thee, and kepe plesaunt feith with outen ende. He hath set to thee watir^{||} and fier; dresse thin hond to that, that thou wolt. Bifor man is lijf and deth,¹⁸ good and yuel; that, that plesith hym, schal be ȝouun to hym. For whi the wis-¹⁹dom of God is myche, and he is strong in power, and seeth alle men without ceessing. The iȝen[¶] of the Lord ben to hem,²⁰ that dreden hym; and he knowith al the trauel of man. He comaundide not to ony²¹ man to do wickidli; and he ȝaf not to ony man space to do synne. For he coueytith²² c.

* of wisdom; to taaste dynn thingis. and of vnderstanding; to declare tho clereli in the chirche. Live here. c.

† is not fair; that is, plesaunt to God. Live here. c.

‡ It goith awei bi, etc.; that is, vertu to eschewe synne is not ȝouun of God to men. Live here. c.

§ and lefte him, etc.; not that God withdrew his keeping and ruling fro man, but made him fre in wille, and ȝaf to him power to kepe riȝtfulnesse. Live here. c.

|| He hath set to thee water; that is, re-freisching of glorie. and fier; that is, peyne of helle. he bihiȝte glorie, and ma-naasside peyne, that men schulden do good, and fle synne. lyf; of grace. deth; of synne. good; of merit. and yuel; of yuel disseruyng.

¶ that that plesith hym; that is, it is in his power to go to good, and to fle fro yuel. strong in power; to reward hem that stonden in vertu, and to punysche hem that fallen therfro. Live here. c.

¶ The iȝen; that is, of his merci. space; that is, licence. to do synne, but euere forbed. Live here. c.

^z the spirit AGH.

^a shuln ben c et E pr. m.

^b Om. c sec. m.

^c Semly c pr. m. E pr. m. AGH.

^d Om. c pr. m.

^e Om. c pr. m.

^f alle c pr. m.

^g leueful A.

^h he ȝyue A.

ⁱ Om. c pr. m.

^k werk E pr. m.

22nyng. Forsothe he coueiteth not the multitude of vnfeithful sonus and vnprofitable.

CAP. XVI.

1 Mac thou not myrie¹ in vnпиты sonus, if thei ben multiplied; ne delite thou vp on hem, if ther is not the drede of God
2 in^m hem. Ne 3yue thou feith to the lif of hem, and ne biholde thou in to the 3 trauailes of hem. Betere ys forsothe oon dredende God, than a thousand vnпиты sonus. And profitable it is to die with-4 oute sonus, than to lefen vnпиты sonus.
5 Of oon weel felende man shal ben enhabitid the cuntre^m; and of thre vnпиты it 6 shal be forsaken. Manye othere thingis myn e3e sa3, and the strengere thingus 7 of these myn ere herde. In the synagoge of synnende men fyr shal out brenne, and 8 in the vnbileueful folc of kinde wrathe shal waxe ful out tend. Olde ieauntis 9 that ben destrozid, trostende to ther vertue, fulli pre3eden not for ther synnes;
10 and he sparede not to the pilgrimaging of hem, but smot hem, and wariede hem, 11 for the pride of the word^o of hem. He dide not mercy to them, destrozende al the folc of kinde and enhauncende itself 12 in his synnes. And as sixe hundrid thousand of footmen, that ben gadered in the hardnesse of ther herte; and if oon were 13 rered vp the nol, wnder if he hadde ben harmles. Mercy forsothe and wrathe is 14 with hym; my3ty is the ful out orisoun, and heeldende out wrathe. After his 15 mercy, so the chastising of hym; he demeth a man aftir his werkes. The 16 synnere shal not scapen out in to raueyn; and the suffryng of the doynge mercy 17 schal not tary by hynde^p. Eche mercy shal make place to echon, aftir the desert of his werkis, and after the vnderstand-18 ing of the pilgrimaging of hym. Sey thou not, Fro God I shal ben hid; and fro the heigest, who of me shal han not the multitude of sonus vnfeithful* and vnprofitable.

CAP. XVI.

Be thou not glad in wickid sonus, if 1 thei ben multiplied; nether delite thou on hem, if the drede of God is not in hem. Bileue thou not to the lijf of hem†, and 2 biholde thou not in to the trauels of hem. For whi betere is oon dredynge God, than 3 a thousynde wickid sonus. And it is more 4 profitable to die with out sonus, than to leue wickid sonus. A cuntrei shal be 5 enhabitid of o witti man; and it schal be maad desert of thre wickid men. Myn 6 ize si3 many othere thingis, and myn eere herde strongere thingis than these. Fier 7 schal brenne an hi3 in the synagoge of synneris, and yre schal brenne an hi3 in a 8 folk vnbileuful. Elde giauntis that weren 9 distried, tristynge on her vertu, preieden not for her synnes; and God sparide not 10 the pilgrymage‡ of hem, but he killide hem, and curside hem, for the pride of her 11 word. He hadde not merci on hem, and 12 he loste al the folk enhaunsynge hem silf in her synnes. And as he killide sixe 13 hundrid thousynde of foot men, that weren gaderid togidere in the hardnesse§ of her 14 herte; and if oon hadde be hard nollid, wondur if he hadde be giltles. For whi 15 merci and ire is with hym; preier is my3ti||, and schedynge out ire. Bi his 16 merci, so is the chastising of ech man; he is demyd bi hise werkis. A synnere 17 in raueyn schal not ascape; and the sufferaunce of hym that doith merci schal 18 not tarie. Al merci schal make place to 19 ech man, aftir the merit of his werkis, and aftir the vnderstanding of his pil-20 grymage. Seie thou not, Y schal be hid
21 fro God; and fro the hizeste||, who schal haue mynde on me? Seie thou not, Y 22 schal not be knowun in a greet puple; for whi which is my soule in so greet a crea-

* vnfeithful; that is, seru-inge the fadris in vnfeithfulnesse. vnpro-
fitable; that is,
noyful to nei3-boris. Live
here. c.

† Bileue thou not to the lijf
of hem; that is,
bileue thou not that thei schu-
len be amendid
in eelde, for whi this is ful seeldene; in xxij. c°. of Prouerbis.
Live here. c.

‡ the pilgrym-
age; that is,
her lijf, which is a pilgrymage on erthe. Live
here. c.

§ in the hardnesse; that is,
rebelte agens
God. if oon,
etc.; that is,
if oon aloone hadde rebel to God. giltles;
of peyne. Live
here. c.

|| preier is
my3ti; that is,
the preier of iust men is my3ti anentis
God; that re-
lessith peyne,
ether nameli temperith peyne ma-
naassid. and schedynge out
ire; that is,
makinge to
bringe in peyne.
bi his merci;
that is, with temperure of Goddis merci.
chastising;
that is, pu-nisching of ech man. is demed; that is punyschid.
a synnere in raueyn; that is, a cruel man, vsinge the synne of ra-ueyn. schal not ascape; the punysching of
God. the suf-fraunce, etc.;
that is, the paciencie of a merciful man,
that suffrith
aduersites, for it is rewardid of God in co-
uenable tyme.
of his pilgrimage.

age; that is, aftir the entent which he hath in present lijf, which lijf is seid the pilgrymage of man. Live here. c.

¶ the hizeste; that is, heuene.

¹ myrthe c. ^m vpon A. ⁿ cite c pr. m. ^o Om, c pr. m. ^p shal not tarie bihynde the suffraunce of the doende mercy c pr. m.

17 mynde? In a gret puple I shal not be knownen; what forsothe is my soule in so gret a creature^q with oute mesure? Loo!
18 heuene, and heuenus of heuenus, the se,^{or} depnesse^r, and al erthe, and that in hem ben, in the sizte of hym shul be moued togidere; 19 mounteynes togidere, and hilles, and the foundemens of the^s erthe; and whan God shal biholde them, bi trembling thei shul be 20 smyte togidere. And in alle these thingus mys felende,^{or vnwittie}^t, is the herte, and^u 21 eche herte is vnderstonden of hym. And the weyes of hym who vnderstondith?
and the tempest, that nouthen the eze sa3 22 'of man^v? For whi manye werkis of hym ben in hid thingus, but the werkis of the riztwisnesse of hym who shal tellen out, or who shal suffren? Fer forsothe is the testament fro summe; and the asking of 23 men is in the ful ending. Who is lassid in herte, thenketh idil thingus; and the vnprudent man and errende thenketh 24 folies. Heere me, sone, and lerne disci-plyne of wit, and in my wrdis tac heed in thin herte; and I shal seyn in equite discyplene, and enserchen to tellen out wisdam. And in my wrdis tac heed in 25 thin herte; and I sey in equyte of spirit vertues, that God putte in to his werkes fro the bigynnyng, and in treuthe 26 I telle out the kunnyng of hym. In the dom of God his werkis fro the bigynnyng; and fro the ordeynyng of tho men he seuerede the partes of them, and the bigynnyngus of them in ther^w folkis of 27 kinde. He enournede in to withoute ende the werkis of hem; and thei hungreden not, ne trauaileden, and lefedden not of fro 28 ther werkis. Eche the nezhebore to^x hym shal not anguysshē, vnto the spirituel 29 world^{or aungelus duryng}^y. Be thou not 30 vnleuable to the wrd of hym. Aftir these ture? Lo! heuene*, and the^g heuenes of 18 * Lo! heuene; heuenes, the greet occian, and al erthe, of the eir. and and tho thingis that ben in tho, schulen heuens of he- be mouyd in his sizt; munteyns togidere, 19 uenys; that is,

and litle hillis, and the foundementis of heuene of ster- erthe; and whanne God biholdith tho, ris, and of cris- tho schulen be schakun togidere with tal, and bryt trembyng. And in alle these thingis the 20 heuene. Lire herte† is vnwijs, and ech herte is vndur- here. c. stondun of hym. And who vnderstondith 21 † the herte; of hise weies? and who vnderstondith^h a a man that de- tempest, which the i3e of man siz not? nyeth that God-
For whi ful many werkis of hym ben 22 dis riztfulnesse
'in hidⁱ thingis, but who schal telle out the and kunnyng is werkis of his riztfulnesse, ether who schal strecchid forth suffre†? For whi the testament is fer fro to the pu- summe men‡; and the axying of men is in nysching of the endyng. He that is maad litil in herte, 23 synnes. Lire thenkith veyn thingis; and a man vnpru- here. c.
dent and a fool thenkith fonnēd thingis. ‡ who schal Sone, here thou me, and lerne thou tech- 24 suffre; as if yng of wit, and 3yue thou tent to my he seye, fewe, wordis in thin herte; and Y schal seie for whi iust techyng in equyte, and Y schal seke to men that moun telle out wisdom. And 3yue thou tent to suffre ben in my wordis in thin herte; and Y seie in 25 the lesse noum- equyte of spirit|| the vertues, whiche God bre. the testa- hath set on hise werkis at the bigynnyng, ment; that is,
and in treuthe Y telle out the kunnyng of the elde testa- him. In the doom of God ben hise werkis 26 ment and newe. fro the bigynnyng; and in the ordynaunce § is fer fro of tho he departyde the partis of tho, and summen; as he departide the bigynnyngis of tho in to worching, hise folkis. He ournede with outen ende 27 thou3 not as the werkis of hem¶; thei hungriden not, to knowing.
nether traueliden, and thei ceessiden not in the ending; of her werkis. Ech schal not make streit 28 that is, is reseru- the nexte to hym, til in to with outen ed to the fynal ende. Be thou not vnbiueful to the word 29 doom, where of him. Aftir these thingis God bihelde 30 men schulen 'in to^k the erthe, and fillide it with hise gelde resoun of goodis. Forsothe the soule of ech lyuyng 31 ech word, and myche strong-
liere of dede.
maad litil in herte; he is maad litil,
that settith
his ende in temporal goodis, that are lesse than man.
thenkith veyn thingis; for whi hise thou3tis failen
fro du ende,
and so tho ben veyne, as mede-cyn is seid
veyn, that fail-
ith to brynge
in helthe. Lire
here. c.
|| in equyte of spirit; that is,
with out ony beringe down
of truthe. in hise folkis;
that is, hise
aungels, that ben hise sones,
and hise knyztis;
for whi God
assignede hize
re

bodies and lowere to be gouerned of aungelis distant, ether assigned in special places. Lire here. c. ¶ the werkis of hem; heuene and elementis ben the werkis of aungelis, not for aungels ben makeris of tho, but ben mynystris ether gouernours, bi that maner of speking bi which a vyner is seid the werk of a vyntiler, and an hows to be gouerned is seid the werk of the dispendere. this word with outen ende is set here propirly as to heuenes, whos ournyngis schulen dwelle stably, as to thingis gendrabile and corruptible, that schulen ceesse in the ende of the world. this word withouten ende is takun for long tyme, as hillis ben seid euerlastinge. the soule of ech lyuyng

^q creatour c. ^r Om. c et E pr. m. ^s Om. c pr. m. ^t Om. c et E pr. m. ^u Om. c pr. m. ^v Om. a^g pr. m. H. ^w his AGH. ^x of A. ^y Om. c et E pr. m.

^g Om. A pr. m. ^h Om. I. ⁱ hid in A pr. m. c pr. m. et plures. ^k to A pr. m.

thingus God biheeld in to the² erthe, and 31 fulfild it with his goodis. Eche forsothe soule ful of lif told of bifor the face of hym; and it eft² the turnyng azen of hem.

CAP. XVII.

1 God with the riȝt hond foormede man; 2 and after his ymage made hym. And eft turnede hym in to it; and after hym-3 self clothide hym with vertue. Nouble of dazes and time he ȝaf to hym; and ȝaf to hym power of them that ben vpon 4 erthe. He putte the drede of hym vpon alle flesh, and lordshipide^b of bestes and 5 of foules. He foormede of hym helpe lic to hymself; counseil, and tunge, and eȝen, and eren, and herte, he ȝaf to them, of thenking out; and the discyplyne of vn-6 derstanding fulfild them. He foormede to them kunnyng of the spirit, bi wit he fulfild the herte of hem; and eueles 7 and goodis he shewide to them. He putte the eȝe of hem vpon the hertes of hem, to shewen to them the grete thingus 8 of his werkis, that the name of his halewing thei preise togidere; and to glorien in the merueilous thingus of hym, that thei telle out the grete thyngus of 9 his werkis. He addede to them disci-plyne; and the lawe of lif he eritagede 10 them. Euerlastende testament he sette with them; and riȝtwisnesse and his 11 domes he shewide to them. And the grete thingus of his wrshiþe the eȝe of hem saȝ, and the wrshiþe of vois herden the eres of hem; and he seide to them, 12 Taketh heed fro alle^c wicke thing. And he comaundide to them, to eche of his 13 neȝhebore. The weies of hem biforn hym ben euermor; and thei ben not hid fro 14 the eȝen of hym. In to eche folc of kinde 15 he befor sette a gouernour; and Irael 16 the part of God is mad open. And alle the werkes of hem as the sunne in the sizte of God; and the eȝen of hym with oute cesing biholdende in the weies of 17 hem. The testamentis ben not hid for^d thing told bifore his face; and thilke soule is eft the turnyng azen of tho thinges.

CAP. XVII.

God foormede man of erthe; and aftir¹ his ymage he made man. And eft he² turnede man in to that ymage^{*}; and aftir hym silf he clothide hym with vertu. He³ ȝaf to hym the nouble of daies, and tyme; and he ȝaf to him power of tho thingis that ben on erthe. He settide the⁴ drede of man on al fleisch, and he was lord of beestis and¹ fliynge briddis. He⁵ formyde of man an help lijk hym; he ȝaf to hem councel, and tunge, and iȝen, and eeris, and herte to thenke out; and he fillide hem with techyng of vnderstondyng. He made to hem the kunnyng of⁶ spirit, he fillide the herte of hem with wit; and he schewide to hem yuels and goodis. He settide the iȝe of hem on the⁷ hertes of hem, to schewe to hem the grete thingis of hise werkis, that thei preise to-⁸ gidere the name of halewyng[†]; and to haue glorie in hise meruels, that thei telle out the grete thingis of hise werkis.
 He addide to hem techyng; and he enhe-⁹ ritide hem with the lawe of lijf. He or-¹⁰ deynyde an euerlastynge testament with hem; and he schewide to hem hise riȝtfulnesse, and domes. And the iȝe of hem siȝ¹¹ the grete thingis of his onour, and the eeris of hem herden the onour of vois; and he seide to hem, Take heede to ȝou fro al wickid thing. And he comaundide¹² to hem, to ech man of his neȝbore. The¹³ weies of hem ben euere bifore hym; tho ben not hid fro hise iȝen. On ech folk¹⁴ he made souereyn a gouernour; and Israel¹⁵ was maad the opyn part of God. And¹⁶ alle the werkis of hem ben as the sunne in the sizte of God; and hise iȝen biholden with out ceessyng in the weies of hem.
 Testamentis[‡] weren not hid fro the wick-¹⁷ idnesse of hem; and alle the wickydnissis thing; bothe of thing that hath resoun, and of thing that hath feeling.

telde bifor his face; that is,
 schewide in dede that tho
 goodis weren maad of God
 for thilke soule,
 for it vside tho goodis. turn-
ynge azen; for whi tho thingis ben brouȝt azen in to God bi a reasonable
 soule, in heri-ynge hym for hise goodis, and bi soule that ȝyueþ feeling
 in his maner,
 for it is mater
 of Goddis heri-yng. Live here.
c.

 that ymage*;
 in ȝuyngo to man actual knowing of
 God. aftr hym
silf; that is, as it bicometh man-
 kynde. counsel;
 that is, power
 of auysement.
herte; that is,
 vnderstanding.
to thenke out;
 tho thingis that ben nedeful
 and spedful
 to hem silf.
Live here. c.
† the name of halewyng; that is, the name of the Lord, in whiche alle thingis ben blessid and ha-lewid. Live
here. c.

‡ Testamentis;
 thouȝ many kyngis in the puple of Israel
 diden idolatrie,
 and enforsiden
 to distrie the lawe, netheles
 the lawe and Goddis wor-
 schip weren reserued in goode men.
Live here. c.

² Om. c pr. m. ³ eftson c sec. m. ^b he lordshipide c pr. m. lordschiper G. ^c a AGH. ^d fro AC.

¹ and of i.

the wickidnesse^e of hem; and al the wickidnesse^e of hem in the sijt of God.
 18 The almes deede of a man as^f a litil sac with hym, and the grace of man as the 19 eze appil it shal kepen; and aftirward it shal rise azeen, and zelde to them zelding, to eche in to the hed of hem^{ff}; and turnen in to the lowere partus of erthe^g.
 20 To men doende penaunce forsothe he^h zaf the weie of ríztwisnesse, and confermede men failende to suffren, and ordeynede to them the lot of treuthe.
 21 Turne thou to the Lord, and lef thi synnes; preze thou bifor the face of the Lord, and makeⁱ lasse the occasiouns of 22 gíltis. Turne azeen to the Lord, and turne aweí fro thin vnríztwisnesse, and myche hate thou cursing. And knowe thou ríztwisnesse, and the domes of God; and stond in the lot of putting forth, and of^l orisoun of the heíjest God.
 25 In to^m the partes go of the hoeli world, with men on lyue, and 3yuyngⁿ knou-26 leching to God. Ne fast abide thou in the errour of vnpitous men. Bifor deth knouleche; fro the deade^o as nojt persh-27 eth confessioun. Thou shalt knoulechen lyuende, lyuende and hoel thou shalt knouleche, and preisen God; and glorien 28 in the mercy doyngris of hym. Hou gret the merci of God, and the mytigacioun, or 29 helpe^p, of hym to men conuertende to hym. Ne forsothe alle thingus mown ben in men; for the sone of man is not vndeably, and in to^q vanyte of malice thei pleseden.
 30 What^r more cleer^s than the sunne? and this shall faile; or what wers than that flesh tho3te out, and blod? and that^t shal 31 ben vndernomen. The vertue of the heínesse of heuene he biholdith; and alle men erthe and asken^u.

of hem weren in the sijt of God. The 18^{*} as a bagge with hym; that is, as a scrippe, wher ynne a man puttith vp liyfode to which he goith in nede, so almes helpith in the deth of man. Live here. c.
 almes of a man is as a bagge with hym*, and it schal kepe the grace of a man as the appil of the i3e; and afterward man 19 schal rise azen, and it schal zelde to hem a zelding, to ech man in to the heed of hem; and schal turne in to the lower partis of erthe†. Forsothe it zaf to men 20 repentinge the weie of ríztfulnesse, and confermede men failynge to suffre, and ordeynede to hem the part of treuthe. Turne thou to the Lord, and forsake thi 21 synnes; preye thou bifore the face of the Lord, and make thou lesse hirtingis. Turne thou azen to the Lord, and turne 22 thou aweí fro thin vnríztfulnesse, and hate thou greetli cursyng‡. And knowe thou 23 the ríztfulnessis, and domes of God; and stonde thou in the part of good purpos, and of preier of the^m híjeste God. Go 24 thou in to the partis of the hooli world§, with men lyuyng, and 3yuyng knouleching to God. Dwelle thou not in the 25 errour of wickid men. Knouleche thou bifore deth; knouleching perischith fro a deed man, as no thing. Lyuyng thou 26 schalt knouleche, lyuyng and hool thou schalt knówleche, and schalt herie God; and thou schalt haue glorie in the merciful doyngris of hym. The merci of God 27 is ful greet, and his help to hem that conuerten to hym. For whi not alle 28 thingis moun be in men; for whi the sone of man is not vndeedly, and malices plesiden in to vanyte. What is clerere than 29 the sunne? and this schal faile||; ethir what is worse than that, that fleisch and blood thou3te out? and of this he schal be repreued. Heⁿ¶ biholdith the vertu of 30 híjnesse of heuene; and alle men ben erthe and aische.

whanne it suffrith eclips. fleisch and blood; that is, a synnere. Live here. c.
 of aungels, heynge in bryt heuene, as noon in comparisoun of his vertu. Live here. c.

¶ He; that is, God. biholdith the vertu, etc.; that is, the vertu

^e wicknesse E. ^f is A. ^{ff} eche c pr. m. ^g the erthe AE GH. ^h it c pr. m. ⁱ Om. c pr. m. ^k Om. c.
^l Om. A. ^m And in to A. ⁿ Om. c pr. m. E pr. m. ^o deed man A. deed men GH. ^p Om. c et E pr. m.
^q to c. ^r What is A. ^s lízt c pr. m. E pr. m. ^t Om. c. of that it E pr. m. ^u ashen A. askes c pr. m.

^m Om. I. ⁿ He, that is, God v.

CAP. XVIII.

1 He that lyueth in to withoute ende, made of noȝt alle thingus togidere; God alone shall be iustefied, and dwelleth 2 vnuenkushid king withoute ende. Who shal suffice to telle out^v the werkis of 3 hym? who shal enserche the grete^w 4 wrthi thingis of hym? The vertue for-sothe of his gretnesse who shal telle out? or who shal leyn to to tellen out the 5 merci of hym? There is not to lassen, ne to echen; ne ther is to fynde the 6 grete^w wrthi thingus of God. Whan a man hath ful endid, thanne he bigyn-neth; and whan he hath restid, he shal 7 werchen. What is a man, and what is the glorie of hym? and^x what is good, 8 or what the wicke thing of hym? The noubre of the dazes of men, as myche an hundrid ȝer, as dropis to^y the watir of the se thei ben ordeyned; and as a litol ston of^z grauel, so fewe ȝeres in the 9 dai of the^a spirituel world. For that paciēt is God in them, and he schal^b 10 heelde out vpon hem his mercy. He saȝ the presumpcioun, 'or pride^c, of the herte of hem, for it ys euel; and he kneȝ the turnyng vp so down of hem, for it is shreude.
11 Therefore he fulfild hys mercy in hem, and shewede to them the weie of equyte.
12 The mercy doying of man aboute his neȝhebores; the merci forsothe of the 13 Lord vp on alle flesh. He that hath mercy, and lerneth, and techeth as^d a 14 shepperde his floc, haue he mercy, takende out doctrine of mercy doying^e; and 15 that hieȝen in the domes of hym. Sone, in goode thingus ȝyue thou not pleynt, and in alle ȝifte ȝyue thou not sorewi slouthe, 16 'or heynesse^f, of an euel wrd. Whether not brennende hete the dew shal aȝeen keelen? so and a wrd betere than a

CAP. XVIII.

He that lyueth with out bigynnyng and ende, made of nouȝt alle thingis togidere; God alone schal be iustified, and he dwellith a king vnouercomun with outen ende. Who schal suffice to telle² out his werkis? for whi who schal seke³ the grete thingis of hym? But who schal⁴ telle out the vertu of his greetnesse?
ether who schal leie to for to telle out his mercy? It is not to make lesse, nether⁵ to leie to; nethir it is to fynde the grete thingis of God. Whanne a man hath⁶ endid*, thanne he schal bigynne; and whanne he hath restid, he schal worche.
What is a man, and what is the glorie of⁷ him? and what is good, ether what is the wickid thing of him? The noumbre of⁸ the daies of men, that ben comynli an hundrid ȝeer, ben arettid as the dropis of the watir of the see; and as the stoon of grauel, so a fewe ȝeeris in the dai of euer-lastyngnesse. For this thing God is pa-⁹ cient in hem, and schedith out on hem his merci. He siȝ the presumpcioun of her¹⁰ herte, for it was yuel; and he knew the distriyng of hem, for it was wickid.
Therfor he fillide his merci in^p hem, and¹¹ schewide to hem the weie of equite. The¹² merciful doying of man is aboute his neiȝ-bores; but the merci of the Lord is ouer ech fleisch. He that hath merci, and¹³ techith, and chastisith as a scheepherde his floc, do^q merci, takyng the techyng^r[†]¹⁴ of merciful^s doying; and he that hastith in the domes[†] therof. Sone, in goodis ȝyue¹⁵ thou not pleynt, and in ech ȝifte ȝyue thou not heynesse of an yuel word. Whether¹⁶ dew schal not kele heete? so and a word is betere than ȝifte. Lo! whether a word¹⁷ is not aboute a good ȝifte? but euer ethir is with a man iustified. A fool schal vp-¹⁸

* Whanne a man hath endid; the serching of God. bigynne; that is, he schal perseyue that he is in the bigynnyng. hath restid, etc.; that is, whanne he schal be in eld age, which is tyme of resting, he schal be more herid to good werk. what is good; as if he seye, of him self he hath no good of grace, nether of kynde. wickid thingis; what euer thing of wickidnesse is in hym, al is of him self. everlastingnesse; the Latin word here signifieth everlastingnesse; but properly it signifieth the durynge of vncorruptible thingis. schewith out; in ȝyuyng large his grace. Live here. c. † takinge the techyng; that is, confermyng his techinge by exercise of workis. ‡ hastith in the domes; that is, of merci, desirynge to here thilke sentence in the fynall doom. Come ȝe, the blessid, and take the rewme. playnt; in biweiling that thou ȝauest to releue thi neȝbores. Live here. c.

^v on c. ^w Om. c pr. m. ^x or A. ^y of c. ^z to the c pr. m. E pr. m. of the AGH. ^a Om. c pr. m.
^b that he c pr. m. E pr. m. ^c Om. c et E pr. m. ^d and serueth as E pr. m. ^e Om. c pr. m. ^f Om. c et E pr. m.

^p on c. ^q doth EP pr. m. do he IKMX sec. m. marg. ^r doctrine K. ^s the merciful K.

17 3ifte. Lo! whether not a wrd ouer a good 3ifte? but either with a iustefied 18 man. The fool sharpli shal 3yue repref; and the 3ifte of the vndisciplinarynd mak-19 eth e3en to waxe failende. Bifor dom^s greithe ri3twisnesses to thee; and er that 20 thou speke, lerne. Bifor sickenesse tac medicyn; and bifor dom^h aske thou thi-self, and in the si3te of God thou shalt 21 finde mercy. Bifor siknesse meeke thee, and in tymeⁱ of infirmyte shew thou thi 22 conuersacioun, 'or lyuyng^k. Be thou not lettid to pre3en euermor, and drede thou not vnto the dead to be iustefied; for the meede of God dwellith in to withoute 23 ende. Bifor orisoun greithe thou thi soule; and wile thou not be as a man that 24 tempteth God. Haue mynde of wrathe in the day of endyng; and tyme of 3elding in conuersacioun thou shalt make.
25 Haue mynde of pouert in tyme^l of plente; and the nede of pouert in the 26 dai of richesses. Fro erli vnto euen the tyme shal ben chaungid; and alle these 27 thingus hastid in the e3en of God. A wys man in^m alle thingis dredethⁿ; and in the dajes of giltes shal taken heed fro 28 slouthe. Eche witti knowith wisdom; and to hym that fyndeth it, it shal 3yue 29 knowlechyng. The wel felende in wrdus and thei wisly diden, and vnderstoden treuthe, and ri3twisnesse; and biso3ten 30 prouerbes and domes. After thi lustis go thou not; and fro thi wil turne thee 31 awei. If thou 3yue to thi soule his lustis, it shal make thee in to io3e to thin ene-32 mys. Ne delite thou in cumpanyes, ne in smale thyngus; sotheli the trespassing 33 of hem is contynuel. Ne be thou mene in strif^o for monee, and ther is not to thee no thing in the world; forsothe thou shalt be enuyous to thi soule.

breideⁿ scharpli; and the 3ifte of an vntauzt man makith i3en to faile*. Bifore 19 the doom make thou redi ri3tfulnesse to thee; and lerne thou, bifore that thou speke. Bifore sikenesse 3yue thou medi- 20 cyn; and bifore the doom axe thi silf, and thou schalt fynde merci in the si3t of God. Bifore sikenesse make the meke, 21 and in the tyme of sikenesse schewe thi lyuyng. Be thou not lettid† to preye 22 euere, and drede thou not to be iustified til to deth; for whi the meede of God dwellith with outen ende. Bifore preier 23 make redi thi soule; and nyle thou be as a man that temptith God†. Haue thou 24 mynde of ire in the dai of endyng; and make thou in lyuyng the tyme of 3elding.
Haue thou mynde of pouert in the dai of 25 abundaunce; and the nede of pouert in the tyme of richessis. Fro the morewtid 26 'til to^v the euentid the tyme schal be chaungid; and alle these thingis ben swift in the i3en of God. A wise man schal 27 drede in alle thingis; and in the daies of trespassis he schal fle fro vnkunnyng, ether slouthe. Ech fel man§ knowith 28 wisdom; and to hym that fyndith it, he schal 3yue knowleching. Witti men in 29 wordis also thei diden wiseli, and vndurstoden^w treuthe, and ri3tfulnesse; and bisou3ten|| prouerbis and domes. Go thou 30 not aftir thi coueitises; and be thou turned awei fro thi wille. If thou 3yuest to thi 31 soule the coueitises therof, it schal make thee in to ioie to thin enemyes. Delite 32 thou not in cumpanyes, nether in litle cumpanyes; for whi the synnyng of hem is contynuel. Be thou not meene in the 33 stryuyng of looue, and sum thing is to thee in the world¶; for whi thou schalt be enuyouse to thi soule.

* makith i3en to faile; of the resseyuere, which is aschamed of edwitingis doon to him. Bifor the doom, etc.; that is, bifor that thou deme another man of ony defaute, se that thou be gilteles therof, ellis thou schuldist con- demne thi silf; in ij. c°. to Ro- mayns, In what thing thou demest another man, thou con- demnest thi silf, for thou doist the same thingis whiche thou demest. lerne thou; of a maister. bifor that thou speke; in techinge othere men. Bifor sikenesse, etc.; as bodili siknesse is maad vncurable bi long during; so goostly sik- nesse bi cus- tom, which is as sum kynde. Live here. c. † Be thou not lettid; bi tem- poral bisynessis. to preye euere; that is, in tymes ordeyned ther- to. Live here. c. ‡ temptith God; to tempt God, that is, that a man bitake him silf to perel, and leue that that he may do re- sonabli, and abide to be de- lyuerid of God. Live here. c. § Ech fel man; that is, ententif to eschewe yuels, bi Goddis drede. knowith wisdom; that is, getith and loueth it. knowleching; of preising. || bisou3ten, etc.; that is, in bi- seching thei knewen the vn- derstanding of priuy thingis.

Delite thou not in cumpanyes; that is, in multitude of meynes. Live here. c. Be thou not meene; that is, negligent ether slow. in stryuyng of looue; that is, that thou stryue to ouercome sum men in the 3yuyng of almes; he that 3yueth almes, makith looue to God, in xix c°. of Prouerbs. enuy- ouse to thi soule; in withdrawinge fro it the good of mersi, if thou art negligent in the 3yuyng of almes: thus it is expownyd comynly, but it may be expowned neer the lettre thus, Be thou not meene, etc.; that is, not onely stryue thou not myche, but nether lital, in axinge hard the dette, which thou hast lent to thi nedy neizbore. and sum thing is to thee; that is, while thou hast wherof thou maist lyue in an other side, thou owist not to axe a3en harde the dette. enuyouse to thi soule; in withdrawinge fro it the goodis of mersi; if thou axist ouer harde the dette a3enus Goddis heest, in xxij. c°. of Exodi. Live here. c. ¶ in the world; another lettre hath, in the bagge. Live here. c.

g the dom AEH. h the dom AEGH. i the tyme E. k Om. c et E. pr. m. l the tyme AEG sec. m. H. m Om. c pr. m. n dradde E pr. m. o the strif E. u edwite ceteri. v vnto I. w vnderstonden cgs.

CAP. XIX.

1 The drunkelew wereman shal not be mad riche; and who dispisith lytle 2 thingis, litil mele doun falleth. Wyn and wymmen maken also wise men to go bacward; and shuln vndernyne weel 3 felende men. And who hymself ioyneth to lecchoures, shal be wicked; rotennesse and wormes shuln eritagen hym, and his soule shal be taken awei fro the 4 noumbre. Who leueth soone, is lizt in herte, and shal be lessid; and who tres-paseth in to his soule, ferthermor shal 5 ben had. Who iozeth in wickidnesse, shal ben vndernomen; and who hateth correccioun, shal be lassid in^p lif; and who hateth myche speche, quenchith 6 malice. And who synneth in to his soule, shal not do penaunce; and who is merie in malice, shal be repreued.
7 Reherce thou not an hard wrd, and a shreude; and thou shalt not be lassid.
8 To frend^q and enemy wile thou not telle thi wit; and if ther is to thee gilte, 9 wile thou not nakenen. Forsothe he shal heren thee, and kepe thee, and as de-fendende synne he shal hate thee; and 10 so he shal be nee3h to thee. Euermor hast thou herd a wrd a3en thi ne3hebore; abide it stille in thee, trostende for it 11 shal not to-breke thee. Fro the face of the wrd berth out the fool, as the weil-12 ing of the birthe of a child. An arewe ficchid 'in to' the hipe of an hound, so 13 a wrd in the herte of a fool. Chastise a frend, lest par auenture he vnderstond^s not, and seye, I dide not; or if he haue 14 do, lest eftsoone he adde to do. Chastise a ne3hebore, lest par auenture he shal not seyn; and if he seide, lest par auen-15 ture he reherse. Chastise a frend, ofte 16 forsothe is don trespas; and not to eche wrđ leue^t thou. Ther is that slideth in is, lest he knowe not that he dide yuel, and for thi repreuyng he schal knowe and eschewe. either if he hath do; wrong wittingly, repreue thou him. he seie not; that is, denye stidefastly, in encreasinge his synne. and if he seith; that is, knowlechith the synne. Live here. c.

CAP. XIX.

A drunkelew^x werk man schal not be 1 maad riche; and he that chargith not litle synnes, fallith doun^{*} litil and litil. Wyn 2 and wymmen maken to be apostataas, 3 he, wise men; and thei repreuen witti men.
And he that ioyneth hym silf to hooris, 3 shal be wickid; rot and wormes schulen enherite hym, and he schal be set an hi3 in to more ensauple, and his soule schal be takun[†] awei fro noumbre. He that 4 bileueth soone, is vnstable in herte, and shal be maad lesse; and he that trespassith a3ens his soule, schal be had ferther-more. He that ioieth in wickidnesse, schal 5 be cursid; and he that hatith blamyng, shal be maad lesse in lijf; and he that hatith ianglyng, quenchith malice. He 6 that synneth a3ens his soule, schal repente; and he that is myrie in malice, schal be cursid. Reherse thou not an hard word, 7 and wickid; and thou schalt not be maad lesse. Nyle thou telle thi wit to frend 8 and^y enemye; and if trespas is to thee, nyle thou make nakid. For he schal here 9 thee, and schal kepe thee, and he as de-fendynge the synne schal hate thee; and so he schal be euere with thee. Thou 10 hast herd a word a3ens thi neizbore; die it togidere in thee, and triste thou that it shal not breke thee. A fool trauelith 11 greetli of the face of a word, as the sorewe of beryng of a 3ong child. An arowe 12 fastned in the hipe of a dogge, so a word in the herte of a fool. Repreue thou a 13 frend[‡], lest peraenture he vndurstonde not, and seie, Y dide not; ether if he hath do, lest he adde to do eft. Repreue 14 thou a neizbore, lest peraenture he seie not; and if he seith, lest peraenture he reherse. Repreue thou a frend, for whi 15 trespassynge is don ofte; and bileue 16 thou not to ech word. Ther is a man that  fallith doun; in to greuouse synnes. repreuen; that is, maken him worthi to be repreuyd. set an hi3; that is, schal be takun out of the felouschipe of goode men. in to more ensauple; that is, make aferd both litil men and greete. Live here. c. † his soule schal be takun, etc.; that is, schal be rauyschid of fendis fro the noumbre of chosun men. He that bileueth soone; that is, yuele of his neizbore. schal be maad lesse; in lijf and fame, for he is vnstable in good, and able to falle to yuel. that trespassith a3ens his soule; that is, defoulith it bi priuy synnes. schal be had ferthermore; that is, schal be maad opyn with out forth. Reherse thou not an hard word; of rebuking. and wickid; of bacbiting. lesse; in fame and vertu. wit; that is, thi priuete. make nakid; that is, schewe opinly thi preuy trespas, and most to thyn enemy. schal kepe thee; that is, aspie thi wordis to take thee. the synne; that is, thi synne, excusynge it gilefully bifor thee, that he may more knowe thee, and distrie thee. Live here. c. ‡ Repreue thou a frend; that*

^p the E pr. m. ^q the frend E. ^r in A. ^s vnderstod C. ^t bileue G sec. m.

^x drunke G. ^y and to I.

17 his tunge, but not of inwit. Who is forsothe, that gilteth not in his tunge?
Chastise a nezhebores, er that thou threte;
18 and ȝif place to the drede of the heizest.
For eche wisdom the drede of God, and in it to dreden God; and in alle wisdom 19 the disposing of the lawe. And wisdom is not the disciplyne of shreudenesse; and good thenking is not the prudence of 20 synnes. Ther is shreudenesse of prudence, and in it cursing; and ther is an vnwis man, that is lassid in wisdom.
21 Betere is a man that is lassid in wisdom, and failende wit in the drede of God, than that aboundith in wit, and ouer-22 passith the lawe of the heizest. Ther is certeyn sleeynesse, and it is wicke.
23 And ther is, that sendeth out a certeyn wrd, tellende out the treuthe. Ther is, that shreudely meketh hymself; and the entrailes of hym ben ful of treccherie.
24 And ther is a riȝtwis^a, that myche vnderputtith hymself of myche mekenesse; and ther is a riȝtwis, that bowith in the face, and feyneth hym not to seen that 25 is vnknownen. And if of infirmyte ^{of} strengthis^v he ^{is} forbeden^w to synnen; if ^{he} shal fynde^x tyme of euel doying, he 26 shal euele do. Of the sizte is knownen a man; and of the aȝeen comyng of the 27 face is knownen the weel felende. The clothing of the body, and the laȝhing of teth, and the goying in of a man, tellen 28 out of hym. Ther is liyng correccioun in wrathe of the wrongful; and ther is dom that is not preued to ben good; and ther is a beere stille, and he is prudent.

CAP. XX.

1 Hou good is to vndernymyn, than to wrathen, and to not forbeden^y the knou-2 lechere in orisoun. The lust of the gelding deflourede the ȝunge womman, ^{or birefte} 3 hir meydenhed^z, so he that doth bi fors

Live here. c.

|| to repreue; swetely and charitably him that trespassith. forbede not; that is, induse him therto. Live here. c.

^a riȝtwis man A. ^v Om. c pr. m. ^w eschewe c pr. m. E pr. m. ^x ther shal come c. it shal come E pr. m. ^y defenden c pr. m. E pr. m. ^z or bereuith hir meydenhed A. Om. c et E pr. m.

^z whiche A sec. m. ^a Om. c sec. m. v. ^b be I.

fallith bi his tunge, but not of wille*.
For 'whi who^z is he, that trespassith not 17 in his tunge? Repreue thou a neizbores†, bifore that thou manaasse; and ȝyue thou 18 place to the drede of the heizeste. For whi al wisdom is the drede of God, and in that wisdom for to drede God; and the ordynaunce of lawe is in al wisdom. And 19 the teching of wickidnesse is not wisdom; and the prudence of synnes is not good thouȝt. Ther is wickidnesse of prudence, 20 and cursidnesse is ther ynne; and ther is an vnwiȝs man, which is maad litil in wisdom. Betere is a man that hath litil 21 in^a wisdom, and failynge in wit in the drede of God, than he that hath plentee of wit, and brekith the lawe of the heizeste.
Ther is certeyn sutilte, and it is wickid. 22
And ther is a man, that sendith out a cer- 23 teyn word, tellynge out treuthe. Ther is a man, that mekith hym silf wickidly†; and hise ynnere thingis ben ful of gile.
And ther is a iust man, that makith low 24 greetli hym silf of myche mekenesse; and ther is a iust man, that bowith the face, and feyneth hym to se not that, that is vnknowun. Thouȝ he is^b forbodun of 25 feblenesse of strengthis to do synne; if he fyndith tyme to do yuele, he schal do yuel. A man is knowun bi sizt; and a 26 witti man is knowun bi meetyng of face.
The clothing of bodi, and the leiȝyng of 27 teeth, and the entring of a man, tellen out of hym. Ther is fals repreuyng in 28 the ire of a man ful of dispisyng; and ther is dom which is not preued[§] to be good; and ther is a stille man, and he is prudent.

CAP. XX.

It is ful good to repreue||, more than to be wrooth, and to forbede not a man knowlechyng in preiere. The coueitise of 2 a geldyng hath defoulid the maidynhed of a ȝong womman, so he that makith wickid 3

* not of wille; that is, wittingly and of purpos. Live here. c.
† Repreue thou a neizbores; bi-twix thee and him. bifor that thou manaasse; that is, denounce to the iuge him to be punyschid. al wisdom, etc.; that is, cometh forth of the drede of God; for it is the bigynnyng of wisdom. and in that; that is, wisdom. for to drede God; for as wisdom cometh of drede, so it techith more for to drede God. teching of wickidnesse; bi which a man kan do yuel warly. is not wisdom, very. vnwise man; that is, symple and litil kunnyng. is maad litil in wisdom; that is, kan litil of sultees, and netheles kan sufficiently of thingis that perteynen to helthe. Live here. c.
‡ that mekith him silf wickidly; to dis-seyue men the more. makith low greetly, etc.; to peeris and lower men. and ther is a iust man; feynnyngly. bowith the face, etc.; as turnynge away hise ȝen fro a fair womman, whom he coueitith brennyngly, but this is vnknowun of othere men. Live here. c.
§ ther is doom which is not preued; that is, whanne a man demeth bi list signes, that his neizbores is yuel. ther is a stille man; that is, not demynge yuel of his neizbores, til cer-teyne be had. Live here. c.

4wicke dom. Hou good is, the chastisid to schewe^a penaunce; so forsothe thou shalt 5fleen awei wilful synne. Ther is a stille man, that is found wis; and ther is an 6hateful, that is gredy to speken. Ther is forsothe a stille man, not hauende wit of speche; and ther is a stille man, witende 7tyme of couenable tyme. A wys man shal be stille vnto tyme; the reccheles^b forsothe and the vnprudent shul not 8skepe time. Who vseth manye wrdis, hurteth his soule; and who taketh to hym power wrongfulli, shal ben hatid^c.
9Ther is goyng forth in euclis to a man vndisciplyned; and ther is finding in to 10harm. Ther is 3ouen thing, that is not profitable; and ther is 3oue thing, whos 113elding is double. Ther is lassing for glorie; and ther is, that fro mecnesse 12shal rere the hed. There is, that manye thingis a3een bie for litil pris, and re-13storende them in to seuen fold. A wys man in wrdis maketh hym self loouable; the graces forsothe of foolis shul ben 14held out. The 3ifte of the vnwise shall not be profitable to thee; the e3en for-15sothe of hym ben seuenfold. Fewe thingus he shal 3yue, and many thingus he shal vpbreiden; and the openyng of 16the mouth of hym is enflaumyng. To day leeneth a man, and to moru he asketh it bi ple; and hateful is such a 17maner man. To a fool shal not ben a frend, and ther shal not be grace to the 18goodis of hym. Who forsothe eten^d the bred of hym, ben of fals tunge; hou ofte sithes and hou fele shul thei scorne hym?
19Ne forsothe that were to ben had, with euene ri3t wit he delede; lic maner and 20that, that were not to ben had. The slidyng of the false tunge 'as he that^e is falling in the pament; so the fallingus dom bi violence. It is ful good, that a 4 man 'that is^c reprieved schewe opynli* penaunce; for so thou schalt ascape wilful synne. Ther is a stil man, which is 5 foundun wijs; and he is hateful, which is fool hardi[†] to speke. Sotheli ther is a 6 stille man, not hauynge wit of speche; and ther is a stille man, knowynge the sesoun of couenable tyme. A wijs man 7 shal be stille til to tyme; but a ioli man and vnprudent man schulen not kepe tyme. He that vsith many wordis[‡], hirt- 8 ith his soule; and he that takith power to hym silf vniustli, schal be hatid. Ther 9 is goyng forth in yuels to a man vnlernyd; and ther is fyndyng in to peiryng. Ther 10 is a 3ifte, which is not profitable[§]; and ther is a 3ifte, whos 3eldyng is double.

Ther is makynge lesse for glorie; and ther 11 is a man, which schal reise the heed fro mekenesse. Ther is a man, that a3en bieth 12 many synnes for litil prijs^{||}, and restorith tho in seuenfold. A wijs man in wordis 13 makith hym silf amyable; but the graces of foolis schulen be sched out. The 3ifte 14 of an vnwijs man schal not be profitable to thee; for hise i3en ben seuenfold[¶]. He 15 shal 3yue litle thingis, and he schal vp-breide^d many thingis; and the openyng of his mouth is enflawmyng. To dai a 16 man leeneth, and to morewe he axith; and siche a man is hateful. A frend schal not 17 be to a fool, and grace schal not be to hise goodis. For thei that eten his breed, ben 18 of fals tunge^{}; hou ofte and hou many men schulen scorne hym? For he de- 19 partith not bi euene wit that, that was worthi to be had; in lijk maner and that, that was not worthi to be had. The fall- 20 ing of a fals tunge is as he that fallith in the pawment; so the fallis of yuele men schulen come hastili. A man with out 21

* schewe opin-ly, etc.; that is, to schewe bi word and deed, that he repentith verily. Lire here. c.
† fool hardi; that is, cometh bifore du tyme. Lire here. c.
‡ many wordis; that is, superflu and veyn wordis. Lire here. c.
§ not profitable; for it is doon for veyn-glorie, ether for yuel entent. Lire here. c.
|| a3enbieth many synnes for litil prijs; that is, bi litil penaunce, in comparisoun of synnes, that disserueden euerlastinge peyne, but penaunce chaungith it to temporal peyne. Lire here. c.
¶ seuenfold; that is, manyfold, ether bi seuenfold of graces of the Hooly Goost. amyable; for he eschewith to seye hateful thingis, and studieth to bringe forth thingis acceptable to God and to men. sched out; bi vndiscreet speking, bi which thei ben maad hateful to God and men, though thei han strengthe, and fairnesse of bodi, and nobley of kyn. Lire here. c.
¶ hise i3en ben seuenfold; that is, his entent is manyfold and dyuerse, and therfor he wole haue many seruyces to vanytes, and othere yuels, for a litil 3ifte. Lire here. c.
 of fals tunge; that is, flateris thingis, and tho preisinge hise folies. scorne hym; as if he seye, alle wise men and goode. departith not, etc.; that is, he delith yuele hise thingis that he rauyschide of othere men. come hastili; that is, sudeynly, as a man that slidith, and fallith in the pawment. Lire here. c.

^a do c pr. m. E pr. m. ^b reccherous E pr. m. reccheles, or wylde c sec. m. marg. wylde, or reccheles E sec. m. marg. AH. ^c blamed E pr. m. ^d eetith A. ^e Om. c pr. m.

^c Om. ceteri.

^d edwite ceteri.

21 of euele men hastili shal come. An vnkinde man as a veyn fable; and it shal be ofte in the mouth of the vndisciplyned.
22 Of the mouth of the fool shal ben repreued a parable; forsothe he seith it^f not in his tyme. Ther is, that is for-bedun^g for myseisete to synnen; and in 23 his reste shal be prickid. And ther is, that shal leese hys soule for confusioun;
and of vnprudence of persone he shal 24 leesen it. Forsothe bi excepcioun of persone he shal leese hymself. Ther is, that for confusioun bihotith to a frend;
and hath woonnen hym an enemy wil-26 fully. Wicke repref in a man a lesyng; and in the mouth of the vndisciplyned 27 it shal be besily. Betere is a thef than the besynesse of a man liere; forsothe 28 bothe shuln eritagen perdicioun. Maneres of men lieres withoute wrshipe; and the confusioun of hem with them 29 withoute cesing. A wys man in wrdis shal bringe forth hymself; and a prudent 30 man shal plesen to grete men. Who wercheth his lond, shal myche hezen the hep of frutes; and who wercheth ryzt-wisnesse, he shal myche^h ben enhauncid.
Who forsothe pleseth to grete men, shal 31 fleen awei, *or ascape*ⁱ, wickidnesse^k. Presentes and ziftes ful out blenden the eȳen of domysmen; and as a doumb in the mouth he turneth awei the chastisingus 32 of hem. Hid wisdam, and tresor^l vnseen, 33 what profit in eithir? Betere is, that hilith his vnwisdam, than a man that hidith his wisdam.

CAP. XXI.

1 Sone, hast thou synned? ne adde thou to eftsoone; but of thi rathere louly preye^m, that to thee thei be forȳyuen.
2 As fro the face of a shadewe eddere flee the onours of him that worchith ryztfulnesse encreessen. plesith grete men; for his ryztfulnesse, as Joseph and Danyel diden. Live here. c.

|| as doumb; that is, a spice of a paddok, which cast in to the mouth of a dogge, makith him stille, and vnmyȳty to berke; so present ȳouun for the distrying of ryztfulnesse, makith the iuge to be stille, and to ceeße fro punyschyng of yuel. what profit is in euer eithir; as if he sey, noon; and this is soth, as to the profit of othere men, but not as to his owne profit; forwhi tresour vnseyn profitith not to it silf, nether to othere men; but wisdom hid profitith as to the hauere, as to the dedis of contemplatif liyf, thouȳ it profitith not to othere men, bi werkis of actif liyf.
Live here. c.

^f it is AE. ^g eschewith c pr. m. E pr. m. ^h Om. AEGH. ⁱ Om. c et E pr. m. ^k wickenesse E.
^l Om. c pr. m. profit E pr. m. ^m beseech AEGH.

grace is as a veyn fable; and it schal be customable in the mouth of vnlerned men.
A parable* schal be repreued of the mouth 22 of a fool; for he seith not it in his tyme.
Ther is a man, that is forbodun to do synne, for pouert; and he schal be prickid† in his reste. Ther is a man, 23 that schal leese his soule for schame; and for the vnprudence of a persone he schal leese it. Forsothe he schal leese hym silf 24 for the takyng of a persone. Ther is a 25 man, that for schame biheetith to a frend; and he hath gete hym enemy with out cause. Leesyng is a wickid schenschip in 26 a man; and it schal be customabli in the mouth of vnlerned men. Betere is a 27 theef‡ than the customableness of a man, a leesyngmongere; forsothe bothe thei schulen enherite perdicioun. The ma-28 neres of men leesyngmongeris ben with outen onour; and her schenschype is with hem with out ceessyng. A wijs man in 29 wordis schal brynge forth§ hym silf; and a prudent man schal pleese grete men.
He that worchith his lond, shal make hiȳ 30 the heep of fruytis; and he that worchith ryztfulnesse, schal be enhaunsid. Sotheli he that plesith grete men, schal ascape wickidnesse. Presentis and ziftis blynden 31 the iȳen of iugis; and as doumb|| in the mouth it turneth awei the chastisyngis of hem. Wisdom hid, and tresour vnseyn, 32 what profit is in euer eithir? He is 33 betere, that hidith his vnwisdom, than a man that hidith his wisdom.

* A parable; that is, a trewe sentence and greet. Live here. c.

† he schal be prickid, etc.; that is, schal be maad bittir in ceessing fro yuel, for he may not fille his malice. leese his soule for schame; that is, for the drede of schame, if he apperith pore, wherfor he turneth to theftis. for the vnprudence of a persone; that is, for the councel of an yuel man, to whom he consentith listly in theftis. leese him silf; as to the soule, bi dedly synne, and as to the bodi, ofte bi hanging, ether bi heading. for the taking of a persone; that is, in taking the councel of an yuel persone. for schame; that is, dredinge schame to be holdun vnmyȳty, ether auarouse. biheetith; that is, that he may not paye. enemy without reasonable cause of biheeting. Live here. c.

‡ Betere is a theef; that is, lesse yuel than a man customable to leesyngis, for he sclaudrith good fame, which is betere than ertheli goodis. Live here. c.

§ schal brynge forth, etc.; that is, schal schewe his wisdom. worchith ryztfulnesse; as heete encreessith fruytis, so synnes; and if thou schaltⁿ ne3he to 3 them, thei shul take thee. The teeth of a leoun the teth of it, sleende the soules 4 of men. As a swerd two^o bitende eche wickidnesse^p; of the wounde of it is no 5 helthe. A3een chiding and wrongis to no3t shul bringe substaunce; and the hous that ful myche is riche, shal be bro3t to no3t bi pride; so the substaunce of the proude shal be taken vp bi the 6 roote. The lowe pre3yng of the pore fro the mouth vnto the ere shal come; and 7 dom hastili shal com to hym. Who hateth chastising, the step is of a synnere; and who dredeth God, shal ben conuertid 8 to his herte. Knowen fro aferr is the my3ty in fool hardy tunge; and the weel felende woot hym^q to slyde fro 9 hym. Who bildith his hous with^r other mennes costes, as that gedereth his 10 stonus in wynter^s. A flax top gedered togidere the synagoge of synneres; and the ful ending of them flawme of fyr.

 11 The weie of synneres togidere plauntid with stones; and in to the ende of them 12 helle, and peynes^t, and derknesses. Who shal kepe ri3twisnesse, shal withholde 13 the wyt of hym. Ful ending of the 14 drede of God wisdom and wit. He shal not be lerned, that is not wis in goode.
 15 Ther is forsothe vnwisdom, that abundeth in euel; and there is not wit, where 16 is bitternesse. The kunnyng of the wise man as flowing shal abunde; and the counseil of hym as a^u welle of lif abit^v 17 stille. The herte of the fool as a vessel to-broken; and alle wisdom shal not 18 holden. A wis wrd what euer he^w shal heren, the kunnyng shal preisen, and echen. The leccherous herde, and it shal displesen hym; and he shal throwe it 19 bihinde his bac. The telling of a^x fool and if thou neizest to 'tho^{*} synnes^c, tho schulen take thee. The teeth of a lioun³ ben the teeth therof, that sleen the soulis of men. Al wickidnesse is as^d a scharp⁴ swerd on either syde; heelte is not to the wounde[†] therof. Chidyngis^e and⁵ wrongis schulen distrie catel; and an houe that is ouer riche, schal be distriede bi pride; so the catel of a proude man schal be drawun vp bi the roote. The⁶ preyer of a pore man[†] schal come fro the mouth 'til to^f eeris^g; and doom schal come to hym hastili. He that hatith repreuyng,⁷ is a step of the synnere; and he that dredith God, schal be turned to his herte[§].

 A mizti man with an hardi tunge is⁸ knowun afer; and a witti man kan kepe him silf fro that man. He that bildith⁹ his hous with othere mennus costis^{||}, is as he that gaderith hise stonys in wyntir.
 Scheuys^h gaderid togidere is the synagoge¹⁰ of synneris; and the endyng of hem is the flawme of fier. The weie of synneris¹¹ is set togidere with stoonys; and in the ende of hem ben hellis[¶], and derknessis, and peynes. He that kepith ri3tfulnesse,¹² schal holde the wit therof^{}. The perfec-¹³ cioun of Goddis drede is wisdom and wit.
 He schal not be tau3t, which is not wijs¹⁴ in good. Forsothe vnwisdom is, which is¹⁵ plenteuouse in yuel; and wit is not, where is bittirnesse. The kunnyng of a wijs¹⁶ man schal be plenteuouse as flowyng; and the counsel of hym dwellith as a welle of lijf. The herte of a fool is as a brokun¹⁷ vessel; and it schal not holde any wisdom.
 What euer wijs word a kunnyng man¹⁸ herith, he schal preise, and leie to^{††}. A lletcherouse man herde, and it schal dis-plese hym; and he schal caste it awei bihynde his bak. The tellynge of a fool¹⁹ is as a birthun in the weie; for whi

* neizist to tho;
 bi consent.
 take thee; in wrappinge and byndyng bi dede and custom. teeth
 therof; for it deuourith hoollyche the good of grace, and decreessith the good of kynde.
 Live here. c.
 † helthe is not to the wounde;
 for whi synne hirtith bodi
 and soule, and withdrawith grace in present tyme, and bryngith to the
 peyne of helle.
 Live here. c.
 ‡ a pore man;
 that suffrith
 wrong bi wordis and
 dedis of a proud
 man. to the eeris; of God.
 is a step, etc.;
 that is, a suere
 of the deuel.
 Live here. c.
 § herte; in resseyuynge,
 blamyng, and in fleynge fro synnes. an hardi tunge;
 that is, a proud
 man, that gess-
 ith grete thingis
 of himsilf, and spekith listli
 and proudli.
 Live here. c.
 || mennus costis; gaderid togidere bi raueyn. Live
 here. c.
 ¶ hellis; it is seid hellis in plurel noumbre,
 for many places ben there. Live
 here. c.
  holde the wit
 therof; that is,
 schal holde stidefastly the stiring of re-soun in his werkis. wisdom; bi which a man is wel disposid to God.
 and wit; bi which a man is wel disposid to his neigbore.
 Raban poyntith

thus, And the wit of him schal not be tau3t, which is nat wijs in good; and this lettre is pleyn. Live here. c. in herte, and fille in werk. c.

†† and ley to; that is, holde ⁿ Om. c pr. m. ^o twei AEGH. ^p wickenesse E. ^q to hym E pr. m. ^r of A. ^s the wynter E pr. m.

^t peyne c. ^u Om. A. ^v abideth AEGH. ^w it AGH. ^x the A.

^e them I. ^d Om. s. ^e Chidyng cv. ^{ynto} I. ^g the eeris cva. ^h Stobyl A sec. m. Stubbil I.

as berthen in the weie; for in the lippes of the wel felende shal be founde grace.
 20 The mouth of the prudent is^y sozte in the chirche; and the wrdis of hym thei 21 shul thenke in ther hertes. As an hous set out of termes, so a wisdom to a fool; and the kunnyng of the mys felende vn-22 tellable wrdis. Gyues in feet doctrine to a fool; and as bondis of hondis vpon the 23 riȝt hond. The fool in laȝhing enhaunceth his vois; forsothe a wis man vnnethe 24 stilleli shal laȝhen. A goldene ournement doctrine to the prudent; and as an 25 armcerle in the riȝt arm. The foot of the fool liȝt in to the hous of the neȝhebore; and a wis man shal be confoundid 26 of the persone of the myȝty. The fool fro the wyndowe biholdith in to the hous; the lered man forsothe withoute 27 shal stonde. The folie of a man to herkenen thurȝ the dores^z; and the prudent 28 shal be greued with strif. The lippes of vnprudent men folies shul tellen^a; the wrdis forsothe of prudent men in a ba-29 launce shul ben peisid. In the mouth of foolis the herte of hem; and^b in the herte 30 of wise men the mouth of hem. Whan the vnpitouse curseth the deuel, he curs-31 eth his owne soule. The rownende^c gruc- chere shal defoule his soule, and in alle thingus he shal ben hatyd, and that abideth, shal ben hatid; the stille and the wel felende shal ben wrshipid.

CAP. XXII.

1 In a cleȝy ston shal ben stoned the slowe; and alle shuln speke of the grete 2 dispising of hym. Of the drit of oxen stoned is the slowe; and eche that toucheth hym, shal shaken out hondes.
 3 The confusioun of the fader is of the vndisciplyned sone; forsothe a fool doȝtir 4 in gret mynushing shal be. A prudent doȝtir eritage to hir husbonde^d; for she that confoundith, in repref is mad of the grace schal be foundun in the lippis of a wiȝs man. The mouth of a prudent²⁰ man is souȝt in the chirche; and men schulen thenke hise wordis in her hertis. As an hous distried, so is wisdom to a²¹ fool^{*}; and the kunnyng of an vnwiȝs man is wordis that moun not be teld out. Stockis in the feet is techyng to a fool;²² and as bondis of hondis on the riȝt hond. A fool enhaunsith his vois in leiȝyng;²³ but a wiȝs man schal leiȝe vnnethis stilli. Techyng is a goldun ournement to a pru-²⁴ dent man; and as an ournement of the arm in the riȝt arm. The foot of a fool *is*²⁵ liȝtⁱ in to^k the hous of a neȝbore; and a wiȝs man schal be aschamed[†] of the per- soone of a miȝti man. A fool biholdith²⁶ fro the wyndow in to the hous; but a lerned man schal stonde with out forth. It is foli of a man to herkene bi the dore;²⁷ and a prudent man schal be greuyd bi dispisyng. The lippis of vnprudent men²⁸ schulen telle fonned thingis; but the wordis of prudent men schulen be weied in a ba- launce. The herte of foolis is in her²⁹ mouth; and the mouth of wise men is in her herte. Whanne a wickid man curs-³⁰ ith the deuel, he cursith his owne soule. A priuy bacbitere schal defoule his soule,³¹ and in alle thingis he schal be hatid, and he that dwellith[‡], schal be hatid; a stil man and wiȝs schal be onourid.

CAP. XXII.

A slow man is stonyd in a stoon of cleȝ; and alle men schulen speke on the dispisyng of him. A slow man is stonyd² of the dung of oxis; and ech man that touchith hym, schal schake the hondis. The schame of a^m fadir is of a sone vn-³ lerned; but a fonned douȝter schal be in decreessyng[‡]. A prudent douȝter is eritage⁴ to hir hosebonde; for sche that schendith hir hosebonde, is in dispisyng of the fadir.

* wisdom to a fool; for if he hath ony know- ing of truthe, he schal leese it, for vndu- maner of sei- yng, teld out; for he bryngith forth tho so, that tho moun not be vndur- stondun. Live here. c.

† a wiȝs man schal be schamed; that is, schal be aschamed to speke bifor him, no but nede ether opyn profit axith this. The herte of foolis; for anon thei tellen out her conseit. the mouth of wise men, etc.; for they pronounsen no thing, no but bi good auyse- ment biforgo- ynge. cursith the deuel; dampned iust- ly. cursith his soule; for in his dedis he sueth the deuel, and so he de- nounsith, that he owith to be dampned. Live here. c.
 ‡ dwellith; with a priuy bacbitere, and is defoulid bi his synne. stille man; in du tyme, and spekinge in co- uenable tyme. Live here. c.

§ in decreess- ing; of the onour of fadir and modir. Live here. c.

^y shal be c pr. m. E pr. m. ^z dore AEGH. ^a speke E pr. m. ^b Om. A. ^c rownyng E. ^d man c et E pr. m.

ⁱ liȝt to go v. ^k Om. c. ^l an vnprudent man A pr. m. ^m Om. i.

getere. The fader and man she fool hardi confoundeth, and of the vnпиты man she shal not be lassid; of either for-sothe she shal^e be vnwrshipid^f. Melodie in weiling vnkouenable^g telling; scourges and doctrine in alle tyme wisdom. Who techeth a fool, as that glueth togidere a sherd. He that telleth a wrd to the not herende, as that rereth a slepende^h man fro an heuy slep. With the slependeⁱ he speketh, that telleth to the fool wisdom; and in the ende of the^k telling he shal sey, Who is this? Ouer the deade weep thou, forsothe the lijt of hym failede; and ouer the fool weep thou, forsothe he failede wit. A litil weep vp on the deade, for he restede. Forsothe of the most wicke^l most wicke^l lif, on the deth of a fool. The weiling of the deade seuene dazes; of the fool forsothe and of the vnпиты alle the dazes of the lif of hem. With a fool ne speke thou myche, and with a mys felende go thou not away. Kep thee fro hym, that thou haue not greef; and thou shalt not ben defoulid in the synne of hym. Boowe awei fro hym, and thou shalt finde reste; and thou shalt not be maad sorewi^m sloz in the folie of hym. Ouer leed what shal ben heuy? and what othir name to hym than a fool? Lijtere is to bern grauel, and salt, and a gobet of iren, than an inprudentⁿ man, and a fool, and vnпиты.
As ioynynge of tres, bounde togidere to the foundement of the bilding, shal^o not ben vnloosid, so and the herte fastned togidere in the thenking of counseil. The thenking of the wel felende in alle tyme, or drede, shal not be beshrewid. As chaf in heze thingus, and morter withoute due cost, sett azen the face of the wynd, shul not abide; so and the dredeful herte in the thenking of a fool azen the bure of drede azen stont^p not. As grauely enourn-

A 'schameles womman^m schendith the fa-dir and hosebonde, and schal not be maad lesse^{*} than vnfeithful men; forsothe sche shal not be onourid of euer either. Melodie in morenyng is vncouenableⁿ tellyng; betyngis^o and techyng in al tyme with wisdom. He that techith a fool, as he⁷ that glueth togidere a tiel stoon. He that tellith a word to hym that herith not, is as he that reisith a man slepynge fro a greuouse sleep. He that tellith wisdom to a fool, spekith with a man slepynge; and in the ende of the tellyng he schal seie, Who is this? Wepe thou[†] on a deed man, for whi his lijt failide; and wepe thou on a fool, for he failide of wit. Wepe thou a litil on a deed man, for he hath restid. Forsothe the lijf of a ful[‡] wickid man is ful wickid, more than the deth of a fool. The morenyng of a deed man is seuene daies; but the morenyng of a fool and of a wickid man is alle the daies of her lijf. Speke thou not myche with a fool, and go thou not with an vnwijs man.
Kep thee fro hym, that thou haue not disese; and thou schalt not be defoulid in the synne of hym. Boowe thou awei fro hym, and thou schalt fynde reste; and be thou not anoied by his foly. What shal be maad heuyere than leed? and what othere name than a fool is to it?
It is lijtere to bere grauel, and salt, and a gobet of yrun, than a man vnprudent, and a fool, and vnfeithful. As an heep of trees, boundun togidere in the foundement of the bilding, schal not be vnboundun, so and an^{oo} herte confermed in the thouzt of counsel[§]. The thouzt of a wijs man shal not be maad schrewid in ony tyme, nether drede^p. As chaffis in hijs places, and soond with out medling of hym, set azens the face of wynd, schulen not dwelle; so and a dredeful herte in the thouzt of a fool azenstondith not azens the feersnesse

* lesse; that is, schal not be lesse in vices than men that beren pestilence. wisdom; that is, chastising, bi beting ether bi word, nedith euer to be doon wisely and with du circumstances. Live here. c. † Wepe thou, etc.; that is, mercifully do thou seruyce of the deed bodi, and preye thou for him, for his tyme of merit failede. Live here. c. ‡ the lijf of a fool; that is, the wickid lijf of a fool is worse, and more to be biweilid, than the deth of him. The morenyng of a deed man; that is, of a iust man deed, durith. bi seuene dayes; so it was in the tyme of the writere of this book. of a fool, etc.; a fool here is seid not he that is a fool bi defaute of kyndly wit, but bi defaute of good lijf, thoru abundaunce of malice; and in liyk maner an vnfeithful man is he, that doith idolatrie. alle the dayes of her lijf; vndurstonde thou, ben wor- thi to be biweilid. Live here. c. § of counsel; that is, of good counsel, and of prudence, is not departid lijtly fro goodnesse. dredeful; bi worldly drede. azenstondith out; yuel, but consentith anoon. Live here. c.

^e shal not c pr. m. E pr. m. ^f wrshipid c pr. m. ^g nedeles c pr. m. E pr. m. vnkonable c sec. m. ^h slepi A GH. ⁱ slepi A. ^k Om. A E GH. ^l wickede A E GH. ^m Om. c pr. m. ⁿ vnprudent A GH. ^o that shal c. ^p stondeth A E GH.

^m boold womman, that is, schameles, c et ceteri. ⁿ couenable A pr. m. is. ^o betyng AS. ^{oo} the I. ^p in drede A sec. m.

yng^a in a briȝt wal, so and the trem-blende herte in the thenking of a fool, alle time he shal not dreden^r; so and that in^s the hestis of God abit^t stille 24 euermor. The prickende the eȝe leteth out teres; and that pricketh the herte, bring-25 eth forth wit. Throwende a ston in to foules, 'schal throwe^u hem down; so and that putteth reprof to a frend, looseth 26 frenshipe. To the frend and if thou bringe forth a swerd, thou shalt not dispeiren; ther is forsothe aȝeengoyng to a 27 frend. If he shul opene a drery mouth, ne drede thou; ther is forsothe acording, out take putting to of vice, and dis-pit, and pride, and openyng of priuȝte, and treccherous veniaunce; in alle these 28 thingus shal flee awei a frend. Feith welde thou with a frend 'in the^v pore-nesse of hym, that and in the goodis of 29 hym thou glade. In tyme of tribula-cioun of hym abid stille to hym feithful, that and in the eritage of hym thou be 30 togidere eir. Biforn fir of the chymnee, moiste issue, and the smoke of fyr, is enhauncid; so and befor blod cursis, and 31 wrongis, and thretes. A frend to saluten I shal not be confoundid, and fro the face of hym I shal not hiden me; and if eueles schulen^w comen to me bi hym, 32 I shal suffre. Eche that shal heren, shal 33 shonen hymself fro hym. Who shal ȝyue to my mouth warde, and vpon^x my lippis a^y certeyn marke, that I falle not fro them, and my tunge leese me?

CAP. XXIII.

1 Lord, fader, and lordshipere of my lif, ne forsake thou me in the thenking and the counseil of them; and suffre thou me 2 not to fallen in that reprouyng. Who puttith vp on in my^z thenking scourgis, and in myn herte doctrine of wisdom, that to the vnknowyngus of them he spare not to me, and apere not the giltis of drede. As ournyng, ether pargetyng, 23 ful of grauel in a cleer wal*, so and a ferdful herte in the thouȝt of a fool schal not drede in ony tyme; so and^a he that dwellith euere in the heestis of God†. He 24 that prickith the iȝe, schal leede out teeris; and he that prickith the herte, bryngith forth wit. He that castith^r a stoon to 25 briddis, schal caste down tho; so and he that doith wrong to a frend, departith frenschipe. Thouȝ thou bryngist^s forth a 26 swerd to a frend, dispeire† thou not; for ther is going aȝen to the frend. If he 27 openeth a soreful mouth, drede thou not;

 for whi ther is acordyng, outakun dispisynge, and schenschiȝe, and pride, and schewyng of preuȝte, and a tretcherouse wounde; in alle these thingis a frend schal fle awei. Haue thou feith with a frend 28 in his pouert, that thou be glad also in hise goodis. In the tyme of his tribula- 29 cioun dwelle thou feithful to hym, that also thou be euene eir in the eritage of hym. Heete^t and smook of fier is maad 30 hiȝ bifore the fier of a^u chymenei; so and cursyngis, and dispisyngis, and manaassis, comen bifore blood. I schal not be 31 aschamed for to grete a frend, and Y schal not hide me fro his face; thouȝ yuels comen to me bi hym, Y schal suffre.
 Ech man that schal here, schal kepe warliȝ 32 hym silf fro hym. Who schal ȝyue keping 33 to my mouth, and a certeyn ceelyng on my lippis, that Y falle not bi tho, and that my tunge leese not me?

CAP. XXIII.

Lord, fadir, and lordli gouernour of my lijf, forsake thou me not in the thouȝt and counsel of hem||; nether suffre thou me to falle in that schenschiȝe. Who settith^z aboue in my thouȝt beetyngis, and in myn hert the techyng of wisdom, that in the vnkunnyngis of hem he spare not me, and that the trespassis of hem appere not?

* cleer wal;
 that is, of hard stonys, and
 maad smethe.
 schal not drede;
 bi Goddis drede. Live
here. c.
 † heestis of God; vndur-
 stonde thou, dwellith euere
 in the loue and drede of God.
Live here. c.

† dispeire, etc.; of rekeuering
 of frenschipe.
 dispising; that is, to putte
 on him greu-
 ouse cryme, as that he is a theef. schenschiȝe;
 that is,
 to putte on him
 that he was borun vnlawe-
 fully, ether that he is boonde
 man. a tretcherouse
wounde; that is, doon bi tresoun. Live
here. c.

§ kepe warliȝ;
 that is, fro offence of a frend. Live
here. c.

^a ennyrownyng A. ^r repen E pr. m. ^s Om. C. ^t abideth AE GH. ^u throwith C pr. m. ^v and in A.
^w Om. C pr. m. ^x to AGH. ^y Om. G. ^z the E pr. m.

^a Om. C. ^r sendith I. ^s brynge I. ^t Vapour, ether heete, C et ceteri. ^u the F. Om. ceteri.

3 of them? Lest waxen to myne vnkunnynghnesses, and ben multeplied my giltis, and my synnes abunden; and I falle in the sijte off myn aduersaries, and myn 4 enemy io3e. Lord, fader, and God of my lif, ne forsake thou me in the thenking 5 of hem. The enhauncyng of myn 3zen ne 3yue thou to me; and al desyr turne 6 awei fro me. Do awei fro me lustis of the wombe, and the liggyngus of lust ne take thei me; and to vnreuerent inwit 7 and vndiscreet ne take thou me. The doctrine of the mouth here 3ee, sonis; and that shal kepen it, shal not pershen in his lippis, ne shal be sclaundrid in 8 the werste^a werkes. In his vanyte is ca3t the synnere and the proude man^b; and the cursid shal be sclaundred in 9 hem. To swering vse not thi mouth; 10 manye forsothe fallingus in^c it. The nemnyng forsothe of God be not con-tynuel in thi mouth, and to the names of seyntus be thou not mengd; for thou shalt 11 not ben harmles of hem. As forsothe a seruaunt askid bisily, fro wannesse, 'or enuye^d, is not mynusht; so eche swerere and nemnyng, in al fro synne shal not be 12 purgid. A man myche swerende shal be fulfild with wickidnesse^e; and ther shal not gon awei fro the hous of hym ven-13 iaunce. And if he shul bigile the brother, the gilte of hym vpon hym shal be;
and if he shul feyne, he shal trespassen 14 double. And if in veyn he shul swern, he shal not be iustefied; forsothe with werst 3elding shal be fulfild the hous of 15 hym. Ther is and an other speche a3eenward in to deth; 'be it^f not founde 16 in the eritage of Jacob. Forsothe of merciful men alle these thingus shul be don away; and in giltis thei shul not

Lest myn vnkunynghis encrease, and my 3 trespassis be multiplid, and my synnes be plenteuouse; and lest Y falle in the sijt of myn aduersaries, and myn enemy haue ioie. Lord, fadir, and God of my lijf, for- 4 sake thou not me in the thou3t of hem.
3yue thou not to me enhaunsyng* of 5 myn 3zen; and turne thou awei fro me al schrewid desijr. Do thou awei fro me 6 the coueitis^v of the^w wombe, and the coueitis of letcherie take me not; and 3yue thou not 'me to^x a soule vnreuerent and vndiscreet^y. Sones, here 3e the tech- 7 yng of mouth; and he that kepith it, schal not perische bi hise lippis, nether schal be sclaundrid in worste werkis. A synnere 8 and proude man schal be takun[†] in his vanite; and a cursid man schal be sclaundrid in tho. Thy mouth be not custom- 9 able to swering; for whi many fallyngis ben ther ynne. Forsothe the nemnyng of 10 God be not customable in thi mouth, and be thou not meddlid to the names of seyntis; for thou schalt not be giltles of
hem. For as a seruaunt that is axid bisili, 11 schal not wante wannesse; so ech man swerynge[‡] and nemynge schal not be purgid of synne in al. A man swerynge 12 myche schal be fillid with wickidnesse; and veniaunce schal not go awei fro his hous. And^a if he disseyueth a brother, 13 his trespas schal be aboue hym; and if he feyneth, he schal trespasse doubli. And 14 if he swerith in veyn, he schal not be ius-tified; for whi his hous schal be fillid with worst 3elding. Also a3enward an- 15 other speche is in to deth; be it not found in the eritage of Jacob. For whi alle 16 these thingis schulen be don awei fro merciful men; and thei schulen not delite in trespassis. Thi mouth be not custom- 17

* 3yue thou not to me enhaunsing, etc.; that is, suffre thou not that pride be lord ouer me. of wombe; that is, of glotenye. 3yue thou not, etc.; that is, suffre thou not my soule to falle into vnreuerence, and into vnwisdom. Live here. c.
† proude man schal be takun; of the deucl, that settith to him a snare. sclaundrid in tho; that is, schal falle in the snaris of the deucl.
nemnyng of God; that is, to swere bi him, netheles it owith to be ofte in thi mouth, to preye and preche.
names of seyntis; in sweringe ofte bi hem. giltles of hem; that is, of offence of hem. axid bisili; that is, constreyned bi beeingis to telle. wannesse; of skyn, for the beeing of his body. swerynge; bi God. and nemynge; that is, swerynge bi the names of seyntis, and this custom-ably. Live here. c.
‡ ech man swerynge, etc.; for bi sich yuel custom he fallith into vnleue-ful ooth. disseyueth; that is, harmith him bi a fals ooth. aboue him; for he is holdun to restore, and he schal be constreyned herto, if it is preued a3enus him. feyneth; in holdinge stille the truthe, for whos declaring he is brou3t forth a witnesse, and swerith that he knowith not. doubli; that is, a3enus himsilf, in swerynge fals, and a3enus the neizbore in harmynge him, in conscience that holdith another mannis thing, and another man in the purs. his hous; for whi sumtyme sonis ben punyschid bi temporal paynes, for fadris and modris, and most whanne thei suen the fadris synne; as it is doon ofte in this caas, for a sone that herith ofte his fadir sweringe in veyn, takith bi this a liyk maner. another speche; contrarie to the formere; this speche is blasfemye, that disserueth deth, as God seith in xxiiij. c^o. of Leuitici. Live here. c.

^a wickedest AEGH.
^f but AGH.

^b Om. c pr. m.

^c ben in A.

^d Om. c et E pr. m.

^e wickenesse E.

^v coueityse s. ^w Om. ceteri. ^x to me s. ^y vnsaueri, ether vndiscreet, c et ceteri. ^a Om. A pr. m. I.

17 often turne^s. To the vndisciplynous speche vse not thi mouth; forsothe ther 18 is in it the wrd of synne. Haue mynde of fader and thi moder; in the myddel 19 forsothe of grete men thou stondist. Lest paraenture God forȝete thee in the sizte of hem; and thurȝ thi bisynesse gretli maad foul, repref thou suffre^h, and haddest leuere not to be born, and the dai of 20 thi birthe thou curse. A man vsid in wrds of repref, in alle his dazes shal not 21 be leredⁱ. Two kindis abundyn in synnes, and the thridde bringeth to wrathe and 22 perdicoun. A fel soule as fyr brennende shal not be quenched, to the tyme sum 23 what he swolewe; and a shreude man in the mouthe of his flesh shal not leuen, to 24 the time he teende fyr. To a leccherous man eche bred sweete; he shal not be 25 weri, trespassende vnto the ende. Eche man that ouergoth his bed, dispisende in to his soule, and seiende, Who seeth me?
26 Derkenesses cumpassen me, and the walles coueren me aboute, and no man aboute biholdeth me. Whom drede I? Of my giltis the heizest shal not han mynde.
27 And^k he vndirstont^l not, for alle thingus the eze of hym seeth, for he putte awei fro hym the drede of God; of such a maner man is drede, and the ezen of men 28 dredende hym. And he kneȝ not, for the ezen of the Lord ben myche more liztere ouer the sunne, biholdende aboute alle the weies of men, and the depthe of the se, and the hertes of men biholdende 29 in to the hidde partis. To the Lord God forsothe, er thei weren^m foormed, alle thingis ben known; so and aftir the 30 parformed he biholdith alle thingus. This in the stretes of the cite shal be vengid; as an horse colt he shal be dryue, and 31 wher he hopeth not, he shal be caȝt. And he shal ben vileny to alle; forthi that he 32 vnderstod not the drede of the Lord. So and eche womman forsakende hir manⁿ, able to vnreuerent speche; for whi a word of synne is in it. Haue thou mynde on 18 thi fadir and modir; for thou stondist in the myddis of grete men. Lest perauen- 19 ture God forȝete thee in the sizt of hem; and lest thou maad a fool bi thi custom-ableness, suffre schenschipec^b, and haddist leuere to be not borun, and curse the dai of thi birthe. A man customable in the^c 20 wordis of schenschipec, in alle daies schal^d not be tauȝt. Twei kyndis* ben plenteu- 21 ouse in synnes, and the thridde bringith ire and perdicoun. An hoot soule bren- 22 nyng as fier schal not be quenched, til it swolewe sum thing; and a wickid man in 23 the mouth of his fleisch schal not faile, til he kyndle fier. Ech breed is swete to a 24 letcherouse man; he schal not be maad weri, trespassynge til to^e the ende. Ech 25 man that passith his bed[†], doith dispit azens his soule, and seith, Who seeth me?

Derkenessis cumpassen me, and wallis 26 kyueren me, and no man biholdith me.
Whom drede Y? The hizeste schal not haue mynde on my synnes. And he vn- 27 dirstondith not, that the ize of him^f seeth alle thingis; for whi the drede of sicke a man puttith awei fro him the drede of God, and the izen of men that dreden hym putten awei fro hym Goddis drede.
And he knew not, that the izen of the 28 Lord ben myche more clerere than the sunne, and biholden alle the weies of men, and the depthe of the see, and^g biholden the hertis of men in to hid partis. For 29 whi alle thingis weren knowun to the Lord, bifore that thei^h weren maad of nouȝt; so and aftir the makynge he bi-holdith alle thingis. This man schal be 30 punyschid in the stretis of the cite; he shal be dryuun awei as an horse colt, and he schal be takun, where he hopith not. And he schal be schenschip to alle 31 men; for he vnderstod not the drede of the Lord. So and ech womman forsak- 32

* Twei kyndis; that is, couetise and glotonye. and the thridde; that is, auoutrie. bringith ire; of Goddis vengeance. and perdicoun; of helle. brennyng; with the fier of couetise. swolewe sum thing; in getinge vniustly the goodis of othere men. a wickid man; that is, a glotoun. til he kyndle fier; of lecherie. Ech breed is swete; that is, ech wyf of another man is desirable to him. maad weri, etc.; that is, he schal not ceesse to breke Goddis heest, that forbedith auoutrie. til to the ende; of his liyf. Live here. c. † that passith his bed; bi auoutrie. the drede of sicke a man; that is, of auouter, bi which he dredith to be priued fro his lust. the izen of men, etc.; that is, men that knowen his auoutrie, and seruen him thereynne, for drede of his offence, and preisen him, and nurschen him in hise yuels, putten away fro him Goddis drede. Live here. c.

^s turne them E pr. m. AGH. ^h suffrist A. ⁱ lerned AE GH. ^k Om. A. ^l vnderstondeth AE GH.
^m ben c pr. m. E pr. m. ⁿ husbonde AE GH sec. m.

^b schenschipec, ether scornynge, c et ceteri præter Y. ^c Om. I. ^d he shal s. ^e vnto I. ^f him, that is, of God, v. ^g and thei I. ^h tho CEFGHIKMN PQRSUVXYA.

shal synnen, and settende eritage of an 33 aliene matrimoyne. First in the lawe of the heȝest she was vnleueful^o, and the secunde hir man^p she forsok; the thridde in auoutrie she dide leccherie, and of an 34 othir man sonus she sette to himself. This in to the chirche shal be broȝt, and in to 35 the sonus of hir shal ben lookid. The sonus of hir shul not taken rootis, and the braunches of hir shul not ȝyuen 36 fruyt. Thei shul leuen^q in to curs the mynde of hir, and the vilenye of hir shal 37 not be don awei. And thei shul knowe, for thei ben forsaken; for no thing betere than the dred of God, and no thing swetere than to biholden in the maunde-38 mens of the Lord. Gret glorie is^r to fo-lewe the Lord; lengthe forsothe of dajes shal ben taken to of hym.

CAP. XXIV.

1 Wisdam shal preisen his soule, and in the Lord he shal ben wrshepid; and in the myddel of his^s puple he shal glorien.
 2 And in the chirches of the heȝest he shal opene his mouth; and in the sijte of the 3 vertue of hym he shal glorien. And in the myddel of his puple he shal ben enhauncid; and in hoeli^t plente he shal 4 myche wudren^u. And in the multitude of chosen men he shal han preising; and among blissid men he shal ben blissid, 5 seiende, I of the mouth of the heȝest cam forth, first goten biforn eche crea-6 ture. I made in heuenus, that vnfailende list shulde springe, and as a litil cloude 7 I coueryd^v eche flesh. I in the heȝest thingus dwellede, and my trone in a piler 8 of a cloude. The cercle of heuene I cumpasside alone, and the depthe of the se I thirlede; and in the flodis of the se I 9 wente, and in al erthe I stod. And in 10 alle puple, and in alle folc of kinde the 11 firsthed I hadde; and of alle heȝe and yngre hir hosebonde schal do synne, and ordeynynge eritage* of an alien matrimonye. For firste sche was vnbileueful 33 in the lawe of the heȝeste, and the se-counde tyme sche forsook hir hosebonde; and the thridde tyme sche was defoulid in auowtrie, and ordeynede to hym sonus of another man. 'This wommanⁱ schal be 34 brouȝt in to the chirche, and me schal bi-holde on hir sonus. Hir sonus schulen not 35 ȝyue rootis, and hir braunchis schulen not ȝyue fruyt. Thei schulen leue the mynde 36 of hir in to cursyng, and the schenscipe of hir schal not be don awei. And thei 37 that ben left schulen knowe, that no thing is betere than the drede of God, and nothing is swettere than to biholde in the comaundementis of the Lord. It is greet 38 glorie to sue the Lord; for whi lengthe of daies schulen be takun of hym.

CAP. XXIV.

Wisdom schal preise[†] his soule, and he 1 schal be onourid in God; and he schal haue glorie in the myddis of his puple.
 And he schal opene his mouth in the 2 chirchis of the heȝeste; and he schal haue glorie in the sijt of his vertu. And he 3 schal be enhaunsid in the myddis of his puple; and he schal wondre in hooli plentee^k.
 And in the multitude of chosun men he 4 schal haue preisyng; and among blissid men he schal be blissid, and seie, I, the 5 firste gendrid bifore ech creature, cam forth fro the mouth of the heȝeste. I made in 6 heuenes, that list neuere failynge roos vp, and as a cloude Y hilide al erthe. Y dwell- 7 ide in heȝeste thingis, and my trone in a piler of cloude. Y aloone ȝede aboute the 8 cumpas of heuene, and Y perside the depthe of the see; and Y ȝede in the wawis of the see, and Y stood in al the lond. 9 And Y hadde the firste dignite in^l ech pu- 10 ple, and in ech folk; and Y trad bi vertu 11 on the neckis of alle excelent men and

* eritage; that is, eir of hir
 hosebonde.
 matrimonye;
 whanne hir auouter was weddid. to him;
 that is, to hir
 hosebonde.
 rootis; for thei schulen not be stablischid in the eritage of
 the hosebonde.
 sue the Lord;
 bi the weye of riȝtfulnesse.
 lengthe of dayes; that is, euerlastinge liyf. Live here.
 C.

† Wisdom schal preise, etc.;
 that is, God
 the Sone schal preise him self.
 onourid in God; the Fa-
 dir. haue glorie
 in the sijt of his vertu; that is, in merueil-
 ouse werkis,
 doon bi the vertu
 of the heȝeste.
 Y the firste gendrid; that is seid in the persone of God the Sone. of the mouth
 of the heȝeste;
 that is, of the
 vertu of gendring of God
 the Fadir.
 Live here. c.

^o vnbeleeful EG sec. m. ^p husbonde AE sec. m. GH. or hosebonde C sec. m. marg. ^q forsaken E pr. m.
^r Om. A. ^s the A. ^t the hooli A. ^u ben wundred E pr. m. ^v made C pr. m. E pr. m.

ⁱ Sche this i. ^k fulnesse, ether plentee, C et ceteri præter Y. ^l of C.

lowe the hertes bi vertue I trad; and in alle these thingus reste I sozte, and in the eritage of hym^w I shal wone. Thanne comaundide, and seide to me, the foormere of alle thingus; and he that foormede me, restede in my tabernacle; and seide to me, In Jacob dwelle thou, and in Irael eritage thou, and in my chosene put rootes. Fro the bigynnyng and bifor worldis^x I am foormed, and vnto the world to come I shal not cesen to ben; and in hoeli wonyng befor hym I seruede. And so in Sion I am fastned, and in an halewid cite lic maner I restede, and in Jerusalem my power. And I rootede^y in a puple wrshipid; and in to the parties of my God the eritage of hym, and in plente of halewes my withholding. As a cedre I am enhauncid in Liban, and as a^z cipresse in the hil of Sion. And as a palm I am enhauncid in Cades, and as the plaunting of a^a rose in Jericho. As a fair olyue in feeldis; and as a platan^b I am enhauncid biside the water in stretes. As canel and balsam smellende, I 3af smel; and as chose myrre I 3af swotnesse of smel. And as torax, and galban, and vngula, and gutta, and as Liban not kut, I smekede^c my dwelling; and as balsame not mengd^d is^d my smel. I as terebynt strei3te out my braunchis; and my braunchis of wrshipec, and of grace. I as a vyne frutede swotnesse of smel; and my floures frutes of honour, and of honeste. I modir of fair loouyng, and of drede, and of knowing, and of hoeli hope. In me alle grace of weie, and of treuthe; in me alle hope of lif and^e of vertue. Passeth to me, alle that coueiten me; and of my ieneraciouns 'be 3ee' fulfid. My spirit formeke; and in alle these men Y souzte reste, and Y schal dwelle in the eritage of the Lord. Thanne the creatour of alle comaundide, and seide to me; and he that formyde me, restide in my tabernacle; and he seide to me, Dwelle thou in Jacob, and take thou eritage in Israel, and sende thou rootis in my chosun men. Y was gendrid of^m the bigynnyng* and bifor worldis, and Y schal not faile 'til toⁿ the world to^o comyng; and Y mynystride in an hooli dwellyng bifore hym. And so Y was maad stidfast in Syon[†], and in lijk maner Y restide in a citee halewid, and my power was in Jerusalem. And Y rootid in a puple onourid; and the eritage therof in to the partis of my God, and my withholding[‡] in the plentee^p of seyntis. Y was enhaunsid as a cedre in Liban, and as a cipresse tree in the hil of Syon. Y was enhaunsid as a palm tree in Cades, and as the plauntyng of roose in Jeryco. As^q a fair olyue tree in feeldis; and Y was enhaunsid as a plane tree bisidis watir in stretis. As canel and bawme 3uyngre greet smelle, Y 3af odour; as chosun myrre Y 3af the swetnesse of odour. And as storax, and galban, and vngula^s, and gumme, and as Liban not kit down, Y made hoot my dwellyng place; and myn odour as bawme not meddlid. Y as a terebynte stretchide forth my boowis; and my boowis ben boowis^r of onour, and of glorie. Y as a vyne made fruyt the swetnesse of odour; and my flouris ben the fruytis of onour, and of oneste. I am a modir of fair loue, and of drede, and of knowyng, and of hooli hope. In me is al grace of weie, and of treuthe; in me is al hope of lijf and of vertu. Alle 3e that coueiten me, passe^t to me; and be 3e fillid of my

* of the bigynnyng; the bigynnyng of tyme may not be vndurstondu herbi, but the bigynnyng here is seid the Fadir, which is the bigynnyng of comyng forth of persoones in the Trynyte. and bifor worldis; that is, enerlastingly, without bigynnyng of tyme. not faile til to the world to comyng; that is, Y schal dwelle perfytly with outen ende. mynystride; that is, made to mynystre, bi Aaron and othere good prestis. Live here. c. † Y was maad stidfast in Sion; this stidefastnesse seith not only chaunging in God, but in a creature, wherynne Goddis giftis ben stablischid stidefastliere. Goddis wisdom is seid maad stidefast in the hil of Sion, for the temple was bildid there, in which temple the arke and propiciatorie, which representide the secte of God, hadden stable dwelling, and weren no more borun aboute fro place to place. Y rootide; that is, stablischide stidefastliere my giftis. in a puple onourid; that is, in the puple of Israel, that was onourid of God more than othere pupils. eritage therof; that is, of the puple onourid. in to the partis of my God; that is, at the Fadir, which is my God, in as myche as Y am man; ether the Fadir is seid God of the Sone, for the Sone is seid God of God. in to the partis of my God; that is, of the Fadir, which is God, of whom Y am; nethelesse Y am the same God with him in being, and am departid onely in persoon. Live here. c. ‡ my withholding, etc.; that is, my dwelling bi grace is in the congregacioun of seyntis. Live here. c. § vngula; that is, a tre of greet odour, and is lijk a mannus nayl. Live here. cv.

^w the Lord c pr. m. E pr. m. ^x the woorldis A. ^y hadde roote AEGH. ^z Om. A. ^a Om. AGH. ^b plaunt A. ^c putte out E pr. m. ^d Om. c pr. m. ^e Om. c pr. m. ^f 3e shulen ben AE pr. m. GH.

^m fro N sec. m. a. ⁿ vnto I. ^o Om. I. ^p fulnesse CEGHIV. ^q And as I. ^r Om. I. ^s And Y A. ^t passeth I.

sothe ouer hony sweete; and myn eritage ouer hony, and hony comb. My mynde in the ieneracioun of worldis. Thei^f that eten me, 3it shul hungrin; and that drinken me, 3it shuln thristen. Who hereth me, shal not be confoundid; and who werchen in me, shul not synnen; and who declaren me, euere lastende lif shuln han. Alle these thingus the boc of lif, and the testament of the hejest, and the knoueleching of treuthe. Moises comaundide the lawe in the hestus of riztwisnesses, and the eritage to the hous of^g Jacob, and the behestus to^h Irael. He sette to Dauid, his child, to reren vp a king of hym most strong, and in the trone of wrshipec sittende in to euer mor. The which fulfillith, as Fison, wisdam; and as Tigris. in the dajes of newes. That fulfilleth, as Eufates, wit; that multeplieth, as Jordan in the tyme of rip. That sendeth disciplyne as lizt; and stondynge to, as Jyon in the dai of vndage. That parformeth first to knownen it; and the feblere shal not enserchen it. Fro the se forsothe shal abunde the thenking of hym; and the counseil of hym in the grete depnesse. I wisdam heelde out floodis; I as an ouerthwert weie of watir with oute mesure fro the flood. I as the flood Dorex, and as watir kundute wente out fro paradys. I seide, I shal watrin the gardyn of my plauntingus; and I shal make drunkeⁱ the frut of my birthe. And lo^k! he is mad to me a plenteuous path; and my flood ne3hede to the se. For doctrine as morutid lizt I lizte to alle; and I shal tellen out it vnto aferr. I shal persen alle the nethere partis of the erthe, and I shal biholde alle slepende; and I shal liztnen alle hopende in the Lord. 3it doctrine as profecie I shal heelden out, and I shal leuen it to men sechende wisdam; and I shal not cesen in to the progenyes of generaciouns. For whi my spirit is swete²⁷ aboute hony; and myn eritage is aboute hony, and hony comb. My mynde is in²⁸ the generacioun of worldis. Thei that²⁹ eten me, schulen hungre 3it; and thei that drynken me, schulen thirste 3it. He that³⁰ herith me, shal not be schent; and thei that worchen in me, schulen not do synne; and thei that declaren^u me, schulen haue³¹ euere lastynge lijf. Alle these thingis *is*³² the book of lijf, and the testament of the hizeste, and the knowyng of treuthe. Moises comaundide a lawe in the co-³³ maundementis of riztfulnessis, and eritage to the hous of Jacob, and biheestis to Irael. He settide to Dauid^{*}, his child, to³⁴ reise of hym a kyng moost strong, and sittynge with outen ende in the trone of onour. Which kyng fillith wisdom, as³⁵ Phison schedith out watir; and as Tigris in the daies of newe thingis. Which, as³⁶ Eufates, fillith wit; which multiplieth, as Jordan in the tyme of heruest. Which³⁷ sendith techyng as lizt; and is niz alle men, as Gion in the dai of vendage. Which³⁸ makith perfilti first to knowe that wisdom; and a feblere man schal not enserche it. For whi the thou3t therof[†] schal be plen-³⁹ teuous of the see; and his counsel in the greet occian. Y wisdom schedde out⁴⁰ floodis; Y as a weie[‡] of ful greet watir of the flood. Y as the flood Dorix, and as a watir cundit Y 3ede out of paradys[§]. Y⁴² seide, I schal watir my gardyn of plauntingis; and Y schal greetli fille the fruyt of my child beryng. And lo! a plenteu-⁴³ ouse weie of watir is maad to me; and my flood neizede to the see. For Y liztne⁴⁴ techyng as the cheer morewtid to alle men; and Y schal telle out it 'til to^w fer. Y schal perse alle the lower partis of⁴⁵ erthe, and Y schal biholde alle that slepen; and Y schal liztne alle that hopen in the Lord. 3it Y schal schede out tech-⁴⁶ ing as profesie^{||}, and Y schal leue it to

* He settide to Dauid; that is, ordeynede, ether bihiste. kyng; that is, Crist, that cam of the seed of Dauid vpe fleisch, bi the virgyn Marie.

† the thou3t therof, etc.; that is, his knowing is more plenteuous than the see. and his counsel; is vncomprehensible. Live here.

‡ as a weye; that is, a strong rennyng. Live here. cv.

§ of paradys; that is, of the Fadir, in whom is al good and al swetnesse. watere my gardyn; that is, the gardyn of the fiztinge chirche. the fruyt of my child beryng; that is, the cumpenye of apostlis, and of othere men bi-leuyng, that resseyueden the 3iftis of the Hooley Goost plenteously in the day of Pen-tecost. Live here. c.

|| as profeste; that is, as certeyn and trewe teching, as profesie schewid of God. Y schal

^f Om. c pr. m. ^g of the Lord of E pr. m. ^h of E pr. m. ⁱ drunke, or fulfille AGH. ^k Om. AG pr. m. H.

^u declaren, ether shewen, K marg. ^w vnto L.

them, vnto the hoeli¹ spirituel world.
47 Seeth, for not to me alone I trauailede, but to alle sechende out the treuthe.

CAP. XXV.

1 In thre thingus plesid is to my spirit, that ben proued bifor God and man; 2 the acord^m of brethern, and the looue of ne3hebores, and inan and womman wel 3 to themself consentende. Thre spices hatede my soule, and I am greued gretli 4 to the soule of them; a pore man proud, and a riche man aⁿ liere, and an old 5 man a^o fool and dotid. What thingis^p in thi 3outh the thou hast not gedered, hou 6 shalt thou finde in thin eelde? How fair the dom in¹ hoornesse, and to prestis to 7 knowe kounseil. How fair to olde men wisdam, and glorious vnderstanding, and 8 counseil. The coroun of olde men myche wisdam; and the glorie of them dred of 9 God. Nyne vnouertrowable^r thingus of the herte I magniefede; and the tenthe 10 I shal telle in tunge to men. A man that is io3id in sones lyuende, and seende the turnyng vpsodoun of his enemys.
11 Blisful that dwellith with a womman weel felende, and that in his tunge is not slyden, and that seruede not to the 12 vnwrthi hymself. Blisful that findith a verre frend, and that telleth out ri3twis-13 nesse to the herende ere. Hou gret that findith wisdam and kunnyng; but not 14 ouer the dredende God. The drede of God ouer alle thingus hymself sett aboue.
15 Blisful the man to whom it is 3oue to han the drede of God; who holdith it, 16 to whom shal he be licned? The dred of God the bigynnyng of his looue; the by-gynnyng forsothe of feith is to be ioyned 17 to hym. Alle veniaunce is the drery slowthe of herte; and eche malice the hem that seken wisdom; and Y schal not faile in to the generaciouns of hem, til in to the hooli world. Se 3e, that Y trauelide 47 not to me aloone, but to alle that seken out treuthe.

CAP. XXV.

In thre thingis it is plesid to my spirit, 1 which ben appreued bifore God and men; acordyng of britheren, and loue of nei3-2 boris, a^x man and womman wel consentyng to hem silf. My soule hatide thre 3 spicis, and Y am greued greetli to the soule of hem*; a pore man proud, and a 4 riche man liere, and an eld man a fool and vnwitti. Hou schalt thou fynde in thin 5 eelde tho thingis, whiche thou gaderist not in thi 3ongthe? Doom is ful fair† in 6 hoornesse, and to preestis to knowe councel. Wisdom is ful fair to eelde men, and 7 glorouse vndirstondyng, and counsel. The 8 coroun of eelde men is in myche kunnyng; and the glorie of hem is the drede of God.
I magniefede nyne thingis vnsuspect of the 9 herte; and Y schal seie the tenthe thing bi tunge to men. A man which lyuynge is 10 myrie in sones, and seynge the distriyng of hise enemyes. He is blessid that dwellith 11 with a witty womman, and he that felle not bi his tunge, and he that seruyde not to men vnworthi to hym silf. He is blessid 12 that fyndith a very frend, and he that telleth out ri3tfulnesse to an eere heringe.
He is ful greet that fyndith wisdom and 13 kunnyng; but he is not aboue him that dredith God‡. The drede of God hath set 14 it^y silf aboue alle thingis. Blessid is the 15 man to whom it is 3ouun to have the drede of God; to whom schal he be licned, that holdith that drede? The drede of God 16 is the bigynnyng of his loue; forsothe the bigynnyng of feith is to be faste ioyned therto. The sorewe of herte is ech 17 wounde§; and the wickidnesse of a womleue it to hem;

in scripture.
not fayle; to teche hem bi writting. hooli
world; that is,
to comyng in blis. Live here. c.

* to the soule
of hem; that is,
malice of hem.
eld man; that is, vnkunnyng,
not for defaute
of kynde, but for he dispisde to lerne. Live
here. c.

† Doom is ful fair; that is,
doom of discre-
cioun is ful fair in an hoor
heed, ether eld
man. and to prestis; that owen kunne
the lawe of
God. to knowe counsel; that is, to haue good counsel and certeyn. vnsus-
pect of herte;
that is, of goodnesse, of which thingis
noon owith for to doute. vnworthi; that is, to synneris in consenting
to hem in yuel.
telleth out; as a techere. to an eere her-
inge; that is,
to a man holdinge
in herte, and
fillinge in werk.
Live here. c.

‡ that dredith
God; the drede of God
is the more good, and pass-
ith alle goodis biforseid.

§ The sorewe of herte is ech
wounde; that is, as the sorewe of herte passith ech
wounde of bodi, so the malice of a womman pass-
ith al the malice of a man.

¹ hool A. ^m cord AEGH. ⁿ Om. A. ^o Om. C. ^p Om. c pr. m. ^q of c pr. m. ^r ouertrowable A.

^x and a 1. ^y hym 1.

18 wickidnesse^r of a womman. And eche wounde, and not wounde she shal seen 19 of herte; and al shreudenesse, and not 20 shreudenesse of a womman; and al hid thing, and not hid thing of hatende men; 21 and al veniaunce, and not veniaunce of 22 enemys. There is not an hed wickidere 23 ouer the hed of a shadewe eddere; and there is not wrathe ouer the wrathe of a womman. To dwelle with a leoun and a dragoun more shal^s plesen, than 24 to wone with a shreude womman. The shreudenesses of a womman chaungeth^t hir face; and she^u azeen blendide^v hir cheere as a bere, and as a sac she shal shewen in the myddel of neizhebores.
25 The housebond^w of hir gretli weilede; 26 and herende, sizhede a litil. Short alle malice ouer the malice of a womman; 27 the lot of synnes falle vpon hir. As a graueli steejing vp in the feet of an old man, so a tungy womman to a quyete 28 man. Ne beholde thou the fairnesse of a womman, and coueite thou not a wom-29 man in fairnesse. The wrathe of a womman and the mysreuerence, gret shen-30 shipe. A womman if she haue maistrie, 31 she is contrarie to hir housebond^x. A loe³ herte, and a dreri face, and a wounde of 32 deeth, a shreude womman. Feble hondis and vnloosid knees, a womman that mak-33 eth not blisful hir housebond^x. Of a womman is mad the bigynnyng of synne; 34 and bi hir alle wee die. 3yue thou not to thi watir issue, ne^y a litil; ne to a shreude womman for 3yuenesse, ^{or} leeue, 35 ^{or} fredam^z, of goyng out. If she^{schal} not go^a to^b thin hond, she shal con-36 founde thee in the sizte of enemys. Fro thi flesh kut hir awei, lest^c euermore sche mysvse^d thee.

man is al malice. A leche shal se ech 18 A leche schal se wounde, and not the wounde of herte; ech wounde; of and al wickidnesse, and not the wickid- 19 bodi. and not nesse of a womman; and ech hilyng^y, and 20 the wounde; not hilyng^z of hateris; and ech veniaunce, 21 that is, heu- and not the veniaunce of enemyes. Noon 22 nesse of herte. heed is worse than the heed of an eddre and al wickid- dwellynge in schadewe; and noon ire is 23 nesse, etc.; as about the ire of a womman. It schal if he seie, outir- plese more to dwelle with a lioun and a ly a man may dragoun, than to dwelle with a wickid perseyue al ma- womman. The wickidnesse of a womman 24 lice outakun chaungith hir face; and sche blyndide her the malice of cheer as a beer doith^a, and sche schal schewe a womman, for as a sak in the myddis of neizboris. Hir 25 she colourith it hosebonde weilide; and his wickid wijf more bi ap- herde, and sizside a litil. Al malice is 26 peringe fren- schort on the malice of a womman; the schipe to hir parte of synneris^{*} falle on hir. As a 27 hosebonde. and stiyng ful of grauel in the feet of an ech hiling; that elde man, so is a womman a greet ian- is, colouring of glere to a pesible man. Biholde thou not 28 malice, ech a the fairnesse of a womman, and coueyte man may per- thou not a womman for fairnesse. The 29 seyue, outakun ire and vnreuerence of a womman[†] is^b the traierouse grete^c schenschiipe. If a womman hath 30 colouring of the firste dignyte, ethir cheef gouernail, hateris and sche is contrarie to hir hosebonde. A low 31 enemys, so it herte, and soreful face, and wounde of is of a wickid deeth, is a wickid womman. Feble hondis[‡] 32 womman, that and knees vnboundun, a womman that hidith bi signes blessith not hir hosebonde. The bygyn- 33 of frenschipe nyng of synne was maad of a womman; the hatrede and alle we dien bi hir. 3yue thou not 34 which she hath issu to thi watir[§], 3he, not a litil issu; ne- to hir hose- ther to a wickid womman fredom of goyng bonde. Live forth. If sche goith not at thin hond, 35 here. c. sche schal schende thee in the sizt of ene-  the part of* myes. Kitte hir a wei fro thi fleischis, lest 36 synne; that is, euere sche mysvse thee. the peyne of helle, which is the part of syn-neris, as the
lyf of glorie
is part of iust
men. Live
here. c.
† of a wom-
man; to hir
hosebonde.
Live here. c.
‡ Feble hondis;
to worche wel.
knees vnbound-
un; that is,
redi to do auoutrie. bless-
ith not; that is,
dispisith. at
thyn hond;
that is, bi thi ruling. kitte hir away; bi departing fro bed; and this is seid of a womman vn-
corrigible, ether
that wole neuere be amend-
id, for whi to holde hir, is to consente to hir synne. Live
here. c.

here. c.

§ water; that is, to a river, for he will ouerflowe that place, be his yssu neuer so lyttill. c sec. m.

^r wickenesse E. ^s it shal A. ^t when she chaungeth E pr. m. ^u she bath al E pr. m. ^v blyndith AGH.
^w man c pr. m. E pr. m. ^x man CE pr. m. ^y Om. c pr. m. ^z Om. c pr. m. E pr. m. ^a go not c pr. m.
E pr. m. ^b in to A. ^c Om. E pr. m. ^d vse not E pr. m.

^y hilyng, that is, colouringe of malice, v. ^z the hiling x. ^a Om. i. ^b to hir hosebond is v. ^c a grete c.

CAP. XXVI.

1 Blissid is the man of a good womman; the noumbre forsothe of the 3eres of hym 2 double. A strong womman delytith hir man^e; and the 3eres of 'the liyf off^f hym 3 she shal fulfille in pes. A good part^g a good womman; in good part of men dredende God, she shal be 3oue to a man 4 for goode^h deedis. Of riche forsothe and pore the goode herte; in alle tyme the 5 chere of them gladsum. Of thre thingus dradde myn herte, and in the ferthe my 6 face was aferd. The dyuyseounⁱ of the cite, and the gederyng togidere of the 7 puple, and lesing chaleng; vp on deth 8 alle thingus heuye. Sorewe of herte, and 9 weiling, a ielous womman. In a ielous womman scourge of tunge, to alle co-10 munende. As a 3ok of oxen that is moued, so and^k a^l shreude womman; who holdith hir, as he ca3te a scorioun.
11 A drunkelew womman gret wrahte and strif; and the filtheed of hir shal not be 12 couered. The fornyacioun of a womman in the hauncing out of e3en; and in the 13 e3elidis of hir she shal be knowen. In a dou3tir not turnende away herself fastne warde; lest, ocasioun founde, she mysuse 14 herself. Fro^m alle irreuerence of the e3en of hir waar; and ne wndre thou, if she 15 dispise thee. As a weie goere at a welle threstende the mouth shal opene, and of alle next water shal drinke; and a3en eche paleⁿ shal sitte, and a3en alle arewe shal opene quyuer^o, to the tyme that 16 she^p faile. The grace of a bisi womman shal deliten hir man^q; and the boenes of 17 hym she shal fatten^r. The discipline of 18 hir is the 3ifte of God. A wel felende womman and a stille is not the chaung-19 ing of the taz3t soule. Grace vpon grace

CAP. XXVI.

The hosebonde of a good womman is 1 blessid; for whi the noumbre of her 3eeris is double. A strong womman^{*d} delitith 2 hir hosebonde; and shal fille in pees the 3eeris of his lijf. A good womman is a 3 good part[†]; in the good part of hem that dreden God, sche schal be 3oun to a man for goode dedis. Forsothe the herte of a riche 4 man and of a pore[‡] man is good^{dd}; in al tyme her cheer is glad. Myn herte dredde 5 of thre thingis, and my face dredde in the fourthe thing. Bitraiynge of a citee, 6 and the gadering togidere of puple[§], and 7 fals chaleng; alle thingis greuouse on deth. The sorewe of herte, and moren- 8 yng is a ielouse womman||. In a gelouse 9 womman is betyng of tunge, and sche comyneth with alle men. As a 3ok of 10 oxis which is mouyd, so and a wickid womman; he that holdith hir, is as he that takith a scorioun. A drunkelew 11 womman is greet ire, and dispisyng; and hir filthe schal not be hilid. The forny- 12 acioun of a womman is in the reisyng of y3en; and schal be knowun in the i3e liddis of hir. Make thou sad kepyng^e in 13 a dou3tir not turnynge a wei hir silf; lest sche mysuse hir silf, if sche fyndith occasioun. Be thou war of al vnreuerence 14 of hir i3en; and wondre thou not, if sche dispisith thee. As a weiegoere thirstynge 15 shal opene the mouth at a welle, and shal drynke of ech watir next; and the forseid dou3tir schal sitte a3ens ech pale[¶], and schal opene the arowe caas a3ens ech arowe, til sche faile. The grace of a bisi 16 womman schal delite hir hosebonde; and shal make fat hise boonus. The kun- 17 nyng of hir is the 3ifte of God. A wijs 18 womman and^f stille is not chaungyng of

* A strong womman; that is, a3enus synnes. Live
here. c.
† a good part;
that is, of ma-trymonye. Live
here. c.
‡ of a riche man
and of a pore, etc.; that is, if he hath a good
wyf. Live
here. c.
§ the gadering togidere of pu-
ple; that is,
conspiring of the puple a3e-
nus the prince.
c.
|| a gelouse womman; is a contynuel so-
rewe to hir hosebonde, of whom sche sup-posith to be disseyued, and so sche ymagyneth contynuely a3enus
him. betyng of tunge; a3enus
hir hosebonde.
comyneth with alle men; that is, settith forth
hirsilf to othere
men. a scor-
pioun; that makith fair semelaunt with the face, and prickith with the tail; so a wickid wom-
man drawith
by flaterynge,
and prickith til to deth, as Dalida dide to Sampson, in xviij. c. of Ju-dicum. greet
ire; that is,
cause of greet ire to hir hose-
bonde, for sche wastith hise
goodis, and schewith hise priuytes. no^t
turnyng away;
fro 3onge men dissolute, and vnonest specta-
clis. occasioun;
that is, leiser.
Live here. c.
¶ ech pale;
axith; mannus

that is, ech place couenable to fornyacioun. opene the arowe caas, etc.; that is, schal schewe hir schamefast membris to ech that 3erde is clepid an arowe at Ebreyss. faile; til to hir deth.

^e husbonde AE sec. m. GH. ^f Om. c pr. m. ^g partie AEGH. ^h his goode E pr. m. ⁱ enuyouste E pr. m.
^k Om. A. ^l Om. H. ^m For A. ⁿ pole E pr. m. ^o the quyuer A. quyuer, or arow caas c sec. m. marg.
E sec. m. marg. GH. ^p it G sec. m. ^q husbonde AE sec. m. GH. ^r fastnen G. fasten H.

^d womman a3enus synnes v. ^{dd} that is, if thei han goode wyues. v marg. ^e the kepyng 1. ^f and a 1.

20 an hoeli womman, and a shamefast. Eche forsothe peising is not wrthi a contentent 21 soule. As the sunne risende in the world in the hejest thingus of God, so the fair-nesse of a good womman in to the en-22 ournyng of hir hous. A shynende lanterne vpon an hoeli candilsticke, and the fairnesse of the face vpon the stable age.
 23 Goldene pileris vpon silueren feet, and fast feet upon the plauntes, ^{or soulis^a}, of a sta-24 ble womman. Euere lastende foundemens vp on a^t sad ston, and the maundemens of God in the herte of an hoeli womman.
 25 In two thingus myn herte is maad sorewf^u, and in the thridde wrathing to 26 me cam. A^v man fiztere failende bi myseise, and a man wel felende dispisid.
 27 And that ouergoth fro riztwisnesse to synne, God greithede hym to a two 28 bitende swerd. Two spices harde and perilous to me semeden; hard is delyuered the chaffarere^w fro his negligece, and the^x tauerner shal not be iustified fro synnes^y of lippis.

CAP. XXVII.

1 For myseiste^{yy} manye trespasseden;
 and he^z that secheth to be maad riche, 2 turneth awei his eye. As in the myddel of a ioynyng of stones a paele, ^{or a stake^{zz}}, ficchid is, so bitwen the myddel of biyng and silling he shall ben anguysht with 3 synnes. He shal ben to-treden with 4 giltende^a gilte. If not in the drede of the Lord thou shul holde^b thee bisili, anoon shal ben turned vpsodoun thin 5 hous. As in the smyting of a cyue shal abide stille pouder, so the porenesse of a 6 man in the thenking of hym. The vesselis of the krockere preueth the furneis; and riztwis men temptacioun of tribula-7 cioun. As the erthe werching of a tree a lernyd soule. Grace on grace is an 19 hooli womman, and schamfast. Forsothe 20 al weiyng is not worth a contynent soule.

 As the sunne risynge in the world in the 21 hizeste thingis of God, so the fairnesse of a good womman is in to the ournement of hir hous. A lanterne schynynge on an 22 hooli candilstike, and the fairnesse of a face^{*} on stidfast age. Goldun pileris on 23 siluerne foundementis, and stidfast feet on the soolis of a stidfast womman. Euer- 24 lastynge foundementis on a sad stoon, and the heestis of God in the herte of an hooli womman.

CAP. XXVII.

In twei thingis myn herte was maad sori, 25 and in the thridde thing wrathfulnesse cam to me. A man a^s werriour failynge 26 bi nedynesse, and a wijs man dispisid.
 And God hath maad hym redi to the 27 swerd, that passith ouer fro riztfulnesse to synne. Twei^h spices apperiden harde 28 and perillouse to me; a marchaunt is delyuered[†] of hard fro his negligece, and a tauerner schal not be iustified of synnes of lippis. Many men han trespassid for 1 nedynesse; and he that sekith[‡] to be maad riche, turneth a wei his ije. As a 2 stake is fastned in the myddis of a heep of stoonys, so and a man schal be an-gwischid[§] bi synnes bitwixe the middis of sillyng and biyng. Trespas schal be al 3 to-brokun with hym that trespassith. If 4 thou holdist not thee diligentli in the drede of the Lord, thin hous schal soone be turned vpsedoun. As dust schal dwelle 5 in the hoolis of a riddil, so the angwisch of a man schal dwelle in the thouzt of hym.
 A furneis preueth the vessels of a pottere; 6 and the temptacioun of tribulacioun preu- eth iust men. As cherliche trael aboute 7 a lerned soule;

 that is, of a lerned hose-bonde, for he nolde chaunge hir for any thing. Live
here. c.

* fairnesse of the face, etc.;
 that is, as sich a lanterne list-
 neth the chirche, and sich a face
 makith fair
 ripe age, so a good womman
 makith fair hir hows. stidefast
womman; in vertu, that is,
 which renneth
 not aboute fro
 hows to hows,
 is ensauple
 of goostli fair-nesse, and of outermere oneste. Live
here. c.

† a marchaunt
 is delyuerid,
 etc.; of his helthe, for he coueytith ouermyche ertheli goodis. Live
here. c.

‡ he that sekith; bi vnresonable desir.
 turne awei;
 fro riztfulnesse.
Live here. c.

§ schal be an-gwischid; that is, the sillere,
 that enforsith
 to decreesse
 of the iust
 prijs. with him
that trespassith; for in deth
 the synnere is al to-brokun,
 and thanne the doying of synne is endid, for the tyme of merit
 and of trespassing ceessith thanne. thin
howes; that is,
 bilding of ver-
 tues. dust;
 that is, vile thingis, as stonys, metis,
 and liyk thingis. an- gwisch of a
 man; that is,
 synnere. in
thouzt of him;
Live here. c.

for whi remors of synne, which is seid the worm of consience, dwellith in his consience, thou; the dede of synne is passid.

^a Om. c et E pr. m.

^t Om. AEG pr. m. H.

^u to-broosid c pr. m. E pr. m.

^v To a E pr. m.

^w marchaund A. chaffarere, or marchaunde E sec. m. GH.

^x the false c pr. m. E pr. m.

^y the synnes

AEGH. ^{yy} myseise c pr. m.

^z Om. c pr. m.

^{zz} Om. c et E pr. m.

^a the giltyng AEGH.

^b beholde A.

shewith the frute of hym, so a wrd of 8 thenking the herte of a man. Biforn a wrd ne preise thou a man; that forsothe 9 tempting is of men. If thou folewe^c riȝt-wisnesse, thou shalt taken it; and thou shalt clothen it as an aube of wrshipe, and thou shalt dwelle with it, and it shal defende thee in to euer mor, and in the dai of knoueleching thou shalt finde fast-10 nyng. Foules to the lic to them comen togidere; and treuthe to them that wer-11 chen it shal turne aȝeen. A leoun to hunting waitith euermor; so synnes to 12 men werchende wickidnesse. An hoeli man in wisdom woneth, as the sunne; for the fool as the moone is^d chaungid.
 13 In the myddel of mys felende men kep a wrd to tyme; in the myddel forsothe of men thenkende the lawe of God be thou 14 besi. The telling of synneres hatesum; and the laȝhing of them in the giltis of 15 synne. The myche swering speche shal sette standing of heer, for fer, to the hed; and the irreuerence of it is stopping of 16 eres. Sheding out of blod in iangling of proude men; and the cursing of them 17 greuous heering. Who nakeneth priuytes, leeseth the feith of a frend; and he findeth not a frend to his inwit.
 18 Looue a neȝhebre, and be thou ioyned 19 in feith with hym. That if thou shul nakene the hidde thingus of hym, 'thou 20 schalt not pursue^e aftir hym. As a man forsothe that leeseth his frend, so that leeseth the frenshipe of his neȝhe-21 bore. And as he that leteth a brid out of his hond, so thou that hast forsake thi neȝhebre, and thou shalt not taken hym.
 22 Thou shalt not folewe hym, for ferr he is awei; forsothe he fleyȝ out as a capret fro the grene, for woundid is the soule 23 of hym. Thou shalt not moun mor ouer hym binde togidere; but of the cursid 24 is acording togidere. To nakenen for-sothe the priuytes of a frend, is the dis-

a tree schewith the fruyt therof, so a word of thouȝt schewith the herte of man^j.
 Preise thou not a man biforn a word^{*}; 8 for whi this is the temptacioun of men.
 If thou suest riȝtfulnesse, thou schalt take 9 it; thou schalt clothe it as a long cloth of onour, and thou schalt dwelle with it, and it schal defende thee with outen ende, and in the dai of knowing^k thou shalt fynde stidfastnesse. Volatilis comen to- 10 gidere to briddis lijk hem silf; and treuthe schal turne aȝen to hem that worchen it. A lioun settith aspies euere 11 to huntyng; so synnes[†] to hem that worchen wickidnesse. An hooly man 12 dwellith in wisdom, as the sunne dwellith stabli^l; for whi a fool is chaungid as the moone. In the myddis of vnwise men 13 kepe thou a word to tyme; but be thou bisi in the myddis of hem that thenken the lawe of God. The tellyng of synneris 14 is hateful; and the leizyng of hem is in the trespassis of synne. Speche sweringe 15 myche schal make stondyng up of heeris, for astonyng, to the heed; and vnreuerence therof is stoppyng of eeris. The 16 schedyng out of blood is in the chidyng of proude men; and the cursyng of hem is greuouse heryng[‡]. He that schewith 17 opynli the priuytees of a frend, leesith feithfulnesse; and he schal not fynde a frend to his soule. Loue thou a neȝbore, 18 and be thou ioyned with hym in feith.
 For if thou schewist opynli the priuytees 19 of hym, thou schalt not perfilti sue[§] aftir hym. For as a man that leesith his frend, 20 so he that leesith the frenshipe of his neȝbore. And as a man that latith go a 21 brid fro his hond, so thou that hast forsake thi neȝbore, and thou schalt not take hym. Thou schalt not sue hym, for he 22 is fer absent; for he ascapid as a capret fro a snare, for the soule of hym is woundid. Thou schalt no more mow 23 bynde hym togidere; but of yuel seiying

* biforn a word;
 fulli endid.
 temptacioun;
 that is, preuyng.
 Live here. c.

† so synnes,
 etc.; that is,
 fendis that in-dusen men to synne, setten aspies to hem
 that worchen
 wickidnesse,
 til thei leden
 hem to helle.
 Live here. c.

‡ is greuouse hering; for in her chiding thei blasfemen God
 ofte, and it is ful greuouse to feithful eeris to here sich blas-femye of God.
 Live here. c.

§ not perfilti
 sue; that is,
 thou schalt gete
 the kynering of perfilt frenschipe. that leesith his frend; bi deth
 of him he may no more re-
 keure him.
 leesith fren-
 schipe, etc.;
 bi schewing of his priuyte, for siche frenschipe
 is not rekyuer-id perfiltly. Live
 here. c.

^c folewist AEGH. ^d shal be c pr. m. E pr. m. ^e pursue thou not c et E pr. m.

a man I. ^k kunning A. ^l Om. I.

25 peiring of the vnfeithful soule. The twynclere with the eze forgeth wicke 26 thingus; and no man hym shal casten awei. In the sizte of thin ezen he shal defoule thi mouth, and vp on thi wrdus he shal wndre; at the laste he shal per-uerte his mouth, and in thi^f wrdis he 27 shal 3yue slaundre. Manye thingus I haue herd, and I haue not euened to 28 hym; and the Lord shal hate hym. Who in to hei3 sendeth a ston, vp his hed it shal falle; and the wounde of the trec-29 cherous shal deuyde woundis. And that delueth a dich, shal falle in to it; and that setteth a ston to a ne3hebore, shal stumble in it; and that setteth a grene to 30 another, shal pershe in it. To the doynge most wicke counseil, vpon hym it shal be turned a3een; and he shal not knowe whennes it shal come to hym.
31 Illusioun, 'or scorner, and repref of proude men and veniaunce as a leoun 'shal aspie^b 32 to hym. In a grene thei shul pershen, that deliten the falling of rijt wis men; sorewe forsothe shal waste them, er thei dien.
33 Wrathe and wodnesse, either ben variable; and the man synnere, withholdere shal be of them.

CAP. XXVIII.

1 Who wile taken veniaunce, of the Lord shal finde veniaunce; and the synnes of 2 hym kepende he shal kepe. For3if to thi ne3hebore no3ende to thee, and thanne to thee lowli pre3ende synnes 3 shul ben for3oue. A man to a man kepith wrathe; and of God he sechith lech-4 ing¹. In to a man lic to hymself he hath not mercy; and of his synnes he shal 5 pre3en. He whil he is flesh, reserueth ire, and mercy asketh of God; who shal 6 pre3e for the giltis of hym? Haue mynde is acordyng. Sotheli to schewe opynli ²⁴ * to schewe the pryuytees of a frend, is dispeir* of a soule vnblessid. He that twynclith with ²⁵ the i3e, makith wickid thingis; and no ²⁶ man schal caste hym awei. In the sizt of thin i3en he schal defoule his mouth, and he schal wondre on thi wordis; but at the laste he schal turne weiwerdli his mouth, and in his wordis he schal 3yue slaundre. Y herde mani thingis†, and Y ²⁷ made not euene to hym; and the Lord schal hate hym. If a man throwith^m a ²⁸ stoon anⁿ hi3, it schal falle on his heed; and the gileful wounde of a gyleful man schal departe woundis. And he that dig- ²⁹ gith a dicke, schal falle in to it; and he that settith a stoon to a ne3bore, schal offende therynne; and he that settith a snare to a nother man, schal perische ther ynne. If a man makith worst counsel, it ³⁰ schal be turned on hym; and he schal not knowe fro whennus it schal come to him. The scornynge and dispisyng of ³¹ proude men‡ and veniaunce schal sette a spie to hym, as a lioun doith. Thei that ³² deliten in the fal of iust men, schulen perische bi a snare; forsothe sorewe schal waste hem, bifore that thei dien. Ire and ³³ woodnesse, euer either ben abhomyneable; and a synful man schal holde tho.

CAP. XXVIII.

He that wole be vengid, schal fynde of the Lord veniaunce; and he kepyng schal kepe hise synnes§. For3yue thou to thi ne3bore that anoieth thee, and thanne synnes^o schulen be releessid to thee preiynge. A man kepith ire to man; and ³ sekith he of God medicyn? He hath no ⁴ merci on a man lijk hym silf; and bisechith he the hijeste for hise owne synnes?
He the while he is fleisch, reserueth ire; ⁵ and axith he of God merci? who schal preie for hise synnes? Haue thou mynde ⁶ whi sich gladnesse is streitly contrarie to the charite of ne3bore. holde tho; that is, schal holde euer either with ynne himsilf, for he is a vessel able to conteyne yuel. Live here. c. § schal kepe hise synnes; to be punyschid hardere bi his rijtfulnesse. for3yue thou to thi ne3bore; the offence which owith euere to be for3ouun, but to for3yue the wrong is not of nede; but of excelent perfeccioun, and sumtyme it spedith not to for3yue the wrong, that is, whanne he that doith wrong takith more booldnesse to do wrong, and other men taken occasioun to do lijk thingis. Live here. c.

^f his c pr. m. e pr. m. § Om. c et e pr. m. ^h aspieth c pr. m. ⁱ medicyne e pr. m.

^m sendith C E F G H I K N P Q R S U V X A. castith M. ⁿ on A. ^o the synnes I.

* to schewe opynli the pryuytes of a frend is dispeir; that is, of a man that schewith priuyte, for he owith not to hope perit re-formyng of the firste frenschip.
that twynclith
etc. makith
guels; a3enus
that man that bileueth him a
veri frend.
caste him away;
for he bileueth
that he is his frend, and holdith him
with himsilf.
defoule his mouth; spek-inge plesaunt
thingis to thee.
schal wondre;
that is, schal
feyne him for
to wondre, as if thou hast seid wordis of deep wisdom,
and so he schal
more disseyue thee. sette slaundir; in dispisyng tho
thingis as fone-
ned, and yuele thingis, whiche
hesemyde bifor-
to to arette hi3e and goode. *Live
here. c.*
† Y herde
many thingis;
that is, yuels,
and Y arettyde
not another
malice euene to the malice of this man.
wounde of a gileful man;
that is, whateuer yuel procurid of a gile-ful man to another gileful
man schal mul-tiplye yuels on
him. *Live here.
c.*
‡ scornynge and dispisyng of
proude men;
that is, which ben doon of proude men in wordis and
dedis to meke
men and pore.
sette aspie to him; to the
payne of helle.
bi a snare; of the deuel, for

of thi laste thingus, and lef to ben^k ene-7 my. Rotenese^l forsothe and deth stonden 8 on in the hestes 'of hym^m. Remembre the drede of the Lord, and thou shalt not 9 wrathe to the neȝhebores. Remembre the testament of the heȝest, and dispise the 10 ignoraunce of thi neȝhebores. Abstene thee fro strif, and thou shalt lassen 11 synnes. A man forsothe wrathful teend-ith strif; and a man synnere schal dis-turbe frendis, and in the myddel of men 12 hauende pes he sendith in enemyte. Aftir forsothe the trees of the wode, so the fier brennethⁿ; and aftir the vertue of a man, so the wrathe of hym shal be, and aftir his substaunce he shal enhaunce his 13 wrathe. An hastid strif shal teende fyr, and hastende chidyng^o shal sheden out blod; and a tunge witnessende shal bringe 14 to deth. If it shul blowen, as fyr it shal brenne; and if thou shul spitten vpon it^p, it shal ben queynt; either fro the 15 mouth gon forth. The whistrende gruc-chere, and the twisil tunge cursid; for-sothe manye hauende pes disturbide^q.
 16 The thridde tunge manye men stiredede, and scaterede them fro folc in to folc.
 17 Wallid cites of riche men it stroȝede^r, and the housis of grete men it mynede out.
 18 The vertues of puples it to-heew³, and 19 stronge folkys of kinde it vnknytte. The thridde tunge stronge, 'or weddid^t, wym-men caste out, and shal bynyme them ther 20 trauailes. Who biholdith it, shal not han reste; ne shal han a frend, in which he 21 rest. The wounde of a scourge maketh wannesse; the wounde forsothe of a 22 tunge shal to-broosen boenes. Manye fellen in the mouth of swerd; but not 23 as thei dieden by^u ther tunge. Blisful on the laste thingis, and ceesse thou to be enemy. For whi failyng and deth neizen⁷ not in the comaundementis of God. Haue⁸ thou mynde on the drede of the Lord, and be thou⁹ not wrooth to the neȝbores.

 Haue thou mynde on the testament of the⁹ heȝeste, and dispise thou the ignoraunce^{*} of thi neȝbores. Absteyne thee fro strijf,¹⁰ and thou schalt abregge^r synnes. For whi¹¹ a wrathful man kyndlith strijf; and a synful man[†] schal disturbe frendis, and he schal sende in enemyte in the myddis of men hauynge pees. For whi aftir the¹² trees of the^s wode, so fier schal brenne an hiz; and after the myȝte^t of a^u man, so his wrathfulnesse schal be, and aftir his catel he schal enhaunse his ire. Hasti stryu-¹³ yng schal kyndle fier, and hasti chidyng schal schede out blood; and a tunge[‡] ber-ynge witnessing schal brynge deth. If¹⁴ thou blowist[§], as fier it schal brenne an hiz; and if thou spetist theron, it schal be quenched; euer either comen forth of the mouth. A preuy bacbiter, and a double¹⁵ tungid man^{||} is cursid; for he disturblide many men hauynge pees. The thridde¹⁶ tunge hath stirid many men, and hath scaterid hem fro folc in to folc. It hath¹⁷ distried wallid citees of riche men, and hath myned down the housis of grete men.
 It^v hath kit down the vertues of pupilis,¹⁸ and hath vnknit strong folkis. The¹⁹ thridde tunge hath cast out weddid wym-men[¶], and hath priued hem of her tra-uelis. He that biholdith the^w thridde²⁰ tunge, schal not haue rest; nether schal haue a frend, in whom he schal reste.
 The wounde of betyng makith wannesse;²¹ but the wounde of tunge schal make lesse the boonys. Many men fellen down bi²²

* ignoraunce;
 that is, offence
 doon to thee,
 and forgete thou
 it. Lire here. c.

† a synful
 man; that is,
 a sower of dis-
 cordis. the ver-tu of a man;
 that is, his excelence demed
 of him. fier;
 of wrathful-
 nesse and wood-nesse. Lire
 here. c.

‡ a tunge, etc.;
 that is, seiyng, Venge thee on him, he dis-
 seruede wel.
 Lire here. c.

§ If thou blow-
 ist; that is,
 bryngist forth a word at the stiring of him,
 that is wrooth.
 brenne; that is, enflawme
 the ire more.
 spetist ther-
 onne; that is,
 on the tunge, witnessinge
 ether excitinge
 to take ven-iance, in schewing that thilke tunge is yuel. it schal
 be quenched;
 that is, the ire wrathfulnesse and of wood-nesse schal be quenched. euer

either, etc.;
 that is, a word
 kyndlinge ire,
 and a word re-
 freyninge it.
 the thridde
 tunge; that sowith discordis, for it is the thridde
 ether the myddil tunge among the tungis of hem, whiche it
 makith to discorde. Lire
 here. c.

|| a double tungid man; is
 he that spekith
 fayre before a
 man, and yuel
 bihynde him;
 and so a preuy
 bacbiter, that dar not avow that that he spekith before the persone that he spekith yuel bi, is a double tungid man. Also the tunge of the preuy bacbiter is clepid the thridde tunge; for he that the flaterer flatereth, hath o tunge, and he that he tellith the tale of bachityng to, hath the secunde tunge, and the bacbiter him silf hath the thridde tunge, for he, as the thridde, makith debate bitwen a man and his neȝbores. A. ¶ weddid wymmen; summe bokis han onest wymmen, ether dredinge schame. in whom he schal reste; that is, triste verily. bi her tunge; for these men dien bi the deth of synne, and if they repenten not, bi the deth of helle. Lire here. c.

¶ a double
 tungid man; is
 he that spekith
 fayre before a
 man, and yuel
 bihynde him;
 and so a preuy
 bacbiter, that dar not avow that that he spekith before the persone that he spekith yuel bi, is a double tungid man. Also the tunge of the preuy bacbiter is clepid the thridde tunge; for he that the flaterer flatereth, hath o tunge, and he that he tellith the tale of bachityng to, hath the secunde tunge, and the bacbiter him silf hath the thridde tunge, for he, as the thridde, makith debate bitwen a man and his neȝbores. A. ¶ weddid wymmen; summe bokis han onest wymmen, ether dredinge schame. in whom he schal reste; that is, triste verily. bi her tunge; for these men dien bi the deth of synne, and if they repenten not, bi the deth of helle. Lire here. c.

¶ a double
 tungid man; is
 he that spekith
 fayre before a
 man, and yuel
 bihynde him;
 and so a preuy
 bacbiter, that dar not avow that that he spekith before the persone that he spekith yuel bi, is a double tungid man. Also the tunge of the preuy bacbiter is clepid the thridde tunge; for he that the flaterer flatereth, hath o tunge, and he that he tellith the tale of bachityng to, hath the secunde tunge, and the bacbiter him silf hath the thridde tunge, for he, as the thridde, makith debate bitwen a man and his neȝbores. A. ¶ weddid wymmen; summe bokis han onest wymmen, ether dredinge schame. in whom he schal reste; that is, triste verily. bi her tunge; for these men dien bi the deth of synne, and if they repenten not, bi the deth of helle. Lire here. c.

bacbiter, that dar not avow that that he spekith before the persone that he spekith yuel bi, is a double tungid man, and he that flaterith his neȝbores before him, and spekith yuel bihynde hym, is a double tungid man. Also the tunge of the preuy bacbiter is clepid the thridde tunge; for he that the flaterer flatereth, hath o tunge, and he that he tellith the tale of bachityng to, hath the secunde tunge, and the bacbiter him silf hath the thridde tunge, for he, as the thridde, makith debate bitwen a man and his neȝbores. A. ¶ weddid wymmen; summe bokis han onest wymmen, ether dredinge schame. in whom he schal reste; that is, triste verily. bi her tunge; for these men dien bi the deth of synne, and if they repenten not, bi the deth of helle. Lire here. c.

^k thyn E pr. m. ^l Blisfulnesse c pr. m. E pr. m. ^m Om. c sec. m. E sec. m. ⁿ shal brennen E pr. m.
^o c. super ras. strijf E pr. m. ^p Om. A. ^q he disturbide E pr. m. ^r distruyede AEGH. ^s hewȝ down c sec. m. ^t Om. c et E pr. m. ^u for c pr. m. E pr. m.

⁹ Om. I. ^r decreesse, ether abregge CEF GHIKMN PQ RUVXa. ^s Om. cv. ^t vertu CEGHKMN PQ RSUVXa. power F sec. m. ^u Om. ceteri. ^v and AF sec. m. ^w that c.

that is couered fro a shreude tunge; 'the which^v in the wrathe of it passide not, and 'the which^v droȝ not at the ȝoc of it, and in the bondis of 'it is^w not bounde.

24 The ȝoc forsothe of it is an irene ȝoc, and the bond of it is a brasene bond.

25 The deth of it the werste^x deth; and 26 profitable helle more than it. The stede-fastnesse of it shal not abide stille, but shal holde the weies of vnriȝtwis men; in his flaume he shal not brenne riȝtwis

27 men. Thei that forsaken God, shul falle in to it; and it shal brenne out in them, and it shal not be queynt; and it shal be sent in to them as a leoun, and as a

28 parde it shal hurte them. Hegge thin eres with thornes, and wile thou not heren the shreude tunge; and to thi mouth mac thou dores, and^y lokes to thin

29 eres. Thi gold and thi seluer melt to-gidere; and to thi wrdis mac thou a balaunce, and riȝt bridelis to thi mouth.

30 And tac heed, lest paraenture thou slyde in the tunge, and thou falle in the sizte of the^z enemys, waitende to thee, and thi fall yng be vnhealeable in to the^{zz} deth.

CAP. XXIX.

1 Who doth mercy, leeneth to his neȝhe-bore; and he that is more wrth in hond,

2 kepeth the hestis. Leene to thi neȝhe-bore in tyme of his neede; and eft ȝeld

3 to a neȝhe-bore in his tyme. Conferme a wrd, and feithfulli do with it; and in alle tyme thou shalt finde that is needful

4 to thee. Manye as finding eymeden vsure, and ȝeeuen gref to them that

5 helpeden to^a them. To the time that thei taken, thei kissen^b the hondis of the ȝyuere; and in behestis^c thei meken

6 ther voys. And in tyme of ȝelding 'he shal aske^d delaz ing, and he shal speke the scharpnese of swerd; but not so as thei that perischiden bi her tunge. He 23 is bles sid that is kyuerid fro a wickid tunge; and he that passide not in the wrathfulnesse therof, and he that drow not the ȝok therof, and was not boundun in the bondis therof. For whi the ȝok 24 therof is an irun ȝok, and the boond therof is a brasun boond. The deth therof is 25 the worste deth; and helle is more^{*} profitable than it. The perseueraunce therof 26 schal not dwelle, but it schal holde the weies[†] of vniust men; in his flawme it schal not brenne iust men. Thei that 27 forsaken God, schulen falle in to it; and it schal brenne greetli in hem, and it schal not be quenched; and as a lioun it schal be sent in to hem, and as a parde it schal hirte hem. Bisette[‡] thin eeris with 28 thornes, and nyle thou here a wickid tunge; and make thou doris to thi mouth, and lockis to thin eeris. Welle thou to- 29 gidere[§] thi gold, and thi siluer; and make thou a balaunce to thi wordis, and riȝtful bridels to thi mouth. And take heede, 30 lest peraenture thou slide in tunge, and falle in the sizt of enemyes^{||}, settinge tre-soun to thee, and thi falle be vncurable in to deth.

CAP. XXIX.

He that doith merci, leeneth to his neȝ-1 bore; and he that is ful myȝti in hond[¶], kepith the comaundementis. Leene thou 2 to thi neȝbore in the tyme of his nede; and eft ȝelde thou to a neȝbore in his tyme. Conferme thou a word, and doȝ 3 thou feithfuli with hym; and in al tyme thou schalt fynde that, that is nedeful to thee. Many men gessiden borewyng as 4 fynd yng, and ȝauen disese to tho^x men that helpiden hem. Til thei taken, thei 5 kissen the hondis of the ȝyuere; and in biheestis thei maken meke her voys. And 6 in the time of ȝelding he schal axe tyme,

* helle is more, etc.; that is, the payne of helle is lesse yuel than dedly synne, signefied bi the name of the wickid tunge.

Live here. c. † holde the weies, etc.; in going down to everlastinge turment. Live here. c. et plures.

‡ Bisette, etc.; in eschewinge bachbitingis, and in repreyng sharply the bachiteris.

doris; of discreet silence, that thou speke and be stille, in couenable tyme.

Live here. c.

§ Welle thou to-gidere, etc.; that is, tempere thou, and dispose thi wisdom and fair speche, that thou holde stille thingis, that ben worthi to be holdun stille, and that thou speke thingis worthi to be spokun, and with du circumstances.

Live here. c. || enemyes; that is, fendis, in to deth; of helle, fro which is no redempcioun.

Live here. c. ¶ in hond; that is, in power to ȝyue largely. kepith the comaundementis; not onely leenyng, but also in ȝuynge. Live here. c.

^v that c pr. m. ^w Om. A. ^x wickedest AEGH. ^y and soowe thou E pr. m. ^z Om. c pr. m.
^{zz} Om. AGH. ^a Om. AEGH. ^b kissen not c pr. m. E pr. m. ^c the biheestis AGH. ^d thei E pr. m.

wrdis of noyze^e, and of grucchingus, and 7 the tyme he shal pleten. If forsothe he shul moun zeelde, he shal be enemy; vnnethe of the hoele he shal zelde the half, and he shal counte it as finding.
 8 Ellys forsothe he shal bigile hym his monee, and shal han hym enemy wil-9 fully. And repreues and cursis he shal zelde to hym; and for wrshipec and bene-10 fet he shal zelde to hym wrong. Manye, not bicause of shreudenesse, ^{lenten not}^f, but to be^g bigilid^h wilfulli, thei dradden.
 11 Neuer the latere ouer the meke inⁱ inwit be thou strengere; and for almes^k deede 12 drawe thou not hym. For the heste tac to the pore; and for the myseise^l of 13 hym ne lefe thou hym voide. Lees monee for^m brothir and frend, and hide thou not it vnder a ston, in to perdi-14 cioun. Put thi tresor in the hestes of the hejeste; and it shal profite to thee more 15 than gold. Close almes deede in the bosum of the pore; and that for thee 16 shal ful out prezen fro alle euel. The almes deede of a man as a litil sac with hym; and the grace of a man as the eze 17 appil it shal kepen. And afterward it shal azeen risen, and zelde to them zeld-18 ing, to eche in to the hed of hem. Ouer the sheld of the myzti, and ouer spere 19 azen thin enemy it shal fize. A good man maketh feith to his ne3hebore; and he that hath lost, confusioun shal leue to 20 hym. The graceⁿ of the bor3 ne forgete thou; forsothe he 3af for thee his soule.
 21 The synnere and the vnclene^o the azeen bihotere fleeth. Goode wrdis of the azeen bihotere the synnere wijteth to hym; and the vnkinde in the^p wit forsaketh 22 the delyuerende hym. A man azeen bi-hoteth of his ne3hebore; and whan he hath lost reuerence, he shal be forsaken and he schal speke wordis of anoie, and of grutchingis, and he^y schal calenge falsli the tyme*. Forsothe if he mai zelde, he^y schal be aduersarie; of a schilling vnethis he schal zelde the half, and he schal rekyn that as fyndyng. Ellis he schal de-fraude him in his monei, and the leenere schal haue him an enemy with outen cause. And he schal zelde to hym, that⁹ is, to the leenere, wrongis and cursyngis; and for onour and benefice he schal zelde to hym dispisyng. Many men lenten not¹⁰ 'to pore neizboris^z, not for cause of wickidnesse, but thei dredden to be defraudid with outen cause. Netheles on a meke¹¹ man in soule[†] be thou strongere; and for almes drawe thou not hym. For the¹² comaundement^a of God take thou a pore man; and for his nedynesse leue thou not hym voide. Leese thou monei for a bro-¹³ ther and frend, and hide thou not it vnder a stoon, in to perdicoun. Putte thi tre-¹⁴ sour in the comaundementis of the hijeste; and it schal profite to thee more than gold

 'schal profite^b. Close thou almes in the¹⁵ bosum of a pore man; and this almes schal preye for thee 'to be delyuered of God^c fro al yuel. The almes of a man is as a¹⁶ bagge with hym; and it schal kepe the grace[†] of man as the appil of the i3e.
 And aftirward it schal rise azen, and schal¹⁷ zelde to hem a zelding, to ech man in to the heed of hem. Aboue a^d scheld of the^e¹⁸ myzti man, and aboue a spere it schal fize azens thin enemye. A good man makith¹⁹ feith[§] to his neizbore; and he that leesith, schal leue schame to hym. For3ete thou²⁰ not the grace of the borewe; for he 3af his lijf for thee^{||}. A synful man and vn-²¹ cleene fleeth the biheetere. A synnere ar-²² retteth to hym silf the goode wordis of the borowe; and the vnkynde man in wit for-

* calenge falsli
 the tyme; and
 weie that it was ouerdere, ether
 sum such thing,
 to tarie the paiyng of dette, as fyndyng; that is, as if he were not holdun to restore. Ellis;
 that is, if he may not withholde that, that is lent to him.
 defraude him
 in his money;
 in zelding to him fals money
 for trewe, ether in denyng the hoollieche the dette. Live
 here. c.

† on a meke
 man in soule;
 that is, a ful pore dettour. be
 thou strongere;
 in largenesse.
 and for almes;
 that is, for dette, that owith to be turned into almes in sich a caas. drawe
 thou not him;
 to doom, that he be compellid
 to zelde the dette. For the
 comaundement;
 of the Lord,
 that comaund-ide ech man to helpe his neiz-
 bore. take thou
 a pore man; in helping him.
 Leese thou money, etc.; in spendinge it aboute the
 nedis of hem,
 for thou3 it be wastid in this caas, netheles
 more good schal
 be zoldun for it.
 vnder a stoon;
 in gaderinge
 tresour in erthe,
 but in heuene bi 3yuyng of almes. Live
 here. c.
 ‡ the grace;
 that is, Goddis grace 3ouun to
 man. rise azen;
 bi resseuyng of meede in an other lijf. Live
 here. c.
 § makith feith;
 schame; that is,
 him to susteyne

in bicomyng borow for him in nede. that leesith; feith anentis the neizbore, and tristith not to him to bicomme borow for him. schal suffre his neizbore be schamed, ether schent. Live here. c. || 3af his lijf for thee; in oblischinge that is nedeful to him to susteyne his lijf. fleeth the biheetere; that is, the borow, and nyle delyuere him. Live here. c.

^e io3e c pr. m. ^f vsureden E pr. m. ^g Om. E pr. m. ^h begile E pr. m. ⁱ Om. A. ^k the almes A. ^l myseisete E sec. m. ^m for thi c pr. m. ⁿ grace, or loue G sec. m. ^a enuyous c pr. m. E pr. m. ^p Om. c pr. m. G.

^y Om. A. ^z Om. I. ^a comaundementis A pr. m. a. ^b Om. I. ^c Om. I. ^d the I: ^e a I.

24 of hym. Most shreude a3een bihoting spilde manye loouende men, and^q togiddere sterede^q them as the flodis^r of the 25 se. Cumpasende it made my3ti men to gon out; and wandreden in aliene folkis.
26 The synnere ouer passende the maunde-ment of the Lord shal fallen into shreude^s biheste; and he that forseth manye thingus to do, shall fallen in to 27 dom. Recouere thi ne3hebore after thi vertue; and tac heed to thee, that thou 28 infalle not. The bigynnyng of the lif of man watir, and bred, and clothing, and 29 hous defendende filthehed. Betere is the liflode of the pore vnder the roof of stoodes^t, than plenteuous shynende metes 30 in pilgrymaging withoute hous. The leste thing for grete plesse to thee; the repref of pilgrimaging thou shalt not 31 heren. A shreude lif, of herberewing fro hous in to hous; and wher he shal ben herberewid, he shal not feithfulli 32 don, ne openen the mouth. He shal herberewen, and feeden, and 3yue drinke the vnkinde; and to these bittere thingus 33 he shal heren. Go, gest^u, and enourne^v the bord; and tho thingis that^{vv} in thin 34 hond thou hast, feed other. Go out fro the face of wrshipec of my frendis, for nede of myn hous; to herberewe to me, 35 brothir thou art maad. Greuous these thingus to a man hauende wit; vndernymyng of the hous, and repref of the leenere.

CAP. XXX.

1 Who looueth his sone, bisily 3eueth to hym scourgis, that he glade in his laste, and that he grope not the dores of ne3heclepid triuauantis and lozels. Live here. c.

|| the repreuung; that is, chawnging of herbor. the vsurer; that is, of the osteler, which is seid here an vsurer, for he sillith hise thingis to gestis, aboue iust priys bi comyn cours. Live here. c. ¶ touche, etc.; to do fornyacioun. Live here. c.

^q and in A. ^q to-sterede c pr. m. ^r flodis, or wawis E sec. m. GH. ^s the shrewid A. ^t stoodes, or spärres c sec. m. marg. E sec. m. marg. GH. ^u ost c pr. m. E pr. m. ^v enuyroune A. ^{vv} Om. c pr. m.

^f bihotith I. ^g he I. ^h Om. I. ⁱ plesith CEFGHIKMNQRSUXA. ^k that is, osteler. ^v marg.

sakith a man delyuerynge hym. A man²³ biheetith^f for his ne3bore; and whanne 'the ne3bore^g hath lost reuerence*, the borew schal be forsakun of hym. Worst²⁴ biheest[†] hath lost many louynge men, and hath moued hem as the wawis of the see.
It goynge in cumpas made my3ti men to²⁵ passe ouer; and thei wandriden aboute among^h alien folkis. A synnere brekyng²⁶ the comaundement of the Lord schal falle in to a wickid biheest[‡]; and he that enforsith to do many thingis, schal falle in to dom. Rekiuere thi ne3bore bi thi²⁷ vertu; and take heed to thi silf, lest thou falle. The bigynnyng of lijf of a man is²⁸ watir, and breed[§], and clothing, and hous hilynge filthe. Betere is the lijflode of a²⁹ pore man vndur the hilyng of sparris, than schynynge feestis in pilgrymage with outen hous. The leeste thing please³⁰ thee for a greet thing; and thou schalt not here the schenschipec of pilgrymage. It is³¹ wickid lijf to seke herbore fro hous in to hous; and where he schal be herborid, he schal not do tristili, nethir he schal opene the mouth. He schal be herborid,³² and he schal feede, and 3yue drinke to vukynde men; and 3it he schal here bittir thingis. Passe, thou that art herborid,³³ and araye a table; and 3yue thou meetis to othere men, tho thingis that thou hast in the hond. Go thou out fro the face³⁴ of the onour of my frendis, for the frendschipe, ethir affynyte, of myn hous; bi herboryng thou art maad a brother to me.
These thingis ben greuouse to a man hau-³⁵ ynge wit; the repreuynge|| of hous, and the dispising of the vsurer^k.

CAP. XXX.

He that loueth his sone, 3yueth bisili betingis to hym, that he be glad in hise laste thing, and that the sone touche¶ not

* *lost reuer-
ence;* that is,
shamefastnesse bifor God and
men. *forsakun
of him;* that is,
suffringe his borow to be tredit hardi of the creauncer.
Live here. c.

† Worstbiheest;
bi which the ne3bore bihipte falsly to dely-
uere his borow.
Live here. c.

‡ in to a wickid biheest; bi bo-
rewrede, wher-
ynne he biheet-
ith that he schal

paye for an other man, if he faillith. This biheest is seid yuel, in as

myche as yuels
bi fallen to him

therbi. Rekyuere, etc.; in bicomynge borow

for him, so that thou falle not in to tribula-

cioun. lest thou falle; in to the forseid yuels.

Live here. c.
§ water, and breed; that is,
mesurable

drynke and mete; thus

breed and water is takun for mete and

drynke generally, in iv.
book of Kyngis,

xvj. c. and clothing; sym-
ple to nede and not to curiouse.

hilynge filthe;

that is, tho
thingis whiche
it were foul to do opinli, thou3 tho ben not

yuele thingis, as to jelde dette to the wyf, and

siche thingis.
*vndur the hily-
ng of sparris;*

that is, in a litil hows of thyn owne. in pil- grimage; that is,

in another lond.

*the schenschipec
of pilgrimage;*

that is, of vn-
stable going
aboute in the

lond, for ofte
siche men ben

in an other lond.
*the schenschipec
of pilgrimage;*

that is, of vn-
stable going
aboute in the

lond, for ofte
siche men ben

2bores. Who techeth his sone, shal be preisid in hym; and in the myddel of 3homli men in hym he shal glorien. Who techeth his sone, in to enuye sendith^w the enemy; and in the myddel of frendus 4he shal glorien in hym. Dead is the fader of hym, and he is as not dead; lic forsothe to hym he hath laft aftir hym.
5In his lif he sa3, and gladide in hym; and in his deth he sorewede not, ne [']is 6confoundid^x bifer the enemys. Forsothe he hath laft the defendere of the hous a3en the enemys; and to frendus the 3eld-7ing of^y grace. For the soulis of the sonus he shal binde togidere his woundis; and ouer al vois shul be disturbid the 8boweles of hym. The vntame hors shal scapen hard, and the slowe sone shal 9scape stumbling down. Flatere the sone, and he shal make thee dredende; pley with hym, and he shall sorewen^z thee.
10Ne with lazhe thou to hym, ne with sorewe, and in the laste thi teth shal 11waxe stoneyd. 3yue thou not to hym power in 3outhe, and ne dispise thou the 12tho3tus of hym. Crooke the nol of hym in 3outhe, and bet the sidis of hym, whil he is a faunt; lest paraenture he inwardly hardne, and leue not to thee, and 13he shal be to thee sorewe of soule. Tech thi sone, and werk in hym; lest in to 14the filthehed of hym thou gilte. Betere is a pore man hool, and strong in strengthis, than a riche man feble, and 15scourgid with malice. Helthe of soule in hoelynesse of ri3twisnesse, and betere is than alle gold and siluer; and a strong body than monee withoute me-16sure. Ther is not monee ouer the mo-nee of the helthe of body; and ther is 17not liking ouer the io3e of herte. Betere is deth than bittere lyf, and euere last-18ende reste than durende sicknesse. Goodis hid in a mouth closid, as leiynge^a to of plenteuous metes, set aboute with^b a se-the doris of nei3boris. He that techith 2 his sone, schal be preisid in hym; and schal haue glorie in hym in the myddis of menyals. He that techith his sone, 3 sendith the enemye in to enuye; and in the myddis of frendis he schal haue glorie in that sone. The fadir of hym is deed, 4 and he is as not deed; for he hath left aftir hym a sone lijk hym. He si3 in his 6 lijf, and was glad in hym; and in his deth he was not sori, nether was aschamed bi-fore enemyes. For he lefte a defendere 6 of the hous a3ens enemyes; and 3eldynge grace to frendis. For the soulis^{*} of sones 7 he schal bynde togidere hise woundis; and hise entrails schulen be disturblid on ech vois. An hors vntemyd, 'ether vn-8 *chastisid*¹, schal ascape hard, and a sone vnchastisid schal ascape heedi^m. Flatere 9 thou the sone, and he schal make thee dredinge; pleie thou with hym, and he schal make thee sory. Leize thou not[†] 10 with hym, lest thou haue sorewe togidere, and at the laste thi teeth schulen be astonyed. 3yue thou not power to hym 11 in 3ongthe, and dispise thou not hise thou3tis. Boowe thou his necke in 12 3ongthe, and bete thou hise sidis, while he is a 3ong child; lest perauenture he wexe hard, and bileue not to thee, and he schal be sorewe of soule to thee. Teche 13 thi sone, and worche in hym; lest thou offende in to the filthe of hym. Betere is 14 a pore man hool, and strong in my3tis, than a riche man feble, and betun with malice. The helthe of soule is in the 15 hoolynesse of ri3tfulnesse, and it is betere than ony gold and siluer; and a strong bodi is betere than ful myche catel. No 16 catel is aboue the catel of helthe of bodi;

and no likyng is aboue the ioie of herte.
Betere is deth than bittir lijf, and euer- 17 lastinge reste[‡] is betere than siknesse dwellynge contynueli. Goodis hid in a 18 closid mouth[§] ben as settingis forth of ^wFor the soulis,

etc.; that is,
he schal putte
forth his lijf
to the perel of deth, to defende hise sones in bodily lijf, and goostly, as to vertues. *be disturblid on ech
vois*; that is,
he schal haue compassion on ech voys of the meynee, biweil-inge him, and he schal counforte hem of his siyknesse, ether deth nei3-inge. Live here.
c.

[†]Leize thou not,
etc.; in leizinge togidre with him of hise
folies. *astony-
ed*; for bitter-
nesse of thyn herte. hise thou3tis; that is, not onely
bete thou him
for yuele dedis, but also for yuele thou3tis, whanne they appere to thee
bi ony signes.
Live here. c.

[‡]everlastinge reste; that is,
reste of bodi in
the sepulcre,
as longe as present lijf durith.
Live here. c.

[§]Goodis hid in a closid mouth;
that is, kun-
nyng in a man
slow to teche.

^w putteth c pr. m. E pr. m. ^x knouelechede c pr. m. E pr. m. ^y Om. AEGH. ^z make thee dreri G sec. m. ^a leiynge A. ^b to G sec. m.

¹ Om. I. ^m heedi to visis v.

19 pulcre^c. What shal profiten sacrifice to the maumet? and^d forsothe he shal not 20 eten, ne sauouren^e. So he that is dryuen awei fro the Lord, and berende meedis 21 of shreudenesse, seende with e3en and weilende, so a geldyng clippende a 22 maiden, and sizhende. Sorewi idilnesse 3yue thou not to thi soule, ne tormente 23 thou thiself in thi counseil. Myrthe of herte, that is the lif of man, and tresor withoute failing of hoelynesse; and ful out io3ing of a man ys long lyuyng.
24 Haue mercy to thi soule, plesende to God; and withhold and gedere togidere thin herte in the holynesse of hym, and sorewi idilnesse fer put awei fro thee.
25 Manye forsothe sorewy idilnesse sleth; 26 and ther is not profit^f in it. Enuye and wrathe shuln lassen dazes; and bifer 27 tyme thenking shal bringe to elde. A bri3t herte good in meteshipes; the meteshipis forsothe of hym diligentli ben made.

CAP. XXXI.

1 The waking of honeste shal dwyue the flesh; and the thenking of it shal 2 don awei slep. The thenking of bifer kunnyng turneth awei wit; and heuy 3 infirmyte sobre maketh the soule. The riche man trauailede in the gederung of substaunce; and in his reste he shal be 4 fulfild with his goodus. The pore man trauailede in lassing of liflode; and in the 5 ende he is mad helpeles, ^{or} pore^g. Who loueth gold, shal not ben iustefied; and who folewith wasting, shal be fulfild of 6 it. Manye ben 3yuen in to the fallingus of gold; and the los of them is mad in 7 the fairnesse of it. The tree of offencioun is gold of men sacrefiende; wo to metis set aboute a sepulcre. What schal 19 sacrifice profite to an idol? for whi it schal not ete, nether schal smelle. So he 20 that is dryuun awei fro the Lord, and berith the medis of wickidnesse, seyng 21 with izen and weilynge inwardli, as a geldyng biclippyng a virgyn, and siz-3yng. 3yue thou not sorewe to thi 22 soule*, and turmente not thi silf in thi counsel. Mirthe of herte, this is the lijf 23 of man, and is tresour of hoolynesse with outen failyng; and ful out ioi3yng of a man is long lijf. Haue thou mercy on thi 24 soule, and plese thou God; and holde togidere and gadere togidere thin herte in the hoolynesse of hym, and putte fer awei sorewe fro thee. For whi sorewe hath 25 slayn many men; and noon heelthe is ther ynne. Enuye and wrathfulnesse schulen 26 make lesse daies; and thou3tys schulen bryng ealdnesse bifer the tyme. A 27 schynyng herte is good in metis; for whi meetis therof ben maad diligentli.

CAP. XXXI.

Wakyng of oneste† schal make fleischis 1 to faile; and thou3t therof schal take awei sleep. Thou3t of bifer knowyng turneth 2 away wit; and greuouse siknesse makith sobre the soule. A ryche man‡ trauelide 3 in the gaderyng of catel; and in his reste he schal be fillyd with hise goodis. A pore 4 man trauelide in decreessyng of lijflode; and in the ende he is maad nedi. He that 5 loueth gold, schal not be iustified; and he that sueth wastyng, schal be fillid therof.
Many men ben 3ouun in to the fallyngis 6 of gold§; and the perdicoun of hem was maad in the feirnesse therof. A tre of 7 offencioun is the gold of hem that maken sacrifice; wo to hem that suen it, and ech fleischly vices. Jerom seith in his pistle to Rustik, the munk, Loue thou the studies of hooly scripturis, and thou schalt not loue the vices of fleisch. take away sleep; of slouthe and idilnesse. Thou3t of Goddis biforknowyng; bi which God seeth apertly all thingis. turneth away the wit; fro al yuel. Boys seith in the v. book of Consolacioun, A! 3e men, greet nede of goodnesse is set to you, if 3e nylen dissymele; for 3e doen alle thingis bifer the izen of the iuge seyng alle thingis. Live here. c. † A riche man; a good riche man trauelide to lyue onestly aftir his staat, and to do the werkis of mersi. in his reste; that is, elde age, ether deth, he schal resseyue euerlastinge goodis for temporal goodis. in decreessyng; that is, a fool in spending; for he spendith more than he wynneth. that loueth gold; that is, ouermesurably. Live here. c. § fallingis of gold; that is, many men feiden in to synnes for gold. A tre of offensioun is the gold, etc.; for whi a coueytouse man loueth his gold as his God, and therefor auarice is seruyce of idols, in iij. c^o. to Coloc. Live here. c.

^c sepulture G.
E pr. m.

^d Om. A.

^e ben honourid E pr. m.

^f helthe E pr. m.

^g Om. c et

dryuun away, etc.; fro whom kunnyng is taken away of the Lord in his deth, and is dryuun away fro
the felouschipe
of lyuyng men.
the meedis of wickidnesse;
that is, the
synnes of leeu-
yng of good.
seyng with izen; his nec-
ligence passid,
for peyne open-
yde hise izen,
which synne
closide bifer.
weilyng; of the leeu3yng of multipling of kunnyng. as geldyng; that may not gendre bodily, so this man may not gendre goostly
bi kunnyng.
Live here. c.
* 3yue thou not to sorewe thi
soule; that is,
vnresonable sorewe, that anoyeth bothe
bodi and soule.
and turmente
not thi silf, etc.; as they doen
that dispeiren
thorou sorewe,
and sleen hem
silf. the lijf of
man; that is,
kepith mannis lijf. A schyn-yng herte;
that is, glad and large. is good in metis;
whiche it 3yue-
eth to pore men and onest persoonys.
maad dili-gentli; that is,
ben maad redy clenly, and schynyngly, for the forseid persoonys. Live
here. c.
† Waking of
oneste; that is,
in preyer and redyng of hooly scripture. schal
make fleschis to faile; that is, it schal refreyn the fro

them that folewen it, and eche vnprudent shal pershe in it. Blisful is the riche man, that is founde withoute wem; and that aftir gold 3ide not, ne hopide in monee, and in tresores. Who is this, and wee shul preisen hym? forsothe he dyde merueilis in his lif. Who is preued in it, and perfit is founde, and shal be to hym euere lastende glorie? that my3te trespasen, and trespaside not, and^h don euelis, and dide not. Therfore stablid ben the goodis of hym in the Lord; and the almes deedis of hym shal out telle alⁱ the chirche of halewis. Aboue^k the grete bord thou hast siten; ne opene thou out^l thi cheeke rathere^m. Seiⁿ thou not, whethir^o manye thingus ben, that vp on it ben. Haue mynde, for euel is the shreude e3e. Shreudere thing than the e3e, what is foormed? therfore fro al his face he shal weepe, whan he hath seen. Ne strecche thou out thin hond rathere; and bi enuye defoulid, thou shame. Ne be thou thrist togidere in the feste with wyn. Vnderstond what ben of thi ne3hebore, of thiself. Vse as a temperat man these thingis that ben leid to thee; and not whan thou etist, myche to hate thou be had. Cese rathere bicause of disciplyne; and wile thou not be to myche, lest paraurenture thou offende. And if in the myddel of manye thou seete, rathere than thei ne strecche thou out thin hond; ne rathere aske thou to drinke. Hou suffisaunt is to a tazt man a litil wyn; and in sleping thou shalt not trauailen of it, and thou shalt not feelen trauaile. Waking, and colere, and anguysh to an vndiscreet man. Slep of helthe in a scars man; he shal slepe vnto the morutid, and the lif of hym with hym shal deliten. And if constreyned thou were in etyng to myche, ris from the myddel, and spew; and it shal refreshe thee, and thou shalt not bringe to vnprudent man schal perische ther ynne. Blissid is a riche man, which is foundun⁸ with out wem^{*}; and that 3ede not aftir gold, nether hopide in money, and tresouris. Who is this, and we schulen⁹ preyse hym? for he dide merueils in his lijf. Which is preued ther ynne, and is foundun perfit, and euerlastyng glorie schal be to hym? which my3te trespasse, and trespaside not, and do yuels, and dide not. Therfor hise goodis ben stablischid¹¹ in the Lord; and al the chirche of seyntis schal telle out hise almesdedis. Thou¹² hast sete at a greet boord[†]; opene thou not firste thi cheke on it. Seie thou not, whether tho ben many thingis, that ben on it. Haue thou mynde, that an yuel¹⁴ ize is weiward. What thing worse, than an ize is maad? therfor of al his face he schal wepet[‡], whanne he seeth. Stretche¹⁶ thou not forth first thin hond; and thou defoulid bi enuye, be aschamed. Be thou¹⁷ not oppressid of wyn in a feeste. Vnder¹⁸ stonde of thi silf the thingis, that ben of thi ne3bore. Vse thou as a discreet and temperat man these thingis that ben set forth to thee; and be thou not hatid, whanne thou etist myche. Cesse thou²⁰ first bicause of lernyng, ethir nurture; and nyle thou be outrageouse, lest paraurenture thou offende. And if thou hast sete in²¹ the myddis of many men, stretche not forth thin hond sunnere than thei; and axe thou not firste for to drynke. A litil wyn²² is ful sufficient to a lerned man; and in slepyng thou schalt not trauele for that wyn, and thou schalt not feeel trauel. Wakyng, and colre, ether bittir moisture,²³ and gnawyng to an vndiscreet^a either vntemperat man^o. But the sleep of heelte²⁴ is in a scars man; he^{oo} schal slepe 'til to^p the morewtid, and his soule schal delite with hym. And if thou art constreyned²⁵ in etyng myche, ryse thou fro the myddis, and brake^q thou; and it schal refreische

* with out wem; of co-ueytise and auarice. aftr gold; bi yuel geting, but vside gold in pitouse and onest werkis. Live here. c.

† Thou hast sete at a greet boord, etc.; that is, whanne thou art clepid to the table of a greet man, bigynne thou not to ete first. Live here. c.

‡ he schal wepe, etc.; that is, he schal bere heuyly, whanne he seeth the fewnesse of messis, ether for tho ben not aftir his lust. thou defoulid; that is, repreuyd for glotenye. Live here. c.

^h Om. c. ⁱ Om. A. ^k Bi E pr. m. ^l vp on it AE sec. m. GH. ^m firste E pr. m. ⁿ And sey AGH. ^o if E pr. m.

^a vndiscreet man s. ^o and vntemperat man CEGHIMNPQRUVXYA. and vntemperaunt s. ^{oo} 'he that A pr. m. P vnto I. ^q A super ras. spue CEGHIKMN PQRSUVXYA.

26 thi body siknesse. Here me, sone, and dispiſe thou not me; and in the^p laſte 27 thou ſhalt fynde my wrdis. In alle thi werkis be thou ſwift; and alle infirmyte 28 ſhal not meete with thee. The ſhynende in loeues the lippis of^{pp} manye ſhul bliſſen; and the witnessing of the 29 treuthe of hym feithful. In the moſt wycke bred grucchide the cite; and the witnessing of the wickidneſſe^a of it is 30 verre. Biſi men in wyn wile thou not ſtiren; forſothe many men outlawide 31 wyn. Fyr proueth hard iren; ſo wyn drunken in drunkenbed ſhal vndername 32 the hertes of proude men. Euene lif to men wyn in^r ſobrenesse; if thou drinke 33 it meſurably, thou ſhalt ben ſobre. What 34 is the lif that is laſſid with wyn? What 35 bigilith the lif? deth. Wyn in myrthe is foormed, not in drunkenhed, fro the 36 bigynnyng. The ful out iozyng of ſoule and of herte^s, wyn meſurably drunken.
37 Helthe is of ſoule and of body, ſobre 38 drink. Wyn myche drunke terring, and wrathe, and manye fallingus maketh.
39 Bitterneſſe of ſoule wyn myche drunken.
40 The wilſumneſſe of drunkenhed the offeſſioun of the vnprudent, laſſende ver-41 tue, and makende woundis. In the feſte of wyn vndername thou not a neizbore; and diſpiſe thou not hym in the myrthe 42 of it. Wrdis of reſpex ſey thou not to hym; and bere thou not hym down in aſſee^{ss} aſking.

CAP. XXXII.

1 A gouernour thee thei^t han ſett, wile thou not ben enhauncid; be thou in hem 2 as oon of hem. The cure of hem haue thou, and ſo bihold; and al thi^u cure 3 mad out, reſte. That thou glade for hem, and the ournement of grace thou take; coroun, and dignete of the congre-4 gacioun thou gete. Speke thou more thee, and thou ſchalt not brynge ſikenesse to thi bodi. Sone, here thou me, and di- 26 ſpiſe thou not me; and at the laſte thou ſchalt fynde my wordis. In alle thi 27 werkis be thou ſwift; and al ſikenesse* ſchal not come to thee. The lippis of 28 many men ſchulen bleſſe a ſchynynge man in loeues; and the witnessing of his treuthe is feithful. The citee ſchal grutche 29 in the worſte breed; and the witnessing of wickidneſſe therof is ſoth. Nyle thou 30 excite hem that ben diligent in wyn†; for whi wyn hath diſtried many men.

Fier proueth hard irun; ſo wyn drunken 31 in drunkenesse ſchal repreue the hertis of proude men. Euene lijf to men is wyn 32 drunkun in ſobrenesse; if thou drynkist it meſurably, thou ſchalt be ſobre. What is 33 the lijf which is‡ maad leſſe bi wyn? What 34 defraudith lijf? deth. Wyn was maad 35 in gladneſſe, not in drunkenesse, at the bigynnyng. Wyn drunken meſurabli is 36 ful out ioiying of ſoule and of bodi. Sobre 37 drynk is helthe of ſoule and of bodi.
Wyn drunken myche makith avoiding, 38 and ire, and many fallyngis^r. Wyn 39 drunken myche is bitterneſſe of ſoule.
Strengthe of drunkenesse and hirting of 40 an vnprudent man makith vertu leſſe, and makyng woundis. In the feſte of wyn 41 repreue thou not a neizbore; and diſpiſe thou not hym in his mirthe. Seye thou 42 not wordis of ſchenschiſe to hym; and oppreſſe thou not hym in axyngeſ.

CAP. XXXII.

Thei han ſet thee a gouernour, nyle 1 thou be enhaunſid; be thou among hem as oon of hem. Haue thou cure of hem, 2 and ſo biholde thou; and whanne al thi cure is fillid, ſitte thou to mete. That 3 thou be glad for hem, and take the ournement of grace; and gete coroun, and dignyte of congregacioun. Speke thou the 4

* al ſykenesse,
etc.; that is,
defaute of werk.
of many men;
wiſching good
to him for his liberalte and merai. worſt
breed; that is,
getun wickidly,
and 300un
yuele. Live
here. c.

† Nyle thou excite hem that ben diligent in wyn; nyle thou excite hem to drynke, for
with out this,
thei ben ouer
myche enclyn-
aunt herto;
ether nyle thou excite to wrathfulneſſe,
for thei ben ſtirid ſoone to maſleing.
hard irun; in makinge it neiche. re-
proue the hertis
of proude men;
in rauyſching
hem hoolliche,
and caſtinge
down, as it is opin of Olofer-
nes, in xij. c.
of Judith.

deth; for whi
deth of kynde defraudith kynde, deth of synne defraud-
ith lyif of grace,
deth of helle
defraudith lyif of glorie. Live
here. c.

‡ What is the
lyif which is,
etc.; as if he seye, it is not mannus lyif,
but hoggis lyif.
Live here. c.

§ oppreſſe thou not him in axynge; dette ſcharply, for he wolde be wrathid ajen-
us thee, and jelde to thee
yuel for good.
Live here. c.

^p thi A. ^{pp} Om. c pr. m. ^q wickenesse E. ^r is in E pr. m. ^s body c pr. m. E pr. m. ^{ss} aſſeyn AG.
ajen E. ^t men E pr. m. thei c sec. m. sup. ras. ^u the A.

^r or myscheues I marg.

5thur3 birthe; forsothe ther semeth thee ferst the wrd of loouende kunnyng; and 6lette thou not musik. Where is not heer-ing, heelde thou not out a sermoun; and vncouenabli wile thou not^v ben enhauncid 7in thi wisdam. A litil iemme of karbuncle in the ournement of gold; and comparisoun of musikes in the feste of 8wyn. As in forging of gold signe is of a smaragd, so the noumbre of musikis in 9myrie and temperat wyn. Here thou beende^w stille, and for reuerence shal falle 10to thee good grace. Thou a jung ful waxen man, spec in thin owne cause 11vnnethe, whan nede shul be. If twies thou were askid, haue the hed thin an-12swere. In manye thingus be thou as vn-kunnende, and here^x thou beende stille 13togidere and sechende. To^y speken in the myddel of grete men ne bifor take thou; and wher ben olde men, not myche 14spec thou. Biforn hail shal go leiting, and biforn shamefastnesse shal go grace, and for reuerence shal fallen to thee good 15grace. And^z in the hour of rising^a tyff thou thee not^a; ren biforn forsothe first in to thin hous, and there be thou clepid 16to, and there pleye. And do thi conceyuyngus, and not in giltis, and in^{aa} 17proud wrd. Vp on alle these thingus blisse thou the Lord, that made thee, and inwardli drunkinge thee of alle his 18goodis. Who dredeth God, shal take^b the doctrine of hym; and who shul wake 19to hym, shul finde blessing. Who secheth the lawe, shal be fulfild of it; and who aspiendeli doth, shal be sclaundrid 20in it. Who dreden God, shul finde rijtwis dom; and rijtwisnesses as lizt thei 21shul teende. A man synnere shal schone gretter^{*} man in birthe; for whi the word of hym that loueth kunnyng bcome thee first; and lette thou not musik. Where 6hering is not[†], schede thou not out a word; and nyle thou be enhaunsid vnco-uenabli in thi wisdom. A iemme of car-7buncle in the ournement of gold; and comparisoun of musikis in the feeste of wyn. As in the making of gold is a 8signe of smaragde, so the noumbre of musikis is in myrie and mesurable wyn.

 Here thou stille, and good grace schal 9come to thee for reuerence. Jonge man, 10speke thou vnnethis in thi cause, whanne nede is. If thou art axid twies, the heed 11haue thin answer. In many thingis be thou as vnkunnyng, and here thou stille togidere and axynge. And presume thou 13not to speke in the myddis of grete men; and where elde men ben, speke thou not myche. Leityng schal go bifore hail, and 14grace schal go bifore schamfastnesse, and good grace schal come to thee for reuerence. And in the our of risynge tife thee 15not; forsothe renne thou bifore first in to thin hous, and there clepe thou thee to answer, and there pleie thou. And do thi 16conseit[‡], and not in synnes, and in a proud word. On alle these thingis blesse 17thou the Lord, that made thee, and fillynge thee greetli of alle hise goodis. He 18that dredith God, schal take his techyng; and thei that waken to hym, schulen fynde blessing. He that sekith the lawe, schal 19be fillid therof; and he that doith tretourousli^s, schal be sclaundrid ther ynnere. Thei 20that dreden God, schulen fynde iust dom; and schulen kyndle rijtfulnesse as lizt.
 A synful man[§] schal eschewe^t blamyng; 21 and aftir his wille he schal fynde com-

^{*} Speke thou the gretter, etc.; that is, thou prelat, that owist to be ripe in vertues, and so eeld, bi worshipful age. the word of him, etc.; that is, of God, who loueth kunnyng, and kunnyng men. bcome thee first; that is, principali. and lette thou not musik; that is, according of word to liyf; for, as Greg. seith, in xxxviii. Omely, Whos liyf is dispisid, his preching shal be dispisid. Live here. c. [†] Where hering is not, etc.; for it were more dispising of Goddis word, than encresing therof. enhaunsid vncouenabli in thi wisdom; in auauntinge thee boostfully therof. Leityng schal go bifor hayl; for whi hail fallith down in thunder sum tyme, and leyting goith bifor the sown of thunder. grace; of God. schal go bifor schamefastnesse; that cometh forth of reuerence, for whi Goddis grace is the bigynnyng of that reuerence. tife thee not; that is, make thee no tariyng in araiyng, ether tifyng of heeris, as wymmen doon. to thyn hows; in rennyng agan to thyn owne consience. clepe thee; to answer, as to answer of thi dedis bifor the hijeste iuge. and there pleye thou; that is, whanne answer is maad bi this, that thou art not gilty of dedly synne, pleye thou with wisdom, bi goode thougtis that ben delitable. Live here. c. [‡] do thi conseit; that is, parforme thi good purpos conseyued there, and ocupe thee not in synnes. Live here. c. [§] A synful man; that is, obstynat in synne. blamyng; as abhominable to him.

^v Om. c pr. m. ^w and beyng A. ^x Om. A. there GH. ^y And to c. ^z Om. c. ^a haue thou not a sloz wil c pr. m. E pr. m. ^{aa} Om. c pr. m. ^b han c pr. m.

^s traitourli K. tretourli M. ether aspiyngli x marg. ^t ethchewe I.

correccioun^b; and after his wil he shal 22 finde comparisoun. A man of counseil shal not distroze vnderstanding; and an alien and a proud shal not ful^c dreden 23 drede. Also aftir that he dide with hym withoute counseil, and in his infolew-24 ingis^d he shal ben vndernome. Sone, withoute counseil no thing do thou; and aftir thi deede thou shalt not othynke.
 25 In the weie of falling go thou not, and thou shalt not offende azen stones. Ne betake thou thee to a trauailous wey, ne 26 poote thou to thi soule schlauder; and of thi sones be war, and of thi homli men 27 tac heed. In al thi werk leue^{dd} of the feith of thi soule; this is forsothe the 28 keping of the hestes. Who leueth^e to God, taketh heed to the hestes; and who trosteth in hym, shal not be lassid.

CAP. XXXIII.

1 To the dredende God eueles shul not meete; but in tempting God shal kepen hym, and delyueren hym fro euelys.
 2 The wise man hateth not hestes, and rijt wisenesses; and he shal not ben hurt-3 lid, as in the tempest of a ship. A weel felende man leueth^e to the lawe of God, 4 and the lawe feithful to hym. Who the asking maketh open, shal greithe a wrd;
 and so louli prezende he shal be ful out herd, and he shal kepe disciplyne, and 5 thanne he shal answeren. The entrailes of a fool as the whel of a carre, and as a turnende ful axtre^{ee} the thenkingus^f of 6 hym. An hors courser, so and a frend priue scornere, vnder eche man vpon sittende 7 neizeth. Whi dai the dai ouercometh, and eft list the list, and 3er the 3er, sunne the 8 sunne? Of the kunnyng of the Lord parisoun. A man of counsel schal not 22 leese vnderstanding; a man alien and proud schal not drede^{*} dredyng. 3he, 23 aftir that he hath do with that drede with out counsel, and he schal be repreued bi hise suyngis. Sone, do thou no thing 24 with out counsel; and aftir the dede thou schalt not repente. Go thou not in the 25 weie of fallyng, and offende thou not azen stoonys. Bitake thou not thee to a tra-uelouse weie, lest thou sette schlaudir to thi soule; and be thou war of thi sones, 26 and perseyue thou of thi meyneals. In al 27 thi werk bileue thou[†] bi feith of thi soule; for whi this is the keping of comaundementis. He that bileueth to God, takith 28 heede to the^u comaundementis; and he that tristith in hym, schal not be maad lesse^v.

CAP. XXXIII.

Iuelis schulen not come to hym that 1 dredith God; but God schal kepe hym in temptacioun, and schal delyuere fro yuelis.
 A wijs man hatith not the^w comaunde- 2 mentis, and rijtfulnessis; and he schal not be hurtlid[‡] down, as in the tempest of a schip. A wijs man bileueth to^x the lawe 3 of God, and the lawe is feithful to hym.
 He that makith opene axyng, schal make 4 redi a word; and so he schal preie, and schal be herd, and he schal kepe techyng, and thanne he schal answeren. The en- 5 traylis of a fool ben as a wheel of a carte, and his thouztis as an extre able to turne aboute. An hors a staloun, so 6 and a frend a scornere[§], neizeth vndur ech sittynge aboue. Whi dai the dai ouercometh a 7 dai, and eft the list ouercometh list, and a 3eer ouercometh a 3eer, the sunne ouer- comparisoun; that is, an other man liyk him, ether worse, in alegginge that man to his excusing and defence. A man of counsel; that is, assenting to good counsel. vnderstanding; of counsel 3ouun to him, but schal bringe to executioun. alien; fro God. and proud; dispisyng the counsel of an other man. 3he, aftir that he hath do with that; that is, with the drede of God, for whi a man alien fro God and proud, whanne he is set in perel of deth, doith sum tyme sum good thing of kynde, for that drede. without counsel; that is, stable purpos of soule. schal be repreued, etc.; for whanne the drede is passid, he turneth azen to the formere yuele custom, and so he is maad worthi to be repreued. Live here. c.  schal not drede;* that is, the manaassing of Goddis betingis. Live here. c. † In al thi werk bileue thou; that is, sette thi foundement of feith, with out which no werk plesith God. of thi soule; that is, of thyn herte, and not onely of thi mouth. not be maad lesse; that is, schal faile not of meede abedun. Live here. c.

‡ he schal not be hurtlid; that is, schal not be brokun bi vnpatience. teching; that is, couenable maner to teche disciplis. The entaylis of a fool; that is, the vnderstanding and desir of an yuel prelat. as an extre; for he hath no stableness in good. Live here. c. § a frend a scornere; that is, an yuel prelat, that owith to loue God, and putte forth him silf til to deth for the helthe of the puple; and netheles he scorneth God, and takith the office of his vikeried, and chargith not of his onour. neizeth; bi wantownesse of vices. vndur ech sittynge aboue him; that is, vndur God and hise aungels. list ouercometh list; for the list of the sunne is more than the list of the moone, and of othere steris. the sunne

^b correceioun, or chastisinge E sec. m. marg. GH. ^c Om. c pr. m. ^d folewingus c. ^{dd} bileue G sec. m. ^e bileueeth G sec. m. ^{ee} or a nathe c sec. m. marg. or a naaue E sec. m. marg. H. ^{axtree}, or ^{naaue} G. ^f thenkyng AGH.

^u Om. CEF pr. m. GHKMNPQSUXA. his B. ^v lesse, ether desceyued v. ^w Om. cv. ^x in c.

thei ben seuered, the sunne mad, and kepene the heste; bi^g the wisdam of 9 God thei ben deuydid. And he shal chaunge the tymes and the feste dazes of hem, and in hem the feste dazes thei 10 haleweden at the hour. Of hem God enhauncede and magnified; and of them he putte in to the noumbre of dazes and 3eres; and alle men of the soil^h, and of the erthe, wherof Adam was foormed.
 11 In the multitude of the disciplyne of the Lord he seuerede them, and chaungide 12 the weies of them. And of them he blissede, and enhauncede; and of hem he halewide, and to hymself he pre-sentede; of hem he curside, and mekede, and turnede them to the seuering of 13 hem. As the cley of the crockere in the hond of hym, to foormen and toⁱ dis-14 posen it, alle the weies of it aftir his disposicioun; so a man in his hond that made hym; and he shal 3eelde to them 15 aftir his dom. A3en euel is good, and a3en lif deth; so and a3en the riztwis man the synnere. And so bihold in to alle the werkis of the he3est; two a3en 16 two, oon a3en oon. And I the^k laste wakide^l, and as that gedereth clustris^m, 17 aftir the grape kutteres. In the blessing of God and I myself hoped; and as he that grapes kuttethⁿ, I fulfide presse^o.
 18 Beholdeth, for not to me alone I tra-uailed, but to alle men sechende out 19 disciplyne. Hereth me, 3ee grete men, and alle puples; and 3ee gouernoures of 20 the chirche, with eres parceyueth. To sone, and wif, brother, and frend, 3if thou not power vp on thee in thi lif; and 3yue thou not to an other thi possessioun, lest it othinke thee, and thou louli pre3e for 21 hem. Whil 3it thou art aboue^p, or lyuest^{pp}, and brethest, shal not chaungen thee alle 22 flesh. Betere is forsothe, that thi sonus thee pre3en, than thee to beholden in to cometh the sunne? Tho ben departid of⁸ the kunnyng of the Lord, bi the sunne maad, and keynge the comaundement^y of God. And it schal chaunge tymes and⁹ the feeste daies of hem, and in tho tymes the Jewis halewiden hali daies at an our.

 God enhaunside and magnified of tho¹⁰ hali daies; and of tho he settide* in to the noumbre of daies; and God made alle men of sad erthe, and of neische erthe, whereof Adam was formed. In the mul-¹¹ titude of kunnyng of the Lord he depart-ide hem, and chaungide the weies of hem.
 Of hem God blisside, and enhaunside; and¹² of hem he halewide, and chees to hym silf; of hem he curside, and made lowe, and turnyde hem fro the departyng of hem.
 As cley of a pottere is in the hond of¹³ hym, to make and dispose, that alle the¹⁴ weies therof ben aftir the ordynaunce of hym; so a man is in the hond of hym that made hym; and he schal 3elde to hym bi his dom. A3ens yuel is good, and¹⁵ a3ens lijf is deth; so and a synnere is a3ens a iust man. And so biholde thou in to alle the werkis of the hizeste; twey^z thingis a3ens tweyne, and o thing a3ens oon. And Y the laste wakide^{zz}, and as he¹⁶ that gaderith draf of grapis, aftir the gadereris of grapis. And Y hopide in the¹⁷ blessing of God; and as he that gaderith grapis, Y fillide the pressour. Biholde 3e,¹⁸ for Y trauelide not to me aloone, but to alle that seken kunnyng. Grete men, and¹⁹ alle puplis, here 3e me; and 3e gouernouris of the chirche, perseyue with eeris. 3yue²⁰ thou not power ouer thee in thi lijf to a sone, and to a womman, to a brothir, and to a frend; and 3yue thou not thi pos-sessioun to another man, lest perauenture it repente thee, and thou biseche for tho[†].
 While thou art alyue, and brethist 3it, ech²¹ man schal not chaunge thee. For it is²² betere, that thi sonus preye thee, than ouercometh the sunne; not that twey sunnes ben, but for the same sunne

 passith him silf
 in causinge heete, for in soner he caus-
 ith more heete
 in oure dwelling place, than in wynter. the
 comaundement;
 that is, ordenaunce; this that is addid
 in summe
 bokis, ben departid bi the wisdom of God,
 is not of the text, but it sueth next;
 and it, that is, the sunne,
 schal chaunge
 tymes. Live
 here. c.

* of tho he set-tide; that is, of tho dayes of the 3eer; this
 that is addid
 in sum bokis,
 and in to 3eris,
 is not of the text. curside;
 Chore and his felowis. fro the departyng of
 hem; that is,
 anon as they weren departid
 fro othere men, he turnede hem quyke in to helle. Live
 here. c.

† biseche for tho; that is,
 for the nedis
 of thi lijf.
 chaunge thee;
 that is, as long
 as thou lyuest,
 noon stire thee
 fro this purpos.
 Live here. c.

^g In A. ^h suetuel A. soule H. ⁱ Om. AGH. ^k to the E pr. m. ^l wallide AH. wakid out G.
^m pepynes E pr. m. ⁿ cutte AG pr. m. H. ^o my presse E pr. m. AGH. ^p on E pr. m. ^{pp} Om. C et, E pr. m.

^y comaundementis A pr. m. a. ^z tweyne C. two G. ^{zz} walkide M.

23 the hondus of thi sonus. In alle thi 24 werkes befor passende be thou; ne 3yue thou a wem in to thi glorie. In the dai of the ful endyng of the dazes of thi lif, and in tyme of thi deth dele thin 25 eritage. Metes, and 3erde, and berthene to an asse; bred, and disciplyne, and 26 werk to a seruaunt. He werketh in dis-ciplyne, and the largid^q hond to hym secheth^r to resten^r, and secheth^s fredam.
 27 3oc and brydil^t reyne crooken the harde necke; and the seruaunt bowen besy 28 werkis. To the euel willi seruaunt tormenting and gyues; put hym into werch-29 ing, lest he be voide; forsothe myche 30 malice idilnesse tazte. In werk set hym, so forsothe it semeth hym; that if he here not, howe hym with gyues, and make thou not large^v 'vp on^v alle flesh, but with oute dom noo thing do thou 31 heuy. If ther is to thee a feithful ser-uaunt, be he to thee as thi lif; as a^w brother so trete hym, for in blod of lif 32 thou bo3tyst hym. If thou 'schalt hurte^x hym vnri3twisly, in to fli3t he shal ben 33 turned; and if enhauncende he schal^y go awey, whom schalt^y thou seche, and in what weie thou^z schalt^{zz} seche hym, thou wost not.

CAP. XXXIV.

1 Veyn hope and lesyng to the mys-felende man; and vnprudent men en-2 haunsun^a sweuenes. As he that caccheth shadewe, and pursueth wynd, so and^b he that taketh heed to the seen lesingus.
 3 Aftir that thing^c the sizte of sweuenes; befor the face of a man the licesse of 4 an other man. Of the vnclene what shal ben clensid, and of the liere what soth 5 shal ben seid? Deuynyng of errour, and 'diuynyng bi chiteryng of briddis^d, lesingus, or false^e, and sweuenes of euel doynge that thou biholde in to the hondis of thi sonus. In alle thi werkis be thou soue-23 reyn; 3yue thou not a wem in to thi²⁴ glorie. In the day of endyng of daies of thi lijf, and in tyme^a of thi^b goyng out departe thin erytage. Metis, and a 3erde,²⁵ and birthun^c to an asse; breed, and chas-tisyng, and werk to a seruaunt. He²⁶ worchith in chastisyng^{*}, and sekith to haue reste; slake thou hondis to hym, and he sekith fredom. A 3ok and bridil²⁷ bowen down an hard necke; and bisi worch-ingis bowen down a seruaunt. Turment²⁸ and stockis to an yuel willid seruaunt; sende thou hym in to worchyng, lest he be ydel; for whi idilnesse hath tau3te²⁹ miche malice. Ordeyne thou hym in werk,³⁰ for so it bicometh hym; that if he obeieth not, bowe thou down hym in stockis, and make thou not hym large^f ouer ony man, but with out dom do thou no thing greuouse. If a feithful seruaunt is to thee, be³¹ he as thi soule to thee; trete thou him so as a brother, for thou hast bou3t hym in the blood of lijf. If thou hurtist hym³² vniustli, he schal be turned in to fleyng awey; and if he enhaunsynge goith awey,³³ thou noost^d whom thou schalt seke, and in what weie thou schalt seke hym.

CAP. XXXIV.

Veyn hope and a leesyng to an vnwijs¹ man; and dremes enhaunsen vnprudent men. As he that takith^e schadewe, and² pursueth wynd, so and he that takith heede^f to leesynge seyn. Vpe this thing³ is the sizt of dremes; bfore the face of a man is the licesse of another man. What⁴ schal be clensid of him that is vnclene, and what trewe thing schal be seid of^f a liere? Fals dyuynyng of errour, and⁵ fals dyuynyngis bi chiteryng of briddis, and dremes of witchis, is vanyte. And as⁶

* He worchith
 in chastising;
 that is, as long
 as he is holdun vnder chas-
 tising.

Turment and
 stockis, etc.;
 that is, rebel
 and vnfeithful.
 idilnesse; of
 seruauntis.
 myche malice;
 to ymagyne
 azenus lordis.
 with out doom;
 of du discre-
 cioun. greu-
 ouse; to thi
 seruauntis.

Live here. c.
 † make thou
 not him large,
 etc.; that is,
 3yue thou not to him pover
 ouer ony man,
 for he owith
 not to be soue-reyn, but to be vnderlowt;
 and this is azenus summe Cristen princes,
 that maken Jewis bailies
 and souereyns
 on Cristen
 men. bou3t him
 in the blood of
 lijf; that is,
 for nede of thi
 lijf, that stond-
 ith in blood, in
 xij. c. of Le-uytici, the lijf
 of ech fleisch
 is in blood.

Live here. c.
 § takith hede,
 etc.; in veyn dremys. what schal be clensid,
 etc.; as if he
 seye, no thing, but it schal be defouled more.
 of a liere; as if he seye, no thing; for if the deuel seith trewe thingis sumtyme, this is for to desseyue
 more aftirward,
 and so that truthe may be seid a leesing
 bi the ende.
 Live here. c.

^q large G sec. m. ^r for to azen resten G sec. m. ^s he sechith G sec. m. ^t the brydil E. ^v vpon hym AGH. ^w thi A. ^x hurte c pr. m. hurtist E pr. m. ^y Om. c pr. m. ^{yy} Om. c pr. m. ^z Om. GH.
^{zz} Om. AC pr. m. GH. ^a herien out c pr. m. E pr. m. enhaunsinge of H. ^b Om. A. ^c Om. c pr. m.
^d c et E sec. m. sup. ras. ^e Om. c et E pr. m. G sec. m.

^a the tyme C E F G H I K M N P Q R U V X Y A. ^b Om. G. ^c a birthun I. ^d ne wost I. ^e takith a A pr. m. ^f to c.

6 men is vanyte. And as^f of the womman berende child, thin^g herte suffreth fantasies; no^h but of the hezest were sent out visityng ne 3yue thou in hem thin 7 herte. Manye men forsothe sweuenus maden to erre, and fellen awei hopende 8 in hem. With oute lesing shal be ful endid the wrd of the lawe; and wisdom in the mouth of the feithful shal be maad 9 pleyn. Who is not temptid, what kan he? A man in manye thingus expert, shall thenke manye thingus; and he that manye thingus lernede, shal tellen out 10 vnderstanding. Who is not expert, fewe thingus knowith; who forsothe in manye thingus is a fool, shal multeplien malice.
11 Who is not temptid, what maner thingus kan he? Who is vnplauntid, shal abound 12 shreudenesse. Manye thingus I sa3 in tellinge out, and manye customes of 13 wrdis. Other while vn to the deth I was in perile, bi the enchesoun of these; and I was delyuered bi the grace of God.
14 The spirit of men dredende God is so3t, and in respyt of 'hym itⁱ shal be blissid.
15 The hope forsothe of them in to the sauende hem; and the e3en of the Lord 16 in to men loouende hym. Who dredeth God, no thing shal quaken, and he shal not inwardly dreden; for he is his hope.
17 Of the dredende the Lord, blissid is his 18 soule. To whom biholdith he, and who 19 is the strengthe of hym? The e3en of the Lord vp on men dredende hym. Defendere of my3t, firmament of vertue, coueryng of brennyng, and the hilet,
'or the schadowyng place^k, of the myd-20 day; louli pre3ende of gilte, and helpe of falling, enhauncende the soule, and liztnende e3en, 3yuende helthe, and lif, 21 and blessing. Of the offrere of the wicke thing the offring is defoulid; and the herte of a womman trauelynge of child, thin herte suffreth fantasies; no but visitacioun is sent out of the hizeste, 3yue thou not thin herte in tho dremes.

For whi dremes han maad many men for 7 to erre, and men hopynge in tho fellen down. The word of the lawe 'of Gods and of hise profetis^g, shal be maad per-fit with out leesyng; and wisdom in the mouth of a feithful man* shal be maad pleyn. What kan he, that is not asaied? 9 A man asaied in many thingis†, shal thenke many thingis; and he that lernyde many thingis, shal telle out vnderstandyng. He that is not asaied, knowith 10 fewe thingis; forsothe he that is a fool in many thingis, shal multiplie malice.
What maner thingis kan he, that is not 11 asaied? He that is not plauntid‡, shal be plenteuouse in wickidnesse. I si3 many 12 thingis in tellyng out, and ful many customs of wordis. Sum tyme Y was in 13 perel 'til to^h deth, for the cause of these thingis; and Y was delyuered bi the grace of God. The spirit of hem that dreden 14 God is sou3t, and shal be blissid in the biholding of hym. For whi the hope of 15 hem is in to God sauynge hem; and the izen of the Lord ben in to hem, that louen hym. He that dredith God, shal not 16 tremble for ony thing, and heⁱ shal not drede; for whi God is his hope. The 17 soule of hym that dredith the Lord, is blissid. To whom biholdith he §, and 18 who is his strengthe? The izen of the 19 Lord ben on hem that dreden hym. God is a defendere of my3t, stidfastnesse of vertu, hilyng of heete, and a schadowyng place of myddai; bisechyng of offendyng||, 20 and help of fallyng, enhaunsynge the soule, and liztnynge the izen, and 3yuynge heelthe, and lijf, and blessing. The of- 21

* wisdom in the mouth of a feithful man,
etc.; that is,
wisdom con-
teyned in hooly scripture shal
be tau3t pleynly
in the mouth of a feithful techere, for he kan opene
and declare the hid thingis of hooly scripturis. Live
here. c.

† A man asay-ed in many thingis; that is, exercisid
ether trauelid
in many scripturis. thenke
many thingis,
for bi o place
of scripture he declarith another place
more hid.
lernede many thingis; bi ocupacioun of studie. schal
telle out; the veri vnderstand-
ing of scripture. He that is not asaied;
in scripturis.
knowith fewe thingis; for he may fynde fewe thingis bi him
sif, wherfor
thei that dey-
nen not to se
the seiyngis of othere men, ben foundun voide
of trithe. he
that is a fool in
many thingis;
in applynge
his vnderstand-ing to many thingis reyn
and curiose.
shal multiplie
malice; for ofte he makith
fals doctryn.
Summe bokis
han, he that is maad rennyng
about in many thingis, to knowe many thingis, and vnderstandith
no sufficiiently
in ony o thing,
shal multiplie,
etc. Live here.
c.

‡ He that is not § To whom biholdith
|| biseching of offendyng;

plauntid; that is, hath not set roote of vnderstanding and desir in good. plenteuouse, etc.; multipliynge vices. Live here. c. he; as if he seide, God is he, to whom he dressith his entent and of whom he hath my3t defending. Live here. c. that is, heringe biseching for offensis. Live here. c.

^f Om. c pr. m. ^g in c pr. m. E pr. m. ^h Om. CE pr. m. ne E sec. m. ⁱ it me E pr. m. ^k Om. c et E pr. m.

^g Om. I. ^h vnto I. ⁱ Om. c.

the scornynge of vnri3twis men ben not 22 wel plesende. The Lord alone to men sustenende hym in the weie of treuthe, 23 and of ri3twisnesse. The 3iftus of wicke^l men proueth not the he3est, ne biholdeth in the offringus of wicke men, ne in the multitude of sacrificis of hem he shal 24 han mercy to synnes. Who offreth sacrificis of the substaunce of pore men, as he that sleth to sacrifice the sone in the 25 sizte of his fader. The bred of nedy men is the liif of the pore^m; who bigilith 26 hym, is a man of blod. Who doth awei in swot bred, as he that sleth his ne3he-27 bore. That shedethⁿ blod, and that doth 28 gile to the hirid man, ben brethern. Oon bildende, and oon distrozende; what pro-29 fiteth to them, no^o but trauaile? Oon pre3ende, and oon cursende; whos vois 30 shal the Lord ful out heren? That is baptisid fro the deade, and eft towcheth the deade, what profitith his washing?
 31 So a man that fasteth in his synnes, and eft the same thingus doende, what pro-fitith he mekende hymself? the orisoun of hym who shal ful out heren?

CAP. XXXV.

1 Who kepeth the wrd, multeplieth ori-2 soun. Holsum sacrifice is to taken heed to the maundemens, and to gon awei fro 3 alle wickidnesse. And to sacrificen plesing of sacrifice vp on vnri3twisnesse, and louli pre3ing for synnes, to gon awei fro 4 vnri3twisnesse. He shal 3elde grace, that offreth tried flour; and that^p doth^a mercy, 5 offreth sacrifice^r. Weel plesid thing^s is to the Lord, to gon awei fro wickidnesse; and louly pre3ing to gon awei fro vnri3t-6 wisnesse. Thou shalt not aperen bifer but sich a rauenor schal be punyschid of God for his yuels. Oon preiynge; for a rauenor, that is, he preiynge to whom the rauenor hath 3oue good. and oon cursinge; the rauenor, for he took away hise goodis. whos vois; as if he seie, noon, for whi the hering of the first is lettid for the malice of him for whom he preyeth, and the hering of the cursere is lettid for his owne synne, for he synneth in cursinge his neibore. fastith in hise synnes; that is, for hise synnes to be for3ouun. in mekyng him silf; that is, in turmentinge him silf bi fastingis and sicche thingis, he profitith no thing to remysyoun of synne doon, for he repentith not verily. Live here. c. § who schal here, etc.; as if he seye, God schal not here. Live here. c. || multiplieth preier; for he preyeth bi soule and mouth. for vnri3tfulnessis; to be for3ouun. Live here. c. ¶ 3elde grace; that is, schal 3yue a plesant seruyce to God. Live here. c.  voide; of offring thries in the 3eer, in xxliij. c°. of Exodi. c.

^l wickid AGH. ^m pore man E pr. m. ⁿ sechith AGH. ^o Om. c pr. m. ne c sec. m. marg. ^p he that A. ^q don H. ^r sacrificis c. ^s Wel plesynge A.

^j sacrificis CEG. ^k men G. ^{kk} fro A sec. m. ^l word of God CI marg. v.

fryng of hym that offrith of wickid thing*, is defoulid; and the scornynge of vniust men ben not wel plesaunt. The Lord 22 aloone† is to hem that abiden hym in the weie of treuthe, and of ri3tfulnesse. The 23 hizeste appreueth not the 3iftis of wickid men, nethir biholdith in the offryngis of wickid men, nether in the multitude of her sacrifices he schal do mercy to synnes.
 He that offrith sacrifice of the catel of 24 pore men, is as he that sleth the sone in the sizt of his fadir. The breed of nedi 25 men is the lijf of a pore man; he that defraudith hym, is a man of blood. He 26 that takith awei breed in swoot†, is as he that sleth his neibore. He that schedith 27 out blood, and he that doith fraude to an hirid man, ben britheren. Oon bildynge, 28 and oon distriynge; what profitith it to hem^k, no but trauel? Oon preiynge, and 29 oon cursynge; whos vois schal the Lord here? What profitith the waischyng of 30 hym, that is waischun for^{kk} a deed bodi, and touchith eft a deed bodi? So a man 31 that fastith in hise synnes, and eft doynge the same synnes, what profitith he in mekyng hym silf? who schal here§ his preyer?

CAP. XXXV.

He that kepith the word^l, multeplieth preier||. Heelful sacrifice is to take heede to the comaundementis, and to departe fro al wickidnesse. And to offre the plesyng of 3 sacrifice for vnri3tfulnesses, and bisechyng for synnes, is to go away fro vnri3tful-nesse. He that offrith purest flour of 4 wheete, schal 3elde grace¶; and he that doith merci, offrith a sacrifice. It is wel 5 plesaunt to the Lord, to go awei fro wickidnesse; and preier is to go awei fro vnri3tfulnesse. Thou schalt not appere 6

* offrith of wickid thing; that is, of thing getun vniustly. the scornynge, etc.; that is, her offring of an other mannus thing, bi whiche thei scornen God, that ow-ith to be onour- id of a mannus owne good, in iij. c°. of Pro- uerbis. Live here. c.

† The Lord aloone, etc.; that is, thei that stonden, in the weye of truthe and of ri3tfulnesse, han onely veri God for God, and he accept-ith the 3iftis of hem. Rauenours and auerouse men han gold and riches for God, a glotoun hath delices, a lechour hath lust of touching, and sicche thingis for God, wherfor her sacrifices ben not accept- able to God.

The breed; that is, what euer maner mete. is the lijf of a pore man; that is, the susten- yng of his lijf. man of blood; Austyn seith, Feede thou a man diynge for hungur, and if thou feedist not him, thou hast slayn him; myche more if thou withdrawist his lijf fro him. c.

‡ breed in swoot; that is, breed getun in swoot of tra- uelours. ben britheren; that is, ben liyk in synne. whos vois; as if he seye, no vois;

§ who schal here, etc.; as if he seye, God schal not here. Live here. c. ¶ 3elde

7 the sizte of the Lord voide; forsothe alle these thingus for the hestus of God ben 8 mad. The offring of the riȝtwis fatteth the auter; and the smel of swotenesse is 9 in the sizte of the heȝest. The sacrificise of the riȝtwis is acceptid, and the mynde 10 of hym the Lord schal not forȝete. With good wil ȝelde^t glorie to God, and lasse thou not the cheef frutis of thin hondis.
11 In alle ȝifte^u glad mac thi chere, and in 12 ful out ioȝing halewe thi^v dymes. Ȝif to the heȝeste aftir the free ȝifte of hym; and in good eȝe mac thou the finding^w of 13 thin hondis. For ȝeldende is the Lord, and seuensithe as myche he schal ȝelde to 14 thee. Wile thou not offren shreude ȝiftus; 15 forsothe he schal not taken hem. And wile thou not biholden the vnriȝtwis sacrificise; for the Lord is domes man, and ther is not anent hym glorie of persone.
16 The Lord schal not taken a persone in to pore; and the preȝing of the hurt he shall 17 ful out heren. He schal not dispise the preȝeres of the faderles child, ne the widewe, yff she heelde out the speche of 18 weiling. Whether not the teres of the widewe at the cheeke gon down, and the outcry of hir vp on the ledyng down of^x 19 hem? Fro the cheke forsothe thei steȝen vp to heuen, and the Lord herere schal 20 not delyten in them. Who honourith God in liking, schal ben resseyued^y; and the lowe preȝyng of hym vnto the clowdis 21 schal neȝhe. The orisoun of the meekende hymself schal persen clowdis, and to the tyme that it neȝhe, he schal not be coumfortid, and not gon awei, to the tyme that 22 the heȝest beholde. And the Lord schal not longen away, but demen riȝtwis men, and don dom; and the strengeste schal not han in hem pacience, that he to-tru-23 ble the rigge of hem. And to Jentiles he shal ȝelde veniaunce, to the tyme that he take awei the plente of proude men, and the kingus dignetees of wicke men he tobifore the sizt of God; for whi alle these 7 thingis ben doon for the heestis of God.

The offryng of a iust man makith fat the 8 auter, and is odour of swetnesse in the sizt of the hiȝeste. The sacrifice of a iust 9 man is acceptable, and the Lord schal not forȝete the mynde of hym. With good 10 wille ȝelde thou glorie to God, and make thou not lesse the firste fruytis of thin hondis. In ech ȝifte make glad thi cheer, 11 and in ful out ioiying halewe thi tithis.
Ȝyue thou to the hiȝeste aftir his ȝifte*; 12 and with good iȝe make thou the fyndyng of thin hondis. For whi the Lord is 13 a ȝeldere, and he schal ȝelde seuene fold so myche to thee. Nyle thou offre schrewid 14 ȝiftis; for he schal not resseyue tho. And 15 nyle thou biholde an vniust sacrifice; for the Lord is iuge, and glorie of persone† is not at hym. The Lord schal not take 16 a persone aȝens a pore man; and he schal here the preier of hym that is hirt. He 17 schal not dispise the preyeris of a fadirles child, nether a widewe, if sche schedith^m out speche of weilyng. Whether the teeris 18 of a widew goen not down to the cheke, and the cryng of hir on hym that ledith forth tho teeris? For whi tho stien fro 19 the cheke 'til toⁿ heuene, and the Lord herere schal not delite in tho. He that 20 worschipith God in delityng, schal be resseyued; and his preyer schal neiȝe 'til to^o the clowdis. The preier of hym that 21 mekith hym silf schal perse clowdis, and til it neiȝeth‡, he schal not be coumfortid, and he schal not go away, til the hiȝeste biholde. And the Lord schal not be fer, 22 but he schal iuge iust men, and schal make doom; and the strongeste schal not haue pacience in tho, that he troble the bak of hem. And he schal ȝelde ven- 23 iaunce to folkis, til he take awei the fulnesse of proude men, and troble togidere the ceptris of wickid men; til he ȝelde to 24 men aftir her dedis, and aftir the werkis

12 * aftir his ȝifte; that is,
aftir the quan-
tite of thi
goodis, whiche
thou hast of God.

14 with good iȝe,
etc.; that is,
with riȝtful
entent ordeyne
thi good werkis,
to the preising of God and not of man. Live
here. c.

† glorie of persoone, etc.; that is, taking of persoone. a persoone; of a myȝti man.
hirt; vniustly.
on hym; that is, on the op-pressere, that makith hir to wepe. Live
here. c.

‡ neiȝith; to God, in gettinge effect.
not go away;
fro preyer.
not be fer;
in dilaiynge
effect, no but to the profit of the axere. in tho;
oppresseris.
Live here. c.

^t ȝif A. ^u ȝiftis A. ^v thou GH. ^w findingus C. ^x Om. AEGH. ^y vndirtaken C pr. m. E pr. m.

^m schede C. ⁿ vnto I. ^o vnto I.

24 trouble; to the tyme that he ȝelde to men aftir ther deedus, and aftir the werkis of Adam, and aftir the presumpcioun of 25 hym; to the tyme that he deme the dom of his folc, and 'he schal^z delite riȝtwis 26 men with his mercy. Fair^a the mercy of God in tyme of tribulacioun, as a cloude of reyn in tyme of droȝte.

CAP. XXXVI.

1 Haue mercy of vs, God of alle thingus; and behold vs, and shew to vs the lyȝt of 2 thi mercy doynȝus. And send in^b thi drede vp on Jentilis, that soȝten not thee, that thei knowe for ther is not God, but thou; that thei telle out thi grete wrthi 3 deedis. Rere vp thin hond vp on aliene 4 folkis, that they see thi myȝt. As for-sothe in the siȝte of hem thou art ha-lewed in vs, so in oure siȝte thou shalt be 5 magnified in hem; that thei knowe thee, as and^c wee han knowe, for ther is noon 6 other God, saue thee^d, Lord^e. Ennewe 7 thou signes, and chaunge merueilis; glo-8 rifie the hond, and^{ee} the riȝt arm. Rere vp wodnesse, and heeld oute wrathe; 9 enhaunce^f the aduersarie, and tormente 10 the enemye. Heeȝe thou the tyme, and haue mynde of the ende, that thei telle 11 out thi merueilis. In the ire of flaume be he deuoured that is saued; and that werst treten thi folc, finde thei perdi-12 cioun. To-brose thou the hed of princes, and of the enemy, seiende, Ther is noon 13 other, saue wee. Gedere togidere alle the lynagis of Jacob, and knowe thei for ther is no God but thou, that thei telle out thi grete wrthi deedis; and thou shalt eritage them, as fro the bigynnyng.
14 Haue mercy to^g thi puple, vp on the^h whiche is inwardli clepid thi name; and to Irael, whom thou hast euened to 15 thi first goten. Haue mercy to Jerusalem, the cyte of thin halewing, the cite 16 of thi reste. Fulfil Syon with thin vn-of Adam*, and aftir the presumpcioun of hym; til he deme the dome of his puple, 25 and schal delite iust men in his merci.

The merci of God is fair in the tyme of 26 tribulacioun, as clowdis of reyn in the tyme of drynesse.

CAP. XXXVI.

God of alle thingis, haue thou merci on 1 vs; and biholde thou vs, and schewe thou^p to vs the liȝt of thi merciful doynȝis.
And sende thi drede on hethene men, that 2 souȝten not thee, that thei knowe that no God is, no but thou; that thei telle out thi grete dedis. Reise thin hond on he- 3 thene men aliens, that thei se thi power.
For as thou were halewid in vs in the siȝt 4 of hem, so in oure siȝt thou schalt be magnified in hem; that thei knowe thee, as 5 and we han knowe, that noon othere is God, outakun thee, Lord. Make thou newe 6 signes, and chaunge thou merueilis; glo- 7 rifie the hond[†], and the riȝt arm. Reise 8 thou stronge veniaunce, and schede out ire; take awei the aduersarie, and tur- 9 mente the enemye. Haaste thou the tyme, 10 and haue thou mynde on the ende, that thei telle out thi merueils. And he that 11 is sauȝd, be deuourid in the ire of flawme; and thei that treten worst thi puple, fynde perdicioun. Al to-breke thou the heed of 12 princis, and of enemyes, seiȝnge, Noon othere is, outakun vs. Gadere thou togi- 13 dere alle the lynagis of Jacob, and knowe thei that no God is, no^q but thou, that thei telle out thi grete dedis; and thou schalt enherite hem[‡], as at the bigynnyng.
Haue thou merci on thi puple, on which 14 thi name is clepid in to help; and on Israel, whom thou madist euene to thi firste gendrid sone. Haue thou merci on Jeru- 15 salem, the citee of thin halewyng, on the citee of thi reste. Fille thou Syon with 16

* of Adam; the
lettre hath of Adam, but bi Ebreys this word Adam signefieth man comynly, and so it is set here.
the presump-
cioun of him;
bi which he oppressith vn-
iustly a man
liyk him silf in kynde. Live
here. c.

† the hond;
of thi riȝtful-
nesse on hem.
riȝt arm; that is, the riȝt arm
of thi merci, on vs. Live
here. c.

‡ thou schalt
enherite hem;
whanne thei
entriden in to the lond of bi-heest, in the tyme of Josue.
at the bigyn-
nyng; of the cheſing of the
puple of Israel.
Live here. c.

^a Om. c pr. m. ^a Fayr is A. ^b Om. AGH. ^c Om. AGH. ^d the GH. ^e alone A. ^{ee} of A. ^f enhaunce out E pr. m. ^g on H. ^h Om. AEGH.

tellable vertues, and thi puple with thi 17 glorie. 3if witnessing, for fro the bigynnyng thi creatures thei ben; and rere the prezeres, that the rathere profetes speeken 18 in thi name. 3if meede, Lord, to men sustenende thee, that thi profetes feithful bee founden; and heere thou the orisoun 19 of thi seruauns. Aftir the blissing of Aron 3if to thi puple, and rizte reule vs in to the weie^l of riztwisnes; that thei alle wite, that dwellen the^k erthe, for 20 thou art God, biholdere^l of worldis. Eche mete the wombe schal ete, and ther is 21 mete betere than mete. Cheekes touchen ne3h^m the mete, and the mysfelende herte 22 lesyng wrdys. The shreude herte shal 3yue sorewy slouthe, and the wise man 23 shal withstonde to it. The womman schalⁿ taken eche male child, and ther is 24 a do3ter betere than the sone. The fair-nesse of a womman gladith out the face of hyr man, and ouer alle lust of the 25 man she^o shal 'ouer leden^p desyr. If ther is tunge of curing, ther is and of swaging, and of mercy; the man of hir 26 is not aftir the sonus of men. Who weld-ith a good womman, bigyneth possessioun; helpe aftir hym she is, and a 27 piler as reste. Wher is not hegge, shal ben to-broken^q the possessioun; and where is not a womman, weileth the 28 nedy. To^r whom byleeueth^s he^t that hath not a nest, and bowing down wher euere shal ben derk, as a gird vp thef, lepende out fro cite in to cyte?

CAP. XXXVII.

1 Eche frend shal seyn, And I frenshipe couplede; but ther is a frend, bi only name a frend. Whether not sorewe is 2 in vnto deth? A mete felawe forsothe and a frend to enemyte shul ben turned.
 3 O! most shreude presumpcioun, whennus thi vertues, that moun not be teld out, and filie thi puple with thi glorie. 3yue 17 thou witnessyng, that at the bigynnyng thei weren thi creaturis^{*}; and reise thou preieris, whiche the formere profetis spaken in thi name. Lord, 3yue thou meede to 18 hem that abiden thee, that thi prophetis be foundun trewe; and here thou the preier of thi seruauntis. Aftir the bless- 19 yng of Aaron 3yue thou to thi puple, and dresse thou vs in to the weie of riztful-nesse; that alle men wite, that dwellen in erthe, that thou art God, the biholdere of worldis. The wombe schal ete alle mete, 20 and o^r mete is betere than another^s mete.

 Chekis touchen metet[†] alмест, and an vn- 21 wise herte resseyueth false wordis. A 22 schrewid herte schal 3yue heuynesse, and a wijs man schal azenstonde it. A wom- 23 man schal take ech knaue child, and a dou3tir is betere than a sone. The fair- 24 nesse of a womman makith glad the face of hir hosebonde, and sche schal brynge desir ouer al the coueitise of man. If ther 25 is a tunge of heelyng[‡], ther is also of swagyng, and of merci; the hosebonde of hir is not aftir the sonus of men. He that 26 hath in possessioun a good womman, bigynneth possessioun; sche is an help lijk hym, and a piler as reste. Where an hegge 27 is not, the possessioun schal be rauschild awei; and where a womman is not, a nedi man weilith. To whom bileueth he that 28 hath no nest, and bowith down where euere it is derk, as a thief girt, skippynge out fro citee in to citee?

CAP. XXXVII.

Ech frend schal seie, And Y haue cou- 1 plid frenschip; but that is a frend, a frend bi name aloone. Whether sorewe is 2 til to deth? Forsothe a felowe of table 2 and a frend schulen be turned to enemyte.
 A! the^t worste presumpcioun, wherof art 3

* thi creaturis;
 that is, special
 sones of Israel.
Live here. c.

† touchen mete;
 in taking it,
 and chewen not sufficiently, but swolewen ouer
 with out du chewing and preyng. knaue
child; for sche
 wolde euere bere
 a knaue child.
Live here. c.

‡ If ther is a tunge of heel-
ing; that is, of repreuyng in
 the hosebonde,
 in repreuyng
 the outrageous aray of the wyf, ether vn-
 stable mouyng
 of hir. after the
sones of men;
 that is, he is not manly and discreet, but neische and fonnyd. bigyn-
neth posses-
sioun; that is,
 bigynneth to be riche, thou3
 he hadde no
 more good. no
nest; that is,
 stidefast dwelling, as if he seie, he bi-leueth not to any wise man,
 and therfor he failith in dis-crecioun of good, and of
 yuel. as a thief
girt; that is,
 maad redy to do yuele. Live
here. c.

§ Whether sorewe
is, etc.; bi sich frenschipe, as if he seide, 3is;
 for whi no pestilence is my3tiere to anoye, than is an homely enemye. Live
here. c.

^l hond E pr. m. ^k in the H. ^l and beholder A. ^m alмест E pr. m. ⁿ wile C pr. m. E pr. m. ^o Om. GH.
^p leden C. ^q not broken H. ^r Om. C pr. m. ^s leeueth C pr. m. E pr. m. ^t Om. C pr. m. E pr. m.

^r oon C sec. m. I. Om. A pr. m. C pr. m. ^s Om. A pr. m. C pr. m. ^t thou C sec. m. V.

art thou foormed to coueren drie malice, and the treccherie of it? The mete felawe to the frend shal be merie in likingus, and in the dai of tribulacioun he shal be aduersarie. A mete felawe to the frend sorewith with, bi cause of the wombe; and azen the enemy he shal take sheld. Forzete thou not of thi frend in thin inwit, and be thou not vnmyndeful of hym in thi werkis. Wile thou nott counselen with thi wyues fader; and fro men enuyende to thee hyd conseil. Eche counseiler discouereth conseil, but ther is a counseiler in hymself. Fro an^u euel counseiler kep thi soule; first wite thou, what be the nede of hym, and what he in his inwit shal thenken; lest par auenture he poote a pol, 'or a stake', in to the erthe, and sey to thee, Good is thi wey, and stonde azenward, to seen what falle to thee. With an vnreligious man trete of hoolynesse^w, and with the vnri3twis man of ri3twisnesse, and with a womman of tho thingus that she enuyeth. Wile thou not counseilen with hym that hath thee suspect, and fro men enuyende to thee, hid thou thi conseil. With the dredful trete of bataile, and with the marchaund, 'of castinge out of schyppe'; with the biere, of silling, with the enuyous man, of 13graces to be don; with the vnпитыouse, of pite, with the vnhonest, of honeste, with 14the werkere^y, of alle werk; with the annuel werker^z, of the ful endyng of the 3er, with the slowe seruauant, of myche werchyng. Tac thou not heed to these 15in al^a conseil, but with an hoely man be thou bysy, whom euere thou shalt 16knowe kende the drede of God, whos thou maad* to hile drie malice, and the gilefulnesse therof? A felowe of table 4schal be myrie with a frend in delityngis, and in the dai of tribulacioun he schal be aduersarie. A felowe of table schal haue 5sorewe with a frend, for cause of the wombe; and he schal take scheeld azen an enemye. Forzete thou not thi frend in 6thi soule, and be thou not vnmyndeful of hym in thi werkis. Nyle thou take coun- 7cel with the fadir of thi wijf; and hide thou counsel fro hem that han enuye to thee. Ech councelour† schewith counsel, 8but ther is a councelour to hym silf. Kepe 9thi soule fro an yuel counselour; firste wite thou, what is his nede, and what he schal thenke in his soule; lest perauen- 10ture he sende a stake in to the erthe, and seie to thee, Thi weie is good, and he 11stonde azenward, to se what schal bifalle to thee. With an vnreligious man trete 12thou of holynesse‡, and with an vniust man of ri3tfulnesse, and with a womman of these thingis whiche sche hatith. With a ferdful man trete thou of batel, with a marchaunt, of caryng ouer of marchaundies to chepyng^t; with a biere, of sillyng, with an enuyouse man, of graces to be don; with an vnпитыouse man, of pytee, with 13an vnonest^u man, of oneste, with a werk man of the feeld, of ech werk; with a werk 14man hirid bi the 3eer, of the endyng of the 3eer, with a slowe seruauant, of myche worchyng. 3yue thou not^v tent to these men in al counsel, but be thou bisi with 15an hooli man, whom euere thou knowist kepynge Goddis drede, whos soule is aftir 16thi soule. Who euer doutith in derknessis, schal not haue sorewe with thee. And 17

* A! thou worste presumcioun, wher of art thou maad; as if he seye, of noon; for whiche creature is maad good of God; but synne is defaute, and hath no cause of being bi it silf. Denyis seith thus, in his book of Dyuyne Namys. Noou that purposith yuel, worchith wel. to hile; bi feynnyng of frendshipe. drie malice; with outen vmour of goodnesse. in delityngis; that is, in the tyme of prosperite. in the tyme of tribulacioun; whanne prosperite failith, for which he feynede him for to loue. hath sorewe; that is, feyneth him to haue sorewe. with a frend; in tyme of his siknesse. for cause of the wombe; that is, of gloteny. take scheeld azenus an enemy; of the frend, as for to defende the frend; that is, if he doith this ony tyme, he doith it for gloteny, and not for veri frendshipe. Forzete thou not thi very frend in thi soule; so that thou loue not him onely bi mouth, but also with herte and werk. with the fadir of thi wijf; that is, of these thingis that perteynen to the restoring of thi wijf, for whiche euere he schal stonde for his dou3ter, and turne away fro truthe, for fleisli affeccioun. Lire here. c. † Ech councelour; vnfeithful. schewith counsel; as vndur the colour of his good, that axith counsel. to him silf; that is, purposinge his owne profit, and not his profit to whom he 3yueh counsel. Lire here. c. ‡ trete thou of hoolynesse; the autour of this book spekith here in scorn, and vndurstondith the contrarie of his seying; as if he seye, siche an vnreligious man schal councele thee yuele. and with an vniust man of ri3tfulnesse; liyk speche is here, vndurstondinge the contrarie, as it schal be opyn bi the ende of this part. of graces, etc.; that is, to 3yue frely to othere men. be thou bisi with an hooli man; that is, stable and sad in goodnesse and mesure, and trete thou with him of thi priuities. knowist; bi werkis. whos soule, etc.; that is, that loueth thee as him silf, and azenward. doutith in derknessis; of ignorance, ether of ^u a man c pr. m. E pr. m. ^v Om. c et E pr. m. ^w homlynesse c. ^x trete of chaunging c pr. m. E pr. m. ^y feeld werkere c pr. m. E pr. m. AGH. ^z werke c pr. m. ^a alle these in c.

^t shiping P. ^u onest A pr. m. ^v no c.

soule is aftr thi soule. Who euere shal wagen in dercesses, shal not togidere 17 sorewen^b to thee. And herte of good counseil sette thou with thee; ther is not 18 forsothe to thee other more than it. The soule of an hoely man telleth out other while sothis; more than seuene lookeres aboute sittende in to heizte to beholden.
 19 And in alle these thingus louliche preze the hejeste, that he rizt reule in treuthe thi 20 wey. Biforn alle werkes a verre wrd go bifor thee; and biforn alle deede stable 21 counseil. A shreude wrd 'schal chaunge^c the herte, of the whiche foure partis springen; good and euil, lif and deth; and the lordshipere of these is a bysy 22 tunge. A wys man many men tazte, and 23 to his soule is sweete. Who sofistically speketh, is hateful; in^d alle thing he shal 24 ben bigilid. Forsothe ther is not 3yuen to hym of the Lord grace, forsothe he is 25 bigilid of alle wisdom. Ther is a wys man wiys^{dd} to his soule, and the frutes of 26 the^e wit of hym ben preisable. A wis man techeth his folc, and the frutis of 27 the wit of^f hym ben feithful. A wys man shal be fulfild with blissingus, and 28 men seende hym shul preisen. The lif of a man in the noumbre of dazes; the dazes forsothe of Irael ben vnnoumbre-29 able. A wis man in puple shal eritagen wrshipe, and the name of hym shal ben 30 lyuende in to withoute ende. Sone, in thi lif tempte thou thi soule; and if it were shreude, 3if thou not to it power; 31 forsothe not alle thingus to alle speden^g, and ne to eche soule eche kinde pleseth.
 32 Wile thou not ben gredy in alle plentuous mete 3yuyng, and heeld thee not 33 out vpon eche mete. In manye forsothe metus shal ben infirmyte, and gredynesse 34 shal nezhen vnto colre. For glotonye manye men dieden; who forsothe is abstinent, shal eechen lijf.

stablische thou the herte of good counceil with thee; for whi another thing is not more than it to thee. The soule of an 18 hooli man tellith out treuthis sum tyme; more than seuene biholderis sittynge an hij for to biholde. And in alle these 19 thingis biseche thou the hijeste, that he dresse thi weie in treuthe. Bifore alle 20 werkis a sothefast word* go bifore thee; and a stidfast counceil go bifore ech dede. A wickid word schal chaunge the herte, 21 of which herte foure partis comen forth; good and yuel, lijf and deth; and a bisi tunge is lord of tho. A wijs man hath 22 tauzt many men, and he is swete to his soule. He that spekith 'bi soffym', is 23 hateful; he schal be defraudid in ech thing. For whi grace is not 3ounn of the 24 Lord to hym, for he is defraudid of al wisdom. A wijs man is wijs to his soule, 25 and the fruytis of his wit ben worthi to be preisid. A wijs man techith his puple, 26 and the fruytis of his wit ben feithful. A wijs man schal be fillid with blessyngis, 27 and thei that seen hym schulen preise hym^v. The lijf of a man is in the noum-28 bre of daies; but the daies of Israel ben vnnoumbrable. A wijs man in the puple 29 schal enherite onour, and his name schal be lyuyng with outen ende. Sone, asaie 30 thi soule in thi lijf; and if it is wickid, 3yue thou not power to it; for whi not 31 alle thingis speden to alle men, and not ech kynde plesith ech soule. Nyle thou 32 be gredi in ech etyng, and schede thou not out thee on ech mete. For in many 33 metis schal be sikennesse, and gredynesse schal neize 'til to^w colrye. Many men 34 dieden for glotonye; but he that is abstinent, schal encrease lijf.

synne. sorewe with thee; that is, verily, and of herte, and so he schal not 3yue good counceil to thee in thi neile. the herte of good counceil; that is, wille to sue good counceil. not more; that is, betere. Live here. c.

* a sothfast word, etc.; in biheestis and answeris. wickid word; that is, a fals word. chaunge the herte; fro good to yuel. good and yuel; of kynde. lijf; of grace. and deth; of synne. Liyf of grace cometh forth of the herte bi disposing; but God makith that lijf, but deth of synne cometh forth of mannis herte, and is not maad of God. bisi tunge, etc.; that is, the bissy- nesse of good teching, that refreyneth yuel, and doith away deth of synne, and encreasith a good dede of kynde, and lijf of grace. Live here. c.

^b seruen c pr. m. E pr. m.
^f the frute of E pr. m. GH.

^c chaungeth c pr. m.
^g gode A.

^d and in A.

^{dd} Om. c pr. m.

^e Om. GH.

^u sofisticali, ether bi soffym [to deceive v] soffemys s. ethir deisseyuably to God x marg.

CEFGHKMNPRUVXA. sofisticali i. sofistically, ethir bi ^v Om. i. ^w vnto i.

CAP. XXXVIII.

1 Honoure the leche, for nede; forsothe 2 hym foormede the heȝest. Of God for-sothe is alle leching; and fro the king he 3 schal take ȝyuyng. The disciplyne of the leche schal enhaunse the hed of hym; and in the siȝte of grete men he schal ben 4 preisid. The heȝest foormede of the erthe medycyne; and the prudent man 5 schal not agrisen it. Whether not of the 6 tree is mad sweete the bitter water? At the knowleching of men the vertue of them; and the heȝest ȝaf to men kunnyng, to be wrshipid in his merueiles.
7 In these thingus he^b curende shal swage sorewen, and the oynement makere shal make pymentis of swotenesse, and enoyntingusⁱ he shal make of helthe; and the werkis of hym shul not ben ful endid.
8 The pes forsothe of God vpon the face 9 of the erthe. My sone, in thin infirmytee ne dispise thou thiself; but prei the Lord, 10 and he shal cure thee. Turne awei fro gilte, and dresse thou the hondis, and fro 11 alle gilte clense thin herte. Ȝif^k swetnesse, and mynde of tried flour, and mac fat the offring; and ȝif stede to the 12 leche. Forsothe the Lord foormede hym, and go he not awei fro thee; for his 13 werkis ben nedeful. Ther is forsothe tyme, whan thou renne in to the hondis 14 of hem. Thei forsothe the Lord shul louly preiȝen, that he riȝt reule the reste of hem, and helthe for ther conuersa-15 cioun. Who gilteth in his siȝt, that made hym, shal falle in to the hondus of the 16 leche. Sone, in to the deade bringe forth teris, and as harde thingus suffrid bigyn to wepe; and aftir dom touche his body, and dispise thou not the biring of hym.
17 For the acusing forsothe bitterly ber weilyng 'of hym^l o dai; and tac coum-18 fort for heuynesse. And do weilyng after the deseruyng of hym o dai, or two,

CAP. XXXVIII.

Onoure thou a leche, for nede; for whi¹ the hiȝeste hath maad hym. For whi² al medicyn is of God; and he schal take of the kyng a ȝifte. The kunnyng of a ȝ leche schal enhaunse his heed; and he schal be preisid in the siȝt of grete men.
The hiȝeste hath maad of the erthe medi-⁴ cyn; and a prudent man schal not wlate it. Whether bittir watir was not maad⁵ swete of a tre? The vertu of tho thingis⁶ cam bi experience to the knowing of men; and the hiȝeste ȝaf kunnyng to men, for to be onourid in his merueils. A man⁷ heelynge in these thingis schal aswage sorewe, and an oynement makere schal make pymentis of swetnesse, and schal make anoyntyngis^x of heelthe; and hise werkis schulen not^{*} be endid. For whi⁸ the pees of God is on the face of erthe.
Mi sone, dispise not thi silf in thi sike-⁹ nesse[†]; but preie thou the Lord, and he schal heele thee. Turne thou awei fro¹⁰ synne, and dresse thin^y hondis, and clense thin herte fro al synne. Ȝyue thou swet-¹¹ nesse, and the mynde of cleene flour of wheete, and make thou fat offryng; and ȝyue thou place to a leche. For the Lord¹² made hym, and departe he not fro thee; for hise werkis ben nedeful to thee. For whi¹³ tyme is, whanne thou schalt falle in to the hondis of hem. Forsothe thei schulen¹⁴ biseche the Lord, that he dresse the werk of hem, and helthe for her lyuyng. He¹⁵ that trespassith in the siȝt of hym, that made hym, schal falle in to the hondis of the leche. Sone, brynge thou forth teeris¹⁶ on a deed man, and thou as suffrynge hard thingis bigynne to wepe; and bi doom hile thou the bodi of hym, and dispise thou not his biring. But for¹⁷ bacbityng bere thou bittirli the morenyng of hym o dai; and be thou coumfortid for sorewe[‡]. And make thou morenyng aftir¹⁸

* werkis schulen not, etc.; that is, schulen not haue effect purposid bi the leche and ipotecarie, for whi the doing of God, which is principal leech, is nedeful herto.

Live here. c. † dispise not thi silf in thi goostly syknesse; in dispisinge to seke remedy, as summen dispisen. preyre thou the Lord; deuoutly. schal heele thee; with oynement of grace. dresse hondis; that is, thi werkis to God. clense thyn herte; bi veri and cleene contricioun.

Ȝyue thou place to a leche; in onouringe the prest preyinge for thee. the Lord made him; that is, auunside him to the office of presthood. departe he not fro thee; that is, fro thyn herte, for thou owist euere for to loue and worschipe him. hise werkis, etc.; that is, to offre sacrifices, and to preyre for the synnes of the puple. thou schalt falle in to the hondis of hem; for whi present liyf is not passid with out synnes.

Live here. c. ‡ be thou coumfortid for sorewe; that is, lest ouer greet sorewe anoye thee.

^b Om. A. ⁱ onementis A. oynementis G sec. m. ^k Ȝif thou AGH. ^l Om. c pr. m.

^x oynementis I. ^y Om. A pr. m.

19 for bacbiting. Of^m sorewi slouthe forsothe heezeth deth, and couereth vertue; and sorewi slouthe of herte boowith the 20 nol. In ledyng awei dwellith stille sorewy slouthe; and the substaunce of the 21 helpeles aftir the herte of hym. Ne 3yue thou thin herte in sorewy slouthe, but putte it awei fro thee; and haue mynde of the laste thingus, and wile thou not 22 for3eten. Ne forsothe ther is conuersacioun, and to this thou schalt no thing profiten; and thi self thou shalt werst 23 treten. Myndeful be thou of my dom; so forsothe it shal ben and thin, to me 24 3istayⁿ, and to thee to day. In the reste of the deade mac to resten the mynde of hym; and counforte hym in the goyng 25 out of his spirit. Wisdom wrijt in tyme of voydenesse; and who is lassid in deede, wisdom shal parceyue; for with wisdom 26 he shal be fulfild. Who holdeth the plo3, and who glorieth in the spere, with the pricke stereth the oxen, and woneth in the werkis of hem; and the telling of 27 hym in the sonus of booles. His herte he shal 3yue 'to ben turned the forewis^o; and the wach of it in the fatnesse of kyn.
28 So eche smythe, and cheef werkere, the whyche the ny3t as the^p day ouerdoth; the whyche grauede grauen broochis, and the bysynesse of hym varieth^q the peynture; his herte he shal 3yue into the licnesse of peynture, and his waking par-29 formeth the werk. So the iren smyth sittende beside the stithie, and biholdende the werk of the iren, the humour of the fyr brenneth his flesh; and in the hete of the furneys he trauailith with stryif.
30 The vois of hamer^r ennewith^s his ere; and a3en the licnesse of the vessel the 31 e3e of hym. His herte he shal 3yue in to the ful ending of the werkis; and his waking shal enourne the inparfitnesse.
32 So the crockere sittende at his werk, turnende with his feet the whel, the his merit o dai, ether tweyne, for bacbityng. For whi deth hastith of sorewe, 19 and hilith vertu; and^y the sorewe of herte bowith the heed. Sorewe dwellith in 20 ledyng awei; and the catel of a nedī man* is aftir his herte. 3yue thou not thin 21 herte in sorewe, but put it awei fro thee;

and haue thou mynde on the laste thingis, and nyle thou for3ete. For whi no turn- 22 ing is^z, and thou schalt no thing profite to this deed man; and thou schalt harme^a worste thi silf. Be thou myndeful of mi 23 dom; for also thin schal be thus, to me 3istirdai, and to thee to dai. In the reste 24 of a deed man make thou hys mynde to haue reste; and counforte thou hym in the goyng out of his spirit. Write thou 25 wisdom† in the tyme of voidenesse; and he that is made lesse in dede, schal per-seyue wisdom; for he schal be fillid of wisdom. He that holdith the plow, and 26 he that hath glorie in a gohode, dryueth oxis with a pricke, and he lyueth in the werkis of tho; and his tellyng is in the sones of bolis. He schal 3yue his herte 27 to turne forewis; and his wakyng schal be aboute the fatnesse of kien. So ech 28 carpenter, and principal werk man, that passith the ny3t as the dai; that graueth ymagis grauun, and the bisynesse of hym dyuersith the peynture; he schal 3yue his herte to the licnesse of peynture, and bi his wakyng he perfourmeth the werk.
So a smyth sittynge bisidis the anefelt, 29 and biholdynge the werk of yrun, the heete of fier brenneth hise fleischis; and he stryueth in the heete of the furneis.
The vois of a hamer makith newe his 30 eere; and his i3e is a3ens the licnesse of a vessel. He schal 3yue his herte in to 31 the^b perfourmyng of werkis; and bi his wakyng he schal ourne vnperfeccioun†.
So a potter sittynge at his werk, turnynge 32 a wheel with hise feet, which is put euere in bisynesse for his werk; and al his hilith vertu;

that is,
straughtly the
vertu of kynde.
in ledyng awey;
fro good. Sorewe anoyeth bodi
and soule, and bringith sum-
tyme to dispeir
and othere yuels. no turn-
yng is; that is,
fro deth to present liyf.
Live here. c.
* the catel of a
nedi man, etc.;
for if he hath a ioyeful herte
and manli, he is seid riche;
and a riche
man siyk, that is, sori, is seid pore. 3yue thou
not thyn herte
in ouermyche sorewe; for a deed man. haue thou mynde on the laste thingis;
that is, of thi
deth, and of alle othere men, fro
which no man turneth a3en to present liyf.
profite no thing
to this deed
man; that is,
bi thi turment
thou schalt not clepe a3en that deed man. of my dom; that is, of my deeth.
thyn schal be thus; as if he seide, haste
thou to worche good, while thou lyuest, for thou schalt not more aftir deeth. Live
here. c.
† Writes thou wisdom; that is,
bokis conteyn-
ynge wisdom.
of voidnesse;
that is, in the tyme, in which thou art voide
of othere werkis
of nede; ether
of voidnesse;
that is, of po-
uert, ether
whanne thou art fastinge of mete and drynk. Live
here. c.
‡ ourne vnper-feccioun; that is, mater which he bringith to perfeccioun of forme. Live
here. c.

^m Bi E pr. m. ⁿ 3isterdai ceteri passim. ^o to the plowis to ben turned c pr. m. E pr. m. P Om.
c pr. m. ^q varieth, or makith dyuerse AE sec. m. GH. ^r the hamer AGH. ^s euen with H.

^y Om. c. ^z is fro deeth to this present liyf v. ^a c super ras. trete ΕΗΡΥΥΥ. ^b Om. c.

whiche in besynesse is put euermor for his werk; and with oute noubre is al 33 the werking of hym. In his arm he shal foormen the cley; and bifoorn his feet he 34 shal crooken his vertue. His herte he shal 3yue, that he ful ende the daubing; and his waking shal clense the furneys.
35 Alle these in ther hondis hopeden; and 36 echon^t in ther 'craft is^u wys. Withoute 37 alle these 'is not bild^v vp the cyte. And thei shul not wonen in, ne gon in; and in to the chirche thei shul not ouerlepen.
38 Vpon the sete of the domys man thei shul not sitte; and the testament of dom thei shul not vnderstonde, ne maken opene disciplyne, and dom; and in para-39 blis thei shul not ben founde. But the creature of spirituel tyme thei shul con-fermen, and the lowe prezing of hem in werking of craft; leeuende to ther soule, and togidere sechende in the lawe of the hejeste.

CAP. XXXIX.

1 The wisdom of alle olde men the wise man shal ful out sechen; and in profetes^w 2 he shal take heed. The telling of the nemned men he shal kepen; and in to the sleiztes of parables togidere he shal entre.
3 The hid thingus of prouerbis he shal sechen out; and in the hid thingus of 4 parables he shal dwelle. In the myddel of grete men he shal mynystre; and in the sijt of the chef domes man he shal 5 apere. In to the lond of alien folkys he shal passe; goodus forsothe and euelis in 6 alle thingus he shal asa3e. His herte he shal take to wake the morutid to the Lord that made hym; and in the sijt of 7 the hejeste he shal louli prezen. He shal opene his mouth in orisoun; and for 8 his giltus he shal louli pre3e. If forsothe stondith not. in profetis; in biholdinge her seiyngis. shal kepe; in holdinge in mynde. the telling of named men; in sciences and vertues. entre togidere; to vnderstonde with hem that brouzten forth tho parablis. the harde sentensis of parablis; that is, priui and dyuerse sentences of tho. the priuy thingis of prouerbis; that is, goostly vnderstondyngis and hid. in the hid thingis of parablis; that is, figuratif vnderstondyngis. Live here. c.

^t Om. H. phetis AGH.

^u craftis H.

^v shal not ben bild c pr. m. E pr. m. is not bildede E sec. m.

^w the pro-

worchyng is vnroumbrable. In his arm 33 he schal fourme clei; and bifore hise feet he schal bowe his vertu*. He schal 34 3yue his herte to ende perfitli sum^c thing; and bi his wakyng he schal clense the furneis. Alle these men hopiden in her 35 hondis; and ech man is wijs in his craft.
A citee is not bildid with outen alle these 36 men. And thei schulen not dwelle, ne- 37 ther go[†]; and thei schulen not skippe ouer in to the chirche. Thei schulen not sitte 38 on the seete of a iuge; and thei schulen not vndirstonde the testament of^d doom[‡], nether thei schulen make opyn techyng and doom; and thei schulen not be foundun in parablis. But thei schulen 39 conferme the creature of the world[§], and her preyer is in the worching of craft; and thei 3yuen her soule, and thei axen togidere in the lawe of the hijeste.

CAP. XXXIX.

A wijs man schal seke out the wisdom 1
of alle elde men^{||}; and he schal 3yue tent in profetis. He schal kepe the tellyng of 2 named men; and he schal entre togidere in to the hard sentensis of parablis. He 3 schal seke out the pryuy thingis of prouerbis; and he schal be conuersaunt in the hid thingis of parablis. He schal my- 4 nystre in the myddis of grete men; and he^e schal appere in the sijt of the cheef iuge. He schal passe in to the lond of 5 alien folkis; for he schal asaie goodis, and yuels in alle thingis. He^f schal 3yue his 6 herte to wake eerli to the Lord that made hym; and he schal biseche in the sijt of the hijeste. He schal opene his mouth 7 in preier; and he schal biseche for hise trespassis. For if the grete Lord wole, 8

* bowe his ver-tu; that is,
howe him sill
strongly to stire the wheel.
hopiden in her
hondis; that is,
to gete liyfode
and clothing,
bi the werkis
of her hondis.
Live here. c.
† they schulen
not dwelle, nether go; that is, the forseid crafti men
schulen not dwelle among princes and counsellours of the citee, nether schulen go to her counsels
among hem.
and thei schu-
len not skippe ouer in to the chirche; that is, the cleping togidere of wise men; for thei ben not able thereto. *Live
here. c.*
‡ testament of
doom; that is,
diffynitif sentence. *Live
here. c.*
§ thei schulen conferme the creature of the world; that is,
the age of man,
which is kept
bi the werkis
of the forseid craftis, that ben nedeful to the keeping of mannus liyf.
they 3yuen her soule; to the cure of prestis.
axen togidere,
etc.; for thei axen of hem of the maner of her helthe, wherof it is opyn, that prestis owen to be onourid of
alle the forseid
men. *Live
here. c.*

|| seke out the wisdom of alle elde men; in heringe diligently her sei-yngis, and enqueringe of othere men tho
that he vndur-

^c Om. v. ^d of a c. ^e Om. E. ^f And he c.

the grete Lord wile^x, with the spirit of 9 vnderstandyng he shal fulfille hym. And he, as reynes^y, shal sende the speches of his wisdom; and in orisoun he shal knou-10 leche to the Lord. And he shal riȝt reule the counseil 'of hym^z, and dyscyplyne; and in his hid thingus shal^a coun-11 seilen^b. He open shal make the disci-plyne of his lore; and in the lawe of the testament of the Lord he shal glorien.
 12 Manye shal preise the wisdom of hym; and vnto the world he shal not be don 13 away. The memorie of hym shal not go awei; and the name of hym shal be soȝt 14 fro ieneracioun in to ieneracioun. His wisdom folkis of kynde shul telle out;
 and his preising the chirche shal shewen 15 out. If his name schal^c abijde stille, he shal leue more^d than a thousand; and if he shul resten, it shal profiten to hym.
 16 Ȝit I shal counseilen that I telle out, as 17 with wodnesse forsothe I am fulfid; and in voys he seith, Al aboute hereth me, ȝee Goddus frutes, and as roses plauntid vpon ryueres of watris, maketh frutes.
 18 As Liban, smel of swotenesse haue ȝee.
 19 Floureth floures, as lilie; ȝyueth smel, and brauncheth in to grace. And preisith togidere the song dite; and blisseth the 20 Lord in his werkis. Ȝyueth to his name gret doying, and knoulecheth to hym in the vois of ȝoure lippis, in song dites of lippis, and in harpis; and thus ȝee shuln 21 seyn in knoulechying, The werkis of the 22 Lord, alle thei ben ful goode. In the wrd forsothe of hym stood the water as an hep; and in the wrd of the mouth of 23 hym as resceyuyng places of watris. For in the heste of hym a pes makere is mad; and ther is not lassyng in the helthe of 24 hym. The werkes of alle flesh biforn hym; and ther is not any thing hid fro odour of swetnesse; that is, deuocioun. Live here. c.

he schal fille hym with the spirit of vndurstandyng. And he schal sende the 9 wordis of his wisdom, as reynes; and in preier he schal knouleche to the Lord.
 And he^{*} schal dresse his counsel, and 10 techyng; and schal councele in hise hid thingis. He schal make opene the wis- 11 dom of his techyng; and he schal haue glorie in the lawe of the testament of the Lord. Many men schulen preyse his wis- 12 dom; and it schal not be don away til in to the world. His mynde schal not go 13 awei; and his name schal be souȝt fro generacioun in to generacioun. Folkis 14 schulen telle out his wisdom[†]; and the chirche schal telle his preisying. If his 15 name dwellith[‡], he schal leue more than a thousynde; and if he restith, it schal profite to hym. Ȝit Y schal take counsel 16 to telle out, for Y am fillid as with wood-nesse; and myn ynnere spirit seith in 17 vois, Ȝe fruytis of God, here me, and make ȝe fruyt, as roosis plauntide on the ryuers of watris. Haue ȝe odour of swetnesse, 18 as the Liban hath. Bringeth forth flouris, 19 as a lilee; ȝyue ȝe odour, and make ȝe boowis in to grace. And preise ȝe togidere a song; and blesse ȝe the Lord in hise werkis. Ȝyue ȝe greet onour to his name, 20 and knouleche ȝe to him in the vois of ȝoure lippis, in songis of lippis, and in harpis; and thus ȝe schulen seie in knouleching, Alle the werkis of the Lord ben 21 ful goode. Forsothe watir as an heepe 22 of stoonyis § stood at his word; and as resettis of watris in the word of his mouth. For whi pesiblenesse is maad in 23 his comaundement; and no defaute is in the heelte of hym ¶. The werkis of ech 24 fleisch ben bifore hym; and no thing is hid fro hise iȝen. He biholdith fro the 25 world til in to the world; and no thing is

* And he; that is, the Lord. councele; in schewing to him ful clerely derk thingis. Live here. c.

† wisdom; herd of hem bi prechingis. the chirche; that is, congregacioun of iust men. restith; that is, is bifor takun with deth. profite to him; for he schal passe sunnere to the glorie of paradijs. Live here. c.

‡ If his name dwellith, etc.; that is, if he lyueth long, he schal leue more than a thousynde discipulis wel tauȝt, that moun teche afir hym. take counsel; that is, Y schal bi-thenke. to telle out; profitable thingis to contemplacioun.

as with woodnesse; that is, feruent wille to speke that may not be withholdun, in xx. chapter of Jeremye, The word of the Lord in my herte was maad as fier brennyng; and in iiii. c. of Dedis, We moun not speke tho thingis that we sien and herden. and myn ynnere spirit; bi whos vertu the outermere voys is formed. seith in vois; outward. Ȝe fruytis of God; that is, disciplis willinge to make fruyt to God, bi werkis of contemplatif liyf. as a rose; which is fair and cleene; for contemplatif liyf is fairere and clenere than actif liyf.

maad bi him.

¶ no defaute is in the heelte of him; that is, in anyng

^x schal wile AE sec. m. GH.

^y wederes c pr. m. E pr. m.

^z Om. AGH.

^a Om. c pr. m.

^b be conseiled G sec. m.

^c Om. c pr. m.

^d mo c pr. m.

§ in a wal c marg. v marg.

25 his eȝen. Fro the world vnto the world he biholdith; and no thing is merueilous 26 in the siȝt of hym. Ther is not to sey, What is this, or, What is that? forsothe alle thingus in ther tyme shul be soȝt.
 27 The blissing of hym as a flod shal flowe; 28 and as the vnyuersel flod drunkede^e the erthe, so the wrathe of hym shal eritagen 29 Jentyles, that soȝten hym not out. What manere he turnede watris in to droȝte, and the erthe is dried, and the weies of it to the weies of them ben forth^f strait; so to synneres offenciouns in the wrathe of 30 hym. Goodis to goode men ben foormed fro the bigynnyng; so to most wicke 31 men goodis and eueles. The bygynnyng of necessarie thing to the lif of men, water, fyr, iren, and salt, and mylc, and bred of tried flour, and hony, and clustre 32 of grape, and oile, and clothing. Alle these to hoely men in to goodus; so and to vnпитыous men and to synneres in to 33 eueles thei shul ben als turned. Ther ben spirites that to veniaunce ben formed; and in ther wodnesse thei conferm-34 eden ther tormentes. And in tyme of ful endyng thei shul heelden out vertue; and the wodnesse of hym that made 35 them thei shul shende. Fyr, hail, hungir, and deth; alle these to veniaunce 36 ben foormed; teeth of bestes, and scorpiouns, and serpentis, and two bitende swerd veniende in to outlawyng vnпиты-37 ous men. In the hestes of hym thei shul plenteuously eten, and vpon erthe^h in nede thei shul be greithidⁱ; and in^k ther tymes thei shul not passe biside a 38 wrd. Therefore fro the bygynnyng I am confermede; and I counselede, and thoȝte, 39 and scrites^l lafte. Alle the werkes of the Lord good; and ech werk in his hour 40 shal vndermynestren. Ther is not to wondurful in his siȝt. It is not to seie, 26 What is this thing, ether, What is that thing? for whi alle thingis schulen be souȝt in her tyme. The blessing of hym 27 schal flowe as a flood; and as the grete 28 flood fillide greteli the erthe, so his yre schal enherite in folkis, that souȝten not hym. As he turnede watris in to dry- 29 nessis, and the erthe was dried, and hise weies^{*} weren dressid to the weies of hem; so offenciouns in his ire ben dressid to synneris. Goode thingis weren maad at 30 the bigynnyng to goode men; so goode thingis and yuele ben maad to worste men. The bigynnyng of nedeful thing to 31 the lijf of men, watir, fier, and yrun, and salt, and mylk, and breed of cleene flour of whete, and hony, and a clustre of grape, and oile, and cloth. Alle these 32 thingis schulen turne to hooli men in to goodis; so and to vnfeithful men and^h synneris in to yuels. Spiritis ben that ben 33 maad to veniaunce[†]; and in her wood-nesse thei confermyden her turmentis.

 And in the tyme of endyng thei schulen 34 schede out vertu; and thei schulen con-founde[‡] the strong veniaunce of hym that made hem. Fier, hail, hungur, and deth; 35 alle these thingis ben maad to veniaunce; the teeth of beestis, and scoriouns, and 36 serpentis, and a swerd punyschyng wick-id men in to destriyng. In the comaunde- 37 mentis of hym tho schulen ete[§], and tho schulen be maad redi on the erthe in nede; and in her tymes tho schulen not passe oⁱ word. Therfor fro the bigynnyng Y was 38 confermed; and Y counselide, and thoȝte, and lefte writun. Alle the werkis of the 39 Lord ben goode; and ech werk schal serue in his our. It is not to seie, This is worse 40 than that; for whi alle thingis schulen be preued in her tyme. And now in al 41

it is not to seie, it spedith not to
 axe, what is this,
 etc.; that is,
 wherto is this thing worth, ether that thing. Live
here. c.

* hise weies;
 that is, weies
 maad of him.
 offenciouns;
 for the watris runnen to Egipcians, and drenchiden
 hem. Live
here. c.

† ben maad to veniaunce; that is, assignyd bi the ordre of Goddis rytful-nesse to suffre peyne, and to turmente syn-
 neris, that thei
 that weren wilfully suȝet to
 fendis in syne, ben suȝet vn-
 wilfully to hem in peyne. in her woodnesse;

 bi which they rebelliden agen-
 us God. con-

fermeden her turmentis; for
 as her synne is vncurable, so and her turment is with-outen ende.
schede out ver-tu; to turmente
 dampned men,
 that schulen be cast down with hem in to helle.
Live here. c.

‡ confounde;
 that is, do bi worst wille.

Live here. c.
 § tho schulen
ete; that is,
 deuoure wickid
 men, in tur-
 menting hem.
in her tymes;

dispid of God.
a word; aboute
 the turment of dampnyd men.

fro bigynnyng
Y was conferm-
ed; that is, from the tyme in which Y vndurstood that the punysching of synneris schal
 be most fers,
 Y purposide

stidefastly to eschewe synnes, as myche as Y may. It is not to seie; in Goddis werkis, for whi no thing is yuel, in as myche as it is maad of God.
Live here. c.

^e drunkede, or fulfild c sec. m. marg. E sec. m. marg. GH. fulfillide A. ^f out AGH. ^g Om. A. ^h the erthe AE GH. ⁱ greithid, or maad redi AEGH. ^k in to A. ^l writen EG sec. m.

^h and to I. ⁱ a ceteri.

seyne, this than^m that is werseⁿ; forsothe alle thingus in ther tyme shul be proued.

41 And now in alle herte and mouth preys-eth togidere, and blisseth the name of the Lord.

CAP. XL.

1 Gret ocupacioun is shape to alle men, and a greuouse 30c vp on the sonus of Adam, fro the day of the goyng out fro the wombe of the moder of hem, vn to the day of the biring in to the moder
2 of alle thingus. The tho3tis of hem, and the dredes of herte, the fyndyngus of abidyng, and the dazes^o of endyng^p;
3 fro^r the cheef sitters^s 'vp on^t the glorious sete, vn to the meekid vn to the^u 4 erthe and asken^v; fro hym that vseth blu silc, and berth the^w croune, vn to hym that is couered^x with raw linnen, wodnesse, enuye, noyse, waging, and dred of deth, wrahtefulnesse stedefastly 5 bidende, and striuyng; and in tyme of repast in the bed, slep of ny3t chaungeth 6 his kunnyng. Lital forsothe as no3t in reste; and of hym in slepes as in the 7 day respit. He ys disturbid in the sijte of his herte, as he that is scapid in the dai of bataile. In the tyme of his helthe he ros out, and wndrende at no drede, 8 with alle flesh, fro man vn to beste, and 9 vp on the synneres seuenefold. To these thingus, deth^{xx}, blod, strif, and two bitende swerd, oppressiouns^y, hungres, and to-10 treding, and scourges; vp on wickid men ben formed alle these thingus, and for 11 hem was mad the ieneral flod. Alle thingus forsothe that of the erthe ben, in to erthe^z shul ben turned; and alle wa-12 tris in to the se shuln be turned. Alle 3ifte and wickidnesse^a shal ben don away; 13 and feith in to world shal stonde. The substaunces of vnri3twis men as a flod the herte and mouth preise 3e togidere, and blesse 3e the name of the Lord.

CAP. XL.

Greet ocupacioun is maad to alle men,¹ and an heuy 30k on^j the sonus of Adam, fro the dai of the goyng out of the wombe of her modir, til in to the dai of biring in to the modir^{*} of alle men. The² thou3tis of hem, and the dredis of herte, fyndyngis of abidyng, and the dai of endyng; fro hym that sittith bifore on a glo-³ rouse seete, 'til to^k a man maad lowe in to erthe^l and aische; fro hym that vsith⁴ iacynt, and berith a coroun, 'til to^m hym that is hilid with raw lynnun cloth, wodnesse, enuye, noise, doutyng, and drede of deth, wrathfulnesse dwellynge contynueli, and striff; and in theⁿ tyme of restyng in⁵ the bed, the sleep of ny3t chaungith his kunnyng. Forsothe a lital is as nou3t in⁶ reste; biholdyng is of hym[†] in sleep as in the dai. He is disturblid in the sijt of⁷ his herte, as he that ascapith in the dai of batel. He roos vp in the dai of his^o helthe, and dredyng not at ony drede, with al fleisch, fro man 'til to^p beeste, and⁸ seuenefold[‡] shal come on synneris. At⁹ these thingis, deth, blood, struyng, and swerd, oppressyngis, hungur, and sorewe, and beetyngis; alle these thingis ben¹⁰ maad on wickid men, and the greet flood was maad for hem. For whi alle thingis¹¹ that ben of the erthe, schulen turne in to the erthe; and alle watris schulen turne in to the see. Al 3ifte[§] and wickidnesse¹² schal be don awey; and feith schal stonde in to the world. The richessis of vniust¹³ men schulen be maad drie as a flood; and schulen sowne as a greet thundur in reyn.

* in to the modir, etc.; that is, in to erthe, to which thei turnen agen in angwisch and nakidnesse. fyndyngis of abiding, etc.; that is, feynyngis of more yuels of tyme to comyng, than schulen come, and the day of deth turmenten men. Live here. c. † biholding is of him, etc.; for whi dremes ben maad to him of these thingis, whiche [he] sij in the day. of his helthe; that is, of his prosperite. at ony drede; that is, at ony ferdful thing, be it man, be it beeste. Live here. c. ‡ and seuenefold, schal come on synneris; that is, greuouse punysching schal come on synneris, obstynat bi pride. at these thingis; that is, for thingis bifor seid. deth; violent. Live here. c. § Al 3ifte; 3ounn for distriyng of ri3tfulnesse, and wickidnesse doon for 3ifte. schal be doon awey; that is, the 3yueris of 3iftis, and the distriis of ri3tfulnesse for 3iftis, schulen be doon awey fro present liyf, so that no thing schal appere of her possesiouns and boost, as no thing apperith in tablis doon awey, and feith; that is, feithfulnesse of iust men. schal stonde; in his effect. as a flood; a flood is takun here for a stronde, that wexith greet sudeynly bi watris of snow, and soone is maad drie, so the richessis of vniust men be getun swiftly, and ben takun away from hem ofte swiftly. as greet thundur in reyn; that ceesith soone bi the reyn, so the boost of yuele riche men is takun away soone of princes, bi a lital occasioun. Live here. c.

^m or E pr. m. ⁿ wickider AEGH. ^o day A. ^p the berende c pr. m. the beringe E pr. m. ^r offis of CE pr. m. ^s iuge E pr. m. ^t vp H. ^u Om. AE sec. m. ^v asshen A. ^w Om. AEGH. ^x crownyd E pr. m. ^{xx} Om. c pr. m. ^y oppressioun AGH. ^z the erthe AGH. ^a wickenesse E.

^j to c. ^k vnto I. ^l the erthe c. ^m vnto I. ⁿ Om. I. ^o Om. v. ^p vnto I.

shul ben dried; and as gret^b thunder in 14 reyn thei shul sowne ful. As the riȝtwis man in openyng his hondis shal gladen; so the lawe brekeres in the ende shuln 15 wanen^c away. The sonus sonus of vnpit-ous men shul nott multeplie braunches; and vnclene rootes vp on the cop of the 16 ston sounen. Vp on eche water grenenesse; and at the hour of the flod biforn 17 al the hey^d it shal be pullid vp. Grace as paradis in blissingus; and mercy in to 18 the world abit^e stille. The lif of the suffisaunt werkere to hymself shal be mad swete; and in it thou shalt fynde tresor.
 19 The bilding vp of the cite shal confermen the name; and ouer this an vndefoulid 20 womman shal be countid. Wyn and melodye gladen the herte; and ouer 21 either the loonyng of wisdam. Trumpes and sautre maken swete melody; and 22 ouer eithir the swete tunge. Grace and fairnesse^{ee} the eȝe shal desyren; and ouer 23 these grene tilthis. A frend and a mete felawe in tyme comende^f togidere; and ouer either a womman with a man.
 24 Brethern in to help in tyme of tribula-cioun; and ouer them mercy shal dely-25 ueren. Gold and siluer, and setting of feet; and ouer either^g counseil wel 26 plesid. Facultes and vertues enhauncen the herte; and ouer these the drede of 27 the Lord. Ther is not in the drede of the Lord lassing; and ther is not in it 28 to seche helpe. The drede of the Lord as paradis of blessing; and ouer alle 29 glorie thei couereden it. Sone, in the tyme of thi lif ne nede thou; betere is 30 to dyen, than to neden. A man bihold-ende in to an other mannes bord, the lif of hym is nott in the thenking of liflode; forsothe he nursheth his lif with other 31 mennus metes. A man forsothe disci-

An vniust man schal be glad in openyng¹⁴ hise hondis; so trespassouris schulen faile in the ende. The sones of sones of wick-¹⁵ id men schulen not multiplie braunchis; and vnclene rootis* sownen on the cop of a stoon. Grenenese bisidis ech watir;¹⁶ and at the brynk of the flood it schal be drawun out bi the roote bifor al hey.
 Grace as paradiss in blessingis; and¹⁷ merci dwellith in to the world. The lijf¹⁸ of a werk man sufficient to hym silf schal be maad swete; and thou schalt fynde tresour ther ynne. Bildyng of a citee¹⁹ schal conferme a name; and a womman with out wem schal be rikenyd aboute this†. Wyn and musik maken glad the²⁰ herte; and loue of wisdom gladith^q aboute euer either. Pipis and sawtree maken²¹ swete melodie; and a swete tunge aboute euer either. An yȝe schal desire grace²² and fairnesse; and greene sowyngis aboute these thingis. A frend and felowe com-²³ ynge togidere in tyme‡; and a womman with man^r aboute euer either. Britheren²⁴ in to help in the tyme of tribulacioun 'counforten myche^s; and merci schal delyuere more than thei. Gold and siluer,²⁵ and setting of feet; and counsel wel plesing is aboute euer either. Richessis and²⁶ vertues enhaunsen the herte; and the drede of the Lord more than this. Making²⁷ lesse is not in the drede of the Lord; and in that drede it is not to seke help. The²⁸ drede of the Lord is as paradys of blessyng; and 'the blessingis of God^u kyueriden hym aboute al glorie. Sone, in the²⁹ tyme of thi lijf § be thou not nedi; for it is betere to die, than to be nedi. A man³⁰ biholdinge in to another mannus boord, his lijf is not in the thouȝt of lijflode; for he susteyneth his lijf with othere mennus metis. Forsothe a chastisid man and³¹

* vnclene rootis, etc.; that is, the fadris
 and modris of hem fallen doun soone, as a tre
 that hath no deep root, for roochis of stoon.

† Live here. c.
 † about this;
 for whi hir
 stidefastnesse
 schal stonde
 withouten ende.
 ‡ swete tunge; of a ‡ prechour, ether
 of a techere of feith and ver-tues. Live
here. c.

§ comynge togide
 § in tyme;
 ben delitable
 togidere. a man
 with a womman, etc.; that is, ben
 more delitable
 whanne thei
 acorden in goodnesse, for thei ben o fleisch, and schulen not be departid bi al
 her lijf. setting
 of feet; that is,
 helthe of bodi ben acceptable
 to men. and vertues; that is, strengthe of bodi. Making
 lesse; that is,
 defaute of good.
 help; of man,
 for he that dredith God,
 hath present
 Goddis help.
Live here. c.

§ Sone, in the § tyme of thi lijf;
 that is, in tyme
 of present lijf, grauntid to thee
 to worche wel.
 ¶ be thou not ¶ nedy; that is,
 be thou not
 idil, for whi
 bothe goostly nedinesse and temporal sueth
 to idilnesse. it
 is betere to die;
 bodily. than to be nedy; that is, to be idil, bi which a man
 dieth goostly.
 In xxxij. c.
 ifore, idilnesse
 hath tauȝt
 myche malice;
 and sum tyme

for idilnesse a man dieth bodily, for ofte for idilnesse a man is turned to thefte, for which he is hangid. biholdinge in to another mannus boord; as ben mynstrels and stronge beggeris, idil of goode werkis. in the thouȝt of lijflode; that is, he thenkith not to do any thing, wherof he owith to lyue resonably. Live here. c.

^b a gret AGH. ^c wanyen EGH. ^d heiz E pr. m. ^e abideth AEGH. ^{ee} hope E. ^f of cummyng AGH ^g these E pr. m.

^q Om. I. ^r a man v. ^s Om. I. ^t Om. I. ^u Om. v.

32plyned and tazt, shal kepe hymself. In the mouth of the vnprudent shal be maad^h myseiseⁱ; and in the wombe of hym fyr shal brenne.

CAP. XLI.

1 O! deth, hou bitter is thi mynde to an vnri3twis man, and hauende pes in 2 his substaunces; to^k a quyete man, and whos weies ben ri3t strazt in alle thingus, 3 and 3it my3ti to taken mete. O! deth, good is thi dom to a man nedy, and that 4 is lassid in strengthe, failende^l thur3 age, and to whom of alle thingus is cure, and to the^m vnbeleueful, that leeseth wisdam. 5 Wile thou not dreden the dom of deth; haue mynde what biforn thee weren, and what vp on ben to come to thee; this 6 dom fro the Lord to alle flesh. And that shuln ouercomen to thee in the wel plesid thing of the he3est; whether ten, or an hundred, or a thousand 3erⁿ. 7 Forsothe ther is not in helle acusing of 8 lif. The sonus of abhominaciouns ben mad the sonus of synneres; and that women biside the housis of vnpitous men. 9 The eritage of the sonus of synneres shal pershen; and with the sed of hem the 10 besynesse of repref. Of the vnpitouse fader pleyne^o, 'or weilen^{oo}, sonus^p, for^q for hym 11 thei ben in repref. Wo to 3ou, vnpitous men, that han forsaken the lawe of the 12 he3est Lord. And if 3ee shul ben born, in cursing 3ee shul ben born; and if 3ee shul 13 dien, in cursing shal be 3oure part. Alle thingus that of the erthe ben, in to erthe shul ben turned; so vnpitouse men fro 14 cursing in to perdicioun. The weylyng of men in the body of hem; the name forsothe of vnpitous men shal ben don 15 away. Cure haue thou of a good name; that forsothe more shal abide stille with lernd schal kepe him silf. Nedynesse 32* vnprudent man; that is, slow and idil. fier; that is, hungur. Live here. c. † ben dressid; that is, hath prosperite in al temporal thingis. to a nedi man; and iust. care of alle thingis; nedeful to liyf, for to gete tho. Live here. c. ‡ Nyle thou drede the doom of deth; that is, sette thou thee in sich a staat, that the doom of deth be good to thee. what thingis weren bifor thee, etc.; for bi the minde of hooli fadris that 3eden bifore, and of the meedis of iust men, and of peynes of wickid men, that schulen come, a man is disposid to abide sikirly the doom of deth. the sones of abhomynacioun; that is, worthi to be vlatid, for thei ben abhomynable in the sight of God, and of iust men. the sones of synneris; that is, sueris of the fadris synnes, bisidis the housis of wickid men, for they suen the dedis of wickid men. Sones playnen; in helle. thei ben in schenschip for him; that is, ben dampned, for thei weren yuele enformed of him, which he was holdun to teche wel. Live here. c. § noon accusyng, etc.; no man may excuse him there, in alegginge goodnesse of which is of the deucl. in to perdicioun; of helle. of good name; that is, of iust lyuyng. of good liyf; that is, the meritorie liyf of a good man is schort. Live here. c.

CAP. XLI.

Aw! deth, thi mynde is ful bittir to an 1 vniust man, and hauynge pees in hise richessis; to a restful man, and whose 2 weies ben dressid† in alle thingis, and 3it my3ti to take mete. A! deth, thi doom 3 is good to a nedi man, and which is maad lesse in strengthis, and failith for age, and 4 to whom is care of alle thingis, and vnbeleueful, that leesith wisdom. Nyle thou 5 drede the doom of deth‡; haue thou mynde what thingis weren byfore thee, and what thingis schulen come on thee; this dom is of the Lord to ech man. And 6 tho thingis that schulen come on thee in the good plesaunce of the hizeste; whether ten 3eer, ether an hundrid, ether a thousynde. For whi noon accusyng§ of 7 lijf is in helle. The sones of abhomynaciouns ben the sones of synneris; and thei that dwellen bisidis the housis of wickid men. The eritage of the sones of synneris schal perische; and the contynuaunce of schenscipe with the seed of hem. Sones playnen of a wickid fadir; 10 for thei ben in schenschip for hym. Wo 11 to 3ou, 3e wickid men, that han forsake the lawe of the hizeste. And if 3e^x be 12 borun, 3e schulen be borun in cursidnesse; and if 3e ben deed, 3oure part schal be in cursidnesse. Alle thingis that ben of the 13 erthe, schulen turne in to the erthe; so wickid men schulen turne fro cursyng|| in to perdicioun. The morenyng of men 14 is in the bodi of hem; but the name of wickid men schal be doon awei. Haue 15 thou bisynesse of a good name; for whi

lyyf, and seiynge 3enus God, If Y hadde lyued longe, Y hadde do many goodis. Live here. c. || fro cursing; of synne, which is of the deucl. in to perdicioun; of helle. of good name; that is, of iust lyuyng. of good liyf; that is, the meritorie liyf of a good man is schort. Live here. c.

^h to-troden c pr. m. e pr. m. ⁱ sweet myseise e sec. m. GH. ^k and to A. ^l fallynge A GH. ^m Om. A. ⁿ 3eris A EGH. ^o ben sou3t e pr. m. ^{oo} Om. c et e pr. m. ^p the vnpitous sonis A. vnpitous sonis e pr. m. H. ^q Om. H.

w O! Ia. x thei c.

D d 2

thee, than a thousand grete tresores and 16 precious. Of good lif the noumbre of dazes; forsothe good name shal abide stille 17 in to the spirituel world. Disciptyne in pes kepeth, 3ee sonus; hid forsothe wis-dam, and tresor vnseen, what profit in 18 euere either? Betere is a man that hidith hys folie, than a man that hidith his 19 wisdom. 'Ner the latere^r turneth a3een in these thingus that gon out of my mouth.
 20 Forsothe it is not good to waiten aboute, 'or to kepen^s, alle vnreuerence, and not 21 alle thingus in alle plesen in feith. Shame 3ee of the fader, and of the moder, of fornycacioun; and fro the cheef sittere, 22 and of the my3ty, of lesyng; and of the prince, and of the domes man, of^t gilte; of the synagoge, and of the folc, of wick-23 idnesse^u; of felawe, and of frend, of vn-24 ryztwisnesse; and of the place in the whiche thou dweldest, of thefte; of the treuthe of God, and the testament; of sitting down in looues, and of the derknyng of the 3oue thing, and of taken; 25 fro^v men salutende, of stillnesse^w; fro biholdyng^x of a fornycarie womman, and fro the turnyng awei of the chere of the 26 cosyn. Ne turne thou awei face^y fro thi ne3hebore; and fro taking awei part, 27 and not restoring. Bihold thou not a womman of an other man; and ne en-serche thou the hand womman of hym, and^z stonde thou not at the bed of hir.
 28 Bewar of frendus, of wrdus of repref; and whan thou hast 3yue, ne vpbreide thou.

CAP. XLII.

1 Ne double thou the sermoun of heer-ing, of the openyng of the hid wrd; and thou shalt ben verrelly withoute confu-sioun, and thou shalt fynde grace in the sizt of alle men. Ne for alle these thingus be thou confoundid; and ne accepte thou this schal dwelle more with thee, than a thousynde tresouris grete and precieuse.

 The noumbre of daies is the terme of 16 good lijf; but a good name schal dwelle with outen ende. Sones, kepe 3e techyng 17 in pees; for whi wisdom hid, and tresour vnseyn, what profit is in euere either?
 Betere is a man* that hidith his foli, than 18 a man that hidith his wisdom. Nethes 19 turne 3e^y a3en in these thingis that comen forth of my mouth. For it is not good to 20 kepe alle vnreuerence, and not alle thingis plesen alle men in feith. Be 3e ascham- 21 ed of fornycacioun, bifor fadir, and bifor modir; and of a leesyng, bifore a iustice, and bifore a my3ti man; and of trespas, 22 bifor a prince, and bifore a iuge; and of wickidnesse, bifore a synagoge, and a pu-ple; and of vnryztwisesse^y, bifore a felow, 23 and a frend; and of thefte[†], in the place 24 where ynne thou dweldest; of the treuthe and testament^z of God; of^a sitting at the^b mete in looues, and of the blemyschyng of 3ifte, and takyng; of stilnesse, bifore 25 hem that greeten; of the biholdyng of a letcherouse womman, and of the^c turnyng away of the cheer of a cosyn. Turne 26 thou not away the^d face fro thi nei3bore; and be thou war of takyng awei^e a part, and not restorynge. Biholde thou not the 27 womman of an othere man; and enserche thou not her hand maide, nether stonde thou at hir bed. Be thou war of frendis, 28 of the wordis of vpbreidyng; and whanne thou hast 3oue, vpbreide thou not.

CAP. XLII.

Double thou not a word of heryng, of 1 the schewyng of an hid word; and thou schalt be verily with out schame, and thou schalt fynde grace in the sizt of alle men. Be thou not schent for alle these thingis; and take thou not a persooone,

^r Neuerthelater AE GH. ^s Om. c et E pr. m. ^t and of A. ^u wickenesse E. ^v for A. ^w priuyte c pr. m.
E pr. m. ^x reward c pr. m. E pr. m. ^y the face A. ^z ne AGH.

^y Om. A. ^{yy} vnryztfulnesse c et ceteri. ^z the testament s. ^a and of Q. ^b Om. CEFHKNPQRUVX.
^c Om. CEFGHIKMN PQRSUVXa. ^d thy A sec. m. F. ^e Om. v.

* Betere is a man; that is, lesse yuel. alle men in feith; that is, not alle seiynge of a techere, thou3 tho acorden with Cristen feith, plesen alle dissiplis. Lire here. c.

[†] of thefte; to be doon. testamēt; to be brokun. of sitting; that is, of the firste seete at another manns table. blemysching of 3ifte, etc.; that is, whanne it is 3ouun for a foul thing, as for leccherie, ether ony sich thing, ether is takun without kyndenesse, ether for a foul cause. enserche thou not hir handmaide; in sekinge how thou maist disseyue the lady bi hir. c.

2 persone, that thou gilte of the lawe of the heȝest, and of the testament of dom, 3 to iustefien the vnpitouse; of the wrd of felawes, and of weie goeres, and of the 4 ȝyuyng of the^a eritage of frendis; of the euenes of balaunces, and of weiȝtes, of purchasyng of manye thingus, and of 5 fewe; of the corrupcioun^b of biyng^c, and^d of marchaundis, and of myche^e discipline of sonus; and of the werst ser-6 uaunt, to make the side to bleden. Vp on a 7 shrende womman good is a signe. Where ben many hondis, close thou^f; and^g what euere thou shalt take, 'noubre thou, and^h peise; the ȝyuen thing forsothe, and 8 the taken, alⁱ diskryue, 'or wryte^k. Of the discipline of the mysfelende, and of the fool, and of the elderes, thatt ben demed, of the ȝunge waxen men; and thou shalt ben lerned in alle thingus, and prouable 9 in the sijte of alle men. The doȝter of the fader is hid, the wache and the bysynesse of hir shal don away slep; lest par auenture in hir ȝunge waxen age auoutresse she be mad, and with a man dwellende^l, hatefull she^m be mad; 10 lest any tyme she be pollutid in hir maydenhed, and in hir fader keping she be founde with child; lest par auenture with hir man dwellende, she trespasse, 11 or certus bareyn she be mad. Vp on a leccherous doȝtir set warde, lest any tyme she make thee in to repref to comen to thin enemys, of bacbiting in the citee, and of casting away of the puple; and she confounde thee in the multitude 12 of the puple. To alle men wile thou not 'taken heedⁿ in the fairnesse; and in the myddel of wymmen wile thou not dwellen.
13 Forsothe of clothis cometh the moȝhe^o, and of a womman the wickidnesse^p of a 14 man. Betere forsothe is the wickidnesse^p of a man, than a womman doende benethat thou do trespas. Be thou war of the 2 lawe and testament* of the hiȝeste, of doom to iustifie a wickid man; of the word^e of 3 felowis, and of weigoeris, and of the ȝyuyng of eritage of frendis; of the euen-4 nesse of balaunce, and of weiȝtis, of the getyng of many thingis†, and of fewe thingis; of corrupcioun of biyng, and of 5 marchauntis, and of myche chastising of sones; and of a worste seruaunt, to make the^f side to^g bleede. A seelyng^h is good 6 on a wickid manⁱ. Where ben many 7 hondis, close thou; and what euer thing thou schalt bitake, noubre thou, and weie thou; forsothe discryue thou, ether write, ech ȝifte, and takyng. Absteine 8 thou fro the techyng of an vnwitti man, and fool, and of eldere men that ben dem-ed of ȝonge men; and thou schalt be lernd in alle thingis, and thou schalt be comendable in the sijt of alle men. An 9 hid douȝter of a fadir is wakyng and bisynesse of hym; sche schal take awei sleep; lest perauenture sche be maad auowtresse in hir ȝong wexyng age, and lest sche dwellynge with the hosebonde, be maad hateful; lest ony tyme sche be 10 defoulid in hir virginytee, and be foundun with child in the kepyng of hir fadir; leste perauenture sche dwellynge with the hosebonde, do trespasse, ether certis be maad bareyn‡. Ordeyne thou kepyng on 11 a lecherouse douȝter, lest ony tyme sche make thee to come in to schenscipe to enemyes, of bacbityng in the citee, and of castyng out of the puple; and sche make thee aschamed in the multitude of puple.

Nyle thou take heed to ech man in the 12 fairnesse§; and nyle thou dwelle in the myddis of wymmen. For whi a mouȝte 13 cometh forth of clothis, and the wickidnesse of a man cometh forth of a womman. For whi the wickidnesse of a man 14

*and testament;
to be brokun. c.

† getyng of
many thingis;
bi thi rauelyn.
of fewe thingis;
bi thi slouthe.
of myche; that is, ouer hard.
chastising; bi which thei flee
away. to bleede;
that is, to bete
til to greet scheduling out of blood, for this is a signe of ouer greet cru-
elte. of eldere
men; in ver-
tues, be thou hisi that this abusoun be doon away:
Live here. c.

‡ bareyn; for ouer greet vs-
ing of lecherie,
and therfor comyn hooris ben with child-
ful seeldene.
Live here. c.
§ in the fair-nesse; in delit-inge in the bi-holding of his fayrnesse; 'he seith this to eschewe the synne agenus kynde, to which many men
weren enclyn-aunt. Live
here. c.

^a Om. AGH. ^b correccioun E pr. m. ^c biyngis E pr. m. ^d Om. H. ^e to myche E pr. m. ^f Om. GH.
^g Om. AGH. ^h and the ȝiftis E pr. m. ⁱ Om. A. ^k Om. c et E pr. m. ^l Om. A. ^m shal H. ⁿ looken E pr. m. ^o mowe A. mowȝe E. ^p wickenesse E.

^e world omnes præter u. ^f thi EFHIKMQRSUA. ^g Om. ES. ^h seelyng, ether closyng c et ceteri. ⁱ woman A sec. m. C sec. m.

fet, and a womman confoundende in to 15 repref. Myndeful be 'Y shal^a therefore of the werkes of the Lord; and which^r I sa3, I shal shewen out, in the wrdis of 16 the Lord, his werkus. The sunne shyn-ende thur3 alle thingus biheeld; and of the glorie of the Lord ful is his werk^a.
 17 Whether not the Lord made seyntes to tellen out alle his merueiles, the whiche the Lord almy3ty shal confermen stable 18 in his glorie? The depthe of the se, and the herte of men he shal enserchen; and in the 'sly3e wit, or gile^t, of hem he shal 19 out thenke. The Lord forsothe kne3 al kunnyng, and beheeld in to the toene of the spiritueell world; shewende out that ben passid, and that ben ouer^a to come;
 openende the^v steppis of hid thingus.
 20 And ther passeth not biside hym any thenking, and any wrd hidde not it self 21 fro hym. He made faire the grete wrthi werkes of his wisdam, the whiche is bi-form the world, and vnto the world; ne 22 it is echid, ne it is lassid, and it nedeth 23 not the counseil of any man. Hou desirable ben alle the werkes of hym, and 24 as a sparcle that is, to beholden. Alle these thingus lyuen, and dwellen in to the world; and in alle nede alle thyngus 25 obeshen to hym. Alle thingus double, oon a3en oon; and he made not any thing to failen. Of euery thing he shal conferme the goodus; and who shal be fulfild, seende the glorie of hym, and who witende shal conferme the strengthe of hym?

CAP. XLIII.

1 The firmament of the heizte is the fairnesse of hym; and the fairnes of 2 heuene in the sizte of glorie. The sunne in the sizte, shewende out in the issue, a that these werkis of God, thou3 these ben wondrous, ben not but a litil sparcle of Goddis goodnesse and excellence. lyuen and dwellen; for whi alle creaturis lyuen in God, in as myche as tho ben in God bi maner of vnderstanding. alle thingis; that is, elementis. ben double; for the erthe is cold and drie, the water is cold and moist, the eir is hoot and moist, the fier is hoot and drie. Live here. c. || The firmament; that is, heuene of steris; the sunne is fairnesse therof, that is, makith the fairnesse therof. in the sizt of glorie; that is, ful gloriouse and wondrous. Live here. c.

^a thou c pr. m. ^r that c pr. m. ^s werkus c. ^t wittynesse c pr. m. E pr. m. ^u Om. AGH. ^v of the c pr. m.

^m telle of c pr. m. ⁿ thee E. ^o Om. CK. ^p Om. C. ^q leid to, ether encressid c et ceteri. ^r desirable c. ^s Om. c.

is betere* than a womman doynge wel, and a womman schendyng in to schen-schipe. Therfor be thou myndeful of the 15 werkis of the Lord; and Y schal telle^m theⁿ werkis of the Lord, whiche Y si3, in the wordis of the Lord. The sunne 16 liztnynge bihelde by alle thingis; and the werk therof is ful of the^o glorie of the Lord. Whether the Lord made not hooli 17 men to telle out alle hise merueilis, whiche the Lord almy3ti stidfast in his glorie schal conferme? He schal enserche the 18 depthe[†], and the herte of men; and he schal thenke in the felnesse of hem. For 19 the Lord knew al kunnyng, and bihelde in to the signe of the world; tellynge tho thingis that ben passid, and tho thingis that schulen come; schewynge the steppis of hid thingis. And no thou3t passith 20 hym, and no word hidith it silf fro hym.
 He made fair the grete werkis of his^p 21 wisdom, which is bfore the world, and til in to the world; nether any thing is[†] encressid^q, nether is decressid, and he 22 hath no nede to the counsel of ony. Alle 23 hise werkis ben ful desirable^r, and to bi-holde, as a sparcle[§] which is. Alle these 24 thingis lyuen, and dwellen in to the world;
 and alle thingis obeien to hym in al nede.
 Alle thingis ben double, oon a3ens oon; 25 and he made not any thing to faile. He schal conferme the goodis of ech; and^s who schal be fillid, seynge his glorie?

CAP. XLIII.

The firmament|| of hiznesse is the fair-nesse therof; the fairnesse of heuene in the sizt of glorie. The sunne in bihold-2 yng, tellynge in goyng out, is a woundur-

* *the wickidnesse of a man
 is betere, etc.; that is, lesse yuel. than a womman doynge wel; that is, to dwelle togidere, wherfor this is referrid to that that is biforseid,
 nyte thou dwelle
 in the myddis of wymmen; for it is more perel-
 ouse to a man
 to dwelle togidere with a straunge wom-
 man, 3he, a
 good womman,
 than with a wickid man.*

*The sunne liz-nyng bihelde
 bi alle thingis;
 that is, made
 alle thingis to be visible, for the bodies of heuene and of erthe ben liztned
 of the sunne.
 the werk therof
 is ful of the glorie of the Lord; that is,
 the gloriouse
 power of God
 schyneth in the werkis of the sunne, that ben
 to liztne othere.
 bodies, to make newe the erthe with erbis and flouris, and trees with leeuys and fruytis. Live
 here. c.*

[†] *depthe; that is, the deuel.
 in the felnesse
 of hem; that is,
 yuele fraude,
 and wickid
 wille, in draw-inge out good of tho. Live
 here. c.*

[§] *nether any thing is leid to,
 etc.; for whi Goddis wisdom
 may not be de-cressid nether
 encressid, for it is greet with outen mesure.
 Live here. c.*

[§] *as a sparcle;
 that is, it is ful
 goode to biholde*

merueilous vessel, the werk of the he3e.
 3 In the myddai it brenneth out the erthe; and^w in the sizte of his brennyng who shal moun suffre? Kependē the furneys 4 in the werkis of brennyng; thre maner the sunne brennende oute hillis, blast-ende out fyrene bemes, and a3een shyn-ende with his bemes, blendeth the e3en.
 5 Gret^x the Lord, that made it; and in the 6 wrdis of it he heezede the weye. And the moone in alle thingus in his tyme shewende of tyme, and tokne of the spi-7 rituel^f world. Of the moone the signe of the holy^z day; a^a lizt 3yuere that is^b 8 lassid in the ending. The mooneth aftir his name is waxende, merueylously in to 9 the^c ful endyng. A vessel of tentes in 'heize thingis^d, in the firmament of he-10 uene shynende gloriously^e. The fair-nesse of heuene glorie of sterres; the 11 Lord liztnende the world in heiztes. In woordis hoely men shuln stonden at the dom; and thei shul not failen in ther 12 waches. See the bowe, and blisse hym that made it; ful fair it is in his shyn-13 yng. He cumpaside heuene in the circuyt of his glorie; the hondus of the 14 he3e openeden it. Bi his maundement heezede^f the sno3; and he heezeth^g lizt-15 nyngus to senden out of his dom. Therfore opened ben the tresores, and flowen 16 away the litle cloudys as briddes. In his mykilnesse he putte the clodus; and ben 17 to-broke the stones of the hail. In his sizte shul ben stired togidere the^h hillis; and in his wil shal spirenⁱ, or brethen^j, out the 18 south. The vois of his thunder 'schal beten^k the erthe; and the tempest of the 19 north, and the gederyng of wynd. And as a brid puttende down to sitten sprengeth the sno3, and as a locust drenchende 20 the descendingus of it. The fairnesse of the shynyng of it the e3e shal merueilen; ful vessel, the werk of hi3 God. In the3 tyme of myddai it brenneth the erthe; and who schal mow suffre in the sizt of his heete? Kepyng a furneis in the werkis of heete; the sunne brennyng hillis in 4 thre maneris, sendyng out beemys of fier, and schynyng a3en with hise beemys, blyndith izen. The Lord is greet, that 5 made it; and in the wordis of hym^{*} it hastide iourney. And the moone in alle 6 men in his tyme is shewing of tyme, and a^t signe of the world. A signe of the 7 feeste dai is takun of the^u moone; the lizt which is maad lital in the ende. The 8 monethe is encreessyng bi the name therof, wondirfuli in to the ending. A 9 vessel of castels in hi3 thingis, schynyng gloriousli in the firmament of heuene. The 10 fairnesse of heuene is the glorie of sterres; the Lord an hi3 liztneth the world. In 11 the wordis of the hooli tho schulen stonde at the doom; and tho schulen not faile in her wakyngis. Se thou the bouwe[†], and 12 blesse thou hym that made it; it is ful fair in his^v schynyng. It 3ede aboute 13 heuene in the cumpas of his glorie; the hondis of hi3 God openyden it. Bi his 14 comaundement he hastide the snow; and he hastith^w to sende out the leiztyngis of his dom. Therfor tresouris weren opened, 15 and clowdis fledden out as been^x. In his 16 greetnesse he settide clowdis; and stoonys of hail weren brokun. Hillis schulen be 17 moued in his sizt; and the south wynd schal blowe in his wille. The vois of his 18 thundur schal beete the erthe; the tempest of the north, and the gaderyng[‡] togidere of wynd. And as a brid puttyng 19 down to sitte sprengith snow, and the comyng down of that snow is as a locust drenchyng down. The ize schal wondre 20 on the fairnesse^y of whitnesse therof; and an herte dredith on the reyn therof. He 21

* in the wordis
 of him, etc.;
 that is, bi the ordenaunce of God the summe hastide his cours. Live
here. c.

† Se thou the bowe; that is,
 the reynbowe,
 and se the wondrous apper-
 ing therof.
Live here. c.

‡ tempest of the north and the
 gaderyng, etc.;
 is of God, and betith the erthe, and turmentith men dwellyng ther-
 ynne. as a brid
 puttyng down;
 his wyngis
 and drenchyng
 down; that is,
 comyng down
 on greene erbis,
 to deuoure tho.
Live here. c.

^w Om. A. ^x Greet is A. ^y age of the E sec. m. ^z Om. c pr. m. ^a thou hast mad a c pr. m. E pr. m.
^b is not E pr. m. ^c his AGH. ^d heiztus c pr. m. ^e Om. c pr. m. ^f he heezid G. ^g enhaunsith A. heezeth, or enhaunsith E sec. m. GH. ^h Om. c pr. m. ⁱ shyne A. ^j Om. c et E pr. m. ^k beteth c pr. m.

^t Om. v. ^u Om. cv. ^v Om. v. ^w hastide c. ^x bees CEF GHIKMN PQRSUVXa. ^y or colour K marg.

and vp on the weder of hym the herte 21 quaketh^l. Frost as salt he shal heelden out vp on the erthe; and whil he blow-ith^m, he shal be mad as the coppis of 22 the brembil. The cold northerne wind blee³, and the cristal freesede fro the watyr; vp on al the gederyng of watrisⁿ it resteth, and as an habirioun, it^o clothide 23 hymself watris. And it shal deuouren hillis, and brennen out the desert; and 24 quenchen out the greene as fyr. Medecy-cynes^p of alle thingus in the heezyng^q of the litle^r cloude; the^s dew, metende to the comende brennyng, low³^t shal maken it.
 25 In his wrd the wynd heeld his pes; bi his thenking he shal pese^u the se; and 26 the Lord Jhesu plauntide yt. Who seilen the se, shuln tellen out the periles of it; and herende with oure eres wee 27 shuln wndre. There ful cleer werkis, and merueilous, and dyuers kindis of no3ouse bestes, and of alle helpely bestes, 28 and the creature of bestes. For hym is confermed the ende of the wey; and in the wrd of hym alle thingus ben mad 29 togidere. Many thinges we seyn, and failen in wrdis; ful endyng forsothe of 30 wrdis he is. In alle thingus gloriende, to what shul we be my3ty? he forsothe 31 almy3ti^v ouer alle his werkes. Ferful the Lord, and gret hugely; and merueil-32 ous the power of hym. Glorefiende the Lord hou myche euere 3ee schul^w moun, he shal ben ouer wrthi 3it; and ful mer-33 ueilous the gret doying of hym. Blissende the Lord, enhaunce 3ee hym as myche as 3ee moun; more forsothe he is than alle 34 preising. Enhauncende hym 3ee shul^x be fulfid with vertue; ne trauaile 3ee, 35 forsothe 3ee shul not ful comen. Who sa3 hym, and shal tellen out? and who shal magnefien hym, as he is fro the bi-36 gynnyng^z? Many hid thingus ben more schal schede out frost as salt on the erthe; and while the wynd blowith, it schal be maad as coppis of a brere. The coold 22 northun wynd blew, and cristal of watir frees togidre; it restith*, on al the gedering togidere of watris, and it clothith^z it silf with watris, as with an haburioun.

 And it schal deuoure hillis, and it schal 23 brenne the desert; and it schal quenche grene thing as fier. The medicyn of alle 24 thingis is in the haasting of a cloude; a deewe, meetynge the heete comynge of brennyng, schal make it low. The wynd 25 was stille in the word of God; bi his thou3t he made peesible the depthe of watris; and the Lord Jhesu[†] plauntide it.
 Thei that seilen in the see, tellen out the 26 perels therof; and we heeringe with oure eeris schulen wondre. There ben ful cleer 27 werkis, and wonderful, dyuerse kindis of beestis, and of^a alle litle beestis, and the creature of wondurful fischis. The ende 28 of weie is confermyd for it[‡]; and alle thingis ben maad in the word of hym.
 We seien many thingis[§], and we faylen in 29 wordis; forsothe he is the endyng of wordis. To what thing schulen we be 30 my3ti, that han glorie in alle thingis? for he is al my3ti aboue alle hise werkis. The 31 Lord is ferdful, and ful greet; and his power is wondurful. Glorifie 3e the Lord 32 as myche as euere 3e moun, 3it he schal be my3tiere; and his grete doyinge is wondurful. 3e blessynge the Lord, enhaunse 33 hym as myche as 3e moun; for he is more than al preisyng. 3e enhaunsynge hym 34 schulen be fillid with vertu; trauale 3e not^{||}, for 3e schulen not take perfitli. Who 35 si3 hym, and schal telle out? and who schal magnefie hym, as he is fro the bigynnyng? Many thingis gretter than 36 these ben hid fro vs; for we han seyn fewe thingis of hise werkis. Forsothe the 37

* it restith; the coolnesse of the northun wynd makith watris to be frozen togidere. deuoure hillis; that is, erbis wexinge in hillis. quenche; that is, distrie. medicyn of alle thingis; brent bi the northun wynd. is in the haasting of a cloude; brou3t bi the south-urne wynd. make it lowe; that is, schal temper the exces of heete. c. † the Lord Jhesu; that is, God, which is sauour of alle men, for whi Jhesu is interpretid helthe, thou3 the au-[†]tour of this book, that was an Ebrew man, wroot this book in Greek, ne-[†]theles he set-[†]tide in here an Ebreu name. Live here. c. ‡ for it; that is, for the occian, either west see, to be refreynd. Live here. c. § We seyn many thingis; of God bi hise werkis. and failen in wordis; for whi his excel-[§]ence may not be compre-[§]hendid of vs, and so it may not be teld out of vs. he is the ending of wordis; for he aloone compre-[§]hendith him-[§]silf perfitly, and declarith in his Word, that is, Sone, euene in sub-[§]stance, and euene euerlast-[§]inge with him. To what thing, etc.; to atteyne of Goddis ma-[§]ieste. hath glo-[§]rie in alle thingis; which we moun knowe bi creaturis, as if he seye, We moun atteyne to ful litil thing. Live here. c. whi this is vnpossible. c.

|| trauele 3e not; to knowe God perfitly in this liyf; for

^l I shal quake c pr. m. E pr. m. AGH. ^m schal blowe AC sec. m. E sec. m. GH. ⁿ water c. ^o Om. A.
^p Medecynes c pr. m. ^q hastyng AC sec. m. E sec. m. GH. ^r Om. H. ^s Om. AGH. ^t low3, or mylde c sec. m.
^u lowen c pr. m. E pr. m. peese AGH. ^v is almy3ti A. ^w Om. c pr. m. ^x Om. AE sec. m. GH.

^z closeth I. ^a Om. A.

than these; forsothe fewe thingus wee 37 han seen of his werkes. Alle thingus forsothe the Lord made; and to men pitously doende he ȝaf wisdam.

CAP. XLIV.

1 'Preisen we^y glorious men, and oure fadrīs and modrīs in ther generacioun.
2 Myche glorie the Lord dide in his grete 3 doying. Fro the world^z ben men^a lordschipende in^b ther poweres, grete men in vertue, and bi ther^{bb} prudence biforn othere mad riche; tellende in profetes the 4 dignete of profetes, and comaundende in the present puple, and bi vertue of prudence of^c the^{cc} puple, most hoely wrdis.
5 In ther wisdam sechende the^d musyk manerys, and tellende the dytes of scrip-6 tures. Riche men in vertue, hauende the study of fairnesse, pes makende in ther 7 houses. Alle these in the ieneraciouns of their folc han taken glorie; and in ther 8 dazes ben^e had in preisyngus. Who of hem ben born, laften the name of telling 9 the preisyngus of hem. And ther ben, of whom is no mynde; thei persheden as that^f weren not, and ben born as not^g born; and the sonus of hem with hem.
10 But they men of mercy^h ben, of whom 11 theⁱ pitoustees faileden not; and with the seed of hem dwellide stille good eri-12 tage. And the sed of the sonus sonus of 13 hem stod in the testament, and the eri-tage of the sonus of hem for hem, in to with oute ende dwelleth; the sed of hem, and the glorie of hem, shal not be 14 forsaken. The bodies of hem in pes ben biried; and the name of hem shal lyue 15 in to ieneraciouns and ieneraciouns. The wysdam of hem puples shul tellen; and the preising of hem the chirche^k shal 16 shewen^l. Enoc plesede to God, and is translatid in to paradis, that he ȝyue wis-17 dam to folc^m of kynde. Noe is founde a parfit riȝtwis man, and in tyme of wrathe

Lord made alle thingis; and he ȝaf wisdom to men doynge feithfuli.

CAP. XLIV.

Preise we gloriouse men, and oure fadrīs in her generacioun. The Lord made² myche glorie bi his greet doying, fro the world. Grete men in vertu weren^b lordis³ in her poweris, and riche in her prudence; tellynge in profetis the dignete of pro-fetis, and comaundyng in present puple,⁴ and tellynge hoolieste wordis to pupilis, bi the vertu of prudence. Sekyng maneres⁵ of musik in her childhod*, and tellynge songis of scripturis. Riche men in vertu,⁶ hauyng the studie of fairnesse, makynge pees in her housis. Alle these men gaten⁷ glorie in the generaciouns of her folk;
and ben had in preysyngis in her daies.
Thei that weren borun of hem, leften a⁸ name to telle the preisyngis of hem. And⁹ summe ben^c, of whiche is no mynde; thei perischiden as thei that weren not, and thei weren borun as not borun; and her sones perischiden with hem. But also¹⁰ tho men of mercy ben, whose pitees failiden not; and good eritage dwellide con-11 tynueli with the seed of hem. And the¹² seed of her sonus sonus^d stood in testament, and the eritage of her sonus dwell-13 ith for^e hem, til in to with outen ende; the seed of hem, and the glorie of hem, schal not be forsakun. The bodies of hem¹⁴ ben biried in pees; and the name of hem schal lyue in to generaciouns and genera-ciouns. Pupilis tellen the wisdom of hem;¹⁵ and the chirche tellith the preisyng of
hem. Enok pleside God, and was trans-¹⁶ latid† in to paradis, that he ȝyue wisdom to folkis. Noe was foundun parfit and¹⁷ iust, and he was maad recouncelyng in the tyme of wrathfulnesse. Therfor re-¹⁸ sidue seed was left to erthe, whanne the

* in her childhed; bokis amendid han,
in her child-
hed, thouȝ
summe bokis
han, in her kunnyng. c.

† was translatid, etc.; he schal come aȝen fro paradiȝ
aboute the
worldis ende,
with Elie, to preche aȝenus Antecrist. Tes-tamentis; that is, biheestis of the world, to be not doon away
bi the grete
flood. *Live
here.* c.

^y We preisen c pr. m. ^z Lord A. ^a maad A. ^b bi AGH. ^{bb} Om. c pr. m. ^c Om. c pr. m. ^{cc} Om. A.
^d Om. AGH. ^e shul ben E pr. m. ^f thei that A. ^g that not c pr. m. ^h mercyes A. ⁱ Om. AGH.
^k puple c pr. m. ^l shewe out A. ^m the folk A.

^b Om. v. ^c ther ben r. ^d Om. c. ^e bifor c.

18 he is mad recounsylyng. Therefore is laft the remnaunt of theⁿ erthe, whan the 19 flod was do. The testaments of the world ben put anent hym, neⁿ myzte be do awayⁿⁿ 20 with the flod eche flesh. Abraham the grete fader of the multitude of the folc of kinde; and ther is not founde lijc to hym in glorie, that kepte the lawe of the hejest^o, and was in testament with hym.
21 In^p his flesh he made to stonde the testament; and in tempting he is founde 22 feithful. Therefore by oth he 3af to hym glorie in his folc of kinde, to encrese 23 hym as an hilloc of erthe; and to en-hauncen^t the sed of^a hym as the sterres, and to eritagen hym fro the se vn to the se, and fro the flod vnto the termes of 24 the erthe. And to Isaac he dide the same maner, for Abraham, his fader.
25 The blissing of alle folc of kinde the Lord 3af to hym; and his testament he 26 confermede vp on the hed of Jacob. He kne3 hym in his blessingus, and 3af to hym the eritage; and he deuydede to 27 hym part in the twelue lynagis. And he kepte to hym sonus of mercy, findende grace in the sizt of al flesh.

CAP. XLV.

1 Moises looued of God and of men;
2 whos mynde is in blessing. Lic he made hym in the glorie of seyntes, and he magniefiede hym in the drede of enemys; and in his wrdis he cesede hidous won-3 dris. He glorefiede hym in the sizt of kyngus, and he comaundide to hym bi-forn al his puple, and he shewede to hym 4 his glorie. In feith and softenesse of hym he made hym hoely; and he chees 5 hym of alle flesh. Forsothe he herde hym, and the vois of hym; and he ladde 6 hym in a cloude. And he 3aff hym an herte to the hestes, and to the lawe of blessingis. on the heed of Jacob; and not on the heed of Esau, thou3 Isaac wolde first do the contrarie. men of merci; that is, his sones patriarkis, that goten merci of the sillyng of Josep. grace in the sizt of ech man; grace in the sizt of Farao and of Egipcians. Live here. c. † liyk in the glorie, etc.; in seyng Goddis beyng; as Austyn seith to Paulyn, in his book of God to be seyn. In the feith; that is, in feithfulness, for he was ful feithful. chees him; to lede the children of Israel out of Egipt, and to be the lawe yuere of the elde testament. to comaundementis; to fille tho in werk, and to teche tho to othere men. Live here. c.

ⁿ Om. A. ⁿⁿ be do away myzte c. ^o hee3e AEGH. P And in AGH. ^q Om. C pr. m. E. the heuede of H.

^f Om. c sec. m. v. ^g vnto I. ^h ether sende him K marg. ⁱ of v. ^k Om. I.

greet flood was maad. Testamentis of the 19 * noon was world weren set anentis hym, lest al fleisch foundun liyk myzte be doon awei bi the greet flood. him in glorie; Abraham was the greet fadir of the mul- 20 that is, in vertitude of folkis; and noon was foundun tuouse werk, liyk hym in glorie*, which kepte the lawe and this in of hi3 God, and was in the^f testament twey thingis, with hym. He made a testament to stonde 21 for he prechide in his fleisch; and he was foundun feith- first opinli the ful in temptacioun. Therfor God with 22 feith of o God, an ooth 3af to hym glorie in his folk; whanne afir God made hym to encreesse, as an heep the grete flood of erthe, and to enhaunse his seed as 23 puplis bowiden steris, and to enherite hem fro the see to idolatrie; and 'til to^g the see, and fro the flood 'til to^g in this that he the endis of erthe. And to Isaac God dide 24 wolde offre so in the same maner, for Abraham, his fa- redily his oon dir. The Lord 3af to hym the blessing 25 aloone gendrid of alle folkis[†]; and confermyde his testa- sone and derl-ment on the heed of Jacob. He knew 26 ing, for to fille hym in hise blessingis, and 3af eritage Goddis coto hym; and departide to hym a part in maundement. twelue lynagis. And he kepte to hym 27 the lawe of hi3 men of merci, fyndynge grace in the sizt God; that is,
of eche man. the lawe of kynde preent-
id in mannus
soule. a testament, etc.; that is, circumci-
sioun. in temta-cioun; bi which the Lord temtide him, to schewe to
othere men
his obedience.
fro the see, etc.;
these ben the endis of the
lood of biheest,
that is, the myddil see of erthe at the west, and the deed see at the eest; the flood Eufrates at the north, and the desert of Egipt
at the south.
dide in the same
maner; that is,
blesside him,
and bihi3te to him that he bihi3te to Abraham. *Live
here. c.*
† the blessing
of alle folkis;
that is, God 3af
to him and not to Ismael, that Crist schulde be borun of him, in which Crist alle folkis
of erthe schulen
be blessid. his testament; that is, couenaunt,
which he made
to Abraham.
He knew him;
that is, appre-
uyde him, as worthi to hise

† liyk in the

lif, and of disciplyne; to techen Jacob the^r testament, and Israel his domes. 7 Hee³ he made Aaron, his brother, and 8 a lic to hym of the lynage of Leuy. He sette to hym an euerlastende testament, and he 3af to hym the presthod of the folc of kinde; and he made hym blisful 9 in glorie. And he girded hym aboute with the girdil of riztwisnesse, and he clothide hym the stoele of glorie, and crownede 10 hym in vesselis off vertue. Shon, and breches, and coepe he putte to hym, and girded hym aboute with manye litle gold- 11 ene belles in cumpas; to 3yue soun in his goyng in, and to make the soun herd in the temple, in to mynde to the sonus 12 of hys folc. An^s hoely stoele, with gold, and blyu vyolet silc, and sanguyn silc, the werk wouen, thur³ the^t dom of the wise man, and thur³ the treuthe of the enourned; with fyr red silc foldun^a a3een, 13 the werk of the craftis, with precious iemmes figured in binding of gold, and with werk of the^v lapidarie grauen, in to the mynde, after the^w noumbre of the lynagis 14 of Israel. A^x goldene^y croune vp on the mytre of hym, expressid with the toene of hoelynesse, the glorie of wrshipe, and the were of vertue, to the^s desir of e3en 15 enourned. So faire bifor hym weren not 16 suche thingus^a, vnto the est. Ther is nott clad^b with it any alyen, but only alone the sonus of hym, and the cosyne of 17 hym, bi alle tyme. The sacrifices of hym 18 ben ful endid with fyr eche day. Moises fulfide the hondis of hym, and enoynt- 19 ede^c hym with his hoely oile. It is mad to hym an euerelastende testament, and to his sed as the dazes of heuene, to vsen the offis of presthed, and to han preys- yng, and his^d puple to be glorified in his 20 name. Hym he chees of alle lyuende, to offre sacrifice to God, encens, and good smell, in to mynde, to make pes for his 21 puple. And he 3af to hym power in his and of techyng; to teche Jacob a testa- ment, and Israel hise domes. He made⁷ hi³ Aaron, his brother, and lijk hym of the lynage of Leuy. He ordeynede to 8 hym euerlastynge^l testament*, and 3af to hym the preesthod of the^m folkⁿ. And he made hym blissful in glorie, and girded 9 hym with a girdil of riztfulnesse; and clothide hym with a stoele of glorie, and crownede hym in the ournementis of vertu. He settide on hym sandalies, and breeches, 10 and a clooth on the schuldur, and girded hym aboute with ful many small goldun bellis in cumpas; to 3yue soun in his 11 goyng, to make soun herd in the temple, in to mynde to the sones of his folk. God¹² 3af to hym an hooli stoele, a wouun werk, with gold, and iacynct, and purpur, the werk of a wijs man, maad riche with doom and treuthe; the werk of a crafti 13 man, in writhun reed threed, with pre- ciouse iemmes grauun in the byndyng of gold, and grauun bi the werk of a^o crafti man of stoonys, in to mynde, bi the noum- bre of the lynagis of Israel. A goldun 14 coroun on his mytre, set forth with the signe of hoolynesse, the glorie of onour, and the werk of vertu, ourned to desijr of izen. Siche thingis so faire weren not bi- 15 fore hym, til to^l the eest. Noon alien was 16 clothid ther ynne, but oneli hise sonas, and hise sonas sonas aloone, bi al tyme. Hise sacrifices weren endid ech dai bi 17 fyr. Moises fillide[†] hise hondis, and 18 anoyntide hym with hooli oile. It was 19 maad to hym in to euerlastynge testa- ment, and to his seed as the daies of heuene, to vse presthod, and to haue preisyng, and to glorifie his puple in his name. God²⁰ chees hym of ech lyuynge 20 man, to offre sacrifice to God, encense, and good odour, in to mynde, for to plesse for his puple. And he 3af to hym power 21 in hise comaundementis, and in the testa- mentis of domes, to teche Jacob witness-

* euerlastinge testament; that is, the couen- nant of prest- hod, which is seid euerlast- inge, in as myche as it figuride the presthod of Crist, which presthod is euerlastinge. made him blis- ful in glorie; that is, made him to be seid blisful, for glorie of prest- hod. with a girdil of rizt- fulnesse; that is, with a girdil maad of dy- verse colours, which is seid a girdil of rizt- fulnesse, for it streynede togid- dere the prestis clothis, as rizt- fulnesse of the lawe refreynded vnordenat ma- ners. c.

† Moise fillide; that is, sacride. to haue preis- ing; that is, to haue the office to preise God, as it acordith to a comyn persone. in his name; that is, in the name of God. aliens; fro the kyn of prestis, as weren Chore and his congregacioun; in xvi. c. of Numery. Live here. c.

^r his A. ^s And G pr. m. H. ^t Om. c pr. m. ^u falt c pr. m. ^v Om. c. ^w Om. AGH.
^x With a E pr. m. ^y gold A. ^z with E pr. m. ^a Om. c pr. m. ^b clothid AEGH. ^c enoyntyng A, ^d in his c pr. m. to his G pr. m. H.

^l an euerlastinge x sec. m. ^m Om. C E F G H K M N P Q R U V X A. ⁿ folkis s. ^o Om. G. ^p vnto I.

hestes, in testamentes of domes, to teche Jacob witnessingus, and in his lawe list 22 to 3yue to Irael. For a3en hym stoden alienus, and for enuye ther cumpassedden hym men in desert, that weren with Dathan and Abiron, and the congregacioun 23 of Chore, in to ful wrathe. The Lord sa3, and it plesede not to hym; and thei ben wastid in the bure of ful^e wrathe. 24 He made to hem hidous veniaunces, and he wastede them in the flaume of fyr. 25 And he eechede to Aron glorie, and he 3af to hym eritage; and the chef of the frutes of the erthe he deuydide to hym. 26 The bred of hym 'in the firste^f, in to fulnesse he greithede; for whi and the sacrifice^g of the Lord thei shul ete, the whiche he 3af to hym, and to the sed of 27 hym. 'For whi^h in thel ond he shal not eritagen Jentiles, and part is not to hym in the folc; he is forsothe the part of 28 hym, he is and the eritage. Fynees, the sone of Eleasar, the thridde isⁱ in glorie, folowende hym in the^k drede of God, 29 and to stonde in reuerence of the folc; in goodnesse and gladnesse of his soule 30 he pleside to God of Irael. Therfore he sette to hym a testament of pes, and a prince of seyntes, and of his folc; that ther be to hym and to his sed dignete of 31 presthed, in to with oute ende. And the testament of Daudid, 'the king^{kk}, sone of Jesse, of the lynage of Juda, eritage to hym, and to the sed of hym; that he schuld^l 3yue wisdom in to oure herte, to demen his folc in riztwisnesse, lest were^m don awei the goodis of hem; and the glorie of hem, in to the folc of hem, he maade euere lastende.

CAP. XLVI.

¹ Strong in bataile Jesus Nauee, the successour of Moises in profetes, that was 2 gret aftir his name. Most in to the helthe of the chosen men of God, to yngis, and in his lawe to 3yue list to Israel. For aliens stooden a3ens hym, and 22 men that weren with Datan and Abiron, and the congregacioun of Chore, in wrathfulnesse cumpassiden hym for enuye, in desert. The Lord si3, and it pleside not 23 hym; and thei weren wastid in the feernesesse of wrathfulnesse. He made to hem 24 wondris a3ens kynde, and in the flawme of fier he wastide* hem. And he encreess- 25 ide glorie to Aaron, and 3af eritage to hym; and he departide to Aaron the firste thingis of fruytis of the erthe. He made 26 redi his breed in the firste thingis, in to fulnesse; for whi and thei shulen ete the sacrifices of the Lord, whiche he 3af to hym, and to his seed. But in the lond of his 27 folk he schal not haue eritage, and no part is to hym among the folk; for whi God is the part and eritage of hym. Fynees, 28 the sone of Eleazarus, was the thridde in glorie, in suyng hym in the^q drede of God, and to stonde in the reuerence of 29 folk; in the goodnesse and gladnesse of his soule he pleside God of Israel. Ther- 30 for God ordeynede to hym the testament of pees[†], and made hym prince of hooli men, and of his folk; that the dignete of presthod be to hym and to his seed, with outen ende. And the testament of Daudid, 31 the sone of Jesse, of the lynage of Juda, was eritage to hym, and to his seed; that he schulde 3yue wisdom in to oure herte, to deme his folk in riztfulnesse, lest her goodis schulen be don awei; and he made the glorie of hem to be euerlastinge, in the folk of hem.

CAP. XLVI.

Jhesus Naue, the successour of Moises ¹ in profetis, was strong in batel, that was greet bi his name. The gretteste in to ² the helthe of chosun men of God, to ouer-

* wastide; for the erthe swolewide hem, and thei 3eden doun quyke in to helle. 3af eritage; that is, the firste fruytis. in the lond; of biheest. Live here. c.

† testament of pees; that is, the dignete of presthod, to be had in possession pesibly to him and to his sones. prince of hooly men; that is, of prestis, that weren seid hooly, for they weren assigned to Goddis seruyces. the testament of Daudid; that is, his ordenaunce, of alarging of Goddis worshipyng, which ordenaunce he settide vndur the gouernail of the hizeste bischop. the glorie of hem; that is, dignete of presthod in hem and in her sones. euerlastinge; that is, to dwelle longe, as hillis ben euerlastinge. Live here. c.

^e wilful A.
kk Om. c pr. m.

^f Om. c pr. m.
^l Om. c pr. m.

^g sacrifices A.
^m be c pr. m. E pr. m.

^h Therafter E pr. m.

ⁱ Om. A.

^k Om. H.

fizten out the enemys azenrisende, that he schulde han afterward the eritage of ³Israel. What glorie he hadde in taking vp his hondis, and in castynge azen the ⁴cites twey bitende swerdis. Who biforn hym so withstod? for whi the enemys ⁵the Lord smot. Or not in wrathefulnessse of hym is lettid the sunne, and o ⁶dai is mad as two? He inwardli clepede the hezest, myztiⁿ in azenfizting his enemys on either side; and the grete and hoely God herde hym, in the grete stones ⁷of hail of ful gret vertue. A bure^o he made azen the enmyable^p folc; in the goyng down he distrozede the contrari- ⁸ous; that the Jentilis knowe the myzt of hym, for azen the Lord to fizte is not lizt; and he folowede the myzti men^q ⁹bihinde. And in the dazes of Moisy mercy dide he, and Calef, the sone of Jefone; to stonde azen the enemy, and to forfende the folc fro^r synnes, and to drawen awei the grucching of the malice. ¹⁰And thei two ordeyned fro the perile ben deliuered, fro the noumbre of six hundrid thousand foot men, to bringe them in to the eritage, in to the lond ¹¹that flowith mylc and hony. And the Lord gaf to Calef strengthe, and vnto eelde abod stille to hym vertue; that^s he schulde steze in to the heze place of the erthe, and the sed of hym heeld the ¹²eritage. And alle the sonus of Irael sezen, for it is good to obeshe to the ¹³hoeli God. And alle the iugis bi ther name, of whom the herte is not corrupt, the whiche ben not turned awei fro the ¹⁴Lord; that the mynde of hem be in blessing, and the boenes of hem buri- ¹⁵ounen fro ther place; and the name of hem abit^t stille in to with oute ende, the glorie of hoely^u men abidende stille to ¹⁶the sonus of hem. Samuel, the profete of the Lord, looued of the Lord his God, renewede the empire, and enoynt- ¹⁷ede princes in his folc. In the lawe of

come enemyes risynge azens hem, that he schulde gete the erytage of Israel. Which³ glorie he gat in reysynge his hondis, and in castynge scharpe arowis azens citees. Who bifore hym azenstood so? for whi⁴ the Lord hym silf smoot the enemyes. Whether the sunne was not lettid in the⁵ wrathfulnessse of hym, and o dai was maad as tweyne? He clepide to help the hizeste⁶ God^r, myzti in ouercomynge enemyes on ech side; and God, greet and hooli, herde hym, in stoonys of hail of ful greet vertu. He made asauzt azens the folk enemy, and ⁷in the comynge down he loste the aduersaries; that hethene men knowe the myzt⁸ of hym, for it is not esy to fizte azens the Lord; and he suede myzti men at the bak. And in the daies of Moises he and Caleph,⁹ the sone of Jephone, diden merci; to stonde azens the enemye, and to forbede the folk fro synnes, and to refreyne the grutchyng of malice. And thei tweyne weren stid- ¹⁰fast, and weren delyuered fro perel, of the noumbre of sixe hundrid thousynde^s foot men^s, to brynge hem in to the eritage, in to the lond that flowith mylk and hony. And the Lord gaf strengthe to thilke Ca- ¹¹leph, and til in^t to^u elde vertu dwellide perfilti to hym; that he stiede in to the hiz place of the lond, and his seed gat eritage. And alle the children of Israel ¹²sien, that it is good to obeie to hooli God. And alle iugis bi her name, the herte of ¹³whiche^v was not corrupt*, weren strong in batel, which weren not turned awei fro the Lord; that the mynde of hem be in ¹⁴blessyng, and her boonys apperen fro her place; and her name dwellith with outen ¹⁵ende, for the glorie of hooli men dwellith at the sonus of hem. Samuel, the profete ¹⁶of the Lord, that was louyd of his Lord God, made newe the empire†, and anoynt- ide prynces in his folk. In the lawe of ¹⁷the Lord he demyde the congregacioun, and he siz the Lord of Jacob, and in his feith he was preued a profete. And he ¹⁸

* was not corrupt; bi avarice, but weren stronge in batel. turned away; bi idolatrie. the glorie; that stondith not in richessis onours, and delices, but in vertuose werkis. Live here. c.

† made newe the empire; translatinge the rewme fro the lynage of Beniamyn to the lynage of Juda, bi commaundement of God. he siz the Lord of Jacob; that is, he knew in reuelacioun of profecie, for he herde ofte the Lord speking to him; therfor siz is takun here for herde. in his feith; that is, feithfulnessse. in the offring of a man vndefouled; that is, in his owne offring. Samuel is seid a man vndefouled, for he zede not away fro rystfulnessse bi avarice, nether bi other synne. Live here. c.

ⁿ Om. c pr. m. ^o bure forsothe E pr. m. ^p enemy able c. eymable A. ^q Om. c pr. m. ^r of A. ^s and A. ^t abideth AE GH. ^u tho hooli AE sec. m. GH.

^r Om. I. ^s of footmen c. ^t Om. mra. ^u to his 1. to the CEHQ pr. m. sva. ^v whom I.

the Lord he demede the congregacioun, and he sa3 the Lord of Jacob, and in his 18 feith he is proued a profete. And he is knownen in his wrdis feithful, for he sa3 19 the Lord of li3t. And he inwardly clepide the almy3ty Lord, in a3enfizting the enemys aboute stonde on eche side, in 20 the offring of the man vndefoulid. And the Lord thundrede in fro heuene, in a 21 gret soun his vois he made herd. And he to-trad the princes of Tyres, and alle 22 the dukes of Filisteys^v. And bfore the^w tyme of the ende of his lif, and he 3af witnessing of the world, in the si3t of the Lord, and of Crist; monees and vnto the shon, of alle flesh he toc not; and 23 ther acuside hym not a man. And aftir that^{ww} he slepte, and made knownen to the kyng, and shewede to hym the ende of his lif; and enhauncede his vois fro the erthe in profecie, to don away the vnpytouse of the folc.

CAP. XLVII.

1 Aftir these thingus ros Nathan, the 2 profete, in the dajes of Dauid. And as tal3 seuered fro the flesh, so Dauid fro 3 the sonus of Irael. With leouns he pley-ede, as with lombis; in beres li3e maner 4 he dide, as in^x lombis of shep. In his 3outh the whether he slo3 not a ieaunt, and 5 toc awei repref fro the folc? In takinge the hond in the ston of the slynge, he 6 thre3 down the io3e of Golie, where he inwardly clepede the Lord almy3ty; and he 3af in his ri3t hond to don away a strong man in bataile, and to enhaunce 7 the horn of his folc. So in ten thousendis he glorifiede hym, and preisede hym in the blessingus of the Lord, in 8 offringe to hym a croune of glorie. For-sothe he to-brosede the enemys on eche side, and distro3ede Filisteys^y contrarious, vnto the day that is now; he to-brosede the horn of hem, vnto with oute ende.
9 In alle werk he 3af knoueleching to^z the was knowun feithful in hise wordis, for he si3 the Lord of li3t. And he clepide in to 19 help the Lord almy3ti, in ouercomynge enemys stondynge aboute on ech side, in the offrynge of a man vndefoulid. And 20 the Lord thundride fro heuene, and in greet soun he made his vois herd. And 21 he al to-brak the princes of men of Tyre, and alle the duykis of Filisteis. And bi- 22 fore the^v tyme of ende of his lijf, and of the world, he 3af witnessyng in the si3t of the Lord, and of Crist^{*}; he took not of ony man richessis, 3he, til to schoon^w; and no man accuside hym. And after 23 this he slepte, and he made knowun to the kyng[†], and he schewide to hym the ende of his lijf; and he enhaunside his vois fro the erthe in profesie, to do awei the wickidnesse of the folc.

* and of Crist;
that is, Saul,
anoyned in to kyng. Live
here. c.

† to the kyng;
that is, Saul,
to whom he seid, that his deth neigede in the morewe.
Live here. c.

CAP. XLVII.

Aftir these thingis Nathan, the profete, 1 roos, in the daies of Dauid. And as yn- 2 nere fatnesse[‡] departide fro the fleisch, so Dauid fro the sonus of Israel. He pleiede 3 with liouns, as with lambren; he dide in li3k maner with beris, as with lambren of scheep. Whether in his 3ongthe he killide 4 not a giaunt, and took awei schenship fro the folk? In reisyng the hond in a 5 ston of a slynge, he castide down the ful out ioi3yng of Golias, where he clepide to 6 help the Lord almy3ti; and he 3af in his ri3t hond to do awei a stronge man in batel, and to enhaunse the horn of his folk. So he glorifiede hym[§] in ten thou- 7 synde, and he preiside hym in the bless-yngis^x of the Lord, in offrynge to hym the coroun of glorie. For he al to-brak 8 enemys on ech side, and drow out bi the roote Filisteis contrarie, 'til in to^y this dai; he al to-brak the horn of hem, 'til in to^y with outen ende. David in ech werk 3af 9

‡ as ynne fatnesse, etc.;
thou3 al the puple of Israel
seruede God,
nethes Da-
uyth seruede
more deuoutly
than othere
men diden.
Live here. c.

§ he glorifiede him, etc.; that is, made to be preisid. preiside
him, etc.; that is, made him preisable, of goodis whiche
he 3af to him.
Live here. c.

^v Philistiyim AGH. ^w Om. A. ^{ww} Om. C pr. m. ^x and in AGH. ^y Philisteym AEG. the Philisteym H.
^z vnto AGH.

^v Om. I. ^w the schoon A pr. m. ^x blessing v. ^y vnto I.

hoely, and to the hee3e in the^a wrd^b of 10 glorie. Of alle his herte he preisede God, and louede the Lord that made hym, and 3af to hym a3en the enemyes my3t.
 11 And he made to stonde syngeres a3en the auter; and in the soun of hem he made 12 sweete motetes. And he 3af wrshepe in solempnysingus, and ournede the tymes vnto the ful endyng of lyf; that thei schulden preisen the hoely name of the Lord, and make large erly the hoelynesse 13 of God^c. Crist purgede the synnes of hym, and enhauncede in to with outen ende the horn of hym; and he 3af to hym the testament of kingus, and a sete^{cc} 14 of glorie in Irael. After hym ros a son weel felende; and for hym he cast down 15 alle the my3te of enemys. Salomon comaundide in dazes^d of pes, to whom God sogetede alle the enemyes, that he schulde maken an hous in his name, and greithen hoelynesse in to euermor, as he was ta3t 16 in his 3outh. And he is fulfild as a flod with wisdom; and his soule a3een co-17 uered^e the erthe. And thou fulfildist in comparisouns derk prouerbis; to ylis aferr is pupplisht thi name, and thou art 18 loued in thi pes. In songus, and in prouerbis, and comparisouns, and in remen-19 yngus wndreden the^{ee} londis; and in the name of the Lord, to whom is the toname 20 God off Irael. Thou gederest as latoun gold, and as led thou fulfildist syluer.
 21 And thou bowedist^f in thin hipis to wymmen; power thou haddest in thi 22 body. Thou 3eue a wem in thi glorie, and cursedest thi sed, to bringen in wrathfulnesse to thi free childer, and in 23 othere thingus thi folye; that thou shuldist make the empire partid on two,
 and of^g Effreym^b to comaunden an hard 24 maundement. God forsothe shall not leuen his mercy, and he shal not spille, ne don away his werkes, ne leese fro the stoc his chosun sonus sonus; and the sed knoueleching to hooli God, and hi3 in the word of glorie. Of al his herte he heriede 10 God, and he louyde the Lord that made hym, and 3af to hym power a3ens ene-myes. And he made syngeris to stonde 11 a3ens the auter; and he made swete motetis in the soun of hem. And he 3af 12 fairnesse in halewyngis*, and he ournede tymes `til to^z the endyng of lijf; that thei schulden preise the hooli name of the Lord, and make large eerli the hoolynesse of God. Crist purgide the synnes of hym, 13 and enhaunside his horn with outen ende;

 and he 3af to hym the testament of kyngis, and the seete of glorie in Israel. After 14 hym roos a witti sone; and for hym he castide down al the power of enemyes.
 Salomon regnede in the daies of pees, to 15 whom God made suget alle enemyes, that he schulde make an hous in the name of God, and make redi hoolynesse with outen ende, as he was lerned in his 3ongthe.
 And he was fillid with wisdom as a flood 16 is fillid; and his soule vnihilide the erthe.
 And thou, Salomon, fillidist derk figuratif 17 spechist[†] in licnessis; and^a thi name was pupplischid to ilis afer, and thou were louyde in thi pees. Londis wondriden in 18 songis, and in prouerbis, and in licnessis, and interpretyngis, ether expositiouns;
 and in the^b name of the Lord, to whom 19 the surname is God of Israel. Thou ga- 20 deridist togidere gold as latoun, and thou fillidist siluer as leed. And thou bouwidist 21 thi thies to wymmen; thou haddist power in thi bodi[‡]. Thou hast 3oue a wem in thi 22 glorie, and madist vnhooli thi seed, to brynge in wrathfulnesse to thi children, and thi foli in othere men; that thou 23 schuldist make the rewme departid in to tweyne, and of Effrem to comaunde an hard comaundement. But God schal not 24 forsake his merci, and schal not distrie, nether do awei hise werkis, nether he schal leese fro generacioun the sones sonus

* he 3af fair-nesse in halew-ingis; for he encreesside Goddis wor-schiping in prestis, dekenes,
 and singeris.
 tymes; that is,
 solemnnytees,
 that weren
 maad in dy-uerse tymes of the 3eer. Lire
here. c.

† and thou,
Salomon, fillid-ist derk figura-tif spechis; in declaring tho
 to the queen of Saba. londis;
 that is, men
 dwellinge in londis. Lire
here. c.

‡ in thi bodi;
 to fille the lust
 of thi bodi.
Lire here. c.

^a Om. AGH. ^b werk A. ^c the God c. ^{cc} see c pr. m. ^d fewe dazes E pr. m. ^e made E pr. m.
^{ee} Om. c pr. m. ^f bowest c pr. m. ^g to A. Om. H. ^h withoute bridil E pr. m.

of hym that looueth the Lord he shall 25 not shende. He 3af forsothe an other 26 Jacob, and Daid of that lynage. And Salomon hadde endeⁱ with his fadris.
 27 And he lafte after hym of his sed the 28 folie of the folc, and the mynusht fro prudence^k, Roboam; the whiche turnede 29 away the folc bi his counseil. And Jeroboam, the sone of Naboth, that made to synnen Irael, and 3af the weie of synnyng to Effraym; and ful^{kk} manye re-30 doundeden the synnes of hem gretli, for-sothe thei turneden hem^l awei fro ther 31 lond. And he so3te alle wickidnesses^{ll}, vnto the tyme that defending ful cam to them; and fro alle synnes he delyuerede them.

CAP. XLVIII.

1 And Helie, the profete, ros as fyr; 2 and his wrd as a brond brende. The whiche bro3te in to hem hunger, and folewende hym bi ther enuye ben mad fewe; forsothe thei my3ten not suffre 3 the hestes of the Lord. Thur3 the wrd of the Lord he withheeld heuene, and 4 cast down fro hym fyr^m to the erthe. So mad large is Helie in his merueiles; and 5 who mai lic maner glorien to thee, the whicheⁿ hast^o borne^p vp the deade fro helle, fro the lot of deth, in the wrd of 6 the Lord God? The whiche thre3 down kingus to deth, and thou breeke listli the my3t of hem, and the gloriouse fro ther^q 7 bed. Thatt herdist in Syna dom, and in 8 Oreb domes of defensioun. That enoyntist kingus to penaunce, and profetes makest 9 successoures after thee. That art resceyued in whirlewynd of fyr, in a char 10 of fyrene hors^r. That art inwrite in domes of tymes, to swage the wrathe of

of his chosun kyng Dauid; and he schal not distrie the seed of hym that loueth the Lord. Forsothe God 3af remenaunt 25 to Jacob, and to Daid of that generacioun. And Salomon hadde an ende with 26 hise fadris. And he lefte aftir hym of his 27 seed Roboam, the foli of the folk, and 28 made lesse fro prudence; which Roboam turnede awei the folk bi his councel. And 29 Jeroboam, the sone of Nabath, that made Israel to do synne, and 3af to Effraym weie to do synne; and ful many synnes of hem^{*} weren plenteuouse, for thei turn- 30 eden hem awei greetli fro her lond. And 31 the lynage of Effraym sou3te al wickid-nessis, til defence cam to hem; and delyuerede hem fro alle synnes.

CAP. XLVIII.

And Elie, the profete, roos as fier[†]; for 1 whi his word brente as a brond. Which 2 brou3te yn hungur on hem, and thei suyng hym weren maad fewe for enuye^c; for thei my3ten not suffre the comaundementis of the Lord. Bi the word of the 3 Lord he held togidere heuene, and castide down fro it fier[‡] to the erthe. So Elie 4 was alargid in his merueils; and who may haue glorie in lijk maner with thee, which tokist awei a deed man fro hellis, 5 fro the eritage of deth, in the word of the Lord God? Which castidist down kyngis 6 to deth, and hast broke togidere listli the power of hem, and gloriouse men fro her bed[§]. Which herdist dom in Syna, and in 7 Oreb domes of defence^{||}. Which anoyntist 8 kyngis to penaunce, and makist prophetis successouris aftir thee. Which were re- 9 seyued in a whirlewynde of fier, in a chare of horsis of fier. Which art writun in the 10 domes of tymes, to plese the wrathfulnesse

* many synnes
 of hem, etc.;
 that is, synnes grete and orri-
 ble maden hem
 to be prisoneris
 fer fro her lond.

defence; that is, licence of Persis, that thei myzten turne agen in to the lond of Juda. fro alle
 synnes; that is, prisionyng brougt in on hem for her
 synnes. Live
here. c.

† as fier; that is, brennyng
 in the feruent loue of God.

brente as a brond; in kyndling the hereris to Goddis
 loue. suyng
him, etc.; that is, the prestis of Baal, that sou3ten to be herd bi fier in the ending of her brent sacrifice, as Elie
 did, in the
 III. book of Kyngis, xvij.
 c°. and for thei myzten not thei weren slayn of the puple. comaundementis
 of the Lord;
 that is, thei myzten not agenstonde his wille, that comaundide her
 deth bi Elie.
Live here. c.

‡ castide down fro it fier; that is, bi the vertu
 of his preyer
 he made fier
 come down fro heuene, on his brent sacrifice.
Live here. c.
 § fro her bed;
 summe bokis
 han for her trespas; that is, twey princes of fifti men sent of Ocozie ligginge in his bed, to take Elie, on which he made fier to come down fro heuene. Live here. c.

|| in Oreb domes of defence; that is, of Goddis veniaunce, whanne God comaundide to Elie, to anoynte Elisee in to a profete, and Asael in to king of Sirie, and Hieu, the sone of Namsi, in to king of Israel, to the sleying of idolatouris. in the domes of tymes; that is, to come in tymes bifor the doom, to schewe opynly the falsnesse of Antecrist, in the laste c°. of Malachie, Y schal sende Elie, the profete, bifor that the grete and orible dai of the Lord come, that he turne the hertis of fadris to the sones. that sien thee; that is, sien thyn hooly conuersacioun, and herde thi teching. Live here. c.

ⁱ endid c. Om. G pr. m. H. ^k the prudence A. ^{kk} Om. c pr. m. ^l Om. c pr. m. ^{ll} wickednesses E. wickidnesse H. ^m the fyr E pr. m. ⁿ Om. c. for E pr. m. ^o thou c pr. m. E pr. m. hast thou c sec. m. thou hast E sec. m. AG pr. m. H. ^p beere CE pr. m. ^q his E pr. m. ^r horsis AEGH.

^c her enuye c sec. m.

the Lord, and to ioynen, ^sor acorde^s, the herte of the fader to the sone, and to re-11 storen^t the lynagis of Jacob. Blisful ben thei, that thee han herd, and in thi fren-12 shepe ben mad faire; ^ufor why^u wee^v with lijf lyuen only, after deth forsothe such 13 shal not ben oure name. Helie forsothe in a whirlewynd is couered; and in Helyse fulfild is his spirit. In his dazes he dradde not a prince, and bi myzt no 14 man ouer cam hym; ne ouercam hym any wrd, and his body dead profe-
 15 ciede. In his lif he dide huge won- dris; and in deth merueilouse thingus 16 he wrozte. In alle these thingus the^w puple dide not penaunce, and thei wenten not away fro ther synnes, vn to the tyme that thei ben cast away fro ther lond, 17 and ben scatered in to eche lond. And ther is laft ful fewe folc, and a prince in 18 the hous of Daud. Summe of hem dyden that shulde plesen to God; othere for-19 sothe diden manye synnes. Ezechias strengthede his cite, and brozte in to the myddel of it water; and dalf^x with iren the roche, and bilde vp to the water a 20 pit. In his dazes stezede vp Senacherub, and sente Rapsacen; and vnderputte his hond azen hem, and putte out his hond in to Sion, and proud is mad in his myzt.
 21 Thanne moued ben the hertes and the hondis of hem; and thei soreweden as 22 wymmen trauailende with child. And thei inwardly clepeden the merciful Lord, and strechende out hondis thei re-reden ^yvp to^y heuene; and the hoely Lord 23 God herde anon the vois of hem. He remembrede^z not the synnes of hem, ne 3af hem to ther enemys; but purgede hem in the hond of Ysaie, the hoely 24 profete. He thre3 down the tentes of Assiries, and hem to-brosede the aungil 25 of the Lord. For whi Ezechie dide that plesede to the Lord, and strongli he wente in the weie^a of Daud, his fader; that Isaie, the grete profete, and feithful in of the Lord, to recounsele the herte of the fadir to the sone, and to^d restore the lynagis of Jacob. Thei ben blessid, that 11 sizen thee, and weren maad feir^{*} in thi frenschipe; for whi we lyuen oneli in lijf, 12 but after deth oure name schal not^e be siche. Elie, that was hilid in a whirle-13 wynd; and his spirit was fillid in Elisee. Elisee in hise daies dredde not the prince, and no man ouercam hym bi power; ne-14 ther ony word ouercam hym, and his deed bodi profesiede. In his lijf he dide won-15 dris azens kynde; and in deth he wrouzte merueilis. In alle these thingis the puple 16 dide not penaunce, and 3eden not awei fro her synnes, til whanne thei weren cast awei fro her lond, and weren scatered in to ech lond. And a ful fewe folk was left, 17 and a prince in the hous of Daud. Summe 18 of hem diden that, that pleside God; but othere diden many synnes. Ezechie maad 19 strong his citee, and brouzte watir in to the myddis therof; and^f diggide a rooche with irup, and bildide a pit to watir. In 20 hise daies Senacherib stiede, and sente Rapsaces; and he reiseide his hond azens hem, and he reiseide his hond azens Syon, and was maad proud in his power. Thanne 21 the hertis and hondis of hem weren moued; and thei hadden sorewe as wymmen tra- uelynge of child. And thei clepiden to 22 help the merciful Lord, and thei spredden abrood the hondis, and reiseiden to heuene; and the hooli Lord^g God herde soone the vois of hem. He hadde not mynde on her 23 synnes, nether 3af hem to her enemyes; but he purgide hem in the hond of Isaie[†], the hooli profete. The aungel of the Lord 24 castide down the castels of Assiriens, and al to-brak hem. For whi Ezechie dide 25 that that pleside the Lord, and 3ede strongli in the weie of Dauith, his fadir; which weie Isaie, the grete profete, and feithful in the sizt of God, comaundide to hym. In the daies of hym the sunne 3ede 26 azen abak; and God encreesside lijf to

* weren maad fair; bi fairnesse of vertues. lyuen onely in lijf; that is, han fame in present lijf. c.

† in the hond of Ysaie; that is, by Ysaie preinyng for hem, at the axing of Ezechie. pleside the Lord; in purgyng Jerusalem fro idolatrie, and in excitinge the prestis and dekenes and the puple, to Goddis worschipping. c.

^s Om. CE pr. m. ^t store GH. ^u now C pr. m. E pr. m. ^v Om. C sec. m. AG pr. m. H. ^w tho3te the E pr. m. ^x deluede AEGH. ^y vnto C. ^z membride A. ^a hond E pr. m.

^d Om. c. ^e Om. v. ^f and he i. ^g Om. c. F f

26 the sijte of God, sente to hym. In his dazes backward wente azen the sunne; and 27 addede to the king lif. With a gret spirit he sa3 the laste thingus; and coumfortede the weilende men in Sion, vn to euermor.
28 He shewide thingus to come, and hid, er that thei fellen.

CAP. XLIX.

1 The mynde of Josie mad in a making of smell, is a werk of a^b pyment makere.
2 In eche mouth as hony shal be inwardly sweete the mynde of hym, and as melody 3 in the feste of wyn. He is euene ri3t godly in the penaunce of folc; and he took away the abhomynaciouns of vnpi-4 tousnesse. And he gouernede to the Lord his herte; and in the dazes of synnes he 5 strengthede pite. Saue Dauid, and Esechie, and Josie, alle the kingus diden synne 6 For whi the kyngus of Juda laften the lawe of the my3ty, and dispiseden the 7 drede of God. Forsothe thei 3euen ther kingdam to othere, and ther glorie to an^d 8 alien folc. Thei brenden vp the^e chosen cite of hoelynesse; and desert thei maden 9 weies of it^f in the hond of Jeremye. For whi euele thei treteden hym, that fro the wombe of the moder is sacrid a profete, to turnen vpsodoun, and to leesen, and 10 eft to bilden vp, and to renewen. Esechiel, that sa3 the sijte of glorie, that he shewede to hym in the char of cherubyn.
11 For whi he remembrede of the enemys in weder, to wel don to them, that shew-12 eden ri3t weies. And the boenes of the twelue profetes springen oute fro ther place; for whi thei strengtheden Jacob, and a3eenbo3ten themself in feith of his 13 vertue. What maner shul wee make large Zorobabel? for whi and he as a toene in 14 the ri3t hond of Israel; and Jesum, the sone of Josedech? the whiche in ther dazes bildun vp the hous, and enhaunc-eden the hoely temple to the Lord, mad 15 redy in to euermor glorie. And Neemye in the mynde of myche tyme, that rerede the kyng. With greet spirit *Ysaie*8 sij^h 27 the laste thingis; and heⁱ coumfortide the moreneris in Sion, 'in to^j with outen ende.

He schewide thingis to comynge, and hid 28 thingis, bifore that tho camen.

CAP. XLIX.

The mynde of Josie maad in the mak-1 yng of odour, is the werk of a pyment makere. In ech mouth his mynde schal 2 be maad swete as hony, and as musik in the feeste of wyn. He was dressid of God 3 in the penaunce of folk*; and he took awei the abhomynaciouns of wickidnesse.
And the herte of hym† gouernede to the 4 Lord; and in the daies of synnes he strengthide pitee. Outakun Dauid, Eze- 5 chie^j and Josie, alle kyngis diden synne.
For whi the kyngis of Juda leften the 6 lawe of my3ti^k God, and dispisiden the drede of God. For thei 3auen her rewme 7 to othere men, and her glorie to an alien folk. Thei brenten the chosun citee of 8 hoelynesse; and thei maden the weies therof forsakun in the hond^l of Jeremye.
For thei tretiden yuel hym, which from 9 the wombe of the modir was halewid a profete, to turne vpsedoun†, and to leese, and efte to bilde, and make newe. Eze- 10 chiel, that sij the sijt of glorie, which the Lord schewide to hym in the chare of cherubyn. For he made mynde of ene- 11 myes in reyn[§], to do wel to hem, that schewiden ri3tful weies. And the boonys 12 of twelue profetis apperen fro her place; and thei strengthiden Jacob, and a3en-bou3ten hem in the feith of her vertu.
Hou schulen we alarge Zorobabel^m? for 13 whi and he was a signe in the ri3t hond of God to Israel; and Jhesu, the sone 14 of Josedech? whiche in her daies bildiden an hous, and enhaunsiden the hooli temple to the Lord, maad redi in to euerlastynge glorie. And Neemye in the mynde 15 of myche tyme, that reiside to vs the

* in the penaunce of folk;
for he brougt
the puple of his rewme to penaunce for her synnes, and to the worschip-ing of veri God,
and distriede idolatrie. Live
here. c.

† the herte of
him, etc.; that is, the herte of Josie ordeynede the gouernaunce of the rewme hoolliche
to the onour of God. in the
daies of synnes;
that is, the
tyme in which
the synne of idolatrie regn-
ede. strengthide
pitee; that is,
restoride the worschiping of God, and orde-ynede it to be kept stide-fastly. thei 3auen her rewme; that is, disserveden for synne, that it was 3oun to men of Babi-loyne. brenten;
that is, Jerusalem was brent
for her synnes.
in the hond of Jeremye; that is, bi his profesie. Live
here. c.

‡ to turne vpseddoun, etc.;
herto he was halewid a pro-
fete, to denounce the turnyng vpseddoun of the citee and of the puple, and the distrying of the puple bi Cal-
deys, and the bilding azen bi the kyngis of Perseya. c.
§ in reyn; that is, in word of his profesie.
Jacob; that is,
the puple of Israel, in feith
and vertues, bi her hooli ensaumplis and techingis. azen-
bou3ten; fro peyne and synne of syn-neris, bi the feithfulnesse of her preching.
Live here. c.

^b Om. A. ^d Om. AG sec. m. H. ^e ther E. ^f his weies c pr. m. E pr. m.

^g Ezechie A sec. m. marg. ^h he sau3e i. ⁱ Om. c. ^j til in to A pr. m ^j and Ezechie A pr. m.
^k almy3ti v. ^l lond A. ^m that is, preise hym worthily v marg.

vp to vs the turned vpsodoun walles, and made to stonde zates and lokes; that 16 reredē vp oure houses. No man is born in the^g erthe such as Enoch; for whi 17 and he is resceyued fro the erthe. And Joseph, that is born of man, prince of brethern, fastnyng of folc of kynde, gouernour of brethern, stablyng of puple; 18 and the bones of hym ben visitid, and 19 aftir the deth thei profecieden. Seth and Sem, these^{gg} anent^h men hadden gote glorie, and ouer alle lif in the springyng of Adam.

CAP. L.

1 'Symon, Onyes sone, the^{hh} grete prest, that in his lif vndersette the hous, and in 2 his dajes strengthede the temple. Also the heiȝte of the temple of hym is foundid, the double bilding, and the heȝe walles
3 of the temple. In his dajes sprungen out the pittes of watris; and as the se 4 thei ben fulfild ouer maner. That curede his folc, and delyuerede it fro perdicioun.
5 That hadde the maistrie to make large the cite; that gat glorie in to the lyuyngeⁱ of folc; and the^k incomyng of the hous, and of the porche he^l made large.
6 As the morutid sterre in myddel^m of theⁿ litle cloude, and as the fulle moone in his 7 dajes he liȝtneth^o; and as the shynende sunne, so he shyneth out in the temple 8 of God; as the aȝenshynende bowe betwene^{oo} the litle cloudis of glorie, and as the flour of roses in the dajes of ver, and as lilies, that ben in goyngus^p of water, and as^q cense smellende in the dajes of 9 somyr; as fyr shynende out, and sens
10 brennende in fyr; as a massee vessel of gold, enournd with alle maner precious 11 ston; as a^r buriounende olyue, and^{rr} cipresse in to heiȝte puttende out itself^s; in takynge hym the stoele of glorie, and to^t be clad^u hym in the ful endyng of 12 vertue. In the steȝyng vp of the hoely wallis, 'that werenⁿ cast down, and made the zatis and lockis to stonde; which Neemye reiseide oure housis. No man borun in erthe was such as Enok^{*}; for whi and he was resceyued fro the erthe. And Joseph, that was borun a man, the prince of britheren, the stidfastnesse of folk, the gouernour of britheren, the stablischyng of puple; and his boonys weren visitid, and profesieden after deth. Seth and Sem, these gaten glorie anentis men, and ouer ech man in the^o generacioun of Adam.

* was sich as Enok; no man was sich as Enok, in alle goode condiciouns, for whi ech hoely man hath sum special grace of God, which an other hath not in enene degree, bi alle thingis. Live here. c.

CAP. L.

Symount, the sone of Onyas, was a greet preest, which in his lijf vndursettide the hous, and in hise daies strengthide the temple. Also the hiȝnesse of the temple was bildide of hym[†], the double bildyng, and hiȝ wallis of the temple. In the daies of hym the pittis of watris camen forth; and as the see tho weren fillid aboue measure. Which Symount helide his folk, and delyuerede it fro perdicioun. Which was myȝti to alarge the citee; which gat glorie in the conuersacioun of folk; and alargide the entryng of the hous, and of the large cumpas aboute. As the dai sterre in the myddis of a cloude, and as a ful moone schyneth in hise daies; and as the sunne schynynge, so he schynede in the temple of God; as a reyn bouwe schynynge among the cloudis of glorie, and as a flour of rosis in the daies of veer, and as lilies, that ben in the passyng of watir, and as encense smellynge in the daies of somer; as fier schynynge, and ensence brennyng in fier; as a sad vessel of gold, ourned with ech precieuse stoon; as an olyue tree sprynge forth, and a cipresse tree reisyng it silf an hiȝ; while he took the stoole of glorie, and was clothid in the perfeccioun of vertu. In the styng of the hooli auter, the clothing of hoelynesse ȝaf glorie.

† was bildid of him; that is, reparedid, for it was foundid of Sorobabel and Jhesu, the sone of Josedech, in the tyme of Cyrus, and parformed bi the same men in the sixte ȝeer of Darius. Live here. c.

^g Om. AGH. ^{gg} Om. c. ^h anentis AEGH. ^{hh} Symeon Onyes, son of the c pr. m. ⁱ conuerting c pr. m. E pr. m. ^k in the c pr. m. ^l Om. c pr. m. ^m the myddel EGH. ⁿ Om. c sec. m. ^o liȝteth c. ^{oo} betwe c pr. m. ^p the goyngis EGH. ^q Om. H. ^r Om. GH. ^{rr} in c. ^s hymself AGH. ^t Om. A. ^u clothid AEGH.

ⁿ Om. ceteri. ^o Om. v.

auter^v, glorie he ȝaf the amyse of hoely-nesse. In takynge forsothe partes of the hond of prestes, and he stondende^w biside the auter. Aboute hym the croune of brethern, as the plaunting of a ceder in 14 Liban hil; so aboute hym thei stoden as palm braunches, and alle the sonus of 15 Aron in ther glorie. The offring for-sothe of the Lord in the hondis^x of hem, biforn al the gedering of Irael; and the ful endyng vsyng in to the auter, to make large the offring of the heȝe king, 16 he strazte out his hond in the sacrificyng of likoures; and he sacrificede in the blod 17 of a grape. He helde out in the foundement of the auter, godly smel to the heȝe 18 prince. Thanne crieden out the sonus of Aron; in beten out trumpes thei souneden, and herd thei maden a gret vois in 19 to the mynde bifor God. Thanne al the puple togidere wenten forth, and fellen in to the face vp on the^y erthe, to ho-noure the Lord ther God, and to ȝyue 20 preȝeeres to the^z almyȝty heȝe God. And thei largeden synging in ther voices; and in the grete hous is mad a vois^a ful of 21 swetnesse. And the puple preȝede the heȝe Lord in preȝere, vn to the tyme that ful don is the honour of the Lord, and 22 his ȝifte thei parformeden. Thanne com-ende down, his hondis he putte out in to al the congregacioun of the sonus of Irael, to ȝyue glorie to God of his lippes, and 23 in his name to glorien. And he rehercede his orisoun, willende^b to shewe the vertue 24 of God. And aftir eft more he preȝede the God of alle, that grete thingus dide in al erthe; that encreside oure dazes fro the wombe of oure moder, and dide with 25 vs aftir his mercy. Ȝyue he to vs inward ioȝe of herte, and to be mad pes in oure dazes in Irael bi euere lastende dazes; 26 Irael to leeuē, with vs to ben the mercy of God, that he deliuere them in ther 27 dazes. Two folkis hateth my soule; the thridde forsothe is, that noon more folc

Forsothe in takynge^p partis^{*} of the hoond 13 of prestis, and he stood bisidis the auter.
 The coroun of britheren, as a plaunting of cedre in the hil Liban, was aboute hym; so thei stoden aboute hym as 14 boowis of palm tree, and alle the sones of Aaron stoden in her glorie. Sotheli 15 the offryng of the Lord was in the hondis of hem, bifore al the synagoge of Israel; and he vside ful endyng on the auter, to alarge the offryng of the hiȝ kyng. And 16 he dresside his hond in moiste sacrifice; and sacrificide in the blood of grape. He 17 schedde out in the foundement of the auter, the odour of God to the hiȝ prince.
 Thanne the sones of Aaron crieden lowde; 18 thei sowneden in trumpis betun out with hameris, and maden a grete vois herd in to mynde bifore God. Thanne al the pu- 19 ple hastiden togidere, and fellen down on the face on the erthe, for to worschipe her Lord God, and^q to ȝyue preyers to almyȝti God an hiȝ. And men syngynge in her 20 voices alargiden[†]; and a soun ful of swetnesse was maad in the greet hous. And 21 the puple preiede the hiȝ Lord in preier, til that the onour of the Lord was doon perfitli, and thei parformeden her ȝifte.
 Thanne Symount cam down, and reiside 22 hise hondis in to al the congregacioun of the sones of Israel, to ȝyue glorie to God bi hise lippis, and to haue glorie in the name of hym. And he reher side his preier, 23 willynge to schewe the vertu of God[‡].
 And he preyede more the Lord of alle, 24 that made grete thingis in ech lond; which encresside oure daies fro the wombe of oure modir, and dide with vs bi^r his mercy.
 Ȝyue he gladnesse of herte to vs, and that 25 pees be maad in Israel bi euerlastynge daies; that Israel bileue, that Goddis merci 26 is with vs, that he delyuere hem[§] in her dayes. Mi soule hatith twei folkis; but 27 the thridde is not a folk, whom Y hate^{||}.
 Thei that sitten in the hil of Seir, and 28 the Filisteis, and the fonned puple, that

* in taking partis, etc.;
that is, the
tythe of tythis,
which the prestis token
of the puple;
 14 and of tho
tithis thei offriden the tenthe part to the hiȝeste 15 prest, as God
seid, in xvij.
c. of Numery.
Live here. c.

† alargiden;
that is, heri-eden God largeli. Live
here. c.

‡ vertu of God;
this that is seid bitwixe, And afterward eft, 23 is not in bokis
amendid. Live
here. c.

§ delyuere hem,
etc.; fro the seruage of hethen men. Live
here. c.

|| whom Y hate;
that is, Y hate
no folk so 25 myche as this thridde. the
fonned puple,
etc.; that is,
 26 Samaritans worschippinge idols, and 27 sunne of hem
dwelliden in Sichem, and 28 they weren
euere contrarie to Jewis. Live
here. c.

^v auteris E pr. m.
 nynge AEGH.

^w stode A.

^x housis A.

^y Om. AE.

^z Om. H.

^a sown E sec. m.

^b wil-

^p the takinge v.

^q Om. v.

^r aftir I.

28 I shulde haten. That sitten in the hil of Seir, and Filisteym, and the fool puple, 29 that dwellith in Sichemys. The doctrine of wisdom, and of disciplyne wrot in this boc Jhesus, the sone of Sirac, Jerosolomytane; that renewede the wisdom of 30 his herte. Blisful that in these goodus^c abit^d; that putteth tho thingus in his 31 herte, wys shal ben euermor. If for-sothe these thingus he shul do, to alle thingus he shal ben my³ty; for the list of God is the step of hym.

CAP. LI.

1 I shal knouelechen to thee, Lord king; and I shal al preisen thee, God my sa-2 uour. I shal knouelechen to thi name, for helpere and defendere thou art mad 3 to me; and thou hast delyuered my body fro perdicoun, fro the gnare of a^e wicke^f tunge, and fro the lippes of men werkende lesyng; and in the sizt of men stondende nee³ thou art mad to me an 4 helpere. And thou hast delyuered me, after the multitude of the mercy of thi name, fro the rorende men greithed to 5 mete; fro the hondis of men sechende my soule, and of manye tribulaciouns 6 that enuyrouneden me; fro the tormenting of flaume that cumpasede me, and in the⁸ myddel of the fyr I am not brend 7 out; fro the heizte of the wombe of helle, and fro the defoulid tunge, and fro the wr^d of lesing; fro a wicke king, and fro 8 an vnri³twis tunge. Shal preisen vn to 9 the deth my soule the Lord; and my lif 10 nezhende was in helle benethe. Thei cumpasseden me on eche side, and ther was not that wolde helpen; biholdende I was to the helpe of men, and ther was 11 not. I hadde mynde of thi mercy, Lord, and of thi with^h werching, that fro the 12 world ben; for thou takest out men sustenende thee, and delyuerest hem fro 13 the hond of Jentiles. Thou enhancedest dwellith in Sichemys. Jhesus, the sone of 29 Sirach, a man of Jerusalem, wroot in this book the techyng of wisdom, and of kunnyng; and he renulide wisdom* of his herte. He is blessid, that dwellith in these 30 goodis; he that settith tho in his herte, schal euere be wijs. For if he doith these 31 thingis, he schal be mi³ti to alle thingis; for whi the list of God is the step of hym.

CAP. LI.

Lord kyng, Y schal knoueleche to thee; 1 and Y schal togidere herie thee, my sauour. Y schal knoueleche to thi name, 2 for thou art maad an helpere and defendere to me; and thou hast delyuered 3 my bodi fro perdicoun, fro the snare of a wickid tunge, and fro the lippis of hem that worchen a leesyng; and in the sizt of hem that stonden ny³ thou art maad an helpere to me. And thou hast dely- 4 uered me, bi⁸ the multitude of merci of thi name, fro roreris maad redi to mete; fro the hondis of hem that sou³ten my 5 soule, and fro many tribulaciouns that cumpassiden me; fro ouerleiyng of flawme[†] 6 that cumpasside me, and in the myddis of fier Y was not brent; fro the depthe of 7 the wombe of helle, and fro a tunge de-foulyd, and fro a word of leesyng; fro a wickid kyng, and fro a tunge vniust.
'Til to^t the deth my soule schal preise 8 thee, Lord; and my lijf was nei³yng in 9 helle byneth. Thei cumpassiden me on 10 ech side, and noon was that helpide; Y was biholdyng to the help of men, and noon was. Lord, Y hadde mynde on thi 11 merci, and on thi worchyng togidere, that ben fro the world; for thou delyuerest hem 12 that abiden thee, and thou delyuerest hem fro the hond of hethene men. Thou en- 13 haunsidist my dwellyng on erthe; and

* he renulide
wisdom, etc.;
that is, bi the studie of his herte, ether for he was not excidid of an other man herto, but bi his owne wille
he dide this,
with Goddis
help. dwellith
in these goodis;
in thenkinge
and worching
tho. my³ti to alle thingis;
that is, in alle thingis that parteynen to his helthe, and also of othere
men bi his teching. the list of God;
that is, wisdom writun in this book, which wisdom is sam-prenting of Goddis list.
the step of
him; that is,
weye ledinge
perfitly to hym.
Live here. c.

† ouerleiyng of flawme; that is, of stiringe of lecherie. in
the myddis of fier; that is,
of lecherouse heete. not brent; bi con-
seyt of dedly synne. Live
here. c.

^c thingis A. ^d abideth AEGH. ^e Om. c pr. m. ^f wickid AGH. ^g Om. A. ^h wel E pr. m.

⁸ after 1. ^t Vnto 1.

vp on the erthe my dwelling; and forⁱ the^k deth flowende doun I louly preȝede.
 14 I inwardly^l clepede the Lord, fader of my Lord, that he forsake not me in day^m of my tribulacioun, and in tyme of proude 15 men, with oute helpe. I shal preisen thi name bysyly, and I shal withpreisen it in confessioun; and ful out herd is myn 16 orisoun. And thou hast delyuered me fro perdicoun, and thou hast caȝt me out fro 17 the^{mm} wickeⁿ tyme. Therfore I shal knoulechen, and preisyng I shal sey to thee;
 and I shal blisse the name of the Lord.
 18 Whan ȝit ȝungere^o I am, bifor that aboute I shulde erre, I soȝte wisdam 19 openly in myn orisoun. Biforn tyme I askede for it, and 'vn to in^p the laste thingus I shal gretli sechen it; and it 20 shal floure as a first rip grape. Myn herte gladide in it, my foot wente a riȝt weye; fro my ȝouthe I enserchede^q it.
 21 I bowede in a litil myn ere, and I toc it.
 22 Myche I fond in myself wisdam, and 23 myche I profitede in it. To the ȝyuende 24 to me wisdam I shal ȝyue glorie. I coun-seilede forsothe to^r don it; gretly I loue-dede good, and I 'schal not be^s confoundid.
 25 My soule wrastled^t in it; and in doing 26 it I am confermed. My hondis I strazte out in to heiȝ; and in the wisdam of hym weilede my soule, and myn vnkun-27 nyngus he liȝtede. My soule I riȝt reul-28 ede to it; and in knowyng I fond it. I weldede with hem herte fro the bigynnyng; for that I shal not ben forsaken.
 29 My wombe is disturbid in sechyng it; therfore good possessioun I shal welde.
 30 The Lord forsothe ȝaf to me a tunge my meede; and in it I shal preisen hym.
 31 Cometh nyȝ to me, ȝee vntaȝt; and ge-dereth ȝou togidere in the hous of dis-32 ciplyne. What ȝit ȝee tarien? and^u what sey ȝee in these thingus? ȝoure soules 33 thristen hugely. I openede my mouth, and I spac, Bieth to ȝou withoute siluer

Y bisouȝte for deth fletyng down. Y¹⁴ clepyde to help the Lord, fadir of my Lord, that he forsake not me in the dai of my tribulacioun, and forsake not me with outen help, in the tyme of hem that ben proude. Y schal preise thi name con-¹⁵ tynueli, and Y schal herie it togidere in knoulechyng; and my preier is herd*.
 And thou hast delyuered me fro perdi-¹⁶ cioun, and thou hast delyuered me fro the wickid tyme. Therfor Y schal knouleche,¹⁷ and Y schal seie heriyng to thee; and Y schal blesse the name of the Lord. Whanne¹⁸ ȝit Y was ȝongere, bifore that Y erride, Y souȝte wisdom opynli in my preier.
 Bifore the tyme of eelde Y axide for it,¹⁹ and 'til in toⁿ the laste thingis Y schal enquere it; and it schal flour as a grape ripe bifore othere. Myn herte was glad²⁰ ther ynne, my foot ȝede a riȝtful weye; fro my ȝongthe Y souȝte it. Y bowide²¹ down a litil myn eere, and Y took it. Y²² foonde myche wisdom in my silf, and Y profitide myche ther ynne. Y schal²³ ȝyue glorie to hym, that ȝyueth wisdom to me. For whi Y took counsel to do it;²⁴ Y loued feruentli good, and Y schal not be schent. My soule wrastlide togidere²⁵ ther ynne; and Y was confermyd in doynge it. Y stretchide forth myn hondis[†] an hiȝ; and my soule schynede in the wisdom of hym, and he liȝtnyde myn vnkunnyngis. Y dresside my soule to it;²⁷ and Y^v foond it in knowyng. Y hadde²⁸ pesibli fro the bigynnyng an herte with tho[†]; for this thing Y schal not be forsakun. My soule was disturblid in sek-²⁹ ynge it; therfor Y schal haue pesibli a good possessioun. For whi the Lord ȝaf³⁰ to me a tunge my meedeȝ; and in it Y schal preise hym. Ȝe vntaȝt men, neiȝe³¹ to me; and gadere ȝe ȝou in to the hous of techyng. What tarien ȝe ȝit? and what³² seien ȝe in these thingis? ȝoure soules thristen greetli. Y openyde my mouth,³³

* my preyer is herd; in stede-fast hope. perdicioun; of helle.
 wickid tyme;
 that is, of present liyf, wher-
 ynne wickid-
 nesse regneth.
Live here. c.

† myn hondis;
 that is, Y dress-ide my werkis
 bi riȝtfulnesse
 of entent in to
 God. Live here.

† an herte with tho; that is,
 werkis ether liȝtnyngis of wisdom. a tunge; to bringe forth wordis disposing to wisdom; this
 that is addid
 in summe
 bokis, lerner,
 is not of the text, for it is a glos enter-lynarie set in the text bi writeres. *Live
 here. c.*

§ my meede;
 that is, bi which Y may gete euerlastinge meede, in tech-
 inge othere
 men feithfully,
 and in preiyng deuoutly. Y openyde my mouth, etc.; as if he seide, Y
 am redi to
